EXPLANATION OF CALENDAR PAGES.

The Publisher of this Almanac, with a view to increase its circulation and usefulness, has adapted its calculations for the whole country. The Moon's changes are given for five different places, viz: Quebec, Montreal, Kingston, Toronto, and London. The rising and setting of the Sun are given for Montreal and Toronto. The rising and setting of the Moon are given with sufficient exactness for all practical purposes. The weather prognostications are again calculated according to the table of the celebrated Dr. Herschel; and for extraordinary accuracy, Miller's Almanac retains its wonderful popularity.

FEBRUARY.—Dr. Phipson's valuable essay on the use of salt in Agriculture proves conclusively. 1st. That without a due proportion of salt, plants cannot attain to their proper degree of perfection; and this applies especially to colza, turnips, wheat, oats, maize and other grasses. 2nd. That salt is an essential constituent of plants as well as animals. 3rd. That the soil is constantly losing, by cultivation, a great amount of salt taken away by the crops. 4th. That none of the manures at present used (except a very few of the best super-phosphates) contain salt; guano shows only four tenths per cent. 5th. That it is necessary to add salt at regular intervals to the soil, in some shape or other, if we wish to derive the greatest possible benefit by the crops. As a general conclusion it may be stated, that by considering salt in its application to agriculture, we find that it can and ought to utilize every property of salt. It is an essential part of the food of animals and plants.

MARCH.—Wonderful powers are attributed to plaster or gypsum, which the scientific agriculturist knows well. Liebeg, in his Natural laws of Husbandry, says: 1st. Gypsum produces its best effects upon leguminous plants, like clover, which are themselves most rich in magnesia and potash, and least on the cereals which consume less of these constituents. 2nd. Gypsum produces its best effects upon the rich soils which overlie the States, like the dairy soils of Herkimer and Oneida counties, where this manure is almost universally used. 3rd. Gypsum produces little or no effect upon light sandy soils, destitute of potash, or nearly so, unless accompanied with ashes; nor upon those rich heavy soils abounding in humors, like the flats of the Mohawk.

APRIL.—Of Poultry manure we have a few words to say that may be useful. There are good reasons why the manure of the poultry house should be economized. In France, as well as in our own country, most eminent chemists have proved by analysis that poultry manure is a most valuable fertilizer, and yet for want of a proper system in housing poultry, it has not as yet been rendered available to rural economy. The celebrated Vanquelin says that when the value of manures is considered in relation to the amount of azote they contain, the poultry manure is one of the most active stimulants. Horse manure contains only 4.0 parts of azote, guano as imported 49.7 parts, guano when sifted of stones, &c., 53.9 parts, poultry manure contains 83.0 parts of azote. It will be seen therefore that it is worth preserving, even though it may be small in amount, and the best system of housing poultry should be adopted.

MAY.—There yet lingers in the minds of many farmers an idea that the moon exerts some influence on crops, causing them to grow better if the seed be sown when the moon is increasing instead of decreasing. A correspondent of the Canada Farmer some time ago asked the Editor to give his opinion on the subject, and he answered thus; it is stated by medical authorities that persons whose minds have become morbidly unsound, are at certain times, appreciably affected by lunar influences—hence the term lunatic. This fact may probably explain the strange delusion under which many farmers labour in regard to sowing certain kinds of grain, especially peas. Science and common sense agree in saying to the farmer—Sow your seed in the regular season when your soil is in proper condition, and never mind the moon.

JUNE.—The Rural New Yorker once gave some good advice about selecting a cow, which we here reproduce. A cow of very unpromising appearance, coarse in the neck, large boned, and second or third rate milk marks generally, will now and then turn out first rate, while another with these marks largely developed, fine in the head and neck, and promising every way, will prove unsatisfactory. But a failure in this case is rare. Let the head be light, the forehead broad, the horn rather thick and clear, the eye clear and prominent, the neck thin, and the forequarters rather light, the back straight, the hind quarters well developed, wide over the loins, the carcass deep, the udder coming forward and well shaped, the skin soft to the touch, the teats well set, not too large or too small, the tail long and thin like a whip-lash. Such a cow ought to be a good one.

JULY.—Dr. Erasmus Wilson, quite celebrated in England, has published several lectures to prove that the great body of the young English gentry are annually starved into imbecility and death, by the insufficient quality of their food. To this cause, if we mistake not, Dr. Workman of Toronto attributes many cases of insanity which arise among our Canadian rural population. Insufficiency of substantial food, and miserable cookery are very great evils. And yet these things exist in the midst of plenty, partly from niggardliness and partly from ignorance. Dr. Wilson does not approve of tea and toast alone for breakfast, but for growing youth, instead of meat once a day for dinner, he thinks three times a day would be none too much.

AUGUST.—Having referred to Dr. Workmans opinion on the cause of insanity, we may as well here state that Dr. Wilson recommends good living as a means of preventing disease. He says, the most vital organs, apart from the digestive tube, are the brain, the lungs, and the heart. If these are not supplied with a sufficiency of wholesome nutriment, there are always elements of disease enough lurking round to attack and destroy them. We all know for instance, that the best safeguard against most fevers and all miasmatic diseases, is a vigorous state of health; and in a southern climate, to go out of doors before taking breakfast is therefore justly considered dangerous. In like manner in the north, where disease of the lungs prevails, codliver oil, the richest cream, and indeed a generous diet, is generally the best medicine.

SEPTEMBER.—Some observations made by Professor Buckland of University College, Toronto, in a letter to the Canada Farmer in 1866, are so very important that we give them a place here. They will apply to many parts of Canada as truly as to any portions of Lambton. He says: "Drainage is the great work that must be accomplished ere this naturally rich section of country can have its great agricultural abilities fully developed. An outfall in some places will be difficult to obtain, and requires the hearty co-operation of many proprietors of land. The improvement of nature's drainage by removing all obstructions from creeks and water courses, and cutting open ditches through the lower and wetter portions of the land, would soon relieve large areas of stagnant and injurious water, and ultimately prepare for more refined and elaborate systems of underdraining."

OCTOBER.—We have noticed what we think to be a very culpable carelessness among farmers in the matter of preparing land for the reception of seed. To secure an even crop, of equal growth and ripeness, seed should be sown on a surface as level as possible. When it is not thus sown some heads of grain will ripen before the rest, and in all probability, will be entirely lost. One great difficulty is we do not harrow enough before we sow. Not only should the ground for small grains be thoroughly harrowed before sowing, but rolled. This will make a uniform surface. Then good plump seed, if possible of uniform ripeness should be sown, and sown evenly when there is little or no wind. The soil being thus prepared, a fine toothed harrow should be passed over it, just sufficiently to cover the seed; then roll again.

NOVEMBER.—At the Imperial Printing and Paper making establishments at Vienna, Austria, the process of making paper from corn fibre has been brought to great perfection. It is claimed that the paper thus made is stronger than cotton or linen paper of the same weight, that in hardness and fineness of grain it exceeds the best handmade English drawing paper; that it is more durable than any other paper, and is not subject to be destroyed by insects; thus rendering it peculiarly valuable for documents, records, &c. It is unsurpassed for tracing paper; it can be made extremely transparent, and is specially adapted for photography. It is also claimed that all papers usually made from cotton and rags, can just as well be made from this material; that it can be easily converted into the finest writing or printing papers, and almost as advantageously into stout wrapping paper. It readily receives any tint of color.

DECEMBER.—Last year, the planting and sowing of some of our neighbour's, seemed to have been done very carelessly. The rows were crooked and disorderly. There are three good reasons why plants ought to be straight in the rows. The first is that the rows are none too wide to give the necessary air and sunshine to the plant. If the rows are crooked some of the plants will be improperly crowded, and will not grow to their full size. A second reason is that when we want to weed the plants, we shall find it much easier and pleasanter to do so, if they are straight in the row. If we get a hand cultivator, it will be impossible to use it without injury to the plants, unless the rows be straight.

USEFUL INFORMATION.

THE FARM-HOUSE.—This should be as much an object of beauty in the landscape as the mansion; why not? It is not a costly, massive mansion, towering up with its bare walls, that adds beauty to scenery any more than the bare walls of the farm-house. If the farmers would only learn to cultivate a knowledge of the beautiful in nature, and mingle around their dwellings the cheerfulness and comfort derived from the advantages of trees and shrubs—the evergreen to smile on the desolate and hoary frost of winter, and the delightful shade yielded from the noble elm and the beautiful maple in the summer—their rural homes would smile triumphantly over the bare walls of many a palace in the country. Trees not only yield their shade in summer, but they protect us from the icy, chilling blasts of winter. Trees tastefully arranged around the dwellings of the farmer's home, not only materially enhance the real value of his homestead, but they are a protection to his property. If his barns and outhouses were so arranged that groups of evergreens were interspersed between them, a very beautiful effect could be produced, and in many instances would be a perfect safe-guard against fire. The surrounding of buildings by thickly-studded belts of evergreen trees (such, for instance, as the Norway spruce and many other kinds of trees) would be found oftentimes to curb in the flames of barns and such buildings, and save the residence. We have known this to be the case in several instances, so that trees are often of more value to us, perhaps, than we are ready to admit.

TAR AS A DISINFECTANT.—It should be generally known that tar (not gas tar) is a valuable disinfectant. This is due to the creosote and phenic acid it contains. There are many places, which, from various causes, it is difficult, and sometimes impossible, to purify from obnoxious smells. In such places a saucer containing tar will diffuse an odor which, to most persons, is not disagreeable; at any rate, it is preferable to that it is intended to suppress.

ANTI-COSTIVE AND TONIC PILLS
A CANADIAN REMEDY.
A REMEDY OF UNDOUBTED MERIT FOR DISEASES OF THE STOMACH, BOWELS AND LIVER.

They are not a quack medicine, and not a cure-all, but were originated to meet a long and severely felt want of the public, a mild but certain cathartic—at the same time possessing tonic and anodyne properties. That these pills meet this want is proved by their extensive and rapidly increasing sale; and by the fact that, unlike any other advertised medicine, they have received the unqualified approbation of every medical man to whom the formula has been submitted.

In the year 1831, Dr. MOSES F. COLBY received the degree of M. D., at the Medical Institution in which I was one of the teachers. Since that time I have had professional correspondence with Dr. C., and it gives me pleasure to say, that I have all along regarded him as holding an elevated position among the thinking members of the Medical profession.

E. D. MUSSY.

571 Tremont St., Boston, Feb. 6, 1860.

WINDSOR, Vt., April 6, 1860.

I have personally know Dr. Colby for about forty years, most of the time intimately. He is a gentleman of the highest standing, both socially and professionally. In the departments of physiology, pathology, and therapeutics, to which he has devoted his life, with a most untiring enthusiasm, he has few, if any, superiors among the members of the profession anywhere. Any medicine having his countenance may be received with the utmost confidence.

ISAAC F. REDFIELD,

(Late Chief Justice of Vermont.)

Boston, Feb. 4, 1860.

Having long been acquainted with Dr. Colby, I most cheerfully certify to his high standing as a practitioner, and as a gentleman of unexceptionable character.

He has presented a happy combination of therapeutical agents, which is valuable as a cathartic and tonic. Having tried it myself, and knowing the ingredients, I can earnestly recommend it for its excellent qualities.

WINSLOW LEWIS, M. D.

DARTMOUTH COLLEGE, April 6, 1860.

Dr. COLBY, of Stanstead, C. E., is a physician of high standing. He has earned a wide reputation for science and skill, in a long course of dignified and successful practice in his profession. It gives me pleasure to commend him. I judge him to be worthy of perfect confidence, and that any of his medicines or prescriptions would be fully answerable to his recommendations. I doubt not that they would be worthy to take the place of the many unlicensed specifics which are now extensively impairing the public health and swelling the bills of mortality.

N. LORD, Pres. Dart. Coll.

The undersigned Physicians, cheerfully certify to the high professional standing of Dr. Colby of Stanstead, one of the oldest and best physicians, and to the excellent qualities of his "Anti-Costive and Tonic Pills," which we have used in our practice, and highly approve.

RICHMOND, C. E., April 18, 1865.

I have no hesitation in bearing testimony to the high professional character of Dr. Colby, he having during the period of his active labors, stood at the head of the profession in the Townships. I have no doubt, from the composition of his pills, that they would do good service in those cases for which they are recommended.

R. N. WEBBER, M. D.

DANVILLE, C. E., March 13, 1861.

Dr. COLBY,

Dear Sir,—I am happy to inform you of the admirable effect of your "Anti-Costive and Tonic Pills" in the cure of my wife. She commenced taking them in July last, when recovering from a severe and protracted sickness, unable to bear ordinary cathartics. Although the pills were taken daily, no objectionable results followed, but under their use she rapidly recovered health and strength.

H. HUBBARD,

Inspector of Schools, Dist. St. Francis

We personally know M. F. COLBY, M. D., Esquire, to be a person of high standing, socially and professionally. Any medicine offered by him may be viewed with the fullest confidence.

MONTREAL, May 10, 1860.

We have personally known Dr. COLBY for many years. He is a gentleman of the highest standing, both socially and professionally.

We have taken the opinion of the first Medical men in the city upon the formula by which these Pills are prepared, and are assured that they are a very excellent remedy for the purpose to which they are designed.

LYMANS, CLARE & Co.

CONSTIPATION, OR COSTIVENESS.

Daily evacuation of the bowels is essential to the maintenance of health. Without due attention to this matter, the entire system will become deranged and enfeebled. Purity of body and clearness of mind depend in no small degree upon the regularity of the fecal discharge.

TREATMENT. Relieve the bowels thoroughly with full doses of the Pills, and then continue their use in doses of two each morning, for a few weeks, being very particular not to vary the time of taking them, as it is desirable to have the motion as near as possible at the same hour every day. Under this treatment the system will soon fall into natural habits of regularity, and there will be no further trouble.

PILES.

Habitual constipation long neglected, is, in nine cases out of ten, the cause of piles and fistula. Like many other dogmas, which experimental evidence is daily confuting, the idea that these painful diseases are incurable will soon be obsolete. It is true that cutting and mineral medication have failed to produce the desired effect, but milder measures have proved successful.

TREATMENT. Take one or two Pills daily, as nearly as possible at the same hour every day, (as a good deal depends upon the regularity of the discharges) and apply ointment made by mixture one part finely powdered Nutgalls, with six parts Lard. Two or three weeks will effect a cure.

SICK AND NERVOUS HEADACHE.

Is generally brought on by imperfect Digestion, Costiveness, or inaction of the Liver. To cases of this Kind, Colby's Pills are peculiarly adapted.

TREATMENT. Begin with a full dose, five of the Pills, which, if necessary, may be repeated three or four days in succession. Then, to complete the cure, and render it permanent, take two Pills every morning for a week, and the following week one Pill in the morning, after which all that is necessary is to take plenty of out-door exercise, and an occasional Pill to keep the bowels regular.

INDIGESTION-DISPEPSIA

Almost always accompanied with more or less inflammation of the membranes which line the stomach; some of its symptoms are Headache, Dizziness, Acidity, "all-gone" feeling, and weakness at the pit of the stomach, the bowels sometimes very costive, at others loose, some of the food passing away undigested.

TREATMENT. Take three or four full doses of Colby's Pills, and then take one or two Pills daily, at the same hour each day, eating sparingly of healthy nutritious food, avoiding pastry and soup, and take plenty of gentle exercise in the open air. A few weeks of this treatment will generally effect a cure.

DISORDERED STOMACH.

Much inconvenience is often experienced from a disordered state of the stomach, when there are no symptoms that can be classed with any particular disease. It should be remembered that Dyspepsia, inflammation of the bowels, Constiveness, and many other diseases, arising from a disordered state of the stomach.

Whenever any pain or uneasiness is felt, especially after eating, take one or two full doses of Colby's Pills, and one or two daily for a few days, until the unpleasant symptoms disappear.

IMPURE BLOOD.

The Blood is the Life of the system, and upon its purity depends the health of the body.

The symptoms of impure blood are dull heavy feelings, headache, loss of appetite, &c.

In cases of this kind, immediate and permanent relief may be obtained by a free use of "Colby's Pills," as by their peculiar combination they restore the stomach and bowels to their proper tone and vigor, and purify the blood.

SUDDEN COLIC

Are, (by neglect) often productive of the most fearful diseases. In all cases of this kind immediate resort should be had to Colby's Pills, as, by regulating the stomach and bowels, serious results may often be prevented. Do not think these Pills have no efficacy because you are not violently purged and sickened. Such purgation and sickening are entirely unnecessary and leave the patient in a far worse state than before. It is one of the principle excellencies of these Pills that such effects are avoided. They are intended to act in harmony with, and to assist, nature. By regulating and strengthening the bowels, and by removing impurities from the blood, they impart tone and vigor to the system, enabling the different organs of the body to perform their various functions, thus curing disease without poisoning the system with deleterious drugs.

I have at my command numerous Testimonials from respectable persons, who have used these Pills with great advantage, but I do not deem it advisable to insert them.

Such Certificates from unknown persons are justly looked upon with suspicion.

They are easily procurable by every Quack; and if not procurable, they may be easily fabricated.

It will be at once perceived that these Pills are not recommended as a care-all. They are simply designed as a safe and reliable family medicine, at the same time mild and efficacious, which may be taken in all cases where tonics are borne, without injury, and which, in most cases, will produce exceedingly happy results.

I have no hesitation in saying, that, as a universal Pill for digestive difficulties, they cannot be excelled; and such is the unequivocal testimony of the numerous medical men to whom the formula has been submitted.
