MR. KENNEDY TO THE FRONT

Cedar Springs Minister Talks About the Forbes Hotel

THE TEMPERANCE SIDE

The following letter has been received from Rev. H. F. Kennedy, of Cedar Springs, in reference to the trouble which has arisen in connection with the granting of a license to Mr. Forbes, of Cedar Springs. In his letter Mr. Kennedy attempts to correct some statements which have been made public in this matter.

To the Editor of Chatham Planet: Dear Mr. Editor,—I read in your issue of June 5th an item dealing with the decision of the Clerk of Harwich Township re the hotel licenses of East Kent. I do not know who is the author of that item, there being no name appended to it.

But there is so much error in it that I feel it incumbent upon me to make some reference to it through the columns of your paper, especially since my name is referred to and also charges are made against Mr. Roseborough, the Clerk, which I know to be false and altogether unwarranted.

In the first place let me say that I was present when the petitions were referred to the Clerk. Both sides were fully represented. Nearly the whole day was occupied in their consideration. Just here it should be noted that while the two sides made their objections and agreed to the striking off of certain names, yet no names were struck off that day by the Clerk. All that he did was to listen to the objections, weigh the evidence and tabulate them. Besides the names that were agreed to by both parties, there were several other names that were objected to and on which no agreement could be reached by the two parties. These objections were also recorded and the Clerk reserved his decision until further enquiries were made into these names.

I have every reason to believe that the Clerk was conscientious in the decision he arrived at a few days later. In all that he did he acted on the advice of Mr. Matthew Wilson, the Township Solicitor, and it appears that the license department was interviewed and found to be in full accord with the advice that was given.

It is quite true that Mr. Roseborough is and ever has been a strong temperance worker, but why should this fact be used in urging a public feeling against him? A man in these days is generally honored for his temperance principles, no matter what position or office he occupies.

It is true also that Mr. Roseborough some weeks before his appointment appeared before the Board of Commissioners against one of the petitions, namely, that of the Charing Cross hotel, but, Sir, be it noted that it was this very petition that he, in the capacity of Clerk, found to be sufficiently signed.

He had nothing to do, however, with the Cedar Springs license. He was not personally interested in it. But just because his findings in regard to this latter petition were adverse to the hotel faction, he is thought by some to have been prejudiced to the temperance party.

It was also stated in the item referred to that the hotel faction claims that Mr. Roseborough was appointed to revise these certificates and that the manner in which he was appointed may be questioned. I am quite safe in saying that those who make any such claims know nothing whatever about the Clerk's appointment.

Many of our leading temperance men in this community did not know that Mr. Roseborough was an applicant for the office until after his appointment to the clerkship was announced in the local papers. Further, to say that in an interview with some of the members of the Harwich Council I obtained information to the effect that Mr. Roseborough's temperance principles did not influence the Council Board one iota in his appointment. The question of temperance was not even mooted.

There were three applicants for the office. Each one received due consideration and finally by a resolution moved and seconded by two members of the Board, Mr. Roseborough was duly appointed to the office. Why then, I ask, should there be any question raised as to the motive or manner of his appointment?

Furthermore, to say that Mr. Roseborough absolutely refused to disclose the names of those struck off the petition is not correct. As I understand it, only a few of the hotel faction have ever asked for the names, and I deem it wise on the part of the Clerk to withhold these names at any rate for the time being. If they are names which the two parties could not agree upon, it is quite likely they could not agree upon them no matter what decision the Clerk might reach in regard thereto.

These names were referred to the Clerk and on trustworthy advice it appears he has reached a decision. Since the law makes his decision final and conclusive it seems to me all parties should abide by the de-

CHATHAM'S CHANCES ARE GOOD FOR ANOTHER NEW INDUSTRY

An Electrical Supply Manufacturing Company May Locate in This City—Industrial Committee Working—Special Council Meeting Will be Called

An electrical supply manufacturing company capitalized at $100,000, with $70,000 paid up capital, is at present trying to make a location in fifteen annual payments, exempt them from taxes with the exception of school and frontage taxes for the term of ten years. The company ask for free water to the extent of 3,500 gallons per day.

Under the proposed agreement, the city is to hold a first mortgage on the plant and property of the company. The gentlemen present at last night's meeting have left the city to confer with the other members of their firm. They will likely return to the city in a few days, and a special meeting of the City Council will probably be called for Monday evening to consider the proposition, and to consider the advisability of submitting the electrical and the sugar by-laws at the same time. If this is decided on, the time for submitting the sugar by-law will be extended from the date at present, which is set for July 5.

Mr. Robert Gray was the gentleman who was mainly instrumental in introducing the electrical company to locate in Chatham. Mr. Gray at once put Ald. Austin, of the Industrial committee, in touch with the capitalists, and as a result last night's meeting was called. Ald. Austin expects a telegram from the directors of the concern some time to-day.

AGREEMENT RATIFIED.

At noon to-day Ald. Charles Austin received a telegram from the directors of the International Electrical Supply Co. stating that the agreement as made to them by the city of Chatham had been ratified. The telegram stated that the directors had held a meeting to consider the matter, and that since the agreement had been signed and forwarded by mail.

AN ADDRESS OF WELCOME TO THE VISITING DELEGATES

Members Of Missionary Conference Heartily Received By Mayor And Hostesses—Encouraging Reports

YESTERDAY AFTERNOON.

The afternoon session of the Women's Missionary Conference, which opened in the Park St. Methodist Church S. E. hall yesterday afternoon, was a most successful one. Messrs. Marshall and Creighton led the devotional exercises at the commencement, and following this the reports of the District Organizers were dealt with.

In these reports, which came from all over this section of the Province, the prevailing note was the increase in the movement. Noble work of self-sacrifice and benevolence is being accomplished by the ladies of the Society, the furtherance of the Gospel in dark places is being made universal, and the organization is meeting with more recognition day by day. This was the story told by letters and speeches of the District Organizers and the President took occasion to comment on the bright state of affairs in the auxiliary branches as shown so plainly by their own statements.

An excellent address of welcome was delivered to the gathering by Mrs. A. W. Thornton, who, on behalf of the ladies of Chatham, extended to the delegates the best wishes of their hostesses, and assured them of their goodwill and hospitality. After a suitable reply had been made by one of the visitors, the delegates received greetings from Sister Societies.

Mrs. Hall welcomed them on behalf of the First Presbyterian Church, Miss McNaughton, for the St. Andrew's church, and Mrs. Hoyt, for the Baptist church. Mrs. Graham, President of the Kent Branch of the W. C. T. U., extended cordial greetings from the temperance organizations, and a letter was also read from the Provincial W. C. T. U. extending greetings and expressing sympathy with the work that was being done.

A memorial service was conducted by Mesdames Leach and Acheson, paying tribute to the departed members and friends of the society who had been called home during the year. Mrs. Fowler of London, led an impressive consecration service at the close of the session and the proceedings terminating about five o'clock.

EVENING SESSION.

The public meeting held last evening was well attended. The Rev. Mr. Rutledge occupied the chair and opened the meeting with a short address.

Mayor Marshall made an address of welcome, which was suitably replied to by Mrs. Leach of Windsor.

Mrs. Tennant, Corresponding Secretary, presented her annual report, showing the great progress which the Society has made during the last twelve months. All the districts were in a flourishing and progressing condition, and Chatham, with five auxiliary branches, was the banner district of them all.

Several reports on the membership and financial standing of the Society were presented and read. The President, Mrs. Wright, made a spirited speech, in which she pointed out the claims of the Society and drew attention to the great work that was being done.

MORNING SESSION.

At this morning's session of the Women's Missionary Society's branch conference it was almost unanimously decided to petition the London Methodist Ministerial Conference to grant further enfranchisement for women of the church.

A memorial was read to the effect that whereas it had been stated by several Methodist ministers at the last London Conference that women were not desirous of obtaining to the higher seats of the church, even if permission was granted to them; that this conference petition the London Conference of Ministers to grant the women of the church, seats at the District Meetings, and the Annual Conference.

Another memorial suggesting the formation of a society composed of delegates from the many ladies' church organizations for the purpose of assuring proper representation at these meetings and conferences, was read as a rider to the former motion. A warm and interesting discussion took place on this matter, several of the ladies testifying to the need of more recognition for women's Societies.

A remark made by Mrs. Wright while expressing her views on the subject is of interest. "This move," said Mrs. Wright, "is one for the full enfranchisement of women and, if this great goal is ever reached, the knowledge will be ours that it was this meeting of the London Conference branch of the Women's Missionary Society which started the movement for the emancipation of their sex."

After many ladies had expressed their opinions, the motion to petition the Conference was put and carried, only four voting against it. The Courtesy Committee were requested to write to absent members expressing the general regret of the whole Conference at their inability to attend.

Mrs. Wallwin and Mrs. Carson were four voting against it. The delegates' railway tickets. The session closed at noon.

A TERRIBLE EXPERIENCE

Dr. Dollin Gives a Graphic Account of the Earthquake

A FORMER CHATHAM BOY

The Planet has received many accounts of the recent earthquake in San Francisco, but none have appeared which are more accurate and interesting than the one sent to us by Dr. A. F. Dollin, a former Chathamite, who went through the terrible experience. Mr. Dollin's letter to The Planet is as follows:—

San Francisco, Cal., May 28, 1906.

For the Chatham Weekly Planet:

Dear Sirs,—I am going to write a few lines to you giving you my experiences and a few facts of the earthquake which shook this city on the 18th of April, at 5.13 a. m. At that hour mostly every one was in bed, and the early risers, who had to go some distance to work, were at home preparing to leave, when a sort of a distant rumble was heard, then the house began to sway like a wave motion. This lasted for about 30 seconds, though the time seemed like two or three minutes. Chimneys fell, houses collapsed, and I guess the majority of the residents of San Francisco thought the judgment day had come. The nearest way I could compare the force would be to take a big strong man, and give him a chest with a few small boxes inside, and toss it back and forth. Well San Francisco was tossed by the unseen force with as much ease as the man would toss the box.

On the morning of the quake the rumbling woke me up, and immediately following came an easy motion which gradually increased till the house shook and swayed. I arose and went to my mother, who has not been in the city very long. I thought that there was a heavy shock coming, and I feared for her going to her health, but she stood it fine, and now says she thinks she would rather stand an earthquake than some of those thunder storms around Chatham. After the quake stopped, I dressed and went out, and some horrible sights were to be seen. Houses with foundations gone, others with the chimney broken through the roof. While out, came the news of fire. The first fire I came to was at 22nd and Mission streets, where several stores and houses were destroyed. This fire was supposed to have started from defective wiring. From here I walked on towards town and at 18th and Valencia streets. The Valencia Hotel, a three story building, which had been built on made ground over a creek or slough, collapsed over.

TIME FOR ACTION.

A short time ago there was formed in Chatham a branch of the Ontario Fish and Game Protective Association. The organization was started off under very auspicious circumstances. The field for action was wide, and sadly in need of earnest workers, and the men who banded themselves together were true sportsmen and respected and influential citizens. Interest in this cause, however, seems to have dropped considerably, and of late nothing has been heard from the local association.

Simultaneously with the forming of the Chatham branch, interest in this matter was aroused in several Canadian cities and many of the associations then established are doing good work in the way of educating public opinion against the rapid depletion of the fish supply.

As has been pointed out, the fisheries of the lakes are an industry profitably employing a large section of Ontario's population, will soon be a thing of the past, and in the meantime the fish taken from Canadian waters are being sent to foreign markets and the people here are unable to receive any benefit from the heritage that is theirs.

There are many matters to be taken into consideration and upon which associations should express their views freely and openly, such as the most feasible method of restocking and the making of an earnest effort toward interesting adjacent state governments to adopt some measures to check depletion and rescue the fisheries of the lakes and rivers from ruin.

ENCOURAGE BOYS TO SWIM.

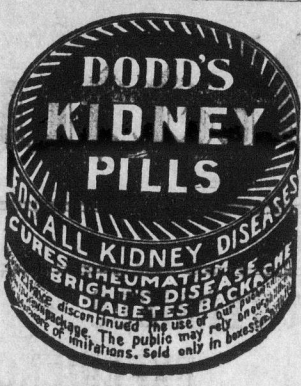

"Death by Drowning" has become almost a stereotyped heading in newspaper offices, for accounts of many of the fatalities which occur during the summer months. A number of these have evidently been brought before the attention of the St. Thomas Times man lately, and in a recent editorial he expresses much the same sentiments as have been advanced by this journal from time to time.

The long and sombre chapter of drowning accidents, which is a part of each summer's history, has opened, says The Times. Nearly all of these fatalities are due to a lack of early education—the victims never learning to swim. Swimming ought to be in the experience of every boy and girl. Not only does it insure the ability to preserve the swimmer's life in certain emergencies, but it may be the means of saving the lives of others.

It is, moreover, a healthy exercise; hence it is a life preservative in a wide sense, and in those instances where accident or injury are not threatened. The drowning accidents where people who cannot swim suffer themselves to be led into too deep water, or are pitched into the sea by the malign hoodlum who rocks the boat, would seldom, if ever, occur if the bathers would practice a few of the swimming strokes before they ventured beyond their depth, for swimming is quickly and easily learned, and the one who is conscious of his ability to float, even for a few minutes, is less apt to lose his head in an emergency than is one who may fall overboard, even in shallow water and close to the land.

The Government is daily receiving copies of resolutions from labor organizations demanding the dismissal of Chief Immigration Commissioner Preston. That officer's secret and underhand support of the enterprises of Lazarus, alias Leopold, of the Canadian Labor Bureau, so called, may be condoned by the Government. But the working people are not so light-hearted about it.

There is an important bit of legislation which appears to be hanging fire at Ottawa. The Usury Bill, it appears, is held up in committee, and no particular effort appears to be made to pass it along. We are quite aware that a large number of agencies are at work against this measure, and we are also aware that, in view of the necessity for such a bill, as emphasized by the operations of money sharks in Montreal, the opponents of such a measure are afraid to fight in the open. They fear public sentiment; they doubt the merits of their case when it is stated in all of its aspects. The government—or Parliament, would be well advised to bring forth the bill from its present obscure stage, and give it the stamp of a statutory enactment.—Montreal Herald.

In the Public Works Department there is an expenditure of $22,299 for the maintenance of the administration building. There are two caretakers at $1,920 each, two charwomen at $1,800 each, with a corps of firemen, gardeners and laborers. The Court House is maintained at a cost of $7,770, the Post Office building cost $9,757, the Police Court $2,589, making with other expenses $84,000 for keeping up the public buildings in the town of Dawson with a population of less than 4,000.

In this department also there is a superintendent of Yukon public works, who has a salary of $4,000, a superintendent of telegraphs at $2,500, an inspector of telegraphs at $2,000 a year. This is surely costly housekeeping.

FASHION HINTS

GIRLS' PANTING SUIT.

No. 4132.

In planning the summer wardrobe a bathing suit is indispensable if one is near water, and the one illustrated here is suitable for a small boy as well. It is made of a light material, made in one piece and buttoned at the back and sides. A full straight gathered skirt is finished with a band and buttonholes, which button on to the body of the suit. When the suit is intended for a boy the skirt is omitted and a belt of the material fastens in front. Flannels, mohair, and duck are the materials generally employed in making these garments.

The quantity of material required for size 8 is 2 1/4 yards of 42 inch material. Pattern No. 4132 is cut in sizes 4 to 12 years. Mailed, postpaid on receipt of 10 cents. Name, size and address to the Fashion Department of the C. Austin Co., Chatham.

A Human Salamander.
Some years ago a Spaniard named Martines gave one of the most extraordinary exhibitions on record. It was at the New Tivoli, in Paris, in the presence of an audience of scientific men, who placed its genuineness beyond doubt. A large oven had been heated by a furnace for several hours. This the Spaniard entered, clothed in flannel trousers and shirt, a large cloak of the same material and a felt sombrero. He sang a song while a fowl was roasted by his side and at the end of fifteen minutes came out again, the temperature registered being between 232 degrees and 232 degrees F., or about 100 degrees above the temperature of boiling water. He entered the oven a second time and ate the fowl which had been roasted beside him. After a short pause he was shut in, lying on a board surrounded by candles. After awhile the audience raised a cry of "Enough!" The door was opened. The oven was found to be full of noxious, suffocating odor of boiling tallow, the sole survival of the candles. The Spaniard came out and after a cold bath was well and strong. His pulse when the door was first opened beat 176 to the minute.

St. Peter's Chair.
Rome itself is spoken of as the chair or throne of St. Peter by some early writers, but the actual episcopal chair which he is believed to have occupied may still be seen in St. Peter's, a worn wooden structure, preserved in a bronze covering, says the London Chronicle. It is from such chairs of episcopal and other authority, of course, that we get the phrase "ex cathedra" and the word "cathedral," an abbreviation of "cathedral church," the church that contains the bishop's throne or chair. Some of the uses in old fashioned English of the adjective "cathedral" seem quaint now. "Cathedral dogmatism" meant not the dogmatism of a dean and chapter, but that of any one who spoke with an assumption of authority. A "cathedral beard" was a broad beard of a fashion anciently worn by bishops, and in John's time "cathedral" seems to have been slang for "antique."

MOONEY'S CAR LINE

FIRST CANADIAN MANUFACTURERS TO ADOPT A SYSTEM OF PRIVATE FREIGHT CARS.

It takes a lot of confidence in one's success, and an abiding faith in future prosperity, to invest the money necessary to equip a line of private freight cars in connection with one's business. Yet that is just what the Mooney Biscuit and Candy Company Limited, of Stratford, Ontario, have done.

Even in the United States, only a few of the largest concerns own and operate their own freight cars, so that it speaks volumes for the Mooney Company, who have been in business only three years.

The new cars are of the standard size, weighing 26,000 pounds and having a capacity of 60,000 pounds (30 tons). They are painted a rich cream color. On each side of the doors is the familiar blue and purple of "Mooney's Perfection Cream Biscuits."

The Mooney Company is the only concern in Canada owning and operating their own freight cars, and their business has so increased in three years that they have been compelled to double the size of their premises.

The first private car of the Mooney Company to be loaded left the bakery at Stratford for Elmhurst last week, over the Canadian Northern Railway, and will doubtless attract much attention en route and on its arrival at its destination.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Cables Eastern—Hogs and Sheep
London, June 11.—Cattle are quoted at 11c to 12c per lb.; pigsticker beef, 8 1/2c to 9 1/2c per lb.; sheep, dressed, 14c to 15 1/2c per lb.; lambs, 10 1/2c, dressed weight.

MONTREAL LIVE STOCK.

Montreal, June 11.—(Special).—Cables from Liverpool and London on Canadian cattle came weaker on account of increased supplies, and prices show a decline of 1/2c, with sales at 11c to 11 1/2c. Advices from Glasgow were very bad, and sales showed losses to shippers of 5c to 10c, and in some cases as much as 12c to 15c per head. Demand for ocean freight has been good, and all June space has been booked at steady rates, and some July to London at 25c, with an advance of 25c per head. Exports for the week were 2901 cattle.

Receipts were 1200 cattle, 60 milch cows, 800 calves, 300 sheep and lambs and 1500 hogs. A feature of the hog situation of the week has been the continued strength in the foreign market for Canadian bacon, and our calves of Saturday note a further advance in prices in Bristol of 1c to 3c, and London also show an advance of 1c to 2c. Receipts of hogs here to-day were 1500, of which 1000 were selected for export, and the rest were sold for local consumption. The market was strong and prices advanced. The demand was for good and selected hogs, and sales were at $7.00 to $8.00 per 100 lbs., weighed or car. The butchers were out strong and trade was brisk, but there were only a few prices of cattle. Prime steers sold at 5c to 5 1/2c per lb.; pretty good animals, 4c to 4 1/2c; and the common stock 3 1/2c to 4c. There was a good demand for milk cows, and Mr. Davis of Cote St. Luke paid $400 for a pair of selected Friesians, and $300 for a pair of selected Jersey cows. Good calves on the market, and these sold at $5 to $8 each; the others sold at $1.50 to $4 each. There were only a few lambs, and the lambs at $3 to $5 each.

EAST BUFFALO CATTLE MARKET.

The Publisher's Claims Sustained

UNITED STATES COURT OF CLAIMS

The Publishers of Webster's International Dictionary allege that it is in fact, the popular, detailed and thoroughly re-edited in every detail, and vastly enriched in every part, with the purpose of adapting it to the larger and severer requirements of another generation.

We are of the opinion that this allegation most clearly and accurately describes the work that has been accomplished and the result that has been reached. The Dictionary, it is now stated, has been thoroughly re-edited in every detail, has been corrected in the larger and severer requirements of a new generation, and is admirably adapted to the needs of the future.

It is perhaps never contained in the dictionary in our judicial work as of the highest authority in accuracy of definition; and that in the future as in the past it will be the source of constant reference.

GEORGE C. MOTT, Clerk of Court.

LAWRENCE WELDON, JOHN DAVIS, CHARLES E. FEELER, CHARLES E. BOWEN.

The Best Guaranty of Merit Is Open Publicity.

Every bottle of Dr. Pierce's world-famed medicines leaving the great laboratory at Buffalo, N. Y., is printed upon its wrapper all the ingredients entering into its composition. This fact alone places Dr. Pierce's Family Medicines in a class all by themselves. They cannot be classed with patent or secret medicines because they are neither. This is why so many unprejudiced physicians prescribe them and recommend them to their patients. They know what they are composed of, and that the ingredients are those endorsed by the most eminent medical authorities.

The further fact that neither Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the great stomach tonic, liver invigorator, heart regulator and blood purifier, nor his "Favorite Prescription" for weak, overworked, broken-down, nervous, and debilitated men, contains any alcohol, also entitles them to a place all by themselves. Many years ago Dr. Pierce discovered that chemically pure glycerine of proper strength, is a better solvent and preservative of the medicinal principles residing in our indigenous, or native, medicinal plants than is alcohol, and, moreover, that it possesses valuable medicinal properties of its own, being demulcent, nutritive, antiseptic, and a most efficient antiferment.

Neither of the above medicines contains alcohol, or any harmful, habit-forming drug, as will be seen from a glance at the formula printed on each bottle wrapper. They are safe to use and potent to cure. Not only do physicians prescribe the above, non-secret medicines largely, but the most intelligent people employ them—people who would not think of using the ordinary patent, or secret medicines. Every ingredient entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's medicines has the strongest kind of an endorsement from leading medical writers of the several schools of practice. No other medicines put up for like purposes have such professional endorsement. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Constipation is the cause of many diseases. One "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. Druggists sell them, and nothing is "just as good." Easy to take as candy.

BANKS IN A FIRE CITY

THE PRESSING NEED OF MONEY IN A STRICKEN COMMUNITY.

Experience of a Chicago Financial House in 1871—Greed of Depositors and How It Showed Itself—An Unexpected Proposition.

Whenever a great fire devastates a large city the first effort of those concerned with the work of restoration is to get the banks open so that the pressing needs of a homeless population may be cared for. At such times business is done on a strictly cash basis, and everything sells at a premium. The consequence is an extraordinary demand for hard to hand money, since the merchant can use the poor man's dollar to better advantage than the rich man's credit in buying supplies to replenish his flame emptied warehouse.

The struggle that ensues to obtain all the cash in sight is full of human interest. It has its picturesque features. On Monday, Oct. 1871, when all Chicago trudged downtown to see what was left of the city, great crowds besieged the banks. Some men were crying, others talked incoherently, and everybody seemed half dazed. An officer of one of Chicago's greatest banks, who fought his way through the smoldering embers to the white marble hall which surrounded his vault, gave the following description of what occurred:

"Although the iron door of the vault had been somewhat expanded by heat, I found that the combination worked perfectly. That reassured me, and after hunting about the debris I fished out one or two iron crowbars and by wedging them in finally opened the vault door. The inclosure smelled smoky, but I soon found that the cash was all right, and so were our books. That made me feel good, and I got down to work in short order. The first thing I did was to look at the balance sheet and see what our exact resources were. A glance showed me that by collecting what was due from out of town creditors the bank could pay everything it owed and declare a 10 per cent dividend besides, even if it lost every dollar due from its Chicago clients. That was all I wanted to know."

"On leaving the vault I saw four men waiting for me in what had been the cashier's office. They were among our largest depositors, and I knew well enough what they wanted. They were of very different types—one a shrewd money lender who had $30,000 to his credit on our books, another was a school treasurer in an outlying district who would have been paid him $25,000, a third was an out of town banker with $150,000 to the credit of his institution in our bank, and the fourth was a man who has since become one of Chicago's greatest capitalists and who had always professed his sincere friendship for me. It was a trying ordeal and one calculated to make each of my visitors look the real stuff that was in him. As events proved, this did not take long."

"The little money lender grabbed me first. With a strange little wink he forced me one side and said in a half whisper, 'Do you know how much I have in your bank?' 'Yes, about $30,000.' 'Well, I will give you $6,000 if you will give me the cash right away.' 'I won't do that,' said I. 'Your money is all right, but you will have to wait a week for it until we get in shape again.'"

"What," he fairly gasped, 'do you decline $6,000? That is a good deal of money in a city that has gone to destruction.' 'I answered no, that I would not, and told him in plain English what I thought of him. I said: 'I am not naive enough to take your bribe and give you an unfair advantage over the other depositors, and I am not fool enough to believe that I know as soon as you discover the bank paid its claims within a week you would sue me for the $6,000. Get out of here right away.'"

"That was the last of him. He took his money when the week was out and kept clear of the bank after that. Then the school treasurer came to me with a straightforward story of how his bondsmen were anxious to know how he stood. When I told him that his money was safe and that he would not lose a cent he burst into tears, saying the news was too good to be true. The out of town banker was also very nice, saying that he did not care to withdraw his money so long as he knew it was safe. Then the man who has since grown enormously wealthy accosted me with the remark that he had come down to see how things stood. That gave me a chance to test him, so I said brusquely:

"You know how things are as well as I do. Can't you see the position we are in? 'Oh, yes, yes,' he answered hastily. 'I don't care about the fire. We are all in the same fix. But I want to know how you stand personally. Have you plenty of ready cash? You cannot get credit these days, so if you need anything from the grocer's you want hard cash. I brought you a little.'"

"With that the man threw open his coat, divined down into his pocket and dragged out a roll of bills as big as his hands could grasp. Then he straightened them out and divided them into equal piles, retaining one himself and handing me the other. He was dreadfully in earnest, but I told him I could not accept the money and that I thought I could manage without it. He assured me that whatever he had would always be at my disposal. That man has always been one of my best friends."

His Compliment. "What a lovely morning," he said. "It is a perfect morning," she replied. "True," he said. "I haven't seen anything this morning that isn't perfect." And he looked her straight in the face. Then she blushed.

Everyone needs something to create and maintain strength for the daily round of duties.

There is nothing better than an Ale or Porter, the purity and merit of which has been attested by chemists, physicians and experts at the great exhibitions.

HURL ASSEGAI FROM TREES.

But Bullet's Are More Deadly and Natal Rebels Run.

Durban, Natal, June 13.—Col. MacKenzie's Natal Monday attacked the rebel natives who had sought shelter in the bush. The latter climbed trees, whence they hurled assegais on the troops, but bullets dropped them out of the branches. Over forty were thus killed, and altogether one hundred and sixty natives were slain.

Darkness ended the operations of the troops, but the rout of the rebels is regarded as practically complete.

HYOMEI CURES CATARRH

Its Healing Balsams Kill All Catarrhal Germans.

There is no more common disease than catarrh, and none that is more dangerous. It weakens and debilitates the whole system, if it is allowed to run, leads to serious, and sometimes fatal complications. No dangerous drugs are taken into the stomach when Hyomei is used. Breathed through the small pocket inhaler that comes with every Hyomei outfit, its healing balsams penetrate to the most remote cells of the throat, nose, and lungs, killing the germs of catarrh, healing the irritated mucous membrane, and making complete and lasting cures.

Three Years For Perjury.

Bellerive, June 13.—An old man named Sylvannus Burnham was tried for perjury at the county court here yesterday afternoon. At a recent trial for theft, Burnham swore that he had never been in the penitentiary. The records showed he had been. Burnham conducted his own defence and was found guilty and sentenced to three years in the penitentiary.

Men Restored To Vigor

YOU PAY AFTER YOU ARE CURED

The physician who has not sufficient confidence in his own ability to cure his patient first and receive his pay afterwards, is not the man to inspire confidence in those who are in search of honest treatment.

If you have prostatic trouble, blood poisoning, bladder and kidney trouble, rheumatism, neuralgia, or any other ailment, write the doctor confidentially and he will send you free of charge, a correct diagnosis of your case. The doctor wishes to treat patients gratis. Trial treatments, gotten up solely for immediate effect, and which detain the patient, as these remedies are nothing but stimulants; when the effects of the medicine wear off they leave the patient in a worse condition than before he commenced treatment, which is the cause of so many patients being disappointed and not receiving a permanent cure. Your treatment will be prepared for your individual case, and when you are discharged as cured, it will be a permanent cure, and you will be willing to wait for his pay until the cure is established.

Dr. Goldberger has 16 Diplomas and Certificates from various Colleges and State Boards of Medical Examiners, a reproduction of which will be sent in order to convince you of his standing as a physician. You have nothing to lose but everything to gain. You will be cured first, then you will pay him a small fee, which will be paid by you, before you accept the treatment. All medicines for Canadian patients sent from Windsor, Ont., duty and transportation charges prepaid. Address: DR. GOLDBERGER, 100 Woodward Ave., Suite 1000, Detroit, Mich., U. S. A.

Modern Therapeutics.

I went to a modern doctor to learn what it was wrong. He said I was a modern doctor, and life was no more a song.

He felt of my pulse as they all do; he gazed at my outstretched tongue; He took off my coat and waist and harked at each wheezing lung. He fed me a small glass penstank with figures upon the side. And this was his final verdict when all of my marks he'd spied:

"Do you eat fried eggs? Then quit it. You don't? Then hurry and eat 'em. Along with some hay that was cut in May."

There are no other foods to beat 'em. Do you walk? Then stop instantly. For exercise will not do. For people with whom it doesn't agree, And this is the rule for you: Just quit whatever you do do. And begin whatever you don't do. For what you don't do may agree with you. As whatever you do do don't.

Yes; thus saith the modern doctor: "Tradition be double damned! What the oldsters knew was nothing compared to the things we've learned. There's nothing in this or that thing that's certain in every case. Any more than a single bonnet's becoming to every face. It's all in the diagnosis that tells us the patient's fix—"

The modern who knows his business is up to a host of tricks. "Do you eat roast pork? Then stop it. You don't? Then get after it hotly. For the long eared ass gives the laugh to grass. And delights in the weed that's prickly."

Do you sleep with the windows open? Then batten them good and tight. And swallow the same old fetid air. Through all the smoozesome night. Just quit whatever you do do. And do whatever you don't do. For whatever you don't do may agree with you. As whatever you do do don't."

Unreasonable. —Strickland W. Gilliam in Judge.

Miss Hippo—Mr. Monk is a multimillionaire and the catch of the season. Why did you jilt him? Miss Giraffe—He seemed lacking in affection. He never even put his arm around my neck and kissed me.—Harper's Bazar.

In Reply to Same. "Ah, Mr. Whitley, did you wish to see me about anything?" asked the president of the company as he ceased for a moment to dictate to his beautiful stenographer.

"Yes, sir," replied the clerk who, having for ten years been one of the firm's most faithful employees, had invented a pleasant little excuse for seeking a raise. "I—I have just received an offer from our rival firm across the street of $10 a week more than I am getting here, and I thought I would ask you if—"

"I congratulate you, sir; I congratulate you. Do you wish to go now or is it your desire to remain here until the end of the week? Mr. Brown, the secretary, will attend to the matter of making out your voucher. Good morning. Ah, yes—we are in receipt of your esteemed favor of even date and in reply to same would say."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Unfavorable. "Good weather for crops, eh?" chirped the traveler, one of your superficial optimists. The farmer shook his head sadly. "On the contrary," he replied, for he was an educated farmer.

"No?" "As a matter of fact, the crops are suffering."

"On account of the weather?" "On account of the weather."

"Bright sunshine, following copious showers. Do crops suffer in such weather?" "Naturally crops are bound to suffer in any weather which makes fish bite. If the conditions continue, we shan't raise much this year."

And the farmer shook his head again and sighed heavily.—Puck.

Re-union of Latter-Day Saints is Drawing Very Large Crowds

At 2.30 p. m. in the Grand Opera House the assembly of the Latter Day Saints re-union was in charge of President Evans, Elder A. Levan, being the speaker. His discourse was from Matt. 20, "The Householder." The assembly was quite large and attentive, though interrupted some by workmen on the roof.

At 8 p. m. the services were in charge of Elder S. Brown, President Evans being the speaker for the hour. This sermon was treating on the "Unchangeableness of God," and was well received by the large assembly, and so closed the day with grateful hearts for past and present favors.

On Wednesday a number of the men folks met at the church at 8 a. m. to cut up some of the trees that were broken off by the recent storm, and they put in two hours faithful work with dull axes and saws in cutting the timber into wood.

The prayer service at 9 a. m. was in charge of Elder F. B. Blair, of Lamoni, Iowa, business manager of the Board of Publication, and Elder B. St. John. Quite a social time was spent.

At the close of the prayer service a session was held by the Religious. At 2.30 p. m. the assembly vacated the Grand Opera House and repaired to the Saints Chapel on account of the noise made by the workmen on the roof of the Opera House. The speaker for the hour was Elder S. Brown, his subject being on the "Duty of the Saints." The service was in charge of Elder Green.

At the close of this service a mock parliament and drill with song service was held by the Religious for an hour's session, in charge of Elders Blair and A. R. Hewitt.

At 8 p. m. the preaching services were in charge of Elder B. St. John, President Evans being the speaker of the hour. His discourse was on the "Manciple, Christ."

The sermon was well received by congregation.

Thursday, June 14th. The usual morning prayer service was in charge of the Presidency, it being an intellectual feast.

After a social greeting of a few minutes, the assembly was called to order by Pres. Evans, Elder F. B. Blair, of Lamoni, Iowa, being the speaker. His address was relative to the necessity and success of Graceland College. It was well received.

The speaker for 2.30 p. m. will be Elder B. St. John, and at 8 p. m. President Evans, the speaker in the Grand Opera House.

MUSICAL

RECITAL AT THE PINES

The Little Tots' Recital took place last evening at the Pines, before an audience of about 100 persons. It was enjoyed by all. The little artists nobly executed their different selections, several of them being loudly applauded and called back.

The feature of the evening was the "Poem and Pantomime," entitled "The Roses of June," one little girl reciting the piece, the pantomime being acted by six little girls.

The recitals that have been given by the pupils of the Ursuline Academy this spring and summer have proven very successful, and the Sisters deserve great credit for the way the pupils have been prepared for each recital. It also speaks well for the pupils, who have taken part, as their excellent skill has been shown in each of their selections given.

THE COUNTY COURT

Cases Which Come Before Judge Dowlin Are of Great Interest

The case of the G. T. R. vs. Lebu, an action to recover damages for the killing of Lebu's horse on the defendant's track, was decided at the County Court yesterday in favor of the railway company.

The other civil case was an action brought by Gilbert & Co. against the M. C. R. Judgment was given for the plaintiffs.

Wm. Ansley, the young man who attempted suicide in Howard Township by cutting his throat, was remanded for a week.

The Burr case, in which the defendant is charged under the Charleton Act, is now in progress.

The following is the Grand Jury's presentation:

To His Honor, Judge Dowlin.
Your Honor—We your Grand Jury of the present County Court, b. g. leave to report as follows.
That having heard the evidence laid before us we have returned true bills in all the indictments presented by the Crown Attorney.

That while hearing the evidence on three of the indictments it came to our knowledge that a feature of last Victoria Day celebration in Chatham was the permission—given various parties to carry on the gambling business known as bookmaking. We would respectfully urge that the officers of the law be instructed to promptly suppress by all legal means any future attempts to carry on this or any other form of gambling either in Chatham or any other place in the county.

That we have visited the gaol and found it neat, well kept and in good condition. We note with sad feeling the recent expenditures by the County Council in the walls, which have added to the safety and security of the gaol, and also on the house, which have added to the comfort of the officials. There are now in confinement seven prisoners and two insane persons awaiting removal to the asylum. We would suggest that if the duty of removing these to the asylum were placed in the hands of the Sheriff it would be more promptly performed than as now, when they have to await the arrival of a Provincial officer and during which time serious results might follow, and during which the insane lose the benefit of that prompt treatment which would probably be of the greatest benefit.

That we also visited the House of Refuge where 45 inmates find a comfortable home. We found the buildings well kept and the fields looked prosperous. The caretaker was in the fields with a number of the inmates carrying on farming operations and your jurors were conducted through the building by the matron.

That we also visited the Home for the Friendless, where we found twenty-two inmates. The institution is evidently well looked after, and the inmates are comfortably cared for.

WILLIAM ABRAHAM,
Foreman.

THE LATE MR LEWIS

Rev. J. Pitt Lewis, whose sudden and, indeed, tragic death is recorded to-day, died as he no doubt wished—at his post. With occasional intervals for travel and rest, Dr. Lewis labored for 28 years in the most densely-populated part of the city with a fidelity that could not be surpassed. He was a preacher of exceptional power, a man of high scientific attainments, and an indefatigable parish worker. To his flock he was something more than the rector. Very close to all his parishioners, particularly in times of trouble, he was a valued friend to every member of his congregation. The end of the long period of toil will bring sorrow to many homes.—Mail and Empire.

Jury Was Lenient.

A Wellington street man whose cow shows a shortage of milk is suspicious that someone is stealing the lactical fluid. Perhaps, however, he is all wrong in his deductions, and the shortage is only due to an up-to-date fancy on the part of Bosse to give condensed milk.

"A KILLING FROST"

Standing in front of his office Monday night and surveying the sky, Dr. Sumson took occasion to say: "This is the anniversary of the greatest frost Canada has seen in three-quarters of a century. It is just 48 years ago to-night when crops were blighted and many farmers committed suicide. I saw men begging for a small quantity of buckwheat, but the country over was nearly barren. This cold wave to-night makes me think of that disastrous frost."

GREAT DETECTIVE DIES

Inspector John Murray of Ontario Passes Away.

Veteran Sleuth's Life Was One of Adventure From the Beginning—Ran Away to Sea as a Boy—How He Begun His Career as an Investigator of Criminals and How to Prevent Their Onslaughts on Society.

Toronto, June 13.—Inspector John Murray of the Ontario criminal investigation department died last evening at 7.30. The announcement was received with genuine regret. Detective Murray is survived by a married daughter, Mrs. William Boyd, of Cape Breton, C. B., and Miss Mary Murray, who lived at home.

Ran Away to Sea.
John William Murray was born in Edinburgh, Scotland, June 25, 1840. He removed, with his family, to New York at the age of five years. Owing to his mother's poor health, he returned with her to Scotland when he was eleven, and attended school there. In 1853 he ran away from school, shipped on a coaster and landed at Liverpool. He ran across his father's ship and sailed with him for New York. He was again sent to school and again ran away. After sailing round the West Indies his father found him and brought him back to New York, and for the third time sent him to school. Young Murray languished through the winter months, and when spring came the spirit of unrest stirred him, and away he went back to the sea.

In the late spring he returned to the great lakes, and on June 5, 1857, he enlisted in the United States navy, where he stayed until the civil war broke out in 1861. He was 21, and the opportunity came for him to realize the ambition of his early years. There was a shortage of officers in the regular service, and Murray was picked as one of the likely young fellows to be sent on to the training school at Washington. He worked and studied faithfully, and when the examinations were held he received a commission. Murray served through the civil war and fought at Mobile. After the war was over he was ordered to the great lakes aboard the Michigan, and in 1868 he left the Michigan, and the service.

Beginning of a Career.
Detective Murray's first case, and the turning point of his whole career, was a wonderful story. The attempt of the Confederates in 1864 to capture the Michigan and take Johnson Island in Sandusky Bay, release 4,000 Confederates imprisoned there, set the island on fire, destroy Detroit, Cleveland and Buffalo and strike terror into the hearts of the north, was discovered by Murray, and it was he who unearthed the identity of the picturesque leader and was instrumental in frustrating the schemes so cunningly devised. Then he decided to be a detective. He went to Washington as soon as the war was over and entered the United States secret service. He was then 26. In 1874 Murray received this telegram: "Come to Toronto (Signed) O. Mowat." He came to Toronto and was put on a counterfeiting case at Owen Sound. His work was eminently successful, and he returned to St. Thomas. Shortly after he received an appointment from the Provincial Government in 1875, and he has been in its employ ever since.

THREE TRYING TIMES IN A WOMAN'S LIFE

There are three periods of a woman's life when she is in need of the heart strengthening, nerve toning, blood enriching action of

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

The first of these is when the young girl is entering the portals of womanhood. At this time she is very often pale, weak and nervous, and unless her health is built up and her system strengthened she may fall a prey to consumption or be a weak woman for life.

The second period is motherhood. The drain on the system is great and the exhausted nerve force and depleted blood require replenishing. Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills supply the elements needed to do this.

The third period is "change of life" and this is the period when she is most liable to heart and nerve troubles.

A tremendous change is taking place in the system, and it is at this time many chronic diseases manifest themselves. Fortify the heart and nerve system by the use of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and thus tide over this dangerous period. Mrs. James King, Cornwall, Ont., writes: "I have been troubled very much with heart trouble—the cause being to a great extent due to 'change of life.' I have been taking Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills for some time, and mean to continue doing so, for I can truthfully say they are the best remedy I have ever used for building up the system. You are at liberty to use this statement for the benefit of other sufferers."

DEFERRED DIVIDENDS

Imperial Life Disapproves of the System.

Although 85 Per Cent. of Its Business Is Conducted Upon This Plan—Mr. Bradshaw Says They Were Forced Into It by Competition—Was Fulfilled Policy For $100,000 a Liability Or a Loan?—Home Life Is Next.

Toronto, June 13.—The Royal Commission on Insurance held a short session yesterday, only sitting but thirty-five minutes in the afternoon to complete Mr. Hellmuth's examination of the secretary of the Imperial Life.

The Home Life was to have been gone on with immediately after the conclusion of the Imperial, but owing to certain witnesses having failed to receive subpoenas, the work of the commission came to a standstill.

The Home Life will be called to-day at 10.30.

Mr. Bradshaw in the morning was questioned by Mr. Tilley on the old subject of the relation of loading to expense. He followed out his idea of Friday night, and again told the commission that the first year's expenses should be limited to the first year's loadings, plus the anticipated loadings for the first five years. The reserve required by statute, in the actuary's opinion should amount to just enough to make the company solvent.

Actualities and technicalities occupied a large part of the time in the morning in the explanation by Mr. Bradshaw of the gross premium valuation.

Competition Will Lower Rates.
Witness disagreed with the preliminary term plan which allows a company to spend the whole first year's premium for expenses. It was wrong in principle. He also disagreed with Mr. Tilley that the Armstrong bill would result in the increase of rates, containing that competition would keep rates down despite the fact that expenses must be limited to loading, and hence the tendency would be to increase the loading.

Mr. Bradshaw would not advocate any hard and fast standard of loadings. He said that the actual loss for the Imperial Life since its inception had been 52 per cent. of the H. M. table. The company had earned a higher rate of interest because they invested in mortgages on western lands.

Mr. Bradshaw read a statement showing why he did not think it necessary to have standard forms of policy contracts. He also condemned in no uncertain voice, the issuing of estimates of profits. He thought that the transactions of life insurance companies, should be made public. He opposed compulsory mutualization, but advocated giving permission to mutualize.

Lessons With Age.
Just before the close of the morning session, Mr. Hellmuth took the witness through the profit and loss statement of 1905. Mr. Bradshaw admitted that the ratio of expenses to loading in the Imperial Life was one hundred and seventy-one per cent., while the Canada Life's rate was 162 per cent. after being in existence over 60 years.

Mr. Bradshaw told the commission that when a company was about twenty years old, it should get its expenses within the loading, but with the Canada Life the conditions were different. He volunteered that when the Imperial Life was as old as the Canada Life the expense ratio to loadings would not be 60 per cent.

At the afternoon session, Mr. Hellmuth reviewed parts of Mr. Bradshaw's evidence. He elicited the fact that 85 per cent. of the Imperial Life Co.'s business was upon the deferred dividend system. Witness considered that it would be better if insurance companies would eliminate this system. He was opposed to this method, but the Imperial had been forced into it by competition. He was in favor of a sound business method.

Liability of Loan.
Mr. Hellmuth, referring to the Fulford policy of $100,000, asked Mr. Bradshaw if the transaction was not a liability. He was at a loss to see the insurance feature. He took an instance where a sum of money was loaned at 3 3/4 per cent. for a period of years, which he thought was a distinct analogy. Mr. Bradshaw could see no connection between the two, and would give no answer as to his opinion as to whether or not Mr. Hellmuth's instance was a liability or a loan.

Mr. Bradshaw again explained the life feature in the agreement between Senator Fulford and the Imperial Life. He was not now connected with the company. Mr. Shepley had failed to subpoena him. Mr. McLaughlin, appearing for the Home Life, could not bring Mr. Pattison without a subpoena.

Boy Drowned.
Owen Sound, June 13.—The first drowning accident here this season occurred Monday night, when Alex. French, the nine-year-old son of Wm. French of Brookholm, lost his life. The little fellow was playing on some logs in the mouth of the Pottawatamie River in company with several other boys about his own age, and, losing his balance, fell in and was carried under the boom.

To Upset Insurance Agreement.
Toronto, June 13.—On behalf of William Fairbanks, a shareholder in the Toronto Life Insurance Co., a writ was yesterday issued against the National Agency, Limited, the Union Life Assurance Co., and G. A. Calvert, H. P. Evans, and Henry Symonds. The writ seeks to establish illegality of the agreement entered into on June 2.

NO. 8. MASTER MINDS ON MUSIC

Being the 8th of a series of ten talks introducing sayings of great men, applicable to the Nordheimer Piano, the symbol to perfect music.

Of all the arts beneath the Heaven that man has found, Of God has given, none draws The soul so sweet away as Music's melting, mystic lay —HOGG

This poet very aptly expresses the influence of music—drawing the soul sweetly away. Have you ever noticed the extent to which you have been drawn away, as it were? Whatever difference there has been due to the refinement of the music. Music such as is produced from is the "melting, mystic lay" that Hogg would have delighted in. It is the music that you would delight in; it is the music that is delighted in by thousands of Canadians, for the Nordheimer Piano embodies the most perfect of tones.

BOILS ALL OVER HIS FACE AND NECK

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS DID FOR HIM WHAT FOUR DOCTORS FAILED TO DO

KENWORTH, ONT., July 22, 1905.
Messrs. The T. M. B. Co., Ltd.,
Toronto, Ont.

DEAR SIR:—I am writing to let you know what Burdock Blood Bitters has done for me. I am a young man, twenty years old, and a year ago last March I began to feel dull and sick, and was greatly troubled with boils coming out on my face and neck, mostly on the left side. I would not get rid of one until I would have, perhaps, five or three more appear.

I had four doctors trying to cure me but they had very little success. They would stop them for a month or six weeks and then they would be as bad as ever again. Almost every patient medicine, advertised to cure boils, I could get hold of, but still without success. At last one day, last spring, someone happened to say, "why not try taking Burdock Blood Bitters for the blood?" I was willing to try anything and immediately sent for a bottle, but at the time was doubtful if it would be of any use. However, I used that bottle and while I was taking it I began to feel better, and the boils had a few but not nearly so many as before. I did not notice any work, while others are afflicted with boils, I would strongly advise them to use B.B.B. It makes you feel like a new man. I always keep a bottle in the house, now, as I think it is a medicine that should be in every household.

Yours truly,
HENRY A. SMITH.

Assembly Will Continue Efforts

London, June 13.—The church union debate resumed in the Presbyterian General Assembly yesterday afternoon. After many speeches, the vote on Dr. Patrick's motion for continued efforts at organic union over the McKay amendment to drop the matter of union permanently, by 153 to 12. The debate will resume this morning.

A MILLION DOLLARS SQUANDERED.

It is estimated this sum was wasted last year by people trying to find a cure for catarrh. Foolish for sufferers to experiment when it's so well known that Catarrhazone is the only remedy that cures permanently. Other treatments only relieve, but Catarrhazone cures and prevents the disease from ever returning. "I had Catarrh in its worst form," writes G. F. Fadden, of Royan, Que. "I tried every kind of ordinary medicine didn't even relieve, but Catarrhazone cured perfectly." No change of disappointment with Catarrhazone—it's certain as death to cure your Catarrh—just try it.

Young Murderer Freed.

New York, June 13.—Josephine Teranova, the young woman, who was recently acquitted by a jury of the murder of her aunt, was yesterday paroled in the custody of her counsel by Justice Scott. The action was taken at the request of Assistant District Attorney Ely.

TO CURE FEVER, CHILLS, AGUE.

We know of no remedy so reliable as Nerviline. Twenty drops taken in hot water three times daily not only stops the chills but destroys the disease completely. Nerviline has a direct action on fever and chills and removes their exciting causes. In stomach and bowel disorders Nerviline has held first place for nearly fifty years. It is powerful, swift to act, thorough, and pleasant to take. Being pleasant to taste it's popular with everybody. Your druggist sells Poison's Nerviline in large 25c. bottles; satisfaction guaranteed.

Baggagemen Get Increase.

Montreal, June 13.—The Grand Trunk has granted an increase of 15 per cent. in wages to the older baggage men at Bonaventure Station, affecting 20 men. Increases were $40 to $50 and $45 to $50.

ARE GOOD LOOKS VALUABLE?

FIVE YEARS' DYSPEPSIA CURED.

No one knows what I suffered from stomach trouble and dyspepsia," writes Mr. A. H. Agnew, of Agnewville. "For the last five years I have been unable to digest assimilate food. I had no color, strength ran down and I felt weak and nervous all the time. I was unable to do any work. I was much troubled with a distress and specks before my eyes. SAILORS AND "COOMES"

Arctic "Jack Tars" Fell in Love With Esquimaux Maids.

Smoked and Danced With the Fair Ones of the Northland—Witness Steward Duchesnay Says He Saw Some of the Officers "A Little Bit Happy, But Not What You Would Call Drunk"—At War With Moodie.

Ottawa, June 13.—Before the special committee investigating the Arctic supplies, Charles Duchesnay, steward of the Arctic, was the first witness called yesterday morning.

He described the progress of the voyage until Fullerton was reached. To Mr. Northrup he said that there were many Esquimaux there, and during the whole winter they fed about fifty or sixty of these natives from the ship's stores. The greatest number at one time would be about ninety-five. On leaving Fullerton for Chateau Bay there were between twenty and twenty-five Esquimaux of furs on board, and some of these were transferred to the Neptune; at any rate he saw none after leaving Chateau Bay for Quebec. He said there had been dances held regularly one week on the Arctic and the next.

Refreshments For Sixty. Mr. Northrup read an order which Duchesnay got from Major Moodie, asking him to have refreshments ready for about sixty in a hurry.

Mr. Brodeur—Where did you get that order? addressing Mr. Northrup. "I gave it to Mr. Northrup," said the witness.

The Chairman asked if Mr. Northrup was going to file the documents, and he answered that he intended doing so. Mr. Duchesnay said the orders for the stores for the Esquimaux had been given by Mr. Weeks, the purser. At Burwell orders were given to him by Major Moodie to send 35 pounds of tea, 35 pounds of coffee and other supplies to Joe Lane for two men and two women who were crippled and could not come on board for their supplies.

The Ladies Smoked.

Reverting to the dances on board ship, the witness said they danced with Esquimaux ladies, and they smoked with them, too. "All the Esquimaux ladies smoked," he said. Major Moodie had given orders that they were not to be allowed below deck. There had been some trouble about their visiting the cabins, and Capt. Bernier had made a fuss about it. He complained about the noise.

Mr. Northrup: Did any of the Esquimaux ladies come on board at night? "No," Mr. Duchesnay said. "I don't know myself, but Capt. Bernier had a fuss with Major Moodie over some trouble of that kind."

Mr. Vanasse told me he was disturbed at night.

Mr. Pardee: Just tell us what you know. We can get Vanasse's story from himself.

Mr. Duchesnay said that he did not see any of them. He was on the wrong side of the boat.

Sailors and Their "Coomes."

Evidently the sailors had fallen in love with these fair maids, for the witness often heard them talking of going to see them. "Coomes," meaning thereby their sweethearts. He said each man got a pound of tobacco per month and no more. Cigars were only given out on feast days, of which there were three. Each man got one or two cigars apiece. He never saw any of the crew smoking cigarettes, but he saw Major Moodie smoke them. As regards liquor, he declared the men were called to Major Moodie's room on the feast days and each given a drink of rum. He did not think it was really the men should be taken there and given one drink, while a bottle would be sent down to the mounted police.

Examined by Mr. Bennett, the witness said he could not tell whether goods were on board the Arctic or not which he had signed for. He did not check them. He was asked to sign by either Capt. Bernier or Mr. Boudreau. He could not remember which, but they were both together at the time.

Hats For Them.

Mr. Duchesnay said there were ladies on board ship. He saw an Esquimaux lady wear one of the hats, but he could not say whether the Government bought them or not.

A pack of cards was given out once a month to the crew.

It was customary for the Esquimaux to come to the Arctic to sell furs, but when they came to the vessel with their parcels one of the mounted police took them away to the barracks. He had seen the natives take furs also to the barracks.

The witness, though a French-Canadian, had not objected to the non-observance of St. Jean Baptiste Day. He said he did not like feast days, because they gave him far more work.

Photographer Lost $300.

Asked if there was any gambling on board, Duchesnay said the photographer told him he had lost $300. He did not see any money on the table.

The Esquimaux came first with their furs to the Arctic, but afterwards went to the barracks. He thought the police gave orders to this effect. Witness exhibited an order to Dr. Flood, asking him to give an Indian woman some brown sugar, when she called for medicinal purposes; the woman was to call twice a week.

To Mr. Pardee, Mr. Duchesnay declared that the boat had been provided with all right and the quality was good.

Mr. Pardee asked if the furs were brought on board at Fullerton. Duchesnay replied that they were brought on board at Fullerton in barrels, and transferred to the Neptune, on which Major Moodie left for the north. That is, the barrels had a strong resemblance to ones taken on board at Fullerton. Some of the furs were in bales. The furs would fill a good part of the room, in which the committee was.

War on Moodie. "Why do you say," Mr. Pardee asked, "that the furs came on board at Fullerton and afterwards were taken from the Arctic and placed on the Neptune with Major Moodie. Had you not your knife out for the major?"

"Well, perhaps I had," admitted the witness. "I ought to; I had reason."

"There was blood on the moon between you and the major?"

"Yes."

"You said that when you got a chance you were going to tell Mr. Monk?"

"I said I was going to tell Mr. Monk."

"And when you were going to give your evidence you said there was to be war with Moodie?"

"I don't know that I said that."

Sailors' Own Fault. The cross-examination of Duchesnay was resumed yesterday afternoon. He stated somewhat reluctantly that the reason why the sailors had to go to Major Moodie's room for their liquor was that they had abused their privileges.

In your opinion, was it a well-ordered, well-managed expedition?" asked Mr. Pardee.

"It was fair," was all Duchesnay would admit. He said the officers got more privileges than the men.

Explaining the cause of the trouble between himself and Major Moodie, he said that the major was too much of a dictator. Mr. Pardee insisted that the witness had become intoxicated soon after leaving Quebec, and that when he had been fined $5 by Major Moodie he threatened he would get even with him and would tell Mr. Monk the whole story.

"When did you give those papers to Mr. Northrup?" asked Mr. Macpherson.

"Last night."

The witness said he had a grudge because there was no fair play to the French-Canadians. They were fined and others were not.

May Not Have Been There.

There was a good deal of cross-examination as to Duchesnay's having signed receipts for certain goods. These invoices had also been signed by Major Moodie and Capt. Bernier. The witness said he had not checked the goods. He signed because he believed thoroughly in the honor of Capt. Bernier. He still believed him to be as straight a man as walked this earth.

In reply to Mr. Bergeron he said that if he had not signed he would have lost his position. It might happen that though he signed for them the goods were not there.

Mr. Bergeron brought out from the witness that Major Moodie had shown a bias against French-Canadians, and that is why St. Jean Baptiste Day was not observed. A French-Canadian cook had been fined for stealing a knife. It was afterwards shown by Mr. Brodeur and Mr. Macpherson that English-speaking members of the expedition had been fined.

The witness said he had been a Liberal. He got the appointment to the Arctic through Laurence A. Wilson, liquor dealer, of Montreal. He would not go with that expedition again for $100 a week.

The difference between two pretty girls is often a nice distinction.

Mr. Wilfrid Laurier stated that he had sat in the House with Sir Hector Langevin for many years. In addition to the qualities mentioned by the leader of the Opposition, there was one other which the speaker well remembered, and that was his unfailing courtesy to the members of the House. He had tasted both the bitter and the sweet of life. He did good service to Canada. He had been careless, but never dishonest.

"Although we fought him bitterly," said the Premier in conclusion, "we are glad to associate ourselves with any expression of respect for his memory and sympathy with his family and friends."

Before the orders of the day Hon. George Foster addressed the House respecting the Cinqmarch case, and pleaded for a fair and impartial trial.

Mr. Fielding introduced his bill to change the fiscal year.

Grand Trunk Pacific. In supply, the House discussed the estimates for the Grand Trunk Pacific. The surveys are completed from Edmonton, N. B. to Quebec. There has been no final decision as between the rival routes from Montreal to Quebec, but the route has not yet been approved by the Governor-in-Council.

The Minister expressed his belief that the Government section of the G. T. P. would be completed within the time provided by law. The grade at no point exceeded four-tenths of one per cent, going east, and six tenths going west.

On motion to go into supply, Dr. Thompson (Yukon) pleaded for the statutes of the former Northwest Territory for the Yukon.

SIR HECTOR LANGEVIN

Another of the Fathers of Confederation is Dead.

Prominent in Conservative Administrations, He Had a Long and Notable Career—Until a Year Ago He Took a Lively Interest in Political Affairs—Death Was Expected, But Created Sorrow—Retired in 1896.

Quebec, June 12.—Although the end had been expected since Sunday, the news of Sir Hector Langevin's death last evening, at 9.15, created sorrow throughout the city. He was one of the fathers of Confederation. Sir Hector Langevin, since his retirement from the Thompson Cabinet, and later on, from public life, had lived in absolute retirement with his son-in-law, Hon. Thos. Chapais.

He was beloved by his family, yet his circle of close friends was limited, and when the ex-Minister of Public Works took his daily walks he was generally unaccompanied. Up to a year ago he took a very lively interest in public affairs.

His Career.

Hon. Sir Hector Langevin, K.C.M.G., C.B., K.C., was born at Quebec in 1826. He was a son of Lieut.-Col. Jean Langevin, assistant civil secretary under the Earl of Gosford and Lord Sydenham. He received his education at Quebec Seminary, leaving at the age of 20 to study law in the office of the late Hon. A. N. Morin, Montreal. Having completed his law studies under the late Geo. E. Carter, he began practice as a barrister in Montreal in 1850, removing to Quebec a year later.

In 1856 he was elected to the city council, and in his first year as mayor. In 1857, he entered the wider political arena, being returned to the House of Commons as member for Dorchester. In 1864, on his being made a Q.C., he was appointed solicitor-general for Lower Canada, and two years later, became postmaster-general in the coalition Government.

A Father of Confederation.

Mr. Langevin is regarded as one of the fathers of Confederation. He took a prominent and vigorous part in its advocacy, and gained the reputation of being a powerful speaker in the House. He was one of the delegates on behalf of Lower Canada to the Charlottetown conference of 1864, and the Quebec conference of that year. He also attended the conference at London, Eng., two years later, when the terms of union were finally settled.

Having continued to represent Dorchester, he, in 1867, took a seat in the Dominion House as member for that county, becoming Secretary of State at the opening of the new Parliament. He was sworn in also as a member of the Privy Council. A year later he was created a C.B. In 1872 he was returned by Quebec Centre by acclamation.

In 1870, Langevin was created a knight commander of the Roman Order of Pope St. Gregory the Great. In 1871 he visited British Columbia to gain information as to requirements at the C.P.R. terminus there, and published his report thereon.

Party Leader in Quebec.

He became leader of the Conservative party in Quebec on the death of Sir George Cartier in 1873, in which year he went down in the defeat of the Government. He was elected from Charlevoix in 1876, but in the general election of 1878 unsuccessfully contested Rimouski. He was, however, called to the Cabinet of the new Conservative Government as postmaster-general, and was returned to the House by acclamation. In the following year he was made Minister of Public Works, which office he retained till 1891. He continued to sit for Three Rivers till 1893, when he voluntarily retired from public life.

Hon. Mr. Langevin was a widower, his wife, who was a daughter of the late Lieut.-Col. Chas. H. Teter, J.P., having died in 1882.

TRIBUTE TO SIR HECTOR.

Leader of the Opposition and Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Ex-prime Minister.

Ottawa, June 13.—At the opening of the House yesterday afternoon, R. L. Borden announced the death of Sir Hector Langevin and paid handsome tribute to his memory. Long before Confederation he had to his credit a figure in Quebec. He was a man of force and wielded a wide influence in public life. Although some irregularities had been discovered in his department nothing had ever been disclosed which reflected in any way upon his personal honor.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier stated that he had sat in the House with Sir Hector for many years. In addition to the qualities mentioned by the leader of the Opposition, there was one other which the speaker well remembered, and that was his unfailing courtesy to the members of the House. He had tasted both the bitter and the sweet of life. He did good service to Canada. He had been careless, but never dishonest.

Blow to Force of Arms. Paris, June 13.—The Cabinet's declaration of policy was read in the Senate and Chamber of Deputies yesterday. Here is one notable paragraph from the Cabinet:

RAILWAY BOARD READY.

Three Commissioners Get Together—Ingram Resigns From Parliament.

Toronto, June 13.—The new Railway and Municipal Board, James Leitch, K.C., A. B. Ingram, M.P., and H. M. Kitson, met Premier Whitney and other members of the Cabinet who happened to be in the city yesterday, and discussed the laws of organization. The oaths of allegiance and office were administered by Assistant Provincial Secretary Mulvey, and the commission is ready to begin business.

Chairman Leitch did not know when the commission would hold its first meeting, but it will probably be some day this week.

Mr. Ingram forwarded to Ottawa last night his resignation as a member of the Dominion Parliament.

Have you been betrayed by promises of quacks, swallowed pills and bottled medicine without results except a damaged stomach? To those who are ready to begin business, Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. 35 cents. A. I. McCall & Co.

Atonic Dyspepsia.

The ultimate cause of atonic dyspepsia is constitutional depression, which may be due to overwork, and especially to prolonged worry. Sometimes the dyspepsia is the first manifestation of tubercular poisoning. Again, there seems to be an inherent failure of the digestive organs. Once established, dyspepsia is, in turn, the cause of loss of strength, of mental inertia and visceral weakness. Some degree of simple anaemia is almost inevitable. The exciting cause may be an illness of any kind, the excessive use of tea, coffee or other beverages, the lack of proper food, some error in habits of eating. Often it is not discoverable.

A man talks about owning his business. But, as a matter of fact his business owns him. His whole life is regulated by the demands of the business. The time at which he rises, his breakfast hour, the time given to meals, are all determined by business obligations. He rushes through lunch because he "can't spare the time from business" to eat leisurely. He won't take a rest because he is needed at the store or office. He is in fact an absolute slave to business. The results which follow this slavery are to be seen on every hand. Men dyspeptic, irritable, nervous, with drawn faces, and hollow eyes, sit at the desk or stand behind the counter until they collapse in a fit of sickness, or are taken away by heart failure. Those who cannot escape the exactions of business will find a friend in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It strengthens the stomach, increases the action of the blood-making glands, increasing the vitality and physical vigor. It makes men strong and prevents those business breakdowns which so often terminate fatally.

cision. At any rate there does not seem to be any alternative. I might say that not even the temperance party knows what the exact findings of the Clerk is in this regard.

Mr. Editor, I am one of the parties who have been challenged to prove the validity of the Clerk's decision, and $100 has been offered to the church if it can be done. In the first place allow me to say that I have never ascertained from the Clerk what his exact findings are and in the second place I would say that if our church was in great need of money I might be tempted to accept the challenge. But we are not in need of the money at present. The church is not a charitable institution. I note with delight, however, the sudden impulse on the part of Cedar Springs hotel keeper to generosity and liberality toward the church. Generally speaking, the church does not benefit very much by the munificent gifts of the hotel faction.

Mr. Forbes is complaining about the amount of money he has expended in renovating his hotel property. It strikes me that he has no one to blame but the Board of Commissioners, who made a huge mistake in recommending the license before having the petitions referred to the Clerk. They had no legal warrant for such action in the face of positive objections, and if the temperance party were disposed to take action the Commissioners could be brought to task for such unlawful procedure. Of course I don't wish to implicate the chairman of the Board, as he held out to the very last against the granting of said license.

It appears again that the Cedar Springs hotel keeper has been selling liquor all this while without having the official license in his possession, but merely on the strength of a receipt for license fee deposited in the bank. This we hold to be quite illegal and a very suitable subject to be investigated in a law court.

I maintain that both the Commissioners and those who have been illegally selling liquor could be brought to task if the temperance people felt disposed to urge such action.

But now since the matter has been settled we expect the hotel concerned to remain tightly closed.

Sincerely yours,
Cedar Springs, June 8, 1906.
H. F. KENNEDY.

ing to the ground sinking about six feet. In the process of this building a number were hurt and a few killed. Around this section there seemed to be more disturbance than there was farther out. The rails of the Valencia street car track were forced out in a bow shape, so that they stood four feet above the level ground, the water mains were broken, allowing the water to escape, which was so necessary for the fighting later on. In this section the streets had cracks two feet wide, the sidewalks were shifted from their places two and three feet. From here I went down to Sixth and Market, and viewed the fire, which was one of the fires which was raging in the business section, and which was one of the fires that did so much damage. This started at the corner of Forward streets, from the Brunswick Hotel, which collapsed completely, burying something like 200 roomers. This immediately caught fire, and being a frame structure, there was not one of the inmates escaped.

This was one of the starting points of the fire, and owing to the broken mains no water could be got to fight it and it spread from one building to another till it was something terrible to behold. The people in this section lost everything for they did not have time to save anything.

The second starting point of the fire was at Octavia and Hayes streets, where an old woman put on a fire in a stove which poured its smoke into a defective chimney. She had been warned twice before not to put on a fire, but she said she was going to have a cup of tea if she burnt the city down. Well, she burnt the city all right, for this led in to the worst fire, and all the burned part north of Market street came from this fire. Pen cannot describe this awful catastrophe, which has befallen the Golden Gate city, but give us a few years and we will have a city standing on the ruins of Old Frisco which will collapse the old one and will be looked to as the finest city of modern times.

Even now on the ruins are numerous temporary buildings being erected so as to carry on business on the old sites, and these stone structures which were not destroyed but only the woodwork burnt are being repaired and put in shape for use. Amongst these buildings are The Call, The Chronicle, The New Flood, St. Francis Hotel, The Fairmount, and a number of others. As soon as the fire insurance is paid the city will boom, for this is holding the building-up back in some instances.

I have every reason to believe that San Francisco is going to be a good place for a young man, and would say that a man would be foolish to leave now. We have had our shake, and we are not likely to have another for some years, if ever again. This shake-up seems to have affected the climate here some, for since then it has been much colder at this season than other years, and we have had a very heavy fall of rain during the last few days, something unheard of in this section at this time of the year.

Since the 18th of April we have had about sixty slight shakes, but the last week they have ceased. There are a great many people camping out in tents and there is quite a bit of suffering during this wet spell.

There is no sickness to amount to anything at present, but unless we have better water than at present there is likely to be a great deal. We have the use of gas in the houses now, but no stoves are in, only in restaurants, but we expect to have them in before long.

Well, I guess I will stop for this time and perhaps some time in the future I shall write you on the building-up of the New San Francisco. Oh, by the way, I am also sending you a copy of the Examiner, which has a photo of the principal portion of the city, including the burnt district.

With best wishes from an old Chatham boy.

A. F. DOLLIN.
