IN RUSSIA

Although the news from Russia is of the most ominous character, there should still be ground for hope that a revolution may be averted. Defiant as the members of the lower house may be, they must recognize the force of this paragraph from the speech of Premier Goremykin: "With reference to the solution of the agrarian question by the transfer of the crown appanages and monasteries and church lands, and by the forcible expropriation of private and landed property, which includes the private property of peasants, the council of ministers holds to be its duty to declare that such a method is wholly inadmissible. The government cannot deprive any party of its possessions in order to bestow them on another. To contest the right of the private possession of land would, in fact, be to contest the right to possess any private property at all. Throughout the world, and in all grades of the development of civil life, the inviolability of property constitutes the corner stone of the welfare of the people and the fundamental basis of the life of the state. The resources still at the disposal of the state and the wide application of legal methods will doubtless help to find a successful solution of the agrarian question without undermining the powers of the fatherland."

Only an anarchist would deny the force of this statement. The situation at present is that the lower house demands too much, and the government offers too little. There is room for compromise, and despite the activity of the bomb-throwers further negotiations may result in a working agreement. There is, of course, the danger that passion and prejudice may overcome reason, but the great body of the people will surely shrink from the horrors a revolution would inflict upon the country.

EXPOSING STANDARD OIL

The Standard Oil Co. is on the rack in Ohio. Six specific attacks are being made upon it by the interstate commerce commission and the state. It is also said that independent dealers are opening damage suits against the Standard Oil Co. aggregating $50,000,000, for having obtained oil by fraudulent contracts, and that they will use information gathered by the Interstate Commerce Commission and Commissioner of Corporations Garfield as a basis.

The interstate commerce commission began its hearing in Cleveland last Thursday. Already, as a result of publicity, one railway has quoted rates to independent oil dealers which were before given exclusively to the Standard Oil Co. Evidence given on Thursday showed that heretofore the latter company absolutely controlled the railways. The railways raised the rates on competing companies, side-tracked or postponed their cars, refused to purchase any lubricating oil from them, and all in the interests of Standard Oil. A report of Thursday's proceedings states that "The entire gamut of the investigation—railroad discrimination, lawless crushing of competition, corruption in enforcing the inspection laws and the workings of the railroad-standard oil alliance—was touched upon by four witnesses in a manner which the prosecution declared to be highly satisfactory."

"Witnesses have been subpoenaed from whom it is expected to secure information that of every message which, even remotely, concerned the Standard Oil Co., or the business of any of its competitors, going over the lines of one of the big telegraph companies of the country, a verbatim copy was sent to the Standard Oil office at No. 20 Broadway, New York city, where a staff of men was maintained to tabulate the information. It is said that the information so received concerning business conditions all over the country, and concerning more especially the private business of its competitors, was laid before the executive committee of the Standard Oil Co. every morning."

These revelations do not surprise the public. It has been common knowledge for years that the Standard Oil Co. prospered by iniquitous methods. But it is important to have the facts brought out in such a manner and by such agencies as may lead to reform and some measure of retribution.

REMARKABLE DISCOVERY

A remarkable story comes from Toledo, Ohio, telling of the efficacy of the surgeon's knife as an instrument of moral reform in certain cases. We quote: "Convinced by the famous operation on Harold Hurley some weeks ago that physical conditions are largely responsible for the acts of children, the probation officers of the juvenile court have entered on another delicate experiment. The subject of the present operation is ten-year-old Joseph Skoff. Little Joe is incorrigible. After the bone was removed from the brain of Harold Hurley and it was positively seen that his character was transformed from that of a degenerate to a good, loving boy, Joe was sent to the Toledo Medical College for an examination. This revealed a diseased condition of the membranes of the head, which was affecting the brain. An operation was commenced and already much of the diseased membranes has been removed. The vicious traits of character are slowly leaving the lad, and surgeons are confident that complete cure, such as resulted in the case of young Hurley, will reward their efforts in this case."

A Washington despatch says: "Long delayed and vexed questions between the United States and Great Britain arising from boundary and fisheries disputes and claims of all character were the subject of a conference this week, between the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations and Secretary Root. It developed that it is very unlikely that the Joint High Commission will ever be convened again for the settlement of disputes concerning our relations with Canada, and Secretary Root suggested that he should proceed through diplomatic negotiations to have the various claims adjusted, and to this the Foreign Relations Committee agreed."

Of the spruce market in Liverpool the Timber Trades Journal of May 12th says: "The spruce market keeps firm at the late rate going round the coast, and we may say that prices here still keep their stiff position. The consumption is still going on at its normal rate, with the result that the stocks here and in Manchester are running down to a low ebb. Buyers in the country may be reluctant to pay the prices demanded by the wholesale dealers here, but from all we can see they will have to 'acknowledge the corn!'"

The Illinois Manufacturers Association has begun a rebate suit against the Chicago Telephone Co., in which over $1,000,000 is involved. Evidence showed that subscribers paid $175 a year for a service because they were ignorant of the ordinance upon which the proceedings are based and which prohibits a change in excess of $125 a year. They now seek to recover the amounts overcharged, which aggregate a million.

The weather in this province, at least in the southern portion, continues to be unseasonable and backward, retarding the operations of the farmers. From Ontario comes word of a probably reduced yield of grain, due to the same cause, and even in the northwest the spring weather has not been as favorable to crops as usual. The crop-killer on the produce exchange will now get busy.

A "royal bull fight" will be one of the features of the festivities connected with the marriage of King Alfonso and Princess Ena. If the bulls should kill one or two of their tormentors there would also be a funeral, to add to the joy of the occasion.

Some of the despatches intimate that the "open door in Manchuria is obviously an open door for the enterprising merchants of Japan. Europe and America will not reach a concession that does not promise a profitable extension of trade."

The federal grand jury at Nashville, Tennessee, has rendered its verdict against eighty persons connected with an alleged fertilizer trust. This must be a particularly malodorous affair.

Chairman Shonta of the Panama canal commission says that a lock canal could be completed by July 1st, 1914. The sea-level canal bill is now before the United States senate.

We are approaching the first of June, and the work of laying the water pipe along the Marsh road, has not yet been begun. When will the waterworks extension be completed?

Will another week pass without a decision regarding the new steamship berth on the west side of the harbor?

Singularly enough, the "Arctic" discussion in parliament developed considerable heat.

A JOKE ON THE SPEAKER

The Springfield Republican tells of a joke that was played the other day on Speaker Cannon, of the U. S. House of Representatives. When the speaker sat down at his desk he found a slip of paper asking him to call up number second so on the phone. He did as requested, saying, "Do you want me?" "I don't know," came back the answer. "Well, I haven't time to be fooling around here; do you want me?" insisted the speaker. "Who are you anyway?" "This is the government hospital for the insane," was the reply. "If you think you ought to be here, why come along."

THE DIVER

(By Lily A. Long.)
I have plunged into life, O God,
He a diver into the sea,
Knowing and heeding naught
Save thine old command to me
To go and seek for thy pearl,
Hidden wherever it be.

And the waters are in my eye;
They clutch at my straining breath;
They beat in my ears; yet, "Seek!"
My heart still whispers:
And I grope, and forbear to call
On the easy rescuer, Death.

For thy pearl must be here in the sands,
If ever a warrant there be
For that old command of thine
To plunge into life and see.
So I search, for I trust in thy truth,
O thou Lord of the Truth, and of me.
—From Harper's Magazine (May).

THEN SHE WROTE.

Mrs. Youngwood—"The other day you declared I talked almost continuously."
Youngwood—"Yes, so I did."
Mrs. Youngwood—"And last night you told the friend you brought home to dinner that I seldom said anything. Now, which statement is correct?"
Youngwood—"Both," Chicago News.

AN INDUCEMENT.

"Gracious!" exclaimed Mrs. Housekeep, "your five cents a box of those cheap berries? Why, they're such miserable little, half ripe things they'd be sure to give me indigestion!"
"But look at de size o' de box, lady," replied the huckster. "You don't get enough o' dem to do you no harm."

PROBE THE SCANDALS

(Toronto Globe.)
There must be no hesitation about turning the searchlight on any incident that shows the marks of wrongdoing. If the farming of the "Arctic" is proved to have been extravagant, as an extortionate cost, and in any way scandalous, those who planned it and profited by it are not friends of the Government, but enemies, and they have no claim to the slightest consideration. The same is true in the immigration affair. The facts of that miserable business are being brought to light before the proper tribunal, and if, when judgment is given, it is found that discredit has been done to the country or that the Government has been compromised, the men who were involved should be given short shrift. Any man, no matter who he may be, who takes advantage of his official position and betrays his public trust to gratify his own ambition or to serve his own gain—instant and unpenalised dismissal is the least of his deserts. The Government or the Liberal party is under no obligation, political or otherwise, to any man, and the sooner that rule is made known and acted on up to the hilt the better for the public service and the public life of Canada.

SCHURMAN FOR TORONTO

(Toronto Globe.)
Jacob Gould Schurman, President of Cornell University, who has been suggested as a most desirable head for the University of Toronto, has in his favor, in addition to his marked intellectual attainments, the fact that he is a Canadian. Professor Schurman was born at Free-town, Prince Edward Island, May 22, 1864. He was educated at Acadia College, Nova Scotia, and then at the Canadian Glendon scholarship in connection with the University of London. He captured the art degree in 1877 and 1878, and during the latter year studied at Paris and the University of Edinburgh, ataining the D. Sc. degree. He studied two years as Hilbert Fellow at Heidelberg, Berlin, and Göttingen, and in Italy. He is an LL. D. of Columbia University, 1892; Yale University, 1901, and University of Edinburgh, 1902. From 1880 to 1882 he was professor of English literature, political economy and psychology at Acadia College, afterwards being associated with Dalhousie College. In 1889 he was appointed by the president Chairman of the Philippine Commission and spent most of that year in the islands. He is the author of a number of scientific and quasi-religious volumes.

Defender of Port Arthur and Admiral Defeated by Japanese

General Stoesel Rear Admiral Nebogatoff

ST. PETERSBURG, May 25.—It is rumored that the military court which has been investigating the surrender of Port Arthur and the battle of the Sea of Japan has condemned to death Lieutenant-Colonel Stoesel, who commanded the Russian forces at Port Arthur, and Rear Admiral Nebogatoff, who commanded one of Admiral Rozhivsky's squadrons and who surrendered during the naval battle to the Japanese.

Since the surrender of Port Arthur Stoesel who served there have charged General Stoesel with unusual weakness in surrendering. After the death of General Kondratichko the defence is said to have been poorly conducted, and by the rendition of the fortress General Stoesel contributed materially to the success of the Japanese army in the north, as it released Gen. Nogai's army, permitting him to take part in the operations around Mukden.

When Port Arthur was surrendered there were thirty-one thousand efficient men in the fortress. The supply of ammunition was short, but it was not exhausted. Food was scarce, but private stores had not been requisitioned. It was the opinion of non-combatants at Port Arthur that the surrender was unnecessary, as the troops were able and willing to fight to the bitter end.

Rear Admiral Nebogatoff was much blamed for what was characterized as a disgraceful conclusion of a splendid defence.

Rear Admiral Nebogatoff has already been dismissed from the navy for surrendering to the Japanese in the battle of the Sea of Japan. He justified his action by saying that he wanted to save the lives of the two thousand sailors of his division.

Tokio, May 27.—It is reported that General Nogai has sent a cablegram asking Russia whether it is true that Lieut. General Stoesel, the defender of Port Arthur, had been sentenced to death for surrendering the fortress, adding that in his opinion the capitulation was justifiable.

Monsignor Bonomelli Bishop of Cremona Photographed at Rome

Mgr. Bonomelli, who was condemned by the Pope for acceptance of the separation law in France, in a sermon in the cathedral at Cremona, paid an eloquent tribute to the King and Queen of Italy and the Duke and Duchess of Aosta for their activity during the disasters caused by the eruption of Mount Vesuvius. He also warmly praised the heroism, self-sacrifice and acts of Christianity of the Italian army, which he presented to his hearers as an example that all should imitate.

DRY GOODS TRADE

Higher Prices for Wools, Linen and Jute in Old Country Markets.

Many grades of wool, notably merinos, sold at higher prices at the London auction. Results abroad have fully equalled anticipations. The quantity sold was slightly less than for the corresponding series last year. The total offered was 18,000 bales, against 165,300 in 1905. Prices closed firm, and 9,000 bales were carried over because of the high prices asked. Americans bought only 9,000 bales. Britishers taking 91,000, and the continent 57,000. Reports from the United States say that western producers are asking such extraordinarily high prices that business is moving slowly, manufacturers hesitating to pay the prices.

The rapid and persistent rise in the price of jute has created considerable excitement in the Dundee market. Spinners and manufacturers have all had to raise their limits considerably, with the result that business has been most difficult to negotiate. Rising prices in linen continue, but trade continues to improve. There is a much better demand for the better grades of linen, while the business in medium and lower material is well held. Belfast reports that five shillings and three pence a bundle is now freely paid for wets, but at the same time manufacturers are only covering for actual business on hand. Owing to the continued advance in price of flax factory, there is a growing tendency to fall back on union imitations as a substitute. The regular range of bleached unions promises to be a large item for fall trade.

Dundee reports that orders for linens are being received in increasing numbers, and for all goods that have to be made higher prices are insisted on. The export demand is brisk, especially for housekeeping goods, beddings and dress linens. Flax moves off quietly as spinners only pay the advanced rates now wanted for small parcels of assured quality to sort up their stocks.

Linen prices are from 10 to 17 per cent. higher than in September.

New York, May 26.—Miss Alice Johnson, the leading woman of "Mistakes Will Happen," is the author of a book entitled "One Night Stands I Have Met." The little volume is written in a humorous vein and treats of "The Local Manager."

Miss Alice Johnson

"The Village Bean," "The Orchestra," "One Night Stand Coffee," and "The Hotel Clerk." The volume is now in press. Miss Johnson should know whereof she writes, inasmuch as last season she appeared as the star of "The Marriage of Kitty" in 127 cities that barely escaped being omitted from the map.

FARMER AND MANUFACTURER (Montreal Gazette.)

Ontario farmers are complaining that farm labor is scarce, and that when it can be obtained the wages are so high as to practically absorb all the profits of the farm. This should enable the farmer to appreciate the position of the manufacturer.

NEED IMPERIAL TROOPS

PRETORIA, May 26.—The Natal force, which is attempting to deal with the rebellious Zulus, seems to be unable to perform the task. The difficulties of the country and the growth of disaffection will almost certainly compel Imperial help. The Imperial troops nearest the scene of trouble have been warned to be in readiness to take the field.

SOME WITTY RETORTS

(From the American Magazine.)

During the civil rights bill General Benjamin Butler favored a Sunday session. "Had as I am, I have some respect for God's day," replied Sam Randall of Texas.

"Don't the bible say that it is lawful to pull your eye out or cast out of a pit on the Sabbath?" asked Butler. "You have three more days to see you in a better world. You'll be there, as you are here, a member of the lowest class of the human race," replied Sam Randall of Texas.

During the bitter fight against "Red rules" the House was thrown into confusion by General Spaulding, who pointed to the painting of the "Siege of Yorktown," hanging in the hall, and asked Speaker or leader of counting the Hessians in the background of the picture in order to make up quorum. The General always wore a tremendously high collar, so high in fact that representative Tim Campbell tapped it one day with the ferrule of his cane and inquired to the amusement of the House, "Is General Spaulding within?"

One of the most famous of Reed's retorts was made at the expense of Springer of Illinois. The "Maine Giant" had just read one of Springer's own speeches in relation of the latter's argument, just concluded. "The Illinoisian launched into philippics upon the privilege of progressive thinkers to change their opinions," he continued. "An honest man is the noblest work of God. As for me, Mr. Chairman, in the words of an eminent American statesman, 'I would rather be right than be President.' The gentleman from Illinois need not worry. Mr. Chairman," drawled Reed, "he'll never be elected!"

BASE BALL

Boston, May 26.—Boston's long hitting won today's American League game from Chicago, 4 to 2. Freeman's outfield work and a fast double play by Harris and Grimshaw were the features. Batteries, Young and Peterson; Owen, Rohr and Sullivan.

The Boston Nationals are fast getting down within hitting distance of last place in the National League, which is held by Brooklyn.

Without Doolin in center and Bresnahan behind the bat, the Giants do not look exactly like word leaders, says the Chicago Tribune. But they win just the same.

HOME RUN ON A BUNT.

The mention in the papers the other day of the strong probability that "Count" Campau, once a National League star, will again manage a Southern league club recalls the time that Campau established a record in professional baseball that stands today.

It occurred while the "Count" was a member of the Detroit team, and this is the way it came about. Campau hit a meanly good fly in the direction of the pitcher, and the catcher, first baseman and pitcher all started for the ball, only to do the Alphonse-Gaston act, when they stood under the sphere. Campau had reached first before the ball had come down and noticing how things were going, he kept on toward second.

By this time the ball had fallen between the three players and, making a sudden twist, it rolled full-length into the hands of the pitcher. The new launch is at Millidgeville, where she has been greatly admired.

The already large number of two-sail boats in use for cruising on the river has been added to by the completion by Eliza Ross, of Canton, of a craft of the lines for Joshua Clawson.

THE RIFLE

Canadian Militia Rifle League Match.

The first Canadian Militia Rifle League match was shot on Saturday afternoon on the local rifle range. The St. John City Rifle Club has one team entered this year.

The match was a very desirable for shooting a thick mist and a tricky wind made it very hard for the shot, and therefore the following was not up to the average. The following is the score of the St. John City Rifle Club team:

Team	W.	L.	P.
D. Conley	20	21	70
J. H. Manning	20	21	70
Jas. Manning	20	21	70

Rev. W. H. Bullock	20	21	70
Rev. W. H. Bullock	20	21	70
Rev. W. H. Bullock	20	21	70

The club also shot a spoon match in connection with the league match, and the following were the prize winners:

Class A—D. Conley, first; a sterling spoon.

THE TURF

Vanderbilt Wins French Derby.

Paris, May 27.—Wm. C. Vanderbilt's Masterton, with Jockey Woodland in the saddle, won the Prix Du Jockey Club (the French Derby) at Chantilly today. The race was for three-year-olds at one mile and a half, and the stake was valued at $2,000.

Beck, who scored 6 points; in B class, Reckard 5, Day, with 4 points, was the winner, and Private A. S. Rodin, with 33 points, was the winner in class C.

In a Canadian League match the total score was 166.

NEW YORK, May 26.—The two-year-old Bat Masterton, bred and developed by John E. Madden, and now registered as one of the best colts that the spring season has produced, was sold Thursday at the Gravesend track just before he ran for the last race to M. L. and C. Schwarz for a price stated to be $20,000.

The horse, though entered in the name of Madden, ran in the interest of the new owners, carrying the Madden colors, and won in easy style. He started at a short pace, but his new owners received credit for having backed him so heavily, as to win back a large part of the purchase price.

Mr. Masterton is by Frankfort-Vanessa, and is a product of Madden's Hamburg Place Farm in Kentucky. He was a winner at Belmont Park in a race that made a new track record, and his race Thursday was a very fast one, the best at the distance at that time.

Meeting. The Schwarz brothers, recruits to racing, are New York business men.

HORSE NEWS.

Hon. J. M. Johnson, of Calais, bought a bay gelding, "Glorious Mascot," from the sale of the Dreamworld stud, owned by Thomas W. L. Lawson, at Redville, recently.

The pacing mare Suffert 2:08 1/4 is to be sold at the "Down East" sale at Redville, this week, and in the "Ad" they say they would like to see her come down to the Province, for with a good man behind her "it would be a capital what she would do to the free-for-all class in the Maritime Circuit and probably she would not prove such a bad thing when the season was over.—Calais Times.

THE RING

PITZ AND BURNS.

Tommy Burns and Bob Fitzsimmons met at Kingston, Pa., in a 20 round bout tomorrow night. Burns has arrived at Philadelphia and says he believes he can meet Fitzsimmons at any kind of a game and beat him. If the "Old Man of the Ring" tries to rush the fighting Burns expects to defeat him in short order, but if he proposes to fight on the defensive the Canadian believes that the bout will last for ten or more rounds. At any rate he sees nothing but a knockout finish for Fitz, and is already planning for future bouts after disposing of the lanky one.

ATHLETIC

SHERIDAN'S IDEA OF TRAINING.

"Will Sheridan was asked, 'What would be your advice to Canada's young athletes?' and replied: 'If they intend to win let them go to that determination that they will win in life. They walk in life. They are not to be defeated by any kind of a game, and they are to be victorious in every branch of field or track effort.'

Dr. Hamilton Proves That Piles Are Caused by Constipation and Strong Cathartics.

Knowing the frequency with which piles are caused by constipation, Dr. Hamilton made an exhaustive study into the cause of piles.

He found that the lower part of the bowels is like a network of bloodvessels and if it is congested, the result is a condition which bulges out and forms what is commonly known as piles.

The only effective method of curing this trouble is the regular use of Dr. Hamilton's Pile, which can be taken before retiring. Next day will bring wonderful relief.

"I suffered up to about the limit of human endurance with piles," writes Miss Hamilton, from this ailment. "I was employed in a factory here, but for a while had to give up work till I got better of this trouble. I tried the Montreal Herald and about Dr. Hamilton's Pile, and after using them for two weeks was cured. I can recommend these pills very highly; there are none better. They are not only a relief and prevent a constipated condition of the bowels, and from my experience can be depended upon as a perfect safeguard against piles. Dr. Hamilton's Pile of Mandrake and Butternut, I am sure, would be a benefit to every girl or woman."

Take Dr. Hamilton's Pile and your system will be regenerated, revitalized, and made proof against disease.

Good for men, excellent for women, and most effective for children. All ages and both sexes find Dr. Hamilton's Pile a marvelous medicine. Although active, they do not grip or cause inconvenience, will they cleanse and purify the system, thereby maintaining a high standard of health. Maxilian Friederang

New York, May 26.—That his studio was entered and ransacked by emissaries from rival artists in Europe, sent to steal his secret process of blending colors and plaster in fresco work, is declared by Maxilian Friederang, an artist decorator, who lives with his wife and two children in Brooklyn.

Mr. Friederang's claim to be in possession, after fifteen years of incessant toil, through rediscovery of the secret process by which artists of 800 years ago produced frescoes whose beauty and depth of color have until now defied imitation is allowed by the artist himself, but when he entered his studio he found that the intruders had struck it in many places with a hammer, evidently with the intention of destroying a secret process in which a written description of the secret process might be hidden.

"I had found the place in the studio in which I conceal my private papers," said Mr. Friederang, "it would not have helped them. I have made a record of my writings, neither one of which would be of value to any one without the other. One of these writings is a secret record of my studio, so concealed that I have no fear of its discovery by intruders. The other writing I keep in a safe deposit vault in Manhattan. Not until the searchers after my secret process have managed to gain possession of both papers will they be able to steal my secret."

Mr. Friederang came from Baden, Germany, 22 years ago.

The artist notified the police, who, after inspecting the studio, declared that it was a secret process, but found no clues.

Several articles of jewelry of considerable value were not disturbed. Mr. Friederang believes that the few trifles taken were simply to create the impression that the artist was a burglar. The wall of his studio bore clear evidence that the intruders had struck it in many places with a hammer, evidently with the intention of destroying a secret process in which a written description of the secret process might be hidden.

RESCUED IN NICK OF TIME

Allan Liner Ionian Saved Men of Norwegian Bark in Mid Ocean.

Montreal, May 27.—The steamship Ionian, Captain Nunan, of the Allan line, which reached port this afternoon, rescued the crew and captain of the Norwegian bark Trio of Tonsberg, in mid-ocean on the 21st instant. At the time the rescue was effected the Trio was in a helpless condition and in spite of incessant labor of the crew at the pumps the water was gaining but for the timely arrival of the big Allan liner the Trio and her gallant crew must have perished in a few hours.

The Ionian was steaming at full speed at midnight of May 21, in lat. 51.39 north, and long. 38.37 west when the distress rockets of the sinking vessel were seen. The liner stopped after giving the answering signal that the rockets had been seen and bore down on the Trio, which was to the southwest of the course being taken by the Ionian.

At 12 o'clock the Trio came within hailing distance of the Ionian and No. 3 lifeboat in command of Second Officer Miller and five men put off from the ship. There was a heavy sea running at the time and the lifeboat returned shortly afterwards and reported that she had been unable to get alongside the Trio. Second Officer Miller, however, brought back a report of the Trio's condition which he received from Captain Hans Thorsen, and as there was no imminent danger of the Trio sinking he decided by Captain Nunan of the Ionian to wait until daylight before attempting to effect a rescue.

At 3 o'clock in the morning the Trio came within hailing distance of the Ionian. At 4 o'clock, amidst a heavy sea, the Trio came alongside the Ionian. They were taken aboard the big liner and the life-saving crew set her on fire and when the Ionian steamed away the Trio was abandoned in smoke.

Captain Thorsen had a tale of hardship to tell, once ashore on board the Ionian. His boat, the Trio, in which he had a share, left Tonsberg on April 12 in ballast for Bay Chaleur. All hands were on board and the steamer was encountered by a hurricane from the northwest. During the height of the storm the masts were broken and for nine days and nights the captain and crew labored at the time. To add to the peril of the situation the boiler cracked. Then the pumps choked and bailing had to be resorted to.

Signals of distress were kept flying and at night rockets were sent up but no answer came from the waste of water until the answering rocket of the Ionian came to tell the shipwrecked mariners that help was at hand. There was plenty of provisions on board the Trio but the masts had gone, the sails were torn to ribbons and the foremast was missing.

Once on board the Ionian everything possible was done by Capt. Nunan, Chief Officer Freer and the other officers to make the shipwrecked men comfortable. A moment was set on foot for their financial help, and the sum of $200 was collected. Not all of this came from the saloon either. The average passenger, young men and women coming to a new country with scanty means, added their pennies and shillings.

The rescuers were unable to see any bodies, but among the first things they did was to search for the bodies of the crew. The bodies were found, and the bottom was cleared with the aid of poles, boats were procured, and the bottom for some distance out from the wreck was searched. ## DOWLING BROTHERS.

FOR JUNE BRIDES

IN ALL the rounds of social events attending this month of Roses and Brides, the girl of truly refined tastes may be known by her shoes. In her eyes untidy or unstylish shoes take away all one's charms; they stamp one at a glance as being—well, we won't say more.

We crave the opportunity of fitting out with Slippers for home and reception wear, Shoes and Boots for every occasion, every one of the prospective brides of the coming month.

It appears that among the passengers was a certain Scott Act official of Kings county, and as he was known to be of a very curious and inquiring turn of mind, it was decided to have a little joke played on him. a bottle of brandy, as he wasn't feeling well. He was informed by the agent that they did not sell liquor on the train. The official, however, was not satisfied and thinking he detected signs of weakening in the agent, he pressed his request by saying that he needed the brandy badly as he felt sick.

Finally the agent said he would see what he could do, and going back to his car he procured an empty brandy bottle which he filled with ginger ale and water, and returning to the Scott Act man, he presented the bottle to him, telling him to keep it quiet. The price paid for this bottle was $1.20. The people who were on to the joke are now wondering what this astute officer will say when he finds his purchase of brandy was nothing but ginger ale and water.

AMERICANS ARE LOOKING TO CANADA

Three Associations to Operate in Fishing and Hunting Grounds This Summer.

L. O. Armstrong, colonization agent of the Canadian Pacific, has just returned to Montreal from New York, where he assisted in completing arrangements for the organization and work of three associations which will operate in the fishing and hunting grounds of Canada this summer.

The first was the Canadian camp, an association of Americans of high social and financial position, who have built a chain of lodges from the shores of Lake Huron to James Bay, which it is expected will become one of the most famous canoe trips on the continent. This society has been in work this year, and already has made marked progress.

The second organization is the Wild Wood Lodge Company, whose president is W. T. Hornaday, the celebrated naturalist and president of the Bronx Zoological Society. This takes as its sphere of operation the northern shore of Lake Huron, following up that shore from Severn River to Sault Ste. Marie, in motor and towing canoes on which they ascend the various rivers. Another purpose they have in view is the raising of wild animals.

The third association is the American and Canadian Sportsman's Association, whose headquarters are in Chicago. The leading Chicago sportsmen are members of this, and they are making Canada their field of operations. They have made some selections of territory and they will send their explorers out to the north shore of Lake Superior, French River and its tributaries and the country north of Desbarats, Ontario.

AT THE OPERA HOUSE

"Lost in the World," the play to be presented tonight at the Opera House by the Connors Stock Co., tells how easy it is to misjudge a person under a cloud. It is a story of a man who while under the influence of a drug is made to believe that he committed a crime and is held as a slave and is at the beck and call of a polished villain. This villain, secures his slave a position as boatman in a respectable family for the sole purpose of fastening a crime upon the brother of a girl that he is trying to marry. The father takes a liking to this villain, not knowing that he is one, on account of some little favor he had done, and looks with favor upon him as a son-in-law. The son is arrested for a murder and is put in jail waiting for sentence. Larry, a faithful servant, does not believe him guilty, and of course from that time becomes an enemy of all this man. He induces the old man to discharge him, which he does and is immediately re-engaged by the daughter, who has him try and find the real murderer.

Belding, in a way that did infinite credit to himself as an amateur actor. Mr. Belding has the true touch for work of this sort. He was staunchly supported by Misses A. McMillan, L. Perkins, L.
