VACANCY IN CENTRE TORONTO.

Two Well-Known Men Talked About a Possible Conservative Candidate.

The World yesterday heard a good deal of talk as to who would run in the Conservative interests in Centre Toronto.

One name very favorably mentioned was Mr. A. E. Kemp of the Kemp Manufacturing Co.

who is a young man of progressive ideas and well known all over Toronto as a good business man and an extensive employer of labor.

Another name favorably mentioned was that of Mr. Charles Cockburn of the Charles Cockburn & Co. Front-street west.

No Traits in It. It has been stated that Mr. Lount was to go on the bench. This suggestion, it appears, was without foundation.

Mr. Laurier wired the following message to the Globe yesterday: "I did not know of Mr. Lount's resignation until it was notified to me by the Clerk of the Crown in Chancery.

There is not the slightest doubt in my mind that Mr. Lount has been dismissed a judge. No such promise has ever been made. Wilfrid Laurier."

THE CASE IS CLOSED.

The court was asked to hear another motion, the Justices rose and retired to their chambers.

THE BEAVER LINE CONTRACT.

None But Purely Local Freight Will be Landed at Halifax—The Quebec Educational Bill.

Montreal, Nov. 8.—(Special)—Mr. D. W. Campbell of the Beaver Line was asked to-day if the steamers would land any freight at Halifax.

"Well, no," he said, "we will take all our freight from St. John, N. B., and call at Halifax to take on the mails. When returning we will land the mails at the same port, and also any purely local freight we may have."

"Have you made arrangements for new boats yet?"

"Yes, we will have the Gallia during the winter. We will arrange to have additional summer boats as soon as we need them, which I suppose will be in the spring."

"Is not the Gallia a passenger boat, purely?"

"She has a very large passenger accommodation, indeed, but as we will not require it all, we will arrange so that we may be able to carry freight instead. We are looking forward to a great increase in the freights from St. John. This scheme of the Government is loyal one, and I think will be supported not only for that reason, but because we are going to give an efficient service. I hope to see a great quantity of freight sent through the United States."

The Educational Bill.

The Local Government's educational bill is now in the hands of the printer and your correspondent has a certain amount of advance information in regard to its main features.

There are some of its provisions which are probable, and it is almost certain that some additions will be made as the result of an interview had with members of the Cabinet by the Rev. Dr. Shaw and others, representing the Protestant Committee of the Council of Public Instruction.

The Educational Department is to be placed by the bill in question under the control of a responsible Minister, and it is admitted in Ministerial circles that this Minister will be the Hon. Mr. Robt. Dwyer.

There will still be a Council of Public Instruction, divided into Protestant and Roman Catholic sections, but this will be rather advisory than executive, and the Government will retain the distribution of public money for educational purposes in its own hands.

Among the more interesting of the amendments to be made to the present school law is one to enable school funds to be used to hire conveyances to carry scholars to central points, in order to strengthen certain schools, and to provide that in such cases municipalities may be extended beyond the five-mile limit.

JAMES DOBELL FOUND GUILTY

of Shooting With Intent at Bailiff Anderson—Shaw Dying of Consumption at the Jail.

The story of a bailiff's raid and a shooting case resulting therefrom, was told in the Criminal Assize Court yesterday when James Dobell was put on trial charged with shooting with intent at Bailiff Anderson.

The trouble occurred in the Ontario Chambers Building, Church-street, where Dobell and a friend, Alexander Shaw, roomed. According to Anderson and James Telfer, the trial, but Dobell denied the charge for real. They knuckled at the door, but Dobell denied the charge for real.

Shortly after the door opened, two men went out, and Anderson made a dash. He got one of his fingers and then commenced a scuffle. According to the bailiff, Dobell called to Shaw, told him to get the revolver and shoot. The revolver certainly went off, and something fell, and Dobell's fingers were stained with powder.

Dobell's Version. Dobell's version is that the bailiff tried to force an entrance into his room. They did not tell him who they were or what they wanted, in which particulars he was corroborated by the bailiff. He grasped the door handle and tried to force his way into the room, while Telfer pushed in from the other side.

Then Dobell called to Shaw to get the revolver and smash his fingers. Shaw did so and at the second blow the gun went off, the bullet going through the wall. The prisoner was defended by Barrister Francis Greig, who laid great stress upon the fact that Dobell owed no rent whatever, and that the bailiff had no warrant. His Lordship held that Dobell would have the right to defend his room, and as the latter, without apparent authority or warrant, was attempting to force his way into his private room.

Shaw Dying of Consumption.

Alexander Shaw, who was alleged to have done the shooting, was not called, as he is dying in the jail hospital of consumption. He was the healthiest man in the jail, and against the prisoner, pointing out that although the bailiff had no warrant, he was within in breaking open the door, he was within his rights to force his way into the room where the door was open. His Lordship dismissed as idle an excuse that Dobell did not know that Anderson was a bailiff. The jury found Dobell guilty.

Count Murder Case To-day.

The court will reopen this morning at 9 a.m. when James Hutton, charged with the murder of William Guldensuppe, will be put in the dock. The defence in this case is that the girl, Mrs. Lynd and Spence, and so confessed to the crime. The Crown claims that Ryan, finding the girl, Miss Guldensuppe, was in trouble, purchased the drug, consisting principally of strychnine, and caused it to be administered to the girl, died in the Ryan house.

The grand jury considered the Bessey charge yesterday, but had not finished the case when they adjourned.

THORN'S TRIAL BEGUN.

The Alleged Murderer of William Guldensuppe Before a Judge and Jury at Long Island City.

Long Island City, N. Y., Nov. 8.—The trial of Martin Thorn, indicted for the murder of William Guldensuppe, a Turkish bath attendant, who disappeared last June, was begun in the criminal court of the Supreme Court this morning.

Judge Wilmot M. Smith presiding. Although Thorn and Mrs. Mack, the supposed partner in the crime, were jointly indicted by the grand jury of Queens County, it was decided that they should be tried separately. Thorn's trial was adjourned set down for Oct. 18, was adjourned until to-day, on application of Howe & Hummel, Thorn's counsel, to enable them to produce a witness named Peterson, who had seen Guldensuppe in Germany. Peterson has as yet failed to appear.

The entire day was taken up in securing a jury. The twelfth man was accepted at 9 o'clock, and court adjourned until to-morrow morning, when the trial proper will begin.

MR. JOHN I. HOBSON IS BACK.

Talks Interestingly to The World About the Prospects of the Cattle Trade With Britain.

Mr. John I. Hobson of Guelph, President of the Dominion Cattle Breeders' Association, and also of the Winter Live Stock Show, has just returned from a prolonged visit to England and Scotland, whether he was accompanied by Mrs. Hobson. As Mr. Hobson is one of the leading farmers and stock breeders in the country, and has brought back a lot of interesting information to the Canadian public, the World yesterday took advantage of the opportunity to interview him at the house of his brother at 43 Wood-street.

"Have you desired to reserve much of the information he gained for the annual meeting of the associations which are interestingly to acribe for a few minutes."

"I took in Scotland in a general way with particular attention to the stock farm of William Duffie, upon whose farms and those immediately adjoining most of the short-horn Canadian Breeding stock, and in London he spent 10 days and in Glasgow and Liverpool a short time. He attended the thoroughbred sheep show at Kelso, where some animals went as high as $3,000 each, and he saw a lot of the best of the information he gained for the annual meeting of the associations which are interestingly to acribe for a few minutes."

Canada's Meat Trade.

Asked as to the possibilities of Canada's meat trade with the Old Lands, Mr. Hobson said that the future of the trade would depend upon the care and attention devoted to the production of better class stock, and to the trouble taken to place it on the market in the best possible shape.

Mr. William Cooper, chairman of the Metropolitan Meat Market Association, and your correspondent has a certain amount of advance information in regard to its main features.

There are some of its provisions which are probable, and it is almost certain that some additions will be made as the result of an interview had with members of the Cabinet by the Rev. Dr. Shaw and others, representing the Protestant Committee of the Council of Public Instruction.

GOULD'S ALLEGED FIRST WIFE.

Mrs. Angell Wants to Discontinue the Action, But the Court Orders Her to Proceed.

New York, Nov. 8.—W. E. Ward, counsel for Mrs. Angell, who claimed to be the first wife of Jay Gould, appeared before Justice Beach in the Supreme Court to-day, and asked the Judge to make an order dismissing the complaint and giving him leave to discontinue the action. He said he was thoroughly convinced that there was no foundation for this action, and he made this motion for the reason that, having commenced the action voluntarily and made the charges, he thought it was no more than justice to the defendants to this suit that he should be allowed to discontinue the action.

Attorney R. S. Ward, for the Gould heirs, opposed the motion, on the ground that there should be a legal termination of the suit and plaintiff stopped from further proceedings.

The Justice directed an order to be entered, denying the motion to dismiss, and allowed that by another order providing that the action should be proceeded on the merits, and that the first Monday in December, and that personal service of this order be made upon the plaintiff in the action.

An Almonte Barrister Met With a Fatal Accident in the Woods.

Almonte, Ont., Nov. 8.—D. M. Frasse, barrister, and proprietor of a large knitting mill, was fatally shot on Saturday.

Frasse, having shot at a deer, which disappeared, got upon a log to be able to see farther, standing his gun in the log with his hand on the trigger. The gun slipped off and the hammer, striking against the side of the log, discharged the ball, which passed through his arm near the elbow, shattering the bone.

After the accident Mr. Frasse walked nearly half a mile, to where Mr. A. Loggie of Hamilton was placed. Mr. Loggie then took him to a house across the lake, where medical aid was sent for.

Nothing more serious was thought of than, perhaps, the loss of the arm. When the doctor arrived, upon opening the bandages to examine the wound, Mr. Frasse fainted, and died in a few moments from heart failure.

He was 37 years of age and leaves a widow and four small children, a widowed mother and a sister.

He was a prominent Liberal in politics, and contested North Lanark against Joseph Jamieson in the Dominion elections of 1891.

AWFUL STORIES FROM CUBA

Extermination of Patriots Likely to Be Accomplished.

STARVATION IS DOING IT.

Physicians of Havana Are Forbidden to Give That as a Cause of Death.

Blame Weyler's Proclamation Driving the People into the Towns Half the Rural Population of Western Cuba Has Died

Photographs of Starving Children Tell Horrible Tales That Could Not Be Put into Words—Graveyards and Hospitals Full.

New York, Nov. 8.—A special to The World from Havana says: Weyler has gone, but his purpose to "exterminate the breed" of Cuban patriots is being fulfilled.

Starvation is killing the "Concentrados" by tens of thousands. Hunger is doing what Spain's two hundred thousand soldiers cannot accomplish. Old men and children, the weak, the old, are dying like sheep; the rural population "concentrated" in the towns has filled the graveyards, and its dead now lie unburied.

The frightful sufferings of those who survive cry out to the mercy of the civilized world.

The physicians of Havana are now forbidden to give starvation ("inanition") as a cause of death. Women and children starve; the reports of their deaths are falsified.

Blame on the streets.

A correspondent in the town of San Domingo writes in The Diario de las Noticias: "A multitude of sick folk, dying upon the garbage in the streets here, and there they lie until, after having served an ignominious spectacle for several hours, they are collected and hauled away in the ox-carts used for garbage to the dumping ground, where they rot there only in this unseemly manner. The church cemeteries are full. So many of these dead bodies are thrown into the fields, to be eaten by the birds and dogs."

The birds of which this correspondent writes are vultures. The vultures are gorged; the dogs eat no more.

Both the newspapers which supported General Weyler and those who opposed him are now forced to tell half the truth about the starting point. Here are some whole truths that are undeniable:

Since General Weyler's proclamation driving the country people into the towns was issued half the rural population of Western Cuba has died. Half of those who survive are so weak and emaciated that the flickering spark of life in them will surely be extinguished soon.

They cannot survive, although Blanco, the new Governor-General, has ordered that service rationals be issued to them—rationals such as the soldiers get.

Half of the survivors of the "Concentrados" are dead. The assistant Mayor of Havana says that there are 15,000 "Concentrados" in this city.

Razged, thin and starving, these people are huddled in the public buildings.

Hospitals full as graveyards.

There and in the archways of houses they sleep by day, only to be driven by hunger to beg at night. The hospitals here are as full as the graveyards.

Certainly not more than 90 per cent of the deaths among the "Concentrados" in this city are reported. But from these official figures it is easily learned that the death rate among the children in hospitals and public buildings is 90 per cent, among the adults 50 per cent. And the death rate in the smaller cities and towns, where no meat is received from the civil and military authorities at their respective places of residence, which they will designate, and which will be commensurate to the number of their respective places of residence outside the principal towns they will be advised of the necessity of residing within the military zone of civilization. The military authorities will be careful not to invade the jurisdiction of the civil authorities. They therefore, those pardoned cannot change their residence without obtaining the permission of both civil and military authorities.
