ONE CENT

MORE BOY THIEVES IN THE WEST END

Police Believe They Have Clue to Long Series of Petty Robberies in West End--Will Come Up in Police Court for Hearing.

James Quinan and Merritt Elsworth, two Carleton youths, are suspected by the west end police of being implicated in a series of robberies.

The second robbery took place in the N. B. Southern Ry. office. Elsworth states that Quinan broke in at eight o'clock at night and took several rolls of cents and letters and that subsequently he went to Officer Goaline and informed him that two trunks had been stolen.

COMPULSORY SCHOOL ATTENDANCE ACT; SOME OF IT'S MAIN FEATURES

The St. John school board will probably consider this evening the matter of the compulsory school attendance act, which has been applied in this city by the action of the city council last week.

Section 12--The board shall have full power and authority to appoint officers and persons to make such enumeration and to make rules and regulations for the purpose, and to prescribe the books and records to be kept under this act, and designate the persons to keep and the manner of keeping the same.

Section 13 provides a penalty of $1 to $20 for persons refusing to give information, or giving false information.

THIS HIGHWAYMAN HAS A GAIN BLADE

He Held up Five Stages on a California Trail and Selected a Pretty Girl to Collect His Loot From Frightened Passengers.

FRESNO, Calif., July 9--A dispatch to the Republican from Berenda announces that the highwayman who held up five stages near Alhambra Saturday night has been captured. The name of the bandit or bandits of the capture could not be ascertained. The arrest was made at Alhambra.

The first authentic information was received here last night when J. F. Tibbitt, of Riverside, with his wife and Miss Amy Mitchell came out of the valley.

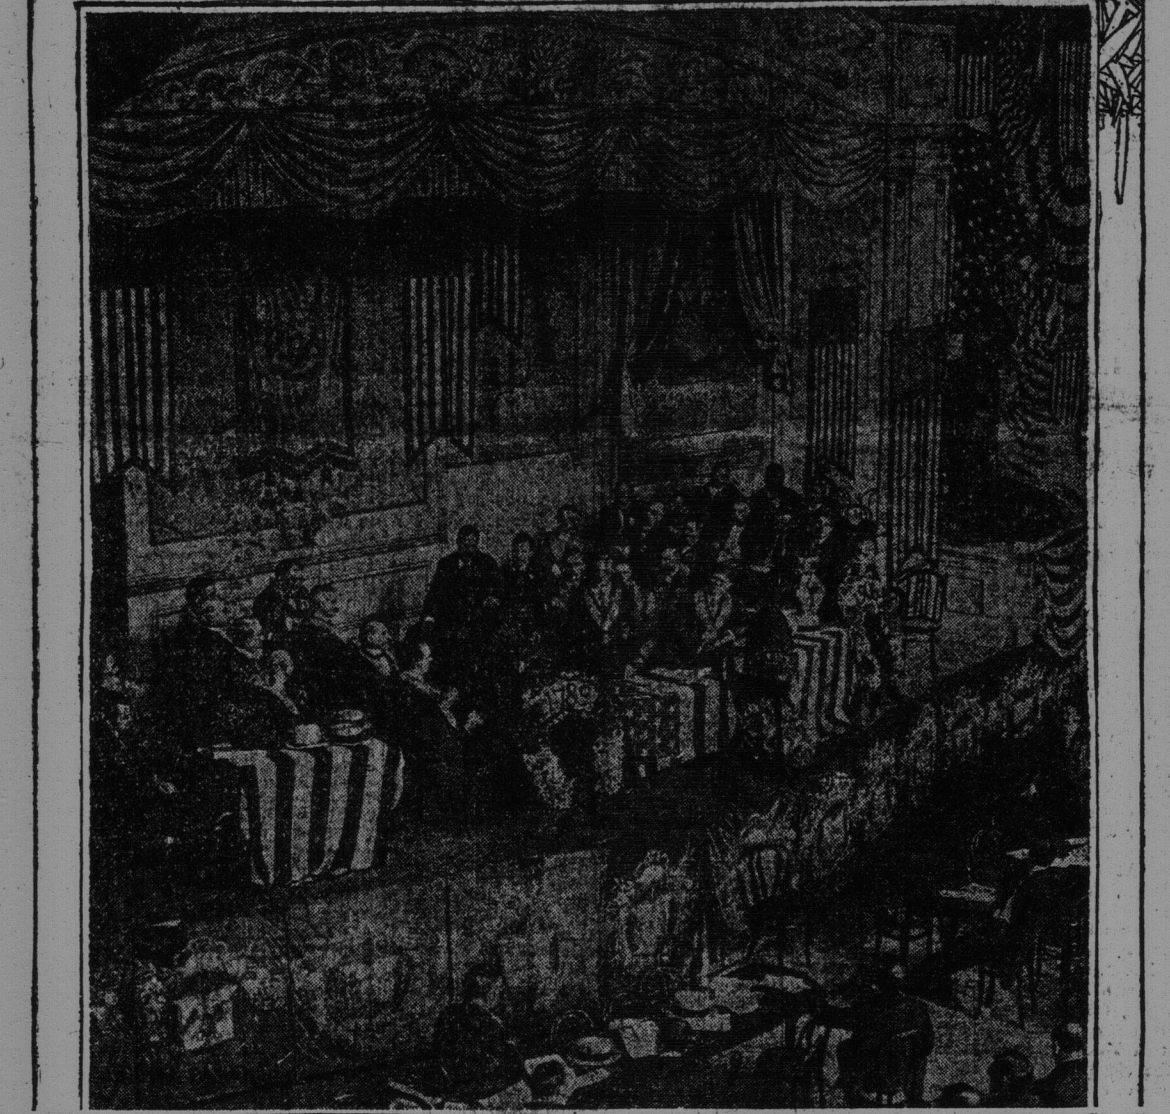

HUNDREDS OF HAPPY CHILDREN TODAY IN OTTAWA

The supervised playgrounds in Ottawa are a great and growing attraction for the little ones.

Rules of the House are Still Under Consideration of Special Committee.

OTTAWA, Ont., July 9 (Special).--Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in the house this morning, said that the Dominion government and the Newfoundland government had under consideration the difficulty which has arisen between the two governments.

Orator Who Called on Tammany to Crush Socialism.

John A. Sullivan of Massachusetts Making one of the Long Talks at Tammany Hall Celebration.

NEW YORK, July 7--Asserting that William J. Bryan will lead the Democratic party to victory in 1908, that Representative Charles A. Tamm will be his running mate and that Alton B. Parker will be the next chief justice of the United States supreme court, Representative Robert L. Henry, of Texas, Wednesday evoked a storm of applause from the fifteen hundred Tammany men who gathered in the Fourteenth street Wigwam to celebrate July 4.

Representative Henry was one of several orators who, as the good old fashioned way, praised the democracy of Thomas Jefferson, flayed republican rule and the influence that are spreading socialistic doctrine, dilated on the beef and insurance scandals and asserted that the country will be re-established on a safe and sound basis only when the Democratic party is again placed in power.

W. Burke Cockran, in one of his typical political addresses, in which the tariff was assailed and blamed for most of the wrongs which afflict the country, made an attack on District Attorney Jerome, whose name he did not mention, however, for his contention that there was no evidence to warrant the prosecution of George W. Perkins for contributing $50,000 to the republican campaign fund; arraigned the judges of the appellate division who sustained the GIBSON--At the residence of his father, 17 Osborn street, July 7, Harry MacQuarrie, beloved son of Charles H. and Annie Gibson, aged three years and seven months.

DEATHS

There was no display of real enthusiasm until Mr. Bryan's name was spoken. It was regarded as significant that Mayor McClellan was not even mentioned by any of the speakers. The mention of Mr. Bryan's name came as a surprise. It had been stated that Charles F. Murphy had ordered that no presidential possibilities be named.

THE TIMES NEW REPORTER

The hay crop on King square will be harvested as soon as it has gone to seed. This delay is necessary, as otherwise there might be no crop next year.

City Engineer Peters has gone to Fredrickton to settle a dispute about the exact words used by the first resident governor when he landed. The mayor's clerk was also asked to go up and express his views, but he is needed at City Hall in these trying times of aldermanic activity.

The startling news was received this morning that the bodies of three dead dogs were found near Hookway Beach. If the other dogs of the city bear the outrage, there are enough of them to satisfy their vengeance by a wholesale slaughter of the people. Many citizens are hastily leaving town.

CRUEL PRACTICAL JOKE MAY HAVE FATAL RESULT

NEW YORK, July 9--The World this morning says--When told, as a joke, that her husband, with whom she is very much in love, was dead, Mrs. Irene Duff, a young wife, living in West 37th street, attempted to cut her throat with a carving knife last night, and may lose her mind.

TREASURY BOARD

A special meeting of the treasury board is being held this afternoon to consider a question of warehouse rates. The steamers Albatross which left yesterday took away 600 head of cattle, and according to the summer rates, the warehouse charge would be 10 cents a head or a total of $60. The agents of the Donaldson line, however, claim that the winter rate of 2 cents a head should apply which would amount to only $12. The treasury board will decide what the charge shall be.

ANOTHER CHAPTER IN THE O'DONNELL CASE TODAY

The assault case preferred by Harry O'Donnell against John Goldstein was resumed in the Police Court this morning and the case will pend for some days.

Officer Greer, Goldstein denied telling him (Greer) in the north end station that he had hit O'Donnell with a round stone. He admitted asking Officer Greer as to the nature of O'Donnell's cuts.

There is every reason to believe that the ferry steamer Ludlow will be able to go on the route again by the end of the month. She has been enjoying her holidays very much indeed, and will continue to rest for some time longer. She will take special treatment this week for her complexion, being removed for that purpose from the Rodney to the Hilyard Hospital.

FULLY EXPLAINED

Dear Mr. New Reporter--Last evening's "Globe" correspondent asks the meaning of the word "Nauwigwank." When I was a small boy rifting logs at the east end of Darling's Island, Peter Paul and his squaw were camped there. They decided to move to Apesquait. (I think you remember) He proposed to walk to foot of island and cross by the bridge, but his squaw insisted on crossing direct in their canoe. Peter said old canoe would sink better walk around. She was stubborn, and finally he gave way to her wishes--When nearing other shore their canoe filled and sank and he had some difficulty dragging his squaw ashore--when on the bank he said to her: "Now-would-you-walk!" Hence the name.

CHILDREN IN BOSTON

This morning, in the city of Boston, the vacation session of the public schools of that city opens, and they will continue in session until Aug. 19th.

Another very important movement for the benefit of children will be the establishment in Boston in September, at the same time as the opening of the schools, of the first juvenile court in Massachusetts.

The purpose of this movement is to deal with delinquent children guilty of minor offences separate and apart from older criminals, and in such manner as may be calculated to produce good results in the direction of reform.

In an interview last week Judge Baker, who has been appointed chief justice of the juvenile court in Boston, said: "I believe that every child, in itself a subject of personal study before jurisdiction is passed, and I shall be particularly careful as to the appointment of any two probation officers."

"In some cases a child should be punished severely to teach it a lesson, and in another case, kindness and attention will also prevail. I cannot trap out any definite course of action to be pursued by a juvenile court, as no two cases should be or can be treated identically the same or even along the same lines."

Evidently Judge Baker appreciates the situation. It is stated that he has always been greatly interested in children, and has studied them, and this fact influenced Governor Guild in making the appointment.

There is no more hopeful indication of progress in moral reform than the increasing interest and attention devoted to the care of children.

ENGLAND AND GERMANY

It is stated in a cable from Berlin that the efforts to bring about a better feeling and better relations between England and Germany have been notably successful.

The emperor is said to be devoting himself to the task of allaying prejudice, while the German editors who lately visited England and were royally entertained are now writing long articles to show that there is no cause for mutual ill-feeling.

Quite a controversy has arisen over a speech made at a dinner in London by one of the German editors, Dr. Theodore Barth of Berlin, in which he charged the modern journalist with being one of the chief causes of wars.

After a few conventional sentences, he went on to say that the press of every civilized country was always in arms. The next conference in The Hague would treat the difficult question of disarmament, but it ought to begin with the disarmament of the press.

The readers were the masters of the writer, and many a writer found it more convenient to follow his masters than to educate them; to make concessions to bad taste, sensations, and national prejudices than to pursue nobler aims, to elevate public feeling, to be just towards other nations, and not to be flatterer of national views.

All nations were better than they were represented to be. Misunderstanding was the mother of suspicion, and a chief reason of international quarrel. The moral duties of representative Englishmen in Germany and representative Germans in England would, he figured, limit more and more the region of misunderstanding. They need not be blind to the real differences of national interests, but must get rid of the inveterate error that what one nation gains is a loss for the other, that what one nation wins in commerce and industry on the world's market means injury for the others.

In every nation the civilizing forces were limited. It was absurd to measure the limited forces for destruction; let them use them to brighten the intellectual, moral, and economic standard of their own nations and mankind. That was real patriotism.

Lord Avebury agreed with the view that newspapers can make peace or declare war. The London Spectator, on the other hand characterizes such statements as "pure clap-net," and asserts that disagreements between nations arise only out of the respective policies of their governments.

Commenting on this controversy the New York Evening Post observes that there is truth on both sides, but asserts that the peace of England and Germany "is menaced only by the now rare indications of the German ruler and by the venomous portion of the press of both countries harping on a jealousy which has but slight grounds and little real existence."

MR. COURTNEY

The retirement of Mr. Courtney, deputy minister of finance and receiver-general of Canada, which Hon. Mr. Fielding announces will shortly occur, will close an official career marked by singular ability and of great value to this country.

The following sketch of Mr. Courtney appears in Who's Who: John Mortimer Courtney, C. M. G., deputy minister of finance and receiver-general, and secretary of the treasury board of Canada since 1878; born at Puzosno, Cornwall, July 22, 1838.

After several years spent in banking, came to Canada in 1859 to become the chief clerk of the treasury; has served on several commissions; was honorary treasurer in Canada for the Indian Famine Fund, and later of the Canadian Patriotic Fund, and has filled other offices.

Mr. Courtney is a man of quiet tastes, devoted to his work, and has been a tower of strength to succeeding finance ministers. His retirement will be a loss to the service.

The frequency with which boys are summoned before the police court on the charge of stealing or for other offences is a standing plea for more attention on the part of parents and the public to the welfare of the children. Two boys, aged thirteen, who were last week sent to the reformatory, were unable to read or write.

The Times has urged that as many citizens as possible take occasion during the school vacation period to visit the supervised playground at the Centennial school. It is not enough to let the children go there. The movement now inaugurated is one that should be continued and very largely extended.

The decision not to require the Atlantic mail steamers to call at Moville will doubtless result in some saving of time, but many a summer voyager to the old county will miss the charming bit of Irish shore scenery revealed on the run up to Moville.

District Attorney John B. Moran of Boston has accepted the prohibition party nomination for the office of governor of Massachusetts. He is early in the field, and the democrats will have to reckon with him if they fail to offer him their own nomination. John B. is moving up the line.

The sympathetic campaign in Thaw's interest is proceeding steadily in New York. The despatches today picture him in attendance at religious service in the Tombs yesterday. The hottest season is at hand.

Body of Little Harris Gibbon was Laid at Rest Saturday Evening. A particularly sad funeral took place at 9:30 o'clock p. m. Saturday last when the three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Gibbon, of Celebration street, who died of diphtheria, was laid at rest in Cedar Hill cemetery.

Little Harris MacQuarrie Gibbon was taken ill on Saturday, June 30, at the summer home of Mr. Gibbon at Riverside. No serious results were anticipated until the Monday, when he became worse and on the following day, the doctor ordered his removal to the city.

The little girl is with Mr. Gibbon's brother at Riverside. Mrs. Gibbon's sister, who contracted it on account of being with the little boy during the first part of his illness at Riverside. Both cases, however, are reported to be of a mild type and it is believed that both will be about in a few days. It was at first feared that Mr. Gibbon's little daughter, who is but a year old, would contract the disease, but it is thought that she is now out of danger.

THE LUMBER OUTLOOK. The movement of lumber in Montreal is very active owing to extensive building operations which promise to continue throughout the season, says the Canadian Lumberman. The new lumber coming on the market is being readily absorbed, and prices generally are firm. There is some weakness in birch timber for export, the demand this spring having been disappointing. The spruce trade of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia is good. A manufacturer writes us follows: "We are finding an unexampled and energetic demand for all lumber products this spring. We cannot see how prices can go any lower, as both United States and English buyers are willing to buy on contract for this season's delivery at high prices. We have closed a number of contracts for lumber which deliveries ending only with the year's end, and these at higher prices than we ever sold at before." The situation in respect to spruce is very strong, and prices to upwardly higher prices. The log drives are making satisfactory progress, rafting operations having commenced at the Douglas River at Fredericton, N. B. The cut of logs in the Province of Quebec last winter was large.

DR. PUGSLEY'S GOOD FORTUNE (New Freeman.) The news of Attorney General Pugsley's good fortune, the result of the disposal of railway and real estate interests in the west, was heard with pleasure by political friends and opponents alike. The New Freeman had prepared to publish several articles on this interesting news. At that time it was announced that Mr. Pugsley's profits would exceed a quarter of a million dollars. The writer has no doubt, from later information, that Mr. Pugsley's net profits will not be far short of $500,000, if indeed they do not exceed that magnificent figure. It was in the early eighties that Mr. Pugsley and his brother, the late Gilbert R. Pugsley, put a large amount of money in the west. Since then, in order to hold his interests there, Attorney General Pugsley has been in the habit of working man in eastern Canada. No one will envy him his good fortune, nor begrudge him a rest from his excessive labors.

THE PLAYGROUND (New Freeman.) St. John children are now enjoying the supervised playground which has been provided for them through the vigorous efforts of the Times and Telegraph newspapers, the energy of the Women's Council and the philanthropy of citizens generally. The enthusiasm with which the little ones have entered into all the plans formed for their amusement must give encouragement to the promoters.

ENGLISHMEN MAKE THE BEST HUSBANDS

Lord Northcliffe Gives His Opinion on an Interesting Subject.

NEW YORK, July 7.—Alfred Harmsworth, Lord Northcliffe, editor and owner of the London Daily Mail, who recently arrived here, in an interview praised the women of America, and the men of England. "The American girl," said the noted journalist, "lives to be adored, before and after marriage. The American man 'rushes' his wooing; after marriage he forgets to pay homage to his wife and spends his time in making money for her. The Englishman takes his time about his wooing, and after he marries he makes more love to his wife than ever. In London we have the very flower of American women as wives of Englishmen. Why does she like the Englishman for a husband? Because the Englishman knows how to honor his wife. He studies her likes and dislikes. He notes her whims, and he respects her. The American is in direct opposition to his own. While the American is busy making money for his wife, the Englishman is busy making love to her. In the last analysis the woman prefers a man who makes love to her to one who makes dollars for her and himself. The American woman is indeed fortunate. She has the advantage of having fathers who make money, and she marries the Englishman who makes love to her. "American men may make fairly good lovers before marriage, they may shower their fiancées with American beauties; they may staff sweeties down their pretty throats; they may provide all sorts of entertainments, but when it comes to the wedding, they are at a loss. They are not used to the purely material demonstration of the 'Brown Swan' brand. "He forgets to tell her that he loves her; in his business-like way, he recalls the day when he honored her with the arrival of his Boston and the looks with pride upon the four-carat solitaire, or the band of brilliants which gleam upon her third right-hand finger, and like that famous 'Ad' he thinks 'mf' ced."

MORNING NEWS Local

Transfers were issued last evening, for the first time, by the street railway, via the Cretion ferry. Patrons of the system can now transfer from Chubb's Corner to the head of Rodney wharf or vice versa. The work of double tracking the Cretion branch is being rushed along rapidly. The Agricultural Society, through its secretary, R. R. Fisher, announced that eight imported pigs of the famous Yorkshire breed. The sale was held at S. T. Golding's stable and was largely attended. The prices ranged from $8 to $14. The society will shortly meet to consider the advisability of bringing out more of these pigs, and also of importing some cows of the "Brown Swan" brand. W. H. Coy, of the firm of Coy, Edgerton & Ross, real estate and investment broker, of St. John, was recently elected to the first elderman board of that progressive city. Mr. Coy is a New Brunswicker man and well known in the maritime provinces.

No. 85 train on the I. C. R., known as the fast express from Halifax, left the rails between Stellarton and New Glasgow yesterday afternoon. No one was injured, and the only damage to the rolling stock was the breaking of some under-gear on the cars.

Cornelius O'Leary, one of the oldest passenger conductors on the C. P. R., was struck by an electric car in Ottawa yesterday morning and died at the hospital afterwards. Balloon racing is the vogue in England just now. The first one was held Saturday, when several balloons ascended from the Ranelagh Club, London, and descended during the evening in Essex. The first prize, a cup valued at fifty guineas, was won by Frank Butler. A lone highwayman held up five Yosemite Valley glacial coaches near Wawona, Calif., yesterday, and all the passengers were robbed of their money and jewelry. Because C. Meade Kenney, a prominent lawyer of Seattle, attempted to prevent Chester Thompson, a young student, from calling upon his niece, Thompson shot and fatally wounded him on Saturday night. Thompson was arrested after a struggle. It is expected that King Edward will visit Germany for the christening of his grand nephew, which will occur on Aug. 12th. Saturday was Hon. Joseph Chamberlain's 70th birthday, and as a reward, the whole city of Birmingham was a fête. Mr. Chamberlain took advantage of the occasion to give out a characteristic message to the nation, as follows: "Dear fellow-citizens as you treat us, and treat your neighbors better than you treat foreigners."

Mrs. D. X. Coughlan, of Boston, is in St. John on her way to Bathurst.

MR. COURTNEY WILL RETIRE

Deputy Minister of Finance to Leave Government Service on November 1.

Ottawa, July 7.—On the finance items in the budget today, Mr. Fielding said that Mr. Courtney, the deputy minister, was retiring. He had tendered his resignation and would retire on November 1. The minister said that he intended appointing a gentleman in the service as deputy minister and taking into the department a new man which would strengthen it as assistant deputy minister. There was a vacancy in the department for a law clerk. He did not intend filling this vacancy, but would appoint a legal gentleman to be assistant deputy. The salary of the new deputy would be $4,000, and the assistant deputy $3,500. Mr. Fielding stated that the cost of the tariff commission had been between $14,000 and $15,000. A vote of $2,000 more was being taken. However, there would be no hearing before the preparation of the tariff, but it might be advisable to send a committee to look into some special industry. In reply to Dr. Sprague, Mr. Fielding said that the house was in a hurry to review the budget of what this branch was doing. He paid a high compliment to Dr. Doughty, the architect, for the excellent work he had been doing. R. L. Borden, said that Dr. Doughty was an enthusiast. His whole heart was in his work and he had wonderful capacity for system. There were unusual qualifications in the same man. "I venture to say," said the leader of the opposition, "that the government and parliament would make no mistake in giving him a very liberal vote and a pretty free hand as to how he shall carry on his work. He ought to have the assistance of an experienced staff."

AN ADDED ATTRACTION

The Gitanas, a band of Scandinavian sports, are offered as a special attraction in the Zoological Annex of the Bazaar & Bailey circus. These interesting people sing, quartet, folk-songs, play upon various and unfamiliar musical instruments, and present the characteristic dances of the roving Romany bands of Northern and Central Europe. The Gitanas, in connection with several other companies of special entertainers, give an added zest to the hour spent in the circus so before the beginning of the triple-ring circus performance in the big hippodrome pavilion.

The great Palace Hotel, pride of the city, is seen tumbling in upon itself, a royal hostelry one minute, a shapeless wreck the next. Leonard J. Mack will tell the story of the destruction as he sees it. In addition, an excellent programme of comedy and sensational subjects will be seen. The tour is under the direction of Meyer Cohen.

THE OAR

BELGIANS WIN NOT POPULAR.

LONDON, July 6.—The capture of the Grand Challenge Cup by the Belgian crew, representing the Club Nautique, provokes much newspaper comment and searchings of heart on the debatable question of British and foreign styles of rowing. The majority of rowing men appear to still pin their faith to the Eton award, and are inclined to think that had the Leuveners been able to put in a representative crew to defend the cup, the Belgians would have been defeated. The Daily Graphic thinks the incident is likely to accentuate the anti-foreign agitation, and expresses the hope that if any change is made it will be in the direction of providing and awarding an extra national race at Henley and not for the exclusion of foreigners, adding that in any case if the proposal of Mr. Fletcher, the Oxford coach, that no further entries for the Henley regatta for any American rowing club be accepted should be adopted, it would be almost a national calamity.

The Times expresses the hope that the stewards will discover a less drastic way out of the difficulty than Coach Fletcher's harsh and invidious proposal to exclude Americans.

MAY SUTTON LOSES TENNIS CHAMPIONSHIP TO MISS DOUGLASS.

WIMBLEDON, Eng., July 7.—Miss May Sutton, of California, on Thursday lost the tennis championship of Great Britain, which she won last year, being defeated by Miss Douglas by 2-0. The scores were 6-3, 9-7.

MAY SUTTON LOSES TENNIS CHAMPIONSHIP TO MISS DOUGLASS.

WIMBLEDON, Eng., July 7.—Miss May Sutton, of California, on Thursday lost the tennis championship of Great Britain, which she won last year, being defeated by Miss Douglas by 2-0. The scores were 6-3, 9-7.

The English player took the first set somewhat easily, but the American, Miss Douglas, made a desperate effort to make up the lost ground and retain the British title. Both played almost entirely from the base lines; the only time Miss Sutton played near the net was disastrous, resulting in the loss of a point. Miss Sutton won the first

The new city directory for 1906 has been issued. It contains 790 pages, with a list of 18,801 names, this number, figured on a basis of three to each name, would make the city's population about 56,400. At the time of printing the directory there were 100 vacant houses and about half that number vacant stores.

L. A. McAlpine is the publisher, and the printing was done by the Telegraph Publishing Company.

OPERA HOUSE TONIGHT

The author of Peek and His Mother-in-Law was certainly in good with the needs of the admirers of musical farce when he turned out such a pleasing rag-out of humorous, spontaneous situations, as are manifestly evident in this agreeable comedy connection. This is from the pen of an eastern critic whose opinions need no endorsement. This attraction, with a full complement of scenery for each act, of which there are three, appears here tonight at the Opera House and should attract those people who only go to the best. Tenbrooke-Lambert and Tenbrooke are the chief tank makers, assisted by a large and capable company.

IT TEACHES GRACEFULNESS

When watching a crowd of people walking have you ever noticed how few of them have a really graceful walk? How many of them assume a correct and graceful pose and carriage? There are very few, and the reason is they have never been taught how to do so. That is where roller skating becomes a benefit, because to make a successful roller skater one must be graceful and until they become so, they never succeed as a roller skater. The secret of roller skating is proper balancing, and this course a graceful position. For ladies, and especially children, roller skating is an aid to gracefulness, and has been applied called the poetry of motion. The St. Andrew's roller rink opens in a few days.

GORED BY A BULL

Malcolm Campbell, of Carleton, a carpenter employed on the Donaldson liner Alcides, had a narrow escape Sunday morning from being torn to pieces by an angry bull. Cattle were being put aboard and when Campbell was fencing off a gangway a bull leaped the breast board and hooked him on the side and also tore his face badly. Some carpenters hurried to his rescue and drove off the animal. Campbell was removed to his home on Munro street and Dr. Baxter was summoned.

Ex-P. E. Islander Says with Roosevelt Out of the Way Bryan Would Be President of United States.

I., where Mr. McCarthy spent his youth. Mr. McCarthy is a brother-in-law of Archbishop Ireland, and is interested in the publication of Catholic literature.

In an interview with the Telegraph, Mr. McCarthy spoke encouragingly of the United States northwest, and referring to the charges against the beef packers, and that although there was truth in the charges, President Roosevelt had given the matter too much publicity, thereby disturbing seriously the markets of the world.

Mr. McCarthy said that with Roosevelt out of the field, W. J. Bryan would occupy the White House.

A SAD CASE

Young American Tourist Becomes Insane While Crossing on the Prince Rupert.

Maynard D. Wilson, a young American tourist, while crossing the bay on the Prince Rupert, Saturday, manifested symptoms of mental derangement. The young man, who is about 18 years of age, professed that he was commander of the steamer and became so boisterous that it became necessary for the officers of the boat to lock him in the cabin. On arrival here Dr. G. O. Baxter was summoned and after examination of the patient pronounced him insane. He was taken to police headquarters, where he was kept the name of Maynard D. Wilson, 7 Belair street, Worcester, Mass., and will be there for Yarmouth, N. S., about a week ago. From there he came to Digby and took the boat to St. John. He told Deputy Chief Jenkins that he was a clerk, but did not say at what kind of work he was engaged.

Deputy Jenkins sent a telegram to Walker K. Wilson, the father of the young man, informing him of his condition and yesterday received a reply stating that Mr. Wilson would be here Tuesday to look after Maynard.

COULD NOT RECOVER MONEY FOR LIQUOR

Justice McLeod decided on Saturday afternoon, in the case of Wilkins vs. Wallace, that the plaintiff, who had purchased liquor from John O'Regan for the defendant, who resides in Moncton, could not recover, inasmuch as, his honor said, that "it was a transaction tainted with illegality"—the Canada Temperance Act being in force in Moncton.

On the first count in the suit—that of wages—Justice McLeod found for the plaintiff in the amount of $135. His honor, however, could not allow the plaintiff $30 for travelling expenses, as he did not present an itemized account.

Leave was reserved to the defendant to move to reduce the verdict, and to the plaintiff to move to increase it by $480.00, the amount claimed by him for the liquor.

Referring to the sale of the liquor, his honor said that the evidence did not show that Mr. O'Regan knew where the liquor was sold for.

Hazen & Raymond appeared for the plaintiff and M. G. Teed, K. C., for the defendant.

SCORES AMERICAN PRESS

In the course of an eloquent sermon, preached by Bishop Casey at the nine o'clock mass in the Cathedral yesterday morning, his lordship incidentally referred to the condition of modern times. The bishop stated that this was supposed to be an enlightened age and yet American newspapers were lauding a man for committing an atrocious and cowardly murder.

His lordship said that people of this age apparently did not consider the commandment "Thou shalt not kill" modern enough for them inasmuch that sentiment into the hearts of children, through the press. The bishop said that instead of being an enlightened age, it was one of ignorance and darkness.
