An Independent Journal Devoted to Politics, Society, Sporting, Mining, Farming, Stock-Raising, and General News.

VOLUME I. NO. 1.

CLANWILLIAM, B. C., MAY 26, 1894.

PRICE, 25 CENTS.

HOTELS.

SANDRINGHAM

CLANWILLIAM,

HORACE HUME MANAGER.

Guests are expected to purchase wines and beer, in view of the merely nominal figure charged for meals. Free bus to any part of the city. No dogs allowed in the rooms. First Class sample rooms for commercial men. Our season has so far opened so successfully that our rooms are nearly all full, but by noon, May 26th, we expect to have our new annex completed, when we will be in a position to accommodate an unlimited number of guests. Guests are particularly requested to report to the manager if held up by the waiters and porters.

* CHARGES VERY MODERATE.

HOTEL NIPPON

HENRY FISCHER,

PROP. AND MANAGER.

Patronised by all the leading people of Canada and England. Shooting, bathing, etc., in the immediate vicinity.
Charges Moderate.

THE PALMER HOUSE

JOHN PALMER,

PROP. AND MANAGER.

First class in all its appointments. Meals at all hours. Fresh milk on draught. Cows kept on the premises.

THE TRAVELLERS REST HOTEL

FRANCIS MILLER,

Charges Moderate. PROPRIETOR.

Travellers not allowed to rest unless money is paid in advance.

GOODERHAM & WORTS

(LIMITED) (ESTABLISHED 1832.)

Canadian Rye Whiskey.

Our Whiskies are fully matured in the wood. Consumers of fine whiskies should insist on the C. P. R. Dining Car carrying this brand, as many have missed it during the late protracted delays, and our private supply soon gave out.

THE FIERY ELEMENT.

Our Excellent Water Works Avert a Conflagration.

From Our Own Special Commissioner on the Scene.

A bush fire broke out in the western portion of our settlement, threatening the destruction of our worthy citizen Palmer's banana plantation. The city's fine fire brigade turned out and after severe work succeeded in saving the buildings and prevented any serious damage to the trees. Mr. Palmer showed his gratitude by presenting the boys with $200.

Terrible Accident.

We are sorry to learn that an expected guest of the Hotel Sandringham inadvertently took a mud bath in the vicinity of Twin Butte on the Queen's birthday. R. F. Drummond is his name, and he immediately took the first train for the east, and will probably remain in Calgary for the balance of the year.

From Our Special Correspondent.

Clanwilliam, May 26.—Clanwilliam has for some time been so very quiet that a person, unless well posted in this western country, would scarcely know such an enterprising little place existed. However, the spring has opened out beautiful and times have in general taken a change. This is proven by the large number of tourists that are at present enjoying themselves by visiting the principal places of note in this vicinity. The mountain scenery at present presents a beautiful picture of the wonderful works of nature. The beautiful green covered mountains on the north, rising to unmeasured heights, until snow finally takes the place of vegetation.

In the east are to be seen the great snow sheds of the C.P.R., over which the mighty slides rush with deafening roar and unmeasurable force into the lovely Summit Lake, the gem of the Gold range. On the south is to be seen the immense waterfalls, which can be heard above all the noise and din of the city. On the west is the fishing ground, where many of the tourists are at present enjoying themselves with rod and fly. Your correspondent called upon one of the chief ranchers of this vicinity, and received some valuable items from him in regard to the farming outlook for this season.

Look out for next week's items.

COMPULSORY RESIDENT.

Blackwood's Club Soda combined with Gooderham & Wort's fine old Whiskey makes a drink fit for the gods. So say all thirsty travellers.

Grand Entertainment.

The following passengers kindly consented to help us at our entertainment, which took place in the city hall last evening, the proceeds of which go toward the building of a new church.

Mr. McLeod of the mail service, sang "Love's Young Dream," rendering it in his smooth, full, delightful voice.

Mr. Glass, our American friend, gave the "Star Spangled Banner," in his well known style.

Mr. Hume gave a lively rendering on his trombone.

Mrs. Hoare kindly presided at the piano.

The Rev. R. W. Gurd-Temple gave us an account of his visit to the Old Country and described the magnificent scenery of Ireland.

Conductor Elson sang "Away With Care," in grand style, and was encored.

Mr. Leishman favored the audience with a selection from Shakespeare.

Mr. Macnamara, who is an old British soldier and went through the Zulu campaign, gave an exhibition of sword exercise and throwing the assegai, and wound up by rendering in his full deep voice the song "To-morrow will be Friday, and we Haven't caught a Fish," which was accorded rounds of applause.

Mr. G. M. Leishman delighted the audience with one of his flowery speeches.

By special request Mr. Dick Ellis sang "The Last Rose of Summer," winning every heart present. Upon being loudly encored he gave "Two Little Girls in Blue." His clear, bell-like notes and perfect style brought down the house.

The handsome and popular conductor, McDonald, of the second section of No. 1, performed the Highland Fling in his most finished and aesthetic style, much to the delight of the audience.

The Mining Outlook for 1894.

BY W. J. P.

The mining outlook for the season of 1894 in the Clanwilliam valley is very bright, the season having opened up so far much earlier than usual. The influx of miners and prospectors has been larger than for some years. In view of this and the rapidity with which the snow has melted off the surrounding mountains, we expect to hear of some wonderfully rich strikes as soon as the prospectors, who are now scouring hills and vales, return. It is said that mine host Hume has located a paying property in the immediate vicinity.

The Scotch club, organised this spring, met at their grounds in Central Park and had their first practice in putting the stone. Messrs. Allan, Fisher (proprietor Hotel Nippon), and McLeod were the competitors. Fisher won by 4ft. 6in.

POETRY.

(BY A. M. T.)

Far from the haunts of busy men
The little hamlet lies,
In the heart of a wooded mountain glen,
Beneath a Dago-sky.

Gift by mountain walls that tower
Till they pierce the clouds that float aloft,
That as if to resent the penetrating power
Like kings they reign till the mountain side is soft.

Thus lies Clanwilliam, Oh, spot serene,
(There's more serene than spot, you know.)
Seventeen can almost with the naked eye be seen,
Never mind, Clan Billy yet may grow.

Oh, the happy days I spent in thee, Ere yet the milk of bliss was skimmed of all its cream.
There thro' the mountain brook the trout would flee,
No whisky was there to mingle with the stream.

We strained our patience from day to day,
For when not moving things are slow—
While the losers chafed at the long delay,
The winners opened the poker show.

But the Ladies, God bless 'em! what would we have done
Had they been left behind.
We each swore we loved them everyone,
And none of 'em seemed to mind.

Oh, Clanwilliam! Oh, Clanwilliam! with your future before you
And the record you're making at present.
All hail to you, Billy, for we all adore you.
You're so cute and so exquisitely pleasant.

But some day when aldermen with their pedal extremities
The size of a flat car or two, Promenade on your pavements and other calamities
Are visited on you.

When your pretty mountains are granulated
And your streams work breweries and such,
We love you Billie as before I stated,
And we still will love you as much.

Society Gossip.

BY MRS. M.

Rocky Mountains, May 25, 1894.— Since the arrival of the special on the evening of May 24th, Clanwilliam has become quite a fashionable resort. This most fashionable and charming of all watering places is beautifully situated in the heart of the mountains and is a veritable paradise, a garden of Eden without the serpent. The Hotel Nippon is crowded with the beauty of fashion, not only of the Old World, but also of the East, and especially of that centre of the civilization of Canada—Winnipeg. Every kind of amusement is the order of the day, from gathering wild flowers on the "lawn," as one young lady aptly described the tangled brush wood of the valley, to roaming in the soft twilight and gazing rapturously at the lofty peaks of the hoary-headed monarchs whose tops seem to kiss the stars.

The hotels, dazzling in the extreme, baffles my descriptive powers, but all are in harmony with surroundings, and rival beauties forget to feel anxious of each other, the charms of nature surpassing all. But for the benefit of my many readers I think I must try to describe our "toilette ravassante." The wearer is petite and a brunette, and the hue of color is extremely becoming to her style of beauty. The skirt is of some dark material, cut regulation length, which is now comfortable and useful. The bodice is of a rich brocade, in that lovely tint of blue called cerulean, and made in loose folds, which are now so much in fashion.

The gentlemen of the party, with the freedom of their sex in such matters, appear in all kinds of "neglige" costumes, but one is specially remarkable for the latest English cut in coats, while another tall and distinguished looking man wears the very latest bow in neckties. Surely "Dear Madge" neckties are man's special weakness. And it is so refreshing to find they have a weakness, isn't it? Amongst the party from Winnipeg is a member of a musical society, famous for their vocal talent, who charms all with her voice, her upper notes being particularly admired, and the saddest hearts are made gay with her entertaining melodies. Her dress excels all in beauty, being of the softest yellow satin, though of rather old-fashioned cut.

Two very interesting children accompany the party from England, and by their winning ways have crept into the hearts of all, even of the crusty old bachelor of the hotel. The "gay deceivers" are as usual busy, and there is a lively flirtation being carried on between a charmingly petite young lady and a tall, fair man. Her brown eyes sparkle with fun, and she seems utterly regardless of les conveniences, for she was seen last evening deliberately bestowing a caress on her adorer, totally unmindful of Mrs.
Grundy. There is of course the usual little scandal, inevitable in all these fashionable places, but that must be another story as Rudyard Rippling says.

Surrounded as we are by all that is beautiful in nature—mountains and forests, rushing streams and babbling brooks—"is it not natural the heart should break into flower, and all agree with one consent to make our summer holiday at Clanwilliam a never-to-be-forgotten and most pleasant reminiscence?"

haven; N. N. Cole, Thos. Blackwood, Winnipeg.

Political Gleanings.

The House of Legislature met last evening at 15:30 o'clock, the Hon. David Theodore in the chair. After devotional exercises, the Hon. Robt. Browning asked the Secretary for Foreign Affairs if any steps had been taken to assist the unfortunate passengers on the west bound train. The Hon. F. C. Wool replied that His Worship the Mayor had started a relief fund and had received up to date substantial help both in kind and money. His Worship had also offered the gaol for those passengers who required a change of air. As the house considered these arrangements highly satisfactory, no further steps were taken.

An exciting discussion followed on the Swine Disease Bill, when the Hon. F. G. Goodman, who is a large breeder of pigs, objected to the order just issued to destroy all pigs in the province. Heated discussion ensued.

The hon. gentleman insulted the chairman of committees, and was forcibly ejected, whereupon a free fight ensued, and the house adjourned in confusion.

It is general believed that the Rosebery Government will not hold together much longer. The Opposition is preparing for a general election, which they say must take place soon, and they are confident of the result.

There is to be a very large conference of all the different labor and liberal operative associations in Leeds, the principal item on their programme being the abolition of the House of Lords.

Another Victory for Clanwilliam.

Our subscribers will observe from the following clipping from the Bruce County Farmer that this progressive city's fame as a summer resort is spreading all over the civilized world and Ontario:

"We arrived at Clanwilliam on May 25th and were so charmed with the scenery and natural advantages of this place as a summer resort that we decided to remain for an indefinite time. A pleasing feature we noticed at the station was the quiet way in which we were received; our ears were not deafened with the clamorous yelling of scores of hotel runners and hackmen, as is the case at other popular summer resorts. We found all the hotels well filled on our arrival, with the Hotel Sandringham doing the business of the season, due no doubt to the fact that it is the only hotel in town doing a bar business, coupled with the magnificent table set. Were it not for the good bar business we fear that this hotel would be a bad investment, as the charges for board are ridiculously low.

Sea bathing is much enjoyed by the many tourists here, as is also the mountain climbing and fishing. A Winnipeg gentleman named Blackwood noted for his veracity and strong advocacy of the use of such temperance drinks as ginger ale, soda and such beverages, states that he caught an immense trout yesterday, but it escaped over the bank after being landed, it being a mountain trout and accustomed to climbing. We have, of course, garden parties, concerts, prayer meetings and taffy parties (of two). Our genial friend, Macnamara is of great service at prayer meetings in passing collection plates. Mr. Glass keeps his eye on him while doing so.

A steamer excursion is planned for the near future from Port Griffin Lake to Sicamous. We have not settled on the day yet, as very rough weather is reported on the gulf near Point Craigellachie, where a tidal wave is reported to have caused much damage. No ships from the west have arrived for several days.

It is with extreme regret that we have to announce that one of our most valued lady correspondents, Mrs. H., is about to sever her connection with our staff, as she intends taking up her residence in Vancouver. This lady having moved in the leading social circle in our city and Winnipeg, and by her personal magnetism, charming all whom she meets, will be a decided acquisition to Vancouver. What is our loss is Vancouver's gain.

Local and District News.

Wendell Maclean is the leading druggist of Calgary, Alberta.

J. B. Payne's magnificent cigars filled the bill in every particular.

The Dominion Hotel, Kamloops, B.C., Fred H. Nelson, proprietor.

Mr. DesBrisay caught an immense salmon trout in our river yesterday.

There was a washout west of here which delayed the C.P.R. No. 1 considerably.

Palmer's dog Snap is matched for $500 a side, against Elson's Bruiser, one month from this date.

Frank Reid expects the the job of foreman in the Hot, Sandringham. Congratulations Frank!

Bears are plentiful in this district. Messrs. Brown and Black succeeded in killing four yesterday.

The genial Conductor Elson is so charmed with our city that he shortly intends coming here to reside.

Jno. Cahill is staying off taking in the beauties of our city, before proceeding to Portland, Ore., where he will make his future home.

It is rumored that the blockade will be raised this evening and the delayed trains rushed through to their destination. (We have this from the veracious Mac).

We are informed that a very interesting event may shortly take place between our telegraph operator and a fair lady who is at present residing in the Hall de Palmer.

The passengers on the delayed express are loud in their praise of the extreme kindness and care exercised in their behalf by the officials in charge of the train and the managers of the C. P. railway.

We keep ahead of the times in all classes of dry-goods, silks, laces, etc., etc. A big range of ladies' blouses, at right prices, clothing, hats, and caps to suit the million. At McArthur & Harper's, Kamloops, B.C. Mail orders solicited.

ON DIT—It is whispered that one of our staff, who in his spare moments rushes a most celebrated brand of liquid refreshments, is about to lead one of Clanwilliam's fairest and most accomplished daughters to the altar. But keep it quiet.

During the detention of the trains at Illecillewaet, there was fortunately a car of Ogilvie's celebrated Hungarian in town, and being manipulated by Thos. Richardson, of the Maple Leaf hotel, gave life, strength and contentment to the delayed travellers.

Owing to the time being up at which we have to go to press, i.e. dinner, and the immense amount of matter which we have to work up, a number of our most valued contributed articles have been most unavoidably crowded out, but will appear in our next issue. Ed.

Just as we were about going to press, we heard with much regret of the complete destruction by fire of our old friend Col. Forester's splendid summer resort hotel, at Sicamous. The boys all sympathise deeply with the Colonel and feel satisfied that he, with his usual push, will soon have another building in shape for business.

Conductor Elson, Engineer Powers, Fireman Soames, Brakeman Maddigan, Baggage-man Adams, Sleeping Car Conductors Fisher and Antoine, are at present staying in the city, and with their handsome faces and manly forms, clothed in their splendid gold laced uniforms, have captivated the hearts of all our fair citizens. May they come often. (Ed.)

Our worthy Mayor has just received a special cable intimating that an enormous circus is to arrive in the course of the day, in which there will be riders and rope dancers, ring-tailed baboons, laughing monkeys, tigers and polecats. All the civic authorities will turn out in state, headed by the Mayor and Aldermen Millar, Jones, and others. A very large audience is anticipated.

Mr. H. Walker has imported three fine Scotch deerhounds, named Bluehill, Bracken, and Dow, from the Duke of Roxburgh's kennels at Fornas, Scotland. They are splendid specimens and will be a credit to this part of British Columbia. Mr. Walker with some friends took them out for their trial run yesterday, and after a most exciting chase of four hours managed to bag a magnificent buck.

The C. P. R. is to be congratulated in having thoroughly reliable and efficient men in charge of the mountain portion of their line, during the present difficulties. From Mr. Marpole, the genial and indefatigable superintendent, down to the brakeman, all, you might say, have done their best to make the enforced delay of the passengers as short and comfortable as possible, and we are pleased to say they have succeeded admirably.

A friendly boxing set-to took place in Palmer's hall last evening. Mr. Glass our sporting editor, put the gloves on with our friend, Mr. Hume, and after forty-two rounds it was declared a draw. The match of the evening was between Maddigan and Trew. From the first the gait was extremely lively. Trew's passes, checks, guards, and scientific duckings were beautiful, but he could not hold out and after the seventh round lost on a foul. The boys will back Maddigan for $10,000 against the world.

Blackwood's Famous World's Fair Medal Ginger Ale and Club Soda was much appreciated by each and every one of the delayed passengers, and especially by our friend Macnamara.

At the last meeting of the city council it was suggested that an effort be made to secure the services of some prominent engineer from one of the eastern cities, preferably Winnipeg, to consult with our engineer ere the difficulty in forcing the water and sewerage over the hill on Rotten Row, near the bank. But as it was found that eastern cities had not succeeded in getting their water and sewerage to run up their hills, it was decided that our own engineer was quite capable of handling the difficulty himself.
