AULEY MATTHEWS HAS PASSED AWAY

Was Seriously Injured in Railway Accident Then Thought

A glen was cast over the entire community Tuesday morning when it was learned that Engineer Auley Matthews had passed away at an early hour.

Engineer Matthews, it will be remembered, was reported scalded about the side and arm in the wreck of the Ocean Limited which occurred near St. John's, Quebec, last Wednesday night. His is the third death resulting from that accident, the others being Mail Clerk Mattie of Lewis, and a young man named Lucy of Glace Bay, N. S.

At first it was thought that Mr. Matthews' injuries were not severe, but as the week progressed, it was feared that he was in a more serious condition than thought. He suffered intensely, was delirious for hours at a time, and was not showing any signs of growing stronger.

Monday he appeared bright and his friends hoped that the turn for the better had come, but he gradually grew weaker, passing away at three o'clock.

Deceased who was in his 59th year was born in Moncton, when he early entered the intercolonial railway service. When a young man he was removed to Campbellton, where he has resided ever since, and he has earned the respect and esteem of every citizen. Some years ago, it will be recalled, the deceased was in a wreck when his train jumped the rails as the result of hitting a switch from. At that time he was severely injured, and crawled through the cab window at his locomotive to safety. He fully recovered after a lengthy treatment.

After forty years of service it was Mr. Matthews' intention to retire at an early date.

He is survived by a widow, one son Ray of this town, and one daughter at home. A son of the deceased, George Matthews, was killed overseas, and two other sons who died at home are Auley, who died about two years ago, and Jasper, who died a few years previously.

Other surviving relatives are two brothers and two sisters. The brothers are J. Matthews, South Devon and W. S. Matthews, of Loggieville. The sisters are Mrs. S. E. Forbes and Mrs. J. E. Bedford, both of Moncton. The sympathy of the entire community goes out to the family in their sudden bereavement.

The funeral services were held this afternoon. Those at the house at 2 o'clock and at the Methodist church, of which deceased was an honored member, at 2.30. Rev. Mr. Boothroy officiated. The funeral services were held under the direction of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, of which order the deceased was a member. A very large concourse of citizens followed the remains to the Rural Cemetery where interment was made.

Report of Campbellton Board of Assessors

Shows Gratiifying Increase in Property Valuation As Well as Greater Population of the Town.

Campbellton, N. B., June 15th, 1922.
To His Worship the Mayor and Members of the Town Council, Campbellton, N. B.

Gentlemen,—I beg to advise you that your Board of Assessors have this day completed the valuation and assessment of the Town of Campbellton for the present year, and have handed over the Assessment Rolls to your Town Treasurer. Your Board of Assessors beg to submit herein the following report and recommendations for your necessary information and approval.

We have been directed that the total Warrant required was $95,000. This amount minus total Roll Tax $4,430 plus ten per cent. of Warrant totals $100,000.00.

Your Board has endeavored to place the value of Real Estate, Personal Property, and Income as follows:

Ward I. $ 787,310.
Ward II. 1,124,797.
Ward III. 1,000,785.

Establishing a total of $2,912,892, placing the rate of taxation at 20.70, which rate is 30c lower than the preceding year.

The Board of Assessors wish to draw to your attention the following large amount of Real Estate which at present is unimproved and lying idle:

Canadian National Railways $1,041,000.
Canadian Dept. Public Works, Docks, Sheds, Post Office, etc. 175,000.
Church Properties, Roman Catholic 71,000.
Presbyterian 28,000.
Baptist 48,000.
Methodist 25,000.
Church of England 30,000.
Salvation Army 12,500.
Hospitals 131,000.
Hotel Dieu 115,000.
Soldiers' Memorial 125,000.
Schools 5,000.
Parks 5,000.

Total Town Assessment $1,806,500.
Grand Total $2,912,892.

In addition to the above there are also incorporations within the Town which claim that they have agreements with the Town, exempting them from taxes, but this year your Board has seen fit to include all incorporations for full amount of School Taxes. The Board of Assessors actions in this respect are strengthened by the great number of Appeals from incorporations, for exemption from School Taxes, being thrown out at the last session of the House of Assembly.

It might be well to know that where there were no services such as, water, light, sidewalks, etc., the ratepayers residing in these sections are assessed at a considerable lower rating, also aged men unable to work received a low rating.

The following are the census of the Schools:—

Grammar School Boys 350 Girls 360
Roseberry St. School Boys 230 Girls 250
Total 1190

Approximate School Expense $40,000
Approximate Cost per pupil $33.60

The Board of Assessors would like to draw to your attention, the fact that almost half of the warrant is used to provide for School purposes. Our School district extends from the Iron Bridge to which barely covers the expenses of their tuition. Following this we can safely state that our Schools stand second to none in the Province, and are ably managed by the present School Board and Secretary, who are highly qualified for their undertaking. A great number of our young men and women are at present studying at the different colleges and Schools outside of our Town, befitting themselves in higher professions, for the future welfare of our Town.

Next is a list of the population of the different churches within our Town:—
Roman Catholic 3693
Presbyterian 1470
Church of England 720
Methodist 476
Baptist 528
Salvation Army 152
Hebrews 44

Total 7075
The Board of Assessors deemed it necessary to arrange into lots and valuate at a low rate, all the farmland where streets have been laid out from the Iron Bridge to the Western Boundary of the Town, also that they measured all lots of doubtful size, resulting in the finding of numerous lots which in the past have escaped taxation.

It is pleasing to report that the large number of houses built last year and those under construction this year, together with the improvements around same are adding greatly to the appearance of the Town.

The Board of Assessors beg to call your attention to the large number of vacant lots on Water Street, fifty-three in all, and we feel that some effort should be made to have our main thoroughfare built up as additional revenue may be obtained for the Town.

The Board of Assessors wish to recommend the following:—
1. That the system of Assessing and valuating the Town, in so far as Personal Property and Income are concerned, be the same as that now used in Moncton and St. John, by a form to be filled out with an affidavit attached.

2. That all Automobiles, Motor Trucks and Motor Cycles be licensed instead of being assessed. It has been noticed that people are in the habit of purchasing an automobile after the assessment is taken one year, and selling it before the assessment is taken the following year.

3. That a license of $50.00 be placed on every Contractor not being a ratepayer in Campbellton.

4. That legislation be procured to allow a taxation on Company's incomes, which Companies have their Head Offices outside of Town, also that all persons living out of town, whether residents of the County or not, earning incomes in Town, be assessed the same as the ratepayers in Town.

5. That a special license be placed upon all dealers of Hides and Junk, within the Town, such license to be under the supervision of the Chief of Police.

6. That a survey of the Town be made, relative to all lanes and small streets claimed by landowners to belong to the Town, and the Town to take possession of same for the ratepayers benefit.

In closing I wish to thank the Reverend Gentlemen of the Clergy for their particulars submitted, also the members of the Town Council and all others who very kindly gave us any assistance required.

All of which is respectfully submitted,
Board of Assessors,
D. A. KEAN, Chairman.
H. A. EAGLES.

Big Turnout of Orange Societies Here Yesterday—Big Time at Skating Rink

Yesterday was a beautiful warm day, regular 12th of July brand, and the Orange societies in this district turned out in force for their annual celebration. Crowds came in from the country and lived the march, Sunday evening at the Hotel Dieu. At noon the ladies served dinner at the skating rink and games and amusements were provided for the large crowd which congregated there. At 2.30 the order of procession was formed, and the members of the different orders, headed by four standard bearers, carrying the Union Jack, marched through the streets of the town. The Campbellton band, assisted by musicians from Bathurst and Newcastle, provided the music.

The march ended at the vacant lots with it. Just as the auto was passing near the Soldiers' Memorial Hospital, where the usual addresses were delivered. County Master James Duncan, mounted on a white horse marshalled the parade. Besides those on foot there were many autos containing members in the parade.

OBITUARY.

Charles Laves.

Many were the expressions of sorrow when it became known that one of the victims of the accident at St. Moise last week was Chas. Laves, a young man who had been living in town for the past six months. Seldom does a stranger come into a community and make friends as quickly as did Charlie Laves who, with his pleasant manner and happy disposition won his way to the hearts of all with whom he came in contact. His remains were forwarded to his former home in Glace Bay, C. B., where his parents reside. The funeral took place on Sunday to St. Anne's church and was largely attended. Rev. Fr. McFallin officiating. Mr. A. G. Brown, with whom he made his home while in Campbellton, accompanied the remains to Glace Bay.

BOY STRUCK BY AUTOMOBILE

Died a Few Hours After Receiving Injuries—No Blame to Driver

Saturday morning while driving through Atholville Mr. George Dunn's auto struck a little boy, the son aged 8 years, of Mr. and Mrs. Maxine La-triet turned out in force for their annual celebration. Crowds came in from the country and lived the march, Sunday evening at the Hotel Dieu.

So far as can be learned Mr. Dunn was going up river in his auto and at a point of the road in Atholville he met a team driving towards Campbellton, while another team factored orders, headed by four standing up was on the other side of the road. Mr. Dunn naturally took the centre of the road to pass. Behind the team on the left side of the road was the child, who was hanging onto the team apparently running along with it. Just as the auto was passing the team the little fellow let go and started to cross the road. Mr. Dunn did not see the child until he had been thrown upon the fender when he immediately stopped his car and picked up. Just what part of the car struck the child is unknown as no one apparently saw the accident. When picked up he was bleeding badly on the nose and mouth and one leg broken, apparently by the hub of the wheel. Mr. Dunn at once got in touch with the unfortunate lad's mother and brought both to the Hotel Dieu Hospital where everything possible was done to save the child's life, but without avail, as he passed away Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. La Barque have the sympathy of all in the loss of their bright little son.

PROHIBITION PROVES FEWER PAUPER DEATHS

Recently Dr. John D. McMurrich, professor of anatomy in the University of Toronto, referred to the scarcity of bodies of dissecting purposes. This he attributed to prohibition, as men who would otherwise have died paupers now leave enough money at least to bury them decently. Dr. C. A. Baragar, superintendent of Brandon Hospital for mental diseases, also points out that since prohibition came into force there has been a marked falling off in the admissions to the hospital. In 1920 only two cases of alcoholic psychosis were admitted. Evidently the "dry spell" is doing good work even if not absolutely dry.

Labor Not in Favor of Wine and Beer in these Constituencies

The assertion that labor demands beer and light wines was declared to be "unfounded" by Wane B. Wheeler, general counsel and legislative superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of America, in an address before the convention of the International Sunday School Association here today. On May 16," said Mr. Wheeler, "a test was made in the thirty-third district of Pennsylvania, now the greatest industrial district in the United States, with its steel mills, factories and mines. Seventy-five thousand dollars was expended by the beer and wine champions to defeat Congressmen Kelly, who is an outstanding advocate of prohibition. He was renominated

Railway News

Gaspe. — Realizing that some effort should be made to preserve the old C. P. R. station building, the first house built in Gaspe, which is located on a piece of ground at the foot of Woloch Street, and which is fast going to ruin, the improvement committee of Gaspe decided to make a new house, having improvements carried out to preserve the building.

Galt.—General Manager M. W. Kirkwood of the Lake Erie & Northern and Grand River Railways has announced that early in July work would be started on the new Union Depot on Main street. The plans have been finally approved and tenders have been called for. The building, which will be of rug brick construction, one story in height, but later it is intended to add another story to accommodate the general offices now located in Scott's Block.

Moose Jaw.—The roof is now on the Dominion Express Company's new building, west of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company office building, and the work is being rushed with great speed. As soon as the Express Company building is in shape to be occupied, the old building will be removed and the work of installing the new tracks will be commenced.

In front of the new depot the concrete roadway is laid in square of ten feet. The city electricians have completed the installation of the two electric light standards at the outer edges of the sidewalks on both sides of the roadway.

Galt.—After 40 years of continuous and faithful service as an employee of the C. P. R., Alex. McKean, city ticket agent here for the past 14 years, joined the list of the superannuated, and his place was taken by John Campbell, for many years a permanent resident of Galt, at one time depot and freight agent, but for the past several years travelling passenger agent.

Mr. McKean commenced his railroad career in the freight audit department at Winnipeg, was agent at High Bluff, Manitoba, for a couple of years and for 17 years successfully conducted a mercantile business in Mount Forest, handling railway, steamship, telegraph and express services. It was from Mount Forest that he came to Galt in 1906.

Vancouver. — Vancouver's first transcontinental railway train entered the city thirty-five years ago, when prophecies were made which have now reached full realization. In the address of welcome to Henry Abbott, who was then superintendent of the Division of the C. P. R., Mayor M. A. Maclean drew a word-picture of Vancouver in the future which is now a fact.

Vancouver's first train was drawn by an old wood-burning type engine and included a baggage, colonist, sleeper and pullman and drawing. The engine was draped in evergreens and bore placards bearing inscriptions "From Ocean to Ocean" and many mottoes declaring the achievements of the men who undertook the construction of the C. P. R.

P. Barnhardt was conductor and P. Richter, engineer. The celebration of the arrival of the train was carried on far into the night, the city band serenading officials of the C. P. R. and a torchlight procession being staged through the city.

Woodstock, Ontario.—In the death of Charles Garden, C.E., which occurred at the residence of Col. F. H. J. Dibbles recently, there passed away the last male member in his generation of a family associated with the history and progress of Woodstock for well-nigh, if not quite, a century. Mr. Garden was connected with the building of the C. P. R. through the Rockies. He was one of the advance guard of the exploration party. The route of this party was via the N. P. R. to Bismark, Dakota, up the Missouri to Benton and thence by trek to Calgary and up the Bow. Only one party came over the Rockies summit. Mr. Garden was transit man and the party consisted of fifteen men. They came through the Vermilion, south of Kitchissippi and made their way to what is now called "Golden." They built "The Cache" which has ever since remained, with of course, extensive restoration and is now known as Moodie's House.

In 1845, Mr. Garden worked on C. P. R. construction near Lake Superior on White River, Pennsylvania. The discovery of the coal branch to the Coal Mines for the C. P. R. He had charge of logging and construction on Spruce Branch and was for some years in office work in 1897. He was on the location of the Crow's Nest branch, locating the loop and tunnel at Michael Creek.

The Housewife's Duty

IT is the duty of every housewife to discover where she can procure the best things for home consumption.

THE husband is the breadwinner—he provides the means—so it is only fair that the wife should learn to spend wisely and well the money entrusted to her care.

NOT infrequently a "poor manager" in the home is productive of not only unnecessary expense but unhappiness—and quarrels.

for Congress on the Republican ticket by a majority of 11,900, by a vote of three to one on the Democratic ticket, and unanimously on the Prohibition party ticket.

"Seventy-eight United States senators and a majority of congressmen comes from states where the state itself has prohibited even 1 per cent beer. A senator or congressman who voted against the standard maintained by his own State for law enforcement does not deserve the support of law-abiding citizens. Senators like senator from Missouri, who have fought law enforcement measures and spent their time in abusing and misrepresenting those measures enacted for the public good, have forfeited all claim on good citizens.

"Thus far we have established two facts: Prohibition enforced is a success and even when only partially enforced it is better than the license system. The following results prove it: Drunkenness has decreased more than one-half. Those opposed to prohibition admitted, after a survey made recently that consumption of beverage liquor has fallen off 70 per cent and that the number of drinkers is reduced over 17,000,000. Crimes related to liquor have fallen off materially, and all existing crime induced by drink proves our contention that alcohol proves crime and should be eliminated.

Nineteen hundred and twenty-one was the healthiest year in the United States. Liquor as a contributing factor in poverty is now negligible. Over $2,500,000,000 wasted for drink has been turned into useful channels. Bank deposits and savings have increased, and the net increased wealth of the country last year was $8,000,000,000.

"The attempt of the liquor interests to nullify this law is a challenge to red-blooded Americans. The higher the individual in social or business life the greater the responsibility that should be attached when he defies the law of the land."

The Eighteenth Amendment was adopted by 23-24 of the States, a great proportion than ever voted for the ratification of any other amendment. It is therefore entitled to proportionately greater respect."

How the Prince of Wales

Keeps in Good Condition,

Told by a New Chronicle

News dispatches tell of the strenuous official visit to India of the Prince of Wales. They do not tell, however, of the strain under which the prince labors on trips of state. Nor do they inform the public of the rigid training he must undergo to keep fit. A royal visit to India always is trying. The present trip is probably the most trying yet undertaken by the imperial family. For this reason the aura of romance which surrounds the young man who is bravely seeking it through, is intensified rather than diminished by this great ambassadorial adventure. Even the ordinary person who in ordinary circumstances visits India can hardly return from that land of princes, pagodas and purple skies without being invested in the mind of the stay at home with a suspicion of its glamor. When the Prince of Wales returns he will be to the popular mind in Britain a more romantic figure than ever.

Various writers have told us that getting fit and keeping fit are the young man's chief obsessions. Lately we have been asked to believe that he rises with the sun, exchanges palamas for running kit and sprays daily from St. James' Palace, where he has his menage, to Buckingham Palace and back in time for breakfast. But if this were true all London would be lined up along the Mall to see it happen. There is another little fact in the story, too. Edward, Prince of Wales does not take breakfast—at any rate, not at the conventional hour. He has it overnight when he goes to bed in the shape of sandwiches and biscuits, which suffice him until lunch time the next day. But although he is not obsessed with the notion of keeping fit, the subject certainly has a comfortable share of his thoughts. This was demonstrated during his recent seaside vacation, which unexpectedly afforded the London correspondent of the New York Herald an opportunity of studying his habits. Released from the cares of state, he went down to Brighton, the metropolis of the south coast, where, in a quiet and quiet old Georgian mansion house, he found welcome freedom from the worries incidental to the solemn business of understudying a king.

Royalties often choose severely practical ways of spending their leisure, enforced or otherwise. By standing in a back room of one of the houses or so villas that overlook the manor house garden one could watch a blue-shirted, belted figure to the task of lawn mowing, occasionally stopping to wipe a glistening face with a blue handkerchief. That was the Prince of Wales getting fit for India. One heard the clatter of the machine every morning and most afternoons. There was no doubt about his taking the job seriously. His daily regimen was that of the sensible holiday maker rather than that of the get fit quick enthusiast. Relaxation was his keynote, a small balance of strenuousness being supplied by the mowing. At 10 a.m. he rose and, garbed in rough tweeds, motored to the golf links. Published reports had it that he consistently carried off all the honors. As a golfer, however, the prince did not and does not distinguish himself. Unlike some other royalties one could name, he does not expect to win because he is who he is. He was several times soundly beaten at Hove, and cheerfully admitted the fact.

Returning at noon, he would shed his coat and get to work on the lawn. In this connection he said jocularly to the gardener: "I'll send you my bill when I get back. I'll be pretty stiff—labor's gone up, you know?" He further observed on another occasion that "a man must persevere if he's to keep fit." A prince who believes in perspiration must surely be an insipid person!

Following the lunch came another spell of mowing, and then a series of games of clock golf, of which the prince never tired. Sea bathing figured in his program on two occasions, a hundred yards sprint preceding them. The contestants were the prince, the Duke of York and two equerries, and the prince won by a matter of yards each time. He shapes better in running events than in almost any other form of athletics, except those involving horsemanship. A favorite evening diversion was a walk along the promenade, when the best known young men in Europe mingled as freely with his father's subjects as any holiday making clerk or shop assistant. Outside the grounds of the house he enjoyed, paradoxically enough, his greatest freedom among the crowds that packed the promenade and piers, where no one would have mistaken him for any one but an ordinary holiday making young man, enjoying the heat and the crush and his solitude, particularly his solitude, to the full.

Bedtime was rarely after 11 o'clock, the hour before which was mostly passed in listening to the gramophone. The prince read no books and few newspapers during his vacation. The only volumes the Herald man saw in the house were of military and historical interest. And the ginger beer bottles in the back yard, Edward is mighty fond of ginger beer, which is not saying that he is a Pussfoot. A sprinkling of silver wrapped bottles reassured one that he is not. But his taste in wines would not make a connoisseur happy. The wine he himself would be unconsciously long time in doing so.

The Zircon.

The zircon, found in Norway, Capetown, and other parts of the world, has been suggested as a substitute for the diamond.

PRINCE COLLECTS STAMPS.

A Hobby of His to the British Throne.

It is indeed a good prognostic for the prestige of philately throughout the British Empire that both the ruling sovereign and the heir apparent to the throne should be omnivorous votaries of the science. Undoubtedly the popularity that stamp collecting has been enjoying of recent years has been greatly enhanced by the active participation in philatelic circles of the King and other equally well known personages. At least philately is coming into its own.

H. R. H. the Prince of Wales has been for many years an enthusiastic follower of the cult, he first began collecting stamps when he was but ten years old. It is said that his father allowed him half a crown a week with which to buy stamps for his collection. Shortly after he received his weekly allowance he would hurry down to the stamp shops, where he would spend hours looking over vast collections for needed specimens. As is so with his royal father's favorite hobby is stamp collecting, and when in London he is frequently to be seen in some dealer's establishment in search of some of the new acquisitions for his extensive collections.

The prince has several times been honored in philatelic portraiture by Newfoundland. His likeness first appeared (along with other members of the royal family) at the age of four on the half cent postage stamp of the 1898 issue of that colony. He was next presented in the uniform of a cadet at the Royal Military College on the three-cent value of the coronation series of June, 1914. The stamp bearing his portrait was the Newfoundland Post Office proposed to issue in commemoration of his visit to 1919, evidently failed to materialize.

The Prince of Wales' collection has now assumed notable proportions, his philatelic predilections covering a wide range. The issues of British North America have long possessed a special fascination for him, and no doubt during his tour in 1919, his collection was increased greatly by the addition of some notable specimens of these issues. Other specialties of the prince are French Colonies and Liberia. In 1906, at the tender age of 12, he made his debut as an exhibitor, his entry being a specialized collection of French Colonies. He also has a fine collection of Liberia in pairs and all in superb condition. He is reported to have a strong penchant for three-cornered stamps, also those of his namesake colony, Prince Edward Island.

The prince has been for two years the honorary president of the Royal Philatelic Society, and has been so held for many years by King George, who is now a patron of this society. The prince's philatelic interests have long looked forward to the day when he would succeed to his father's position, and the day when his philatelic achievements may equal those of his father.

Bayonets Become Curates.

There was an unusual spikiness about the streets in London. Dozens of people were carrying naked bayonets. One had to walk into side streets for the explanation. There one found gutter-barrow sellers doing a fine trade in old army bayonets at half a crown apiece. That was an enterprise of men who have been buying the bayonets from the Board, and it had been well thought out and prepared for. Unlike some other advertisements on the narrow streets, they shall wait their swords in to ploughshares and their spears in to—ran one such advertisement.

"Into what?" an inquirer asked, for the advertisement recalled the method of the missing-word competition. Into curates, sir," the hawkier glibly responded. "Curates—little polks," he explained. "The sharp point splits open the coat if you give it a little twist—so." And he demonstrated as if he were on the parade ground.

One felt that so sharply pointed a "curate" may have its disadvantages on some heartthrob.

Earthquake In India.

An earthquake that shook India not so long ago was remarkable for the curiously distorting effects it produced on standing objects. Similar effects have been noticed from other earthquakes, but seldom to so striking an extent. In an official report in the matter it is described how this earthquake "tossed a lofty monument at Shatak. The monument was an obelisk of brick, coated with plaster, more than sixty feet tall and twelve feet of the top was broken off and thrown to the south and nine feet more was thrown to the east. Then a piece twenty feet in height was separated, twenty-three feet above the ground and twisted in a direction opposite to the motion of the hands of a watch, but without falling.

An Outside Job.

In a Yorkshire village lived a man whose feet were immense. He had ordered a pair of new clogs, but the clogger dallied about making them. Time after time the customer called at the tiny shop, and time after time they were not ready. "There's been no weather," "What has weather to do with my clogs?" "Well, was the retort, "this sees, Ah can't start a job o' that size inside t' shop."

Doubtful Blessing.

Cardinal Manning was a cadaverous man, and never looked robust. One day he visited a certain convent in Liverpool. The cook at the convent, an Irishwoman, was presented to the cardinal. She received his blessing in silence, and then, glancing at his emaciated form, said: "May the Lord preserve your emaciation, and may God forgive your cook!"

BASEBALL GAMES
THIS WEEK

Without a doubt the two unexpected victories of the Colts and Cubs over the G. N. R. and the C. F. D. respectively, have electrified local sport circles and the situation is causing the blood of indifferent baseball fans to course more swiftly through their veins. Much gossip and speculation is rampant, sometimes an excitable guy lets off a few vehement remarks about which team will win the league and who— even a few of the old bloods are waiting to bet, which by the way is a satisfactory turn of affairs.

FEDAY'S GAME

This game between the Colts and the G. N. R. on Friday night last was an interesting contest. The C. N. R. took the field with Tait in the box. The Colts batted heavily and, as the C. N. R. batters seemed to be more engrossed in the surrounding scenery than in the game, the batters experienced little difficulty in finding a safe place to drop the pill. They brought three runners across the plate and had two on bases when the inning ended. The C. N. R. nine appeared to do better at the bat than in the field for despite the unflagging efforts of the Colt fielders they scored twice in their first. In the second each team added another score and the game began to get interesting. But when the Colts came in from the field they repeated their play of the first and three more, men circled the bases. The C. N. R. team rallied and added another score to their credit in the third but from then on goes eggs were their limit. The victorious team exhibited good ball all through the game. Their batting was strong, their outfield was always on the alert and their infield work was sure and snappy. Wes Dobson did good work in the box. Harding and Love umpired the game. Score by innings 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9
Colts 3 1 3 1 3 1 3

MONDAY'S GAME

O'Leary's field, was the scene of an exciting ball game on Monday evening when the Cubs met the C. F. D. in a spirited contest. Both teams emerged from their dugouts about 7 o'clock and their good spirits gave promise of a snappy game. The Cubs took the field with Dickie, their old stand-by in the box. He was in good form and delivered good ball through the game. In spite of the fact that their ranks were depleted by the absence of some of their best players, the Cubs secured substitutes who played errorless ball and defeated their opponents to the tune of a 9-6 score. The C. F. D. played good ball but seemed to be unlucky with their men on bases.

McLaughlin-Buick "Master Four" Also Drives Through the Third Member

Whether it is a Four or a Six, every McLaughlin-Buick measures up to the same rigid McLaughlin-Buick standards of design and construction. What ever is McLaughlin-Buick, is McLaughlin-Buick throughout.

The McLaughlin-Buick Four, like the McLaughlin-Buick Six, drives through the torque tube third member on the axle. McLaughlin-Buick springs only support the body and ensure easy riding. A McLaughlin-Buick rear spring, accidentally broken, cannot mis-align the axle and tie you up on the road. This design is generally found only on high-priced cars.
