Best on North Atlantic Coast, Says Despatch—First Fitted Nursery in World in New Immigration Shed.

Ottawa, April 8.—(By Canadian Press)—Twenty years ago the immigration building that was erected at St. John, N. B., by the dominion department of immigration and colonization was believed to be large enough to meet the demands that would be made on it for forty or fifty years.

ture of New Brunswick. We are glad to see by our American despatch to-day that the Senate of the United States has passed the Civil Rights Bill over the veto of the President. This bill declared that the colored people of the South are citizens of the United States, and its provisions confirmed these people in the enjoyment of their rights as freemen in a free country. Mr. Johnson, whose line of policy is essentially Southern, vetoed the measure, but by the two-thirds vote of the Senate, it has passed into law. It is to be hoped that the result of this veto will be to show the President that he is fast losing the confidence and esteem of the people of the North, and that this will induce him to change his course, and steer it a little more on the side of liberty. WILD WEST HAS NOTHING ON THE ARGENTINE Bands of Peons Adopt Tactics of Jesse James and Hold Up All Comers—Said to Be 1,000 of Them. (By Associated Press.) Buenos Aires, March 7. — The Far South of the Argentine republic has been the scene lately of adventures the account of which reads as though it had been lifted from some United States story of the "Wild West" in its palmy days of lawlessness. Peons of some of the ranches of the territory of Santa Cruz, assisted with the hundred life of sheep shearing and sheep tending, which is the occupation of the great majority of the people in those remote regions, converted themselves into a band of bushrangers and commenced to hold up the inhabitants in the best Jesse James style. Their example was quickly followed by their fellows on many other establishments, and among them they soon "mobilized" formidable gangs of desperadoes which terrorized the best parts of the territory with absolute impunity. Their number was estimated at over 1,000. The bandits, who were well armed with rifles and mounted on the best horses, raided all the likeliest establishments, burned the buildings, stole all the valuables to be found and obliged the employes to join their ranks. Even when they omitted this last outrage, the would leave the owner and his employes in a helpless position by carrying off all the horses on the place. In certain instances they did a great deal of wanton damage, such as the wrecking of shearing machinery and the cutting of boundary fences. The panic they caused among the sheep farmers and others was so great that many of them abandoned their properties and fled. The police had more than one encounter with the "enemy," but suffered defeat with many casualties. The Argentine government finally sent cavalry to deal with the bandits. Some of the milder spirits among the "rebels" gave themselves up, while others, numbering about 200, took to the mountains and still others fled to the adjoining territory of Chubut, where they are reported still to be making trouble. RAPID ACTION IN SIX DIVORCE CASES Ottawa, April 8.—(Canadian Press)—Six divorce bills were passed by the private bills committee of the House of Commons yesterday morning in the length of time originally required by the principals timely to venture "I will." Two women and four men are to be granted relief, should the House give the bills a third favorable reading.

"Champ" Clark's Name

CHAMP CLARK, the Democratic minority leader in Congress and ex-senator who died March 1st, was the typical "poor boy who became famous" of American legend.

THE NEEDLE'S EYE.

RELIGION as a rule flourishes better in connection with poverty than with prosperity.

Making a Connection

MR. MURPHY: "I had a nasty fright this morning. I put my foot on one of them electric trams."

My Two Chief Hobbies

WELL, I've made money, and I intend to keep it. I've lost money mainly through taking advice from a man in my position, with any sense would be a fool if he didn't make a success of business. I didn't starve when I was a minister of the crown, but I made ten times as much money in the office as I did in it, which is the reverse of what the little politician usually does. It gives me a chance to enjoy the only two hobbies outside my family, I've ever cared for.

An Honest Politician

MR. CRERRAR will never drop anything that he believes in, nor adopt anything that he does not believe in. He is an entirely honest politician whose thoughts lie deep as pebbles in a brook. He does not try to deceive either himself or the public, and his motives are as transparent as his utterance. The scope of his mind is limited, it is true, but it is certainly more than that of most men in public life. It is within its scope that it is singularly sincere and public-spirited. It is its course, not by fixed stars but by the weather vane, and drops a principle as lightly as the mariner drops ballast from the hold, that seems never to have been so unable to take advantage of it.

THE CONFSSIONAL: Uncensored Talks With Big Men About Themselves

No. 24—SIR CLIFFORD SIFTON

By Emil Longue Beau.

A HARD man to talk to, but a mighty good man to hear. He's deaf, and deafar than he used to be. It's seldom kind to say anything about a fellow creature's disability. Gladstone had lost his left index finger, and carried a staff in the vacant place. Winston Churchill has a defect in the roof of his mouth, which makes it impossible for him to say "masses" with the articulation that a born demagogue loves to hear.

Among the boys. For instance there was a clever Englishman named "Trant, an old London radical who had been in India, and won the Paris Commune in 1870, when he was sentenced to death; but he was pardoned and came back to the United Kingdom. He was a socialist, and a great one at that. I knew all about it, and I don't usually mention it, but I said nothing till the conversation was coming on when I remarked that I could either, so I just dropped off the first part, and kept the "Champ."

"What do you want me to say?" "Do you know me?" "They think they do, but they're wrong."

"I thought the reciprocity agreement was a great mistake, and I did what I could to give it six inches of cold steel."

CLUB MATTER GETS INTO COURT

Secretary Horne Makes Charge Against Titus Smith.

Charged with threatening to throw P. G. S. Horne, secretary of the Old Country Club, out of a window and also attempting to assault him, Titus Smith, appeared in the police court this morning and pleaded guilty to the attempted assault but said he did not threaten the complainant. Mr. Horne said the accused made the threat and also made a rush at him with his hand raised. He read the minutes of a meeting of the club in which it was stated that a meeting of the executive was held a short time ago to investigate a matter relative to the accused's conduct at a previous meeting. The accused's statement was heard and his resignation which had been handed in was read and when the executive refused to consider a finding the accused was asked to leave the room but refused to go and when again requested to do so acted as the charge alleges. The finding was rendered and was to the effect that the accused's resignation from the club be accepted.

In answer to this the accused told the court that he had resigned only from the executive but the secretary said the resignation was to be from the club. Until he could get two sureties to bind him over to keep the peace he was remanded.

Harry McHugh pleaded guilty to being drunk and also to having liquor in his possession, and was fined $20 or eight months in jail. He was remanded in order to arrange for the payment of the fine.

There were no arrests for drunkenness during the night.

J. D. PALMER ON PRICE OF SHOES

Any Decline, Says Fredericton Man, Will Be Very Gradual—Criticizes Luxury Tax.

Fredericton, N. B., April 8.—John D. Palmer, president of the Hartt Boot & Shoe Co. He said he believed the imposition of the luxury tax had been responsible for a very large proportion of the losses, and cited that as an illustration of government interference of any kind with a well developed and highly competitive industry in a country causing disaster.

A GOOD SIGN

It is the custom to bemoan the depression of the present age and forecast gloomy results for the race. The great prevalence of cigarette smoking among the youths from sixteen to twenty years of age is especially reprehended. And it would almost seem at times as if the contention that practically every growing lad now smoked were true. It is therefore encouraging to those who feel that if smoking habits are to be contracted at all it should not be before maturity is reached, to hear something of experience to the contrary.

CARS and CROSSINGS AND SAFETY FIRST

A gateman at a railway crossing has time to observe the habits and manners of the people who cross the railway tracks, and his observations often contain a valuable lesson. One of these guardians of public safety has written a partial story of his own particular crossing, with special emphasis on the right operation of automobiles. He says that hundreds of motorists cross his "beat" twice a day and seven p. m., and that scores of these cars have no tail light or a useless one, that many have no lights front or rear, and that if a man is assumed to have his lights lit, he should not drive a car. He continues: "Safety First. I think that motorists should be warned to slow down when approaching a railroad crossing. As you know, some of these express trains run very fast, and it is sometimes impossible to judge the speed. Now if a man was to be stationed at some of these crossings at some time when traffic was the busiest, and he would see the complaints we as gatemen make against the motorists, and find a few of them. It would help to make the crossings more safe. The gatemen are all anxious to protect the public and also the railway company, and you can imagine the difficult position it puts a gateman in when a motorist drives into a gate and breaks it as most of the gates are interlocking and cannot be raised till the semaphore is lifted.

THE LEGISLATURE

Promise of Investigation in Oil, Gas and Shale Land matters, So Resolution is Withdrawn—Trade Questions.

Fredericton, N.B., April 7.—The motion of J. L. Peck, calling upon the legislature to give to land owners in Albert and Westmorland counties the right to oil and natural gas and shale which is now claimed by the crown, brought out a prolonged discussion in the legislature this afternoon.

Several speakers expressed their personal views on the question, but there was the general feeling that sufficient information was not at present available by which the particulars of the question involved could be judged.

Hon. F. Magee presented a resolution by which Canadian ports were favored for trade under a preferential trade agreement with the British West Indies. The resolution was supported by the leader of the opposition and the leader of the Farmers' group and passed unanimously.

In committee on supply all items in the estimates were passed. These expenditures will come up for consideration on Monday evening.

The amount of $200,000 was voted for temporary repairs to wharves. Hon. Mr. Veniot explained that arrangements had been made to convey the wharves on tidal waters to the federal department of public works, but there had been delays and the federal authorities had not yet assumed the ownership of the wharves.

When the amount for surveys was under discussion the matter of the grants to the New Brunswick Railway Company was brought up. There was an intimation that this company had secured possession of more land than it was entitled to. It was left with the minister of lands and mines to take what steps he thought necessary to clear this matter up.

Mr. Robichaud presented the report of the committee on corporations. Mr. Wetmore presented the report of the committee on agriculture.

Hon. Mr. Byrnie introduced a bill to enable the Roman Catholic bishop of Chatham to sell certain lands in the county of Gloucester.

Mr. Melanson, speaking of the item of $40,000 for school books, asked if the increase was for the purpose of making allowance for increased prices?

Hon. Mr. Foster said that it was. The exact expenditure would depend on the attention of the house to the fact that receipts for school books totalled only $20,000. That meant that the province was contributing about $20,000 out of the provincial revenue towards the cost of school books.

Mr. Fawcett said the hon. premier had referred to widow's pensions. He could quite realize that the government was not able to do what it wished in the matter. The province was heavily burdened with debt. In his opinion widows were more deserving of pensions than some

Stop That Tickling IN THE THROAT

BY USING Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup

That tickling in the throat sensation is most distressing and causes a nasty, irritating, dry cough that not only keeps you in misery all day long, but also prevents you enjoying a good night's rest.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, which is composed of the most soothing and healing expectorant herbs and barks combined with the lung-healing virtues of the world-famous Norway pine tree, will give almost instant relief in all cases of this nature.

Mr. E. A. Price, Port Carling, Ont., writes: "For about a month last fall I had a bad cold and cough and a tickling in my throat. I coughed nearly all the time. I tried different remedies and cough syrups, but could get no relief. A friend advised me to use Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and before I had used two bottles, my cough was all gone, and gone for good. I have not coughed since."

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is put up in a yellow wrapper; three pine trees the trade mark; price 85c. and 60c. a bottle at all dealers; manufactured only by The T. Millburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

others who were receiving them. Earlier in the session a bill had been put through to provide a pension for a retired school inspector. He had no objection but it should be remembered that school inspectors, school teachers and civil servants in general, were better paid than people in many other walks of life.

Hon. Mr. Robinson said that it was only a rumor, and he did not think it would be right for him to discuss it.

Hon. Mr. Foster said that the house had spent most of the day digging into the past. In one instance they had gone back over 100 years and in another fifty years. He was getting tired of hearing of transactions of a century ago, and he thought it would be better to get back to present day problems.

Mr. Smith, (Carleton) said that rumors were current that the New Brunswick Railway Company had $24,000 acres more than it was entitled to. Had that matter been investigated? It could easily be done, as the land was laid off in tracts and the area of each tract could be ascertained.

Mr. Robinson said that some representation had been made to the government that errors had been made in connection with the grant of land to the New Brunswick Railway Company. In fact, it had been stated that one surveyor had used a six-rod chain instead of the required four-rod chain, and the six-rod chain had actually been produced.

Mr. Baxter: "Was the medium produced before the government?" Hon. Mr. Robinson said that it had been represented that a certain gentleman had gone to Boston and there had consulted a medium on this matter, and had been told about the six-rod chain and where it was. The gentleman had gone and got the chain. About the same time a lumber operator in Victoria county had lost two chains. A report on the lands of the New Brunswick Railway Company had been prepared, and a surplusage of 20,000 acres had been shown. When allowance was made for lakes, roads, etc., the total was about as it should be. That report had been compiled from plans in the department. The deputy minister had said that if further information was needed an actual survey must be made. It was the opinion of the deputy minister that there was no great discrepancy.

Mr. Wetts said that he understood that an admission had been made that the company was in possession of 50,000 acres of land to which it was not entitled.

Hon. Mr. Robinson said that it was only a rumor, and he did not think it would be right for him to discuss it.

Hon. Mr. Foster said that the house had spent most of the day digging into the past. In one instance they had gone back over 100 years and in another fifty years. He was getting tired of hearing of transactions of a century ago, and he thought it would be better to get back to present day problems.

The committee rose and reported progress and supply was made the order of the day for Monday evening at 9 o'clock.

Mr. Richards moved for the suspension of rule 78 to permit of the introduction of a bill to amend the schools act. Hon. Mr. Foster moved that the time for introducing bills be extended until Monday next.

DEFENDANT TELLS OF RESTITUTION The cross-examination of Mrs. Grace Akery was finished yesterday afternoon in the circuit court rooms before Mr. Justice McKinnon. She told of borrowing $500 from Frank L. Potts and $250 from her son-in-law, K. D. Ross, to make up the money she had burned. Some of this she paid back to Mr. Potts. The defendant denied the evidence of some women previously given as to her statements concerning the banking of moneys from the exhibition.

NEW AND LARGER ORPHANAGE UNDER CONSIDERATION

That the Protestant orphan children of New Brunswick may be domiciled in a splendid new home modernly equipped and fire-proofed, with accommodations for all who may rightfully seek admittance was the bright outlook that animated the quarterly meeting of the St. John Protestant Orphans' Home, held in the rooms of the Bible Society, Clermont street, yesterday afternoon. The president, D. C. Clark, occupied the chair and Miss Mabel Sidney-Smith filled the secretarial position lately made vacant by the death of Mrs. John S. MacLaren.

The order of business was routine until the general discussion of a big new home was introduced. It was shown that there are now about 110 little ones in the parent building, Britain street, and its auxiliary institution, West St. John. In fact both houses are about filled to capacity. In the across-harbor building there are thirteen babies on the roster. If much further demand is made upon the institution for admissions the present crowded conditions may cause disappointments.

When the Martello Hotel building in West St. John, was taken over as an annex to the Britain street orphanage it was to absorb numerous urgent cases of parentless little ones in various parts of the province. The institution was leased from the federal government at a figure and is serving the purposes of the corporate body. It is filling a great need and has relieved a tense situation.

In a broad sense the directorate feel that a substantial rural or suburban orphanage should be erected that will absorb all present institutions, bring about a centralizing of funds and a common object for all endeavor in this direction. The Protestant community in New Brunswick is large enough and willing enough to make this plan feasible when it is properly launched and efficiently materialized, it was agreed.

(Canadian Press Despatch) Sydney, N.S., April 7.—After the bitterest verbal battle in the history of Sydney city council, George R. Rideout of Moncton, former chief inspector of the Dominion Police in the maritime province at St. John, was appointed Nova Scotia Temperance Act inspector at a salary of $225 a month. The appointment was made as a result of a demand by the Social Service Council for a clean-up of the liquor situation here.

WANT RULE OF ROAD CHANGED

Fredericton, April 7.—The government was in session tonight to hear delegations from all over the province who desire the rule of the road changed, namely a law compelling teams and motor cars to keep to the right. Among those who spoke in favor of a change were T. P. Regan, who headed the delegation; R. T. Hayes, M. P. P., W. E. Scully, M. P. P., and J. E. Tilton, of St. John; R. T. Phillips, of Fredericton, and Hon. J. E. Michaud.

A delegation from the New Brunswick Guides' Association requested that the game season be not shortened this year as proposed by having it open on Oct. 1 instead of Sept. 15. The guides desire that no change be made this year.

DON'T FUSS WITH MUSTARD PLASTERS!

Musterole Works Without the Blister—Easier, Quicker

There's no sense in mixing a mess of mustard, flour and water when you can easily relieve pain, soreness or stiffness with a little clean, white Musterole. Musterole is made of pure oil of mustard and other helpful ingredients, combined in the form of the present white ointment. It takes the place of mustard plasters, and will not blister. Musterole usually gives prompt relief from sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia).

WILL NOT RATIFY THE TREATY NOR ENTER LEAGUE

President Harding Announces His Stand

Not Committed As to Knox's Resolution—Plan for International Association of Nations May Be Built Up Piecemeal.

By Harold Phelps Stokes, special dispatch to N. Y. Evening Post.
Washington, April 7.—The United States is not going to ratify the Treaty of Versailles. It is not going to enter the League of Nations. Definite announcement to this effect was made by President Harding himself at the White House today. At the same time the president made it clear that the administration was not committed as yet to the passage of the Knox resolution. This momentous and presumably final decision on the part of the new administration was announced by the president at his conference with the correspondents at the close of today's cabinet meeting. It seems that the structure of international relations, so far as this country is concerned in them, must be built up. It means that President Harding and his advisers have turned their backs squarely on Elihu Root and those who led with him that the only possible basis on which to build was the League of Nations.

"Will Move 'Prudently.'"
How to go about this arduous task the new administration is in no hurry to make up its mind. The administration, it was declared, could be counted on to move "prudently." The plan of the new International Association, whatever it may be, and for the settlement of our immediate relationship with the Allies and with Germany, may be built up "piece-meal." There is in the view of the administration, no need for precipitate action.

All this has a very definite bearing on the prospects of the Knox resolution. In fact, the president so much as said flatly that he had not endorsed the movement to press that resolution. At the same time, his remarks on the subject were of such a tenor as to convince his hearers that he saw no reason to change his old senate stand in favor of the resolution. The probability is that it will be allowed to rest in the hands of the senate foreign relations committee until the purpose of the administration have taken more definite form.
Not a Complete Capitulation.
All this does not mean that Harding, Hughes and Hoover have completely capitulated to the irreconcilables. It does mean that they have given in to them to the extent of scrapping the League and the Treaty, so far as the United States is concerned. Moreover this decision of the administration would seem to go a long way towards realizing that confident prophecy of Senator Penrose that it didn't make very much difference who was going to be secretary of state, because the senate would "blaze the way" in foreign relations. Mr. Hughes has apparently come to the conclusion that in order to formulate a policy which will be possible to put through in the present welter of conflicting views, he must first of all do all that he can to conciliate the foes of the treaty in the senate.

There never was a day in the whole history of the treaty fight when the irreconcilables have been as "cocky" as they are today. For the past week they have fairly lorded it over Washington, the Viviani mission and to some extent over the country at large. Culminating in the dinner at Senator McCormick's house last night, a skilful and effective campaign has been conducted to impress both the United States and the Allies that the irreconcilables are in the saddle. There is every indication that that campaign has been successful. M. Viviani and his associates are figuratively as well as literally eating out of the hand of Senator McCormick and his colleagues.

AGRICULTURAL AID FOR THE MARITIME PROVINCES
(Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, March 21.)
Of the $1,100,000 granted annually for the aid and encouragement of agriculture and agricultural education under the agricultural instruction act of the dominion, $177,576 is allotted to the maritime provinces. Of this amount, 12,800 goes towards meeting and paying the salaries and expenses of agricultural representatives, of whom there are ten with five assistants; $68,800 towards the salaries and maintenance of agricultural colleges and schools, and for education in agriculture in public, high and normal schools; $12,000 towards meeting the expenses of women's institutes and the encouragement of women's work, and the balance of $83,966 to various forms of work such as demonstrations, lectures, short courses, and for preparing and circulating instructive literature.

In Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, in the five years following the coming into force of the act in 1914, there has been contributed from this fund no less a sum than $273,535 towards buildings and equipment and maintenance of colleges and schools of agriculture. This is quite apart from the large sums devoted to the special training of teachers and the giving of instruction in agriculture in the public schools, and short courses at the colleges.

Encouragement has also been given on a liberal scale to boys' and girls' clubs, school fairs and school and home gardening. Other features are the service rendered for the advancement of the livestock and dairying industries. Some indication of what is being accomplished will be found in the fact that upwards of 280 schools in Nova Scotia exhibited vegetable products, that thirty poultry club fairs were held in New Brunswick in 1920, that the rural science department of the Prince of Wales College at Charlottetown, P. E. I., was entirely equipped, and is being maintained solely from the grant under the Agricultural instruction act, and that, from four in 1916, the number of school fairs held in the island increased to forty in 1919. The special attention to entomological work is also noteworthy, particularly in Nova Scotia, where $8,500 of the grant is expended in this connection.

WANT THE REGULATIONS RE OLEOMARGARINE TO BE MADE STRICTER

Toronto, April 8.—A resolution urging strict regulations in addition to those already in effect with respect to oleomargarine was passed at the closing session of the annual convention of the National Dairy Council here yesterday.
The suggested additional regulations are:—
Standard color of oleomargarine other than the color of butter; printing on the container of each package of oleo a statement as to the ingredients used, and the proportion of each ingredient, and that no dairy products be allowed to be used in the manufacture of it to be sold in Canada.

A building situated in the Red Head road at East St. John, part of the plant of the Bedford Construction Company, property of the construction company, was completely destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon. Three automobiles, the stores and personal effects of some of the Italian laborers.

Mark the Better Days—

Start them with Orange Juice

You know "those days" when everything "goes right" and you do a great day's work.

Have them often—every day. They are mainly a matter of feeling right.

The habit of orange juice at every breakfast begets such days.

The alert men, with clear, active brains, are most always regular eaters of fresh fruit.

Try it for a month. Perhaps that wonderfully healthful habit is all you need to speed up your efficiency—to make all days better days for you.

CURLING.

Thistle Club Elects.
The annual meeting of the Thistle Curling Club was held last evening in the board of trade rooms. There was a large attendance and the election of officers resulted as follows: president, R. S. Ritchie; vice-president, H. E. Crawford; treasurer, H. W. Stubbs; secretary, W. H. Gamblin. It was announced that owing to the shortness of the season, the matches had not been completed for next year. The reports of the officers showed that the past season had been a very successful one. Other matters of routine business were transacted.

Close Game Played.

The soccer team of the C. A. A. played their first game of the season last night against the Royal Sussex Regiment, the latter winning by a score of 1 to 0. The following was the line-up:

The game was an interesting one, both teams working hard. The playing of the soldier forwards was superior to that of their chief mascot, Frappe, for the soldiers, scored the only goal of the game. Mr. Peacham refereed to the satisfaction of all. The C. A. A. will meet a team from the S. S. Carpentaria on Saturday evening. The local team yesterday expressed appreciation of the East End Improvement League's kindness in permitting the use of their grounds.

ATHLETIC.

To Enforce the Tourist Rule.
(Halifax Recorder)
President Covey, of the M. P. B. A. A. U. of C. was in the city yesterday, and he says it is the intention to enforce the "tourist rule" this season. This will be good news to admirers of real amateur sport, as there is nothing so injurious to developing young men in a city or town as a man being brought from one place to another and given a position in some employment, not for his business qualifications, but mainly for his athletic ability. To carry this rule out properly, however, what is needed is the support of the various clubs. They call themselves amateurs, and they should live up to their names. But unfortunately the idea of winning at any cost and increasing the club's funds by gate receipts instead of winning by the real spirit of the rules is what generally prevails, and besides an effort by one club to do the latter is often obviated by some other organization, though professing proper methods of doing the opposite. Thus the good intentions of some club are found valueless and they naturally are forced to do likewise or be out of the running. In the enforcement of the tourist rule, however, the evil can be partially eradicated and the young athlete in his own town given at least somewhat of a chance.

Montreal, April 7.—Solly Green, local featherweight, tonight scored a win over Johnny Tynan, of Philadelphia, when the latter refused to answer the bell in the seventh round of their scheduled ten-round bout and claimed he had injured his hand in the fifth round. Green had the advantage throughout.

Mormon President Warns Church Against Plural Marriages.
Salt Lake City, Utah, April 8.—Declaring that "there are no plural marriages in the Mormon church," Heber J. Grant, president, in an address in the Tabernacle, delivered a warning against "certain persons among us who are declaring that they have been instructed by the Lord to perform plural marriages."

"Any person who attempts to teach other than the prevailing system of one wife for one man is sanctioning the practice of adultery, and any who enter such marriage are guilty of adultery in the face of God," President Grant said. "I guess you understand that."
"Recently the Mormon church excommunicated and disfellowshipped several members who had joined a cult which was said to practice 'wife sacrifice,' justified by a 'revelation' the leader of the colony said he had received.

TAKES BULLET FROM BRAIN.

Surgeon Operates on Woman Wounded in Sag Harbor.
Mrs. Florence Mitchell, housekeeper for Eugene Winters, a watchcase maker of Sag Harbor, was taken to Southampton Hospital, New York, with a bullet deeply imbedded in her brain.
After Dr. Thomas C. Lippmann of Sag Harbor had extracted the bullet, it was believed the woman would recover.
The bullet had entered the woman's head just behind the ear, and had penetrated the brain to a depth of about six inches.
When Mrs. Mitchell regained consciousness after the operation, the doctor applied many tests to see whether her senses had been impaired. The woman could not remember how she was wounded, but it was thought she accidentally discharged a revolver while examining it.

POPE VISITS HIS SCULPTOR

Rome, April 8.—Pope Benedict, accompanied by his sister, the Countess Perisio, inspected this week the monument of the Pontiff on which the sculptor Quattrini is working and which will be erected on the shores of the Bosporus. Both the Pope and the Countess Perisio congratulated the sculptor on his work.
The monument represents Pope Benedict in a ten-foot figure, dressed in his pontifical robes and wearing his triple crown. The Pontiff stands in an attitude of reconciliation towards the world, and holds in his hands encyclicals published during the war. The statue is of bronze and stands on a stone pedestal eight feet high.
The monument is intended to represent the gratitude of the people along the Bosphorus for the peace efforts of Pope Benedict during the war.

Sinn Fein Advocate Interrupted Speech of Roosevelt's Sister.

Philadelphia, April 8.—A warning that foreign influences dangerous in their tendencies are again at work to weaken the close ties of friendship that bind the United States to those peoples beside whom "we fought in the war" was sounded here last night by General John Pershing, who addressed two mass meetings in the concluding exercises of "All American Day."
An address by Mrs. Douglas Robinson, a sister of the late Theodore Roosevelt, provided a dramatic scene in the Metropolitan Opera House. When she attempted to quote one of her distinguished brother's speeches on Sinn Fein, a man who gave his name as Patrick Maginly of Philadelphia called out from the balcony: "Sinn Fein stands for Americanism."
Instantly there was uproar, and cries of "lynch him," "throw him out."
Ushers seized the interrupter and held him, while Mrs. Robinson finished her quotation as follows:
"The Sinn Feiner who acts against America because he hates England is a worse creature than the members of the German-American Alliance who stood against the U. S. because they loved Germany. I want to point out this bit of etymological information—Sinn Fein means 'we ourselves.' It means that those who adopt the name are fighting for themselves, yes, for a certain people across the sea. What right have they to come to America? Their very name shows they are not American, that they are for themselves against America—anti-American."
At the request of Mrs. Robinson and General Pershing, Maginly was released after being compelled to listen to this view of Sinn Fein.

BOSTON-HALIFAX STEAMER SERVICE

(Halifax Chronicle)
If the contemplated plans of the office of the Canada Steamship Lines do not miscarry, the thousands of people in New England who so dearly love vacation trips by an all-water route will be gratified to know that their desires may be fulfilled this coming season.
There were inquiries last year from New York and all over New England for just such a trip as is now contemplated in the new service to be put on by the company.
Leaving Boston twice weekly, it is proposed to have the ships touch at Halifax and Charlottetown, P. E. I., at which point connections will be made for St. John's Newfoundland, on steamers of the same line, the Boston steamer proceeding on her way through the Gulf of St. Lawrence to Quebec and Montreal, returning to Boston via same route.
It is the intention of the company to have first-class ocean steamers with ample passenger accommodations to make the trip one of comfort in the extreme, with a dining room service that, it is said, will be a revelation to tourists who have hitherto patronized Coast Line steamers. Right here is an opportunity too good to be overlooked by the far-sighted officials who will cater to tourists' clean, comfortable state rooms, together with good food, well cooked and properly served, will earn for the line a reputation that will extend all over the country and pack the ships to capacity for such things are quickly heralded by the press.
E. W. Briggs, the Boston agent, has been in Montreal the past week attending a conference of the officials.

THE FEEBLE-MINDED

(Halifax Chronicle)
This morning the government represented by Hon. E. H. Armstrong, Hon. H. H. Wilkins, Hon. E. P. Fian were waited upon by a delegation from the Provincial Council of Women which includes nine local Councils from Halifax, Sydney, North Sydney, Berwick, Westville, Pictou, New Glasgow, Yarmouth, Truro, supported by the Nova Scotia Society for Mental Hygiene represented by Dr. Frank Woodbury, the Children's Aid Society represented by Mr. Stairs of Wolfville, and the I. O. D. E. Home clean of the I. O. D. E. Home.
Mrs. Stead spoke for the conference of Women, asking that immediate steps be taken to provide a permanent home for the feeble-minded of both sexes and the education and training of the feeble minded not in institutions.

thusiastic public ownership centre, but the opinions expressed savor little of condemnation of so much government control, except as it is believed to accentuate the seriousness of conditions. There is no gloating over the "horrible example" of government control and direction thus furnished; things are admittedly too serious for that.

To men accustomed to the "writing down" of inventories these days in their own business the writing-down suggestion of T. A. Crear, however, fails to carry on an appeal. "Suppose we decided to set a value of $1,000,000,000 on the national railways and scrap as a national loss the other billion dollars, what good would that do? The government roads would still be losing $100,000,000 a year. This loss as admitted at Ottawa, does not take into consideration one cent of interest on the national expenditure as such; the international lost money and is losing money today, on operation alone, without counting interest.

All Lines Must Pay. It is agreed that the roads must be put in a position to pay their way on operation at least. That is recognized as the first essential, whether it is decided finally to continue them under government or sell or lease to a private corporation. Some talk is heard of handing the whole mileage over to the Canadian Pacific Railway Company to co-ordinate, temporarily at least, with their own lines, and stop the deficit. Another suggestion made is that an independent commission be formed, with the C. P. R. represented, to operate all the lines in Canada until such time as business conditions return to normal, and an influx of immigration provides traffic on a profitable basis for the western lines.

This, however, must be dismissed as a solution that is obviously impracticable under political conditions as they influence all three parties in the country.

Nor is there any disposition to await calmly the inflow of immigration. It took twenty years of immigration to make the C. P. R. pay, and it is recognized that the country could hardly stand the strain one-quarter of that time under existing railway deficits without a drastic remedy. Today the deficit is running about $100,000,000 a year, and the present $2,000,000,000 invested in the roads would then have grown to $3,000,000,000.

The appointment of a parliamentary committee of investigation carries little comfort. What could a group of amateurs do with a difficult railway problem? It is asked. Putting the question on a non-party basis so far as parliament is concerned would not help the railway problem materially, however it might relieve the embarrassment of the government.

The following solution is offered by one of the best trained business minds in Canada. His line of reasoning runs somewhat along these lines:

The only hope for the national lines is to disregard everything except the question as to whether the various sections pay or not. Those that do, and only these should be continued in operation; the rest should be stopped. There is useless duplication all over the country, east and west alike, although probably more non-paying sections in the west as a result of duplication. He instances three trains out of Winnipeg every night for Edmonton, Canadian Northern, Grand Trunk Pacific, and C. P. R., where there is only enough traffic to make one road pay. Now the only man who can judge whether a road is or can be made to pay is an expert railway man, which calls for the appointment of a board of these from Canada if really independent men can be found, if not from the United States. These should be called in to report at once, and the government should act on their recommendations regardless of political pressure brought to bear from various localities to retain a service where it cannot possibly pay its way. A survey of the mileage convinces him that ninety-five per cent. of the people of Canada would not suffer any injustice, and I would have reasonable accommodation by other lines. The sections that are discarded could await the incoming of a stream of immigration that would in time make their operation profitable. Meanwhile it would be cheaper to let them rust than to run them at a loss. This might mean the surrender to rest of thousands of miles; it is the only method, in his opinion, for tackling the problem effectively, tackling it as a private firm would be compelled to tackle it.

The woman who was doing her marketing was difficult to please. She had overhauled every conceivable in the shop and insisted on getting the best in stock at a penny a pound cheaper than the market price, and now it was a question of eggs.
"Are you quite sure these eggs are fresh?" she asked.
"They are, madam."
"You will guarantee them?"
"I will, madam."
"But how am I to know that you know they are fresh?"
"My dear lady," replied the exhausted shopman, with incisive emphasis, "if you will kindly step to the telephone and ring up our farm, you will find the hens that laid them still cackling. I'm afraid I can't say any more than that."

HUN DELEGATES EXPECTED TERMS MORE SEVERE

London Opinion on Conference on Reparations

German Capital Demoralized—Talk of New Triple Alliance—Death of Lord Moulton—Topics of Empire Capital.

(From our own correspondent.) London, March 17.—The popular notion that the German delegates went back to Berlin crestfallen and with their tails between their legs must be received with some reserve. As a matter of fact, Dr. Simons, from the German point of view, achieved a considerable personal triumph and a very real diplomatic success. Berlin expected that the pains and penalties she would incur by the refusal of the Allied proposal would be much more severe than those actually decided on by the London conference. She expected the occupation of the whole of the Ruhr Valley and would not have been at all surprised, also, if Hamburg had been taken over by the British fleet and a naval blockade of her ports had been instituted to bring her to her knees and her senses. Possibly the Germans actually hoped and wished for some naval measures of this kind, counting, quite rightly it may be, on a powerful reaction of opinion in her favor in the United States. There can be no harm in stating now that some such steps as I have indicated were at one time in actual contemplation, the milder measures being substituted only at the eleventh hour.

Second Thoughts

Some onlookers in London are beginning already to ask whether perhaps the French do not, after all, possess a better understanding of the Boche psychology than we do. From the first the conference in France has been a far more realistic affair than the one in London. It would make no graceful or polite surrenders, but yield only to force majeure. For this reason, being a logician, the French have never ceased to regret that the Allies signed the armistice terms where and when they did, instead of pushing forward to dictate and enforce peace terms from the Unter den Linden in Berlin. The cynical French view is that it would have saved lots of subsequent trouble, and Marshal Foch would not have had to insist on a policy of "Berlin a outrance."

Demoralized Berlin

People who knew Berlin well before the war and who have visited it since draw a tragic picture of the change that has come upon the demoralized German capital. Before the war Berlin was the cleanest and most prim capital in the world. I well remember seeing a private German policeman tap the shoulder of an English visitor, who had absently turned up a letter while waiting in the Unter den Linden, and thrown away the fragments. He was made to pick up every scrap before he was allowed to move off. But now even the best parts of Berlin are in a deplorable condition, dirty, littered and dingy. The Prussians, in groggous uniforms used to take their pleasures sedately with ultra-smart ladies, have vanished mostly or else degenerated into cheap and nasty rascals of vicious parvenus or pretty desperate adventurers. The Berliners, as a people, are forfeiting and the forms of expensive pleasure, and the night life of the city, which before 1914 was rivaling Paris, is now mainly a pretence for robbing silly foreigners. Although midnight is supposed to end the though Berlin, there are low dancing halls and cabarets open until five in the morning, and the once punctilious German police are apathetic. Crowds of women frequent the streets and night haunts, and generally Berlin is today a sort of Doris Grey picture of its own degeneracy.

A New Triple Alliance

Whilst the diplomatic outlook is scarcely satisfactory, so far as Germany is concerned, I hear very gratifying tidings with regard to the negotiations for the renewal of the Anglo-Japanese Treaty. It may be expected, with confidence, that this important instrument for maintaining the status quo in the Far East will be renewed about the time of the holding of the Imperial Conference in London. This conference will give us an opportunity of conferring with our friends in Australasia. The treaty will be remembered, is of an offensive and defensive character, but the nations with which we have concluded arbitration treaties were expressly excluded from its operation.

The Man and The Moment

The death of Lord Moulton has shocked all those who knew him. A friend of mine saw him coming away from the French have never ceased to regret that the Allies signed the armistice terms where and when they did, instead of pushing forward to dictate and enforce peace terms from the Unter den Linden in Berlin. The cynical French view is that it would have saved lots of subsequent trouble, and Marshal Foch would not have had to insist on a policy of "Berlin a outrance."

A Figure of The Past

In a London club which must be needless because it was the place where you would perhaps expect to meet a figure, I saw last week a man whose name was on everyone's lips throughout the civilized world only a few months ago. Young, restless, with those curious, basilisk eyes more common in the old than in men still in the prime of life, he was scarcely looked one of the great figures of history in the dinner jacket and correct evening dress for a man about-town. It was M. Kerensky, the first president of the Russian republic. Some time after he left Russia he

DOMINION RIFLE ASSN. EXTENDS RECOGNITION

Appreciating the importance of strengthening Canada's position in rifle shooting, the Dominion Rifle Association has extended recognition to the 8,000 members who comprise the 196 clubs which are units of Dominion marksmen, and from now on graduates of Dominion marksmen will be immediately eligible to free membership for a period of one year in the Dominion Rifle Association. This information was received at the headquarters of the Dominion marksmen in Montreal in a telegram from Colonel H. J. Birdwhistle, of Ottawa, secretary of the Dominion Rifle Association, which reads as follows: "Executive committee approved gold medal schemes and will issue certificates as desired, in addition will give one year's membership in association to winners."

Changed Days

This morning I found myself exchanging a light in the train up to town with a sergeant of the fusiliers, whose ribbons spoke for themselves as adorning the well-fitting tunic of a soldier who not only did well in the war, but was home in London on leave from Cologne, and a thirty days leave at that. I had vivid memories of what even ten days leave meant in the old days when it came round to those lucky ones who survived to get it only about once in twelve or fourteen months, and a man seriously trying to get back. He explained that here at home he found things pretty "rotten." Most of his friends were either out of work or ex-acting to be, and things were too gloomy and dull for words. And the cost of living and the mildest enjoyment of the "war" were both gone. He said affectionately, "I can live like a fighting cock on a quid a week, with three nights a week in a good seat at a tip-top opera and everybody as jolly as sandboys!"

Sartorial Politics

Ehen fugues! What a sort of year it seems now since that terrible firebrand of a fellow, Keir Hardie, whose revolutionary views would nowadays be looked upon as the rant of a madman, caused a genuine sensation by turning up at Westminster in a cloth cap. It stood for the arrival of the proletariat in respectable British politics. It also marked the slow but sure evolution of even Keir Hardie, in the fulness of time, developed into rather a beautiful Tassoni silk suit in the summer months and his elegantly negligé Montmartre tie all the year round. We have grown accustomed to labor with frock coats and silk toppers complete. One of them, Mr. Bruce, even sported his topped hat. King Edward's time it was when the House of Commons that the labor party has burst forth into evening dress. That also is a sign and a portent. Labor is beginning to take itself for granted and to forget the necessity to pose. But how priceless it would be if some day Will Thorne turned up with a black-ribbon monocle in one eye!

Lounge Lizards

"Detective (private), wanted for 'lounge lizard' nuisance" is an advertisement in a leading daily paper that probably puzzled a good many people. But the manager of the big and fashionable hotel knows all too well this species of reptilla, male and female, that infests the lounge, the smoking-room, the bar, and the restaurant in this expensive, well-dressed lounge who haunts the hotel for the purpose of living upon other guests. Not necessarily criminals, they lie in wait from morning till night, using the hotel note-paper and generally conducting themselves as though they were in their own home. The creditous and kind-hearted are "bled" for lunches and dinners on various ingenious pleas, while deeper schemes may often be hatched in various costly hotels and never pays for a meal for lunch or a golf cap. And life to a yacht club or a golf cap. And life to a yacht club or a golf cap. And life to a yacht club or a golf cap.

Boat Race Training Diets

I have been reading some records of the various "infallible" diets directed by the "war" diet race crews while in training. In years gone by it was always, beef, more beef, and after that beef washed down by copious libations of porter. Then the "diet" arrived and "freak" diets became fashionable. Oxford pinned its faith to sponge cakes, and Cambridge swore by hard-boiled eggs, while for both beer was taboo. Another year oatmeal porridge was the chief diet for Oxford, but this may have been accounted for by the fact that Scotch element predominated in the boat. And now the circle is revolving again, and this year the "plain and wholesome" diet is in favor with both the Light and the Dark Blues, while a quart of the thin
