TURK'S MISSION TO LONDON FAILS

Wanted Powers to Back Up Claim to Adrianople

Ottoman Government Has Another Chance—Some Members Want Peace But War Element Still is Clamoring—Little Fighting

(Canadian Press)

Constantinople, Feb. 26.—The mission of Dr. Ibrahim Hakkî Pasha on behalf of the Ottoman government to London has failed. His object was to persuade the European powers to support the claim of Turkey to the retention of Adrianople. He was, however, unable to prevail upon the ambassadors of the powers to accept the Pasha's reply to the European note as a basis for fresh negotiations for peace and, contrary to rumors, which have been current all over Europe, he had no authority to go beyond the proposals contained in Turkey's response.

OTOMAN GOVERNMENT HAS ANOTHER CHANCE—SOME MEMBERS WANT PEACE BUT WAR ELEMENT STILL IS CLAMORING—LITTLE FIGHTING

The ambassadors replied verbally to him in the sense indicated, but left the door open for fresh proposals from Turkey as they did not insist on the compliance of the Porte with the terms of the original note presented at Constantinople by the representatives of the powers.

OTOMAN GOVERNMENT HAS ANOTHER CHANCE—SOME MEMBERS WANT PEACE BUT WAR ELEMENT STILL IS CLAMORING—LITTLE FIGHTING

Although some members of the Turkish cabinet are in favor of peace, the war element shows no tendency to weaken its attitude.

Military operations are still confined to skirmishes at various points along the front and fighting on a grand scale is improbable for the present owing to the inclemency of the weather.

Little Beauty Chats

Your Daytime Garments Should Be Well Aired During the Night

It is as important to wear well aired undergarments and frocks as it is to keep the body clean. Do you not think so? For this reason I deprecate the practice of hanging one's frock and underwear in a closet as soon as they are discarded, as this means that while they will harbor no ugly creases, they will not get the benefit of a fresh current of air. Many women think that they have done all that could possibly be expected when they hang their daytime clothes neatly on hangers in their closets and lie them off to bed. They evidently do not stop to think that this is a most unhygienic proceeding as the average closet has no window and ventilation is consequently nil. Between two evils, I would, in the interest of health and therefore beauty, prefer that you do as some few of my sex do—namely, let your clothes lie where they fall. Place them on hangers, if you will—in fact I think it a capital idea—but instead of putting them in an ill-ventilated closet, hang them up on your chamber floor or allowing them to lie in a tumbled heap on a chair, as such is far from being the case. I have no patience with the woman who omits to such careless personal habits and am firmly of the opinion that she should mend her ways. No, there is a middle way, one that will keep your daytime garments sweet and smooth. Place them on hangers, if you will—in fact I think it a capital idea—but instead of putting them in an ill-ventilated closet, hang them up on your chamber floor or allowing them to lie in a tumbled heap on a chair, as such is far from being the case. I have no patience with the woman who omits to such careless personal habits and am firmly of the opinion that she should mend her ways.

Next morning when you dress, you will find that your petticoats, corsets and other garments are dry and smell as sweet as a spring morning.

BENEFITS OF A PROTECTION ACT

J. J. Kelso, Ontario Official, Discusses It

MAKE WORTHY CITIZENS

What is Done For the Children by This Legislation—New Brunswick Only Province in Canada Without It

Two hundred and fifty members of the Men's and Women's Canadian Clubs heard the child problem strikingly discussed by J. J. Kelso, superintendent of neglected and dependent children of Ontario, in Kelso's recently roomed last night. The address was illustrated by a series of views which emphasized the more important points of the lecturer's address. Mr. Kelso's address dealt almost wholly with the more practical side of the work among the children. He told of the value of the legislation regarding a check on the parents who did not realize their responsibilities to their children, and showed by means of lantern slides the change that had been effected in children who had been taken from irresponsible parents by the Children's Aid Society of Ontario. The preventive value of the measure the lecturer especially emphasized. He said that once those whom the legislation affected realized that the control of the children would be taken from their hands and put under the society, greater care would be exercised in the bringing up of the children, and they would not be put into those employments which were regarded, and truly so, as prejudicial to the welfare of the community of which these children would be a part in later years.

Interesting slides showed the conditions under which the children in whose favor the legislation was being effected, lived. The society took the children from worthless parents, and placed them under the guardianship of foster parents and their characters were developed under wholesome conditions that made them valuable members of society instead of worthless individuals. This transformation was illustrated in a striking manner with photographs taken while the children lived in homes, and after they had been cared for by means of the society. In connection with the sale of newspapers in the city of St. John, Mr. Kelso said that he was sorry to see several small children cast about in the streets. Instead of selling newspapers some of them should be at school or at play, and in any case away from the deteriorating influence of the street.

Mr. Kelso opened his address by telling in what manner he had started the work among the children. He had been employed in newspaper work in Toronto on the Toronto Globe, and by writing a series of articles dealing with the misery and hopelessness of child life in that town, had called the attention of the government to the lamentable condition in which the children lived in Toronto. He had been appointed, as a result of these articles, to his present position and had worked among the children for twenty years. The children's legislation had been adopted in every province in Canada with the exception of New Brunswick. Nova Scotia had adopted it in 1905 and some of the other provinces before that time. In Alberta they were doing very active work and in every other province they fully recognized that the work among the children was one that had a very important part in the development of the community.

The only argument against the passing of the Child's Protection Act was the fact that the public did not know enough about its objects. Once its value was recognized the good work would be commended, and the result would be that those children who were unfortunate in their circumstances would be handed to the care of responsible people and would develop into useful members of society, instead of becoming similar to their parents.

In all his experience, Mr. Kelso said, there had never been a sufficient number to fill the demand for children in the farming communities of Ontario. In the last two decades there had been something like 12,000 children taken care of by means of this legislation, and most of these children had developed into valuable members of society. Few children died in the country, and instead of pining away or growing into sickly men and women, the children of bad parents in Ontario grew into healthy men and women. In fact, that province there were sixty-two societies in connection with the care of poor children. "The care of the child is fundamental to the good of the community," Mr. Kelso said. "Give them all the advantages for the future of the country depends upon them."

In the course of his lecture, Mr. Kelso brought up the question of institutions for the care of children, and while admitting their usefulness, he emphasized the far greater value of individual care which the foster parents were able to give children. There is a heart longer on the part of children, he said, which is not responded to in the case of institutions. There one person will take care of many children, and cannot give the affection which the little ones want.

In an interview Mr. Kelso told The Telegraph that a question that was very much to the point was that of the wife deserter. Social workers, he said, had become assured that one-third of the children and child that was needed in cases of child traces amongst the poor classes in Canada was caused by the husband fleeing from his obligations. Under the present legislation the husband could not be got at properly, and in the case of his leaving, the country the extradition laws did not permit of him being brought back, and compelled to take up his responsibilities. Several delegations had seen the government with regard to legislation affecting this important matter, and the prohibitions were that steps would be taken to effect a change which would bring the erring husbands within the scope of the law. Nowadays, Mr. Kelso went on to say, there is a tendency, instead of relieving distress in the hitherto easy method of promiscuous charity, to look into the causes which make for the wretchedness amongst the poorer people, and to correct those in a properly scientific way.

If Tongue is Coated, Breath Bad, Stomach Sour, it Means a Torpid Liver And Clogged Bowels

Mother! Don't scold your cross, peevish child! Look at the tongue! See if it is white, yellow or coated! Give a teaspoonful of Syrup of Figs, and in a few hours all the clogged waste, undigested food and sour bile will gently move on and out of its little waste clogged bowels without nausea, griping or weakness, and you will surely have a well, happy and smiling child again shortly.

ACCIDENT

Herbert Bolya of Harding street, Fairville was injured while working on a steamer at Sand Point about noon today. His finger was badly jammed. He was taken to the Emergency Hospital and later to his home.

A MOTHER'S CREED.

I believe in the eternal importance of the home as the fundamental institution of society. I believe in the immeasurable possibilities of every boy and girl. I believe in the imagination, the trust, the hopes and the ideals which dwell in the hearts of all children. I believe in the beauty of nature, of art, of books and of friendship. I believe in the satisfaction of duty. I believe in the little heroic joys of everyday life, and after mounting to dazzling heights, by means of a ladder, and crawling along a stone ledge some eighty feet above the level of the ground, was rewarded with a sight of the partially exhausted statue, which stands some fifteen or sixteen feet high.

It is the figure of a woman holding in one hand a gun, and in the other some ears of corn. On the ground is something which may represent either a tomahawk or the axe of the pioneer, and underneath in letters that once were gilt, appears the word "America."

If the whole of London would thus be channel over night, its drains would get up next morning and fancy themselves in a strange city.

LONG HIDDEN UNDER THE GRIME OF LONDON; AMERICA RE-DISCOVERED

(Times Special Correspondence)

London, Feb. 13—America was discovered all over again in London recently. At the long-hidden statue of America. It is really no use putting up a statue or any other kind of memorial in London for the biggest of London's railway stations, it will be practically enveloped in a pitch-black cloak of London soot, some 6000 tons of which, according to an engineer's estimate, is always hanging in the atmosphere of this metropolis.

The statue of "America" which has just been discovered adorns the front of the Cannon Street Hotel, which adjoins one of the biggest of London's railway stations, and is a favorite place for big political and other gatherings. It was put up in 1866, since when its walls have not been cleaned, hence for forty years or more all the rather elaborate decorations which cover them have been hidden from sight as completely as if they never existed. The pall of mingled soot and grime above the level of the ground, was rewarded with a sight of the partially exhausted statue, which stands some fifteen or sixteen feet high.

It is the figure of a woman holding in one hand a gun, and in the other some ears of corn. On the ground is something which may represent either a tomahawk or the axe of the pioneer, and underneath in letters that once were gilt, appears the word "America."

If the whole of London would thus be channel over night, its drains would get up next morning and fancy themselves in a strange city.

ALLEGED BRIBERY TO GAIN THAW'S FREEDOM

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 26—John Nicholson Anhalt, a New York lawyer, accused by Dr. John W. Russell, superintendent of the Massachusetts Hospital, of having offered him a bribe of $50,000 to release Harry K. Thaw, was a witness today before Governor Silliman's committee of inquiry.

Anhalt testified that "I was a Hoffman said to be Thaw's agent, called at my office on November 29 and paid $25,000 on the following agreement: '42,000 was to be returned by January 1, unless the matter of Thaw's release was commended and the remainder was to be returned by July 1, 1913, unless Thaw was released by that date. 'I knew the man I wanted was Dr. Russell. I telephoned him and he came down the next day. I told him about my retention. In the course of his conversation he told me he released about 25 per cent of the inmates of Mattawan each year.'

CONDENSED DESPATCHES

New York, Feb. 26—Abraham Steinberg, a walking delegate of a union, was murdered on orders from contractors who feared the results of his labors would injure their business, according to the alleged confession of the men charged with the killing. Abraham Palloff, his eight-year-old daughter and Louis Weinstein a button-hole contractor, are under arrest.

Melbourne, Feb. 26—The new land discovered by Dr. Mawson in the South polar regions will be named King George V land.

El Paso, Texas, Feb. 26—Alfran Goodale, deposo governor of Chihuahua state, is being tried by court martial.

He has been in partial retirement for a few years, and for more than a year has been wholly laid aside from work. By the older people, especially of the former Free Baptist body, Brother Knollin will be kindly remembered. Rev. H. L. Saunders, of Chegoquin, N. S., has accepted the call of the Cambridge and Waterville pastorate. He will begin work in about a month.

Rev. H. R. Noble, Christie street church, Toronto, is leading a growing work. The annual meeting of the church showed all departments prospering. The pressing need now is accommodation for the members.

Rev. Frederic P. Dennison occupied the pulpit of Zion church, Yarmouth, on Feb. 14. He spoke before the Yarmouth county Quarterly on the 19th, and also lectured in Temple church on Feb. 14. He spoke before the Yarmouth county Quarterly on the 19th, and also lectured in Temple church on Feb. 14.

Rev. I. C. Corey will be remembered by the many in New Brunswick and Nova Scotia. He was a year and a half with the Fairville, N. B., church, but nearly all his ministry has been spent in the United States. He is just closing a five years' pastorate at Fremont, Nebraska, where he had previously spent sixteen years as pastor.

Rev. E. J. Grant writes us of a call he made on Rev. W. M. Knollin at his home in Salem, Yarmouth county, N. S. He has been in partial retirement for a few years, and for more than a year has been wholly laid aside from work. By the older people, especially of the former Free Baptist body, Brother Knollin will be kindly remembered. He was ordained in 1857, and labored for a few years in New Brunswick, his native province, one of the churches of which he was pastor being Waterloo street, this city. After more than half a century of faithful and fruitful ministry, he awaits the Father's call home. May great peace fill his closing days.

INDIGESTION RIGHTLY CURED STAYS CURED
Not by Treating the Symptoms but by Toning up the Stomach to do Nature's Work.
Indigestion should not be neglected for by depriving the body of its proper nourishment it grows steadily weaker. Neither stimulating medicines, which ruin the already weak stomach, nor making it work beyond its strength, should be used, nor purgatives, which do not excite a flow of the digestive fluids, but by diluting the stomach to grow weaker.

TO KEEP THE FACE FRESH, CLEAR, YOUTHFUL
(National Hygienic Review)
More important than the cosmetic care of the complexion is its physical care. To keep the face clean, fresh, youthful, there is no better than common macerated wax. It absorbs the soil or faded worn-out skin particles. Using cosmetics simply adds unwholesomeness to the complexion.

"BUY BONDS"

—so say the market wise.

From the standpoint of the investor market conditions are most favorable now for the purchase of Bonds. Prices of many high-class Industrial Bonds were depressed by the high rates for money.

Therefore, at present low prices the high interest yield of these bonds places them on a par with stocks as regards returns to investor.

IRON WORKERS' UNION WILL ASK GOMPER'S ADVICE

All Their Officers But Two Are Convinced of Dynamiting, and They Hesitate About Re-electing Them

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 25--Action on all questions involving the future of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, all but two of whose officials were convicted at the "Dynamite conspiracy" trial, today was ordered by the delegates at the annual convention to be deferred until after the visit of Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor.

After Frank M. Ryan, the president, John T. Butler, the first vice-president, and thirty-one other executive board members and business agents of the Iron Workers' Union were convicted last December of using their funds to finance the expenses of John J. McNamara's "dynamiting campaign," the members elected a plan for re-organizing the union's welfare came up at the convention season today the delegates voted to delay action until Mr. Gompers' arrival.

WEAK MEN Electricity Will Cure You

Electricity is animal vitality. It is the foundation of all strength. It is the fuel to the engine which runs the human machine. Electricity, as I apply it, is a source of new life to all parts of the body.

No man should be weak; no man should suffer the loss of that vital element which renders life worth living. No man should allow himself to become less a man than nature intended him; no man should suffer for the sins of his youth, when there is here at hand a certain check to his weakness--a check to his waste power. Most of the pains, most of the weakness of stomach, heart, brain and nerve from which men suffer, are due to an early loss of nature's reserve power through mistakes of youth.

Dr. McLaughlin's Electric Belt

restores the snap, the vim and vigor of youth. Any man who wears it can be a giant in mental and physical development. Men are you weak, have you pains in the back, vertigo, weak stomach, constipation, lumbago, rheumatism, enlarged prostate gland, or any of the results of early mistakes, excesses or overwork? Our methods of applying electricity while you sleep at night will cure you. It fills the nerves with the fire of life.

EVIDENCE COMES FRESH EVERY DAY

No one will believe that my belt will cure paralysis. Here is a case in point. Mr. Chas. J. Jacobson, Blanche, Que., writes on January 7th as follows: "No doubt you have forgotten me, for I bought my belt from you 12 years ago, and after wearing it for three months was cured, and have been well until this summer, when I got a stroke in July, losing the power in one leg and one arm. I have been under treatment from Dr. Sicord, of Buckingham, with hot baths, and have used an electric battery on my arm and leg, and although I could walk a little, still I had pain, so I thought I would try your belt. I started wearing it, and after wearing it only one night I had no more pain, and after using my old belt every night and have done a lot of work at harvesting since then. I know that my belt gives me great strength, and I do not believe in using drugs."

Mr. R. V. Dunphy, Cause, N. S., writes under date of January 12th, and says: "Dear Sir:--Please accept my sincere thanks for your Belt. It has done wonders for me. I have not felt a pain in my back for a long time, although I am on my feet 15 hours out of the 24. I would have written before, but I have been very busy. I know my Belt will do a lot of good for me yet."

Our methods of applying electricity while you sleep at night will cure you. It fills the nerves with the fire of life.

EVIDENCE COMES FRESH EVERY DAY

No one will believe that my belt will cure paralysis. Here is a case in point. Mr. Chas. J. Jacobson, Blanche, Que., writes on January 7th as follows: "No doubt you have forgotten me, for I bought my belt from you 12 years ago, and after wearing it for three months was cured, and have been well until this summer, when I got a stroke in July, losing the power in one leg and one arm. I have been under treatment from Dr. Sicord, of Buckingham, with hot baths, and have used an electric battery on my arm and leg, and although I could walk a little, still I had pain, so I thought I would try your belt. I started wearing it, and after wearing it only one night I had no more pain, and after using my old belt every night and have done a lot of work at harvesting since then. I know that my belt gives me great strength, and I do not believe in using drugs."

Mr. R. V. Dunphy, Cause, N. S., writes under date of January 12th, and says: "Dear Sir:--Please accept my sincere thanks for your Belt. It has done wonders for me. I have not felt a pain in my back for a long time, although I am on my feet 15 hours out of the 24. I would have written before, but I have been very busy. I know my Belt will do a lot of good for me yet."

COLORED MEN IN MR. KELSO TELLS A SERIOUS FIX OF TORONTO WORK

Assaulting and Robbing William London in Brussels Street is Charge—Police Court Cases

"You two men have gotten yourselves into a very serious predicament," said Magistrate Ritchie in the police court this morning, when dealing with the case of Walter Jones, aged 26, and Ernest Bushlan, aged 22, charged with assaulting and beating and also robbing William London in Brussels street between 9 and 10 o'clock last night. "Several years ago," he continued, "a man was sentenced to fourteen years in Dorchester for robbing a man of a gold ring in the public streets. It is not the amount that you steal that makes the charge serious, but it is the fact that you hold the man up in the public highway. Citizens must be protected whether in their homes or on the streets."

The prisoners were remanded to jail, as the complainant was unable to attend court this morning because of his injuries. Hearing in the case will be begun on Friday morning at 10 o'clock. Both prisoners are colored.

Louis Jones, colored, charged with being drunk and using profane language, Union Alley last night, was fined $8 or thirty days in jail on the first charge and $8 or two months in jail for the profanity. He sought to explain to the court that yesterday was his birthday and he was "jest celebratin'," but his story did not go.

John Larsen was before the court, charged with being drunk and assaulting Leo Gilbert, a clerk in D. Bossen's store, 14 Charlotte street, last night about 8 o'clock. The complainant said that the defendant entered the store and asked to be shown some shirts. One was placed on the counter before him and he told the clerk it was no good. On the clerk's saying that it was good, the defendant caught him by the throat. He then put the defendant out of the store.

Policeman Powers said that he saw the defendant in Charlotte street in conversation with D. Bossen in front of the latter's store, and as a crowd had begun to gather, he asked the prisoner to move on. He did so, but stopped again, and on being asked again to move along refused to do so, and was locked up. The prisoner pleaded guilty to drunkenness, but denied the other charge. He was remanded.

The case of Joseph Stewart, charged with bigamy, came up in the police court yesterday afternoon and was further adjourned.

The Chinese assault case will be resumed in the court this afternoon at three o'clock. The case of Leon Smith and Lizzie Smith, charged with assault on William Dixon, will also be continued this afternoon.

Eight School Buildings as Social Centres—Other Good Projects Bringing Results

The use of school buildings as social centres has been introduced with great success in the city of Toronto. J. J. Kelso, in a talk with the Times this morning, said that eight school buildings are being used more or less as social centres this winter. They opened one school building in St. John's Ward, in a district populated by Russian-Jews. They began with an illustrated health talk, and not only was the assembly room filled that first night, but about 200 were turned away. This was followed by an address on city government, an illustrated talk on Canada, and others, and the people show the greatest interest.

In connection with one school building a Neighborhood Association was formed by the people who lived within a quarter of a mile. It was pointed out to them that this was their school building, and that they ought to make use of it. They did so with enthusiasm. They procured pictures for the walls of the various school rooms, and they procured a piano. In this building there are meetings for girls, there are sewing classes, there are educational classes, there are entertainments and illustrated lectures, and the building is practically in use every evening. Some people feared that the men would chew tobacco or that the school furniture would be damaged, or that the place would be made unhealthful for the children next morning. Mr. Kelso says that all these fears were proved to be entirely groundless. The people were told that this was their building, and they were asked to treat it as such, and to remember that it was to be used by their children every day. The result has been entirely satisfactory.

Mr. Kelso adds that in one congested district they opened a Central Neighborhood House, in which there is only one paid worker, but where no less than seventy-five university students, voluntarily give a portion of their time to the work. This building is open every afternoon and evening. Mothers may go there, children may go there after school, men may meet there, and it is of the greatest benefit to the district.

Mr. Kelso says that wider use of the school buildings is coming very rapidly. The people realize that they own these buildings and that they are not getting value for them. He is enthusiastic in his advocacy of having such buildings made social centres.

CREARY MUST LEAVE CITY Freed on Suspended Sentence by Judge Forbes

Frederick Creary, charged with breaking and entering, and stealing from several stores, was taken before Judge Forbes in the County Court this morning and elected to be tried under the Speedy Trials Act. He pleaded guilty and was allowed to go on suspended sentence, on condition that he leave the city at once. If he returns within two years he was warned that he would be sent to Dorchester Penitentiary for five years.

The trial of the civil non-jury case of the Dunlop Rubber & Tire Goods Co. Ltd. vs. Fred C. Jones of Moncton was commenced this morning. This was an action brought to recover about $150 for tires sold to the defendant. The defence contends that certain credits were not given to the plaintiff. The plaintiff and the defendant himself gave evidence. The case was resumed this afternoon. Geo. H. Y. is for the plaintiff and A. Wilson K. G. for the defendant.

I. I. TAYLOR, TRAVELER WELL KNOWN HERE, IS DEAD

He had represented the firm of Alexander Ramsay & Sons for many years in that part of the country. He left Montreal last fall to assume charge of the Vancouver branch of Messrs. Ramsay's business.

ANOTHER POWER PROJECT?

Evidence of activity on behalf of various hydro-electric projects is turning up in various places. A short time ago two members of the Ingleswood Pulp & Paper Company had a call from a gentleman with a proposal to purchase their property on the Musquash stream. The proposal was not a definite one, and nothing was done about it. The purchaser did not reveal the names of those for whom he was acting, but it was believed that the offer was made in connection with a power project.

PORTER'S CORNER UNDER OPTION

The property known as Porter's corner, the corner of Union and Waterloo streets is again in the market. The property, which included the lot owned by James H. White and the building owned by Andrew Myles and occupied by W. A. Porter, was under option last spring but was not taken up. Recently local business men secured an option on it for Montreal interests who wished to establish a branch store here but the matter was not completed. The property is again under option.

ARRESTED ON THEFT CHARGE

William Porter, aged 18, was arrested at noon today by Detective Killen on the charge of stealing a pair of boots with skates attached from the Victoria Rink. It is alleged that he took the boots and skates from the dressing room in the rink, and after detaching the skates from the boots sold the latter to twenty-five cents. Detective Killen recovered both the boots and skates.
