Miramichi Advance. CHATHAM, N. B., MARCH 9, 1893.

Supper! It appears a very absurd thing that the Dominion Government should make a childish attempt to conceal the fact that its sugar duties are among the most objectionable of its protective features.

The government's ability to gauge the extent of Mr. Cartwright's knowledge of the sugar question encourages Senator Drummond to appear in the Toronto Empire with a letter, which has been dutifully copied in all the government organs, with the intimation, in general terms, that the senator has routed the ex-finance minister. Senator Drummond's letter, like the speeches of Sir Richard, is a mixture of truth and fiction.

It is not a housekeeper in the domain which does not know that sugar never enters into the whole history of the country, and to this I add that there is no refinery in Canada which during last year paid a fraction beyond her interest on its capital. Second—The existing duty gives over $2,000,000 to the farmer. Answer—The public Canada has not paid one cent in respect of it in consequence of the tariff, but it has made up the balance out of production and at a price which has averaged much below the price in the United States.

Third—He says: "It is possible to buy one-third more sugar for a dollar in the United States than in Canada." I say the statement is false and was never anything but a baseless assertion. I am, yours truly, GEO. A. DRUMMOND.

Almost everybody in Canada has ceased to have any faith in Sir Richard Cartwright's trade statements. He is quite innocent of the faculty of truth in that regard, while Senator Drummond is very misleading as to the effect of the tariff on the price of sugar. Being a big sugar refiner, however, he has an excuse for his sophistries. Sugar, we all know, is quite an article in the United States as it is in Canada. The question is not, however, so much whether sugar is cheaper or dearer in Canada than the United States, but whether the effect of the tariff is not to greatly increase the price paid by the Canadian consumer.

Will Senator Drummond explain—we know he can do so if he likes—how it is that granulated sugar is retailed at a penny a pound in London, Glasgow, etc.—less than three cents—free trade Britain, while it costs more than double that price in either Canada or the United States? The facts that Senator Drummond, who is a sugar refiner, wishes to conceal his profits, and that Sir Richard, who is an annexationist, wishes to prevent people from "looking to England," appear to have encouraged the government organs to assist in concealing the effects of the National Policy in the sweet article under discussion. Honestly, however, his best long run, and we think the government ought to freely admit that its sugar duties are purely protective, and that Senator Drummond is very ungrateful not to admit it.

Good! It was announced not long ago that the Intercolonial had only fallen a few thousand dollars short of paying its way for the first five months of the current fiscal year. Returns for six months now in and there is a balance of $15,000 to the credit of the railway.—Sun.

The Legislature.

The New Brunswick Legislature is to be opened at Fredericton this afternoon. Therefore the ceremonies have taken place in the chamber of the upper house, or legislative council, and such occasions have always been attended with more or less social and military display. It was usual for a guard of honor—composed of Imperial troops some years ago and, later, of men of the 71st battalion and, more recently, of the Infantry school—band and detachment of artillerymen, to be in attendance, and the arrival of the governor at the parliament buildings has been amid the boom of cannon, the playing of arms and the music of the band. Officers in their smart uniforms, distinguished citizens from many quarters, and ladies in costumes often made especially for the occasion, occupied the upper gallery as the governor ascended the throne and commanded the attendance of the members of the Assembly. Then the Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod—a most unique officer, whose qualifications and duties required some gymnastic training—advanced to the lower chamber and, after performing evolutions which were sure to cause the new members—and some of the old ones too—more or less excitement, acquaint that body that his excellency, or his honor, required their attendance. If it were a new house the members, after going up stairs would be sent back to choose a speaker, then to reappear; if not, the speech from the throne would be delivered to them on their first appearance, led by the Speaker; and after the members of the lower house had returned to their chamber the governor would retire and the session proceed. Several days used to be wasted after the opening, before the business of the session was brought on by the consideration of the address, but in late years, the Blair administration has followed the more practical course of having the address read immediately after the return of the members of Assembly to their chamber.

We are not informed, nor have we seen any intimation of what the formalities are to be to-day. There will, of course, be no legislative council and no black rod, consequently there will be no gymnastics and no trooping of the members of the house upstairs and sending of them back again to elect a Speaker. One wag has suggested that when the governor goes down to the House to open it, the lieutenant of the opposition—Mr. Pitts who represents York—is going to tell him to go back again and that they will send for him when they have chosen a Speaker, but it is probable that Mr. Stetson will be able to repress his friend until some later period in the session, and that Mr. Blair will be permitted to control the procedure, and to have everything will be done decently and in order.

It is to be understood that Mr. Burhill, one of Northumberland's representatives, is to be Speaker and that business is to be proceeded with, as usual, as soon as the session is delivered. The address will, probably, be read by Mr. Stetson, or Restigouche, and we should not be surprised to hear of it being carried through to-day or, at least, to-morrow. In any case the session will not be a long one.

Ottawa Notes.

The debate on Sir Richard Cartwright's Budget amendment. That the present customs tariff bears heavily and unjustly upon the great commerce of Canada should be abolished, and one thoroughly reformed, in the direction of free trade, and that the collection of duties ought to be made more efficient and economical.

Mr. Blair and Great Britain. A ROYAL LETTER TO THE BRITISH FLAG. Mr. Archibald Forbes contributes to the London Standard an article in which he says: "It suited Mr. Blair's political platform to assume and maintain an attitude of somewhat truculent unfriendliness towards Great Britain; but personally he took no little pride in his English ancestry, and he was always extremely cordial to English people residing in or visiting the States."

When the House was under committee on the budget Mr. McCarthy moved an amendment to the effect that the resolution reducing the duty on binder twine to 12 1/2 per cent, that binder twine be placed on the free list. A count was taken and the amendment lost—49, for, 8 against.

Mr. McMurphy made an attack on civil service superannuation as involving an enormous tax on the country, but did not press his resolution to that effect to a vote.

HAWAIIANS PEOPLE. POLITICAL TROUBLES WHICH LED TO THE QUEEN'S OVERTHROW.

Short-lived Cabinets—When the United States began to seek a dominating influence—History of the Royal Family—The Islands Are. Hawaii, with its "army" of fifty-four men wearing the uniform of German grenadier guards, and its former "navy" consisting of a little vessel now used as a fruit boat for many years, has been the cause of excitement to the world at large and has never been taken seriously by the governments of important Powers.

Mr. McLeary has accepted an invitation to speak at St. Patrick's night. Mr. Adams will also speak if he has health permits. At present the member for Northumberland is suffering from throat trouble that compels him to keep of the platform.

J. A. Grignani, inventor of an improved process of lithographic printing, which he recently sold to New Yorkers for one million dollars, has resigned his position in the interior department. He left for New York to-day.

Many railway promoters have come here and gone home again feeling stilled that it is an off-year for subsidies. To-day a detachment of railway mail clerks, among whom was Mr. Jack of St. John division, supported by about thirty men, were seen in the streets of St. John, N. B., and were arrested by Mr. Carson and Hon. Mr. Raser, and arrested increased pay and the establishment of a mutual benefit association. Sir Adolphe pointed out the difficulties in the way of giving the matter of increased pay serious consideration.

Queen Lilioukalani. Her revolutions and riots have frequently taken place and have been very difficult, usually because a Hawaiian statesman, usually a noble, has been in the harbors of Honolulu and has not hesitated to land troops when the situation threatened to become serious. Cabinets have been appointed, remained in office for a few weeks, and have then either resigned or been forced out at the desire of the sovereign or the demand of the people. Diplomatic representatives of foreign nations have not hesitated to put their fingers into the Hawaiian pie, not without a studied purpose.

Kalakaheke became King in 1874. It was not long afterwards that the United States began to seek a dominating influence in Hawaii, but the first public move in that direction was not made until 1876, when a reciprocity treaty was arranged by which the Hawaiian Islands were to be opened to American trade and to American goods.

Supplementary provisions were made in 1887 by which the terms of the treaty were extended and other provisions were added. In return for these concessions King Kalakaheke, who had been deposed in 1887, was restored to the throne. The Hawaiian Islands were to be opened to American trade and to American goods.

Queen Victoria Lilioukalani. A Canadian named Volney V. Ashford was appointed Governor-General at that time and by skilfully manipulating the political situation he succeeded in securing the Hawaiian Islands for the United States.
