GERMANY TO CARRY ON DEFENSIVE WAR, SAYS CHANCELLOR Will Fight Unless "Peace With Justice" is Granted CRITICAL POINT REACHED IN PEACE NEGOTIATIONS, SAYS PRINCE MAX; GERMANY MUST SAFEGUARD RIGHTS

Chancellor Expects Wilson's Next Answer To Bring Definite Certainty League of Nations Cannot Be Achieved Until All Nations Have Right of Self-Determination

By Courier Leased Wire. COPENHAGEN, Oct. 23.—Peace conversations between Berlin and Washington have reached a critical point, according to Prince Maximilian, the German imperial chancellor, speaking before the Reichstag yesterday.

The whole German people is anxious to hear the views of the government regarding the prospects of peace," he said, but I am able to speak only with the greatest reserve, and urge that the members of the Reichstag limit debate, as is consistent with the seriousness of the hour.

"To-day, therefore, I am going to say only this regarding the international situation: The German people have the right to ask, if peace is reached on the basis of President Wilson's conditions what they mean for our future. Our answers to the President's question must be framed on the German people's understanding of that question. What it now wants is clearness."

IDEAL LEAGUE OF NATIONS The essence of President Wilson's program for a league of nations cannot be achieved when all peoples have not the right of national self-determination.

NATIONAL DEFENSE IS ENEMY PLEA

Unless Wilson's Reply is Satisfactory, Huns Will Fight to Last Ditch

CHANCELLOR SPEAKS Addresses Reichstag on the Subject of Present Peace Negotiations

By Courier Leased Wire. New York, Oct. 23.—The Associated Press this morning issues the following: Defensive warfare will be carried on by the German nation if the present government fails to secure a peace with justice, said Prince Maximilian, the German imperial chancellor, speaking before the Reichstag yesterday.

The address lends new light on the latest note sent from Berlin to Washington. The German people want first, to know what President Wilson's fourteen points mean to the future of Germany.

This "war of defense" is not far distant, if military events continue to develop during the near future as they have in the recent past. During the last 97 days of fighting the Allies have advanced along the line from Pont-a-Mousson to Neuport, an average distance of about 28 miles.

Further south the British, Americans and French are fighting hard in their attempt to break the Hun line. This defensive position, while not as formidable as the Hindenburg system, is sufficiently strong to delay the Allies' advance materially.

The eyes of the Allied world are now directed at the Lorraine and Woerth sectors in expectation of an American onslaught of Metz. There have been raiding operations there and further west during the past few days and raids are usually the forerunners of a general attack.

INFLUENZA IS ABATING AT SIMCOE

Epidemic on Wane There—John Harper Succumbs to Illness

OTHER SIMCOE NEWS

(From our own Correspondent) Simcoe, Oct. 23.—There was but one patient received at the emergency hospital yesterday, and three inmates were able to go to their homes. With two exceptions, all those who have been nursed again to health, have expressed their gratitude to the management. Outside the hospital, matters are generally speaking, much improved, but business is still tied up and the mills and factories are yet but marking time.

John Harper Called
After a most supreme test of endurance, and with the outcome waiting in the balance for several days, "Jack" Harper died at the family home on John street last evening. John Harper was in his 17th year, and had been for some time on the staff of Molson's Bank. It is safe to say that through all his school-boy days and his conduct in the opening of what promised to be a life of business integrity, "Jack" has left every page clean. Mr. H. H. Groff, manager of Molson's, stated last night that when he was taken ill, Harper was holding down a clerkship, usually never entrusted to one less than two years his senior, and that he was an unusually bright and proficient clerk. But why add words, every one in Simcoe knew "Jack" Harper. His parents, brother and three sisters have the general sympathy of all in the severance of this link in the family circle.

Let the lads who went to school with him emulate his splendid example.

Time and again there has come to our notice, conduct towards the youth when he is about town on business, ill-befitting the dignity of which some men desire to be estimated.

John Farr, Guilty of Rape, Sent to Reformatory at Seventy-two Simcoe, Oct. 23.—The docket before his Honor, Mr. Justice Meredith had some hours yesterday, dwindled down to one case.

Mr. W. E. Kelly, K.C., announced that the case, Sovereign vs. Harvey Co. Ltd., had been settled out of court.

With the consent of the defence, Mr. T. J. Ager moved an order for the transition of the Smith vs. M. C. R. damages case, to the spring sitting, necessary witnesses. The order was granted.

There was but one item left: the King vs. John Farr, on a charge of rape. The case arose through the twelfth of July celebration which John pulled off, and concerned a ward of the Children's Aid Society.

Direct evidence of the young girl and of respectable citizens who saw them on the evening of the 12th was produced by H. P. Innes, K.C. who was acting crown attorney for the day.

Against this, Mrs. Ribble, her son William, and Farr himself, attempted to establish an alibi.

His Honor Censures Prisoner
"You did yourself no credit by going into that witness box and swearing what every man must have known was not true. Guilty or not guilty, you deserve some punishment for the life you have been living. I sentence you to the reformatory for not less than six months and not more than two years less one day. The length of your confinement will depend upon your conduct."

Mrs. Ribble Lingers
The case closed, and the jury out, in for information and out again, Mrs. Ribble lingered in court and, before retiring, sat behind the prisoner's box an abject, apparently affectionate, wife-to-wife with the prisoner.

Mr. W. E. Kelly, who had interests of Farr in hand, made a splendid showing with a weak case, so much so that though but six or seven witnesses were called, the jury was on the verge of a disagreement.

PIRATES HAVE A NEW LEADER

Dismissal of Admiral von Capelle is Expected.

HE FAILED TO MAKE GOOD

The Reported Change That is Being Made in the German Admiralty May Be Taken as an Indication That the Apostles of Rightfulness Are Not as Powerful as They Were Previously.

It looks as though Admiral von Capelle, one of the leading spirits of Hun piracy, will have to go. He is at present "on leave," to quote the German announcement, and his post as the Kaiser's Imperial Minister of the Navy has been filled for the time being by Vice-Admiral Behneke. Ever since it became certain that the submarine policy fathered by von Tirpitz and pressed by von Capelle had proved a failure, his position has not been any too secure. Then came the mutiny in the Kiel Canal, when German sailors killed their officers because they objected to being ordered to sea and to certain death in the U-boats. At that time von Capelle came very close to being retired, but the Pan-Germans saved him, as they feared that the new Minister of the Navy might not be an apostle of rightfulness. That they were right in their guess is indicated by the choice of Behneke. Commenting on the appointment, the Tagblatt, of Berlin, recalls that Admiral Behneke, when deputy chief of the Admiralty staff, told the American naval attaché at Berlin that, although the staff was convinced the employment of U-boats would greatly influence the rapid conclusion of peace, regard must be paid neutral ships and human life aboard all mercantile vessels, whether under neutral or enemy flags. He is quoted as having said that the German Admiralty staff did not wish to employ submarines in defiance of international law.

Birds in War.

For years an ardent sportsman, Capt. Herbert W. McBride naturally turned for relaxation to observation of such animal life as he could find on the battle's edge when he got to the war, and his relation of these observations forms by no means the least interesting part of his book, "The Emma Gees." He found that the birds and other forms of wild life seemed to be little affected by the continual noise of shells and guns. "Pheasants, partridges, and rabbits were numerous at one point in and behind our lines, and I have seen them running about, feeding or playing, when shells were falling and bursting all about them, without showing any signs of fear," he writes. "Indeed, they were sometimes killed by the shells, especially shrapnel, but those unhurt would 'carry on' with the business in hand indifferent to the fate of their companions." Robins, sitting out in front on the barbed wire "were often used as targets by men firing experimental shots." A pair of swallows reared a family in a dugout, the nest being "within a few feet of my head when I was in my bunk." The account of the doings of a pair of magpies is worth quoting: "I watched a pair of magpies who were building a nest in a tree near our station. A shell had struck the tree, below the nest, and had cut it in half, while a large branch had lodged just above the nest. The whole thing was swaying dangerously in the light breeze, and a strong wind would surely bring it down, but that pair of chattering magpies appeared to be debating whether to continue their work or move elsewhere. One would hop down to the place where the shell had hit, and, focking his head this way and that, would loose a flood of magpie-talk that would bring his mate to him, and then they would both investigate, flying to the shattered place, clinging to the bark, and picking out splinters and pieces of wood. Then they would go up aloft and consult about the nest itself. I watched them for the better part of an hour, when the verdict appeared to be to 'take a chance' and go ahead with the building."

PIPER PLAYED AS HIS COMPANIONS WENT OVER TOP

Extraordinary Bravery Wins Victoria Cross for Manitoba Soldier

London, Oct. 23.—Five new Victoria Crosses have been awarded, the recipients of three of which have been killed. The most thrilling account accompanies the award to Piper James Richardson of a Manitoba regiment. Prior to the attack he obtained permission to play his company "over the top." As the company came over it was held up by very strong wire and came under intense fire which caused casualties and momentarily demoralized the formation. Richardson, realizing the situation, strode up and down with the greatest coolness. The effect was instant-motus, inspired by his splendid example, the company rushed the wire with such fury and determination that the obstacle was overcome and the position captured.

Later after participating in bombing operations, he was detailed to take back wounded comrades and prisoners. After proceeding 200 yards he remembered that he had left his pipes behind. Although strongly warned, he insisted on returning to recover his pipes. He was never seen again, and is accordingly presumed dead through lapse of time.

On them the Shadow fell

THESE, our little Canadians, born to freedom, to a heritage of happiness, Germany's greed would enslave. For they were heirs to Canada's boundless wealth—our mines, our forests, our teeming fields—the Hun hungered for these riches of Canada. In his plans for world power, Canada was not overlooked in the German scheme of plundering the nations. Doubtless there are to-day in Berlin plans for the apportionment of concessions of Canada's natural resources, plans for the government of Canada, for the policing of our cities, the levying of taxes, for enforced adoption of the German language as was done in Lorraine after 1871, and all the other systems of government by German methods. And a brutal German soldiery would have enforced those systems by which the people would have been enslaved and every vestige of freedom and independence destroyed. If Prussian plans had carried the smile would have passed forever from the happy little faces in our homes. Our boys and girls—heirs to Canada's riches—would have worked as slaves in their own mines, in their forests, their fields and factories. The fruits of their toil, the wealth of Canada, theirs by right, would have been borne across the seas to fatten the German beast. While the beast lives, his venom, his gall, his merciless, monstrous ambition threaten our homes. Canada—young, high-spirited, independent—must stand firm. Canada must use the wealth the Hun lusts after to crush him to earth. Canada's strength, the united strength of each and every true Canadian, must raise the shield of protection for the generations to come. The call will soon come for more of Canada's wealth. It is your money that is needed—every cent that you by cheerful sacrifice and loving self-denial can lend to your country.

THE WIFE

BY JANE PHELPS, AUTHOR OF "MARGARET GARRETT'S HUSBAND," AND OTHER NOTABLE STORIES.

CHAPTER LV.
 Claude Beckley succeeded in spoiling Ruth's evening.
 "The d— fool!" Ruth heard Brian say under his breath, then, as a wave of crimson dyed his face, he said: "Mollie has some business that I am looking after for her and it saves me if I do it at luncheon instead of when I might be seeing someone else."
 He realized that in view of what Claude Beckley had said, that it was a lame explanation. While it had really been more than an hour since Beckley had seen them—although now Ruth wouldn't believe it—yet he had sat over the luncheon all the afternoon. He recalled that he looked at his watch just as they rose from the table and it had been just five-thirty. It was now only a little after seven. So Beckley wasn't so far off.
 Ruth felt stunned. Had things gone so far that Brian neglected his business, remained away from the office the entire afternoon, to be with Mollie King?
 "Where did you lunch, Brian?" she asked very quietly. Too quietly Brian thought. Her voice sounded ominous.
 "At the Brovort."
 Suddenly Ruth knew what to do. She would not upbraid him. She would not allow him to think she thought him guilty of any wrong—neither was she at all sure in her own mind that he had wronged her in any way.
 "I wish you had called me up and asked me down there too. I should have enjoyed it immensely."
 Brian was so taken aback he couldn't speak for a minute, then he said quietly:

"How did I know your boss was going to give you the afternoon?"
 "I have to lunch somewhere every day. I can always take an hour—or a little more. When you have time to go to a really nice place, I wish you would call me up and ask me to meet you."
 "All right! I will," he breathed more freely. Was she going to be nice about it? He had been afraid of a scene. Yet, knowing Ruth, he should have known she would make no scene in a public place. Perhaps when they got home he'd catch it. How he hated that fool, Beckley, Meddlesome boob.
 The waiter came with their order, and while Brian ate what he had ordered he noticed that Ruth scarcely ate a bite and she had told him she was hungry. She asked for coffee with her dinner and drank two strong cups. Something she never did before, and consequently Brian looked upon it as an added proof that she was trying to hold back the lecture he was to get when he reached home; she was bracing up on coffee. So he expressed it in his thoughts.
 In one way he was right. Ruth trembled so she could scarcely control herself. To appear indifferent when she was so furiously jealous was hard. She had asked for the coffee to help steady her nerves.
 Ruth also could not help but wonder, as she pretended to eat, and occasionally made a remark about someone near them; if that was the reason Brian had no money; that he was "broke" as he had told her before they left home. She had given him ten dollars the night before, perhaps he had not found it. He had on the same clothes. She would ask him, it wasn't the money! He had spent it, every cent, on himself, she would have laughed at him for his boyish foolishness; but to take the money she had earned to spend on another woman, how could she approach him, how could she look at him if she suspected.

 She tried to chat unconcernedly about some people near them, and Brian was so thankful for her forbearance that he seconded her in such a way that they both breathed more easily.
 Their dinner as ordered would take about all of the five dollars, including the tip.
 "I believe I could eat a baked Alaska," Ruth finally said. She had selected the most expensive dessert she could think of.
 Brian flushed again, looked uncomfortable, then blurted out:
 "We haven't money enough! I told you we had better not come to such a place as this with only five dollars."
 "But we didn't," she almost held her breath, as she said she for the thought of her little ruse.
 "What do you mean?" more pleasantly Ruth perhaps had more than she had told him.
 "Why I slipped a ten dollar bill in your vest pocket last night! You remember you said you were out of money," the last words dragged. After one look at Brian's face there was no need to tell her. Ruth knew. "I spent that," he said. Then, "Gad, Ruth, let's go home. I'm sick of this! I have to give an account of every cent I spend, I'll—"

GLASS OF SALTS IF YOUR KIDNEYS HURT

Eat less meat if you feel backache or have bladder trouble.
 Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their effort to eliminate it. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels—by getting rid of the waste and poison. The uric acid dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, sour stomach, sores, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritable; you get up at night, sit or three times during the night.
 To neutralize these irritating acids and flush out the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will thank you and bladder troubles disappear. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which is pleasant to take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.

RUSSIANS KEPT IN CAPTIVITY.

By Courier Leased Wire
 Bruges, Tuesday, Oct. 22.—A fresh and striking instance of the inhumanity of the German authorities has been discovered by Belgian soldiers in liberated territory. They found a large number of Russian soldiers, who were captured three years ago at work with German labor companies. The Russians had been treated with the utmost brutality and forced to labor behind the firing line. They were utterly ignorant of the Russian revolution, the death of Emperor Nicholas or the Brest-Litovsk treaty of peace.

GROWING IN HALIFAX

By Courier Leased Wire
 Halifax, N. S., Oct. 23.—One hundred and twenty-three cases of influenza were reported by the medical authorities in Halifax yesterday. This is more than twice the number reported on any previous day. The local board of health is being adversely criticized in the matter of not providing for ready and adequate hospital accommodation for influenza patients. The criticism has developed more particularly since a seaman named Lorraine Burgoyne, who should have been admitted to the hospital on Oct. 19, was not admitted. He did not arrive in the hospital for five days after being taken ill, although his captain went to much trouble to get him admitted. The seaman died last Monday morning, and the delays in getting him treatment are regarded as having been at least auxiliary in causing his death.

THE SITUATION.

With their shortened lines the Germans are putting up a stiffer resistance and it is announced that the military chiefs in the Fatherland are attempting to stem the peace tide.

Field Marshal Haig reports that British troops have entered the western sections of the suburbs of Valenciennes and that they are commencing to close in on Tournai.

In the Laon region the French have also made a new advance and are now driving for a lateral railway which is of importance to the Huns.

Above Verdun in some bitter fighting the American troops in combination with French forces are securing excellent results in the face of very severe opposition.

HOW ENGLISH RACE HAS LED THE WORLD

Mr. F. D. Smith, editor in chief of the Toronto Daily News, who was one of the Canadian newspaper men to take the recent trip to the war zone, has been writing a series of interesting articles. One of his latest, under the above caption, is as follows:

In Canada and the United States there has been a decided failure to appreciate the glorious part which the English people have played in the Great War. This understatement of England's role, undoubtedly had its origin with the German propagandists, and it has obtained a definite vogue with the few Canadians who have always been cold toward the Mother Country.

In resenting this slur upon the race which is doing so much to save civilization, I do not say that those who have fallen into the habit of depreciating the English are necessarily pro-German, but I do say that they reveal themselves as hopelessly ignorant of the war and of England's history.

If we consider Haig's Army, which is the largest of the Allied armies in the field, if we record Britain's industrial effort in the production of munitions and other supplies for her Allies as well as for herself, if we look upon the British mercantile marine, which has carried 20,000,000 troops and enormous quantities of Allied supplies to the war zone; if we remember that the efficiency of the British Navy has made the continuance of the Allies in the war possible ever since the first week of the conflict—if we keep all these things in mind we must admit that Great Britain's contribution to the Entente cause is greater than that of any other nation, if not greater than that of all the other Allies put together.

Having got thus far the next step is to recall the fact that eight-ninths of the people of the British Isles who are actively supporting the war reside in England. This calculation assigns less than one-tenth of the population to Scotland and includes about one-half of the Irish population as enthusiastically committed to the Allied cause.

It is clear, then, that the navy which has saved civilization throughout the world struggles of the last four years, is manned in the main by Englishmen, and that the Mercantile Marine, which has lost more than 15,000 of its men by exposing itself to the German submarine, is manned in the main by Englishmen.

Without it the Allies would have no chance of crushing the Hun. The majority of troops from the British Isles are serving in Italy, in Macedonia, in Palestine, in Mesopotamia, in Tschirner, the Bolshevik foreign minister, recently, according to advices from Archangel. The consuls protested against the inhumane treatment of political adversaries by the Bolsheviks and received a reply from the foreign minister, which read: "Germany, which violated the neutrality of Belgium and holds populations of invaded countries under a brutal yoke is not qualified to intervene in this question."

Grimes was a Cornwall boy, and played with Ottawa, Toronto, Brantford and other places. He died in Ottawa yesterday.

CONNOR MURPHY DEAD.

Baseball fans the country over and followers of the Toronto City Amateur League in particular, will be saddened to hear that Cornelius (Conny) J. Murphy is no more. The death of this well known athlete occurred in Toronto yesterday. Wedding Bells

CAITON—McHUTCHION. A quiet wedding took place at the Zion Church Manse on Saturday when Miss Mary McHutchion was united in marriage to Mr. Edgar Caiton of Echo Place. The groom not long ago returned from the front. Rev. Mr. Woodside was the officiating minister. Upon return from their honeymoon trip they will take up residence in Brantford.

To The Editor of The Courier

My message to the people of Brantford in connection with the Victory Loan, is as follows: "There can be no middle ground. We are either with our boys on the firing line or against them. There is no room for compromise on this point. The fact that our city is suffering from an epidemic should serve to bring out the best that is in all of us, and I believe that it will. The boys 'over there' have been and are facing danger of an infinitely greater degree than we have been subjected to, and their slogan has always been 'Carry On.' There is the example given to us by our bravest and best. Shall we falter? Let the answer be 'No, never.' Canada's war chest must be replenished. To the man looking for an investment, it is ever offered—safe, sure and profitable. To the workman and those of small means, it will not only bring good financial returns, but will insure that greatest of all boons—liberty. By all means let us go 'Over the Top' with the Victory Loan."

HOW CANADIANS CROSSED CANAL High Clear Note of Bugle Rings in Every Canadian Heart

By Courier Leased Wire With the Canadian Forces in the Field, Oct. 22.—(By J. F. B. Livesey, Canadian Press correspondent.)—Some remarkable exploits were performed by Canadian gunners during the battle of Cambrai. In storming the Canal Du Nord on the morning of September 27th it was of the utmost importance to have the field artillery right up in support as fall-out to make a road crossing near Trenchy meant holding up the entire battle plan of the previous day. A lieutenant made a personal reconnaissance along the canal for his battery and that night took his section of eighteen pounders in front even of our outpost line, losing half his horses and ammunition, but being able at zero hour to open fire across the canal with open sights at point-blank range. During that advance a lieutenant of the divisional column made a reconnaissance under heavy shell fire of the passages across the canal and then by his persistent disregard of danger and good leadership, took a column of wagons forward and established an ammunition reserve depot a thousand yards east of the canal. He kept up the supply until the bridges were built. Throughout the fighting since August 8th this officer has on every occasion pushed forward ammunition dumps into the thick of the battle, thus enabling the artillery to give immediate support to advancing infantry lines. On September 8th a battery followed up the barrage near Sally and established his "O'p" on the right flank of the infantry. Seeing them held up by machine gun fire he went forward directed the telephone wire and then directed the fire of the battery on an enemy position. The infantry at this point had an exposed flank of some thousand yards and were being heavily fired upon by machine guns. Seeing that they had lost their officers, he led the assault calling upon the infantry to follow and though wounded in the leg persisted so long as he was able to hobble.

A sergeant of the first Canadian signal company drove the Canal Du Nord, establishing report with the centre and laid lines and continued heavy fire to brigade and battery positions.

Hon. W. E. Knowles, K.C., provincial secretary, is seriously ill with diphtheria at his home in Moose Jaw, Sask.

Two engines that were standing at Alth, a station in the Calgary city limits, were started by some person or persons unknown. The first engine collided with another engine, while the one at the cool chute ran clean through the wall of the roundhouse.

SITUATION

By Courier Leased Wire New York, Oct. 23.—The Associated Press to-day issues the following: British troops again are storming the German defences west of Maubeuge. The new attack launched early to-day between Solesmes and Le Cateau is reported to be making good progress. Field Marshal Haig in driving forward on the seven mile front north of Le Cateau, also is increasing the pressure to Valenciennes, through the western suburbs of which the British are fighting. North of Valenciennes the city has been outflanked by the capture of Bruay. It is not probable the Germans will be able to hold out in Valenciennes much longer, and once the Scheldt is crossed here, the British will be in a position to threaten seriously both Mons and Maubeuge.

Between Le Cateau and Solesmes the British are on the high ground of the Selle River, and it is from this favorable position to-day's attack was begun. The German resistance here has been bitter, as the line is vital to the security of the German defences over a wide front to the south and southeast. Belgium, the British continue to close in on Tournai. North of the town they have forced a crossing of the Scheldt, while on the south they have reached the western bank of the river on a four-mile front from Bruellies to Biechaires.

South of Le Cateau the enemy is resisting stubbornly French attempts to cross the Serre River and take in the rear the German positions east of the Oise. South of the railroad junction of Monte Cornet, the French have made progress between Nizy-le-Comte and Le Thour.

INFLUENZA WORSE THAN HUN BULLETS

Claiming More Victims Than Battle Fronts of Europe — Disease Can be Avoided

According to carefully compiled statistics it is an indisputable fact that the Spanish influenza epidemic which is now sweeping all parts of the country, is daily claiming far more victims than German bullets on the battle fronts of Europe. Although civil and military authorities have succeeded in checking the disease in some localities, it is growing worse in others and continues to spread at an alarming rate. That the disease can be avoided there is no longer any doubt. According to leading authorities the powers of resistance of the human system can be so perfected that it can throw off almost any infection, not even excepting Spanish influenza, which is one of the most contagious diseases known.

It is persons who are suffering from lowered vitality, who are weak and run down and who have not the strength to throw it off who are the earliest victims. Persons who have had colds, who are suffering from catarrhal troubles, or inflammation of the mucous membranes are especially susceptible as the foetid mucus membrane linings of the nose and throat are an open door to the germ. This condition is almost always accompanied by a weakened condition of the system.

If you are suffering from any of these symptoms, nothing on earth will build you up and strengthen you like Tanlac, which contains the most powerful tonic properties known to science. This statement is easily proven by the fact that Tanlac is now having the greatest sale of any system tonic in the history of medicine. In less than four years time over ten million bottles have been sold and the demand is constantly increasing. Thousands are using it daily for the above troubles with the most astonishing and gratifying results.

Tanlac increases your strength and weight and creates a good, healthy appetite for nourishing food. It keeps you physically fit and helps every organ of the body perform its proper function in the natural way. In connection with the Tanlac treatment be sure to keep the bowels open by taking Tanlac Laxative Tablets, samples of which are included in every bottle.

Tanlac is sold in Brantford by Robertson's Drug Store, in Paris by Apps Ltd., in Mt. Vernon by A. Yocmans, in Middleport by William Peddie, in Onondaga by Neil McPhadren.

DRAFT ALLIED ALIENS.
By Courier Leased Wire
Ottawa, Oct. 22.—By order-in-council approved today the Canadian Government approves a draft military service convention with Italy submitted by the secretary of state for the colonies. The proposed convention—slacker treaties as they are commonly known—is one of four, the others being with the governments of France, Belgium and Greece. Under their provisions, all men of military age subjects of the four Allied Governments and residents in Canada will come within the scope of the military service act.

The slacker treaties have been under negotiation for some time. One with the United States is now in operation. Approval of the Italian convention today indicates that formal ratification of the others may be expected shortly.

ENEMY REPLY TO STATEMENT OF INSINCERITY

Only Important Consideration is Whether Germany Accepts Wilson's Terms

GERMAN DENIAL VAIN

By Courier Leased Wire
London, Oct. 22.—"A monument of insincerity," is the way "The Times" characterizes the German reply. It brusquely waives a detailed examination of the note, saying that the only important consideration is whether Germany intends to accept an armistice in accordance with the method defined by President Wilson.

Proof of Crimes.
London, Oct. 22.—With reference to the paragraph in the German reply denying that the German navy in sinking ships ever purposely destroyed lifeboats with their passengers, it is pointed out in government circles that many cases could be quoted in reply to this denial. Two recent cases are the Llandovery Castle, the Canadian hospital ship sunk in the Atlantic and the French steamer Lyliana, sunk off the north coast of Spain on July 16.

The Llandovery Castle was torpedoed and sunk off the Irish coast on the night of June 27 while returning from Halifax with no wounded aboard. The vessel carried 258 persons, including fourteen female nurses, and only twenty-four were saved. The German submarine made no effort to aid the survivors and even tried to sink at least one of the lifeboats.

After the Lyliana had been torpedoed, two lifeboats and a raft were lowered. The German submarine rammed both boats, cutting them in two. After several fruitless attempts the submarine succeeded in sinking the raft and then disappeared without helping the survivors.

More Argument.
London, Oct. 22.—The German reply to President Wilson is regarded here as not business, but mere argument and protestation. In government and political circles the view is held that it is not a reply. One highly placed official described it as badly camouflaged insincerity. The government has not yet considered the reply in detail, although Premier Lloyd George and his colleagues held protracted deliberations today.

Henry M. Hyndman, leader of the British Socialists, said: "The reply is simply another piece of stuff. I hope President Wilson will answer it very abruptly and briefly. At any rate he has given Emperor William an opportunity to say that he and his people are one in the same sort of duplicity and treachery to which we have been treated throughout the war."

Reply to Austria.
Rome, Oct. 21.—President Wilson's reply to Austria was received with jubilation here. The message says that the President's reply to Austria's death sentence, which surprised nobody except Austria and Germany.

Other papers comment at length along the same lines, warning against new Austrian traps, since Emperor Charles attempted to deceive the world with his proclamation of the federation of Austrian nationalities. The Stefan Agency publishes the following:

"The thought animating President Wilson's reply to Austria-Hungary is perfectly clear and is equivalent to a refusal to recognize the Austro-Hungarian Government as the legitimate representative of the various populations in the dual monarchy and as a government with which negotiations for an armistice and peace can be entered into. The promises made in Emperor Charles' proclamation do not suffice to change this situation. The President's declaration affirming once more the legitimate aspirations of the peoples who are fighting for independence can only give fresh force to these aspirations and thus hasten the complex movement which is driving towards the dissolution of this condition."

KING'S COUSIN DEAD.
By Courier Leased Wire
Rome, Oct. 22.—Prince Umberto, Count of Salaparuta, cousin of King Victor-Emmanuel, died at Cresapano, near Monte Grappa, where he commanded a battery in the Italian army. He was 23 years old.

LIBERTY STATUES FOR TORONTO

As a leading feature of the coming Victory Loan, the T. Eaton Company is reproducing eight superb statues of a typical Canadian Soldier. The city of Toronto is also talking of having 40 similar statues made from the same model to be placed throughout the downtown centres during the campaign. The initial expense, however, is being shouldered by the T. Eaton Co., and the clay model has been fashioned by three of their employees.

How Victory Loan Made Canadian Industry Thrive

Enormous Expansion With Orders of Over Billion Dollars and Another Half-Billion in Sight—Airplane and Other Industries

There is much cause for rejoicing in the trade returns of Canada for the fiscal year that closed on March 31 last. Here we find that the export of many commodities has reached a colossal sum of $626,000,000. Going back to 1913, the total sum of our exports of manufactures was less than $44,000,000.

These huge exports represent by the most part war materials of all descriptions. They represent part of the activities of the Imperial Munitions Board, which since this war began has placed contracts in Canada amounting to $1,200,000,000. To finance these orders the Dominion Government has made advances amounting to $800,000, and is financing the big business at the rate of $25,000,000 a month. The government is able to do this out of the proceeds of the Loan issues, and in order to continue to secure this great business for Canada it must be able to advance monies out of future Loans. That is why it is important to everyone that the 1918 Victory Loan be a complete success and that the Finance Minister be not hampered in his arrangements.

NEW ORDERS FOR $500,000,000.
At the present time the Board has orders amounting to $500,000,000. The number of persons employed in carrying out these contracts is between 250,000 and 300,000. More than a thousand manufacturers have received large contracts from the Board and at the present time there are 400 manufacturers engaged in this war work.

We have made 50,000,000 shells of all descriptions for the Imperial Munitions Board; 45,000,000 cartridges; 30,000,000 fuses; 65,000,000 pounds of powder; 50,000,000 pounds of high explosives. Over 1,500,000 tons of steel has gone into these contracts, of which $450,000 tons were produced in Canada.

The Board has erected, equipped and operated seven plants on which $35,000,000 has been spent. It has established an airplane industry on a huge scale. The Toronto plant has constructed many airplanes, most of them for training, but a number of large bombing planes for the United States Government. It has stimulated the ship-building industry by giving contracts for 36 large ships of the value of $66,000,000. It has opened up gigantic forests of spruce and fir in British Columbia to furnish wood for the airplanes and the ships. It has purchased the entire exportable output of wheat, cheese, butter, condensed milk and other food commodities. In fact, the Board has been found to be the largest purchaser of many of our natural resources. We owe all this to the Imperial Munitions Board, and to the Government which made the financial arrangements necessary to get these industries going. Subscribe to the Victory Loan and continue the prosperity.

HOUSES PILLAGED.

London, Oct. 22.—Not one of several hundred houses in Douai in order to continue to secure this great business for Canada it must be able to advance monies out of future Loans. PURE RICH BLOOD PREVENTS DISEASE
Red blood—that is, blood that is impure by impoverished, thin and pale—is responsible for most ailments that beset the body. It affects every organ and function. In some cases it causes catarrh; in others, dyspepsia; in others, rheumatism; and in still others, weak, tired, languid feelings and worse troubles. It is responsible for run-down conditions, and is the most common cause of disease.

POPE'S APPEAL TO CHANCELLOR WAS FRUITLESS

By Courier Leased Wire

Rome, Oct. 22.—An appeal was made to Prince Maximilian, the German imperial chancellor, by the Holy See, asking that the Germans refrain from devastating and burning those portions of Belgium through which they are retreating, according to the Osservatore Romano, the semi-official Vatican organ. A reply was received on October 13, giving assurances that categorical instructions have been issued by the German general staff that localities should be preserved and respected in every way possible.

Later the papal apud at Munich was informed that the German troops placed within the zone of operations had been spared so far as possible by the German armies.

Pastoral From Cardinal.
Basel, Oct. 22.—(By Associated Press.) Cardinal Hartmann, archbishop of Cologne, has issued a pastoral letter in which he says dark hours have come for Germany, threatened by an enemy superior in numbers and shaken to the foundations of the state by internal changes. He calls upon his people to offer public prayers.

Deep discontent is spreading everywhere among the German people, the Cardinal writes, and they not only give expression to their state of mind by what they say, but write disheartening letters to the men at the front, impugning their courage and power of resistance. The cardinal invites all Catholics to rally around the Emperor.

In all French churches of Prussia public prayers have been ordered for the protection of Germany from the misfortunes which threaten her.

More German Promises.
Rome, Oct. 22.—Baron von der Lancken, chief of the German political department at Brussels, has informed Cardinal Mercier, primate of Belgium, that when the Germans evacuate that country the deported Belgians and political prisoners will be spontaneously released, according to the Osservatore Romano, the semi-official Vatican organ. He told Cardinal Mercier, it is said, that a part of the Belgians who were deported would be free to return to their country on Monday. This notification was in the form of a letter handed to the Cardinal personally by Baron von der Lancken. The text of the letter reads as follows:

"You are the incarnation of the eminence of occupied Belgium. You are its venerated and headed pastor. It is, then, to you that the government general and my local governments have charged me to announce that when they vacate your territory they will spontaneously set free deported Belgians and political prisoners. They will be in part free to return to their country on Monday."

"This declaration is of a nature that will fill your heart with rejoicing. I am all the happier to make it to you in that I could not have lived four years among the Belgians without esteeming them and without appreciating their patriotism at its true value."

It is understood that this communication has been transmitted to King Albert of Belgium and President Wilson.

REMOVING WAR MATERIAL.

By Courier Leased Wire Amsterdam, Oct. 21.—German forces at Brussels are working incessantly to remove war material from that city, according to the Rosenwald correspondent of the Handelsblad. He says that many regiments of German troops are leaving the city and that there is no doubt that the city is being evacuated for three weeks. They were given only two hours' notice to collect their belongings by German officers at Douai, Cambrai and other cities in the war zone.

First-Artisan Well.

The first artesian well to be bored in Europe of which data is available is the tube well at Grenelle, in France, which was sunk by the French government between 1824 and 1842, in the hope of obtaining a sufficient supply of water for Paris. The depth is 1,798 feet, at which level a prolific supply of water was reached.

Writer's Cramp.

Writer's cramp is a disease to which those who do much writing are liable toward middle age, and a person afflicted with it has no complete control over the muscles of the thumb, middle and forefinger. The typewriter has proved the best resource of those who suffer from the ailment.

Which Kind of Parlor?

The building trade today is largely using methods in use in the days of the Pharaohs, said the principal architect of the office of works, at the Royal Sanitary Institute in England recently. "The parlor question," he went on, "is a difficult one. Some people prefer one large, pleasant room to a poky living room and small parlor. Others urge that the parlor is necessary for children to do their lessons in, to accommodate the piano and household goods, and also the coffin in the event of a death in the family."

Trial by Ordeal.

If a theft takes place in a Japanese household, all servants are required to write a certain word with the same brush. The conscience is supposed to betray its workings in the waves of the ideograph written. Tracing an ideograph involves such an effort of muscular directness and undivided attention that this device often leads to the discovery of the guilty party. The test is, at all events, more humane than the ordeal of boiling water, to which accused persons were formerly submitted in Japan.

New Pleurisy Treatment.

Doctor Auld tells in the British Medical Journal of a chill and fever resembling malaria which he brought on by administering a platinum compound, and which upon submitting left the patient in a markedly improved condition. He tried the treatment in cases of pleurisy with good result. It is especially adapted to sluggish cases of localized infection with low fever.

Self-Restraint Valuable.

For want of self-restraint many men are engaged all their lives in fighting with difficulties of their own making, and rendering success impossible by their own cross-grained ungentleness; whilst others, who may be much less gifted, make their way and achieve success by simple, patient equanimity and self-control.

Young European Capital.

Helsingfors, the capital of Finland, is among the youngest of the European capitals, for it is but little over a hundred years since Charles Alexander I. shortly after the annexation of the grand duchy by Russia, transferred the capital thither from Abo, which was, in his opinion, too near Sweden.
