ADVERTISE IN THE PLANET

A COMPLETE MODERN STORE

Establishment of Taylor & McKay has Undergone Many Improvements

BEST FAMILY LIQUORS

The neatest, prettiest and most up-to-date store in Western Ontario, is the verdict of all who have visited the popular establishment of Taylor & McKay, the prominent liquor merchants, since the recent renovations and improvements have been made. Just one year ago Messrs. Taylor & McKay assumed charge of the old post office store liquor business on Fifth street. Both were popular, wide-awake and capable business men, and everyone who knew them foretold unlimited success. The results have exceeded the most extravagant hopes of the most sanguine. Through honest and straightforward dealing, constant application along the lines of the needs of their customers and a permanent aim to handle only the best goods procurable, they have built up an enormous business, and it is still growing every day. There are no two men in Chatham who are more deserving of the splendid success they are attaining than are Messrs. Taylor & McKay, and their many friends look forward to a long continuation of the unlimited patronage they are receiving.

During the past couple of months these two gentlemen have given substantial evidence of their progressiveness. It is their aim not to be satisfied with the success of the present, but to branch out and there-by expand and grow, keeping pace with the ever-increasing prosperity of their surroundings. In this they show the right spirit—the spirit that builds up both a business and a community. Their splendid success of last year has encouraged them to extra efforts, and they decided to make use of the returns from increased patronage, in providing a more modern place of business in which they would be in a better position than ever to cater to the demands of the public. In this they have been highly successful, and, as one traveller, a recent visitor to the establishment said, they have the most complete and modern establishment west of Toronto.

The whole building has been renovated and improved with a view to cleanliness and convenience, and special efforts have been made in improving the front and the public business room. The front is all made of quarter cut oak, of the latest design, with prison lights and large show windows. The inside has been completely re-arranged with hard wood floors, metallic ceiling, tiled floors and all quarter cut oak fixtures and show cases. This is the first store off King street to be fitted up in this modern style, and now that Messrs. Taylor & McKay have taken the lead, it is to be hoped that others will follow. This store is a credit to both the proprietors and the city. The contractors who completed the work were John Pigott & Sons, who have made special efforts with this job. They deserve to be highly commended for their excellent work.

Messrs. Taylor & McKay handle all the lines to be found in any up-to-date wholesale liquor establishment, and are prepared to supply the wants of every class of customers. They cater specially to the family trade and in this line they have a complete stock of the most desirable goods. They carry full lines of wines, liquors, cigars, and the very best imported wines, ports and sherrys.

One special line carried by this firm, which has proven to be one of the most popular classes of goods that they handle, is the famous red label lager. They are sole agents for this brand, and it is no exaggeration to say that they are kept busy supplying the demand. It is sold in all the city hotels, and is the most popular drink to be found anywhere during the summer months. McKay's blend of Canadian Rye Whiskey is also a special line. This is bottled by Messrs. Taylor & McKay. The future before this firm is even brighter than the past has been, and there is no doubt that their business will continue to grow as the proprietors undoubtedly deserve.

SCHWENLER-TAYLOR

On July 12th, Herman Schwemler, of Chatham, was married to Miss Mary Taylor, of Wardsville, by the Rev. Mr. Manning, at the Methodist church, Windsor. Mrs. Schwemler returned to Chatham yesterday after a visit to her home in Wardsville. Both of the happy couple are well known and popular in this city, and their many friends are showering them with congratulations.

Some people speak ill of others and then wonder why fault is found.

A MOST PROSPEROUS TIME AHEAD FOR THE FARMERS

Hog Raising will be the Most Profitable Line That any Farmer can Take up—Prices will Take a Boost and Stay There—Kent's Good Facilities

It is a long time since the raising and fattening of hogs has proven such a paying proposition to the farmer as it has been this year, and probably never before has the price of hogs maintained such a high average as it does at the present time, and has during the past few months. And from what The Planet has learned, the price of hogs is likely to remain at a high figure. This will be good news to the Kent County farmer, who as a raiser and fattener of first grade porkers, is admitted to be without a peer.

This journal has been assured by local buyers, that the price of live hogs, which has remained steady at $7.50 per cwt., is likely to remain high, and probably go above that figure. The Planet is more than pleased to announce such good news to our stock-raisers and farmers. The raising and fattening of hogs is an industry in which the farmers of this section have been experts, and the only drawback to it has been the fickle fluctuations of the markets. Thus, we have seen at times, that hogs would command a high price one week, and the next drop down to a miserable figure. Such fluctuations have, in some instances, to some extent, discouraged the stock-raiser, and made the industry largely a speculation. It is a fact, however, that the Kent County hog has always played an important part in the Ontario markets, and that he is much sought after; is proven by the steady demand for hogs from this section.

The recent movement of the big packers in Canada, would seem to indicate that hogs are going to be greatly in demand in the future, even more so than they are at the present time. The pork-packing institutions of this and other provinces have been taxed to their utmost capacity to supply the demand for the goods they are putting out. There are several reasons given for this. A feasible reason is that the output of the American packers, on account of the rising investigation and consequent expenses, which have shown up their methods in such a bad light has become unpopular. The public has become suspicious of their product and turned to Canada, where the work of packing is carried on under a cleaner and more sanitary system. Another reason is that Canadian bacon hog is fast becoming a popular favorite in foreign as well as local markets. One potent proof of the promising future for the raising of hogs, is shown by the immense capacity to supply the demand for the goods they are putting out. The fact that the price of cattle has not increased, goes to show that the public are eating the pork product. "Taking all into consideration, I think that there is no danger of a congested market in the near future, and I don't think that hogs will again get down as low as they have sometimes been in the past."

RATEPAYERS GIVE DECISIONS ON INDUSTRIAL PROPOSITIONS

Both Beet Sugar, and Electrical Bylaws Were Defeated at the Polls Yesterday—The Interest in Voting Was Very Keen

The result of the polling on the two by-laws in Chatham yesterday has already been generally known. The announcement is made that both by-laws were defeated.

As regards the sugar by-law, it was necessary to poll a majority vote and to poll in favor, one-third of the total number of votes in the city. The majority of the votes polled were in favor of the proposition, but the total vote in favor did not equal a third of the total eligible vote. The by-law was defeated. The total number of votes in favor was 554. This, if enough, would make the total possible vote 1682. The total possible vote, however, is about 1777. This makes the sugar by-law 15 votes shy. It is estimated that the number of dead men on the list is 31. Even if these were taken off, the sugar by-law is still 84 votes shy.

It is gratifying to The Planet and those who agreed with the views expressed by this journal that the beet sugar by-law has been lost, and now that it has been defeated for a second time it is not likely that we shall hear again from Mr. Fowler and his financial associates. From the votes recorded yesterday the results are undoubtedly a large number of our property owners who favor the establishing of a beet sugar factory within the limits of the corporation, and if a proposition is presented to the Council from men, The Planet can feel mean business, and are deserving of support, this journal will hold up both hands in giving it every encouragement. Such an opportunity may be presented at an earlier date than many of us may imagine, in which case this journal will be found as loyal to the municipality as it claims it has been on this occasion, and will fearlessly express its opinion instead of being found sitting on the fence with a hand out to both sides of the project. As for the electrical by-law, that should have carried. The re-

FINDING OF COMMISSION

A Weakness is Noted Which Should be Remedied by the Board

THOSE RAILWAY RATES

The finding of the Railway Commission, with respect to discrimination in rates from American points to Canadian points, as against those covering hauls from Canadian points to the same destination, has taken good, practical form in the requiring of the Railway Companies to present a schedule within ninety days for the remedying of the grievance.

The Board has, however, left an opening which may largely operate against a thoroughly satisfactory accomplishment of its desires inasmuch as no line of action has been prescribed for the railways to pursue.

The weakness of this lies in the possibility of the Railway Companies combining with their allies in the United States and, while technically escaping the charge of discrimination, impose a greater burden upon the manufacturers and the general public than at present prevails, by the raising of the rates. This would undoubtedly raise public sentiment, as a very general feeling exists that the railway rates, if not too high, are sufficiently so at the present time.

The Board will, no doubt, take early steps to anticipate any such move on the part of the Railway Companies.

HE RESIDED HERE

Allan P. Cameron a Popular Detroitier Passes Away After Short Illness

Detroit, July 21.—Allan P. Cameron, one of the pioneer west side residents and up to the time of his retirement from active duty a cashier of the Michigan Central railroad at Detroit, died at his residence, 84 Trumbull avenue, yesterday morning at 9:30 o'clock.

Mr. Cameron had been confined to his bed for several days and had not been able to leave his home since July 4.

He was born in Lochiel, Canada, eighty-six years ago. In his early youth he moved to Chatham, Ont., shortly afterward coming to Detroit.

The property where the Cameron home now stands was then known as the Woodbridge farm, and Mr. Cameron was fond of telling his children about the time when he and his wife climbed a rustic fence and went through a dense wood to enter the place.

Mr. Cameron had been retired from active business for the past twenty-nine years. He spent much of his time with the chess and checker club.

Funeral services will be held from the residence this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Rev. Marous Scott, of Central Presbyterian Church, will officiate. Interment will be at Elmwood Cemetery.

The bitter one knows himself, the more respect he has for others.

A man's good opinion is cherished by a young woman.

VISITOR'S OPINION

What Should be Done in Connection With the Crossing at G. T. R.

The following is what a London Free Press representative has to say of the G. T. R. crossing question:—"In Chatham the crossing of the Grand Trunk on Queen street is protected by bars and the radial people are confident that no added danger will result by its cars passing over the tracks on the way to Rondeau.

The people believe if there is any danger in the radial crossing the tracks, that there is the same danger at present. Many of them insist that the Railway Commission as a body is a complete farce, which is standing in the interests of the people and the progress of Western Ontario in building new radial lines.

RICHARD CLARE O'BRIEN DROWNED WHILE BATHING

Seized With a Cramp, a Popular Young Ex-Chathamite Meets a Tragic End

Detroit, July 21.—Seized with a cramp while bathing in Moss's lake near Scranton, Pa., where he had been spending the past week, Richard Clare O'Brien, 284 Pennsylvania avenue, a well known young Detroit newspaper writer formerly connected with the Detroit Tribune and later with The Detroit News, sank to his death Friday afternoon before assistance could reach him. O'Brien was summoned to Scranton last Saturday by the death of his aunt and godmother, Mrs. O'Brien, wife of Richard O'Brien, manager of the Scranton office of the Western Union Telegraph Co., whose funeral took place Monday. Since the funeral he has been a guest at the Dolph cottage on Missisquoi lake. He was bathing with Miss Blanche Dolph Friday afternoon, when he was seized by cramp. Miss Dolph made an heroic but vain attempt to rescue him.

A SIDELIGHT ON CHATHAM

A representative from the London Free Press visited this city yesterday, and the following is part of what he has to say of the Maple City:—"Fourteen miles of paved streets, the most in the province, the largest and best public schools, the finest public buildings, the most city-like stores and the largest industries make Chatham the leading city in Ontario and probably Canada—for its size. Including its suburbs, the city is close to 15,000 population, and is forging ahead at a rate which will make it a formidable rival to other cities of Western Ontario.

THE MARKETS

There was an excellent market this morning, the fine weather and the many visitors who are picnicking here to-day making business heavy. New carrots were offered at two bunches for 5c; green cucumbers made their appearance at three for 5c, and green corn at 25c per dozen. Contrary to general expectations, the fruit crop has proved a good one, and raspberries, cherries and currants in large quantities are selling at fairly low rates.

IS A CITY OF BOOSTERS

During the morning King St. was thronged with excursionists in holiday attire with gaily-colored souvenir ribbons floating from coat-lapels and shirt-waists. Crowds visited the market and helped to swell the trade of the gardeners who were selling fruit, while the ice-cream parlors and refreshment rooms along the bay thoroughfare were hard at work catering for the visitors.

The people of Chatham have the boosting spirit which has made many of the leading cities of America what they are to-day. It is a mixture of sociability and thrifty speculation, patriotism and ambition, cordiality and energy which has produced this boosting spirit.

Minard's Liniment cures Distemper

DRINK WHEN YOU EAT

TAKE AS MUCH WATER AS YOU WANT WITH YOUR MEALS.

It is Excellent For the Digestion, It is Claimed, as Neither Gastric Juice Nor Pepsine Work Properly Unless Largely Diluted With Water.

How much water should we drink and when should we drink it are questions so simple that at first sight their discussion seems superfluous. One would naturally answer, "Drink all the water you wish when you are thirsty," but authorities say, "Drink more than you wish when you are not thirsty," for they recommend that a gallon or so be drunk between meals, which is more water than we need and the very time the system least demands it. Usually we experience thirst during or directly after eating.

Inasmuch as 87 per cent of the whole body is water, which is, of course, being used up every moment, there is no question that we should drink of this element copiously, but it is a serious question whether we should refrain from water at meals—the time we particularly desire it.

There is a class of persons, ever growing more numerous, who believe that whatever is wrong. For the natural and simple they would substitute the artificial and complicated. To drink water while or directly after eating is a natural instinct. Give a dog his dinner, putting a bowl of water near it, and observe that he will first eat all he can and then immediately drink. Wild animals look for a stream after feeding. Cage birds will stop pecking at seed to peck at water. Children have a perpetual thirst, and I have seen babies that, unlike young Oliver, have refused to eat more when denied water after every few mouthfuls.

It is especially important that babies be given what water they wish and at the time they wish it, which is usually at table.

The thinner food is the more easily and thoroughly it is digested; in fact, it cannot be digested until it has been made liquid by the gastric and intestinal juices. Indigestion is caused often by food that has not been sufficiently moistened by the digestive secretions.

There are sound physiological reasons for our craving water with meals. Water is the solvent that constitutes 95 per cent of the gastric juice. Now, when one eats a hearty meal and does not drink, the amount of water in the stomach is not sufficient thoroughly to moisten the great quantity of food, and this makes digestion difficult. On the other hand, when enough water is ingested with the food the latter is well moistened and broken up, the digestible particles being then readily absorbed. Again, when the partially digested food (chyme) passes into the intestines it is most important that it be very moist, particularly as water is constantly absorbed from the chyle in the large intestine. Bad cases of constipation are caused by dry chyle remaining in the intestines, where it sets up an inflammation that sometimes proves fatal, dry faeces, of course, resisting peristaltic action. The excrement of persons suffering from constipation is always dry and hard and is a potent cause of appendicitis.

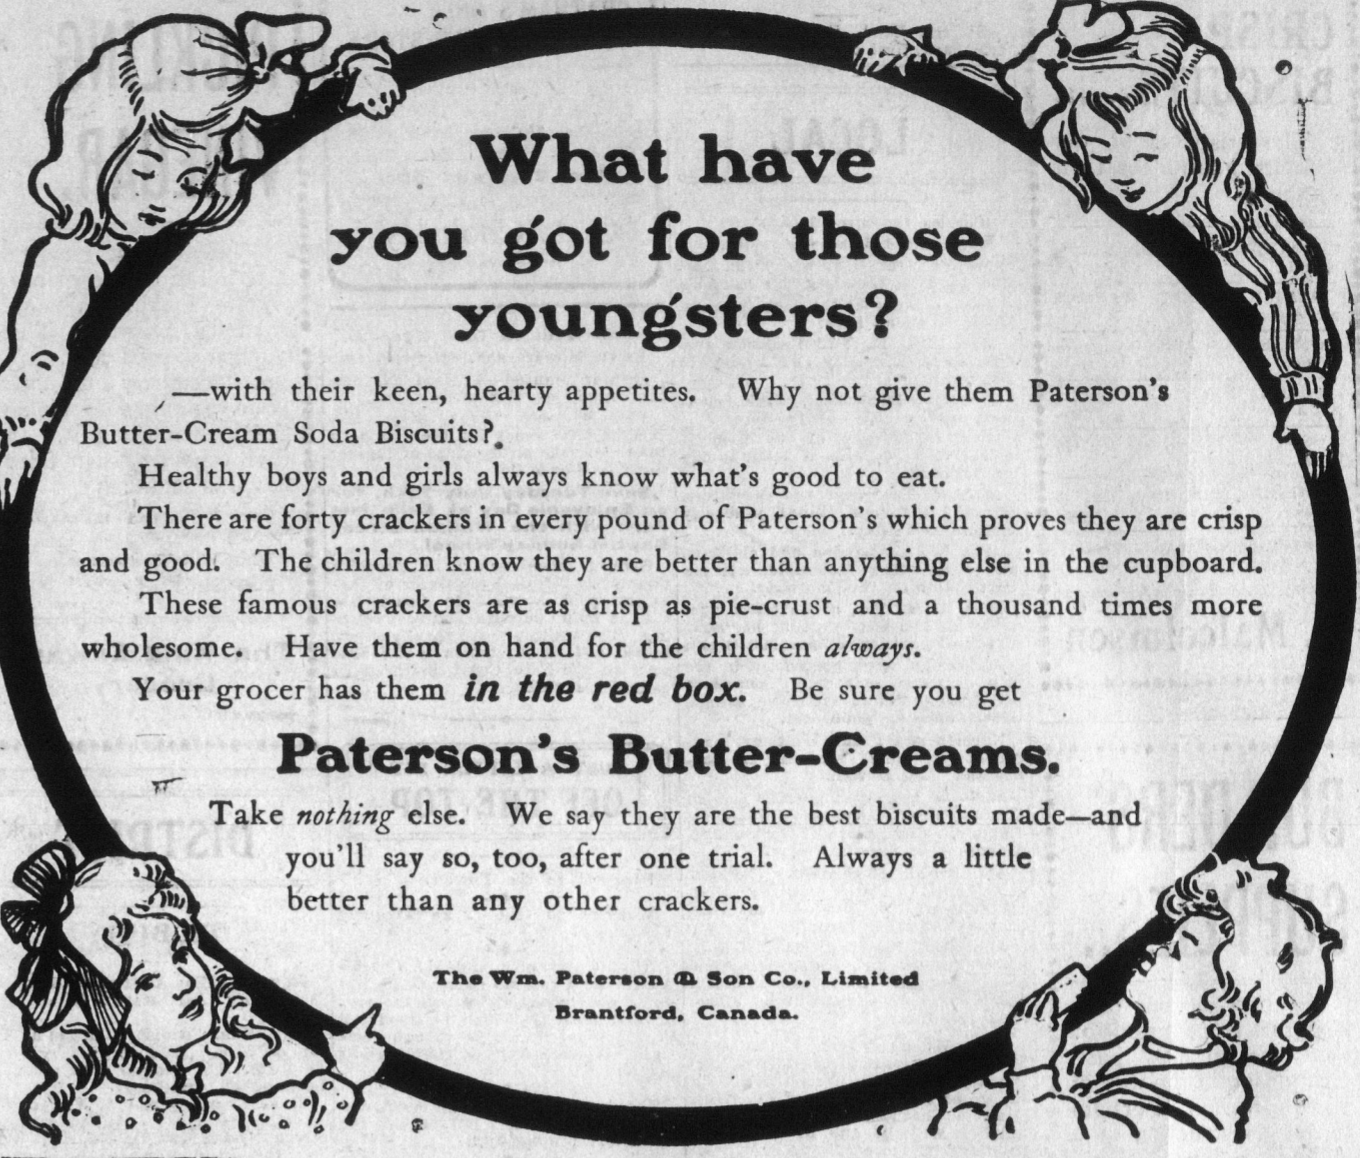

The idea that water drinking at meals unduly dilutes the gastric juice is nonsensical, water being not so palatable that one is apt to drink more than his digestive functions require. As a matter of fact water generally facilitates the digestion of albuminous substances. In this connection Dr. A. Jacobi in his work on "Infant Diet," page 67, says:

"In experiments upon digestion of albumen with gastric juice obtained from the stomach of animals it was noticed that after a certain time the process began to slacken, but was renewed merely by the addition of water. The gastric juice became saturated with the substance it had dissolved and ceased to act upon what remained until it had been diluted. In the living stomach this dilution is of even greater importance, for it permits of the immediate absorption of the substances soluble in water and which do not require the specific action of the gastric juice." Neither the gastric juice nor pepsin has any true digestive action unless they are largely diluted with water.

It goes without saying that it is not the food that is ingested, but that which is digested, that does good, and this principle holds good with water, which is practically a food. Now, when one resists the perfectly natural desire to drink while eating he may be not thirsty several hours afterward, but he is advised nevertheless to force himself to drink at that time. But if he drinks then, the water, having no food to mix with it, will go through him, as it were—that is, it will do no good.

The importance of water to the human economy may be inferred from the various purposes it subserves. First, it softens and dissolves solid foods, thus facilitating their mastication and digestion; second, it maintains a due bulk of blood, and it structures of the body; third, it keeps substances in solution or suspension while moving in the body; fourth, it supplies elements in the body of chemical changes; fifth, it makes easy the elimination of waste material; sixth, it discharges superfluous heat by transpiration through the skin and by emission through other outlets, and, seventh, it supplies in a convenient form heat to or abstracts heat from the body. Some of these functions are performed by water in its liquid state and others in a state of vapor.

Have you indigestion? Try water instead of drugs with your food.—G. Elliot Flint in New York World.

What have you got for those youngsters?

—with their keen, hearty appetites. Why not give them Paterson's Butter-Cream Soda Biscuits?

Healthy boys and girls always know what's good to eat. There are forty crackers in every pound of Paterson's which proves they are crisp and good. The children know they are better than anything else in the cupboard. These famous crackers are as crisp as pie-crust and a thousand times more wholesome. Have them on hand for the children always.

Your grocer has them in the red box. Be sure you get Paterson's Butter-Creams.

Take nothing else. We say they are the best biscuits made—and you'll say so, too, after one trial. Always a little better than any other crackers.

ROYAL WEDDING FEAST

LIMITED INVITATIONS TO THE GREATEST SINCE WORLD BEGAN

NO EXCEPTIONS TO THE RULE

Some Refuse, But a Great Host, Including Our Great Men to a Number That Transcends Belief, Accept the Invitations to Be Christians—Intellectual Giants Present—There Are No Glasses in the Church.

Entered according to Act of Parliament of Canada, in the year 1905, by Frederick Dyer, Toronto, at the Dept. of Agriculture, Ottawa.

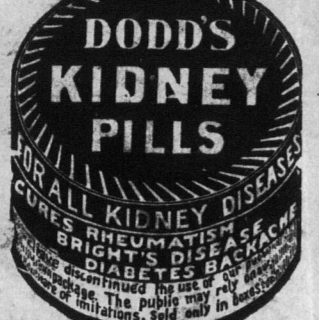

Los Angeles, July 15.—The familiar parable of the King's wedding supper as presented by the preacher in his sermon in a new light and is made...

Some people are born ascetics. They love to travel the rough roads instead of the smooth. They profess to despise every form of comfort and ease.

The banquet hall may have a bad name on account of the gourmets and gluttons who make out of its table a shrine, yet one of the most important political, social, ecclesiastical, financial and literary factors of the world has been the banquet hall.

You know this parable without our going into details. The King wanted to make a great feast to celebrate the wedding of his son.

Now, what did the King say? "Go ye, therefore, into the highways and as many as ye shall find bid to the marriage." That means: "Oh, servant, as soon as you get into the street, give this wedding invitation to the first men and women and children you meet."

likely they were among those whom the King had invited and who may have already refused the invitation.

Did you ever try to estimate how many of our great men are Christians? Their numbers almost transcend human belief. Just study them in a political or governmental sense.

Do not talk to me about there being no intellectual giants in the banquet hall of the Divine Bridegroom.

Nestlé's Food protects baby against cholera, typhoid, diphtheria and the like of the "hot weather" summer.

Christ. They seem to care not what they eat or when they drink as long as Christ sits at the head of the table and they see him and hear his words.

But no sooner does the messenger of the King give the invitation to the merchant prince and to the military chieftain or to the member of the nobility than methinks I see him with his hand upon the shoulder of the servant who is holding his master's horse and say:

Some people who are trying to build class churches do not believe this. They seem to think that the banquet hall of the Royal King can be controlled by a syndicate of capitalists or by social classes, even as a syndicate of real estate men can buy up a section of land and lay it out in building lots and decide who will live there and who will not.

Do not talk to me about there being no intellectual giants in the banquet hall of the Divine Bridegroom.

HONORABLE JOHN COSTIGAN New Brunswick's "Grand Old Man" comes out strongly in favor of "Fruit-a-tives."

Who has not heard of the Honorable John Costigan? He is to-day one of the most powerful, as well as one of the oldest, figures in Canadian politics. He was one of Sir John Macdonald's ablest lieutenants, and for nearly 20 years held various portfolios in the cabinet.

Today at the age of 71, he is the idol of the electors of New Brunswick, and a power to be always reckoned with in Parliament.

His rugged eloquence—biting sarcasm—and ready repartee—make him at once the dread of his opponents and the delight of his confidants.

Was ever medicine put to a severer test than this? Here was a great Public Official, who had suffered for more than 30 years with Chronic Constipation. The leading physicians of Ottawa prescribed for him without affording any permanent relief.

"Fruit-a-tives" did in THREE MONTHS, what doctors and drugs failed to do in THIRTY YEARS.

UNNATURAL HUSBAND

Female Quack Causes Trag-ic Death Of Young Toronto Wife

CHARGED WITH MURDER

Toronto, July 21.—Mrs. Agnes Bridant, residing at the Bristol House, corner of King and Jarvis, died at that address yesterday morning as the result of blood-poisoning caused by an illegal operation, and the husband, Edward Bridant, and Lillian Miller, practicing as the Dr. De Voss Medicine Co. at 210 Queen street east, are in custody, charged with her murder.

The Lay For Ante-Mortem.

It was at 10 o'clock yesterday morning that Crown Attorney Copley and Detective Sergeant Duncan were sent for to take Mrs. Bridant's ante-mortem deposition, but on arrival at the Bristol House she was dead. The husband was present, and told them that his wife had been getting medicines from "Dr. De Voss." Sergt. Duncan and the Crown Attorney went over to "De Voss" office and made a thorough search of the premises. They found a number of ampoules used for certain purposes, and also a number of boxes of pills. There were also several hundreds of letters from women, married and otherwise, asking "De Voss" advice. All these seizures were put on the patrol-wagon and conveyed to the detective department.

Husband Arrested.

Edmund Bridant, husband of the unfortunate woman, was at the house with Dr. Winnett Mrs. Bridant died. He stated that he went to the office of Dr. De Voss (Mrs. Miller) more than a week since and paid $5 for three boxes of pills for his wife. A few days later his wife went, and was given a slippery elm probe. He would not admit that he knew what the pills and instrument were to be used for.

Subsequent investigation by the detectives unearthed evidence which will be produced in court to show that Bridant had threatened to kill his wife if she permitted her condition to reach the state of accouchement. On this evidence the husband was arrested.

Woman in the Case.

At the De Voss medical parlors the officers met Mrs. Miller. She was just preparing to go out. When informed of their mission Mrs. Miller accepted the information with indifference. She admitted that she had given Mrs. Bridant treatment, but denied all knowledge of pregnancy in the case. She was placed under arrest and her stock of medicines, consisting of about a thousand pounds of tablets, pills and sundry auxiliaries, were seized, together with packages of advertising pamphlets. More than 200 letters from city and rural correspondents were gathered in.

To give an idea of the volume of business Mrs. Miller was doing a glance at her bank passbook would indicate. Thursday the book showed that she had deposited from receipts $500.

Included in the papers taken from the De Voss institute was a "billy" twice the size of the ordinary thing done. At the police station Mrs. Miller gave her name as Lillian Miller, aged 37. She said she was born in Covington, Ky., and had graduated as a trained nurse.

Bridant's Career.

Edmund Bridant, the husband of the deceased woman is a Frenchman, born in Paris 24 years ago. He married his wife in Kingston shortly after his arrival in Canada, four years since and resided there until about a year ago, when the family removed to Toronto. In this city, he was engaged as a barber at various places, more recently at Brunel's, 71 Colborne street. He is described as a man of rather taciturn mind and a good workman. There is one child in the family, a girl of three years, who was placed in charge of the grandmother and an aunt, who arrived in this city yesterday.

Bridant and Mrs. Miller will be arraigned in the Police Court to-day.

Chief Coroner Johnston has ordered an inquest to be held at Millard's undertaking parlors at 11 o'clock, to-day, Dr. J. M. Cotton, presiding.

Business Was Continental.

The arrest of Mrs. Miller will cause consternation in many homes in Toronto and Canada. As the letters and books seized by the police show that the Miller woman has been doing business from Montreal to Vancouver. The letters are from young girls in trouble, and some are rather pathetic, some from married women, who are not much worried, but do not wish to be bothered with children; some from men writing in behalf of their wives; others from men trying to save themselves and the young women they have ruined.

Many of the letters are from illiterate people, many by the writing and composition, show the educated woman.

While in Covington Mrs. Miller did business at 71 East 19th street, under the name of "The French Capsule Co.," and lived at 75 East 4th street.

The Law Detective.

Chief Coroner Johnston said "there are criminal abortions committed every day in Toronto and I know it. But it seems that the law cannot get at the guilty parties. There is always some loop hole. I have instructed the detective department about certain places and that is all I can do."

Do Juries Condense?

"I am sorry to say it—I hope that I may be mistaken—but I am entirely of the opinion that no jury can be impanelled in Toronto that will convict a person charged with abortion."

This was the startling statement made last evening by ex-Crown Attorney Curry.

In support of his statement, Mr. Curry went on to say that during his long official service he had prosecuted many such cases, but however strong and direct the evidence for the crown might be, it was found impossible to obtain a conviction.

"Would it not be possible," he was asked, "to at least clear out the notorious and professional abortionists?"

"No. One man I prosecuted three times and the evidence in each case

AN EXCELLENT SHOWING

Mutual Life of Canada Benefited by the Investigation

Whatever may be contained in the report of the Royal Commission which is making an inquiry into the insurance companies of the Dominion, there can hardly be an expression of anything but commendation for the Mutual Life of Canada. The evidence given at the investigation served to show that the company was in a financially sound condition and under an honest and economical management. The assets at the close of last year totalled $9,296,092. This included not one dollar of unautho- rized securities or speculative invest- ments, none of its holdings were "written up," and at the same time the real estate held by the company outside its head office building at Waterloo, did not exceed $1,000 in value. The company's expense rate was unusually low, and yet its income showed a rapid growth. In 1895 its earnings were $735,079; in 1905, a decade later, its income was $1,956, 519, or more than double the former figure. The interest income for the same period exceeded the death losses by $568,945. It is apparent that nothing but good can accrue to a concern with such a record from any amount of investigation.

WHISKEY MEDICINES.

The temperance press is emphasizing the danger to the home in the use of "medicines" which are loaded with whiskey or alcohol. In this respect, as well as in the remarkable character of their cures, Dr. Pierce's medicines differ from other preparations. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and "Favorite Prescription" contain no alcohol, whiskey or other intoxicant, and are equally free from opium, cocaine and other narcotics. Every family should have a copy of the People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, sent absolutely free, on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing and customs. Send 31 one-cent stamps for the book in paper covers, or 50 stamps for cloth binding. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

He who persists in genuineness will increase in adequacy.
