

EXPRESS OFF AT MONCTON; 19 ARE HURT

L. A. Phillips, St. John, injured about head and body in the wreck.

VICTIMS ARE NOT IN SERIOUS STATE

Broken Rail Hurls Five Cars of Halifax Express Down Steep Bank.

Special to The Standard. Moncton, Sept. 17.—Nineteen people sustained injuries but none considered dangerous when C. N. R. No. 14 from St. John was hurled down a 3.45 o'clock this afternoon near Jones' siding, about eight miles west of Moncton.

Five cars, the mail, express, baggage and two second class coaches left the rails and were hurled down a steep bank, some of the cars being badly broken up.

The engine, parlor car and Pullman remained on the track. The run off was caused by a broken rail which was replaced after the engine passed over safely.

Run Off On High Bank. As the wreck occurred at a point where there is a very high embankment and the derailed cars were hurled to the foot of the embankment—one landing in a field some distance away—the escape of passengers and trainmen from death was miraculous.

The second class and express and baggage cars were badly smashed, but the majority of the injured passengers were in the first class car which sustained the least damage.

The express and baggage cars rolled over and over in going down the embankment, and one wonders how the occupants of these cars escaped with such slight injuries.

Brakeman Suffers Most. Brakeman George Mills, who was cut and bruised and injured about the body, is the most seriously injured, but the latest report from the hospital where he was brought soon after the accident is that he is resting well and in no danger.

A relief train was despatched from Moncton as soon as the accident was reported, and arrived back in the city at 5:50 o'clock this evening with those needing medical aid.

Track Torn Up. The track was badly torn up for more than a quarter of a mile and the line will be blocked until some time tomorrow morning.

The passengers on the wrecked train were transferred and were forwarded to their destinations. The wrecked train was in charge of Conductor John Henderson and Engineer J. Hicks.

At the time the run off occurred the train was on time and running about 35 or 40 miles an hour.

The only St. John man on the train injured was Master L. A. Phillips who was injured about the head and body, but not seriously.

The Injured. A list of the injured is as follows: L. A. Phillips, baggage master, St. John, injured about the head and body.

Win. Cliff, Joggins Mines, nervous shock.

Eugene Gazette, New York, legs and head cut.

George Blake, Cambridge, Mass., cut about head.

Miss Flora McDonald, Revere, Mass., head and leg cut.

Della Hawkins, Sydney, leg cut.

Pendler Leeger, Memramcook West, leg injured.

Urban Smith, Glouce Bay, leg cut.

Geo. Mills, brakeman, Moncton, cut about head and injured about body.

PRINCE GIVEN GREAT WELCOME AT TRINIDAD

Crowds Pack Streets of Old Spanish Capital as Heir to Throne Comes.

Port of Spain, Trinidad, Sept. 17.—H. M. S. Renown, with the Prince of Wales on board, arrived here this morning and anchored among the highly decorated ships in the harbor. The Renown was escorted from Colon by the cruiser Calcutta, and was joined at Pocos Del Toro by the cruiser Calliope.

A tremendous ovation was given the Prince and his suite upon their landing at 11 o'clock. They were met by the Governor, officials and leading residents with a guard of honor, composed of the Royal Sussex Regiment stationed here, marines from the Calcutta and Calliope, the local constabulary and a group of men who sang in the great war.

Addresses of welcome were made on behalf of the Government and municipal authorities to which the Prince replied.

An illuminated address presented by the municipal authorities was the work of a French nun of a local convent and was enclosed in a basket made by returned soldiers of the island's woods.

Dense Crowds in Streets. Amid dense, enthusiastic crowds the Prince drove through the principal streets to St. Joseph, the old Spanish capital. On his return to Port of Spain, he addressed thousands of school children and they had a grand time.

There was a reception at the Government House this afternoon, followed by an official dinner and a public ball in a building constructed for King George years ago. Magnificent decorations were to be seen everywhere. Tonight there was an extensive fireworks display.

At the Prince's request no official engagements have been made for the concluding two days of his visit, leaving him free to make and renew acquaintances.

On Monday the Prince will leave for Demerara, British Guiana, on the Calcutta, the Renown being unable to cross the bar there. He will return to Trinidad on the 23rd, and start immediately for Grenada, West Indies.

REFINERS SAY SUGAR PRICES BREAK STARTS

"It's Probably Just the Beginning" is Comment of One Maker on Cent Drop.

Toronto, Sept. 17.—"It's probably just the beginning," commented a representative of the Atlantic Sugar Company here today, on yesterday's drop of one cent in the refiners' quotations for all grades of sugar. The price is now $21 per hundred pounds delivered at Montreal, or $21.30 at Toronto.

Refiners' agents in Toronto are at variance in their information regarding the sale of sugar. Some agents, including the Atlantic people, claim business in this line "just about as usual," and "practically normal, but not quite so good as last year."

On the other hand, the local agents for Acadia Sugar admit that there is no sign of buying of sugar by wholesalers at the present.

PROVINCIAL CONTEST TO BE FAST ONE

Real Battle Will Begin After Federal By-Election Here on Monday.

OPPOSITION PLANS MADE NEXT THURSDAY

Attitude of Farmers is Causing Much Concern to Government Leaders.

Interest in the forthcoming provincial elections is beginning to warm up, but until the Parliamentary by-election is over that must take precedence in the city and county.

The Government's tactics in rushing matters in the hope of getting a snap verdict through taking its opponents by surprise, is causing a considerable amount of comment; but the indications are that the cause of the Opposition won't suffer very much in consequence.

It seems that the Opposition is not so unprepared as many thought it was. The few of the matter is that the Government is scared of the farmer element, and fears the broads that farmer candidates may make in the consequences that now return Government supporters. The Government cannot afford to lose any of these, or out it goes. The Opposition is going into the fray with the utmost cheerfulness.

Convention on Thursday. In anticipation of the approaching election, the party managers have summoned a general convention to be held in this city on Thursday of next week. This convention will be composed of the members who were elected to represent their various constituencies in the convention held some months ago, and which Hon. J. A. Murray was selected as leader. As there have been no meetings in parishes since that time, these delegates continue in office and will be fully qualified to represent their constituents in the coming convention. It is sincerely hoped that there will be a strong representation at the meeting next Thursday, as matters concerning the future leadership of the party as well as questions of policy and organization will be discussed.

Preparing for Fry. Opposition is already well in hand in many parts of the province, and reports reaching this city indicate that everything will be in readiness within the next day or two to go to work in earnest to bring out the vote. This is as it should be; there must be thorough organization to ensure success. The Opposition party is coming upon the "very progressive record" that some of its newspaper editors are endeavoring to create for themselves, and the people are finding out that it has been rather an expensive one. Many think it is time for a change.

Who Can Go Out? The Hon. Walter Foster is already beginning to wear a worried look. He knows the weakness of his Cabinet, and would like to strengthen it, but the difficulty is, who is to go? Mr. Byrne has not been a leading success as Attorney-General; Mr. Murray as Provincial Secretary is a huge joke; Mr. Viorst is altogether too much of a book to suit the times; and Mr. Tweedle is nothing but wind; and Dr. Smith has quit in disgust. Mr. Foster might even envy the provincial policeman at this juncture.

MANITOBA TO ACT QUICKLY IF VOTE FAVORS TEMPERANCE

Winnipeg, Sept. 17.—Amendments to the Manitoba Temperance Act, passed at the last session of the legislature, will be proclaimed at once if the liquor referendum to be taken October 25, condemns inter-provincial trade, it is announced by the provincial government.

MONCTON LABOR MAY TAKE PART IN ELECTIONS

If C. N. R. Rules Prevent Railwaymen Being Candidates Then Unions Will Endorse Others.

Special to The Standard. Moncton, Sept. 17.—Opponents of the Foster Government met tonight to discuss organization, and the selection of a candidate for the city of Moncton.

The meeting was called by Dr. D. P. Fry, ex-M. L. A., and was well attended. It was decided to send representatives to the Provincial Open-air meeting on the night of the 21st.

What Will Labor Do? A meeting under the auspices of the Labor unions was also held tonight to consider what action was to be taken by labor. It was stated at the meeting that it was understood that D. B. Hanna had issued an order disallowing railway men being candidates in party political contests. In the event of this being correct, it was stated the labor organizations could do nothing more than endorse a candidate. The meeting adjourned until Monday night without talking action.

Hazleton, Pa., Sept. 17.—Secretary of Labor Wilson tonight replied to the telegram of the executive committee of the United Mine Workers of America, sent on September 14, requesting consideration of the claims of the miners and is ready to meet with their committee.

The action had been brought by Carr-Harris as a reason why Major Carr-Harris should be given the contract.

Seeking Election In Colchester Now

HON. F. B. McCURDY.

TRURO RALLIES TO SUPPORT OF HON. MR. M'CURDY

Sir George Foster Addresses Two Mass Meetings in Candidate's Interests.

Truro, N. S., Sept. 17.—The political meeting here tonight in the Prince's Theatre, and an overflow meeting in the Academy Hall, where Sir George Foster, M. P., addressed the Truro office late today, that "from evidence obtained within the last few hours it has been definitely established that the explosion was due to a time bomb." The early theory that the blast was caused by a collision between an explosive-laden wagon and another vehicle seems to have been dispelled by subsequent investigation, although it has not yet been entirely discarded by official investigators.

Due to Time Bomb. Chief Flynn, who arrived here from Washington last night to take personal charge of the federal investigation, declared, after leaving the Truro office late today, that "from evidence obtained within the last few hours it has been definitely established that the explosion was due to a time bomb." The early theory that the blast was caused by a collision between an explosive-laden wagon and another vehicle seems to have been dispelled by subsequent investigation, although it has not yet been entirely discarded by official investigators.

Death List 25 Now. Six more deaths were mentioned tonight. The death list tonight to thirty-five. The number of injured, including those treated at the scene in hospitals and at their homes, was approximately three hundred. Nearly two of these are still being treated in hospitals. The property damage is variously estimated from $100,000 to $250,000.

The key to the investigation apparently lies in the identification of the rickety old wagon drawn by an old horse, which was left standing at the curb in Wall street, near the United States Assay office and across the street from the Morgan bank a few minutes before the explosion. The horse was killed and the wagon was blown to bits on the blast. The driver of the wagon is believed to have escaped. Federal and police authorities tonight were centering their activities on this phase of the case.

Search All Liversies. Every livery stable in the city is being canvassed to see if there is a horse and truck missing. Examination of the horse's body disclosed that it had been newly clipped and shod. This and a mark on the horse's chest furnish the only clues to its identity.

Conflicting description of the wagon itself have been received by the police. All available bits of the vehicle have been taken to police headquarters, where efforts are being made to reconstruct the vehicle sufficiently to determine its exact type. A cursory examination indicates it was of unusual breadth, which leads Chief Detective Conchin to believe that it was of the type used in transporting crates of eggs. Official opinion is almost unanimous that it was not the regular type of wagon used in the transportation of powder or explosives through city streets.

POLICE SURE BOMB WAS IN STREET CART

Thirty-Five Persons Known to be Dead from Wall Street Explosion.

HOSPITALS HAVE OVER 300 INJURED THERE

Detectives Think Old Wagon Drawn by Ancient Horse Carried the Bomb.

New York, Sept. 17.—The exact cause of the explosion which in the twinkling of an eye yesterday noon transformed Wall Street, near Broad, from a scene of bustling activity to one of dreadful carnage, remains tonight a mystery.

Official opinion, as expressed by William J. Flynn, chief of the bureau of investigation of the United States department of Justice, and fire commissioner Thomas Brennan, is that the disaster was caused by a time bomb loaded with high explosives and reinforced with metal slugs.

The early theory that the blast was caused by a collision between an explosive-laden wagon and another vehicle seems to have been dispelled by subsequent investigation, although it has not yet been entirely discarded by official investigators.

Got Warning on Train

Joseph O'Neil of Natley, N. J., was today advised he was wanted to keep out of Wall street until after September 16, said he was on a tube train from Newark to Jersey City and got into conversation with a man next to him. The stranger said he was a secret service agent attached to the French High Commission, and was on his way to Buffalo where some anarchists were under arrest.

After he learned that O'Neil was employed in a lower Broadway office, he warned O'Neil to keep away from Wall street district. O'Neil said the man said a close watch was being kept of known anarchists but the plot might develop successfully in spite of precautions.

SELF RULE FOR IRELAND WISH OF LABOR MEET

Keen Debate at Windsor Congress Before Resolution on Irish is Adopted.

IRISHMAN PROUD OF BRITISH RACE

Infers Crimes Committed There Are Work of Military Draft Evaders Mostly.

Windsor, Ont., Sept. 17.—Self-determination for Ireland and the nationalization of industry, which were the main points of interest at the afternoon session of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada. The congress carried the recommendation of the committee on resolutions in both instances that the conditions be not concerned in.

The committee on resolutions added a rider to their recommendation that congress restore the declaration made by the congress at Hamilton convention favoring Dominion Home Rule for Ireland, the same as that enjoyed by Canada, Australia, South Africa and other nations within the British Empire. The committee's recommendation did not mention Ireland.

Proud of British A. Hall, of Windsor, who explained that he was Irish born, took a strong stand against the resolution, declaring that he was not only an Irishman, but proud to be considered a citizen of the British Empire. He intimated that the conditions in Ireland were not properly understood, and intimated that one of the troubles was that when conscription was put into force in England and the United States, draft evaders from these countries went to Ireland, and when the Irish soldiers came home or leave, they found those people holding down their jobs. He declared that the crimes committed in Ireland were not the crimes of Irish men, but inferred they were the crimes of draft evaders who could not leave the country.

It was a notable fact, he said, that most of the crimes were committed in South West Ireland, around Cork, by men who would not kill a man in the war, but thought nothing of killing a man from ambush.

Would Nationalize Industry

The resolution of the Toronto Trades and Labor Council, recommending that the workers of Canada ally themselves with the workers' political parties of other countries, and that they have their platform on advocacy of an individual system of production for use instead of profit, and that the congress grant $5,000 to the provincial executives of the Labor Party to be spent for educational purposes to attain this end, was sponsored by James Simpson, who explained that what was really sought was a nationalization of essential industry, the same as has been successfully tried in Queensland, Australia and New Zealand.

LOCAL FAIR MADE MONEY

Substantial Surplus Expected After All Bills for Show Are Paid.

One of the directors of the St. John Exhibition stated last evening that the 1920 Exhibition was a financial success, and had met all anticipations. The office staff has been engaged during the past week checking up the admissions, entry fees, concessions and the various grants, and after all the prize awards and operating expenses had been deducted, it has been found that a gratifying surplus remains. A member of the executive will be held this afternoon, and the full financial statement will be submitted. One of the questions that will come up at this meeting is that of management for the exhibition. The final success of the exhibition depends on the management and a member of the directors feel that greater success would be assured if a permanent one was appointed instead of following the old policy of changing the management from year to year. It is hoped for this reason to make the 1920 management a permanent one.

EIGHT HOUR DAY SUITS THE MINERS

Sydney, N. S., Sept. 17.—The recommendation of an eight-hour day for all employees of the Dominion Coal Company has been received with approval by the miners, and executive members of the United Mine Workers. Formerly, although the men in the pits were only employed for an eight-hour period, a number of the construction men who were occupied around the mines were working eight and a half hours daily. The finding of the commission, recommending that these men be placed on an eight-hour shift, they are indeed pleased. ### MAY NAME NEW MEMBERS TO LEAGUE

Ottawa, Sept. 17.—A change is likely to be made, it is understood in the personnel of the Canadian delegation to the first meeting of the assembly of the League of Nations which meets in Geneva in November. Sir Robert Borden, former Prime Minister, Hon. C. J. Doherty and Hon. N. W. Rowell, it was at first stated would comprise the delegation. There is now some doubt if either Sir Robert or Mr. Rowell will be able to attend, and so far as at present determined, Canada will be represented by Sir George Foster and Mr. Doherty, with a third delegate. The appointments, however, have not yet been officially confirmed.

MRS. HYLAN HAS NO MAID

New York, Sept. 17.—Mrs. John F. Hyland, wife of New York's Mayor, has solved the servant problem, by having no servant and doing all the cooking, dishwashing, sweeping and dusting alone. ### ATTEMPTED TO TAKE HIS LIFE

Frederick Bell Arrested for Theft Tried to Commit Suicide in Jail.

Several attempts to end his life, all of which ended in failure, were made by Frederick Bell, alias "Spider" Bell, of Hampton, while under arrest in the central police station Thursday night. Bell was arrested by Detectives Biddiscombe and Danahue on the charge of being drunk, of breaking and entering the repair shop of Thomas Frenck, and stealing a pair of boots and rubber boots valued at $5, also of breaking into the store of William Wallace, Charlotte street, and stealing a quantity of goods. When Bell was first brought to the station he attempted to cut his throat with a large knife which was thereupon taken from him. Later, when locked in his cell, his actions were such that Frederick's clothes were put on him. In some manner he freed his hands and then tried to hang himself. A close watch has been kept on his movements since.

Two Cars Were Badly Damaged

Lady Hazen and Party Escaped Serious Injury—Accident Near Renforth.

Two cars were quite badly damaged in a collision which took place near Renforth yesterday afternoon. A Hudson touring car, owned by Sir Douglas Hazen and containing Lady Hazen and party as passengers, and an Oldsmobile Sedan collided, and both cars went into the ditch. As far as could be learned, no one was seriously hurt, although Miss Tibbity, one of the occupants of Lady Hazen's car, injured her ankle quite badly. This part of the road seems to be an unfortunate portion of the highway, for, in addition to the sad occurrence which took place there last spring, a number of minor accidents have happened between Renforth and Torriburn.

GENERAL PASSENGER AGENT

C. B. Foster, general passenger agent of the C. P. R., arrived in the city on the Montreal train yesterday. He came here to meet his family and returned to Montreal last night. He was met at the station by J. M. Woodman, general superintendent of the C. P. R. New Brunswick district and N. R. DesBrisay, general passenger agent of this district.

ARRIVED SAFELY

A cable received yesterday morning by relatives in the city told of the safe arrival at Havre, France, of Sister Mary of St. Augustina McLaughlin, formerly of this city, who is on her way to the house of the Sisters of the Good Shepherd in Paris. The passage from New York to Havre was made in seven days by the steamer La France, which had a good voyage.

The Women's Vote

TO THE WOMEN OF ST. JOHN CITY AND COUNTY AND ALBERT COUNTY:

Many of you were voters in 1917 and supported the Union Government of that date. The reasons for supporting the candidature of Hon. R. W. Wigmore, Minister of Customs and Inland Revenue, in the by-election of Monday next are quite as serious and important as the issues which confronted the electorate three years ago.

Consider the following SIX good reasons for marking a cross opposite the name of Hon. R. W. Wigmore when you go to the polls on Monday:

1. He is a tried and true man, who has served the public with an unblemished record, winning his own way by hard work and honest effort.
2. He represents St. John city in the Dominion cabinet and can do a great deal for the interests of this port during the next two years for which length of time his party is sure to retain power.
3. He is the representative of the Government which gave to the women of all Canada an equal right to the franchise.
4. He stands for the Government which kept Canada in the war until the cause for which our men were fighting was triumphant.
5. He supports the Government which has granted the most generous pensions to dependents and disabled men of any country in the world and which has also given, through the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment a chance to every returned man to better himself by education and training on returning to civil life.
6. He stands for stable government at a time when the spirit of unrest threatens the welfare of every nation. His opponent is committed to a policy which will shut down industries, throw men out of work and reduce to an even greater extent than at present the value of our Canadian dollar.

Speaking Tour Through Canada

Experienced Workers With Boys Will Visit Over Fifty Cities.

A speaking tour through Canada by experienced workers with boys has been arranged whereby over fifty cities will be visited during the months of September, October and November. The meetings are being held under the auspices of men's organizations and women's clubs.

The speakers visiting the Maritime Provinces are Taylor Statton, of Toronto, and O. J. Atkinson, of New York city. They will arrive in this city from Fredericton on the morning of September 27th, and will address a meeting of the Rotary Club at noon, while in the evening they will speak before the Women's Canadian Club. Local boy problems will be discussed in an intimate way and from common-sense and non-sectarian standpoints. The general theme will be "Observing the Boy Asst of the Community," with constructive suggestions for preventing juvenile delinquency and the development of useful Canadian citizenship. The visitors will leave on the midnight train for Halifax, where they will make addresses the following day.

Taylor Statton has been the National Boys' Work Secretary of the Canadian National Council of the Y. M. C. A. for several years, previous to which he was a prominent leader in work for boys in Toronto. He had had an experience of over twenty years in dealing with boys and planning for their welfare. Mr. Statton is making the present trip, not in the interest of his own organization, but to advance a unified community effort that will give every boy a chance to make good.

O. J. Atkinson is a Canadian who has been in boys' work for forty-six to forty years in Canada and six years as executive secretary of the Boys' Club Federation (International), with headquarters in New York City.

Miss Irma Poole, of the Bank of Montreal staff, Yarmouth, N. S., accompanied by her friend, Miss Ruth Gaton, of the Yarmouth Fruit Co., are spending their vacation in the city, the guests of Mrs. J. A. Brooks, 31 High street.

UNIFORM AN OFFENCE IN THE IRISH CITIES

English Woman Finds it Difficult to Buy When With Soldier Son.

By LYDIA K. COMMANDER. (Copyright, 1920, by Cross-Atlantic.) London, Sept. 17.—A visit to Ireland makes it abundantly plain that an antagonism is "agin the Gov'mint" and not against English people individually.

The mother of a young officer stationed in Ireland, who has just returned from a visit to her son, told me some amusing experiences proving this point.

"I soon discovered that all our comfort depended upon whether Jack wore his uniform or was in civvies," she explained. "It was a strange sensation to be met one moment in a friendly spirit, and the next—civil and distant, so to speak; all because my son had changed his clothes. At first I felt me slightly beleaguered, as our French friends would say. But after a short time I realized it was a game, quite a stern little game, but a game played with fixed rules and regulations.

Uniform An Offence.

"In Ireland, of all places, personalities are vulgarities, no word passed, yet I was given clearly to understand that the King's uniform was an offence to the Irish republic in my turn I shrugged my shoulders, metaphorically, and smiled back that the republic was objectionable to His Majesty's Government.

"It added a piquancy to life, speculating whether the mental tortures would be stormy or line every time I started up the wide street of the village. Every main street in Ireland is wide. There must be plenty of space in a country where the thoroughfare does duty as a club for the adult members of the population, a playground for the children, and a resting-place for all stray or lonely animals.

"All this adds to the picturesque appearance of the village, which is as irregular in its architecture as in its habits.

"Here a small village with thatched roof hunches its shoulders into a lordly erection of brick and stucco, the product of American dollars, for the sale of 'Spicers' and other Made In Quers." There a tiny shop is squeezed between two big houses as if making mute appeal for the right to live.

"But what about the uniform? You haven't explored its magic, black or white, yet," I suggested.

"Oh, yes! The uniform!" she responded. "I discovered its influence on the third day. We had a furnished cottage and a maid for my visit—I stayed three months; and the larder was well stocked up on my arrival on Saturday.

Out of Supplies.

"On Monday, at noon I strolled up the street to meet my son on his way home from barracks, and to replenish the stores. Jack is a jolly, good-natured boy, but very proud of the King's uniform, and I am proud with and for him. On the way home we entered together the principal shop, owned by a typical Irishman of the respectable shop-keeping class, whose name I had taken pains to learn.

"Good-morning, Mr. O'Flynn," I remarked in my best shopping tones; "I want a tin of sandline, and can I have some butter?"

"Mr. O'Flynn gazed steadily at Jack,

Then: "I am sorry, ma'am, I am out of sandline, and the butter is gone." The voice was chilly, and his owner peered anxiously to a yellow block of "marg."

"Later in the day, on our way to the gold mine, I determined to supplement the commissariat with cheese and a tin of peaches. My son, now in civvies, had his clubs swung over his shoulders. He removed his tweed cap (Irish fashion) as he entered the shop.

"The mood atmosphere cleared at once like magic. Mr. O'Flynn, all smiles, informed me that his supply of cheese was abundant and of the best, and as he handed me the peaches he edged that he had discovered some sandline. In a meek voice I once more inquired about butter, to be told that some nice fresh rolls had just come in.

"Having completed my purchases, I began to pick up my parcels. But Mr. O'Flynn would have none of that. He took them from my hand.

"Not at all. What you'd be carrying them for? Sure the boy 'll run up with them this minute. Are you there, Mike? Leg up and leave those things at once."

"Supper was assured. I left the shop, feeling I was no longer an enemy alien under my own flag."

AUTO TRAGEDIES INCREASE.

New York, Sept. 17.—Statistics which have just been tabulated by the Health Bureau show that 767 persons were killed by automobiles in New York during 1919 and 398 during the first seven months of 1920. Over fifty per cent. of the victims were under fifteen years of age.

Beauty's Ambition

To Rid the Face of Pimples and Such Blemishes is a Step Toward Life's Chief Accomplishment.

One of the most aggravating conditions to any woman is the presence of pimples and such blemishes. Her ambitions are first a home, then children and then her appearance.

One of the greatest blessings she can have is a fine, fair skin on face, neck and arms. The use of Stuart's Calcium Wafers now and then for the best condition makes this possible, and for him. On the way home we entered together the principal shop, owned by a typical Irishman of the respectable shop-keeping class, whose name I had taken pains to learn.

"Good-morning, Mr. O'Flynn," I remarked in my best shopping tones; "I want a tin of sandline, and can I have some butter?"

"Mr. O'Flynn gazed steadily at Jack,

Overland

Gasoline Economy Coast to Coast

In a continuous run of 3,442 miles from New York to San Francisco in July an Overland stock car averaged 32.64 miles to the Imperial gallon.

Made-in-Canada duplicates of this car are giving their Canadian owners the same kind of economy proofs.

The Overland dealer at Leader, Sask., made a test on a 288 mile trip from Regina, and his car gave him 35 miles to the gallon.

While roads were still partly frozen, a Bridgewater, N.S., owner tested his Overland over 107 miles of rutted roads, and got 26.75 miles to the gallon.

A St. Hyacinthe, Que., traveller recently covered 630 miles at an average gas mileage of 30 to the gallon.

A Toronto business man drove to Kitchener and back, making 31.88 miles to the gallon.

A Minnola, Minn., farmer reports getting as high as 34 miles to a gallon.

Fredericton, Sept. 17.—Peter Farren, 2:07, the St. John free-for-all pacer, is the first arrival at the Fredericton Park Association's fall races opening here next Tuesday.

The Peter the Great, pacer and the big trotter, Porefoather 2:16 1-2, both owned by D. O'Keefe, of St. John, were shipped from St. Stephen yesterday to Fredericton to rest up in preparation for the meeting here next week. The St. John horses have been taken from the Acker Stable, and it is believed both will be fit to repeat their performances of last July over the Fredericton track. On July 31st Peter Farren set the Fredericton track 2:08 1/4.

WAS SOME HITTL.

"Baby" Ruth will have to wait until some other year before he can hope to erase "Billy" Hamilton's run-getting record of 136 for a season. "Billy" was a great hitter, though none of the home-run record class, but he was a marvel on the bases. He hovered around 100 stolen bases, above and below, for many years, and he still holds the record for the greatest number of bases stolen in one game, seven, against Washington, August 31, 1894. Only eight innings were played in that game. Jim McEwen was catching for Washington in those days, but if he was in that game, he must of had an off day.

Heavy Track At Woodstock

Despite Discomforts Large Crowd Witnessed Very Fine Racing.

Woodstock, N. B., Sept. 17.—A heavy track made so by rain last night and this forenoon and a cold disagreeable wind made today anything but favorable for horse racing. It was hard on horses, drivers and spectators but despite all the discomforts crowds flocked to the race track where it was announced the races would be held. Every appliance known for putting a track in shape was employed and at three o'clock all was ready for the starter's word.

The great drawing card was the Eye for All, and believe me Xanthippe, it was some race. This reliable Fern Hal, with her equally reliable driver, were depended on to come through and were favorites in the post again. The sure thing followed in their hope and Zom G., the Houlton favorite, with Harry Novers driving upset the beans. Four heats were required, the second heat being called a draw by the judges. The Manor proving the winner, having honors even between Zom and Fern Hal. The decision met with disapproval bellowing Zom G. had nose out a winner. Ben All drew the pole with Zom G. in third place and Fern Hal fourth.

On the first turn Zom G. shot into the lead and held it to the finish. Baby Doll coming second. The second heat was a battle royal between Zom and Fern resulting as above given. The third was well fought between the two leaders the Houlton horse noising out ahead. There was nothing to it in the final heat. Baby Doll attempted to come Zom on the first half but had to give up the job. Novers' legs showed splendid form and when Fern started to chase him down the stretch he could not close up the gap.

The 2:30 trot went an extra heat. The Manor proving the winner, having no particular difficulty except in the 2nd heat when he made a bad break and could get nothing better than fourth position. The Manor had made a good fight but was no match for the Presque Isle entry. Tomorrow there will be the 2:17 and 2:19 classes and named race.

Summary.

Free for All, $1,000. Brooklyns, Sept. 17.—Brooklyn continued to advance toward the championship of the National League today by taking the second game of the series with Cincinnati, three to two. For six innings the game was a pretty pitched duel between Zom G. and Cadeo, neither allowing more than one hit in an inning up to that time. The game was won in the seventh when Olanstedt off for Brooklyn's ace pitcher, and scored on Griffith's double to left. Griffith went to third on Wheat's safe blow to centre and tallied when Myers duplicated Wheat's hit. Luque then succeeded Miller and beat the Dodgers off the paths for the remainder of the game.

New York 4; Pittsburgh 3.

New York, Sept. 17.—Tony started a rally for New York with a single in the tenth inning and the Giants won today by a score of 4 to 3. Burns today hit five in five times at bat, including a home run, a triple, two doubles and a single. His double in the tenth sent Tony to Young's where he scored on the Dodgers' single after Bancroft was passed purposely.

American League.

Chicago 6; New York 4. Chicago, Sept. 17.—Piling up their tenth win in a row, the Cubs today made it two straight over New York in the second game of the series in the American League pennant race today, winning six to four. The game was witnessed by a crowd that jammed Griffith's Field to standing room. The attendance was estimated at more than 30,000.

St. Stephen Races In Straight Heats

Braze Won the 19 Mixed, Gilling the 20; Bill Sharon the Free For All.

Special to The Standard. St. Stephen, N. B., Sept. 17.—The races today were all won in straight heats and did not furnish the excitement of those of yesterday. The rain of last night sloped up the track and fast time was impossible but at that those who were on the grounds had a good afternoon's sport. The Free for All trot brought out Bill Sharon and Tye Exposer. Sharon had no trouble in winning this event.

In the 2:19 three horses faced the starter. Braze, Pilmore Dillon and Lucky Strike. It was Braze all the way through with the other two putting up a good scrap for second money.

The 2:20 was won by Little Glig. The last heat of this race was an exciting one, the winner and Jack the Clipper coming down the stretch under the whip with hardly a head's difference between them.

Following is the summary for today: 2:19 Mixed Braze, br. s. Boutlier 1 1 1 1 Pilmore Dillon, ch. s. Keyes 2 2 3 3 Lucky Strike, ch. g. McKay 3 3 2 2 Time—2:22 3/4; 2:21 1/2; 2:21 3/4.

Yesterday's Results In the Big Leagues

New York, Sept. 17.—Cleveland increased its lead in the American League pennant race to one full game today by winning from Washington while Chicago was winning the second game of the series from New York. Brooklyn maintained its six game lead in the National League race by defeating Cincinnati, the champions, who slipped to third place as a result of the New York Giants' victory over Pittsburgh.

Although Cleveland has a lead of 10 points in the American League, the first three clubs are so closely bunched as regards games won and lost that one day's results has little effect upon the chances of any of the three winning the pennant. Cleveland had its slump and then followed a string of defeats for Chicago, but the Yankees followed, however, declared Sarano's time record in the face of the chilly weather and the gusty wind sweeping over the track. Three of the events on today's programme were for amateur drivers.

His first trip he rolled an easy grounder to John Collins. In the third inning, after the Yankees had scored two runs, Babe was purposely passed on bases. Ruth was purposely passed on bases, Ruth was purposely passed on bases, Ruth was purposely passed on bases.

Veteran Drivers Out of Racing

Murphy and Geers Are Out of Grand Circuit for Season—Results Yesterday.

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 17.—It was disclosed here today that Thomas Murphy and Edward (Pop) Geers, two prominent Grand Circuit drivers, may not be able to take their places in the busy season. An X-ray examination of the right wrist of Geers today revealed that it had suffered a compound fracture when the veteran was thrown from his mule during the running of yesterday's card, and it was said to be doubtful if he would be able to resume driving again this season.

Murphy, who was injured at the Cleveland meeting of the Grand Circuit, suffered a serious relapse at the track here today and had to be removed to a hotel. It was announced he will be unable to resume driving for some time, and may have to undergo an operation.

Chief Inspector Gives His Version Tells Standard About Woodstock Case as Related by An Eye-Witness.

There were several versions published of the incident which occurred in Woodstock last Saturday, in which Inspector McAtish featured.

The Standard is in receipt of the following statement from the chief inspector, and said to be the facts of the case as related by an eye-witness.

For the sake of fair play to all, especially to Inspector McAtish, and in the interest of morality, order and decency in the life of our town, it is necessary that the public should know the facts concerning last Saturday night's disorder in Woodstock. Therefore, with modest toward none, let the facts be told.

A man well known in the town passed and registered in full view of the inspector with a very prominent bulge over the hip pocket and a suspicious looking parcel in his hand. He acts in such a manner that the officer cannot continue to ignore him, even pointing to the supposed house and then to the inspector. The latter is not the sort of man who shrinks his duty, or ignores a plain challenge. He approaches his man with customary gravity in such cases and receives for answer the parcel in the face. Mr. McAtish did exactly what he ought to do, and did it with his usual efficiency. He kicked the fellow over the eye and sent him put the parcel on him, and accompanied by Inspector Nevers marched the offender to the police office. Examination showed that the hip pocket bulged with newspapers and the suspicious parcel proved to be a sober alarm clock. No charge of assault or of resisting arrest was laid by the inspector, who probably thought that the fellow had already received about all that was coming to him. Here the matter ought to have ended, but certainly did not end.

Before long an angry and excited mob gathered on the street, where Inspector McAtish was being, and he began to hurl ugly names and threats of violence, such as "Get a rope" and "Throw him in the river," coupled with a foul epithet intended for the grossest insult to a man's parentage. A missile of some sort was thrown and crashed through a window into the hotel. The tumult was loud and long continued into the early hours of Sunday morning. What were the civic authorities at such a time? Where were the sworn protectors of life, property and personal rights? Where they ought to have been, of course, right on the spot, but they were doing there is a different tale altogether.

The chief of police was there and in his uniform but when appealed to, answered that he could do nothing. The night watchman was on hand, but apparently was of the same mind as his chief, that a threatening mob suggesting methods of lynching an officer for performing his duty was no concern of theirs, and it was by no means incumbent upon either of them to make even a show of authority or even to clear the sidewalk.

The mayor also was on hand, very much on hand, though apparently rather out of hand for a chief executive. In fact, he seemed to have entirely forgotten that he was the chief police officer of the town and sworn to maintain law and order within his power. He, too, was heard to bandy ugly words and call upon somebody or nobody to "lunge him out." While Herbert Lindsay, a customs officer, acting duty in the hotel, ordered Mr. McAtish to leave the town, never to return, and even tried to intimidate the inspector into a promise that other officials should not come to do their duty in the town.

Inspector Nevers was the man of the hour for coolness and courage, and he was finally able to induce the crowd to disperse. These are the facts, perhaps, not the worst facts, yet very ugly-looking facts for several people, and this number does not include Inspector McAtish.

I have not heard where the town manager was during the fracas, or why he let the mayor get so dangerously out of hand.

In all common sense and plainness, does not the worse affair bear every sign of a frame-up on the part of the board of aldermen and its sympathizers in high or low places? The poor decoy used to get the inspector's goat, the police officer and other officials right on the spot, but surely in the face of a fair-sized riot and a threatening attempt at lynching, the very evident sympathy with lawlessness and non-law on the part of the officers, including the mayor, the attempt of the customs officer to play up the occasion for the benefit of the liquor interests, and the boozers by frightening of the inspectors. ### IRISH SEE IN MIRACLES SIGN OF GREAT HELP

Startling Reports of Marvellous Cures Come from Obscure Districts.

By HUGH CURRAN. (Copyright, 1920, by Cross-Atlantic.)

Dublin, Sept. 17.—The Irish political trouble, already complicated enough, is likely to be further embarrassed by the supernatural. That is the opinion of many concerning the reported manifestations at Templemore, a town in County Tipperary. Templemore was recently the scene of the murder of a police officer. Dist. Inspector Wilson, on the night of the murder, police and military broke loose and shot up and burned right and left by way of reprisal. The town hall was destroyed, and in its destruction, a military officer, Captain Beattie, of the North Very pliers and of a wonderful impressive demeanor, this youth was stated to have had visions of the Virgin Mary who appeared to him in the garb of a nun.

On one occasion she informed him that the miracle of Lourdes would be repeated in Ireland and that he would be the instrument of making it known. A further occasion, the Virgin appeared in the house where he resided and on the floor chalked a spot, and at her request the youth brought a spade and dug a hole in the shape of a heart. From this spot up a volume of water and instantly religious statues which were in the house came of their own volition and ranged themselves around the spring. Walsh himself fell prostrate and remained for some time. Then a remarkable thing happened. Blood was seen to ooze from the eyes and nose of the statues. The happenings were seen noised abroad and people came in crowds to observe the phenomenon and to carry away the water.

Some of these figures were removed into Templemore to a house of a man named Dwan, and it is claimed that their presence saved the town from great destruction on the occasion of the military reprisals. Crowds began to visit the house of Dwan and in order to accommodate the people and give them opportunity to see for themselves the statues were placed on a table. All could see for themselves the blood then congealed on the statues.

The other wonders followed. Cures not all this point straight to an organized effort and onslaught against law, order and morality in this town? Furthermore is it not high time that the helplessly inefficient (if not worse) mayor and police force resigned their offices at once and gave the citizens the opportunity to choose men who would to their duty and command the respect of, at least, their own town. Citizens of Woodstock awaken to the danger, and you who believe in law enforcement, sobriety and British justice, band yourselves together against a very real danger that threatens your town, your homes and your personal safety.

W. D. WILSON.

Little Friends of the Liver

The liver is the regulator of health. If the liver is active and well, good health and happiness prevail.

Small Pills—Small Dose—Small Price. DR. CARTER'S LIVER PILLS, Nature's great nerve and blood tonic for Anemia, Rheumatism, Nervousness, Helplessness and Female Weakness.

of confirmed invalids were reported. These excited the neighborhood to a tremendous degree and the report spread over the whole south of Ireland. On Sunday thousands of people came into Templemore from all parts, many even from Dublin. They brought with them the halt, the lame and the blind, all in the hopes of receiving a miraculous cure. Quite a number of cures are reported.

Old Soldier Cured.

One newspaper correspondent assured me that he saw one person, an apparently hopeless invalid, who had not walked for years, get up and walk about. An ex-soldier named Monahan proudly tells how he was invalided from the army two years ago from gunshot wounds in the leg. He was badly shaken by the rioting some days before he came to Templemore. He crawled from his own house across the road to Dwan's and the boy Walsh applied the crutches to his leg and after a shock and great pain, he found his leg better and he ran back to his own home, where he was joyfully received by his wife and mother-in-law. His leg, which was painful to touch, was now quite natural and without pain.

A youth who not had been able to walk for years except with crutches, had the use of his limbs restored and his father, who had been in the hospital, received the crutches before the assembled multitude, many of whom took pieces for souvenirs. At least a half dozen such cures are already reported.

Think Political Aspect.

Amongst the country people there is no doubt that these remarkable happenings are associated with the political unrest which keeps everyone, especially in the country towns, in a state of extreme nervous tension. They regard them as a sort of Mecca for Protestants. They believe that, were it not for Divine interposition, the town of Templemore would have been burned up in the recent trouble.

A people who are deeply religious, and who are so much excited by the Irish now are by all that is happening around there, can hardly fail to be moved by events so mysterious and weird. Templemore for the time being will become a sort of Mecca for the suffering in body, and no less will it be the objective of those whose patriotism is no less strong than is their religious feeling.

It is interesting to note that Roman Catholic priests of the town maintain an attitude of strict detachment regarding the miracles, although some of them who visited the place and saw the results could not help being astonished.

Miss Gertrude Seely, who has been visiting her father, J. D. Seely, Padlock street, returned to New York last evening.

Mr. Nelson F. McEwen arrived in town on Monday, September 5th, and has commenced his duties as Boys' Work Secretary at the Y. M. C. A. He will be glad to meet any old "Tuxis" boys who care to call in and see him.

Random Remarks.

A gentleman recently referred to these "Tuxedo Boys" and a newspaper notice was addressed "Laxit Train Rangers." At a recent closing Decoration Banquet in Charlottetown, P. E. I., there were seven boys present in their fourth year in C. S. E. T. It may not be known by many of our readers that the C. S. E. T. programme is being accepted by the boys of Vancouver Island, but there are already over one hundred and fifty boys organized either in Trail Rangers or in Tuxis Squares in Nanaimo County. These boys are attacking some real problems and are doing some very fine work indeed. Many groups are waiting to be organized under Canada's standardized programme for boys.

"DAD" CAME HOME AFTER HIS DROWNING

New York, Sept. 17.—"Daddy's drowned," was the news which the little son of William Beatty, 100 Annabelle avenue, Laurel Hill, brought home after a trip which he took with his father to Long Island Sound. He also brought home his father's clothes, Beatty had attempted to swim the boy walked until late at night and when his father did not return he made his way with the sad news. Later Beatty, attired in a scanty bath suit, turned up at the house and interrupted arrangements which were being made for his funeral. "The current was too strong to swim back," he explained. He had been forced to make the homeward trip by auto and trolley.

HIGHER SALARIES FOR TEACHERS OF PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Miramichi Presbytery De-plores Present Schedule and Urges Increase.

Chatam, N. B., Sept. 17.—The quarterly meeting of the Presbytery of Miramichi was held in St. James' Hall, Newcastle. Special matters of importance were dealt with. The continuation programme of the forward movement received attention. Consideration was given to some special features of the situation in connection with the public schools of the province. Nominations were made to church offices in the city of the general assembly. Temperance and prohibition came in for discussion, leading up to the appointment of a prohibition committee within the Presbytery, and the forwarding to the government of a nomination to the chief inspectorship under the Provincial Prohibition Act.

In the absence of the moderator, Rev. L. H. MacLean was elected moderator pro tempore. Elders' commissions, entitling them to membership in Presbytery for the current year were received, and accepted, on behalf of Messrs. Robert Hardy, of the congregation of New Richmond; William Maxwell, New Mills; Cayva Murray, Ruxton; George Henderson, Doulastown and Nelson; David Sadler, St. Andrew's church, Chatam; John A. McNaughton, Black River; James E. Miller, Campbellton; George Colhart, Loggieville, and P. A. Forsythe, of St. John and Whiteville.

The Forward Movement
Rev. F. W. Thompson, convener of the Forward Movement committee, reported a supplementary report, and submitted a resolution, which was adopted, endorsing the continuation programme outlined by the general assembly and commending it to the hearty support of the people.

The Presbytery took up the matter of nominations to vacancies in church offices and professorships. Rev. A. H. Foster, of Oakburn, Manitoba, was nominated as business manager of the Presbyterian Publications. Rev. Geo. S. Carson, D.D., was nominated for appointment as editor-in-chief of the proposed official church weekly paper in the event of the Presbyterian Witness, of which he is at present editor, being merged in the new periodical. It was agreed to make no nominations for the vacant professorships in Robertson College, Edmonton, and in Saskatoon Theological College.

Rev. A. D. Archibald, reporting for the committee on public education, called serious attention to existing problems in the public school life of the province, which must sooner or later result to the detriment of the community at large. He moved the following resolutions, which were adopted as expressing the view of the Presbytery:

"That while we appreciate what has been done to increase the salaries given to teachers, we would strongly urge the government not to rest satisfied until the teaching profession is made as remunerative as its value to the community deserves.

"That Presbytery learns, with alarm, of the increasing number of vacant schools, and would strongly impress upon the proper authorities the necessity of taking measures to supply these, either by consolidation, or, in cases where this is deemed impossible, by increasing the government grant.

"That this Presbytery views with disapproval the infringement of the public school system in the interest of any particular religious denomination. That Presbytery urges the enforcement of compulsory education.

"That our ministers endeavor to quicken the interest of our people in the cause of education, and that our growing boys and girls be encouraged to remain at school until they have received the benefits of a good education, and that their attention be directed to the claims upon them of the teaching profession.

"That we co-operate with the Presbytery of St. John, the Anglican, Methodist and any other churches in an effort to secure a measure of religious education in our public schools."

Temperance Work
Rev. W. M. Matthews brought up the discussion of temperance work in the province, calling attention to the inadequate organized efforts put forth by the Presbytery in the cause, and expressed a desire to see a more aggressive educational policy along these lines inaugurated especially in view of the approaching referendum on the question of the importation of intoxicating liquors. He moved that a committee on prohibition be appointed to act in such way within its rightful sphere as would best serve the cause. The motion was carried. The committee appointed includes Revs. L. H. MacLean, convener; Dr. E. B. Wylie, F. W. Thompson, G. S. Gardner, T. Harrison, G. J. Taithe, G. A. Grant, Hugh Miller, A. D. Archibald and J. H. MacLean, and Messrs. E. A. McMur-

dy, John A. McNaughton, and W. R. McMillan.

Rev. Mr. Matthews further moved, seconded by Rev. T. Harrison, that in view of the approaching vacancy in the chief inspectorship, under the Provincial Prohibition Act, the Presbytery of Miramichi beg leave to present to the serious consideration of the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council the name of Rev. Dr. E. B. Wylie, of St. Andrew's church, Chatam, as a man admirably qualified to fill the position. This motion was carried unanimously.

RECORD SHOW AT WOODSTOCK CLOSES GATES

Many Fine Types of Pure-Bred Stock Change Hands During the Fair.

Special to The Standard.
Woodstock, N. B., Sept. 17.—Today's parting day at the Exhibition, and tonight the beauty and attractiveness of the display of the week is lacking. The stock moved out this afternoon, and the Pike attractions are packing up their stuff tonight.

The manager of the Woodstock Exhibition and all connected with the affair are happy in spite of a week of disagreeous weather that kept thousands from attending the second annual show of the society.

The management will not more than break even on the year's undertaking. There might even be a little loss.

No Poor Exhibits.
There was not an inferior exhibit, and each attraction excelled. The whole exhibited, arranged and entertained. All connected with the affairs from clean-up boy to president were working in perfect harmony and everything moved with the precision of a clock. Woodstock has established a reputation, and its future as an exhibition city is an assured success.

Most gratifying testimony as to the efficient manner in which the exhibition has been conducted have come from judges in the different departments and from the exhibitors. The judges from Toronto and Ottawa predict that in five years the Woodstock Exhibition will be to the Maritime Provinces what the Toronto Fair is to the West. The exhibitors are all satisfied, not one complaint having been registered. All of the out-of-town exhibitors were paid their winnings on the spot, every attention and courtesy.

Is "falling in love" enough reason for getting married?

America's great divorce problem begins with our marriage problem

34,000 babies of unmarried mothers born here each year

What becomes of them?

THIRTY-FOUR thousand little babies that nobody wants to live.

What becomes of the thousands of these little babies that disappear quietly each year—with some one getting paid for each disappearance?

What becomes of the thousands of frightened unmarried mothers blackmailed to the last penny? Would you believe that there is in America an organized method for getting rid of nameless babies?

Dorothy Canfield exposes the whole dreadful traffic in her article in Pictorial Review for October entitled "A Square Deal for the Nameless Child."

It will tell you facts almost incredible, but proved. When are we going to act? When are we going to do what France did? Every wife and mother should read this shameful record.

MARRIAGE is like the movies" said one young war-bride-Reno-divorcée. "You can go into the show and if you don't like it you can get up and go out."

War-brides figured in forty per cent of last year's Reno divorces—ending marriages of haste and passing excitement!

In nearly half our states it is not even necessary to register a marriage.

And look at our divorce courts!

In a single year the divorces granted in America were more than double the number in twenty European countries combined. We have forty-eight separate divorce laws—one for every state.

Did you know that if you marry a divorced man, you can later be named as his corespondent?

That at the beginning of a trip you may be a man's wife and at the end—not his wife?

That if you take your children out of the state they may become illegitimate?

That you can be the legal wife of two men, of either of them, or of neither—at the same time?

That at the same time you can be both single and a bigamist?

Helen Ring Robinson's discussion of marriage and divorce discloses some amazing, ludicrous and tragic results of our chaotic divorce situation. She gives a graphic pen portrait of Reno, the divorce-boom town, what it is and what it does.

Read her revealing, thought-provoking article. It contains facts that no American woman should be ignorant of. Don't miss

Women Voters Hear Addresses

Large Gathering at Imperial Listen to Mrs. Hooper, Dr. W. W. White and Candidate

Deacon Hon. Rupert W. Wigmore is a member of the National Liberal-Conservative party, which embraces most of all parties and is united to make Canada prosperous and happy—because he is a cabinet minister and therefore has great influence in the government, and because he has proved capable of giving serious positions most acceptably. These three eminently practical reasons for electing Mr. Wigmore on Monday next were given by Dr. W. W. White, yesterday speaking at a large gathering of women voters held at the Imperial Theatre.

Mrs. Richard Hooper was chairman, and in introducing Hon. Mr. Wigmore reminded her present that he is St. John's representative, a cabinet minister of the Federal Government—that same government which gave women the right of electing themselves by the ballot. He has made good, said Mrs. Hooper, "so good that the honor of being taken into the cabinet is his, and we are British enough to feel that what we have, we'll hold. In politics we women need not attempt to be like men. We should be womanly, so as to bring to politics the intuitive judgment we possess, and our faculty of concentrating our affairs round the production and nourishment of life. We feel that Mr. Wigmore is a good man, sound and able, with a good cause."

Dr. W. W. White spoke in a very happy vein, appealing to the common sense of his hearers and illustrating his points by cleverly introduced stories. He enlarged upon the reasons for voting for Hon. Rupert Wigmore; first because he represented the National Liberal-Conservative Government, and went on to give a concise account of the war and after-war record of the present government. He told of the necessity for conscription, and how in 1917 many men put their patriotism above their politics and united to win the war.

For the returned soldiers, Dr. White stated that the government has treated in the Department of Civil Service re-employment 150,000 returned men, placed 175,000 in suitable occupations, established 100,000 training schools, where 410 different trades may be learned, given $160,000,000 in gratuities, and $85,000,000 in pensions to 177,000 men. A war government is never popular, the speaker said, and referred to the high cost of living which always follows a war.

The protective tariff, which is one of the great planks of the present government, was explained, and Dr. White showed how buying in Canada would save $500,000,000 yearly to the Dominion.

After referring to Hon. Mr. Wigmore's splendid and entirely satisfactory record as minister, commissioner and member of parliament, Dr. White closed by urging all to vote on Monday and send Mr. Wigmore back to Ottawa with a large majority.

Hon. Mr. Wigmore was greeted with hearty applause on rising to speak. He expressed appreciation of all that his friend, Dr. White, had said of him, and asserted those present that, if elected, he would do his best conscientiously to fulfill all promises and to do his duty by St. John, New Brunswick, and the Great Dominion.

He felt very proud of the honor paid the province by appointment of a cabinet minister to represent New Brunswick. While others on the floor of the House of Commons might be more eloquent or more clever in debate, he felt that no one understood the needs of the constituency and port better than himself.

A Worker, Not a Talker
He had not made many speeches, Mr. Wigmore said, because he had worked on committees in season and out. When Hon. Arthur Meighen had called him to the cabinet, he had said that what was wanted was a worker, not a talker. He believed that men should be in the government who study the serious problems of the day, and take stock of what is going on all over the Dominion.

After speaking of the example Canada has set the world in her treatment of the returned soldiers, and answering some criticism which had been made against the administration of affairs, Hon. Mr. Wigmore asked for a large majority in order that his hands might be strengthened at Ottawa, and that he might feel he is strongly supported by the will of the people of his constituency. Women have a great interest in the development of the province and the Dominion, and he felt they would do their best for what he felt would be in their best interests of all. This constituency cannot be dictated to, but will show its own mind and send back a representative pledged to serve them to the best of his ability.

Before the meeting a short film was shown. Miss Katherine Goddard rendered a solo delightfully, accompanied by Miss Hogan. The singing of "God Save the King" closed the meeting.

THE TREASURE OF GOOD HEALTH

Easily Maintained Through the Use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

There is not a nook or corner in Canada, in the cities, the towns, the villages, in the farms and in the mines and lumber camps, where Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have not been used, and from one end of the country to the other they have brought back to broad-winners, their wives and families the splendid treasure of new health and strength.

You have only to ask your neighbors, and they can tell you of some rheumatic or nerve-shattered man, some suffering woman, ailing youth or anemic girl who owes present health and strength to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. For more than a quarter of a century these pills have been known not only in Canada, but throughout all the world, as a reliable tonic, blood-making medicine.

The wonderful success of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is due to the fact that they go right to the root of the disease in the blood, and by making every organ and every nerve, thus driving out disease and pain, and making weak, dependent people bright, active and strong. Mr. W. E. Johnson, one of the best known and most highly esteemed men in Lunenburg county, N. S., says:—"I am a Provincial Land Surveyor, and am exposed for the greater part of the year to very hard work travelling through the forests by day and camping out by night, and I find the only thing that will keep me up to the mark is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. When I leave home for a trip in the woods I am as interested in having my supply of pills as provisions, and on such occasions, I take them regularly. The result is I am always fit. I never take cold, and can digest all kinds of food such as we have to put up with hastily cooked in the woods. Having proved the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, as a tonic and health builder, I am never without them, and I lose no opportunity of recommending them to weak people whom I meet."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills should be kept in every home, and their occasional use will keep the blood pure and ward off illness. You can get these pills through any medicine dealer, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Ripe Tomato Preserves.

For this the tomatoes should be peeled, the skins being easily removed if the tomatoes are first plunged for a few minutes into hot water. The small round ones may be preserved whole; the large kind must be cut into halves or quarters according to the size. To eight pounds of the ripe fruit allow seven pounds of sugar. Cover the tomatoes with the sugar and let stand overnight. Drain off the syrup and put it on to boil, skimming it in order to have it clear and transparent. Put in the tomatoes and let them cook gently for twenty minutes or so. Then lift them out with a skimmer and pack them into jars that have been carefully sterilized. Let the syrup continue to boil until it is rich and thick, adding to it the juice of three or four lemons. Pour the hot syrup over the fruit in the jars, and seal as usual.

TIPS FOR THE THRIFTY.

The ends of men's ties are never worn out, and there is a waste of good material if they are thrown away when the other part is soiled. If the ends are cut off and pressed, they can easily be made into smart little bows which are so much worn with blouses just now. A small feminine touch can be given by having a few French knots worked on them with light-colored silks.

To make a pretty cord for a stride, take pieces of narrow satin ribbon of binding shades, and braid in a five-strand plait. At the ends, for weight and decoration, place rings covered with satin.

When food is properly fried it is put into fat sufficiently hot to sear the outside and retain the flavor and juices in full.

WHY DRAUGHTS GIVE COLDS.

Many doctors have told us that chilling the surface of a body, as by a draught or a cold douche, cannot cause a cold or cough. Nevertheless many persons know only too well that they do catch cold whenever they sit in a draught. A group of Italian physicians has been studying this apparent contradiction, and one of them—Dr. Goettli—reports that the temperature of the expired air rises or falls as that of the skin rises or falls, and does not correspond to the temperature of the surface blood vessels contract and the expired air becomes cooler. There must, therefore, be a close nervous connection between the vessels of the skin and the vessels of the air in the lungs is determined by the blood in these vessels and when these contract the air becomes cooler, it may be that the sudden contraction of these vessels favors infection by the germs that are always present in the throat.

ANTONIO, MATINEE IDOL, WITH PEP

Antonio Moreno, the Vitagraph serial star, as soon as he completes the final episode of "The Veiled Mystery," the Vitagraph serial on which he is now working, will start giving a well known story, according to an announcement just made by Albert E. Smith, president of Vitagraph.

The change in the medium through which Moreno is to appear before the motion-picture public is the result of thousands of requests.

It is said the consensus of opinion has been that, however, great Moreno's success in serials, features will give him wider latitude for the development and display of his dramatic talents. It is also believed that the experience gained in serials will be of the utmost value to him in features.

THE FOSTER GOVERNMENT.

The story of the Foster Government as told by the Telegraph and Times yesterday would lead the uninitiated and unacquainted reader to suppose that the aggregation composing it was specially selected from among the angels throng in the realms above to come down to this ungodly and misgoverned province and set things right, that they had come from the land in which neither rust nor moth, nor any other innoxious influence, doth corrupt, and where there are no thieves, either within or without, to break through and steal. It is a wonderful story—or would be if it were truly true.

To begin with, it is claimed for them that they are the most progressive government this province has had. In some respects they most certainly are. Here is an instance of the progress they have made:

Over-expenditure for 1918, $134,556.93
 Over-expenditure for 1919, 327,689.32

The over-expenditure for 1917 is not available, as no balance sheet is included in the Auditor-General's report on the public accounts for that year. How do the people like this kind of progress? And it should not be forgotten that with all this over-expenditure, the revenues for the years named were larger than in any previous year, yet the Government could not keep within their limits. Any extended period of "progress" along these lines would very soon land the province in absolute ruin.

Then again it is said that they are an honest government. Are they, when they cannot even put out a truthful balance sheet? The Comptroller-General's report on the public accounts shows that two out of every three items in the balance sheet they did publish are false. Any one can prove this for himself by taking the report and comparing the totals there given with the same items in the balance sheet. Asked to explain, the Government could not do so at any rate they did not.

They are making a great to-do about the wonderful roads they have given the people. It is true that there has been some improvement made in the condition of some of the roads, but at what cost? And how long will these improved roads last before they will want "improving" again? Hundreds of thousands of dollars have been borrowed and spent for what is only temporary betterment, that will last for a few years only at the most. Long before the money has been repaid, the work will have to be done over again, and as much more money again spent. How long can the province stand this everlasting accumulation of loans? Even with the expenditure of all this money, most of the roads are just as bad as ever they were, never having been touched at all. Along the road from Chipman into Kent county there lies upwards of 2,000 worth of concrete pipes that were laid there two years ago. It is still there, most of it broken beyond repair or use. This is progress, as the Foster Government knows it.

The "great improvement" in roads is merely visible in the French-speaking counties, where Mr. Venit has flung the money right and left. One of his competitors was candid enough to admit some little time ago that the friends of the Government in Kent had received for road work more money than many of them had ever seen in their lives before. Some people would be inclined to call this sort of thing bribery, but with the Foster Government is merely good business.

Moreover, while all these thousands upon thousands have been spent on a few of the main roads, practically nothing has been spent on the by-roads, which are used by the great bulk of the people. These people—the "workman people"—have been left to get along in the mud and mire as best they could; the engineers have had everything they wanted. How many thousands have been spent on the Robbsey road for the sole enjoyment of the people of St. John and vicinity? The entire cost was paid for out of provincial moneys, and the natural result has been that there has been very much less money available to spend in other parts of the country.

The progressive Crown Land policy that we hear of has consisted mainly of leaving undone many things that ought to have been done, for the simple reason that so many friends and supporters of the administration are vitally interested in large tracts of these lands, that the Government dare not interfere lest they should offend their friends. The welfare of the province could not be put in competition with the interests of the Government's friends.

"They completed the Valley Railway and turned it over to the Dominion Government." That said, but they still retain the Board of Directors to do nothing but draw their salaries, which, with expenses, amount to more than $10,000 yearly. Their much-vaunted hydro-electric policy is their latest deal; it has possibilities, no doubt, which, in view of the approaching election, have been boomed for all they are worth. Much water must pass under the bridges, however, before the schemes can ever be carried through to success.

As for the agricultural policy of the Government, the less said about it the better. It has been proved over and over again to be one of the greatest jokes of late years. Fortunately for the finances of the province the bulk of the money expended by the department is provided by the Dominion subsidy, and, on the principle "every come, every go," it has been wasted on every conceivable fad that the perverted ingenuity of incapable officials could devise.

The Foster Government's greatest achievement has been the raising of taxation. But they did not go to the men who can best afford to pay more taxes, the lumberman. Oh dear no; these men have votes themselves and can command the votes of many others. They must be let alone. The Foster Government preferred to tax the widows and orphans, and the children. They added to the Succession duties, and taxed the children when they want to go to the "movies," theatres or other kind of entertainment. They had to have more money to meet their extravagance, so they turned on the classes least able to pay. This is progressive government. What do the people think of it?

MR. McMASTER'S SLUR.

It was charged by Mr. McMaster in his address on behalf of Dr. Emery last night that the people of St. John were being offered a bribe by the McCreigh Government to return Mr. Wagnere, such bribe being the offer of extensive improvements to the port and harbor of this city. Such a statement is characteristic of the canvasses being used on behalf of Dr. Emery. The work that is being asked for the benefit of Canada as a whole, and not for the benefit of the city alone. Practically all the work that has been done at the harbor here has been done at the expense of the citizens. The Canadian Pacific Railway has spent some money on their own equipment. The people of St. John have time and again put their hands into their pockets and paid for improvements themselves, and such assistance as has been received from the Dominion Government has been of little account.

What the Government is asked to do is to take the harbor over altogether, and make a national port of it for the benefit of the whole Dominion, the lands of which must of necessity come through this port for five or six months of the year at any rate. Why should the people of St. John want to be bribed to assist in the development of the trade of the whole country? And why should the people of St. John themselves be expected to pay the cost of making the many improvements that are so urgently needed to properly equip the port to handle the country's business? Is this not a national work?

It is in order that he may be in a position to push this matter to a proper conclusion that the electors are asked to send Mr. Wagnere back to Ottawa as the representative of the city. He is not being asked to request the expenditure of large sums of money on harbor improvements because the citizens want it. He is expected to ask that the port facilities be put in proper condition for the sake of the country at large; and, what is more, he is expected to see that he gets it. This Dr. Emery could not do. Every part of Canada is going to benefit from any increased facilities there may be created here. What better subject could be wanted?

PROHIBITION ENFORCEMENT.

The incidents in connection with the fracas which occurred in the town of Woodstock a few days ago, in which Inspector McAlmish took a leading part, are certainly not very much to the credit of the town. They indicate very clearly that there is in the town an organized effort to interfere with the proper carrying out of the law. The inspector was practically challenged to do his duty, and he did it; and that there should be any attempt to mistreat him for so doing, is, to say the least, disgraceful. There are many who do not agree with the Prohibitory law; it is, in their opinion, unjust and inequitable, and the very incarnation of all that is bad. However, be that as it may, it is the law of the province, and, being the law, all decent citizens will wish to see it properly carried out. The incident the other day is a poor advertisement for the growing and enterprising town of Woodstock. Such incidents justify the recent comment of the Halifax Herald: "Prohibition 'as known in the Maritime Provinces' is a farce pure and simple. Prohibition as it is carried out in the Maritime Provinces is a disgrace to the 'dry forces.' The liquor trade as followed in the Maritime Provinces is a 'damnable reflection on the men who 'are behind it.'"

QUEBEC AND CONFEDERATION.

Speaking before a large audience of French-Canadian supporters of the Government in Montreal on Saturday, Mr. P. R. Blondin, Postmaster General, made a finely-reasoned appeal to his people to accept the hand of friendship held out to them by Premier Meighan. Said the Minister:

"A serious study and analysis of the big questions of the past few years will be sufficient to kill for all time, in the public opinion, all the present and future agitators. The mass of the Canadian people want good-will and harmony. After fifty years of great effort to consolidate the industrial and economic resources of this country, what province can find it to its advantage to be isolated from the rest of the Confederation? For any province to be isolated spells destruction. Isolation for the Province of Quebec more than for any other province, if possible, means suicide."

Signs are multiplying that a new era of understanding is dawning between English-speaking Canada and Quebec. For this all men of good-will must rejoice. The province which is the cradle of Canadian history, and which has contributed so richly to the glory of the Dominion's progress, could not isolate itself from the rest of Canada without removing the very arcana of Confederation.

Nothing but the mercy of Providence intervened to prevent what might have been an awful catastrophe yesterday afternoon when the Halifax express left the rails, and rolled down the embankment, shortly before reaching Moncton. According to accounts to hand, the run-off was caused by a broken rail. Who was responsible for this not having been attended to has yet to be ascertained. But the fact remains that there are altogether too many of these shoddy on the Canadian National railways for the public good, and it is pretty nearly time some more effective supervision of the permanent way and rolling stock was set on foot.

TALKING ABOUT RAILWAY RATES.

The Standard can fill a Pullman car with people at Montreal, pay their fares, and pay for their sleeping berths, and also pay for their meals while on board, and land them in St. John in twelve hours for less money than it costs to get a car load of paper over the same route in seven days. Is this quite a square deal?

WHAT OTHERS SAY

If It Were War.
 (Hamilton Herald.)
 Those Sinn Fein extremists who insist that Ireland is at war with Britain would be very badly scared if Britain were suddenly to take Sinn Fein Ireland at its word and go for real war.

Boo-Hoo!
 (Cincinnati Enquirer.)
 Charles P. Keating, ere we part, fare you dance vile you start, ere your wizard's rube you doff, I'll say—where do I get off? I thought I would get rich quick, now I find I am a rick. In my wad you've put a dent, where's my 50 per cent?

A Timber Probe Witness.
 (Hamilton Herald.)
 Same old same old may be a patriotic and public-spirited citizen, but his testimony against the late Hearst government in connection with alleged timber lands, expenditures would save more weight if it were not known that he has been ever against the Hearst government because certain water-power privileges of his on the Sturgeon river were cancelled, and his brother had applied for a government job and had been turned down.

Those Big Salaries.
 (Edmonton Journal.)
 One of the great benefits conferred by the income tax is that it acts as a curb on those who, for various purposes, claim to be earning very large sums. The old jokes about the "real" and "newspaper" salaries of baseball pitchers, opera singers, etc., are now largely out of date. But the other day a press agent was so ill-advised as to state that a certain reigning New York favorite was securing $25,000 for a ten weeks' engagement, in addition to her regular salary. This brought around the tax collector with a demand for $7,500, in addition to what the lady was already assessed for. Now the newspapers are busy in announcing that the $25,000 was not a bonus, but only a deposit as a guarantee of salary payment, a rather different thing.

Always Well Earned.
 (Forest Press.)
 The city papers are telling their readers about the great riches the farmers are gathering in this year. But they forget to say that these returns have been made possible only by the toil, not only of the farmer himself but by the toil of his wife and his boys and girls, all of whom are doing farm labor. The family on a prosperous farm do more hours of hard work, week days and Sundays, in three months than the members of a well-to-do city family do in a whole year. Any prosperity that comes to the farmer and his family is always well earned. Domestic help is almost unknown on the farm, while in the city families, outside the laboring classes, which are without help are very few, if the working hours on the farm were as few as they are in the city, starvation and famine would soon be the result.

BY LEE PAPE

I came in yesterday afternoon and waited back in the dining room just out of habit, and sat on the sidewalk but a plate full of cookies, cookies being some of my favorite cakes, and I dabbed one to see how good they were and then I tasted another one to see if it was as good as the first one, and so on like that till I had ate 6, and then I went up stairs and was subconsciously humming in my room, me saying, Wats you making, ma?

Without Reservation.

According to the "Best Reviewer," a man presented himself for enlistment who said that his mother was an American who had married a Frenchman that he was born on a ship flying the Spanish colors while she was lying in the English Channel, that his parents having died in Sweden when he was five, he was adopted by a German who brought him up in the United States. The man who adopted him was not a naturalized citizen.
 "Would you class him as a man without a country?" someone asked the recruiting officer.
 "Without a country?" was the reply. "I'd class him as a League of Nations."

Our Fall Showing Paints A Fashion Picture Alluring

A picture wherein warm Autumn colorings, rich weaves and smart lines play important parts. Each showing forecasts authoritatively the modes of the new season in Suits, Coats, Frocks, Blouses and Skirts.

Suits Offer Greater Variety Than Ever

Among other things this Fall, Fashion goes from one extreme to another, presenting first boxlike suits absolutely devoid of trimming and then offering elaborately styled modes made more decorative and distinctive by the lavish application of embroideries and fur. No color can be said to monopolize the showing for navy, browns, mahogany and misty green tones are equally prominent.

Frocks That Will Meet Every Requirement

A frock of Tricotine or Navy Serge is every woman's first concern in Autumn. It fills a dozen distinct and different needs. It may be worn for informal social functions or just as appropriately for the shopping trip. Then there are the Embroidered Frocks of Satin. No matter how many other frocks in your wardrobe, one, at least, of Silk is needed. Some exceptionally pretty ones will be found in our Woman's Shop.

Separate Skirts With Character and Individuality

The new Skirts are here in numbers, pleasingly varied and displaying conspicuously those features which mark them as distinctly of this Autumn. Soft woolsens, in plaids, stripes, checks and plain, give interesting expression to the mode of the moment. Colors when combined are harmoniously blended and the workmanship is of a quality that add to one's joy in possession.

Coats That Will Make You Look as You Want to Look

Other items of apparel may be left out of your Fall wardrobe plans but a smart new coat, never! A little later it will be an actual necessity from a standpoint of comfort. Just now it is most desirable because of the individual appearance it enables you to present. And such interesting coats as you will find here! So many, yet each one so much to be desired.

RING LARDNER'S LETTER ON SCHOOL FOR GIRLS

To the Editor:— In a recent article in these columns, the writer gives some hearty hints for men in response to a demand for same. This last week my Montenegro army of readers have a good many of them asked me to devote an article to the well-dressed man and what they should wear in the coming fall and winter seasons. With my own judgment doing these things is not to be excused at without a transfer check, still and all I took the trouble to consult an exclusive 3d. avenue tailor, cleaner and dyer before I wrote this article and the advice give in this article is the opinion combined with mine and certainly should ought to be correct.

We will begin with the correct morning attire as pretty near 50 per cent. of men goes up at that time of

The man showed up in an evening waist coat that was cut so low that you could see most his shirt bosom, and white trousers that had been to the cleaners a whole lot of times to get soft.

day. If the man is a farmer and has to go to milk the cow, they should ought to wear white work clothes and be sure and take a good look at them. If they have got to carry a horse they should comb their own hair first before they leave the house and then use a different comb and brush on Rover. The correct costume for carrying a horse is a suit of some material like velvet that the hair can be picked off of easily and hob nail boots so as they will be no chance of slipping and stepping on the equine's foot.

For the business or professional man the proper outfit for morning wear is a Prince Albert coat and velvet trousers and Bull Durham shoes. The shirt and tie can be of some Turkish blend which can be mild as long as it suits you.

Short men might look kind of funny in the above garments and if I O. K. for them to wear a sack suit which can be obtained for say $15.00 but the expenditure of $50.00 dollars extra will get you an extra pair of trousers which practically doubles the life of the suit provided you don't wear both pairs at once. If you had a suit of flannels this summer they can be used for underswear when the weather justifies such a course. If a shirt is torn they should be a collar of some kind with it and the cuffs should ought to be buttoned.

The correct night garb for fall and winter which is a nightgown of some flimsy material like burisp or fur with cap to match.

As they're nothing that distinguishes the nicely dressed man from the duds so much like a shirt without no collar or the cut cuffs that snip apart at the tag end.

Diré Influence of Women's Dress. Recently some men of the smart set that I run across with 23 has been led astray by the example of some of the social leaders of the sex who you might say has went to extremes, a specialty in the matter of revealing dress.

For instance I know a man that his wife is just back from Paris and I seem her at a party one night with a gown that was made out of a Sam Brown belt and khites to match and the next party I was on with this couple, why the man showed up in an evening waist coat that was cut so low that you could see most of his shirt bosom. To make matters worse he wore white trousers that had been to the cleaners a whole lot of times to get soft and when he came in to the reception room all we boys blushed furiously.

The correct attire for a formal dinner or dance or theatre party is a full dress coat slick in the tails, clean

THE COMMONER. His name is seldom mentioned in the press. No medals come to him to mark his fame. He is not noticed as a world success. These are never added to his name; Yet he is brave who keeps his post, each day, And truly lives upon the faith he knows, For oft his fondest plans must go astray, And he is victim to life's various woes.

DEPRECIATION. Depreciation is something which happens to an automobile after it has been driven around the block by a new owner. Nobody has ever advanced one sound reason why a $1500 automobile should depreciate so much faster than a three-year-old colt or a milk cow, but the fact stares us in the cheek-book just the same. You can go out and buy a healthy, well-spirited mule and he will not depreciate to any extent until he has removed three or four of the owner's immediate family from this mundane sphere with both hind feet. The farm horse never begins to show any signs of wear and tear until he is twenty-four years of age, when he is spruced up and sold to some neighbor whose eyes are cut on the bias.

In view of these solemn facts, why is it that the average six-cylinder touring car, with a steering wheel, a clutch and a club-footed carburetor, begins to go into a decline as soon as the ink

Reader, the whole world is today alive to the importance of a better general understanding of sex hygiene. The much-discussed science of eugenics is teaching the great mass of people that strong, healthy, reared parents beget equally sturdy children. Manhood, no matter where or in what condition of life we find it, is the single power that most fascinates both men and women. The one who radiates this manly influence, this result of a vigorous, sturdy nerve force, is the one who forces to the front, while weaker people stand aside. It is my opinion that any man may hope for a complete restoration of his manhood and vigor if he but

THREE KINGS FROM THE ORIENT

The International Sunday School Lesson for September 13 is "Saul, David and Solomon Compared."—Ps. 72; 1. Sam. 16:7. A man may become what he is not. That pointed truth sticks out from the front of the three kings of the Orient about whom the Sunday Schools of North America have been studying for half a year. Character is not fixed but ever changing. The young are never too young and the old are never too old to be transformed in their souls, for better or for worse. All of life is but a work shop for the making over of human spirits. The bad may become good, the good may become bad. That is why we should all walk softly, without either presumption or despair.

Religion and the Throne. The higher the post, the greater the responsibility to a Higher Authority. During the war, many soldiers and statesmen talked with me concerning the grave need of a new spiritual sense in the world; but some spoke to me more earnestly upon the subject than the Queen of Roumania and the Sultan of Turkey. They saw clearly that only in a new consciousness of God could order and peace come to our troubled times. Outstanding in the stories of Saul and David and Solomon is the fact of their unusual, as they know them, they were great. God-consciousness is David's supreme claim to immortality. Saul's transgressions with the eternal outshone all material achievements. To be aware of God—to love Him and His law—this is the highest attainment of the human spirit.

One Young Man's Call. The world never outgrows its highest in the human. Biography is best literature. The tales that are told by the desert fires of Arabia, of the lowly who became great, of the poor who became rich, of the obscure who became famous, are twin to the favorite literature of our own land and time. Youth and age alike read with zest the story of the young Saul who went in search of his father's straying asses and found, instead, a crown and a kingdom. Saul stands for opportunity. He is that vast company of youths who live, consciously or unconsciously, preparing themselves for higher things; and who are under the spur of a divine urge. Last night, in a Virginia town, I fell into talk with a boy of eighteen, who has for five years been the bread of a family of seven. He has moved to a railroad center, where he works in the shops, in order that the younger children may have educational advantages. And he himself, after eight hours a day of labor, spends two hours a night in study. He is unconsciously preparing for his kingdom.

SEVEN SENTENCE SERMONS. God never mocks the soul with an impossible ideal, neither should the soul ever mock God with an ignoble one.—F. Watson Hannan. These who bring sunshine into the lives of others cannot keep it from themselves.—J. M. Barrie. For we know, not every morning Can be said; So, forsaking all the sorrow We have had, Let us fold away our fears, And put by our foolish tears, And through all the coming years Just be glad. —Riley. Be not lenient to your own faults; keep your pardon for others.—From Japanese Proverbs. Herein do I exercise myself, to have

THE GREATEST MENACE OF OUR TIME is idle, irresponsible, low-grade youth; people; the most hopeful sign of our time is the host of young men and women who have the stamina and the will to make themselves ready for a great tomorrow. There are no greater men for Sunday school and young people's societies, functioning at one hundred per cent. efficiency, than converts are today. If youth is fired with Christian ideals, all will be well with the world. As country boy and Israel's king, huge-saturated Saul is a story of deathless charm. But he is also an admonition. He stands in that great company of men—we all can call some of them by name—who began with noble purpose and shining prospects, but who ended as selfish, social, material-minded grubbers among ignoble pursuits. The successful man is the one who holds fast to the end the untarnished ideals of youth. Farm Fruits Versus Palace Products. I happen to know personally a royal prince, whose name is often in the world's press. And I know him for a weakling, a coward and a fool. For one reason, he has never had a fair chance in life. Not for an hour has he ever stood on his own feet as a boy among boys, or as a man among men. Syphilis and courtiers have fawned upon and flattered him, and his worst transgressions of the primary code of manhood have been lightly brushed aside as mere peccadilloes. So he is going the Absalom route. Soft circumstances produce soft souls. The child of fortune is usually set in real adversity, so far as the development of sterling manhood is concerned. Palaces are a poor place for the growth of great character. Hard circumstances create hardy characters. King David's greatness was of the shepherds' hills and of the soldiers' camp. As a sturdy, resourceful, self-reliant leader of the sheep, fearless of lion or bear or robber, he grew to be a valorous and high-visioned soul. What a brave and chivalrous character David was, ere he came to the throne! But he fell beneath the weight of ensnawing ease and luxury and power. Out of the story of David there comes to every young person the urgent cry: "Don't cover easy times, but rather seek after a high spirit. Better a farm-grown, sterling man, fearing God and serving the world, than a palace-produced idler, with all the blingies and futilities that so often go with the lot of the children of ease. A man is measured by his character, not by his circumstances. Be great in soul where you are, and if God wants you somewhere else He will drive you there."

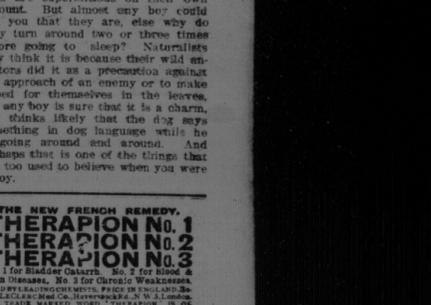

Two Kings' Failure. Both David and Solomon failed as fathers. Their kindly successes and splendor could not sweeten this bitterness for them. They came short, as thousands of "successful" men are doing short today, in the first proof of the qualities, the ability to rear sons better than themselves. Let us be blunt about this. No man is really a success, judged by the standards of the great God, regardless of how much wealth and power he amasses, if he has failed in his own home, and in his responsibilities as a father, in that most dangerous of the issue by sending their children to expensive private schools, to substitute a father's interest, example and authority. There is a rule that the scepter of king and millionaire, and

ARE YOU SUPERSTITIOUS?

Boyshood Superstitions. If you think back upon your boyhood you will have no difficulty in remembering the number of times when your superstitions or charms was of great importance to your career. Do you recall how spitting was found to be a constant help? How, when you hurt after eating and had a pain in your side, all you had to do was to spit on a stone, spit under it, and spit it back again. Instantly the pain vanished. Doctors may contend that it was spitting and picking up the stone that did it, but you knew better in those days.

You knew too, that no matter what kind of bait you used when you went fishing it was no good unless you spit on it before you put it on the hook. Before after, it was no certainty good to spit on it once it had been in the water. You might as well throw away the bait and start over again with a new piece. There are a great many things that boys know that grown-ups never seem to have known anything about. For instance, hardly any grown-ups know about the "devil fire" or what it is that rain clouds say about the weather tomorrow or that bullfrogs are sentinels for the night. If a bull-frog begins to croak near where you are fishing you might as well move to some other place. He has warned the fish and down they'll stay until he tells them you are gone. Few grown-ups know, either that dogs are superstitious on their own account. But almost any boy could tell you that they are, else why do they turn around two or three times before going to sleep? Naturalists may think it is because their wild ancestors did it as a precaution against the approach of an enemy or to make a bed for themselves in the leaves, but any boy is sure that it is a charm, and thinks likely that the dog says something in dog language which he is going around and around. And perhaps that is one of the things that you too used to believe when you were a boy.

Druggists and Doctors Astonished At Wonderful Power of Nicotol To Stop the Use of Tobacco To Detect Harmful Effects of Tobacco Try These Simple Tests regarding the merit of this article, before taking your usual smoke, walk up three flights of stairs at a regular pace, then stop. If you find that you are out of breath, your heart beat is forced, trembling or irregular, you may be a victim of functional or organic heart trouble. If you feel that you must smoke, chew or sniff to quiet your nerves, you are a slave to the tobacco habit and are positively poisoning yourself with the deadly drug, Nicotol. In either case you have just two alternatives—keep on with the self-poisoning process irrespective of the dangers and suffer the consequences; or give up the habit and escape the dangers. You can overcome the craving and stop the habit in a very short time by using the following inexpensive formula: Do to any drug store and ask for Nicotol tablets, take one tablet after each meal, and in a comparatively short time you will have no desire for tobacco—the craving will have left you. With the nicotine poison out of your system, your general health will quickly improve. Note—When asked about Nicotol tablets one of our leading druggists said: "It is truly a wonderful remedy for the tobacco habit; away ahead of anything we have ever sold before. We are satisfied by the many letters we receive from our customers, and we would not permit the use of our name unless we are satisfied that the medicine is really a wonderful remedy for the tobacco habit." Nicotol tablets are sold in this city under an iron-clad money-back guarantee by all up-to-date druggists.

New York.—Mr. Tobacco User, any druggist will tell you that a remedy to be successfully sold must, above everything, possess merit, otherwise failure is inevitable. Nicotol, the famous remedy for the tobacco habit, was a success right from the start, simply because it quickly does the work promised. We published a few letters from some of the best known druggists in the country to give you an idea of what they think of Nicotol, and you may rest assured that they would not permit the use of their names unless Nicotol was something out of the ordinary. The Peoples Drug Stores have five of the best stores in Washington, D. C. They write: "Since we have handled Nicotol the sale has been greater than that of all the rest of the articles of this nature which we have ever sold. The demand was so great that we were compelled to order it locally pending receipt of a shipment you direct." E. Brown, druggist, who has six stores in Salt Lake City, says: "We take this opportunity to express our own relative to Nicotol. We have enjoyed a very large sale on same and it has given entire satisfaction to our customers." Jacob Strouss, of Philadelphia, Pa., says: "I have passed our expectations. Our first order was placed late in March and we were forced to re-order before the end of April; the order have kept up well ever since. There is no doubt that we are receiving many repeat orders from our customers and many expressions of opinion in favor of Nicotol. Right in the morning, before taking your usual smoke, walk up three flights of stairs at a regular pace, then stop. # WOMEN OF ST. JOHN-ALBERT:

In spite of all that has been said and done to impress upon you the serious outcome of the present Federal By-Election, it is apparent that only a small percentage of you recognize your present responsibilities. The opportunity which was given you to vote in the Union election of 1917 was not a special concession for that particular time. Your names have been placed on the voters' lists. Women's franchise has been made general, but you are not only entitled but practically required to vote in the present contest if you are to justify the contentions which friends have offered on your behalf. Your power in shaping the destinies of Canada is today equal to the power of the men who have for so many years controlled our administration. A woman's vote today is just as good as a man's vote; women are today as numerous as men and probably exceed the latter in numbers in this or any other constituency. The balance of power is in their hands. The immense importance therefore of the decision of the women of Canada on any matter of public policy should be widely recognized.

For this election you do not have to register, if your names are not on the lists today it is due to your own neglect and nothing further can be done for the election of September 20th. You have had three years in which to register and undoubtedly ninety-nine per cent. of you are properly enrolled. The few who are not enrolled have only themselves to blame. But it is the duty of everyone of you to ascertain from the revising officer or the committee workers in your district whether your names are properly listed and where you should appear to vote.

There is no use in sitting back after this election is over and saying that the men of Canada rule the country. They have nothing more to say in the administration than you have, excepting this that they will blame the women for failure to live up to their opportunities unless you, as representatives of your sex, respond to the call of duty and cast your ballots for one or the other of the candidates offering in the present By-Election contest.

Remember This--EVERY WOMAN HAS A VOTE

Under these circumstances and having in view the record of the past six or eight years it is not only a duty to vote, but it is a duty quite as important to cast your ballot for the man who will continue to administer the affairs of Canada in accordance with those policies which have brought our country through the most trying period in the world's history. Honorable Mr. Wigmore appeals to you for support on many grounds. He is a tried and true man who has served the public for the past twenty years, winning his way to a foremost position in his country's affairs by sheer hard work and honest effort. He represents St. John-Albert in the Dominion cabinet and in that position, can, during the few years, accomplish much for the good of our people. He represents the Government which gave to the women of Canada an equal right to the franchise. He stands for that Government which kept Canada in the war until the cause for which our men were fighting was triumphant. He supports that Government which has met the extraordinary expenditures necessary for the re-establishment of our men, which has granted to the dependents of our soldiers and to our disabled men the most generous pensions given by any country in the world and which has provided opportunity for every returned man to improve his own condition by education and by technical training in that trade to which he is best adapted. He stands for stable government at a time when the spirit of unrest threatens the welfare of every constituted nation. His opponent in the present by-election is committed to a policy which will destroy every industry in Canada, which will throw millions of men out of work and which will still further reduce the value of our Canadian dollar in exchange with foreign countries.

GENERAL TREND OF BUSINESS TOWARD HEALTHIER TIMES

Clearer Heads See Brighter Outlook Despite Much of Unpleasant Nature in Current Trade Situation.

(Copyright, 1920, by Public Ledger.)
By B. C. FORBES.

Pessimistic talk has become so rife that it may be well to give a reminder that the darkest hour is oft before the dawn.

Virtual deadlocks have existed in various lines of business for the last two or three months. Buyers have been holding off for drastically lower prices. Sellers have refused to meet their views. This has resulted in much curtailment of production.

But business deadlocks cannot last very long, because out of 168,000,000 people do not for a single day stop wearing out clothes or shoes or underwear, or stop consuming food, or stop using their homes and other necessities for nature or sun, or cease to utilize transportation. Moreover, the world has gone on buying American products at the rate of from $50,000,000 to $75,000,000 a month.

The price deadlock promises to be broken. One important step in this direction has been taken by the American Woolens Co., which has opened its new season's goods at a reduction averaging 20 per cent. This has stimulated at least some ordering, and the closed mills are being re-opened. Ordering of cotton goods has been similarly held in abeyance, but here, also, a renewal of activity can be counted upon.

Turning to raw materials, growers have been raising up enormous quantities of wool, because of their dissatisfaction with the prices offered. The South has been exhorted to adopt similar measures. It would appear, too, that there have been very extensive hoarding of various commodities, withholding having been practiced in expectation of obtaining much higher prices. For example, sugar has appeared in large quantities since prices began to fall sharply.

Active Trading Will Develop. As the realization becomes more general that wartime prices must give way to peacetime figures, and as sensible readjustments are effected, the probabilities are all that more active trading will develop. The American people have both the will and the means to buy, but they have set their faces resolutely against extortion. The sooner short-sighted manufacturers and other sellers grasp the prevailing state of mind and bring their prices into harmony with it, the sooner will a healthy volume of trade be experienced.

Of course, manufacturers cannot lower prices below a certain point unless their costs of production decline substantially. Various basic raw materials have already fallen quite sharply. Says the country's largest bank on this head: "The important food staples are either as low as or lower than a year ago. Meat products are lower, flour and vegetables about the same, fruits lower, coffee less than one-half the price of a year ago. Raw cotton has declined about ten cents even more, hides and leather more or less all about 70 per cent in six months."

Cost of Labor Distinctly Less. But any one familiar with the underlying facts knows that the cost per unit of labor is distinctly less today than it was six months ago. This is not because of any reductions in wage schedules, but because of the increased output per worker. Enough men have been laid off here and there to convince workmen that they must exert themselves, to some extent, at least, to retain their jobs. And read their extremely significant despatch from Philadelphia:

Two hundred employees of the Herbert Hosery Mill, Conshohocken, have agreed to take a ten per cent reduction in wages so that the mill need not close. Leon S. Herbert, head of the concern, said: "All our employees are girls, some of whom received as much as $22 a week. If the workers had not agreed to accept the reduced pay we would have been compelled to stop work entirely. As it is, we are turning out goods now for stock."

That is an indication of what is certain to happen at many points. Authoritative figures have been compiled showing that building tradesmen who forced their wages up to abnormal heights, have actually earned less than they did under former schedules, for the reason that the excess costs checked building operations, notwithstanding the alarmingly grave scarcity of houses throughout America, a scarcity equally acute in almost every other country and bringing the adoption of extreme governmental measures to meet the situation.

Workers may not understand much about economics—although my experience is that they know more than is generally imagined—but they can understand being laid off or put on part time. The man out of a job will not long refuse to take $8 a day if he cannot get $10 a day, nor will the worker, who has been receiving $8, elect to tramp the streets for many weeks rather than accept $6 a day.

It seems too trifling to mention, yet New York has had, through a very small incident, an extraordinary illustration of how eager the people are to buy when they consider the price attractive. One of the larger department stores the other day, advertised a sale of sugar at 14 cents per pound. Not only was it swamped with orders, but there is hardly a household in New York that has not talked of this sale.

Those who failed to take advantage of it, feeling and expressing a regret quite out of proportion with the actual saving that would have been effected. Without seeking to minimize or gloss over the unpleasant features of the current situation, for they are many and of magnitude, I still feel very strongly that the general trend of business is toward healthier and more active times.

The monetary barometer points toward calmer weather. The earth is yielding up most bountiful harvests.

Labor is working more. Transportation is improving very notably.

Export business is wonderfully well maintained. The political campaign is exercising phenomenally little influence upon business—except that in the highest circles the prospects of the advent of a Republican administration are regarded as both bright and of enormous importance.

The health of the American people is splendid. They have regained their mental poise and are now saving rationally, thus storing up now capital for the conduct of the nation's industries and the development of its resources and transportation.

The absorption of the $100,000,000 French bonds in one hour was accepted by even the pessimists as a stimulating incident, although, of course, they were careful to add that the rate exacted by the bankers from France was very stiff. Although securities movements were irregular, the undertone in the investment market is distinctly better. The buying of railroad bonds and stocks has come from individual sources, and there is growing testimony that small investors are showing more interest in the constructive side of the market.

While a mild flurry in money rates is regarded as possible this week, incidental to the heavy tax and other payments due on Wednesday, bankers all agree that the danger of serious trouble this fall has virtually passed, especially as the decline in merchandise prices is reducing very materially the amount of money and credit necessary to swing the country's business.

In short, while there is much of an unpleasant nature in the current business situation, the clearest headed authorities see a brighter outlook.

(Guelph Daily Herald.) Let Guelphites keep up the idea of celebrating every statutory holiday with some sort of a demonstration, in order that the people may have something to stay home for and not be tempted to look elsewhere for fun on the holiday.

GERMANS HATE TO PAY MONEY TO EX-KAISER

Insist Royal Family Got Enough Out of the Land in the Past.

By VIGGO TOEPPER.

(Copyright, 1920, by Cross-Atlantic.) Berlin, Sept. 17.—A great part of the German people strongly object to contributing to the cost of the ex-Kaiser's maintenance, whom they consider responsible for the present plight of their country, but they are strenuously opposed by another military and reactionary faction who insist on cutting over to the Ex-Kaiser or many additional millions of German marks.

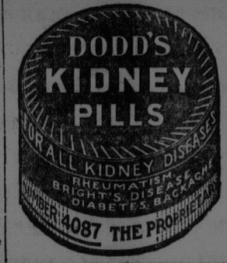

It was brought out at a recent meeting of a committee of the Prussian Landtag (parliamentary assembly) that not only did the former Kaiser carry away with him a princely fortune in cash and treasure of various kinds, but also that the Ministry of Finance had acceded to his every request for further subsidies. The Socialist Helldorn stated that not another penny of German money must be sent to Wilhelm of Hohenzollern and pointed out that the Minister of Foreign Affairs, Herrmann Muller, had stated more than once that it was harmful to Germany's interests to pour millions into the greedy maw of the Hohenzollerns at a time when the country insisted that it was unable to pay the indemnities demanded by the Entente.

Helldorn stated that the Hohenzollerns themselves had created a precedent when, upon the demand of Prince Bismarck, they had confiscated the entire fortunes of the conqueror King of Hanover and the Kurfuers of Hesse after the war of 1866.

To this the representative of the Ministry of Justice, Herr Kuelzer replied, that there was a vast difference between the two cases, inasmuch as these confiscations were necessary for the safety of the German state, and he was supported by several representatives of the bourgeois parties. Socialist representatives on the committee reported that the safety of the German Republic was equally at stake now, and that the possession by the Hohenzollerns of practically unlimited means constituted a permanent and very real danger to Germany. The authorities, Herr Helldorn said, had estimated the value of the property yet to be turned over to the Ex-Kaiser at between 250 and 200 millions of marks, but in reality it was very much higher, as the estimate did not include the "Hausclatz," valued by experts at 90 millions besides jewelry and silverware.

He also pointed out that the State had already had to pay 40 million for a single plot of land considered to belong to the Hohenzollerns. He would not even mention the value of goods already sent to the Ex-Kaiser, but as the representative of the Ministry of Finance had stated that these goods practically all consisted of household goods and furniture, necessary to the comfort of the former monarch, he would merely ask, if the more than one thousand silver plates and platinum sent to Holland were considered to come within the category of household necessities.

London the Home of Kellogg's TOASTED CORN FLAKES

If you would be sure of the sweetest, freshest, most toothsome toasted corn flakes, always identify our big corn flakes factory at London, Ontario, with the package you are purchasing.

The package is plainly marked "Made in Canada" and "London, Ontario," and you will never be disappointed if you ask your grocer to give you the London-made Kellogg's.

Our constantly mounting production of corn flakes, first offered 14 years ago, and eaten every year with increasing appreciation, shows that no deception, no imitating of package, no "cheaper" no "try 'em," no "just as good" variety can overcome the consistent reputation of the original corn flakes.

Our duty to the consumer is to provide a constant reminder of the marks on the package that identify the original—"Made in Canada" and "London, Ontario" (printed in red across the face of the package).

BROMPTON FEATURE AT MONTREAL WITH THREE POINT GAIN

St. Maurice Paper Called for First Time With Advance of Five Points.

Montreal, Sept. 17.—Trading in Brompton today on the local stock exchange overshadowed everything else. The stock opened at 78, an overnight enhancement of a large fraction and worked up quietly on a strong demand with the day's top price of 80 in the closing transaction, leaving the stock a net gainer of 2 3/4 points on the day.

Other issues of the paper were also conspicuous. Athlitz opening 78 1/2 with the close at 79 1/2, up a point. The Spanish Rivers retraced their lost price fortunes of yesterday, the common ending the afternoon at the day's best of 119, and the preferred a number of 1 1/2 points in net at 125 1/2, after selling over 125 1/4.

Laurentide advanced 7 1/2, 118 and ended a half point lower at 117 1/2, up a point from yesterday. Wagonack was quiet and unchanged and Howard Smith worked up a point to 158 in light demand.

St. Maurice Paper Up.

St. Maurice Paper "called" for the first time on the floor of the house gave a demonstration of strength, a dealing totalling around 500 shares, being bid up to 158, or 5 points above the last transaction reported on the unilateral department yesterday. Closing bids disclosed no offerings under 155.

The Asbestos issues were in some prominence with the common advanced and the preferred advanced higher, at par. Atlantic State moved narrowly, finishing at 110 1/2, up the fraction, while Breweries was quiet and steady. The Steels were neglected and the Traction were irregular. Brazilian and Detroit showing no change. Quebec Railway down a point at 25 1/4, and Toronto Balle a half at 48 1/2. Total sales, 11,412; bonds $17,430.

ELEPHANT FOUR TIMES.

New York, Sept. 17.—Angela Tomaso, 1231 Long Island avenue, believes that woman's place is the home, but she declares that she won't stay there. Her husband for a recreation in the Brooklyn Supreme Court, he alleges that Mrs. Tomaso has slept four times since last January.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Murray, of Moncton, N. B., are in the city yesterday. Mr. C. C. Hayward, of Newmarket, was at the Royal Yacht Club.

WALL STREET HAS 900,000 SHARE DAY, RECORD FOR WEEKS

Celebrates Return to Trading After the Explosion by Great Activity.

New York, Sept. 17.—Wall Street celebrated its recovery today from the shock of yesterday's mysterious explosion by an active day in the stock market. Sales approximated 900,000 shares, the largest turnover in many weeks, and gains as distributed among leading issues extended from 2 to 10 points.

Collateral conditions contributed measurably to the market's activity and confident atmosphere. Money rates continued relatively easy, foreign exchange made a further rally from the early days of the week, and general news was of a favorable if not wholly constructive character.

The long deferred, aggregating plan of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad Company was finally made public, that stock ended at a loss of three points after an early advance of four points.

Rails Made Gains.

Other rails, including several of the low-priced issues, also made substantial gains. Oils were the dominant feature, however, Mexican Petroleum leading at an advance of ten points, and Pan-American gaining 3 1/2. Motor shares and their subsidiaries also gained one to two points. Despite further rumors of a curbing of orders, steel and equipment advanced measurably higher, features of that division being represented by the American and United States Steel and Baldwin Locomotive, which finished at a net gain of three points over the previous day. Shipments also advanced, especially United Fruit and Atlantic Gulf, but gave way to profit-takers at the close.

Call money opened and closed into next week at 7 per cent, with the bond reduction of one per cent in the afternoon. Some loans of two and three months were made at 8 1/2 per cent. Remittances on London and Paris hardened appreciably.

There was a marked increase of bond dealings in which the new French bonds were again conspicuous, although 100,000 to duplicate their recent high prices.

Total sales, per value, aggregated $13,850,000.

CANADA PUT IN FAVORABLE LIGHT BY HON. HUGH GUTHRIE

Dominion is Strong Financially and Her Future is Assured He Declares.

HON. HUGH GUTHRIE.

New York, Sept. 17.—The Hon Hugh Guthrie, Canadian Minister of Militia and Defence, who has just sailed from this port in company with financial advisers as official representative to the Financial Conference which opens at Brussels on Sept. 24, in discussing financial and industrial conditions in Canada, with a representative of Dow, Jones and Co., said: "As to the economic situation in Canada, wages and rents are still high, but general indications point to a prosperous time ahead. The crop situation is extremely favorable. The wheat crop is estimated in the neighborhood of 300,000,000 bushels in the eastern provinces there are record crops of fruit and grain. Customs during the first five months of the year amounted to $30,000,000, which is $2,000,000 more than for the same period last year.

No More Borrowing

"Canada for the first time in many years expects to finance herself without borrowing and there is little probability that she will be able to do it this year, even with a total of $3,000,000,000.

"The Canadian Government, which it takes over the old Grand Trunk Road, will be operating between 23,000 and 25,000 miles of railroad, including two transcontinental roads. This will leave only the Canadian Pacific Railway, which is not under government control.

"The recent merger of steel companies offers tremendous possibilities if economic conditions remain at all stable. They have the benefit of all the most unlimited resources for the industry together with very advantageous shipping points and proximity to market. The pulp and paper industry is in a very good position and mills are all working to capacity. Relative to the reports that England is endeavoring to get the entire output of Canadian mills, it appears that much of the talk originated with certain publishing concerns.

CANADIAN NATIONAL EARNINGS.

CLOSING OF KIEL CANAL BY GERMANS OPPOSED

France Files Protest, Indicating Intention of Forcing Issue on Berlin Keeping Vessels With Polish Ammunition from Waterway—Workers Take Part

Berlin, Sept. 17.—The expected conflict with the Entente over closing the Kiel canal to ships with Polish munitions on board has arrived, the government stating to what is frankly admitted to be a radical pressure. Abandoning its earlier attitude of tolerance, it has ruled that the canal is not an international thoroughfare, but an internal German waterway, over which the passage of war material for a belligerent is both illegal and unneutral. It asserted to shipping captains for examination and advised the captains to take the longer route around Denmark to their destination.

The French Government, however, has filed a vigorous protest in terms indicating its intention to force the issue on this point, as on the warbler controversy over the shipment of munitions by rail to neutral Silesia. A note from the ambassadors' council in Paris supporting the French position is announced to be on its way. The German position, as indicated by the public League correspondent by a Foreign Office representative, follows:

The course which the government would prefer to adopt is indicated by the fact that ammunition shipments by sea are not allowed to pass freely, no question of neutrality being raised.

Workmen Cause-Crisis.

The attitude of canal workmen, supported by radical labor organizations, has now brought about a situation in which the canal can be kept open only by the use of force. It is a question whether the government is able to apply that force. The government under the circumstances has fallen back on the stipulations of the Versailles Treaty which, while providing the canal shall be open to vessels of commerce or war of all nations at peace with Germany on terms of equality, do not allow a restriction to be placed on the canal by the use of force. It is a question whether the government is able to apply that force.

The French attitude, as explained at the embassy, is diametrically opposite. That same treaty article is interpreted as internationalizing the waterway, giving Poland the right to use it for munition shipments. The weak point in the case is the authorization for warships of belligerents to use the canal as long as the country is not at war with Germany itself.

As the situation is developing, however, it is becoming more and more clear that the canal will be closed.

Our Reason for Doing This —

Pianos and Phonographs have never been as high in price as at the present time. We feel that we can get in touch with Piano and Phonograph buyers in this manner at less expense than on any other plan. This saving is diverted into the pockets of the buyers. This without in any manner detracting from the worth or value of the instruments. Acting as direct New Brunswick distributors for the Amherst Piano Co. Ltd., of which our store is a branch, we are in a position to create actual savings to buyers.

Bear in Mind the Following —

One Piano will be given free to the best solution—One Phonograph will be given free to the next best solution. Every contestant entering a solution will not get a Piano or Phonograph free. The prizes are for the best, neatest, correct solutions. ### F. MACKENZIE GAINS 25 POUNDS

The Way Tanlac Built Me Up Is Simply Remarkable Says St. John Man.

"Tanlac has not only put me back on my feet, but built me right up to where I have actually gained twenty-five pounds in weight," was the emphatic statement made recently by James F. Mackenzie, well-known carpenter, living at 42 St. John St., St. John, N. B.

"About a year ago I began to have indigestion very bad, and lost my appetite, fell off terribly in weight and got into a very run-down condition. My stomach was in such a bad fix that everything I ate soured and bloated me up with gas until I was in perfect misery, and I dreaded for meal time to come round.

"I had such pains across the small of my back that when I sat down or stooped over it made me almost cry out, and I had such spells of dizziness that sometimes when walking down the street everything would suddenly seem to swim before my eyes and I could hardly stand up. I got no more sleep at night than an owl, and became so weak and run-down I often had to lay off from work for three days at a time.

"But the way Tanlac overcame my troubles and built me up was nothing less than remarkable. In a short time I could eat like a horse and never suffer a particle from indigestion, and I rapidly picked up in weight and strength. I haven't had a headache or dizzy spell since I first started on Tanlac and my back is so much better for I can work all day and never have an ache or a pain. I can't say enough in praise of Tanlac for it gave me back my health and strength."

Tanlac is sold in St. John by Ross Drug Co., and P. W. Munro under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative.—Advt.

CROWDS GREET HON. MR. WIGMORE

Mass Meeting Crowds Imperial Theatre for Rally in His Interests in St. John.

With a mass meeting in the Imperial Theatre last evening attended by a very large audience, the Hon. R. W. Wignome, the Government candidate in the by-election in St. John-Albert, returned to the city after strenuous campaigning in the county. His rural visits had brought him much encouragement; the meeting here was enthusiastic in every respect and every speaker predicted a huge majority for the new Minister at the polls on Monday.

Col. MacLaren Presides.—In opening the meeting Col. Murray MacLaren, C. M. G., the chairman, said that he was pleased to welcome such a representative gathering of the citizens of St. John, who would hear good and sufficient reasons why the National Liberal and Conservative Party should be supported, who would hear clear and convincing arguments why a vote should be cast for Hon. R. W. Wignome.

There are two big reasons why the Government should be supported. These were its past record and its future policy. Its action during the strenuous period of the War are well known. The Government had succeeded to such an extent the Canadian Corp that it stood second to none in the fighting forces of the world. He recalled the Government's action in regard to the returned soldier saying that it was unquestionable proof that the returned men had been most liberally dealt with.

In regard to the second reason why the Government should be supported, he said that it will be prepared to carry on a policy that is based on sound experience. That policy is free from class legislation; it will encourage all trades and pursuits so that they will prosper and make for the country's advantage. The central basis of the Government is stability and progress.

Why, he asked, should a vote be cast for Hon. R. W. Wignome? Because he has discharged his duties so far with credit to himself and advantage to this city; because he is fully aware of the needs of this city and this province; because it is fitting that this port and this province should have a representative in the Government.

Hon. Mr. Baxter.—As the Hon. J. B. M. Baxter rose to speak Hon. R. W. Wignome came to the platform. It was a signal for a demonstration and the speaker called for three cheers for the Minister. Mr. Baxter referred to the last occasion that he addressed an audience in the Imperial Theatre. A number of citizens had been asked to address a meeting on the absolute necessity and real duty of subscribing for Victoria Borda.

The response was a great one and it enabled this country to carry on its war work with renewed vigor. At that time Liberal and Conservative alike forgot the petty things and united themselves to the winning of the war.

Require Proper Policy.—Canada has an enormous debt much of which is owing to her own people while considerable portion is owing to people outside this country. This debt is a binding one but to pay it there is first required an adequate fiscal policy. He paid a tribute to the fiscal policy of the Government, which says that there shall be no privileged classes; that all shall contribute share and share alike; that keeps within the bounds of the country the means of occupation; that ensures the artisan a market for his wares, totally different than the nebulous policy of the Liberal Leader.

Hon. Mr. Mackenzie King is said to be a political economist. Mr. King for the sake of obtaining power promises this thing to one and that to another and so on. He must know that he cannot keep his guarantees if he come into power without rendering the country unable to meet its obligations.

The policy of the Government is not to drive labor out of this country to find employment. It proposes that so far as it is possible this country shall manufacture within its borders the necessities of life of the people. It treats the industrial worker and the agricultural producer fairly.

The speaker then held up in contrast Mackenzie King, the theorist with his nebulous policy and Hon. Arthur Meighen, the practical man who does not waste time spouting idle theories but gets down to cold calculation. The government has a Tariff Commission making investigations now and when these are concluded a report will be made which will be the basis of the new Customs Law which will be fair to all.

Touching on local affairs Dr. Baxter said that this strip of water called the port of St. John, like the basin of Canada, is absolutely essential to the port would be justly dealt with by a party whose leader as well as several members which had come down to make a personal inspection of the needs.

Hon. Mr. Wignome.—Mr. Wignome said that in coming before the people of St. John as their representative in the cabinet of Canada, his mind went back to three years before when he had come before them to discuss a question of great importance to all Canada, and when he and his colleague had been returned with one of the largest majorities ever given in the history of the constituency.

Three years had gone by and there had come changes at Ottawa, reconstruction was going on, and this constituency had been honored by the choice of a cabinet minister, for he considered that it had been an honor conferred upon the constituency rather than on himself.

The names of leading Liberals were on the speaker's nomination papers and would support him with their votes on election day. He appreciated the fact, knowing that in doing so they were placing the interests

Narrow Escape From Drowning

George Fernauld, Campobello Fisherman, Steps Over Wharf at Partridge Island.

George Fernauld, fifty-six years old, a Campobello fisherman, narrowly escaped death by drowning about 2 o'clock Friday morning, when he stepped over at Partridge Island and was precipitated into the sea. Mr. Fernauld was carrying a lantern but a heavy storm was raging at the time and his eyes were unable to penetrate the darkness. Being unable to swim he clung to one of the uprights on the face of the wharf and called loudly for help. His cries were heard by the captain of the schooner Swan, which was docked at the wharf. The captain had come on dock to see how his lines to the wharf were holding in the storm. Hearing the cries for help he summoned the other members of his crew. They rushed along the wharf and helped Fernauld to safety.

The rescued man was at the point of exhaustion and undoubtedly would have found a watery grave if it had not been for the fortunate appearance of the captain and crew of the Swan.

of the city, the province, and the Dominion as a whole before the call of party.

All had reason to be proud of what Canada had done in the war and what United government had done for the returned soldier. Mackenzie-King instead of trying to assist the government to put down the feeling of unrest was doing his best to stir it up. He was a strong supporter of the two thousand dollar gratuity, but when the boys really needed assistance at the front, he was in the United States holding a good position. He had always endeavored to do his duty as he saw it, both civil and federal politics and was coming back to the people confident that he could be returned with one of the largest majorities ever known in the history of the constituency, so that the prime minister might know the confidence of the people of St. John in his cabinet.

It had been said that an attempt was being made to bribe the people of St. John with public works, such an assertion was an insult to them. The development of their port was a national duty and the government considered it as such.

The Union government had also sufficient backbone to take over the Grand Trunk Railway and grapple with that big question.

The Union government had also secured a Canadian steamship service which would soon number sixty-five steamers, and sailing the seven seas would be linked up with the railroads and greatly assist in the future development of Canada.

There was a wonderful future for Canada and St. John, the export which in 1900 amounted to $7,000,000, in 1915 amounted to $25,000,000. The speaker had had the pleasure during the last winter of bringing the present prime minister and twenty-five western members to see for themselves the need of the development of the port of St. John. Later when the appropriations were being voted in the house, they showed that they realized how great was that need and would support the voting of the large expenditures which must take place in the development of the port in the near future.

Mr. Wignome paid a high tribute to the leader of the Hon. Arthur Meighen, who had impressed him as a man of ability and sincerity. He was not like Mackenzie-King, with one speech for Vancouver, another for the prairie provinces, and still another for the West, but in all parts of the Dominion he always had the same policy and the same platform.

Fairville Meeting.—Hon. R. W. Wignome addressed a large and enthusiastic meeting of the electorate—men and women—of Fairville in the Temperance Hall last evening. Councillor Golding acted as chairman. Hon. Mr. Wignome was in fine fettle and delivered a ringing speech. An address was also made by Miles E. Agar.

At the conclusion of the meeting volunteers to take an active part in the election and a strong working committee of ladies was formed.

The Telephone Service Is Bad

Since Rates Have Been Increased the Service Appears to be Worse.

Since the new telephone rates came into effect on the first of August, subscribers in St. John and elsewhere have been following the workings of the system pretty closely for the purpose of ascertaining just where they are at in the matter of costs. This is not the only feature that is drawing attention. These subscribers are wondering where they got off in the matter of service, for a few dollars per year does not matter so much if they can get the kind of service they require. But of late, so far as The Standard has been able to learn, the service given is such as not only fails to justify any increase in rates, but is initially inferior to anything that has gone before. Last evening, for example, a number of Standard staff held out for the 'phone for one hour and a half, trying to get a West-Beck connection, when the West-Beck line was not busy and when the phone in question was not in use. Yesterday, a call to Sussex, which can usually be arranged in from five to fifteen minutes, took almost an hour and a half, although central reported that the circuit was not engaged. On local calls the service is simply abominable. Misses also minute passes without any response from central, and when an operator who evidently is employed only to ask the number and then to switch to some other connection. If every business house in St. John is suffering from the same incompetence as is The Standard—and this is the case, judging by the complaints which have reached this office—then it is already time that the Public Utilities Commission looked into its judgment according to a measured service to the Telephone Company and granted a rebate to long-suffering subscribers to compensate them for the time lost in waiting for calls.

ORDERS COMING SLOWLY.—Windsor, Sept. 17.—Although the movement toward increased business continues, it is not natural at this time of year, and it cannot be said that wholesalers, especially in the East, are booking orders too freely.
