

BABE NEARLY PERISHED IN FIRE WHICH SWEEPED QUEEN ST. STORES

Five Buildings Near Euclid Avenue Were Damaged in Blaze Yesterday Afternoon—Constable Injured in Attempting Rescue—Horse Burnt to Death in Stable.

One policeman was injured, a baby almost suffocated, and several people had narrow escapes from being burned when fire gutted a row of stores on Queen street, near Euclid avenue, about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The buildings damaged: E. Flaville, fruit dealer, 655 West Queen street, building owned by McBrice estate, 145 Havelock street. Damage to contents, $50.

H. Battaglia, fruit dealer, 688 West Queen street. Damage to contents, $50. Building owned by the McBrice estate.

R. C. Warriner, pork store, 690 West Queen street. Damage to contents, $250.

Samuel Arrigo, fruit dealer, 692 West Queen street. Damage to contents, $300.

Damage to house of Dr. Watson, on Euclid avenue, $50.

The four buildings and the stables in the rear of the stores were damaged to the extent of $900, but were insured.

A mistake in which a rescuer was rescued, resulted in Constable Smith (463) of Cowan avenue police station, being so seriously injured that he will be laid up for some time.

The fire was first noticed by Constable Smith (26), who turned in an alarm. Although the firemen responded quickly the flames were shooting into the air when they arrived. The blaze had originated in the stables at the rear of the fruit store of H. Battaglia, and spread to the boxes and baskets in the yard.

The flames caught the house and a few minutes later Flaville's store to the east and Warriner's to the west were both on fire. The rear part of Dr. Watson's house on Euclid avenue was also burning when the water was turned on.

Smashed Window. E. Warriner, Jr. was passing his father's store, when he saw the smoke. He broke thru the plate glass window and ran into the rear of the store. Constable Smith heard the son shouting inside, but could not see him for the smoke. The constable rushed up and forced the door. Some of the glass from the plate window fell on his arm and inflicted a deep gash.

While Republican and Democratic leaders were engaged in hot discussion, Senator Kenyon averred that in his talks he had always stated he did not believe the pending bill would result in disaster and that the people of his state did not believe so either.

"Oh, I was not referring to the progressive Republicans," said Senator Stone. "I meant the majority of the minority were attempting to arouse the people."

After the flurry of this oratorical storm and the later excitement caused by a hail and windstorm which forced a recess of the senate, considerable progress was made in consideration of the bill. The earthenware schedule was completed except for a few paragraphs which were passed and the metal schedule was taken up. Strong opposition to this schedule developed, substitutes being proposed by Senator Oliver for the regular Republicans, and Senator Cummins for the Progressive Republicans.

Police were summoned to get the horse out of Warriner's stable, but the terrified animal refused to budge and was suffocated.

The four buildings are veritable fire traps and several fires have occurred within them during the past few years. They were so badly damaged by this fire that it is likely they will be rebuilt.

Warriner's meat plant was completely ruined. The valuable machinery and boilers were twisted into shapeless mass.

Sultan Thru Minister Gives "Indignant Denial to Calumnious Publications"—Troops Have Maintained Discipline Despite Acts of Barbarism Committed.

Special Cable to The World. Copyrighted by The Toronto World and N. Y. World. CONSTANTINOPLE, July 30.

Emil Bey, director-general of political affairs in the foreign ministry of the Ottoman Empire, issued a formal statement to the World today on behalf of the Sultan denying charges of cruelty made against the Ottoman army. He said:

"I appeal to the principles of justice and equity so ardently and constantly defended by the World in order to oppose a categorical and indignant denial to the calumnious publications that have been launched against the Ottoman Empire from sources interested in misleading public opinion.

"From the beginning of the advance we have invited foreign correspondents to follow the operations of our army, with a view to affording them an opportunity to attest the worthy and loyal behavior of our troops who, in spite of the acts of barbarism committed by the Bulgarians almost unbrokenly, have demonstrated again that the noble qualities which characterize the Turkish soldier have been abundantly proved.

"To Promote Peace. "Our latest military action was undertaken mainly to put an end to a monstrous condition of affairs, but also to arrange a natural frontier between the empire and Bulgaria, thus permitting the re-establishment of peace in a firm and durable manner.

"We are firmly convinced that the concurrence of the true friends of humanity and civilization will not fail us in this noble task."

Two young men had a narrow escape from drowning in the lake, off Ward's dock, when they were swept away by a strong wind. One of the boys could not swim a stroke and was exhausted. Risking his own safety, the other boy jumped into the water and took them to shore.

The youths asked to be excused from giving their names as they feared paternal comment on their adventure. After being rubbed down they went to their home on Ward's Island.

The two had forgotten that they were in a canoe and attempted to change positions with the result that the craft upset.

When he reached the scene two young fellows were clinging to an overturned canoe. They shouted that they could not hold on much longer. One of the boys could not swim a stroke and was exhausted. Risking his own safety, the other boy jumped into the water and took them to shore.

SAVED CHILDREN BY HOLDING RABID DOG

Boy Kept Tight Grip Until Police Came to His Aid.

ATLANTA, Ga., July 30.—J. A. La Hattie, aged seventeen, performed a feat of valor here that has made him the hero of the neighborhood. He rushed up the street in pursuit of a bulldog that was snapping at children in its path, and when the dog ran up the stairs of a residence close behind the frightened children La Hattie was at the animal's heels.

As the dog, showing every sign of rabies, jumped for the children, La Hattie seized the brute by the jaw, shifted his hold to its throat and held it while the police were being summoned.

The dog was tied, lowered from a window to the ground and was shot.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—Henry Lane Wilson, ambassador to Mexico, appeared today before the senate committee on foreign relations largely in the role of a defender of President Huerta and himself.

The ambassador declared that neither Huerta nor himself was in any possible way responsible for the murder of President Madero and Vice-President Suarez.

Friends and relatives of those who had been imprisoned and executed at Madero's orders, he asserted, were alone to blame for the assassination.

One Stronger Man. The ambassador, of course, reiterated his arguments for the recognition of the Huerta Government, but he made one significant admission.

Altho having repeatedly declared that Huerta is the strongest man in Mexico, the ambassador, touching on the possibility of an amicable adjustment, said there was one better man in Mexico than Huerta. He refused to mention the man's name, but maintained that he would make a better chief magistrate than Huerta.

Incidentally also he admitted that the Huerta Government is in such financial straits, that it can no longer keep control of the governmental machinery.

Notwithstanding the ambassador's general defence before the committee there was nothing in the situation tonight to indicate that President Wilson or Secretary Bryan had wavered in their determination not to recognize the Huerta Government at present.

Conflicting Reports. The matter presented to the senate committee by the ambassador had already been laid before the president and secretary of state, from other confidential sources, in many of their reports at variance with the reports of Ambassador Wilson.

This information came largely, it is said, from William Bayard Hale and Reginaldo P. Del Valle, sent by the administration to report on the situation apart from Ambassador Wilson.

The senatorial committee, it is said, will ask to be allowed to examine those special commissioners of the president and Secretary Bryan at an early opportunity.

ST. JOHN, N.B., July 30.—(Can. Press).—Three young women were drowned tonight by the capsizing of a row boat in Lake Lochomond, a few miles from this city. Three others, a young woman and two men, were saved after clinging to the overturned boat for two hours.

The drowned are: Miss Tilly Davis, Miss Brown and Miss Elizabeth Darling, all of this city.

All the rescued are Miss Georgia Patterson, Jos. J. Noble and John Stanton, of this city.

Only meagre details of the tragedy reached the city at midnight, but it seems the party were fishing in the upper part of the lake when a squall struck and swamped the craft, which was overloaded.

ST. JOHN, N.B., July 30.—(Can. Press).—Venustiano Carranza, the Mexican rebel chieftain, wired his Washington agents today that he would pledge peace in Mexico within ninety days if the U. S. Government would grant the Constitutionists the right to import arms and war munitions freely.

This was the information obtained today from a reliable source.

Acting Gov. Ygnacio Pesquiera, who is in Nogales, Sonora, just across the line, ordered Carranza's pledge.

He said the Constitutionists could arm 10,000 men immediately, and by uniting with the revolutionists in other states, could capture Mexico City and overthrow Huerta in two months.

Mexico Contains One Man Better Qualified to Administer Affairs, Says Ambassador Undergoing Inquiry, But He Fails to Disclose Identity.

Twenty-Five Thousand Men Are Engaged in Laying Steel.

An army of twenty-five thousand men are now at work on the steel which will bind British Columbia and the western provinces with the Atlantic outlets on the east when the Canadian Northern Transcontinental line is completed next spring.

Reports up to the beginning of the month on the construction of the connecting line in Eastern Canada show 117 miles of steel from Port Arthur east, 34 miles west from Oba, 12 miles east from Oba, 82 miles west from Rust now completed.

Work on the portion of the transcontinental between Yellowhead Pass and Port Mann, B. C., is now more than 50 per cent. accomplished, and unless some of the bridges take longer to build than is anticipated, the whole line to the Pacific coast should see completion this coming winter.

C. P. R. Constructing This Type For Grain and Coal Traffic.

As a result of the success obtained in the use of the two hopped hopper bottom box cars in connection with their grain and coal traffic, the Canadian Pacific Railway are to construct this type of cars in large numbers in the future.

The floor door is then opened and the balance of the load taken out. It has been found that the employment of this method takes only about one-third the time it ordinarily takes to unload a box car.

THURSDAY MORNING, JULY 31. UNITED STATES AND MEXICO. Armed intervention by the United States in Mexico seems inevitable.

Every effort made by the Wilson administration toward a peaceful settlement between the warring parties of the southern republic has been scornfully rejected by both sides; in addition to this, the Mexicans as a whole are uniting in persecution of American citizens, and in an attempt to destroy American business interests.

Their endeavor to form an alliance with Japan, a nation with which the States has recently been on the verge of war, aggravates the situation. The American Government cannot permit Mexico to continue her present policy of throwing open large tracts to Japanese colonization.

Such a foothold on this continent would afford the Orientals an enormous advantage in the event of a war with the United States. The latter country, always marked by deficient in diplomatic tact and ingenuity, has allowed the Mexican trouble to reach a point where the best of diplomacy would no longer be of any avail.

The weakness of Ex-President Taft, and the academic reluctance to act which characterizes President Wilson, have filled the Mexicans with contempt for American authority. It may be said here that had any of the great European powers been in the place of the United States, the present situation would not have been allowed to reach such an acute stage.

way a fair compromise should be arrived at. There is no reason why the United States or any other nation cannot make the canal free to its own tonnage by refunding the tolls. More important than the tolls to be collected by the canal commission from the transportation companies are the tolls to be collected by the transportation companies from the public. If the big railway and steamship trust keep up rates so that the new water route will not lower the present trans-continental railway charges, it will make little difference to the people of the United States or Canada whether the tolls are or are not collected by the canal commission or whether the canal is ever opened at all.

Congress tried to deal with this by closing the canal to railway-owned ships. Certainly there is grave objection to the same company or syndicate controlling freight rates by water as well as by land. This is a matter of lively interest to us here. But after all where a railway company frankly owns its own vessels, the railway commission will be able to deal with it more effectively than where there is a pretense of diverse ownership. Of course real competition is the thing needed.

What the people of Canada desire to know is whether or not the Canadian Pacific Railway Company and the big transportation trust will reduce the rates across the continent when the canal is opened. It will little avail for the imperial government to get a slight reduction of canal tolls for its merchant vessels if the public is to get no reduction in freight rates either on land or water.

BRITISH TRADE AND LOSSES. After all the talk about money stringency and the failure of Canadian flotations in London, it is rather surprising to find, on the authority of that reliable financial weekly, The Statist, that the total capital subscribed by the United Kingdom for home, Indian, colonial and foreign securities during the first half of this year very considerably exceeds that for the corresponding period of 1912.

The figures stand as follows: £17,261,325 to £23,235,825, showing an increase of nearly $114,000,000. In 1910 the former amount was exceeded by about $40,000,000, but it is explained that in that year the issue of securities was fostered by the delay in collecting the income tax and by the great speculation in rubber and oil shares.

From the table published in the current Weekly Report issued by the Dominion Department of Trade and Commerce, it appears that government securities were placed to an extent exceeding those of 1912 by over $150,000,000. On the other hand, municipal issues were less by about $9,000,000, shipping by about $29,000,000 and street railways by about $15,000,000. Canada was the largest borrower, having ordered $133,000,000, followed in order by Brazil, the United States and Australia.

That the mother country was able to absorb new securities to this vast amount, notwithstanding the war scare, testifies to the buoyant industrial and commercial conditions that have prevailed. When Mr. Lloyd George presented his budget for the current year he expressed his confidence that the continuance of trade prosperity would provide for the estimated deficiency based on the previous year's figures. His forecast has, so far, been supported by the trade returns, those for June showing an increase in imports of $38,000,000 and in exports of $39,000,000. Of the increase in imports $15,000,000 represented raw material, over $15,000,000 food, drink and tobacco, and $8,000,000 manufactured goods.

Most of the increase in exports was due to shipments of manufactures. As yet no indication is observable that the tide of business expansion has reached the flood. GIVE HIM A HOUSE. If Mayor Hoeklin had been at home it is probable he would have done a decent thing, but the skimpy vote of $600 to Private Hawkins, the King's Prizeman, is perhaps all that could be expected from Controllers Church and Foster.

Private Hawkins' victory is worth an incalculable amount to Toronto as an advertisement to the best class of English people who are on the point of emigrating. If there is any fear that the King's prize may be an annual trophy in Toronto, Lord Grenville should be restricted to Canadian-born winners. If the trophy had gone to Hamilton, the council there would not have stuck at the cost of a house, even for the second time, nor we believe for the third or the fourth. Out-landers think Toronto people are born mean—and they talk about Hogtown. We have no defence. We are represented by Controllers Foster and Church.

GETTING OUT THE MUZZLES. When it is stated that the Fenley Trust Board will censor all future lectures to be delivered under the terms of the trust before they can be read or published, the limit of the trust's usefulness is clearly indicated. When men are no longer allowed to express the truth that is in them, and their fellows are no longer allowed to exercise their own judgment upon it, the only choice men have who do not revolt against such arrogated authority is the choice of index-makers. Is the Fenley more admirable than other censorshipists that men should defer their honest opinions to it, and suppress or conceal what they believe to be true? The ablest men can no longer be expected to accept its authority. The Globe, commenting on Inspector Archibald's freakishness, years for common decency in the courts. The Globe is sanguine, but as the song says "things will be better, dear, by-and-by." Longevity is sometimes a social disease. Dr. J. L. Hughes, who has made Toronto famous, has been subjected to a deadly insult at the heart of the empire. The police searched the teachers' handbags before letting them into the Tower of London. They must have thought Dr. Hughes had a "jimmie" with him, and designs on the Kohinoor. The explanation that he might have been a disguised suffragette is too thin. There is no disguise about J. L.

They want a prince in Albania. There should be no difficulty about appointing Assistant Deputy Chief Archibald. He could handle the roughneck of the Balkans in princely style. It would be fine to let him tell Ferdinand to "go down" and Peter to "get out."

The Philosopher of Folly

THE LONE FISHERMAN. Hast met the Lonely Fisherman who wanders round forlorn? Hast seen the ghostly walker in the night? Hast run across the spectre 'twixt the sunset and the morn beneath the glinting moonbeams' eerie light? Then listen to the story of the fisher and his ghast, the story of the shadow and the light, the story of the man who when you feel inclined to boast about the whopping fish that got away. When he was still a mortal, in the days now past and o'er, he dwelt within the confines of our town; at morn he often wandered with his tackle to the shore—his fisherman he was of wide renown; but when the sun was sinking and he started back for home with strings of finny beauties on display, he could keep from letting his imagination roam about the fish that always got away. So when his neighbors saw him who skeddaddled for the trees, they scattered from his path on dying feet; they cried: "He is afflicted with a dire and dread disease!" and hustled on him down the street. Now the fish he's dead and buried over two and twenty years, we still may meet his spectre, so they say, and they will see the fellow who keeps pouring in our ears the story of the fish that got away.

KEEPING COOL IS BIG PROBLEM MANY THEORIES, SOLUTION HARD

Outings Under Blazing Sky Little Better Than Remaining in Stuffy Homes—Men Are Martyrs to Dress Conventions, But Women's Attire Is Much Better Adapted to Torrid Weather.

How to keep cool; this is the problem with which the majority are wrestling just now. And the more one wrestles, the more distant seems the solution. Not that the answer to a home some sally forth to prosecute a search, but here again the more they sally and the more impetuous the sortie the less likely are they to be rewarded. Theories are rife. There are those who maintain that the harder they work the less they are victims of the rays of old Sol. Concentration on labor begets oblivion as to physical conditions. Others assert that the cure is in removing oneself from city precincts, so the island, parks and different breathing spaces are the rendezvous of thousands daily. If humans had wings, or if the aeroplane were the equipment of every family, together with a guarantee of safety of transit, how delightful it would be to desert ourselves at any moment from undesirable haunts to cool breezes and grateful shade.

Outings That Don't Benefit. As things are, men for the most part do not do a great many women—continue in shop, office and factory, while men hurry thru their house duties, wash and dress the children, stand in the blazing sun waiting for cars, rush for boats, while all the time the temperature is rising gradually higher. It is doubtful if any benefit is derived from outings under a blazing sky. If change of scene can be effected in the very early hours or when the sun has gone down it has promise of success, but scarcely otherwise. Cooler houses and home surroundings, and lighter and better adapted clothing, seem the final solution. The mode of building houses with low ceilings is responsible for the ovenlike temperature of many homes. So, too, is the brick venting in vogue with the quick sale of buildings.

Problem of Apparel. In the matter of clothes women have more nearly solved the problem than men. Toronto today, as far as the fair ones of its population is concerned, is as much a summer city as are centres in many West Indian countries. White prevails in frocks, hats and footwear and the sheer fabrics worn have none of the starchy stiffness of a decade ago. But men are more conservative and summer or winter sees little change in their ordinary suit. Why do they, too, don the summer white? They do so as a matter of course in so-called "hot countries," and Canada is as hot a country just now—at least none will dispute the statement—as any country in the orient.

Troublesome Conventions. Cool white trousers, coat and Panama, for those not troubled as to the expense of laundry. What a delightful change it would make on the landscape of our streets. Even the spotless lawn "pugherie" for the hat would soon cease to be an innovation and, once adopted, what a relief to the wearer. The general adoption of linen would solve the problem which has lately been troubling some hotel proprietors. Should a guest be allowed to appear at table without his coat? A linen coat would be little or no burden, and if adopted would be quite the correct thing.

Net Built for Comfort. Commercial parity has a good deal to do with the fact that city homes and manufacturing buildings are not more bearable. If regard were had to the matter of providing better ventilation, just as provision is made for heating in winter, there would be no occasion for the mad daily scramble for boats and cars and the exodus to summer resorts that yearly takes place in our cities. Still there is harm in Gleed even as things are. Our lake breezes are cool and refreshing once we get within their influence. Toronto ferry boats that take their four or five thousand daily give frequent and satisfactory service, do so do our big lake boats. In this respect, Ontario and the rest of our island and High Park are unequalled and they will doubtless look no occasion for the mad daily scramble for cold air shafts and pugheries become either general or popular.

CLOSE FINISHES ORDER OF THE DAY

Fourth Day at Hamilton Races Furnishes Exciting Sport.

HAMILTON, July 30.—Close finishes were the order of the day at the H. J. C. meeting, and capital racing was witnessed by a large attendance. Speculation was brisk in the ring, and the results were largely in favor of the pencilers. The card was an ordinary one, with the Midsummer Handicap, at seven furlongs, the feature. This race proved a grand contest, as the original favorite, Plate Glass, failed to finish in the money, and the strongly-played second choice, Donora, landed the show money only. Old Cliff Edge, that has been running in excellent form of late, was the favorite on the rise of the barrier, and the lightly-weighted Mediator finished second after being shuffled back early in the race. Plate Glass ran a bad race, also he was a close-up fourth at the end. He opened at 6 to 5, and in the face of a heavy play from the Toronto contingent, resulted in the betting in a few of the books, until he was better than 2 to 1 at post time.

The finish between Earl of Savoy and Master Jim in the second race, when they ran nose apart during the final sixteenth of the race, when the latter got up in time to beat Earl of Savoy by a scant margin, was the most exciting of the day. The English favorite, Earl of Savoy, was favored by the public, but he could not have been more than an eyelash in front of Master Jim when the winning post was reached. Another nose-and-nose finish came with the running of the last race of the day, the mile and a quarter. The favorite, Earl of Savoy, was favored by the public, but he could not have been more than an eyelash in front of Master Jim when the winning post was reached. Another nose-and-nose finish came with the running of the last race of the day, the mile and a quarter. The favorite, Earl of Savoy, was favored by the public, but he could not have been more than an eyelash in front of Master Jim when the winning post was reached.

The Kentucky mare, Mother Ketchum, that won a good race recently at Windsor, was the choice of the "layers" for the sixth race. Gross was her pilot today, and she was outside the money division. Working Lad and Moleat had a stiff argument for the place, with the former outstaying the other.

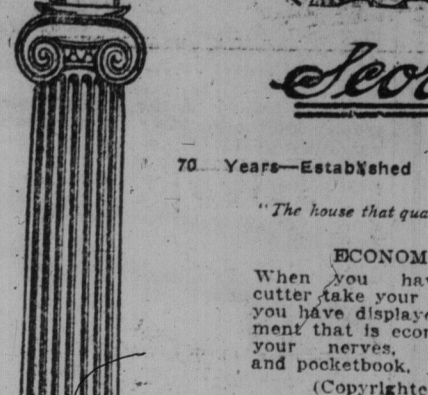

The Spirit of Sport American vs. English

The marked contrast between the English and American methods of taking defeat or victory in sport is pointed out by a comparison of the following paragraphs relative to the winning of the international tennis championship by an American, both taken from the sporting page of The New York American. The first is the introduction to a dispatch which the American correspondent sends to his paper, the second is the tribute paid to the victorious American by the defeated Englishman. The manly and generous words of the latter form a pleasing contrast to the cheap exultation of the former. Americans have still to learn that a true sporting spirit is greater than the ability to always win.

The Yankee. Eng., July 28.—Disconsolate tonight the British Lion mopes within his den, his many hide furrowed once more from an encounter with the clutching talons of the mercurial Eagle. Without the lord of the heavens screams exultingly and the toothless king of beasts gives thanks that his fair contains no trophy envied by the bird of prey.

The Englishman. WIMBLEDON, Eng., July 28.—Dixon, the vanquished Briton, took his defeat rather philosophically. Seen immediately after the match, he said:

"McLoughlin deserved to win. I thought I had a great chance when we started, but when he began to place so accurately down the side-lines and in the corners that ball which he plays with such a topspin I knew it was done. He was sure with this shot and ran me to a complete standstill. His second service is practically as fast and difficult as his first."

AUSTRALIANS BEAT R. I.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., July 30.—The Rhode Island cricket players learned some of the fine points of the game today from the Australian team, who batted six men against Rhode Island's 12. The first innings was played yesterday. The local players were unable to hit the Australian bowlers, while the champions scored almost at will. McCarty, of the visitors made 76 runs. The Australians will play in New York on Friday and Saturday.

can thru the field this season. When hauled up on the carpet, Simpson admitted offering Wilson $100, but said it was the letter to the first or second in the steeplechase on the opening day. Wilson's story to be neither first nor second in that race, and his story was substantiated by Trainer McDonald.

CARNAHAN IN EXTRA END DEFEATS SEAGRAM

Bowling Final at Buffalo—McCurdy of Stratford Takes Frontier Cup.

BUFFALO, July 30.—(Special).—The Buffalo lawn bowling tournament will conclude tomorrow and by evening the white-applauded men who have inhabited the Meadow Park green for the last four days will have folded up their traveling grips and faded away for another year.

The outstanding feature of today's bowling was the winning of the first competition, the International Cup, by Skip W. J. A. Carnahan of Toronto. Carnahan, who defeated the veteran bowler, Edward F. Seagram of Waterloo, Ont., by two shots, 28-21. An extra end was required as the rinks were tied in the 18th and last end.

The Frontier cup was won after a hard fought game by Skip Thos. H. McCurdy of Stratford from Skip F. Kelk of Lorne Park by four shots. The game was much of a runaway for McCurdy, who had the other rink beaten early in the game. The Kelk rink began to spurt toward the close, but it was too late and they couldn't overcome the big lead.

More triumphs for Poo Bah Fleming. President Trump of the P.L.A. has suspended District Five of Nationals indefinitely for assaulting Judge-of-Play Tom Humphrey at the Beach last Saturday. It is also likely that Manager Cattaritch will be dealt with for taking his team off the field.

It is practically certain that Munro, the new home fielder secured by the Toronto from the Shamrock Club, Montreal, will get a chance in the big Holiday game at the Beach, and his debut will be watched with considerable interest.

WORKING OUT AT HENLEY
CREWS GO OVER COURSE

Ottawa Junior Fours Impress the Onlookers—Demonstration by Butler.

ST. CATHARINES, July 30.—The Detroit senior eight crew did not make its expected arrival today, but will be here tomorrow for a preliminary workout for the C. A. O. regatta on Friday and Saturday.
The Winnipeg crew thus far is the only eight in the senior class that has tried out on the local course this year. The Westerners were out yesterday and today in a torrid sun. Both Ottawa junior eight and four oared crews went out shortly after their arrival from Toronto and worked serious work. The four impressed the onlookers very favorably.
Butler, the Argos senior sculler, spent some time on the water, and incidentally gave a little demonstration for the benefit of Greenwood, the St. Catharines junior single sculler, who will try out for the first time this year.

Perthshire Beats
Donald MacDonald

BELMONT PARK, July 30.—Perthshire, son of Caughnawaga, beat the favorite, Donald MacDonald, in the Newton Selling Stakes, the main event of the day. The old campaigner was coming on in great style, and Butler had to use all his wiles to keep Adrian's steed ahead to the end. Two more strides would probably have seen the former selling plater the winner of the rich purse. The Evader won the steeplechase handicap in easy style, taking the lead at the second turn and keeping it all the rest of the journey. Besom, at prohibitive odds, easily won the first race, a 6 furlong handicap for horses that had not won at this meet.

DAMAGE TO CORN NOT IRREPARABLE
Heavy Selling Checked Wild Flurry at Chicago—Other Grains Off.

CHICAGO, July 30.—Big trading and flighty action of prices kept excitement at high pitch today in corn. There was sharp difference of opinion as to a further return in the market. Shows having declined predicted. The close was nervous, 1-4c to 3-8c above August to December.

Broadly speaking, the country bought corn; city speculators sold. In the end the buyers were outnumbered by the sellers. Dry hot weather over the entire belt brought such a volume of orders to purchase that the opening was unusually wild, prices ranging as much as a cent apart at the same moment among brokers almost at each other's elbows. It was at this time that the top level of the day was reached.

Corn heavily unloaded. The market would develop in corn one of the largest houses on 'change' began selling right and left with such force that a bear party was quickly organized. It was argued that much of the crop damage could yet be repaired except where hot winds had destroyed the pollen. Soaking rains would be needed, but an official forecast of showers and cooler weather inclined many speculators to take chances against the bulls. On the ensuing decline, however, there was a great deal of re-stating by early sellers.

Wheat gave way as soon as it was evident that the upward rush of the corn market had been halted, at least for the time being. Reports of generous threshing returns from the winter crop had much to do with the weakness of wheat. So, too, did the big primary receipts, 2,022,000 bushels, against 1,428,000 bushels a year ago.

On the whole the same general course as corn, but the trade and excitement were by no means so great. Selling by some influential dealers who bought yesterday was of a persistent sort.

Realizing by holders were down provisionally, the hog market, on the other hand, some extent corn suggested that the time was opportune to unload.
