Niagara Fruit Section Rather Poorly Represented at Toronto, But the Show as a Whole Is Magnificent One.

This District Gets First Prize For Fruit Collection.

(Special Despatch to the Times.) Toronto, Nov. 12.—If the Niagara peninsula should be ashamed of one thing more than another it lies in the small display of products at the Horticultural show now going on here.

A fine display of sweet potatoes is one of the features of the Essex county station.

In the exhibit from the St. Lawrence station, Maitland, one sees a variety of apples only heard of once or twice in a lifetime.

The box and package show consisted of nearly four hundred entries in apples alone, another hundred held pears, quinces, grapes and peaches.

Holland pippins showed up well, were of better quality than usual, and faultless in size, shape and coloring.

WARNING TO EMPLOYEES.

Business Men Must be Protected Against Dishonesty.

James Greer Punished For Abusing His Parents.

Frank Rowe Was Ordered to Support His Wife.

Archie Olney, the Toronto young man who stole $34 from Hendrie & Company, last week, came up for sentence this morning in Police Court. He goes to jail for one month. A few days ago he was arraigned and pleaded guilty. He was remanded to allow the police to make inquiries about him.

This morning he told the court he had been in the city two weeks. He came here from Toronto, where he had lived for seven years, though he was a native of Oneida County, New York State.

When the magistrate imposed sentence he said business men must be protected and he ought to sentence Olney to more than a month, "but your wife and child may need you during the coming winter."

As Olney went over that little link of connection between the courtroom and the annex, the bridge of sights, he sobbed, evidently realizing that his indiscretion had caused a wife and three innocent bairns to suffer the shame they never should have.

Whitney may dub the new Central Prison an industrial seminary and tell us it is something just as good as a technical college.

Street railway extensions, of course, cost money, but there is money in them in the long run. At least, there would be for Hamilton, which is just about half covered.

So the city of Hamilton must wait until Beck gets back from the New York horse show. And if you say a word, the Herald will jump on you and denounce you as a Cataract man.

How many Indian summers is that we have had this year?

Another thing you might attend to in good time is the getting away of your Christmas gifts that have to go through the postoffice.

"She didn't have a chance," said Mr. Hunter of a poor girl who appeared before the magistrate yesterday. That was not her fault, but all the same the Mercer Reformatory looms up in front of her. That's another reminder that the city still refuses to provide a Children's Shelter where philanthropic people could see that the likes of her would have a chance to have a chance.

GREAT THING TO BOOM HAMILTON.

W. O. Sealey, M. P., Takes Up Hamilton Canal Scheme—Urges City to Get Busy.

That an organized movement, launched at once, and properly handled, would result in the Dominion Government building the new Welland Canal on the old Grand River-Hamilton canal survey, giving this city advantages far outstripping any other place in Canada, is the belief of those who have taken a deep interest in the scheme since it was first broached.

It is unquestionably the best thing Hamilton could get to make this a great city, and that some organized effort has not been made before now to insure Hamilton Bay, with its unsheltered harbor, being made the terminal, is surprising to those who realize the possibilities of the scheme.

As a result of the latest agitation it is believed that the Greater Hamilton Association, the Board of Trade and the City Council will map out a plan for a united effort to interest the Government in the old route. The fact that the securing of the Canal for Hamilton would give the city power at its own door cheaper than any place on the continent, it is believed, will be an inducement for the 350 manufacturing concerns here to throw their weight behind the scheme. Money will probably be required to demonstrate to the Government the practicability and cheapness of the project. Doubtless any grant made by the Council would be augmented by contributions from the manufacturing and business concerns if any organized movement is set on foot.

W. O. Sealey, member of Parliament for Wentworth, who spent a lot of time last summer going over the route and investigating the possibilities, lost no time when he reached Ottawa in taking the matter up with the Department of Railways and Canals. Mayor McLaren has received the following letter from him:

Ottawa, 11th November, 1909. The Mayor and Aldermen of Hamilton, Hamilton, Ont.: Gentlemen.—Since coming here, I have GOT A JOB. Wm. Hunter Takes Up Case of Willie Mann.

Willie Mann, the youth who pleaded guilty to stealing $8.82 from George Cushe in police court yesterday, and was allowed to go on suspended sentence, was in to see Truancy Officer Hunter this morning. The boy told how, in a weak moment he had been tempted to steal the money entrusted to him, as he was so very hard up, and he was hungry, for he had just returned from a three days' walk to Berlin and back in search of work. The boy's case is a sad one as his mother is dead and there are a large family left in the father's care. However, Mr. Hunter is going to try and make a man of him. He has already found him employment.

NO SLATE IN ELECTIONS.

For the first time in many years it is believed that the Conservative party will not have an official slate for the next municipal election. The way the "machine" has been bumped in the last two elections and the fact that many of the Conservative candidates for controllers in the field have gone ahead and declared themselves without consulting the party, is said to be the reason for dropping the slate this year. It was thought that considerable bad feeling might be created if the party picked out four men for controllers and endorsed them in view of the fact that two Conservatives are running on the temperance ticket. If they were endorsed it would make trouble with the liquor interests, while to refuse to recognize them would arouse the wrath of the temperance people. The party is also split on the power question. The Conservative Club held its annual meeting last night and elected officers. The financial statement showed receipts of $2,019, and the year closed with a balance on hand of $290. The officers elected are Past-President, Hon. John S. Hendrie and F. C. Bruce; Sir James Whitney, T. J. Stewart, M. P., John Milne, R. L. Borden, M. P., and J. J. Scott, K. C., hon. presidents; Samuel Barker, M. P., president; John Hoodless and Ald. John Allan, vice-presidents; C. R. Smith, secretary, and C. D. Blackford, treasurer.

THERE YET. Local Police Authorities Think Robbers Are Around Falls.

The local police say they have heard of no further developments in the Niagara Falls robbery, though that an arrest will be made shortly is the opinion of a man who has been working on the case, though he discredits the theory that the robbers are or have been here.

According to the opinion of the "lines" informant the robbers are around Niagara Falls, Ont., in hiding, as owing to the publicity the incident has received, it was impossible for them to get out of the town without detection.

MAY GO WEST.

Budimir Protich made application some time ago for the position of interpreter to the Province of Saskatchewan. He has since been notified that his appointment is a matter of a short time, as it will have to come up before the Legislature.

The position carries with it a good salary. If he accepts, Mr. Protich will be much missed here, as he has become almost an indispensable adjunct to the police of this city. He would prefer to live in Hamilton, other things being equal.

MOTHER HAS DISAPPEARED.

Leaving Her Little Baby In Care of Strangers. Her Case Created Much Sympathy Last Month.

She Was in Police Court and the Baby Saved Her.

Truancy Officer Hunter came very near having a little two-months-old baby boy left entirely on his hands last night. The situation the kind-hearted bachelor was in was a trying one, for though he would have loved to have had that little bundle of pink innocence all to himself, yet, he thought, in justice to the baby, he had better decline the offer, at least for a time. It happened this way: Last night Mrs. Simpson, 435 Main street west, called at the Truancy Office, No. 3 Police Station, with the little piece of humanity, to say the baby had been left on her hands by the mother, Mrs. McCarty, who had been boarding at her (Mrs. Simpson's) house.

While Mrs. McCarty was boarding at Mrs. Simpson's a man called frequently upon her to be Mr. McCarty. Last night he called, but his alleged wife was absent, and he was informed her whereabouts was unknown, though the baby was produced for the supposed father to take away. He protested, so a policeman was called, and then he admitted he was not Mrs. McCarty's husband, and that his right name was Robinson, living on Wellington street south.

Forthwith the policeman placed Robinson under arrest, but during one of the moments the constable turned his head Robinson alias McCarty made a bold dash down the garden, leaped the back fence, over five feet high, and escaped in the darkness.

Inquiries made at the address he gave on Wellington street south elicited the fact that a Mr. Robinson did live there, but not the man wanted, and no relation of his.

It will be remembered that about a month ago Mrs. McCarty was arraigned in Police Court, charged with theft, found guilty, and sentenced to one month in jail, but she was allowed to go the same day. She then had the baby in question with her, and at her trial she said she was married, but her husband had left her. Her whereabouts are not known now, and Mrs. Hunter is going to try and find a home for the baby.

In the meantime Mrs. Simpson is taking charge of it.

STILL SILENT. Jamaica Cut Off From the Rest of the World.

Santiago, Cuba, Nov. 12.—The weather is moderating to-day, and it is believed that communication with Kingston and Holland Bay, Jamaica, will be restored soon. Efforts to reach these points this morning were without success.

The only islands with which telegraphic communication could be had today are Cuba and Haiti, and the shore station at Jamaica, Holland Bay. It is equally impossible to reach the eastern islands of the Indies by way of Europe and Pernambuco, Brazil.

Officials of the Western Union Telegraph Company here said that telegraph to Holland Bay advises sufficient repairs would probably be made soon to permit the transmission of messages giving the nature and extent of the disturbance at Kingston.

Halifax, Nov. 11.—The Direct West India Cable Company at Halifax have utterly failed to establish communication with Jamaica. A fierce storm with tremendous rains. The last reports received to-night said that the rains continued, with the wind blowing thirty miles an hour.

WIRES STILL DOWN.

Toronto, Nov. 12.—Mr. H. C. Macleod, general manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia, has the following despatch from the bank's agency in New York, under this morning's date: Cable operators, Holland Bay, Jamaica, wires this morning. Good weather; light winds prevail. Have been unable to communicate with Kingston as land wires down, probably owing to floods. High seas, heavy rain past five days. Sending messenger to Kingston this morning.

ELECTRICAL WORKERS.

The special committee on jurisdiction fights appointed by the convention of the American Federation of Labor, met in the labor hall this morning to deal with the electrical workers' case. It was reported among the delegates before the morning's sessions commenced that an effort would be made to refer the whole matter to a convention of representatives of State federations of labor, and central labor bodies, with a view to settling the whole trouble.

It is believed, however, that President Gompers and the members of the Executive Council will fight to have the convention dispose of the matter.

THE KING CAN DO NO WRONG

The Common Custom of Misapplying This Familiar Phrase.

It is astonishing how frequently the familiar phrase, "the king can do no wrong," is misapplied. It is supposed to be the motto of an unlimited despotism and in some way associated with the doctrine of the divine right of kings. Representative Fowler uses the phrase in this sense in his recent attack on the speaker of the House. Nothing could be further from the real meaning of the phrase. It is the symbol of a system to which the sovereign reigns but does not rule. No where can it be more fittingly applied than to the English Government. The king can do no wrong simply because it is his ministers who do right or wrong, and when the people are dissatisfied with the ministers they change them, not him. He simply expresses the will of the dominant party. During her protracted reign Queen Victoria changed parties a half a score of times; not because she changed her mind, but because she was the simple mouthpiece of the party that happened to be in power. President Taft can do wrong, because his cabinet according to the theory of the constitution, are merely secretaries who follow his instructions and carry his will into effect. If they do wrong he is responsible for it, for he can displace them at any moment. He has absolute executive power, only partially modified by the possible senatorial action. It was for attempting to exercise this undoubted constitutional right that an enraged congress sought the impeachment of Andrew Johnson. Fortunately seven Republican senators helped defeat this revolutionary measure. Although they were politically slaughtered, the right of the president to control his cabinet has never been seriously called in question. In England it is said that the lord chancellor is the "keeper of the king's conscience." If this had referred to his private and personal ethics there have been English monarchs who would have made his lordship's office no sinecure! But, of course, it only has to do with the sovereign's political duties and responsibilities. Happy the land in which the "king can do no wrong" and where the king is carefully instructed official to keep the royal conscience in a sound condition of political health.

SCENE OF WORLD'S GREAT TRAGEDY.

Jerusalem Undergoes Many Changes Since Crucifixion of the Saviour.

Garden of Gethsemane Is In Much of Its Original Condition.

Then came Jesus with them unto a place called Gethsemane, and saith unto the disciples, sit ye here, while I go and pray yonder.

And He took with Him Peter and the two sons of Zebedee, and began to be sorrowful and very heavy.

Then saith He unto them, My soul is exceedingly sorrowful, even unto death. Watch ye here, and watch Me, that I be not tempted. He went a little farther, and fell on His face, and prayed, saying, "Oh, my Father, if it be possible, let this cup pass from Me; nevertheless not as I will but as Thou wilt."

And He cometh unto the disciples, and findeth them asleep, and saith unto Peter, What could ye not watch with Me one hour?

Watch and pray that ye enter not into temptation; the spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak.

He went away again, the second time, and prayed, saying, "Oh, my Father, if this cup may not pass away from me, except I drink it, Thy will be done."

And He came and found them asleep again, for their eyes were heavy.

And He left them and went away again, and prayed the third time, saying the same words.

Then cometh He to His disciples, and saith unto them, Sleep on now and take your rest; behold the hour is at hand, and the Son of Man is betrayed into the hands of sinners.

Rise, let us be going; behold, He is at hand that doth betray Me.

And while He spake, lo, Judas, one of the twelve, came, and with a great multitude with swords and staves, from the chief priests and elders of the people.

Now, he that betrayed Him gave them a sign, saying, whomsoever I shall kiss, that same is He, hold Him fast.

And forthwith He came to Jesus and said, Hail, Master; and kissed Him.

And Jesus said unto him, Friend, wherefore art thou come? Then came they, and laid hands on Jesus, and took Him.

SHIFTING THE BURDEN.

The proposal of the Ontario Government that a number of patients from the Asylum for the Insane should be placed in the city House of Refuge is one that should not for a moment be entertained. It is not merely that the movement is in line with the Government's recent policy of gradually unloading the care of the insane upon the municipalities. That is bad enough in itself. But the House of Refuge is not suited to the purpose, nor is it supplied with a trained staff of physicians and nurses. If the Whitney Government is determined to unload its duties in this respect upon the city, let it proceed in a manly way to carry out its design. The patients are due some consideration, too. If the city is to be saddled with the burden of the care of a selection of these unfortunates, suitable quarters must be provided, nurses employed, and medical supervision arranged for. But why should any such attempt be made? The duty has in Ontario always been regarded as one falling to the Province. The Government takes from the people the revenue for the purpose. It boasts of a redundancy of receipts, and is constantly levying new taxes on the people. Why, then, should it not make provision for performing its duty toward the people by caring for all the insane?

NO SURRENDER.

Canada's indifference to the "Big Stick" threats of United States tariff-mongers, is very disappointing to them. There has been no indication of a willingness on Canada's part to desert her well-considered policy because of the threats held over her head by the United States discriminatory tariff. Referring to Hon. Mr. Graham's statement at Strathroy recently that we will not be stampeded, but "will proceed in a dignified manner, finding new markets and so legislating that the results will be in the interests of Canada, regardless of the United States," the New York Journal of Commerce remarks:

This is rather a light-minded way of treating the subject, but the complacent philosophy of it is better than displaying a quarrelsome disposition. The markets of the United States would be of much more value to Canada than those of Europe on the same terms, and obstructing the way to them is a serious matter. But it is no more serious for Canada than for the United States, to which the Canadian markets would also be of more value in proportion to their extent than more remote ones. The policy which our Congress has initiated is a foolish and short-sighted one, and is calculated to cause irritation and disturbance of trade relations with other countries to our own hurt. But it will be wiser for other countries not to get out of temper over it.

Our contemporary concludes that Canada is acting sensibly. "It will," it says, "like to trade with this country on amicable and profitable terms, but if we are going to be mean about it it cannot be helped, and she will look for markets elsewhere and make the best of the situation. If she finds occasion for legislating in the matter it will be with a view to results in the interests of Canada, regardless of the United States." It thinks that if this admirable temper is displayed on both sides of the line, the result will be that "the United States will find that the rest of the world is no more dependent upon it than it is dependent upon the rest of the world." And that, furthermore, the United States will find that it is playing a losing game and will ere long conclude to change its stupid tactics. One is inclined to wonder if United States politicians ever test their policies by first principles, or if the Golden Rule has no place in the nation's politics.

THE ONTARIO FARMER.

The man who owns a fruit, grain, dairy or stock farm in Ontario has reasons to thank fortune that his lot is cast in such a favored section, especially if it is situated in the Niagara district or the western peninsula of the Province. "Intant hills look green," is an old saying which has been realized by many who found that on nearer acquaintance looks are deceptive. British Columbia is a great Province with a great future, but without belittling its resources, we feel like saying to the fruit-grower of this district that it probably offers him nothing that should induce him to pull up stakes here. The spring frost played havoc with the British Columbia orchards in many parts, and a peach famine is the result. The great promise of May was nipped by a frost that not only destroyed the peach bloom, but affected the apple crop. Everywhere the rich low lands suffered most. Writing of the Okanagan valley a correspondent of the Toronto Telegram says: All went well until January, and then came the spell of weather that brought disaster to the thousands of young trees. The mercury shrank in the bulb until the temperature registered anywhere from 30 to 40 below zero at Vernon, to 10 and 15 below at Penticton, which is some seventy-five miles south of the former place, at the southern end of Okanagan Lake.

Some orchards where the trees were badly affected had to be so cut down and pruned back that they presented only a sorry array of stumps where the year before had been a flourishing four-year-old orchard. To complete the damage late spring frost came in May, and what few blossoms remained nearly all succumbed to these. In one famous orchard at Kelowna in place of the 500 ton crop of apples harvested last year, only some 50 tons were counted upon this season. Large trees fairly laden down with fruit the preceding spring were left almost bare of apples. Had the usual mild winter prevailed many thousands of boxes of peaches and apples would have gone forth to the prairies where good times have assisted the market and enhanced the farmer's appetite for exotic fruit. But it was not to be, and every horticulturist, who hasn't a private income (many have), is sore on the country and wants to sell out and either go to the west or gravitate back to the prairie.

It should be borne in mind, however, that such an unfortunate season for the fruit-grower has not been experienced in British Columbia in twenty-five years, and that the "benches" and uplands did not suffer so severely as the bottom lands.

Land for fruit farming in British Columbia is not got for a song either. The Provincial Government has allowed the great Okanagan valley to get into the hands of speculators who exploit it and the settlers to their own advantage. We quote again:

From Vernon south to the international boundary line, nothing can be grown without irrigation. The country in its natural state is almost as arid as the plateaus of Colorado. Sage brush, tiny cacti, tenet grass and here and there a straggling bull-pine comprise the vegetation of this veritable dry belt.

All land fit for orchard purposes must be bought. Practically valueless without water, it is purchased in large blocks for a few dollars by land companies, who put in an irrigation system fed by some mountain lake, subdivide the land into 10-acre blocks, retail it at bargain prices of $300 per acre and upwards. It is a snap for the land companies.

Their seductive prospectuses—framed to play upon the feelings of the frost-bitten wheat grower and the dissatisfied toiler in all walks of life—give glowing accounts of the fruit-grower's life according to them an existence spent mainly in child's play at a railroad president's income; and so on and so on.

Of course some of those who bite at the bait succeed. Adaptability and capacity count for much. But success in either British Columbia or in Ontario has to be earned. Hard work and the know how are not to be dispensed with either here or there. The British Columbia fruit-grower has to fight insect and other pests too. He has the great problem of marketing his product to solve. His market is small as yet, and distances are great. He will overcome all these difficulties, we are sure. But we cannot but conclude, after weighing matters, that the Ontario farmer who is comfortably situated has no call to envy him; that the fruit grower of this district especially should feel that his lot is cast in so pleasant a place; that he would be foolish to think of exchanging positions with his Western fellow-Canadian.

REFORM SURE TO COME.

It was Richard Cobden who said that "the people had fared better under the despotic monarchs than when the powers of the State had fallen into the hands of a landed oligarchy, who had first exempted themselves from taxation, and next claimed compensation for themselves by a corn law for their heavy pecuniary burdens." And he proceeded to prove his statement by showing that for a century and a half after the Conquest the whole revenue of the country was derived from the land; for the next century and a half the land yielded 95 per cent. of the country revenue. At the time of Queen Mary it was yielding 75 per cent.; at the end of the Commonwealth, 50 per cent.; under Queen Anne, 25 per cent.; the first thirty years of George III., 14 per cent.; from 1793 to 1816, 11 per cent.; and from 1816 to 1845, in Cobden's time, 4 per cent. The land-owning classes will no doubt try hard to escape the tax-restoring effect of Lloyd-George's budget, but whether it becomes law or not the people are becoming alive to the imposition practised upon them, and the great tax-dodging class will have to take up their proper share of the burden which they have so long shifted to the shoulders of industry and commerce. The land of the United Kingdom is now within sight of the tax collector.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Canada is the third greatest of Uncle Sam's customers. He should treat her decently.

In the year 1908 Canada produced 66,548 tons of asbestos, valued at $2,555,361. Of this product 61,210 tons was exported. The industry is one of considerable value to the country.

The ratapayers who understand that Hydro-Electric deal are now of the opinion of the Herald, when it was still true to have an opinion, that "the form of contract is not what it ought to be."

Will Hon. Mr. Hendrie inform the other two Hydro-Electric Commissioners that Hamilton must have a square deal in this power matter or he will hand in his resignation? We shall see.

British Columbia nominations took place yesterday. The Socialists have candidates in all the urban constituencies. Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper is speaking against the Government's railway policy.

The United States sold to Great Britain last year goods to the value of $15,000,000, and bought from her goods to the value of $208,000,000. Such commerce is a great influence for peace and good will, and anything that tends to lessen it is an evil to be contemned.

It will not be in danger of having to entertain the bailiff as an unwelcome guest. Where did it strike the pay streak?

Parks, the author of the plan of the Manila and Fibre Paper Manufacturers' Combine in the States, has been fined $4,000. Twenty-three of the companies in the combine have been fined $2,000 each. These penalties are sufficient to show that such combines are not beyond the reach of justice.

The Moncton Transcript man is in danger. He declares that Lord Northcliffe, who has been dispensing stories about the Intercolonial Railway, has been "talking through his coronet." We tremble to think of what may happen to the misguided critic of titular infallibility. Any way, why should a lord be held down to prosaic facts in the manner of an ordinary flesh and blood citizen?

Sir Wilfrid Laurier announced in the House yesterday that he hoped that the report of the proceedings of the Defence Conference would be laid before the House next week. Every day's delay is embarrassing to the Opposition, as it renders it difficult for it to arrive at a "policy," being unable to assure itself that what it might decide upon in the meantime would not be the very policy on which the Government has decided.

North Essex by-election resulted in the election of Wilcox, the Tory candidate, by a majority at present estimated at over 100 over McKee. Windsor and Walkerville, who were expected to give McKee a handsome vote, both gave large majorities against him. At the last election, Mr. Sutherland had a majority of 551. It is to be noted that the vote was a very small one, even in the towns of Windsor and Walkerville, only about 55 per cent. of the electors going to the polls.

Mr. Booker's protest to the School Board against its proposed treatment of Miss Riach in deducting her salary during her illness, may not have been expressed in parliamentary language, but it set forth the views and feelings of most self-respecting citizens. And it was effective, too, to the extent of inducing the Board to pay this faithful servant the amount of her salary, less the amount paid for a substitute. It is not in such savings that true School Board economy is to be found.

A great merger of United States copper interests is now proposed. This, of course, involves an enormous capitalization. If we were to concede the argument of the advocates of public ownership and operation, that such mergers are to be met by the public (municipal or state) entering the field of competition, or expropriating the property outright, we should soon have general public ownership and operation of almost everything worth mentioning. Of course, such a contention is absurd. The people have the power to regulate and control all these institutions.

Today the Ottawa Opposition will in caucus try to agree upon some policy as to naval defence. The party is divided into three camps, each one's contention destructive of that of the other two. The object of to-day's caucus is to try to get the party to unite on some policy which will present an appearance of uniting the members, and still place them in opposition to the Government. It is probable that the caucus will not bind itself to anything definite till the Government bill is brought down, lest it should, by inadvertence, approve what the Government proposes.

The report of the industrial education committee of the A. F. L., presented by John Mitchell, approved of such education in the public schools, but condemned it when given by private schools, or schools conducted by manufacturers. That is hardly consistent. If the man who makes two blades of grass grows where one grew before is a benefactor, surely he who doubles or trebles the capacity of a Canadian youth is a greater benefactor. Technical training is good for the youths, and good for the country; and it matters not where it is obtained, so that it be thorough.

It may be taken for granted that the Conservative party will not be satisfied with anything that the Laurier Government may propose by way of contribution to naval defence. How can it, when, although Mr. Borden appears inclined to stand by the policy of which he approved, the Manitoba and British Columbia Tory leaders bitterly complain (before seeing the policy as defined in a bill), that we are not doing enough for the Empire, while Monk, the Quebec Tory leader, declares that too much is being done? When the party discovers where it is at, it will be time enough to think of criticising the Government.

General Weyler has been made Captain-General of Catalonia, Spain, and has set about the restoration of law and order in Barcelona. Much undesired contumely has been cast upon Weyler by United States newspapers, but he is without doubt one of the best of the Spanish administrators. He was an attaché of the Spanish legation at Washington during Lincoln's time, and was well regarded by those with whom he came in contact. He has intimated to the people of Barcelona that he comes with an olive branch in one hand and military law in the other, and nobody doubts that enemies of the state will fare hardly if they defy his authority.

There are times when hard words come mighty easy.

WHAT TO DO IN EMERGENCIES. (Harper's Weekly.) When a man rushes into your office hurriedly and says: "By jingo, Dawson, I hate to speak of it, but I need $500 like the very old dickens to-day!" Answer: "What a singular coincidence, Binks; I do, too."

CLEAN SPORT. (Woodstock Sentinel-Review.) The boy is the father of the man. The boy that learns to be a gentleman in his sports, that can trust himself a crowd, and that would scorn to win by unfair means, has already laid the foundations of good citizenship.

GREAT IDEA. (Montreal Herald.) Mr. Smart—Henry, while you're at the phone, just tell my wife I'll bring Mr. Swell home to dinner with me to-night. Clerk—Certainly, sir; but Mr. Swell is out of town to-day and won't be back. Mr. Smart—I know it, but I feel as if I'd like to have just one good square meal.

ALL KICKERS. (Dundas Banner.) No wonder Hamilton boys can play football well, for everybody seems to kick there, from the police court up to the Mayor's chair; and the Hamilton newspapers have to act like Tiggers, chewing each other up, to keep everything somewhat respectable.

VERY HARD TO SATISFY. (Kingston Whig.) Saturday Night demands the retirement from the federal government of one whose morals do not satisfy the editor. A recent case in court has not vindicated the member referred to, in the opinion of our contemporary, though it was convincing enough to most people and some conservative journals accepted it as ample and complete.

KNOW WHERE TO FIND THEM. (Montreal Herald.) The truth is we no longer charge our memories with the multitude of facts in which we have interest. We keep the limited storage accommodation provided by the brain cells for a relatively small number of things about which we are very particular. As to everything else, we content ourselves with knowing where to look for it. It is no disgrace not to know, provided one knows where to look; then he can spare himself the confession.

THE BREEZY WEST. (Saskatoon Phoenix.) The editor of the Capital does well to wrap his gross misstatements in short paragraphs. They may pass unperceived, except with those who read only one paper; and read that from first to last line. These are the only people he can hope to deceive. But the public has the right to ask: Is he a willful prevaricator? Is he as ignorant as he indicates. There is no other alternative, and in either case the community should be protected.

COMPLIMENT TO THE KING. (Buffalo News.) It is but the due of Edward VII. to say that no man has come to the highest station in any country in the last century who has gained higher fame than because of the excellence of his work on the throne. This is specially felt in contrast with what was expected of the King because of his easy habits while Prince of Wales.

Edward has done for England what no one imagined that any monarch could do. By his alliances and understandings, the result of his personal journeys and interviews with leaders and rulers in other countries, he has regained for England the prestige which was held at the close of the Napoleonic wars.

GREED OVERREACHES. (N. Y. Journal of Commerce.) It is frankly conceded that to apply the maximum rates in practice to any considerable section of trade, with the resulting injury to business that would result, would be political suicide for those now in office and would also be most injurious to the protective system, bringing on a campaign for the revision of the duties in such a way as to reduce the exorbitant rates which would go into effect under the terms of the tariff. It is not, therefore, maximum. If the maximum rates cannot wisely be used it will not be too much to expect foreign countries to perceive the situation and to refuse to yield us any but the barest of concessions in return for the doubtful favor done by the Administration in preserving its own political life by continuing the present "minimum" rates in operation.

Wigg—They say Henpeckke's wife used to be a reigning belle. Wagg—I suppose that's why he leads such a stony life.

ITALIAN SHOT. Dies After His Leg Was Amputated. (Special Wire to the Times.) Belleville, Ont., Nov. 12.—An Italian employed with Larkin & Sangster, contractors on the Trent Valley Canal, was shot on Wednesday night, and brought to the hospital here yesterday. He received a charge of bullet in the leg, which was amputated last night. He died shortly after. He was unmarried, and his name cannot be learned. He was 25 years old. Coroner Veomans has ordered an inquest to be held. A mystery surrounds the shooting.

CHILDHOOD'S DAYS.

To the young in life's fair morning The world seems like a dream, And youth has for its adorning Illusion's tinsel gleam. The tender mind, untired and green, Sees only visions bright, And fancy's flashes light the scene, With their alluring light. Earth's sweetest nectar youth doth drink, Its joys have no alloy; Dull care, life's sweetest tincture sink, Each hour finds full employ. O, youth, what is more like thee Than childhood's happy days? The heart so merry light and free In sunshine basks always! But childhood's days they soon are past, And never more return; The future, though a golden east, Has lessons hard to learn. Each passing day new scenes unfold, Ideas wider grow, And higher thoughts the mind doth mould For all a chance must know. Yet bounding youth, I crave not thee, Though life be sweetest then, For corn rust's ripe, who'd wish to see—John Hegintbottom, 27 Euclid avenue. It changes to green again! November 8.

YOUNMAN'S W. C. T. U.

"Sabbath Observance" was the subject dealt with at the regular meeting of Youmans W. C. T. U. held in the day nursery. The superintendent of that department, Mrs. Linklater, had prepared a specially interesting exercise on the subject. A collection was taken, and a number of resolutions adopted. After the transaction of some important business "God Save the King" was sung in honor of his Majesty's birthday, and the meeting closed with prayer.

become impatient during the efforts to induce the negro to make a statement, and there were demands for "work."

The lynching of Henry Salzer, the white man, for the brutal murder of the negro on August 15 last, was a rebuke to delayed justice.

Y. M. C. A. DIRECTORS.

The regular monthly meeting of the Y. M. C. A. board of directors was held last evening, President Alfred Poff in the chair.

TROOPS CALLED.

Mayor and Chief of Police Guarded in Their Homes.

Chicago, Nov. 12.—Governor Deneen retired at 3 o'clock this morning, after directing Acting Adjutant-general Dickson at Springfield to make arrangements for rushing a second regiment to Cairo early to-day in case of another violent outbreak of rioting following the night of terror in which two men were lynched by a mob of Illinois citizens.

HELD JOINT SUPPER.

The annual supper and joint meeting of the teachers and officers of Knox Church Sunday School and Knox Mission school took place last evening.

the ground by noon at the latest. I have also arranged for the immediate transportation of another regiment in the morning.

The governor asked the sheriff if the saloons had been ordered closed, and when informed that saloons run by the white inhabitants were still open and that many in the mob were drinking freely, he suggested that all saloons be closed at once and be kept closed until all danger had passed.

Deputy Woodward informed him that Mayor Parsons and the chief of police had not issued such orders, and that they were being guarded at their homes because the infuriated mob had threatened them with harm.

Cairo, Ill., Nov. 12.—Last night's mob rule, which cost the life of one negro and one white man, was attributed by Mayor Parsons today to the fact that although the city had had its share of murders there had been no official executions there for ten or fifteen years.

"No one can regret last night's affair more than I do," said the Mayor today. "I do not think that any blame attaches to any official. The entire community was worked up to such a pitch that prevention was impossible. I believe that the majority of the citizens are pleased at the turn of affairs, and while they deplore the disgrace of the city and State, they believe that the result will be salutary."

There has not been an official execution in Cairo for 10 or 15 years. Jurors have failed to convict in homicide cases or have convicted only for minor degrees, and it has been possible for murderers to escape. In fact, murder in Cairo has, I regret to say, been tolerably safe.

The feeling against crime that has so long been suppressed found vent, and I believe Cairo will be peaceful and law-abiding hereafter."

BANKER DEAD.

Had Gone to New York Hotel With a Woman.

Found Dead Next Morning—Search by His Wife.

New York, Nov. 12.—Edwin Hills, the banker and manufacturer of Plainville, Ct., who disappeared yesterday afternoon, and for whom the police had sent out a general alarm, was found late this afternoon dead in a room at the Gilsey House.

He had gone to the hotel and registered with a woman as Mr. and Mrs. Charles French, of Hartford, Ct. Coroner Shady said that death was undoubtedly due to natural causes and probably to heart disease.

Mr. Hills, who had recently returned from the session of the State Legislature, of which he is a member, came to New York yesterday accompanied by his wife. He was accustomed to making frequent trips to New York to consult physicians in regard to his heart, which had been weak for some time.

When her husband did not return last evening Mrs. Hills became alarmed and consulted Mr. Welch. Finally, after waiting until well along in the evening, she reported the case to police headquarters and also set several private detectives to work.

NEWS IN BRIEF

The underwriters have reduced the premiums on Toronto insurance. A special civic committee at Toronto will confer with the Bell Telephone Company in regard to telephone rates. The Toronto Parks Committee recommends two civic bowling greens and approves the proposed skating rink in Exhibition Park. A bandit who attempted to rob a bank at New Albany, Ind., killed the cashier and seriously wounded the president and another man. The Australian Federal House of Representatives on Thursday reversed by one vote its decision of a week ago against the Government. W. Cameron Forbes has assumed the office of Governor-General of the Philippines. The formal inauguration will take place November 24th. Word has been received from Rapid City, Man., that Mrs. Frank Prout, sen., of the Moline settlement, committed suicide there on Tuesday by drinking formaline while temporarily deranged. James Scott, carpenter, engaged on the new Willard building at Galt, on Thursday afternoon fell while hoisting a joist into the basement, and broke a leg and sustained other serious injuries. The toll of death in the electric railway accident at Vancouver was increased on Thursday by the death of C. Conductor Harris. This makes the fifteenth death as a result of the street car disaster. Two hundred tank cars have been ordered to the Shamokin division by the Reading Railway Co. to haul water to the collieries and towns that are now practically without water because of a prolonged drought. Pearl Waddell, little daughter of Mr. Robert Waddell, Canton, met with an unfortunate accident at her home. The little girl, who is eleven years old, was kindling the fire, when in some way her skirt became ignited. A case of smallpox on board caused the detention at quarantine of the Spanish steamer Manuel Calvo, which arrived to-day from Spanish ports. The patient was a second cabin passenger, a priest from Barcelona. Sir Louis Jette has received notification that an order-in-Council had been passed by the Federal Cabinet appointing him Chief Justice of the Court of King's Bench of Quebec. Sir Louis succeeds the late Sir Henri Taschereau. The Linby collieries, near Nottingham, Eng., employing 500 miners, will close in a fortnight, the owners announcing that the operation of the recently adopted Miners' Eight-hour Act makes it impossible to work the mines except at a loss. The most important secession from the British Government yet announced is that of Sir Robert W. Perks, the noted civil engineer, who announces that he will not support the Ministry any longer because of its Socialist tendencies. The British Government has decided to grant £135,000 towards the Colborne & Blackson Bay Railway. When this is constructed London will be only fourteen hours from Blackson Bay, from which Halifax is distant only three and a half days. The joint committee of the House and Lords and the House of Commons which was appointed in July to inquire into the censorship of the drama, report in favor of continuing the censorship and of extending the authority of the censor so as to include a supervision over the music-halls. The execution from an explosion 200 feet away lifted the trap door in the Alekinley Barrage which at 6:05 a.m. and John Valtjie, a Hungarian, who was pushing a car, fell down the well and broke his leg. The trap door fell after him as precipitately as if the trap had been arranged. Mr. J. Lockie Wilson, Superintendent of Horticultural Societies, has been presented by the Ontario Horticultural Association with a set of Royal Crown Derby plate, encircled and beautifully chased with sterling silver, and appropriately inscribed, in recognition of Mr. Wilson's services. Present indications at the University of Toronto are that none of the three students recently suspended for a year will be reinstated, and that neither of the two fines will be mitigated. Several student petitions for leniency have been delivered at the president's office, but as yet they have been disregarded. A shooting affair occurred at Glen Miller, on the banks of the Trent Valley Canal, on Thursday. It is said that some Italians were in a row, and one of them had a gun, which others tried to take from him. In the scuffle the gun was discharged, and the man who had it was shot in the leg below the knee. True tales were found by the grand jury at the Ottawa Assizes against Geo. Detour and Victor La Casse, who are accused of dynamiting the home of M. Laporte, on the Montreal road. The prisoners are charged with attempting to blow up a building and attempting to do grievous bodily harm. La Casse is also accused of theft. The remains of William Hurd, killed at the Hochelaga yards by a G. T. R. engine, were taken home to Bedford Mines. He was the last of six brothers, three of whom met their end on the railway. Joseph and William were both killed at the Hochelaga yards, almost at the same spot, two years ago. The third was killed at Quebec. Wheat grown at Fort Liard has been received by the Trade and Commerce Department from Commissioner Perry, of the Northwest Mounted Police. Fort Liard, on the River Liard, lies 200 miles north of the 60th parallel of latitude and 20 miles east of the Yukon Territory. The grain was graded as No. 2 Northern, worth about 94 cents a bushel. A sort of poetic justice overtook Vernon Clark, who broke into the house of William Bailey, 242 Major street, Toronto, during the month of September. He stole a quantity of powder, and when he was using it later on, it exploded. The powder got into his eyes, and he had to go to the hospital, where he remained for six weeks before he recovered completely. The mystery that has for months surrounded the disappearance of numerous articles from suit cases and handbags at the Union Station, Toronto, was cleared up on Thursday by the arrest of Joseph Glass, a sixteen-year-old youth, on a charge of theft. Suspicion was directed towards Glass, and it is alleged, a bagman was seen in the act of opening a suitcase and taking something out. Eileen Pickett, 23, convicted bigamist,

Camp Out in the Forest

PINE-LADEN ATMOSPHERE OF GREAT BENEFIT TO THOSE WHO HAVE CONSUMPTION.

Among the mighty pines of the Adirondack Mountains are hundreds, perhaps thousands, of consumptive people, who have returned to the primitive life of the early pioneer in an effort to recover health. They live in camps built of rough logs, and constantly inhale the fragrant pine-laden air, which has a soothing, healing effect upon the affected organs. There is a peculiar virtue in pine which makes it a splendid remedy for coughs and colds and other affections of the throat and bronchial organs. This valuable medicinal property is present in the Virgin Oil of Pine, which is a combination of the active principles of pine and santal album. To break up a cold quickly there is nothing so effective as the mixture of two ounces of Glycerine, a half-ounce of Virgin Oil of Pine and eight ounces of pure Whiskey. Take a teaspoonful every four hours. The ingredients are not expensive and can easily be mixed at home in a large bottle. It makes enough to last the average family an entire year, and will cure any cough that is curable.

Poor Salaries Paid Missionaries on Western Fields.

Winnipeg, Nov. 11.—An earnest effort is to be made by the Presbyterian Church in the West to increase the starvation wages paid to the men in the home mission field. This matter was made the subject of a burning address to the synod of Manitoba last night by Mr. E. Brown, formerly leader of the Liberal party in the Legislature. He offered to donate $5,000 towards wiping out what he thought was almost a disgrace to his Church, which pays wages to missionaries upon which it is almost impossible for them to live. This morning his address was the sole topic of discussion at the Synod session, and bore fruit in a prompt decision to more than double the grants to the mission field in this Province during the forthcoming year. Last year the sum of $12,660 was devoted to this branch of the work, but if the plans formulated to-day are developed this will be increased to $27,000. At the present time there are a hundred mission fields in the west for which no men are available, and it is believed that low salaries which do not permit men to live upon them are mainly responsible for this crisis in Church work. An effort will also be made to have Christian families prepare sons for the Church.

SETTLED BY COURT.

Method of Payment of the York Loan Dividend.

Toronto, Nov. 12.—The National Trust Company, liquidators of the York County Loan & Savings Company, in view of the large number of inquiries respecting the recent payment of the dividend of twenty-five per cent., have issued a long statement. In this the whole history of the case is reviewed. It is pointed out that the method of distribution of dividends was settled by the court. The liquidators say: "Shareholders should realize that the method of distribution has been finally settled by the court, and that, therefore, remarks or inquiries on this subject only add to the difficulty and expense of the liquidation, with a consequent lessening of the dividend." "The liquidator is ready to answer any reasonable inquiries, but the expense of dealing with the large correspondence is so heavy that no letters will be answered which are covered by this explanation. Since the payment of the dividend on the first of this month the liquidator has received some 8,000 letters, and about 3,000 shareholders have called at the office of the company." "What do you think of a man with a firm in his coat and only three buttons on his vest?" "He should either get married or divorced."—Boston Transcript.

Vegetable-Growers Talk of Dishonest Seedsmen.

Toronto, Nov. 12.—Dishonest seedsmen formed the subject of a general complaint by delegates to the fifth annual convention of the Ontario Vegetable Growers' Association, which was held in the City Hall yesterday. The president, Mr. Thomas Delworth, Weston, in opening the convention spoke of the difficulty the growers had in obtaining the kind of seeds ordered. He thought legislation should be obtained to protect the growers from being imposed upon by dishonest seedsmen. Heavy fines for selling different varieties than those ordered should be imposed on the seedsmen, he said. "When we buy Yellow Danvers," he said, "we want to be certain that we get Yellow Danvers." Other speakers referred to the trouble in procuring the right kind of seeds. Mr. A. McMeans, of the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, gave an interesting report on "Cabbage and Cauliflower Growing." The secretary-treasurer, Mr. J. Lockie Wilson, Toronto, reported a prosperous year for the association, and an increase in membership. Mr. H. S. Peart, manager of the Experimental Station at Jordan, gave an interesting report of the vegetable farming at the Jordan Station. Mr. G. H. Clark, seed commissioner, Ottawa, gave a resume of the work done at Ottawa in connection with seeds, and he spoke of matters relating to seeds in Europe. He said it was a difficult thing to control the seed question so long as seeds were brought from abroad. Good seeds were possible only where home-grown seeds were used. The reports of the inspectors of the experimental plots showed that in the Toronto and Ottawa sections the crops were the best. The English grown seed did not give satisfactory returns in some districts. California grown seeds appeared to be better. The struggle against insects and the study of new varieties of vegetables were the subjects touched upon by Hon. J. S. Duff, Minister of Agriculture, at the closing session last night. President Thos. Delworth, of Weston, occupied the chair.

BEE-KEEPERS.

Honey at Exhibitions Not Produced by Exhibitors.

Toronto, Nov. 12.—Indignation was expressed by members of the Association of Beekeepers of Ontario in convention yesterday afternoon at the practice which is said to have been in operation for the last few years at the industrial exhibitions in Ontario, of exhibitors showing honey which they had not produced, but which they had bought from others. A resolution was finally passed recommending to the various exhibition boards that no exhibitor be allowed to show honey other than what he had produced himself. A rule to this effect had formerly been in force, but had been done away with because it had been found practically impossible of enforcement. Methods of fighting the "foul brood," the disease which has wrought so much havoc among the colonies of bees in Ontario in the past few years, formed the subject of discussion in the morning session, led by Mr. W. Scott, of Wooler. It was decided that an invitation be extended to the National Association of Beekeepers asking them to hold their next annual meeting in Toronto. The following directors were elected: Isaac Dickson, Lancaster; A. McLaughlin, Cumberland; H. E. Frye, Chantry; C. F. Chisholm, Wallbridge; James Stor, Lindsay; William Coon, Streetsville; J. M. Switzer, Orangeville; W. H. Bowen, Niagara Falls; W. J. Craig, Brantford; D. Chalmers, Poole; D. Angus, Leameth; D. Colb, Newton Robinson. These directors will meet this morning to appoint officers for the coming year. The convention closes to-day at noon.

HELD UP SHOW. Suffragettes Create Disturbance in London Theatre.

London, Nov. 11.—Suffragettes held up a performance at the Savoy Theatre to-night, substituting a "votes for women" demonstration until they were ejected. They had learned that Mr. Lloyd-George, Chancellor of the Exchequer, was going to the theatre to see the comedy opera, "The Mountaineers," in which there is a topical song bantering himself and the budget. The Suffragettes accordingly took seats in the dress circle. The Chancellor and his party occupied a box. While the budget song was on the Suffragettes rose and shouted it down with shrieks of "Lloyd-George, why don't you give women votes?" and similar utterances. One wildly waved a stomach-pump and another a bottle of milk, which now seem indispensable accessories of their propaganda. Policemen were obtained, and helped by many willing hands, ran the women out to an accompaniment of an angry chorus of "boos."

THE CLOSING. Last of the Keswick Services Held Yesterday.

The closing session yesterday afternoon of the convention in Centenary Methodist Church was largely attended. Rev. George Litchfield was the speaker and had a parting message in which he pointed out the necessity of following in the footsteps of Christ. He was selected as his text "The witness of the Holy Spirit as a birthright of every child," and to bear out his meaning, selected Acts i., 6. "Lord wilt thou at this time restore again the kingdom of Israel." He said he liked to think of the Apostles and the good work they had done, all because they had been filled with the Holy Spirit. The keeping of the commandments would not be so hard to the average person if they had received of the Holy Spirit. The family and individual relations would be materially improved under such conditions. Life in Society, where it was necessary for the Christian to be a witness of Christ, would be hard if the presence of the Holy Spirit was known. No matter what people said the Holy Ghost was a necessity for true living. Therefore it was best to be filled and re-filled with the Holy Spirit. In the early times the people accused the Apostles of drinking wine because of the joy of which they bore witness, but the wine was not earthly, but heavenly wine. In closing he said the gift of the Holy Spirit was extended to every person and none need go without and be sickly or dissatisfied. EVANGELISTS. Two Spoke at the Ebenezer-Hall Last Evening. Two very interesting addresses were given at Ebenezer Hall last evening. Mr. John M. Carnie, the well-known evangelist, joining with Mr. Robt. McMurdo in giving a treat which will, without doubt, linger in the memories of many for some time to come. Mr. McMurdo spoke on "The Eternal Security of the Believer." His address was interesting and was much enjoyed by all. He took two scriptures, the one bearing on the believer's acceptance in Christ, the other emphasizing his being accepted of Christ. These were two very different conditions, and should not be misunderstood. The moment a man or woman believed in Christ he is accepted by God in Christ, that is, in and through the sacrifice of Christ. Because of the perfectness of the work of Christ on the cross the security of the believer for all eternity was plainly evident. But, to be accepted of Christ was a different matter. This was not a question of salvation (that was settled when the man believed), but this was a question of acceptance of or by Christ in the matter of service. One's acceptance by Christ did not depend on his or her station, and influence on earth, but on the degree to which he endeavored to do the will of God. "Let us so live," concluded the speaker, "that our service may be acceptable unto Him who gave Himself for us." Mr. John Carnie spoke briefly on the scene in the upper chamber where Jesus' disciples had assembled for fear of the Jews after their Master had been crucified. He dwelt on the words of Jesus when He said to them, "peace be unto you." Mr. Carnie told of the peace which was possible for all who believed, and pleaded with those Christians present to look away from self to Him who is our peace. Mr. McMurdo and Mr. Carnie will speak again to-night and on Sunday at 3 and 7 p. m. Mr. McMurdo's address to-night will be "Why we meet simply as Christians," and next week he purposes giving a series of addresses, illustrated by a large chart, on "The feasts of the Lord." All are welcome to any of these services. Aluminum Coins. It is expected that aluminum coins of low value will be in circulation in France by the end of this year. It is interesting to note, in this connection, that the adoption of M. Naquet's proposition for an aluminum coinage in 1871 would have resulted in a heavy loss to the French treasury. Although experts declared it to be impossible that the value of the metal should decrease, it has now fallen to nearly half the price ruling thirty-eight years ago. Delegates representing 130,000 church membership in the United States and Canada of the Evangelical Association were holding a forward movement convention in Berlin, Ont., yesterday. Last night a public meeting was held in Zion Church, Rev. Mr. Heimlicher, of Cleveland, Ohio, preaching an evangelical sermon.

A girl who thought she had a good firm matrimonial bid on Frank Gotch now complains that he threw her and wants damages.

The Canadian's intended competing in the Yonkers Marathon on November 25th may have to call the trip off as the authorities there say "Nix on those C. A. A. cards."

Frank Gotch philosophically avers that it is part of the penalty of greatness and suddenly acquired riches to be accused of trifling with the heart of some fair damsel. The fair damsel in Mr. Gotch's case is said by her attorneys to be able to come stronger than the toe hold with a bunch of "Baby Bunting" billets doux that ought to be worth $25,000 to leave unpublished.

The Kenton county grand jury's indictment of the Latonia Racing and Agricultural Association for permitting bookmaking on the Latonia track, pending the decision of the case affecting the track now pending in the Kentucky Court of Appeals, is not viewed with any great alarm at the track. The indictment is based on the fact that the pari-mutuel is the only form of betting approved by the Kentucky Racing Commission.

The Supreme Court of New York has decided that it is not a pinchable offense to make bets on horse races as long as those bets are not translated into figures and money on the spot. In other words, "oral" betting has been sustained. The New York tracks got along nicely with oral betting during the season just closed. Of course, it shrunk the volume of speculation and left the poor bookmakers with more than the usual profitless harvest of pickled fingers, but it answered the purpose of furnishing sufficient revenue to keep the game going.

Though brought South to escape the rigors of a northern winter, Hamburg Belle, the famous trotter, died at the stock farm of her owner near Thomasville in Georgia of pneumonia. Hamburg Belle, that cost $50,000, set a new world's record in her race with Uhlans, at Cleveland, on Aug. 25th, when she won the first heat in 2:01 1/4 and the second in 2:01 3/4. The mare was by Axworthy out of Sally Simmons by Simmons, and was bred at Bedford, Conn., by E. T. Bedford, of Brooklyn. She was registered by him as Sally Simmons II, but when Bedford sold her to John E. Madden, the latter renamed her Hamburg Belle. The mare was 7 years old. H. M. Hanna, the owner of the mare, is a brother of the late Mark Hanna, and a millionaire. He owned many fine horses and purchased Hamburg Belle for show purposes. Mr. Hanna is now very ill in Cleveland and cannot be told of the death of his great trotter.

Remarkable Indian Bridge. An interesting bridge, said to have been built by Indians, is situated about 200 miles east of Prince Rupert, B. C., near the proposed line of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway.

It is built of round poles, fastened together with telegraph wire and wooden pins, the floor being the only part where nails are used to any extent, and no two joints are made alike, but it seems to do the work required of it, that is, as a means for pack trains to cross Bulkley River.

Looking at it from a distance, it seems to be nothing but a collection of poles and wire stuck together any way, with no particular reason for its not falling; the floor is very uneven, and the joints of the different members are made by lapping and binding them with wire. But by looking at it closely a person can see that the party who built it had a pretty good idea of engineering, for the bridge is an ingenious combination of cantilever and suspension construction.—From Engineering News.

SPORTING NEWS

TIGERS HAVE STRONG TEAM FOR TO-MORROW.

A Return Rate of $1.40 Has Been Secured on the G. T. R. and Special Trains Will Leave Five Minutes Earlier Than Previously Announced.

A rate of $1.40 has been secured for the Tigers' supporters who will accompany the team to Toronto to-morrow for the game with the Argonauts, and it is expected that the two special trains will carry nearly five hundred people to the scene of the battle. This game promises to be about as good as any played this season as the dark and light blue team has improved immensely since the opening of the season, and on their own grounds they will put up a stiff fight. The Jungle Kings have little on them on the wing line, and the game will go to the team with the best back division. However, as this is the department in which the Scullers are weak, the Tigers should pull out victors by a fair sized score. The Tigers are taking no chances and one of their strongest teams will be put on the field. Davey Tope will play his first game of the year at full and George Smith will be moved up to the half line. Simpson and Moore will both be on, and Don Lyon will be back in his old position at right outside wing. Jack Gray was walking around yesterday for the first time since the accident to his ankle, but will be unable to play on Saturday. Bramer will be put in his place on the line, and Bethune will be put in the scrum. With the exception of the changes referred to above the team will line up the same as in their game last Saturday, with the Rough Riders.

ment of the game. In previous games this has been the one thing in which the Tigers have been weak, and if they fall down in any of their remaining games, their poor tackling will be a big factor in their defeat.

This is about the time in the football season when the players begin to announce their intention of quitting the game. Dutch Burton is the first, and likely about half the team will voice same intention within the next couple of weeks. Dutch said yesterday this season was his last, and although he seemed to mean it, no doubt he will change his mind before the season of 1910 rolls round.

Pete Brannan, the big 230-pound cop, was out watching the Tigers practice yesterday, and, judging by the interest he takes in the game, next season will see him out romping around in a suit of mokiniks. Brannan would make a great scrimmage man, as he has the strength. He is anxious to break into the game, but as it is rather late in the season he will likely wait until next season.

Some change has been made in the schedule for the excursion trains. Instead of 1 o'clock, the King street station train will leave at 12.55, and the Stuart street station train will also leave five minutes earlier. Both trains will leave Toronto at 11 o'clock.

Now that the grounds for the Ottawa-Tiger play-off have practically been agreed upon, the question of officials comes up. Hendry and Griffith say they will not act; Ottawa does not want McKenzie and McMaster, and will not agree to Hayes and Robins, as they are Hamilton men. Pud Kent and Tommy Hayes are not satisfactory to either team. The Inter-Provincial will likely have to settle this question.

The last of this week's practices was held at the cricket grounds yesterday afternoon. With the exception of Jack Gray the whole team was out, and an hour and a half was spent in practicing trick plays, signals, punting, running and catching. Apparently the team is confident of its tackling ability as no attention has been paid to this department.

MIX-UP IN THE JUNIOR INTER-PROVINCIAL SERIES.

Although Alerts Have Defeated Tiger Cubs Twice They Are Forced to Play Them Again to Qualify For the Semi-Finals.

What should prove the most interesting game of the season in the junior football leagues is scheduled to take place to-morrow afternoon at the cricket grounds at 8 o'clock, when the champion Ascensions, who are tied with the First Methodist team for first place in the senior church league, will play for the championship. The rivalry between the teams is intense, dating back since the formation of the league a few years ago. With the exception of one instance, the teams have been contenders for the premier honors every year, and a few remembrances linger yet. Farrell brothers will in all probability officiate. The teams will line up as follows:

Ascensions — Full-back, Manson; halves, Moore, Campbell, McKelvie; quarter, Myles; scrum, Greisch, O'Heir, W. Moore; wings, Otton, Crocker, Gow, Dillon, Waits, Nixon. Full, Long, halves, Ecclestone, Awrey, Hill, quarter, Shannon; scrum, Buttingham, Loughurst, Miller; wings, Robinson, Lumsden, Graham, Walsh, Awrey, Treleaven.

The Junior Church League will be brought to an end. The schedule calls for a game between the Erskines and St. Andrews, but the Saints are unable to play a team that would make a favorable showing, and as the season is nearly over, the promoters are anxious to have the league closed. In view of the circumstances, it is likely that Erskines and Knox Mission will play their protested game, and providing the Erskines win the league will be settled, but should the result be different, the teams will be tied, necessitating a play-off on neutral grounds, probably the Britannia Park.

Hugh Murray, the treasurer of the Tigers' Football Club, is coaching the First Church team, and he has now got the team in fine working order. The players have been out three times this week, indulging in some stiff work-outs that would make any team about perky. Three of the First Church players, Awrey brothers and Ecclestone who are playing for the intermediate Argos, will be here, especially for the game. The trio has learned the game with the First Methodist boys and are in reality the backbone of the team.

There was some talk of a protest to be filed against the First Methodist for playing the three interprovincial players, but the rule adopted by the league, allows a player, who has graduated from the league, to return.

The Alerts, Y. M. C. A., Dundas and Junior Tigers, who were supposed to have been playing City League ball, do not know where they are at. The Alerts have won out in the league and are now informed that they have been playing Junior Interprovincial, which allows them to compete in the finals. The first game scheduled is with the Junior Tigers, although they have defeated them twice. The Alerts, while not fearing that they will lose against Tigers, think this is unfair treatment, in view of the fact that they have already easily defeated the Cubs.

The Junior Tigers who did not play a league game this year, according to some of the players. It seems very funny that they are not grouped with other teams who are practically in walking distance from the Tigers' grounds.

Junior Interprovincial, either Alerts or Tigers, will be forced to play off with the Capitals, of Toronto. A Hamilton fan, who visited Toronto for the purpose of seeing the Capitals play, is of the opinion that either of the Hamilton teams could defeat them, which would mean that Hamilton would be a contestant for the Dominion honors. He says while they are fast and heavy they are weak in the fine points of the game, which would prove their downfall against the Hamilton teams.

Should the Alerts be eligible to compete in the finals, Walter Howell will play the best junior team that ever represented Hamilton.

There is some talk of "Tiny" Sage, the big two hundred and fifty pounder, who played for London in the Interprovincial, catching a place on the senior Varsity team. When a local player named Hamburg, who is practically new to the game, can hold "Tiny" in check, what will Bob Ishister, Wally Barron and a few more husky Tiger wings do to him?

Roy Moodie, Honorary President of Alerts, has donated a set of caps and stockings for each of the players.

The Ascension team will be likely changed around for to-morrow's game. Captain Manson, who has been playing quarter, will go back to full back, giving him a chance to show his punting abilities, and Francis Myles, the fast middle, will make a try at quarter. McKelvie will be moved to the half line, taking the place of Charlie Otton, who will play outside wing. With these changes and a light work-out to-night Captain Manson is confident of victory.

While the Ascensions claim they will win, the First Methodist boys are optimistic, claiming that their condition will tell.

Representatives from First Methodist and Ascension teams held a meeting at Fred Kerritt's store last evening, when they completed arrangements for the game on Saturday. The teams are tie for first place, and being unable to come to an agreement as to the place where the game will be played, Mr. Baker, the President, settled the question by ordering the teams to play at the Cricket Grounds. The Ascensions argued for some time after the president's decision, but Sammy Manson finally gave in.

Little Money Was Made This Year.

Financial Statement of Montreal Club Shows Profits of $5,506.

Montreal, Nov. 12.—With the financial statements of the three local clubs of the N. L. U. made public, it would appear that Montrealers had sufficient interest in lacrosse this year to spend $36,191 in admission fees to the games. As close as it is possible to make an estimate probably between 80,000 and 90,000 would be the total attendance of the year. All three clubs have a membership list, in the case of the M. A. A. a very large one, and a membership ticket brings with it the privilege of admission to the games without charge. This factor prevents an accurate accounting of the attendance.

For the reason that the Nationals, with their big following in the east end, did not prove the success of the record-breaking year of 1908, the total receipts of the three clubs fell short of the figures for last year by about $2,000 or a little more. Nationals last year took in

BRITISH OFFICERS POPULAR AT NEW YORK HORSE SHOW.

Several of the Jumping Events Carried Off by English Officers—Crowd Hooted Judge's Decision For Hackney Cup.

New York, Nov. 12.—The first sign of displeasure at the decision of the judges was shown yesterday when, amid the hisses and groans of a crowd of enthusiasts that filled the seats and boxes and lined the ring in the Madison Square Garden, Judge Wm. H. Moore, won the coveted English Hackney challenge cup, at the horse show yesterday afternoon, valued at $500. The spectators made it very plain that the prime favorite of the ring was Jos W. Harriman, who drove his celebrated mare, Lady Belham and won second prize. It was obvious that the judges, Senator C. W. Bloodgood, of this city, and Captain John C. Groome, of Philadelphia, had considerable difficulty in reaching a decision between Lady Belham and Lady Seaton. They repeatedly studied the animals from various points of view and put their heads together on whispered conferences. When, at last, the blue ribbon was pinned to the bridle of Lady Seaton, the auditorium was filled with hisses and groans and other evidences of disapproval.

Mr. Harriman, whose horse Nala last night won the Forest King Challenge Cup for the third time in succession, a feat never before equalled at the show, announced yesterday that he would offer a cup to take the place of the Forest King Cup, to be known as the Nala Challenge Trophy.

During the afternoon seven events were judged and Canadian exhibitors had to be content with one red streamer. This was awarded to Graham Bros.,

Claremont, Canada, who won second with their magnificent chestnut Hackney stallion, B. B. Critic. Sawhill Duke, the Kentucky stallion, was first, but by a narrow margin. Another championship and another cup for successive wins was captured when Henry Fairfax's Virginia stallion, Bagthorpe Sultan, proved to be the best animal of his class at the show. As this same stallion won last year, his owner thus became permanent owner of the $250 challenge cup, which had to be won twice by the same entry.

PRaise for British Officers. Chief in feature and arousing tremendous enthusiasm the British officers at last night's show carried off premier honors by capturing the trophy cup offered by R. P. McRann. The event was international in character and called for going over a course by two teams of officers of the same nationality and fences to be taken by two abreast. The trophy was won by Lieut. P. G. Yorke on Biddy, and Lieut. T. H. Sebag-Montifiore on Taffy. The performance of these entries surpassed anything in the event. Second honors went to American officers, Lieut. Gordon Johnson and Lieut. Ismartin Major Hon. J. G. Beresford, D.S.O., and Lieut. C. F. Walwyn were third. Earlier in the night Lieut. C. F. Walwyn jumped the Biscuit to victory for the cup trophy, presented by A. B. MacClay. The entries were over 100, reaching thirty-six in number, and the triumph of the British officer created a profound sensation. He, as were all the British officers, were cheered to the echo.

Brady's Offer Is Turned Down.

Jim Jeffries' Comment on Purse to Meet Al Kaufman.

New York, Nov. 12.—James J. Jeffries refused yesterday William A. Brady's offer of a $10,000 purse, with the privilege of a side bet of that amount provided "Jeff" would agree to fight "Al" Kaufman ten rounds within ninety days. "The American public has no interest in a fight between Kaufman and myself," declared Jeffries. "I like ten thousand dollars as well as any man, but that is too great a joke to spring while I am seriously engaged preparing for a fight with Johnson for the championship."

Retiring interviewers to "Sam" Berger, his manager, for further comment, Jeffries smilingly withdrew. Berger was full of pointed comments on the magnanimous proposition advanced by Brady. "If Jeffries attempted to get advertising in such a manner the public would quickly criticize him. We could accept that offer at once and get lots of publicity, but what do the fight followers care about a ten round bout between Jeffries and Kaufman?"

"If Mr. Brady wants to carry out his promise let him be present when bids are opened on Dec. 1st and the club which will have the Jeffries-Johnson fight in charge is selected. Mr. Brady can then present us with $10,000 or post that amount in cash, and it will be covered at once. The entire affair was inspired by a grievance Mr. Brady appears to have against 'Jeff,' for what reason no one knows."

TORONTO MOST SUITABLE PLACE FOR SAW-OFF.

Police Protection All That Is Needed to Make Rosedale the Venue—Cornwall and Kingston Not to be Considered.

The question of a suitable place for pulling off the deciding game between Tigers and Ottawa, if one will be necessary, is causing as much discussion in Canadian sporting circles as the venue of the Jeffries-Johnson fight is in the U. S. Toronto appears to be the spot, says an Ottawa exchange. There are many reasons in favor of the Queen City. First, and a very important factor it is, Toronto will supply a crowd that will eclipse anything in any other city in the country. Again, the weather is sure to be more propitious in Toronto at this time of the year than in Montreal, the other place under consideration. And finally the only hindrance to the western centre is the fact that police protection has not been forthcoming in the past. An outcry by the interprovincial should overcome this latter feature. It will require about fifty or "more" cops to keep command of the situation, however. In 1905 when Varsity and Rough Riders were playing off for the Dominion title the whole of the second half was played between two lanes of humanity, and when Varsity had the ball near Ottawa's line, the crowd closed in behind, and it would have been utterly impossible for the Ottawa team to have gotten away any distance had the opportunity presented itself.

It is claimed 10,000 will witness a saw-off between Tigers and Ottawa at Rosedale. The city of Toronto itself would send over a crowd of seven or eight thousand. Hamilton would supply at least one thousand, and Ottawa would take up about five hundred. That would make some crowd. They haven't seen a real game in Toronto this year, and are just itching to watch the big 'uns play.

Montreal would be the next choice, as they have the field, seating capacity and other facilities for taking care of a big game. But Rugby is dead in Montreal at the moment, and it is doubtful if a crowd of three thousand could be gathered together to see the match. Again, the season is very late, and when Nov. 20 rolls around the M. A. A. field is more apt to resemble one of Dr. Cook's photographs of the North Pole than a Rugby gridiron.

As for Kingston—nix in black caps. It is a spongy field and lacks the facilities. Cornwall would be like playing the game in private; no one but the most intimate friends of the team would go there to see the contest.

Careful dissecting of the problem reveals the fact that Toronto is by far the most suitable spot for pulling off the big fracas.

GRIDIRON GOSSIP

Although the Ottawa players are praying for it, they do not expect Argos to defeat the Tigers. Undoubtedly, Argos made a good job of Montreal last Saturday last, but in pressing the Ottawa team for their victory on the M. A. A. field and hoping for the best when they clash with "Tigers," don't forget the fact that Tommie Stinson, the brains and speed of the Montreal team, was not in the game for more than fifteen minutes. True, Argos also beat Ottawa for half their game at Toronto. But where was Captain Jack Williams when they were doing so? On the side lines holding a long distance argument with the Argonaut rosters. Where was Stinson? Acting as touch-line judge. No, Argos are a good young team, and if they train on nights and Rosedale bay and take Joe Wright's advice to heart they may be able to beat Tigers in a few years. But not just now. Tigers should run up a big score on the Argonaut on Saturday, unless Ben Simpson leaves his box of tricks at home. Everyone in Ottawa, however, is hoping for an Argonaut win, and the bulletin boards here will be closely watched while Argos and Tigers are fighting it out on the Rosedale gridiron.—Ottawa Citizen.

Toronto Telegram: Watch those Argonauts when they bump up against the Tigers on Saturday. The Argonauts are practicing steadily every day, and it would not surprise a great many of the local fans if they were to trim the Hamilton team. Down in Ottawa the followers of the Rough Riders are fairly living in the hope that they will win, and victory, too, is pulling for a Toronto victory.

For a while it looked as though the club was going to have some trouble in managing the crowd at the game tomorrow. They tried to obtain the services of a squad of police, but were told that while there would be a number of "bluecoats" on the grounds, they would not do anything towards clearing the field of spectators. The difficulty was arranged, however, by securing a number of soldiers from the Fort to patrol the grounds.

It is not known whether Norcross and Art Kent will be played or not. Both are eager to get into the game, but the management does not want to run the risk of having them hurt again.

The Y. M. C. A. senior team is requested to play the F. M. C. A. in uniform at 1 o'clock to-morrow afternoon.

Disbrow, in his Ranier, won the 20-mile handicap in the elapsed time of 17.36.15, or 53.39 slower than Aitken's pace in the stock car race for that distance.

In the four-mile light car race, Matson, in a Chalmers-Detroit, was first, and his team-mate, Knipper, second, Nelson, in a Buick, finishing third. Matson's time was 4.05.05, and Knipper was but three seconds behind him. Yergler, in an E. M. F., also ran.

GAMBLING BILL.

Amendment to Criminal Code Dealing With Race Track Betting.

(Special Wire to the Times.)

Ottawa, Nov. 12.—A bill to amend the criminal code in respect to gambling and race track betting, which Mr. H. H. Miller (North Grey) has placed on the order paper of the Commons, is designed to remedy the existing anomaly in the law which allows bookmaking and betting so long as bookmakers keep moving about from place to place. Mr. Miller's amendment defines the word "place" in the present act as including "any place whether enclosed or not, and whether it is or is not a fixed place, and whether there is or is not exclusive right of user." To the clause declaring every one guilty of an indictable offence and liable to one year's imprisonment or a fine of one thousand dollars for infringement of the law in respect to race track gambling, Mr. Miller proposes an amendment widening the law to apply to anyone who engages in bookmaking or is in or upon any place for the purpose of pool selling, bookmaking, betting or wagering, or invites or solicits any other person to buy any pool, or posts up or exhibits, or assists in posting or exhibiting any information or notice relating to any post selling, bookmaking, betting or wagering.

"We have thought it best to let the Canadian players drift for one season, and let them see how it goes not to have some one handing them out great fat salaries weekly. For years Pittsburg money has kept poor, but athletic, young men from Canada, who do not appear to have appreciated it, and during the coming winter we will allow someone else to buy their meal

LIVE STOCK.
The railways reported 180 carloads of live stock for Wednesday and Thursday at the city market, consisting of 2,300 cattle, 500 hogs, 217 sheep and a few calves and 11 horses.

The quality of fat cattle was about the same as has been coming for some time. There was a good healthy market for all classes of live stock, notwithstanding the easier feeling on the hog market.

Butchers—George Rowntree bought for the Harris Abattoir Co., 500 cattle, steers and heifers at $4.10 to $4.50, and a few prime picked cattle at $5.50; cows, $1.50 to $4.00; bulls, $2.25 to $4.20.

Stockers and feeders—Mr. Murby got 250 during the week at following prices: best steers, 800 to 1,000 lbs., at $4 to $4.50; steers, 800 to 900 lbs., each, at $3.50 to $3.80; good stockers, $3.00 to $3.25, each, at $2.75 to $3.00; common stockers, $2 to $2.25.

Veal calves—Moderate receipts of veal calves sold readily at steady prices, from $3 to $4 per cwt. with a few prime quality calves at $7 per cwt.

Sheep and lambs—Over 2,000 sheep and about 1,000 lambs were offered. Good sheep, $3.90 to $4; bucks and culs, $2.50 to $3; good lambs sold up to $6 per cwt.; the average price, $4.50 to $5 per cwt.

Hogs—Mr. Harris reports the hog market easier, and would not pay more than 7.5% for extra country points. Selects fed and watered $7.65 to $7.75.

New York Stocks

R. B. Lyman & Co.'s non letter: New York, Nov. 12.—The market opened rather dull and for the most part lower, with particular pressure in Hill stocks and sugar, but after a moderate amount of foreign selling the traders seeing that long stock was not coming on market turned to the buying side, and there was a pretty sharp rally toward the end of hour in which leading stocks participated.

Mr. Guggenheims, president of Smelting Corporation, made some bullish remarks on copper metal situation and copper and smelting were among the strong stocks in consequence. Bullish manipulation continues in these issues and they ought to do much better. The Gould stocks were strong under the lead of W. U. Corn products was a feature of strength among the low-priced issues, and is in a position to advance sharply if the Standard Oil interests so desired. Denver is in a position to be recalled quickly. The buying of M. O. P. is improving. There is some real buying in Penna. and for the long pull we regard this stock very favorably. Many bull rumors current on S. R. We look for further improvement before the close. Americans were rather heavy in later London market.

HOUSE OF COMMONS.

Mr. Borden Asks Questions and Sir Wilfrid Answers.

Mr. Ecrement and Mr. Kyte Will Move and Second Address.

Minister of Labor's Mother Saw Him Introduced.

Ottawa, Nov. 11.—The proceedings in the Commons were brief but interesting. Sir Wilfrid Laurier was accorded a great ovation when he took his seat, looking well and fit for the fray, the Liberals cheering him for quite a while. On the return of the members from the Senate, whither they had been summoned with the customary formality by the Usher of the Black Rod to hear the speech from the throne, the Speaker intimated the changes that had occurred in the personnel of the House during the recess. Then came the introduction of the new members. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Minister of Labor, had a flattering reception when he appeared escorted by Sir Wilfrid and Hon. Mr. Graham, and the Liberal cheering was renewed when Mr. D. A. Lafontaine, the member for Lotbiniere, accompanied by the Premier and Hon. Mr. Brodeur, and Mr. J. M. Douglas, the late Dr. Wilbur McIntyre's successor in Strathcona, sponsored by Sir Wilfrid and Hon. Frank Oliver, were introduced.

These introductory formalities over, the Premier announced that in deference to a desire which had been expressed the debate on the address would not begin until Monday, when Mr. Ecrement (Berthier) will be the mover and Mr. Kyte (Richmond, N. S.) the seconder. Mr. Borden gave notice that to-morrow the question of the alleged delay in the appointment of judges to the Court of Appeal in British Columbia would be raised.

Hon. Mr. King's mother, who saw many years ago her father, William Lyon Mackenzie, introduced to the old Parliament of Upper and Lower Canada, looked down from the gallery this afternoon on the introduction of her son as the youngest Cabinet Minister in the history of Canada.

MR. BORDEN SEEKS INFORMATION. Following this the leader of the Opposition had several questions to ask the Prime Minister. He desired to know when the report of the proceedings of the Defence Conference in London would be laid on the table, whether there were any documents relating to the French treaty still to be produced, whether the Government had any information to lay before the House concerning the United States tariff, and whether there was any document or information touching the waterways treaty to be brought down. Mr. Borden also inquired whether the Government proposed to lay on the table papers regarding the resignation of Mr. Hugh D. Lumsden, chief engineer of the Transcontinental.

B. COLUMBIA NOMINATIONS.

List of the Candidates Now Before the People.

Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper With the Liberals.

The Fight Against McBride's Railway Policy.

Vancouver, B. C., Nov. 11.—The fight of the Mc Bride-Mackenzie-Mann combination for a guarantee of the C. N. R. bonds and the construction of that railway to the coast began today officially, when nominations for the Provincial House took place. The Province is more keenly interested than in any previous contest since the building of the C. P. R., and there is a great and growing cleavage in the Conservative ranks. The up-country constituencies are being thoroughly canvassed in opposition to Mr. McBride's railway policy. Mr. Wade will speak at Fernie on Saturday, Nelson Monday, and Revelstoke next Wednesday. At Revelstoke he will be accompanied by Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper. Later Sir Hibbert will address the Conservatives at Victoria against the railway policy. The Liberal leader, Mr. John Oliver, is at present in the upper country.

The recent extraordinary growth of Vancouver is indicated by the fact that the city's voters' list, certified to-day by Registrar Haslam, contains 19,220 names. Victoria, B. C., nominations to-day were as follows: Alberni—H. C. Brewster, Liberal; Dr. A. D. Morgan, Conservative. Atlin—Thomas Kearns, Liberal; Hon. H. E. Young, Conservative. Cariboo (two members)—Harry Jones, Liberal; Dr. M. Callahan, Conservative; W. Kohn Yorkston, Liberal; John A. Fraser, Conservative. Columbia—J. A. Buckham, Liberal; H. G. Parson, Conservative. Comox—J. M. Forrest, Liberal; M. Manson, Conservative; J. Cartwright, Independent. Cowichan—John N. Evans, Liberal; W. H. Hayward, Conservative. Cranbrook—M. A. MacDonald, Liberal; Thomas Caven, Conservative. Chilliwack—C. W. Munro, Liberal; Thomas Caven, Conservative. Delta—John Oliver, Liberal; P. J. Mackenzie, Conservative. Dewdney—Allister Thompson, Liberal; Wm. J. Manson, Conservative. Esquimalt—John Jardine, Liberal; W. R. Ross, K. C., Conservative; John Harrington, Socialist. Grand Forks—Daniel Patterson, Liberal; Ernest Miller, Conservative; John McInnis, Socialist. Greenwood—Alex. McDonald, Liberal; John R. Jackson, Conservative; George Heatherston, Socialist. Lillooet—Mark Eagleson, Liberal; Arch. McDonald, Conservative. New Westminster—K. J. Johnston, Liberal; Thomas Gifford, Conservative; Walter Dodd, Labor.

“Why are you so indolent?” demanded the stern parent. “You don't see me letting the grass grow under my feet.” “No,” replied the son. “If you had let some grow under your feet you wouldn't be so near having it grow over your head.”

FEDERATION OF LABOR

British Labor M. P. Speaks at Convention.

Swedish Delegate Made Appeal For Funds For Workers on Strike.

Toronto, Nov. 12.—The unprecedented spectacle of a convention composed almost entirely of United States citizens passing a resolution recording its appreciation of the efforts at domestic policy of a British Chancellor of the Exchequer was witnessed in Toronto yesterday. The incident occurred at the convention of the American Federation of Labor in Massey Hall. The two fraternal delegates from Britain, Messrs. A. H. Gill and J. R. Clynes, had spoken. Both are Labor members in the British Parliament, and each had told of the great battle being fought in Britain by Mr. Lloyd-George and the combined Liberal and Labor forces for land taxation, old-age pensions, and other radical measures. Mr. Clynes' speech especially roused the convention. It was frankly Socialist, but it won the convention by its reasoning and restraint. At the close of the convention gave the British delegates a great reception. Seizing the opportunity moment when the applause died down, First Vice-President James Duncan, rising from his seat in the body of the hall, proposed the following resolution: “Resolved, that the A. F. of L. in convention assembled, place upon record its appreciation of and admiration for that great tribune of the people in the British Parliament, Lloyd-George, Chancellor of the Exchequer, for his herculean support through the British budget of the welfare and interests of the whole people of his country, as opposed to the opposition he has aroused among the aristocracy therein in their defence of property.” “Resolved, that we recognize in that contention the economic struggle in which we also are engaged, namely, whether in the advancement of civilization the rights of the people or the interests of property shall be paramount; and that in our broad-gauged internationalism we send back to Great Britain, through its fraternal delegates to this convention, the God-speed of the assembled delegates to Lloyd-George and to his associates in the great effort being made through the pending adoption of

WHAT THEY WORE.

The Ladies Made a Brave Show at Parliament Hill.

Ottawa, Nov. 12.—Following the ceremony of the opening of Parliament and the departure of the Governor-General and his military escort for Rideau Hall, Countess Grey and the Vice-Regal party, accompanied by Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the entire gathering, paid their respects to the Speaker of the Senate and Mrs. Kerr and the Speaker of the Commons and Madame Marcell in the Speakers' residences, where a profusion of lights and flowers gave an additional air of festivity to the scene. Her Excellency Countess Grey looked very stately and handsome in an exquisite gown of white duchesse satin, with overdress of chiffon embroidered in Indian design in gold thread, and outlined in panel effect with Indian embroidery. She wore a magnificent tiara and collar of diamonds, and diamond and pearl ornaments, and carried a bouquet of roses. Lady Laurier wore a lovely gown of heliotrope tissue on self-toned satin, the gown embroidered in silver and silver passementerie. She wore a diamond tiara and diamond and opal necklace, and carried orchids and lilies of the valley. Lady Evelyn Grey was in white satin, charmeuse, embroidered in silver and finished with pink tulle and pearls. Lady Hanbury Williams looked charming in pale grey satin, veiled in grey chiffon, trimmed with grey iridescent trimming, and diamond ornaments, and she wore the Order of St. John of Jerusalem. Mrs. Buggins—Every day will be Sunday by and by. Won't that be fine? Mr. Buggins—Yes; fine for the speaker's ease.

To-morrow is the last day of Trebles, Limited, greatest underwear sale of manufacturers' stock, and no man can allow this opportunity to pass without taking advantage of it, so buy to-night or to-morrow if you wish to get values treble of which Hamilton has never seen. HAMILTON'S YOUNG MEN.

Sir,—One thing a person must be impressed with when they become acquainted with Hamilton and its inhabitants is the fact that she has within her walls a wonderful supply of young men.

Hamilton is looked upon as a religious city, and I do wonder at it, when you see her very backbone, which is the young men, bent that way.

These societies, if we may call them that, are doing a work which they themselves cannot appreciate as they should. It is impossible to tell where their influence for a higher and better life on the men they come in contact with will end.

A Small Vote Polled—Liberals Were Apathetic.

Windsor, Nov. 11.—The Parliamentary election in North Essex to-day resulted in the election of Oliver J. Wilcox, Conservative, over William J. McKee, Liberal, by a small majority, probably less than 100.

The result was not altogether a surprise to Mr. McKee's friends, as it was known that many voters would not go to the polls at all, believing the election of the Liberal candidate but a matter of form.

Following are the majorities by townships, as received up to 11.30 p. m. Figures of some of the polling districts are incomplete, and will not be available until noon to-morrow:

JAKE HODGES AND ST. PAUL.

Jake Hodges, of Texas, had tailed long and earnestly at a county convention in Lamar county and the heat of the battle had got into his head. He staggered out into the cool night air and unknowingly wandered into the grounds of an insane asylum. Mistaking a solemn, spectral figure for a tree, Jake leaped against it. It moved and spoke, saying:

"Peace be with you."

"Well, I'm derned," said Jake, mopping his brow. "Thought you wuz a post. I shure begs yoh padion."

"You are forgiven," said the stranger. "My name's Hodges," said Jake, as he sought to collect his fleeting wits and make the amende honorable. "What might you be?"

"Men called me Paul when I was on earth," was the reply. "Some, indeed, were kind enough to call me Saint Paul."

Gompers Talks of His Fight Against Injunction.

(Special Wire to the Times.)

Toronto, Ont., Nov. 12.—That the present administration of the American Federation of Labor have in mind the contemplation of advanced legislation in the matter of the formation of an alliance with European labor bodies is evident from a remark dropped by President Gompers, shortly after the convention came to order in Massey Hall in the morning. A resolution was introduced to that effect on Monday and from what President Gompers said it is apparently evident that it will meet with the approval of the executive. It came about when an announcement was made by Secretary Morrison that a big strike of gas workers had been declared in Italy and that steps have been taken to import strike breakers from America.

"In the near future I hope that we will be able to co-operate through the International Federation of Labor, if that is what it will be called, to prevent the importation of strike breakers from Europe or America, or vice versa," remarked Mr. Gompers. Secretary Morrison announced that a thousand garment workers in St. Louis have been locked out, and moral and financial help was asked from the convention.

"There wasn't a time during the early part of the injunction process when either Mr. Morrison, Mr. Mitchell or myself could not get on a technical ground, got out of being on a technical ground, got out of being on a technical ground," President Gompers stated, when asked by Delegate Jerry Sullivan, to tell the convention what steps they are to take to see that the sentences imposed upon either Mr. Morrison, Mr. Mitchell or myself could not get on a technical ground, got out of being on a technical ground, got out of being on a technical ground.

"We were to have ourselves declared innocent on a technicality," he asked. "We did not offer a word of defence or justification for the part we took in the boycott declared against the Buck Stove and Range Co. We offered no defence beyond that of our rights. It is a question of our constitutional rights of free speech and free press and upon these grounds we rest our case. This question of freedom of press and of speech is so much intertwined with the matter that it is going to be the great question upon which the case revolves. We undertook to test the law and the language of Justice Wright is excusable, under the circumstances, as it does injustice to three citizens of the United States. I would add that the sentence of one month imposed upon Mr. Mitchell and myself is the longest penalty ever imposed in the history of the United States for contempt of court, where no actual violence has taken place. I leave it to my fellow men to say whether or not Justice Wright was influenced by partiality in the latter indictment, but our attorneys have told us they will have no trouble in any event in securing a delay of 15 or 20 days more before the sentence is carried out. We do not want the issue to be clouded," he stated. "We want the courts to decide if we are to have the same rights as every citizen should have, under the constitution."

"As to going to jail, I repeat, I do not know. I have an abiding faith in the justice of our courts, and only hope that those same courts will seize upon the opportunity of immortalizing themselves by reasserting the principle of Magna Charta, and the constitution of the United States. I know of no case in which the great principles of equal justice, constitutional rights and human liberties have been so much at stake as they are in the present issue, since the Civil War and the abolition of black slavery."

Mr. Macdonald is reported to have said, however, that he would not accept the nomination if it were offered him.

TORIES AT SEA MURDER SCENE.

On Naval Policy to be Pursued by Canada. The Steinheil Tragedy Rehearsed by Prosecuting Judge.

Prisoner Deadly Pale—Many Smary Women There.

Paris, Nov. 12.—Many smart-looking women managed to gain entrance to the gloomy, stultic court room today to hear the concluding arguments in the murder trial of Madame Marguerite Steinheil.

The accused woman, with features of deathly pallor, walked unaided into the court room, but her step was mechanical and her arms hung limp at her sides.

Beginning with "We will live again the tragic night," Trouard Rielle, who had opened his summing up for the prosecution yesterday, in cold dispassionate words undertook to reconstruct the scenes in the Steinheil home on the night of the tragedy and on the morning following, when the crime was discovered.

One thing is certain and that is Mr. R. L. Borden did not put the loyalty of his followers to the severe test of laying the resignation of his leadership before the caucus to take whatever action they saw fit.

The majority of the members who spoke expressed themselves strongly that the Conservative members must come to some conclusion as to the line of action which they would take when the naval proposals of the Government came up for discussion in the Commons.

The western members, led by Mr. McGrath, were satisfied with nothing less than Dreadnoughts to be turned over to the British naval authorities.

A majority of the members, however, expressed the opinion that the Opposition, by voting for the resolution of last year, had committed themselves too firmly to the Government's naval policy to condemn it at this date.

The discussion of this subject will be resumed to-night.

It was suggested that a sub-committee should be named to decide the place and date of the resolution of the Conservative convention which is to be held some time next autumn.
