

HOUSING COMMISSION ASKS MORE MONEY

Wants Additional Appropriation of $400,000—Not For Current Year.

Application for $400,000 additional appropriation for building in London under the new housing act was made by the housing commission last night. Under the new act this money will be available at current rate of interest. The city's appropriation of $500,000 under the former act was obtained at 6 per cent. It is not likely that any of the new appropriation will be required this year, but the commission wishes to be prepared for eventualities.

R. J. Kelly, who contracted to build nine houses for the commission last year, stated in a letter to the commission that he was facing a total loss of more than $4,000 because of delays in obtaining backlogs and other materials. He will be instructed to interview the purchasers of the houses with a view to remedying this condition to some extent.

Sub-division plans of the Pine Lawn site will be submitted to City Engineer Brazier immediately, and will later be sent to the railway and municipal board for approval. As soon as this is done the actual work of sub-dividing the property and laying streets will be commenced. A barn which is on the premises at present will not be sold, but will be retained for use as a tool shed by the contractors.

City Clerk Baker reported that loans approved so far totalled $152,820. Withdrawals total $37,885.

CONVICTIONS CAUSE MORE FORM FILING

Preparations for Further Prosecutions Still Continue Here.

As a result of the convictions of persons failing to file income tax returns the office of the local inspector of taxation is returning to the city for the year 1918 from citizens of whom it had no knowledge. The six men fined here are only a few of those who will face the court. As soon as R. B. Law, the solicitor for the prosecution, returns from Ontario he will continue the court actions. Meanwhile the work of notifying delinquents by registered mail proceeds.

HOUSING DIFFICULTIES SOLVED BY MINSTRELS

Harvey Show Enjoys All Conveniences In Own Private Train.

R. M. Harvey, proprietor of Harvey's Greater Minstrel Show, now playing in London, has upon a bright idea to solve troubles arising from housing and hotel congestion. All the members of the company, including the men, women and children, travel, eat, sleep and live in two private cars, which are really a traveling hotel with every convenience. The two cars, of steel construction throughout, are divided into fifteen staterooms, each with upper and lower sleeping berths, providing accommodation for four people; a commodious dining-room, a kitchen, pantry, a large bathroom, a private parlor compartment for Mr. and Mrs. Harvey, and a convenient, equipped, bright, roomy office for Mr. Harvey. The two cars are lighted by electric current produced by a small motor, driven by coal oil, which starts and stops automatically according to the current demand. The dining room is provided with a table and can be used as a writing, reading or sitting room. Stairs lead to a platform when required from a small boiler in the baggage end of one car. Supplies are purchased for the company of all people wherever they play, and two waitresses and a kitchen maid are kept busy preparing and serving meals to the company. After and between meals the dining-room serves as a club-room.

Mr. Harvey put the idea of housing his company in private cars when he was manager of the Wallace and Hagenback circus. He had 22 years' experience on the road with circus aggregations, including the Barnum and Bailey outfit. He began his life in newspaper work and owns a daily paper of his own out in Perry, Iowa. After his home town he has named the two cars in which his company travels, the Perry and the Iowa.

TENDER DETAILED.
When four miles east of Ingersoll, two wheels on the tender of No. 83, a westbound Grand Trunk passenger train, due here at 5:30 o'clock, jumped the track on Thursday afternoon. The derailment occurred about 5:20 p.m., the train being a half-hour behind schedule. With the exception of the coupling of a few wheels little damage resulted. Without the assistance of an auxiliary the wheels were replaced on the track.

Prominent Minister Indorses Hacking's Heart and Nerve Remedy

Was almost a Nervous Wreck from Overwork; this wonderful remedy brought back his old-time Vigor and Vitality. Read the story of a Great Medicine, in three letters. $100 in cash will be paid to anyone who can prove that these letters are not genuine. The name of minister will be given to anyone who doubts these remarkable statements.

HERE IS LETTER NUMBER ONE.
"Please send me one box of HACKING'S HEART AND NERVE REMEDY. I am suffering from a bad attack and have been unable to fill my pulpit for three months, doctors say that it may be six months or more before I am well again. I used to be able to hold my large congregation from start to finish, now, I can scarcely hold my own thoughts."

My Heart Action is bad, and I am subject to Faintings and Dizziness, and am very despondent. I hope that your remedy will help me."

We sent on the one box of Hacking's Heart and Nerve Remedy, and 11 days later we receive this letter.

LETTER NUMBER TWO.
"Please send me 6 boxes of Hacking's Heart and Nerve Remedy. I have used the box you sent me, and I feel that it has already helped me. My head is clearer, and the pain that has followed the preparation of my sermons has been greatly relieved, and I feel that with proper treatment I will again be restored to my old-time vigor."

"I am so pleased with the success of your remedy that I am giving part of it to some of my friends."

LETTER NUMBER THREE.
"Having used your medicine, Hacking's Heart and Nerve Remedy, for a few weeks for Neurasthenia (Nervous Breakdown) I have become a new man. For five months I have suffered from Sleeplessness, Nervous Chills, Fainting Spells, Severe Headaches, and I could not place my mind on the preparation of my sermons. Today, my old ambition and strength is renewed—thanks to the use of your remedy, which I am pleased to recommend to anyone suffering from Nervous Diseases."

This testimonial comes voluntarily from one whose reputation is unassailable, and is given for the sole purpose of helping others. The above statements are true—or as near to the truth "as the men of Benjamin could throw a stone."

—Jud. XX, 18.

INDIGNATION MEETING AS PROTEST TO BILL

L. R. C. Plans To Voice Objections in East End Hall.

Members of the labor representation committee and the citizens' committee opposing the passing of the city of London bill at Toronto are arranging to hold an indignation mass meeting in the east end town hall next week. Already petitions protesting the bill are being circulated for signatures. Meanwhile, through Dr. H. A. Stevenson, M. P., the opposing citizens are laying their case before the attorney-general. An attempt will be made to have the matter sent back to the private bills committee. William T. H. of the L. R. C. stated that he has a letter from Premier E. C. B. to the effect that Dr. Stevenson will be given an opportunity to ventilate the affair on the floor of the House.

HIGH WAGES NOT EVIL HERE, SAYS SECRETARY OF SERVICE COUNCIL

Neither young nor old men get too large wages in London, and so it was not easy to get any striking expression of local opinion regarding the contention of Governor Sleeper of Michigan that high wages are the cause of high prices and very bad morals for young men. The governor is reported as actually going to a group of Detroit manufacturers and telling them that it is not right for boys 18 to 20 years of age to draw from $7 to $11 a day in wages. They do not save any of it and are learning extravagant habits, he claims. He urged upon the automobile manufacturers a readjustment of wages, so that married men and older men would draw larger salaries and young, unmarried men smaller salaries.

"About this," said T. D. McCullough, secretary of the Social Service Council, "because I don't think there is much fault to be found in London in the direction of excessively high wages."

RECEIVES $1,000

Women's Christian Association Gets Bequest of Wm. McConaghy.

The Women's Christian Association will receive bequest of something more than $1,000 from the estate of the late William McConaghy of St. Mary's, according to a judgment given in Toronto by Justice Kelly. The testator bequeathed the residue of his estate to six home or hospital for aged or infirm persons nearest to his home, and the Women's Christian Association of London and the Perth House of Refuge, at Stratford, both made claim to the bequest. Dr. W. M. Flock appeared as counsel for the London association.

LOCAL HOD-CARRIERS LIKELY TO WALK OUT

Latest developments indicate that a strike of hod-carriers is likely. The employers, it is stated, flatly refuse the demand of the men for 70 cents an hour. The men are unwilling to accept any lower figure.

HYDRO WILL NOT SPEND MUCH OF MONEY IN LONDON

Few Minor Additions to the Transmission System.

Only a comparatively small amount of the $17,000,000 appropriation for hydro will be expended in the Niagara district. All that London is likely to see as a result of the expenditure is a few minor additions to its transmission system. A sum of $1,250,000 has been appropriated for use in the Niagara district.

A million dollars is a comparatively small amount to the hydro system, and the end is not in sight. Transmission of the power which will be available when the Chippewa development is completed will cost $45,000,000. Of this amount, $15,000,000 will be expended by the hydro system on transmission lines. The remaining $30,000,000 will be indirectly contributed by the purchasers of the power when they buy motors and other appliances.

MEET TONIGHT.—Further discussion of plans for the making of a social survey of London will take place at a meeting of the London Social Service Council in the Y. M. C. A. building this evening. James Gray will preside.

WHERE IS HE?—Secretary John Cunliffe, of the G. W. V. A., is seeking Pte. Sidney Theophile Fraenkel, regimental number 216593, a former member of the Central Ontario Regiment, who served in France with the 31st Battalion. He wishes to return to him his Class A discharge certificate, No. 252488, which has been found. Class C badge No. 1234 is also at the club awaiting a claimant.

BRADSTREET'S REPORT.—London reports to Bradstreet's say that business in this city is steady, with most lines moving in satisfactory volume. Groceries are firm with advances noted in some lines of staple goods, while hardware also is tending to higher level in many cases. Some lines of spring goods are a little quiet, but the general situation is satisfactory. Scarcity of goods is still making itself felt, and is likely to do so for some time. Industry is active and manufacturers are busy. Scarcity of many lines of both raw and manufactured materials is causing considerable inconvenience and the situation in textile goods is strong. Some business changes have been noted during the week. There is a scarcity of many kinds of labor and good farmhands are obtaining high wages. Collections are good.

LONDON DOCTOR SUES C. P. R. FOR $2,000 DAMAGES

Macpherson & Perrin, acting for Dr. Herman Schaefer, have entered an action in the supreme court against the Canadian Pacific Railway for $2,000 damages for personal injuries suffered and damage to his automobile when the latter was struck by a C. A DAY FOR FATHER

The Post Bill is a father, and as such wants to know why some day in the year is not observed as "Fathers' Day." Bill states that Dad is the chap that is called upon to dig deep for the coin, and surely he is entitled to some recognition by the family tree. Mother may be content with a flower on the day dedicated to her, and suggests that a fitting gift for "the old man" would be a bottle of whiskey.

However, here's Bill's effusion. Read it for yourself:

WHY NOT HAVE A DAY FOR FATHER?

Now Mothers' Day is past and gone. Amidst us for another year. Poor fathers appear to be all forgotten. Why not have a day for him to cheer?

Don't we think he deserves it? Working from morn till night, Trying to lessen his labors a bit, While some of the losses sit tight.

He has to get out in the boiling sun, And work with all his might, Just like another, his work is never done, He says when he comes home at night.

Then, when he arrives this time of year, When mother is housecleaning, All his things are here and there, And he, of course, starts complaining.

If mother wants a hat or dress, You know it makes poor father guess, When these articles he tries to choose.

Then, they want to take a trip, He has to stand and bite his lip, For there is no time for hesitation.

So let us now choose one day, Only one in the year for father, For, to us, it is just as fair, When we got a day up for mother.

If he does not wish to plant a flower, Only for once, to end a pleasant hour, Present him with a good bottle of whiskey. —BILL.

OUT TO BREAK RECORD

Long-Distance "Bike" Champion Steps in London for Short Period.

Herb W. Kipp, long-distance champion bicycle rider of Canada, rode into London at 1:12 o'clock this afternoon, having made the first lap in his attempt at the Windsor to Toronto record. The record stands at around seven hours, but with the roads in the shape they are, there is every chance that Kipp, who has ridden some splendid races, will break the time this trip.

He stopped at Wenigo's bicycle store and took some light refreshments before continuing the long grind to the Queen City.

Kipp covered the distance between Windsor and London in 3 hours and 20 minutes. Mr. Kipp recently won the endurance race from Port Wayne, Ind., to Detroit, 448 miles, in 17 hours.

LONDON DOG HAS HIS DAY AT LONDON'S BUBBLING FOUNTAINS

"We Supply the Water, We Can't Be Responsible For Where It Goes," Answers E. V. Buchanan to Irate Citizen Who Complains.

Provision for quenching the thirst of the stray hounds who roam the city streets is to be made within the near future in order to save the dogs from drinking at the bubbling public fountain. General Manager E. V. Buchanan is entirely in favor of some plan which will enable the dogs to get a drink without rising on their hind legs and lapping the bubbling stream which is intended only for the rosebud tips of bipeds.

Some time ago when The Advertiser published a story that a freckled boy had been invited by his master to drink at the fountains in Victoria Park, it was declared to be a "typical impossibility" by E. V. Buchanan. Apparently this is not correct. An irate citizen telephoned the general manager that another canine offender had been caught. It fact at that very moment he was drinking at the fountain on Dundas and Richmond streets.

Heated "Clack." "That's not my business. It's yours. You're general manager of the water-works department," replied the citizen. "How the dickens do you suppose I am going to chase him away when I'm three blocks from the place. We just supply the water. We can't be responsible for where it goes," shot back the manager.

Mr. Buchanan thinks that it would be impracticable to place guards around the fountains, as this would prevent children from drinking. He suggested that water might be furnished in a receptacle at the base of the fountain where the dogs could drink without the trouble of standing up on their hind feet.

UNION EMPLOYEES OF L. & P. S. RY. ARE NOW OUT ON STRIKE

Commission Endeavored to Maintain a Partial Service Today — Many Applications Received, It Is Stated, For Positions—Meeting May Be Arranged Shortly To Discuss Demands of the Men.

Broken wires on the London and Port Stanley Railway have a lot to do with the commission's plan of giving the traveling public a partial service on that road this morning. It had been planned by the directors to run about one-half of the line south of the city the first car did not leave London until 1 o'clock this afternoon.

A complete tie-up resulted from the walkout of the men last night, and not a car was moving on the lines this morning. It was understood that a mail car was to leave the city at 5 o'clock this morning in spite of the strike, but it did not get away from the city until nearly 1 o'clock in the afternoon. It was followed later by a passenger car, which left the city at a high rate of speed carrying four or five passengers.

The wires, which became broken some time between midnight and this morning, were not fixed until 1 o'clock. A great deal of difficulty was experienced in getting them connected, because all the linemen had joined the strike.

That a car was able to leave the city was accepted as a good omen by the members of the commission. No other accidents occur they believe they will be able to give some kind of a passenger service until the strike is settled. The cars which left the city of London were operated by an official of the road, as the men had joined the strike.

No attempts have been made by the men to stop the clerks or the officials from operating the cars. No pickets have been stationed on the line or at the shops up to the present time. If a car was to be operated, the clerks put a stop to the operation of the cars. It will be resorted to by the union, according to the officials. In their opinion the cars are being operated by unskilled labor, and therefore the lives of the passengers are endangered.

Give Warning. Two constables were stationed on the L. & P. S. R. platform as the cars pulled out at noon. A warning was given, it was claimed, to two of the strikers that they must not loiter on the company's property.

Officials of the union stated that every man on the line in Port Stanley, Thomas and London, excepting the clerks and the officials are striking. No word has been heard from the members of the commission in regards to a meeting for a settlement. The strikers claim they will hold fast until the directors give them a satisfactory increase.

Nothing to Say. The directors of the road had nothing to give out this morning except that they will be able to give a partial passenger service. It is expected, however, that a meeting will be held as soon as Sir Adam Beck arrives in the city, which will probably be tonight.

FRIENDS AMAZED AT BIG CHANGE

Eats Anything, Sleeps Soundly and Is Full of Energy and Ambition.

"When a man has been in a weak and rundown condition for seven years, and is suddenly restored to health, so that he is full of energy and eager for work, he naturally wants to tell everybody about it," said Arthur Galarneau, who resides at 103 Chateaugay street, Quebec, when the Tanlac representative called to see how he was getting on with the medicine, a few days ago.

"I was in a terribly rundown condition," he continued. "My stomach was out of order and whatever I ate would lie on my chest like a lump of lead. After my meals I always felt drowsy, and yet at night could not sleep well, for my rest would be disturbed by dreadful nightmares when I would jump up and start to yell. I got so weak at last that I used to dread going to work and it always seemed as if the day would never end. I had no energy and my work was like a martyrdom. I can assure you I lost all hope and my case was about desperate."

"If I had all the money I spent on medicines trying to get relief during the last seven years I would be well-to-do today. And when I first read the statements in the papers about what Tanlac was doing I was very skeptical about it helping me, for my case was exceptionally bad. Still I decided to give it a trial, and I've been congratulating myself ever since that I did. Every day I took seemed to bring me new relief. My appetite got keen, I began to enjoy my meals and found out I could digest it. Perfectly. I got stronger every day, and now my friends are all amazed at the great change in my condition. I am full of energy and my daily work is just a cinch. I have now got some ambition in life and feel that there is some hope in the future. I shall always be grateful for what Tanlac has done for me, and I am glad of this opportunity of recommending it."

Tanlac is sold in London by Standard Drug, Limited, and by an established agency in every town.

Has Little to Say. SMITHS FALLS, May 13.—Approached to night in regard to the hydro-electric employees' situation at Niagara, Sir Adam Beck, chairman of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission, had little to say.

"They were offered a substantial increase in pay about a week ago, and I don't think now they have any grievance," he said.

When pressed for a statement he said that he did not know how the situation stood at present. He had not been in touch with it for a few days. The matter of better board and loan, which it needed, consideration would certainly be looked into.

Must Pay a Heavy Tax for Transfer. New York, May 14.—Mrs. Hetty Green had $28,000,000 invested in the state of New York, and her estate must pay a transfer tax on that amount, according to an opinion handed down today.

MAY STRIKE MONDAY. NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., May 13.—The employees of the Provincial Hydro-Electric Power Commission, who are working on the new Chippewa Canal at Niagara Falls, Ont., tonight to strike next Monday unless the hydro commission agrees to a conciliation board in the meantime. About 2,500 men are concerned in the dispute between the employees and the commission over wages and living conditions.

Freight Tie-Up. Although the passenger service will be partly in operation, it is expected that the freight service will be completely tied up. This will mean serious loss to the commission, as much coal and steel is moved daily by the road. These commodities are unloaded at the ferry at Port Stanley. All freight connections with the M. C. R., Wabash and the Pere Marquette will in all probability be discontinued. The express and mail service will be continued, according to a statement by the commission.

AWARD NOT UNANIMOUS. SARNIA, May 13.—In a document issued today, Burley Bennett of this city, who represented the employees of the London and Port Stanley Railway on the board of conciliation appointed to adjust the wage differences, stated that he had rendered a minority report recommending a 15 per cent increase over the old rates. This report was not unanimous, as London dispatches out, and shows that the award was not unanimous as London dispatches today said.

Bicycle stealing is very prevalent in this city, according to the police. During the past month the following losses
of wheels have been reported: April 30, Cleveland, No. 40523, the property of Everett Ashton, 156 Wellington street;

ford Red Bird, No. 42919, the property

Whitford, 747 Grey street. This wheel was found in the river near Wharncliffe

Much of the thieving is done while the owners are in the theatres, when they leave their bicycles on the road
for a few hours.
Some of the stolen bicycles are only used by the thief for a short time and then discarded by him. Persons finding them generally have them for some time instead of reporting the matter to the

SAYS AUSTRALIA IS DETERMINED TO STAY WHITE MAN'S LAND

Treasurer Watt of Commonwealth Arrives in London.

London, May 13.—The question whether there is to be a continuance of the Anglo-Japanese alliance is being discussed before the British public by the presence of W. A. Watt, treasurer of the Australian Commonwealth, in England.

Mr. Watt arrived in London this week and has given out a number of interviews in which he urged closer cooperation between Great Britain and Australia with regard to foreign policy and emphasized Australia's determination to remain a "white man's country."

At a dinner given in his honor, which was attended by Viscount Milner, secretary for the colonies, and numerous other men in public life, Mr. Watt, in an address, said:
"The dominant thought in our minds
has been that in Southeastern Asia live
eight hundred million colored people, and the Australian people say that whatever can be done to keep our country for such as the British and their children should be done. We know that we could not repel an armed assault by the great yellow or brown nations, but we believe that in the fullness of time the statesmen of the Empire will understand our attitude and assist us to enforce it."
"If there are conversations in the near future between the empire of the Mikado and the British government, the Australian people want their views registered before the responsible thinkers in the home of our Empire."

Parrot's Food Saved Lives of Schooner's Crew

Cracked Corn Intended for Birds Turned to Use by Humans.

Los Angeles, May 14.—Parrots' food saved the lives of the crew of the schooner yacht Unica, which yesterday reached Balboa, near here, after an adventurous passage from New York, according to Captain L. P. M. R. (Doc) Wilson.
The craft cleared Sandy Hook December 3, was damaged by sales before it reached the Panama Canal, and left the tropics, northward bound, with a "heavy cargo" of parrots, Wilson said. Then came calms and headwinds, until the food supply was exhausted, and the crew was forced to eat the cracked corn taken along for the parrots.

dent Wilson.

C. P. R. LIKELY TO OPEN UP NEW LINES IN NORTHERN QUEBEC

Halifax, May 14.—That the C. P. contemplates making an early entry into that part of Northern Quebec lying east of Lake Temiskaming and adjacent to the Province of Ontario is indicated in the presence today of Messrs. Fair-burn and Delamare, also of the company, who are travelling through the Temiskaming district. The plan is said to be to extend the Mattawa branch to the River Des Quins, in the vicinity of the series of waterfalls which constitute one of the greatest waterpower development opportunities in all Northern Ontario.

WOULD SELL TIMBER LIMITS BY AUCTION

Sudbury, May 14.—That the Province of Ontario, in order to secure the large-est possible revenue from the sale of its timber, should sell the same by public auction, and that when berths or limits were advertised for sale, the Government should publish the estimate of the amount of timber thereon, were two suggestions by R. W. Arnold, president of the Spanish River Lumber Company, when invited by the Ride-Laford commission at the timber probe here today to make any recommendations or suggestions he thought fit governing the sale, cutting and revenue from Ontario's timber.

Ottawa, May 14.—(By Canadian Press).—A definite date for the Ontario liquor referendum, it is stated, is not likely to be set for some time yet. It is expected, however, that the referendum will be held in the fall, probably in October.

DOG SHOW RESULTS.—Omission of the names of winners of several prizes awarded in the dog show, which was inadvertently made from the reports published. Peter Pan, owned

RUSSIAN CO-OPERATORS.

The arrest of leading Russian co-operatives the other day by the Bolshevik Government is a symptom that a new struggle may at any moment break out in Russia. The co-operative system of business has grown to huge proportions in that country. Before the war there were some thousands of local societies, each operating a "store," federated in a few dozen sectional unions or "wholesale societies." According to a recent article in the New York Outlook, the membership of a million heads of families has grown to twenty million, or 70 per cent of the adult male population of Russia. These co-operatives are generally hostile to Bolshevik dictatorship, or at any rate Bolshevikism hates and fears them.

The differences between Bolshevism and co-operation are in the main three. First, Co-operation does not assent to the Bolshevik ideas of violence and dictatorship. Nor do the co-operatives aim to overturn or interfere with foreign governments. Secondly, membership in the "societies" is purely voluntary, where the soviets are compulsory organizations. Third, the co-operative societies admit competition among themselves and with outsiders, a fundamentally important matter. Fourth, the theories of Lenin would have his social system on the people as workers, but the Co-operators base their system mainly on the people as consumers, though they have gone into manufacturing, too, and some four million of the prosperous peasants have formed producers' associations, something like the farmers in the Canadian West. The only resemblances between Co-operation and Bolshevism are that both base industry on use and abolish private profit as a stimulus, both are collectivist, but in different ways.

Lenine has shown his hatred of the co-operative societies by an attack on their great central bank at Moscow in 1918, and by his imprisonment of their leaders, including Berkenheim in that year. This of the other day is not his first outburst of enmity. He hates the co-operators not only on principle, but because they have taken up his failures at manufacturing by workmen's committees or soviets, and at present are operating practically all the industry there is in Russia, including flour mills at Rybinsk, which are said to be the largest in the world. What the soviet fails at, the "society" puts through to success. No wonder Lenine hates the mention of co-operation. There are despots in other countries also who look with grim disfavor on the growth of co-operation. In Russia the economic organization of its "societies" and "federations" may shortly be too much for the political fungus of Bolshevism.

HAMAR IS POPULAR.

However he may be considered by the Irish, Sir Hamar Greenwood, new secretary to the Emerald Isle, is decidedly popular in his own constituency, Sunderland. When he first stood for the riding he defeated his Labor opponent by 706 ballots. That was in 1910. In the by-election of last week he secured 8,534 more votes than the Labor candidate, a good deal of this increase being placed to the women's vote. At various times the constituency has elected Liberals, Conservatives and Laborites, but none with anything like the thumping majority given the brilliant young ex-Canadian.

THE LEAGUE IS WORKING.

As an independent in Europe the Turk is through. The supreme council officially announces that an international force will keep the Dardanelles and the Sea of Marmora open to the ships of all nations, and that Constantinople, while it will remain nominally under the rule of the Sultan, will have its affairs controlled by a commission made up of representatives of the Allies until the terms of the peace treaty are carried out. This amounts to Turkey being placed under the direct supervision of the League of Nations. It shows that that organization is functioning as promised, which will be discomfiting to those who have from the beginning considered the League a joke. Taking over the regulating of Turkey displays a courage and honesty of purpose that will rout critics and reassure doubting friends.

POOR EMMA!

Emma Goldman is fed up on dear old Russia, and pines for America. Emma's shrieks and wallings, of course, didn't get across in the land where everybody is a past master in the making of tumult and turmoil. There was little splash to her arrival, only a momentary posing in the limelight and then Emma became an also ran "amongst those," etc. And on top of that Lenin and Trotsky have of late been cutting out murder and plunder, hoping to convince the rest of the world that Russia has become respectable. Worst of all the Soviet has put everybody to work, with a bayonet prod for the slacker. Instead of being the hell of anarchy she has been commending these many years, Emma has discovered that Russia, breeding source of the Red, is actually becoming sane and safe. No wonder she desires to return to the United States, where she could moan and wail to her heart's content from public platforms and occasionally pull off a riot. We can realize something of Goldman's sufferings when we recall that if she returns to America, prison will be her permanent domicile. Better that than Russian "liberty," she believes.

PALESTINE RESTORED.

Great rejoicing has been the rule amongst Jews the world over since the announcement by the San Remo conference of the supreme council that the whole of Palestine has been declared the national home of the Hebrew race, the hope of the Jewish people for two thousand years. In connection with the announcement the Canadian Jewish Chronicle says:

"The Jewish people living in Canada and enjoying the special privilege of being British subjects, find great cause for rejoicing in the fact that the mandate to Palestine has been given to Great Britain, the country that has eminently stood for the ideals of justice and righteousness as proclaimed by our prophets. Great Britain has been the greatest colonizing country in the world, acting toward her colonists not as a harsh, unfeeling master, but rather as kind, understanding mother, who desires above all else to insure the happiness of her children. Under the guidance of such a mother, we should be able to avoid many of the mistakes made by young nationalities, who are not unnaturally dazzled by their sudden rise to power. Under the advice of British experts in colonization we should be able to build up a country that shall be second to none in exemplifying progressive ideas and democratic ideals. But while we expect to benefit greatly from the wise sponsorship that Britain will exert over our affairs, we cannot rely wholly upon her to build our country for us. That is entirely our affair. Palestine will be what we make it. None can take that privilege away from us."

EDITORIAL NOTES.

When is that trial of the war culprits to begin in Germany?

The high cost of living is not an unmitigated evil, as in Persia it is rapidly driving out polygamy.

General McLean seemed to be very necessary on the pensions commission. They wouldn't have let HIM resign for anything.

Commenting on the widespread speculation as to whether there is another life after we shuffle off this one, a contemporary says that sooner or later everybody will know. But if there isn't another existence how will they know?

Those opposing a divorce court for Ontario are not strictly correct in charging that divorce is being forced on the province. At the present time a committee of the Dominion Parliament is decreasing or denying divorces for many residents of the province. An Ontario divorce court would simply take over the powers that Parliament now holds, and that has gone on for years unchallenged.

MAIDLESS TIMES.

Next logical step in paying premiums for finding vacant apartments or houses is for finding servants. An advertiser in the agony column of the London Times offers $50 to anybody who will find two housemaids "who will stay two months." The $50 offered in this case will not, of course, be paid to the maids, but to the agent furnishing them; but the cost will be added to that of the girl's wages just the same. Servants, it is apparent, are becoming almost as much of a luxury in England as they are in the United States. Soon it will be only the rich who can afford them at all. This will be a calamity in the case of vigorous housewives; they and their families will be the better off for maidlessness. The rub, in this matter, comes upon families where the women are invalids, who require attention and the comforts of a home. It is a parlous time for them.

FALSE ALARMS.

And now we are told that the ex-kaiser is in such straitened financial circumstances that he wants to sell a set of gold-mounted harness presented to him by the pope. Those German reports are no more dependable now than they were during the war. Not long ago a statement was sent broadcast that Wilhelm was rolling in wealth. It is evident that, amid all the turmoil, the Berlin fabricator escaped with his life.

THE RAVINGS OF JOSEPHUS.

The oratorical addresses that Secretary Daniels is delivering to the Senate investigating committee are primarily political effusions. But the savagery with which the head of the navy department goes after Admiral Sims indicates, too, that the admiral has penetrated deeply under the secretary's skin.

It is clear that the secretary is "mad all through" at Sims, and yet exceedingly the fact that he once gave that officer a high commendation and recommended him for permanent advancement. Mr. Daniels is chagrined at the thought that Sims is "mad" out of the reach of his revenge. The secretary says in substance that if he had supposed Sims would be so mean to him, he never would have done anything nice for the admiral. His even propensity to the hazardous experiment of mud-slinging and promptly gets his own clothes besmirched. For when Daniels asserts that he was ignorant of Sims' real sayings and doings when he patted him on the back and indorsed him, Congress, he accuses himself of a great lack of knowledge of the affairs of his own department.

But Mr. Daniels' most extraordinary action, and the one that shows clearly the perturbation of his mind, is his recital of what he says was a private address by President Wilson to the fleet officers on the eve of active service. If, as Mr. Daniels insists, Sims was indiscreet in repeating a departmental conversation against excessive friendliness with the British, surely the secretary is doubly indiscreet when he gives in language that is slurring and insulting what purports to be the president's unguarded view of the conduct of the British navy operations. The recital of such an expression as the one attributed to the president is an inexcusable affront to an ally that for years stood between America and German militarism. It is a piece of raw ingratitude.

"THE STOOPING LADY."

The war has brought to pass many changes which could never have been believed before that world-shaking event. Notable among these has been the leveling of class distinctions. Kipling has sung that

"Judy O'Grady and the captain's lady
Are sisters—under the skin."

But who could have believed that the grand duchess, with generations of blue blood, could have been found washing dishes by the side of her servants, or nursing the wounded in contact with common helpers, or associating herself with her humble comrades in a common friendship, which fact that which the classes in England never forgot—till the war. More remarkable still, in the leveling down process, is the record of matings at which, before the war, hands would have been held up in horror if they had occurred, which was almost impossible. Today in England a prince marries a commoner, and there is no sense of condescension in the daughter of a noble duke. The head of one of the oldest and noblest families of the realm chooses for her husband a man in trade—an abomination to caste in England—and nobody thinks of the "Stooping Lady." The cultured girl, delicately reared, mated with a man who, while honorable, would not, before the war, have aspired to marry out of his class.

All this is regarded by many as a wholesome sign. It does not mean that distinctions are lost. It does mean that personal worth will count more in future matings than they have done in the past. Princesses are a fading quantity in a topey-turvey world, but such of them as remain will choose men not for convenience, or the satisfaction of caste, but for love and honor.

From Here and There

PLANT A TREE.

[Boston Herald.]
It is a small thing to plant a tree compared with what soil, rain and sun proceed to do for it.

FADED DREAMS.

[Montreal Gazette.]
The Bentinck castle surrounded by a barbed wire fence, and the Hohenzollern's walks confined to a few paths in the Amerongen grounds! This is little better than imprisonment for the man who thought but a few short years ago that he was literally monarch of all he surveyed. How are the mighty fallen!

THE RESEARCH BUREAU.

[Ottawa Journal.]
The unanimous decision of the House of Commons for the creation of a Canadian Bureau of Scientific Research is gratifying. The bureau is to be started in a modest way, the cost of a suitable building and site being estimated at $50,000, and the provision for salaries and upkeep for the first year being $50,000. But the bureau will undoubtedly expand. There is much work waiting for it in the way of assistance in the development of the country's natural resources and in strengthening our industries scientifically.

THE FLOWER WAGONS.

[Margaret E. Sangster.]
Violets and mignonette, crowded close together,
Crowded close together on the corner of each street,
Through the chilling dampness of the misty weather,
Violets and mignonette, so close together—
Making all the Paris day colorful and sweet.

Roses faintly touched with pink; see, a soldier
Close beside the flower stand, dreaming of the day
When she broke a single bud with her slender fingers,
Pressed it to her wistful mouth—see, a soldier
Dreaming of a summer time very far away.

Lilacs white and pure and new, fragrant as the morning—
One pale widow, passing by, pauses for a space,
Thinking of the lilac tree that once grew, adorning
All a little girl's home, in life's fragrant morning;
Of a lilac tree that grew in a garden place.

Fancies for a thought of love, lilacs for love's
sorrow.
Bay leaves green as hopes that live, berries red
and brown;
Flowers vivid for a day, gone upon the morrow,
Flowers that are sweet as faith, that are sad as
sorrow.

Flowers for the weary souls of a weary town.
Violets and mignonette, crowded close together,
Crowded close together on the corner of each street;
Singing of the summer time, through the misty weather.

Violets and mignonette—ah, so close together—
Making all the Paris day colorful and sweet.

WASTE PAPER AND DOGGERS.

[Hamilton Times.]
There is a city bylaw making it a punishable offence for anybody to scatter hand bills and such like around the streets and corners. It is also a common sight to see the streets in the centre of the city made disreputable looking by what may be the sweepings of waste paper from stores. Now we are told to clean up and make the city and the streets look nice, especially at this time of the year, when so many strangers are visiting. But how can the people make the city look nice when this stuff is thrown broadcast all over the street?

We would advise the people to be more careful in this respect, and the police should make it a point of going after those who through carelessness make a nuisance of this kind.

AS REVEALED BY THE STREETS.

[Montreal Gazette.]
The street and the people who live upon it are psychologically related. The human character will determine the character of the street. If the people are down at heel, the street will be filthy. If they wear an apologetic and furtive air, it will give the impression of indifference to the Ten Commandments, and this frownsness will, if you come to think upon it, undermine the very foundations of respectability in the life and conduct.

THE SALVATION ARMY JUBILEE.

[Quebec Telegraph.]
One of the most notable tributes to the work and accomplishments of the Salvation Army is undoubtedly that paid by His Majesty King George V., who has seized the opportunity of the present jubilee of the army to write to General Booth, its respected head, as follows: "On the occasion of the jubilee of the Salvation Army, I heartily congratulate you and its members on the mighty achievements of a system founded half a century ago by your distinguished father. By its works of love and energy, both in peace and war, the Salvation Army has become honored and endeared to the hearts of the nations of the world." Equally telling tributes have been received from the heads of both church and state in all civilized countries, from Lord George, Sir Asquith, Mackenzie King, Sir George Foster, Sir Edmund Walker and hundreds of others. If it was only from a sense of gratitude to the army for its splendid services to our boys and our boys at the front, we should all be glad of the opportunity of doing something at its jubilee celebration to add to its equipment for still greater service to humanity. In its other work of relief, last half century, whether for the care of homeless waifs and stray children, for poor, unfortunate girls, for old, maimed and decrepit workmen, for the unemployed, hungry and shelterless millions who have been helped by the army, the Salvation Army has administered has sprung from and been dictated by the spirit of self-denial. No duty has been too obscure, too hard, too humble, too despised—no sacrifice, whether personal or family, or worldly prospects, too great for the men and women workers of the army, so long as it could serve and bless their fellow-men. The sacrificial basis of their service enables the army to maintain its work as far as two or three used by other agencies. For some of us for years past the army has been our proxy, and a faithful one at that. Now it asks in this jubilee celebration to our boys and our boys, and give some work to it, to forward its appeal to others, as well as to generously aid it with a quick, ready response of our own in a generous jubilee contribution for the greater help to others. May the response be worthy of the occasion and of the cause.

BETWEEN FIFTY AND SIXTY.

[W. D. Howells in Harper's Magazine.]
After sixty, one must not take too many chances with one's self, but I should say that the golden age of man is between fifty and sixty when one may safely take them. One has peace then from the different passions; if one has been tolerably industrious, one is tolerably prosperous; one has fairly learned one's trade or has mastered one's art; age seems as far off as youth; one is not so much afraid of death as earlier; one likes joking as much as ever, and loves beauty and truth as much; family cares are well out of the way; if one has married timely one no longer nightly walks the floor with even the youngest child; the marriage ring is then a circle half rounded in eternity. It is a blessed time; it is indeed the golden age, and no age after it is more than silver. The best age after it may be that between eighty and ninety, but one cannot make so sure of ninety as of seventy in the procession of years, and the years are gold turns to silver. But silver is one of the precious metals too, and it need not have any of the alloy of the baser ones. I do not say how it will be in the years between ninety and one hundred, and I am not yet confronted with that question. Still, all is not gold between eighty and ninety, as it is between fifty and sixty. In that time, if one has made one's self a blessing time, it is indeed the golden age; but between eighty and ninety, if one is still wanted, is one wanted as much as ever? It is a painful question, but one must not shrink it, and in trying for the answer one must not do less than one's utmost. At a time when one's utmost will cost more effort than before. This is a disadvantage of living so long, but we cannot change the conditioning if we wish to live. There is always the question whether one does wish to live, but for the average happy or unhappy man, I should say, yes, yes, yes.

WE TWO.

[Selected.]
We two make home of any place we go;
We find joy in any kind of weather;
Or if the earth is clothed in bloom or
If summer rays invite, or bleak winds blow,
What matters it, if we two are together?
We two, we two, we make our world
Our weather.

We two make banquets of the plainest fare
In every cup we find the thrill of pleasure;
We hide with wreaths the furrowed brows of care,
And win to smiles the set lips of despair.
For our life always moves with lifting measure;
We two, we two, we made our joy
Our pleasure.

We two find youth renewed with every dawn;
Each day holds something of an unknown glory.
We waste no thought on grief or pleasure, Tricked out like hope, time leads us on
and on,
And thrums upon his harp new song or story.
We two, we two, we find the paths
of glory.

We two make heaven here on this little earth;
We do not need to wait for realms
supernal.
We know the use of tears, know sorrow's worth,
And pain for us is always love's re-birth.

Our paths lead closely by the paths
eternal.
We two, we two, we live in love
eternal.

I LOVE.

[Robert Finch.]
I love to wander in and out
Around a little village,
I love to find a rosebush
That I may boidly pluck.

A rosebud left uncared for
In some solitary place,
I love to find a mossy well
Where I may bathe my face.

I love to find a stone stile,
Where I may sit and rest,
And choose of all the cottages
The one that I like best.

I love the little fancies,
That haunt the street and corner spot,
And all the hidden birds that sing—
"What used to be, is not."

"THE VAMPIRE" MODERNIZED.

[Columbus Dispatch.]
A fool there to wander in and out
Around a little village,
I love to find a rosebush
That I may boidly pluck.

A rosebud left uncared for
In some solitary place,
I love to find a mossy well
Where I may bathe my face.

QUITE UNINTENTIONAL.

A transcur colded with a milk cart,
and sent can after can of milk apish-ing into the street. Soon a large crowd gathered. A very short man coming up had to stand on tiptoe to pass a stout woman in front of him.

"Goodness!" he exclaimed. "What an awkward creature!"
The stout woman turned around and glared at the little man, and said,
sternly:
"Mind your own business!"

HEAVENLY GUESTS.

[Antoinette Edmondson, in New York Times.]
I need no medium's occult call,
No his-or-phylas on the wall.
No shrouded light in salons dim—
Becoming spectres faint and grim—
No silly little occult board.
My grandma comes in sweet attire
For when at eventide I sit,
With mellow lilies softly lit,
My grandma comes in sweet attire
From other spheres to share my fire.

From out a "broidered bag she takes
A bit of needlework that wakes,
With scent of lavender and vine.
The silver ways of auld lang syne.
Our hearts hold converse passing sweet
While crickets chirrup at our feet:
We thread the lilac-bordered walks
In these our happy memory talks—
The old rose garden's goke, "I say,"
"And juncus there are holding sway."

"Nay, nay," she answers, smiling
wise—
"I mold their falling petals dead
To a rosary each year—
Forever lengthening out a chain,
To mitigate the old world's pain."

As thus we spend our treasured days,
There comes to us, "long amethyst
ways."
A little child well loved of yore,
Between grandma and me there sits
A tiny chair that she just fits;
She speaks she, but all slips in mine
Five fingers warm from Mary's shrine.
Six golden years God gave to me
For her most precious company.
How sweet for these beloved to wait
At eve beside the wicket gate!

THE LAND OF MAKE-BELIEVE.

Do bubbles burst and fade away,
And spill out all their rainbow
dreams?
Do fancies fair with which you play
Turn wrong side out and show their seams?

Do smiles go crooked, zigzag ways?
Do laughs turn into sobs and tears?
Do all the weeks and months and days
Add up a sober sum of years?
Then, come and steal away with me
To the Land of Make-Believe.
Where wishes every one come true,
And you do the things that you like
to do.

And the world is made to just suit
you—
In the Land of Make-Believe.

Do skies look black, and winds blow
cold?
Do fashions change and friends forget?
Does all the wealth of summer gold
Atone not winter's chill and wet?
Do birds forget the thrilling note
They sang when all the world was gay?

Have you forgot to tune your throat
To singing—and the month of May?
Then come and steal away with me
On the letters you sent me, because I
Where wishes every one come true,
And you do the things that you like
to do.

And the world is made to just suit
you—
In the Land of Make-Believe.

DAMPENING.

Sentimental Youth—Do you know,
darling, I used to kiss the very stamps
on the letters you sent me, because I knew they had touched your sweet lips!
Unsentimental Maid—Oh! Jack, and

I used to damp them on dear old Pido's nose!

DREAM NO MORE.
[George William Curtis.]
I walked beside the evening sea,
And dreamed the dream that could not be;
The waves that plunged along the shore
Said only: "Dreamer, dream no more!"

But still the legions charged the beach,
Loud rang their battle-cry like speech;
But changed was the imperial strain,
It murmured: "Dreamer, dream again!"

I homeward turned "from out the gloom,
That sound I heard not in my room;
But suddenly a sound that stirred
Within my very breast I heard.

It was my heart, that like a sea
Within my breast beat ceaselessly;
But like the wave along the shore,
It said, "Dream on!" and "Dream no
more!"

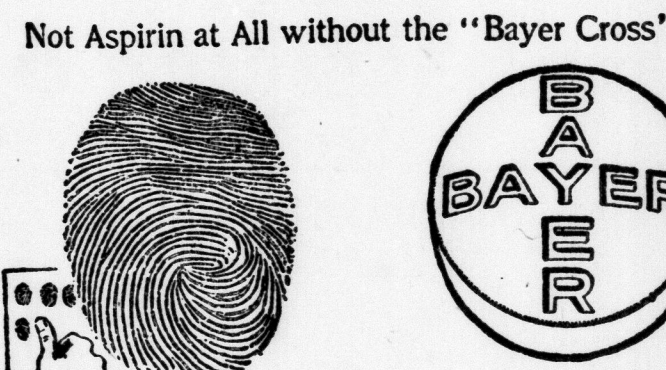

DOROTHY'S GARDEN.

[Aline Kilmer.]
Dear, in all your garden I have planted
yellow lilies,
Dainty yellow lilies, everywhere you go.
They are nodding, slim and stately,
down the path along the hedges, Delicately stopping, they curtsy as they go.

So, when you walk among them, like
a lily in your slippers,
With your shining head just bending
up, your garden
All the little angels that look down upon your garden
Will wonder which is lily and which is Dorothy.

Will Wilson Run Again?

That "there will be 'hell-a-popping' at San Francisco" is the warmish comment of the chief Democratic paper in Nebraska on Mr. Bryan's victory in the state primaries, for he will now go to the convention as a delegate "with full opportunity to devote his power and talents to either guerilla or open warfare upon the leadership of President Wilson and the policies for which he stands." The president has indicated very plainly, in his letter to Delegate Jonett Shouse, read to the Kansas Democratic state convention, that he will insist that the party support his league program. The New York World believes it would be a fatal policy for the party to repudiate the president, for "it is only under his leadership that the party can be held together," and the Brooklyn Eagle says that if the party is to make the campaign on the league issue, "the only logical candidate is Woodrow Wilson." The Republican press naturally have a few remarks to make about all this. Thus the Milwaukee Sentinel: "Run for a third term nomination? Of course he'll run—health permitting. And, as a prominent Democrat remarks, such is Mr. Wilson's sublime self-confidence that when it comes to that question he will regard himself as the best judge of the permissive state of his health."

One of the most interesting articles in this week's LITERARY DIGEST—May 15—deals with the possibility of Mr. Wilson again being a candidate for the presidency, and presents the editorial viewpoint on this contingency from many angles.

Health Plus.

If we could construct a man with brass lungs, copper-lined stomach, mercerized cotton whiskers, plenty of iron in his blood and silver in his joints, we could then administer to our human filver an infusion of red blood (I say red blood to distinguish it from the yellow, pink and blue bloods of common folks who are not heroes in novels), and if the infusion proved a success, and the man's heart started beating 70 or so a minute, and without any attention from us, and all his vital organs began to function without anybody's direction, guidance or concern, would not our perfect man, without a symptom or even the making of a symptom about him, enjoy good health?

He certainly would not. In order to enjoy good health it is necessary to have not health merely, but health plus.

I grant you, our man has perfect health, not the faintest trace of a symptom. Yet he doesn't enjoy good health. I am quite sure of that, for I just what entered into his make-up. We didn't use any plus in building him. The men never have any in them.

The plus stands for something best described with one of those wonderful words, which make the American language famous. It is the pep. Pep is the word yesterday's. Health is fine, nearly half the people have pep. If you have health plus, you have pep, and that enables you to stand a lot of hard knocks. If necessary, and come up smiling every time. Things don't get your capra. You just

WHAT'S IN A NAME

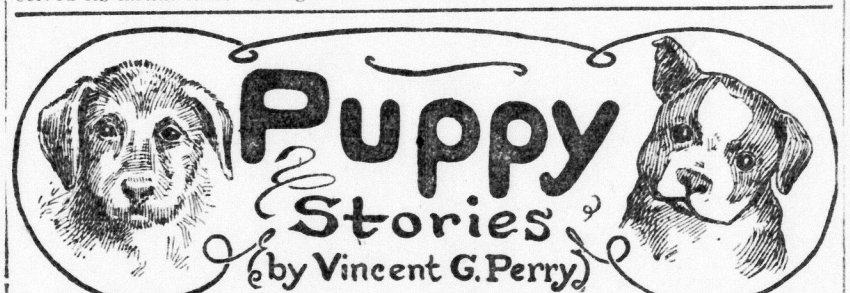

ELOISE.

Though purely English by adoption, Eloise is best regarded as a French name. It means "famous holiness," and comes into existence through the early Provençal Aloys, a masculine name in popular usage. Its feminine, Aloyse, soon came to be spelled Eloise and received its initial fame through the lovely lady whose correspondence with Abelard was the theme of much sentiment.

The name was taken to Scotland by the archers and reached England through the lovely lady whose correspondence with Abelard was the theme of much sentiment.

PETE'S SEARCH.

Pete Goes To the Hospital. Now, the man who had fired the shot at Pete owned the nice hens, and he had believed that Pete was the dog that had been chasing them. He was not really a cruel man, and when he saw that he had injured Pete's heart was filled with pity. Poor Pete, his leg was smarting terribly and he could not move for pain.

"Daddy, daddy, you have shot the wrong dog," cried a beautiful young lady, as she ran from the house. "I saw it all, and this nice little dog tried to scare the other dog away. It was that bad dog, Biko, who was chasing the hens." Then the man was filled with genuine grief.

Poor Pete! He knew by the man's tone that he meant to kill him. How terrible it he died before he found his old mother. He looked up with his big eyes and pleaded so hard the man had to let him go.

"We will take him to the dog hospital in the city," said the man. "While her father is getting his automobile the pretty lady did her best to stop the pain in Pete's leg. She bathed it and bandaged it as best she could, and by the time the car was ready it felt much easier. What a painful ride it was to the city, even though the man drove as carefully as he could so that Pete would not be jarred, but at last the hospital was reached and Pete was carried in.

Tecumsehs Make 17 Hits Earn 17 Runs Against Champs

Aces Smothered Under Avalanche of Hitting Such As Has Been Seldom Witnessed in Past—Neitzke Gets Another Homer—Triple, Homer and Two Two-Baggers Come in One Frame.

Such a massacre! And what a difference a short year makes. After five innings of pounding distributed through eight London innings, the smoke cleared away with 17 runs scored in the Tecumsehs' run column against the lone two tallied by the once unbeatable Saginaw Aces. There were no high spots to that game—nothing but the music of wood against the horseshell, and if not making for airtight, spell-binding, baseball, the pastime certainly warmed up a chilled crowd in weather more suited to rugby than the national pastime. Everybody had a hand in the bee that brought in 13 earned runs out of 17 amassed by the London sluggers, and while Saginaw had 3 errors chalked up, nothing but pure slugging is to blame for what happened yesterday.

The whole business started in the second inning. Right early the Tecos started in to overcome a little counter Saginaw had slipped across in the first canto. This looked awfully big at the time. Pike had come across with it after he had been walked, been advanced to second, got to third on a wild pitch, and then scored when Briger failed to get him at the plate as he came in on a second ace fly. As was said before, the second started it and if the sky were the limit for the game's length, this Wetzel bunch would have been hitting them in Mars by this time.

Briger Takes Hand. Big Joe Briger took a hitch on his belt and leaned on one of Freeman's plants for a circuit drive right to right field. He was shushed at it third. The crowd called for a homer when Neitzke stepped up, and child obliged. Dowling stepped into one for a two-bagger, and Weinkie, the last of the southpaws of Manager Wetzel, banged out a double, scoring Dowling. Pittenger's grounder brought Weinkie in with the fourth counter, and Pitt himself was out stealing. So much for that.

In their half of the third, the Tecos came back on Freeman's offerings again. Calbert sent one of the nicest hits of the game right clean at the centre field fence. Mr. Kuhn stepped against the second one pitched for a repeat on the three bags, scoring Calbert. Kennedy beat out a bunt, and Briger obliged with a single, scoring the ransy first-sacker. Neitzke got a big too far under one and fled out, as Joe lumbered down to second for a stolen base. He stayed there, as Dowling struck out and Weinkie bunted out. Kuhn's three-bagger looked like a homer until the ball brought up against a ladder laying under one of the signs. A homer of Neitzke's yesterday came to grief the same way and turned into a three-bagger.

While the Sun Shone. A veil ought to be drawn against the next stanza. Instead the sun came out for a minute. True, Saginaw sneaked one across themselves in the first half of this awful session, and threatened to do worse, for Weinkie showed signs of wildness. He passed Weinkie, allowed Lipps to grab off a single and passed Wright. Vitt singled and Weinkie scored. He took a bunt here, however, and with Briger to Kuhn doubled up on Wright, who was caught in front, and McDaniels on his way to first. Freeman struck out.

Shay took free transportation to first right off. Pittenger sacrificed him to second. Calbert was hit where he's weak, protested, and Kuhn singled to left, scoring Shay. Kennedy took a pass. Joe Briger grabbed off a two-bagger, and before the mix-up was cleared, Kuhn and Calbert had romped across the plate, and Kennedy had taken a slide into McDaniels, who blocked the path, for a third counter. McDaniels' wrist was hurt, so Manager Rod McKee took up his duties. That was four of them. Then Neitzke steps into his three-bagger, scoring Big Joe Dowling and Weinkie grounded out and brought the debacle to a close.

Again in the sixth the London crew started in. Kennedy singled to left. Briger walked and Neitzke grounded out, advancing the two. Dowling took one in the groove he likes for three bags, scoring Briger and Kennedy. Weinkie grabbed a single, scoring

JIMMY WILDE KNOCKS OUT BATTLING MURRAY

Fast Bout Takes Place in Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, May 14.—Jimmy Wilde, British flyweight champion, knocked out Battling Murray of Philadelphia in the second round of a scheduled eight-round bout here last night. Two minutes and thirteen seconds of the round had elapsed, when Wilde, with a wicked right chop to the jaw, sent Murray to the floor. No count was needed, as Murray was clean out. Just before the knockout blow was delivered, Wilde sent the Philadelphia down for a count of eight with a left hook to the chin. He staggered to his feet, and the British champion put over the finishing blow. For a moment in the first round, Murray looked like a possible winner. Ten seconds after the bell rang he staggered the champion with a right hook. Wilde appeared worried as Murray aggressively followed up the blow, but before the end of the round, the British fighter rallied and finished strong. In the second round, Wilde opened a cut on Murray's left eye, and had him completely on the defensive. Wilde's announced weight was 107 and Murray's 110.

SPECTACLED PITCHER IS INJURED WHEN HIT BY FOUL BALL

Pittsburg Pa., May 14.—Lee Meadows, pitcher for the Philadelphia National League baseball club, and the only major league player, who wears spectacles, was injured here yesterday when his glasses were shattered by a foul tip during batting practice. Attending physicians said that while pieces of glass had lacerated Meadows' face, it did not penetrate the eyeball. The accident will probably keep Meadows out of the game for two weeks, the doctors said.

B. WALLACE OLD FOOT. BALLER, PLAYS TONIGHT

When the G. W. V. A. turns out tonight against the Machine Gunners many followers of the old 32nd Battalion championship team will recognize Bobby Wallace. Bobby, with Mays, is the last surviving member of the battalion team, the rest of the players having paid the supreme sacrifice. Wallace was discharged from the 4th Battalion Machine Gunners in England last June, and has since been at his home in Scotland. He may possibly make his home in this city.

Toronto, May 13.—Jack Dunn's Baltimore Orioles stopped the Maple Leafs' winning streak of eight straight games today by winning by a 4 to 3 score. Toronto started off fairly well, getting two runs in the first inning. The Orioles tallied once in the third, while the Leafs added a single in the sixth. Baltimore's six innings was in the eighth, when they tallied three times. Manager Duffy used two pitchers, Quinn and Shea. The score: R. H. E.

Ogden and Egan; Quinn, Shea and Sandberg.

FOUR RUNS IN FIRST INNING, BUT WEAKEN.
Buffalo, May 13.—Buffalo came from behind today and won from Syracuse, 6 to 5, after the game apparently was hopelessly lost. Schuch drove in four runs in the opening inning, with a home-run walk over the right field fence, which ended Caruthers' pitching. The Bison made five hits in the ninth and Gilhooly stole home. The score: R. H. E.
Buffalo 0 0 0 0-4 11 3

Caruthers and Haines; Barnes and Herschler, Perryman and Madden.

TWO HOME RUNS WIN FOR

Jersey City 0 1 1 0-0-3 13 0
Rochester 0 0 3 0-4-7 11 1

INTER-CLUB LEAGUE OPENS TOMORROW WITH TWIN BILL

Circuit Promises Good Ball
This Season and All Teams
Are on Toes.

Tomorrow afternoon the Interclub league of the city opens up for the summer. Two games will be played, the first game starting at 2:30 between the Alert Club and the Manhattan. After this game the Orioles will meet the Army and Navy Vets. A good brand of ball is promised by the president, "Corker" Legg, for the summer. Most of the teams have been out all ready, and managers report that they have good teams lined up. Four teams will make the league just about this clock in size, and if some of the teams get to playing the kind of ball they are capable of, they'll be good rivals for the Cockneys over at T. cumsho Park. The league has secured all the open dates at Tocumsho Park, and this assures the fans quite a number of Saturday twin bills.

TOE-CALK RULE RESCINDED.
New York, May 4.—The toe-calk rule for racing, recently adopted by the Jockey Club was rescinded at a meeting of the club here yesterday as a result of protests from horsemen racing in Maryland. The rule, which was adopted with a view of reducing the injuries to horsesmen through the use of sharp toe-calks, did not produce the results sought, it was claimed.

NEW LACROSSE PROJECT.
Ottawa, May 14.—Another angle to the lacrosse situation was taken yesterday when Frankie Hearn returned from Montreal with tentative offers from the M. A. A. and the National A. A. A. to link up with Ottawa and form an amateur league. This project will be considered when the general meeting of players and lacrosse followers will be held tonight.

WILL IGNORE DISMISSAL.
London, May 14.—The representatives of the Russian co-operative organizations here informed the Associated Press yesterday that they intended to ignore their dismissal by the Moscow authorities. They had decided to carry on, trusting that their efforts would bring about the re-establishment of commercial relations and would have the sympathetic support of the Allied powers, which the supreme council indicated would be forthcoming. The Russian co-operative organizations are authorized to authorize a reopening of trade through the co-operatives.

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

When Mixed With Sulphur It Brings Back Its Beautiful
Lustre at Once.

Grey hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns grey and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold. Don't stay grey! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a bottle of "Wyle's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully, besides, no one can possibly tell as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the grey hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored, and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.

SENSATIONAL EVIDENCE REVEALED DURING TIMBER INVESTIGATION

Ethel Brown Tells of Finding Checks, Check-Stubs and Also Vouchers Torn to Small Pieces — Bookkeeper Says Ferguson Told Him To Deduct Five Per Cent From Logmakers' Accounts.

SUDBURY, May 13.—The most sensational story told thus far in the investigation being conducted by Justices Riddell and Latchford into the timber lands of the Ontario Government as made to the number of logs cut in the Crown timber limits was that related today by Miss Ethel Brown, private secretary to Senator George Gordon of Nipissing, who has an office at North Bay. Miss Brown stated that Senator Gordon was interested in several companies, but in his North Bay office only his own personal business was transacted.

According to Miss Brown's testimony, when she went to the office on May 1 the door from the hall into Senator Gordon's office was locked, which was an unusual thing. After she had tried to unlock the door with keys which she had borrowed from the office of A. B. Gordon Lumber Company in the same building, a policeman and another man climbed through the office window, which had been pried open prior to this, took the door to the office of its hinges and let her in.

Found Things Upset.
Miss Brown said she found things in the office very much upset. The filing cabinet had been pried open and the letters scattered over the floor. A metal box, which had contained used checks, returned from the bank, had been forced open and the contents taken out. The checks had been torn up, some of them into very small pieces, and some of the pieces had been pasted on the walls.

A picture of Senator Gordon had been taken from the wall, Miss Brown said, and a Union Jack had been covered with paste and thrown on the floor, and a sweater coat which she saw was also on the floor. The safe had not been opened, she said, and while there was evidence that the marauders had also been in Mr. Gordon's private office, nothing had been removed from there so far as she knew.

Senator Gordon was in Virginia at the time, Miss Brown stated, and she wrote to him and told him of what had happened. She told the commission that she checked over some of the letter files and apparently no letters had been removed from the office. She had a book containing a record of all checks issued.

Keep Checkbook Record.
"You keep that checkbook record until you are told to put it somewhere else," said Mr. Justice Riddell to the witness. "You will not permit anyone to interfere with any of these things in the office until the provincial police take charge," further instructed Justice Riddell, who gave orders that the provincial police be put on the case at once.

Continuing her evidence, Miss Brown said that the check vouchers in the office dated back to November, 1915. These used checks, also check stubs, were all torn apart. No money had been kept in the office, Miss Brown said. She did not know of any clue as to who had entered the office and rifled the box of checks.

Started Ten Years Ago.
On the resumption of the inquiry into the returns as to logs cut, Donald Hunt, bookkeeper for the Cochrane Hardware Company, formerly bookkeeper for the Spanish River Lumber Company, said that the practice of deducting 5 per cent from the logmakers' accounts was inaugurated ten years ago. He had followed this practice, he said, because directed by Mr. Ferguson of the company and in the employ of the Spanish River Company in 1911, said he had refused to take an affidavit as to the number of logs cut in his camp, because the number was set too low. He had been asked by Mr. Ferguson, he said, to take the affidavit, but had replied that he did not have to take a false oath to make his living.

of Trade and representatives of the various municipalities through which the proposed line from Chatham to Wallaceburg, Petrolia and Sarnia would pass.

Data as regards the amount of freight that would be handled by a road through this section of the country, the population, etc., was presented to Mr. Beatty by A. H. Carscallen, president of the Wallaceburg Board of Trade.

T. B. Dundas of the Dominion Glass Company, W. S. Calvert of the Great Lakes Oil Refining Company and a former member of the Dominion Railway Board, Mr. Hay of Petrolia and Warden Simpson of Sarnia.

Mr. Beatty, in his address, pointed out the various phases of the situation that would have to be taken into consideration before arriving at a decision. He said: "There are plans contemplated at the present time, all I can say to you today is that we will consider it." After a trip through the industrial section the party left for Sarnia.

The NUT-KRUST Ideal

to make the best bakery products
ever sold over a retail counter

THE deliciously "home-cooked" taste of all Nut-Krust Products is due to the use of only genuine materials in baking.

There are no substitutes in Nut-Krust Products.

Fresh, sweet butter, milk and eggs (candied by ourselves); first-grade flour; pure leaf lard; fine, whole nuts; highest-grade raisins, hand-picked and hand-washed; every article the finest obtainable—give Nut-Krust Products a tastiness and wholesomeness impossible in bakers' cooking, where the use of "substitutes" is so general.

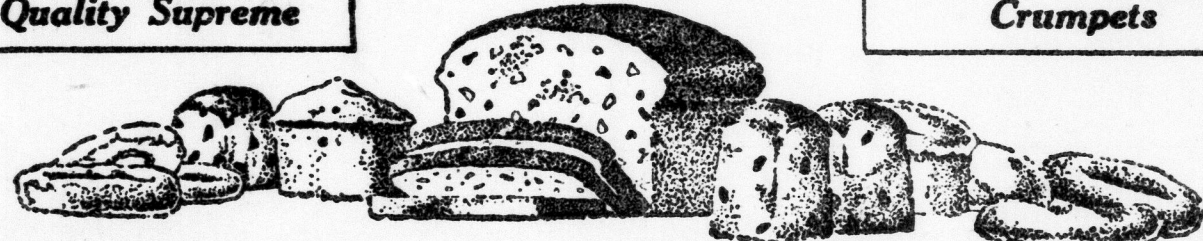

Then, too, distinctly modern equipment and methods add to the excellence of Nut-Krust Products. Every Nut-Krust Bakery is electrically equipped, doing away with soot or carbonous gases. Everything is baked before your eyes in white-tiled, white-walled buildings—by healthy, white-uniformed bakers who are masters of their trade. Nut-Krust Products are as pure and wholesome as it is possible to make them.

Withdraws Bill To Abolish Appeals to the Privy Council

Raney Drops Measure in Legislature, But Will Likely Press It Later—Hall Asks If Canada, Self-Governed, Must Appeal To England.

TORONTO, May 14.—Hon. W. E. Raney withdrew in the Legislature tonight his bill to abolish appeals to the privy council from Ontario. He will probably introduce it in the future. He was asked by R. E. Hall (Parry Sound), if he considered this a self-governed country, when the highest court of appeal was in England.

"I think you will soon see the governor-general appointed on the non-union or recommendation of the privy council of Canada," he replied.
Mr. H. H. Dewar condemned Mr. Raney's bill as the first thing to disrupt the British Empire. The right of appeal is the most sacred possession of Canadian citizens, and he challenged Mr. Raney to show what right there exists to take it away.
Mr. Raney said the right to appeal from the Canadian criminal code had been taken away. Why not then the right to appeal in litigation?
Mr. Dewar said a former criminal lawyer had proven that criminal cases could be appealed to the privy council. Wages Kept Race.
Hon. G. S. Henry continued the debate on the workmen's compensation act. He declared that wages had kept pace with the cost of living. Where in 1914 the family budget averaged $7.75 per week, the average workman's wage was $12.41. The average family budget had jumped to $13.50, while the wages were averaging $24.80.

Mr. Watson (North Victoria) asked if Mr. Henry expected a disabled workman with a family to live on 65 per cent compensation of this wage, which amounted to $13.67. Mr. Henry replied that 90 per cent of the workmen who are injured at work back in three weeks, and over half are back in three weeks.

Mentioning malingering, Mr. Henry suggested that it might be indicated by the increase shown in benefit society payments since the act went into force.

To Alleviate Unrest.
Hon. H. Mills, in defending the bill, referred to the unrest in the country and pointed out that such measures as that before the House would do much to alleviate that unrest.
He presented figures to show that the fear of malingering is not well grounded. The report of the workmen's compensation board showed that the number of cases was unimportant.

C. P. R. OFFICIALS MAKING STUDY OF SARNIA-LONDON LINE

ATTEND CIVIC BANQUET

Businessmen of Port Huron Support the Proposed Extension.

SARNIA, May 13.—With the arrival in the city tonight of President E. W. Beatty and a deputation of Canadian Pacific Railway officials, the initial step towards securing information that may lead to the building of a branch line of the C. P. R. from London to Sarnia was started, and tomorrow the delegation will make a tour of the surrounding country.
Met here by Mayor William Nesbitt and officials of the Chamber of Commerce and leading international businessmen, Mr. Beatty and Grant Hall, vice-president, along with S. C. Grout, general superintendent of the Ontario district, were entertained at dinner tonight by the Chamber of Commerce and city council.
Friday the officials will make the rounds of the leading local industries, and an international thing will be added to the affair when Mr. Willis of the Willis-Lee Auto Corporation will meet the officials in an effort to have them extend a line across the River St. Clair to the American side of the river. The Willis-Lee Company announced that they expect to be making cars this year, and on the completion of their Marysville branch they will immediately start building operations on this side of the border of a plant that will employ about 2,500 men.

WINDSOR BUSINESS DISTRICT DECLARED DEADLY FIRE TRAP

Inspector J. L. Ritchie Places the Blame On the City Council.

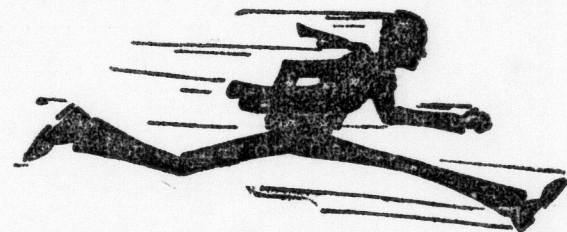

WINDSOR, May 13.—Throwing responsibility back on the Windsor City Council, Inspector J. L. Ritchie, engineer of the Ontario fire marshal's department, today declared Windsor's business district one of the worst fire traps in Ontario, after making a thorough investigation in the conditions prevailing in buildings in the downtown section.
As a result of his visit he has ordered installation of hundreds of fire escapes and other emergency exits here, but strongly advised the city council to undertake the work of removing vast quantities of rubbish collected in stores and other places of business because of difficulty experienced by merchants in employing men to cart away waste paper, etc.
While the board of works has attempted to relieve the situation, the work was found too heavy and expensive. Inspector Ritchie recommends as the solution that the work be done and the cost placed in taxes against merchants given the service, a course which will probably be followed.

SERVED EIGHT YEARS IN GREEK ARMY FOR WHOLE NICKLE A DAY

George Mitzes Returns To Guelph After Long War Service.

GUELPH, May 13.—Early in 1912 when the Balkan war broke out, George Mitzes, a reservist in the Greek army, who was at the time making a good living in Guelph, selling peanuts, was called back to the colors. After having served nearly eight continuous years in active warfare Mitzes returned to Guelph yesterday, purchased a new peanut wagon and this morning was back at his old stand on the corner of Wyndham and Macdonnell streets ready for business.

PAY, FIVE CENTS A DAY. George left Guelph with a fat bank account, but returning with little cash. He claims he couldn't save money in the army because the pay was only five cents per day. Besides, he took a holiday in 1917 and got married, and the last of his savings was spent in a honeymoon. He received his discharge from the army three months ago and lost no time in returning to Canada, but left behind him his wife and baby who he brought to Guelph as soon as enough cash is on hand to provide transportation.

NEVER, NO MORE. During his eight years fighting George was only wounded once, and a scar on the back of his hand shows the mark of a bullet. "I have seen my share of war, he declares, "and if there is any more fighting over there they will have to get someone else to do my share."

CURRIE GETS SWORD OF HONOR, TRIBUTE OF CORPS OFFICERS

Eulogistic Address Accompanies Gift From All Commands.

MONTREAL, May 13.—Officers who served under Gen. Currie in France took advantage of his presence in Montreal today in connection with his appointment to the principality of McGill University, to present him with a sword of honor and an illuminated address at a banquet of the University Club this evening. The historic significance of the latter is apparent when it is stated that it bears the signatures of every officer who held an important command or appointment in the Canadian corps when the "Cesse Fire" sounded.

The sword bears on its blade the following inscription: "To Gen. Sir Arthur William Currie, G.C.M.G., K.C.B., commanding Canadian Army Corps, from officers holding commands and staff appointments on November 11, 1918, as a token of their regard and admiration for his magnificent services to Canada and the Empire in the great war."

The address is signed by some six major-generals, 22 brigadier-generals, nine colonels and 108 lieutenant-colonels, and it praises not only his military knowledge and "unquestionable judgment," but also the "human feeling" evidenced in the "marked care displayed at all times" for the comfort and wellbeing of his men.

Shows Appreciation. General Currie, in his acknowledgment, showed a profound appreciation of this esteem and suggested that the men who had passed through these experiences would be equal to playing their part in the future of Canada. The problems of today, General Currie continued, were grave and difficult in many respects, but approached in a spirit of good will and tolerance and sympathy with the same ideals as had actuated them overseas, there was no reason why they should not find a solution. The general drew a parallel between the organization that was necessary in the army and for the connection with McGill University.

The chair was taken by Major-General H. P. Bristall, K.C.M.G., of Quebec, who made the presentation to the guest of the evening.

MISUSED RESOURCES

Rebel Chief Charges Former President With Exploiting Natural Wealth.

EL PASO, Tex., May 13.—President Carranza of Mexico is surrounded and in desperate straits at Rinconada, near Esperanza station, in the state of Puebla, according to a telegram from Gen. Alvaro Obregon, received tonight by Roberto V. Pesqueira, financial agent for the revolutionists here. Instructions have been given to allow Carranza to leave the country in safety, Gen. Obregon's message said.

Notify Carranza. "Carranza has not been made prisoner," the telegram, which was dated today, read. "He has been surrounded for the last three days, having fought at Rinconada, near Esperanza station, and I think he cannot stand much longer. Orders have been sent to the officers directing the attack that they notify Carranza that he can go out of the danger zone in order that his life may be spared, offering him a guard to escort him to Vera Cruz, that he may leave the country and be free to go wherever he wishes. Carranza, noted for his criminal proceedings, has been captured at sea by one of our naval units, together with Gen. Murguía. "As to the shooting of prisoners to which you refer, I can assure you that is only newspaper talk, as we do not yet know the casualties on the enemy side."

Arrive in Jauze. Gen. Elias Calles, commander of the Mexican revolutionary forces of the northwest, will arrive in Jauze, opposite here, tomorrow morning, according to an announcement tonight. It was expected here that Gen. Calles would remain in Jauze a few days and then proceed southward toward Mexico City.

Charges that President Carranza has used the nation's resource to suborn to bribery and to buy venal newspapers are contained in a manifesto issued by Gen. Obregon at Chapingo, capital of Guerrero, April 20. Copies of this document reached El Paso today.

ACID STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

The Real Cause of Indigestion

Acids in the stomach irritate and inflame the delicate stomach lining, sour and ferment the food, prevent proper digestion and lead to nine-tenths of all Dyspepsia and Indigestion. Pepsin and other artificial digestants give only temporary relief and do not correct the cause. Stomach acids should be neutralized daily, and the stomach kept sweet and clean after eating by drinking a glass of pure Magnesia water made from a teaspoonful or four tablets of Bismarck's Magnesia, obtainable at any reliable drug store. This prevents food fermentation and your meals digest naturally and without pain. By following this plan you may eat almost anything without fear of indigestion.

WILSON VETOES BILL FOR APPROPRIATIONS

WASHINGTON, May 13.—President Wilson this afternoon vetoed the bill carrying the appropriations for the legislative, executive and judicial departments.

bill because of the section putting under congressional control all government publications. This section, the president said, would give Congress a "censorship" encroaching on executive functions.

USE DIFFERENT VOLTAGES.

WINDSOR, May 13.—Plans to improve Windsor street railway service by having street cars run over the lines of the Windsor, Essex and Lake Shore Interurban road within the city limits fell through today when, after investigation, it was learned that the power supply is unsuitable for the street cars, which use a 600-volt current, while the interurban lines use 2,200 alternating current.

TO SPEND OVER 17 MILLIONS ON HYDRO IN YEAR

Ontario Treasurer Smith Brings in Supplementary Estimates.

T. & N. O. EXPENDITURES

Amounts Include Better Fire-Ranging and Palestine Relief.

TORONTO, May 13.—Containing the hydro-electric estimates of $17,257,000 and the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway estimates of $1,057,772.83, the last supplementary estimates were brought down in the Legislature tonight by Hon. Peter Smith, the provincial treasurer. The total of the departmental further estimates are $3,750,023.64.

Over seventeen millions is to be spent on the provincial hydro schemes this year. The great portion of this, ten millions and half, is on the big developments at Chippawa and Queenston. It is from that work that the hydro department expects to get a great supply of power. The next biggest sum is for the Port Arthur and Thunder Bay development with two millions and a half.

List of items. The items in the estimates follow: Niagara system, $1,250,000; Severn system, $50,000; Georgian Bay and Saugeen, $475,000; Muskoka, $40,000; Port Arthur and Thunder Bay or Superior systems, $2,500,000; Wasyl system, $90,000; St. Lawrence system, $500,000; Rideau, $250,000; miscellaneous, $500,000; Queenston-Chippawa development, $10,500,000; Central C. tario system, $175,000; expenditures on account of province, $1,000,000.

Temiskaming Railway. The Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway expenditures cited for the fiscal year ending October 31 are made up of forty items, the highest of which is $225,000 for additional locomotives.

Under the head of legislation an item of $20,000 appears with the explanation that it is for the purchase of the Methodist Book and Publishing House under war conditions on government printing.

Other estimates tabled today include $234,000 to provide for an increase in the salaries of civil servants; $100,000 for the establishment of a department to fight venereal diseases; $10,000 for the relief of Jews in Palestine; $10,000 to improve the fire ranging establishment of the province.

TRIBUNAL TO PROBE CASES OF PRISONERS HELD WITHOUT TRIAL

Coalition Govt. Accedes To Irish Demands.

LONDON, May 13.—Nothing is yet disclosed as to the outcome of the conference between Viscount Grey, viceroy of Ireland, and Andrew Bonar Law, the Government leader, today, and the cabinet council yesterday, on the new policy for Ireland. It had been hastily assumed that Mr. Bonar Law's very non-committal statement in the House of Commons Wednesday meant the adoption of a stronger policy, but there are many indications that it would be equally safe to suggest that the proposed change is in the direction of conciliation.

The Government's concession of an independent tribunal to judge, whose names Mr. Bonar Law promised should soon be published, to investigate the cases of Irish prisoners detained without trial seems to point in this direction. Moreover, the new Irish secretary, Sir Hamar Greenwood, yesterday said that since his appointment he had signed no deportation orders and had released many prisoners arrested on suspicion, among them Ald. O'Brien, secretary of the Irish Trade Union Congress.

It is also worthy of note that there has been a decrease of military and naval raids and less military display in Dublin.

OFFICIAL TOTAL FIFTY. DUBLIN, May 13.—Fifty police barracks were destroyed in the early Wednesday night, according to an official statement issued from Dublin Castle this evening. Twenty income tax offices were raided and the documents burned and seven courthouses were also attacked.

The destruction of police barracks, as shown by the castle communication, was almost on a great scale, as similar attacks last Easter, when more than sixty barracks were attacked. Most of the barracks in the present case had been abandoned, and no loss of life was entailed.

Several attacks occurred in the counties of Antrim, Cork, Leitrim and Wexford for one or two barracks were burned, including those at Cavan, Londonderry, Galway, Limerick, Meath, Down and Tyrone. The procedure in all cases was alike. Where caretakers were in charge, they were first removed, then inflammable materials or explosives were applied to the huts and the buildings were partially or wholly destroyed.

In the revenue offices, if there were any occupants, they were ordered out or bound with ropes, and then the documents were abstracted and destroyed.

Among the courthouses attacked were those at Cashel and Ballinamore. These were completely destroyed, with all documents. Armed guards were posted while the raids were proceeding, but all private property was respected.

BIRKENHEAD IS DEFIANT. LONDON, May 13.—Lord Birkenhead, lord high chancellor, speaking here tonight, referred to conditions in Ireland and expressed his admiration for the courageous services of the Irish constabulary, who never knew when the bullet of a cowardly assassin was awaiting them.

He could not pretend to say that the Government had reached any solution of the difficulties in Ireland, but he could say that it was the Government's intention to reinforce these brave men by every measure in its power.

FEARS SYMPATHETIC STRIKE AT HAMILTON OVER STEEL DISPUTE

HAMILTON, May 13.—Efforts of the board of control to bring the striking engineers of the Dominion Steel Company of Canada and the company together have failed. Robert Howson, president of the company, after taking the night to think it over, sent a letter to Mayor Booker today, in which he declared the firm would adhere to the principle of the open shop.

He is willing that men who went out shall not lose their seniority or be debarred from sharing in the pension fund, but the men must come back on the conditions under which they were working before they walked out. If places are open they will be given employment.

Controller O'Heir, labor member of the board, fears a sympathetic strike, which may reach proportions as great as the Winnipeg trouble of last year.

LEGISLATORS HOPE TO FINISH SESSION BY MORNING SITTINGS

Members May Conclude Work Next Week At Toronto.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

TORONTO, May 13.—Next week as soon as the committee finish their work the Legislature will start morning sessions. This announcement was made by Premier Drury today when asked by Wellington Hay, Liberal whip. With morning sittings the session may be concluded next week. Seventeen orders were got off the order paper through the third reading route.

These included the change in the moratorium, the wool bounty act, the bill reducing the property qualification for municipal candidates, the act giving firemen one day off in seven, and many bills of less importance.

In reply to Hon. George S. Henry, acting Conservative leader, Premier Drury said that hydro legislation would be brought down not later than Monday. A committee of the cabinet was working on it, he said. The requests of the commission had been handed in only a few days ago. Representing the brewers of Ontario, W. T. Kernahan, J. P. Haverson, K.C., and Charles Millar, waited upon Premier Drury today regarding taxation on breweries. Up until 1916 the breweries were taxed on 75 per cent of the retail property value. Up until a few months ago, following a "dry" Ontario they were exempt from taxation. Recently the old scale was put into effect.

The brewers yesterday asked for complete exemption or that it be greatly reduced if there was to be taxation. They were given no assurance by the Government that there would be any reduction.

TWO MEN DIE IN SING SING BY ELECTRIC CHAIR

OSWING, N.Y., May 13.—(By Canadian Press).—Richard Harrison, 39, and Chester Cantine were put to death in the electric chair at Sing Sing Prison tonight. Cantine was the first to be executed. Harrison was brought to the chair two minutes after Cantine was pronounced dead.

Cantine was convicted of killing Carl Bunziker, a toughkeeper, following a hold-up in his store a year ago.

SIGNALS FLASHED, GIVE POLICE CLUE, RUM-RUNNER, BOAT AND WHISKEY SEIZED

WINDSOR, May 13.—Observing signals flashed across the river from Keweenaw, Detroit, at a point opposite Sandwich, Officers LeBeauf and Snyder of the Sandwich police department investigated and discovered an automobile parked near Queen's dock, which drove rapidly, leaving a small rowboat in charge of Charles Deno some distance out in the stream.

Another boat was procured, and Deno captured together with three cases of whiskey which he was taking across. He was fined $200 and costs in Sandwich police court today. Deno claimed he was a married man with a family, and being out of work, had accepted a commission of $50 to take the liquor across the river to Detroit rum runners.

CHANGES IN DRY LAW UNDER FIRE IN LEGISLATURE

Members Object To License Commission Controlling Doctors.

BRACKIN CRITICIZES

Objects To Toronto Magistrate Issuing Search Warrant For Whole Province.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

TORONTO, May 13.—The act amending the Ontario temperance act was given second reading in the Legislature today. The debate lasted most of the afternoon, most of the criticism being levelled at the clause, which gives the board of license commissioners power to refuse to honor the prescription of a doctor "for any cause which the board may deem sufficient." The critics contended that the board had no right to take "control of doctors" in such a way. The Government members argued that the doctors themselves were in favor of such a restriction.

W. E. N. Sinclair (South Ontario), thought the medical council should be left the powers to deal with doctors, as it was responsible for their behavior. Neither did he like the clause giving the police magistrate of Toronto power to issue a summons for any place in Ontario. He also thought the clause regarding standard hotel licenses which prevented restaurants in the same building would lead to trouble with municipalities. Another objection was bringing the act into force immediately. The changes were many, and he thought, many quite innocent, not knowing the law might suffer. A chance should be given for them to get acquainted with the new regulations.

Nixon Reads Letter. Hon. Nixon, provincial secretary, read a letter from the Physicians' and Surgeons' Council that they did not want responsibility on prohibition questions, and thought all the powers should be vested in the license commission, leaving them free to take the case of a moral question.

Karl Homuta, Labor member for South Waterloo, again attacked the severities of the Ontario temperance act, which took from the pockets of the poor man a fine of $200 and costs for being caught with an ounce of liquor in his pockets. The Government system of vendors in large centres had the effect of tempting a man in need of liquor for medicinal purposes to go out and get it by surreptitious means rather than through circuitous legal channels.

R. L. Brackin (Liberal, West Kent), vigorously attacked the clause in the proposed amendments which gave sanction to the Ontario license commissioners to cut off any doctor "for any cause which the board may deem sufficient." He exclaimed: "It is not right that the control of the medical profession should be in the hands of the chairman and his associates of this board."

Whiskey Detectives. Particularly incensed was the West Kent member over the clauses which gave whiskey detectives the right to apply to a Toronto magistrate for a search warrant with which to invade the privacy of the home of a citizen of another village, town or city.

"If these police magistrates can sit here in Toronto and issue search warrants to search the house of any man in the province of Ontario, I saw every member of this Legislature ought better to search and leave it to the board of license commissioners, remove our magistrates and officials in the other towns and cities," said Mr. Brackin.

J. W. Currie, Southeast Toronto, declared that while it was very easy for the West Kent member to protest against the search of the homes of respectable citizens, it was not that intended to search under the clause. In Mr. Currie's opinion the clause made infringement on the liberties of the people.

Mr. MacBride characterized the proposed license board mandate over the doctors as an "insult" to the physicians of the province, in reply to which Provincial Secretary Nixon reminded him of the letter of acquiescence from the College of Physicians and Surgeons. "They have approved of it," declared Hon. Mr. Nixon.

MacBride Opposes. Mr. MacBride: "Well, I don't approve of it." Mr. Dewar: "They are not legislating; we are."

Another complaint of the Brantford member was the rigidity of the O. T. A. which prohibited a sick man, after the license had been purchased, a bottle of liquor, from taking "two teaspoonfuls" before he reached his home, although the Government intended appointing a committee to go into the affairs of generally, why, asked Mr. MacBride, the haste for all this drastic legislation must ultimately mean not mean anything.

H. H. Dewar, K. C., declared himself disappointed with the new legislation, inasmuch as it dealt with the doctors. "I would have thought," he declared, "that there was enough evidence to show that the license commissioners should not be entrusted with the whole control of the liquor business, but that it should be left to the medical profession." He attacked a system which compelled a poor man in need of liquor for medicinal purposes to pay $3 for a prescription and $5.50 for the liquor. "Why," he continued, "is this matter being run on a basis of profit for the Government?"

"I propose," Mr. Dewar continued, "that the Government should be reached, to move that such sum be struck out as provides for any more than one commission.

Mr. MacBride arose to ask if the Government were aware that at the present time there was being erected at Oakville a large factory for the purpose of manufacturing Canadian native wine. "Will he include in the amendments," he asked, "some measure to prevent the sale of intoxicating wines?"

Hon. Mr. Nixon—"It has been the express purpose of the Government to interfere with the fundamental principles of this act so soon after it has come from the people."

Hon. W. E. Raney said that the giving of the greater power to the Toronto police magistrate was to give the inspectors a chance to operate in remote districts on such a warrant, as there might be difficulty in getting a local magistrate in such places. Replying to the criticism of the amendment which gives the board a greater power over doctors and prescriptions, the attorney-general said that 99 per cent or even more of the doctors were all right. He quoted figures, however, showing that there were odd doctors who abused their privilege. He quoted from returns showing several doctors who issued prescriptions for 200 quarts of whiskey a month. One had issued 360 prescriptions in one month, for quarts in every case, and at the same time had six gallons for office use.

One doctor who had issued upwards of 250 prescriptions a month had in every case put the amount in as N-E-D, and had then certified that one quart was the minimum quantity for this disease.

Mr. Sinclair wanted to know what disease N-E-D was, but nobody enlightened him.

Mr. MacBride was astounded that such things could not be stopped, but the attorney-general said there was nothing to do it under the act until it was amended.

Mr. Raney admitted that he might not be favorable to the present board of three controlling the liquor business, but that he hoped would be investigated by a committee to be considered during the recess. He expressed confidence in each of the individuals composing the board.

FIND OUT WHO HAS SUFFERED UNDER O. T. A. TORONTO, May 13.—(By Canadian Press).—Revelations as to who has been unjustly prosecuted under the Ontario temperance act and who has not, may be expected when the public accounts committee of the Legislature meets tomorrow. J. A. Pinard, East Ottawa, and Col. Cooper, Northwest Toronto, moved at this morning's sitting that all orders-in-council for the remission of fines under the O. T. A. be produced then.

This is an upshot of the slight fracas in the Legislature yesterday when Hon. W. E. Raney, attorney-general, stated that no industries had been convicted in the administration of the O. T. A. and H. H. Dewar, South Toronto, quoted the remission fine as proof that there had been.

FACTS FOR FARMERS

THE POTATO CROP.
(Experimental Farms Note.)

The potato is one of our most important food crops, and yet it is one that very often does not receive the attention it should. It is the practice of many farmers to leave the planting of potatoes until practically all other crops are in. With the exception of perhaps, some parts of the Maritime Provinces this late planting means a much smaller yield than there would be if the planting were done before the middle or by the middle of May. By the end of May or beginning of June the seed potatoes have sprouted and the plants when these are broken off at planting time the new shoots will not come on with the same vigor as they did early in the season. Furthermore it is important for the potato to get a good root system before the hot weather sets in.

It is of the greatest importance to use good seed. Two lots of seed of the same variety will look very much alike, may give a difference of three hundred or more bushels per acre in the crop, as has been shown in experiments at the experimental farms. One of the best Green Mountain bushels per acre and another 31 bushels per acre. The best Green Mountain bushels yielded 230 bushels per acre, and one of the poorest 46 bushels per acre.

The Matter of Seed. If possible, one should know where the seed was grown the previous year that he is about to use. If it came from a crop, the plants of which grew vigorously until cut down by frost, then, if free from disease, it will, as a rule, yield a much better crop than if it is from a crop, the plants of which withered in the middle of summer and the tubers lay in hot soil for the rest of the season. This year, when the price of potatoes is so high there will be a temptation to use small potatoes for seed. If these small potatoes come from a good crop the previous year the results are likely to be satisfactory. If the season is favorable, but if they are from a small crop the previous year when the plants dried up early in the season, the results will be weak and the yield not very good. Good-sized sets of from one and a half to two ounces have been found the most satisfactory, taking one year with another, although if the season is particularly favorable smaller sets will produce a good crop, but one cannot tell what the season will be, hence it is better to be on the safe side.

The distance of planting, which has been found most economical in most places in Canada is rows two and a half to three feet apart and sets twelve to fourteen inches apart in the rows. While quite shallow planting has given the highest average yields at Ottawa, it is necessary to plant about four inches deep for field culture to enable one to harrow before the potatoes are up without pulling up the sets. The varieties which have been most satisfactory in Canada are the Irish Cobbler, an early potato, the Green Mountain as a main crop or later variety. Other varieties which are well distinguished from the Green Mountain are the Golden Wonder, Sam, Wae, MacGregor and Delaware. The Dooley of the rural group has done well in the warmer parts of Ontario, and in coast climates Burbank is also popular.

REPORT OF FARM CONDITIONS

MAY 11, 1920.
(Experimental Farms Note.)

The following is a summary of reports made by agricultural representatives to the Ontario department of agriculture: A good deal of seedling was done during the week just past. While a number of farmers have got in all their spring grains, considerable sowing yet remains to be done, even in the same localities. Elgin is of the opinion that the extent of spring seeding will be somewhat affected by the lateness of the season.

A large area of root land has been prepared, and a few men who are forward with their work have already got in some seed. More early potatoes than usual have been planted, and there appears to be a bigger race than ever for the first market.

Essex reports that considerable corn was planted during the week, and that a large extent of land is being prepared for more. The young tobacco plants in that county also are progressing nicely. Fall wheat is looking well, and the province over, but the crop seems to need a warm week or two to give it a real spring start. A number of representatives allude to the excellent showing of apple fruit buds, which are now ready to burst into bloom.

Berries and Fruits. Strawberries and small fruits generally have come through in good condition, although there are some complaints of raspberry canes being frozen back.

Cattle are still showing the effects of the long winter on dry feed, and in most localities the grass is not yet fully ready for pasture. There is little movement in fat steers or stockers, largely on account of the rush of field operations.

Milk is keeping up surprisingly well for the season, but there are some complaints that some of it is hardly up to the standard in butter-fat. Cheese sold on the Picton board on Friday at 31 13-16 cents a pound. Glenora quotes sales at 22 3-15 cents a pound.

Dairy cows, in good form, are bringing from $100 to $200 in Carleton, but lower prices are quoted elsewhere.

Sales of hogs are somewhat slow at from $18 to $20.50 a hundredweight, and some of them are being marketed too light in weight. Brood sows are bringing from $65 to $100 in Lanark, as they are now much scarcer than last year. Carleton reports little pigs as selling at from $14 to $15 a pair, and Brant at from $14 to $16.

Horses in Lanark are being marketed at from $140 to $240, but as high as $250 to $300 each has been paid for good specimens in Carleton, while Prince Edward County reports the shipment of a carload of horses running about 1,250 pounds in weight at prices averaging $160 each.

Good grade ewes are selling in Eastern Ontario at from $25 to $40 each. Lincoln reports that while some farmers are going to do more up-to-date fencing, others are disposing largely with fences, and are working the land right to the road ditches.

In Prescott and Russell considerable stretches of road are being graded by tractors and heavy machinery, and also with horses and split-log drags. Labor, generally speaking, is hard to procure. Peel, however, reports that fifteen men and boys were placed from the representative's office during the past week. York states that some farmers are reducing their grain and hoo crops on account of the lack of help, and that others are letting more calves run with the cows, thus having less milk to handle.

Railway connections are made at Port Arthur, Port William and Duluth for Winnipeg and Western Canada points. For full information, fares, etc., apply to any Grand Trunk ticket agent.

HELENE'S MARRIED LIFE

BY MAY CHRISTIE

Copyright, 1920, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate
LXXII.—In the Dead of Night.

Alice's little air of know-it-all might have been amusing any other time. But the present situation wasn't funny. Upon the contrary.

However, speculation was of no avail. And, besides, I didn't want to send poor Mr. Anstruther off with a worried, anxious mind. Alice, however, had no scruples on that point. In fact, I believe she took an actual pleasure in alarming him. Her vanity was piqued that he should have planned this trip, without asking her—to accompany him.

And so she made the most of my adventure. She foretold all sorts of happenings—some wildly impossible—but none calculated to soothe the mind of a departing husband. With an air of martyrdom, she helped him with his packing. And then, when the last article was stowed away, she suddenly burst into dramatic tears. Whether this was the direct result of a fit of conscience over her recent flirtation with Tony, I do not know. But it worried poor Mr. Anstruther dreadfully.

He took me aside and asked me if I didn't consider it his duty to abandon his trip to Mexico and stay at home with Alice.

"Certainly not," said I, annoyed with Alice and her selfishness. "We'll get along perfectly. I couldn't hear of my postponement of your trip."

It was long after midnight when I caught my attention. It was addressed in rather shaky writing, to: "Miss Helene Beauclaire."

"Dear, Beautiful Helene,—I have no right to call you so—except the right of loving you. It seems to me as though I'd loved you all my life. I keep longing for you to be with me, and I'm miserable without you. That's the Real Thing, isn't it? (And don't forget the capitals!)"

"I can truly say that it's been worth my accident and illness to have met you—dear. Yes, except for the anxiety it has caused my mother, and the trouble to your friends. I love you, Helene. The words sound stupid and inadequate. But they are genuine. When one loves a great deal—as I do—one cannot be grandiloquent."

"Helene, tomorrow won't you tell me if there is a chance—a tiny chance—for me? I care so very much. I want to tell you so when you are with me—but my tongue seems tied."

"It often seems to me as though I'd met and known you long ago. But when I try to remember where and how, my head aches. But I love you, dear, and always shall."

His signature ended the letter. I kissed it passionately, with a glowing heart. Dear Jim!

I went to bed, completely happy, despite the trying episode of the evening. My shoulder ached a little, yet I scarcely felt it.

But when at last I slept I had strange, wild dreams. The shooting episode was enacted over and over again in my subconscious mind. I turned and tossed. And the wild, distraught face at the cottage window seemed constantly before me.

Would dawn never come?

At last more peaceful sleep came to me. The room was very dark when I awoke to full consciousness in a sudden success of terror, with a cold air blowing across my face, and a queer rustling close beside my pillow. Someone was in the room! My heart went thudding wildly, and my breathing became so difficult that I thought that I would choke.

A soft pad-pad of feet—a queer chuckling sound—an impression. I could bear no more. I stretched out a hand to the electric-lamp beside my bed, and switched the light on.

And the sight that greeted me at most froze my blood. For, thrust close to mine, and bending over me, was the same wild, distraught face that had glared madly at me through the cottage window!

Tomorrow—Terror.

TWO ARE CANONIZED

Solemn Ceremonies Mark Event at St. Peter's, Rome.

Rome, May 14.—Solemn ceremonies for the canonization of Gabriel Possenti and Marie Alacoque were held in St. Peter's yesterday. Pope Benedict was carried in the chair of state to the cathedral, being surrounded by a gorgeous retinue of ecclesiastics, officials of the civil and military courts of the vatican, members of the Sacred College, archbishops, bishops, Roman nobility and general officers of religious orders. Pope Benedict was seated in a throne erected in the Apse behind the high altar and presided the canonization ceremonies by intoning a hymn. After he had pronounced the formula for canonization and inscribed the names of the new saints in the sacred roll, the pontiff intoned a "te deum" while the bells announced the happy event. Later Pope Benedict celebrated mass, and then, with the same gorgeous procession, returned to his apartments in the vatican.

ANOTHER ATTEMPT IS MADE TO ASSASSINATE TURKISH GRAND VIZIER

London, May 14.—Another attempt was made to assassinate Damad Ferid, Turkish grand vizier, on Thursday, according to a Constantinople dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company. The attack occurred at the grand vizier's residence, and was made by a policeman, who fired upon Damad Ferid, but only wounded the latter's armed attendant. The grand vizier's assailant was arrested.

SUSPECT IS ARRESTED IN CONNECTION WITH NEW YORK BOND THEFTS

Cleveland, Ohio, May 14.—Cleveland detectives early today took into custody a man they claim is wanted in New York in connection with the theft of millions of dollars' worth of Liberty bonds. They refused to divulge the name of the man, but admitted they "were holding a man in connection with the Arnstein case." It is believed the man knows the whereabouts of two alleged leaders in the bond theft plot.

POLICE INSPECTOR ACQUITTED.

New York, May 14.—Police Inspector Dominick Henry, formerly commander of the Tenderloin district, today was acquitted by order of Judge Malone of a charge of neglect of duty in connection with New York's vice crusade.

BIRD NOTES

(Contributed by McIlwraith Ornithological Club.)

The new arrivals in the bird world at London on May 13 were: Grasshopper, Sparrow, Golden Wing Warbler, Crested Flycatcher.

The writer has often searched his mind for a fitting title to the military sounding notes of the last named, but without avail. No bird that comes to mind has such a challenging, defiant call as has this one, and as is usual in such cases, the bird is more often recorded by sound than sight. Of course this is the case with many species, but with none more frequently than with the Crested Flycatcher. Note it has no real crest, but the feathers of the crown are longer than usual and are erect in common with all birds. It is one of the most pugnacious of all our wild things, and goes about like the Irishman with a chip on his shoulder, and should he see a fight he does not wait to inquire whether it is a private one, but sails right in.

Another noteworthy characteristic occurs in the nesting time when he uses a snake skin or two in the nest, supposed by some to be for the purpose of scaring away intruders, but one would not like to guarantee that such is the real reason. Nevertheless, a nest is seldom found which lacks that peculiar adornment. Moreover, it is the only one of the Flycatchers that uses a hole for a nesting site.

I once witnessed a very amusing encounter between a Crested Flycatcher and a Red-Headed Woodpecker. Perhaps it is wrong to call it an encounter, but it was amusing all right. Each pair had their nest in the top of the same dead tree, and while the Flycatcher was incubating, the Woodpecker was feeding young. So, while the Flycatcher sat above their nest and seemed to enjoy hugely a fierce attack on the Woodpeckers at each return. The poor harassed Woodpeckers would fly straight into the nesting hole with all the appearance of a head broken at the other side. The other then waited and at the first sign of re-appearance, he flew down and bore the Woodpecker to the ground. It seemed to be great fun for the Flycatcher, but it must have made housekeeping exceedingly inconvenient for its neighbor.

The Golden Wing Warbler is a southern bird, which reaches almost to its northern limit in London. The birdmen of Woodstock and Guilford see it only once in a blue moon, while it nests in its chosen Middlesex woods every year without fail.

BIG VICTORIA DAY PROGRAM.

INGERSOLL, May 13.—Final arrangements for the big Victoria Day celebration under the auspices of the Big Eight fraternal societies have been completed. A full day's program has been provided which will include in addition to excellent music acrobatic and trapeze stunts, and a ten-mile marathon road race.

The advisability of assisting in the erection of a grandstand at Victoria Park, or in some of the requirements at the new park has been under discussion by the Caledonia Society. The society, which a few years ago held a number of successful celebrations, is stated, has a substantial surplus, and it is felt part of it should be expended for the public benefit.

PRESENTATION MADE.

Presentation of a lady's traveling kit was made to Mrs. William Garlick, 232 Central avenue, on Tuesday evening by the C. E. F. Chapter, I. O. D. E. The recipient has left for England to gain her health, and to bid her God-speed and present the gift as a token of their appreciation of her services.

Later dancing and progressive euchre was the order.

PORTRAIT HAS HISTORY.

The portrait of Florence Nightingale, which hung in a place of honor at the graduating exercises of the nurses of the Victoria Hospital Training School, has a history. It had been the property of Miss Jacobs, who is in charge of the Pittsburgh Tuberculosis League Hospital. Twenty-four years ago it was sent to her by an old army doctor, Miss Jacobs graduated in Dublin, Ireland, and later practiced in East India. She was the first trained nurse in this city.

MIGHTY GOOD NEWS

House of Hoberlin representative will be with us all day Saturday, to 9 p.m. You who do not know will ask, "Who are the House of Hoberlin?" Allow us to tell you:

First—Hoberlin tailoring is strictly custom work, from buttonholes to single-fledged collar edges; canvas and stays are set and sewn by hand-sewers; fitted and designed by the best expert tailors in Canada.

Second—It is a Canadian company, operated by Gentiles, employing no sweatshop labor, and paying every employee as you are paid today—good wages. Oh, no, you wouldn't, if you had a chance, wear clothing that is really tailored by the long-ago method of "Grind 'em, boys; make 'em do more work for less pay!"

Third—We know by experience, through selling since last September 500 garments to London and vicinity men, that these clothes are a huge success, and that every man is open to a new tailor if he can better his clothes buying.

See us Saturday. The prices are not extremely high. They range from $40 to $85
