ARREST OF MR. SETON-THOMPSON.

He Tells of His Experience With Game Wardens in the West.

(New York Sun.)

Ernest Seton-Thompson, the well-known writer of animal books, who was arrested in Colorado on Oct. 1, has returned to this city, and yesterday told a Sun reporter the facts of his trouble in the west.

"I was not there," he said, "with John B. Goff, the hunter, who has always been the guide to President Roosevelt on his visits to that region. I was there to photograph the animals and had no guns. It happened that a party of friends of mine were camping at a distance of about four miles, and one day we decided to go over to visit them. My wife was ill and stayed behind in camp, but Goff and I set out to make the trip. He went along to show me the way by some short-cut to the other camp.

"Just after I got to Colorado, Goff took out his lion hounds—the famous six that hunted with President Roosevelt—as they had been tied up during the summer and got fat. He proposed that day to take them with us on the walk across the mountains, and I was perfectly willing. They will not chase deer, and are trained only to hunt lions. Goff saw one of them tracking a deer, and he would shoot him.

"On the way to the camp two of the dogs started after a bob-cat, a species of lynx. But the day was warm and the earth dry, so after a minute the two dogs returned to the pack. Just then two men armed with rifles rushed into the road. Consider yourselves under arrest," one of them cried, "for we have caught you making a bear trap. We know who you are, but we just as soon arrest President Roosevelt if he were here."

"We were both unarmed, and I advised Goff to submit, especially as it was evident that one of the men would stop at nothing. I tried to persuade them to allow me to return to my camp three miles away and let Mrs. Seton-Thompson know what had happened, as it would have taken three days to return from Meeker. But one insisted that I must go immediately to Meeker for trial. The other, seeing that we had no guns, nor any means of baiting a bear trap, tried to persuade the other game warden, whose name was Bush, to let us go, but he refused. Finally I was allowed to go back to camp and gave a bond for the appearance of Goff and myself at Meeker for trial.

"There we were both acquitted, and the judge in his charge said that Goff was not only not guilty, but that the prosecution was malicious.

"I understand that Bush attempted last year to have President Roosevelt arrested, but was warned it would not do for him to try that. It happened by accident that I have never, baited a bear trap in my whole life, and that hoped to make the charge especially ridiculous. Game Warden Bush is in Routt county to harass eastern visitors, who should beware of him."

BACK TO CHINATOWN.

Lee Choup Returns to China to Two Wives and Takes One With Him—Also Takes a Fortune.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Lee Choup, perhaps the wealthiest man in New York's Chinatown, is going back to China, to live out his old age in the luxury which can be purchased with the fortune he has amassed in this city, says the Tribune. He will leave next Monday for Canton with his wife and three children, born in this city. In China he has two other wives, whom he has not seen for five years.

His mother, now eighty-four years old, is in poor health, and Lee wants to see her before she dies. The fortune which Lee Choup is taking back to China is variously estimated at from $125,000 to $150,000. He got his start in Canada, where the Canadian Pacific railway was being built, by carrying out some heavy contracts. Then he went to Portland, Oregon, and opened a small store. A number of years ago he came to New York and founded a Chinese trading firm, which has become one of the largest in the Chinese quarter, and has branches in Boston. He is sixty years old and, while his health is good, he is afraid of dying in a foreign land, and will not come back if he can help it.

CONTROVERSY INTERESTED KING.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—According to the Tribune the king has taken great interest in the controversy about the Lady Smith telegram, which has been carried on without intermission since Sir Redvers made his unfortunate speech a fortnight ago. Mr. Brodric was summoned to Balmoral to give his masterly view of the affair, and the return of the court to London was marked by the official announcement that Sir Redvers had been relieved of the command of the first army corps.

A NEW TORPEDO.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 22.—A model of a torpedo designed for use in a bay has been given a trial in the bay by the inventor, John F. Perkins, late of New Zealand. The trial was apparently satisfactory. The torpedo is intended for use as a submarine boat, as well as a conveyor of deadly explosive material. The inventor claims that it can be steered in any direction.

WILL SELL SHANROCK II.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—According to the Herald, Sir Thomas Lipton has determined to sell the Shanrock II, and she is on the American market. A SPLENDID FOSSIL.

LARMEE, Wyo., Oct. 22.—Prof. C. W. Gilmore, in the employ of the Carnegie museum of Pittsburgh, has discovered near Medicine Bow, 30 miles west of this place, the almost complete fossil remains of an immense brontosaurus, a very rare specimen and one of the largest ever found in the southern Wyoming field. The remains will be unearthed and sent to Pittsburgh.

WAS INEVITABLE.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—The afternoon papers today agree that the dismissal of General Buller from the command of the first army corps and placing him on half pay was inevitable. It appears that the general was officially notified of the decision late yesterday evening, the notification being delivered at his official residence at Alderhot by a special messenger from the war office at about the same time that it was issued to the newspapers. This morning army orders at Alderhot announced that General Buller has already given up his command.

THE PROSPECT GOOD.

SHALL AUSTRALIA BE PREFERRED?

OTTAWA, Oct. 22.—New South Wales enjoys the benefit of the preference clause of the Canadian tariff, but the fact that this state is now part of the Australian commonwealth, which has adopted high protective duties, will doubtless lead to consideration by the government of Canada of trade relations which should exist between the dominion and the commonwealth.

It seems impossible that New South Wales can continue to enjoy Canadian preference, and the question therefore arises whether this government will change its tariff legislation with respect to Australia, and if so in what respect. It is considered likely that Japan's action may be taken at the next session of the dominion parliament, but upon what lines it is as yet impossible to say.

MONTREAL, Oct. 22.—H. M. Whitney, president Dominion Iron and Steel Co., who has arrived here from Boston to attend the monthly meeting of the directors, today states that there is no truth in the report that the company is in need of funds to complete its works and contemplates an issue of new stock of two or five million dollars. He states the board has no authority to make such an issue.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 22.—Andrew Carnegie's agent has written the city council, offering to give seventy-five thousand dollars for a public library, provided the city will give one-tenth of that amount for maintenance. A by-law will be submitted to the ratemyers.

TO FIGHT THE WORLD.

CORSE, Oct. 22.—John Redmond, M. P., during the course of the general reply which he made here yesterday to the numerous addresses presented to him, previous to his departure for the United States, laid particular stress on his conviction that his mission to America could be taken as proof that the reunion which had occurred in Ireland had also occurred in the United States. He said, would hereafter have to fight the world with Irish race of twenty millions, whose action is only limited to one consideration, namely that all means were honorable and just in the sight of God, and who preferred to be linked to the meanest free country on earth than to the British empire.

ANOTHER COMBINE.

Iron and Steel Manufacturers of the United Kingdom Combining for Mutual Protection.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—The projected amalgamation of the interests of the largest iron and steel manufacturers in the United Kingdom, has so far escaped observation, says the Tribune's London correspondent. The formation of the United States steel corporation was signal of similar concentration of capital in Europe. The German iron masters and steel manufacturers, under the leadership of the Krupp, have been endeavoring to organize an industrial combination, and the Belgian mine owners and iron and steel manufacturers have been moving in the same direction. The interests of both these countries are centered in a few hands, and these combinations, while not yet effected, are easy in comparison with the amalgamation of British iron and steel manufacturers, whose interests here are of tremendous magnitude and inertia. Protracted negotiations have been required, but a combination is being arranged by a group of the largest iron and steel manufacturers of the north and south, with the help of an American organizer. This combination will control the manufacture of rails in the United Kingdom and will have a cash capital of £20,000,000, and when another group of large manufacturers of iron and steel, with whom negotiations are now in progress, is drawn in, the capital will be increased to £40,000,000. The enterprise is exclusively English, and is not connected in any way with the United States steel corporation. It is not organized in hostility to the American combination in the same industry, but as a necessary measure of mutual protection and self defence for the immense masses of English capital invested in iron and steel manufacture. The concentration of capital in the iron and steel trade will open the way for similar movements among English miners, shipping lines and textile trades, and even railways, which are now operating against one another.

TRANSPORT DISABLED.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—Word was received today that the transport Sheridan had arrived at Nagasaki in a disabled condition and would not be ready to leave that port for three weeks. The Sheridan was on her way from Manila to San Francisco. She carried about 800 troops, soldiers, 230 sick soldiers and 19 insane soldiers. No details were received as to the trouble with the Sheridan. The transport Warren has been sent from Manila to Nagasaki to receive the sick passengers from the disabled transport.

YOKOHAMA, Oct. 22.—The accident which caused the United States transport Sheridan from Manila for San Francisco, with over 1,000 troops on board, to be put into Nagasaki, is not of a serious nature. Her hull has been damaged and she will be docked for repairs.

WILL BE NO WAR.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—"On the authority of Count Lamsdorff I am able to declare," says the St. Petersburg correspondent of the Daily Telegraph, "that the relations between Russia and Japan are quite amicable and that the rumors of a likelihood of war are quite unfounded. Certainly the Korean question will not cause a rupture, because Russia and Japan recently arrived at an agreement which makes Korea a sort of buffer state, both agreeing to respect her territorial integrity."

THE MACHINE EXPLODED.

LOUISVILLE, N. Y., Oct. 22.—During a performance at the Masonic temple here this afternoon the polygraph used in showing pictures between acids exploded. A stampede followed, in which twenty or twenty-five persons were injured. Five are in a serious condition.

Spaulding, alleged leader of the old gang of burglars who stole diamonds valued at $500 from the residence of Maurice Epstein, in this city, November 22, 1897, has been captured in Kansas City. The robbery was committed in broad daylight and was one of the most daring ever recorded in this city.

CALL TO PREACH.

The story is told of a colored man in Alabama, who one hot day in July, while he was at work in a cotton-field, suddenly stopped, and looking toward the sky, said: "O Lawd, de cotton am so grassy, de work am so hard, and de sun am so hot, dat I believe de darky am called to preach!" From Booker T. Washington's "Up from Slavery."

ST. JOHN STAR. S. JOHN, N. B., OCTOBER 23, 1901. OUR SOLDIERS' GRAVES.

On Saturday last a company of United States Infantry crossed the Canadian line at Niagara Falls and with an impressive ceremony re-interred the remains of nine American soldiers who had given their lives at the battle of Lundy's Lane. This incident recalls the fact that in Africa at the present time there lie many of our own boys who fell while fighting for their country. Some of them belong to St. John. Would it not be a just act for those in authority, among our militia to endeavor to discover whether or not their graves have been marked?

In Cape Colony a society of colonial ladies has been formed to care for those graves, but as yet no announcement has been made in regard to the work which has been done. It may be that the present condition of affairs in Cape Colony is not sufficiently satisfactory for the carrying out of the original plans, but surely much could be done. The possibility that any simple monuments which might be destroyed by the enemy should not prove an objection, for whatever other charges may be made against them, the Boers have not yet been guilty of desecrating British graves.

Of the New Brunswick boys, one rests near the railroad line at Belmont station, over his grave a rough, simple stone, upon which a comrade shortly afterwards killed in action, cut his name and number. The other lads from this province sleep with their comrades in the shady groves along the banks of the blood red Moder.

It should not be a difficult matter to learn what has been done in regard to those graves and the knowledge would either spur the people of this province to future action or assure them that by the kindness of others the resting places of their dead would not soon be uncared for spots on the great Karroo.

CRETE. The despatches stated yesterday that King George of Greece, whose son is high commissioner of the island of Crete, under the joint control of Great Britain, France, Russia and Italy, has re-opened negotiations with regard to the independence of that island.

For so insignificant an island, in area and population, Crete has caused the nations no small degree of trouble and anxiety. It has an area of about 3,000 square miles, and a population in 1900 of 210,273, of whom 267,268 were Greek, 33,218 Mohammedans and 728 Jewish. Ever since 1669 the island has been under Turkish rule, against which the people were in very frequent revolt. There were serious insurrections in 1821, 1865, 1866, 1877, 1889, and 1895. In 1897 the European powers blockaded the island to coerce the revolutionists and prevent indiscriminate slaughter. An Austrian and German force that had been sent to the island was withdrawn and in 1898 Great Britain, Russia, France and Italy took decisive steps to end the trouble. It was decided to entrust a Cretan assembly with the administration of affairs, and to levy for this purpose a small tax, to be collected by Christian officials in the customs houses. In the town of Candia this was resisted by the Mohammedans murdered. The Turkish troops under Edhem Pasha failed to prevent this outrage, and only after a British force had been landed did he agree to hand over the ringleaders of the riot for execution. The outcome of the whole affair was that the Turkish troops were ordered out of the island, and after the powers had sent an ultimatum to the Sultan he assented to the withdrawal. The powers guaranteed the safety of the lives and property of Mohammedans, and agreed to acknowledge the suzerainty of the Sultan over the island. There was a general disarmament of the rival factions, and Prince George of Greece was appointed high commissioner of the power. A constitution was adopted in 1899. There is an elective chamber, but the prince selects his own advisers. The latter sit in the house, but do not vote. All foreign matters are determined by representatives of the four powers. There is now a good postal system, telephones are in use and railways are under construction. Freed from Turkish rule the island has progressed, and in an effort to have the island annexed to Greece, King George and the prince desire to secure Cretan independence.

A law passed by the Maine legislature provides for the punishment of all guilty or careless manipulation of firearms by a fine of $1,000 or imprisonment for ten years, and yet this year's record so far is five men killed and three injured through being mistaken for game. So far as is known but two men have been held under the law.

OTTAWA, Oct. 22.—The Housework-ers' Union (domestic servants' union) has decided to bring a circular to distribute in all the cities of Canada protesting against the action of Hon. A. G. Blair in introducing Chinese servants into his household. The union intends to try to work up an agitation which will arouse public opinion against the innovation and prevent others from following the example set by the minister.

There is a big row over the fact that the government has docked the printers, who were ordered to Toronto with the militia corps to which they belong.

Lord Minto and suite returned to Ottawa this afternoon. The Duke of Cornwall distributed over 1,000 South African medals in Canada, leaving $60 for the department to send out.

Bourassa will not be invited to the grit caucuses next season on the ground that he divulged secrets of the caucus in the house last session. General O'Grady-Hilly is confined to his home by an attack of bronchitis. He was to have left for Halifax today, and spend Thursday and Friday there inspecting the third special service battalion of the R. C. R. I., but in view of his illness this will not be possible on the dates named.

The general is due at Fredericton on Wednesday next, and may go there before proceeding to Halifax. Col. Cartwright, inspector of musketry, is at present engaged in preparing a new set of regulations for the use of military and civilian rifle associations throughout the country. The department of militia was notified today that the Massey-Harris company shipped 23 transport wagons to South Africa, this being a portion of the order of 50 placed with that firm by the war office, through the department of militia.

The Ottawa Car Co. some time ago sent a shipment of similar wagons to the seat of war, and they have given general satisfaction. Since the outbreak of hostilities the value of goods sent from Canada, on order of the imperial authorities, exceeds $1,200,000. These orders included saddlery of all kinds, hats and caps, wagons, etc.

Capt. Bell and Lieut. F. G. McLeod, 67th Regiment, have received musketry certificates. Bicyclists and all athletes depend on BENTLEY'S Liniment to keep their joints limber and muscles in trim.

THEY WORKED IN AMERICA. According to the report in Lloyd's newspaper of the preliminary examination of Theodore and Laura Heros, alias Jackson and Dis de Bar, it appears that they are well known in American police circles, and that Chicago was the scene of their early efforts. The report, after telling of the charge and the inspector's testimony, says:—

At this point the female made a request through Assistant Gaoler Mostert that she might be allowed to sit down.—The magistrate consented.—Mr. Curtis Bennett:—Are they known to you?—Inspector Kane:—Yes, sir. I have the original record of the woman from Chicago, and I produce her photograph and the particulars of her dimensions. These show that she is a convicted thief, a swindler and a fortune-teller. I also have a photograph of the man, who is a confidence trick swindler.—Curtis Bennett thereupon reminded the prisoners for the treasury to take up the case.—The magistrate consented.—Mr. Curtis Bennett:—Oh, yes.—Inspector Kane added that the man's right name was Jackson, and the woman was simply a kind of housekeeper. He did not believe that the man and wife at all. The prisoners were then removed to the cells. While the inspector was relating the history of accused in America the female was unmoved, but the man knitted his brows and puckered his lips.

BULLER TURNED DOWN. LONDON, Oct. 22.—Sir Redvers Buller has been refused the command of the first army corps in consequence of the speech he made, Oct. 10, after the luncheon given in his honor by the King's Royal Rifles, dealing with his famous despatch to Gen. White at Ladysmith. He has been placed on half-pay and Gen. French has been appointed to succeed him.

In the official announcement the war office says that the commander-in-chief, "after full consideration of the circumstances and the explanation furnished," recommended that Gen. Buller be relieved, which has been done. The morning papers all express sympathy for the unfortunate ending of a brilliant career, but they are unanimous that no other course was available for his indiscreet speech, and express the greatest approval of the selection of Gen. French to succeed to the command.

MCKINLEY'S ASSASSIN. AUBURN, N. Y., Oct. 22.—Leon E. Colegrove, the assassin of President McKinley, who is awaiting death by electricity in the prison here, during the week commencing next Monday, fully realizing that his death is now a question of a few days, has asked for spiritual consolation, and this afternoon received a visit from the Rev. T. Scandrick, a Polish priest of the Roman Catholic church. Warden Mend and Supt. Collins, at their conference in Albany yesterday, arranged all the details and fixed upon those who are to be invited to witness the execution. SUPREME COURT CHAMBERS.

In the case of the North Packing Co. v. Merritt et al, before Judge McLeod in chambers, application was made to set aside the will on the grounds, first that the particulars were attached to the writ instead of being endorsed thereon; second that the plaintiff was a foreign corporation and that no mention was made of their incorporation in the particulars attached; third, the summons was endorsed by a firm of solicitors instead of by an attorney of the court. As the first objection the judge said that the intention of our act was to give the defendant notice of the particulars of the plaintiff's claim, so that where the action was on a bill of exchange or promissory note the plaintiff might choose to obtain judgment, and he thought the intention had been carried out. In regard to the second objection he said the particulars were in the exact form prescribed by the schedule to the act and could not extend the act and say that the plaintiff must endorse more on the writ than the act called for. His honor dismissed the third objection and the application. Hazen & Raymond for the plaintiff.

WEDDINGS TODAY.

A very pretty wedding took place at half-past two o'clock this afternoon at the residence of George H. Oulton, 110 Elliott row, when his daughter, Miss Emma Melita Oulton, was united in marriage to Fred L. Stone, son of Joseph R. Stone of Germain street.

The parlor was beautifully decorated with ferns, palms, and chrysanthemums and the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. John de Soyres, took place under a bell of chrysanthemums. The bride was dressed in white silk crepe de chine over white silk with veil and carried a shower bouquet of white roses. She was attended by Miss Margaret Fowler and Miss Macaulay as bridesmaids, and the Misses Dunlop, Marie and Bertha Joseph and Marjorie Calkin, maids of honor. The bridesmaids wore white organdie over green silk and carried bouquets of white chrysanthemums. The maids of honor wore white organdie.

Joseph G. Hainale supported the groom. The wedding march was played by Morton L. Harrison. Luncheon was served after the ceremony in the dining room, which was very prettily decorated in pink and green.

Mr. and Mrs. Stone leave by this evening's train for Boston on the American cities. They will reside at Shenectady, N. Y.

This morning at the residence of Nathan S. Clark, 35 Charlotte street, his daughter, Miss Jennie M. Clark, was united in marriage to Walter Chamberlain, of Coleman and Purdy's. Miss Clark was attended by many beautiful presents, among them being a handsome gold watch and chain, the gift of the groom. After the ceremony refreshments were served and Mr. and Mrs. Chamberlain left on the State of Maine on a visit to different American cities.

A HANDSOME LEGACY.

Officer Hamm of the north end police force is a lucky man. By the death of a great uncle in Scotland he has become heir to a bequest of twelve thousand dollars. Some three months ago Mr. Hamm received a letter from his uncle stating that he had been mentioned in the will. The uncle has since died, and last evening Mr. Hamm received official notification from the lawyers in charge of the estate that the amount mentioned was there at his disposal. He asked instructions in the matter. As the money is at present well invested, Mr. Hamm has about decided to let it remain there for the present.

The name of the gentleman who has died was Solomon D. Cochran, and he was last in Canada about the time of Officer Hamm's birth. Mr. Hamm bears the name of his great uncle.

A CHAT WITH MRS. WILLIAMS.

The Fadetie orchestra arrived today and Mrs. Williams, the leader, was seen by a reporter at the Victoria Hotel. She expressed her surprise at the splendid buildings to be seen in the city, and remarked that there was an American push about the place that was in marked contrast to other provincial towns. Mrs. Williams said that she was very sorry that business engagements kept her out of St. John while the Duke and Duchess were here and added naively that she considered that they would have been a bigger attraction than her orchestra, if such a thing were possible.

Mrs. Williams and her orchestra stay but one night, and everything points to a large audience at the York Theatre tonight.

THE ILLUMINATIONS.

Most of the lights which were used in the recent illuminations have been taken down. The only ones now remaining are those on the Douglas avenue, King street and Lower Cove arches, and they will probably be down tomorrow.

It is estimated that between seven and eight thousand extra lights were in use during the illuminations, and of these, more than one-half were used by the L. C. R. C. P. R. and Manchester, Robertson & Allison. The former has twenty-one hundred lamps, while M. R. & A.'s and the C. P. R. offices had about twelve hundred and fifty each. Most of the lamps were of eight candle power.

The arch on Mill street, being considered unsafe, is today being stripped.

THE HAY TRADE.

In spite of the exceptionally heavy crop of hay this season very little is being brought to the city for sale, and the supply at Indian town is not nearly equal to other years. The reason for this appears to be that the upper farmers are holding on to all they have in the hope of a rise in the price. They believe that the demand for shipments to Africa will result in bringing this about, and are consequently holding on to their hay. It is likely to be mistaken for the New Brunswick interval hay is usually too moist for pressing, and up to the present has not been purchased for shipment in any large quantities.

The prices of Indian town are now from nine to eleven dollars per ton, the former for the stock hay and the latter for the better grades.

RECENT DEATHS.

James Campbell, one of the oldest and most highly respected residents of Kingsclear died at his home yesterday morning. He was ninety-seven years of age and leaves a family of five sons and three daughters, all of whom are now residing in this province.

Mrs. S. H. Belyea, wife of the pastor of the Baptist church at Milltown, Me., died from typhoid fever on Monday, while on a visit to friends in Carleton County. Her body was interred in the home cemetery at Littleton, Aroostook County.

THE ONION MARKET.

It is expected that there will this season be a scarcity of onions even greater than that of last year. At present it appears as if almost the entire crop, which is small one, is in the traders' hands, and that there is but a small quantity yet to obtain. Dealers are not anxious to sell at the prices now ruling in the market, but will hold their supply for the advance, which is practically certain to come. Last year onions were for a time rated at five dollars a barrel, and it is expected that they will reach that point this year.

POLICE INVESTIGATION.

The investigation into the complaint of Officer Frank Napier against Sergeant Campbell will be commenced before the board of safety on Friday evening. Some time since Dr. Stockton, acting for Officer Napier, asked for a hearing in this matter, and it was decided to grant the request. Up until the present no time had been settled on that was convenient to the parties concerned. It was believed outside that the matter had been dropped.

ST. JOHN ACTRESSES.

Miss Anglin Wins High Praise in Her New Role—Miss Mollison With Mansfield's Company.

Miss Margaret Anglin is playing the leading role in Mrs. Dane's Defence, now running at the Hollis Theatre, Boston. In its account of the "first night at the theatre" the Boston Herald of Tuesday gives more attention to Miss Anglin than to any other actor or actress in the Boston theatres, except Richard Mansfield. The Herald critic says:—

"The announcement that Charles Frohman is to bring his Empire Theatre stock company for the annual engagement is always a welcome one to Boston theatre goers, for they are assured of excellence both in place and presentation. Last night the Hollis street theatre held an audience which filled its every part to welcome this company of actors and actresses. Those present added their tribute to the already remarkable demonstrations of approval, which have been given this, the latest work of Henry Arthur Jones—Mrs. Dane's Defence.

As in all organizations there are several favorites in this aggregation of clever artists. Charles Richman and Miss Margaret Anglin had much to convince them of their personal popularity in the marked appreciation of their work. The play made a pronounced impression, and it is to be regretted that this stay is limited to two weeks.

In the character of Mrs. Dane, Margaret Anglin has an exceptional opportunity. She is abnormally sympathetic and convincing and holds her audience at all times. Miss Anglin impersonates a woman who has had a liaison with the head of a family in which she was acting as governess. The discovery of the true condition of affairs drives the wife to suicide, the husband to an insane asylum and the governess into the world seeking to hide her identity. It is upon this last mentioned condition that the play's action depends. The character, at the hands of Miss Anglin, never is possessed of overemotional moments, and no trickery is resorted to to produce effect. Certainly no other character in which she has been seen has afforded such a wide scope or over indicated the greatness of this actress.

On the same evening the comedy Beau Cairo was presented at the Colonial for the first time in Boston. It was given by Mr. Mansfield's company and has the place of honor in the theatrical columns. In this play Miss Ethel Knight Mollison takes the part of Mrs. Mabley.

ST. JAMES' CHURCH ANNIVERSARY.

The fiftieth anniversary of St. James church was celebrated last night by a jubilee thanksgiving service. It was conducted by Rev. W. Q. Raymond and Leo Hoyt. Rev. A. D. Dewdney spoke from the text, Thus saith the Lord stand ye in his ways and see and ask for the old paths which is the good way, and walk therein and ye shall find rest for your souls. After the sermon the lecturer read a comprehensive sketch of the history of the church since its foundation. Special music was provided by the choir. The services will be continued next Sunday.

A PLEASANT PARTY.

Monday evening about sixty friends of Mr. and Mrs. George Turnbull, No. 41 Broad street, called on them and spent a pleasant evening in dancing, singing and games. On behalf of the assembled guests R. Carlos presented their host and hostess with a handsome clock. Refreshments were then served and the pleasant evening was finished.

A ROYAL BEVERAGE.

Red Rose tea—the gold label—was the tea selected for the use of the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York during their stay in St. John. So high a compliment is certain to increase the popularity of this well known tea, which is blended and packed by T. H. Estabrooks.

BY ROYALTY.

How Vice-Consul Keating Was Received at St. John.

(Portland Press.) British Vice-Consul J. H. Keating and Mrs. Keating returned last evening from St. John, N. B., where they were the special guests of the province of New Brunswick at the grand reception given the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York, at that city Thursday and Friday. Consul Keating gave the following story of the great affair to a reporter last evening:—

"The people of Portland will no doubt have a desire to learn how the Maine representatives to the great event were treated at the reception, and starting at the beginning I will give you a brief account of the event from beginning to end.

"On the arrival of the governor's representatives and myself, at St. John, we were met by a representative party from the New Brunswick province, who escorted us to the Royal Hotel, where we made our headquarters, and in the morning the premier, governor's secretary and attorney general called on us.

"In the afternoon the governor of New Brunswick sent his private carriage to convey us to the reception, which was a most beautiful affair. One half of the great exhibition hall was devoted to the school children of the city, and the specially invited guests, to the number of about 2,000, occupied the remainder of the hall.

"The royal party then went to Barracks square, where at least 40,000 people had congregated. The square was lined with mounted Hussars, hospital corps, Fusiliers, and other bodies of troops, all in full uniform, with scarlet tunics.

"The Church of England's bishop then blessed the colors which the duchess presented to St. John's regiment, the 62nd Fusiliers, after which the soldiers who had returned from South Africa were presented by the Duke with medals, and Captain Fred C. Jones was given a sword, for having participated in 36 engagements, and who is going back to the front in a short time again.

"The next highest to be honored was a member of the British Veterans at Boston, who was decorated with a medal for having participated in 37 engagements, one more than Captain Jones. This member of the British Veterans is only 15 years of age, and the event was most remarkable on this account. The young man is now filling an excellent mercantile position in Boston.

"The troops then went through their different drills, and the next principal event was the grand reception in the evening.
