BLISSVILLE.

BLISSVILLE, Sunbury Co., Nov. 24.—The funeral of the late E. B. Roberts of Welsford was held here today. A short service was conducted at Welsford by Rev. G. W. Colston. The sale of the goods enumerated below will commence at Half-past Eight on MONDAY Morning. Preparation for this Sale has been made on a large scale. Every pair is from the celebrated D. & A. factory. This alone is a guarantee of their quality and fit, no matter what price you pay for them. There will be seven lots placed on sale. The sizes run from 18 to 30. Some prices have not all the sizes, but all sizes are in some of the prices. These Corsets are seconds, but the only defect in most of them is in a drop stitch, or a slight soil, or some little defect, which would preclude them from going from the factory as perfect goods—yet they are not in any way the worse for it.

No. 1 lot is priced 50c. No. 2 lot is priced 25c. No. 3 lot, which has the largest number, in the lot, is priced 25c. No. 4 lot is 90c. and contains many excellent Corsets worth $1.00 a pair. No. 5 lot is priced 90c. a pair. This lot contains many pairs that are worth $1.25, and some as high as $1.50, and many of these have four garters attached.

No. 6 lot is priced 90c. a pair. Many of these have four garters attached, and are of the higher class of Corsets up to $2.00 a pair.

No. 7 lot is priced $1.25. Many in this lot retail usually at $2.50 a pair. They are the high grade Corsets of the most perfect fitting shapes and best material.

We will attend to letter orders for the above in the rotation in which they are received. Money will be returned on any orders that came in too late.

WRESTLING

LIGHT WEIGHT CHAMPION. Joe Gilbert, the champion light weight wrestler of the United States, arrived in the city yesterday and will remain here for some days. He intends to witness the bout in the York Theatre next Tuesday night between George Schnable and "Emile" Maupas, and says he is willing to meet any of the big wrestlers in a hand-to-hand match, catch as catch can style, or will accept anyone else in any style of wrestling. Gilbert is a likely looking chap, and last night wrestled with Schnable for twenty minutes at the Neptune Club rooms, making a decidedly favorable impression. He has met and won over such well known wrestlers as George Bothner, Harvey Parker, Leo Parfello, Harris Harris, Prof. Chic Lucas, and stayed fifteen minutes with Tom Jenkins.

A SPORT THAT APPEALS TO ALL

The wrestling match between Emile Maupas and Geo. Schnable, both champions of their respective countries, France and Germany, and under the auspices of the Victoria Athletic Club of St. John, will surely prove to be one of the most interesting events ever taken place in this city. It will be remembered that Maupas, the Frenchman, met and defeated Hagen, the Austrian champion, at the York Theatre several weeks ago after a battle lasting close on to two hours. Last week Schnable, the German champion, met and defeated after a struggle lasting over the two hour limit, young Hackensmidt, of Russia. Both Schnable and Maupas have met before, throwing each other in 68 and 84 minutes, and on a third contest taking place they wrestled one hour without a fall. It can be seen, aside from the fact that they tied for third place in the first series of the tournament taking place in Montreal, that the battle at York Theatre next Tuesday will be one that will call forth the very best efforts of the men, and as they weigh on the two hundred mark, and stand over six feet high, it will be virtually a battle of giants. A preliminary bout will take place previous to the big event. Style will be catch as catch can, best two in three falls.

FOOTBALL

INTEREST IN THE GREAT GAME

BOSTON, Mass., Nov. 24.—Boston and Cambridge tonight were tossing with impatience on the eve of the annual football battle between Harvard and Yale. It has been many years since interest in a game between the two universities has reached the pitch manifested tonight and those who have followed Harvard and Yale through thirty years of football relations, feel that conditions seldom have been better for a great exhibition. The agitation over football has been kindled by President Roosevelt and President Eliot of Harvard, as well as Yale's record of victories this year, the withdrawal of Capt. Hurley of the Harvard team, a few days before the game, and the consequent determination of the team to fight all the harder out of regard for their leader, combined to produce a situation not previously known in connection with games here. The sentiment is that much depends on the character of tomorrow's play. The night before the game found Harvard hopeful and Yale confident, while Yale tonight was a strong favorite among the multitude who expected to witness the contest. By the completion of temporary stands seating accommodations have been provided for 4,000 spectators, a crowd which it is believed has never been equalled at an athletic contest in this country. Both teams spent the night at some distance from the scene of the struggle. The Harvard players remained at Marblehead on the north shore, where they went last night to avoid the excitement and noise at the college and also to get a good whiff of bracing sea air. The Yale players after an uneventful day, which included a light signal practice and a long automobile trip, kept near their quarters at the Woodland Park Hotel at Auburndale. The Harvard team was given a boat trip in Marblehead harbor and a stroll in the woods, and later in the day were sent through signals on one of the school grounds at Marblehead.

MIKE SULLIVAN WON.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 24.—Mike "Twin" Sullivan tonight got the decision over Jimmy Gardner in the twentieth round in a fight at Woodward's pavilion. Gardner was favored at 6 to 1. The fight was at catch-weight.

TOMMY SULLIVAN DEFEATS GRIM.

LAWRENCE, Mass., Nov. 24.—Before an audience of 1,200 people several hundred of whom were local Italians, Tommy Sullivan of this city, received the decision over Joe Grim, of Philadelphia, in a twelve-round bout before the Unity Cycle and Athletic Club. Sullivan had the better of the bout all the way through, knocking Grim down once in the sixth and in the twelfth he sent him to the mat three times, the last time, the time-keeper counting eight, when the going sounded, ending the round and the fight.

SULLIVAN-ATTEILE.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 23.—Kid Sullivan of Washington and Abe Attelle of San Francisco met in a fifteen-round match before the Victoria Athletic Club here tonight. It was whispered at the ringside that just before the meeting Attelle had the better of the bout and his one object was to prolong the fight to that point. He succeeded and Attelle struck practically one blow, a left jab on the jaw. The only other feature of the Attelle campaign was his fondness for clinching to avoid punishment and for work that his admirers called magnificent, while those of Sullivan dubbed it a sprinting match. Sullivan did about all the fighting and inflicted a good deal of punishment, but was unable to land a knockout blow on his opponent.

FOXY FITZ REFUSES TO TRAIN NEAR 'FRISCO.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Nov. 23.—Although it was given out that there was a hitch in the proposed match between Jack O'Brien and Bob Fitzsimmons, it is certain that the rival heavyweights will meet in the ring next month. Fitzsimmons arrived during the week accompanied by his manager. Shortly after his arrival Fitzsimmons began to look up training quarters and he has decided to do his work at San Jose. This decision did not meet with the approval of the local sports, as they were anxious to have Fitzsimmons train near the city, where they could watch the progress of his preparations. That is just what the Cornishman is opposed to, and he wants a quiet place where he will not have to give his time and attention to visitors. Fitzsimmons has picked up his sparring partners from among the local boxers, and it would appear that the former champion intends to keep his movements as quiet as possible.

Always foxy in his dealings, it is supposed that Fitzsimmons will endeavor to keep his condition a secret, and then spring a big surprise when he faces O'Brien in the ring. There is always more or less mystery about Fitzsimmons' methods, and it is difficult to determine just what he is about, especially when he is training for an important match.

When Fitzsimmons fought Gardner here more than a year ago, his showing was not very encouraging. In fact, he was a big disappointment, and it was considered one of Fitzsimmons' luckiest fights. Fitzsimmons, however, claimed at the time that his poor showing was due to a cold which he contracted while training.

Since his fight with Gardner, Fitzsimmons has fought O'Brien, and the showing he made against the Quaker boxer has given him renewed confidence, and he now believes that he can defeat any heavyweight in the world, barring Jeffries.

After a let-up of two weeks O'Brien has resumed training, and he will undoubtedly be in the same excellent condition that he was when he fought Kaufmann. Although defeated, Kaufmann gave the Philadelphia a hard tussle, and had he not been in grand condition, ready to stand a grueling, he would never have had the knockout wallop which finished the young Californian in the eighteenth round.

O'Brien does not intend to take the same liberties in mixing it with Fitzsimmons, for the "conqueror" has a little more respect for the veteran heavy-weight.

"I will admit that Fitz is a great fighter," said O'Brien, "but I am sure that I have a shade the best of him when it comes to a 20-round battle. I have been anxious to get him into the ring ever since our six-round battle at Philadelphia. I had all the best of the early rounds, and because Fitz hit me a few wallops in the last rounds many thought I was all in. I was just as strong at the finish of that fight as Fitzsimmons, and I will prove it in our coming battle. Had that contest continued two more rounds I am sure that I would have finished him. If I did not think I could stop Fitz in 20 rounds I would never have made the match. I would never have made the match."

CONVICTS KILL TWO ; AND BREAKS JAIL.

Desperate Attempt to Escape From Penitentiary.

Five Prisoners Murdered Guards and Blew Open Gate—Recaptured After Desperate Fight.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Nov. 24.—In a desperate attempt to escape from the state penitentiary this afternoon five convicts fought for freedom at the prison gate, killing two guards and wounding Warden See. Four of the men made a dash through the streets of Jefferson City under fire, only to be captured after two of them had been wounded. Five prisoners, taking advantage of the absence of Warden Hall and six guards, who left today with 71 federal prisoners for Fort Leavenworth, attempted to escape, but only four left the prison after killing the guards. Some of the convicts, Harry Vaughan, Charles Raymond, Chas. Black, George Ryan and Ziegler, having secured pistols and a bottle of nitro glycerine, shot Warden See in the arm. The convicts rushed to the gate, where they met the gatekeepers. Before he raised his weapon he was shot dead.

Then, as if to signal the convicts generally that an attempt to escape had been started, the convicts rang the gate bell and rushed through, dragging Clay's body with them. They slammed the gate shut and fastened it. While Ziegler was ringing the bell he was left inside. The convicts placed nitro glycerine under the outside gate and blew an opening through the steel door. The four men crawled through this rupture and dashed past a number of "crusty" convicts who were working in the street.

Almost before the four escaped convicts had covered a block, prison officers were in pursuit, shooting as they ran. Pedestrians jumped behind trees, ran into houses and crouched down behind any obstruction that gave refuge from the bullets. Several men seized weapons and joined the prison officers in the pursuit. The chase kept on for a dozen blocks, the convicts outrunning their pursuers. Near the Missouri Pacific railway depot the convicts came up with a wagon driven by Orville Adams. Jumping into the wagon the desperadoes seized Adams and threw him from the wagon. One convict leaped the horse into a run and escape seemed sure, when suddenly a squad of city policemen and armed citizens appeared in front of the fleeing men, who stopped the horse and made a desperate stand.

The four convicts fought the policemen from the wagon. Volley after volley was fired in the street by both sides, while residents and pedestrians were panic stricken. The policemen, sheltering themselves behind trees, splintered the wagon and ploughed up the mud, finally putting a bullet through the wagon and Black, the latter falling to the ground.

Then the convicts surrendered, much to the relief of the residents. The convicts were immediately taken back to the prison.

Vaughan was sentenced from St. Louis for 35 years for robbery after a street fight in which he and a companion shot three detectives to death. Raymond and Black are serving three years each for burglary. Ryan is serving eight years for robbery, while Ziegler is under sentence of three years for robbing bodies at a railroad wreck.

No matter what you want, I will save you time and money if you use THE SUN WANT ADVTs.

ARE YOU TIRED OF PAYING BLUNDER TAXES?

Many a business man pays as much money for the luxury of blundering as a steam yacht or private touring car would cost.

"Blunder Taxes" cannot be evaded—whatever else waits, these must be paid. If a business man gets into the habit of making the same blunders more than once, the taxes will soon amount to confusion.

"Blunder Taxes" are levied with amazing frequency upon store advertisers. Among the blunders which are assessed at "full value" in advertising are these:

- Selection of poor mediums;
Using too little space in good mediums;
Devoting less attention to preparing the daily store-advertisement than to the storing of some empty boxes in the basement;
Stopping the ad. altogether for one or more days now and then;
Figuring the advertising appropriation on the basis of what you can "afford" after all other expenses are provided for;

Use of "programmes," schemes, circulars, posters, jingles, etc., placed and jumbled under the impression that you are securing real publicity, and that someone, somewhere, sometime some one will be influenced by some of these things to come to your store and buy something.

YOUR "BLUNDER-TAX" BILL GROWS SMALLER and SMALLER AS YOUR USE OF "ST JOHN STAR" PUBLICITY GROWS BIGGER and BIGGER.

BOLD ATTEMPT AT BANK ROBBERY.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 24.—A bold attempt was made to rob the Exchange Bank of Bridgeburg, a village on the Canadian side of the Niagara River, opposite Buffalo early today. A gang of six to eight men, after fastening all the doors of nearby houses with ropes, then secured a heavy timber and proceeded to batter in the front door of the bank. Ralph C. Young, an 18 year old boy, was the only person in the bank when the robbers opened their attack. Armed with a revolver he went to an upper window and opened fire upon the thieves. They replied with revolvers and shotguns. With his face streaming with blood from shattered glass and splinters of wood, caught by the timbers from the street, Young kept the robbers back. Finally alarmed by a shot from the upper floor, the robbers fled.

ALEXANDER SWAN, SR.

HARVEY STATION, Nov. 24—Alexander Swan, sr., one of the oldest and best known residents of this parish, died at his home at Tweedside on Sunday last in his 87th year. He has been in failing health for some time past but able to attend until a few days ago. He was a native of the north of England and came here about fifty-five years ago. He went into the woods on the shores of the Big Ormocote Lake and made for himself a fine farm and comfortable home, which he has lived so long to enjoy. He took little part in public affairs but was a man of much intelligence and of very genial disposition and of sterling character and integrity and had many warm friends. His wife and five sons survive. Three of his sons—Henry, James T., and Alexander Swan, jr.—reside at Tweedside. Robert and William reside in British Columbia. John Swan, sr., of Tweedside, is a brother.

THE TELEPHONE LINE TO CHANCE HARBOR.

Some of the People of the Village Object to the Proposed Location of the Office.

The New Brunswick Telephone Co. is extending the lines from Musquash to Chance Harbor and poles are already set for the greater part of the distance. It is understood that the people of the village have contributed $100 toward the cost of the extension. They are anxious to get the full benefit of the service. Word has reached the place that the company propose to place the office at the end of the village named to Musquash. To many of the Chance Harbor people this arrangement is not satisfactory. They ask that the office shall be established in the centre of the village near the post. Mr. and Mrs. Wells happened to be out of the city.

HALIFAX FIRM ROBBED OF GOODS. Employees Sold Stock on Their Own Account.

HALIFAX, N. S., Nov. 24—Some few weeks ago A. & W. Smith became suspicious and decided to investigate apparent losses in their immense stock. Suspicion rested on two of the shipper, Walter Kennedy and Fred Locke, Chief of Police O'Sullivan and his officers began an investigation, with the result that it developed that robberies of large quantities of stock had taken place for a considerable time back. It is alleged that the accused would sell barrels of flour, bags of sugar and large quantities of other groceries at a time. These sales were made in different retail dealers, and it is claimed that the dealer in the city received as much as ten bags of sugar lately. The names of the merchants who bought these goods are in the hands of the police, and it is likely they will be indicted as receivers of stolen goods.

Yesterday afternoon the police thought that the time was ripe for an arrest, and accordingly Mr. Hogue, member and manager of the firm, swore out information against Kennedy and Locke, and armed with warrants the officers went in search of the accused. Locke was found in his accustomed place of business, as shipper of the firm of A. & W. Smith. When arrested he said nothing to the official, but accompanied him to the police station.

The police were unable to locate Kennedy, and up to the present time he has not been arrested. Different officers went in search of him, but were unable to find him at his accustomed haunts. When this was reported to the chief of police a general alarm was sent out and every policeman in Halifax had instructions to arrest Kennedy on sight. Telegrams have been sent in every direction and all points of exit from the province have been covered and the police at these points have not the accused's description through telegraphic instructions from Halifax headquarters. This morning Locke was given the "third degree" by the authorities, and it is reported confessed everything, implicating Kennedy and other persons. It is understood that if his statements are true the thefts of the pair will run into thousands of dollars.

MISPLACED SWITCH RECKS TRAIN

Child Killed and Engineer Fatally Injured.

WAYLAND, Mass., Nov. 24—In a collision between a freight and a passenger train on the Central Massachusetts division of the Boston and Maine railroad, about a quarter of a mile west of the Wayland station, last afternoon, a child was killed, the engineer of the passenger train received probably fatal injuries, while four other passengers were seriously hurt. The dead: Pauline Adams, one year old, daughter of Ernest Adams of Worcester.

The injured: F. A. Gifford, of Lowell, engineer of the passenger train, leg broken in several places, had cuts on head and internally injured. Mrs. Ernest Adams of Worcester, mother of dead child; injured internally, badly cut and suffering from shock. Mrs. — Gale, of Worcester; badly cut and bruised.

The two trains came together on a siding near Fushella crossing. The freight train, bound from Boston for Oakdale, was waiting on the siding for the passenger train to pass. The passenger train left Clinton for Boston at 4:30 p. m. for Boston and was due at the Wayland station at 4:18 p. m.

The accident was evidently due to a misplaced switch. The passenger train had entered the yard limits and was running at a reduced speed as it approached the siding. Instead of proceeding along the main track, the passenger train entered the siding and crashed into the freight.

The force of the collision demolished the engine of the passenger train and badly damaged the freight locomotive. There were only two cars in the passenger train, but the forward car had its forward end torn apart and was splintered and twisted for half its length. Three freight cars were derailed and overturned in the ditch at the side of the tracks.

There were about fifty passengers on the train. All the passengers who were injured were riding in the forward car. The only occupant of the rear car who was hurt was Ernest Kitson, the express messenger. He was in the baggage compartment of the rear car at the time of the crash, and the force of the collision caused a large pile of trunks to topple over. Kitson was caught beneath the pile.

Mrs. Ernest Adams of Worcester, whose one year old daughter was killed, and Mrs. Gale, a companion, also of Worcester, were near the forward part of the forward car. Mrs. Adams threw the child out of the mother's arms and the little one was crushed beneath the iron frame of a seat.

The engineer and fireman of the freight train managed to escape being injured by the flying wreckage. The injured were taken to the Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston.

RIVER STEAMER AMALGAMATION

The latest proposition for amalgamation of the various river steamship lines seems likely to be turned down on account of the refusal of the Hantsport Co., who also own the Elaine, to enter the combine. They are, said one of the directors, well satisfied with the present conditions. Speaking about Elaine he remarked that a new boiler for her was coming in the Tritonia next week, and it is hoped that the steamer would be able to steam three miles an hour faster. The amalgamation proposal, it would seem, is to have a line of river boats from St. John to Fredericton and have all the small boats feed them from the branches.

BRITISH POLITICAL PROSPECTS.

Whether the Balfour ministry decides to resign before or after the general election it is now certain that neither the election nor the resignation can be long delayed. The portents point to a dissolution within a few weeks and indicate unmistakably the defeat of the government, though probably by a majority less than was expected a few months ago. For, though the quit between Mr. Chamberlain and Premier Balfour is widening daily, the fiscal reform element is still classed on the government side and is undoubtedly growing rapidly in strength.

The positions of the parties at the conclusion of the last general election was: Unionist, 461; Liberals, 187; Nationalists, 82. Since then twelve Unionists have crossed the floor of the House, and one Irish Nationalist has reinforced the Irish Nationalists. One Liberal has joined the Ministerialists. The figures so far then stand thus: Unionists, 331; Liberals, 188; Nationalists, 81.

Taking now the by-elections from May, 1902 to date—the period selected by Liberals as indicative of future results—the further deduction of nineteen seats must be made, thus reducing their total to 312, and raising the Liberal figure to 217. If the Liberal successes in the coming general election should be proportionate to their gains in the bye elections, a Liberal majority almost as large as the last Conservative majority would result and the Liberal government, by outnumbering all other parties, would be freed from the control of the Nationalists. But that these successes will continue is by no means so certain as it seemed a few months ago.

Undoubtedly the dominant issue will be tariff reform. However much Mr. Balfour may desire to keep the food tax and colonial preference in the background Mr. Chamberlain may be depended upon to make it the most prominent question. And the modification of the sentiment against the government since this was put forward is already noticeable. Prior to Mr. Chamberlain's pronouncement fourteen bye-elections took place. The Unionist votes cast in these constituencies at the previous elections were 69,770, at the bye-elections 64,244, showing a decrease of 5,526. In the period since Mr. Chamberlain's pronouncement there have been forty-two bye-elections. In these constituencies the Unionist vote at the previous elections was 172,848, at the bye-elections 171,920—a decrease of 928 votes. Thus in three times the number of contests which took place in the Pre-Tariff Reform period, and on nearly three times the number of votes cast at these contests the decrease is only 928 as compared with 5,526.

The significance is that Chamberlainism instead of being a cause of the opposite tendency. The inevitable outcome of this tendency is the oblation of Mr. Balfour, the hesitant, and the accession of Mr. Chamberlain to the leadership of a new Unionist party. This will probably be accomplished during a brief period in opposition.

An impartial and expert observer after a careful survey of the field has come to the conclusion that the Liberal side will win in the coming election but that the Liberal Government will be controlled by the Irish Nationalists and the very advanced Labor party since these elements will undoubtedly hold the balance of power in the House of Commons after the general elections. This means a stormy and probably a brief parliamentary term, just what Mr. Chamberlain needs to whip his forces into line for the victory that awaits him at the next election.

SETTLE THE STRIKE.

The second refusal of the shipping combine to listen to any suggestion of arbitration, though backed by the recommendation of a majority of the governing body of this city, still further weakens their position. Though the 'longshoremen' were open to criticism for withholding their demands till the winter port trade began they have cancelled it by their frank and fair offer to submit to an impartial committee a question which they recognized involved interests greater even than their own or their opponents'. The shipping men by insolently ignoring the offer assumed the responsibility for the continuance of the trouble and now by their reception of the well-meant recommendation of the mayor and the aldermen composing the board of works they have still further alienated themselves from the support of all who believe in a square deal.

Clearly, if they continue in their attitude the strike will be prolonged and the port will suffer seriously. Already traffic is beginning to feel the effects and the longer the trouble lasts the worse will be the result. The men show no intention of surrendering and in view of their success so far, could not be expected to. Neither can the shipping men be expected to accede to the strikers' demands, considering that they claim such accession would destroy their profits. But if their case is based on truth and justice, as the 'longshoremen' believe theirs is, what have they to suffer from a settlement at the hands of a tribunal which would consider these things before anything else; why should they hesitate to place their case in the hands of men who are as deeply interested in the prosperity of the steamship companies coming to this port as are the shareholders themselves?

Any alternative to arbitration means inevitably a long struggle fraught with disaster to St. John. Every alderman and citizen who has the interests of his port and of fair play at heart should exert his influence to bring about a settlement between the disputants by this means.

THE BETTER COURSE.

The 'longshoremen' surrender absolutely, says the Telegraph, 'there seems to be no other course open but to bring from outside enough men to handle promptly the cargo of every steamer in the winter schedule.'

But there is another course, and one far fairer to both parties concerned, and far more in the interests of the port; and that is for the shipping combine to accept the square offer of the 'longshoremen' to submit the dispute to impartial arbitration, which suggestion the Star has endorsed since it was first proposed, and which yesterday received the unanimous approval of the aldermen composing the Board of Works.

The organ of the shipping interests calls the Star irresponsible and a demagogue and a driveller and an enemy of the port because it holds that this quarrel between the shipping men and 'longshoremen' offers a fair field for arbitration. But it is conspicuously and characteristically silent regarding the action of the mayor and the ten aldermen who yesterday unanimously endorsed the Star's contentions.

The Times in one column urges the establishment of more factories here which will provide profitable employment for wage earners, and in another column supports the shipping combine in a stand which means the throwing out of work of more St. John men than could be employed by all the factories which could be erected here in a decade.

"What's the matter with the Daily Telegraph anyhow?" asks Onlooker in the New Freeman. We give it up. The case is too complicated for unexpert diagnosis. Ask Dr. Anglin.

The Star is "irresponsible" says the Telegraph. The term in such connections is rather vague. In this instance, if it is intended to mean that the Star is free from outside, mercenary influences and has no interests to serve save those of justice and fair play, it is correctly used.

A Timely Business Card From W. Tremaine Gard.

I have just completed my purchases of HOLIDAY GOODS for this season, and assure my friends and would-be customers that never before in my 35 years of business in this city have I ever had such a complete line of first class, reliable, up-to-date stock of WATCHES, CLOCKS, JEWELRY, Silverware, Opera and Field Glasses, Manicure and Toilet Sets, and such articles, as I have now on hand to show them; while my DIAMONDS and other precious gems in Rings, Brooches and Pins, are incomparable in quality with what is generally found in jewelry stores, and the prices are much below the quotations of the catalogues sent here from other cities. U. S. SUPREME COURT

"A DAMNABLE INSTITUTION."

Bishop Henry M. Turner of the A. M. E. Church Makes Strong Attack on the American Government.

CHICAGO, Ill., Nov. 25.—A despatch to the Tribune, from Macon, Ga., says: Bishop Henry M. Turner, the leading bishop in the African Methodist church, made an impassioned attack upon the government and the United States supreme court in his annual address yesterday to the Macon conference: "I am not pleased with this nation," declared Bishop Turner, "no man here has this nation more than I do. When I go to say my prayers I have a struggle to get to the place where I am praying for God to allow the United States supreme court to have a part in my prayer. That damnable institution has robbed the negro of every vestige of human or manhood's rights. The men who compose that body may go to heaven the best way they can, but it is little happiness they will get from any request that I make.

"The negro will never be anything in this country but a scullion until he shows his manhood. Go to Africa and build up a great nation that will command the respect of the civilized world," Bishop Turner, after a bitter arraignment of the negro, offered to meet Mr. Dixon on any terms in the United States in joint debate of the negro question.

COLLEGE PRESIDENT

CONDENNS FOOTBALL.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25.—President Benjamin Ide Wheeler, of the University of California, in an address to the students yesterday discussed football and used very plain words. He said: "The game has outgrown its intention. The trouble with it is that it is too highly developed and specialized for the average student."

"I never objected to it on the ground that it was rough but that it is not within the sphere of usefulness for the ordinary student. The great trouble is that the game is in the hands of a self-appointed self-organized committee of rules. I refer to Mr. Camp and his associates. They have promised to reform but have done nothing. My colleagues and I have lost patience. We will revise the rules ourselves and the changes will be radical."

I. C. R. LIGHT UNRELIABLE.

The clerks at the I. C. R. freight offices would almost prefer that the Street Railway trust, rather than the plant in connection with the elevator would supply them with light.

Rumor has it that the elevator plant has frisks and at times refuses to cast any beams upon the desks of the clerks.

A visitor one day last week was amazed with the sight which met his view. It was late in the afternoon and artificial light was quite necessary.

Inside the offices was a scene of 19th century. Bending over each desk were the clerks at work by the aid of candles.

The scene was a picturesque one and the dim religious light cast shadows over the different articles of freight which lay about the shed. The mists, however, of the ghostly shadows and religious light was broken by the very irreligious expressions on the lips of the clerks.

To the Editor of the Star:

One unacquainted with the fact that there is trouble transpiring in our port could find nothing on the surface to indicate the slightest friction existing, so quietly and patiently are our citizen laborers seeking to secure from the representative steamship lines what they consider their labor is worth, and if they only persist in their effort, along these lines of moral suasion and sobriety they must induce from their fellow citizens generally a reciprocal sentiment of sympathy and support, and evince to those from whom they are anxious to secure better terms that they are men worth paying all that the business can afford.

It is well, in my opinion, to recollect that our port would not possess what it has already gained had it to rely on the manifestly prejudiced views of at least one of the principal steamship lines which has sought police protection before it was necessary, and which, taking advantage of the already over-stocked labor market here, hastens to crowd it still further by draining Montreal's market into our port.

On the other coast of living, rents, etc., are rising, taxes are increasing and the laboring man can possibly save but little individually, as the work has to be divided amongst so many mouths.

If the pay to labor in Montreal averages 27½ cents an hour, the gauge of 10 hours are 275 cents, a foreman who is paid 50 cents per hour, and there is, I believe, a walking force of men who are paid 40 cents per hour loading grain. Now if you adjust all these expenses and compare with what our laborers ask a straight 35 cents an hour, the difference will not, I should think, be significant in view of our men working from 12 to 13 in a gang, no extras for foremen and as a union well acquainted with each other, and with local habits, and shoulder to shoulder support. Satisfactory wage should provide satisfactory work, much more so than a policy that would grind the laborer down to the last pittance which his situation alone compels him to accept.

I feel the Allans have now the opportunity in a measure to redeem the position they placed themselves and St. John in last year by their unwarranted reasons for abandoning the port, by a timely and generous recognition of the claims of our thirty labor organization whom they have apparently snatched (as they did the city) by seeking to let the world know that it was one that could only be approached under police protection.

Yours sincerely,
EDWARD SEARS.

In connection with new yard work, men, many of whom were of the old brigade, many of the ride and artillery companies, men who were ready at a moment's notice to defend their city! You are the men who are charged with this crisis with the ruin of our city.

Listen to what he says, "Workmen should have a thought for themselves and not be led as a dog by a string. It should be remembered by some of them that the shipbuilding industry in St. John was utterly crushed out of striking workers, some years ago. I think they were getting two dollars a day when they made a demand for two-fifty. This was conceded, but shortly after another demand was made for three dollars. That was the straw that broke the camel's back, closed the business and scattered the workers to the ends of the earth. That certainly was a calamity that caused a great lot of suffering and want and broke many ties of a peaceful and plentiful life."

Now let us have the truth. Ship-carpenters, shipjoiners and laborers received all the way from $1.25 to $3.00; ship caulking work was generally done by contract, and the caulkers received $2.50. The carpenters never struck for and received $3.00 per day, and as for $2.00 a day they never dream of such wages in their palmy days.

The reason for the decline of shipbuilding, as any school boy of that day knew, was iron vs. wood. The wooden ships had their day and the iron vessels came to stay. The working men of St. John never made unreasonable demands, either at new work or along shore, and their demands are very reasonable now, considering our winter port business of about four months of broken time.

NEARLY A MILLION FOR JEWISH SUFFERERS.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Jacob H. Schiff yesterday sent his check for $100,000 to the Jewish Defence Association, an east side organization, which is collecting money to arm the Jews in Russia. This movement has heretofore been opposed by other religionists, but east side believers that Mr. Schiff's contribution will be followed by others from there who have thus far concerned themselves only with the succor of the massacre victims.

The general relief fund reached nearly the $800,000 mark yesterday. There was reported the further contribution of $63,970. The total received by the national committee is $728,064.

LOCAL NEWS

ARCTIC EXPEDITION REPORTED SAFE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25.—Henry Lund, the Norwegian consul of this port, is in receipt of information relative to the Amundsen Arctic Expedition which convinces him that the report from Dundee, Scotland, that the expedition ship Gjos has been crushed in the ice at Boothia Felix is erroneous. The Dundee report was received from Esquimaux. Consul Lund has information directly from Capt. Amundsen in form of letters which go to show that the expedition has reached Boothia Felix, where the disaster is reported to have taken place, some months ago in safety. These letters contain information of interest with regard to the expedition. It appears from them that the expedition expected to go through the Northwest Passage this year and has cleared and sailed for San Francisco during the present fall. The letters were received by Alexander Nansen, of Christiania, brother of Dr. Fridtjof Nansen, three weeks ago, and copies were forwarded to Consul Lund here. The letters were sent by Esquimaux from the Gjos, a magnetic station, near Wain's Land, to Hudson Bay, and brought out from there by whalers. They were directed, Nov. 24, and dated May 23, 1903, the latter date being about twenty months later than what he had previously from Capt. Amundsen.

WITH ADVERTISERS.

The Star presents today a record display of advertisements, rather too many for a twelve page paper. But they came in too late for arrangements to be made for a larger display for this year's output of the letter dated by the Star was no apology to its readers, for the advertisements, in fact, are as interesting as any reading matter it could publish.

The following list of locals will give an idea of what may be found on other pages.

R. Daniel Coles, of Charlotte street, the well known maker of skates, is already having large orders for this year's output of the celebrated R. D. Coles skates. In this year's skates, tempered steel will be used for the blades, and a number of the best skaters in Boston and New York.

There will be a demonstration of merchandising on Charlotte street this week which in like magnitude is carried on in the larger cities by the big department stores every day in the week. The firm making the demonstration have an idea that when the people can buy goods cheap enough, large quantities can be turned over, and the maximum profit, although small on each purchase will in the aggregate be more satisfactory than the big profits. The ladies will profit by this demonstration and they will do well to read carefully the half page advertisement of the firm found in this issue.

This evening, until 9 o'clock, there will be a photograph concert in the sporting goods department of W. H. Thorne & Co., Ltd., Market Square, who are agents for the celebrated Edison Phonographs and Gold Moulded Records.

Henderson & Hunt announce in today's issue, that commencing on Monday, the 27th inst., they purpose holding a mammoth suit sale for twenty days and will allow twenty per cent. discount. A twenty day sale, however, is a novel one and no doubt many who have not yet purchased their winter suit will see Henderson & Hunt and get it at the big discount. Sale is at their King street store only. See advertisement on page four.

F.W. DANIEL & Co.

London House, Charlotte St.

This is a story about the most dangerous animal in the world—a creature which annually kills and maims more human beings than are slain or injured by any other beast.

Owing to its great usefulness to man, and to long habit of familiar intimacy between the animal in question and ourselves, the destruction it accomplishes has come to be regarded as a matter of course, not in any way to be avoided, and, therefore, not provocative of special attention. Nobody, indeed, seems ever to have investigated the subject, or to have taken the trouble to get together in a comprehensive way facts and figures bearing upon it. Yet of all accidents to human beings, fatal or disabling, including mishaps of every kind and description, not less than twelve per cent. are caused, directly or indirectly, by this fear-inspiring creature. Just think of it—twelve out of every hundred mishaps involving physical injury more or less serious! These are official accident-insurance figures, accepted as approximate by all of the companies, and it must be confessed that they present a very serious indictment against man's "noble servant," the horse.

Alas! yes; it is the horse that is accountable for all this mischief. Indeed, the statement that it is the most dangerous animal in the world may be thoroughly substantiated by reliable figures. To say that it "kills and maims more human beings than are slain or injured by any other beast," puts the truth in the case inadequately; for the fact is that not all the fatalities and other destructive creatures in existence, wild or tame, including venomous snakes, do more than a fraction of the amount of damage that is inflicted in the way of maiming and killing by horses.

Now it is reckoned by the accident-insurance companies that one in every four mishaps is caused by a horse, and that of some kind in the course of each twelvemonth. Women, of course, suffer mishaps less frequently, being not so much exposed to dangers incidental to trades and outdoor sports; but, however, for an ice wagon, which is rated at almost the most hazardous of all vehicles. It is open at the back, with a stop upon which children are tempted to climb for the purpose of getting pieces of ice, and, as an additional element of danger, the wagon is so heavy that, if it does run over anybody, the consequences are likely to be fatal.

Next in the scale of hazard after the ice wagon comes the express wagon. Being heavy and moving at a rapid trot, it is a notoriously dangerous vehicle. The only vehicle rated as more dangerous than the ice wagon is the new passenger delivery wagon, which is considered such a hazardous risk that most of the companies regard it as practically non-insurable. Especially in the handling of afternoon papers these wagons take extraordinary chances, the bundles being thrown into them at the last possible moment, to be transported in the least number of minutes to the railroad stations, or to distributing centres miles away. Fast horses are used, and the driving is utterly regardless of the lives and limbs of pedestrians. In New York City such wagons appear to enjoy, without being in the slightest degree entitled to it, the same right of way that is possessed under the law by ambulances, patrol wagons and fire engines.

It is interesting to consider, for the sake of comparison, that whereas one out of every nine disabling accidents is due to horses, only one in about five hundred is attributable to dogs. A dog-bite, though it may be inflicted quite intentionally by the brute, is classed as accidental by the insurance companies. One accident in eight hundred, or thereabouts, is met with in the handling of cattle, the victim being knocked down, run over or hooked; one in 2,000 is contributed by the kick of a mule, and one in 15,000 by the bite of a rat. Record is obtainable of only one cat mishap to an insured person; but in this case the policy holder kicked at the animal and, missing it, broke his leg against a sofa. Blood-poisoning set in, and he died.

A PERVERSOR OF DISEASE.

A discussion of dangers attributable to horses would be incomplete without some reference to the fact that they are responsible for the existence of the multitude of house-fleas which, apart from the discomfort they cause in themselves, are known to be carriers of disease germs. Every stable in warm weather is a fly factory. In active operation night and day. It is safe to predict that within a few years—say a quarter of a century hence at the furthest—that nuisance, which continues to exist simply because we have not taken the small amount of trouble necessary to suppress it, will have been practically done away with by the adoption of preventive measures. When the annual fly plague ceases to recur, a serious menace to the health of the community—for which we ourselves and not the poor horses are really to blame—will have been removed.

MAN'S FRIEND AND MAN'S FOOL.

The chief cause of horse accidents, however, lies in the fact that this noble animal—beautiful, docile, affectionate, man's faithful friend and patient servant—is born a fool, and never gets over it. Its intelligence is over-estimated.

One of the accident-insurance companies recently published a statement, based upon its own returns, which showed that out of one hundred aver- age accidents caused by the horse, the railroad, the automobile and the bicycle, equine brute, nine to the railroad, five to the motor-car, and four to the "velvet wheel." One reason why physicians are rated as bad risks is that they use horses so much for driving about—the idea the justice of which is indicated by the fact that, out of 972 accidents to doctors recorded by another concern, 267, or considerably more than one-fourth, were due to horses.

With average luck, if you are a man, you are due to be disabled more or less seriously by a horse once in a lifetime of sixty years. If it were possible for you to live long enough to have one hundred such accidents, you might reasonably expect to be bitten on three occasions—a horse bite is no joke, by the way—to be kicked nineteen times, to be stepped on eight times, to fall off while riding three times, to be hurt while getting into or out of vehicles eight times, and to suffer injury in runaways forty-two times. The balance of the mishaps would be miscellaneous.

The principal destruction of human life by tigers is in India, where, according to the official reports of the British government, those formidable animals kill about one thousand persons annually. Data on the subject for the rest of the world are not obtainable, but it is quite certain that all the tigers on the earth do not destroy half as many human beings in a twelvemonth as are slain in the same length of time by horses in the United States alone. Twenty-thousand people are fatally bitten each year, and many more are left unattended in the street, something frightens the horses, and often they go. When carriages are run away with—this is a point well worth considering—the serious consequences are nearly always due to the foolishness of jumping out. If such a thing ever happens to you, remember that you have nine chances out of ten of escaping uninjured if you hang on.

The accident companies do a great deal of business in what they call "team insurance"—a branch of policy-writing which presents many curious and eccentric features. One of these concerns, for example, will for ten dollars a year, become responsible for all mishaps to human beings that may be caused by a horse and buggy. The annual premium is forty-five dollars, however, for an ice wagon, which is rated at almost the most hazardous of all vehicles. It is open at the back, with a stop upon which children are tempted to climb for the purpose of getting pieces of ice, and, as an additional element of danger, the wagon is so heavy that, if it does run over anybody, the consequences are likely to be fatal.

Next in the scale of hazard after the ice wagon comes the express wagon. Being heavy and moving at a rapid trot, it is a notoriously dangerous vehicle. The only vehicle rated as more dangerous than the ice wagon is the new passenger delivery wagon, which is considered such a hazardous risk that most of the companies regard it as practically non-insurable. Especially in the handling of afternoon papers these wagons take extraordinary chances, the bundles being thrown into them at the last possible moment, to be transported in the least number of minutes to the railroad stations, or to distributing centres miles away. Fast horses are used, and the driving is utterly regardless of the lives and limbs of pedestrians. In New York City such wagons appear to enjoy, without being in the slightest degree entitled to it, the same right of way that is possessed under the law by ambulances, patrol wagons and fire engines.

It is interesting to consider, for the sake of comparison, that whereas one out of every nine disabling accidents is due to horses, only one in about five hundred is attributable to dogs. A dog-bite, though it may be inflicted quite intentionally by the brute, is classed as accidental by the insurance companies. One accident in eight hundred, or thereabouts, is met with in the handling of cattle, the victim being knocked down, run over or hooked; one in 2,000 is contributed by the kick of a mule, and one in 15,000 by the bite of a rat. Record is obtainable of only one cat mishap to an insured person; but in this case the policy holder kicked at the animal and, missing it, broke his leg against a sofa. Blood-poisoning set in, and he died.

A PERVERSOR OF DISEASE.

A discussion of dangers attributable to horses would be incomplete without some reference to the fact that they are responsible for the existence of the multitude of house-fleas which, apart from the discomfort they cause in themselves, are known to be carriers of disease germs. Every stable in warm weather is a fly factory. In active operation night and day. It is safe to predict that within a few years—say a quarter of a century hence at the furthest—that nuisance, which continues to exist simply because we have not taken the small amount of trouble necessary to suppress it, will have been practically done away with by the adoption of preventive measures. When the annual fly plague ceases to recur, a serious menace to the health of the community—for which we ourselves and not the poor horses are really to blame—will have been removed.

MAN'S FRIEND AND MAN'S FOOL.

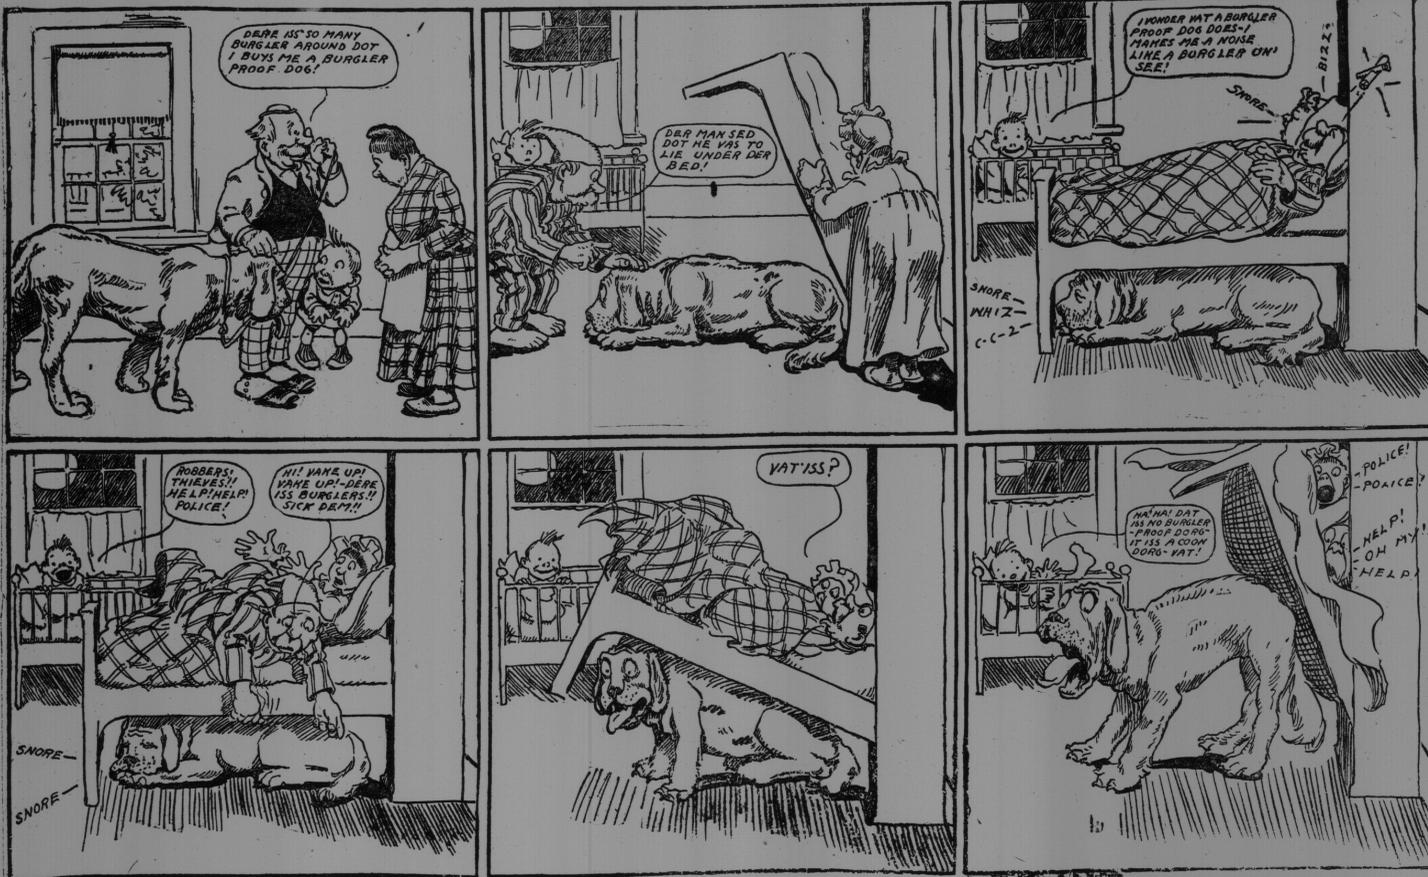

The chief cause of horse accidents, however, lies in the fact that this noble animal—beautiful, docile, affectionate, man's faithful friend and patient servant—is born a fool, and never gets over it. Its intelligence is over-estimated.

One of the accident-insurance companies recently published a statement, based upon its own returns, which showed that out of one hundred average accidents caused by the horse, the railroad, the automobile and the bicycle, equine brute, nine to the railroad, five to the motor-car, and four to the "velvet wheel." One reason why physicians are rated as bad risks is that they use horses so much for driving about—the idea the justice of which is indicated

Negotiations are proceeding between the C. P. R. and the local government for the purchase by the railway of the site of the Canadian bridge across the falls. An act of the legislature was passed last year authorizing the sale, and it is said the matter is likely to be settled at an early date.

One of the letter carriers was presented this morning by what his fellow-carriers called a Brazilian parrot. The bird was caged up, and when he got home the bird could only speak three words--"Say-caw-caw." It was only then that he saw the joke, and instead of a brilliant coated talker he had been the recipient of an ordinary black crow.

SMALL BOYS DAY IN POLICE COURT.

Several Juvenile Offenders Tried--A Mother's Plea--Newspaper Canvasser Arrested for Misappropriating Money.

At the police court this morning three drunks were fined four dollars each. Jake Abbott for being drunk and swearing was fined eight dollars. Ernest Weldon was charged with stealing on Nov. 9th from Fred E. Sayre the sum of $5.50 given him to pay a bill owed to the Telegraph Publishing Co. Weldon took the stand and said he made the collection but did not intend to commit a theft.

S. J. McGowan, business manager of the Telegraph, said Weldon has been canvassing for subscriptions for the past month on a commission basis. F. E. Sayre has been an old subscriber and Weldon went to the office and got him to renew his subscription. He had authority to solicit old subscribers but accepted $5.50 as a subscription for the Daily Telegraph and a magazine.

Fred Murray, collector for the Telegraph, said that he went on Thursday last to collect Mr. Sayre's subscription and was informed that it had been paid to Mr. Weldon on the 9th. The prisoner said the collection he made was for 10c. The paper was not to start until Monday next and he was to have made a settlement with the Telegraph this morning. He used $3.50 out of the money to pay his board.

Wm. Lawton said he told Weldon that they were old subscribers and as the time was nearly up he subscribed again, and paid $5.00, stating the contract on the 13th.

Mr. McGowan said the information was laid because other collectors had done the same and skipped out with the money.

Weldon was remanded. The case against four boys for damaging property to Mr. McLaughlin's building on Starr's wharf was taken up again this morning. Mr. McLaughlin agreed to allow the matter to stand. The magistrate said if the boys were mentioned as creating a disturbance around North street and other streets they would be dealt with. Boys have no business on people's roofs.

Ernest Northrup, aged 16 years, and Charles Allen, aged 12 years, were charged with stealing coal. Allen said he was not guilty and Northrup pleaded the same.

Wm. H. Needham said he saw young Allen and Northrup jumping from a car at Gilbert's Lane. They had a bag each on their back filled with coal. They returned again in ten minutes with empty bags and went on the I. C. R. grounds. Needham said the boys had thrown about a keg full of coal between the car and the platform. He was a diaman and evictman for the I. C. R. and he had warned the boys before. Allen had been arrested before for stealing bricks.

Allen said the coal he got was from the ground and he did not throw any coal from the car. Allen's mother said the boy was led by older boys.

He has been in court a couple of times before on the charge of stealing. The boys were remanded for sentence.

Mrs. Allen asked when the boys would be tried again and was told by the magistrate that there would be no further trial, that he would hold them until he decided how long they would be sentenced for.

Mrs. Allen said the prisoner was her baby boy and not responsible for his actions. Magistrate Ritchie told her the boy should have been better cared for and Policeman Collins told her that she used to stand in her yard and encourage her boys to take the wood from the I. C. R. round house.

The magistrate further informed her that he might sentence the boy to a term of four years in the reformatory. The loud crying of the woman could be heard as she left the court room saying that her baby was sick and she hoped God would be good to him.

The boy was also crying bitterly and begging for a chance but was led down stairs with his companion.

STRIKE IS NOT DRIVING GRAIN FREIGHTS AWAY.

L. R. Ross was seen this morning with regard to the statement that grain destined for this port would be sent by Halifax and that contracts were being made for the shipment of two hundred thousand bushels via Halifax. He said that the latter part of this statement might be correct, as he has no knowledge of the arrangement in Halifax, but that he very much doubted whether any grain destined for this port would be sent to Halifax on account of the strike.

The grain which is coming here is not for the Allan line, as stated, but for the Head and Furness lines. Further he did not see how the "longshore difficulty" would interfere with their grain shipment, as this work is done by their own officials, and it is only for the general cargo that the "longshoremen" are required.

The head of grain that twelve thousand bushels of grain have already arrived here, and in this first consignment fifty thousand bushels are expected, and that there will probably be more hereafter.

Tooth Hints!

"When ought we to go to the dentist?" Many think it unnecessary to devote particular attention to the teeth until the appearance of the mouth is affected by damaged, decayed or broken teeth. Others give their teeth no attention till pain compels them.

The stupidity and short-sightedness of either policy is evident. Every one who thinks a moment on the subject knows that the cannot state to indicate our food satisfactorily if one or more of the teeth are tender, inflamed, decayed or otherwise out of working order; and that if this be the case the mouth requires immediate attention.
