Gold Taken Out in Siabs - Salvanite Being Ca covered in Large Quantities The Pace in One Place is 80 Per Cent Gold.

A special to the Examiner from Denver, rado, contains the account of the greatest sti of gold ever made known in history. If first reports are borne out, Cripple creek, the wonderful Colorado mining camp, has within its precincts the richest mine of gold known to man.

While the first reports as to the assay of the Isabella ore running $500,000 to the ton may be exaggerated in consequence of local excitement, there can be no question of the marvellons richness of the property. Ore in slabs three to six inches thick and a foot wide is being taken out and giving returns

Armed guards are about the mine inside and out and the greatest excitement prevails in the

Saturday morning the first indications of the rich ore were struck. The news leaked out and reached Colorado Springs, where the Stock Board instantly responded and there was sour no Isabella stock to be had at anything under double the quotations of the day before, A: that time the strike was reported to be a large vein running over $1,000 to the ton.

A few hours later a small streak of almost pure sylvanite was uncovered, and the origina quartz opened out to six feet. Then the sy vanite widened and the miners went nearly crazy with excitement. They could scarcely believe their eyes. Some of them had worked in the famous Mollie Gibson of Aspen, where the silver ore ran three-quarters in metal. Here the almost pure gold ran higher. There was no time for assays. They were not necessary. Manager Kilburn telephoned the directors at Colorado Springs and confirmed the report. Last night at midnight the streak was only ten feet in length and eighteen inches wide. - Tonight it has doubled in length and shows no sign of the end of the body. With every honris work the area is increase

ing. A ton is already stacked up in sacks that will bring over $200,000, and this has been picked out in developing the vein on each side the strike. All effort is now being directed toward finding the walls or getting some iden of the value of the chute. No attention is paid to the quartz that is six feet while and runs about $2,000 to the ton. This is second class ore, and

ing and gave very good returns, gradually ineressing from $650 to the ton. No idea of the bonanza struck was contained in the first rick. It was looked upon as a bonanza in itself. The chute was cut at the seventh level, 260 feet above, but not developed, so the probabilities are that the rich body extends a long way. In the morning another force of men will he put to work to develop the mineral at the level and locate exactly the extent of the high-grade

INCORPORATION "NIT!"

The incorporation of the town of Daw son seems to have died "aborning." Six months ago it was believed by some very good lawyers here that it would take only about 10 days to perfect the incorporation. At that time the desire for incorporation was very nearly unapimous among our citizens and what little opposition there was, was weak voiced and feeble. Large meetings were held by citizens and no less than two charters were submitted to popular approval, and one of them afterwards presented to the Yukon council, as the wish of the people. On various excuses the charter was kept. hidden for months while the councilgradually got in its fine work on the taxing power. Through an indiscretion the valley he wanted his claim or awaiting the crucial moment when the on the part of the ex-crown prosecutor it became known that the charter asked for by the citizens, was to be so militated in its important, provisions as to bescarcely recognizable. > THE Cuban debt of 600,000,000 is in a bad way for ever getting paid. The Cn. bans themselves had no voice in assum. ing the debt when it was first imposed upon them. The debt was mostly incurred by Spain in the prosecution of the late 10 year war with those unfortunate islanders. At the conclusion of the war the spaniards bonded the indebtedness which it had created and gave Cuba as security for the same. Never for one moment did the Cuban's themselves agree to assume the debt and Spain herself being so nearly bankrupt, the bonds passed from hand to hand at a very low valuation, each holder being thoroughly conversant with the instability of the security, each, holder knowing full well that at any moment Cuba, might wrest freedom from the grasp of Spain and the securities become worthless paper. The expected has happened and Cuba is free, while the bonds are of course to be tepudiated by Cuba. Spain washes her hands of them while the United States refuses to guarantee them. Oddly enough the bonds are largely held in Spain which of all countries on the carth was seemingly the only one which really beliewed in her own power to hold her possessions as long as she wished.

As will be seen in our local columns the Yukon council has taken steps to protect itself from the approachments and blandishments of water franchise seekers by compelling the absence of any interested member of the council during the discussion of the matter and by disallowing their vote upon the subject in hand. Mr. W.H. B. Lyons, general manager of the Ladue townsite company, arrived in Dawson day. Mr. Lyons has been to New York on company recovery and he already expresses an intention of retarning, a determination to which Mrs.

Ladue is much opposed. Mr Lyons met Messrs Allen and Semple on the reast on the 18th. Frank, the attempted murderer of San lison, shewt."" the mail carrier, was seen at Tagish and is , theriful and contented having evolved some at every cabin door in the rectangle, woke up sort of a defense which he thinks will prove a winner.

The recent arrivals corroborate the story of the death of the Klondike boom, the very word Klondike being used now as a contemptuous epithet. The recent Atlin boom received a severe setback in the passage of the anti-alien law, the steamboats to Skaguay being loaded with people before the law was passed and now scarcely carrying anyone. Mr. Lyons thinks from recent developments that the law will be pected and the commissioner brought the session to a close at once, only remarking that the investigation would not be continued until the 15th and that he would receive charges until that jime. He didn't want any more rambling statements-they must be specific and if anybody needs assistance in preparing them he was willing to give it to them. He also said it had been reported that other ex-officials are now en-route to Dawson to force the charges which had been made against them.

Previous to announcing his retirement from the investigation. Islah Noons, a Dawson merchant, played a mean joke on E. W. It seems that Riner became possessed of an overnastering desire to have his festal board graced ith a bowl of steaming succulent oysters; so he hied bimself to the establishment of Mr. Noons and soon effected an exchange of glitfering dust for a can of his favorite bivalve. But, alas! when he opened the can preparatory to pouring the contents into the stew-pot he found it to be rotten. In the excess of his disappointment he reported the affair to Dr. Good, the health officer, who purchased a can from the same stock and found it to be unfit for eating, whereupon Mr. Noons was arrested. The defendant, of course, would resent the suggestion of a joke, as be claims he had no knowledge that the oysters were bad; but he was committed for trial, just the same-the presumption being that he should know the qual-

STEWART, Y. T., Feb. 22.

EDITOR NUGGET: We have occasion now and then to get hold of a NUCOUT and read with a great deal of interest news from the different creeks adjacent to Dawson, as well as other news.

When we arrived here in the early part of June last we found no permanent settlers saloons, laundrys, buying-and-selling-outfitsstores and other kindred business houses, ex-Vo-can, therefore, say with a clear conscience, Dominion surveyors came here a few days ago gree of civilization. and are now engaged in laying out a city upon-

The discovery of Thistle creek on the lat day of October, 1895, created no inconsiderable mount of excitament among the prospectors along the river. In less then ten dess every elaim from the Yukon to the top of the moun-thin where the Thisle creek had its origin was staked and recorded, together with some visions packed or hauled up, as the conditions of the trait would admit, as quickly as bossible, and the precess of sisking holes to bedrock be gun. It was made known that $85 had been taken out of a single hele on Discovery and its was generally supposed by everybody that the ereek would be arich one, consequently very, one who had, secured a claim was anxious to get down to bedrock. The valley is very wide at ereek envolves a great deal of labos, con-sequently very little is known sofar as to the real merit of the discovery. On lower discover ery an attempt is now being made wills a force of iwenty-three men to cross-cut and according the latest reports quite s, number of heles haver. to latest reports quite a number of holes have been sunk to bedrock but so far no satisfactory result obtained. Aside from the work done on discovery I do not believe there are twenty holes on the Thistle creek proper where bedrock has been reached, consequently very little is known as to the creek. On the different tributaries to Thistle creek very little has been done, but the prospects so far as reported seem to favor Blueberry creek. Report reaches us that fair pay has been struck on No. 27 or No. 28 Tulare creek, but the report is unconfirmed. From the news paragraphs of the Budget it is also learned that suit has been brought in court against the Brackett wagon-road company for obstructing the highway (miners' trail), which seems to possess some points similar to those involved in the late fight of the NUGGET against the Klondike tramroad without a tram. Like the case here, also, the miners' and packers of lower Alaska are greatly interested in the case and the court room-the Union church-iserowded at each session.

From the Skaguay-Atlin "Budget."

A late copy of the Skaguay-Atlin Budget, received in the city by a recent mail, contains some interesting news relative to the British Columbia alien law and the Atlin gold fields. It says that a letter has been received from the gold commissioner, J. D. Grahamy stating that all claims now staked are to be recorded immediately upon his arrival, which was to occur within a few days. The Budget also noted the arrival at Skagnay of Hon. J. M. Stormer, a former state senator of Illinois, who gave the people there no end of satisfaction by telling them that there was no prospect of the allen law ever being enforced! Asked by a reporter to discuss the Canadian alien law, Mr. Stormer replied that it was on account of some infor- vice. mation that had been received from Washington on the evening of the 22d, to the effect that the commissioners, both Canadian and American, had been called to Washington at once, and that immediate action would be taken in relation to the objectionable law, and that the Canadian members of the commission had been reported as asserting that the act of the Victoria parliam the law would never be enforced."
