MEN'S ALLIANCE ISSUES WARNING

Evangelical Body To Interest Itself In Observance of Some Common Laws.

Below is presented a notice or warning issued by the local Men's Evangelical Alliance. It seems to speak for itself in no uncertain terms.

WARNING

All dealers who sell cigarettes or tobacco to boys under 16 years of age will be prosecuted.

No boy under 18 years of age is allowed to frequent, loaf or play games in any pool room.

No dealer, hotel, restaurant or drug store is allowed to sell goods on Sunday except as the law provides.

No one is allowed to use profane or obscene language on any street or in any public place.

If you violate the law and get caught, you will be prosecuted.

MEN'S EVANGELICAL ALLIANCE

No one can deny the legality of this pronouncement. It is founded on law. Its appearance, too, comes at a time when many complaints, touching on these matters, have been made and while there may be those who will appear to be unnecessarily rigid, it is not less, in fact, a warning.

Thinking on the matter of the sale of cigarettes to minors, it will be remembered that only a short time ago, it was discovered by the Public Health Nurse here, that cigarette smoking among very young children at school has developed to a rather alarming extent. Something must be done to curb this deplorable practice and a strict observance of the law governing the sale of tobacco in this form, is clearly a proper step towards eradicating the practice.

As for the ruling against the use of profane language in public places, this is something that should be enforced. The present offenders are, no doubt, almost as numerous as "speakers" but, looking at the matter from merely a cultural viewpoint, this practice, which is contrary to our country's laws, should be discouraged in the most effective way.

REDUCTION IN AUTO FEES THIS YEAR

Gasoline Tax To Be 3 Cents Per Gallon According To Minister of Public Works.

Automobile license fees in New Brunswick for 1926 will be about 20 per cent less than the existing rates in view of the introduction of the gasoline tax, according to an announcement made by Hon. D. A. Stewart, Minister of Public Works, at Fredericton on Saturday.

It was the first intimation as to the policy which has been reached by the Government, although it was taken for granted when the Nova Scotia Government issued a new scale of fees recently about 20 per cent less than the existing rates in New Brunswick that this province would have to swing into line with the adjoining provinces.

The reduction in license fees will put the new scale back at about the same figures that existed before a surcharge was inaugurated a couple of years ago to pay for the patrol system of the highways which was then introduced. It had been expected that a somewhat greater reduction would be made with the introduction of the gasoline tax, but the Minister of Public Works said that it would be unsafe to make a further cut until experience shows what the gasoline tax will yield in actual operation.

The Gasoline Tax

The gasoline tax, Mr. Stewart stated, will in all probability be three cents per gallon, which, he said, is the figure generally adopted by other provinces.

Some changes in the mode of collecting automobile license fees is under consideration, and it is expected when the new scale is finally adopted some provision will be made whereby the burden on the owner of the smaller cars will be lightened and the owners of the big, high-powered and heavy cars will pay a larger portion of the total receipts from motor vehicle license fees, which now amount to about half a million dollars annually in this province.

EXTRA TRAIN SERVICE FOR CHRISTMAS HOLIDAYS

From December 14th to 24th a passenger coach will be picked up at Campbellton by Freight Train at 12.00 noon. On returning will leave Campbellton on No. 473, Freight at 9.55 p. m.

WINTER SPORT EVENT PROPOSED

Greater Interest In Sport Here This Year And Increasing Fund of Material Would Make Interesting Affair Possible.

With winter sport activities receiving more attention here this season than any winter for some years back, it is not unlikely that, later in the season, a winter sports affair of some kind may be organized.

One or two sport enthusiasts already have something of this nature in mind and it is quite probable that after the first of the year some definite steps may be taken to at least consider the advisability of such an undertaking.

One fact, at least, is plain. Campbellton is in a better position this year than ever before to attempt something of this kind. Younger hockeyists and promising speed skaters are being developed; a strong aggregation of lady hockeyists is also being recruited for the season. In addition to these facts there is every opportunity for outdoor winter sports.

Through proper organizations these different "sport assets" could be assembled for at least one day and a most interesting program of sports arranged for.

A whole column of suggestions might be advanced in connection with an event of this kind but there is ample time to discuss such details later. In the meantime it would be a good idea for sport promoters to talk things over quietly.

SAYS LUMBERING IN N. B. ABOUT DONE

Angus McLean Makes Some Significant Statements In Speech Before Rotary Today.

Mr. Angus McLean, Bathurst was the guest and speaker at the local Rotary luncheon, Chateau Restigouche today. Mr. McLean spoke most interestingly upon Maritime Problems. Among other interesting things he stated that the lumbering industry in this province was about all through, and that we should look around for something bigger and better to take its place.

A start had been made in the manufacturing of pulp and newsprint, but he was of the opinion that this latter would never grow and prosper, because cheap power was not available. He suggested the making of fine grades of writing and bond papers from chemical pulp. He stated emphatically that we in the Maritimes were entitled to certain rights and benefits due us because of the Confederation pact, and these rights and benefits had been clearly defined and set forth in a series of resolutions adopted at Charlottetown. But these resolutions must be pushed forward, and he suggested that the Rotary Club and Board of Trade get solidly behind the movement.

OCEAN LIMITED DRIVER DROPS DEAD

Driver George Morrison Stricken With Apoplexy While Train Running.

Moncton, Dec. 9.—A railroad career of more than forty years was brought to a dramatic close yesterday afternoon, when George Morrison slumped forward in his seat while at the throttle of the Ocean Limited, speeding towards the north. The fireman, Archie Bishop, who noticed Mr. Morrison slide forward in his seat, brought the train to a standstill and communicated with the rear of the train for medical aid. Dr. Farrel, of Halifax, who was on the train, made an examination and reported that death had been due to apoplexy.

The C. N. R. roundhouse was notified and Foreman Arthur Leger was despatched to the scene to take the train to Newcastle. A Newcastle undertaker took charge of the body and brought it to Moncton this morning. The funeral will be in charge of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

PILOT MISSING YET

Drowning Feared In Case of Grounding of Steamer Below Quebec

Quebec, Dec. 8.—Pilot Jules LaChance was still missing tonight following his disappearance Saturday night in conjunction with the grounding of the steamer Alouette at Ile Aux Coudres, 50 miles below Quebec, and it is feared that he was drowned.

Salvage work is proceeding on the Alouette's cargo of cement and stone and it is hoped that the ship will be refloated this week.

CHANGE MADE IN NORTHERN SECTION

Fredericton Will Play With Campbellton, Bathurst and Chatham—Moncton In South Section.

A. A. GILLIS PRESIDENT

Some Changes In Playing Rules Also Effectuated At Recent Meeting In Thuro.

At a special meeting of the Maritime Amateur Hockey Association held at Thuro on Friday last, two Campbellton men were elected to executive positions and several changes were made in the playing rules of the game. With the exception of these changes however, the proceedings of the recent meeting held here were ratified.

CAPT. ROY BROWN

Famous Canadian flying man, who during the war brought down Baron Richthofen, the German ace, whose body was recently taken to Germany for burial. An alleged German spy is now telling a ridiculous story that Canadian troops shot the Baron after he had landed. The spy claims to have heard the story in confidence from Canadian officers in Edmonton while he was masquerading as an Arabist rug peddler.

DEDICATION CHURCH AT NEW MILLS

Dedication Service Held On Sunday Last—Rev. F. Macintosh Occupied Pulpit

The following report of the dedication of the new Presbyterian Church at New Mills has been placed in our hands for publication:

The dedication of the newly constructed Presbyterian Church at New Mills took place on Sunday, Dec. 6th.

The dedication service was conducted by the Rev. Finley Macintosh who preached a most impressive sermon. The Church was filled to its capacity and the preacher was listened to with rapt attention.

The building is erected on one of the most beautiful sites in New Mills, which was presented to the congregation by Mr. Archibald McNair, who also contributed $1,000 to the building fund.

The building is most commodious and comfortable. It is finished inside with Douglas fir which gives it a very pleasing appearance. The pews which are of oak are very comfortable and have a rich and substantial appearance. The aisles are nicely carpeted in blue. The carpets and the pulpit, which is of a most chaste design, are the gifts of Mrs. Peter Hamilton and Mrs. Robert C. Dutch.

A unique and pleasing incident was the presence of a Bible, with a history by Mr. R. C. Dutch. The Bible was originally presented to Rev. Angus Marshall, the first Presbyterian minister settled in New Mills, by friends in Scotland. When Mr. Marshall left New Mills to return to Scotland he gave the Book to a friend in New Mills. It has since passed from friend to friend until it came into the possession of Mr. Dutch who by a strange coincidence is living in the manse, situated on the same ground as the one in which Rev. Mr. Marshall lived while minister at New Mills. Thus after many years it has again returned to find a place on the pulpit of a Presbyterian Church.

The building was beautifully decorated with potted plants and cut flowers.

The members of the congregation desire to express their thanks to all outside friends for kind assistance and especially to Mr. George S. Fisher for his very generous donation of beautiful cut flowers.

The New Mills congregation are to be congratulated on being able to erect in so short time a building so well suited for the purpose for which it is intended.

The following is to the credit of an old colored church member in Alabama: "Folks make me tired representin' Satan as rummin' after dem to tempt dem. De truth is, my friend, dere is no many people pullin' at de debil's coat tails dat he sint got much time to chase anybody."

WORKMAN FALLS FROM BUILDING

Malcolm LeBlanc, Engaged On New School Building Here Falls Over Twenty Feet.

About noon on Monday Malcolm LeBlanc of St. Jules, P. Q., who is employed on the construction of the new composite high school building here, fell a distance of over twenty feet, while descending to his dinner. It is presumed that he slipped and lost his balance. The unfortunate man was taken at once to the Hotel Dieu Hospital for medical attention.

It is understood Mr. LeBlanc did not sustain any serious injuries in his fall and is resting comfortably this morning.

KING GEORGE TO TAKE SEA TRIP

His Medical Advisers Order Sixty-Day Voyage for His Health.

London, Dec. 8.—(By the Associated Press.)—King George will have to leave his misty island domain for a two months' sea trip every year, his medical advisers have decided. The Mediterranean trip which the King took last spring was a complete success, and an annual repetition, preferably in the spring, will be necessary for the good of his health, the physicians believe. His Majesty has weak lungs, which, with the approach of three score years, are affected by the long, damp London winters.

The problem of building another royal yacht to replace the obsolete Victoria and Albert, which is far from a satisfactory sea cruiser, is again being considered. The King was about to build a sailing cruiser when the war opened and since then the Victoria and Albert has been tolerated in the interests of Royal economy. Queen Mary, as is well known, is not a good sailor, and the few trips which have been made in the Victoria and Albert have been trials to her.

It is rumored that the new yacht will be the most palatial cruiser ever built in Great Britain, and that several American designers will be asked to submit plans for the new ship.

WOLVES MAY RE-APPEAR

The recent appearance of wolves in the province of Quebec, where these animals have been unknown for some time leads game officials to believe that it will be but a matter of time before the wolf will again be seen in New Brunswick. While the wolf has probably existed in the outlying parts of Quebec it has not been until recently that the wolf has made his appearance in civilized districts.

PLAN EMBARGO ON COAL TO CANADA

Proposal for Legislation Being Made in the United States Congress

Washington, Dec. 9.—Power to place an embargo on shipments of coal to Canada and other foreign countries would be given under some of the proposals for coal legislation now being made in Congress. The coal bills, however, while numerous, are not expected to make much headway and the fact that "old guard" Republicans are in complete control in the House may block action altogether.

The administration is not urging any drastic action on the mining industry as conditions are at present, though much agitation of the question is expected. The utmost that seems probable is a measure for a commission, which would provide for publicity of the affairs of the coal companies and concerns.

CONDITIONS IMPROVED

During the last week or ten days conditions in reference to the illegal selling of liquor have very greatly improved. It is said to be difficult for even the "old timers" to get a drink now without a "per."

STEWART ATTENDS ROAD CONFERENCE

Hon. D. A. Stewart Represents Province At Good Roads Conference In Ottawa

Hon. D. A. Stewart, Minister of Public Works, left Monday evening for Ottawa where he will attend the Dominion Good Roads Association Convention, as representative of the Province of New Brunswick. Mrs. Stewart accompanied the Minister.

The convention opens at the capital yesterday and is continuing its sessions today. Uniformity of legislation in respect to speed limits, registration of drivers, control of headlights and other features in connection with motor vehicle laws will be discussed, also highways construction plans and programmes for the future. The long discussed question of Federal Aid for highways construction will again be taken up.

Hon. Mr. Stewart will also visit Montreal and Quebec City in connection with Government matters but will return about the week-end in order to attend the next meeting of the Provincial Cabinet on Monday, Dec. 14th.

SINGER FREED, SOBS

Cleared of Murder Charge in Slaying Alleged Father of Child.

Litchfield, Conn., Dec. 8.—Olympia Macri, young New Haven singer, was acquitted today of the murder of John Bagnano, alleged father of her baby, whom she shot and instantly killed in New Haven.

When the verdict was announced Miss Macri threw herself into the arms of a police matron and sobbed. The spectators remained silent for the judge had told them that no demonstration would be tolerated. Later outside the court house Miss Macri was received with cheers. Bagnano was shot in front of a theatre and Miss Macri was found standing over the body with a revolver in her hand. She told police that Bagnano was the father of her child and that he had refused to support her or the infant.

She was tried twice, the jury failing to reach an agreement for acquittal the first time by one vote.

FOUND SKELETON OF PREHISTORIC FISH

Bones of the Mammal Found 24 Miles From Sea in Denmark.

Copenhagen, Dec. 9.—The skeleton of a prehistoric whale has been discovered 24 miles inland from the North Sea coast, imbedded six feet down in a bog of North Schleswig. Experts of the institute for geological research at Copenhagen have charge of the excavations for the skeleton, hoping to find an answer to the puzzle of how the sea mammal got so far from the sea. They advance the theory that some great tidal wave may have swept the whale inshore several thousand years ago, since the skeleton is pronounced to be a species long extinct.

FOUND GUILTY OF EMBEZZLEMENT

Pittsburgh Banker Misapplied Funds of Carnegie Trust Company

Pittsburgh, Pa., Dec. 8.—John A. Bell, banker and coal operator, was found guilty of embezzlement and misapplication of more than $600,000 of the funds of the closed Carnegie Trust Company of which he was president.

The charge against Bell grew out of the investigation of the affairs of the trust company, which was closed last April by the Statebanking department.

ANOTHER WEATHER CHANGE

The weather man has certainly been handing out everything he has in stock during the past week. The week-end was very mild, with rain, but not sufficient to take away the snow, and the ice held firm from The Mission to Campbellton. The mild weather continued until Wednesday noon when there was a rapid fall in the temperature, and last night, was probably the coldest of the season. If this continues teams will soon be crossing on the ice.

BANK MANAGER IS HONORED

W. J. Jardine Guest of Honor at Gathering in City Hall.

(Moncton Transcript, Friday.) W. J. Jardine, who has been the manager of the local branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia for the last seven years, and who leaves this afternoon to take over his new duties at Sussex to which branch he has been transferred, was the guest of honor at a gathering of citizens in City Hall last evening.

Mr. Jardine, it was said, had made many friends during his stay in Moncton as an accountant in the bank branch twenty-five years ago. He had retained them and added greatly to their number on his return as manager. Not only in the bank but outside of financial affairs, he would be missed greatly by a host of Moncton people.

Presentation

A presentation of a purse of gold was made to Mr. Jardine and a beautiful ring to Mrs. Jardine, the presentation being made by Mathew Lodge, sr., after he had read an appropriate address in which regret at Mr. Jardine's impending departure and the best wishes for success in his future home were expressed.

Mr. Jardine replied briefly to the address, expressing his appreciation of the honor conferred on him by his friends. The following appeared in The Transcript's editorial column: The high place which Mr. Walter J. Jardine has attained in the esteem of his fellow citizens during his stay in Moncton, as the manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia, was demonstrated beyond doubt by the remarkable tribute which was paid him at the public gathering in the City Hall last evening. Mr. Jardine leaves Moncton with the best wishes of the community for his continued success. Mrs. Jardine also carries with her assurances of the esteem in which she is held and of the regret which her removal also occasions.

WHISTLE SAVES CAPTAIN'S LIFE

Nearly Exhausted When Attracted Attention of Passing Freight Steamer.

The tanker Carro Azul brought into port Captain Campos Evangelista and one seaman, sole survivors of the Brazilian coastwise service tug Mogy, which sank Saturday night in a heavy sea. Three of the crew were killed by the explosion of the boiler, and 13 others perished in the rough waters.

The rescue of the captain and the one seaman was unique in the annals of shipping disasters. They had remained afloat for ten hours by the aid of life belts when they saw the smoke of the Carro Azul. They swam with the ocean current toward the tanker, then the captain discarded his life belt so that he might swim the faster, and struck out with all his remaining strength.

He succeeded in cutting the steamer off and coming close enough to attract attention by whistling through his fingers.

HAS BECOME AN ACCEPTED FACT

Young Lady Tucking a Roll of Bills in Her Stocking

One of the apparently safe and sure places for a young lady to carry her roll of bills has been to tuck it in the stocking. Many young ladies have adopted this method for more years than some of them would care to count. It has proved to be a much safer place than their handbags and the "First National Bank" as it has come to be known, has become an accepted fact instead of a source of jokes for the cartoonists.

Since the advent of rolled stockings this has been rolled in them. This has made it even safer than ever. But occasionally with a rolled stocking the young lady just tucks in the money and lets it go. Sometimes it does go. It goes down toward her ankles.

A young lady recently was walking along when she noticed that her feet apparently were causing much interest. On looking down she saw that the niter was aroused by a $10.00 bill which was nestling on her ankle. The thin chiffon stockings she was wearing plainly revealed the fact that she preferred to bank her own money.

OBITUARY

One of the landmarks of the Tide Head community was removed last week in the death of Mr. Robert D. Gerrard, who passed away on Saturday afternoon the 5th instant.

Mr. Gerrard had reached the advanced age of 83 years, and during the past two years had been a complete invalid, having suffered a paralytic shock in 1923. After a life of industry and activity these two years of weakness and painfulness were a cross that sometimes overcast his native cheerfulness, but the face of a friend never failed to dispel the gloom and to restore his brightness. A man of deep religious convictions he had for years walked by faith, and at the end had joy and peace in believing. For years he was a faithful member and honored elder of the church at Tide Head, and gave heartily of his interest to every good work.

The deceased is survived by a family of three sons, Henry and Murray of the C.N.R. Track Service, and Archie of Vancouver, a brother Geo. Gerrard and a sister Mrs. Phalen reside in the Canadian West. Mr. Gerrard's wife, whose memory is still cherished by many died in 1910.

The funeral cortege was a very large one, bearing mute tribute to a life that was highly honored and esteemed. Owing to a quarantine the funeral service will be incorporated with the regular church service at Tide Head on Sunday the 13th at 8 o'clock.

DUKE HAD LIVELY FRACAS ON STREET

Duke of Manchester Captured Thief (But Has Own Pocket Picked).

The Duke of Manchester, who recently filed suit for divorce against his wife, formerly Miss Helen Zimmerman, of Cincinnati, had a leading part in a lively street drama last night. He was walking on Jernyn street, West End, when he heard the crash of glass and saw a man running, gripping a handful of glittering trinkets. He gave chase and others joined. The Duke headed off the runner and grabbed him. A struggle followed but the Duke held him tight until the police arrived.

After the man had been handed over to the police, the Duke discovered that somebody in the crowd had picked his pocket of several bank notes during the tussle. The arrested man will be charged with smashing a jewellers window and stealing a handful of jewels, all of which were recovered except one ring.

RICHTHOFEN FELL IN AERIAL BATTLE

Col. Ford of Toronto Gives the Lie to the Story of the German Ace Being Killed on the Ground.

Toronto, Dec. 2.—"Utterly false and obviously German propaganda," is the denunciation of Colonel A. F. T. Ford, of this city, in regard to a story published in Berlin, Germany and cabled to Canada to the effect that Baron Von Richthofen, Germany's greatest flying ace, was not killed in air battle but was shot by Canadian soldiers when he alighted uninjured from his plane within the Canadian lines. The authority of the Berlin papers for the story was a German spy who said he was in Edmonton, Alberta, "when the 149th Canadian Battalion, returned from the war."

"Richthofen was brought down by a Canadian flying officer, a captain from Eastern Ontario, whose name is shown in the British records, and who received the D. F. C., and Bar, of Carleton Place, Ont., brought the German ace down on April 21, 1918. Not in V. C. List.

"Richthofen was brought down undoubtedly in an air battle, and the seat of the aeroplane in which he was flying at the time—a Fokker biplane—is in the museum of the Canadian Military Institute on University avenue," continued Col. Ford. "He was shot in the air from above downward. There was a medical examination of the body and the bullet entered from above him and behind him. It was apparently a machine-gun bullet. 'Some anti-aircraft men claimed also to have brought him down, and a court of inquiry was held. It was shown that the flying officer was tracking him and firing at him all the time, so the credit of bringing him down, on the medical evidence that the bullet entered from above downward, went to him. That is the way it is in the British records. But no enemy was shot after he landed unless he himself tried to shoot.'"

The truth of the German spy's story is also refuted by the fact that none of the names mentioned by him as having received the V. C. for the act are on the list of holders of this decoration, and the fact that the 149th Battalion was recruited from Lambton county, Ontario, and headed by Col. W. W. MacVicar of Sarnia.

How do you serve Vegetables?

It is really so easy to make the everyday vegetables more appetizing and nutritious without any extra trouble. Thousands of women have found that the same handy OXO CUBES that help them to utilize all sorts of leftovers are equally valuable when preparing vegetables.

Instead of serving these "plain boiled," they dissolve an OXO CUBE or two in a little water and add to vegetables which are cooked in their own juice. The addition of the fresh beef flavour and the extra food elements of the concentrated beef make all the difference in the world in the taste of the average vegetable.

Carrots, cauliflower, stewed potatoes and beets are often served with a cream sauce. To be good, this was made with butter and cream. But good cooks have found that they can make a better "cream dressing" with the plain juices of the vegetables, thickened with flour and flavoured with OXO CUBES. Oxo Cubes give a richness and tastiness that once you try them, you will always desire them.

Making vegetables more attractive, is only one of the many ways in which OXO CUBES are of daily service in the kitchen. Learn the new ways of putting flavour and sound food value into all sorts of meat, fish, and vegetable dishes.

The new Free Oxo Cook Book is full of such recipes and it is just the kind of cook book you have always wanted.

The Wife Who Wasn't Wanted

DOROTHY A.F. MARCELL

Copyright, 1925, Warner Bros. Pictures Inc.
"THE WIFE WHO WASN'T WANTED" with Irene Rich is a production of this novel.

SYNOPSIS

Bob Manning, Diage Bledsoe and another couple have been taken to a police station after their car, in a midnight drive, had crashed into another, injuring a woman. John Manning, District Attorney, who is Bob's father, is summoned. Soon there arrive at the station also Mrs. Manning and Marjorie Peterson, who is in love with Bob. They have come from the country club, where a dance has been given in celebration of Bob's twenty-first birthday.

John Manning nodded gravely, but turned to stare down at the papers on the sergeant's desk with anxious eyes.

"I think, I am sure, John, that Bob ought to be home," the police sergeant eyed him curiously the while. When he spoke it was evasively.

"There are some matters here which must be attended to first, Eileen."

Too well did Eileen know her husband for his manner to escape her, nor was she slow to draw her own conclusions concerning it.

"I know. I heard that Bob was arrested," she said with a catch in her voice.

Again her husband merely nodded. "You can't say his fine so that he can go, can you, John?"

He swallowed hard as if there was a great lump in his throat, and when he spoke there was a strained timbre to his tones.

"I'm afraid, Eileen, this is not a matter to be settled by a fine."

"Why, it was just an automobile accident, John." For the first time Eileen seemed to give heed to the presence of Diane and Theo Saturn as she turned and eyed them for a second.

"Nothing more than a group of young people on their way from a party. Surely there is no reason to take such a matter seriously. None of them were hurt."

"No, none of them were hurt," agreed John gently. "But you forget the other car, dear. There was a woman in that who was hurt, quite badly, I'm afraid."

"Yes, but Bob had nothing to do with that, surely," persisted Eileen. "It appears that Bob was driving Theo's car, dear."

"Bob driving Theo's car?" she repeated and turned to her son as if expecting a denial from him.

But Bob might have been a statue for any heed he seemed to give to what was going on. He stood there gazing straight before him with that puzzled, uncertain look upon his face yet with some of his father's determination there, too.

His very attitude seemed to make his mother willing to go to any lengths to assist him. Again she turned to her husband.

"Surely, John, you can't expect Bob to remain here much longer. Can't you at least arrange bail for him?"

"Possibly, dear," he said with a strange reluctance for a man who had agreed to bail in a thousand cases as a mere formality. And now, with his wife pleading before him in behalf of his own son, he hesitated, strangely moved and again grew evasive. "But there are considerations, very many considerations to be regarded in such matters."

"Considerations which will keep Diane and Theo here, too?" she demanded with a warmth which caused that sorely tried maid to cling even closer to Theo Saturn and to arouse even greater fear in the latter's soul.

"I think not," explained John patiently. "You see as Bob was driving he becomes the principal—that sets him apart from the occupants of the car."

"To stay here—in this place—alone, John?" cried Eileen in horrified tones. More pronounced than ever was that eagerness in John's answer. A week and with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Manning, indeed, in an ordinarily so decisive.

"That depends, dear—"

"Depends—depends on what, John?" And then as if driven to the point of desperation by his manner, she burst forth accusingly: "You are trying to keep something from me, John. I want to know what it is. I can't bear this suspense."

For an instant there was a break in his pose.

"It is hard for me to bear, too," he said, and it is almost as if he had groaned aloud.

Quick as a flash she took advantage of his elp.

"Bear what? Tell me, John—bear what?"

As if unwilling to speak he gazed at her and there was anguish in his face, but pity, too, pity for her. And as they waited there the silence of the room was broken by a telephone bell.

A bell shrill and emphatic in its summons and with so ominous a clamor that it startled every one it unhappily seems to involve a yearly in the room and caused them to watch increasing orgy of ill-judged buying had bestowed; a yearly increasing output of trumpety mignards displayed for the purpose of separating people from their good, hard earned cash; a yearly increase of fatigue on the part of buyers, sellers, and burden bearers; and a yearly increased harsh grates of the instrument was after Christmas reaction, when the plainly audible as the message came over the line.

Methodically the sergeant received it and hung the receiver in its place. Then he turned gravely to John.

"The woman just died, sir."

John white as a sheet, straightened himself. He seemed to be tensing his muscles to bear up against an awful shock.

Bob eyed him with that same puzzled look on his face.

But Eileen, as if intuitively sensing evil in that message, turned to her husband, her face pale with fear.

"That message—just what does it mean, John?" she gasped. "Tell me quick just what does it mean?"

He moved towards her, his own face ghastly under the emotion which shook him. He put his arm around her to support her and there was a great tenderness in his voice when he spoke.

"It means, it means, dear, that there can be no bail in this case."

He swallowed as if it was only with an effort that he could go on.

"Bob—Bob is wanted for manslaughter."

CHAPTER VI
Slowly the ornate clock on the mantel above the fireplace chimed out the hour of four.

To John Manning the tones of that timepiece had always seemed soft and melodious, carrying a restful message, a promise of peaceful and contented hours. But now, as he stood on the hearth with the chill of the early morning about him, their sound smote his overtaxed nerves as something harsh and discordant.

Bereft of the slightest desire for sleep, he had remained there in the living room ever since he had brought Eileen back from the police station.

With all his familiarity with such heartrending scenes, the parting with Bob had been one he would never forget. Reduced finally to the depths of despair as her son was led to his cell, Eileen had collapsed. If outwardly more contained, it had been no less difficult for John to endure.

Worse still, the future withheld no secrets from him. Well he knew that this, harrowing as it had been, was but the beginning of greater woes.

Directly above him hung that picture of himself in his judicial robes. That portraiture of himself as a law giver, as a dispenser of justice. Symbolical of justice was the picture, and not only that, for the genius of the artist had there depicted the very soul of John Manning.

Strength, character, intellect, were all apparent, but above all else it was the face of a man in whose nature cold reason reigned supreme.

Heart, sympathy, each of the gentler characteristics he had, too, but subject always to the control and guidance of eternal truth.

SOME DON'TS FOR CHRISTMAS GIVERS
Christmas is a naturally a time to open our hearts and our purses, yet a clamor that it startled every one it unhappily seems to involve a yearly increasing orgy of ill-judged buying had bestowed; a yearly increasing output of trumpety mignards displayed for the purpose of separating people from their good, hard earned cash; a yearly increase of fatigue on the part of buyers, sellers, and burden bearers; and a yearly increased harsh grates of the instrument was after Christmas reaction, when the glamor is all gone, and only grudgingness remains. Surely there are times, places and persons that find the annual saturnalia anything but blessed. So much of the unblendedness comes from the wrong kind of giving that reform is especially called for in this line. Let us venture on a few little suggestions—in a spirit of what some one calls "half joke, but whole earnest."

Do not please, give useful gifts to children. They are sure to hate them. Think of the feelings of a boy who longs for a rifle and receives an overcoat. Think of the tragedy to the small girl who craves a doll with real hair, and gets a flannel petticoat.

Useful gifts to children should be forbidden by law—they cause too much suffering.

Never give gifts in line with the business, trade or vocation of the person. Do not give your parlor-maid an apron, give her something delightfully different from her daily work, such as a flask of perfume, or a string of lovely beads—the kind you would buy for yourself. Neither should you give your friend, who is an accomplished housekeeper and a cook, a percolator or a baking-pan.

Ten to one, she knows more about pans and percolators than you do, and it is very unlikely you will hit off the kind she most approves. Similarly, do not give a pen to a writer, a color-box to a painter, or a pious book to a minister. All these persons have their own notions and preferences regarding the tools of their trade, and it is hardly probable that you will choose the right brand of article.

Do not give old ladies and gentlemen articles fit for the aged. The old lady is sure to be sick of knitted shawls, and the old gentleman fed up to reptition on bedroom slippers. Why not give the old lady a vanity bag, a lavalliere, or a gay bouquet de corsage? Why not give the old gentleman tickets for the matinee, a fancy pin for his tie, or something from the joke shop that he can play pranks on other people with?

Don't ever give handkerchiefs to anybody. Personally, we are enraged by handkerchiefs! As tactful and appropriate gifts they rank (in our opinion) on a par with toothbrushes.

Above all, don't write on your Xmas cards. It is not good form to write in a gift book, it ought to be considered equally incorrect to write on a Christmas card. The card that is written on is no longer good for king or country. It cannot be used for a doiley, a dishmat, or to curl the baby's hair. The pleasant function of a card is to carry holiday greetings; do not limit this happy function by making it impossible for it to carry them next year to some one else.

Restrain, we pray you, from writing on it, and thus encourage the much neglected virtue of thrift.

WORK OF DEEP SEA DIVERS
Modern deep sea divers are connected by telephone with the service and electric torchlights enable them to see a distance of thirty feet in the ocean's depths. A diving suit weighs 200 lbs., but this weight causes no inconvenience when submerged. Ascent may require thirty minutes or more in order to accommodate heart action to the varying pressure of water. The greatest recorded descent, 306 feet, was made in an unavailing effort to rescue U. S. sailors who went down with a submarine in Hawaiian waters. One of the greatest adventures was when an American diver found himself entangled in the rope rigging of a sunken vessel. He telephoned for a knife which was lowered to him by a rope and cut himself free. The greatest feat in salvage was recorded when British divers recovered $35,000,000 in coins from the Laurentic, sunk by submarine off the Irish coast, at a depth of 90 feet. Several bags holding silver coins aggregating several thousand dollars, had burst and scattered the coins on the floor of the hull but the treasure was recovered to the last shilling.

NEW LAMP BURNS 94 p. c. AIR
Beats Electric or Gas
A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94% air and 6% common kerosene (coal oil).

The inventor, J. M. Johnson, 246 Craig St. W., Montreal, is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him to-day for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.

AS TRAFFIC GROWS

The tremendous increase in freight traffic over the Atlantic region of the Canadian National Railways System during the last month is conclusive proof of the statements which have been made concerning the return of more prosperous conditions. Railway traffic reflects quickly and accurately the trend of business. When business is quiet, there is less traffic for the railways, and when business begins to pick up the change is shown in the increased number of cars loaded and handled. While a certain proportion of the present increase is due to larger grain shipments, this is but a small part of the growth, the greater part of which has resulted from increased shipments of coal, lumber and other products of the Maritime Provinces.

Canada has passed through a period of severe depression, but the upward climb is well under way. World conditions have contributed to the change, but the trade policy of the Canadian government also has played a large part in bringing about a return to normal business activity. The change for better was first noted in the export trade of the country, but now the domestic trade also is feeling the effects and the wave of prosperity is spreading evenly over the Dominion.

In this district, we are sharing not only in the benefits which attend the revival of business in the Maritime Provinces, in a general way, but also to a large extent by reason of the additional employment given to railway workers who are required to handle the increasing traffic—Moncton Transcript.

NEW BRUNSWICK'S FUTURE

Consideration of the situation of the Maritime Provinces leads the Quebec Chronicle-Telegraph to a conclusion, which has been reached by many other observers—that the industrial future of these provinces depends largely upon the development of their water powers for the purpose of generating electric energy in sufficient quantities and at low enough prices to compete with those elsewhere.

We have the raw materials for extensive industries, the Chronicle-Telegraph points out, referring particularly to the vast output of pulpwood, the greater part of which now is being shipped to foreign mills, giving foreign labor the benefit of employment in the manufacturing processes involved in its conversion into paper.

We have the water powers also, and the Quebec paper remarks that to those who thought them negligible, the results of investigations by the Dominion Water Power Branch which revealed at least 550,000 horse-power, available have been surprising. The total water power development in the three provinces, as given for February, 1925, was estimated by the Dominion department at 110,000 horse-power, of which 44,650 was in New Brunswick, 64,000 in Nova Scotia and 2,275 in Prince Edward Island. That this should be only a beginning is shown by the fact that, on the basis of a population of more than one million in the three provinces, this amounts to only 109 horse-power per thousand of population, as compared with 527 in Quebec and 518 in Ontario.

Concerning the future, the Chronicle-Telegraph is confident of expansion on a scale more in keeping with the needs and opportunities of the Maritimes, and it remarks: There is little doubt that the figures just given for the developed power in 1925, will be greatly exceeded in a short time. In both Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, the plans are toward a transmission system between industrial centres to which generating stations will be connected as needed so that an ample supply of potential energy will be available for any of the industries or manufacturing activities which this district by reason of its abundant raw material and unexcelled shipping facilities, is peculiarly adapted.

At the present time, a large amount of raw material, other than and additional to pulpwood, is shipped out in its natural state for manufacture in other parts of the world, but already with the certainty of ample power being available, there are concrete evidences of a tendency to manufacture within the Maritime Provinces, where raw material is abundant, labor conditions are good and shipping facilities excellent. The conclusions of this well-informed journal are respectfully referred to the present government of New Brunswick for consideration. If we are to take advantage of the opportunities which surround us, the water powers of New Brunswick must be developed, and they must be developed according to a policy which will conserve these valuable rights for the benefit of the province as a whole. There must be no backward step towards the old policy of handing over our richest natural resources to private interests for their private profit. (Moncton Transcript.)

EDITOR'S MAIL

Campbellton, N. B., Dec. 8, 1925

H. B. Anslow, Editor,
The Campbellton Graphic,
Campbellton, N. B.

Dear Sir:

Allow me space to make a report of my work while Inspector, as it has been mentioned that I did nothing. Taking the record of convictions, 68 in Campbellton; 10 in Dalhousie; 1 in St. Quentin and 1 in Kedgewick, making a total of 80 convictions. Also 520 searches; 4 stills captured; 8 cases of beer making in barrels; 28 gallons of rum seized; 40 dozen quarts of wine; a number of bottles of brandy and whiskey and 12 barrels of 7% beer.

While making this report I would like to say the quantity of liquor has been cut down at headquarters and also less vendors. I feel that I should have had a chance for a trial on that. As I understand that they are only going to keep a small quantity in stock at headquarters to supply the vendors. They won't be able to get one hundred and forty-seven thousand dollars worth of rum to handle this year as they had last.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, I remain,
 Respectfully yours,
 C. B. GRAY.

AN UPWARD TREND

PLAYING AT BATHURST
On another page of this issue—already printed—will be found a sport item in regard to a local basketball team playing Bathurst today. As it appears, the line-up is incorrect as other players were called upon owing to the inability of Roy and Pelletier to accompany the team. These were replaced by Jack Howard and John Murray.

THINGS TO BE AVOIDED
There are more crimes in the United States every year than in all the rest of North America, all of South America and all of Europe outside of Russia and the Balkans. Such was the remarkable statement made by Chief Justice Marshall of the Ohio Supreme Court recently. Court delays, technicalities, weakness of law enforcement officers and persons who hold the law in contempt, he said, were to blame for the conditions. He expressed the belief that most executives were elected on a basis of non-enforcement of law, or at least of some of the laws, and most of the failures in enforcement he charged to graft.

It is a queer state of affairs that is thus revealed. The people of the United States are supposed to rule themselves, and they do this by electing representatives to make laws and then electing executives not to enforce them. It might be profitable for Canadians to make a special study of lawlessness in the United States, just for the sake of finding out the systems and methods that are to be avoided.—Stratford Beacon-Herald.

HAD NARROW ESCAPE

On Sunday afternoon Jack Murphy, the five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Murphy, Newcastle, had a narrow escape from drowning. A number of youngsters were playing on the ice in Ritchie's Boom, when the little fellow slipped in a hole and unable to help himself was carried under the ice. Mary Craig, the 14-year-old daughter of Michael Craig, jumped in after him and caught his clothing. She hung to a log and kept hold of the youngster, until Jackie Cogg crawled near enough to help pull the youngster out. Only for the young people the youngster, no doubt, would have been drowned.

HAS SOMETHING TO SAY ABOUT VENDORS

Temperance Bulletin Is Not Enthusiastic Over Recently Appointments.

(Temperance Bulletin)
We regret that we are unable to congratulate the Government on some appointments made by them, or the late Chief Inspector on his recommendation, without which such appointments could not legally be made.

If the Government had been looking for trouble they could hardly have taken a surer way to find it.

The Royal Gazette gives amongst other appointments as Vendors the following names: Andrew Savoie, Kedgwick, N. B.; Henry Cormier, Campbellton, N. B.; and Albert J. Violette, St. Leonard's, N. B.

Albert J. Violette of St. Leonard's, has a reputation throughout the Province and the State of Maine, and known to the officials for continued violations of the law, that makes his appointment a far from thing well calculated to bring the administration of law and its administrators into general contempt.

Andrew Savoie of Kedgwick. In a Campbellton paper of November 19th, the day after the publication of the Royal Gazette of the appointment is the following paragraph:

"New Vendor Pays Three Fines. Andrew Savoie of Kedgwick celebrates appointment by paying $150 and costs."

The appointment of Andrew Savoie of Kedgwick as a liquor vendor for that town was gazetted in the Royal Gazette on Wednesday.

On Wednesday, Mr. Savoie appeared before Magistrate Matheson here, and was found guilty of three offences against the N. B. Liquor Law, and was fined $150 and costs. H. A. Carr, Esq., the new prosecutor made his first appearance as such at this Court.

Henry Cormier of Campbellton. There is a long list of convictions for violation of the Liquor Laws of N. B. against him which makes ridiculous his appointment as a Vendor.

Some other Vendors' appointments also are not just such as a law-keeping people could desire.

SHIFTS OF OCEAN CURRENT CAUSES CHANGE OF CLIMATE

Nature's Slip Demonstrated Recently on Western Coast of South America.

What may happen when nature slips a cog is being demonstrated on the western coast of South America. Two ocean currents meet here, one the cold Humboldt current from the Antarctic regions, the other the El Nino, from the hot equatorial zone.

For ages the cold current has kept the coast almost barren, with bird and animal life adapted to cold temperatures. But this year some unknown force of nature made a shift in these currents, bringing the hot El Nino next to the coast and much further south than ever known before.

The first result was an almost complete reversal of climatic conditions. Warm winds from the equator brought torrential rains, and disastrous floods followed in Peru, Ecuador and Northern Chile. Plains and hillsides, always known to be arid, are covered with luxuriant vegetation, and what little livestock is kept there has grown fat. But many other forms of animal and marine life have been destroyed because they could not endure the warmer temperature.

Dr. Robert C. Murphy of the American Museum of Natural History, reports seeing dead fish and sea fowl everywhere. He also noticed great schools of hammerhead shark, giant ray, flying fish and other species of cold water fish migrating from this coast.

The following passionate appeal was received a few days ago from an Indian woman in the state of Washington. She is fine type of a Christian and has made the most of her opportunities. The letter speaks for itself and shows not only our lack of neighborly kindness but also the strong effort we are making to destroy our own sons. We cannot clear our skirts by asking "Lord, is it?" The answer is immediate, "He that dippeth his hand with me." We who are called by His holy name are the wreckers of our brethren.

When the writer knew the Reservation whence this letter came, it was governed by a strong Christian Chief. He had been saved from drunkenness by the grace of God and he mercifully fought the traffic. He scorned anyone bringing it into the Reservation. Drinkers from other tribes, who wanted to be free from the curse, sought a home under his protection. His son, who succeeded him, followed him in his sin but not in his repentance and died as a fool dieth. Coming home one night the worse of drink, his horse stumbled on a stone, in a shallow brook throwing his master in two inches of water.

The Reservation is now open and our Canadians are flooding it with rum. Why kick the drunken Indian for his weakness, when we his stronger brothers and sisters are putting it in his hands by our influence and vote.

Up, Christians, up, and be doing. Arouse from your base repose, if you take not the part of the Master. You take the part of his foe.

Fling the bondage of party spirit, And fetters of self aside.

Why waste with your light and knowledge The souls for whom Christ died? This letter is the cry of a suffering mother and there is not one of us who cannot help her if we choose.

"I have a boy of nineteen years and another boy son of seventeen. They are at the age when they resent the least restraint. The oldest is by nature a clean boy, he does not smoke but he drinks.

The youngest smokes too much, and drinks too when he can get it. The fault is mine, I must have made a mistake somewhere in bringing them up. What I want to know is why your country does not do it?"

We are near the time the stuff is smuggled across and it is not safe. Canadian have returned to Canada from domicile in the United States.

Here and There

Immigration to Canada for the month of August, 1924, totalled 20,186, of whom 5,706 were from the British Isles, 1,784 from the United States, and 12,696 from other countries. Immigration for the first five months of the fiscal year totalled 76,719. In the same period 23,861 Canadians have returned to Canada from domicile in the United States.

As an indication that the tide of settlers has definitely set in the direction of Canada, it has been made known by the Department of Immigration and Colonization that 5,000 acres of land near Lethbridge has been sold to ten families of 75 persons from South Dakota. The land is announced, is only the advance guard of a considerable northward movement from that region.

"We will have a good report to present when we reach the Hebrides," said Rev. Father Alex. MacDougall, a member of the Hebridean commission of inquiry which investigated conditions of Hebrideans in Canada. The members of the commission, after visiting Alberta, reported the new settlers perfectly satisfied with Canadian conditions.

Among the passengers sailing for Europe aboard the Canadian Pacific Steamship "Empress of France" on October 8th, was Geo. A. Walton, General Passenger Agent, Canadian Pacific Railway, Montreal, who will represent the company on an extensive tour of Europe arranged for the American Association of Passenger Traffic Officers by the trans-Atlantic steamship companies and the railroads of Great Britain and the continent.

Charles J. Pernigotti, a native of Danbury, Conn., has received a commission from the Prince of Wales to paint some of his blooded stock on the E. P. ranch, near High River, on the Canadian Pacific line in Alberta. Pernigotti, who has attained a reputation as a painter of animals, says the commission was awarded during the Prince's stay at Syosset. He will commence work the latter part of October.

As a result of the survey conducted by the newly formed Graphic Arts Association, printing and allied trades are now shown to constitute the second largest industry in Winnipeg, Man., representing an investment of $10,054,318, and providing employment for 12,000 people. The report shows that during 1923 the sum of $3,619,322 was paid in salaries.

With the approaching close of the tourist season, plans are being laid for the continuation of construction work at the Chateau Frontenac, the Canadian Pacific Railway's palatial hotel in the city of Quebec. Some of the interior decorating and the completion of rooms of the main corridor in the Chateau had to be left unfinished when the present tourist season opened, but it is expected that work on these parts of the hotel will commence very shortly. The billiard room and other rooms in the basement will also be completed as soon as possible.

SPIDER GETS BEST OF MOUSE

Was Able to Kill Small Mouse by Lifting it From Floor.

A vouchsafed story of a long battle between an ordinary kitchen spider and a half-grown mouse in which the spider won by tediously wrapping its strands around the mouse's tail and eventually lifting it free of the floor into its web had been added to the long list of nature's paradoxes by the American Nature Association.

The story, made public today by the association, was based on a report made to it by Martin J. Arvin of Indiana, who said that he first found the mouse caught in the spider's web behind a leg of his kitchen range.

When he first saw it in the morning, the mouse was suspended with these strands around its tail and was desperately scraping the floor with its forefeet. After futile attempts of drawing the mouse from the floor by throwing a web larva around its neck, the spider took a position at the base of the mouse's tail where the skin was tender and "evidently sank its mandibles into the victim, which he noticed to twitch several times."

Returning home in the evening, Arvin said, he found the mouse then dead, lifted into the web a full inch above the floor. "Things remained undisturbed until the next morning, when the mouse had been raised one and three-quarter inches.

transportation we are utterly helpless to keep it out. I pray for the pardon of those who thrust it on us, before God takes his restraining hand from them. In the meantime my grip seems to slip on my sons. Should a leading nation like Canada sneak into our homes and rob us of our much needed money and sappy young boys with their run? What was the compliance movement doing in your country when we were warring here? I am an Indian but I always knew the evils of drink and endorsed every move that won against the saloon. Can it be that a white people who must be wiser than an Indian, shut their eyes to the sin of drink enough to impose it on those who have proved again and again the benefits of a sober mind?

Is like a stab in the back by a grown up sister. Is Canada a slacker? We have stills but they could be run down easy if Canada would go dry and empty her whiskey into the river. 'This is the thorn that tears at my heart.

You who can speak, why not tell people these sad facts and see if they will not do something. OWARIE.

THE MYSTERIOUS COMPASS

The inventor of the compass is unknown. It is first mentioned in a quaint Chinese legend which tells of a battle between the Emperor Ho-ang-ti and the rebel Xiang, on the plains of Tchou-lou. Xiang, getting the worst of the conflict, called the wizards and magicians to his aid, who raised a great fog to hide his army, but the Emperor, with the greater magic of the compass, led his army through the fog so that he was able to overcome his enemy.

It is thought the compass was first brought to Europe by the Arabians, in the twelfth century, after which it rapidly came into general use, and enabled Christopher Columbus to sail straight west, through fair and stormy weather, to the discovery of a new world.

The March of the Compass. Contrary to report, the compass does not point directly north, but more or less to the west at different places. Besides this, it is always changing its direction, and never "stays put." It marches to the west for many years, then turns back east; in fact, it changes its mind more often than any maiden in love, and carries on in a different way in each place. Whether this fickleness is due to a wandering of the earth's magnetic poles, by something happening inside the earth, or by the sun or planets, scientists have never been able to find out.

All the old land surveys in Ontario, Quebec, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island were made by compass, and nowadays when it is desired to retrance one of the old boundary lines, it is necessary to know beforehand what the march of the compass has been since the time when the old survey was made.

It is interesting to know that the compass direction was measured in earlier years by Champlain, John Davis, Captain Middleton, Captain Cook and Captain Vancouver. Of recent years, however, a more extensive magnetic survey has been carried on by the Topographical Survey, Department of the Interior, at practically no expense, because the compass direction can be measured in a few minutes when the survey parties are already on the ground. It now possesses more than 20,000 measurements and regularly publishes magnetic maps which picture all this information for compass users.

Riddles Yet Unsolved

The compass today is more widely employed than ever before, but it has still its hidden secrets. Elusive earth currents and stubborn static still set the part of highwaymen and hold up our friends the telegraph, the wire-

DIAMONDS SEWED IN WOMAN'S HAT

Customs Officer Tells of Travellers Who Try To Evade Laws.

"One of the strangest customs rules occasionally balks the unconscious smuggler who is what is commonly called a Nature-lover," says a customs barring the importation of any plant, bulb, tree, shrub or flower. It is designed to prevent the introduction of diseases and plant parasites. Immigrants especially like to bring to America with them cuttings of rose bushes which bloomed in the Czechoslovakian or, possibly, Abyssinian lack yards. But it can't be done.

"When they are first offenders we usually make them pay full duty and then dismiss them with a warning. But there are times when we can't do that. There was, for example, the woman who had yards of valuable lace wound round her waist, a silver fox muff about each knee and diamonds sewed into her hat. Yes, they do go that far at times.

"We've found silks in mattresses, narcotics in olive oil, diamonds in soap, pearls in tooth paste, and all sorts of strange things. Then, too, at other times we have discovered that even the passenger didn't know. One man, I remember, was bringing back some antique furniture he believed to be real. He had declared it as such.

The inspector found, however, that the "worm holes" had been made to order and that the ivory was new and had been boiled in coffee to make it appear aged. He thought the furniture was 100 years old. It was hardly 100 days old.

The average woman always brings back at least one gown. One of them, an opera star, came trooping in with sixty-eight trunks, and the society woman usually carries at least twenty. "Some of the returning voyagers," said the officer. "One man declared $250.00 worth of dental work. The inspector, curious, searched all of his baggage looking for it and then reported he couldn't find it. 'Oh,' said the passenger, 'is that what you're looking for?' And he opened his mouth."

less and the radio, and we know these highways are closely related to the Northern Lights and magnetic storms that torture the compass. But all these things are yet seen through a glass, darkly, and scientists believe they can never be fully understood until the direction of pointing of the compass has been properly mapped all over the world.

CANADA TO HAVE TREE-LINED HIGHWAY FROM COAST TO COAST

will be traversed by a continental highway lined with trees if the vision of Dr. P. E. Doolittle, Toronto, materializes. Mr. Doolittle, president of the Canadian Automobile Association, brought this vision to a banquet of the Manitoba Union of Municipalities. He told the delegates that he was going to devote his energies to getting the highway completed and the beautified. Trees were to be planted where the scenery demands, he said, adding that he had assurance from Ottawa that all the trees wanted would be provided along with expert advice as to their planting in the various climates encountered from coast to coast. He estimated the cost of the planting at $1,000,000.

"I must say, cook," said the lady of the house, "that of late your work has been very perfunctory."

"Thank ye kindly, mum. I've been here three months now, and, though I've tried my best, that's the first bit of praise I've had since I've been here."

What About Your BATTERY AT ZERO
Cold weather is a severe test of any battery.
Your engine is harder to start.
You burn the lights longer.

And a battery which will deliver 100% of its rated output at 70 degrees will deliver only 50% at zero. Proper attention to your battery NOW will save time, temper and money.
Don't blame the battery for YOUR neglect.

IF YOU DRIVE YOUR CAR
1.—Make three or four Hydrometer tests over a period of a month to be sure that the generator is keeping the battery sufficiently charged. As a rule the charging rate of the generator should be increased for winter driving.

2.—If your battery is not in first-class condition have the necessary repairs done.

3.—Have the oil in your crank case changed to the grade recommended for winter driving.

IF YOU LAY UP YOUR CAR
Let us store your battery. This will save you from worrying over a possible costly freeze up and ensure your battery being in first-class condition in the Spring.

Wet Storage
This method of storage keeps your battery properly charged all winter—prevents freezing.

Dry Storage
Your battery is dismantled and re-assembled with new insulation in the Spring.

WHAT CHRISTMAS BROUGHT HIM

As Walter Manners' stumbled out of Clarkson's store he felt that Christmas was indeed going to be a dreary time for him and his family. His hands were clenched tightly as he came out into the glare of winter sunshine, and his face showed a dull red—the hue which creeps over a man's face when insult or humiliation has come to him.

For twenty years of service to old Clarkson, twenty years wherein he had given the best that was in him to a man who was reputed to be the most ill-tempered man in all Washburn—he had just been told that from now on his services would be dispensed with, and all because of a small mistake that had been made which Clarkson in the blind rage which had taken hold of him, had laid on the shoulders of Manners.

It was hard, he told himself as he walked along, that a man who had given the best of his life in service could be cast away like an old glove. It must be that he was not as competent as other men, he told himself. For the hurt of dismissal had sunk its iron deeper into Walter Manners' soul than it would have done in the case of another man, for always he had been possessed of the feeling that he was not quite as capable as other men. Something within him always tried to belittle him to himself, and although he had often fought with this feeling and had tried to assure himself that he did as good or even better work than some, in spite of himself it came every now and then to torture him. Now, in the face of his recent dismissal, it came with added force, and he told himself over and over again that he was a failure or else old Clarkson would not have let him out. He never stopped to think that perhaps it was the long association with a man of Clarkson's type that had made him so diffident about his own worth.

He dreaded the thought of going home and telling his family the bad news. He reproached himself that he had not broken away from old Clarkson ten years before when he had an offer from young Peters, who had just then come to Washburn, and who had since made such a success. But then, as always, the fear of himself kept him from accepting and he had stayed on and borne the ill-temper of the man who had looked with dread to the future, for his family was just at the age when a steady income was an absolute necessity.

He shuddered now as he thought of Christmas, when only a few hours ago he had been living in happy anticipation of the day. He had planned so many things; so many little surprises that would bring joy to his loved ones; but now that was all over, for how could he enter into the spirit of Christmas, weighed down with care and dread of the future as he was now?

Walter Manners had always been a man who set a great stress upon duty, and as he went along now the thought came to him that a real duty to his family lay before him. For he felt that he would be inflicting a great wrong upon them were he to go to them now with the story of his failure and to spoil their Christmas. What of his own feelings—surely he could be a man enough to hide them for a few days for the sake of those old man Clarkson since. His forty-five years hung heavily upon him as he loved! After Christmas there would be time enough to tell them the dread news—to let them know what a miserable failure he was.

He decided then that he would not go home until his usual home-coming hour, lest it might create suspicion, so to kill time he wandered aimlessly around town. He stopped to gaze in Peter's window as he passed. He admitted to himself that there was a vast difference between the appearance of this store and Clarkson's. Here everything was up-to-date and attractive; the window arrangement such as might make anyone pause to look. Once he had broached this subject to old Clarkson, but had been met by such an outburst of wrath that he had never dared to open the subject again.

So engrossed was he with his thoughts that it was some time before he noticed that Clyde Peters was standing inside the window and gazing straight at him. He flushed a

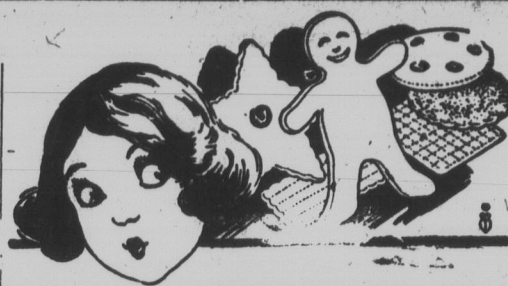

JUDGE ARMSTRONG DEAD AT ST. JOHN

Was an Outstanding Figure in Military, Civic and Legal Life.

St. John, N. B., Dec. 8.—Judge John Russell Armstrong, who has been an outstanding personality in the legal, military and civic life of the community for many years, passed away at his residence, 220 King st., East last evening, aged 77 years. He had been ill during the summer months and had undergone a serious operation but was making a very satisfactory recovery and was able to be out daily when he caught cold while attending the memorial service in King Square on Armistice Day.

Judge Armstrong was born in Valparaiso, Chile, on April 30, 1848, a son of Rev. William Armstrong, formerly British chaplain at Valparaiso. His father came to Saint John when he was a lad and the greater part of his life he had resided in this city. His early education was received here and he afterwards studied at Windsor, N. S., Collegiate School, and took his law course at Harvard University. He was called to the bar in 1870 and was created a King's Counsel by both the Federal and Provincial Governments.

The Earl of Aberdeen conferred the federal K. C. in 1894 and in 1897 Judge Armstrong was made a K. C. in New Brunswick. In the following year he was appointed Judge of Probates. He practised law in Saint John from 1870 to 1908, when he was appointed to preside in the probate court. In 1915 he succeeded Hon. J. G. Forbes as Judge of the Saint John County Court, and held that high office until his retirement in 1923 when he was succeeded by Judge Barry.

NEW AND PLEASING LINES OF Marven's White Lily Goods

We give the names of a few, but there are many others, equally as good. Don't forget to lay in a supply of Marven's White Lily goods for Christmas.

ENGLISH PLUM PUDDING

Ye old-fashioned English Plum Pudding, cooked and sold in an oven-proof bowl. It contains nuts, raisins, flour, peel, cherries, sugar, spices, suet—and lots of eggs. This pudding is delicious, made from the finest recipe that we have been able to obtain; and each pudding is large enough for the average family. Put the bowl in a steamer and heat through. Tip pudding out, slice and serve with sauce. This is a Christmas Gift that will give appreciation in every bite.

MARSHMALLOW TOPPINGS

A vanilla cookie base, a puff of snowy marshmallow and a sprinkling of pure chocolate kernels; others have candied caraway on the marshmallow instead of the chocolate. This is a delightful biscuit especially for the children.

"OR SAY I LIKE THIS"

These were the first words of a person who sampled our new biscuit, so we called it "I Like". It is a bit of water ice wafer dipped in pure chocolate. "I Like" can be served instead of candy.

MAR-VO A DELICIOUS SHORTBREAD

Mar-Vo is an octagonal shaped shortbread, Right from Scotland and every rich. Try it, you'll like the taste and the flavor.

ADVOCATE BISCUITS are popular with the children. They not only tell of their own qualities in their flavor but they ask rather pertinent questions. They are as interesting for children and conversation candies and much more nourishing. Advocates are dainty hard sweet biscuits with vanilla cream filling. My, but they're good.

HAVE A SPICY FLAVOR

ALL THEIR OWN

CHEESE WAFERS. These wafers contain a large percentage of cheese. They are crunchy and have a spicy flavor all their own.

ELITE MIXED are put up in packages suitable for Christmas remembrances.

Marven's White Lily Christmas Cakes should be in every Maritime home for the holiday season.

Ask your grocer for Marven White Lily lines and accept no substitutes.

HILLSBORO REGRETS

DEPARTURE OF REV. AND MRS. AUBREY S. BISHOP

Hillsboro, Dec. 7—It is with feelings of deep regret that the members and congregation of the Hillsboro Baptist Church learned of the resignation of our pastor, Rev. A. S. Bishop, who has been faithful and beloved for the last five years.

Mr. Bishop leaves the first of January to take up his new field of labor at Campbellton.

Mr. Bishop has won the hearts of many of the young and old, leading and teaching them the way to Christ. He has been a faithful worker in his church and the community.

Mrs. Bishop will also be missed as she has been a valuable worker in church and community, always ready and willing to do her part, a strong help where she was much depended on.

Mr. and Mrs. Bishop had made hosts of friends among denominations in Hillsboro and Albert County. Campbellton Baptists are to be congratulated on securing such a pastor as Mr. Bishop.

THE WORLD'S PRIZE POOL

A considerable experience with animals, big and little has convinced Mr. Courtney Ryley Cooper, author of "Lions 'n' Tigers 'n' Everything", that there is a smaller proportion of brains in the camel than in any other creature of anything like the camel's pretensions. He says on this point:

As for the baby camel—here, ladies and gentlemen, is the prize fool of the whole animal kingdom. When Nature devised the camel, somebody carried away the brains, leaving the finished article, especially in babyhood, the most dunce-like of that ever struggled about on four legs. For instance, in the course of its wanderings, the baby camel may walk up to a brick wall. It doesn't know enough to go round it; it merely stands there butting its head against the obstacle or standing in amazement, waiting for the wall to move! When it isn't doing something like that, it is getting in the way of the horses, the men, the elephants or anything else that happens to come along, not because it is obstinate, but simply because it doesn't know enough to get out of the way. The only other thing it does is to stand and bawl. It will bawl for hours at a time, apparently taking delight in the unusual fatness of its voice.

While this is going on, the mother is bawling also for her prize number. The concert continues for an hour or so before the child finally understands that somebody who feeds it desires its company at home. But does the poor idiot obey the command? It does not. Practically, and with an added bawling, it goes to every other member of the camel herd before it finds its own mother!

As a reward for which the camel mother knocks down her senseless offspring, spits at it and then bites it on the head, probably knowing, in her motherly way, that there is less sensibleness there than anywhere else!

FORGOT HIS MANNERS

An Irish farmer, returning a woman at a horse, lost his hold near the bottom of a ladder and landed heavily with the woman on top of him. A doctor, hastily summoned, pronounced Pat sound, though badly bruised.

"You are a brave man," said the doctor.

"Brave, maybe, but no gentleman," replied Pat, rubbing his head. "I'd have let the lady go first!"
