Noetrn. MINNIE'S PRAYER.

Five years old was little Minnie-Gay as humming bird, and wild; Roving always mid the flowers, She was pure and undefiled.

All the birds loved little Minme, And it seemed they sought her way, In the garden, where played Minnie, They would sing the live long day.

When flower fairies and the birdlings Nestled in their leafy bed, Minnie sighing for her playmates, Drooped her little tired head.

I undressed the sleepy darling, (How I miss those little cares!) With her eye lids half way closing, She knelt down to say her prayers.

"Our Father"-ther, the bright curls Almost rested on my knee, "Now I lay me," sweet the whispered -Nodding was our busy bee.

"Mother darling," Minnie muttered, 'I can't pray long prayers to-night," "Baby" say I pray that Jesus Will make all our darkness light.

Half unclosed the silken lashes, From her eyes the love-light beamed; Spoke the child with inspiration, And the brow with glory gleamed.

"I love all men. I love Jesus. O, my father, I love thee, I am sinful-make me better; And O, my father, please love me "
