DIED FROM FOUR DEAD BAD "BOOZE" FROM SMOKE.

"Strykers Farm" New York Fire At- Whiskey Claims tended by Much More Victims. Loss of Life.

TWENTY-TWO DEAD. MORE MAY DIE.

Stomachs of Victims In a Tenement House Found to Contain Wood Blaze, Four Persons are Alcohol... Vendors of Suffocated and Fifteen Cheap Liquor to be Arraigned. More Overcome by Smoke.

New York, Oct. 17.—The Tribune says the list of 20 sudden deaths presumably from whiskey known as "Strykers Farm" whiskey, was increased by two yesterday. Hugo Weiss, a German, 55 years old, died in the hallway of his home in West 47th last night. Another victim, according to the police, of "Strykers Farm" whiskey was found in a hallway and an ambulance Dr. Feabody, on his arrival, found the man dead, and after a cursory examination said he believed that death had been caused by alcoholism. Police Captain Hussey at once assigned two detectives to the case. The wife of the dead man, according to the detectives said that her husband had been out of work and had been drinking for some time. Charles Kourmet, 39 years, of 10th Ave., dropped dead to-day in a saloon at 10th Ave. Coroner Scholer said last evening that he was strongly of the impression that the man had died of whiskey poisoning, but did not know whether the whiskey was in or elsewhere. An autopsy will be performed on the body to-day. The coroner said he had heard on Saturday from the board of health that stomachs of the whiskey victims had been examined and had been found to contain wood-alcohol. He would wait a written report from the board of health before taking further action. He said an effort was being made to get the names of witnesses who saw the men drink the whiskey.

A ST. JOHN MAN KILLED.

John Drummond, fell Under a Locomotive at Port Arthur.

Port Arthur, Ont., Oct. 17.—(Special)—John Drummond, from Westport William, a switchman on the Canadian Northern railway was killed by missing his footing and falling under the wheels of a locomotive which passed over him, severing his body, and breaking his legs, and arms. ONE SMOKED, ONE DIDN'T.

They Were Roommates and Quarrelled, and One is Dead.

Holyoke, Mass., Oct. 15.—Patrick Claughey, 70 years of age, who was injured in a quarrel with his room mate, William Gillave, 65 years of age, at the Brightside Institution yesterday afternoon. Gillave thought from his injuries, Gillave, who was arrested this afternoon. Claughey's injuries were, will be charged in court Monday, on a charge of manslaughter. The two old men, who are inmates of the institution and who shared one room, were said to have objected to Claughey smoking, and the latter declined to discontinue the practice. A fight followed, in which Claughey sustained a fractured skull.

SPANISH DON AT THE FRONT.

Rome, Oct. 16.—News has reached relatives here of Don Jaime, son of Don Carlos, the pretender to the Spanish throne, that he has been injured by a fall from his horse at Russian headquarters in Manchuria. The last word received from Don Jaime was a postcard note to his sister, Princess Beatrice of Massimo, dated at Vladivostok, and it is reported that since that note was written Don Jaime had returned to headquarters. Don Jaime is a lieutenant in the Russian army. The extent of his injuries is not stated and the news of his accident causes his family much anxiety.

THREE MONTHS IN THE JAIL.

Fredericton, N. B.—(Special)—Private McClinch of the Royal Regiment, was today convicted before Police Magistrate Marsh on the charge of theft of shirts from Lieutenant Don Jaime and was sentenced to three months in jail.

FIERCE BATTLE STILL RAGING.

This is the Eighth Day of Awful Conflict.

The Baltic Fleet of 24 Vessels has Sailed for the Far East—Russian Army Stubbornly Disputing Every Foot of Ground, but With Fearful Loss—Conflicting Reports Received.

Frightful Slaughter.

There is a strong appeal for peace in the appalling tragedy which is now under enactment in Manchuria. Both armies have fought ferociously for a week and desperate fighting still continues. The preliminary reports indicate that about 60,000 men of both sides have been either killed or wounded, the larger portion of them being Russians since the armies of the two belligerents closed in combat. Tokyo, Oct. 16.—In the reports of the great battle, the most striking feature is the terrible record of the Russian dead. Before the severe fighting on Oct. 14, General Oku's army alone recovered and buried 2,000, making the total number of Russians buried by the Japanese, with Oku's army still to hear from, 6,000. Applying the usual calculation and making reasonable allowance for the fighting of the 14th and 15th, the Russian losses will exceed 40,000. The enemy's dead already buried and buried, the reports total at 8,550, but the enemy's losses during the two days of fierce engagement on Oct. 14th and 15th, are not included in this number. Moreover, there are some undiscovered dead left on the field which will reach a total of over 10,000.

A Russian Report.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 17.—1.55 p. m. Official reports received by the army office, dated early this morning, say that the battle was resumed at the right bank of the Shukhe river, while the pressure on the Russian side has been relieved and the contest on the right is continuing. Unofficial reports say the Russian army captured six of the latter's guns. The eastern army is helping the western forces. There has been very heavy artillery fire today. The fighting is now centered on the plain.

Fighting on Sunday.

Berlin, Oct. 17.—11 a. m.—Col. Guedel, the war correspondent of the Tagblatt, telegraphed from Mukden that when he left the battle field yesterday at 8.30 p. m. general engagement was in progress which was not yet decisive, although not unfavorable to the Russians. The battle opened at 7 o'clock in the morning, 12 miles south of Mukden. At about 9 p. m. he heard heavy artillery firing in the mountains eastward. He understood that General Sastrowitz was attacking the Japanese right flank.

At Port Arthur.

Tokio, Oct. 17.—It is authoritatively reported that the Russian fleet at Port Arthur is suffering severely from the fire of the Japanese batteries. The reports of the Japanese admiral, who is reported to be in command of the fleet, are unfounded, as is the reported capture of another blockade runner.

She Took Morphine.

Toronto, Oct. 17.—(Special)—Dr. Cotton has concluded the post-mortem examination on the body of South Scott, recently from Montreal, who died at the Esplanade Hospital on Friday. Examination showed that the girl had taken morphine, and was suffering from pneumonia. Her system was run down. Death may have been caused by the drug, though the issue was small.

SUICIDE IN GLENGARRY.

Cornwall, Oct. 17.—(Special)—Thomas Sumner of Summerstown, Glengarry, was committed suicide on Sunday. He had been absent in the southwestern states for several years and returned to old home on Friday. Sunday at home when his sister took his dinner to him she found his lifeless body hanging by a strap from a transom. The suicide was sixty years of age, and was a grandson of the man after whom the town was named.

ART TREASURES.

Rome, Oct. 16.—The ministry of instruction has taken steps to repair the damage caused by heavy rain to the famous cathedral of Assisi. Goto's fresco and other notable art treasures were injured by the rain.

A SECOND HEARING.

Ottawa, Oct. 17.—(Special)—Argument took place in the supreme court this morning, in the case of Angers Mutual Reserve Life Association. This is the second time this case has been heard.

PREMIER TWEEDIE

Returned Today From His Trip to the West.

HAD GOOD TIME.

Met Many New Brunswickers Who are Doing Well... Was Royally Greeted... Naturally Predicts Liberal Success.

Hon. L. J. Tweedie, premier of New Brunswick, accompanied by Mrs. Tweedie, Miss London and the premier's youngest son, were passengers on the Atlantic express to this city this morning, on their return from a trip to the Pacific coast. They are registered at the Royal Hotel and will remain there until tomorrow morning, when they will continue their journey home to Chatham. The premier is delighted with his trip. He left the province some weeks ago and during his absence has visited some of the principal cities of the west. One great pleasure which he looked forward to was the meeting with their sons, Fred M. manager of the Princess mine, at Vancouver, and Joe L. connected with the same enterprise. These two young men, like other Canadians, characterized by push and energy, have been very successful in the west and their many friends in this city and along the North Shore, will learn with great pleasure of their rapid advancement. The premier accompanied them on their visit to the principal places of interest along the coast. From Vancouver the party went to Victoria and Seattle, and thence back to Vancouver. Maritime boys write.

Maritime Boys Write.

Speaking of Vancouver the premier said, there is a strong maritime association at that place with a membership of over 1,000. Shortly after his arrival this society presented an address to him and gave a reception in his honor, at which there were between 400 and 500 guests present. The address was read by J. Johnson, president of the association, and the premier made a fitting reply, speaking for about half an hour. Archbishop Pentreath, who is well and favorably known in St. John, also delivered an address of welcome after which a very pleasant evening was brought to a close with refreshments and a social dance.

N. B. Boys Doing Well.

"I was very glad to observe" remarked the premier "that all the New Brunswickers whom I met were doing remarkably well, and that a great many of them have accumulated considerable wealth. I met several at St. John people, among the number being Joe Ellis, son of Senator Ellis of this city, who is making a name for himself in the thriving city of Vancouver. I remained over at Chatham on my return, and met R. P. Bennett, a former Albert Co. boy, also at one time practicing law at Chatham. He, like the others, is doing well. I also came in contact with several north shore men all of whom are prospering. "While at Vancouver I spoke at a liberal meeting held in the interests of the candidate, R. J. McPherson, at the People's theatre. The place was packed to the doors. The premier predicted large gains for the liberals in the west.

Winnipeg's Progress.

"There is a marked development in Manitoba and the north west incidentally remarked the reporter. "There certainly is. I stayed over at time in Winnipeg and the progress of that city is surprising. In the northwest the development is most marked. Lands, which for years were lying idle, are now the scenes of thrift and enterprise. It is a grand country, with almost inexhaustible possibilities. Winnipeg bids fair to become the centre of the west."

Kindness of the C. P. R.

Premier Tweedie on his recent return to the kindness and courtesy of the C. P. R. officials. "They do all they can to make it as comfortable as possible for travellers on their line. He was very much pleased with the kindness he and his family had received from the officials of the C. P. R. and their subordinates. Premier Tweedie remarked that superintendent Downie, of St. John, was most popular in the west. Everybody speaks in the highest terms of him. "What do you think about the political aspect in New Brunswick?" "I hold," said the premier, "to my opinion expressed sometime ago, and that is that the result of the elections in N. B. will be that 10 liberals, at least, will be elected out of the possible 13 seats."

HOUSE DYNAMITED.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 16.—A telephone message from Rensselaer, Ind. reports that the residence of Alfred McCoy, president of the defunct McCoy bank, recently returned for alleged complicity in the wrecking of the bank, has been dynamited and totally destroyed.

LAURIER IN ONTARIO.

He and Mr. Hyman Called on Bishop McEay.

HEALTH GOOD.

Has Decided to Speak at Several More Places in the Province But Will Also Carry Out Former Programme.

London, Ont., Oct. 17.—(Special)—Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Lady Laurier spent Sunday as guests of Hon. C. S. Hyman. During the day the premier and Mr. Hyman called on Bishop McEay. So much has the premier improved in health that he has consented to several announcements of his itinerary as first arranged. A brief stop will be made at Bruster and Clinton, on route to Lakeshore today, will be dropped off the morning of Wingham and the premier's car will be dropped off at Uxbridge on Tuesday. The premier will speak according to the programme arranged at Orillia on Wednesday, Peterboro on Thursday, and Cornwall on Friday.

INVEST MAY RETIRE.

Halifax, Oct. 17.—(Special)—It is reported here today that Peter Innes, conservative candidate for Kings, will retire from the contest on the advice of his physicians.

SUICIDES ARE INCREASING.

Statistics in United States Show that Even Children Court Self-Destruction.

"During the last 13 years 77,617 cases of suicide have been reported in the newspapers of this country," says George P. Upton, in The Independent. The following table shows the total number a year, as well as the increase from 1891 to 1897, the curious decrease in 1898 and 1899, which almost duplicates that from 1891 to 1897:

Table with 2 columns: Year and Number of suicides. 1891: 3,531; 1892: 3,860; 1893: 4,428; 1894: 4,912; 1895: 5,759; 1896: 6,530; 1897: 6,400; 1898: 5,920; 1899: 5,840; 1900: 6,155; 1901: 7,345; 1902: 8,132; 1903: 8,212.

Total number of suicides 77,617. "St. Louis has the largest number in proportion to its population, and these 11 cities follow it in the order named: Hoboken, Chicago, Oakland, Cal., New York City, Milwaukee, Cincinnati, Newark, N. J., Brooklyn, Boston, Indianapolis, and New Orleans. To Fall River, Mass., belongs the credit of the lowest rate, 2.7 per 100,000.

"Of the 77,617 persons tabulated above, 57,317 were men and 20,400 women. Between the ages of five and 25 suicides of women are more numerous than those of men between the same ages. It is one of the features of the case that suicides of women are increasing faster than those of men. Half a century ago five times as many men committed suicide as women. A quarter of a century ago the proportion was three men to one woman. During the last three years the ratio has been about 2 1/2 to 1.

"Another feature of the suicide situation is the increasing number of children who kill themselves. These suicides are almost without exception, and sometimes without any apparent cause, and sometimes without any slight from a playmate, a reprimand at home, a rebuke from a teacher, envy of the success of a companion, pique over a fancied insult, disappointment over many juvenile suicides account for many juvenile suicides. Wpik minded children of this kind seem to believe that instead of exciting pity for their foolishness they will be killing themselves punish those who have presumed to interfere with their caprices. "The agencies of self-murder are numerous, but 61,983 of the 77,617 victims have killed themselves either by poison or the revolver. Prior to 1894 the larger number shot themselves, but since that year poison has headed the list. It may be boldly affirmed that the steady increase in the use of poison is due to the ease with which carbolic acid can be obtained. More persons kill themselves with it than with all other kinds of poison combined.

"Turning to the other agencies, we find that 2,976 ended life by hanging, 6,091 by drowning, 4,447 by the knife, 809 by throwing themselves in front of locomotives, 783 by jumping from roofs and windows, 254 by fire, 77 by dynamite and 227 in miscellaneous ways, some of them displaying remarkable ingenuity and courage on the part of the self-murderer.

Hemming, The Adventurer

BY THEODORE ROBERTS

(Continued.) After dinner that night, in the parlour dining-room of the house occupied by the staff of the South American Cable Company, O'Rourke learned something of the major's past life. It was a sad and unedifying story. The major had been trained at West Point, and led his class in scholarship and drill, and had risen, with more than one distinction, to the rank of major. But all the while he had made his fight against drink, as well as the usual handicaps in the game of life. He had married a woman with wealth and position superior to his own, who had admired him for his soldierly qualities and fine appearance, and who, later, had been the first to desert him. Then followed the foreign consular appointments, the bitter and ever-increasing debaucheries, and at last the forced retirement from his country's service. Now he lived on a small allowance, sent him weekly by his family. O'Rourke began to understand the old man's fretful and disconcerting moods. At a late hour the superintendent of the staff ushered O'Rourke to a big, cool room on the second floor. "Make this your home," he said, "and we'll let you in on the same footing as ourselves. Hemming occupied this room last. There is his bed, there is his hammock; and, by Jove, there are his slippers. You can have your trunks brought up in the morning."

His companion with eyes of unfriendly suspicion. Cuddiehead, in the meantime, exhibited an excellent temper, put a few casual questions, and chatted about small things of general interest. Now Cuddiehead had heard, from the captain of the mail-boat, something about a wealthy American with a bow in his bosom and a pretty daughter, somewhere within reach of Pernambuco. The story had grown upon him, and a great idea had taken shape in his scheming mind. Why shouldn't he, if all that people said and wrote about American girls was true? By gad, he'd make a shot at it. He'd show them how to spend their money in more interesting places than the back of nowhere. As soon as the major began to look more friendly, under the influence of the cruise whiskey, he produced his cigar-case, a fat black leather affair, with an engraved silver plate on the front of it, and offered the old man an excellent weed of Havana. The major took it, glancing keenly, but swiftly, at the initials on the case as he did so. "P. doesn't stand for Cuddiehead," he thought, but said nothing. "Tell me something about the man who owns a whole country, somewhere back here, in the bush," urged Cuddiehead, lightly. The old man's muddled wits awoke and jerked a warning. "Here was some scum of Heaven knows where, wanting to interfere in a better man's business. 'What's that, my boy?' he asked, looking stupidly interested. 'Oh, it is of no importance. It just struck me as being a bit out of the way,'" replied the other. "What?" inquired the major. "The place Mr. Tetsion hangs out," laughed Cuddiehead. "It's all that, my boy," replied Farrington, gleefully; then he stared, open-mouthed. "At least," he added, "it may be, but what the hell are you gabbing about?" "Gaby," had no idea it was a secret," retorted the younger man. "The major's quotations flooded to his head. His face took on a dark, or shade of crimson. His hands twitched on the table. "Secrets! You'd-a little sneak," he roared, staggering up and overturning his chair. The expression of insolence faded from Cuddiehead's face. He dashed out of the place without paying for the bottle of whiskey. On the pavement he paused, long enough to compose his features and straighten his necktie. Then he went to the ship-chandler and gathered a wealth of information concerning Harris William Tetsion. But he heard no mention of Hemming being in the country, which about not talking too much and not thinking too hard. Hicks felt no desire to talk, but as for thinking, Lord, she might as well have told him to stop breathing. He thought more in ten minutes now than he had before in any three hours. They were comforting thoughts, though, for the most part, and Marion knew that they did him more good than harm. Hemming kept up a show of interest in the army. He lectured the officers and drilled the men, and dined almost every night at the mess, which he had remodelled on the English plan. But most of the time he kept his eyes on the President. It was a job he did not care about, but he was always willing to listen to the President's drabry conversations. The life-lacked excitement for one who had run the gamut of a hundred good deals of fiction when the mood was on him. The longing to return to a more active, assistance grew stronger every day, but his friendship for the Tetsions and for Hicks kept him at his post. Hemming's morning coffee was always served in his room or six o'clock. That left him about two and a half hours of the cool of the day in which to work. Breakfast, with its queer dishes of hot meats, and claret, tea, and coffee to drink, came on about nine. Breakfast was a family affair, and after it every one retired for a nap. Hemming usually drank his coffee before he dressed, but one morning Smith found him pacing the room, bootied and spurred, and attired in stained breeches and a faded tunic. There were cigar ashes on the floor beside the bed. A volume of Stevenson's "Men and Books" lay open on the pillow. "Fill my flask," he said, "and let the President know that I may not be back until evening." "Very good, sir," replied the valet. "Will I order your horse, sir?" "Hemming pulled open a drawer in his desk in search of revolver cartridges. The contents of the drawer were in a shocking condition. In his satchel-box at large among his papers he found half a dozen cartridges, a cigarette from the army and navy stores at home, and a small box of black ribbon. He picked up the box, kissed it lightly, and instead of restoring it to the box put it in his pocket. "She liked me well enough in those days—or else she did some-what remarkable acting," he said. Turning on his heel he found Smith in the doorway. "Your horse is ready, sir," said the man. Hemming blushed, and to hide his confusion, told Smith to go to the devil. He rode away with an uncocked revolver in his holster. "It must be a pretty rotten country," soliloquized the valet, "when a single eye-glanced, right-about-turn warranted-not-to-shirk-ear-of-ear-gear like that gets burred before breakfast." The commander-in-chief rode from

Catarrh of the Stomach.
A Pleasant, Simple, but safe and Effectual Cure for it.
Catarrh of the stomach has long been considered the next thing to incurable. The usual symptoms are a full or bloating sensation after eating, accompanied sometimes with sour or watery risings, a formation of gases, causing pressure on the heart and lungs and difficult breathing, headaches, sick appetite, nervousness and a general played out, languid feeling.
There is often a foul taste in the mouth, coated tongue and if the interior of the stomach could be seen it would show a slimy, inflamed condition.
The cure for this common and obstinate trouble is found in a treatment which causes the food to be readily, thoroughly digested before it has time to ferment and irritate the delicate mucous surfaces of the stomach. To secure a prompt and healthy digestion is the one necessary thing to do and when normal digestion is secured the catarrhal condition will have disappeared.
According to Dr. Harlanston, the safest and best treatment is to use after each meal a tablet, composed of Diastase, Aseptic Pepsin, a little Nux. Golden Seal and fruit acids. These tablets can now be found at all drug stores under the name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and not being a patent medicine can be used with perfect safety and assurance that healthy appetite and thorough digestion will follow their regular use after meals.
Mr. R. S. Workman, Chicago, Ill., writes: Catarrh is a local condition resulting from a neglected cold in the head, whereby the lining membrane of the nose becomes inflamed and the poisonous discharge therefrom passing backward into the throat reaches the stomach, this producing catarrh of the stomach. Medical authorities prescribed for me for three years for catarrh of stomach without cure, but today I am the happiest of men after using only one box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I cannot find appropriate words to express my good feeling. I have found fresh, appetite and sound rest from their use.
Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the safest preparation as well as the simplest and most convenient remedy for any form of indigestion, Catarrh of Stomach, biliousness, sour stomach, heartburn and bloating after meals.

NOW THEY BUY MILK.

Bad Booze in New York Drives Many to the Lactal Fluid as a Thirst Quencher.

New York, Oct. 15.—An unprecedented demand for milk and an equally unprecedented desire to sign the temperance pledge became manifest today along the Tenth avenue in the neighborhood of Fifth street as a result of the poisoned whiskey tragedies.

Rudolph Fritzsche's saloon, at 723, in which much of the deadly liquor is believed to have been sold, is closed, and although the corner saloon next door was open little business was being done.

"This fust kills our trade," said the bartender of the latter resort, "and any place selling wet goods around here might as well close up."

The people are turning to the Lactal-Fritzsche's, and the whole neighborhood is drinking milk. I bet the people wouldn't die away. Whiskey had nothing to do with it."

One of the policemen on guard outside Fritzsche's door said he had noticed a great many girls going by with pails of milk since early morning, and turning, he pointed out two little shawled figures hurrying by with the lactal fluid.

A milk company said that he had received sixteen new orders in two days from the district near Tenth street, and that the business was up to the mark.

There was little else talked about in the stores or along the streets of the stricken district today other than the growth of the poisoning cases. Eighteen victims are known to be dead.

Robins Smith, who lived above the condemned saloon, died last night, and though the cause was not given many of the neighbors were of opinion that some of the poisonous liquor had been given the man during his illness, and was responsible for his death.

The large bow of crepe on the door next to the saloon gave passersby a start, and was a dread warning in it, the policeman said.

According to the statement of an attorney at the coroner's office, the people in the "Stryker Farm" district, though not temperate, were in the habit of taking whiskey, as a medicinal people take milk, as a medicinal beverage.

"That's why the effects have been so widespread," said he.

Frederick J. H. Kracke, assistant commissioner of agriculture, said today that the exposure of the drug and whiskey frauds was bound to benefit the public.

"I believe in publicity," said he. "The only way, however, to hold frauds in check is through the vigilance and watching for impure food products."

The government's revenue officers are investigating the report that the whiskey sold by Rudolph Fritzsche in the "Elephant" at 723 Tenth avenue had been given a deadly poison, mixed with it.

The investigation for the federal day that is being pursued by Charles O. Fellows of the United States Revenue Service, and his assistant, James V. Logue, Mr. Fellows today has samples from all of the barrels of whiskey found in the saloon which was known as the "Elephant."

PROVINCIAL PREJUDICE.

Viewing the question from any standpoint, partisan or non-partisan, it is not a desirable condition that the province of Quebec should be allowed to be as likely to be "sold for Laurier" as it is to be "sold for Laurier"...

THE SALVATION ARMY.

The Rev. G. Osborne Troop made a significant remark at the farewell meeting of commissioner Eva Booth in Montreal a few days ago. He said that the Salvation Army had come to the real day of trial...

A NEW YORK INSTANCE.

Some St. John aldermen are apparently of opinion that the city should resume control of berths No. 8 and 4, at Sand Point, in order to secure a revenue from those berths and two others...

ROWED FOR LIFE.

Block Island, R. I., Oct. 16.—The entire crew of the little fishing schooner, Clara, of Manchester, Mass., were obliged to take hastily to their dories in Point Judith channel during the night, while their vessel, which had suddenly sprung a leak, sank as the last man was going over the side...

FULLY PROTECTED.

(Special by Megaphone from City Hall, October 17.)

The most important civic event of last week was not chronicled in the press, although it had to do with the much debated question of fire protection at Sand Point, and proves that there is ample protection for all the property in that neighborhood...

There are three fire alarm boxes in the warehouses at Sand Point. They were put there regardless of expense, and it is now determined to protect property. They all sound the same number, so that an alarm from either of them would, warn the fire department that it was wanted at the Sand Point warehouses...

At this stage the Carlton fireman took to the woods. In the evening the director of public safety called on the chief of the fire department, and asked him where the keys of the boxes were kept...

The next day the aldermen got five other aldermen, and the mayor, and they met in a council meeting to deal with anything but water works...

After a long and animated discussion the motion passed and the committee was appointed, with instructions to go over to Carlton this week and learn whether the fire had been put out, or the warehouses destroyed...

After the meeting an enquiring reporter telephoned to the director and learned that the fire on the Diome had been extinguished the morning it started by the use of the ship's pumps. There can be no question that the fact that there are three fire alarm boxes without any keys in the warehouses discouraged the flames and made the work of the pumps less difficult...

There are no spark arresters in Carlton except Sergt. Rose, and his chief, who has been in the field, does not believe the sparks from a donkey engine...

F. B. Wade, Annapolis; Mr. Bennett, Montreal; Robert Ross, London, Ont.; and J. Young, Winnipeg, registered at the Royal on Saturday night. Mr. Wade, however, is not talking as to the location of the line, or as to the probability of gathering the government and money, but as to the location of the line, or as to the probability of gathering the government and money...

Here's A Puzzle For Somebody

AND ALL ON ACCOUNT OF "ROYAL HOUSEHOLD"

"The hold upon the people of Annapolis county which this 'Royal Household' flour has secured of late is one of the most remarkable things I have seen in my eighteen years business experience," said an Annapolis county merchant who attended the Halifax Exhibition. I find that the majority of my customers absolutely refuse to take anything but "Royal Household" and I tell you it is almost a serious problem with some of us as to how we are going to sell the stocks we have of other fairly good flours.

THE CHURCH OF ENGLAND AND HIGHER CRITICISM.

A Hot Debate in Montreal—Mr. Justice Hanington of New Brunswick and Dr. Langtry Take Strong Ground—Canon Welch and Dr. Allnat Reply;

Quite simply, as it seemed, a heated debate was precipitated in the Provincial Synod yesterday afternoon. Dr. Langtry proposed a resolution thanking His Lordship Bishop Carmichael for his lucid and powerful sermon, and ordering that it be printed in the Journal of the House. Canon Welch as one rose and asked that Dr. Langtry withdraw his motion, which a large number of delegates could not accept, as it implied the endorsement of the synod upon the position taken by the bishop.

A FINE NEW LIGHT HOUSE.

What is Said to be the Finest in the World Just Completed Near Portland.

It is conceded by leading authorities on the subject that the new Ram Island Lighthouse is probably the finest in the world. Of course this does not mean that it has cost the most because there are many places where it has taken a great deal more money to erect a station but it is itself in itself in workmanship, in idea, in without doubt unequalled.

TWELFTH NIGHT'S GREAT SUCCESS.

MISS BOOTH IN ST. JOHN.

Canadian Head of Salvation Army Enthusiastically Greeted.

MEETINGS YESTERDAY.

Large Audiences Hear the Divine Message Couched in Eloquent Terms... Forty Eight Conversations at Last Night's Meeting.

Commissioner Eva Booth has come and her soul inspiring utterances in the Opera House, on Sunday afternoon, before an audience which crowded the theatre to the doors...

As Miss Booth stated the Opera House was packed and the balconies every seat was occupied and standing room was at a premium. To look at the beloved commissioner of the Salvation Army, one would naturally come to the conclusion that she is rather frail and delicate...

THE CHURCHES YESTERDAY.

Yesterday was rally day in Zion Methodist church. In the morning, the pastor, Rev. Dr. Wilson preached the sermon, "The Faith of the Future."

On Miss Booth arising she was given a grand ovation which lasted for several seconds. In her introductory remarks, she said that she had always viewed the selection sung by Lieut. Col. Puginier...

As regards the people of St. John, Miss Booth said "The people of St. John have made rapid inroads into my heart. I came here a few years ago, and met them, learned to love them. Although separated by space we have been together in spirit and have fought and won many victories since our first meeting."

Large congregations attended the revival meetings in the Coburg St. Christian Church yesterday. The revival will continue every night this week, beginning at 8 o'clock.

Heart Palpitation at Night. Battles even the strongest man, but to the average woman it is a taste of general purgatory. Take a little Nerviline, sweetened water and away goes the palpitation.

Dr. Watanabe, the Japanese mineral expert, estimates that one fourth of the new waste gold fields he examined have yielded $500,000,000.

"It is a multitude which no man can number."

Hold to the Faith.

"Hold them to the faith and the day will come when you will ride in the triumphal procession in the streets of God."

Last Night's Meeting.

The last hour of the meeting was a succession of hymns, heartily sung, and earnest appeals to the unconverted to give their hearts to God.

An overflow meeting was held in the Leinster St. Baptist church last evening led by Col. Jacobs.

FAIRVILLE AND TRINITY PLAY AN EXCITING GAME.

Todd, the Stallion, Shows Wonderful Speed--Twin Sullivan Back From the West--English Fighter After a Match.

The game between Fairville and Trinity, on Saturday afternoon, proved to be much more exciting than anticipated by the spectators. Although it could hardly be called a good display of football, Fairville put much the strongest team in the field, they have had so far to represent them this season, an additional two or three heavier forwards, helping them towards making a draw of the game. Much praise must be given to the Trinity forwards in making the stand they did against much heavier opponents, although their best forward of last week's game, Harrison, was nothing like up to his form of the previous Saturday, he being far too fond of shifting the hard work in the "scrum" to enable himself to show up more in the open, a great mistake for any forward to attempt, especially as his side required all the weight they had to hold their heavier opponents.

The commencement of the management's promise, of putting the field into something like shape, by having already played off the ground, was much appreciated by all in attendance at the Shamrock grounds on Saturday, that they will witness the good work by making off the field of play for the next match, is the sincere desire of all football enthusiasts.

Other Games. Mt Allison vs St. Joseph. J. A. Barry, captain of the St. Joseph's University football team has selected word from J. G. Lantry, manager of the college team this year, that Mt. Allison's team defeated them on Saturday afternoon on Mt. Allison's grounds. Score 3-0. It was a well-contested game, Mount Allison crossing St. Joseph's line but once. At one time St. Joseph's attack went up, when five, St. Joseph's speedy half, crossed Mt. Allison's line, but before he could claim that the ball had been thrown ahead and the boys in blue and gold were doomed to disappointment. These two old rivals will battle again on St. Joseph's campus in the very near future.

Colby College 2; Kent's Hill 0. Cambridge, Mass. Oct. 16--Although outweighed nearly fifteen pounds at every position, the Harvard freshmen eleven held the Phillips-Exeter team down to two touch downs on Soldiers field today the score being 11 to 0 in favor of the visitors. Exeter scored one touch down in each half. In the first half Harvard got the ball on the kick-off but lost it on the 35 yard line. Exeter then rushed out over for a touch down. The second touch down was made in practically the same manner.

Twin Sullivan Home. Fresh from a successful invasion of the West, Jack (Twin) Sullivan, accompanied by his brother Mike, arrived in town today. Although they were rather tired out after their long journey from Frisco, the Sullivan brothers looked to be in perfect health. Both have been recently in some grueling contests, but neither bore any mark. "It's a long trip from Frisco," said Mike, "but we didn't mind it very much, as we had each other's company, which in a great measure made the trip seem pleasanter and shorter. We are going back in two weeks, so we are well trained for the next train stunt."

seven of which have resulted in his favor. His two defeats were administered by Jack O'Brien and Kid McCoy, both of whom he hopes to whip good and plenty when he encounters them again.

John L. Sullivan is now the man behind the bar. Here is a leaf torn from a history of his life in St. Louis. "What's your pleasure, gent?" "O, anything that's loose," answers gent No. 1, nonchalantly. "You want a mint julep, and that's what you're going to get," says the ex-champion, making a free translation, and then nodding emphatically in the direction of gent No. 2, he effects the following reply: "A mint julep."

What O'Neil's Team Got. Simultaneous with the winning of the premier honors in the American League by the Bostonians in New York, the Washington team was rewarded with a pennant, emblematic of the cellar championship, for again having carried off the booty honors. George Edward Waddell did the Andover Carnegie act in generously and graciously presenting to Manager Patsy Donovan, upon his last turn at bat in the first game, a slight memento to the remembrance of the valiant, heroic and unremitting efforts of the Washington Baseball Club to retain the bottom position in the American League race, at all hazards.

Todd, a Wonder. The royally bred young Stallion Todd, owned by Geo. W. Leavitt, of Rendville, was started against time at Lexington Ky., recently. Though right out of the stud, and not in condition to carry his wonderful speed, he trotted the mile to a record of 2:14, the last half in 1:06. Todd is one of the best bred and most promising young stallions living. His sire is Brown (2:06). His dam, Fanela, (2:18). He is by Arion (2:07), and produced by Sadie Mae (3:21) (1:11) (4) machine 2:08, at wagon. His second dam is Directress (2:19)

LORD ROBERTS AT PAARDEBERG

He Revisited the Scene of Cronje's Surrender and Found Relics of the Battle.

Cape Town, Oct. 15.--Lord Roberts refoought the Battle of Paardeberg last week, but his advance upon Cronje's laager was made in a motor car instead of with three divisions of infantry. The Commander-in-Chief was keenly interested in the famous battleground, although greatly surprised at its altered appearance. There was even some trouble, at first, in locating several well-remembered incidents of the Paardeberg drift, and its battle scars are well hidden.

Ferrozine cured me completely. I can strap and run like I did forty years ago."

YORK THEATRE. Again it is strongly manifest that a high class vaudeville theatre is what the people of this city will support. The show provided at the York Theatre for this week is up to the high standard of the past three weeks and there are novelties in abundance. Heading the list is a famous California team, the Sprague-los, who by lavish expenditure of money for their production, have placed themselves at the head of their profession. They carry three pieces of special scenery, and many novel electrical effects. Camillo and Fona, have a highly sensational act, which has created great interest wherever they have appeared.

WARREN MURDER STILL A MYSTERY.

But Evidence at Coroner's Inquest Seems to Show that Power is Innocent.

Charlottetown, Oct. 17.—(Special)—Though a verdict has not yet been given the coroner's jury seem satisfied that Power is innocent of the murder of Harriet Warren. The evidence of her father showed that he was in the house at the time the tragedy occurred. Palmer's mother broke down under cross examination and her evidence was regarded as contradictory. The evidence of Mrs. Kelly that she saw a man running whom she was positive was not Power, was corroborated in part by Albert Melette, captain of the Hillsborough bridge tug. Melette, while returning from work saw a man running at the same time stated by Mrs. Kelly. He saw also a woman, who was no doubt, Mrs. Kelly. The inquest will probably be finished on Wednesday, and a verdict will be given.

CAPTAIN REECE

Described as the Best Musical Entertainment Ever Presented in Halifax.

The nautical extravaganza "Captain Recco of the Mantlepiece" which is to be produced tomorrow evening in the Opera House, is perhaps one of the most unique entertainments ever placed before the St. John public. Composed entirely of amateurs it is yet as complete as any professional organization in every detail. The labor involved in taking a company of seventy members on tour is no light one. The special scenery and elaborate electrical effects arrived this morning, so some little idea of the thoroughness with which the promoters have taken the task in hand, may be imagined.

The box office is open and there is a big demand for the best seats, it is safe to predict very large houses on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, the three days the Haligonians will occupy the theatre. It is not often the chance presents itself of welcoming the officers and men of the army and navy from Halifax, a shield of carnations and chrysanthemums, from Mrs. Christian, a star of white and pink roses and maidenhair fern, from David H. Anderson and family, a cross of white and cream roses and lilacs from his son and grandson. There were many beautiful floral tributes including a cross of white roses and maidenhair fern, from E. M. Shadbold and family; cut flowers, from Mrs. O'Brien and family; a shield of carnations and chrysanthemums, from Mrs. O'Brien and family; and many others. Those who accompanied the remains to Musquash were Mrs. Joshua Knight, Leonard B. Knight, Charles Knight, Miss Harriet Knight, Rev. Richard Mathers and others.

B. The body was conveyed to his home at St. Andrews.

PLEASANT MUSICALS.
