GOUIN'S COURSE GIVEN PRAISE BY LAURIER

Quebec's Premier Emerged From Craft Investigation With Dignity and Honor, Chieftain Declared at Montreal—Enemies Would Oust Him as Leader, Gouin Asserted.

MONTREAL, Feb. 22.—The opening of new quarters of the Montreal Reform Association on Saturday night was the occasion of speeches by Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Sir Lomer Gouin, premier of Quebec.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier declared that he proposed to keep on fighting and expressed the belief that if the people had a chance to mark their ballots now they would reverse the verdict of September, 1911. He avoided all reference to the National Transcontinental Railway or other political matters, but paid a high compliment to Sir Lomer for his conduct throughout the recent craft investigation, declaring that he had come out of it with dignity and honor, and that the Liberal party was more proud of him today than ever before.

Sir Wilfrid said that Canada was not so prosperous as it was two years ago. If the policy of commercial expansion of the Liberal party had been effected it would have been.

No Intention of Resigning.
"I shall be proud to lead you to success," he declared, "if the party continues to give me the leadership. But the moment the party desires someone younger than me at their head, I would be glad and happy to take my place as a private in the ranks of the Liberal party."

This statement was greeted with cries of dissent and loud applause. "You are dissenting to this," said Sir Wilfrid. "Then let me tell you that I have no thought of resigning."

FATE OF KARLUK IS UNKNOWN LATEST STEFANSSON MESSAGE TWENTY-FIVE MEN ON VESSEL

Explorer, Who Reached Fort Macpherson, Yukon Territory, on February Third, Reported Search Fruitless Thus Far—George Malloch, Ottawa, Among Scientists on Karluk.

Stefansson left the steamer in September to go over caribou. A blizzard drove the vessel out to sea. Natives report seeing the Karluk in October steaming east off Richards Island.

Dr. Anderson of the expedition is wintering at Collinson Point, 160 miles west of Richards Island, and is well provisioned. The trappers made the trip in seventeen days following the trail broken by the Dawson patrol, which took thirty days from Dawson to Macpherson.

Many Scientists Aboard.
On Dec. 8 last the marine department at Ottawa received a message from Stefansson in which he said that the Karluk had been carried away in the ice in October while he was ashore, but he expressed the opinion that the steamer was safe. The latest news, indicating that the steamer is still missing, will increase apprehension for the safety of those aboard.

The Karluk had twenty-five men aboard, including the following scientific members of the party: Dr. J. H. J. Jenness, Wellington, New Zealand, assistant anthropologist; Burt M. Wilkins of Montreal, photographer; B. M. McConnell, Los Angeles, Cal., assistant to Stefansson and mineralogist; Henri Beauchamp, anthropologist; A. H. S. Forbes, Mackay, Edinburgh, Scotland, surgeon; Bjarni Hansen, Christiania, Norway, assistant geologist; W. G. Mackenzie, Glasgow, Scotland, expert in terrestrial magnetism; James Murray, Glasgow, Scotland, oceanographer; George Malloch, Ottawa, chief geologist and topographer.

CABINET DEALING WITH REQUEST OF RAILWAY DEATH SENTENCE DELIVERED AT OPEN TRIAL

C. N. R.'s Formal Application for Loan of Thirty-Five Millions Understood to Have Been Made on Saturday—Measuring Strength of Insurgents.

(Special to The Toronto World)
OTTAWA, Feb. 22.—It is reported that there was laid before the cabinet yesterday the formal application of the Canadian Northern for a loan of thirty-five million dollars, and that the same was referred to a sub-committee, of which the finance minister is a member, for investigation and report. A brief is said to have accompanied the application which was also handed to the finance minister. No immediate decision is anticipated, but many believe that the government is impressed by the strong case made by the railway company.

The question of interest is the attitude of a small group of Conservative members of parliament, who at present are openly antagonistic. How numerous the group led by Mr. Bennett of Calgary is, is problematical. On both sides of the chamber is heard the same expression, namely, that a strong case must be made out if any further grant is expected. On the whole the feeling is more favorable than it was, but several Conservative members are still extremely bitter in their opinion.

As usual the actual introduction of any bill on the subject will no doubt be delayed till the dying days of the session.

NEW REPUBLIC BEING FORMED

Northern Mexico Will Secede, Says Persistent Rumor, Which is Given Credence.

CHIHUAHUA, Mexico, Feb. 22.—A plan for the formation in northern Mexico of a new republic, is now being perfected, according to persistent rumors which were in circulation here today.

Certain rebel leaders intimate that the delay of the Constitutionalist attack on Torreon is due to the scheme for the divorce of southern Mexico. While Gen. Carranza, chief head of the revolution, and Gen. Villa, the military leader, disclaim any part in a plan which does not include the overthrow of Huerta, it is believed by many here that the proposition for an independent republic is being seriously considered by them and others.

Melnike, brothers, were arrested by the Toronto police yesterday, and taken in charge by an American officer, who will take them across the border. Felix was arrested on Adelaide street by Detective Twigg Saturday evening, and Leopold, in Montreal, hearing his brother was in the toils, gave himself up to the Montreal police, who sent him on to Toronto. The offence is alleged to have been committed in Chicago five months ago.

GUNS AND AMMUNITION FOR GERMAN LEGATION
VERA CRUZ, Feb. 22.—The commander of the German cruiser Dresden last night shipped to the German legation in Mexico City two machine guns and 40,000 rounds of ammunition. Accompanying the shipment went a squad of bluejackets from the Dresden in civilian dress.

The detail of bluejackets on duty at the American consulate here, was withdrawn today and replaced by a guard of picked marines under the command of a sergeant. This step was taken after Gen. Gustavo Maas, commander of the federal forces here, had been notified and given his consent.

TRAIN DERAILED NO ONE INJURED

OTTAWA, Feb. 22.—The G. T. R. passenger train due in Ottawa at 7:18 Saturday evening jumped the track about four miles east of South Indian, Ont., thirty miles east of here, at 8:45 p.m., but no one of the 46 passengers and members of the train crew were injured beyond a slight shaking up. The spreading of a rail is said to have been the cause of the accident. All the four passenger coaches, baggage car and tender left the rails, the engine being the only part of the train remaining on.

Passengers state that the presence of mind of Engineer J. Kieckley of Montreal is responsible for the preventing of a disaster, as he was able to stop his train in a short distance and prevent the coaches from tumbling over.

MAKING SEARCH FOR THREE MEN

Americans Missing in Mexico May Be Rejected Recruits, is Villa's Suggestion.

EL PASO, Tex., Feb. 22.—In a telegram received today by the United States consul at Juarez, Thomas D. Edwards, Gen. Villa suggests that the Americans reported missing in Mexico may be included in a batch of American recruits which he says he has rejected and will send back to Juarez by the first troop train.

Villa's telegram says there are fifteen of the Americans who wished to join his forces, but whom he found unavailable. At present search is being made for Roger Lawrence, an Englishman who came here recently to visit Wm. S. Benton, who was killed by the rebels last Tuesday; Harry Compton of Oakland, Cal.; a New Mexico ranchman by the name of Curtis, said to have joined Lawrence in the search for Benton, and Gustav Bauch of New York, reported to have been taken to Chihuahua for further investigation on the charge of being a spy.

U.S. MUST AFFORD PROTECTION TO BRITONS LIVING IN MEXICO

London Papers, While Moderate in Reference to Benton Incident, Agree That United States Assumes Obligation—Some Warm Criticism of Waiting Policy Expressed.

LONDON, Feb. 22.—The London morning papers show no disposition to take hasty or extreme views on the execution by Gen. Francisco Villa at Juarez of William S. Benton, a British subject, but are in full agreement on the point that Great Britain looks to the United States Government for the protection of her subjects in Mexico.

The Daily Telegraph calls for suspension of judgment, pending the result of the investigation, which the Washington government has ordered, and adds that the position of the American Government is extremely difficult and embarrassing for, it continues, the president's decision to remove the embargo on the importation of arms has been followed by an incident which seems to show that whatever Huerta's crimes may be, his record is no worse than that of the men who pose as true supporters of "Constitutionalism in Mexico."

Should Suspend Judgment.
The Times in an editorial similarly counsels the suspension of judgment pending the American enquiry.

"After that," says the Times, "it will be time to take means to secure such satisfaction as the nature of the deed may demand. The American Government itself would despair of being capable for any consideration of overlooking the murder of a fellow citizen."

U.S. MUST AFFORD PROTECTION

(Continued From Page 1) citizen, and should the murder be confirmed it will expect us to require the same punishment for all responsible as the American Government would have exacted had Benton been an American citizen. The Times proceeds to protest against the view reported to be current in the United States that according to international law Great Britain's complaint lies against Huerta, not against President Wilson, and says: "It is true we have no legal ground for complaint against President Wilson, and have never dreamt of making such complaint. But to refer us to Huerta for a grave crime perpetrated by the chief rebel in arms against his government is one of those legal technicalities which border on cynicism." The Times declines to credit the report that the Washington Government still believes and will expect Great Britain to accept the defence of the "so-called execution." Holds United States Responsible. The Daily Graphic contends that the United States is responsible for Villa's good conduct, but that if it refuses to intervene to secure satisfaction, President Wilson must not complain if in self-defence Great Britain possibly other aggrieved powers, take their own measures for the protection of their interests in Mexico. The Standard deprecates magnifying the incident into a grave international question. It has no doubt that the United States will take proper steps and says that in any case the rebel in arms cannot plead the exigencies of martial law as an excuse for the murders.

Wholesale Butcher's Death

The body of a well-known wholesale butcher, was found on Saturday morning about seven o'clock on the Caledonia road near the foot of the Mountain View Hotel. It is thought that the horse which Mr. Hannah was driving had run away about 11 o'clock on Friday night, when he was returning to his home from Caledonia, where he had gone to purchase a herd of cattle. When found the body was half in and half out of the cutter, and was completely covered with the buffalo robe. It was frozen stiff. Several farmers on their way to the market passed by without even stopping to see what the trouble was, thinking that someone had met with an accident and had left the cutter standing on the roadside. Thomas J. Lines and his son George discovered the body at seven o'clock Saturday morning and notified the police here. The body was brought in by a horse-drawn hearse. The coroner will hold an inquest on the body at 11 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon.

The explosion caused a hole in the wall of the City Hospital and is in a serious condition.

Just one week ago today the home of J. E. Aspin, 11 Bellevue avenue, which is directly opposite the Staps home, was wrecked, and Aspin was seriously injured as a result of an explosion which occurred under practically the same circumstances. Aspin entered suit for damages against the Ontario Power Line Company and the city for negligence in the laying of their pipes.

Retirement of Chamberlain and Collings Opens New Battle Grounds

LONDON, Feb. 21.—With the retirement of the next general election of the Liberal Unionist and Collings, interest in the political situation in Birmingham has become acute. For years now the "Chamberlain clique" has dominated Birmingham and each succeeding election has seen a diminution in the Liberal poll in that city, once as Bright said "Liberalism in the sea is salt." The Liberal organization in Birmingham has become Chamberlain's state of health did not oppose him at the last general election, but they have been preparing for his fall for some time. Chamberlain has retired. They hardly anticipated that Mr. Collings, who has a hold on the voters only second to that of Mr. Chamberlain, would be so ready to indicate the feeling of many citizens on the subject, and suggest the wisdom of not running counter to that feeling without full consideration.

BRANTFORD'S WAR WITH GAS COMPANY

Mayor Says Prosecutions to Be Commenced Again — Many Complaints.

BRANTFORD, Feb. 22.—Mayor Spence yesterday declared another war on the Brantford Gas Company. "It's awful," his worship said. "People can't stand it, inside and outside." He said the gas company had failed to get the complaint registered. Furthermore, Mayor Spence stated that in regard to both the refuse and the purifying plant and the supply of sulphur thru the mains, prosecution would again be entered. It is thought that the capacity of the purifying plant has increased so that the present purifiers are not equal to the work and Mayor Spence believes that no expense should be spared where people's lives and health are at stake. In all likelihood the mayor will ask the city council for an expression of opinion at the meeting tomorrow night.

TREASURY REFORM NEEDS MORE TIME

Secretary of Civic Survey Committee Advises Mayor to Consider Well.

ASK SURVEY'S ADVICE

Street Opinion Declared to Be Strongly Against Council's Projected Action.

The civic survey committee and John I. Sutcliffe, secretary, feel that they are being overlooked in the proposed reorganization of the city treasurer's department. Mr. Sutcliffe on Saturday sent a letter to Mayor Hooker pointing out the desirability of taking plenty of time to consider the matter, and also the fact that the committee of 100 citizens had gone to the expense of having the survey made, the full report of which is expected this week. He points out also that the local bureau is in charge of a Canadian expert retained "to guide us in getting the full benefit of it." In stating that on the street and in the clubs," says Mr. Sutcliffe, "the opinion is freely expressed that the plan is extravagant and apparently influenced by a desire to favor certain persons and officials rather than to obtain better and more efficient service for the city, we do not wish to be understood as holding this opinion ourselves. We mention it merely to indicate the feeling of many citizens on the subject, and suggest the wisdom of not running counter to that feeling without full consideration." The city council will take the matter up today.

GREATER TORONTO MUST BE PLANNED

City Council Will Discuss Today Many Offered Channels of Growth.

METROPOLITAN COUNCIL

W. F. Maclean's Solution Will Be Among Those Debated by Aldermen.

Whether a Greater Toronto to be formed by annexations from time to time, or by a metropolitan county, has now become a live issue, and will be discussed by the city council today.

The board of control will recommend the annexation of the area between Ossington avenue and North Toronto, with Eglinton avenue the northern boundary; also that a special committee investigate and report upon the proposition of ex-Ald. May to establish police villages beyond the city limits, and have them come in under municipal local authority.

The transportation committee report that Ald. Wickett's proposal for a metropolitan area has been declared by the development of the city council.

There is now informally before the council a proposition by W. F. Maclean, M.P., to form a metropolitan county of the city and the townships of York, Etobicoke and Scarborough. The proposition is so framed that it has been received with every approval and much interest.

Mr. Maclean's proposition is to provide for a large area in a way to solve the problems of housing, taxation, unequal taxation, distribution of unearned increments and development of the immediate contributory territory.

Toronto housing congestion would be relieved thru a transportation system that would bring the city within half an hour's electric car ride of the centre of the city. People of much or little wealth could have homes of their own where soil, air and water were plentiful.

For taxation reform, Mr. Maclean proposes four grades of assessment in the metropolitan county. The highest would necessarily be upon property having all city conveniences, and the lowest would be on farms actually farmed.

Where Money Will Go. Dealing with the distribution of increased income, Mr. Maclean boldly proposes that one portion be applied to the reduction of the rates. His whole metropolitan county, and the other portion go to the provincial government for the benefit of institutions for the general welfare of the province.

The metropolitan county would have a large fringe of 25 miles, and would extend back about 10 miles. Its institution would make possible betterment of home life, increase of retail trade, and a more metropolitan atmosphere than any other city in the province.

Viewed from the standpoint of social betterment, the metropolitan county would be an ideal place for country clubs organized by all classes in the desire for outdoor recreation.

OBJECTS TO SCHOOL INSTRUCTION ABOUT GODS, DEVILS AND ANGELS

Social Democrat Speaker Presents Attitude of Churchmen, Who Advocate Religion in the Schools--Resolution Passed in Protest Against Dr. Seath's Proposed Plan.

This meeting protests against the scheme formulated by Dr. John Seath, superintendent of education, whereby religious doctrines will be taught to children attending public schools as part of the ordinary curriculum. The proposition is opposed to common sense and would tend to complicate the already difficult task of fitting the common children for after life. We are of the opinion the step was suggested by metaphysicians whose capacity will inevitably lead to confusion. We believe the proposition will be distasteful to the teachers and would further burden the children with matters that would be useless in after life. We hold that compulsory religious teaching is bad and not in the best interests of the citizens of the province and we are pledged to incite superintendents to such a susceptible age. The above is the sentiment expressed

It is expected that many people will be present at this convention.

Man From Red Deer Coined Striking Phrases in Advocating Free Trade.

OTTAWA, Feb. 22.--Dr. Michael Clark, M.P. for Red Deer, one of the most noted free traders in Canada, delivered a forceful address to the local Canadian Club Saturday, dealing with fiscal questions in their various phases.

The benefit of free trade on humanly brought on some of his most telling remarks, such as "lifting up the child of the pavement to be kissed by the sun" or when he denounced the folly and inhumanity of "gathering taxes from the ragged pants of the urchin urchin while being tender in the handling of the millionaire."

Having a tariff for revenue was scored as breaking every maxim of wise taxation.

Woodrow Wilson, the president of the United States, he compared to one having the reforming zeal of Cobden and the administrative ability of Sir Robert Peel, and said the tariff changes, both in Great Britain and the United States had begun with the primary needs of the masses. With word pictures of the property which followed in each case, he argued that neither country would ever likely go back to former fiscal conditions.

Flowers Add Last Touch to Neckwear

By MADGE MARVEL

SEE the simple bow of black tulle used for the neck finish for many blouses. It also appears on some of the fichus that are worn outside the gown as a finish where the surplice crosses. Embroidery on it is not difficult, and it is the thing that makes the best neckwear so very attractive. A few sprigs of conventionalized flowers on the edge of the collar and the yoke portion of the gumpie adds the touch that speaks volumes to the woman who appreciates the fine points of dress. I have seen several noticeably attractive fichus with yellow lace used with the white net. This is usually Val, and used as narrow frills to outline white insertion. The cream tulle lace collars are exquisite. Another practical dress transformation for the woman who counts cost is the adjustable tunic, which may be found ready-made or can be made at home at a reasonable cost and with very little knowledge of sewing. The one thing to remember in choosing the tunic is to have it appear as if it had a right to existence, and was not simply slipped on to make a show of smartness. Harmony is the one important thing to remember when you make over a frock or brighten one up, or when you plan a new one. It is the word that draws the line between style and dowdiness. There is a plain shade and goods to match almost all the embroidered fabrics, and I am assuming the coat of iron color will be a part of the most desirable summer frocks of lighter shades and fabric. There are new linens, too, but even they are not the same linen as once knew. They have taken on a supple softness which is due to silken threads and they appear in patterns, checks and stripes of different kinds. One of the crepes which I actually saw being purchased was of white with yellow daisies embroidered in solid effect. The coat was in the same shade of the daffodil and closely resembling ribbed velours.

Secrets of Health and Happiness

Sane Clothing Makes Tonic of Winter's Cold

By Dr. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG

A. B., M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins). Copyright, 1914, by L. K. Hirschberg.

SING of bare arms and snugly clothed men! Of the cold, not "colds," I must speak. The effect of extreme cold upon the human body plays a vitally important part with regard to health. Look about you and judge, even with your non-medical, common sense. Observe the sk, rard mount of sickness, incapacity, decreased earning power, defective physical and mental powers in these Borean days of lingering winter.

While this is true for robust individuals, who obtain the sleep of the just, the plain victuals of the Pythagorians it cannot be expected to hold for the decrepit, the half-starved, the Great White Wayites, the night owls and the aged. Cold calms the changing cheek, it cools the scorching vein, restores sanity to the maddened brain, tempers the vengeful steel and inspires to daring deeds. Cold is Anesthetic. Cold is, medically speaking, like love. It is like a dizziness that "rimma led a poor body gang about its business," if that business be bad for the "purb body."

Dr. Thomas Darlington, the former head of the New York department of health, has emphasized the fact that cold lowers your susceptibility to impressions. Even extreme degrees of cold character increase muscular adaptiveness. Curious to relate, cold actually generates heat in your living tissues. The freezing blasts which drive the blood from your skin really burn up food and tissue juices within you. It increases the chemical goings-on inside of you, and thus enhances your power to do and to dare and to hold. This temporary exposure to inordinate degrees of cold is anesthetic, removes pain and knits up the ragged sleeve of care by inducing sleep. Long years of physiological discretion, however, are necessary to decide just how little cold Jane may safely withstand. The pseudo-intelligence which tries cold first is like the old saw of "after meat the mustard, and after death the doctor." For stern winter loves a dire-like sound, and in this manner, to lock the stable door after the ass has gone, really makes severe inroads upon the health, stamina and vitality of any one not physically at par. Since there be few, indeed, who may, like Hercules, do what they may; since those earthy creatures who are 100 per cent. healthful are few and far between, an insane desire to go beyond the limits of frozen tissue elasticity can only result in catastrophes. Victims Are Many. The efficiency brought about by occasional wafts of Aurora blasts is soon metamorphosed to debility and inefficiency when feelings of cold and discomfort show themselves. The numbing effects of an icy atmosphere, the very dulling of the senses so sought when the sensation of pain or absent-mindedness indicates it, make for sluggish perception and slothful muscles. Cold winter, with the strength of its sunbeam, touches the flesh and the soul awakes. If heavy, clumsy, overpowered.

Answers to Health Questions

C. R.—What is Jaborandi hair tonic? Jaborandi tonic is made thus: Quinine sulphate.....20 grains The oil of castor.....2 fluid ounces Fluid extract of lobelia.....2 fluid ounces Rose water.....2 ounces Rosewater.....10 fluid ounces The quinine should be dissolved in the alcoholic liquids by warming slightly, then the other ingredients added, and the whole filtered. This is highly recommended by several first prize winners and beauty specialists for the scalp, but it is a very bad mixture, and has done lots of harm to the hair of beautiful women. Avoid it. B. S.—I have some boarders in my house who never clean their hair brushes, and they often use each other. What shall I do? Post a written sheet under each boarder's breakfast plate. Upon it write: "Baldness comes from the germs which hide in your neighbor's hair. Hair brushes are full of microbes." The hair brush is usually in need of cleansing once a week. Ammonia in water will cleanse the brush. Do not let the back of the brush get into the hair. When all of the dirt is removed rinse the bristles with clean water. Then place the brush, bristles down, to dry.

There is a plain shade and goods to match almost all the embroidered fabrics, and I am assuming the coat of iron color will be a part of the most desirable summer frocks of lighter shades and fabric. There are new linens, too, but even they are not the same linen as once knew. They have taken on a supple softness which is due to silken threads and they appear in patterns, checks and stripes of different kinds. One of the crepes which I actually saw being purchased was of white with yellow daisies embroidered in solid effect. The coat was in the same shade of the daffodil and closely resembling ribbed velours.

The young woman for whom the gown was intended was tall and dark with a clear complexion and hazel eyes with yellow lights. She hesitated between the duvetyne and the satin crepe, which is another new fabric which is quite like panne velvet in appearance.

Advice to Girls

By Annie Laurie
Love is the flower that grows along the pathway of life, the only flower that is worth the picking. Little girls never forget that for one minute if your particular little plant turns out to have more thorns than blossoms, that is your misfortune. But at least you stopped a moment when the dust lay thick in the road and smiled to see the flower springing there—
And, as long as you live, you will remember.
I saw her at the cemetery the other day, a little, withered, plain, old woman. She rose from the side of a low grave, and her eyes were like stars as she turned to go away.
I looked at the name on the simple headstone. "Thomas Riley, beloved husband of Mary." I wonder if he was worth it all—Thomas Riley—the love, the faith, the trust, the deep devotion in that tired little woman's face. But whether he was or not, her love for him was worth the joy it brought her.
Being loved is all well enough, little girl, but, dear me, it isn't a patch on loving.
Let the girl with the mean little mind and the starved little heart marry for money.
She wouldn't know what love was anyway. Money is all she'll ever get; let her have it—and be sorry for her.
You marry for love. If he's plain or if he's handsome, if he's clever or if he's stupid, you marry for love, and hear the silver chimes ring in your happy heart, even if they only ring a little while, and then are mute forever.
They say in Ireland that you can tell those who have ever met a fairy face to face. There's a look about them, a something in the eye. So it is with those who love or who have ever loved. I believe I can tell them even when I pass them in the street—those who love or who ever have loved. There's a look about them—something in the eyes. Don't go down to your grave, little girl, without that look about you.
Marry for love and for love alone, if you have to live in one room and wear cotton stockings the rest of your life to do it.

The Winning Power of a Smile

By Jeannette Young Norton
It is the "cheery man with a smile that gets the job every time," it is said, so young woman take notice and smile on your would-be employer. Sell into the office with head and shoulders erect, simply and suitably dressed, impressing the fact that you are energetic, ambitious, capable, with time enough for business and none for nonsense, and really want the job. Two to one you will get it.
After you get the job, young woman, remember that the habit of punctuality is invaluable, and the unflinching conscientiousness about keeping appointments will endear you to all of your business friends.
If yours is outside work, do not fail to keep in touch with the office, so, though out of sight, you may be reached. Above all, do not please friends to get a day off; rather say you are going to a funeral, a fight or a wedding instead, as nothing so queers a employer as to see that a helper is always ill. Smile as impartially from the office boy

Queer Creatures on Land and Sea

Why a Flounder Is Flat
FLOUNDERS are not born flat. Mother Flounder lays her eggs way out at sea. The tide carries them on the surface of the water toward the coast. As the eggs drift they develop, and by and by all the eggs that have not been gobbled down by hungry fish hunters hatch out baby flounders.
At first Baby Flounder is only an ordinary little fish, swimming upright like other fishes. Soon after he is born he drops to the bottom of the ocean. When he is two years old he is about six inches long, but when he is three years his size doubles and becomes a foot in length. At four years of age Baby Flounder has become a full grown fish of some 14 or 20 inches.
Meanwhile a wonderful change has been taking place. Gradually Baby Flounder has grown thinner and thinner, and very, very broad, until at last he is no longer vertical, but flat as a pancake. Moreover, his eyes, which were on either side of his head like any normal little fish, have been travelling! They are now both on the top of his head in line with each other.
Besides this, Mr. Flounder has wholly changed color. The upper part of him has become of a sand tint like the mud in which he lives, and the under part of him, where no light ever reaches, has grown to be a dull, creamy white.
Nature never does anything without a reason—not even a flounder. Bit by bit she has been fitting Mr. Flounder to live as the bottom of the sea—to slide over the mud easily, to detect his prey as it darts over his head and to hunt for his food without being seen.
Desirable.

"Well, he can draw a fine crowd when working on the street."
Disproven.
"No."
"No, indeed. When the commanding general says for the war correspondent to go, the writer goes."

Sayings of Children

Willie—Grandpa, tell me a story.
Grandpa—Once upon a time, before people thought of marrying for money—
Willie—Oh, I don't mean a fairy story.
Bobby—Oh, mummy, I didn't behave at all, I was quite good!

Daddy's Good Night Story

By GEORGE HENRY SMITH
"WHAT'S the matter with you?" asked Brer Rabbit of Mister Squirrel. "My wife won't tell me a secret I want to know and I am very sad."
"Ha! ha!" laughed Brer Rabbit. "I'll tell you what to do. My wife put my hand in water one night. She thought I was asleep, but I wasn't. I told her a lot of things."
"That's a good idea," said Mister Squirrel. "When my wife goes to sleep tonight I'll put her hand in water and she will tell me where she put my pipe."
"She hid it because she thought I set the house on fire. Good-by," and away scampered Mister Squirrel.
That night, when all was quiet and Mrs. Squirrel was asleep (as her husband thought), he put her hand in water and she began to talk:
"What a dear, dear husband I have. He is so good and kind to me. I don't know what I would do without him."
"Where's my pipe?"
"The boys hid it," said Mister Squirrel.
That was all she said, and Mister Squirrel went to sleep without learning where his pipe was.
The next day Mrs. Squirrel met Mrs. Rabbit. "I am very much obliged to you for telling me about Brer Rabbit putting your hand in water. Mr. Squirrel did that to me last night."
"What did you tell him?"
"I told him he was the dearest, sweetest husband in the world."
"That's good," laughed Mrs. Rabbit. "People like pleasant things told them, but they don't like to hear what is disagreeable."

MONDAY MORNING, FEB. 23.

MEDELSON CHOR A CIVIC ASSET.

A good deal of misunderstanding appears to have arisen in the minds of some city economists and some city taxpayers over the proposed grant of $10,000 towards the tour of the Mendelson Chor next year in Great Britain, Germany, France and Holland.

Extended public hearings were held, and considerable testimony taken from farmers, commercial travelers, bankers, manufacturers, postmasters and others. The company proposed that the trains discontinued had not been profitable, but the annual loss was comparatively small.

While the Liberal Government of the United Kingdom has lost thirteen seats since the general election of December, 1910, counting twenty-six on a division, the fact and its importance may be given an exaggerated importance. To begin with, several of these defeats were due to the intervention of Labor candidates supporting the leading members proposed by the cabinet.

When the character of the legislation proposed by the Liberal Government is kept in mind the matter of surprise is not that seats should have been lost but that there have not been more of them. During its tenure of office, now exceeding eight years, the Liberal policies have antagonized to an extent unparalleled for generations, the conservative opinion of the country.

organized and divided condition of the opposition and its lack of any really constructive policy. This is not so much felt in isolated elections as at a time of general appeal to the constituencies, which always brings with it a readjustment of the party ranks.

Solution of Port Nelson Problem is Put Forward by John Taylor of Hamilton, Who Disagrees With Former Correspondent—Arguments for Port Churchill Discounted

John Taylor has written to The World from Hamilton, advancing arguments for the choice of Port Nelson as the terminal point of the Hudson Bay Railway. His letter is an answer to that of J. W. Tyrell, published last week. After declaring his confidence in Mr. Tyrell's disinterestedness and putting forward his claims to knowledge of the subject, he says in part:

"The work of constructing harbors and docks is necessarily from the very nature of the undertaking arduous and discouraging, and this is particularly the case in such a location as Hudson Bay. Mr. Tyrell states that the entrance to Port Churchill has 3 fathoms of water. He omits, however, to state that immediately inside the entrance where steamers would lie, it rapidly shoals, and that the area available immediately inside the entrance is not enough for steamers, does not give space enough for more than three small vessels of a draft not exceeding 20 feet to lie. Even at that they have to lie close together, right in the entrance fairway, in a heavy current partly exposed to easterly winds from the bay. A vessel not being able to anchor can just get into shelter behind the south head of the entrance, but the space is cramped and would not allow more than two or three vessels of moderate size of this draft to swing at anchor.

"Shallow and Rock-bound. "It is one thing to steam into Port Churchill and quite another to find room there. When one first visits Port Churchill one is struck by the water inside the entrance heads is impressive, especially at high tide, but when the tide falls and especially if soundings are taken, the water in most of the area is very shallow and strewn with rocks, except the space in the entrance immediately inside the side where the channel is dredged out through the restricted entrance by the heavy current between the heads. This current reaches 6 miles per hour during ebbspring tides and the water mentions 't on account of the fact that a similar current at Port Nelson is used as an argument for the similarity of the two places in this respect.

"For Townsite Facilities. "To build docks at Port Churchill of any magnitude, very expensive underwater rock excavation would be necessary to give satisfactory depth of water. The surrounding country is formed of a hard class of rock, which would be very expensive to excavate in this locality, particularly under water. There is no suitable townsite or railway terminal as the ground is high and rocky and to the water edge except in a few small spaces.

"The site for a town on the east side is better, but very remote, and a considerable distance upstream from the deep water inside the entrance. It is well known that the space really available for railway terminals has been carried by an enterprising real estate speculator, who doubtless heads the opposition to Port Nelson Channel.

"The channel at Port Nelson is almost perfectly straight down the centre of the estuary, and is at least three thousand feet wide and runs from 25 to 30 feet deep at low tide. All that it requires to make it perfectly safe is a simple system of light vessels. Any light ship off the entrance and half a dozen large gas buoys placed along the channel would be enough to mark it off right up to the proposed side of the harbor. The channel itself will require no dredging for vessels of the draught that are likely to frequent the port, and permanent lights on a pier master similar to that which is placed in the centre of the Niagara River opposite Buffalo might be placed there.

"The mud flats Mr. Tyrell speaks of really form natural breakwaters, which prevent seas of any consequence from being driven up the estuary by easterly winds, and at low tide the seas are broken up entirely by the flats. Compared to other places, the Port Nelson channel is as straight as a string.

"Buoy are Needed. "The initial cost is so far exceeded by the lack of a proper system of carefully placed buoys, and not to any inherent defects in the channel itself. Any navigating officer in his senses would never attempt to bring a vessel of any size up the St. Lawrence River before spring. This, unfortunately, had at first to be done at Port Nelson, and has not even yet been properly attended to, so far as the writer is aware, from reliable information.

"The plea itself is not to blame for this omission, but the consequence might be to vessels have been used as an argument against the port, and its ultimate usefulness by parties interested and only too anxious to do anything against the port. A very vital error was Shallow and Rock-bound.

"The townsite of Port Nelson is good but will require dredging to a considerable extent, as is common in most of the country in the district. The material to be dredged is clay and mud, and the hydraulic dredge Port Nelson, which is used there by the government, should easily handle the excavation necessary. The wharves at Port Nelson can be built of piling driven in the clay, and thus more economically than at Churchill, where a rock bottom obtains.

"Sixty miles additional rail would be required for something in the nature of a railway main, both from the initial capital expenditure and cost of operation viewpoints, and this stands to the credit side of the Port Nelson ledger. Also, every mile south one can get on Hudson Bay the climate is necessarily more favorable than in the northern part of the country. The distance between the two places gives Port Nelson a considerable advantage on that account.

"As far as the open navigation season is concerned, that in any case is, as is well known, for practical purposes other than local navigation on the bay, controlled by the open season on Hudson Straits, which is the Hudson Bay. As a matter of fact, the world is concerned, and applies equally to all places therein. The writer came to Port Nelson in November, 1912, and saw no ice, and could sit with comfort on deck. That, of course, was no doubt unusual, but it shows what a difference there may be in the winter's opinion it will take several years to equip the whole route with proper navigation signals of all kinds, and until then there must exist a distinct element of danger. This can no doubt, with experience, be reduced to a point which will make the route comparatively safe and render it a commercial success, but like the conquest of the air, it is likely to be expensive in the human sense, if the maximum of safety is not realized officially and the proper precautions taken to light and otherwise mark the route before the port is open for traffic.

"Yours faithfully, "Jocobus Taylor, "Member of American Society of Civil Engineers, and member of Canadian Society Civil Engineers."

CRISIS IN MEXICO DEPRESSED STOCKS

CASH LOSS BY BANKS

Exportation of Gold to France Indicated Financial Stress There.

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.

The latest development in Mexico caused unrest in the stock market for a time today. The reported execution of a British subject and the possibility of resultant international complications caused American stocks sharply to fall in the London market before the opening here.

The bears attempted to break the market but made no headway after the opening decline. Several months ago the Mexican situation figured prominently as a factor in the stock market.

BRISK IN INDUSTRIALS

Bullish operations among the industrial specialties were checked abruptly by a severe break in some of these stocks. General Motors and American Ice were especially heavy.

BRISK TRADING IN DETROIT RAILWAY

Stock Sold at Top Price for Recent Movement - Toronto Rails Lower.

MONTREAL, Feb. 21.—With the exception of Detroit Railway, which was actively traded in during the first hour, the local stock market did not have the characteristics which prevailed on Thursday and Friday.

The opening was generally lower, on weakness in London, and considering the recent advances the steady tone of the market was favorable.

Power and Laurentide were in good demand at earlier prices. The former opened 3-4 lower at 228 1-2.

Toronto Railway, which featured Friday's market with activity and advance of 2 points, opened 1-8 lower at 144 1-2.
