MAY HAVE TO GET NEW RING SITE

Troubles Come Apace for Promoters of the Jeffries-Johnson Championship Battle—District Attorney is Preparing an Opinion About it

San Francisco, May 17.—With the selection of Promoter Tex Rickard to preside over the Jeffries-Johnson battle on July 1, the sporting fraternity barely had time to draw a breath of relief today before ominous rumors of trouble at Emeryville plunged them into uncertainty and apprehension regarding the scene of the championship contest.

Tells Rickard He Must Shift?

The most disturbing of the many rumors is that Thomas H. Williams, president of the California Jockey Club, who controls the Emeryville race track, where it has been planned to build a mammoth arena for the coming battle, has withdrawn his support from the public enterprise and has informed Promoter Rickard that he must find some other place in which to hold the fight.

Another report was that Rickard and Gleason are negotiating with the people at Richmond, who provided a site for the recent fight between Ad Wolcott and Battling Nelson when the fight was barred from other trans-Pacific bay towns.

The possibility of an enforced change of location for the holding of the contest has turned speculation to San Francisco itself and many profess belief that the promoters have turned their attention to this city.

The choice of Rickard for referee, following turbulent incidents enacted at yesterday's conference, is considered by many as merely a tentative selection to give the fighters a chance to get together on some one else.

Jeffries Has More Trouble

Ben Lomond, May 17.—Jeffries' recurrent skin trouble is worrying both himself and his trainers and it is regarded that the new breaking out may interfere to some extent with his training. TWENTY-SEVEN CONVICTS LOST LIVES IN PRISON FIRE

Birmingham, Ala., May 17.—Dr. W. A. Burns, state physician of mines, has returned from Lucile, Bibb county, where a fire destroyed the prison stockade. He said: "Twenty-seven convicts are missing and there is no doubt they are dead; the three white convicts escaped. The stockade was burned by three ringleaders who attempted some time ago to burn the place. Two of these were shot down by the guards. It is believed that most of the convicts were sleeping when the fire alarm was turned in and a stampede that followed resulted in the deaths. There were 150 convicts employed, it was lucky that so many of them escaped from the fire, in view of the quickness with which the flames spread."

Kenora, Ont., May 17.—(Special)—Leaving a letter addressed to her husband saying she would commit suicide, Mrs. O. H. Price, living on the outskirts of the town, has disappeared. The general belief is that she has gone to Winnipeg. The woman left a young child behind.

Winnipeg, May 17.—(Special)—Owing to the scarcity of telegraph operators all over the continent, the C. P. R. has granted the demands of the commercial telegraph operators for an increase of the minimum wages of first class men from $80 to $110 a month, with a proportionate increase for less experienced men. The increase will date from May 1.

Winnipeg, May 17.—(Special)—Two men and two women, believed to be white slaves from Montreal, were arrested yesterday by the police in the restricted district, and the authorities claim they have a good case, showing they have been working here for some time among waitresses and foreign born servants. The gang was watched here on information from Montreal. They gave the names of Salvatore Salerno, Stefano Yacuzzi, Mary Esposito and Marie Rose Arena. Two suspects held are Abram Glasberg and Jennie Smith, alias O'Rourke.

Winnipeg, May 17.—(Special)—The remarkable epidemic of suicide in this city during the past two weeks claimed two more victims yesterday, when the body of Louis Khaz was found floating in the Red River below the city, and H. Langley shot himself on the banks of the Assiniboine river in sight of several residents of that neighborhood.

Khaz was just out of the hospital and left a note saying he was sick and out of money. Langley told a similar story in a long letter addressed to the public.

PROTEST AGAINST HIGHER FREIGHT RATES

Chicago, May 17.—Vigorously opposing the proposed advance in freight rates, shippers from all sections of the country gathered in conference here today at one of the largest meetings of shippers in many years. The conference was called to order by W. H. Burt, vice-president of the Illinois Manufacturers' Association, under whose auspices the meeting was held.

All the speakers declared the rates on many articles are already too high and that the carriers are wrong in their contention that higher rates are necessary to meet the increased running expenses.

Dr. Inch is spending a few days here on his way home from Toronto and is receiving a very warm welcome.

A BOY'S STRUGGLE FOR LIFE

Mr. R. J. New, of 124 Baldwin St., Toronto, says: "I can trace my trouble to when I had the measles five years ago, from which I never really recovered. Some of the best physicians attended me, but with months of suffering in my throat, cough, bronchitis, and then pneumonia. Months after my recovery, I had not been able to get on my feet, and my nights, fearful coughs, weakening night sweats, and my body a mere shadow. I had no appetite, and my heart acted as if it was beating away. It seemed as if I was in the hands of the Lakeview Home for Sick Children, and came home greatly improved, but the cold spells of October took me all my feet again. The doctor advised me to send him to the Lakeview Home, but he had no more to do than my financial resources, and such a step seemed out of the question."

"At this point we tried PSYCHINE, and human life cannot describe the change that took place. No words can express the happiness of my mother and myself who was fighting his way back to life and health. PSYCHINE had a moral that which will give the doctor's prescriptions had failed to check. Day by day I felt better, and I had no more cold spells. By using PSYCHINE I was completely cured, and developed into a strong, sturdy lad."

PSYCHINE is the Greatest Stomach Restorer and System Builder known to medical science, and should be used for COUGHS, COLDS, WEAK LUNGS, LOSS OF APPETITE, WEARINESS.

ST. STEPHEN BANK

CONDITIONS REVEALED

Statement Submitted at Annual Meeting Yesterday—Mr. Kessen Reports

St. Stephen, N. B., May 16.—The annual meeting of the shareholders of the St. Stephen Bank was held in the office of that bank this afternoon at 3 o'clock. In the absence of the president, Frank Todd, who is not well, and is now at a sanatorium in New York, Vice-President John D. Chipman presided.

There was a large number of shareholders, as well as of the directors present. Considerable interest was manifested, and several of the shareholders expressed themselves very freely. One of them said he did not consider President Todd's $100,000 gift, but a just due to the bank; another suggested that some of the other officials be made responsible for the main meeting was harmonious and the condition of affairs was generally accepted. The old board of directors was allowed to stand. A committee consisting of George J. Clarke, J. E. Ganong, and Henry E. Hill was appointed to co-operate with Curator Kessen in winding up the affairs of the bank. Vice-President Chipman reviewed the situation, details of which have already appeared, and closed as follows:

"The condition of the bank is found to be such as makes it necessary to wind up its affairs."

R. E. Kessen, after stating that he had been appointed curator on March 7, continued his report as follows:

"As far as possible all the accounts have been balanced and verified. The following statement represents the condition of the bank on May 14, as audited by the books: Notes in circulation $29,960.00; Due to other banks 786.89; Deposits 28,857.00; Drafts outstanding 13,583.71; Dividends unpaid 20.00; Capital paid up 20,000.00; Reserve 35,000.00; Profit and loss balance 108,610.01.

Total $744,820.21.

Deposit with Dominion government for note circulation $13,500.00; Due by other banks 39,526.99; Railway and other bonds 24,885.50; Bank equipment 2,000.00; Bank premises 20,000.00; Real estate 4,968.42; Loans and discounts 641,139.30.

Total $744,820.21.

"The money that has been received from all sources since the suspension of the bank has been used in the redemption of notes in circulation and in payment of the Dominion government deposits, the latter being a preferred claim."

"The notes in circulation are now reduced to $29,960, and against this the Dominion government holds a deposit of $13,500. The balance still outstanding is simply provided for, and the notes will be paid as they are presented. Interest upon them has ceased to accrue since the 2nd of May."

"The overdue and maturing loans have been realized wherever possible, and additional security obtained in cases where it could be secured."

"A very large proportion of the loans is of such nature as to make their quick liquidation impossible, and the consent of the shareholders can best be served by granting time for realization."

"It is not advisable, and at the present time it is not allowable, for the shareholders to be informed of the names of those who are indebted to the bank or the amount involved. Were such information to be generally known the prospect of the bank realizing upon the loans would be seriously affected. Serious losses have been made and large amounts must be written off now and in the future. These losses will probably absorb the capital, reserve and profit and loss accounts. No reliable estimate can be made as to the final result, but it is hoped that a call upon the shareholders' double liability will not be necessary."

"The large profit and loss balance is accounted for by the settlement recently made with the present Mr. Todd, the amount received having been credited to this account."

"Notes in circulation were $109,933 at the time of the bank's failure, and this has been reduced to $29,960 less $13,500 held by the Dominion government as deposit. There are sufficient funds to meet this outstanding demand, and a small balance, but not sufficient to pay a dividend to the depositors."

"It is stated that the depositors would receive the amounts due them probably in certain per cent instalments, when the first payment would be made. It could not say, but it will probably be some months."

Many Women who are Splendid Cooks dread having to prepare an elaborate dinner because they are not sufficiently strong to stand over an intensely hot coal range. This is especially true in summer. Every woman takes pride in the table sets, but often it is done at tremendous cost to her own vitality through the weakening effect of cooking on a coal range in a hot kitchen.

It is no longer necessary to wear yourself out preparing a fine dinner. Even in the heat of summer you can cook a large dinner without being hot or out.

STOMACH LIVER & LUNGS

Each of the chief organs of the body is a link in the chain of life. A chain is no stronger than its weakest link, the body is no stronger than its weakest organ. If there is weakness of stomach, liver or lungs, there is a weak link in the chain of life which may snap at any time. Often this so-called "weakness" is caused by lack of the right amount of exercise or diet of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. Diseases and weaknesses of the stomach and other organs are cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, or dissolved stomach is cured, diseases of other organs which seem to come from the stomach but which have their origin in a diseased condition of the stomach and other organs of digestion are cured.

In the death of James Osher Secord, at 291 Palmerston avenue, Toronto, on the 12th inst., there passed away the last member of the third generation of one of the old Loyalist families of New Brunswick. The deceased was the son of Capt. Secord, of Belleisle, Kings county (N. B.), and was the last of nine children. Secord's father came to St. John with the Loyalists. The family first settled on the St. John river, and later in Kings county, where they were well known and respected. James O. Secord was born near the Long Beach, N. B., in 1822, but his family moved to Kings county when he was very young. He learned the trade of blacksmith, which he followed for several years. His faith in religion and temperance was unshaken, and he held his convictions to the last, passing away with the strong hope of a glorious resurrection. Knowing that his advanced age was bringing the end nearer, he longed for release during the last few months and awaited death without a fear or doubt. Mr. Secord leaves a widow, two sons, Rev. THE LOYALISTS

There are many children in St. John schools today who are not descendants of the Loyalists, and to whom the story of the hardships of the pioneers is not familiar reading. The eighteenth of May is annually recognized and designated as Loyalist Day, and the children of the city schools enjoy a holiday. Doubtless all the teachers take pains to teach them a lesson in local history in connection with the observance of the day. There is a disposition in the United States today to credit the men and women who came to Canada in 1783 with higher motives and to regard them with a higher respect than in former years. A less prejudiced and more exact scrutiny of the history of the Revolutionary period has led to the admission that the Loyalists were actuated by the highest motives, and it is indisputable that they were men of an high character as those against whom they fought, and at whose instance their fortunes were despoiled at the close of the war.

Champions of the Loyalists will not, however, strengthen their case by any feigning upon the character or motives of the leaders of the Revolution. If all the descendants of the Loyalists today were asked to express their views, the vast majority would say that while they honored the loyalty of those who fought for King George, their sympathies could not be at together withheld from those who resented the treatment they received from the British government of that day, and rebelled against it. It is a just source of complaint in Canada that United States historians have been very one-sided. We should not follow that bad example; and while we honor the Loyalists we can respect the motives of the Revolutionaries. English historians do not overlook the fatal folly of the government of that day, nor should we.

But when this has been said the splendid record of Loyalist heroism and devotion remains to us, a source of pride, and an inspiration to the patriotism of the people—not only their descendants, but the new-comers who are now citizens of this country. There is still no adequate memorial to the founders of this city. Doubtless when the city grows and its wealth becomes greater, the citizens will see to it that among the reminders of the past the greatest will be a memorial in honor of the Loyalists. This city is more interesting from the historical viewpoint than any other in Canada, with the single exception of Quebec. Some day the story will be told in marble and bronze and granite. For the present, let us keep alive the memory of the heroic men and women who upheld the flag they loved amid the privations of the wilderness.

THE SOCIAL PROBLEM

There is much food for thought in the following article from the Victoria Colvost, dealing with the increase of poverty in the world:

The International Secretary of the Salvation Army, who says that he works in almost every where in the world expresses the disturbing opinion that "extreme poverty is increasing." Indeed, he asserts this more as an unquestioned matter of fact than as a matter of opinion. He discloses an alarming state of things. With all that has been accomplished in the way of religious teaching with all that has been achieved in the way of industrial development, with the undeniable fact that the accumulated wealth of the world is vastly greater than it ever was before, we have this extraordinary fact that the very poor are increasing in numbers. At the same time we think it is true that the average degree of comfort enjoyed by those of the population who are not of the pauper class, is greater than ever. Where shall we look for the compelling cause of the increase of grinding poverty? We suppose one explanation is that the birth rate among the very poor exceeds the death rate. There are instances where persons born in abject poverty have raised themselves above it, but they are few, and the tendency of all the influences of the slums is depressing. Children are born every year by the thousands almost without the instinct of improvement, and even if they have a spark of it, their physical condition is such that they are incapable of sustained effort, and their surroundings are a perpetual discouragement. It is often said that if people are in dire poverty it is their own fault; but it is not. There may be little excuse for the son or daughter of a family above the pauper class who descends into it; but those who are born in the lowest social stratum are not culpable because they remain there. As well reproach a fly, caught in pitch, for not flying as blame one of the submerged Tenth because he does not by his own unaided efforts arise out of it. In nine cases out of ten he looks upon the position in which he was born as the only position he can hope to occupy. It must be awful to live without hope, but hundreds of thousands of our fellow creatures in the great cities do so from the cradle to the grave. The higher strata of society seem to them as unattainable as the stars.

"How long such conditions can continue without widespread disaster being the result we shall not pretend to say. Society is sitting on the safety valve. Our police and military forces are strong enough to keep these unhappy creatures in subjection. But this may not always be the case. It was not the case in France in the days of the revolution, nor yet nearly a century later in the days of the commune. In the end in both instances what we called law and order triumphed. The forces of destruction spent themselves in an explosion. We may not be too certain that this will always happen. If, as the Salvation Army officer says, extreme poverty is increasing, the danger that the next explosion will be cataclysmal is growing greater. The duty of those who have to provide for the needs of those who have not is becoming more and more imperative every day."

Of course, extreme poverty is not as much in evidence in Canada as in Europe, for the reason that this country is growing and gives its millions elbow room; but this country will nevertheless be affected, and is even now being affected in some degree. Among the immigrants who come here are some of those children born "almost without the instinct of improvement," and some who were criminals before they came, and whose tendency is criminal. Others bring with them a sense of wrong done them by society, and their case is a social one, spreading the spirit of social unrest. There must come, sooner or later, a leveling up and a leveling down, to make the distance between the extremes of social position. The problem is the greatest of all that press for solution in the world today.

ENORMOUS GROWTH OF TRADE

The Ottawa Journal observes that "in all the wonderful story of Canada's recent growth as indicated in ever-expanding commercial quantities and values there is no set of statistics showing a more impressive record than that dealing with the foreign trade." Here are the figures quoted from the official records:—

1890	$239,025,269
1898	304,475,738
1900	381,317,220
1902	423,939,444
1904	472,733,038
1906	509,872,845
1908	650,733,131
1910	677,142,189

(Estimated)..... $90,000,000

The Journal remarks that in European countries an annual increase from two to five per cent is regarded as an indication of national well-being, but in Canada the increase is nearer fifteen to twenty per cent. Canada's foreign trade has doubled in ten years and trebled in fifteen years. Hence, as the Journal says:—"That Canada, after using generously the product of her manufactures, farms, forests and mines can annually sell a surplus of eight hundred million to the rest of the world is the surest sign of commercial health that can well be offered."

TO THE OPTIMIST

The Ottawa Citizen calls upon the optimist to declare himself. Some people are afraid of Halley's comet. Some see chaos in the strife between labor and capital. Some see moral rain forebodingly in the crimes in high life, and corruption following the death of Edward the Peacemaker.

What, then is the optimist's opportunity? "Why," says the Citizen, "simply to talk good common sense into the public ear, and to refuse to entertain any thought of ill, or to pass on to others any taint of error that may come from some quaking coward or superstitious imager. When others are swaying off their balance, there is need for the optimist to keep his poise. When others fuss about the superficial externals, the optimist must needs dig to the verities and declare the deeper and fundamental fact. Nothing is more fatal to superstitious speculations and fears than a hearty laugh. No myth will consent to stay to be made fun of. You can smile a superstition out of sight. Fear will never sing a death with faith, and when optimism takes the platform, pessimism skulls through the door. Let every optimist become aggressively optimistic. Let him thrust his candle into the darkness, and fling his cheery note into the labbling discord. Let him declare the realities of life and draw the minds of men away from its uncertainty. Only the superficial man can retain his pessimism. A knowledge of the great facts of the world and humanity ever beats optimism. Let us therefore declare them, and utilize to the full as good citizens this splendid opportunity of the optimist."

New Brunswick is sending a lot of pulp wood to Maine this year. A few years ago scarcely any was exported. The Maine pulp and paper mills get most of the benefit.

If the C. P. R. should fail them, the people of Halifax, if President Johnson of the Board of Trade represents their feelings, will be plunged into inconvertible sorrow. But perhaps Mr. Johnson is an exception.

The story of the St. Stephen Bank appears to emphasize the relative value of home and some foreign securities. "A very large proportion of the loans is of such a nature as to make their quick liquidation impossible. Serious losses have been made, and large amounts must be written off now and in the future," says the curator.

CLOSING THE DOOR

(Irene P. McKeahan, in the Century Magazine.)

I have closed the door on Doubt; I will go by what light I can find.

And hold up my hands, and reach them out; I've been to break forth and reappear.

To the glimmer of God in the dark and call:

"If I am thine, though I grope and stumble and fall, I serve; and Thy service is kind."

I have closed the door on Fear. He has lived with me far too long. If he were to break forth and reappear I should lift my eyes and look at the sky.

And sing aloud, and run lightly by: He will never follow a song.

I have closed the door on Gloom. His house has too narrow a view. I must seek for a larger and wider room, With windows to open and let in the sun.

And radiant lamps when the day is done, And the breeze of the world blowing through.

ROOSEVELT

To the triumphant progress of Mr. Roosevelt in his gradual home-coming an analogy may be found in the tour of Grant, and a noble comment in the words of Whitman:

"To U. S. G. Returned from His World's Tour.

"What best I see in thee, Is not where thou most'st down history's great highways, Ever undimmed by time shoots warlike Or that thou sat'st where Washington sat, ruling the land in peace."

Or thou the man whom feudal Europe felled, venerable Asia swarmed upon, Who walked with kings with even pace the round world's promenade; But that in foreign lands, in all thy walks with kings, Those prairie sovereigns of the West, Kansas, Missouri, Illinois, Ohio, Indiana millions, comrades, farmers, soldiers, all to the front, Invisibly with thee walking with kings who pace the world's round promenade, Were all so justified."

At home or abroad, Theodore Roosevelt remains himself, and always will remain. —Editorial in Collier's for May 7.

A FELLOW FEELING.

From the city's roar and riot, In the waning light I steal, To a place where all is quiet, Where sweet silence comes to hush All the pain that noise and bustle Left within my aching brain— Where birds sing and breezes rustle Through the long and leafy lane.

In my boyhood here I wandered, Here where first I sought in scores, As I drew them in I pondered, Whether Jimmy'd do the chores, Long upon the shore I staid, Where the little whirlpools spin; Up and down the shore I sailed, And I drew the suckers in.

By the river now I listen, As the bell at eve I hear, But no baited hook shall gladden By the water lily's cup, I'm not yearning now for any Spoon the waters dark conceal; I've been taken in by many— I know how the suckers feel!

WOMAN'S REASONS FOR ASKING FOR THE VOTE

Under the heading "The Woman's Reason—Because," a circular favoring votes for women gives these "because's."

Because women have to obey the laws just as men do, they should vote equally with men.

Because women pay taxes just as men do, thus supporting the government, they should vote equally with men.

Because women suffer from bad government, which is a government of the people, by the people and for the people, and women are people, they should vote on an equality with men.

Because women need to be trained to a higher sense of social and civic responsibility, and such sense develops by use, they should vote equally with men.

Because women are the consumers, and the consumers need fuller representation in politics, they should vote equally with men.

Because women are citizens of a democracy, which is a government of the people, by the people and for the people, and women are people, they should vote on an equality with men.

Equal suffrage for men and women. Women need it. Men need it. The state needs it. Why? Because women need to give their help. Men need to have their help. The state needs to use their help.

It is thought that Rev. H. D. Marr will succeed Rev. Neil McLaughlan as pastor of the Portland Methodist church, and that Mr. Marr will be followed in Queen Square church by Rev. W. AMUSEMENTS FOR OURSELVES AND OTHERS
NICKEL HAS FINE SHOW.
The Nickel program last evening was thoroughly enjoyable for those who like good music and also for those whose chief delight is in the pictures. The happily constituted party take pleasure in both the singing of the number particularly fine. The Nickel has presented many singers and women, but none more finished than Miss Moneybags. Her singing of the song "Three for Jack" was a real treat. The Nickel orchestra is a fine one. The pictures included a strong Biograph. The Way of the World, with all the dramatic force and detail which make this picture so popular. An Edison comedy drama of the Klondike, and a French comedy full of lighter-completing incidents. With all this and the Nickel orchestra's excellent music, it certainly was a good programme.

THE CLIMAX NEXT MONDAY, OPERA HOUSE.
What is promised as the forthcoming engagement of Joseph M. Weber's charming melodrama "The Climax," by Edward Locke, which is announced at the Opera House next week.
"The Climax" is said to be one of the greatest plays of the century, abounding with delicious humor, absorbing romance and exquisite melodies which are entwined throughout the plot. The drama is having its most successful run at Weber's Theatre, New York, where theatrical prophets have predicted it will be seen for a year. There are four great characters in the play and the scenes are laid in New York city. The story is that of a young girl who is aspiring for an operatic career.

MR. SKAES' ITEM
It First Appeared in One of Mark Twain's Books
The famous "Mr. Skaes' Item" which appeared in the first issue of "The Jumping Frog of Calaveras," was one of the late Mark Twain's happiest hits. It ran as follows:
"Distressing Accident--Last evening about 6 o'clock, as Mr. William Schuyler, an old and respectable citizen of South Park, was leaving his residence to go downtown, as has been his usual custom for many years, with the exception only of a short interval in the spring of 1880, during which he was confined to his bed by injuries received in attempting to stop a runaway horse by thoughtlessly placing himself directly in its wake and throwing up his hands and shouting, 'Whoa, whoa, whoa!' as the animal, who had done some single moment's notice, must inevitably have frightened the animal still more instead of checking its speed, although disastrous enough to himself as it was, and rendered more melancholy and distressing by reason of the presence of his wife's mother, who was there and saw the sad occurrence notwithstanding it is at least likely, though not necessarily so, that she should be reconnoitering in another direction when incidents occur, not being vivacious and on the lookout, as a general thing, but even the reverse, as her own mother is said to have stated, who is no more, but died in the full hope of a glorious resurrection, upwards of three years ago, aged 90, being a Christian woman and without guile, as it were, or property, in consequence of the fire of 1889, which destroyed every single thing she had in the world. But such is life. Let us all take warning by this solemn occurrence, and let us endeavor so to conduct ourselves that when we come to die we can do it. Let us place our hands upon our hearts and say with earnestness and sincerity that from this day forth we will be aware of the intoxicating bowl."
First Edition of the California.

DRESSER BAGS
A convenient set of three small consecutive bags, which will prove wonderfully convenient if hung beside the dressing table. It is made from a yard length of pongee, Dresden or plain ash dillon, divided into three equal parts, folded into bag shape, the edges overcast with heavy twine, matching the color of the selvage and the tops equipped with rather long ribbon hangers. The latter joined under the big pocket or a silk-covered cushion.

LOCAL BALL SEASON HAS GOOD START
A 1 to 0 Game Won by St. Josephs--I.C.R. League This Evening--Cameron, Corkery and Stirling Tonight--Rickard Referee of Big Fight
I. C. R. League.
On the Every Day Club grounds this evening the I. C. R. League will open their season. The opposing sides will be the Creams of the Island and the Clippers of the Upper Yard. The boys have been utilizing spare time in getting into shape and in both teams there is some material for snappy players. All the teams have a good following and there is all kinds of interest as to the outcome of the first game. It is figured that some line will be had on what is considered two of the fastest teams in the league.
The game will start at 7 o'clock, sharp, with Arthur Mellish as umpire. There will be no admittance fee.
A number of players of the Commercial League and some of the members of the Clippers of the South End League were out for work on the Every Day Club grounds last evening and the men are sending out shape. Everything looks rosy for some gilded ball on the grounds.

Local Season Well Opened.
The Inter-Society league was opened on the Shamrocks grounds last evening by a whirlwind game between the old rivals St. Peter's and St. Joseph's, and was won by the latter by the score of 1 to 0. It was not hitting that won the game, as each side had only one run to credit. The score follows:

Major league managers are expected to devise a way to protect themselves from star players who handicap their teams during the first weeks of the season by refusing to report for the spring training trip.
George Stone, the Brown's left fielder, is a striking example of how lack of spring training may hurt a ball club.
Stone failed to condition himself at Houston with the other Browns. He is not yet in good condition. His lack of batting practice has been apparent in every game in which he has played. Had Stone been in condition at the opening of the season and hit anywhere near to form the Browns would probably have won half the games they have lost.

Jack Taylor, the former star National League pitcher, as he is to be seen in the Victoria Rink tonight, will be seen in an exhibition bout, and later said he was ready to pitch. He was tried out and was beaten.

Athletic
Cameron and Corkery Arrive.
Fred Cameron, of Amherst, and James Corkery of Toronto, who are to run a five mile race in the Victoria Rink tonight with Ernest Stirling, arrived in the city yesterday. Both say that for the present at least they will not join the professional ranks.

WOMAN OF 90 RECALLS VISIT OF COMET IN '35
'Falling Stars' Which Set Straw Stacks Afire--People Feared World Was to be Destroyed
Mrs. Adaline Degarmo, of Marion, Ohio, who celebrated her 91st birthday anniversary on April 8, was an eyewitness to the visit of Halley's comet seven years ago and remembers distinctly the night of the falling stars the year before.
The night of the falling stars Mrs. Degarmo and her parents had retired.
'During the night,' said Mrs. Degarmo, 'mother came to my bed and awoke me and told me to get up and dress, as something terrible was happening. It was about ten o'clock, and the rain of stars continued until about midnight. The night was very beautiful, and I can remember it as well as if it only happened last night. The next day meteorites were found. Straw stacks in the neighborhood were set on fire, and the people became much frightened, thinking that the world was coming to an end. Many of the neighbors came running to our home, and I can remember how astonished they were at the calmness which we displayed. Some said to me, 'Mamma, aren't you afraid?' and I replied, 'No, I don't think God is ready to destroy the world by fire just yet. Many became very ill and some died of fright. It was about a year after that that the comet made its appearance and frightened the people who were sure this time that God was going to destroy the world.
'The comet was very bright and was visible to everybody. I was then a little girl, but I can remember that it had a long tail that stretched across the sky. It was visible and very bright for a number of evenings, and then gradually disappeared. To us it was a very remarkable and awful spectacle, and while it was a beautiful sight yet it carried a sinister meaning that held the people in a great fear.
The feeble old lady smiling, closed her narrative with these words:
'I knew God did not intend to destroy the earth just then by fire, because there was so much wickedness all about me, and I was sure that the people without giving them a chance to repent. So I was not afraid, but many others were.'

PUGLISTS AND THEIR PET PUNCHES
Every pitcher has a cute curve which he picks up to puzzle a batsman in a pinch, every slugger can kill a certain curve, every race horse has a bend for soft or hard footing to flash his fleetness, every gapper has a favorite grip and every fighter likes to fire his tape and set the mark in a certain groove to score his knockout.
The pet punch of a puglist has often been predominantly powerful to a successfully executed rose on the part of a foe which resulted in his downfall. The entire system of many fighters is built on their particular punches. They fight with the object of bearing across the intervening space between them and their opponent past the guard, this favorite punch of Jack Johnson, the present occupant of the heavyweight throne, relies on one way to stretch his foe across the ropes and his guard is necessarily drawn wide and his glove with terrific impact on the vital spot.
The Texas has a masterly left hand, but a right hand approved in the eye in the topped over Tommy Burns, Stanley Ketchel, and it is the one with which he expects to execute his finishing stroke on the boiler-maker.
The hardest hitter in the American ring is Stanley Ketchel, the Michigan marvel, but his fights in wild sports, and frequently over Tommy Burns, Stanley Ketchel, and it is the one with which he expects to execute his finishing stroke on the boiler-maker.

SINGENNES MEETS WITH ACCIDENT IS; TOWED DOWN RIVER

While on her way down river yesterday morning about 11 o'clock the steamer Singennes broke one of her paddles. The accident happened when the steamer was just across the river above Evandale. It is thought the wheel struck a log and the iron rim that holds the paddles was knocked off. As soon as it was found that the boat was disabled the anchor was thrown overboard but as there was quite a little wind at the time and the water was very deep at the place, probably about fifty feet, the anchor dragged on did not reach bottom, and the steamer drifted across to Evandale.

JUDGE McLEOD SPEAKS OF THE KING'S DEATH

Holds His First Sitting of Chancery Division This Morning—A Number of Cases Up

Mr. Justice McLeod opened his first sitting of the Chancery Division this morning in the Fugatey building. By the provisions of the judicature act, two judges are assigned to preside over the chancery court instead of one as under the old practice. Chief Justice Barker has been judge in equity and Mr. Justice McLeod was appointed by him to act with him in chancery.

In opening the May sittings of the court, His Honor took the occasion to refer to his appointment by the chief justice and to the death of His Majesty King Edward VII. Several prominent barristers were in court when His Honor mentioned His late Majesty's name and they arose to their feet and with bowed heads listened to His Honor's fitting eulogy of the departed monarch.

His Honor said in part: "It is but fitting that I should, on this occasion, address a few words on the death of our late sovereign King Edward VII. He was a great and a great man. The external affairs of the government occupied his attention and many a crisis was overcome by his diplomacy. The loss which the empire has sustained seems to me irreparable, but in his son and successor, His Majesty King George V., we have a good king."

"King Edward was called by the peace-maker, and rightly so. We, the Canadian people, loyal to the mother country, join with the rest of the colonies in mourning King George V. has had excellent training and of him we expect great things. The King is dead, long live the King."

The case of the Hon. William Pugsley, K. C. M. P., vs. the New Brunswick Coal Company, goes over until the July session of the court. Dr. W. B. Wallace, K. C., C. C., the defendant.

The case of the attorney-general vs. the St. John Lumber Company, on the application of T. P. Regan, stood over until the July sittings.

On motion of M. G. Teed, K. C., the case of Shaw et al vs. Robinson et al was stood over until the July sittings. W. W. Allen, K. C., and Hon. H. F. McLeod for the defendants, consenting.

The following common motions were made:— R. A. Borden, of Moncton, moved for the appointment of a guardian in the matter of Wasil McDonald and others, infants. The court considers.

H. H. Pickett read the petition of Robert C. Mosher, an infant, by his mother and next friend, Sarah Mosher, asking for the appointment of his mother as guardian and leave to sell his interest in certain real estate in St. Martin's. The court considers.

D. King Hazen, in the matter of Harriet O. Howard, a lunatic, presented the petition of Hon. J. D. Hazen asking to be appointed a committee to look after the personal affairs of the lunatic. This was granted.

Mr. Mallin, K. C., on behalf of the committee, moved to reaffirm the report of Charles F. Sanford, master in Chancery, in the matter of James McGivrey, a lunatic. W. W. Allen, K. C., Dr. W. B. Wallace, K. C., and Edmund S. Ritchie, opposed the application in part. Mr. Mallin appeared for the committee, Beverly Steves, James A. McGivrey and Andrew McNeil.

Allen appears for Margaret Golden and William H. Golden. Dr. Wallace appears for William J. Golden and thirteen others. Mr. Ritchie for John McGivrey. The court considers.

The court adjourns sine die.
