THE EVENING TIMES-STAR, ST. JOHN, N. B., TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 20, 1923

Here is the infant son of Mrs. Pat Somerset, known on the stage as Edith Day. The lad recently arrived in New York from abroad.

AFTER COLOR FOR TALE; ARRESTED

Among the 400-odd drunks and vagrants arrested before Judge Clifford McLaughlin the other day in city court, says the Buffalo Express, there appeared a clean-shaven man with neatly trimmed hair, clad in working clothes yet untouched by toll. He was booked as Max Bonter from Kent, New York. He admitted he had been in court before on a vagrancy charge, but offered no excuse. He drew ten days in the pen. Without comment he accepted his sentence and with half a dozen huns was taken to the detention cell in the basement.

The man was in truth Max Bonter, but none recognized his name as that of a short story writer whose contributions have been appearing in one of the popular magazines at frequent intervals during the last few years. He was arrested in Dante place while looking for color for his coming novelties, the scene of which is laid in Buffalo's Dante place. He had not anticipated being arrested nor was he seeking it. The officer was simply picking up all those whose conduct, he believed, warranted detention, and Bonter was among them. He spent the night in a cell in the Franklin street station and next morning was huddled with a patrol full to city court for trial.

Bonter has lived among the sailors of the last ten years and most of his novelties have been about the sailor and other characters he has come upon and whose life he has studied. But if he wanted to get his new story in the hands of his publishers he could not afford being detained for ten days. Through the city court reporters he revealed his identity. He pronounced his credentials which fully satisfied the court that he was who and what he represented himself to be, and no time was lost in dismissing the charge.

Bonter's latest story was "Moonshine Madness," which appeared in the September 10 issue of Adventure, and its entire action is based on things Bonter saw and heard among the soft-drink resorts of the city. Buffalo has furnished material for five of Bonter's stories. They were "The Life of Riley," "The Last Trip Down," "Black Charlie's Towline," "Stake-bounded" and "Moonshine Madness." He has also written "Everybody Likes a Gunman," "The Bullet and the Blast," "The Pal with the Number 12," "The Commissary in the Hills," "N'Yawk and Elsewhere," "The Cuckoo" and "The Black Channel." While working up his story "Stake-bounded," Bonter introduced a character who was arrested in Dante place, and sentenced to the workhouse for ten days. Bonter said that Italian wine flowed freely in Dante place and that it was being made by nearly every housewife. He found a flood of data for his new story, but there is no other way except to frequent the places he does, to make his story feed the real touch of human interest.

Your system demands ALL BRAN if constipation is to be relieved!

Your system needs the "roughage" that Kellogg's Bran, cooked and crumbled, supplies. For, it will not only permanently relieve constipation if it is eaten regularly, but its full content of the vital elements of wheat will build health and strength in a wonderful way.

You need bran in its full and beneficial strength and that's what you get in Kellogg's Bran—ALL BRAN! You eat Kellogg's for relief and you will get relief in a way that nature planned. Foods with a bran mixture cannot help the man, woman or child who faces grave illness through constipation. You must have ALL BRAN—"roughage" that will sweep and clean and purify and bring health back.

Children should be given Kellogg's Bran each day; grows people should eat Kellogg's each day—at least two tablespoons, in chronic cases with each meal. Its mechanical action will afford permanent relief.

And, you will find Kellogg's Bran a delight to eat because it is so delicious. As a cereal, sprinkled on other hot or cold cereals, or used in conical bakery batches or in cooking, its multi-flavor will thrill your appetite—and each spoonful means so much in permanently relieving constipation and in warding off this gravest national ailment. Kellogg's recipes are printed on each package.

Start the entire family eating Kellogg's Bran to-day. See the color come back to faded cheeks; see the snap that will go into lagging steps. Kellogg's Bran is wonderful. All grocers sell it!

The gross earnings from January 1 to November 14, 1923 have been $219,937,881.87, an increase of $18,850,486.83 as compared with the corresponding period of 1922.

RICHARD CROKER'S SON LOSES CASE

Dublin, Nov. 19.—In the chancery division today an action against Mrs. Bula Croker, brought by Richard Croker, Jr., on a legal point, was dismissed. The effect of the dismissal was to prove the will of Richard Croker, in solemn form so that it cannot be further appealed against and to leave Mrs. Croker's position safe.

Here's the Secret of Health

Do you know why you catch cold, why you have chronic dyspepsia, why you have headaches, why you can't sleep, why you are weak, nervous or depressed? It's because your system is run down every organ becomes more or less affected. If any one organ is weaker than another, it is the first to succumb. For instance, if you have a weak stomach dyspepsia results. If you are subject to headaches they become more frequent and so on. No matter what your trouble, the first thing to do is to build up and nourish your system by feeding your nerves and enriching your blood. When you do this every organ in the body is strengthened. Carnol accomplishes this. Carnol is a blood-builder, a nerve invigorator, a stimulating and nourishing food, a flesh-builder. Mr. Hill, the prescription specialist of New Westminster, B.C. has such faith in Carnol that he is pushing the sale of it at every opportunity. He knows from experience its value as a tonic and this is what he writes:

"It indeed gives me pleasure to say a good word for Carnol. With the sales talk and general boost which it has had from this store, the sale of Carnol has grown from nothing to something worth while."—Frederic T. Hill, Prescription Specialist, 607 Columbia Street, New Westminster, B.C.

Carnol is sold by all good druggists everywhere.

THE BRITISH CAMPAIGN.

A son of New Brunswick has gone to Great Britain to take part in the speaking campaign in favor of protection. He is not the first. Twenty years ago Sir George Foster went with some other Canadians to support the Chamberlain campaign for a more comprehensive tariff than is now proposed. They were not successful. In that campaign Mr. Chamberlain urged that a home for them and provide food on $60 per month. Meals alone for a family of five would total $40 per month, and would absorb the entire allowance, at the rate of eleven cents per meal per head, leaving nothing at all for rent, fuel, clothes, or miscellaneous expenditure. From a Toronto legal firm comes another typical case in which the Pension Board has awarded $30 per month to a widow with two children aged eight and eleven. The widow owns her home except for a small second mortgage, but apart from a fraternal society payment of $10 per week, which will cease next month, has no other income. To give her $1 per day on which to keep herself and two children is to sentence her to slow starvation.

A COLOSSAL TASK.

Aside altogether from party considerations, the tasks confronting British statesmen call for a more complete grasp of world affairs, and a higher wisdom, than those which vex the minds of the statesmen of any other country. Britain's position as a pacificator in the affairs of Europe, her calmness, and the efforts of an Empire scattered over the globe, call for breadth of vision, clear knowledge, great patience, and capacity for harmonizing conflicting views such as the statesmen of no other country are called upon to exercise. The United States, standing aloof from Europe, is chiefly concerned with purely local problems. The countries of Continental Europe must regard each other, if it true, and consider their policy in relation to its effect upon European affairs, but none has such a broad sweep of interests and international responsibilities as Great Britain. Her leaders, of all parties, have been trained in the greatest school of statesmanship the world has ever produced. That school has developed the League of British Nations, and if this League could have its way the greater League of Nations would make war impossible. Unhappily the rivalries and jealousies of European nations, and the failure of the United States to assume its rightful place in the world's councils, have stood in the way of a solution of international problems, and the new British Government when chosen will be confronted with very grave problems of foreign as well as of domestic policy. It is not for any of the overseas Dominions to express opinions regarding Great Britain's domestic problems, but her statesmen have with their representatives the matter of foreign policy, and it will undoubtedly be dealt with from the broad Imperial standpoint, so that the Empire may present a united front. What ever the differences in Great Britain regarding domestic policy, the desire of every British statesman is that unity of the Empire may prevail in regard to relations with the rest of the world. In the present election campaign the issue is domestic, and the people are asked to choose between protection and free trade, but the moment the new Government comes into power, whether Conservative, Labor, Liberal or Coalition, it must take up the question of foreign relations, which at the moment has so direct a bearing upon the revival of British industry and trade.

JUDGES DECLARED TIE.

On Friday afternoon an interesting Portland, Maine, Press-Herald says: "Portland is glad to get its share of the ships bringing over immigrants to America but its people would prefer to have them selected at the ports where they embark so that the undesirable would be left on the other side of the big pond."

Press Comment

FIFTY YEARS SERVICE.

(Toronto Globe) The Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, Sir Louis Davies, now 74 years of age, has been engaged in the public service, with one short interval, for more than fifty years. He was elected a member of the legislature of Prince Edward Island in 1872 and became Premier of the Province in 1878. In 1882 he entered the Dominion Parliament and was one of the most vigorous members of the Liberal opposition, in a group which included Blake, Laurier, Cortright, Paterson, Mills, Mulock, Charlton and Lister. His readiness in debate was remarkable. He joined the Laurier Government in 1896 as Minister of Marine and Fisheries, and was appointed to the Supreme Court in 1901.

FAIR PLAY TO MOTHERS.

The Toronto Globe continues its demand for a more adequate allowance for mothers under the Ontario Mothers' Pensions Act. In Saturday's issue it says: "The Globe gave an illustration showing how impossible it was for a woman with four children ranging from four years of age up to nine to maintain a home for them and provide food on $60 per month. Meals alone for a family of five would total $40 per month, and would absorb the entire allowance, at the rate of eleven cents per meal per head, leaving nothing at all for rent, fuel, clothes, or miscellaneous expenditure. From a Toronto legal firm comes another typical case in which the Pension Board has awarded $30 per month to a widow with two children aged eight and eleven. The widow owns her home except for a small second mortgage, but apart from a fraternal society payment of $10 per week, which will cease next month, has no other income. To give her $1 per day on which to keep herself and two children is to sentence her to slow starvation."

A BITTER ATTACK.

(Ottawa Journal) The King Government's immigration policy, announced by Mr. Robb yesterday, has a sinister significance, summed up briefly, it amounts to this: That quantity is to be substituted for quality in our future immigrants. Concentration upon British settlers is to be abandoned; that the bars are to be thrown down to all the riff-raff of Central Europe who are willing and able to say that they are willing to work. There is no use disguising the menace of such a policy. There is no use disguising that such action threatens to flood our cities with hordes of undesirable who are presently dammed in Europe, but who are anxious to get to Canada. Why a minister of the good sense of Mr. Robb should be the instrument of such action is beyond our understanding.

UNCLE SAM MUST WATCH OUT.

(Wall Street Journal) Anyone who expects increased consumption of United States exports by the South American republics this year or next are likely to be disappointed. This is not because European competition is more formidable than it was last year, or because American goods are not being appreciated, but because all of these countries have discovered that their economic condition, their credit and the stability of their currencies depend in the first place on their ability to keep their purchases within the bounds of their sales and their foreign commitments, such as debt service.

THE LIBERAL CANDIDATE.

(Halifax Echo) Mr. George A. Redmond may well be congratulated upon receiving the nomination of a high standing and long experience, who has achieved success in his own affairs. He has to his credit excellent public service as a member and as Chairman of the School Board of the City of Halifax, and as a Municipal Councilor in his native County of Pictou. He has been President of the Halifax County Liberal Association, and has taken an active part in politics, extending, as he said in his address accepting the nomination, over a period of thirty years. This long experience, together with his energy and his knowledge of the needs and conditions of the constituency, should fit him to be a most useful representative at Ottawa.

Bliss Carman Reads Several New Poems

In Interesting Talk Says Poetry Should be Heard, Not Merely Read. Under the auspices of the English and History Teachers' Association a lecture was given last Friday night at the Reference Library, Toronto by the noted Canadian poet, Dr. Bliss Carman. Pointing out that poetry is written as a means to education, Dr. Carman claimed a unity of ideals with the command of the voice as the teaching profession. Poetry must be heard not merely read, to be fully appreciated, as it was such a live thing as music. To this end in the early years at school the child should be trained to understand and express the beauties of the English language. The command of good English as the command of the voice as a public speaker should be two aspects which every child should possess. Physical education embodying the extension of the physique as in voice culture should accompany the teaching of English.

COMMUNITY CAT AT HOME IN 20 FLATS

Equally Relishes Irish Corned Beef, Hungarian Goulash and Spaghetti.

New York, Nov. 20.—In these days of community stags, community stores and community kitchens, the appearance of a community cat upon the scene is hardly surprising. She makes her home in a large apartment house in Harlem and probably will go down on record as being the only known street cat in existence to have twenty homes at her disposal at one time.

Stubborn Coughs Stop Quick With Home Made Cough Mixture

Not until you make your own cough mixture—a half pint of it for a small sum—will you know how easy it is to stop any bad persistent cough as if by magic.

It's pleasant-tasting, but that don't stop it from knocking out a cough quicker than anything else in the world. Children love it.

Get from any druggist one ounce of Peppermint (double strength)—to this add a little granulated sugar and enough water to make one half pint—that's all there is to it.

This loosens the phlegm, stops the irritation, allays the inflammation, cleans out clogged nostrils, makes breathing easier, and causes sore throat and hoarseness to disappear.

With speed almost beyond belief this home made cough mixture stops the toughest hang-over cough, and all because in it there is a substance (too costly for ordinary cough syrups) that immediately covers the membrane like a soothing healing poultice and blessed relief comes at once.

And it is always worth while to hear in mind that any remedy that overcomes catarrh, partially or wholly, is bound to be of benefit to those who are troubled with head noises and catarrhal deafness.

Get Peppermint and get better.

gray cat with spots of brownish red distributed on her back and nose. She is not at all temperamental, has never been known to go wild and break things, and is a thoroughly dependable, though not very interesting or unusual cat. What then is the reason of pussy's popularity? And why all the hospitality laid at her feet? Because last week one of the newly-wedded brides collapsed at the sight of a mouse. Pussy was called in to protect her from a second invasion and succeeded so well that she is now the idol of the place.

No one owns her, though every one wants her, and she travels back and forth at her will, confident that there will always be a cordial welcome wherever she arrives.

She is fast developing into a real cosmopolitan, her diet comprising among other things Irish corned beef and cabbage, Hungarian goulash and even Italian spaghetti. Her palate craves so much variety that her visits are necessarily shorted. In fact she has been known to breakfast on the first floor, lunch on the fourth floor, and dine on the second floor. Between meals she pays many social calls.

DEATHS

The Late Robert J. McKee.
Robert J. McKee, whose death in Dorchester, N. B., where he was proprietor of the Windsor Hotel, was announced last week, had been ill for some time. He was born at Mispec, St. John County on June 18, 1867. He leaves to mourn their loss besides his wife, who was formerly Miss Letitia Wilkins of Canterbury Station, one daughter, Florence, at home, also one sister, Mrs. Joseph Stanley of Mispec who was with her brother during his illness, and who was also present when the end came. He is also survived by two brothers, Charles of Cape Spencer, light, and George of Newark, N. J. Mr. McKee was a great favorite with the traveling public. He was a starter at horse races and acted in that capacity in Moncton a few months ago, also at several other places in the Maritime Provinces during the last season. There was also another brother William, who died just eight months ago.

WORK ON HIGHWAYS DONE FOR SEASON

Excellent Results Obtained in Operations on Roads of Province

The international bridge at St. Stephen is now clear for traffic after extensive work done on the new pier on the New Brunswick side.

At one stage the work was slow because of tidal conditions, but above water it was rushed.

B. M. Hill, chief highway engineer of the province, who was in St. John last night, said that today all highway work, except necessary repair work in dangerous places or on small bridges, would cease today for the season.

The advance of the winter season is the cause. In the greater part of the province the autumn has been so open that work could be carried on much later than usual.

The work on the highways this year had produced excellent results, Mr. Hill said. The roads in all sections had been of such an excellence that the most favorable comment had been elicited from motorists from outside places.

The season was very favorable to the roads with the exception of the early spring when floods did considerable damage. During the present autumn the rains had caused little damage and the roads had remained in the best possible condition for motoring.

Most favorable comment has been made concerning the work in highway improvement which was done in Northumberland county. Several sections were under construction and the work has made a most valuable link in motor communication between the St. John Valley and the North Shore, Mr. Hill says.

The patrol system on the gravel roads of the province was put into effect during the last year for the first time. The system which was a success elsewhere, has also proven a success in this province and has been instrumental in keeping up the highways to a high standard, the chief engineer says.

34 WOMEN JOIN CANADIAN CLUB

The names of 34 new applicants for membership were submitted at a meeting of the executive of the Women's Canadian Club held yesterday afternoon in the Board of Trade rooms with Mrs. E. Atherton Smith, the president, in the chair.

The executive committee has ratified the applications and the new members are to have the privilege of attending the opening lecture of the club this week in the German street Baptist church when Mrs. Francis Ayscough is to be the speaker, her subject being "Chinese Poetry and its Backgrounds." It was announced that musical numbers were to be included in the programme.

In answer to the request of the G. W. V. A. members of the executive solicited orders for wreaths and sprays of poppies for Poppy Day and it was reported that by this means the sum of $188 was realized for the Poppy Day proceeds. It was decided to leave in position until the end of the month the poppy wreath which had been placed on the memorial tablet in the post office on Armistice Day.

GIVES TALK TO W. A.

Miss Sarah Millidge, a former member of St. John's (Stone) church, gave an interesting address last evening before the members of the Senior W. A. and the Guild of the church who met together to do sewing for the Eskimos and for the Christmas boxes to be distributed in the diocese of Fredericton. Mrs. Alfred Morrissey, the president of the Senior W. A., was in the chair and there was a large attendance of the members of both organizations. Miss Millidge has been living in Winnipeg for several years and was at one time organizing secretary for the W. A. in that diocese. She is now deaconess attached to the cathedral in Winnipeg. The account of her work and of the activities of the W. A. in the west was heard with special interest and, on behalf of those present, Mrs. Morrissey extended to Miss Millidge very cordial thanks. Miss Millidge is visiting in St. John as the guest of Miss Sella Armstrong in King street east.

GRANDMOTHER KNEW

There was Nothing So Good for Coughs and Colds as Mustard.

But the old-fashioned mustard plaster burned and blistered while it acted. Get the relief and help that mustard plasters gave, without the plaster and without the blister.

Musterole does it. It is a clean, white ointment, made with all of mustard. It is scientifically prepared, so that it works wonders.

Gently massage Musterole in with the finger-tips. See how quickly it brings relief—how speedily the pain disappears.

Try Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bites, colds of the chest (it may prevent pneumonia), etc and etc, at all druggists.

MINISTER'S SONS RHODES SCHOLARS

New Glasgow, N. S., Nov. 19.—This afternoon on arrival in New Glasgow Rev. James Endicott, D. D., general missionary secretary of the Methodist church, received a telegram advising that his son, Norman J. Endicott, had been selected as Rhodes scholar to represent the University of Toronto. Rev. Dr. Endicott and Rev. Charles W. Gordon, D. D., are touring the Maritime Provinces in the interests of church union, and it is a coincidence that both these men's sons are now Rhodes scholars.

APPOINTMENT HERE SOON.

The position of assistant registrar of shipping at the St. John Customs House will probably be filled shortly, as the time for applications has closed. The position carries an annual salary of $1,560 to start, $120 to be added annually until the total reaches $2,040. Then there is a bonus.

Chilblains & Frost-Bite. A remedy for those most troublesome of winter skin afflictions, chilblains and "frost-bites." Zam-Buk is specially effective. It takes out inflammation and reduces swelling in a wonderful way and soothes the fiery tingling irritation. Where the chilblains are broken and have a raw ulcerated surface, Zam-Buk is doubly valuable because of its great healing power. Its pain-killing efficiency and its fine antiseptic properties place Zam-Buk far above ordinary ointments.

Excessive acid in the system frequently causes dizziness. California produces 700,000 barrels of oil a day.

ORPHANAGE PLANS SHOW BIG LAYOUT

Main Building, Infants' Home and School House Included in Proposals

A perspective drawing of the new Protestant Orphanage properties in the Manawagonish road as they will be when the whole extension programme has been completed, has just been prepared by the architect, W. Garnet Wilson, and gives a splendid idea of the location and size of the buildings. The former Manchester residence, which is to house the administrative quarters, is set forward and is connected with the large main building which is to be built in two sections, the first section being now under construction. The infants' quarters are to be in a separate building, shown in the foreground of the drawing, while in the rear is a compact school house. The barn of the Manchester property is shown to the west whither it was removed when the work on the new wing was commenced. The drawing gives a comprehensive view of the proposed improvements and will be used for window-display in the office recently opened by the Permanent Home committee of the directorate of the New Brunswick Protestant Orphanage. The committee is commencing the grand drive for funds for the new home and is to carry on a vigorous campaign. Last night the chairman, E. A. Schofield and L. P. D. Tilley were in Hampton organizing the work there.

THE EVENING TIMES-STAR, ST. JOHN, N. B., TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 20, 1923

TAKE UP MATTER OF AUTO LIGHTS

N. B. Association Going Into Question of Dimming and Other Features.

The matter of automobile headlights has been a very much debated question ever since the cars started to carry them, and, at least in New Brunswick, the regulations governing them are reported far from satisfactory, according to the majority of those who drive automobiles. Consequently the question is having the attention of the New Brunswick Automobile Association, and it is expected that early action will be taken, according to T. P. Regan, the president.

New Brunswick has a dimming law and there are many people who while observing it faithfully, say that the action of dimming headlights is an unsafe procedure, and they point out the fact that in many of the states of the republic to the south the law requiring dimming has been replaced by one compelling the use of lighting devices approved by a state officer and calculated to be a safe light for use without the necessity of dimming.

Apparently, however, the use of these approved devices is not all that is necessary to making night driving safe. There is the matter of proper focusing and adjustment of headlights, which, it is said, is neglected perhaps by the great majority of car owners. Yet the operation is simple. Here is what E. C. Crittenden, chief of the electrical division, U. S. Bureau of Standards, says, in part, in the American Motorist:

Sometimes about the lamp casing you will usually find a screw which moves the bulb back and forth. If the lens is removed from the ordinary reflector, this movement of the bulb gives a beam sharply concentrated when the filament is the focus of the reflector and spreading more and more as the filament moves away from the focus, either front or back. Nearly all the approved lenses require the beam to be sharply focused.

How to Focus Lights.
Let the car stand on a level floor or roadway about 25 feet from a light covered wall, or the garage door, so that the headlight beams fall directly upon it.

Then as you tilt the bulbs backward or forward the spots of light on the wall will grow larger or smaller. It is usually better to cover one lamp while you adjust the other. When both are focussed you should get two distinct spots symmetrically placed straight in front of the car.

Supposing we have the lamps well focussed, the next question is the height at which the spots of light should be set. If you have the instructions which should go with every device, these will tell you how many inches tilt in 25 feet are required. Otherwise you will have to try out the lenses and see what they tilt to the beam. If they merely spread it out otherwise then you must tilt the lamps up so that the top of the beam shines on a level with the centre of the lamps. . . . If, however, the lenses are so made that they bend the light downwards, as well as spread it sideways, then the centre of the spots should be on a level with the lamps. The tilt as shown by the height of the beam should be judged when the car is fully loaded.

Having thus focussed and aimed the unmodified beams you are ready to put on the lenses. When this is done you should get on the wall a pattern of light stretched out to the side, but with no considerable bright parts above the level of the lamps.

TO WEST ST. JOHN FOR WORK AT PORT

Many of the Lorneville people have moved to West St. John for the winter months, during which time the men will be employed at port work there. They will return home in the spring to prepare for the salmon fishing which they are engaged in during the summer months. The families, which have remained in the village, are engaged in lobster fishing which opened on Nov. 15. Up to the present time the catches of lobsters have been disappointingly small.

KENT ELECTION DATE CONFIRMED

Ottawa, Nov. 19.—Following this afternoon's meeting of the Cabinet Council official announcement was made that the federal by-election in Kent county, N. B., would be held on Dec. 20, nominations to take place on Dec. 6. The vacancy in Kent was caused by the death of the sitting member, A. T. Legere. Mr. Legere was first elected to the House of Commons in 1917 as a Liberal by a majority of 2,830. In the general elections of 1921 he was returned with a majority of 1,923. Since 1896 the constituency of Kent has sent two Conservatives and five Liberals to represent it in Parliament. The last time the county went Conservative was in 1911 when it returned F. J. Robidoux with a majority of 208.

SAYS WOMAN TRIED TO MURDER HIM

Toronto, Nov. 19.—Charged with attempted murder and remanded for a week for a mental examination, Joe Camby insisted on making a statement to the bench. Camby stabbed Mrs. Freda Dambaki on Saturday and she lies in hospital in a critical condition. "I did this thing," he said, "because the people I attacked were trying to murder me. Three weeks ago last Saturday, I fell sick. They tried poisoning me because I have a few hundred dollars in the bank. They are the murderers, not me. I only tried to save my own life. I acted just in time."

C. N. R. MAY REDUCE SERVICE ON VALLEY

Officials May Cancel Trains Between St. John and Quebec

Canadian National Railway officials are said to have under consideration at conferences now in progress in Montreal important curtailment of train services, which will affect especially the St. John Valley Railway south of Fredericton.

The proposals, according to word which reached the Fredericton Gleaner yesterday from Moncton, were discussed at a recent conference at Moncton and have been sent along to Montreal for final decision by the official there. Revelation of the proposed changes, it is predicted, will arouse strong protest.

The principal change which has been suggested is to cancel trains No. 91 and No. 92, which now run between St. John and Quebec, and to operate the old plan under which the trains on the Transcontinental division would be operated from Moncton to Quebec. This would, among other things, mean that on the St. John Valley Railway

KINDERGARTEN TEA HELD.

A successful tea and sale was held yesterday afternoon in Thorne Lodge kindergarten room under the auspices of the Kindergarten Alumnae, with Mrs. W. C. Rising, the president, as convener. The articles offered for sale consisted of children's clothing made by the Alumnae members for sale to the mothers of the children attending the kindergarten. Mrs. Bewick was the convener for the tea and Miss Edith Stevens had charge of a Christmas tree hung with wrapped gifts that might be purchased for the sum of five cents. The tea tables were attractive, well arranged and for ornaments had real candles in brass candlesticks. Mrs. H. H. Pickett poured the tea. Teachers of the kindergartens and the members of the Alumnae assisted and the satisfactory sum which was realized will go to the purchase of gifts which Alumnae presented to the kindergarten children at Christmas time.

Health Rundown?

"NOTHING SERIOUS," you say, "guess I will soon be all right." And yet you do not feel well, are easily tired and irritated, have some digestive troubles and headaches perhaps, and have spells of depression and discouragement.

You know that you are not getting the most out of life, but do you realize that you are drifting into a condition of chronic ill-health.

Perhaps you are already familiar with Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and need only a reminder of what you may expect from the use of this great restorative treatment.

There is scarcely a community in this great country but can produce evidence to the unique quality of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food as a means of forming new, rich blood, strengthening the nerves, and building up the system generally.

Try it when you are tired out and discouraged. Try it for sleeplessness and irritability. Try it for nervous headaches and indigestion.

It is not a mere relief, and for this reason you must persevere in its use until the lost vigor is restored to the nerves. The fact that the results are thorough and lasting will encourage you to keep up the use of the Nerve Food until you feel strong and well.

You are not experimenting when you employ this great restorative agent, but can turn to it with confidence that what has restored the health and vigor of many thousands of men and women will not fail you.

Health Restored

Mrs. F. F. Malcolm, Lucknow, Ont., writes: "My system became run down and I was very nervous. I was easily irritated and any trivial matter or noise from the children would upset my nerves. I also suffered from indigestion, and often gas would accumulate in my stomach, causing great distress. For about a year I was unable to attend any kind of gathering or be in a crowd, my nerves were so bad. In fact, it would be difficult to outline fully just how I felt. I called on the Doctor, and took the medicine he gave me, but did not seem to improve. One day I read of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and what it was doing for other people suffering from nervousness. I resolved to try it, and by the time I had taken three boxes, I could notice an improvement. I continued this treatment until I had taken nine boxes. By this time I felt real well and strong again. All my old troubles and symptoms had been removed, and I felt like my old self once more. Since then, I usually keep Dr. Chase's Nerve Food in the house, and when I feel the least bit run down or fagged out, I take a few more. By following this plan I keep strong and healthy."

TO TEACH STUDENTS POST OFFICE WAYS

Postmaster J. S. Flagler has made an arrangement with local business colleges whereby addresses on the workings of the post office system will be delivered to those students who are about to be graduated. The students will also be taken into the inside of the post office and will be shown how the mail is handled. Postal guides will be supplied and the various "DONT'S" will be explained. The idea of the innovation is to educate the young business men in all matters relating to His Majesty's mails.

The Postmaster-General is putting on slides in the Ottawa schools and the pupils there are being instructed how to mail letters, packages and newspapers properly. It is possible the pupils of the St. John schools will be able to receive similar instruction, although Postmaster Flagler has received no word of this feature of the department's educational campaign.

SAYS CONDITIONS DO NOT WARRANT INCREASED THEATRE SEAT PRICES

Head of Distributing Agency Says Move Will Meet With Failure.

W. W. Hodgkinson, president of the motion-picture distributing agency bearing his name, and one of the pioneers in the film business, does not share the opinion held in certain quarters by photoplay exhibitors that existing conditions warrant a more or less substantial increase in the price of admission. Mr. Hodgkinson says: "I believe that any move intended to generally increase the admission prices of motion-picture theatres at the present time, really to offset the alleged waste in the industry, will result in failure. Motion-picture theatres are having difficulty in securing sufficient attendances at the present admission scale and it is my belief that increased quality in production is necessary in order to keep up even the present prices. There must be drastic changes in the business if it is to continue to be the leading entertainment of the American people."

SAYS $2 MOVIES KILLING INDUSTRY

Theatrical Owners' President Urges Cut in Salaries of Film Executives.

The whole motion picture industry is dependent on co-operation for its existence. This will be hard for the individuals in the industry to realize, because so far the rewards have gone to those who were best able to push their own cause without any regard for any other factor of the industry or public. The combined industry can furnish enough pictures of really special quality to support, in each large community, a house charging regular theatrical prices of the industry, with the pictures are shown only in those houses, but it would take the combined efforts of the industry, with the open hand extended to new producers, to encourage additional worthy things from new sources. The blame came from the preceding officer, Charles I. O'Reilly, president of the organization, who attached high prices for movies in Broadway film houses.

SOVEREIGN MEDIOCRE FILMS

"Manufacturing plants turning out dozens of mediocre pictures that do the industry no good and which are a burden on the public, and that survive merely because they hit an occasional big picture which makes for them enough money to offset their losses on the poor ones, is a bad condition for the industry as a whole, although it permits concern to continue. This condition has generally prevailed for too long a time and nothing but a complete reconstruction of the business will meet these conditions."

"LESS POMP, MORE HUMAN INTEREST IS NEEDED OF PRESENT-DAY SCREEN," SAYS MEIGHAN

(By Maurice Henle) New York.—As our old friend, William Shakespeare, used to say, "The play's the thing." And that, Thomas Meighan is convinced, there's nothing original about finding something wrong with the movies. Everybody does that if he is associated with the films as a critic, an actor or even a producer.

THOMAS MEIGHAN.

Meighan returned to New York recently from the coast. He's working now on "Pied Piper Malone," an original screen story by Booth Tarkington. And that picture illustrates clearly both points Meighan made in his effort to shed his views about the present critical condition of the cinema. "This picture," Meighan said, "is about people. It isn't one of the spectacles. It isn't costing a mint of money to produce. But it's a real story. It has merit, and the added value of being human. That's what the screen needs."

Papas and Mamas Forestall Boston "Stage Door Johnnies"

Boston, Nov. 20.—"Stage door Johnnies" who have been attracted by the advertisement of 50 Boston University girls on the programme at Keith's this week are having a hard time. Every night, after they watch dainty Audrey Ware and her college classmates in the last act, they rush around to the stage and long line of devoted, eagle-eyed papas and mamas extending down Mason street, waiting for their offspring.

Gossipy Notes of The Screen People

Few people know that Charlie Chaplin is as graceful and beautiful a dancer as Rudolph Valentino. The most popular, sincere, and wholesome man movie star in Hollywood is Harold Lloyd. Everybody in Hollywood calls "Speedy" Lloyd. Harold Lloyd has made a million dollars in 1923. Five years ago his chief director announced that he was going to buy himself a silk shirt.

MANY ENJOY "MAID OF THE MOUNTAINS"

Musical Comedy at Imperial Last Night was Brilliant Performance.

A large audience at the Imperial last evening enjoyed a picturesque and tuneful presentation of the musical comedy, "The Maid of the Mountains," which, although it is not new to St. John theatre-goers, loses nothing in its repetition. The piece is a happy mixture of wholesome comedy and touching pathos, skilfully blended, and the company was successful in carrying out the blending to a nicety. The solo numbers were well rendered and were greeted with sustained applause. The orchestral accompaniment was full and rich, the scenery striking and the costumes true to the spirit of the piece. The lighting effects, however, might stand some improvement. Miss Ethel Walker, as Theresa, the mountain maid, gave a pleasing performance. She starred particularly in her farewell song in the first act and in her duets with Beppo—"My Life is Love" and "A Paradise for Two." She was called upon to repeat several times in her solo, "Love Will Find a Way," near the opening of the second act. "When You're in Love," a duet with the old governor in the last act, was particularly appealing, and Miss Walker made a big hit. Her solo, "Song of My Heart," was also a well-received favorite.

SHOWS STIRRING FIGHT IN RIVER

Queen Square Picture Almost Cost Two Lives in the Filming.

One of the most realistic fights in a river is contained in "Loyal Lives," a retort of the romance of the mail service, which was shown at the Queen Square Theatre last night. The scene is one that will bring shudders to spectators, so realistic is it. William Collier, Jr., and an actor who played the part of a train robber, barely escaped drowning in South River, during the filming of this dangerous scene. For twenty minutes the cameramen kept shooting this scene. Filming was suddenly halted when it was seen that the daredevil, exhausted by his struggles with Collier, was about to go down. It was all Collier could do to hold up the man, until a boat could reach them. Both men were pulled exhausted from the water. "And they say a film star's life is long," muttered Collier when he was brought to shore. "Loyal Lives" is a Whitman Bennett production distributed by Vitaphone and is the first screen play to introduce a new hero, the letter carrier. It is an intensely human as well as dramatic masterpiece.

NOTED JOCKEY DIES

P. Jones, one of the most prominent jockeys in North of England, is dead as the result of injuries received in the Garmock Handicap, run recently at Bognor. Jones was heavily thrown when his mount, Maid of Middleham, slipped at the bend into the straight, but returning to the track he quickly recovered, apparently, and, although Trainer Padlock tried to mount Jones, he was fit enough to ride. In a thrilling finish, Jones got Monk Blip up to win in the post. Subsequently he became ill, and died late in the evening of the same day.

THE HOKEY YEAR BOOK

The Hockey Year Book, has been received by The Times. It is a credit to the game and to publisher George King 84 Victoria Street, Toronto. The book represents months of efforts. Typographically and pictorially, it is a masterpiece. From cover to cover is embellished with group photographs of champion teams, including the pioneers in the game; in fact, the history of Canada's great winter pastime is told in pictures. Old-timers will be interested in the handsome halftones of the teams, who were prominent a generation ago, while the younger enthusiasts will enjoy the reproduction of the more recent winners. The book is not only lavishly illustrated, but is literally crammed with most interesting information regarding individuals, clubs and leagues throughout the country.

MISS CANADA WILL PRESENT PICTURE

Panorama of St. John Gift to Canadian Club in Boston.

On exhibition in the window of J. M. Roche & Co., King street, is a large frame filled with pictures of St. John and its activities, which is to be forwarded to Boston tonight. It attracted general attention and was favorably commented upon. The pictures shown are a five-foot panorama of the city looking from the top of the Fowler grist mill, West St. John, and taking in all the Sand Point facilities; smaller pictures of the sugar refinery, ocean steamers in dock and in the stream, the elevators with ships alongside, sailing ships crowded in Market Slip and other berths, "Empress" liners in port, new school building, King street during the handling hour, some residential localities, a view of the interior of the city market, the "Kingshavan" in the new dry dock, etc. In all there are about fifteen up-to-date pictures of St. John today and quite comprehensive of the city's position as a port and a homeing place.

The frame is lettered as follows: "St. John, New Brunswick, Canada, All-the-Year-Round Port." Presented to the Boston Canadian Club from the Canadian Club of St. John, through the courtesy of Miss Canada, 1923. The individual pictures are titled, fully explaining each feature of the city along-side. Before returning home, Miss Blair will formally present the large frame to the Boston Club, on behalf of the Men's Canadian Club, and will be hung on the walls of the club's cosy quarters in the Hotel Bellevue, Beacon street.

It is a singular thing that while other cities in Canada have pictorial descriptive matter on view in the Boston branch of the Canadian Club, up to the present St. John, from which city so many of the members had, has not been represented. So the present up-to-date gift should fill a conspicuous vacancy. The club's quarters have a regular executive staff and is the headquarters for visiting Canadians.

BOULDER PLACED; TABLET IN 2 WEEKS

Official Unveiling at Market Square is Deferred Until Spring.

The boulder on which the tablet to mark the landing place of the Loyalists will be placed is now in position and it is expected the tablet will be placed in about two weeks time. C. O. Roberts, who has been in charge of placing the boulder will leave this afternoon and will not be here for a couple of weeks and as the tablet had not arrived in the city it will have to wait until it can be placed.

Mr. Roberts said it was planned to have an official unveiling next spring as the weather was too cold to hold an outdoor function now. Officials of the Dominion Historical Society would be present and take part in the ceremonies but the larger part of the programme would be provided by the members of the Historical Society of the New Brunswick Historical Society.

BRIDGE AND TEA GIVEN IN HONOR OF MISS KING

Miss Anne Strath entertained at a charmingly arranged bridge and tea on Saturday afternoon in the Palm Room of the Chateau Laurier, Ottawa, in honor of Miss Vera King of Chatham, N. B., niece of Hon. Dr. J. H. King and Mrs. King who is spending some weeks with the family.

King and Mrs. James Murdoch presided at the tea table, which was attractive with pink and white carnations. The tea was served by Mrs. E. J. McMurray, wife of Canada's new Solicitor General. Assistants were Mrs. Mack McGreen, Miss Bobs O'Donoghue, Miss Kathleen Kearns and Miss Bessie Fraser.

During the tea hour a delightful musical programme was enjoyed. Mrs. J. Angus MacKenzie sang several numbers with Mrs. Atkinson as accompanist. Gustave Heilmann gave some selections. Mr. McHenry pleased the guests with violin solos with Mrs. Atkinson as accompanist.

HERE TO VISIT MOTHER

Capt. George Price and Mrs. Price of New York arrived on Saturday and are visiting at the home of Capt. Price's mother, Mrs. George Price, at 7 City Line, West St. John. Capt. Price is commander of one of the steamers on the New York Porto Rico line and is a son of the late George Price, a member of the famous Paris crew. He has been in the U. S. for several years but every year visits his mother who, although she is more than 90 years old, is very active. The visitors are being heartily greeted by his many friends.

As Hiram Sees It

"Well, sir," said Mr. Hiram Hornbeam to the Times reporter, "I had a talk yesterday with an old fellow I hadn't seen for more'n forty year. Him an' me was boys together, on'y he lived in the next settlement. He's the father of eleven children, an' the only one that's home is the oldest boy. The rest of 'em, what's livin', is scattered from N. B. to British Columbia. We had a great talk about old times. He was a boy the on'y school they had in that settlement was in the livin' room of a house an' the woman that lived there was the teacher. Her man worked away from home most of the time then, an' he fixed up desks on hinges along the walls of the livin' room, that could be let down benches to set on. And the folks paid in so much apple an' sent the boys an' we had free schools—an' good teachers was scarce. This woman, he says, was a good teacher an' they all learnt to read an' write an'igger. They didn't hev no hint of Canada to steady fer the lad's name. My! How things has changed as fer as schools goes. But the old Union Jack's there yit—By Hen!"

The lease for the land on which the new potato shed is to be erected on the west side was signed yesterday afternoon by the Mayor and Common Clerk, on behalf of the city and has been forwarded to Ottawa by Alex. Gray, resident engineer of the Public Works Department. The lease is for a term of 7 years and is renewable at the end of that period.

The agreement for the taking of stone from Partridge Island for the extension of the breakwater has also been signed and was forwarded to Ottawa at the same time.

It is expected that work on the potato warehouse will begin as soon as the necessary signatures to the lease have been affixed at Ottawa and the job will be rushed to completion as fast as possible. Large shipments are expected through here, not only New Brunswick potatoes but from Aroostook County, Me.

SAYS CLAIMS ARE ABOVE $50,000

Engineer Speaks of Moncton Demands From the Power Commission.

G. G. Murdoch, who was in Moncton last week endeavoring to effect a settlement of claims against the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission, occasioned by the routing of the Moncton transmission lines through private property, said today that from information he had gathered, the amount of the claims probably will be in excess of $50,000.

There are twelve claimants, who refuse to accept the amounts offered them by the Power Commission in settlement and also asks for $30,000 damages to his property, on the ground that the transmission lines pass through a large section of his property in Moncton.

Mr. Murdoch collected information regarding the valuation of the various sections concerned which will be submitted to the Hydro Commission.
