London, Tuesday, June 21.

CLEVELAND must get 500 of the votes in the Democratic convention to secure his nomination.

REV. DR. DOUGLAS is only now beginning to find out how bad a man he is, says the Stratford Beacon. Neither he nor the public would have heard anything of his weakness had he not undertaken the task of smashing the Terry idol.

The School Board of St. Paul, Minn., has decided to make no distinction of sex in the matter of teachers' salaries, women receiving the same as men for the same work. Why should there be any discrimination? In educational matters, of all things, there should be perfect equality.

We have had a few warm days in June, but unless the Montreal weather prophet is much mistaken the torridity is nothing to what we may expect in July. The forecast is as follows: "A hot, sultry July. Great heat, great storms (tornadoes), copious rains, damaging lightning. A whole summer in itself."

Bro. KRIS, the special agent retained by the liquor makers to combat prohibition before the commission, is in the city. There is a consensus of opinion that Bro. Kris is the right man in the right place. If he cannot prove that the chief thing needed to a country's prosperity is an increasing consumption of intoxicating liquors, and that no community can progress without sustaining plenty of agencies for distributing them, no man can.

The Hamilton Spectator opposes the ADVERTISER's proposition to "heckle" candidates for public honors, as is the practice in Great Britain. It says that down in Hamilton they have only attained the stage of civilization where hooting, hissing and stamping of feet could be expected if "heckling" were deemed advisable; and naturally it reaches the conclusion that "heckling" of that sort cannot be a success. Hamilton must be retrograding since Alex. McKay became the exemplar of oratory in the midst of it, or the Spectator man must have a poor opinion of his friends and neighbors. Let us exempt Hamilton, therefore, and once again assert that in all other municipalities it would be a good thing if a candidate for public honors were treated on the British plan—were compelled to answer every reasonable question propounded at the close of his address. The people, always exempting our contemporary's constituency, cannot know too much.

FRUITS OF TRADE RESTRICTION.
It is reported from Washington that President Harrison advises Congress to take retaliatory measures against Canada because the Dominion Government imposes discriminating tolls upon United States vessels passing through the canals. The cause for this contemplated action lies in the fact that the Dominion authorities charge United States vessels passing through the Welland Canal 18 cents per ton if they tranship at Ogdensburg, N. Y., while if transshipment takes place at Kingston or Montreal only 2 cents per ton is charged. Serious results may flow from this additional step in the retaliatory trade war between the two countries. The question could have been settled long ago, and settled to the mutual advantage of both countries if Canada had an Administration really anxious to make the best of its opportunities. Instead of that we have a set of jingoes in authority who believe that close and friendly commercial intercourse with our neighbors is not desirable, and we have newspapers representing monopolist interests, continually asserting that the less intercourse our people have with the United States the better it will be for them. The system is all wrong. It is a distinct injury to the mass of our population and can only result in trouble if persisted in. Conciliation, not retaliation or invitations to retaliation, is the proper policy for a country like Canada.NATURALLY AGAINST GLADSTONE.
Recent cables say the German Government is anxious for the defeat of Gladstone in the coming contest. This is natural enough. We suppose every other despotic Government in the world is opposed to the advance of Liberal principles. Nothing more fantastic has been seen or heard for generations than the attitude and talk of the present German Emperor. "I am your ruler, and none other. Obey and Reverence me." What the sturdy people of Germany should do is to establish a Republic and let their little kingdoms and semi-royalties earn an honest living as private citizens.

LIBERTY OF SPEECH.

There is a report that Mr. Elgin Myers, county attorney of Wellington, has been called to account by Premier Mowat for public expressions in favor of Continental Union. The report is probably inaccurate, or at least exaggerated, as the cardinal principle of anything like a truly democratic community is the right of free speech. There is no more reason why any citizen of Canada should be debarred from stating publicly his preference for Continental Union, than from free utterance in favor of Canadian Independence, Imperial Federation, or our present position, as Colonists. Why, even Sir John Thompson, reactionary as he ordinarily is, expressly stated in reply to a question in Parliament respecting the definition of "sedition," that no one could think, in a free country, of constraining open advocacy of Continental Union as opposed to the inherent right of free discussion. Were it to be held otherwise one might as well live in Russia. The right to know, to utter, to argue freely, well said Janus, is to be prized above all other liberties. Without that right, indeed, all other liberties rest on insecure foundations.

LONDON WEST AND LONDON'S HUMILIATION.

One of the most significant backdrops in connection with the Dominion Gerrymander Bill is the resolution of Sir John Thompson not to pitchfork London West into the city.

As Mr. Carling and his newspaper apologists have been assuring the public that it was absolutely necessary that this East Middlesex village should be placed in the city to "equalize" our population, people in this neighborhood are once more reminded that when a wrong is undertaken by men they have to take a good many sharp curves to make good its defense.

Everybody knew that it was not the "equalization" of the Middlesex ridings that the gerrymanderers had in view when they advised the London West scheme. And though the Administration has now reluctantly drawn away from it, the means of the expedient of foisting a county village upon the city, in order to fatten its population roll, while compelling decent citizens, to the number of 10,000, to vote all over the county, cannot be gainsaid.

The usurper of Mr. Hyman's seat in Parliament will make nothing by this miserable attempt or by his determination to minimize the importance of London. Here we have a city of nearly 32,000 persons, but in Parliament and in the newspapers it is spoken of as having but 22,000, because the Dominion Government persists in keeping two wards in rural constituencies. It is different with Hamilton. Though London East has been a part of the city for nearly ten years, the people in both wards are to be kept voting in the county for ten years to come. Why? Because London would be too big, too important, if its people were permitted to vote as a unit. Surely there can be no other explanation, for Hamilton only annexed a portion of South Westworth last year, yet the people in the new ward will in future vote in the city.

But it may be said, London would be too big to be represented by one member; if so, then give her two. She certainly is the only city in Canada with more than 30,000 inhabitants that has not two members. But even though London should be given but one member, if the people in Parliament, and they were allowed to maintain their community of interests, they would not complain.

The Administration made a big mistake, even as a matter of policy, when it indorsed the theft of Mr. Hyman's seat; it equally errs when it decrees that this important city shall have its electoral interests scattered all over Middlesex a day of reckoning will come.

THE DEHORNING COMMISSION.
The dehorning commission met again last week in Toronto, and as in Tilsonburg, Brownsville and London found numerous witnesses favoring the practice of dehorning cattle. Time has softened the asperities of those whose complaint of cruelty caused the prosecution in London and the subsequent appointment of the commission; and many who at first believed the practice to be barbarous and indefensible, are now inclined to recognize the arguments produced in favor of dehorning as reasonable and to believe that the sufferings of animals to have been greatly exaggerated. The tests made in the presence of the commissioners at Tilsonburg proved the operation to be almost, if not entirely, painless; and the results of dehorning are now everywhere admitted to be beneficial. The animals become more docile and less brutish, and danger of injury to man or beast is entirely removed. The shipment of dehorned stock is made safer, and no injuries are found on the carcasses after the animals are killed. The value of cattle is therefore greater, dead or alive, after dehorning, and it is now a foregone conclusion that the report of the commissioners will indicate that the operation of dehorning is humane and beneficial when performed by skillful hands and with due regard for the age and condition of animals operated upon.

The appointment of the commission has been condemned by a correspondent in an Owen Sound monthly, expense being the bugbear. If the critic had been able to attend the inquiries made in court before London magistrates, week after week, until rancor and ill-feeling had been stirred up between neighbors to an alarming extent, he would be prepared to defend rather than condemn the appointment of the commission. Harmony has been restored where animosities had been created, and the question of the propriety of dehorning will now be settled permanently and at less expense than had already been incurred in a single suit.

BRANTFORD'S "BOGEY MAN."

What a lot of free advertising Brantford is getting over the fact that its Board of Trade have sent Erasmus Wiman, the Canadian New Yorker, as a delegate to the convention of Boards of Trade in Great Britain.

The gravamen of the charge against the Brantford men lies in the assertion that Mr. Wiman may prove too able a talker for the other members of the convention. He has, as we all know, strong views regarding Canada's future in commerce and in material development. Suppose he states these views to the convention fully and frankly—who is to be hurt? Certainly not the Canadian delegates if they know their business. If they do not agree with Wiman, if they can show that his trade views would not advance Canadian interests, what a chance they will have to distinguish themselves, and to help this country.

Surely this shrewd son of Canada is not an ogre, and the twenty or thirty keen business men who will sit with him in the Congress as fellow delegates from Canada a parcel of school boys afraid of being eaten up in argument! These gentlemen may well crave to be saved from the defense of high tax editors who have prematurely entered on the silly season.

A PATRIOTIC STAND AT OTTAWA.
The opponents of the Gerrymander Bill are doing good work in the House of Commons.

In the last few weeks the statesmanlike contentions of the independent Liberal and Conservative members who have opposed the reconstruction of the constituencies on a basis distinctly hostile to the public interests has had one good effect. It must have convinced all honorable men that either our constitution is radically defective or it is wrongly interpreted if it permits of such racialities under the name of "redistribution." We believe with Hon. David Mills, Hon. Mr. Davies, D'Alton McCarthy, Hon. Wm. McDougall and Mr. O'Brien that the system is unconstitutional, and that it will be so declared if its opponents choose to push it to an interpretation by the highest court of the land. The latest convert to this view is Hon. Michael Adams, the veteran New Brunswick Conservative statesman, who is disgusted beyond measure with the cutting and carving of the constituencies indulged in by Sir John Thompson and his associates.

It is true that, under pressure of public opinion, and in order, if possible, to cover over the worst features of the bill, a few of the lesser attempts at gerrymandering have been abandoned. But the fact remains that the admitted dishonest rearrangement of the constituencies in 1882—now asserted on high legal authority to have been unconstitutional—as well as the butchering of constituencies undertaken this year is adhered to despite the fact that not a supporter of Sir John Thompson has defended the measure of 1882, while many have condemned it.

All right thinking men will indorse the patriotic stand taken by the Liberals and those Conservatives who would rather be honest than hide-bound partisans. These men, at great disadvantage to their own private interests, have remained at Ottawa to fight the battle of popular rights. They ask nothing but justice for all classes of the community, and if it is not obtained the country will know the reason why.

In this as in a good many other conflicts for the right the end is not yet.

What is Scrofula

It is that impurity in the blood, which accumulates in the glands of the neck, produces unsightly lumps or swellings, which cause painful running sores on the arms, legs, or feet; which develop ulcers in the eyes, ears, or nose, often causing blindness or deafness; which is the origin of ganglions, cancerous growths, or many other manifestations usually ascribed to "humors." It is a more formidable enemy than consumption, for it attacks the system in its most vital organs, and it is the most general of all diseases or affections, for every person is entirely free from it.

How can it be cured? By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by its cures it has accomplished, gives itself to be a potent and peculiar medicine for this disease. For all affections of the blood Hood's Sarsaparilla is unequalled, and some of the cures it has effected are really wonderful. If you suffer from scrofula in any of its various forms, be sure to give Hood's Sarsaparilla a trial.

Election of Officers for the Ensuing Year—Interesting Statistics.

OTTAWA, June 20.—At today's sittings of the convention of the Women's Christian Temperance Union the election of officers resulted as follows: President, Mrs. J. Williams, Montreal; vice-president, Mrs. (Gage) Foster, Knowlton, Que.; corresponding secretary, Miss Tilley (re-elected); recording secretary, Mrs. A. O. Rutherford (re-elected); treasurer, Mrs. Tilton, Ottawa.

Therapists of Miss Tilley, the corresponding secretary, said: At present in the Dominion there are 363 unions and 6,989 members; 202 bands of hope and loyal women, with a membership of 13,107 children and young people; 2,813 meetings were held during the year, and the income for expenses of unions was $4,880.77; 91,790 pages of literature were distributed. In Ontario, Quebec and British Columbia there has been a decrease in the number of factories inspected and the lack of inspection outside of factories formed an interesting portion of the report. Of the many abuses that called for a remedy, two stood head and shoulders above the rest, namely, the lack of proper toilet arrangements, and the failure to provide means behind the counters for women clerks.

Rev. Mr. Madden, vicar of St. Luke's, Liverpool, England, delivered a most interesting address to the delegates, and commented the W. C. T. U. of Ottawa, and the Dominion generally, on the success of the convention and energy of its officers.

In a Day.

Mrs. J. Ringland, Kinross St., Brockville, Ont., says: "I was confined to my bed by a severe attack of lumbago. A lady friend of mine sent me a part of a bottle of St. Jacobs Oil, which I applied. The effect was simply magical. In a day I was able to go about my household duties. I have used it with splendid success for neuralgia and rheumatism. I would not be without a bottle."

My experience, capital, enterprise and a clear interpretation of the wants of the public is no wonder that the members of the firm of H. M. L. & Co. have won the confidence of Canadian smokers. Nothing has done more to advance London as a commercial center than the fame of the Great Highland Lasses, manufactured by the celebrated company. Once tried, it is sure to become the companion of all who care to distinguish a first-class article.

STRUCK OUT.

The Proposed Grant to London Trust Members Vetted.

The L. and P. S. R. Lease To Be Advertised.

Electricity Suggested as the Motive Power of the Road.

The Grand Trunk's Offer Too Low—An Assistant for the City Clerk—The Vacant School Trusteeship—Welcoming Distinguished Visitors.

A letter was read at the City Council meeting last evening from Mr. W. H. Bartram, on behalf of George T. Hibor and other citizens, protesting against the grant of any money to the trustees of the London Trust. "We notify you," continued the letter, "that such proposed appropriation is illegal and a misappropriation of the taxes of the city, and that if the council do not regard this protest such legal proceedings will be taken as counsel should advise."

A clause in the report of No. 2 (Committee) recommended that Messrs. J. L. and Pritchard get $250 each for their services and be instructed to sell all the services. Ald. Connor moved that the clause pass. Ald. Connor moved that it be sent back to the committee.

Ald. Judd said that the gentlemen ought to be remunerated. It should go back with Mr. Bartram's letter, and the city solicitor's opinion as to the legality of the grant be ascertained.

Ald. Parnell strongly opposed the clause. Why had these two gentlemen been singled out for remuneration, and Mayor Taylor, a member of the trust for three years, ignored? The proposed grant would amount to $712 each for every meeting they had attended. The water commissioners had for years worked hard and had never received a cent.

Ald. Gathshore moved that that part of the clause recommending the grant be struck out. It would be a bad precedent to establish. The Hospital Trust and water commissioners had served the city well and got no remuneration.

Ald. O'Meara said there were certain little pickings in the other trusts, but not in the London Trust.

Vote—"What about the aldermen?" (Laughter).

Ald. O'Meara said he would like the city solicitor's opinion.

Ald. Gathshore's amendment was carried.

From C. W. Davis—Asking that 5,000 copies of the Buffalo Express be purchased by the city. The number will contain an illustrated article on London. No. 1 with power, expense not to exceed $150.

R. C. Ross and Obadiah Cannon—For remission of fine imposed by police magistrate. No. 1.

Susan Taylor and Rebecca McNab—Asking remission of taxes. No. 1.

From George Moncrieff, M.P.—Thanking council for address.

From the Board of Education—Asking council to join in the school children's celebration on Dominion Day. Accepted; Ald. Yates and Hannah to make arrangements.

David R. Spence et al.—For a twelve-inch drain or sewer on Maple street, South London. No. 2.

C. B. Guillemonte et al.—For a tile drain on Dominion Day. Accepted; Ald. Yates and Hannah to make arrangements.

James Johnston et al.—Complaining of Beecher street drain. No. 2.

J. H. Merritt—For use of Victoria Park for Salvation Army on Sunday afternoons during warm weather. No. 2.

From W. E. Saunders—Asking that an artificial stone wall be laid on Clarence street opposite his property. No. 2.

M. H. Rowland et al.—For a light on Peter street. No. 3.

J. Dunn et al.—Ask that Clarence street be widened at the intersection with Victoria street.

No. 3. A counter petition was sent to the same committee.

No. 3 Committee's report was read by Chairman F. J. Fitzgerald. Fireman Smith will get $50 extra per year for blacksmithing. The electric light at Victoria bridge will be removed to Stanley street, between the bridge and Wharncliffe road.

Some discussion arose over the recommendation that the advisability of establishing an electric light plant under civic control at Springfield or some other place and the cost thereof be ascertained.

Ald. Yates said the scheme was impracticable.

Ald. Leonard favored the idea. He had been told that there was considerable power at Kenney's dam, below the present one.

Ald. O'Meara said experienced engineers had reported adversely in the same matter as regards that dam.

The clause passed with the proviso that No. 3 be granted $25 for the purpose, and inform the council if they needed more.

The clause passed stating that the Ballantyne accident was purely accidental.

THE BOARD OF WORKS.

Ald. Connor's report was short and to the point. It carried in full. The report dealt with ordinary business gone over in committee.

THE CARPISONS MATTER DROPPED.

Ald. Gathshore had some important matters in the report of No. 1 apart from the London Trust clause. A clause stating that in the draft of the proposed agreement the G. T. R. carriages, recommended that the "further consideration of said agreement be laid over, pending the insertion of a penalty clause to give the city necessary security, and to protect the bonds to be granted by the city." This carried unanimously.

THIS L. AND P. S. R. LEASE.

The following clause was specially interesting:

"In reference to the L. and P. S. R. lease we report progress on the negotiations with the G. T. R., and recommend that your committee be authorized to advertise in the leading railway and electrical journals, stating that the L. and P. S. R. is to be leased, and asking for offers for the lease of said railway."

Ald. Bartlett saw no objection to it. The Grand Trunk was the only company wanting the road, and it was to the city's interest they should have it.

Ald. Gathshore said there was some question as to whether it would be better to run the road by electricity. American capitalists would be called to it. He would like to see the Grand Trunk get it if their terms were acceptable.

Ald. Hannah said it was time something was done. The lease expired in two months.

Ald. Judd said that within the next three months they would have to do something. Were they to take the Grand Trunk's offer or nothing? or were they to get the best offer from any person who wanted to operate this road?

Ald. Leonard said two offers had been received for the road on terms they could not accept. They had been assured it could be run by electricity, and they knew there were capitalists who would take the road and run it to the city's advantage. The scheme proposed by No. 1 was the best way to go at it.

Ald. O'Meara said he had no confidence in No. 1 Committee. The public or the press hadn't heard of this matter.

Mayor Spencer replied that he had invited the aldermen to read the correspondence, but only two or three had availed themselves of the privilege. The advertisement would elicit correspondence and the best possible terms be offered. Electric companies had taken hold of lines in Canada and it was possible capitalists would go into the Port Stanley deal. The mayor hinted that the Grand Trunk's offer was ridiculously low, and it would be well to look round and see what better terms they could get.

The clause carried.

WANTED—A TYPEWRITER.

The appointment of a typewriter to assist City Clerk Kingston, salary not to exceed $250 per annum, was recommended.

Ald. Parnell wanted to know if it was necessary to have a city clerk, an assistant city clerk and typewriter in that office. If the assistant clerk didn't do his work what was he there for? He moved that the clause be struck out.

Ald. Bartlett agreed with Ald. Parnell.

Ald. Gathshore said there was lots of work in the various departments of the City Hall for a typewriter.

City Clerk Kingston was heard. He had asked for his assistant as there was more work than he could possibly do. His health had commenced to give way through over-exertion, and an active assistant would be of great help.

Ald. Parnell (to the city clerk)—Is Mr. Abbott an assistant or merely a pensioner?

Ald. Judd said the question was out of order.

Mr. Kingston said he was sorry that Mr. Abbott's name had been mentioned. He had borne the burden of the work a long time, and purposely refrained from making his name known. Mr. Abbott's name was not mentioned.

The clause was carried and the appointment left with City Clerk Kingston's report on the installment system of paying taxes was ordered to be printed in the minutes for further and fuller consideration.

The committee recommended the following accounts for payment:

No. 1 Committee accounts: Salaries—Peter Toll, $50; Wm. A. Westcott, $50.

Incidental expenses—Expenses, C. A. Kingston, collection of taxes in installments, $23.75; E. N. Hunt, 25 cents; R. Ironside, 10¢. Printing, advertising, etc.—$25.44.

No. 2 Committee accounts: Streets, etc.—Pay sheet, $722.21; John McConnell, $5.50; M. Shea, $94.88; M. Baldwin, $100; J. C. W. Davis, $236.64; S. H. Craig, $2,000; S. Barlett, $47.82. Sewer repairs—Revens & Burns, $57.82. Victoria Park—A. Cole, $3.85. Exhibition grounds, etc.—M. T. Howay, $200.

No. 3 Committee accounts: Fire department—T. J. Tanton, $38.40; Simpson & Murray, $1; J. A. Roe, $11.16; T. W. Ness, $4; A. Westman, $5.50; P. Birwhistle, $10; P. McIntyre, $23.33. Street watering—A. Isaac, $26.40.

Relief accounts: Aged Men's Home, $20.30; E. De la Hooke, railway passes, $3.92; J. Burnett, $2.20; M. C. K. Campbell, $1.70.

Total accounts, $3,882.01.

BOARD OF HEALTH.

Ald. John Heaman submitted a short report from the Board of Health, asking the council to take prompt action to abate the nuisance caused by surface water on the Thomson avenue, near St. James street, and that the old Geary watercourse be cleaned out, cost not to exceed $100. Carried.

WELCOMING VISITORS.

Ministerial and Sabbath School Association.

TAVERSTOCK, June 20.—The Ministerial and Sabbath School Association of the west district of the Evangelical Association closed its annual convention at Taverstock on Friday evening. The ministers, laymen and delegates of the district schools were well represented. Rev. M. L. Wing, P.E., ably presided. Resolutions were passed recommending parental oversight in regard to the reading matter of the children, Sabbath school workers, self consecration, the forming of young people's alliances, and also expressing appreciation of the decided stand the Local Government has taken on the liquor and tobacco question as shown by the enactments made by the legislature recently.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

The House Decides to Hold Morning Sessions.

Debate on the Gerrymander Bill Resumed—Numerous Amendments Proposed and Voted Down—London West to Remain in East Middlesex.

[Special to the ADVERTISER.]

OTTAWA, June 20.—In the House this afternoon Sir John Thompson moved: "That on and after Wednesday next, for the remainder of the session, the House shall meet each sitting day at 11 o'clock in the morning. The motion was adopted.

The House went into committee on the Redistribution Bill, and Mr. Mills (Ont.) resumed the debate on his amendment for the maintenance of county boundaries. A vote was taken and it was defeated—27 to 51.

A motion by Mr. Mills that Merritt village be removed from Lincoln and put into Welland as the bill proposed, but he left in Lincoln, was accepted by the Government and adopted by the committee.

The sub-clause of the bill, uniting a part of the delinquent constituency of Monck to Haldimand, was adopted.

There was a long discussion on the sub-clause proposing to wipe out North Wentworth and carry some of its township to South Wentworth.

Sir Richard Cartwright moved in amendment that the electoral district of Toronto West be divided into two districts, each of which shall elect one representative; that the electoral district of Algoma and Nipissing be divided, each of the two districts to elect one representative; that South Grenville and North Leeds and Grenville be united and elect one representative; that Frontenac and Lennox be united and elect one representative. The amendment, he said, would make a minimum disturbance of existing electoral districts while providing the two seats required for Toronto and Algoma and Nipissing. These form one of the smallest counties in the Province, and being joined they would have 26,000 and 27,000 population, or less than many constituencies in Western Ontario. This amendment was defeated by a vote of 32 to 48.

Then Mr. Bain (Westchester) had a proposal that the township of Ancaster be put into South Wentworth, and East and West Flamboro and the village of Watford be put into North Brant.

The amendment was defeated by a vote of 21 to 42, and the clause was dropped.

Sir John Thompson moved an amendment to add sub-clause "J," giving a definition of the constituency of South Brant. This, he said, was done so that the portion of East Brantford (a township in old North Brant), which had been added to the city of Brantford for municipal purposes, may be included with that city in South Brant. Carried.

Sir John Thompson moved that a clause be adopted with regard to the constituency of Bothwell, the object of which he said was to include within its limits the village of Wolpele, St. Anne and the other islands at the mouth of the St. Clair River, which are not now included in any constituency.

Mr. Mills said he had a clause with regard to Bothwell which he wished to present, and the Minister of Justice consented to allow him an amendment to stand until Mr. Mills brought in his proposition.

When the clause was reached, which defines East Middlesex, and in which the transfer of the village of London West from that constituency to the city of London was proposed, Sir John Thompson said he would ask the committee to drop it. It was accordingly dropped and London West is to be left in East Middlesex.

When the clause giving West Toronto two members came up Colonel Denison moved that West Toronto be divided by Bathurst street; that that district west of Bathurst, which would include the island, be called West Toronto, and the new district east of Bathurst be called East Toronto, while the present Center Toronto be called East Center Toronto. This division, he said, would leave the western portion with a smaller population, but it was a part of the city in which there was likely to be a considerable growth early in the future. At Sir John Thompson's request the amendment was allowed to stand.

The clause making the electoral district of the city of Hamilton the city as constituted for municipal purposes was adopted.

All the clauses dealing with Ontario were disposed of, when Mr. Bennett at 12:15 o'clock moved his amendment, which he gave notice, with regard to Muskoka and Parry Sound, North Victoria and North Ontario.

Sir John Thompson said it was too late to take it up to-night, and moved the committee rise. The committee rose and the House adjourned.

Schooner vs. Whale.

DIORY, N. S., June 20.—The little sixteen-ton schooner Lizzie Q, which arrived in port on Saturday, reports an exciting experience with a mammoth whale on her trip to the fishing grounds.

During the attack, the monster, heaving under the vessel and nearly upset her, succeeded in throwing the vessel partly on her broadside, with a portion of the deck under water.

A Remarkable Find at Toronto.

TORONTO, June 20.—A remarkable find was made on the island this morning. It was a box of 20 tied hands and feet and laid out on boards. A big piece of brown paper was tied over its face. He was seen to be in a new nightgown, a new pair of slippers and a pair of ladies' stockings. He was reanimated, and in answer to inquiries he said a wonderful story, which included at least four murders. He knew neither his name nor anything about himself. He had evidently lost his reason, and whether or not there is any truth in his wild story cannot now be ascertained.

How Stock Broker Gould Was Killed.

New York, June 20.—Edward W. Gould, a prominent member of the Staten Island Athletic Club, and a well-known stock broker of this city, met a tragic death Saturday while participating in an amateur "Wild West" show. An extensive programme had been arranged, in which the numbers took the parts of Indians, cowboys and scouts, and there was a large and fashionable audience present. Mr. Gould, who was 55 years old, took the part of "The Old Settler" on the famous "Deadwood Coach." When the Indians attacked the coach the branches took fright and started on a run. In rounding a corner the coach upset, and Mr. Gould, who was riding on top, was thrown to the ground, while the coach fell on top of him. His son, who was an Indian, rushed to his assistance, but Mr. Gould's neck was broken, and he had been instantly killed. His wife in the grand stand first fainted, and then went into violent hysterics. There was great excitement, and the show came to an abrupt termination.

A Grand Trunk Train Runs Into a Washout.

Four Persons Killed and Seven More or Less Injured.

MONTREAL, June 20.—A fatal railway accident occurred at Hillhurst on the Grand Trunk Railway this morning. A heavy cloudburst passed over the section of the G. T. R. near Hillhurst east of Montreal and caused a bad washout, which destroyed the line to the extent of 80 feet. A local passenger train ran into it at 7:15. The engine, express, baggage, second-class and postoffice cars went down, carrying all hands with them. The first-class carriage remained suspended over the washout, and the passengers in it were not injured.

Four persons were killed, the driver, fireman, express messenger and a young man named Caron, a passenger.

The injured are: The mail clerk and a passenger named Clement, two section hands and two brakemen.

A baggage man went down with his car, but was not much hurt.

NAMES OF THE VICTIMS.

MONTREAL, June 20.—The names of the parties killed in the accident on the G. T. R. at Hillhurst to-day are:

Mark Dale, engineer, of Island Pond.

Geo. Reed, fireman, of Richmond.

Joe Caron, baggage man, of Montreal.

M. M. Small, express messenger, of Montreal.

The passengers suffered from the shock, but none of them were seriously injured. The remains of Dale, Caron and Small have not been taken out of the wreck. The engine is still under water, and until it subsides it will be impossible to get at it. The wounded were brought here to-night.

Alfred Denis, a mail clerk of Montreal, 57 years old, is very badly hurt. Conductor Munday, B. Caron and several passengers were also among the injured.

The O'Connor Girls

By Mrs. HUNTERFORD ("THE DUCHESS"), AUTHOR OF "MOLLY BAWN," "HER LAST THROU," "MRS. GEORGE," ETC.

"Yes," falteringly, and helplessly round me for the partner that is nowhere to be seen. "But, as this dance is half through, I cannot see my partner anywhere, I-I expect I shall have—"

"I've given to me," says he quickly. "You mustn't worry. I'll have you in a moment."

How we get home is a dream never to be forgotten. I say a dream, because in parts it seems imperfect. We all remember being taken away from the ballroom by Fanny, who remembered also the start for home with Mickey and Mary Kitty, and the car, and the covered car, and Mrs. Moriarty, and we all remember, too, though indistinctly, the drive towards Ballinacorney.

But what is as clear as crystal to us even now is how the first consciousness of dawn—of day—came to us as we neared our home. I suppose it was the terror it struck to our hearts that emphasized it. It struck on the old barn that lay just inside the yard gates, and told us that soon the world—our world—would be awake and up again. Aunt Jane is fatally early riser!

We get down from the car, we bid adieu to Mrs. Moriarty, who tells us "to be careful now, an' keep an eye on the old lady's window" (which would not be quite round the yard), and so step boldly across the pavement, and down the kitchen steps. The kitchen door is half open.

Swiftly, softly, we push it from us. Slowly, we descend the steps, and as we enter the house, we find the door open, and the light of day is streaming in. It is the head of Aunt Jane! So much my terrified eyes tell me! Such an Aunt Jane! I have never seen her so before. And when I look at her, the shock is almost more than I can bear.

Her small, lean face is surrounded by the most enormous white, steamed-up hair, and she is so big that she looks lost in it—(Oh! that she had been, and for ever—only her long thin nose peers forth, and here and there in a dangling sort of fashion a thin whip of grey hair. She has evidently taken it into her head, because her jaws have fallen in (not into the cap, into her herself, and her chin, it has grown pointed, so pointed, good gracious! What a frightful old woman!)

Truly, ugliness is as fascinating as beauty. My eyes are glued to Aunt Jane's face, and she is looking at me. There is no going out of it! Oh why did Kitty fall down that way, why has she brought destruction on our head?

"Ha!" says Aunt Jane at last. It is a short, I qualified beneath it. A desire to see me in full upon me, but I feel paralyzed, and can only continue to look at her and stare at this awful old woman in a dazed, dazed way. So paralyzed am I, indeed, that my hands refuse any longer to hold my cloak round me, and it drops to the ground, leaving me standing there in the bright early dawn in white frock, and with the rising gleams of the sun beating on my naked arms and neck.

"What's the matter with you?" says Gerry in a piercing whisper. "You look as if you had seen a ghost! Come in, do."

Evidently I look as if I should under the circumstances. Neither Kitty, who has been seen my apparition; and apparently the ghost has gone by them unheard. I try to answer Gerry—to warn her, but I can't; my tongue is cleaving to the roof of my mouth.

"Come in!" cries Kitty, out loud, or that I should say. "The words ring clear. The old referred to them distinctly, and instantly, and literally, shows her claws; she stretches out her lean grasping old hands, and, clinging to the window-sill, stares over."

"Who said that?" shrieks she. "Come Kitty! Do you think I don't know your hideous treble? I warn you, are you? Not ashamed, I warrant—there can be no shame left in you—but afraid that you have lost your chance of gaining the 'old cat's' nuggets! Ha!" Her snoring is growing terrible; I am still standing staring at her, my cheeks as white as death. "Oh, you think I don't know—that I don't understand? You believed that you had hoodwinked me, didn't you? But 'old cat' are not easy to blind. I know everything! Everything, I tell you. Your disgraceful flight from this house last night—your adventure with your precious cousin—here I see Kitty clasp her hands on her heart, but Aunt Jane had only meant Fanny—"and now—"with an ironical laugh that shakes every frill in the frightful cap—"now I am in at the death, as it were!" she cackles loudly. "Oh! this will be a rare tale to tell your father—your 'darling'—your adored parent!" Here her terrible old eyes fix themselves on me. "Go in out of your sight you wretched, naked girl," cries she. "Go and put on your clothes! Cover yourself, you wicked creature. Go—go, I tell you."

Horror-stricken, terrified, I fly down the steps, almost falling into Kitty's arms. I am sobbing and crying, and clinging to Kitty. "Oh! Kitty! Oh! it is all over. Oh! what shall we do?"

"I'll tell you," says Gerry calmly. "We shall all go up to my room and get a cup of tea. I'm tired, and so are you—and don't be a fool, Molly!" fiercely. "Do you think she can eat you?"

"Come, come," says Kitty enjoining me with her arms, and presently we find ourselves in Gerry's room shivering, and safe for the time being.

"Do put something against the door," entreats I, still sobbing bitterly. "The chest of drawers, Gerry, or the table. Oh, do put something. If she were to come here—in here—I should die."

"Or goodness sake be sensible," says Gerry with a little stamp of her foot. If you keep on crying and howling like an infant, how can we discuss things?"

AN OPEN LETTER.
[From the Canada Farmers' Union.]
The following letter on a subject that is interesting alike to all Patrons has been addressed to Grand President C. A. Mallory, of the Patrons of Industry, at Warkworth, Ont.:

Dear Sir and Brother,—Allow me to remind you that the House of Commons at Ottawa has, by its vote, refused to grant the prayer of our petition for the repeal of the duty on binder twine, etc., and that now is the time to bring that matter before the order in general, as the time is at hand when we farmers must make arrangements for our twine for the coming harvest; and as we will have to pay at least 25 per cent. more than we sought for this year's supply, I think it would be most opportune to send a circular to each member of the order, placing the matter before him and urging him to drop party politics, and vote only for the men pledged to afford farmers legislative relief, whether they be members of our order or not. The matter, presenting the duty should be taught a lesson they will not forget. By our votes we can teach them that our just demands must be complied with or they will be retired to private life and deserved oblivion. In your address to the order at Arthur last winter you stated that "the order was intensely political." Now is the time to prove the truth of your assertion by issuing a manifesto that will ring throughout the Dominion and raise such a storm that the Premier will soon be our humble servant.

We have right, we have justice, we have self-preservation on our side, and we have the power, if we can be but aroused to demand our rights like freemen. You also stated here that as farmers we had never asked for anything from the Government. Now we have asked and been refused, and the duty of the order is to stand by us. Let the cry of the oppressed ring in your ears and stir you to vigorous action. Make good your words. "Let them beware! I say, let them beware." Yours fraternally, H. S. ROBECK.

A letter recently received from Halifax, N. S., clearly demonstrates the value of Paine's Celery Compound as a sure and certain cure for the troubles referred to.

"I should like to tell you of the great benefit I have derived from your Paine's Celery Compound. For years I have needed and looked for something just to supply a felt requirement difficult to put into words, but arising from extreme nervousness and sleeplessness, which resulted in indigestion and general debility; and until I tried Celery Compound, nothing seemed to help me; and to be honest, I had very little faith in that, so feel all the more at ease in saying enough for what it has done for me. I now know nothing better to take after influenza to strengthen and build me up; and I have recommended it with satisfactory results more than once. For some time I have meant to write to this effect, but absence in New Brunswick delayed me. Gratefully yours, 'J. T. WINNING.'"

Prepare for the minstrel boys from London!
They are booked for the Chatham

it. Even their politics can't spoil them.—

A PLAGUE OF TARANTULAS.

One Big Spider Drops from the Ceiling Almost Upon Mr. C. E. Gilbert's Face.SAN ANTONIO, June 21.—The past few months seem to have been favorable for the propagation of tarantulas. The weather has been unusually dry, and the poisonous things are now more numerous in this city and throughout southwest Texas than ever before known. Some very narrow escapes from the sting of the tarantula are reported in this city.The other day, while C. E. Gilbert was taking a siesta on a bed in a rear room of his store building, his rest was suddenly disturbed by something dropping near his head on the pillow, and he saw a large tarantula coming directly toward his face only a few inches away. Mr. Gilbert reached the floor in a single bound, and was looking around for something with which to kill the invader, when his attention was attracted by another tarantula which had entered the room from the rear door, and was evidently seeking its companion. With the aid of a wooden paddle and a large paper sack Mr. Gilbert bagged both tarantulas. Placing them in a glass case, he then returned to search for more.He had hardly reached the back yard when he saw two more tarantulas moving along side by side toward the open door over the graveled walk. He bagged these, and presently three more were found, and all were reunited by being placed in the glass case, where they have become tame, and now amuse persons by snapping flies and other insects placed in their cage.The tarantula pest is complained of in nearly all parts of Mexico. Owing to the prolonged drought in the State of Durango they have become so numerous that the lives of children are in constant danger.The statistics recently compiled by the Government of that State show that one-tenth of the deaths of children in the city of Durango were produced by the fatal sting of the tarantula.

LEGAL QUERIES.

FENCE RAILS.—A and B own lands on each side of a creek, which during recent freshets carried off about 1,000 fence rails from B's and about 600 from A's lands. The rails passed across a road and lodged against a jam on the lands of C. Can C give these rails to D after appropriating to his own use what he may lawfully enter upon the lands of C to recover their rails, but must do so in necessary damage in doing so.WIDDER.—1. A owns 150 acres and B 200 acres adjoining. A's lot is fenced on the north side and B's on south side. Forty acres in the rear of A's lot is bush, and 80 acres of B's lot in the rear is bush, with no fence between. A's lot is leased, and his tenant turns cattle into the bush. Can B compel A to build his share of the fence,
2. Having done his share of fence? Ans.—
Not upon the facts as stated. 3. Would you consider that A's tenant occupied his part of the bush when he used it for pasture?
Ans.—Not unless the 40 acres is fenced on the other side. 3. What is the meaning of occupied lands in law? Ans.—Being enclosed in the highway and used for any purpose, such as a nursery, pasture, dwelling, pleasure grounds, park, etc.In 1800 Philadelphia had nearly 10,000 more population than New York. The figures were 70,228 and 60,489.Cosmetics cost the fair Americans $62,-
