WHOLE NO. 10084

VOL. XXXII., NO

Will be the Mayor of London for 1895.

He Defeats Mr. Jones by a Majority of 82.

The Vote the Largest Ever Cast in a Municipal Contest.

Messrs. Cowan and Judd Elected Water Commissioners.

Eight New Men Will Serve on the Council Board.

A Lively Mass Meeting in the City

Mr. Jones Attacks the Women and Announces His Future Plans.

Full Returns of the Vote for Aldermen and School Trustees—The People Want the Assessment Rolls Published-Deeply Interested Crowds Watch the "Advertister" Bulletin.

Mr. J. W. Little was elected mayor of London yesterday by a majority of 82 in the heaviest vote that has ever been polled in a municipal contest in the Forest City. Eight new faces will be seen around the council board of 1895, and several old standbys tell by the wayside, caught as it were in the mud which accompanied yesterday's January thaw. The vote polled in the mayoralty contest was 5,882, com-pared with 4,788 last year.

The new aldermen are O. E. Brener, in No. 1 ward; A. B. Powell, in No. 2 ward Wm. Skinner, in No. 3 ward; Geo. W Armstrong and Andrew Callahan, in No. ward; Jonathan Ardiel, in No. 5 ward, and J. W. McCallum and Ed Weld, in No.

Retiring aldermen who stood for re election and were defeated: Ald. Taylor in No. 1 ward, James Fitzgerald, in No. ward, and George Shaw in No. 6 wardthree of a kind usually very hard to bear

New "blood" who were unsuccessful.

H. M. Douglas, No. 2 ward; Finlay McNeil, No. 3 ward; Neil Cooper, No. 4 ward; ex-Aldermen Wilkey and Bartlett J. H. Cunningham and T. Sargent, No. ward; and J. M. Justin in No. 6 ward.

Of the last year aldermen who were returned Ald. Parnell triumphantly head the poll in South London; John Heama and J. H. Pritchard were elected in No. ward; Stephen O'Meara and J. W. Jones in No. 2 ward; Robt, Carrothers and Wm Heaman, in No. 3 ward; J. Garratt, in No. 4 ward; H. Dreaney and John Nutkins in No. 5 ward.

The composition of next year's counc will, therefore, be as follows: Mayor-J. W Little, wholesale merchant. Aldermen-O. E. Brener, cigar manufacturer; J. H. Pritchard, grain merchant; John Heaman butcher; Stephen O'Mears, cabman; J. W. Jones, auctioneer; A. B. Powell; insurance agent; Robt. Carrothers, brewery agent Wm. Heaman, coal and wood; Wm. Skinner, shoemaker; Geo. W. Armstrong. commercial traveler; Andrew Callahan, contractor; Joshua Garratt, builder; Jonathan Ardiel, retired hotelkeeper; Henry Dreaney, liveryman: John Nutkins, builder; Ed. Parnell, baker; J. W. McCallum, carriage woodworker; Ed. Weld,

THE WATER COMMISSIONERS. Mr. R. K. Cowan, with 3,604 votes, headed the poll in the water commission vote. Ald. Judd came second with 3,205 yotes, and Ald. Coo received 2,066. SCHOOL TRUSTEES.

Mr. U. A. Buchner is the new school trustee for No. 1 ward. In No. 2 ward Mr. John Stephenson was defeated by Dr. Wilson, a new man. Mr. Stephenson was a tried and efficient public servant, and his defeat in No. 2 ward is no doubt due to his late removal to No. 4 ward to live. Mr. George Griffin was re-elected in No. 3 ward, and Mr. E. N. Hunt is the new school trustee in No. 4 ward. Mr. Joseph Sanders was re-elected in No. 5 ward, and in No. 6 ward Trustee Wilkins was returne by acclamation.

As a result of yesterday's balloting the assessment roll of the city of London will be published next year. THE BETURNS.

As usual the ADVERTISER had the crow when the returns were being compiled. It splendid bulletining facilities made it and the ADVERTISER building was the only place in the city where the mayoralty and aldermanic votes were bulletined simul-taneously. Cheering thousands scanned

I thank you, gentlemen, deeply. I thank you from the bottom of my heart, and, as I said before, I have no doubt I represent a large majority of the bone and sinew of the city of London. And with that I thank you." (Applause.) J. W. Little. Mr. Little received a perfect ovation. When he could be heard he said in his usual modest manner: "Gentlemen, electors of the city of London: I thank you very much for having placed me in the proud position which I occupy tonight. (Cheers.) I believe that I am—I was going to say the first municipal officer in the present centure has every been elected by the tury who has ever been elected by the spontaneous bo unty of the people. However, that is going too far. But very few have ever been elected as I am, when I am in a position to tell you that I did not ask a single man in the city of London to personally vote for me. (Applause.) I never even presented a card to an elector, so that they were perfectly free to do just as they wished without any personal pressure being brought to bear from me. You know what that means, gentlemen. (Applause.)

A voice—You were not canvassing a year

Mr. Little-Somebody suggests something about a year back. My friend, Mr. thing about a year back. My friend, Mr. Jones has been canvassing for about a year, if not longer. (Laughter.) And when somebody came up to me and said "I am sorry, but I have promised Mr. Jones," I said "I do not ask for your vote. Keep your word. Be a man. Vote for Mr. Jones as you ought to do." (Cheers.) Gentlemen, I am glad that we have had such a good natured contest. I take this position as your mayor with much greater satisfacas your mayor with much greater satisfac-tion when I teel that I have had nothing to be ashamed of. I have not said a harsh or unfeeling word about anybody. I did not personally canvass a single vote, so that you all know what I have said about Mr. Jones. I told you that I looked upon him as a friend. I look upon him as a friend still. He has premised to loyally support me in the mayor's chair, and I believe he will. (Applause.) I am not going to detain you any longer. I wish to thank you from the very bottom of my heart, those ladies who went out and worked so faithfully for me, the members of the committee who went out and worked so well. I wish to thank those farmers who live down near me in the county who sent in their teams. I did not know of their un-*Majority for bylaw 672 selfish actions until I found their teams at At the City Hall.

As early as 6 o'clock a group of men had a "cinch" on several of the very, very few seats that the City Hall can boast of. As they were for the most part old men, and one had a crutch, they probably preferred to reserve their seats by sitting on them to reserve their seats by sitting on them as mayor, and when I appear before you at for a couple of hours rather than mix in the the end of the year no man will be able to able-bodied rush that is generally made for seats when the result is assured. At 7 did not serve you faithfully. I suppose o'clock the seats were already filled and Mr. Jones is tired, and so am I, and it is the south gallery comfortably crowded. time to go home. (Prolonged cheering, Janitor Merritt took a fancy to erect the during which Mr. Little and Mr. Jones shook hands.) Water Commissioner Judd. Cries for the water commissioners were given when Mr. Little concluded. Mr. J. C. Judd was the first to respond, and he was loudly applauded. "They tell me that I am one of the water commissioners for this year. I have not counted the votes yet, and, therefore, I do not know the majority, but it is one I hear that will take me some time to count. (Laughter.) Mr. Cowan is also elected, and for myself can only return thanks for your support. On this occasion it would not be right to single out any particular ward, but I can-not leave the platform without mentioning No. 6, where the electors gave me the opponents. A voice-Which one?

Another-Coo. (Laughter.)
Mr. Judd referred with pleasure to the fact that he was going to sit on the water commission with one who had sat side by side with him as a law student. The business of the office he was sure would be carried on in a friendly spirit. The grand majority, Mr. Judd continued, would spur him on to do hi utmost for the good of the citizens at ade the announcement that he would run large. (Cheers.) Water Commissioner Cowan. "The sign in my window has been turned out all day, but I went up a little while ago and set it right," said R. K. Cowan, as he began. The audience port me I return my sincere thanks, and to those who voted for the other gentlemen I have just to say you had a perfect right to do so. (Laughter.) During the last year the water commissioners have come in for a good deal of criticism from one source or another, but I am glad to say that I have not been defeated. If Ald. Judd defeated one of the candidates by 350 I think lace fronts, only 32c. vord of one another, and we are not going it must be Ald. Coo." Voice-But the 350 was only in one

"But I do not want to gloat over my success," continued Mr. Cowan. In some of the criticisms made during the year, something had been said about the ability of lawyers to conduct the city business. But Mr. Cowan thought they were the right parties to do it. There would be enough of men you heard of a petition with the names | them this year, but he or Mr. Judd would of one-half the voters of the city, bringing not charge anything for it-except $1. Mr. out my opponent. Well, I suppose I have Judd said he was not after the polled the other half. (Laughter.) But I dollar, but Ald. Coo said he was—and he is after it still. (Laughter.) Mr. Cowan was not afraid to come out before you without a petition. I did not need one. extended his congratulations to his new co-worker on the commission, and to Ald. promised to devote his attention to the one week longer I would have had at least to some waterworks as he had in the past, and he some and always at your service. I have been at your service for seven years."

(No more." (Laughter.)

Where the lack was not water, but the commissioners had inyour service for seven years."

A voice—"No more." (Laughter.)

Mr. Jones (petulantly).—"Well, Mr.

Little cannot say as much. (More laughter.)

Next time I am coming before you when there are fewer women voting. I am going to run next time for one of the houses ef Parliament.

Dr. Talmage's Brilliant Description of the Taj Mahal.

A Temple in India the Most Glorious in the World.

A $60,000.000 Mausoleum-Adorned with Costly Jewels-An Underground Temple.

BROOKLYN, Jan. 7.—In continuing his series of 'Round-the-World Sermons, through the press, Rev. Dr. Talmage yes terday chose for his subject, "Tomb and Temple," having reference to that most famous and beautiful of mausoleums, the Taj Mahal. The text selected was: "From India even unto Ethiopia." Esther, i., 1. In all the Bible this is the only book in which the word India occurs, but it stands for a realm of vast interest in the time of Esther as in our time. It yielded then as now, spices, and silks, and cotton, and rice, and silks, and cotton, and rice, and indigo, and ores of all richness, and precious stones of all sparkle, and had a civilization of its own as marked as Egyptian or Grecian or Roman civilization. It holds the costliest tomb ever built, and the most unique and wonderful idolatrous temple ever opened. For practical lessons, in this my sixth "Round-the-World" series, I show you the tomb and temple of India. In a journey around the world it may not be easy to tell the exact point which divides the pilgrimage into halves. But there was one structure toward which we were all the time traveling, and having seen that, we felt that if we saw nothing more our expedition would be a success. That one object was the Taj Mahal of India. It is the crown of the whole earth. The building is about six miles from

Agra, and as we rode out in the early dawn we heard nothing but the hoofs and wheels that pulled and turned us along the road, at every yard of which cur expectation rose until we had some thought that we might be disappointed at the first glimpse, as some say they were disappointed. How can anyone be disappointed with the Taj is almost as great a wonder to me as the Taj

The building seemed to me to be more like the morning cloud blushing under the stare of the rising sun. It seemed not so much built up from earth as let down from heaven. We go up the winding stairs of the majestic entrance of the gateway and buy a few pictures, and examine a few curios, and from it look off upon the Taj, and descend to the pavement of the garden that raptures everything between the gateway and the ecstasy of marble and precious stones. You pass along a deep stream of water in which all manner of brilliant fins swirl and float. There are 84 fountains that spout, and bend, and arch themselves to fall in showers of pearl in basins of snowy whiteness. Beds of all imaginable flora greet the nostril before they do the eye, and seem to roll in waves of color as you advance towards the vision you are soon to have of what human genius did when it did its best, moon-flowers, lilacs, marigolds, tulips and almost everywhere the lotus; thickets of bewildering bloom; on either side trees from many lands bend their arborescence over your head, or seem with convoluted branches to reach out their arms towards you in welcome. The building is only a grave, but what a grave! Built for a queen, who, according to some was very good, and according to others was very bad. I choose to think she was very good. At any rate, it makes me feel better to think that this commemorative pile was set up for the immortalization of virtue rather than vice. The Taj is a mountain of white marble, but never such walls faced each other with exquisiteness.

The Taj has sixteen great arched windows, four at each corner. Also at each of the four corners of the Taj stands a minaret 137 feet high. Also at each side of this building is a splendid mosque of red sandstone. Iwo hundred and fifty years has the Taj stood, and yet not a wall is cracked, nor a mosaic loosened, nor an arch sagged, nor a panel dulled. The storms of 250 winters have not marred, nor the heats of 250 summers disintegrated a marble. There is no story of age written by mosses is no story of age written by mosses on its white surface. Montaz, the queen, was beautiful, and Shah Jehan, the king, here proposed to let all the centuries of time know it. She was married at 20 years of age and died at 29. Her life ended as another life began; as the rose bloomed the rose-bush perished. To adorn this dormitory of the dead, at the command of the king, Bagdad sent to this building its cornelian, and Ceylon its lapis lazuli, and Punjab its asper, and Persia its amethyst, and Thibet its turquoise, and Lanka its sapphire, and Yemen its agate, and Punah its diamonds; and blood-stones, and sardonyx, and chalcedony, and moss agates are as common as though they were pebbles. You find one spray of vine beset with 80, and another with 100 stones. Twenty thousand men were twenty years in building it, and although the labor was slave labor, and not paid for, the building cost what would be about $60,000.000 of our American money. Some of the jewels have been picked out of the wall by iconoclasts or conquerors, and substitutes of less value have taken their places; but the vines, the traceries, the arabesques, the squandrels, the entablatures are so wondrous that you feel like dating the rest of your life from the day you first saw them. In letters of black marble the whole of the Koran is spelled out in and on this august pile. The king sleeps in the tomb beside the queen, although he intended to build a palace as black as this was white on the opposite side of the river for himself to sleep in. Indeed, the founds tion of such a necropolis of black marble is still there, and from the white to the black temple of the dead a bridge was to cross; but the son dethroned him and imprisoned him, and it is wonderful that the king had any place at all in which to be buried. Intead of windows to let in the light upon the two tombs, there is a trellis-work of marble, marble cut so delicately thin that the sun shines through it as easily as though glass. Look the world over and find so much translucency canopies, traceries, lace-work, embroideries of stone.

We had heard of the wonderful resonance of this Taj, and so I tried it. I suppose there are more sleeping echoes in that building waiting to be awakened by the human voice than in any building ever constructed. I uttered one word, and there seemed descending invisible choirs in full chant, and there was a reverberation that kept on long after one would have expected it to cease. When a line of a hymn was sung there were replying, rolling, rising, falling, interweaving sounds that seemed modulated by beings seraphic. There were aerial sopranos and bassos, soft, high, deep tremulous, emotional, commingling. It was like an antiphenal of heaven. But there are four or five Taj Mahals. It has one appearance at sunrise, another at noon, another at sunset, and another by moonlight. Indeed, the silver trowel of the moon, and the golden trowel of the sunlight and the leaden trowel of the storm built and rebuilt the glory, so that it never seems twice alike. It has all moods, all complexions, all grandeurs. From the top of the Taj, which is 250 feet high, springs a tower 30 feet longer and that is enameled gold. What an anthem in eternal rhythm! Lyrics and elegies in marble. Scuiptured hosanna! Masonry as of super natural hands! Mighty doxology in stone? I shall see nothing to equal it till I see the Great White Throne, and on it Him from whose face the earth and heavens flee way. The Taj is the pride of India, and especially of Mohammedanism. An English and B. A. Mitchell.

officer at the fortress told us that when, officer at the fortress told us that when, during the general mutiny of 1857, the Mohammedans proposed insurrection at Agra, the English Government aimed the guns of the fort at the Taj and said, "You make insurrection, and that same day we will blow your Taj to atoms," and that threat ended the disposition for mutiny at Agra. But I thought while looking at that palace for the dead, all this constructed to cover a handful of dust, but even that handful has probably gone from the mausoleum. How much better it would have leum. How much better it would have been to expend sixty millions of dollars which the Iaj Mahal cost, for the living. What asylums it might have built for the sick, what houses for the homeless!

But I promised to show you not only a tomb of India, but a unique heathen temple,

and it is a temple underground. We are now to enter one of the sacred cellars of India, commonly called the Elephanta Caves. We had it all to ourselves in the steam yacht that was to take us about fifteen miles over the harbor of Bombay, and between enchanted islands, and along shores whose curves, and gulches, and pictured rocks, gradually prepared the mind for appreciation of the most unique spectacle in India. In these E ephanta Caves everything is on a Samsonian and Titanian scale. With chisels that were dropped from nerveless hands at least eight centuries ago the forms of the gods Brahma, and Vishnu, and Siva were cut into the everlasting rock. Siva is here represented by a figure sixteen feet nine inches high, one-half man and one-half woman. Run a line from the center of the forehead straight to the floor of the rock. and you divide this idel into masculine and feminine. Admired as this idol is by many, it was to me about the worst thing that was ever cut into porphyry, perhaps because there is hardly anything on earth so objectionable as a being half man and haff woman. Do be one or other, my hearer. Man is admirable, and woman is admirable, but either in flesh or trap rock a compromise of the two is hideous. Save us from effeminate men and masculine women. After the conquerors of other lands, and the tourists from all lands have chipped, and defaced, and blasted, and carried away curios and mementos for museums and homes, there are enough entrancements left to detain one, unless he is cautious, until he is down with some of the malarias which encompass this island, or get bitten with some of its snakes.

That evening of our return to Bombay I visited the Young Men's Christian Association, and the night after that I addressed a throng of native children who are in the schools of Christian missions. Christian universities gather under their wing of benediction a host of the young men of this country. Bombay and Calcutta, the two great commercial cities of India, feel the elevating power of an aggressive Christianity. Episcopalian lit-urgy and Presbyterian Westminster catechism, and Methodist Angious-seat, and Baptist Waters of Consecration now stand where once basest idolatries had undis-

Indeed, the taking of this world for Christ will be no holiday celebration, but as tremendous as when in India during the mutiny of 1857, a fortress manned by Sepoys was to be captured by Sir Colin Campbell and the army of Britain. The Sepoys hurled upon the attacking columns burning missiles, and grenades, and fired on them shot and shell, and poured on them from the ramparts burning oil, until a writer who witnessed it says, "It was a picture of Pandemonium." Then Sir Colin addressed his troops, saying, "Remember, the women and children must be resoned !" and his men replied, "Ay! Ay" Sir Colin! We stood by you at Balaklava, and will stand by you here!" And then came the triumphant assault of the battlements. So in this Gospel campaign which proposes capturing the very last city of idolatry and sin, and hoising over it the banner of the cross, we may have hurled upon us mighty opposition, and scorn, and obloquy, and many may fall before the work is done, yet at every call for new onset, let the cry of the church be-"Ay! ay! Great Captain of our salvation; we stood by the in other conflicts, and we will stand by thee to the Necessary Things.

Man wants but little here below in his living rooms, according to William Morris, poet and artist. Here is his list of necessary furnishings: "First, a book-case with a great many books in it; next, a table that will keep steady when you write or work at it. Then several chairs that you can move and a sofa that you can sit or lie upon. Next, a cupboard with drawers: next, unless the book-case and cupboard be very beautiful with painting or carving you will want pictures or engravings, such as you can afford-not stop-gaps, but real works of art-on the wall, or else the wall itself must be ornamented with some beautiful or restful pattern; and last, a vase or two of flowers. This is all we shall want, especially if the floor be good; if it be not-as, by the way, in a modern house it is pretty sure not to be-I admit that a small carpet that can be bundled out of the way in two minutes will be useful, and we must also take care that it be beautiful."

My Lady's Flowers. The wise virgin, in chosing her flower, considers her general style, both of appearance and of manner. If she is a tall, saint-like person and has the air of a Saint Cecelia sojourning on the earth for a brief period, she should choose white roses-not creamy ones, but pearly white ones of the sort that never open very fully. Of course, brilliant red ones belong by right divine to the stately beauty. Pink roses are less exacting in their requirements. A girl needs only to be fairly fresh, sweet and dainty to wear them effectively.

Cream and yellow roses require a slightly more poetical style of beauty than their red and pink sisters. The mignonette is for the clear-eyed, not ravishingly beautiful, but adorably sweet and womanly girl.

And carnations are for every one. They are going to be very popular this winter. Prepared of the best materials, comounded by expert chemists, Dr. Price's Baking Powder is perfect. Dr. Seigert's Angostura Bitters, the most efficacious stimulant to excite the appetite, keeps the digestive organs in order. A Puny and Fretful Baby. It is now quite unnecessary! Like many others, you may have your baby fat, laugh-ng and happy if you give it Scott's Emulion. Babies take it like cream. Ask your dealer for Cerol Russet Shoe Dressing. High polish, waterproof and non-injurious. Try it. Price 15 cents.

Continuing, Ald. Parnell denied having ill-teeling towards any person over the way in which he had been treated during the campaign. He raised a laugh by referring in a satirical way to the left-handed praise given him by the Free Press of Saturday last. Ald. Parnell thanked his constituents for their level aupport, and he hered that their loyal support, and he hoped that when arms were laid down at the end of the year it would be seen that the aldermen's actions had met with approval. A chorus-He's all right. (Laughter.) "Now, gentlemen," continued Ald. Jones, "we have had our annual fight. It has been conducted in a fair spirit. After tonight we have to begin the battle of life in the best spirit. During the past year my ambition was to keep down taxation, and I must say the chairman of No. 1 took a very strong stand to keep the rate to 18 mills. But it reached 18½. It has been stated that if it had not for me and a few others we would have had the electric railway running now. Well, we could have had it now, but we would have been robbed. We have had a sample of it in Toronto, and we do not want it here. You have elected nineteen men, and I do not believe there is one of them who could be bribed. (Cheers.) We are going to have an electric railway. If we cannot get it from the present comompany is willing to electrify, but what are we going to get from them?" Mr. Jones said he was willing to deal with the company on business principles, and as a business man—then they would not have to come here and offer boodle.

Ald. O. E. Brener. The new representative of No. 1 ward was greeted with loud cheers. Mr. Brener was overjoyed at his success and wore a very broad smile. He thanked the electors for the trust reposed in him, and promised to first and always consider the city's best in-

IN LONDON WEST. The contest over the river was just as hot as the fight in the city. A greater interest was displayed by the villegers than for years past, and throughout the entire day crowds hung around the two polling booths. The reeveship struggle was especially warm, but the friends of Mr. Saunby have nothing to crow over, Mr. D. C. Macdonald, the chief magistrate last year, being defeated by only two votes. Deputy Reeve Scarrow was defeated by a good majority. GENTLEMEN, -My medical adviser and others told me I could not possibly live, when I commenced the use of Northrop & Lyman's VEGETABLE DISCOVERY for Dyspepsia. My case was one of the worst of its kind. For three years I could not eat meat and my weight decreased from 219 to 119 pounds. All the food I took for thirteen months previous to taking the VEGETABLE DISCOVERY consisted of milk. I am now entirely cured and have regained my usual weight, can eat any-thing with a keen relish and feel like a new man. I have sold over 30 dozen VEGETABLE DISCOVERY since it cured me, as I am well-known, and people in this section know how low I was, and thought I could not possibly be cured. They are eager to try this grand medicine. It certainly saved my life, as I never expected to recover when I first commenced using it. I am not exaggerating anything, but feel glad to be able to contribute this testimonial and trust it may be the means of convincing others of its merit as a certain cure for Dyspepsia. London, Tuesday, January 8.

-In Toronto the mayoralty vote stood: Fleming, 10,247; Kennedy, 10,261. This is a majority of 14 for Kennedy.

-The city schools opened today, after an unusually long Christmas recess. Too bad, is it not, mothers, that there could not be a few more holidays? Parents are just pining for them !

-Dr. Talmage finds Dr. Parkhurst somewhat of a rival, but so far the Brooklyn divine is the only American preacher who sets people reading his weekly discourses in every part of the country.

-The Ottawa correspondent of the Toronto World (Conservative) asserts that a Dominion general election will take place in March. Dare not stand the investigations of another session, ch?

-The Free Press reminds us that though there was a municipal election yesterday, there was a political election less than two months ago, when the figures were somewhat different. Yes, there was an election, and the majority for the Liberal candidate was 803. Next !

-Our Conservative contemporary uses a selection from its choice vocabulary to chronicle the victory of Mr. Little as Mayor of London. It announces that the victor is "the Head Center of Gritism in London." Mayor-elect Little has certainly never disguised the fact that he is a Liberal. He is proud that he is.

-If he had canvassed as industriously as his opponent, or if the canvass could have been continued for another week or two, Mr. Little's majority would have been at least 500. But there is no need for now discussing that phase of the question, or any other "ifs." The candidate indorsed by the ADVERTISER has been elected, and, for the purposes of election, 82 is just as good as 800.

-Mr. Everett, of street railway fame, now that the municipal election in Toronto is over, pledges himself to return and fight the men whe have been accusing him of bribing the aldermen. Mr. Everett acknowledges that he had financial transactions with the aldermen, but says that they were purely business deals. There are apparently lively times ahead in

-Dr. Munro, medical officer of Renfrewshire, Scotland, believes "that in 50 years hence all the infectious diseases which at present exist will be entirely unknown." This may be almost too much to expect. We are improving as a race all the time, and it is safe to say that if person al cleanliness and cleanliness in surroundings universally and voluntarily enforced infectious diseases would be almost driven out. Infectious diseases, nearly without exception, find in dirt a reveling place.

-Probably few readers are aware of the fact that modern industry has already got a foothold in the Arctic regions, and that mines are worked on a large scale and a railroad regularly operated in such high latitudes. This is the case in Sweden, where the Lulea-Gellivare Railroad, built for the purpose of carrying iron ore from the Gellivare mines to the seaport at Lulea, extends 50 miles above the arctic circle and enjoys the distinction of being the first railroad to open up the frigid zone. Canada has some railways pretty far north, but by and bye, when we get the James Bay line ompleted, and the mineral riches of Northern Ontario explored, we, too, will be reaching pretty well up into the arctic

-A circular letter has been issued from the Department of Customs notifying the officers that they must not apply to railway companies for trip or annual passes, but in cases where the duties of officials necessitate frequent railway trips the matter greatly cut of order. must be reported to the department and sanction secured before requisition is made for passes. But why should officers of the Government ask favors from the railway companies or any other corporations, either with or without the sanction of those in authority at Ottawa? Public officials should be perfectly independent, and if they have occasion to travel in the exercise of their duty the country should pay their fares in the usual way.

THE NEW COUNCIL.

The London City Council for 1895 will be a changed body from that which next week lays down the reins of office. There will be eight new faces at the Board, and a new Mayor will preside over them. There were some surprises in yesterday's polling, but on the whole the aldermen elected are a body of men who are likely to work in harmony for the promotion of the interests of the city. There is important work to do and it should be undertaken in a busi- French nobleman brought the first ostrich ness-like way and expeditiously performed. fan to Paris about 1100.

MAYOR LITTLE.

The contest for the Mayoralty of London yesterday was keen, but it resulted, as the ADVERTISER expected, in the election of Mr. J. W. Little, wholesale merchant. Mr. Little made a splendid run under eircumstances that would have deterred any man from entering the field who had not a strong sense of his duty to the public when a widespread spontaneous demand was made for his services. The new Mayor became a candidate at the earnest solicitation of a large number of his fellow-citizens but a couple of weeks before nomination day, and he did not canvass a single elector. On the other hand, Mr. Wm. Jones had been canvassing the electors, and receiving their pledges, for at least a year, and when many warm personal friends of Mr. Little informed him that they had pledged themselves to his opponent, and expressed their sorrow, Mr. Little counseled them to stand by their word. Then our city contemporary endeavored to win votes for Mr. Jones by practically appealing to its Conservative readers not to vote for Mr. Little because he had political as well as municipal aspirations. All things considered, Mr. Little may well felicitate himself upon his election, Mr. Jones upon the creditable vote that he received, and the citizens upon the excellent Chief Magistrate that they have placed in authority for the year 1895.

THEIR REWARD.

In No. 3 ward, for nearly two years past, Mr. Wm. Jones canvassed his Liberal neighbors for their votes for the mayoralty, pledging himself that he was a strictly noparty candidate. By this means, he obtained very many votes of men who always vote Liberal in national politics. The election has been held. Mr. Jones is defeated, despite the non-political vote polled for him not only in No. 3 ward, but in every ward of the city. Whereupon, the Free Press suggests that Mr. Jones' majority in No. 3 ward is a big party

MILLIONS SQUANDERED. The Calgary (N. W. T.) Herald, which supports the present Ottawa Government, strongly condemns the expenditures on immigration. It asserts:

"Its present expenditure is a practical waste. We do not hesitate to say that if the Government expenditure on immigration, as now applied, entirely ceased there would be no sensible diminution in the flow of settlement."

Then what is the necessity for the waste when many thousands of Canadians find it hard to rub along? Millions of dollars have been squandered in this and other ways during the last year or two. How business would be booming in legitimate channels if this money had been left in the pockets of the people to spend on the products of our manufactories and farms !

THE WATER COMMISSIONERS. Commissioner Cowan and Ald. Judd were elected Water Commissioners yesterday, and with Mayor-elect Little, will have this important department of the public service under their supervision. The Board is a

THE TURONTO MAYORALTY.

The most remarkable turn-over in yesterday's elections occurred in Toronto. Last year, Mr. Kennedy defeated Mr. Fleming by a majority of about 4,500. Yesterday. the same men ran, and Mr. Kennedy was elected by a majority of 14. In all probability a recount will take place, and Mr. Fleming may get the seat. The tremendous overturn in his favor, and despite the outery against him because he is a Liberal in politics, proves Mr. Fleming's strength beyond a doubt. While others were besmirched in the recent aldermanic investigation, ex-Mayor Fleming was proved to have done his full duty, and the people apparently were not unmindful of the fact.

MR. FOSTER SHOULD DO SOME

Canada in its financial year ending June Increased its gross public debt $8,300,000.

Expended $770,973 more than in 1893. Had a falling off in revenue of $1,793,. 915, and

Acquired a deficit of $1,210,322. This is quite a record for Mr. Foster. His patent apparatus for producing surpluses and spreading prosperity like an epidemic among the people appears to be Bad as the figures for 1894 are, it is admitted that 1895 will be much worse. Already in the half year that has passed the country has run behind over $2,000,000, and it will do no better, if as well, in the next six months. We shall have in Canada for 1895 the biggest deficit in our history, with the possible exception of 1885, when the ordinary expenditure was excessive because of rebellion charges. Mr. Foster should do something. Surely he is no fly on the wheel. Let him retire into his chamber, and evolve some plan whereby the country can, by legislation, be so lifted out of it present rut that the cry of men for "work or bread" shall no more be heard in the land, the wheels of industry will fill the land with their hum, and the public treasury will overflow with surplus wealth .- [Montreal Herald. Our Montreal contemporary must have been reading the promises made by the originators of the high tax policy. Does it really ask that these men should carry out that long-since discredited expedient?

Prospects for Home Rule. London, Jan. 7 .- The Daily News, the organ of the Rosebery Ministry, has an important editorial this week on the prospects of home rule.

"Ireland," says this doubtless politically. inspired writer, "must occupy an important place in the coming session. Ireland has hitherto got nothing from the Parliament of 1892. The Liberal party is bound by every consideration of honor and justice to uphold the Irish policy of Mr. Gladstone; but, indeed, duty and expediency point the same way. Many men who entered the House of Commons for the first time two and a half years ago, coldly convinced by dry argument of the necessity for Irish home rule, have been turned by experience into Home Rulers of a type at once practical and enthusiastic. The idea that home e means the dismer herment of pire has been abandoned to speakers and writers who have neither responsibility nor self-respect. LONDON, Jan. 7 .- An enterprising tea firm has just come to grief in North Lonprove that it had the largest tea trade in their first 100,000 customers would be presented with a bond of $50, which would be honored by the National Provincial Bank pound every week. The price of the tea 250,000 boxes represented 25,000,300 pounds, and years would elapse before the payment of $50 each to 100,000 persons. This having been duly exposed, the company advertised a weekly drawing for every 5,000 pounds sold. Now, the tea was only worth 25 cents a pound, and if the quantity stipulated was sold there would be a weekly profit of $3,125. Therefore, the firm could easily afford to give away $25 every week when the sales reached the stipulated amount. It was charged that this was a violation of the lottery act, and the magistrate so decided. The firm has taken appeal and will en-

A large and attentive audience last night listened to the first of a series of lectures by Dr. Lockwood, of Cincinnati, in the Dundas Street Center Methodist Church. Rev. E. B. Lanceley, the chairman, remarked that the audience greatly honored Dr. Lockwood, considering the many attractions in other parts of the city. Lockwood's lecture was a racy and keen analysis of juvenile character. Many a father with a pint of brains, he said, had tried to suppress his son who had quart of them. The father could not go beyond his pint and wanted to keep his son within that limit. Government of a boy was to teach him how to govern himself. Dyspepsia.
Mental disquietude and the constant anxiousness, discouragement and feeling of unfortunateness among people who are pleasantly situated and prospering, is an indication of dyspepsia. If dyspeptics do not fret about their own misfortunes they are often prone to dwell on the perplexities of others. This state of mind, while produced by derangements of the digestive organs, tends to increase their derangement. POLITICAL NOTES.

The Liberals of Antigonish have selected Colin McIsaac, M.P.P., to contest the seat lately held by Sir John Thompson. The District Liberal Association of West Algoma met Saturday at Fort William and reneminated the old member, Mr. James Con mee. No other name was mentioned. The different local associations throughout the riding have all passed strong resolutions of confidence in Mr. Conmee.

Words of Wisdom.

Do Not Use Medicine for the Baby: Pure Lactated Food is the Best.

Dear mother, is your child ailing? Is it getting thin and weak, and decreasing in weight? If it is, be assured the trouble is with its present diet-its form of nourish. ment or food is sadly lacking in boneforming and flesh-producing elements.

Your child requires not medicine, but a health-giving diet to build it up. Pure Lactated Food does the good work, in a way that no other agency can accemplish, and hundreds testify to this effect every month. A father, who has seen the happy results given by Lactated Food, writes as follows:

"We commenced using Lactated Food for our baby two months ago. He then weighed twelve and one-halt pounds, and was four months old, having but very little life or activity. I think we were starving him, as we could not find any food that would agree with him. We had tried fully half a dozen different prepared foods. Our baby was fast losing in flesh, and at last my wife took him to Dr. -- who prescribed Lactated Food. He gained eight and one-half pounds in less than two months, and now weighs 21 pounds, and is as lively as a crickst. This is certainly the result of using your Lactated Food."

PICKING COTTON.

When picking cotton, don't pick the worst because of its cheapness. Poor stuff is never cheap. Get the best though it cost a cent or two a yard extra. It will give satisfaction and wear perhaps twice as long as poorer grades; and though itshould wear only half as long again, see the immense saving. Again we say, poor stuff is never cheap. Probably experience has taught you this. We offer this week our large stock of high grade cottons at prices that

NOVELTIES IN LITERATURE.

Marie Elise Lauder, author of "Toofie in Europe," "Legends and Tales of the Hartz Mountains," etc., has written another interesting book. It is published by Wm. "Queen's Own," very fine, Last." Mrs. Lauder is a Canadian lady with strong literary talents. She has traveled extensively in Europe, which fits her for the treatment of her plot, it opening in Toronto and shifting to Europe, to France and the Riviera of Italy. The descriptions of scenery in these sunny lands, the interesting chats about other days which sprinkle the book, are in the author's best style, and make this volume not only readable, but instructive and suitable for young people in the holiday or any other season.

Volume 28 of Harper's Bazar opens brilliantly in January with the beginning of Maarten Maarten's striking and finely illustrated novel. "My Lady Nobody, Marion Harland contributes a character. istic short story, entitled "A Fin de Siecle Prodigal," and Harriet Prescott Spofford a 45c and 55c. Flannel Sheet- piquant tale, with a whimsical New Enging, one yard wide, at 25c land heroine. Other features will be a paper on "House Building," from the women's point of view, by Helen Evertson Smith, and the first of a series on "Colenial Dames," by Catherine Mathews. The fashions for January embrace elegant toilettes for occasions of ceremony by Sandoz and Chapuis, from Worth models, and many beautiful out-door costumes.

Among the contributors to the Century for January are Prof. Wm. M. Sloane, Arthur Sherburne Hardy, Florence Earl Coates, Florence O'Driscoll, M.P., Timothy Cole, Marion Crawford, Noah Brooks, Katharine Lee Bates, Hiram S. Maxim, Helen Gray Cone, Richard Malcolm Johnston, Dr. Hermann M. Biggs and others, buy all you may want while The artists include Castaigne and Pape, whose striking illustrations of the Napoleon are attracting attention; Bacher, Metcalf, Drake, Wiles and others, besides reproductions of Napoleon work by eminent French artists. The subjects have a wide range and include Napoleon Bonaparte, "Scenes in Canton," "The Armor of Old Japan," anecdotes of public men in Washington during war time, "Festivals in American Colleges for Women," Dutch and American art, Maxim's new flying machine, stories of life in Italy, England, New York and Georgia, the work of women in public life, "The New Treatment of Diphtheria," the Pass Pestilence, etc. And last but not least, the Century continues to present beautiful examples of the work of American wood-engravers, including T. Johnson, Tietze, Chadwick, Anderson, State, Davidson and Timothy Cole, the example of Mr. Cole's work being the beautiful "Portrait of a Young Girl," by Govaert Flinck.

BURNED OUT.

DANVILLE, Que., Jan. 7.—St. Augus-tine Episcopal Church, a beautiful brick structure, with cut granite facings, was burned today with all its contents, nothing being saved. The Rev. Thomas Blaylock is the pastor. Loss, $12,000. New York, Jan. 7.—The Journal of Commerce and Commercial Bulletin will tomorrow estimate the fire loss of the United States and Canada for the month of December at $10,321,000, and the total for the year at $128,246,400.

In Olden Times

People overlooked the importance of permanently beneficial effects, and were satisfied with transient action; but now that it is generally known that Syrup of Figs will permanently cure habitual constipation, well informed people will not buy other laxatives, which act for a time, but finally injure the system.

-Next !

-The end is not yet ! -A batch of statute labor summonses has sen issued. -Mrs. Claypole, a former resident of this city, died at Whitby, yesterday.

-Dr. George C. Davis has been confined o his room for several days with an attack of bronchitis. -Dr. Macgregor, Kent Bridge, and Dr. Kingsmill, Thamesville, returned home this afternoon. -Mr. S. R. Break, assistant secretary of the Detroit Street Railway Company, was in the city yesterday. -Mrs. Robert Douglas' many friends in London West and the city will be pained to hear that she is seriously ill at her residence, Wharncliffe road, London West.

-The unusual record of five deaths at ripe ages is published in this edition of the ADVERTISER, namely, David Kent, aged 80, R. McDougall, aged 77; Daniel Black, sged 74; Mrs. Mary A. Claypole, aged 72; and Thomas Heighway, aged 69.

-By an unfortunate overlook on the part of the pressman, one page of yesterday evening's ADVERTISER was given twice, and a page was dropped. Today we give the more noteworthy portion of the news thus missed by our readers.

-The newly-elected officers of Dominion, Chorazin, Eureka and Forest City Lodges of the I. O. O. F. will be installed on Thursday evening in the Oddfellows' Hall. The district deputy master, Mr. John Pearce, of Mount Brydges, will conduct the ceremony. He will be assisted by several of the local brethren.

-The remains of the late Robert Morrion, Kent street, were taken to Florence this morning for interment. Mr. Morrison was formerly in business there, and removed to this city a year or so ago. He was 68 years old, and leaves a widow and a large family. Rev. Mr. Moorehouse, Christ Church, and Rev. Mr. Berry, St. Paul's, officiated at the house.

-The ninth Division Court was held this morning, Judge Wm. Elliot presiding, and Squire Jarvis, clerk. About fifteen cases were disposed of. The only one of importance was Atkins against Bailiff Burns for alleged illegal seizure and also seizure of goods which were exempt. The case lasted two hours and the judge reterved his judgment.

-The death is announced of Mrs. Alfred Luard, St. James street, after an illness of a few days. Mrs. Luard was a daughter of Mr. James Johnson and was married in this city to Mr. Luard in 1866. Deceased was 50 years of age and leaves a husband and six children - Charles, Fred and Harvey, of Boston, Mass.; and Richard, Dora A., and Lucy D. at home. Mrs. Luard lived for twenty years on the fourth concession of London township and was consistent member of St. John's Church. Reeve Macdonald Re-Elected.

The London West returns as given out ast night showed that Mr. Saunby had s majority of two. Mr. John Simpson the returning officer made a recount this morning. He found that a spoiled ballot had been counted for Mr. Saunby in No. 1 polling subdivision, and also that Mr. Saunby had been credited with one vote too many in No. 2 division. This made the vote a tie, and on the deciding vote of Mr. Simpson, Reeve Macdonald was given a majority of one. This correction came too late to change the tables on page 3 of the ADVERTISER. Married the Other Sister.

A month or so ago the ADVERTISER published an account of the disappearance of s south end young woman on the eve of her marriage. The prospective groom had furnished the house and made every preparation for the affair, and had even summoned his friends to witness the cerenony. He was very much put out at the turn things had taken, and refused at first to be comforted. It transpired efterwards that the young woman had gone to Port Huron, giving the reason that she did not care for the young nan enough to marry him. She returned about a week ago and was in time to be present at the wedding of a younger sister o the young man she was to have married. Everybody connected is apparently satisfied, and another proof is furnished to the old saying that "All is well that ends

More Goods Identified. Mr. R. Kidner, Burwell street, has dentified the straps, valise and slippers which were found at the house of Thos. W. Ellis, who was arrested by Detective Nickle, on Sunday. Mr. David Rougvie, Queen's avenue, has also identified the opera glasses, the pocket book found on the prisoner, and a number of the coins. The place was entered about three weeks ago by means of a key. One of the skeleton keys found on the prisoner will open the back door. The police recovered some more articles yesterday from the prisoner's house. They were mostly in the nature of cutlery and include a silver plated nut cracker. A number of blankets and some jewelry await identifi-

Death of Squire Black. The death of Squire Daniel Black last night at his residence, Queen's avenue east, removed one of the best-known figures in this section of Ontario. He was born in Scotland, in February, 1819, and his parents removed to Canada in the same year and settled in Dunwich township, Elgin county, Deceased lived there until marriage, when he removed to Yarmouth township, in the same county. He continued there until 1877, when he retired to London, where he had since been an honored and useful citizen. He was for several years deputy reeve of Yarmouth township, and was a NEW YORK. TANGLED <---

There was no one within view, and they sat, her hand clasped in his. The one ex-pressive silence that used to lie between them of old, ensued now. They could not tell to each other more than they had told already. In the unexpected reconciliation that had come, in the bliss it brought, all had been disclosed. Arthur had heard all about her self-humiliation and anguish: he knew of the treasured violets, and their supposed treachery; she had listened to his recital of the weeks of despair; she had seen the letter, written to him from East-sea, worn with his kisses, blotted with his tears, and kept in his bosom still. No; of the past there was nothing more to tell each other; so far, they were at rest.

Arthur Bohun was still unconsciously twirling that pink hyacinth in his fingers. Becoming aware of the fact, he offered it to her. A wan smile parted her lips.
"You should not have given it to me,

Ellen took it up. The perfume was very "Why should I not have given it to "Don't you know what the hyacinth is "Death." One quick, painful glance at her. She was smiling yet, and looking rather fondly at the flower. Captain Bohun took both flower and hand in his. "I always thought you liked hyacinths,

"I have always liked them very much indeed. And I like the perfume—although it is somewhat faint and sickly." He quietly flung the flower on the grass, and put his foot on it to stamp out its beauty. A truer emblem of death, now, than it was before; but he did not think of that.

"I'll find you a sweeter flower presently,

A visitor was crossing the lawn to approach them. It was Miss Dallory. She had not yet been to see Ellen. Something said by Mrs. Gass had sent her now. Happening to call on Mrs. Grant her now. Ellen. And you knowpening to call on Mrs. Gass that morning, Mary heard for the first time of the love that had so long existed between Captain

Bohun and Miss Adair, and that the course of the love had been forcibly interrupted by madam, who had put forth the plea that her son was engaged to Miss Dallory. Mary sat before Mrs. Gass in mute sur-prise, recalling facts and fancies. "I know that madam would have liked her son to marry me; the hints she gave me on the point were to broad to be mistaken," she observed to Mrs. Gass "Neither I nor Captain Bohun had any thought or intention of the sort; we understood each other too "Y st you once took me in," said Mrs. Gass. Mary laughed. "It was only in sport; I

'id not think you were serious."
"They believed it at the Hall." "Oh, did they? So much the better." "My dear, I am afraid it was not for the better," dissented Mrs. Gass rather solemnly. "They say that it has killed Miss Eilen Adair."

"What?" exclaimed Mary.
"Ever since that time when she first went to the Hall after Mrs. Cumberland's death, she has been wasting and wasting away. Her father, Sir William, has now brought her to Dallory, not to try if the change might restore her, for nothing but a miracle would do that, but because she took a whim to come. Did you not hear that she was

"Yes, I heard so."
"Well, then, I believe it is nothing but this business that has made her ill—Captain Bohun's deserting her for you. She was led to believe it was so-and until then, they had been wrapt up in each other." Mary Dallory felt her face grow hot and cold. She had been altogether innocent of ill intention; but the words struck a strange chill of repentance to her heart.

"I — don't understand," she said in frightened tones. "Captain Bohun knew there was nothing between us; not even a hadow of pretense of it; why did he not tell her eco." tell her so?

"Because he and she had parted on another score; they had been parted through a lie of madam's, who wanted him to marry you. I don't rightly know what the lie was; something frightfully grave; something he could not repeat again to Miss Adair; and Ellen Adair never heard it, and thought it was as madam said-that his love had gone over to you."

Mary sat in silence, thinking of the past, There was a long pause. "How did you get to know this?" she breathed.

"Ah, well—partly through Mr. Richard.
And I sat an hour talking with poor Miss Ellen vesterday, and caught a hint or two

"I will set it straight," said Mary; feeling, though without much cause bitterly re-

"My dear, it has been all set right since the winter. Nevertheless, Miss Mary, it was too late. Madam had done her crafty work well." "Madam deserves to be put in the

She went to the Hall there and then. And this explains her present approach. Things had cleared very much so her as she walked along. She had never been able to account for the manner in which Eilen seemed to shun her, to avoid all approach to intimacy or friendship. That Mary Dallory had favored the impression abroad of Arthur Bohun's possible engagement to her, she was now all too conscious of; or, at any rate, had not attempted to contradict it. But it had never occured to her that she was doing

Just as Arthur Bohun had started when he first saw Ellen in the winter, so did Miss Dallory start now! Wan and wasted! ay, indeed. Mary feit half faint in thinking of the share she had in it.

She said nothing at first. Room was made for her on the bench, and they talked of indifferent matters. Sir William came up, and was introduced. Presently he and Arthur strolled to a distance.

Then Mary spoke. Just a word or two of the misapprehension that had existed; then a burst of exculpation.

"Ellen, I would have died rather than have caused you pain. Oh if I had only known! Arthur and I were familiar with each other as brother and sister; never a thought of anything else was in our minds. If I let people think there was, why—it was done in coquetry. I had some one else in my head, you see, all the time; and that's the truth. And I am afraid I enjoyed the dissappointment that would ensue for madam."

Ellen smiled faintly. "It seems to have Mean to the start of the sainter of the

"Ay. I wish I could."
But none could be wishing that as Arthur did. Hope deceived him: he confidently thought that a month or two would see her his. Just for a few days the deceitful improvement in her continued.

One afternoon they drove to Dallory churchyard. Ellen and her father; Arthur sitting opposite them in the carriage. A fancy had taken her that she would once more look on Mrs. Cumberland's grave; and Sir William said he should himself like to see it.

The marble stone was up now, with its inscription; "Fanny, widow of the Reverend George Cumberland, Government Cnaplain, and daughter of the late William Gass, of Whitborough." There was no mention of her marriage to Captain Rane. Perhaps Dr. Rane fancied the name was not in very good odor just now, and so omitted it. The place where the ground had been disturbed, so take up those others coffins, had turbed, so take up those others coffi ns. had been fitted in again with earth.

Ellen drew Sir William's attention to a green spot near, overshadowed by the branches of a tree that waved in the breeze, branches of a tree that waved in the breeze, and flickered the grass beneath with everchanging light and shade.

"It is the prettiest spot in the churchyard," she said, touching his arm. "And yet no one has ever chosen it."

"It is very pretty, Ellen; but solitary."

"Will you let it be here, papa?"

He understood the soft whisper, and slightly nodded, compressing his lips. Sir slightly nodded, compressing his lips. Sir William was not deceived. Years had elapsed, but, to him, it seemed to be his wife's case over again. There had been no hope for her; and there was none for Ellen.

THE C. P. R. LAY-OFF.

Officials Explain It-No Shut-Down, But

MONTREAL, Jan. 8 .- In connection with the story that 5,000 C. P. R. hands are to be dismissed, the Globe correspondent saw Vice-President Shaughnessy, who said that it was true that a number of men were laid off. Assistant General Manager Tait was also seen. He said that the matter was very much exaggerated. Owing to the decline in traffic there was not the same demand for engines and rolling stock. which were in excellent condition. As it was, there was no need to carry on repairing to such an extent as formerly, and so a lot of men would have to be laid off. In the locomotive department there would be a reduction of 50 per cent, while in others it would only amount to 25 per cent. There would be no closing down of the shops, but they would go on half time or three-quarter time. "We will endeavor as far as we can," said Mr. Tait, "to keep on men who are old employes and have families depending on them, laying off those who can better afford it. Our receipts have been going down for some time and this is the cause of our action. The want of snow is also causing a loss of traffic in the country, but I expect the present storm will make things brighter."

P. P. A. SWEPT AWAY

In Brantford-Not One to Tell the Tale

-A.LiberallTriumph. BRANTFORD, Jan. 8 .- The municipal elections held in the city of Brantford have resulted in a signal triumph for the Liberal party. Last year after a struggle of exceptional bitterness a council was returned consisting of ten P. P. A.s and five Liberals. The elections yesterday have witnessed the completion of the bumiliation of the P. P. A. begun on the 26th of June last. From the returns last night it is found that not one P. P. A. is left to tell the tale. The leaders of the movement in the last council, Messrs. McGregor, Robson and Williams, have been completely snowed under. The council now stands twelve Reformers to three Conservatives. The contest largely turned on the restoration of Messrs. Wilkes and Hardy to the city solicitorship from which they were ousted in the early part of the year.

—The primary year students at the Medical College, which opened for the winter session this morning, were delighted to hear the good news that Dr. C. G. New has been appointed assistant demonstrator in auatomy. The greatly increased attendance at the college has made it necessary that the demonstrator, Dr. H. Williams, should have a competent assistant. Dr. New is a recent graduate of the college here, being the gold medalist of the class of '93.'94, and has honorably passed the Council of Physicians and Surgeons of Ontario. During his college life the doctor has won hearty friends on all sides by his genial and gentlemanly manner. The students gave him a hearty ovation this morning on his first appearance in his new

The Police Court.

The charge of aggravated assault preferred by Ellen Starr against James Mc-Kenna was set down for a hearing at the Police Court this morning. It has been hanging fire for some time and several adjournments had already been made in the case. The magistrate was therefore not in very good humor when Mrs. Starr failed to appear today to press the charge and he forthwith discharged the defendant. John Lee, the aged man charged with insanity, was committed for examination before a judge. Maurice Baldwin was charged by Chief Williams with keeping a vicious dog. bite was dangerous. The case was enlarged for a day to allow Mr. Baldwin to destroy the animal. David Young, an ex-hotel keeper, of the Governor's road, was arrested last night by P. C. McDonald and charged with disorderly conduct. The man has been acting queerly, and the police think his mind is unbalanced. He was remanded for a week. Polly Patrick was up once more, but the magistrate took a gracious view of her offense and dicharged her. Carl Kyaph, a German, who has been on remand for a week, was discharged sober.

AN EXCITING RUNAWAY.

An Election Rig Collides With Street Car

And an Old Man Has a Close Call for

His Life. With the rigs hurrying hither and thither as they were yesterday it is a wonder that there were not more runaway accidents. A particularly lively one happened in the east end during the busy part of the afternoon and finished against a street car on the corner of Richmond and Dundas streets. The trip down the busy street by the flying team was an exciting one. Several rigs were overturned, and in the final collision—in which the street car was knocked clear of the track and turned half way around-an aged man had a close call for his lite. The team was the property of Ald. Henry Dreaney, and was in charge of Chas. Dreaney, a nephew of the alderman and a resdent of Victoria, B. C. When the team became frightened and started to run at the East End Hall, young Dreaney managed to eatch the tailboard and swing himself aboard. The lines were trailing, however, and he was unable to stop the flying team. While hesitating whether to climb down again or make himself comfortable on one of the two seats he was helped to a decision by the horses themselves. They swerved across the street to escape a collision, and Master Dreaney found himself flying through the air without the aid of a Maxim flying machine. Beyond a badly bruised arm the flew, dodging where they could, colliding -Dr. Oronhyatekha, head of the Inde. where they could not dodge. At Harry Gladstone rig was overturned on the sidewalk, but no one was injured. The next block was passed without incident, and a car facing east at the corner of Dundas and Richmond streets was avoided. Facing west on the opposite side of the street was a London West oar, and on the rear platform Mr. Joseph H. Marchant, an elderly man, was standing. He stepped inside the door just as the runaways reached the car. The force of the collision slewed the car partly around and threw Mr. Marchant into the corner. He landed just as the pole crashed through the glass, and the flying splinters badly cut the old man on the face, while the pole struck his arm. The horses fell and were captured by by standers. Dr. Gardiner witnessed the accident and was immediately in attendance on the wounded man. His left eye was encircled with cuts but luckily his sight was uninjured. His arm was bruised, but no bones were broken. A large crowd

THE great wealth, either of the Mormon Church or of the individuals at its head, has been again demonstrated by the recent investment of $10,000,000 by the "First Presidency" in a new corporation called the Utah Company. This new company is to operate coal mines, a railroad, a bathing beach and pleasure resort at the great Salt Lake and build, equip and operate tele-graph and telephone lines. This is purely a church scheme, in which gentiles have no part, and is, like the Zion Co-operative Company, to be managed to add to the wealth of the church.
