The Immaculate Conception.

AFTER THE FRIEND OF HENRI ROCHEFORT.

Thou alone free from the primal stain!
Thou bearer of light from out the shade:
By heart, than crown, far more a Queen, Mother of innocence and loving maid!

On earth I love thee, in heaven I thee implore:
Where thou art seated on thy golden throne, Baptized on Calvary in thy dear Son's gore, Joy thou hast bought by sigh and moan.

Closest thou now to the God of Light, This world invokes thee, own thy might,
Thy radiant sceptre and thy flowery crown!

At thy name all hush. Startling of the mortals!
To thee all cry: yet who of women born,
Would brave thy dolors, e'en for thy glorious crown?

H. W. I. G.

The original sonnet was composed by the celebrated Parisian journalist Henri Rochefort, of Le Lanterne, in 1876, on the occasion of the promulgation of the dogma of the Immaculate Conception of Our Blessed Lady.
Rochefort's life was once saved by the miraculous interposition of the Mother of God in this manner: A fellow journalist had challenged him to a duel and his bullet struck Rochefort over the heart, but did not penetrate; it was afterward discovered that a lady friend had sewed a medal of the Immaculate Conception in his vest, and upon this very spot the bullet struck and glanced off.

CATHOLIC PRESS.

The Passion Play has been well advertised; and no doubt this unusual representation will attract that class of people—a large one—which desires nothing better than sensation.

The general protest which the announcement of this forthcoming "attraction" aroused is an unexpected evidence that there still exists, in spite of the efforts of Protestantism to destroy the sign of the cross, much reverence in the public mind towards that awful crisis in the history of humanity, which the gloom and darkness of Calvary could not even effectually symbolize—that crisis the full significance of which only the human mind beatified and enlightened by the privileges of sainthood could comprehend. The Sacred Name, dragged in the dust and made almost commonplace in the general mind by the sacrilegious vagaries of Methodism, and seldom heard in our streets, except in blasphemy, has yet to be further insulted in a city which calls itself Christian, amid protests, it is true, but no protest sufficiently strong to prevent it from being placarded in glaring colors on the play-bills.—Catholic Review.

A TIME was then the persecuted sons of Ireland found a generous home in France. Times have changed, though, and Ireland, poor and suffering as she is, has already repaid in part her debt of gratitude. They had been driven from their homes in the pleasant old city of Autun, amid the clustering vines of Burgundy, and landed in Dublin. They were welcomed with delight by their brethren, the Irish Oblates, who carried them off rejoicing to their noble establishment at Inchicore.
Ireland is poor; her resources are not as great as her heart is generous, but for these illustrious exiles, of the faith Ireland has her warmest, her most enthusiastic welcome. Her "cead míle fáilte" comes from the depth of her true and kindly heart.
An element of consolation there is in this wicked persecution—it has given Ireland an opportunity of showing before the world her love of France, her love of Catholicism, by sheltering and protecting and fostering these illustrious confessors and martyrs France has in her madress expelled.—New York Tablet.

SOMEbody, of experience, has wisely said that when a successful editor of a paper publishes one column for sensible people, he gives four for fools. That is, the more nonsense and trash in a journal the better it takes.—Catholic Columbian.

prise, announces, in response to numerous protests, that he will give a private view, and, if this view be not satisfactory, he will withdraw the play. This shows conclusively that the theatrical manager of the modern times has been grievously misunderstood. Nobody believed until now that he was really the disinterested being he is. When he healed the downfall of Art, and resolutely produced meretricious, spectacular, or sensational plays, because he could not elevate the public up to his standard, the uncharitable public doubted him. Now that the "legitimate"—it is the proper term, in a theatrical sense, to apply to Sarah Bernhardt—has been successful, the generous manager desires to extend his protection to religion.
Messrs. Beecher and Talmage have preceded him, and religion has reason to feel very grateful. The stage that this week was the scene of a struggle between honor and incestuous passion—may next week represent the mystic sacrifice of Calvary! The manager smilingly lights his red fire and gets thunder ready, pointing the while to the fact that he is "popularizing" religion—uniting Christianity and Art! The force of sacrile-gious humbug exhausts itself.—Catholic Review.

It looks as if the landlords in Ireland were resorting to the old trick of getting obliging friends to shoot blank cartridges at them from behind hedges and to send them vil-laneous threatening letters, in order to keep up the "more outrages" cry and thus influence the Government to resort to coercive measures.
Though the Land League has denounced agrarian outrages of all kinds as injurious to the cause, still terrible letters with raw head and bloody-bone symbols are on the increase, while harmless shooting at objectionable parties seems to become an every day or night occurrence.
When a bona fide attempt is made to shoot a bad landlord it generally succeeds; but this pop-gun practice, as in the case of Mr. Kennedy, at whom three shots were fired simultaneously without doing him the least injury, wears a very suspicious look about it as being a repetition of the old landlord game for manufacturing outrages.—New York Tablet.

THE Hon. J. Young Scammon has lately been reading an article on "American Religion." He started with a conclusion which he seemed to take for granted—"to go without saying." Mr. Scammon announced what he, singularly enough, seems to believe that "we are a religious people, whose founders were devoted to Plymouth Rock." It appears that Mr. Scammon actually believes that this Republic was founded by Pilgrim Fathers, and the evident history that points to the probability that he is a public school graduate, to hold the text books in the public schools are filled with laudatory notices of those astute Puritans who managed to pray and keep a sharp eye on the main chance at the same time. Mr. Scammon does not remember Lord Baltimore, whose followers certainly more fully represented toleration and freedom, than the men who invented Thanksgiving and tried to banish Christianity.
The United States, as a nation, owes more to the fact of its having broken away from the narrow and despotic restraints of Puritanism than to any legacy which the Puritans left it.
The constitution is a denial of the pet principles of Puritanism. If the "Fathers" had been permitted to form the constitution on the Bible, it would not have been formed of the Bible as a whole, but on their idea of the Bible, and their Bible did not include the New Testament. They were willing to deny the divinity of Christ rather than to accept his words to the Jews, that the Sabbath was made for man, and not man for the Sabbath. Had Our Lord Himself appeared and preached the love of our neighbor, he would have suffered the fate of Roger Williams. Puritanism, being narrow, selfish, a close corporation, helped to make New England prosperous; but New York and Pennsylvania, Virginia and Maryland, increased and multiplied all the better without it.—Catholic Review.

ENGLAND is threatened by a very serious and a very dangerous nuisance.
The advent is announced of a legion of Mormon missionaries, headed by an English elder. They sailed some time ago in the steamer Wisconsin, which is expected to arrive shortly, if she had not already arrived. The Mormons make it a point that they carried away 2000 persons last spring, and they do not doubt expect to be equally successful this year in inducing many members of the numerous sects, into which the Reformation divided, in dividing Christianity, to leave their homes.
This is hardly creditable to the religious institutions which Henry VII. originally fostered upon the people of England.—London Univers.

It causes a cold shudder to hear a Catholic curse and swear. Those who know no God, but the world and their passions, are to be pitied for the crimes of cursing and swearing, but we, who often receive the God of the Universe upon our tongues and entertain Him within our hearts, should rather suffer martyrdom than use His holy name in vain.—Catholic Columbian.

THE invasion of Mayo by those disinterested "spade officers," the Orange laborers, who volunteered from Cavan and Fermanagh, has terminated in the most utter and farcical collapse. They had the magnificent valour to venture into the heart of pauperized Connaught in order to dig the potatoes, "sneel" the turnips, and stack the corn of a man who was so obnoxious to his own neighbors that he could not find a single one amongst them willing to accept his money for the work.
But it must be urged, on their part, that their valour had a solid basis of support.
Before they dared to come into the western province with their stag and scrip, their patent spades and their bags of provisions, they took particularly good care that they should be covered by the guardianship of horse foot, and artillery. They have arrived in Mayo; they have done a portion of their work, they have saved some of the crops under dire inclemency of weather. Of course,

DR. CLEARY.

The news of Dr. Cleary's consecration in Rome on the 21st ult., the festival of the Presentation of the Blessed Virgin, will be received with heartfelt satisfaction on this side of the Atlantic.

THE IMMACULATE CONCEPTION.

We Tuesday last was observed by Catholics as a holiday of obligation. All such festivals are held in the highest reverence by the faithful children of the Church.

be mindful of their obligations to her. We expect that in years to come, wherever an Irish population exists, to see even greater fidelity and devotion in the observance of the festivals dedicated to the honor of the Blessed Virgin than are shown at present.

GROSS ILLIBERALITY.

The manner in which certain Canadian and American journals enter on the discussion of the Irish question reflects no credit on journalism in the new world.

IRISH TRADE.

The union between Great Britain and Ireland was rightly and justly characterized as a union between the shark and its prey.

religion, and history. We must admit that we have been at times disgusted with the tone savouring of the lowest moral delinquency in which the utterances of certain Canadian secular organs on Irish affairs have been pitched.

ed their hold on that unfortunate country. Deprived of all other means of employment, the men of the Irish people were forced to wrench a miserable livelihood from a few perches of willing but exhausted soil.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

The display of narrow and ungenerous feeling evoked in New York State during the recent Presidential contest by the nomination of Mr. W. B. Grace, for Mayor of the city of New York, has again brought the school question prominently before the American public.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

It is said that the Quebec government has posted regulations for the observance of its clerks which are considered restrictions on their personal liberty.

that there was nothing revolutionary in the character of the movement, such agitations being the mode adopted both in England and Ireland to bring about any great reforms.

TORONTO is showing a remarkable degree of lunacy as regards Hanlan. No doubt he is a good rower, perhaps the best in the world, but it is rather out of order to witness the great ado that is made about him by the people of the Queen City.

A most contemptible libel on the Irish people appeared in the cable news of this week, to the effect that the Land League had invited Louise Michel, the French communist, to show himself at a land meeting at Galway.

COL. GORDON, who has been on a tour through the whole West of Ireland, writes that the condition of the people is worse than that of any other in the world.

A FORMER Londoner has been getting into trouble in the United States. We will not go into particulars, nor indeed would we make mention of the fact at all were we not constrained to point out what we consider the propriety of saying as little as possible about these matters in papers placed on the breakfast table of respectable people every morning.

ONE of our city dailies recently contained an article setting forth its views on the evils of flash literature. It mentions the case of a boy who not long since entered a bookstore and asked for "A book for ten cents with a murder in it."

At the weekly meeting of the local branch of the Irish Land League, held in Montreal on Saturday last, a resolution was passed authorizing the Secretary to send a message by cable to the parent Society in Dublin to the effect that if necessary able counsel in Canada would be sent over to assist in the defence of Parnell and his associates in the State trials.

A MOVEMENT to send American counsel over to Ireland to assist in defending the Land League leaders has originated in Boston.

Ulon is Strength.
BY THOMAS D'ARCY M'GEE.

A man whose corn was carried away Before his eyes, and whose oats and hay Were piled up into the landlord's cart Looked towards his castle with sorrowful Heart.

"You seem," said he, "so strong and grand,
Like a giant you overlook the land;
And a giant in stomach you sure must be,
That of all my crop can leave some to me."

Quoth another—"Of such weak words what end?
Have you any hope that the devil will mend, Or the wolf will let the kite escape his hand, Or a landlord yield his rights at law?"

"Let us go over to Rackrent Hall!
By two and three—it may befall, As wisdom is found in the multitude, Enough of us might do some good."

At first they went by two and three,
But Rackrent's lord they could not please;
And next they went in number a score, But the case was even the same as before.

By fifties and hundreds they gathered then, Resolute, patient, dogged men—And the landlord owned that he thought there was Some slight defect in the present laws.

Then a harry spoke—a country squire—A nation struck at their lordly yoke—
"Was found the light could not be withheld, And wisdom was found in the multitude!"

NEWS FROM IRELAND.

DUBLIN.
The Irish Times of Nov. 8th, says of the emigration from the port of Dublin: "It would seem as if, following the harvest, a winter emigration of Western peasantry was about to set in on an extensive scale. For some months past the exodus had almost ceased, only an occasional half dozen leaving within a week, but matters are now taking a different turn, and for the past fortnight or three weeks a distinct revival of the movement is apparent at the North Wall. As many as forty and fifty leave now in the six days, the emigrants consisting wholly of athletic young men and healthy girls, with occasionally a few families. The greater portion come from Mayo and Galway, Sligo and Leitrim also furnishing small contingents. For so far they are in every instance bound for the United States, sailing from Liverpool."

WICKLOW.
A preliminary meeting was held at Rathfriland, on Nov. 7th, for the establishment of a local branch of the Land League. Although it was meant to be the only prelude to a great county demonstration which is projected, and although it was held at brief notice under all possible disadvantages as to the weather, the meeting turned out to be a very remarkable gathering of the stalwart and substantial tenant-farmers of the district. The day was a dismal one. The green glens and lovely woodlands of the neighborhood were veiled all day in mists, which settled down into a steady rainfall. Nothing daunted by the weather, bands of music arrived from Wicklow and Roundwood, with banners. One of them had a portrait of Mr. Parnell, with the motto: "Parnell's chosen son" and "Parnell for ever" on the orange. Another was inscribed, "Down with the land-grabbers," and a third with the "Stars and Stripes." The meeting was held on the Square, and was characterized by strong feeling, moderate language, and thorough-going business in earnestness.

KING'S COUNTY.
At the Forbairn Presentment Sessions, on Nov. 8th, Thomas Hackett, Esq., Castle Armstrong, Ballyvenny, a farmer and land agent, claimed £270 for hay and an out-office, burned by fire, alleged to have taken place recently, and under circumstances which rendered it impossible that it was accidental. As a motive for the act, Mr. Hackett swore that he was threatened for evicting a tenant, and for taking up a farm for which a tenant refused to pay the old rent. The latter said he often shot a better man than him. He also put a boy away from his employment, and was threatened. The cess payers allowed £205, of which £45, the value of the out-office, goes to the landlord, Percy Gough, Esq.

CORK.
The tenants on Miss Allworth's Capagh property at Glanworth, on Nov. 6th, it being the day on which they were called on for the rent. They offered to pay Captain Smith, the agent, Griffith's valuation, but as he refused to accept it they left with the money in their pockets. The farmers on several properties in East Cork protest that the valuation is a sufficient rent.

On Nov. 9th, a number of men assembled at Ardennan, near Skull, and turned out a man named O'Mahony from a farm he occupied under a sheriff's assignment. The former tenant, named Cavelly, was reinstated.

PERMANAGLI.
A largely attended meeting, under the auspices of the Land League, was held on November 9th, at Belleek, County Fermanagh. Mr. Parnell, M. P., Mr. Dillon, M. P., and Mr. O'Kelly, M. P., and a number of priests, were present. A collision between the Orangemen and the supporters of the meeting was apprehended, and a large body of military and police were drafted into the town. The procession included a considerable number of horsemen, who wore orange and green scarves bearing the motto, "Justice to Ireland," "The land for the people." The meeting passed off in the most orderly manner. Mr. Jordan of Enniskillen, presided. Resolutions of the usual character were adopted. Mr. Parnell said they opened that day the Land League in the North of Ireland, and would show that the league was not a sectarian movement, but represented all creeds and classes. He felt that the day was not far distant when the Orange and Green would unite in it. The Ulster custom had been tried, and was found wanting. In good times it gave them some interest in their holdings, but in bad times their all was frittered away before the landlord began to suffer. Landlordism as a system must be cast away root and branch. They did not want to fix rents. They wanted to reduce them, and afterwards to abolish landlords. They had possession of their holdings which were nine points of law, and ere long the law would give them the whole tenth. Mr. Dillon said, as a Catholic, he regretted that there were many bad landlords in the South and West, but he had not the protestant farmers of Ulster he entrapped into the horrors of religious bigotry. Within two years every farmer there would be the owner of his land. The meeting was orderly.

KERRY.
A meeting of the Catholic clergy of the Listowel Deanery was specially held on November 10th, at Listowel, for the purpose of making arrangements for holding, at an early day, a public land meeting. Some strong opinions were generally expressed condemnatory of the action of the Government in regard to the forthcoming State prosecutions.

LIMERICK.
On November 7th, a land meeting, under the management of the Irish National Land League, was held at Newcastle. There was an immense number of people present, with bands and banners and the usual regalia. Contingents came from all the surrounding districts, and the town was decorated with evergreens and triumphal arches.

CLARE.
On Nov. 7th, a large and enthusiastic demonstration took place in Killaloe. The rain fell continuously from early morning, and played pitiless pranks with the flags and banners and the numerous arches of welcome which spanned the streets, but it did not daunt the men of Clare and Tipperary, of whom either, from assembling in their thousands. A leading feature in the demonstration was the large number of horsemen present. Several bands attended. The mottoes displayed were such as "The Land for the People," "Justice for All," "Give back our own."

TIPPERARY.
Mr. Parker, of Castle Lough, a Tipperary landlord and magistrate, who was attending a Presentment Sessions at Newport, on Monday, 9th, and who recently announced that he would let his land at Griffith's valuation, received a joyous welcome at the hands of the Tipperary farmers who met at Newport to promote the Land League. They remained outside the Sessions House, until Mr. Parker appeared, when they took him on their shoulders, chanted him through the place, and the local band of music to play "See the Conquering Hero," and gave him a thousand blessings on his departure for Castle Lough.

WATERFORD.
Mr. John O'Callaghan, hon. secretary to the Waterford branch of the Land League, and who was some months ago evicted from his farm at Newtown, for non-payment of rent, was reinstated in possession by force, on Nov. 4th. It appears that he held about 120 acres under Mr. Henry Paget Barron, Bart., and that, owing one and a half year's rent, was evicted. He then went to reside in Waterford city, and received a letter, apparently in the writing of the agent over the property, Mr. Butler, requesting him to journey that evening to Newtown as he wished to have a friendly conversation with him on the farm. Mr. O'Callaghan proceeded in the evening of that day as far as Kilmacshomas, and walked up to the farm of Newtown. He arrived at nightfall, and at the gate leading into the farmyard he was met by over 100 persons with blackened faces and wearing disguises, who seized him and carried him by force up to the farm-house, which they burst open, and reinstated him in possession, making him swear on his bended knees never to give up the farm, on doing which they unitedly swore that if he broke his word they would murder him. The affair created a great sensation in the district.

DOWN.
A rumor is prevalent in Newry that a large quantity of arms has recently been imported into the neighborhood, by the police knowing nothing of the occurrence.

DONEGAL.
On November 9th, after the Belleek meeting, Messrs. Parnell, O'Kelly and Dillon proceeded in a wagonette to Ballyshannon. They were met on the way by a vast torchlight procession led by a brass band. The horses were yoked from the wagonette, and a triumphal march began towards the town. When the party reached the hotel Mr. Parnell addressed the people, as did also Mr. Dillon and Mr. O'Kelly. The greatest enthusiasm prevailed. On the following day Mr. Parnell addressed a large number in Ballyshannon. In the course of an earnest exhortation to the Orangemen to make common cause with their brethren in the west and south, he deprecated the attempts that were made to import religious dissensions into the country, and declared that from what he had seen of the people he is convinced they will never again listen to the evil council of men who, in the sacred name of religion, have sought to perpetuate discord. As regards the land agitation, he said the movement in which they were now engaged is founded on strict justice, and that nothing was more certain than the ultimate triumph of their cause.

CONSUMPTION CURED.
An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple and entirely new method of curing Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma, and all Throat and Lung Affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested his wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, he has been enabled to make known to his suffering fellow-men. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge to all who desire it, this recipe, in German, French, or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp naming this paper, W. H. SHEPARD, 145 Power Street, Rochester, N. Y.

It is said that he travels faster than cold, because you can catch cold. If you do catch cold easily you can easily cure it in its worst form if you use Hayward's Pectoral Balm, the popular throat and lung remedy. It speedily cures the most troublesome cough, allays all irritation, dissolves tough phlegm, cures Asthma, Hoarseness and Bronchitis, and all diseases leading to Pulmonary Consumption.

It is his testimony of all men who have tried it that "Myrtle Navy" tobacco has the most delicate flavor of any tobacco in the market, and that it leaves none of the unpleasant effects in the mouth which most tobaccos do. The reason for this is the high and pure quality of the leaf, which is the finest known in Virginia, and the absence of all deleterious matter in the manufacture.

The world should be aroused to the deplorable condition of the females of our land! The feeble frame, the pale, bloodless cheeks, hollow eyes, nervous debility, and the various distressing forms of female weakness, are matters that every nation in our country should consider. All forms of Debility and Irregularities peculiar to the sex may be promptly remedied by Burdock Blood Bitters.

GALWAY.
On November 7th, at Robeen, near Hollymead, about eighteen miles from Tuam, a land meeting, consisting of an immense number of tenant farmers, was held under the auspices of the Irish National League, for the purpose, as the placard convening the meeting intimated, of "denouncing land grabbers and laying claims to just law." The platform was erected on a farm which was recently surrendered by the tenant for not getting a reduction in the rent, but which has since been taken by some farmers contrary to the rules of the League. Several contingents attended from the neighboring parishes. That from Inallinrobe comprised a large body of young men, headed by the towns, were led carrying imitation pikes, marched in military order to the scene of the meeting. There was a Government note-taker present on the platform, who, previous to the taking of the chair, was closely watched. A considerable force of constabulary were drafted in from the neighboring stations, and were under arms within a short distance of the meeting. Their services, however, were not required.

MAYO.
On Nov. 7th, a large land meeting was held in Ballyhean, three miles from Castlebar. The day was inclement and wet from the morning. Other demonstrations were held at various places in Ballyhean, and this, together with the bad state of the weather, took greatly from the gathering. Still it was large and representative. A splendid banner was brought from Ballytubber, bearing a large contingent from that district. Bekarra and other districts were also represented.

SLIGO.
An imposing and important demonstration in furtherance of the land agitation, took place at Sooy, on Nov. 7th, the object of the meeting being to denounce the prosecution of the leaders of the Irish people by the British Government, and to denounce land grabbers. Sligo, Tairy, and all the surrounding districts sent contingents, accompanied by bands, all of whom wore green favors, together with the "Parnell" badge." The Cairty contingents carried a splendid banner, on the side of which was a picture of Mr. Parnell, and on the other an Irish harp, with the inscriptions "Cairty to the Rescue," "The Land for the People." Several other banners were carried, on which were inscribed the usual mottoes. The chair was taken by Mr. Gregory Parnell.

On November 7th, at Clifflon, a pleasant village about eleven miles from Sligo, and facing Donegal Bay, there was an immense, enthusiastic, and most orderly gathering in connection with the Land League—certainly one of the largest and most successful meetings ever held under similar auspices. The weather in the morning was wet, cheerless, and threatening, but fortunately for some time before the meeting took place and for the remainder of the day the elements were propitious. Large contingents were on the ground—a spacious field in the occupation of M. Monday, a short distance from the village.

An iron hut was erected at Mount-irwin, in the county Sligo, beside the residence of a man named Parnell P. Cayley, who has taken land contrary to the rules of the Land League. The hut will be occupied by four sub-constables. Cayley has been subjected to much annoyance, and is in a state of great isolation. He has made a charge in the Presentment Sessions for malicious injuries to his stock.

LEITRIM.
The Kilmore branch of the Land League, having adopted a resolution that all members of it should pay no rent over the Government valuation, the tenants on the different estates have acted on it, and Griffith's valuation has been accepted by the tenants on the late Mr. O'Brien's, Esq., estate on Sir Gilbert King's property attended at his residence, Charlestown, Drumna, and offered the Government valuation. It would not be accepted, and they left in a body without paying anything. Mr. J. Tyrrell, Esq., agent on the estate of the late Mr. O'Brien, Esq., brother to the junior member for Leitrim, has accepted the Government valuation on all the property at Ballyfermore, to pay rent unless the Government valuation was accepted.

MISCELLANEOUS.
Ayer's Sarsaparilla

Is a compound of the virtues of sarsaparilla, stillingia, mandarin, yellow dock, with the delicate of peash and iron, all powerful blood-making, blood-cleansing, and life-sustaining elements. It is the purest, safest, and most effective alternative medicine known or available to the public. The science of medicine and chemistry have never produced so valuable a remedy, nor one so potent to cure all diseases resulting from impure blood. It cures Scrofula and all scrofulous humors, Erysipelas, Rose, or St. Anthony's Fire, Pimples and Face-grubs, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Itch, Humors, Salt Rheum, Scald-head, Ring-worm, Ulcers, Sores, Rheumatism, Mercurial Disease, Neuritis, Female Weaknesses, and all Irregularities, Jaundice, Affections of the Liver, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, and General Debility.

By its searching and cleansing qualities it purges out the food corruption which contaminates the blood and cause derangement and decay. It stimulates and enlivens the vital functions, promotes energy and strength, restores and preserves health, and induces new life and vigor throughout the whole system. No sufferer from any disease which arises from impurity of the blood need despair who will give AYER'S SARSAPARILLA a fair trial. It is safe to experiment with the numerous low-priced mixtures of cheap materials, and without medicinal virtues, offered as blood-purifiers, while disease becomes more deeply seated. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA is a medicine of such concentrated curative power, that it is by far the best, cheapest, and most reliable blood-cleanser known. Physicians know its composition, and prescribe it. It has been widely used for forty years, and has won the unqualified confidence of millions who it has benefited.
