INVADERS HURLED BACK ON THE PIAVE

Brilliant Italian Attack Almost Annihilates Teuton Forces-Austro-Germans Make Some Gains on Northern End of Front.

London, Nov. 19.—While the Italians are holding the middle and lower reaches of the Plave River successfully against the Teutonic allied invaders, and even have thrown back the greater or portion of those who crossed the stream and gained the western bank, the enemy is trying with strong forces in the north to beat back the troops of General Diaz, pierce the line and force a retirement westward from the river from the region of Vidor to the Adriatic Sea.

In this endeavor the invaders have captured several important points of vantage—notably the Village of Quero and Montecornelle—and have compelled the Italians under a heavy bombardment to evacuate their strongly fortified position on Monte Tomba, almost the last stronghold barring the way to the northern edge of the Venetian Plains. These captures are reported by the German war office, but the admission had been made previously by Rome that the enemy was attacking in this region with huge effectives, doubtless among them rein—

Overcome by the effect of asphyxiating gases, our soldiers at the beginning gave way to the advancing enemy, but later, in a dashing counter-attack, our troops succeeded in pushing the Austrians back to the river after a most furi-cus hand-to-hand engagement. "Units of Bersaglieri also are fight-ing epic battles between Fagaro and Sant Bartolomo, where every ravine, every hole, every obstacle is desperately contested between the enemy and the defenders, and becomes the centre of the most sanguinary en-counters. Australia had a general election and the two parties were so closeer one of them could carry on the government. To avoid a general election they had to unite. France, instead of having a continuous coalition government, has had five governments, and the other day formed their sixth government since the war broke out. Russia, thank God, has now a national government. In Great Brit-ain, the Unionist party had a majority of something over 40 in the house, but the Liberals, with the aid of the Nationalist party and the Labor party joining together, were able to carry on the affairs of the government. But when the Irish question got real good and strong, Asquith, Lloyd George and the Unionist party, realizing that the Irish party would vote against the government, put their heads together and formed what they called a coalition government. In not a single case is there any parallel to the government we have here in the Dominion of Canada. Sir Robert Borden, God bless his name for the stand he has taken in England and elsewhere, has a majority in the house of over 40. Does he need any assistance from them? Absolutely none. And if Mr. Maclean's advice is taken who would the Right Hon. Sir Robert government? . He could not step oult of parliament and invite gencause they have to have seats in mbers from the opposition Wilfrid Laurier, Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, Hon. George P. Graham, and last and least, Hon. I wish Mr. Maclean were here, I would like to tell him personally that we Conservatives of South York are satisfied with the government of Sir Robert Borden just as it stands, that we do not want any coalition government at any price. Why Not in Canada?

Now if this is the case, if they have the mother country, and if they have if France is united and the people one in carrying on one government for winning the war, and Russia tried to ada?-and if the allies can link up the war. Is there anything wrong in this proposal for union government?

Am I to be driven out of this representation of South York because I had a creature of the big interests. He complimented Mr. Gunn upon his liament? R. L. Baker made a patrioticspeech dealing rather with the war than with any other issue. He admitted that he had moved the resolution adopted by the Liberal-Conservative Association in March last denouncing union gov, ernment, but explained that at that time union government had not been formed. At that time it was the duty of a party organization to resist any attempt to break up the party organization by forming a coalition. The association felt that Mr. Maclean was doing wrong in throwing out the suggestion, because, if the suggestion was not adopted, it might reflect or react upon Sir Robert Borden. As things were, Mr. Baker proclaimed himself a supporter of Sir Robert Borden and a win-the-war unionist. as they have linked up to win the war, referendum as dangerous, recause, Louis Gurofsky, Liberal, steamship agent, 397 Markham street.

John W. Bruce, Labor, general organizer United Association of Plumbers and Steamfitters, 671 Carlaw

Charles Wesley Kerr, Liberal, barrister, 710 Lumsden Building.
The candidates spoke in reverse order, the last nominated being called on first. Mr. Kerr at first objected to making a statement, but was urged to take the platform. "I am an admirer of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. and I will discuss later the failure of an admirer of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and I will discuss later the failure of the Borden government to conscript wealth," he said. "I stand for increased pay to the soldiers. I do not believe recruiting was carried on properly. I have the interest of this war at heart, with some twenty relatives at the front. I am a win-the-war Liberal." He criticized the late government, and said the last two years had been years of bungling. If elected he would see that profiteers made substantial payments towards increased soldiers pay.

Mr. Brace said the present government had entirely failed to recognize the common people. He was prepared to demand a fair show. It was a shame, he said, that so many citizens had been disfranchised, "When you talk of profiteering—my God—look at the scandals of this province," he said.

"I'm going to contest this riding as a follower of Sir Wilfrid Laurier," said Louis Gurofsky. "If the kaiser had a vote he would vote to send men to war with paper boots, rotten pork filled with salt and water, and men with snavined horses." men with spavined horses."

H. C. Hocken said he was the candidate of the Union government, composed of men out to win the war.

"What about the street railway?"
came from the audience.
Mr. Hocken continued. "There is absolute need for Union government."
So much heckling followed this remark that the speaker appealed for a fair hearing. "If the allies lose, the fate of Canada will be decided by Germany," he said. "That's a lie," and other similar statements came from the audience. Then some one asked, "What about the Ross rifle?" Wilfrid Laurier tied the country up with that company," he replied.

"No; No," and more loud talking.

Mr. Hocken, "Any one who wants to join Sir Wilfrid may do so."

Voice: "And there are going to be a lot do so."

Altho the noise grew the speaker continued: "I am proud to be nominated by a party led by Sir Robert Borden." Again the street railway matter was brought up. Mr. Hocken proceeded to discuss the Union offer of Sir Robert, and was met with a question: "Why was Borden not willing to give half the seats." This was followed by the audience insisting that the questioner "shut up, sit down."

When the speaker tried again, and said he would follow a policy of bringing only English-speaking people to Charda the noise and hecking staried again, and kept up until Mr. Hocken resumed his seat.

That all the military auxiliary organizations that have been formed in the city by soldiers' wives were to call a general meeting in order to back up Major-Gen.

Mewburn at the polis, was the statement made by Secretary Burbidge. He stated that the women would have their own headquarters, control their own organization and leave nothing undone in order that their vote might be polled.

Major-Gen. Mewburn said that while the labor men had every right to put up a candidate, their platform was inconsistent, and was similar to that of the Laurier manifesto, in the fact that it wanted to win the war, but demanded a referendum on the Mittary Service Act.

"If we waited for a referendum I would like to know where the reinforcements for the boys at the front are coming from?" he asked, amid applause.

Discussing labor's attack on wealth, he said: "It is all right to hammer the interest if it is done fairly, but the present taxation imposed by the government amounts to nothing less than conscription of wealth." Enormous profits was hotly scored by the minister of militia, Major-Gen. Mewburn paid a fine tribute to the returned soldiers, and said: "I will stay with them and fight for them as long as I have a breath left, and I am going to get them their just dues." (Appleause). "The Military Service Act will hut no one, and it will be a great service to the boys at the front," said the minister of militiar, "only men not needed will be sent overseas. ANNUAL CHOIR CONCERT.

The annual choir concert of St. John's Anglican Church, held last night in the parish hall, was an unusual success, indicating the keen interest taken by the parishioners. In addition to several choruses sung by the choir, vocal and instrumental selections were contributed by Mrs. Farrington, Miss Evelyn Eaton, Mrs. Chapman, Major Geo. Cliff and diss Patterson.

The British Government appeared in the British House of Commons yesterday over the advisory war council policy of Liloyd George. The debate brought out the fact that Sir William Robertson knew that something was wrong at the Italian front before the recent disaster, but owing to lack of allied co-ordination he could not make his knowledge known or his influence felt in the Italian conduct of the war. The new Advisory board on strategy will collect information and work out a war policy for submission to the allied governments. Lloyd George said that under this new system Sir William Robertson could have had an important influence on Italian war policy. Lloyd George does not favor a generalissimo.

KAISER

The opposition in the British Parliament to a generalissimo for the allied armies has its root in the traditional war policy of Britain. After ample experience, the British military leaders of a past age laid down the axiom that in waging war Britain should wage it in a single than the should wage it in a single that the proposition of the Chaume Wood at dawn yesterday. The appointment of a generalissimo would subordinate Britain's influence as a belligerent by making her voice only one among many. It is in the province of the British Government and not of any particular general to conduct the war. The Eovernment therefore must not delegate its powers to any generals or group of generals. TUESDAY MORNING, NOV. 20.

Women and Their Vote.

Women will bring the greatest new element into the present election that has ever had to be reckoned with in a political contest. A few extremist partisans are trying to make women in general believe that the union government has disfranchised many women, but this is not the case. No woman has ever voted in a federal election in Canada before, so that it is impossible to say with correctness that any woman is disfranchized. All the women who vote do so by the authority and grace of the union government. They have been chosen on account of their relationship to some one at the front. Every mother, wife or widow daughter or sister of anyone serving the country overseas, is entitled to be put on the register and to vote

Some officials appear to have misunderstood this regulation, and have only put one woman in each house, or even refused to put the wife's name on the roll when the husband's was on already. Every woman mentioned as above has a right to be enrolled, and i the official refuses or neglects to do so an appeal should be made at once to the headquarters of the franchise officials. An appeal should also be made in technical form to the appeal judge, who will sit for four days to correct the lists. No woman should allow serving overseas, either male or female.

There are, unfortunately, a comparatively few the entente allies as any in the world, and much more loyal indeed than some who will be enrolled on the strength of the deeds of those who have fought for a cause to which their recreant women folks are opposed, but the choice had to be made between leaving off these comparatively few loyal women who will be not less loyal if their loyalty is worth anything; and the enfranchisement of many thousands of alien born women whose sympathies are with our enemies, or who are dominated by those whose sympathies are German or Austrian.

There is only one issue in politics today, however it may be confused or clouded. It is the winning of the war. All that tends to weaken our armies, to delay their reinforcement, to discourage our heroic troops, comes from the enemy, is in favor of the Germans. A united front is the one great necessity of war. In this waged, which has no aim but the liberation of the enslaved, the deliverance of the oppressed, the overthrow of tyranny, the annihilation of autocratic militarism, woman should hear a special call for help from the little nations who have gone thru the great tribula tion. The government that asks support and continuance is a union of the best elements of both the great political parties of Canada, and the labor party has also been recognized by it. Its purpose is solely to win the war, and all contentious, partisan measures must, by the very nature of the conditions, be relegated to after-the-war consideration.

Women then, who have the vote, may in exercizing their ballot for the first itme, have no doubt about their duty. Their hearts as well as their heads will prompt them to vote for the government which, without equivocation or delay, does its utmost to carry the war to an early and victorious conclusion.

Democracy Still Fettered.

A great deal of criticism is constantly heard around election time, which sums itself up into a verdict which practically declares a want of confidence in democracy or in democratic methods. We are decidedly of opinion that it is the methods and not democracy which is to blame. It should be remembered that democracy was not established with us, but became. It evolved or developed gradually, and it brought over with it many of the faults and defects that belonged to an earlier undemocratic system. It is the most difficult thing in the world to abandon an old corpus entirely, in matters of social and political progress.

Most of the safeguards and brakes that constitute the stumbling-blocks and obstacles with which demoeracy has now to contend, arise from the lack of faith entertained. These fruits of the lack of faith in demoeracy are usually held up as the flaws and faults of democracy. If we had democracy in its entirety most of these obstacles would disappear. The old idea that poor man could not be honest, upright or reliable, lictated the idea that a candidate must put up a sum We know now that a poor man is just as likely, or

The party system, which gives some men undue opportunities on account of their talent for destructive also a survival from the times when those who were sharp blades. in power were strong enough to declare their opponents wrong, and those who opposed them for lack of money, or position, or birth and rank, were unable to assert their ideas.

In democratic countries like France, the people are trying to break away from the older trammels, and the methods of election are found to have a great deal to do with getting a fair and honest expression of the opinion of the people. It ought to be obvious to every one that a system that enables a candidate to be elected by a minority vote is not a fair one. The possibility of such a thing demoralizes the political forces in the conflict. Nor can the system be regarded as fair that compels the vast majority of the electors to submit to the choice of a handful of the people of the constituency as the only means of choosing their representative.

The extraordinary, indifference in most elections of the voters is due to this, the system not producing candidates on either side which people care to support. This is not the fault of democracy, but of the party system. It suits partisan politicians, but it is ruinous to the cause of democracy, and the progress of the people.

If there were no remedy there would be no ground These Will Be Checked Over for complaint, but more enlightened methods of determining the result of an election are well-known, and are advocated by the highest authorities on both sides of politics. It is not a partisan proposal that proportional representation be adopted, but one that is supported by everyone who has looked into the case. It is particularly a problem for union government.

Lloyd George Sustained.

Premier Lloyd George did not speak in Paris without book, and his defence, which was of the offensive type and aggressive enough to be successful, made a clear case, for closer action among the allies. Mr. Herbert Asquith agreed that the closest action that was possible to be achieved among the allies was required. This is the whole case.

In fighting such a skilful and wary foe as Germany, which has been preparing for the contest for a generation past, and which has developed the arts of concentration and control to the last degree, it is mere waste and futility to give that foe the opportunity to take advantage of our disconnected weakness instead of overwhelming him with our concerted strength.

There may be differences of opinion how the result is to be obtained, and how it can be obtained without resorting to a military dictatorship. It does not seem at the present stage that any better solution of the problem can be attained than that adopted. The three hest generals of Britain, France and Italy have been given the task of co-ordinating and advising about the major strategic movements of the allies acting in concert. The situation in Italy compelled instant action, and if we may judge from the result this week on the Italian front, the decision is fully justified.

In all this there is no interference with the local her name to be left off the lists, who has a relative campaigns in other areas, and we should hope that in the fourth year of the war any men who could be capable of professional jealousy, or of anything but women who are as loyal to Canada and the cause of the utmost devotion to the cause in hand, have disappeared from the ranks.

Lieut.-General Maude

Nothing has been more satisfactory or more brilliant than the campaign of Mesopotamia since Lieut. General Maude took hold of it, and the news of his sudden death will be a shock to all who have watched his operations with the vivid interest to which they gave rise. In a land of romance such as the ancient empires of Babylon and Nineveh, and the legendary garden of Eden itself, there is much to suggest; the extraordinary, even the miraculous. But none of the ancient conquerors ever did anything more skilful, more dashing, more distinguished by military ability than the advance up the river and the capture of Bagdad.

The movement was intended to coincide with a Russian advance from the north, and some slight junction was effected, but the Russian national chaos has eliminated any idea of real results from this source. The movement was also expected to relieve the situation in the Palestine region, and this was accomplished, with the result that General Allenby has achieved a highly satisfactorily advance thru the desert, defeated the Turks, captured Jaffa, and is ready to take Jerusa-

All this seriously discomfits General Falkenhayn's plan with his Turkish army, which was evidently destined to cope with General Maude, and turn the Egyptian campaign into an advantage for Germany. All this has passed as a result of General Maude's skill, and while there are others who will take up the work and carry on to the final objective, it is to b regretted that he could not have seen the crown put on his work.

Other People's Opinions

Shaving Their Way.

Pittsburgh Gazette Times: Having come to think of the Canadians as always advancing, never falling back, in Flanders, Americans are interested in knowing why they are superior on the offensive. Is any one surprised to learn that one of the important little things contributing to their efficiency is the habit of shaving every day, no matter where? ## DELIVER STRONG BLOWS Enemy Move Makes Some Progress and Italians May Lose Hold on Piave.

New York, Nov. 19.—The Associated Press war review says: Heavy masses of Austro-German troops are being thrown against the Italian lines between the Plave and the Brenta in an effort to drive a wedge between the Italian armies defending the Plave line and those to the west, in the Asiago region. Comparatively rapid progress has been made in this operation within the last day or two, and it is becoming clear that the main Austro-German effort is cantred at present upon what is probably the most vulnerable point in the Italian defensive line line

Quero, on the upper Plave, about 50 miles from the coast, was taken by the invaders, who subsequently pushed the left flank of their line west of the river a considerable distance south along that bank. Further west the massed offensive movement has carried the Teutons to Monte Tomba, some five miles southwest of Quero, and they are attacking the front between this eminence and the river.

Should the Austro-German thrust be carried much further here the entire upper Piave line, from a point near Conegliano, approximately 35 miles from the Adriatic, will be in Teutonic possession, and it is difficult to see how the Italians in this case will be able to continue their hold on the southerly stretches of the river.

In the eastern Trentino the Italians have begun a counter-offensive on the Asiago Plateau.

GAS COMPANY'S INCOME SHOWS FALLING OF

"It shows that the company is selling its product at a very fair price," said In the conclave which elected Leo Arthur Hewitt, general manager of the XIII. all the cardinals except eight-Consumers' Gas Company, last night, when asked about the city auditor's report submitted to the mayor yesterday confirming the statement issued by the gas company for the six months ending Sept. 30, 1917. "We are running on an even keel," said Mr. Hewitt, regarding the small decrease. Compared with the same period in 1916 mere has been a decrease of $3682 in net income, despite a ten cent increase in the price of gas to the consumer. The report shows that the gross earnings of the company increased $507,377, while the manufacturing and cperating expenses increased $511,060, making a decrease of $3682.

While the company paid a ten percent, dividend the stock was sold at such a premium that the interest paid on the capital invested in the business is really less than six per cent.

The increase in gas sales for the six months was $408,804, but the 10 cent boost to consumers accounted for only $198,435 of this total. Consumers' Gas Company, last night, including the late Cardinal Hohenloire, spoost to consumers accounted for only $198,435 of this total.

$198,435 of this total.

The real estate, plant and equipment is valued at $10,132,847, and the capital stock is placed at $5,108,685. Mr. Sterling hands the gas company a little bouquet by pointing out that the $482,-090 might have been set aside for plant and building renewal fund, only $436,000 had been used for this purpose.

During the year $34,174 has been paid out in patriotic donations and gratuities to enlisted employes. Over 40 per cent. of the gas company's men—393 to be exact—have enlisted, and 35 of these have given their lives. given their lives.

There were 104,541 meters in use a year ago, and now there are 108,719, an increase of 4178.

The bank had a carefully prepared list showing the present staff, the number of women employes, number of men of class one and the number for whom exemption was being asked. An excerpt from a letter, in which it asked that the staff be considered as a unit rather than as individuals, read as follows:

While admitting that the banks had been hard hit, Donald MacDonald, a member of the tribunal, suggested that the situation might be relieved by closing some of the city branches which, in his opinion, were merely collecting agencies.

Mr. Grant said that while 220 employes of the bank were in the first class, exemption was being asked for 140, or 64 per cent. of them. Five of Gulliver, 172 Wallace avenue; E. Ellis, 38 Emerson avenue; John O'Leary, were, according to the banks statement in category A.

Victory Bonds

The backbone of Canada's prosperity in these critical war times is the money spent here for food, munitions and equipment for the fighting

Therefore the man or woman who buys Victory Bonds helps to keep the fighting men supplied, and by so doing helps to maintain the general business prosperity.

And a Victory Bond is a fine thing for whoever buys it. 51/2 per cent, is mighty good interest, and there's no stronger security in the world than Canada's promise to repay.

Buying Victory Bonds is foresight, just as it is foresight when figuring on any machinery to go first to the house of long standing and proved reliability.

STRONG MEASURES

President Wilson Promulgates Decree to Check Sabotage in United States.

While responding to a fire alarm at 11.30 o'clock last night, which afterwards turned out to be false, one of the motor hose trucks used by the Toronto fire department, going north on Sackville street, collided with a Winchester car, throwing the car across both tracks and forcing the fire truck up on the sidewalk. Altho both the street car and the truck were badly damaged, no one was hurt. Snow on the glass of the street car, and it blowing in the fireman's exs are thought responsible for the accident.

The Banks' Plan to Assist Wage Earners and Small

Investors

(Reverse of Card.) Canada's Victory Bonds

To make the Victory Loan a success it is essential that wage earners and small investors buy the Bonds. In order to encourage and assist those who are unable to meet the Government's terms of payment, the Banks have prepared six instalment plans, outlined below, designed to make payments easier. Thus a wage earner who can save $2.00 a week, or anyone who can spare $10.00 monthly, would be able to subscribe for a hundred dollar Victory Bond.

The card reproduced above indicates how payments are to be made

Six Different Plans to Meet All Needs

WENTWORTH FIGHT

Three in Contest, Unionist, Independent Liberal and Labor Man Indulge in Personalities.

BORDEN AND ROWELL Epecial to The Toronto World. Hamilton, Nov. 20. — Bitterness marked the opening of the three-cornered political fight in the Wentworth County riding yesterday afternoon at Lee's Hall, and plentiful indications were given that the best "mudder" will count in the race to be Premier Sir Robert Borden will open the Ontario campaign for the union government at Massey Hall tomorrow night when he addresses a mass meetrun during the next month. Candidates and their supporters became bitterly personal toward the close of the momination speeches, and mud flew fast. The meeting was fairly well balanced between Conservatives and Liberals, with a good support given to the Labor representative. Conscription was the issue of the meeting, while taxing of war profits received considerable attention. Interruptions were made frequently by questions about the Borden administration, but the gathering almost unanimously cheered references to the work of Canada at the front.

Those nominated are as follows: Gordon C. Wilson, agent. Unionist; J.H. Dickenson, farmer, Independent Liberal; Fred J. Flatman engine mechanic, Labor.

Formal nomination by mover and seconder were dispensed with. The amonination papers contained far more than the 25 required by law. Flatman the Labor man, set a new record by having about three hundred electors sign his papers, including many newly-enfranchised women.

Gordon Wilson, in his address, said he wanted to avoid an election in the county, but seeing that this was impossible, he wanted to see Canada at the front by supporting a union government at all masses, Hall tomorrow in the head research the closure of the supporters of the s run during the next month. Candidates and their supporters became bitterly personal toward the close of Military Service Act and response to the needs of the war from Quebec, the candidate said his motto was: "Those who have equal privileges should make equal sacrifices." He defended every act put thru the last scription, but not the kind of conthe farms, where they were urgently needed in this time of food shortage within the British Empire. He caused laughter and much enthusiasm and applause from his supporters by liss attack upon the past administration. He said the union government was the Conservative Government dressed up in another suit.

Mrs. Frank Noyes, 9 Stuart street, Brockville, Ont., writes: "For years I was afflicted with kidney complaint. I became very nervous, was easily worried and had frequent headaches and neuralgic pains, especially through the back. I had indigestion, poor circulation of the blood and often was bothered with weak spells. commenced using Dr. Chase's Kider Pills, and had only taken y Liver Pills and had only taken to boxes when I felt greatly relieved continued the treatment, however. until I was completely cured. In all I took about ten boxes, and have not been troubled in this way since. I highly recommend Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and I think also that the Plasters and Ointment can't be equalled."

Here is another letter to show how rheumatic pains disappear when the service at the pay of $1.10 a day was action of the kidneys is awakened by the gist of a resolution passed by C Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills:

The replies of the candidate provided much burlesque as the candidates threw reason to the wind and started personal bickerings.

of stress and trials and greater hardships yet to be endured. In the midst state. If the nation is divided, national effort is paralyzed and inefficiency must result. Every nation at war has found party government inadequate to meat the situation. This election is not a test of the sincerity of the members of the union government, but of the courage, patriotism and sincerity of the Canadian people.

Are you prepared to forget your differences with your neighbor and unite

Brampton, Nov. 19.—At the official nomination for Peel County held here today Samuel Charters filed his papers as the unionist candidate and Ben Petch as the Laurier Liberal. At a joint meeting which followed Darius McClure presided.

Samuel Charters was the first speaker, and made a strong appeal to the electors in support of the union government. Laurier's success would mean that Canada would submit to Quebec dictation and withdraw from Mr. Rowell described the Military Service Act as a fair, democratic measure in the interests of the whole people, bearing alike on rich and poor, and it was the only means by which canada could maintain its divisions at the front.

An Awful Power. It was an awful power that the people of Canada held in their hands just now; great decisions had to be made on which perhaps rested the destiny of the Dominion. The conscientious public man today felt the burdens of all the world resting on him. The people were the makers of administrations and governments. Some men trations and governments. Some men, stated, did not like conscription, and he feared that, in order to prevent their boys from going to war, they, in the secrecy of the ballot chamber, might vote against the union govern-

BETTER DEMAND FOR MAPLE LEAF

Barcelona is Also in Some Request in a Dragging Market.

No disposition to depart from the drifting tendency which has of late marked the course of stocks on the Toronto Exchange, was observable at the beginning of the second week of the Victory Loan campaign. The market's failure to respond in the afternoon to the buoyancy in, the New York market was disappointing, virtually the only firm spot being Maple Leaf common, which sold up to 102 in belated recognition of the Victory Loan bonus announced a week ago. Chief activity was in Barcelona, a number of small blocks making up a total of 100 shares, which sold at recent levels at 8%. A little more interest is being taken in the possibilities of the stock as a result of the encouraging statements made at the annual meeting last week. Only 45 shares of Brazilian were traded in around the minimum. Dominion Steel was also dealt in at the minimum, and Mackay weakened to 71, a loss of %. In the war loans, the first two issues were firm at 95% and 95 respectively, while the third issue was % off at 93%.

Total transactions for the day were: 474 shares and $11,000 in war bonds.

TONE IS CONFIDENT

ON LONDON EXCHANGE

London. Nov. 19.—The stock market maintained a generally confident tone today without any increase in business, but prices were occasionally harder. The feature of the trading was the demand for shell oil shares now that the authorities have requisitioned the shares of the Royal Dutch Cill Company, under the mobilization scheme. Spanish and Scandinavian o'clock dealings barely reached 100,000 shares, the three-hour period being marked by the most complete stagnation of the year.

In the morning and during the intermediate session, the only noteworthy features were of a depressing or negative nature. Delaware and Hudson dropped 4½ points to $7, its minimum of many years. Pennsylvania's fractional recession to 46½ represented the lowest quotation for that stock in over a generation, Italian exchange recorded a further collapse, and Liberty four's fell to adjacent. scheme. Spanish and Scandinavian tonds were good on the exchange position, but the other sections were different the bond market shared only slightly in the improvement manifested elsewhere. Sales amounted to 420,000 shares.

Maturities in December

Are Smallest of the Year

Corporate maturities in December are the smallest for any month this year. These aggregate $11,640,980. For November, maturities were $40,900,000, while for October they were $19,900,000. Maturities comprise $4.894,610 of railroad securities, $4,826,870 industrials, and $1,920,000 public utilities. Of this latter amount six per cent. notes of the Toronto Railway Company fall due Dec. 1, amounting to cent. notes of the Toronto Railway Company fall due Dec. 1, amounting to $750,000. Canadian Bank Calls for

United States Gold Coin

New York, Nov. 19.—An incident of rather unusual significance is the request received by the Liberty National Bank from a correspondent bank in Canada asking the New York institution to ship to Canada $100,000 in United States gold coin in double eagles, against an equivalent value in gold bars.

As an individual export of gold of this nature would first have to obtain permit of the federal reserve authorities the request was submitted to the local Federal Reserve Bank, and without doubt will be granted.

Further Decline in Winnipeg Market—Wheat Situation Unchanged.

Winnipeg, Nov. 19.—There was a very poor demand in the cash market for all coarse grains today, and the volume of ousiness was light. The wheat situation was unchanged.

The oats markets in futures opened weak and made further declines during the day in December and May deliveries while November held comparatively steady. The cause of the depression was attributed to a pronounced failing off in the demand for cash oats. Flax futures opened ½c lower to ½c up, and further weakness occurred later. There was light business in this market.

Lake Superior Corporation Is Busy With Steel Orders

The shortage in freight cars has already been helped a good deal by the work of the Canadian railway war board. Cars are more evenly distributed over the various freight areas, and there are fewer delays in loading and unloading, according to railway officials. RECEIPTS OF CORN BECOME ABUNDANT

Prices Decline in Chicago Market as Result of duality of arrivals had a bearish effect today on the corn market. Prices, altho steady at the close, were 1/4c to %c net lower, with January $1.16% to $1.16%, and May $1.15½ to $1.16%. Oats finished unchanged to %c higher, and provisions up 2½c to 10c.

Receipts of corn here showed a liberal total for the first time in a long while, the aggregats being 417 carloads, of which 270 were new corn. Besides, the United States visible supply began to display an increase, having gained in the last week 434,000 bushels. Betterment in condition of spot offerings here was of a notable character especially as to moisture content. Another decided handicap o the bulls lay in a special government report which seemed to imply that the latest federal crop estimate, 3,191,000,000 bushels, did not include the worst damiged corn, and, therefore, meant a larger percentage of good corn than traders generally had figured upon.

Some renewal of scaboard demand strengthened the oats market in the last hour. Previously, corn weakness had acted as a drag.

Provision prices were swayed by changes in the value of hogs. Most of the buying came from shorts.

TRADE TOPICS

A reaction in the price of Manitoba oats featured the local grain market yesterday. Quotations for No. 2 C.W., were yelly on saturday. The sagging tendency was regarded as natural, in view of the rapid advance of Manitoba oats, which advanced about 8c per bushel in ten days on pitter recognition of the shortage, as amphasized by the shipping of oats from one point to another west of Winnipe, o meet local requirements. The wheat situation remains unchanged, with very little Ontario wheat under way.
