DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF WOLFVILLE AND EASTERN KINGS

Vol. XLI. No. 2.

WOLFVILLE, NOVA SCOTIA, FRIDAY, October 28, 1921.

$2.00, payable in advance

First Faculty Recital

The music loving public of Wolfville were enabled to enjoy a rare treat on the occasion of the first faculty concert given by the following members of the Acadia Conservatory Staff, Miss Beatrice Langley, Violinist, Miss Marion Gay pianist, Miss Evelyn Smallman, reader, William Arthur Jones, tenor. Mr. Jones has a voice of rarely beautiful quality, of wide range and great flexibility. In his two groups, Vocal Aria from Judas Maccabaeus and four modern songs, one in Welsh, he gave a revelation of vocal artistry, rarely heard in Wolfville. Miss Marion Gay was heard for the first time, and achieved instant favor as a pianist. Finished, artistic, sympathetic, her work was especially enjoyed, in her Chopin and Liszt numbers.

Miss Beatrice Janet Langley returns to Wolfville from England. Her ability as an accomplished artist on the violin has grown with the years of her absence. She immediately achieved her old position as a violinist and enhanced it in her remarkable group, Hungarian dance, Londonderry Air and Tambourine.

Miss Evelyn Smallman appeared for the first time before a Wolfville audience as a member of Acadia Seminary Faculty. Her interpretation of Tennyson's 'Coming of Arthur' and the selection from 'Dear Brutus' were admirable instances of what a cultivated mind and voice can do in the interpretation of the best in literature. Mr. Marsh and Miss Bonnett as accompanists, added greatly to the artistic effect of the work.

A program of high order found worthy exponents with the inevitable result, a pleased and appreciative audience.

OBITUARY

Miss Laura Kinney

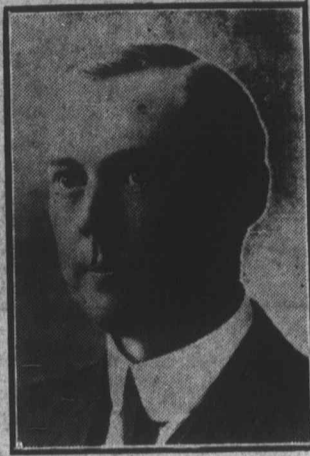

The death of Laura, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Kinney, took place at her home at Yarmouth, on Saturday last, following illness of two years duration. Miss Kinney was an efficient teacher in the public school for a number of years holding the position of principal of the Salem schools previous to her illness. She deceased was in the forty-third year and besides her parents is survived by one brother, Clary, of Yarmouth, and four sisters, Miss Portia, at home, Mrs. Capt. Geo. Doty, Mrs. Clifford R. Kelly, of Yarmouth, and Miss Marugerite, of Halifax, who has been with her sister during the past week.

The deceased was for some time in charge of the Juvenile department of the Acadia Seminary and had many friends in Wolfville.

Wild ducks are reported as being plentiful this season. At Lower Canard a man is said to have shot twenty-five one day last week, and a passenger by the morning train for Windsor, at Hortonville, had twenty-one duck that he had shot that morning.

Mrs. R. B. Blauvelt entertained at cards on a recent evening. A very pleasant time was had.

National Liberal and Conservative Candidate

Mr. Horton W. Phinney, the standard bearer of the National Liberal Conservative Party in Kings County is a Wolfville man and a native of Lawrencetown, Annapolis Co., a son of the late Norman H. Phinney, who represented that County in the Provincial Legislature for some time and was one of the best known and most successful business men in Nova Scotia.

Mr. Phinney is 39 years of age and for twenty years has been connected with the firm of N. H. Phinney and Co. For several years as sales manager and for the past five years its head. He helped develop the business from small beginning to one of the largest in musical instruments in Canada with customers in every Community in the Province.

He went to Halifax to reside in 1910 and four years ago took up his residence in Wolfville where he has been a most useful citizen taking an active part in every undertaking calculated to advance the material or moral interest of the community. His interests now being in the Annapolis Valley he recently disposed of his business in Halifax and Eastern Nova Scotia. He is a shareholder in the firm of L. E. Shaw Ltd. of Annapolis, which will have what is considered the largest plant in the province, as fine a plant for the production of clay and shale products as can be found anywhere.

Always a conservative but with independent views Mr. Phinney is an ardent supporter of Hon. Mr. Meighen. He believes in Canada for Canadians and that there is no part of Canada that offers greater opportunities than the Annapolis Valley.

A very busy man of affairs Mr. Phinney finds time to devote to work among boys in whom he is deeply interested.

The first real cold wave of the season occurred this week and on Wednesday night there was a very heavy frost, however, did little damage. It is said that in some places potatoes were frozen slightly in the ground. Apple picking will be about completed this week.

Bluenose Wins International Schooner Race

The International Fisherman's Challenge Trophy has been re-won for Canada. The Lunenburg schooner Bluenose, blue ribbon winner of the Nova Scotia Fishing Fleet, having on Saturday led the Gloucester schooner, Elsie, home by a margin of twelve and a half minutes, over a forty mile course, on Monday repeated her magnificent performance, crossing the finish line nine minutes and thirty-one seconds ahead of the defender of the honors won last fall by the lost Esperanto, and clinching the championship of the North Atlantic.

The race was sailed with weather conditions such as real sailors like, and it was a test of seamanship as well as of speed. The Bluenose proved her superiority, and the way in which she was sailed by Captain Walters and his crew of Lunenburg fishermen won the praise of all competent observers. Captain Marty Welsh handled his craft with skill and judgement and there was no dishonor in his defeat.

Intercollegiate Football Game a Draw

Acadia and U. N. B. Teams Score Three Points Each

Acadia and U.N.B. played seventy minutes to a draw three all here this afternoon in the first game of the Western section of the Inter-collegiate league.

The home team came through this first rugby ordeal rather better than their supporters had ventured to expect and during the game on the whole a draw of one try each fairly represents the respective merits of the two teams.

Acadia missed Anthony, and U. N. B. lost Cain, Trimble and Bridges, their captain who officiated as touch judge. U. N. B. line up was:—McKenzie, full back; Dymmen, Hagerman, Solly and Haines, halves; Slipp, Lounsbury and Willett, quarters; Gilmore, Bishop, Miller, Squires, Scovill, Jewett and Acketley. Acadia line up was as follows: full back, Cokey; Pentz, Clarke, B. Elderkin; and Lewis, Halves; Grimmer, Read and Robinson, Quarters; Eaton, Webb, Atkinson, McLeod, P. Warren, Wigmore, (capt.) and Brown, forwards. Smiley and J. Elderkin, spares. Dr. Avery DeWitt touch judge. Mr. Allen (Halifax) was referee.

Acadia who kicked off lost in the exchanges, and better passing by the visitors initiated a rush which ended in a try by Gilmore, near the corner, which was not converted. Acadia forwards were prominent in dribbling rushes which enabled them to attack hotly. Clark, coming full high equalizing from a penalty, and immediately after only just missed a drop for goal. The visiting backs excelled in passing and transferred the play to Acadia territory till half time. U. N. B. 3, Acadia 0.

In the initial stages of the second period the visitors tried bravely to increase their lead but the Acadia forwards were more than compensated for the superior combination of the U. N. B. backs. The scoring by Pentz was improved by a kick which enabled Grimmer to touch down in the corner, Clark not converting. Shortly after Clark was held up on the ground and Grimmer in the melee received a blow on the head and was carried off.

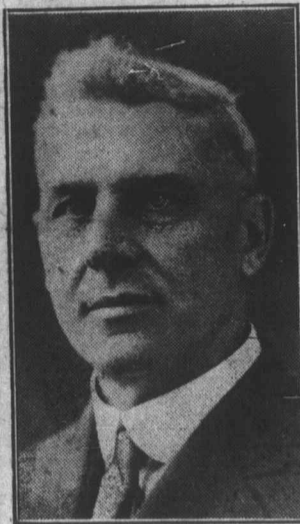

After the interval, the Acadia forwards continued to attack but no further scoring resulted. The weather was ideal a large crowd being present, and the Acadia band was in attendance.

SERIOUS CONFLAGRATION

A very serious fire occurred at Hortonville last night when the dwelling and barns of Mr. Howard Fuller were totally consumed. The fire originated in the barn and when discovered the building was practically wrapped in flame. Nothing was saved except the horses which broke their halters and escaped from the burning building. The other stock with all the farm machinery, hay, grain, etc., was destroyed. The fire spread to the house which was also destroyed, the furniture being saved. The family barely escaped with their lives. The fire was discovered about 9:30 o'clock, and if it had taken place half an hour later the occupants of the dwelling would have hardly escaped. As it was the small children were taken from their beds wrapped in bed clothing to neighboring houses. There was some insurance but Mr. Fuller's loss is very heavy. There is no explanation as to the cause of the fire. Kind neighbors went to Mr. Fuller's assistance but were able to do little as the fire had made such headway when discovered.

The wedding was celebrated this afternoon at 2 o'clock, at St. James church, Rev. A. M. Bent officiating, of Miss May, daughter of Mrs. Henry Leppard to George Allen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bishop, Kentville.

Liberal Candidate

The choice of the Liberal Convention held at Kentville last Saturday afternoon fell upon Mr. Ernest Robinson, of Wolfville, Inspector of schools for Kings and West Hants. Mr. Robinson is well known throughout the county. He was born at Lakeville, 45 years ago. His parents soon after moved to Canning where he attended school. At the age of seventeen he began teaching school at West Black Rock, and also taught successfully at Billtown, Lakeville and Canning. He was principal of the County Academy at Kentville for some time. He graduated from Acadia University with the class of 1906, and was Principal of Acadia Collegiate and Business Academy for two years. In 1910 he was appointed to the responsible position of inspector of schools which position he is resigning to enter the field of politics. Mr. Robinson has been a most successful educationist and has done splendid work for our public schools. Since coming to Wolfville he has conducted a most interesting Bible Class in connection with the Baptist Church.

GASPEREAU NOTES

Mr. Edgerton Kenney, of Hortonville, is visiting his parents Mr. and Mrs. Russell Kenney.

Mrs. Herman McNear of Springfield Annapolis Co., spent the week end with her father Mr. Edward Kenney.

A Shadow Sale will be held in the Division Hall on Hallowe'en night, Oct. 31st. Ladies are requested to bring a pie or cake.

Miss Jackson, Gasperreau, gave a very pleasant 'at home' yesterday afternoon in honor of her sister Mrs. Martin, of Boston, who is visiting her. Mrs. Martin returns to her home on Saturday.

The apple crop has been exceptionally good in Gasperreau this season and the orchards laden with beautifully colored fruit presents a sight worth seeing. Mr. Frank Gertridge is the largest producer and will have three thousand barrels. The roads are packed with teams and motor trucks conveying the fruit to the apple houses.

The Wolfville Fruit Company have secured the services of Mr. Stanley A. Robinson to take charge of their big store which is expected will be opened very shortly. Mr. Robinson has had a wide business experience in this County and the United States and should be well fitted for the position. He will be a good citizen and THE ACADIAN gladly welcomes him to our town. He is now actively engaged in organizing the various departments of the business and in purchasing goods for the openings. The undertaking is an important one and will keep him busy. In company with Mrs. Robinson and daughter he arrived in town on Friday last.

Greenwich Items

The children are making plans for their usual good time and fun, on the evening of Hallowe'en.

Our school is interested in Exhibition work and looking forward to next years exhibits. Last Thursday afternoon Mrs. Nelson of Church Street, visited our school and taught and assisted the girls of the school with sewing work for the exhibition. It is expected it will be arranged to have Mrs. Nelson teach them each week, in the art of sewing.

Last Sunday Rev. Mr. Miller, of Wolfville, preached in our church and was enjoyed by those present. It is expected Rev. Mr. Hemmson, who has been on vacation will preach here next Sunday.

A number from here attended the gathering at the Parsonage, Port Williams last Friday evening. A surprise to Rev. and Mrs. Chipman, we understand it was the occasion of their twenty fifth wedding anniversary.

Several from this Community attended the Conservative and Liberal Conventions, held in Kentville last Saturday.

Miss Haydon, of Kentville, the County nurse, held a child's clinic on Saturday afternoon, from 3 to 6, at the home of Miss Lillian Bishop. A good number in attendance, several mothers and babies absent, owing to the 'busy day' of the week. Many of the babies in Greenwich we should be proud of.

The friends in this place of Mrs. (Dr.) Bowls, are sorry to learn of her serious illness in Wolfville.

Little Eugene, the baby son of Mr. and Mrs. Chesley Forsythe of Bridgetown, is seriously ill with pneumonia. Chesley is one of 'our boys' and it is with regret and interest this news was received here and we hope to hear of the babies recovery soon.

Mrs. A. K. Forsythe, visited a couple of days last week in Bridgetown at the home of her nephew, Mr. Chesley Forsythe.

Lydia Miller, of Wolfville, visited here at the home of her school mate Marion Bishop, on Sunday.

Mrs. H. H. Marshall, visited her parents Mr. and Mrs. Roy in New Glasgow a few days last week, during the time Mr. Marshall was under an X Ray consultation at the Sanatorium, Kentville, where which she was under to Hortonville.

where he was joined by Mrs. Marshall, both leaving the city on Saturday to spend the winter at Colorado Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles MacKenzie, of Wolfville, have rented and are occupying Mr. Marshall's house here, during their absence.

Miss Verfa Lantz a member of the Sophomore class at Acadia College, recently visited at the home of her aunt, Mrs. J. E. Forsythe.

John Andrews returned home one day last week, much improved in health, after a brief stay at the Sanatorium, Kentville.

It was with much interest, the many friends here, of Mrs. Robert Reid—nee Charlotte Browne—a former Greenwich girl, heard of the nomination of her husband, Mr. Reid, at a Farmer and Labor convention, held recently in New Glasgow, for Pictou Co. Mr. Reid is a successful farmer at Linacay.

Invitations are out for the wedding of one of our young ladies which is to take place next month.

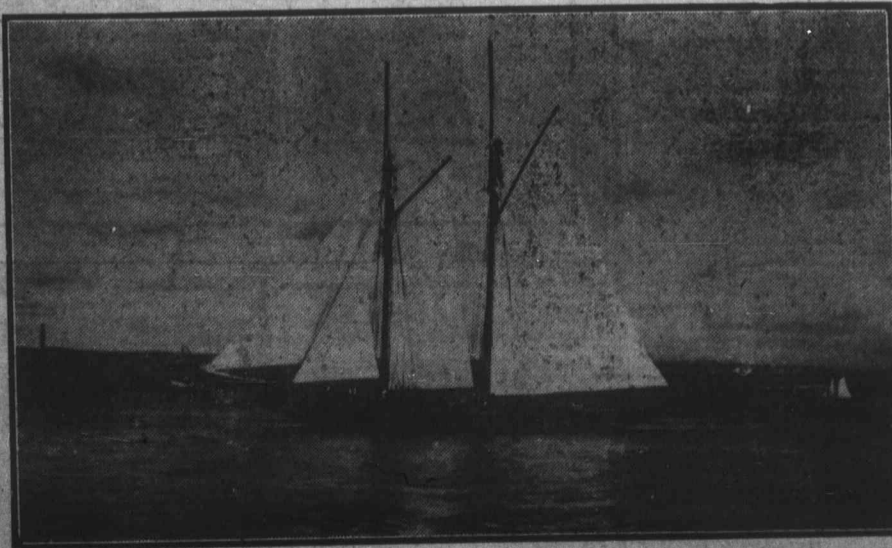

Prof. W. Saxby Blair, Superintendent of the Kentville Experimental Station accompanied by Mrs. Blair, left recently for London to attend the Imperial Fruit Show at Crystal Palace, which is being conducted by the London Daily Mail. Prof. Blair has secured leave of absence for three months and is being sent by The United Fruit Companies to take charge of their exhibit of some 300 boxes of Annapolis Valley apples. After the Exhibition is over, Prof. Blair will spend the remainder of the time studying conditions in the various apple marketing centres of the British Isles.

BONE DRY NEW BRUNSWICK

On Monday of last week the Province of New Brunswick voted by a big majority for prohibition of the importation of liquor for personal use. New Brunswick therefore ranges itself with the majority of the Provinces in voting itself as "bone dry" as it can under the laws as at present existing. Coming at a time when some people are saying that the tide of public sentiment for prohibition was on the ebb, the result of the referendum was doubly encouraging. The people of New Brunswick have fought a good fight through the stages of local option, provincial prohibition, and now prohibition of importation. They have shown their determination to use every lawful means available against the enemy. Their reward is to be their call to greater service and still greater sacrifice. New Brunswick is safe as far as provincial powers can secure its safety. But so long as our dear Canada lags behind her neighbor in totally outlawing the traffic the disease survives. The permitted manufacture of liquor for beverage purposes is a blot on the good name of our country, making her abhorred as a plague spot. Conversely New Brunswick and the other provinces that have gained the victory must look on themselves as points of vantage from which to attack the citadel of the liquor power in Canada.

SCHOOL BOY HISTORY

A boy in a Welsh school essayed to write on Henry VIII, and a London paper reports him as beginning thus: "King Henry VIII was the greatest widower that ever lived. He was born at Anno Domino in the year 1066. He had 510 wives besides children. The first was beheaded and executed. The second was revoked. She never smiled again. Henry 8 was succeeded on the throne by Mary Queen of Scots, sometimes known as the Lady of the Lake."

SKUNK IS BEST WILD ANIMAL FRIEND

According to a bulletin just issued by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, the skunk "is the best wild animal friend the farmer has." It destroys mice, grasshoppers, white grubs, and many other enemies of the crops, and when its career of usefulness is brought to an untimely end, it yields a pelt worth a considerable sum of money.

Naturally the girl who frankly admits that she can't sing knows that she has a keen sense of humor.

"TELL ME WHAT IS POETRY—"

Tell me what is poetry—
 Wind in the pines along the sea,
 Wind in the frost-browned lanes of sedges,
 Lying close to the sand's white edge;
 Songs of the waves and the muttering roar

Of breakers lashing a wintry shore,
 Tinkling sounds where waters slip
 Through blue sea caves, drip by drip.

Tell me what is poetry!—
 The earth's unceasing melody;
 Dawn song, night song, bird awlir,
 Fields where the bee is worshipping;
 Drowsy drone of the summer rain,
 Chirruping calls from ripening grain,
 Cicada, cricket, shrilling low,
 Nature's music in ebb and flow.

GOOD TIMES COMING SAYS THOS. A. EDISON

Good times are coming says Thos. A. Edison. The tide already has begun to turn. Times are getting better now, slowly, of course, but surely.

"These periods of depression," he says, "are caused by a faulty adjustment of our economic machine or by it being thrown out of gear by some unusual force, such as war. The machine is all right. It will work properly as soon as the obstruction is removed."

FINALITY

"John, I hear burglars."
 The dutiful husband arose and tip-toed bravely out. After undue delay he returned.

"Oh, John," said the wife, what kept you so long? I was so afraid they had overpowered you."

"No dearie, they were stealing the Victrola from the people across the hall and I made sure that they got all the records."

A Scotchman named MacDonald was very proud of his ancestors, and was never tired of boasting about them. On one occasion he remarked to a friend that his clan had lived before the Flood.

"Weel," replied the other, "I never heard of the name MacDonald ganging into the Ark."

"Noah's Ark?" retorted MacDonald contemptuously. "Whoever heard of a MacDonald that hadn't a boat of his own?"

Keep Minard's Liniment in the house.

"EARTHBOUND"

"No God. No Sin. No future life. Nothing but the survival of the fittest, and every man for himself." That was the ruthless creed by which two men lived. They thought it had brought them success and riches until one of them was forced to sacrifice his wife upon the altar of that creed. Then he killed Dick Desborough, the man he had looked upon as his best friend, but Dick, even after death, was not free to progress. His spirit was forced to remain earthbound until he was willing to be guided by the higher creed that "love is the great progressive force both in this world and what we call the next." That is the theme about which Basil King built the powerful story, "Earthbound," which critics have recognized as the greatest and most impressive screen production ever attempted. In showing "Earthbound" at this theatre next Mon. & Tuesday we feel that we are offering the supreme achievement of motion picture art. It is an event which no one who thinks in the higher terms of life can afford to miss. "Earthbound" ran one whole year on Broadway, at 75c. to $2.00.

FATHER WAS STUMPED

Mr. Blinks was a commercial traveler, and only came home at long intervals. On one of his returns he was telling his five-year-old son all about his wanderings.

"And then I came home," he finished.

"And did you come in a train, daddy?" asked Johnny.

"Yes, sonny."

"And did you see the ears of the engine?"

"Of course not!" laughed daddy.

"Engines don't have ears."

"Oh yes they do!" persisted the small boy. "Haven't you ever heard of the engineers, daddy?"—Pearson's Weekly.

SILK STOCKINGS MADE FROM SAND

Silk stockings made from ordinary sand is the latest invention of Michel Roiboul, a young Russian engineer who succeeded in escaping from the Bolsheviki, two years ago and with a small fortune established a laboratory in Paris. Roiboul asserts that by combining silica with other ingredients he has succeeded in creating a material which can be woven as easily as the choicest silks, while the cost will be less than one-fourth. By increasing the quality of silica used nonflammable films for cinemas can be produced or even blocks of rock crystal, which will bring the cost of construction of cottages within the limits of ordinary laborers. Naturally some objection is seen to living in glass houses, but Roiboul believes this can be overcome by adding coloring matter, which will produce a product as durable as steel and not costing more than five cents more a pound.

"One of the peculiarities of the newspaper business," remarks the Ridgetown Dominion, "is the fact that delinquent subscribers appear to regard the sending out of subscription accounts as simply a mild form of recreation in which the printer indulges when he has nothing else to do."

The Vital Issue

"What we have to decide is this—Are we going to continue the protective system of this country or are we not? That is the question and that is the whole question. And the great, big, necessary thing is that every voter in this country from the Yukon to Halifax knows that this is the question he or she is deciding when he or she votes in this great contest."

—ARTHUR MEIGHEN

THE vital issue in the coming election—in fact, the only issue—is the Tariff, and to every clear thinking Canadian it should be readily apparent that a Protective Fiscal Policy is absolutely essential to stability, progress and development.

Every important country in the world upholds Protection as an essential economic principle. Even Great Britain—so long the stronghold of Free Trade—has now adopted laws that constitute Protection of the most effective kind. In fact, the present policy among most nations is towards raising their tariff walls, not lowering them. In the face of these facts it would be suicidal for Canada to do exactly the reverse and discard the fiscal system which has been responsible for its progress during the past forty-three years.

Free Trade would mean death to Canadian Industry. It would also result in the immediate closing down of Canadian plants of foreign firms, with consequent additional unemployment. There are to-day 650 American factories alone in Canada. Similar proposed ventures would be abandoned. New capital would refuse to come to a Country lacking adequate protection and present industrial enterprise would be promptly strangled by foreign competition.

The preservation of the home market by a Reasonable Protective Tariff is vital to both city dweller and agrarian alike—now as never before. More capital is urgently needed for the development of Canada's enormous resources, which will result in a lessening of unemployment and an increased population. More work and more workers will produce an enlarged home market for products of both city and farm, and the exodus of Canadian men and women—and the dollars they earn—will be precluded.

The United States has slammed her trade door in the face of Canadian farmers by adopting the Fordney Bill, and the farmer is consequently now even more dependent upon the home market than in the past.

Yet Crerar asks you to destroy that home market by voting for Free Trade.

King's policy—if he has one—will result in the destruction of the Tariff.

Meighen stands four square for Reasonable Protection—Protection for all the people—and asks for an overwhelming mandate to give both industry and agriculture that assurance which will spell prosperity for all. Individual prosperity depends upon National prosperity. Your personal interests and Canada's very existence hang upon your vote.

Home Town Paper Week

It is very rare that the average newspaper boosts its own business, but gives quantities of space in boosting the affairs of others.

Somebody suggested that it was time for the newspapers of the country to adopt a week in which their own business should be given precedent, and THE ACADIAN thoroughly endorses the idea.

The date set is the second week in November, from the 7th to the 12th, including that great world event, Armistice Day.

The official title for the week will be "Subscribe For Your Home Town Paper Week."

Thousands of papers will join in this event, and our readers will hear more about it as time goes on.

Ever ready to help in any cause that is in the interests of a better community, better living conditions, and better government, we now ask the readers and advertisers of THE ACADIAN to turn in and lend a hand during "Subscribe For Your Home Town Paper Week", and boost for us.

CAMPAIGN A FAILURE

To our fellow citizens:
 Within two or three hundred dollars of our objective we are pleased still to be able to report progress.
 The whole campaign must, however, fail, that is, of course, it must fail unless we obtain the small amount above mentioned. Consequently we urge upon you the necessity of contributing promptly and generously.
 There are those, who said that we could not enlist public support to the amount of One Thousand Dollars. The fact that we have nearly doubled that amount is fairly conclusive proof that the Campaign is being generally supported. Having shown that our efforts have met with public approval we beg leave to suggest that your contribution is now due.
 Again there are those who hesitated lest the Town Council should withhold their approval. The matter has been brought to the attention of the Council. While we cannot claim their approval we think that we got as much action from them as is usual in an equal length of time, and we are informed that our plans have the "sanction of the Council". The cause of your hesitation having been removed we beg leave to suggest that your contribution is now due.
 Counsel has been had as to the legality of our project and apparently it is barred neither by the Criminal Code nor by any civil Statute. While it has been suggested that we should obtain the sanction of Parliament, no legislation could be unearthed requiring us to do so. We appreciate your reluctance to further any illegal object but we beg leave to suggest that your contribution is now due.
 Possibly there is some other cause for your hesitation (we say hesitation for we feel that sooner or later everyone will have contributed) and if so we should be pleased, insofar as in our power lieth, to destroy that cause, to fulfil any condition which you require, to remedy any omission or defect which you may call to our notice. If there is no cause for your hesitation we beg leave to suggest that your contribution is now due.
 Those who have already pledged various amounts to the fund are requested to further assist us by making remittance at as early a date as convenient. By so doing they will enable us to proceed to the erection of the Monument without further delay, which is particularly desirable in view of the fact that cold weather is once more rapidly approaching.
 Yours very sincerely,

UNUSUO STORY IS MADE INTO UNIQUE FILM PRODUCTION

Scarcely one out of each ten thousand books published in the nineteenth century is read or remembered by the present generation, but those that have retained their popularity are more firmly fixed in the affection of the public than any recent publications can be. Time either effaces memories of books or hallows them. For this reason, stories that have stood the test of time are assured of extraordinary popularity when put into motion pictures.
 Until now, the work which stands eighth in popularity among all the books in the world, after more than forty years, had not been visualized. There seemed to be almost insurmountable difficulties in the way. These have been triumphantly overcome by Vitagraph, however, and Anna Sewall's "Black Beauty", the famous "Autobiography of a Horse", will be shown at the Opera House on Friday and Saturday next with a matinee on Saturday for the children.
 The complete story of Black Beauty, Ginger, Merrylegs, Sir Oliver, Duchess and the other equine characters, as written by Anna Sewall in the early seventies, has been faithfully told in pictures, together with a thrilling story of the lives of Black Beauty's human friends and acquaintances.
 An auto tourist was travelling through the great Northwest, when he met with a slight accident to his machine. In some way he had mislaid his monkey-wrench so he stopped at a nearby farmhouse where the following conversation took place between him and the Swede farmer:
 "Have you a monkey-wrench here?"
 "Naw, my brother he got a cattle ranch over there; my cousin he got a sheep ranch further down this road, but too dam cold here for monkey wrench."
 It is easier to criticize people than to appreciate them.

MAKING A WORLD-ISSUE

Twenty years ago the liquor question, of which law-observance has today become the paramount phase, was a theme for Sunday School Lessons. It had little place in editorials or on front pages. It was the hobby of "fanatics" and pious "impractical" people. Today it has become a leading world issue, absorbing more attention in the press of the United States and Canada than foreign affairs. It has moved from obscure Sunday School classes to the highest council of politics. Europe is apparently more interested in the effects of prohibition in the United States and Canada than in the Armament Conference itself; for in its deepest consciousness the public knows that the world cannot continue half dry and half wet.
 As one who regularly reads foreign publications, and occasionally the daily newspapers of many cities, I confess that I am amazed at the recklessness of much that is written about the continuance of drink under prohibition. Disregard of law seems to be accompanied by disregard for facts. It is true that in cities law-breaking seeking liquor, and willing to pay a high price for it, may usually secure contraband intoxicants. But to say that the cities are "wetter than ever", and that "there is more booze drunk today than before prohibition came in", is simply to talk bosh.

For the greater part of two months I have been travelling continuously in Canada, the Atlantic States and the Middle West, and I have looked in vain for anything like the outward evidences of the bad old days of the open saloon. There are rich and reckless men who buy "bootleg" whiskey and who risk "home-brew". There are also immature minds who want what is denied them simply because it is denied. But all honest men who are able to form their judgement upon a wide collection of facts know that, in this period of labor unrest and unemployment, it is a boon beyond words to society that the saloon is closed and that intoxicating liquors are generally inaccessible. The net results of the drastic legislation against strong drink has unquestionably been beneficial.

Measure the appreciation you bestow by that which you deserve.

SAYINGS OF THE WISE

That it's the easy job that is hard to get.
 That today's decision may determine your destiny.
 That it is easy to find remedies for other people's troubles.
 That our ideals are not worth much if we surrender them at the first attack.
 That the ignorance that is bliss generally leads to the knowledge that is expensive.
 That cleanliness is next to godliness; that is why a woman changes her mind so often.
 That no habit is acquired with more difficulty than that of acknowledging one's errors.
 That to tell a woman you trust her is an even more fatal thing than to tell her you don't.
 That thinking will get you farther than talking—that is, if you harness your thoughts to action.
 That many an honorable career commences from a word spoken in season or a warm grasp of a friendly hand.
 That the difference between a friend and an acquaintance is that one appears in hard times, the other at big dinners.
 That when a man finds twenty good reasons for staying away from home you may be sure he has at least one bad one.
 That the modern child has as little belief in the fairy tales his mother tells him as she herself has in the ones his father tells her.
 That you must not allow yourself to feel discouraged because of your moods and because people don't understand them. As a matter of fact, very few people understand any person who is a child of moods—because such people are always the most unusual. And it takes unusual people to understand unusual people.

Editorial Notes

Wolfville was honored in having two of its citizens selected by the political conventions held at Kentville last Saturday to represent them in the approaching Federal election. No matter what the result of the voting on December 6th may be, our town will be the home of the next representative for Kings County in the House of Commons. This will be the first time in its history that Wolfville has been so privileged. Both are young men who have succeeded in their respective vocations, the one in the business world and the other as an educationist.

It is time that the citizens of Wolfville were making plans for an appropriate celebration of Armistice Day—November 11th. Last year a timely programme was very successfully carried out, and reflected credit upon the town and those who had the matter in charge. Falling as it does this year on Thanksgiving Day, still greater preparations should be made. We cannot afford to allow this important anniversary in the history of the Empire to lose any of its significance.

BARNARDO HOMES

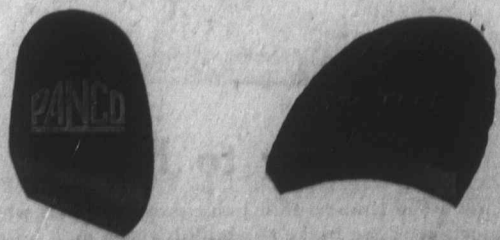

Miss Bentham, representing Dr. Barnardo's Homes, was in Wolfville yesterday in the interests of the work of this most worthy institution. She addressed the students of Acadia University at Chapel service and spoke to the children of the Public Schools. In the evening, through the courtesy of Mr. Mason, she spoke at the Opera House. Miss Bentham is a most pleasing speaker, and her story of the origin and history of the Barnardo Homes is most interesting. Of the 150 Homes in connection with this work, two are in Canada, and they exist in all parts of the world. The expense is borne entirely by public subscriptions and the cost of operation has now reached the sum of $10,000 a day. Destitute children from all parts of the world are received in these homes and although none are refused admission the management makes the claim that over 98 per cent. of the children under their care make good. In the Great World War, over 6,000 Canadians, trained in these homes, enlisted for service. The work is a most deserving one and an organization for the collection of funds will, it is expected, be affected in Wolfville. Those wishing to contribute may hand their subscriptions in to the Bank of Montreal.

SILVER WEDDING

A very happy event took place at the Baptist parsonage Port Williams on the evening of Oct. 21st, when about one hundred unexpected guests gathered to help celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of Rev. and Mrs. Chipman's wedding. Although unexpected they were given a warm welcome, and after congratulations were over and a short programme given Mrs. Chipman was presented with a lovely bouquet of chrysanthemums and ferns, and escorted to her place beside the groom of twenty-five years ago, when a short and appropriate address was read and one of the ladies presented them with a silver tray on which lay bills to the value of two hundred dollars. Another lady coming forward with a beautiful loaf of wedding cake her especial gift for the occasion, all then joined in singing "Blest be the tie that binds
Our hearts in Christian love" which enabled Mr. and Mrs. Chipman to recover from their surprise enough to thank the friends and express their appreciation of their thoughtful kindness. After the presentation a social hour was enjoyed during which cake and ice cream was served, then all left for home feeling that they had enjoyed a delightful evening, leaving their pastor and his wife to wonder whether the events of the evening had been a reality or only a pleasant dream.

"WHERE IT PAYS TO DEAL"

THE NEED OF THE HOUR

An eminent statesman has said in respect to the conditions existing today that there must be an immediate improvement in our political institutions in order that they may function more in accordance with the principles of Democracy than they are functioning in some places today.

This declaration of policy has a direct and vital application in Canada at this particular juncture.

Our political institutions are not functioning in the lines of Democracy as they should be. What about the evils of some of the elements of party government as they exist in our midst today?

I say there is a great need in this country for immediate and if I judge from the temper of the Canadian people today there is a great and growing demand for improvement and I also say there exists forces—strong psychological and fundamental forces which are beginning about this reform in Canada.

Party Government is receiving a great warning and challenge today.

It is the duty of all who believe in the existence of this institution as a sound instrument of Democracy to immediately strive that party government be rid of those elements which are at present bringing it into contempt. This is a matter which we must immediately take hold of in Kings County.

From address delivered at public meeting Wolfville, Oct 20th, Temperance Hall by H. P. Newcombe.

KENTVILLE MAN IS SHOT AND KILLED

A fatal accident occurred on Monday at Blue Mountain seven miles from Kentville in which George Jones lost his life.

Mr. Jones accompanied by his nephew was going out in the woods that afternoon for cattle. The young man, had a rifle, which was kept at safety. The young man had occasion to stop for a few minutes and laid down his rifle. Wishing to rejoin his uncle he picked up the rifle and started running. He stumbled and the safety on the rifle was struck causing it to discharge, the bullet striking Mr. Jones, piercing his right lung. His death is deeply mourned. He leaves a wife, one son, Harry, and one daughter, Beatrice, at home, and daughter Mrs. W. Barkhouse at Burlington.

What might have been a serious accident occurred Saturday morning, when an auto truck carrying 15 students of the Acadia Geological class was upset down a steep embankment near Blue Beach. A late Regina paper gives particulars of a fatal airplane accident which occurred at that place on October 10, when Lieut. Lloyd Rees, stunt flyer, while attempting to transfer, by means of a rope ladder, from one plane to another, in mid air, fell 500 ft. to his death. Particular interest to Wolfville people attaches to the affair from the fact that the pilot of the plane to which he was transferring was Lieut. P. M. Wallace, son of Mr. and Mrs. Burpee Wallace, of Yorkton, formerly of this place. It will be remembered that Mr. Wallace had experience at the front with the Royal Air Force, and was brought down behind the German lines and spent three months as a prisoner of war. The accident was due not to any negligence of either of the pilots, but rather to the recklessness of the stunter.

CANNING NOTES

Mr. Reuben Bigelow, of Marblehead Mass., an experienced yacht builder who attended the schooner races at Halifax, is visiting here with his sister Mrs. J. E. Kennedy.

Mr. Bigelow thinks the "Bluence" has capabilities not yet brought out though he was much pleased with the race. This reminds us, in recalling the ship building industry of our country that Mr. Bigelow's father the late John Bigelow, Jr. and Thos. E. Bigelow built vessels at Medford as late as 1874 the Bk. Medford being the last product. In thinking of Kingsport we always should remember the late Eben Cox, who built so many vessels for J. E. Woodworth, P. R. Creighton and C. R. Burgess; his last effort being on the largest ships of this County. Nor should we forget Vaughan & Loomer, who built large vessels at Mill Creek in the 70's and 80's. J. E. Steele and Jacob Lockhart who built at Scotts Bay, Joseph and James Jackson, who built the "Rambler" and others at Shettleting., A. B. Baster and John and Wm. Irvin, who built at Baxter's Harbour, John Neville, who built at Halls Harbour, and J. B. North and Sons, of our eastern border, who would be second only to E. Bigelow & Sons in Tonnage built.

The paragraph appearing in the Halifax Chronicle relative to Mrs. H. P. Newcomb accepting a nomination for our County at close of Convention on Saturday last had no foundation in fact.

TO SUSPEND BUSINESS FOR TWO MINUTES

The Governor General has received a despatch from the secretary of state for the colonies proposing that on Friday, Nov. 11, the anniversary of the signing of the armistice, there should be a complete suspension of business so far as possible, beginning at 11 a. m. and continuing for two minutes.

The Canadian Government have adopted this suggestion and accordingly the secretary of state for external affairs has issued a request that the rite be observed throughout the Dominion.

A very enjoyable "At Home" was given by Mrs. R. E. Harris on Thursday afternoon. Over one hundred ladies were present. Mrs. J. F. Kennedy, of Halifax, assisted her mother in serving. Benjamin, Mrs. J. D. Harris, Miss Margarite DeWitt, Miss Gladys Vaughan, Miss Marjorie Chute, served dainty refreshments.

SLEEPING OUTDOORS

Sleep is good, but no one knows how good it can be who has not slept outdoors. There is something about a room, any room, even in a palace, and there is something about a house, that spoils and smothers sleep, and it is only when you can set your face against the sky, and your lungs against the exhaustless air, that your soul really dips into the infinite and comes back to life in the morning with its last corner fresh and garnished.

Leonard Fleming, a South African farmer, tells of his Best Bedroom at home, and why he prefers it to all the luxurious couchings of civilization.

"My Best Bedroom," he says, "is up on my highest hill." I can climb to the top—carrying a blanket, a pillow, and a great coat—in fifteen minutes.

"On grass and little bushes, which I pull and spread out, I put my coat, my pillow against a rough boulder, and I lie down with the warm scent of earth and veld grass about me. And over me and on every side, hanging like rich curtains far away, the blue-black sky, splashed with gorgeous stars.

"The silence is wonderful—complete, absolute stillness—save for the regular beating of my heart and the intake and release of my breath.

"I am on the top of the world, lying on my back, with only stars and sky pouring through my eyes deep into my body and soul. And I go to sleep very, very happy, feeling that all the exquisite beauty of the cooling night around me has made me just a little part of it all—a little atom for a while in complete harmony with the infinite Scheme of Things.

"And then comes the most wonderful moment of all.

"It is the moment of the dawn wind which passes across the earth as regularly as clockwork every day half an hour before dawn.

"It is a soft, little wind that rustles the leaves and grasses and ripples still water—the first sound in all those silent hours—a fresh, cool, very gentle wind that lasts but a few seconds.

"It is the wind that wakes the world—the wind that whispers of the coming day—and it passes beyond as swiftly and as suddenly as it came.

"Out of the silence a distant sheep bleats, a bird sings, then two birds, then hundreds. The East is bright gold, the western hills are flushed, and then the day and the day's work."

Of all the strange and superstitions that have attracted man's mind perhaps the most remarkable is the notion that light air is injurious.

All over Europe people shut themselves up in tight rooms of sleep. In America this custom is not so general, but we are not wholly guiltless.

It is a matter of habit. One used to sleeping in a close room catches cold if he sleeps out in the woods, and a trapper accustomed to sleeping in the open catches cold if he has to lie all night (he could not sleep) on a soft bed in a room with only one window open only two inches.

A town is like a large family. We are all interested in each other's welfare, or should be. A cutthroat, every-man-for-himself policy means ruin for any community. It means retrogression and failure. The first lesson that any family must learn is that to be happy and successful is unity and mutual assistance. The same applies to the business life of a town and the more generally it is obeyed the more abundant will be the town's prosperity. Stand by each other and patronize the home folks.

When you see a girl picking lint off a young man's coat in public it's a safe bet that her engagement ring is quite new.

FORMING GOOD READING HABITS

If parents wish their children to form good reading habits they must first form such habits themselves. And there is no better way to do this than to bring into the household a periodical that will be of interest to every member of it; that will supply the best reading for old and young. Among the periodicals of this description The Youth's Companion is unique. Not only does it aim to entertain and inform boys and girls in their teens, as its name suggests, but there is not a page in it that parents can pass over with indifference.

The 52 issues of 1922 will be crowded with serial stories, editorials, poetry, facts and fun. Subscribe now and receive:

- 1. The Youth's Companion—52 issues in 1922.
- 2. All the remaining issues of 1921.
- 3. The Companion Home Calendar for 1922.

All for $2.50. Or include McCall's Magazine, the monthly authority on fashions. Both publications, only $3.00.

FORCES OF HABIT

A member of Parliament recently became a parent. On announcing the news the doctor exclaimed, gleefully: "I congratulate you, sir; you are the father of triplets."

The politician was astonished. "No, no, no," he replied, with more than Parliamentary emphasis. "There must be some mistake in the returns. I demand a recount."

When a lawyer in a New York court tauntingly asked a doctor, what an intoxicated man's breath "smelled like these days", the witness promptly replied, "Something like a combination of chlorine, mustard gas, and garbage". This is not nice, but it is so descriptive and true and so discouraging to soures that it deserves all the publicity possible.

CLEARING OUT TUBERCULOSIS IN CATTLE

The accredited herd system put in operation two years ago by the health of Animals Branch of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa has been well received by the stockmen of the country. It is confined to pure bred cattle and is intended to rid as rapidly as possible the disease of tuberculosis from Canadian herds. Figures given out by the Veterinary Director General show that thirty-six herds had up to October 1, been fully accredited. The breeds presented are the Ayrshire, Holstein, Jersey, Shorthorn and Aberdeen Angus, the dairy breeds predominating. The accredited herds are widely distributed. Nova Scotia has 1; Quebec 9; Ontario 10; Manitoba 2; Saskatchewan 4 and British Columbia 10.

Besides the herds which have been fully accredited there are at present 558 herds which have been tested once or more in process of accreditation, and 54 herds awaiting the first test, making a total of 648 herds. As the herds in this lot fulfill the necessary conditions, they become fully accredited. The Inspectors of the Health of Animals Branch are making as rapid progress as is possible under the circumstances, taking into consideration the limited number of men engaged in the work and the great importance of doing the testing carefully and accurately rather than rapidly.

The reactors are always removed from the herd at once and usually are immediately slaughtered under veterinary supervision. Applications for tests have been coming in faster than they could be dealt with. A waiting list has therefore been formed and as soon as circumstances permit the herds in this list will be tested, taking them as far as possible in the order in which applications have been received.

Issued by the Director of Publicity Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, Oct. 17, 1921.

TIPS ON COOKING

Meat cut up for cooking purposes gives a richer gravy than when cooked in one piece. It is a good plan to leave one solid piece of meat to slice cold if the supply is sufficient for two meals.

The cold meat should be left in the stock until it is ready to serve, so as to retain the moisture, but any vegetables that are in stock must be removed or the flavor will be too strong.

Emergency biscuits may be made by slightly increasing the amount of liquid and dropping the dough from a spoon on to a greased baking sheet or into small muffin pans.

In this way time is saved that is otherwise used for rolling and cutting, and the biscuits are more tender.

One often puts too much salt in food while cooking. To remove the salt place a wet cloth over the top of the vessel in which the food is cooking, and the steam will draw the salt into the wet cloth.

Best results with deep fat cookers will be obtained when a thermometer is used. For cooked foods such as croquettes, the temperature should be 300 degrees F., regardless of the kind of fat used.

When a platter is used to hold a plank instead of a metal case, the place where the edges of the plank touch the platter may be concealed by the mashed potatoes.

POSTAL RATES

There has recently been a change in postal rates in Canada, and many people seem to be unaware of the proper postage to Great Britain.

The letter rate to Great Britain is now four cents instead of three. The same rate applies to all the British possessions, including British West Indies, South Africa, etc. The rate to any part of Canada and the United States remains at three cents. Letters to France and other European and South American countries, Cuba and other West Indies islands not British, is now ten cents.

There is now no registering of parcels at the Post Office except on payment of the letter rate, but that rate now includes insurance of the contents of the parcel.

RAISED AS CIRCUS CHILD EDDIE POLO FED ON THRILLS

Master of Every Stunt Known To Pageant World, Coming Wednesday and Thursday, November 9-10

All the romance and glamour with which the youthful mind invests the life of a circus performer, actually has been a part of the career of Eddie Polo, the fearless star of Universal serials, who was recruited by the moving picture world from the world of tents and gilded caravans. Raised in the sawdust ring from the time he was able to toddle, Polo has appeared as a favorite of the flying trapeze all over America, in every country of Europe, and in other parts of the globe. His latest picture is "King of the Circus", a serial based on his own life under the "big top".

Raised in the sawdust ring from the time he was able to toddle, Polo has appeared as a favorite of the flying trapeze all over America, in every country of Europe, and in other parts of the globe. His latest picture is "King of the Circus", a serial based on his own life under the "big top".

All the romance and glamour with which the youthful mind invests the life of a circus performer, actually has been a part of the career of Eddie Polo, the fearless star of Universal serials, who was recruited by the moving picture world from the world of tents and g

OCTOBER

With crown of golden and crimson,
October wends her way,
Through winding woodland pathways
Where vagrant sunbeams stray.

O fair! O bright October!
We welcome thee again,
We love to see thy mantle spread
O'er forest, hill and glen.

A DANGEROUS PLACE

An Irishman visiting a friend in hospital began to take an interest in the other patients.

"What are you in here for?" he asked one.

"I've got tonsillitis, and I've got to have my tonsils removed," was the answer.

"And you?" he asked another.

"I've got blood poisoning in the arm and they're going to cut it off," was the reply.

"Holy Moses," said Pat in horror.
This is no place for me. I've got a cold in me head!"

Resolutions asking for increased pensions and proposing a colonization scheme for tubercular ex-servicemen were adopted at the convention of the Tubercular Veterans Association held at Winnipeg recently.

FIGURES DONT' LIE.

An Irishman was working for a Dutchman, and wanted a raise in wages. Said the Dutchman:

"Pat, if you are worth it, I will give it to you; but listen, Pat, you know there are 365 days in the year?"

"Yes," said Pat.

"Now, you sleep eight hours each day, that equals 122 days you sleep. Figures don't lie Pat. Take that off 365 days and you have left only 243 days.

"Yes," said Pat.

"Now, Pat, you have eight hours for recreation and devotion."

"That is equally 122 days. Now take that off 243 days and you have 121 days left. There then are 52 Sundays in the year. You must take that off, for you don't work on Sundays, and that leaves you 69 days.

"You know I always give you 14 days vacation each year?"

"Yes," said Pat.

"That leaves 55 days. Now, Pat, there are 52 Saturdays half-holidays in the year. You know you don't work Saturday afternoon."

"That makes 26 days. Now take that off, and that leaves 29 days. Now, Pat, you have about two hours for meals
each day."

"Yes," said Pat.

"That equals 28 days. Now you must take that off. That leaves one day, and figures don't lie, Pat!"

"Now, Pat, you know I always give you every St. Patrick's Day off. Now, Pat, I want to ask you do you think you are worth a raise?"

Said Pat—"What the h—have I been doing all this time?"—London Opinion.

"Isn't it funny," asks the Gilliam Globe,
"that the man who thinks he is a business man will get up in the morning from an advertised mattress and shave with an advertised razor, take off advertised pyjamas and put on advertised underwear, hose, shirt, collar and tie, seat himself at the table and eat advertised breakfast food, put on an advertised hat, light an advertised cigar, go to his place of business and turn down advertising on the ground that advertising doesn't pay?"

ANOTHER HOLE IN THE WALL.

When the exchange on United States money in Canada first began to mount up, we were indignant, then we burst into print and were regaled by long exhortations to buy Canadian made goods;
then we gradually became accustomed to the situation, and now we take it as a matter of course. Very little is said nowadays about the exchange on American funds. During our early searches for a remedy we found many holes in the wall through which our Canadian money was passing into the hands of our American cousins.

It remained for a Canadian author to bring sharply to our attention one very important hole in the international wall through which Canadian money flows continuously. This author gave a few figures to show the circulation of the chief United States publications in Canada. They totalled hundreds of thousands.

It would be foolish to suggest that all of these subscriptions should be cancelled, for we can gain much by reading some American magazines and in addition they are able to give us exceptional value, because they have a market of 110 million people to support them. But when we realize that the Ladies' Home Journal, as an example, has a circulation in Canada at least four times greater than any monthly published in this country, surely there is something lacking in our national pride. A nation does not begin to grow until it has a literature of its own. So long as it depends upon another nation for its literature it occupies a subordinate position.

We send Canadian money across the border and get in return magazines which are essentially American products—in many instances we are paying to be Americanized. If this is what the Canadian people desire, then we have no complaint to make, but if we are the nation we claim to be we shall prefer to keep our money at home to support publications prepared, published and printed in Canada, by Canadians.—Canadian Financier.

CANADIAN AND AMERICAN RAILWAYS

Canadian railways as a whole operated in July at a lower ratio than for any of the six previous months of 1921. The figures were 93.67 per cent for July of this year, against 101.71 per cent for July 1920, and 94.53 per cent for June, 1921.

In the first eight months of this year New England railroads were operating at a deficit totalling $8,786,122 against $29,210,712 for the corresponding period of 1920. There were gains in both freight and passenger receipts, due entirely to the higher rates, but mail and express business suffered heavily. The operating ratio of the roads for the period 1921 was 96.79 per cent against 108.53 per cent in 1920.

Canada has 21 people for each square mile of territory. Belgium has 658. We have 11.5 per cent of the population of the world.
