THE COURIER.

SATURDAY, JUNE 7, 1851.

There can scarcely be any greater moral contrast among loose-principled public men than that which their promises and performances exhibit. In politics especially, to hear some persons speak, to witness the passionate tones of their voice, so full of self-abandoned honest sympathy, and to note the philanthropic turn of their expressions, one would suppose that they were jointly and severally the perfect embodiment—the very incarnation—of all that was wise and just and patriotic; but let them once wriggle and grimace and insinuate themselves into power, and the easily fitting mask which they had only worn for a little while to advance their own secret and ignoble selfish interests, is at once unblushingly thrown aside, and they rise up and stand forth unblushingly before honest men's astonished eyes in all the disgusting deformity of their inborn dastardly depravity.—Monsters of political degeneracy, to whom disloyalty is as natural as the air they breathe, and treason as familiar as the sun-light, under the influence of which their Upas-like existence flourishes into pestiferous profusion of branch and foliage. When the loyal, the true, the conservative, the real friends of religious and civil liberty, are in power, how microscopically do they and their organs examine every measure, and how ingeniously do they torture every act into some imaginary grievance, or some fanciful anticipation of future delinquency? How loudly do the lions of their party roar,—the hymens of their nightly and solitary walks howl,—the geese of their pasture gabble, and the sheep of their flock bleat, over any shadowy ill-constructed mare's nest which they, in the plenitude of their shallow wits, think they have discovered in the acts, actions or indicated future resolves of their dignified adversaries? and how eagerly do they lay their heads together like so many pigeons in a pie to disconcert a scheme, to have had any existence except in their own muddy brains. Under the shallow impression of a plot, or an invention of the enemy, how industriously do they bestir themselves?—just as if a Whig-Radical brain was at any time able to comprehend, much less circumvent, a Conservative purpose. No matter, there they go, with some of their bell-weathers always in front—butting and bullying here—for your Radical is every inch a bully, except where he may happen to be a coward—whispering there—holding hole and corner meetings in one place, mounting the stump in another, haranguing, cajoling, buying, selling, flattering, and promising, until their purpose be accomplished, and then the important end of all their molelike labor and anxiety begins.—Chiselling—we thank them for the word—a word which the gallant Member for Essex revived the other day—rules the hour. Jobbery, pert as a blue jay, wags his impertinent tail in your face, "Now we are in, this is comfortable,—stir the fire, Tom—what! no poker!! We must have a silver one immediately." "But let us to business—there at the door stands Dick, waiting for a place, and he must have it—waited long enough, poor fellow; we must make him a commissioner of ——— something, it has to be sure only the trifling drawback of being of no earthly use to the community, but what of that, when we can make the people pay for it! And there, too, is Harry, another staunch friend, he must have an office some how or other; let us look around us—here is one would do for him very well—emolument, &c. It has already indeed been occupied for years by a person who thoroughly understands the business of it. No matter, we must have it, 'chisel' him out, our friend Harry must have it, he will be useful, he's of the right whalebone stamp, and will soon learn the business,—at any rate, he is one of ourselves, and an enemy to all Buckmen, Tories." And thus they go on, in the spirit of a late British Whig Minister, who declared that he would not allow a Tory cat to mew within the precincts of Buckingham Palace—remodelling here, creating there, altering it into ———, abolishing in another, until the whole machine of the Government, broken and disjointed, gets into the most inextricable confusion. And then, at last, wiser heads, truer hearts, and stronger hands, must again take the reins of Government in hand, and guide the crazy top-heavy vessel of the State into smoother water and safe anchorage.

EUROPEAN AFFAIRS.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

The Vine [illegible] with regard to [illegible] has been fully confirmed. By the arrival of [illegible] we learn that the Emperor has formally accepted the resignation of Mr. Walpole's Ministry, and has entrusted the formation of a new Government to Lord John Russell—at least the enactment is the same, even if the language be different. The reason said their absence of the original Bill having been withdrawn, and the amicable laying bare thereof necessary as the appointment of "mechanics of legislation." Mr. Walpole's clause, as already stated, stands first in the Bill, and requests, as do sporting clauses, the principle laid down in the constellation Scorpio, about 8° North of the ecliptic. It is of a pale blush color, and its light is about equal to that of a star of the ninth magnitude.

The case of Mr. Holdstock and Mr. Carne must be fresh in the minds of your readers. It is understood that the Priests have given up the property to the nearest of kin of the deceased, a pretty plain proof that they felt that the Court of Chancery would compel them to make restitution, and saddle them, perhaps, with heavy costs, with the risk of some other minor proceedings. The Schools of the Chapel of St. Aloysius are accordingly minus some £7,000, which the Trustees had counted upon, and Cardinal Wiseman, in order to mark his sense of Mr. Holdstock's conduct in the matter, preached on Sunday at this little humble Chapel in Somer's Town, and declared his undiminished confidence in that gentleman's integrity. The Cardinal talked of the unkind people statutes which were being passed against Roman Catholics; but he did not say that his own ambition had provoked them. He assured the congregation that he knew God would make up the loss of the money in some other way. This he was very positive about, as the pecuniary loss is not to be regretted. Then he said that "motives" had been maliciously attributed to Mr. Holdstock, by those wicked fellows, the Protestants, but he (the Cardinal) knew Mr. Holdstock better, and he was satisfied of the purity of his intentions, and his conduct merited the Cardinal's "esteem," nay, his "approbation." In short, all parties finding the case one which learned men denominate "no go," they met together to console each other, hoping for better luck next time.

The Amateurs at Devonshire House have played out their play, and you will perceive that the newspapers criticise it very gingerly. It was not damned, but the Morning Chronicle, in the best critique which was published upon it, rather hints that it deserved to be. However this may be, the receipts were as large as the most sanguine could have anticipated, and the Queen and the highest rank and fashion attended. Many a rich snob would pay five guineas to see the inside of Devonshire House.

—The three great monarchial parties in France have agreed to propose a motion for the revision of the constitution, but, notwithstanding this apparent unanimity of design, it is so very transparent that their motives are so divergent and irreconcilable, that it is idle to expect a solution of the difficulties which threaten France from their efforts. We are told, day after day, that this Club and that journal pronounces in favor of "revision," but by all that is meant nothing more than the declaration of a confederacy, composed of Legitimists, Orleanists, and Bonapartists, which will combine together, and cement to anything in order to crush the Reds; and after they had made a clear stage for their own dissensions, they would turn and endeavor each to crush the other. I still adhere to the opinion that Louis Napoleon is conscious that he is losing ground. His organs are by no means so cock-a-poop as they were a month ago. The project now talked of is, that each party shall propose a revision of the constitution, which in each case will be carried by a simple majority, but not the requisite majority fixed by law. After this, it is intended to adjourn the Chamber, and work upon the Councils-General in the Departments, and, according to the success obtained, the motive will be "Perseverance or Resignation." In this pretty plan the Reds are wholly "ignored," and the differences amongst the party of "order" are all kept out of sight. France must go through a frightful ordeal before the questions of the Electoral Law and that relating to the Presidency are finally settled. The Times and the Constitutionnel are amusing their readers with "Messages" purporting to be written by M. Joseph Mazzini, addressed to the Democrats of Europe. It is only surprising how the Editors of those journals can be gulled with such trash. Whatever may be M. Mazzini's merits or demerits, at least he knows how to write, and the "misterieux" put forth as his were scarcely worth his formal disavowal.

The Belgian Ministers have resigned in a body. MM. Verhaegen, Dumon-Dumortier, and Charles Rousseau have severally been called upon by King Leopold to form an Administration, but these liberal Statesmen have declined to undertake the task. I presume, therefore, that as the Conservative opposition is not strong enough to assume the reins of power, M. Rogier will again have to take office, with a slight modification of the late Ministry.

The Count de Thomar has arrived in London. Before quitting Vigo, he fired away a Manifesto at his rival, the Duke of Saldanha, but the Duke is too much to attend to just now to regard mere paper pellets. He has not yet quitted Oporto, and at Lisbon much excitement prevails in the uncertainty what events will follow the late revolution.

There is very little news from Germany or the South of Europe.

The intelligence by the Overland Mail is up to the 17th of April from Bombay, and to the 30th of March from Hong-Kong. The Marquis of Dalhousie is passing his journey slowly back to India, previous to his speedy return to Calcutta. Canada is tranquil, but not old money. Dost Mahomed, of Cabul, is at the upper end of the Khyber Pass, with a body of 5,000 Afghans, probably executing arrangements with the Khyberees to uphold the Rebel

"THE BLOOD IS THE LIFE," SYPHILITIC DISEASES.

DR. HALSEY'S FOREST WINE.

DR. L. S. HALSEY, late Professor of Physiology, in the Medical Faculty of Geneva College, New York, and Member of the Royal Medical Society of Edinburgh, &c. &c., after many years of extensive practice, and careful observation of the effects of various remedies, has at length succeeded in producing a preparation of Vegetable Medicines, which, in all cases of Disease originating from Impure Blood, or Derangement of the Digestive Organs, Liver, Lungs, and, in short, all the diseases enumerated above, has proved itself a never-failing remedy. Dr. H. has devoted the best portion of his life to the investigation of the properties of Medicinal Herbs, and has spared neither time nor expense in procuring the most valuable remedies known to the Botanic World. The Forest Wine has been used in his own practice for many years, and in the hands of his friends for a long time previous to its introduction to the public. Many of these, in the most desperate cases of Consumption, Scrofula, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Female Weakness, Rheumatism, Fever and Ague, and other diseases, have been restored to perfect health by the use of the Forest Wine, when all other remedies had failed. Dr. H. has now in his possession certificates of many remarkable cures performed by the Forest Wine, which he has not space to publish. Those who wish for further information, are referred to the Pamphlet which accompanies each bottle, containing a brief account of the Forest Wine, and certificates of some of the most remarkable cures which have been performed by it.

The Forest Wine and Pills are highly recommended by the Medical Faculty here, and by many of the most eminent Physicians in the United States, as the most valuable remedy ever discovered for the cure of Consumption, Scrofula, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Female Weakness, Rheumatism, Fever and Ague, and all diseases arising from Impure Blood, or Derangement of the Digestive Organs.

Hamburgh Water.

WHEREAS the Proprietor of the Hamburgh Water has been informed by Dr. Locock, that the use of the Hamburgh Water is not only calculated to relieve, but entirely to cure that distressing complaint, Leucorrhœa, or Whites, and that he has recommended it to many of his patients, and that it has never failed in a single instance to effect a cure; I have thought it right to make this public, that those who are afflicted with this complaint may know where they can obtain a remedy for it.

Many of those who are now using the Water, have been afflicted with this complaint for many years, and have tried many of the most celebrated remedies without effect, and have been induced to try the Hamburgh Water from seeing the cures performed by it, and have found relief in a few days after commencing to use it.

Those who are afflicted with this complaint, and the other complaints for which women are subject, can obtain the Hamburgh Water, in any quantity, at my residence, No. 3, Bonsecours Street, where I am always to be found, or at the Store of Mr. Wm. Lyman, Great St. James Street, where a supply will always be kept on hand.

Montreal, March 27, 1851. ROBERT D. MACDONNELL, M.D.

THE MAYOR'S CERTIFICATE.
PLANTAGENET WATER.

In accordance with the request contained in the annexed letter, I have much pleasure in certifying that I have used Plantagenet Water, and have found it a most valuable remedy in the cure of Rheumatism and other pains. I have also used it in my own family with the most satisfactory results, in the cure of Dyspepsia, and other diseases of the digestive organs, and I am fully convinced that it is a most valuable remedy for those complaints.

(Signed) JOHN EASTON BELL, Mayor.

Ottawa, March 1, 1851.

TESTIMONY of Johnson Burke, a highly respectable citizen of Waverly Place, New York:—

Dr. G. W. HALSEY:—DEAR SIR,—I consider the Forest Wine as the King of Medicines. It has done for me in Six weeks what three Physicians failed to do in as many years. In 1846, I became a victim of the Heart Disease and Nervous Affections, which have been growing on me ever since then, until I reached the point of death. My family Physician advised me to take your Forest Wine. Accordingly I went to Mr. Perry's, your Agent for this town, and procured a bottle of it, which restored her in a very short time to perfect health.

HENRY DONALDSON.

Cobourg, April 12, 1850.

The testimony of upwards of three hundred individuals, some of whom were afflicted with dreadful disorders, and considered incurable, may be seen at Dr. Halsey's principal Office. The following are some of them residing in this city:—

Mr. Asa S. Smith, 167, Prince Street, Office in Wall Street, was long severely afflicted with a disease of the kidneys and bladder. The best medical skill universally prevailed. He tried the Forest Wine, and it and his case, and he was consequently cured by the use of four bottles and a box of the Forest Pills.

Mr. Jacob Bell, Merchant, 59 Pearl Street, was for four years a martyr to severe Rheumatic Pains, and could find no relief until he used the Forest Wine and Pills, and recovered by taking six bottles and less than a box of the Pills.

The respectable officer of the Forest Wine is the Hon. B. L. Ewing, of Virginia, who was cured in a few hours' time of a severe attack of Bilious Diarrhœa and general prostration of bodily energy. On the arrival of this gentleman in New York in March, he was so weak and nervous, from the effects of his illness, that he could not write, and required assistance to enable him to walk in his apartments. He was cured for, and he returned to the use of less than a bottle of the Wine and a couple dose of the Pills.

The Forest Wine and Pills are recommended to us efficient and certain cure in all the following complaints:—

Dyspepsia, Habitual Costiveness, Liver Complaint, Jaundice, Piles, Obstinate Headache, Bilious Disorders, Pimples, Blotches and unhealthy State of the Skin, Jaundice, Agues, Intermittent Fever, Salt Rheum, Scrofula, Consumption, Weakness, Night Sweats, Nervous Disorders, General Ill Health and impaired state of the Constitution.

☞ General Depôt for Halsey's Forest Wine, No. 324, Spruce Street, New York. One Dollar per Bottle, or Six Bottles for Five Dollars.—Twenty-Five Cents per Box for the Pills.

For Sale by WM. LYMAN & Co., and all respectable Druggists.

THE GREAT REMEDY FOR DYSPEPSIA.

THE PROPHECY FULFILLED.

IT the month of August, 1846, we announced in this journal that we should shortly produce a medicine that would relieve any person of pain, and certainly cure Dyspepsia.

We proposed to Physicians, and all other gentlemen for the benefit of the sick to Dyspepsia, to furnish them with the medicine, and to discontinue its use if it did not relieve them in a few days. We declared that it would cure, in a few days, the worst case of Dyspepsia that ever existed, and that in a few days after commencing to use it, the patient would feel like a new person, and would rejoice that he had ever heard of it. We declared that it would cure Liver Complaint, Costiveness, Piles, Headache, Pain in the Side, Back, and Limbs, Sour Stomach, Heartburn, Sick Headache, Flatulency, Want of Appetite, Low Spirits, Nervousness, Blues, Rush of Blood to the Head, Drowsiness after meals, Wakefulness at night, Cold Feet, Nightmare, Dizziness, Spasms, Sinking at the Pit of the Stomach, Swimming of the Head, Hurried and difficult Breathing, Fluttering at the Heart, Choking or Suffocating Sensations when in a lying posture, Dimness of Vision, Dots or Webs before the Sight, Fever and Dull Pain in the Head, Deficiency of Perspiration, Yellowness of the Skin and Eyes, Pain in the Side, Chest, Limbs, and Sudden Flushes of Heat, Burning in the Flesh, Constant imaginings of Evil, and great Depression of Spirits, can be effectually cured by using a few bottles of

P. P. P.

It would be impossible to name all the complaints that arise from a disordered Stomach, but we will mention a few of the most prominent symptoms, such as Habitual Costiveness, Loss of Appetite, Nausea at the Stomach, Sick Headache, Paleness of the Face, Yellowness of the Skin and Eyes, Pain in the Back, Chest, Limbs, &c., Dizziness, Drowsiness, Colds, Chills and Fever, Hot Hands, Restlessness at night, Nightmare, Low Spirits, Blotches on the Skin, Boils, Worms, Tetter or Salt Rheum, Scurvy Humors, Impurities of the Blood, &c. &c.

We publish particularly attention to the fact that it does not contain a particle of Opium in any form. Neither does it contain Calomel or Mercury in any form.

It is free from any deleterious substance, and cannot injure the most delicate female or infant in any way.

These are not the words of the Life Preacher, nor produce the burning, drying, parching sensation, so commonly complained of in other "Pain Killers."

It does not contain any of the intoxicating qualities of the brandy, gin, or other spirituous liquors, so commonly used in "Pain Killers," as the use of it will not make the most confirmed drunkard drink liquor.

IN ALL BRONCHITIC AFFECTIONS,

Nasal Pains, &c., it has proved unexpectedly successful, and many persons who were in the most deplorable state from the above diseases, have been entirely cured by the use of a few bottles. Those who are afflicted should be careful to get the genuine article, as there are many worthless imitations afloat. Ask for P. P. P., and if it differs or it twenty minutes after the first dose, do not feel relief, report the case.

DYSENTERY OR DIARRHŒA.

Are speedily and utterly cured by it. It should be given in teaspoonful at a time, and repeated after every stool or vomiting, until better the stomach and bowels with the same.

EVEN THE CHOLERA.

Yielded during the past season, has swept off such fearful numbers, has been cured by it, we believe in every case where it has been early and properly applied. In fact, we believe it a little but and pain killer that is equal to it in the world. If the reader is afflicted with any of the above complaints, we will say to him, Purchase a bottle of it to any Druggist in the country, and if it does not relieve you, we will risk its reputation on his opinion.
