Kaiser Renounces His Crown

Discards All Future Rights as Emperor or King

FORMAL DOCUMENT OF ABDICATION HAS BEEN FORWARDED TO GERMAN CAPITAL

It Has Already Reached Berlin--Unconfirmed Report Still Persists That Ex-Kaiser is to Make a Move to Reclaim His Throne When the Revolutionary Spirit Subsides in Germany

By Courier Leased Wire.

COPENHAGEN, Nov. 30.—Bulletin.—The formal document of Emperor William's abdication has already arrived in Berlin, according to a Berlin dispatch to The Abendblatt.

RENOUNCES ALL RIGHTS.

AMSTERDAM, Nov. 30.—William Hohenzollern has definitely renounced all future rights to the crowns of Prussia and Germany, and has released all officials and officers from their oath of fealty, according to the text of a document signed by the former emperor, which is quoted in a telegram received here from Berlin.

ANOTHER STORY.

AMERONGEN, Holland, Friday, Nov. 29.—It is understood here that William Hohenzollern has been awaiting the arrival of his wife before going elsewhere. Germans in his suite believe he will return to Germany, and are optimistic enough to think he will resume the throne.

A member of Count von Bentinck's household said today that the former emperor was greatly moved when his wife arrived and seemed particularly delighted. One of Herr Hohenzollern's servants is reported to have said that his master was much brighter and to have added: "Things are looking better for us."

GERMANY THREATENED AUSTRIA

COPENHAGEN, Nov. 29.—People of prominence in Vienna, who are in touch with the foreign department there, assert that in 1917 when Count Czernin, then Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, sought by Emperor Charles' order to induce Emperor William to conclude peace, he was referred to supreme headquarters.

When Count Czernin pointed out that Austria was exhausted and might be compelled to make a separate peace, General Ludendorff, striking the table, exclaimed:

"The same day that Austria concludes a separate peace, it will receive a declaration of war from Germany. That will be our only answer to such a breach."

Count Czernin thereupon returned to Vienna and told the emperor that nothing could be done as Austria's fate was indissolubly knitted with that of Germany.

On the accompanying map the continuous black lines indicate the location of the allied armies on the west and south-west of Germany. The heavy ticked line suggests the territory occupied by the allied military or their friends north of the Balkans. In many parts of Austria, as in Bohemia, and also in Poland, the allies have millions of supporters. German troops are terrorizing the countryside. It is reported that they have captured Pakoff. Hundreds of thousands of Russian prisoners now homeward bound are causing much disorder in eastern Germany.

BOARD OF TRADE IS TO UNDERGO REORGANIZATION

Will Likely Become Brantford Chamber of Commerce Early Next Year

CHANGES PLANNED

Campaign for a 500 Membership to be Undertaken in January

WOMEN AS MEMBERS?

At last night's meeting of the Board of Trade a resolution endorsing the work outlined by General Foster, was moved by J. M. Young, seconded by Logan Waterous, and carried unanimously.

A campaign will be conducted in January, 1919, with an objective of 500 members, at an annual fee of $25 per member. Mr. C. G. Ellis, the president, first gave a brief outline of the history of the Board of Trade. The board was first created in 1866. It was granted a charter in 1879, but it did not prosper, as is shown in the fact that in 1884 there were only 49 members. In 1900 however, the membership increased to over 200 members, and at the present time there are 350 paying members, the membership having increased during the past two years by 100.

The object of calling a special meeting was to discuss the matter of reorganizing the board under the supervision of the American City Bureau of which General Foster is a representative. The council of the board felt that now is the time to take on the work of re-organization, and that it should be undertaken by specialists in this business. The president also thought that women should belong to the board of trade, and that they should be given every inducement to become members.

Representatives were present from the boards of trade from Toronto, Woodstock, Stratford, and Simcoe. The president then introduced General T. C. R. Foster.

General Foster. The latter explained that his object in his visit to Brantford was the re-organization of the board of trade. He congratulated the board on the large number present, and stated that it was a larger gathering than he had anticipated, and even larger than audiences in larger cities where he had been. He was in London, Ont., about three months ago, and it was the first city in Canada to undertake the work of re-organization and municipal betterment under the bureau. The people of London did not think it was possible to organize an active Chamber of Commerce, as the residents of their city were too conservative. However, in four weeks there were actually 820 paying members in the organization, and all are now taking an active interest in the welfare and progress of their city. A campaign has been closed in Winnipeg and one is to be started shortly in Sarnia.

Women Members. One of the ideas of the Chamber of Commerce now being organized is to bring to these meetings representatives from all elements including both sexes. Only in the past few years have women been thought to deserve a place in such a body, but in Niagara Falls, N.Y., there are 150 women in the Chamber of Commerce as paying members; in Port Huron, Mich., the vice-president is of the softer sex; in Sandusky, O., a large number of women belong to the chamber.

Program of Improvement. A very effective means of securing the permanency of members obtained is to set an objective, such as to map out a program for the enlargement and improvement of the city which will cover a period of a number of years. This should be done in an efficient and systematic manner.

The Following Resolution Was Adopted. "That the Board of Trade is of the opinion that a campaign should be undertaken as outlined in the addresses just delivered by the president, and by General Foster of the American City Bureau, New York, for the purpose of enlarging and developing the Brantford Board of Trade with a view to its greater usefulness to the city."

Therefore be it resolved that the present council of the board be given the necessary power and authority to make all arrangements, financial and otherwise; and to conduct a campaign in January, 1919, on the lines suggested, and that each member be, and is hereby urged to give all assistance asked for by the council, or by any.

HAMILTON MAY BE QUARANTINED

Local Board of Health May Take Action to Protect Brantford

Hamilton, Nov. 29.—Owing to the continued spread of Spanish influenza, the ban was again placed on all public meetings, effective this evening at 6 o'clock. The ban is even more drastic than that which was imposed several weeks ago and removed. It not only closes theatres, churches, pool rooms, etc., but also orders the closing of all stores and offices at 4 p.m. After that hour only the proprietor will be allowed to remain in the store or office; all others must be dismissed. The crowding of street cars is also prohibited. In view of the fact that the Christmas shopping season is approaching it is feared that business will be seriously affected, but the health authorities consider the order necessary. Yesterday, 138 new cases were reported, making the total 4,714, with total deaths of 344. Factories are not affected by the new order. It is probable that houses in which there are influenza cases will be placarded unless the epidemic subsides. While bowing to the decree, the Hamilton Ministerial Association, at a meeting this morning, passed a resolution expressing a desire that churches should be allowed to have one service.

Mr. Minnes Questioned. When questioned with regard to the menacing condition of affairs which has again developed in the Ambitious City, Mr. Minnes, chairman of the Brantford Board of Health, informed The Courier that the matter of a quarantine against Hamilton had not yet been considered. He had it in mind, however, to pay a personal visit to the Ambitious City to ascertain the facts at first hand and see if steps were necessary to protect Brantfordites.

THE GRAVE IS LOCATED

Of Former Brantford Hero Previously Reported Missing

Fred Pinnell, 22 Jubilee avenue, received a letter from his brother, Jack, who is still in France, announcing that he had found the grave of another brother, Howard, who had been listed as missing on May 3rd, 1917. Fred, who went from here with the 125th, was with Howard in the same platoon at Fresnoy, when the former disappeared. The communication follows: France, Nov. 10, 1918. My Dear Brother:—Just a line to let you know I have at last some information with reference to Howard.

I went over the ground to-day that the First Battalion went over on May 3rd, 1917, and have located a grave with a small cross over it bearing poor old Howard's number and his battalion. I will put it down just as it was on the board (772200 Name unknown, 1st Can. Battalion. Buried Oct. 18th, 1917). I wrote his name on the cross and put a big cross of chalk stones flat on top of his grave. It is in the lower left hand corner of Farbus Wood near the road.

I am glad in one way that I have found his grave, for I know now he is dead, which is far better than the way it was.

I want you to tell mother in some way so that she will not feel it too badly. If you think it best do not tell her until I come home and then she will not feel it so much.

I will close now, hoping this finds you well as it leaves me. Your Loving Brother, Jack.

MRS. CLARK BURNED

At 6.20 this morning a fire broke out at 36 South street, the home of Mr. Alvin Clark. Gas was leaking from the pipes in the cellar, and when Mrs. Clark went down with a candle she exploded, and she was badly burned about the face and hands.

The fire was confined to the basement, through the efforts of the firemen, and very little damage was done to the house. The property is owned by Mr. George S. Walker.

CLAIMS DAMAGES

H. B. Magill Blames City for Auto Smash at Bell Memorial

The city clerk has received a letter from Brewster and Heyd stating that Herbert B. Magill claims damages from the city for the injuries done to the car he was driving and his personal property when it turned turtle by the Bell Memorial on Tuesday night. Mr. Magill claims that the street lighting at the corner of Nelson and Pearl Streets is insufficient, and that the way in which the end of the park is constructed is a menace to the public's safety. The car he was driving belonged to R. S. Ropp, 217 Terrace Hill street, and the extent of the damage done to it was $175.

SAVE YOUR HAIR! A SMALL BOTTLE STOPS DANDRUFF

Every bit of dandruff disappears and hair stops coming out.

Try this! Your hair appears glossy, abundant, wavy and beautiful.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair, the sure evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf.

There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching on the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Dandarine to-night—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a small bottle of Knowlton's Dandarine from any drug store or toilet-counter for a few cents, and after the first application your hair will take on that life, lustre and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance, an incomparable gloss and softness; but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp.

Dandarine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong, and beautiful.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By Rev. P. E. FITZWATER, D. D., This Church of England Bible in the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. Copyright, 1918, Western Newspaper Union.)

LESSON FOR DECEMBER 1

THE STORY OF JOSEPH.

LESSON TEXT—Genesis 37:12-28. GOLDEN TEXT—Hated, stretch up stripes, but low, covereth up all transgressions.—Proverbs 10:1.

DEVOTIONAL READING—Psalms 4:1-3. ADDITIONAL MATERIAL—Genesis 37:1-11.

I. Joseph the Well-Beloved Son (37:1-4).

Joseph was Jacob's favorite son. This was due partly to the fact that he was the son of the wife of his first love and the son of his old age, but mainly because of the superior qualities which Joseph possessed. This favoritism expressed itself in a superior position and more respectable clothes. That Jacob should feel partial toward Joseph, perhaps, was unavoidable, but that he should manifest it, was extremely unwise. Serious trouble was always present, especially being shown toward children. His brethren's intense hatred burst forth upon him. This feeling was intensified by his pure life and by his testimony among them because of their evil deeds. Joseph is a type of Christ. He was living in fellowship with his father at Hebron (37:14); Christ was with the Father before coming into the world (John 16:28); Joseph was the beloved son (Genesis 37:3); Christ was the beloved Son of God (Matthew 3:17); Joseph was hated by his brethren (Genesis 37:4); Christ was hated by his brethren (John 8:12); Joseph was envied by his brethren (Genesis 37:11); Christ was delivered up through envy (Mark 15:10).

II. Joseph's Dreams (37:5-11).

1. His brothers' sheaves bowing in obedience to his. This was rightly interpreted by them to mean their humble obedience to him. This intensified their hatred. 2. The sun, moon and eleven stars rendering obedience to him in his application. This dream is wider in its application. The eleven stars are identical with the eleven sheaves. The sun and moon, as rightly interpreted by his father, represented his father and mother, as rendering obedience to him. III. Joseph Sent by His Father on a Mission of Mercy to His Brethren (37:12-17).

His brethren had gone to Shechem, about fifty miles distant from Hebron, where was abundance of pasture for their flocks. Jacob became anxious as to their welfare, and sent Joseph, a young man now seventeen years old, to find out their condition. Undeterred by the "obvious hatred" of his brethren, he went, and responded, "Here I am." No doubt he realized that his mission was fraught with great dangers—the exposure to highway robbers, wild beasts, and the murderous hatred of his brethren. Notwithstanding this, he rendered willing obedience. Christ was sent by the Father on a mission of mercy to his brethren (1 John 4:14; John 1:11; Phil. 2:7, 8). Though he knew that the envious hatred of his brethren would result in his suffering and death on the cross, he went forth delighting to do his Father's will.

IV. Joseph's Reception by His Brethren (37:18-28).

1. Their murderous plot (37:18-22). They said "Behold this dreamer cometh, he will oppress us, and say, 'Here I am.'" This was the dream which Jacob had said about him (Matt. 21:38). They thought they would prevent these dreams coming true by destroying the dreamer. Reuben dissuaded them from this act by proposing to cast him into a pit, intending afterward to rescue him and restore him to his father. 2. They strip him of his coat of many colors and cast him into the pit (37:23, 24). In spite of his earnest entreaty against this act they perpetrated this heartless cruelty (Genesis 42:21).

3. Their feasting (v. 25).

Their heartless cruelty is manifest in that they could enjoy the festivities of a meal, perhaps, within the sight and hearing of Joseph's cries. 4. Sold him to the Ishmaelites (37:25-28). Judah proposed that they sell him, as no gain could accrue from letting him die in the pit. One Judah, later, sold the Lord for money. Having done this infamous deed, they sought to cover it up by deceit and lying. They took his coat of many colors and dipped it in the blood of a kid and sent it to his father, allowing him to draw his own conclusions as to the matter. Jacob is now reaping what he had sown. Many years before this he had deceived his father by trickery and pious lying.

Others.

The late General Booth was asked upon one occasion to send a message to the various stations of the Salvation Army throughout the world, and to condense into one word. After some reflection he chose the word "Others!" There was a whole sermon in it—the call to sacrifice.

The Key to Knowledge.

"If any man do his will, he shall know of the doctrine, whether it be of God." Obeyance, then, is the key of knowledge.—Christina G. Rossetti.

Save Your Battery MR. CAR OWNER

Dear Sir,—It's your duty to get every last ampere out of your old battery. It is the duty of each and every one of us to conserve all labor and material in every way possible.

If you neglect your battery, if you don't care how you drive your car, if you wear out the heart of its electrical system—you are working against your country's interest.

The coming Winter months will be hard on your battery—it will need special attention. A cold engine and long burning of lights will put a heavy tax on it. If you drive your car, don't face the winter without letting us look over your battery.

If you decide to lay up your car, bring the battery to us. We will store it properly and turn it back to you in the spring in the best possible condition.

Don't forget to call on us and get complete information on how to prolong your battery's life.

Yours very truly,

Claude Beckly Yarns Brian About Mandel

Brian felt rather conscience-stricken as he rode home a-top of the bus. He really had not meant to say so much to Mollie. But, as he had said, it was in his system. He had felt better for a few moments because of "getting it out," but now he felt a bit ashamed. He had not been quite loyal to Ruth, and Ruth was his wife. His wife because she loved him, and because he had begged her to marry him.

"She should stay at home," he muttered to ease his troublesome conscience. "If she did I wouldn't do and say such fool things," but he was still far from comfortable. What would Mollie think of his confession? He never had said as much to Ruth. Something had held him back. But he had longed for just a little home and children. At least he had persuaded himself that he did—which amounted to the same thing—the while he was immensely comfortable because of Ruth's salary which enabled him to use what he earned almost as he would had he been single. He now always had money in his pocket; was never embarrassed, as he had been when they were first married and had struggled so to make ends meet on his small income, neither of them knowing how.

"I'll stay away from Mollie this time," he said aloud as he looked at Ruth's picture on the bureau as he prepared for bed. Then, "No I won't either! What's the use lying to myself? A fellow's got to do something besides sitting home and sucking his thumbs," but he could not go to sleep as quickly as usual. And he flushed in the dark as he once more recalled the confession he had made to Mollie.

Mollie really had been totally deceived by Brian. Not intentionally, had he conveyed the impression that he was tired of Ruth; that he was unhappy with her. But Mollie had gained the impression that he was desperately miserable; that he did not love Ruth, and that he did care for her as he did? Why seek her society so frequently? And he told her all the little, intimate things a man scarcely confesses unless he cares.

Could Brian have known the impression he had conveyed he would have felt even more guilty than he did. But to him Mollie was sort of a safety valve. She was such a good fellow, so sympathetic and nice to fellow when he was down. In the dumps, and a fellow really needed someone to unload his troubles on once in a while. Then Mollie always had such a good time, and she was pretty too. One never felt ashamed of her, even if she didn't have the style and wear the hand-made clothes that Ruth did. It was rather fun too to make the Village fellows jealous, especially Claude Beckly who would like to monopolize Mollie. He had it in for Claude any-whenver he thought of the night he had been out because of her first name without asking permission.

"Darn fresh," he said to himself whenever he thought of the night Beckly called her "Ruth," without even an apology for doing so.

Beckly had more than once butted in when Brian and Mollie were dining. It had annoyed Brian, annoyed him terribly. He didn't take Mollie or any other girl out to dinner to talk to some other man, but because he himself wanted to be entertained. He might as well stay at home and talk to Rachel. He only went out because he was lonely, but not lonely for Beckly's foolishness.

"You're all right at times Claude," he said once in desperation, "but when I am with Mollie I wish you'd stay away."

"Why should I?" imperturbably queried Beckly. "Your wife would not object to having three in your party instead of two. I must look after her interests. She's made a hit with me."

Brian was too disgusted to say more. Mollie had looked on amused, saying nothing. "But after Beckly left them, she remarked to Brian, "Claude may be right, Brian. As long as you are married and living with your wife, it may be better for us to have someone else with us. It would be too bad to have our little innocent dinners make trouble for you."

"Nonsense! I am studying typewriting. If we choose to eat together occasionally it is no one's business. I won't have Beckly butting in all the time."

"You really are doing wonders with your typing, Brian. You won't need me any longer. Practice is now what you need, not anything I can do for you." He really had been most enthusiastic and had quickly learned all that was necessary. Now he had only to develop speed.

Mollie had scarcely finished speaking when Beckly came back. He helped himself to a cigarette, then said, "I've been going to tell you for some time, Brian, that you had better let Mollie alone and take care of that handsome wife of yours. That swell boss of hers will cut you out if you don't," then with a wink at Mollie, he again left them alone.

This had happened at a dinner in the Village the very night after Brian had made one of his always-brilliant resolves to stay away from Mollie while Ruth was away.

THEY FEARED VENGEANCE.

German Conquerors Brutal and Cowardly.

An inspection of numerous German posters in Belgium disclosed that wherever the death penalty for offenses by civilians was exacted no signature was attached. It is, therefore, believed that no German commander was willing to take individual responsibility for such orders, possibly fearing consequences in the future.

This was especially the case in Bruges. M. Echevin, one of the aldermen, said that food conditions during the German occupation were not bad because the district is an agricultural one. There was no looting in the city before the Germans left. But there was no use for any looting, for everything desired by the Germans previously had been requisitioned, even pianos, pictures and furs and furs. The last evening leaving the town destroyed everything the men could reach. They even went down the streets breaking windows with their fists but they were not allowed to enter the houses.

On Oct. 1, according to the alderman, the Germans apparently feared outbreaks, for orders were posted all over the town inviting the people to remain quietly in their homes. During the entire period of occupation no newspapers but German organs and the Neuwe Rotterdam Courant were permitted to be sold. The people of the city were required to remove all signs in the French language and to change the names of streets to German or Flemish. It is alleged that Admiral Schroeder whipped children whose dogs barked at him. Two girls were imprisoned for eight months and received only mildewed bread and coarse tea. They were accused of writing a letter to their brother.

The Germans removed all the brass from the city, even the hardware from the famous cafe Millecolmes. Prince Adalbert, son of Emperor William, frequently dined there. Adalbert, finding the place crowded with German officers at one time, is reported to have said to his companions in English: "Let's go to some other place; this is crowded with boches."

The German officers had pay parties in Bruges and at other places in Belgium, having as their guests hundreds of German girl typists and clerks who had come to Belgium to take the places of men combed out for the army.

The famous Zeebrugge lighthouse had been completely demolished.

Curious Swiss Tree.

What is claimed to be one of the most curious trees in the world was found in Switzerland by M. Louis Pire, president of the Royal Botanical Society of Belgium. It is a fir tree, still standing, at last account, in the forests of Atlas, canton of Vaud.

"This particular tree," reports Prof. Pire, "stands 4,500 feet above the sea and is surrounded by a forest of firs, which it exceeds in height by 30 or 40 feet. The trunk of this tree is 10 meters, or a little more than 30 feet, in circumference at the base. At about a yard from the ground it puts out, on the south side, seven offshoots, which have grown into trunks as strong and vigorous as those of the other trees in the forest. Bent and gnarled at the bottom, these side-trunks soon straighten themselves up and rise perpendicularly and parallel to the main stem.

"Another most curious fact is that the two largest side-trunks are connected with the principal stem by sub-quadrangular braces resembling girders. These braces have probably been formed by an anatomical of branches, which, common enough among the angio-sperms, is extremely rare among conifers."

Getting Back Three Million Dollars

THE PAPER CONTROLLER for Canada a few weeks ago added $12 a ton to the price of news print paper—the kind used in printing the Courier. This addition, following closely upon several previous increases authorized by the Paper Controller, has meant to Canadian newspaper publishers a total increased publishing cost, in the matter of paper alone, in the past eighteen months, of three million dollars. This very considerable sum Canadian publishers must recover from their customers, their readers and advertisers.

In connection with the earlier increases the readers of many daily newspapers have been required to pay $1 or more per year for their newspapers, while the subscription price of very many weekly newspapers has been increased from 50 to 100 per cent. In many cases still further increases will be necessary.

But all the three million dollars increase in paper costs cannot be loaded on readers; some of this sum must come from the advertisers—this in the form of increased advertising rates. Advertising rates in Canada are, generally speaking, much lower per thousand in circulation than in the United States. Speaking on this point the editor of Marketing, a Canadian advertiser's newspaper published in Toronto, says in his last issue: "In meeting the Canadian publishers' calls for higher rates, advertising buyers should not fail to recognize that for years they have benefited by the publisher's undervaluation of his space, and should be the more willing on that account to recognize the present necessities." To all of which The Courier agrees.

CANADA WILL MAKE GO'N

There is no earthly reason for Canadians to become apprehensive with regard to the after the war period. It is true that munition workers and others will become affected, but there is going to be a large demand in other directions for such displaced labor.

For the first few months after the war started, there was a large sized slump, but Johnny Canuck speedily took his coat off and showed that he could successfully tackle some big enterprises to all round advantage and prosperity. There are other large undertakings awaiting him, the task of world reconstruction, and that he can do his share to great personal and general advantage does not admit of any question. The world demand for all classes of agricultural implements is going to be greatly enhanced, the displacement of German goods will prove another big factor on behalf of Allied production in a vast variety of industrial lines, and many Dominion undertakings which have been halted during the progress of hostilities, can now be entered upon. In this regard the various Governments can, and no doubt will do much. The Ontario administration has set a good example by the decision to commence work upon the Provincial highway in the Spring, and Hon. Mr. Carvell, Minister of Public Works at Ottawa, has declared the need for the immediate erection of many public buildings. All these things should have a steady effect, and in addition, immigration, which for over four years has been practically at a standstill, will, without any question show a marked impetus.

The magnificent response to the Victory Loan issues is now a matter of history, but the thought naturally arises that if finances could be readily raised on behalf of war outlays, from which there was no monetary return, how much more should capital be available for great productive enterprises—enterprises calculated to pay back every cent of investment and still remain a state asset.

The great thing needed at the present time among all classes is confidence. There are unlimited resources and potentialities in this favored land, which even yet can only be said to be on the threshold of her marvellous future, and in so far from any reaction after hostilities, there should, if the proper spirit prevails, be a reliance and renewed determination, born of what we have already these last months demonstrated that we can do and achieve.

PUNISHMENT OF THE EX-KAISER
 Lloyd George made an important speech last night at Newcastle. Referring to the conclusion of the war, he stated that victory for the allies had been due to the "ceaseless valor" of the men, and with regard to the part taken by Great Britain, he made the legitimate boast that among the future having ambitions such as those exhibited by the Prussian war lords must realize that they could not "overlook this little island in their reckoning."

Referring to the approaching peace conference, he stated "the price of victory is not vengeance nor retribution," at the same time that the offenders merited punishment for the damage they had inflicted. In the matter of indemnities, Germany had herself established that principle when she defeated France in the '70's, and the Fatherland "must pay up to the limit of her capacity," and in this regard she must not be allowed to liquidate that debt "by dumping cheap goods upon us and wrecking our industries."

The third and last point made by the British Premier was that somebody was responsible for the war, and should be punished. "If not, all I can say is there is one justice for the poor wretched criminal and another for kings and emperors."

With regard to the ex-Kaiser, the Government had consulted some of the greatest jurists in the Kingdom, and they were unanimous in the decision that the former Emperor was guilty of an indictable offense in the invasion of Belgium, England, for her part would demand his punishment.

Well spoken. The arch fiend who cried havoc and let loose the dogs of war, and under whose auspicious world has been wantonly drenched in blood, should be arraigned and meet his just deserts along with the other Jack Frenchs. That he should be allowed to remain quietly in Holland is intolerable, and must not be permitted.

Private Matthias who went overseas with the 12th battalion, is reported wounded. Mrs. Matthias is at the present time living in England.

Mr. and Mrs. Griffiths, Dumfries St. were notified from Ottawa yesterday that their son, Pte. Oliver Griffiths had been admitted to the Canadian general hospital, Le Treport, on November 17th, suffering from shell gas. How it happened five days after the armistice was signed is not known, but it is thought to have been an accident.

The marriage is announced of Miss Isabelle Paul and Mr. James Simon Post. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. C. Nicholson.

Mr. Leslie Cook was appointed to that position. We understand that the salary was set for $75.00 a month. SHOULD A WOMAN PROPOSE?—"Has a Woman the Right to Propose Marriage?" asks Caroline. Most assuredly. This is woman's day. Since the war began and woman has shown herself so brave and heroic, so self-sacrificing and so helpful in her country's service, nothing is to be denied her. Woman's right to propose however is not to be confused with the question of the expediency of such an act. As a matter of fact, Caroline, most women do in an adroit way by little hints and suggestions. This is the best way.

SANITY AND WRONG DOING.
 "Mr. H. B." asks whether a man who deliberately does that which he knows to be injurious to himself is sane? No level headed man will do that which he knows will be injurious to himself. If therefore, a man is sane, normal or in other words he is sane, sane is insanity of a very virulent type and so far as I know there is only one cure for this form of mental disease. Jesus came to the world to cure men from the insanity of sin and there is no other person who can accomplish this.

ABSENT TREATMENT.—"C. J." asks two questions: First, whether it is right for a young lady to accept a marriage proposal from a man who has never met, and second, what would be a suitable gift for a lady to present to a gentleman to whom she is not engaged. First: If you have convincing evidence that the young man is in every respect worthy, and would make a suitable husband, if possible matrimony inspires the correspondence. I know no reason why writing to each other is wrong. But it is nothing for granted without absolute proof. Ask him for his photograph, and with delicacy get him to tell you all about himself. But seeing he does not live at a very great distance, if he seeks an engagement with a view of matrimony, why not come to you personally for your answer. "Seeing is believing." Second: I am not an authority on such things. It depends on circumstances, whether a young lady to send a young man to whom she is not engaged any presents, if matrimony is in the air. Ask your mother or some other married lady if it is admissible then, a good book, a teacher's wallet, a money neck tie, or a pair of gloves should not be inappropriate.

NO RUGBY GAME.

The B.C.I. rugby team was to have played a return game in Hamilton this afternoon, but owing to the ban which has been replaced on public gatherings in the latter city, the game has had to be called off, and owing to the lateness of the season, may not be played at all.

GIVE TO FUND

The meeting of the North Ward Kith and Kin was held at 121 William St., on Thursday afternoon. The president occupied the chair. Instead of sewing for the Red Cross work was done for the refugees. It was agreed unanimously to donate a sum of money to the "flu" fund. Tea was served at close of the meeting.

CANCEL CONFERENCE

The replacing of the ban on public gatherings in Hamilton has necessitated a postponement of the Town Planning conference, which was to have been held there the first of next week, and in which Brantford was keenly interested. It is expected to hold the conference early in January.

FOR FLU FUND

During last night's meeting of the Board of Trade, Mr. W. G. Raymond spoke under the auspices of the Publicity Committee in charge of the epidemic relief campaign. Mr. Raymond led off by making a subscription himself, and the sum of $125 was raised among those present.

KITH AND KIN

The members of the Junior Kith and Kin were entertained by Miss Daisy Underwood at her home on Thursday night. Mrs. Hurley, president of the association, was also present, and entertained the children with an interesting talk on refugee work. She presented prizes to Annie Trivett and Jessie Dickie, the two girls who sold the most tickets for the recent concert.

THE MARKET

On the market this morning, the proximity of the Christmas season announced itself by the presence of the large number of fowl. They varied in kind, size and price, but a good demand soon made the supply on hand inadequate. Geese, alive, went as high as three dollars a piece, while the price of chickens varied from one dollar to one seventy-five. Vegetables were present in good abundance, and a large supply of apples sold at prices averaging from $3 per barrel up.

FANCY CLUB BAZAAR

The Fancy club bazaar held yesterday afternoon and evening at the Children's Shelter, found ready customers. The fancy work, home-made cooking, and good books, sold even better than was anticipated. Between five and six o'clock tea was served. There is a great amount of credit due the club for its earnest efforts in the behalf of the shelter. All the fancy goods and cooking were made by members of the club, and both last year and this year all the coal needed in the shelter for the winter was supplied by them.

REGISTERED MAILS.

The staff which looks after the registered mail department of the local postoffice has been exceedingly busy during the past few days. There have been several heavy registered mails including one from England.

A SECOND CALL

The Rev. A. Zinck, pastor of St. Matthews, Lutheran church, of this city, has been asked a second time to accept the pastorate of St. Peter's, Lutheran church, Williamsburg, Ontario, one of the oldest and most prosperous Lutheran congregations in Canada.

LOYALTY CLUB.

The Loyalty club of the Y.W.C.A. held its weekly meeting last evening, and commended its Bible studies for the winter. The meeting was a very busy session at the close of which the girls worked for the Epidemic Relief fund, sewing and making necessary articles in co-operation with the Social Service league.

BUILDING PERMIT.

Application was made in the city engineer's department yesterday for a permit for the erection of a brick and steel concrete addition to the Nurses' Home and the second was made by Dr. W. L. James for the alteration of the store interior at 188-191 Colborne street. The estimated cost to be $5,000.

AUTO CRASH.

Late last evening a Ford car sustained serious damage when it was struck by another car near the corner of Market and Nelson streets. The windshield of the Ford was shattered and the bonnet crushed, as well as other minor damage was done, but the driver luckily escaped uninjured.

AT HOSPITAL.

Conditions are continuing to show an improvement at the Emergency Hospital daily. Yesterday one patient was discharged. This leaves only eleven in the hospital with the prospects of some of them being removed within a few days. There has been a very urgent call for nurses within the past few days to go into private homes and at present the demand cannot be met.

ON LEAVE FROM BORDEN

Cadet "Jack" Fraser, who is well known as a motorcycle racer, returned to his home on Nelson street last night, from the aviation camp at Borden. Fraser has been granted two months' leave, at the end of which, if cadets are not again called to the colors, he will secure his discharge by flying his motor cycle racing team.

CHOIR ENTERTAINED

At the close of the regular practice last night, the members of the Wellington St. Methodist Church choir held a very enjoyable social time when they were entertained by the executive committee of the choir. Refreshments were served, and various games were indulged in. A record attendance was present and all expressed themselves as highly delighted with the whole evening.

EMPLOYMENT BUREAUS.

It was announced by the Ontario government this morning that in connection with the return of soldiers the government would open four more employment bureaus in the province, in addition to twelve now in operation. The new offices would likely be at Windsor, Sudbury, Sault Ste. Marie and one more in Toronto. A representative of the civil re-establishment commission, a returned soldier, would be at each to help the men to find suitable employment.

This is an annual event in association work, and efforts are not being spared to make it a success.

WEATHER COLDER.

The weather took a cold turn during the night, and the mud on the streets of the city was this morning turned into a sea of ruts and ridges which greatly militated against vehicular traffic. At noon today scattered flakes of snow were falling, with the prospect that a real snow storm might be in progress before night.

NURSES' MEMORIAL

In connection with the memorial that is to be erected to the nurses and others who have lost their lives in fighting the flu epidemic, a meeting of the committee will be held on Tuesday evening in the Board of Trade rooms. The action to be taken will be threshed out at the meeting by the committees which will be composed of one member of each of the various public bodies.

Regret was voiced that it was not possible to have a general meeting of the chapter. Many expressions of good wishes were given Mrs. Neill. After the presentation, Mrs. Duncan very graciously served tea, being assisted by Mrs. Gordon Smith and Misses Kathleen Buck and Dorothy Rowe.

NORFOLK NEWS

NORFOLK ROADS WERE INSPECTED

Provincial Inspector Went Over Highway System This Week

OTHER SIMCOE NEWS

Simcoe, Nov. 29.—(From Our Own Correspondent).—It is recalled that one of the conditions of the agreement whereby the Bell Telephone Company got a monopoly of the Simcoe business was an undertaking on the part of the company to put in a modern central energy equipment. This has not been done. Subscribers in Simcoe are isolated in a unique manner from the remainder of the county. A resident just outside the corporation can telephone to Port Dover, Watford, Delhi, anywhere that the county system runs, free of toll charges, when he steps into town he has exchange connections over a limited area about town. And the price in town is 25 per cent. above the rural annual tariff. It might be to Simcoe's advantage to set out for a removal of the Bell line, in which we are living. Business men generally see now that it was a mistake to get into the net with the Bell Company and it's central energy promise.

Provincial Officer Inspects Norfolk Roads.
 Arthur Sedgwick, assistant engineer of the Highways Department, was in Norfolk on Wednesday. Superintendent Guy R. Marston drove him over about 85 miles of the county road system. He took a photo of the Bloomsburg culvert and though having a preference for the gas pipe railing, had nothing but praise for the concrete structure on this culvert. It was done with care and in a workmanlike manner. It would be interesting to know what mileage Mr. Marston has travelled during the past twelve months on "good roads work." At the minimum allowance of 10 cents per mile the total would eat quite a hole in this official's salary.

Coming Home.
 Bruce Snively has wired his arrival at Halifax and should reach Simcoe on Monday. There may be other Simcoians in the same group.

Funeral of Late Mrs. Peter Boughner Took Place Yesterday

OTHER SIMCOE NEWS

Simcoe, Nov. 30.—(From Our Own Correspondent).—To-night Mrs. David McIvor concludes her labors as visiting nurse to policy-holders in the Metropolitan Industrial Insurance, a position which this splendid woman has so well filled for upwards of two years. Miss Bentley of Simcoe has been appointed as her successor. The

MRS. DAVID McIVOR.

Courier was the first paper to call attention of the public to the splendid work done by Mrs. McIvor. Since then acknowledgments have come from many quarters. The good lady's ministrations were not confined to the people upon whom under contract calls were required to be made nor among these, not confined to the required number of calls. Those whom she could she helped with or without remuneration. The chairman of the Emergency Hospital Board, voiced the opinion of that body when he said Mrs. McIvor had been a Florence Nightingale, and of invaluable assistance throughout the recent epidemic. Mrs. McIvor recalls with pleasure that not one in her charge failed to recover from the influenza and only two had to be taken to the hospital. And the good lady ministered to more than fifty of that day when the epidemic was at its maximum. Children's Aid Shelter Crowded. A Stubborn Cough Loosens Right Up

This home-made remedy is a wonder for quick results. Ready and cheaply made.
 Here is a home-made syrup which millions of people have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up stubborn coughs. It is cheap and simple, but very prompt in action. Under its healing, soothing influence, chest soreness goes, phlegm loosens, breathing becomes easier, tickling in throat stops and you get a good night's restful sleep. The usual throat and chest colds are conquered by it in 24 hours or at the latest by the time bronchitis, hoarseness, croup, whooping cough, bronchial asthma or winter coughs.
 To make this splendid cough syrup, pour 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth) into a 16-oz. bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup and shake thoroughly. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way you get 16 ounces—a family supply—of much better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for $2.50. Keeps perfectly and children love its pleasant taste.
 Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its prompt healing effect upon the membranes.
 To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

ter of the county Children's Aid Society. There are no less than 16 children said to be now housed in a small unpretentious dwelling in the south of the town. And the place and location is known to few Simcoians.

A very public spirited citizen affirmed when discussing the matter last night that the county's need of a proper shelter was equally so, if not more imperative than the need for a hospital. We suggested that the shelter is supposed to be but a temporary home for the children until foster homes are secured. That opened up a new trend in the discussion.

For years past a few faithful citizens have been doing splendid rescue work, but the available number of bright likeable children awaiting foster parents is not well advertised. There should, it was felt, be some connection established to put the children in touch with those who would consider the adoption of a child or who would give a home to one for a few years. Mr. Roman Gilbert, of a committee for the County Council to secure and maintain larger quarters. It is a vital problem in community life.

Mrs. Peter Boughner.
 The funeral of the late Mrs. Peter Boughner, who died Wednesday, after a long illness, was held yesterday afternoon to Woodhouse Methodist Church Cemetery, the cortege leaving the rammy home near Port Dover at 2.30 p.m. Deceased was in her 60th year. Her maiden name was Gilbert, and she was first wedded to Thomas Kniffen, who lived at the Half-Way House, where he died about 25 years ago. Three of their children, Wilber, Kniffen, merchant, of Walsh; Chas. Kniffen, in service overseas, and Mrs. Brandon, of Woodhouse, survive. There was no offering from the second union. Roman Gilbert, of Delhi, brother of the deceased, attended the funeral, accompanied by his wife.

Norfolk Inspector Relieved of Eastern Part of Haldimand County

NEWS FROM SIMCOE

From our own Correspondent.
 Simcoe, Nov. 30.—Inspector R. Edwards has been relieved of the eastern portion of Haldimand county, and will now have only two townships outside of Norfolk. The department found that the Brant Inspector had only about two-thirds of the ground to get over, and has made a readjustment. The inspector states that he has been getting an enormous amount of calls, but they are too vague and general to be of any use. Newspaper men differ somewhat in this regard. They begin at the bottom, and it is a case of "no

ALLIES WILL NOT SUFFER

 Paris, Wednesday, Nov. 29.—"No fear need be entertained regarding the feeding of the Central Empire to the detriment of the Allied countries," said a member of the party of Herbert C. Hoover, the American food administrator to-day. Mr. Hoover, himself, had nothing to say on this or any other phase of the work he is undertaking in Europe.

SIDELIGHTS OF THE STAGE AND SCREEN

AT THE BRANT.
A group of shapely bathing girls in a beauteous set and a woman's kind of clothes remain, are what caused Chuck McCarthy to be bitten by the "movie bug." Chuck is the young man who is the "The Goat," the new Artcraft picture, in which Fred Stone is starred, and which will be shown at the Brant Theatre next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Fred is said to give one of the finest interpretations in the character of Chuck.

At the story's start he is shown working at the Filmcraft Studio as an iron worker, whether he has been sent for the day on some construction work. Then the bathing girls come into his life and he makes a thrilling rescue of the leading lady's pet monkey. She wants to thank him and carelessly tells him that he should be in the movies. No more encouragement is needed. The next day Chuck presents himself to the casting director of the Filmcraft Studio. The rest of the story is given up to telling of Chuck's adventures in the pictures. The story is said to be a laugh from start to finish. It was written by Frances Marion, and is said to represent that scenario writer at his best.

Donald Crisp directed the picture and a strong cast supports the star. Rhea Mitchell, Sylvia Ashton, Winifred Greenwood, Raymond Hatton, Charles Ogle, Noah Berry and other well known players have important roles. Henry Kotani was the camera man.

What becomes of the numerous gowns and dresses motion picture stars are compelled to have made? Rarely can the same dress be used twice for more than one production, by any well known star. Leah Baird is noted for her wonderful array of modish gowns and millinery.

occasions, little Jeff becomes the buffer for a number of side-splitting pranks at the hands of that champion practical joker and trouble-maker, A. Matt. Though in the end, Jeff sufficiently outwits his chum and tormentor by becoming the proud possessor of a valuable gold mine which has been willed to him by his deceased brother. Their adventures carry them through many periods of stress and high-larks, but throughout it all there is an irresistible tinge of hearty laughter and infectious mirth. As on former occasions, Manager Gus Hill, who again pilots the destinies of the inseparable twain of gloom destroyers, has mustered a capable cast which includes twenty dancing, fascinating and captivating pretty girls who will assist in dispensing and diverting themselves in a galaxy of tuneful-songs and dances. Unique features, imaginable surprises, novelties and a gorgeous display of gowns and scenic investiture are also promised.

AT THE REX
In "The Shuttle," Constance Talmadge's latest Select Picture, pictured from the internationally famous novel of the same name by Frances Hodgson Burnett, this charming and talented young actress returns to the dramatic characterization she so ably presented in her earlier success, "Scandal."

"The Shuttle," which will be the feature attraction here at the Rex theatre on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, is another opportunity for Constance Talmadge to display her ambidextrous art, so to speak, for in it she gives again a noteworthy dramatic performance. The stately young heroine, still in her teens, finds her sister, who has married an English lord, utterly broken in health and spirit by her brutal husband; she forthwith completely rehabilitates her, puts the husband in his place, and despite his backbiting cal-

INTERPRETING THE CLASSICS.
Consider for a moment the different composers for the piano, how they vary in style and requirement in technique and thought. How can a person interpret Bach, for instance, satisfactorily, who has not control over good legato touch and a theoretical knowledge of the composition? From a mere technical standpoint it is necessary to be able to execute a good trill, even scale, in order to do justice to Mozart and Haydn; and in Beethoven one has to add to this a thorough drill in chords, of being able to bring out in that chord any tone with the stronger presence when that tone is carrying the melody. Then Chopin, who is so much sinned against, what a sensitive touch is required to picture all the infinite subtle shadings, of which that set among composers is heir. Think of Brahms who requires a weighty, heavy touch to bring out the many contrasts and orchestral effects in his compositions, and of Liszt, whose concertos and transcriptions from operas demand brilliant octaves and nearly everything in the line of finger dexterity.

Only superficial pianists at these requirements will already convince you that the pianist really has the hardest road to travel to the desired goal of perfection and of satisfying an audience. A good pianist has to have four things: talent, intelligence, emotion and technique.

APPLAUSE AND THE ARTIST.
The kind of applause an artist receives is often a reflex of his own performance, being a kind of imitation—a survival of a primitive instinct in mankind. For example, if a pianist plays a piece involving rapid passage work that calls for great finger dexterity, his playing is likely to elicit a rapid clapping of hands on the part of the audience. If a prima donna opens her mouth very wide and sings a top note fortissimo, she is likely to be greeted with shouts—a response in kind.

But as audiences become more discriminating in their musical tastes they are less moved by a display of physical force and by mere technical accomplishment on the part of the artist, and they respond rather in proportion to the artistic value of what they hear, both as respects the content of the music and the manner of presenting it.

CYRIL SCOTT'S MUSIC.

The music of Cyril Scott is known and loved to-day the world over, and English speaking races are proud to claim him as their own, whether as an instrumental or vocal composer. Of all the band composers of the younger British school, none is more interesting than he; he expresses himself feelingly and always with originality and a rare and delicate imagery, yet he is vigorous and virile. Among his piano compositions are many on dance rhythms, for dance forms have always attracted him, and in every measure and character he paints them with truth and sympathy. His songs are equally admirable, whether grave or gay, and are composed of the keenest imagination. One of his more recent songs, "Requiem," a setting of words by R. L. Stevenson will uphold his reputation for dignity and simple beauty.

SECURING THE BEST TONE FROM YOUR PIANO

Those who give consideration to securing the best tone results from the piano in their home, probably know that there is one position in every room where it sounds to the best advantage. Usually this can only be found by experimenting with the piano in different positions. Never put it against an outside wall if it can be helped and never put it right up against the wall. No singer would sing with her lips pressed against the sheet of music. Some say the instrument should be at least four inches away from the wall, but by far the best plan is to place it diagonally across the corner of the room. As someone put it, this gives the piano breathing space or elbow room. Then again the top should be opened when the piano is in use. The doing of this is not only best for performers on grand pianos but by users of uprights as well. Also the music rack should be pulled out when playing to let the sound come out without obstruction. Some people whose long list of good points does not include tidiness, cannot open the top because it is piled up with music that should be in its place in the music cabinet. Other persons who are bound to make their pianos serve them in the most possible way, use the top for storing photos in frames, vases, books, and curios of all kinds. This practice may be permissible if the piano is lined, pressed against the parlor furnishing; if it were purchased because it was thought the proper thing to get one, or because of a desire to keep up with the social of one's friends, relatives or neighbors. But if the piano is owned for producing music in the home, for the musical education of the children, which are its proper uses, then it should not be made the substitute for a chamberlain.

You could find tone of your piano. When in a room, "instrument" keep it in a room, and give it a chance along the lines above outlined.

WHISTLING

The other day it was chilly, damp, foggy and raining. On the street car the people sat glum and motionless except for frequent yawns. If any one of them had thought out loud it would likely have been to kick about everything in general, and the weather in particular. The few dozen human beings who were on the car going home for the noonday meal all appeared to have the blues more or less. But one philosophical mind was there to lighten the group. He was a motorman. There were few adventures darsing to shoot across the street in front of the on-coming car, so he relieved his imprisoned good humor by whistling, not quietly to himself, but loud enough for the passengers to hear. First it was "Il Trovatore," then Humoresque, and by the time he had launched out on Rule Britannia one could just feel a change come over the morale of the whole car. This motorman reminded the writer of James Whitcomb Riley's character "John" of whom the father said: "He always went a-whistling round the place, as glad as heart."

As whistling conductor is a real public benefactor especially on a rainy day. A cheery whistler is always an influence for good. A man who goes whistling about his duties is out to do better work and more of it for whistling is but a song without words. In spite of these benefits of whistling which no person in this country would deny, there are some people who whistled. The Arabs are said to oppose whistling. Some think it is an inspiration of the devil which leaves the mouth impure for forty days. Natives of the Tonga Islands thought whistling was disrespectful to their gods. Certain Europeans prohibit whistling on stated days, while others refrain from it in the evenings lest they make the angels weep. Of course these are superstitions which root themselves in the distant past and which are not believed generally enough to excite much surprise.

Some New York business men are expressing the view that the financial and material resources of the world have been vastly underestimated and that they may prove surprisingly large during the reconstruction period.

A strike of several thousand teamsters in Greater New York that lasted but a few hours resulted in an eight hour day and a wage increase of $3 a week. These workers are allied with the Brotherhood of Teamsters and Chauffeurs.

A publicity service maintained by the U. S. Department of Labor reports that trade unions in Scandinavian countries have increased their membership since the war began. In Sweden the membership increased 45,774 during the year just ended, making the total membership 138,746. Women trade unionists have increased from 8,238 to 14,402. In Norway the increase is about 4000 since last year with a present total membership of about 93,000. Although there were 559 industrial disturbances during the year, there were only 14 strikes affecting 3,000 men. Within the year Denmark's unions have added 28,162 members and now have a strength of 179,244 of which 27,775 are women. Efforts to entice Danish workers to Germany have for the most part failed, it is declared.

In future, presidents and secretaries of the Miners' Federation will become permanent officials instead of being elected and re-elected annually. It is remarkable that such an enormous organization as the Miners' Federation of Great Britain with something like 800,000 members, should have been carried on since its formation in 1859 with only "spare time" men at its head. The central office of the federation will be in London, and the two permanent officials will reside in the vicinity. In the event of either of those officials becoming a member of Parliament, or a paid official of the government, he must relinquish his Stationary Firemen's Union No. 21 Wheeling, W. Va., has raised wages three cents an hour for its members employed by the city, the electric light company and street car company.

San Diego, Cal., Butchers' Union, No. 220, has asked market proprietors for a ten hour day with one hour off for lunch for all employees, except women workers, who shall have the eight hour day the first five days of each week.

HARRY LAUDER COMING

One of the events of the local theatrical season will be the visit which Harry Lauder will pay to Brantford early next year. INDOOR CARNIVAL

Mr. George Phillip of Kitchener, better known throughout Ontario as "Pop" Phillip, was in Brantford a couple of days this week, making arrangements for the indoor carnival which he is assisting Brantford in the middle of December. "We will reproduce in the carnival everything found in an outdoor midway except the merry-go-round," states Mr. Phillip.

AT THE GRAND

"Mutt and Jeff in the Woolly West" Simon-pure comedy of the kind that innuendoes itself into our very marrow, and makes life one long, blissful song, is promised in the latest "Mutt and Jeff" series which is under production at the Grand Opera House, Monday night, Dec. 2nd, with the customary matinee. Those who have had the food fortune of already witnessing it's new production from footers and in pronunciation it is the finest word in up-to-date stage entertainment, and modern production. It is in three reels, and is a real gem. "Mutt and Jeff in the Woolly West." The plot naturally permits those two most humorous of all characters, those those talents for genuine comedy which has been their forte, to first brought them into the light of fame and happiness. As on previous

Vivian Martin's latest production will be shown at the Rex the last half of the week as will also Charlie Chaplin in "Triple Trouble."

INFLUENZA HAS LATER DANGERS

Particular Care Needed When Patient is Convalescent, Says Expert

The influenza convalescent who has apparently recovered from the disease and is yet in a strangely weak and depressed condition should be the object of particular care, according to Dr. Louis I. Harris, director of the Bureau of Preventable Diseases of the New York Health department. In the opinion of Dr. Harris the after care of the influenza patient is most important. The cooperation of the patient coupled with the willingness to see that the weakness and depression are a part of the illness, though coming after the disease itself has spent its force, is a big factor in effecting a complete return to full health. "On the other hand the determination to ignore this debilitated condition and to fight against it, will, Dr. Harris says, frequently bring serious consequences upon the patient.

After Effects Bad

"The subject of the after effects of influenza," said Dr. Harris "is one of particular interest to the scientist at the present time. "First, and perhaps the most momentous condition to be considered is the striking depression, mental, nervous, and physical, complained of by most patients. Those attacked by the disease with moderate severity are almost always afflicted with this depression, which should be recognized and dealt with. Those who have had mild cases of the epidemic are little affected by depression, and in their quick return to health and strength live into the belief that influenza is trivial. On the contrary, influenza in its after effects is anything but trivial, and calls for the attention of the physician and common sense of the patient, which are the fruit of years of experience. "Tonic treatment, well chosen diet and great care in not becoming over-tired or allowing the body to be chilled are necessary. Eggs may be eaten, but not more than two a day for the average adult. Of course it must be remembered that in many cases this disease tends to direct its force against the kidneys, and therefore we instruct patients to avoid eating a great amount of meat, eggs, or beef extracts. Eggs, soft-boiled, poached or beaten raw, are advisable in limited number. The raw eggs should always be well agitated before taking.

When Good Food is Bad

"With milk and eggs as a foundation the patient should eat good, nourishing food, including meat, fish, and vegetables, simply prepared. Frying, for instance, is out of the question. Good food prepared in an unassimilable manner becomes bad food; especially is this to be noted in the cases of convalescence from influenza, for the disease often manifests itself in vomiting and in festal and gastric disturbances, and it is important not to weaken the digestive function by the eating of poorly prepared food, or even the best of food in ill-advised quantities. The quantitative distribution of food-stuffs should be so adjusted as not to overtax the stomach, but the patient should eat generously and frequently.

As a tonic to build up the blood, and stimulate the shattered nerves, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are unexcelled. These pills actually make new, rich, red blood, which reaches every organ and every nerve in the body, improves the appetite, strengthens digestion and drives away the feeling of weariness and depression always following an attack of influenza. A CRIPPLE FOR THREE YEARS

Helpless in Bed With Rheumatism Until He Took "FRUIT-A-TIVES".

MR. ALEXANDER MUNRO

R.R. No. 1, Lorne, Ont.
"For over three years, I was confined to bed with Rheumatism. During that time, I had treatment from a number of doctors, and tried nearly everything I saw advertised to cure Rheumatism, without receiving any benefit.
Finally, I decided to try "Fruit-a-tives". Before I had used half a box, I noticed an improvement; the pain was not so severe, and the swelling started to go down.
I continued taking this fruit medicine, improving all the time, and now I can walk about two miles and do light chores about the place."

ALEXANDER MUNRO, 50c. a box, 5 for $2.50, trial size 25c. At all dealers or sent postpaid on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

Women's Institute

The October meeting, which was postponed on account of the epidemic, was held at the home of Mrs. E. Williams on November 11th. The time was entirely devoted to packing Christmas parcels for overseas, 27 well filled boxes being prepared. These with others packed by individual members of the institute at their own homes, numbered 64.

The November meeting of the institute was held at the home of Mrs. J. Mordue, and was opened with the usual exercises and reading of minutes. Twenty members were present, the president presiding.

The proceedings were of a purely business character. It was decided to communicate with the Red Cross authorities to ascertain the future requirements of that society as to quilting and giving assistance as long as required. It was voted that $25 be forwarded to each of the Social Service League and Children's Shelter and to apply for the present the monthly collection. The latter, the afternoon's collection amounting to $5.00, to be used towards this cause. A quantity of clothing was brought in and two of the members volunteered to make up some garments at once. A donation of $10 was received to be used in aid of the Shelter and it was decided to expend this in quilt linings and batting and to have these finished immediately.
A report from the Yarn Conventor showed that after supplying 62 pairs of socks for the overseas boxes, there were still on hand 41 pairs.
The meeting then closed with singing "God Save the King." The December meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. E. Chatterton.

Through the force of circumstances rally and thanksgiving services were postponed indefinitely. Now that the clouds have all cleared away, we are going to begin with new vigor, thoroughly refreshed after our unexpected rest. Next Sunday, Dec. 1st is to be considered opening day for a grand revival of our Sunday school work.
The re-modeling of the basement has been completed this week and will now be used entirely for this purpose. Services will be held at 11 a.m. and 7.30 p.m. and special efforts are being put forth to make this one of the most important events in the history of our church. Sunday, Dec. 1st, morning and evening, Rev. Mr. Vale will conduct the services. Come early and reserve your seat. Everyone invited and received with a hearty welcome.
At time of writing Mr. Stephen is suffering with blood poisoning in his hand.

TO MOTHERS! See your little one's terror at the very thought of a dose of castor oil, mineral oil, calomel or pills. Ugh! Cascarets "work" better, safer, surer on the tender little liver, stomach and bowels, besides Cascarets taste like candy. Eyn bilious, constipated, sick kiddies coax for this harmless candy cathartic.

Each 10 cent box of Cascarets, the pleasant candy cathartic, contains directions and dosage for children aged one year old and upwards. When the little ones' tongue turns white, breath feverish, stomach sour, there is nothing better to "work" the nasty bile, souring food and constipation poison from the child's system. Give Cascarets, then never worry.

THE ROYAL AND ANCIENT

It has become a regular habit with President Wilson to have a round of golf three or four times a week, winter and summer, so it is a pretty good guess that the U.S. Chief Executive has his golf clubs with him on his epoch-making trip to Europe. Here is a match that would excite world interest on one of the links in the South of France—Wilson and Lloyd George vs. Poch and Haig. The British Field Marshal is a very fair player indeed, so is the British Premier. President Wilson and Marshal Poch should play about level, so that a four-ball match between the world's illustrious ones would make for an absorbingly interesting encounter. Our own Premier, Sir Robert Laird Borden, might be staged to referee the game, with Bon Law as scorer-in-chief. What a setting all this would make for the "movie" picture man!

President Wilson's predecessor, Mr. W. H. Taft, is another U.S. President who would have liked to have broken through the hitherto iron-bound precedent of the Chief Executive never to leave the boundaries of the United States. Mr. Taft and his family have for many years been regular golfing visitors to Murray Bay, Quebec. During his Presidency, Mr. Taft never went to Murray Bay, but at his retirement from the Presidential chair, has never missed a season there. He is President of the Murray Bay Golf Club—the only club in the world that has the distinct honor of having an "ex-President" as president—equivalent as that may appear.

The end of the war means that the Canadian golf championships will all be revived next season. Lambton, the well-known Toronto Golf club, will be very much in the limelight in 1919, as here will be staged the championships probably the "latter part of June, and here also the members of the big Seniors Association will foregather in September for their annual tournament, so Lambton will be a veritable Mecca for the golfers of the Dominion the coming year.

The men's amateur championship of Canada was last played in 1914 at the Royal, Ottawa, when Mr. Geo. S. Lyon, for the 8th time, won the chief honor, with Mr. Bruce S. Evans (he joined the U.S. Flying Corps early this year) of Boston, Mass., runner-up.

The open championship was won by Karl Ketter, of the Royal, Ottawa, now in France, runner-up, George Cumming, Toronto Golf club.

The ladies' championship was last played for in 1913, at the Royal, Montreal, when it was won by Miss Muriel Dodd (now Mrs. Macbeth), of Cheshire, England. The runner-up was Miss Florence Harvey of Hamilton, the well-known golf writer, who for the past year has pluckily been doing her "bit" with the Scottish Womens' Hospital unit in Serbia.

When the championships are again held in 1919, after a lapse of five years as a result of the war, there will be several absentees, notably the late Captain Gerald Lees, runner-up in Toronto in 1913, and the late once Kingston, once Quebec, whilst Toronto golfers have annexed premier honors no fewer than twelve times, thanks largely, of course, to Mr. Lyon.

The ladies' championship has not been played for since 1901, Miss Mabel Thompson of St. John, N.B., has been five times the champion, Miss Dorothy Campbell (now Mrs. Hurd of Pittsburgh), three times, Miss Florence Harvey of Hamilton twice. A western woman has never won a championship, although Miss Henry Anderson (who, by the way, made a hole-in-one this season), winner in 1909, is now a resident of Vancouver, and is still keeping up her golf—good golf.

The open championship was first played for in 1904, Karl Ketter, of R. Murray and Albert Murray, have each annexed it twice. Other winners have been J. H. Oke, George Cumming, P. F. Barratt, Daniel Kennedy, and G. Sargeant. An amateur has never won the open, although Mr. Reith, of Montreal, was runner-up in 1906, and Mr. Lyon in 1910.

The golf course is well known. The Toronto Hunt Club has the past two or three years become such a popular feature of the life of the club. The Director has submitted a comprehensive plan for the betterment of the course which has been adopted, and work on the improvements is now well under way. Park, by the way, who was open champion in 1887 and 1889, has more than a continental reputation as a golf architect. He has several fine links in Great Britain to his credit, and since coming to America in 1914 has been kept very busy laying out new courses and improving old.

The principal changes at the Toronto Hunt will be new greens entirely, Nos. 1, 4 and 5. The fairway generally will be improved and the other greens also properly equipped. The total outlay will be in the neighborhood of $10,000, and when completed next season the Hunt Club will have one of the finest 9-hole courses in Canada. The length will be slightly over 3,000 yards. The old course has been the "nursery" for many fine golfers. The new one will be enhanced indubitably to "play the game." The Hunt Clubs throughout the country are more and more devoting attention to golf. The London Hunt last season enlarged from a 9 to an 18 hole course, which has all the earmarks of becoming one of the best tests of golf in the Dominion. The new ones at the Winnipeg Hunt also four years ago installed a links and here, too, the members are showing an ever increasing interest in the game of games.

MARKETS

The following comment on the market situation as regards food stuffs appears in Canadian Grocer this week:

Information received this week by the trade, in a wire from the secretary of the Canadian War Trade Board will give some indication of how removal of restrictions is gradually being effected. Have received intimation from the High Commissioner, London, that the British authorities have issued general license for three months permitting importation of any quantity of fruits, canned, bottled or preserved, also soap.

In this connection it might be mentioned that already some imported fruits and some shipments made to seaboard in anticipation of this move. The influence on the local market has been on the strength, though no advances have been recorded.

Some manufacturers have put through an advance on laundry soap amounting to 20 to 25c per box. The high costs of fats have been offset to a great extent during the war period by the high cost of glycerine. However, with glycerine now in a market that is declining, and fats still higher in price, soap may go to even higher levels.

Latest advices reaching the trade this week on what may be expected in raisins indicate that many orders for "three-crown" and "four-crown" loose Muscatels will be cancelled. This, it is stated, is done in order to care for additional Government requirements. Orders for shipment to Canada of layers and clusters, except vineyard run, have all been cancelled because these cannot be made in time for the holidays; these were a negligible factor in volume of raisin business. No more vineyard run will be shipped on account of poor quality. Deliveries of other grades will range about as indicated recently.

It is understood that restrictions on the importation of nuts and vegetables into the Dominion are shortly to be removed. Dating from December 1st, applications will be considered by the Canada Food Board, for permission to import any varieties of these two classes of foodstuffs.

Montreal—There are advances in several lines this week. Standard soaps have gone higher by 25c per case, to $7.75. Among the lines scoring increase of price are jelly powder, Brazil nuts, castor oil, etc.

The coffee situation is unchanged at the moment, but the tendency points strongly to further advances of from 2 to 3c per pound. There is also a strong probability of tea markets advancing soon.

Among the lines on which an easier tone has developed are found canned salmon. There seems to be

TOGETHER WITH MANY MERCHANDISE PRIZES

There will be found the picture of the Aviator who has just dropped a bomb on a pile of shells. It is an easy task, but by no means a simple one. Call for a copy of this puzzle and solution card by mail.

You may win a cash prize by doing so. Many have done this and will be shown by the names and addresses which we will send you. If you find the picture, cut out with an X, cut out the picture and send it to me together with a reply of paper on which you have written the words "I have found all the faces and marked them." MARKETS

An ample quantity of this and prices quoted are somewhat more favorable. Canned pumpkin scored a big decline, too, while rice is easier, and a slight shading is noticeable in several grades of primes.

Beans are lower, and this follows the definite predictions made in Canadian Grocer last week and for some little time past.

Buckwheat flour is easier in price, and some lines of fruits and vegetables are lower, coarse vegetables in particular. Oranges have declined somewhat, as well as lemons.

In a general way there is a fairly reasonable condition with regard to trading. The jobbers have had a good week in many ways, and are of the opinion that a steady demand will continue for staple lines of goods.

Toronto—The outstanding factor in the list of changes this week is an advance in laundry soaps, ranging from 20c to 25c per box. There is some intimation that even higher levels may be found necessary, but that is something for the future.

There has been some shading of the prices on shelled walnuts and almonds during the week. Both Spanish and Chinese peanuts are also lower. The demand for all lines is very fair and no sharp declines are looked for. Tarra almonds at United States points have declined, but this has not yet been reflected here. A car of California walnuts reached the city this week and is being distributed to the trade.

There are some lots of re-cleaned Australian currants being offered this week. Latest advices are to the effect that no more orders for three-crown and four-crown loose Muscatels will be cancelled, and all unshipped orders will be cancelled. This action is taken in an effort to take care of additional Government requirements. Layers and clusters, which are usually here in time for Christmas, have been cancelled owing to inability of packers to make shipment in time for holiday trade. Dried fruits permitted to come are raisins, apricots and figs, and strenuous efforts to have some prunes released are being made.

Other lines unchanged during the week, prices remaining about where they were last week and any free offerings being snapped up quickly. The outlook seems to be for a strong market, and high prices are generally expected for some months.

The market for sugar is also quiet, with prices generally steady. The market for coffee is also quiet, with prices generally steady. The market for tea is also quiet, with prices generally steady. NOTICE

Increase in Subscription Rates Commencing Dec. 1, 1918

The subscription rates of the Brantford Daily Courier and the Brantford Daily Expositor, commencing December 1st, 1918, will be as follows:

Delivered in Brantford and Vicinity, 45c. per month By the year, Paid in Advance, $5.00 per annum By Mail, " " 4.00 per annum Single Copies, 2c.

After publication of this notice, payments in advance on subscriptions will only be accepted to December 1st at the old rate, after that at the new rate.

This advance in subscription rates has been made necessary by the tremendous increase in the cost of white paper, the price of which has recently been fixed by the Paper Controller at Ottawa. By this one item alone thousands of dollars are added to our annual cost of production, and in addition, labor, presses, stereotype supplies, type and all other items of expense have enormously advanced in price during the last few years.

Even at the new rates the Brantford papers are only now charging prices which have been in force for some time back on almost all the other daily newspapers published in this section of the Dominion. In many cities the subscription rates are very much higher.
