

SCHOOL PICNIC A BIG SUCCESS BIG CROWDS, BIG DAY OF SPORTS

Estimated That Ten Thousand People Attended the Annual Outing of the Kiddies—Baby Show and Ball Game Were Special Features.

The school picnic of 1908 is now a matter of history, and it will be remembered as the greatest ever held by the board of education, and perhaps one of the greatest ever held at Springbank Park.

There was a very large crowd—over 10,000 people—and everybody had a good time.

There was not an accident to mar the pleasure of the outing.

And the kiddies! A picnic is a real picnic when it has the kiddies there, and that was the reason that the picnic yesterday was more enjoyable than any other picnic.

The youngsters were present in mobs. Every school in the city sent its whole contingent, and in addition there were many boys and girls who had graduated or left school but who could not resist the temptation to go.

And there were others who were not yet big enough for the kindergarten but they were there, cheering as lustily as they could, and as happy as any.

The Time of Their Lives.

Such a bright, rosy-cheeked lot of kiddies they were.

Abounding in good health, they romped and played all day until long into the evening, when nature, refusing to respond to the stimulus even of a picnic, sent them to rest and dream of the happy time they had had.

The great marvel that Bishop Ingram, of London, England, saw when he came to Canada, was the merry, (Continued on Page Six.)

THE BABY SHOW AT SPRINGBANK.

A sextette of prize babies at the school picnic. Two babies were tied for first honors. One of the pair is James Wootton, on the extreme left, the other is Mary Louise Wyatt, second from the right, held by its fond parent, Principal Wyatt, of the Wortley road school. The other four babies are fine looking youngsters, too.

Edgar Morden Committed for Trial May Bring Action Against Police

Claim That P. C. Lucas Handled Him Very Roughly.

Magistrate Love had three and a half hours' of good solid police court work today, the biggest grist that has been before him for some time.

The first case was that of Edgar Morden, charged with assaulting P. C. Lucas.

Mr. Morden was represented by Mr. J. M. McEvoy, who pleaded not guilty, and asked for trial by jury.

Mr. McEvoy states that an action for damages will be entered on the ground that the policeman handled the prisoner roughly.

The Row.

At the preliminary hearing, P. C. Lucas stated that he was on duty at the corner of King and York streets about 2 o'clock on Tuesday morning, when he heard loud talking in the house of Duncan Ferguson.

He went around to the back and Morden and Ferguson were there. Both were drunk, and Lucas asked Morden to go home.

He refused and went away. Later he came back. He was again ordered away.

He went, but came back. The officer told him he couldn't and hit him. There was a fight, and Lucas threw Morden on the ground.

Morden continued to struggle and tore the officer's tunic.

To Mr. McEvoy, P. C. Lucas stated that he had been told by Sgt. Birrell that Morden had used him roughly. Morden was committed for trial at the next quarterly sessions in September.

Woman Is On the Local Indian List Interesting Case in the Police Court

Magistrate Love Allowed Store-keeper Who Sold Liquor To Go This Time.

A most interesting case, and the first of its kind in the city under the new liquor license regulations, was heard before Magistrate Love this morning, when Mr. C. F. Hockin, who keeps a store at 112 Dundas street, appeared to answer to a charge of selling liquor to a woman who gave her name as Elizabeth Watson to the police when arrested.

Mrs. Watson has been on the Indian list for some time.

On Wednesday morning she was followed to the store by a policeman and arrested.

A quart bottle of whisky was found in her possession.

Mrs. Watson, in the witness-box, stated that she had been to the store on three occasions and procured whisky. No one had asked her her name or any questions. She had no medical certificate.

The Indian List.

Inspector Galpin stated that he had caused a copy of the Indian list to be sent to all dealers, and that on account of the trouble with Mrs. Watson before that he had requested the dealers to send a clerk down to her place in order that they might recognize her, and not sell to her any more.

Mr. Hockin had sent a clerk down. Crown Attorney McKillop thought the case was a clear one against Mr. Hockin. He pointed out that absolutely no precautions had been taken to find out whether the woman was on the Indian list or not.

Fine Would Be Harsh.

Magistrate Love thought it would be harsh to fine the liquor dealer, especially as the woman was such a respectable-looking woman and was likely to deceive anybody by her appearance.

"If you do not fine this man you are making a dead letter of the license law," said Mr. McKillop. "Any way, I intend to take the matter up with the Government officials."

Magistrate Love dismissed the case, but reprimanded Mr. Hockin very severely for not having taken any precautions.

Mrs. Watson was remanded to jail.

GLADIATORS' CAPTAIN BLAMED FOR CRASH

Portsmouth, Eng., June 12.—After lengthy consideration today the naval court-martial in the loss of the British cruiser Gladiator as a result of her collision with the American liner St. Paul last April found Captain Lumden had hazarded his ship by a default, not by neglect, and adjudge him to be reprimanded and dismissed from his ship.

CUT HIS THROAT.

Montreal, June 12.—Jarvis Cook, a married man with a family, cut his throat from ear to ear with a razor this morning and was found gasping his last by his wife. He was ill and under the doctor's care.

A FRAGMENT OF THE CROWD WATCHING THE GAMES AT THE SCHOOL CHILDREN'S PICNIC AT SPRINGBANK.

There Was Ross Waiting at Church Wife Advertised for Left Him in Lurch

She Can't Get Away To Marry Him Today—Police Won't Let Her.

As the result of a matrimonial advertisement, which recently appeared in The Advertiser, Miss Lizzie Clark, or Mrs. Clark—whichever it may prove to be—is at present the occupant of a cell in the county jail, charged with obtaining divers articles of wearing apparel valued at $40, under false pretenses.

"Some weeks ago, James A. Ross, a London Township carpenter, about 45 or 50 years of age, took a notion to get married, and being too bashful to propose to any of the desirable young ladies of his acquaintance, struck upon the scheme of advertising for the style of wife he desired. The advertisement met the eyes of a Mrs. Brooks, also of London Township, and the good lady hastened to introduce Miss Clark to Mr. Ross.

Met His Affinity.

From what can be learned it appears that it was a case of love—on Mr. Ross' part—at first sight.

There was his ideal. The girl he had dreamed about, talked about, and yearned for.

Would Miss Clark marry? She would—not yet, but on the morrow, which in this case proved to be last Wednesday.

The happy Ross decided at once that his fair bride-to-be should be adorned (Continued on Page Nine.)

Convention Jaunts for Aldermen To Be Discussed By Council

Probable Delegates To Municipal Convention at Montreal.

The matter of delegates to the different municipal conventions will be discussed at the next meeting of the council, it is expected.

The question of representation to the fire chiefs' convention was settled by No. 3 committee on Wednesday evening, when the committee recommended that Chief Clark be the only delegate to attend.

The convention of the Canadian Union of Municipalities will be held in Montreal in the latter part of July. The convention was originally billed for Medicine Hat, Alta., but owing to the tercentenary celebration in Quebec it was decided to hold it in Montreal.

to enable the members to attend the tercentenary celebration at Quebec.

The number of delegates to Montreal has not yet been decided upon, but will likely be dealt with on Monday night.

Last year, the fight over the deputations was a very keen one, and was remarkable for the last stand of ex-Ald. Matthews for the position of delegate. Mayor Judd was the only delegate.

It has not been decided as yet who will go this year, but it has been rumored that Mayor Stevely, Ald. Beattie and Ald. Saunders will attend.

The Ontario Union will not take place until later in the summer, and will not be discussed at present. It is thought that Ald. Rose, Ald. Booth, Ald. Stewart, Ald. Ferguson and Ald. Greenlees will attend this convention.

Hoodlums in the North End Again

Wednesday evening as a young lady resident of Ridout street was walking in the north end in company with a young gentleman, she was confronted by four or five young rowdies who fired off a revolver and attempted to intimidate the couple.

The young man attacked one of the rowdies and was giving him a much-deserved beating, when the others pitched in and helped their prostrate comrade.

Matters were becoming rather warm for the young lady's friend when a number of men jumped off a passing car and gave chase to the rowdies.

No complaint has been entered at the police station, as the couple desired to escape publicity.

Presentations at the School Picnic

Three presentations for proficiency in studies were made at the school picnic yesterday at Springbank.

Alberta Somerville and Florence Woolley were the recipients of handsome prizes donated by the London Council of Women for proficiency in domestic science and cooking.

The presentations were made by Mrs. Yarker in the absence of Mrs. Boomer.

Miss Irene Anundson was presented with a handsome prize, the gift of Miss McIntosh, teacher of domestic science, at the Collegiate, for proficiency in sewing.

The Cornerstone of Chapel Was Laid

The cornerstone of the new chapel at Mount St. Joseph was laid by His Grace the Archbishop of Toronto yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock.

His grace was assisted in the ceremony by Rev. Mgr. Meunier, of Windsor, the administrator of the Diocese of London; Rev. Father McKeon, of St. Mary's Church; Rev. Father Aylward, rector of St. Peter's Cathedral, and Rev. Fathers White and Stanley, besides several altar boys from the cathedral.

The ceremony was performed in the presence of about fifteen other priests of the diocese, including Rev. Fathers Buttery, O'Donahue, Beauvoine, Keeley, Valentine, Goetz, Pinsonneault and Laundreville, and also the sisters of Mount St. Joseph.

After the laying of the cornerstone, lunch was served at the convent by the sisters.

SEVEN CONDUCTORS SHUNTED.

Port Huron, June 12.—Superintendent Dawson, of the Rapid Railway, and the City Electric Railway, has been here for the past few days conducting an investigation. As a result seven conductors were discharged. They were charged with tapping registers on circus day. The information was secured by spotters. None of the old employees of the road are implicated, the alleged guilty parties being all new men.

NOW FOR HANDLING OF POWER WILL COMMISSION BE NAMED?

London Must Wait Till All Other Places Sign the Contracts and Until Such Time as the Tenders Are Opened.

The practical side of the Niagara power question is now to the fore, and the method of operation, sale of power, and the thousand and one things to be figured out, must soon be considered.

It is not likely that any movement will be made for some time at least. London can do nothing until the tenders for the transmission line, etc., are opened, and the contracts awarded.

Upon the tenders will depend the price of the power to London.

If the tenders are higher than the estimates, Mr. Beck will have to come back to the municipalities with a new schedule of prices, and these new prices will have to be either ratified or rejected by the municipalities in the power zone.

All Must Sign.

In any event the city must wait to ascertain whether all the municipalities sign the contracts.

If any one of the municipalities fails to sign then a new schedule of prices for power must be arranged, and the amount of the cost of transmission line, etc., distributed among the other municipalities.

A few of the municipalities have already ratified the contract, and it is expected the others will do so shortly. (Continued on Page Nine.)

Conservative Election Officials Under Arrest at Hamilton

Dillabough and Lawson Return To the City and Are Nabbed.

Hamilton, June 11.—Deputy Returning Officer Lawson and Poll Clerk Harry Dillabough, Conservative election officials, were placed under arrest this evening. They were taken into custody this afternoon and will appear in the police court tomorrow.

Lawson is charged with having, as deputy returning officer, unlawfully supplied ballots to Harry Dillabough, a poll clerk, and Dillabough is charged with having, as poll clerk, unlawfully interfered with a packet of ballot papers. The two men disappeared from Hamilton on Sunday when the attempt by Dillabough to sell fifty ballots to a Liberal ward chairman for $100 came to light, and returned this evening, thinking the affair had blown over.

A Prominent Oil City Man Suffocated in Sarnia Hotel

Deputy Reeve of Enniskillen Found Dead With Gas Escaping.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Sarnia, Ont., June 12.—This morning at 7:30 o'clock W. T. Trott, of Oil City, deputy-reeve of Enniskillen, was found dead in bed at the Hotel Northern, asphyxiated by gas. Mr. Trott, who had been attending the June session of the county court, retired last night in his usual good health. A strong odor of gas was noticed, and on investigation was traced to room No. 11, which was occupied by Mr. Trott. Coroner Dr. Logie was called and an entrance gained to the room. The gas tap was on full and life was extinct. Mr. Trott was a prominent citizen of Oil City, and his unfortunate taking-off will be universally regretted.

Jury Says Tramp's Death Accidental Identity of Man Is Still a Mystery

Inquest Held Last Night Under Coroner MacLaren at the Courthouse.

After a few minutes' consideration of the evidence before them, the jury which under Coroner MacLaren investigated the death of the unknown tramp killed on the C. P. R. west of the city on Monday morning, returned the following verdict:

"That the unknown man met his death by a tie, of which the hut was built, falling on him, and the jury, from the evidence, can incriminate no one in connection with the accident."

The principal evidence was that of William Brooks who assisted in removing the ties from the body, and that of John James Wardrope, who was sleeping with the unknown man when the accident happened.

A Sailor Tramp.

William Brooks said he was a sailor who had been traveling between Halifax and South America until recently. His home is in Greenwich, England. He had been working in a sugar beet factory near Chatham, but had decided to go to Montreal. He had called from Chatham to London, and then changed his mind and was going to go back and work in the factory again.

On Saturday night he slept in a field and stayed around the field all day Sunday. On Sunday night he and another tramp named McTeer slept in

Found Guilty of Stealing Gas Adelaide Street Couple in Court

Sentence Suspended at the Request of the City Gas Company.

Mr. and Mrs. William Jones, of 370 Adelaide street, appeared before Magistrate Love this morning on a charge of stealing gas from the City Gas Company.

Mr. Jones pleaded not guilty and threw the blame on his wife, who pleaded guilty.

It seems that for some time the Gas Company has had reason to believe that gas was being used in the Jones house.

The meter was taken out some time ago, but the company has had inspectors watching the place and gas has been used right along for many weeks.

A few weeks ago an official went and tried to get into the cell, but it is said that Mrs. Jones would not let him go down there.

A search warrant was ordered, with the result that it was found that a rubber tube had been connected to the main and that gas was being used in the house.

Mrs. Jones, it is said, confessed to the police officers that such was the case.

In court this morning she was represented by Mr. Marshall Graydon who contended that the rubber tube had been connected by a boarder. He also said that there was no bill sent.

No Bill.

"There was none to pay in this case," retorted Mr. McKillop, amid much laughter.

Mr. McKillop also pointed out that Mrs. Jones' own explanation injured her case more than anything else, as for six weeks the gas company have known that the gas lights have been burning there.

The manager of the gas company stated that he would be content if sentence were suspended.

"You are guilty of the meanest kind of stealing," said the court to Mrs. Jones, "and if it had not been that leniency has been asked for by the parties most injured I should certainly have sent you down. You may, however, thank the Gas Company alone for being dismissed."

Boy Injured at the School Picnic

While viewing the play at Springbank last night about 8 o'clock on the fence surrounding the theater, Norman, the 10-year-old son of Mr. William Smith, 17 Marley Place, lost his balance and fell a distance of ten feet.

It was thought that his back was broken, but it is found that his injuries are not serious, and that he will be about in a few days.

Norman, with several other boys,

had climbed up on the fence and were watching the show.

A couple of other boys attempted to climb up where he was, and pulled him down.

He alighted on his back, and was rendered unconscious.

He was taken to his home where Dr. F. C. Cowan attended to his injuries.

"The boy's back is bruised," said Dr. Cowan to The Advertiser, "but I do not think his injuries are serious."

He spent a quiet night and this morning is much brighter.

Horse-Racing in New York Killed By Passage of Hughes' Measure

Anti-Gambling Bills Pass the Senate 26 to 25.

Albany, June 11.—After a struggle, the precise like of which no man in or about the Legislature has ever seen, or expects to see again, the famous Agnew-Hart anti-gambling bill, which is now laws of the State of New York. Governor Hughes, by his signature affixed to each of the bills at 4:35 p.m. today, crowned a legislative victory, the brilliancy of which equaled only by its unexpectedness, is conceded even by those who fought him in this matter to the last ditch and beyond.

A few minutes before 2 p.m. the truly extraordinary session of the Legislature of 1908 adjourned without delay. The annals of legislation in this state may be searched in vain for a day like this. The decisive vote which passed the bill was cast by Senator Otto G. Foelker, of the fourth senate district of Brooklyn, who crawled from a sickbed and made a 60-mile railroad journey to do it, so weak and distressed in mind and body that he seemed upon the verge of utter collapse, and by a new senator, Wm. C. Wallace, of Niagara Falls, who was elected at a special election in the campaign preceding which the governor himself toured the district, speaking in behalf of his election.

Relates to Penalties.
The bills, which now constitute chapter 506 and 507 of the law of 1908, in no way affect, so far as their face provisions go, the state racing commission in particular or horse racing in general. They relate solely to the penalties for gambling, pool-selling and bookmaking, which, as before, are declared by the law to be "a public nuisance."

Chapter 506 amends the racing law by repealing that provision under which an exclusive penalty of simply recovering at civil suit of the amount wagered, which has applied to gambling within a racetrack enclosure, thus exempting such gambling from the penalties operative elsewhere in the state, and it also provides that this general penalty shall be "imprisonment in the county jail or penitentiary for a period of not more than one year," without alternate of a fine.

Chapter 507 amends the penal code in like manner, and in addition changes the grade of the crime from that of a felony, which any gambling was until today, to that of a misdemeanor, thus bringing the offense within the jurisdiction of the minor criminal courts.

The Death Knell.
The news of the passage and signing of the anti-gambling laws has caused consternation here, but it is believed that all present dates will be carried out. James B. Haggin, the noted turfman, said he thought that the death knell of horse-racing in this state had been sounded. "I think the bill will kill horse-racing in New York State," he said, "and I am surprised at its passage. I don't see how purses can now be paid."

"Do you think, now that betting will be stopped, that people will remain away from the tracks?" he was asked. "I certainly do. Those who fill up the stands and who pay for seats will not go when they have no chance to get their money back. I think the bill is a disastrous blow at racing."

While no official statement was made, it was believed that the Sheephead Bay meeting and that at Brighton Beach, which immediately follows it, will be run off as scheduled. The Saratoga meeting, however, probably will be cut to eleven days. A final decision regarding the fall meetings is expected to be made later.

AN ARCTIC ARK

Crude Vessel of Unknown Origin Found Far North.

Seattle, Wash., June 11.—Practical confirmation of a weird story growing out of the earlier days of the Klondike gold stampede, of the finding of the hull of a ship high upon the hills within the Arctic circle, is furnished by N. J. Brown, a well-known miner, just arrived at Dawson. Brown located the strange craft, which, he says, is still in a fair state of preservation, on a hillside overlooking a chain of lakes from 40 to 50 miles from the head of the Chandelar River and possibly 200 miles from the Arctic circle.

Brown says the big structure has crude doors and windows in the upper works similar to those of a ship, and bears letters or hieroglyphics which baffled translation by those who have seen it. Russians and natives alike.

PLAN PIPE LINE 1,000 MILES LONG

Standard Will Pump Oil From Illinois District to the Seaboard.

Pittsburg, Pa., June 11.—Arrangements were completed here today for the spending of from $2,000,000 to $3,000,000 in extending pipe lines west to the oil fields of Illinois, that the Illinois oil may be pumped direct to the seaboard. It is also intended to take in the Northern Ohio fields. The Tidewater Pipe Line Company, which for years has drained the Northern Pennsylvania fields with its direct line from Bradford, Pa., to Bayonne, N. J., today announced that it will receive bids at once for the construction of its line from Bradford, Pa., to Robinson, Ill., as it is now the intention to drain the Illinois field direct by pipes to the seaboard. It is intended that the new pipe line shall carry 10,000 barrels of oil daily, about two-fifths of which will be drawn from the field of Illinois, one-fifth from the Ohio fields, and the remaining two-fifths from the fields of Northern Pennsylvania. The main line to be a new six-inch affair, and it is figured that the absence of grades in the long stretch west will make it easy to keep 10,000 barrel output. A great deal of money will be spent also in building additional refineries at Bayonne, N. J.

WANTS FAIR TRADE WITH CANADA

Millers in Convention at Detroit
Demand Freer Commercial Interchange.

Detroit, June 11.—The 600 millers from all parts of the country, who are attending the sixtieth annual convention of the Millers' National Federation in this city, applauded loudly the address made before them today by Wm. C. Mayberry, assistant secretary of the navy, of this city, in which he declared for closer trade relations with Canada and the abolition of the duties between the United States and that country. "Free trade is a misnomer," said Mr. Mayberry; "let's make it fair trade instead, and by our actions have the citizens join with us in free interchange between the countries in every way, particularly from a commercial standpoint."

"Canadians live well, they provide excellently for their families, and they need the flour produced by you millers. Let us have a closer association with our friends across the river."

This was the keynote of ex-Mayor William C. Mayberry's address this morning in the Hotel Cadillac. Mr. Mayberry advanced a number of arguments for bringing the people of this country, and particularly the manufacturers of staple articles, into more intimate relation with the Canadians.

"Present your claims to Congress," he said, "and then see that some law is enacted that will remedy the existing condition."

"The argument was one presented that the United States was forced to place a revenue on products shipped into Canada for the purpose of reducing the national debt. That idea is hackneyed. What we want is a more perfect exemplification of brotherly love."

GOT A COMMISSION

Crocket Called It a Rake-Off of $300 for Writing a Letter.

Ottawa, June 11.—The examination of L. S. Macoun to his transactions with the militia department was resumed by Mr. Crocket, M. P., in the public accounts committee this morning. In respect of a sale of labor-saving machinery for use in the Dominion arsenal at Quebec, the department negotiated with the Potter-Johnson firm, Mr. Macoun secured the agency for the firm and the contract for $5,000.

Mr. Crocket asked Mr. Macoun if he had done anything else to secure this contract beyond writing a single letter, and Mr. Macoun replied that he had done many things. Mr. Crocket suggested that he writing one letter was an easy way of making $300 and used the word "rake-off" in connection with the transaction. The Ministerial members objected to the term as Mr. Crocket substituted the word "commission."

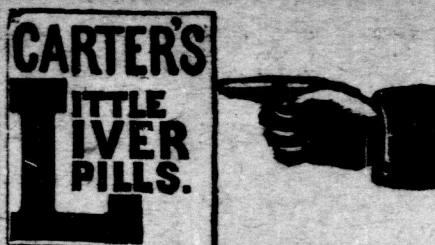

CANADA AND GERMANY

The Standard wonders if the home Government will profit by the experience of the Franco-Canadian treaty.

The main object of the combination, according to the journal, is to secure control of the international export trade, and similar organizations in America and on the continent are said to be supporting the British amalgamation.

DID BUTLER FIRE THE HOTEL?

Tillsonburg Man arrested on Charge of Causing Recent Fatal Fire.

Tillsonburg, June 11.—Chester Butler, a man about 30 years of age, and well known about town, was arrested by Provincial Detective Miller shortly after 2 o'clock this afternoon on suspicion of being concerned in the burning of the Queen's Hotel on May 20 last, when three persons lost their lives and five others were seriously injured.

Detective Miller and Chief of Police John Thilston have been quietly working on the case ever since the fire, and believe they have a strong case against the prisoner. They have established a motive and possess evidence that points very strongly toward Butler. Last February, after Butler had been placed on the "list as a person to whom liquor must not be served," John Mero, proprietor of the burned hotel, had him arrested for trespass. It is said that the man nursed a passionate desire for vengeance, and was heard by several persons to assert that he would one day "get even with Mero." At the time of the fatal fire Butler was observed hanging around the locality shortly after the alarm was given.

The prisoner was taken before Justices of the Peace Hills and Stinson and remanded for a week. He was then removed to Woodstock jail, and will be lodged there until Thursday next, when he will be brought back to Tillsonburg for preliminary hearing on a charge of arson.

Butler, at the time of his arrest, was working as a blacksmith, but is not noted about town for any regularity of occupation, and hotelkeepers were not allowed to supply him with liquor. He is married, but for some time has been separated from his wife.

Arson Suspected.
The circumstances attending the fire of May 20th were such that arson was at once suspected. The fire broke out in a part of the building where there was no fireplace or any other natural cause, and at an hour when no one was stirring in the place. The fire was discovered by the cook, and it blazed up so suddenly that before the guests could be alarmed the whole interior of the hotel was ablaze. The most adequate solution of the mystery was then incendiarism. Those who were fatally hurt, it will be remembered, were Clarence Bernard, Toronto; Thomas Wheatley, bartender, and Miss Jessie Gray, of Stayner.

LONDON, FRIDAY, JUNE 12.

THE MAJORITY MUST RULE.

Majority rule is the essence of responsible government. No system of popular government has yet been found possible save on the principle that the majority of the people should direct the course of public affairs. Nor is it conceivable that a system of responsible government could exist, founded on any other principle. The people of a country are rarely or never unanimous in support of a line of policy. Commonly, if not always, there is a part or portion or party of the people who favor one line and another part who favor a different mode of procedure. One or other of these differing parties must rule. Under responsible government the larger party decides which course the national affairs shall pursue. Under irresponsible government the smaller party determines the course—and whether the smaller party comprises a king and a circle of favorites, or a body of popularly-selected representatives, so long as they are the smaller party and so long as they dominate the course
of public affairs, the country has irresponsible government.

Parliament is the agent of the people.
The majority of the members hold the views of the majority of the electors of the country and their business is to incorporate those views into the conduct of the public business. If they do not do so they are unfaithful to the trust reposed in them. If they are prevented from doing so the will of the majority is frustrated and responsible government to that extent is destroyed. It is no defense to say that those who prevent a parliamentary majority from carrying out the will of the people are representing the views of the popular minority. This may be true. But it is also true that the minority is a minority, and for that reason has no license to prevent the purpose of the majority, nor to seek to replace the policy of the majority by its own policy.

The Canadian people are today face to face with the necessity of reassert-ing and defending the principle of majority rule if they wish to maintain their system of responsible government. Parliament has been in session since November last. The order paper has been filled continuously with business of public importance, much of it of surpassing importance. Yet that business has not been transacted.
Much of it has not been touched.
Much more of it has been cursorily
considered and pushed aside. Day after day, week after week, month after month, progress with business has been prevented by protracted discussions on subjects of minor importance and issues which have been thoroughly threshed out in preceding sessions.
That the Government was anxious to get along with business has been abundantly manifest from the persistent pressure brought to bear to hurry
on the work, from the daily appearance of important items on the order paper, and during the last week of the adoption of morning sessions of the House, and the proposal to sit also on Wednesday evenings. Yet they have been persistently and consistently prevented from doing so by orations on about every conceivable subject on which a speech could be strung together. The irresistible conclusion is that for some reason, be that what it may, the Opposition have resolved to prevent, so far as they can do so, the will of the majority of the people being carried into effect.

Unfortunately "our" parliamentary system gives the Opposition this power. The House possesses no means of closing a debate, however puerile
or irrelevant, in order to take up business, however pressing or important.
Discussion may be started on any subject and continued for any length of time to the paralysis of business. This broad liberty offers the opportunity to turn a parliamentary session into a long-distance talking race; and this opportunity the Opposition have seized and worked to the limit. The public service throughout the country is handicapped and partially paralyzed
for lack of money, and projects of immense public concern remain untouched on the order paper. Yet the talk goes on, but business does not go on. The position now is that should the House sit until next November and devote every hour strictly to public business, the time as spent would be no longer than the time that has already been wasted. That the session will continue so long is not to be supposed. The upshot is, therefore, that after wasting six months in talk the business of the country will be cramped through in a few weeks at the close of a long and strenuous session, by weary and uninterested members.

There is a pronounced and rapidly
developing sentiment, both in Parliament and in the country, that this anomaly should be ended. It is not permitted in the British Parliament
nor the United States House of Representatives. In both those Houses effective measures have been taken to stop the flow of language and expedite the course of business. Unless the Canadian people are to abandon the principle of majority rule and turn over the direction of their affairs to a party
they have declined to place in power,
similar measures must be taken by the Canadian Parliament. The business of Parliament is to transact the business of the people. The majority in Parliament will be negligent of the duty imposed upon them if they continue to permit that duty to be frustrated by the minority.

MR. BOURASSA'S OPPORTUNITY.

The Quebec elections bring Mr.
Bourassa to the front again.
It is an ominous coincidence that the Conservative chiefs, Messrs. Leblanc and Pelletier, were defeated at the very time that Mr. Bourassa found a seat in the Legislature, as though destiny were leading him
straight to the leadership of the Conservative party in his own province.
He is the only outstanding figure in the little band opposed to the Gouin
Government, and the shepherdless
Conservative flock will naturally look to him for direction. If Mr. Bourassa accepts the role, as he probably will,
he will strive to bend and mold the Conservative party to his own ideas,
which are dangerous to Canadian unity. Quebec Nationalism, into which he is trying to infuse new life,
is the combination of reactionism,
sectarianism and sectionalism against which Sir Wilfrid Laurier has waged incessant warfare.

Mr. Bourassa and his followers will have less power for mischief in provincial than in Federal politics, but if they should ever gain ascendancy
in Quebec they will be a disturbing factor at Ottawa, and will endeavor to undo the great work of Laurier in harmonizing the two races. The Canadian people can imagine what the situation would be if all the Quebec
members in the House of Commons
or the majority of them, were Bour-assas and Lavergnes, Canadians of all parties may well hope that the election of Mr. Bourassa is merely an exhibition of popular caprice or liking for the spectacular, and not a sign that his crusade is making headway. The Gouin Government for the present at least has the confidence of the great majority of the people of Quebec, and is in a position to carry out its progressive educational policy
to which the reactionists are opposed.

GREAT BRITAIN AND FRANCE.

The cordial reception of President
Fallieres by the people of England,
taken in connection with the Franco-British exposition, is the subject of much discussion in the London and Paris press. The Paris Temps suggests that the time is ripe for the development of the existing entente cordiale, or sympathetic mutual understanding, into a full-fledged alliance,
which would mean mutual aid in the event of war between Great Britain and France.

Such a tightening of the relations between the two nations does not find much favor in England, some of the London newspapers declaring that while the British are confident of their ability to keep the Germans out of London, they are not prepared to keep them out of Paris or eject them if they got in. The Standard argues strongly against an alliance, declaring that Britain has gone as far as she can.
The existing understanding, though definite, is contingent. An alliance would mean that war was coming or seemed to be coming upon one or other
of the powers.

Whether or not there is a desire on the part of either nation to seek still closer ties with the other, the mere suggestion of the Temps is full of significance. It is not so long ago that Britain was known to the French
as a "perfidious Albion," and a British diplomat was complaining of French
"pin-pricks." The violence of the pro-Boer war agitation by France
during the war in South Africa was dreaded of predicting even ordinary amiability in Anglo-French relations.
Today these nations are holding a joint exhibition of their respective products, and their rulers have visited each other, while the masses have cheered and applauded.

To Canada, one-third of whose population is of French origin, the friendly relations between the two mother
countries are of no mean importance.
Canada has just concluded a trade treaty with France, the benefits of which will be far-reaching. But that France's friendship for Britain extends to her eldest daughter, is further shown by the fact that the republic has decided to take part in the celebration at Quebec next month.

While the French are willing to forget the defeats of long ago, the English are found as ready to honor French heroes and pioneers as their own, and to recognize the achievements and services of the past, no matter whether of their own sons or of former enemies.

Racetrack gambling has been prohibited in New York State. Evidently it had not the social pull of the Woodbine.

This was the first provincial election in 35 years in which the Conservative party had the patronage in its own hands. And it must have been a factor in the result.

Rev. Dr. Carman thinks the Whitney Government will be so grateful for its big majority that it will drop the three-fifths clause. This does more credit to the worthy doctor's faith
than his foresight.

The Canadian Medical Association
regards county sanatoria for con-sumptives as the best method of fighting the plague. The county of Middlesex would have fallen in line
but for the pique of a certain politician.

The Montreal Star is after George E. Foster's scalp, but Foster can only be squelched by his constituents. The fact that he was unanimously renominated by North Toronto Conservatives
after the revelations before the insurance commission is one of the disgraces of Canadian politics.

Mr. Monteith still holds the portfolio of agriculture, and administers the department. This course is perfectly regular, but Hon. John Dryden was hounded by his opponents because he continued to act as minister of agriculture during the period between his defeat in South Ontario and his recovery of the seat.

A DOUBT.

[Hillegende Blatter.] Madam (to the nursemaid who has just brought home her four children from a walk)—Dear me, Anna, how changed the children look since I last saw them! Are you quite sure they are the right ones?

THE UTILITY OF CHILDREN.

[Lancet.]
Evidence has been given by the police that children are frequently hired in order
that they may be taken out with organs,
that the usual rate of payment for them
is sixpence a day, and that they have practically supplanted monkeys for the purpose.

TO CUT A DASH.

[Houston Post.]
If you would join
The social whirl,
Or win a most
bewitching girl,
Or be kowtowed to Every day,
And deferred to
In every way,
You need not have
A family tree,
Nor be a wise guy,
No, sirree!
All that you need
To cut a dash
Is plenty of
The cold hard cash.

THE TRAINING.

[Chicago Record-Herald.]
"They say he married a trained nurse."
"Yes. Now he is getting the training."

AN "UPPER BERTH."

[President Hadley, in Yale Alumni
Weekly.]
A professor in the University of Berlin
who came over here a year ago was much surprised the first time when he traveled in a sleeping car to be asked by the porter for his berth ticket. "My berth ticket?" he said. "I have my passport, I have my letter of credit, and I have even in my trunk my certificate of vaccination; but why the railroad company should want my berth ticket I do not see."
"But," said the porter, "I must know whether you have upper or lower berth."
"Upper, of course," said the German.
"Look at my passport; does it not say,
'Well and highly born?'"

JAMES BRYCE POETIZED.

[Current Literature.]
Canon Rawnsley is thought to have put James Bryce the man, James Bryce the home ruler, James Bryce the scholar.
James Bryce the administrator, and James Bryce the agitator of the eastern question into this sonnet:

Friend of fair freedom, lover of the light
You who have climbed unconquered
wastes of snow
And seen the peaks of Oberland aglow
When all the valleys were purple-dark with night
Did not the vision from your morning light
Help the great hopes within you—you who know
Peace yet in far Armenian fields shall grow
Bulgaria rest and Macedonia have right?
To other heights you climb, the thankless throne
Of office and the pinnacle of state.
Shall not that vision tell of dawn to be
When love shall flow where roars a sundering sea.
When tireless years of good shall vanquish hate,
And Erin's heart with Britain's heart be one?

CANADA WATCHING IM-

MIGRANTS.
[Chicago Record-Herald.]
Perhaps the immigration of well-to-do
American farmers has "spelled" the Dominion. At any rate, it is going to be very particular henceforth, even if the effect of its restrictions be to check perceptibly the movement of emigrants Cana-dianward. Americans who return via Canadian report rigid examinations and inspection of all arrivals, not excepting first-class passengers. There is no laxity in Canadian enforcement of law.

NO USE BOTHERING.

An engineer from Sunderland was spending a few days in London with a friend,
and after a busy morning sight-seeing the Londoner chose a large restaurant for luncheon, thinking it would be a novel experience for the man from the north.

The visitor appeared to enjoy his luncheon, but kept looking in the direction of the "eye on me" sign.
"What are you watching?" asked his friend, rather annoyed.
"Well," was the quiet reply, "A's keep-
in' an eye on me topeest!"
"Oh, don't bother about that," said the other. "You don't see me watching mine."
"No," observed the guileless engineer,
"there has no call to it. It's ten minutes since I came in."

TOO MUCH COMPATIBILITY.

[Washington Star.]
Compatibility is evidently as dangerous
as the incompatibility of temperament
on which so many divorces are granted. The story is told of a girl, who,
after listening to a young man's proposal,
answered:
"No, James, I cannot marry you."
James looked frightened, hurt, displeased.
"Why not?" he asked.
"There is too much compatibility of temperament about us, James," said the girl, her lip curling with faint scorn.
"Too much compatibility? But isn't that a good thing?" asked the puzzled young man.
"Not always," she answered. "For instance, judging from the size of your income, if we were married I should not doubt but insist, from motives of economy, of dispensing with a servant and doing my own housework, and in your compatibility, James, you would undoubtedly let me do it."

People Say Farewell To Archbishop
His Grace Left for Queen City TodaySt. Peter's Cathedral Filled To Overflowing Last Night.

St. Peter's Cathedral was crowded to the doors last evening on the occasion of the farewell ceremonies attending the departure of His Grace Archbishop McEvay who left today for Toronto.

It is understood that a meeting of the bishops was held this afternoon
to select a bishop for London.
The installation ceremonies of the archbishop will take place in Toronto
next Wednesday and a special C. P.
R. train will take the people from London.

At the public farewell last night
people from all over the diocese were present.

The cathedral was beautifully decorated for the occasion, especially around the altar where flowers and candles were in profusion.
His Grace Archbishop McEvay administered the benediction of the Blessed Sacrament for the last time in London, and was assisted in the ceremony by Father McKeown, a deacon and Father O'Neil as sub-deacon.

This was followed by the reading of an address from the separate school board read by Mr. Frank Forristal, chairman of the board.

The Address.

The address was as follows:
"London, Ont., June 11, 1908.
"Most Reverend Fergus Patrick Mc-
Evay, Archbishop of Toronto.
"Your Grace—The members of the Roman Catholic Separate School Board of the city of London wish to offer their sincere and hearty congratulations upon your elevation to the high position of archbishop of Toronto.
While doing so, we may be permitted to refer to the great work you have accomplished in educational matters since you came to London. New schools have been built and every school has been added to and equipped
and made modern in every particular.
The revenues during your administration, have almost doubled and school sites and buildings are a credit
not only to our people but to the city.
Through your inspiration, a great impetus has been given to higher education, as proven by the large number of our former pupils who have graduated from and those now attending Assumption College, of Sandwich, St. Michael's College of Toronto, the Grand Seminary of Montreal and various other institutions of learning."

"No request of ours for advice or financial assistance was ever denied,
but on the contrary every proposal for improvement to schools met with your hearty co-operation and assistance."

"While we congratulate the city of Toronto upon the choice of the Holy Father in selecting your grace as spiritual head of the archdiocese, we sincerely regret your removal from our midst."

"That your grace may be long spared to exert your great influence on behalf of Catholic education is the earnest prayer of the Separate School Board of the city of London."
Signed on behalf of the board,
"FRANK FORRISTAL,
Chairman.
"B. C. McCANN,
Trustee.
"M. O. SULLIVAN, Secretary."

Address From Congregation.

The farewell address from the members of the congregation was read by Mr. T. J. Murphy and signed by Senator Cotey.
It was as follows:
"Most Reverend Fergus Patrick Mc-
Evay, D.D., Archbishop of Toronto:

and devotion to duty in looking after
the interests of the Catholic schools;
and, considering the harmony existing between the board and the clergy and the earnest teachers and the parents, my share of work was always easy and pleasant.

"Trustees are chosen by the Catholic ratepayers to help the Catholic Church to put into practice the great work of Catholic education. The Divine Master told the church to 'go and teach,' and the trustees share in that glorious work, which promises
the little ones for time and eternity.
"One thing is wanting in this parish, namely, a proper hall in which to assemble the children, but that is now being started, and I am sure every Catholic man and woman in this congregation will generously help
the zealous rector in building a hall
in keeping with the rest of the magnificent church property on this block. I am aware that several members of the congregation desired to give the new archbishop a purse on this occasion, but in view of your generosity in the past, I did not accept. However, I have no objection to your adding that amount to your subscription for the Parish Hall.

"I desire to thank the members of the St. Vincent de Paul Society for the charitable work they do, and the
C. M. B. A. and the C. O. F. All Catholic societies should remember that the most perfect society on earth is the Catholic Church, and it follows that the closer the societies keep to that church the more perfect they will be, and the farther away they get the more imperfect they become.
Here, I am glad to say, these societies
keep the rules of the church, and their own constitutions, and while they do that they may expect God to bless them and to make them prosperous."

"I take this occasion also to thank the citizens of London and all the non-Catholics in this diocese for many acts of courtesy on several occasions, and I wish to express my gratitude to the press in all parts of the diocese, for
as a rule the newspapermen treated me with the respect and the honor due to the office of a bishop. In a word, my life in London diocese has been a pleasant one, and I am thankful for it,
and cannot do better than close with the beautiful prayer of Cardinal Newman, who wrote:
"May he (our Blessed Lord) support
us all the day long, till the shades lengthen, and the evening comes, and the busy world is hushed, and the fever
of life is over, and our work is done.
"Then in his mercy may he give us a safe lodging, and a holy rest, and peace at the last! Amen."

THE CRIMSON BLIND

BY FRED M. WHITE

CHAPTER XLVI.

Littimer's Eyes Are Opened.
Lord Littimer sat on the terrace, shaded from the sun by an awning over his deck-chair. From his expression he seemed to be at peace with all the world. His brown, eager face had lost its usually keen, suspicious look; he smoked a cigarette lazily, his hand resting on his knee.

As a matter of fact, there was nothing of her to do. Littimer had already tired of his lady secretary idea, and had Chris not interested and amused him he would have found some means to get rid of her before now.

But she did interest and amuse and puzzle him. There was something charmingly reminiscent about the girl. She was like somebody he had once known and cared for, but for the life of him he could not think who. And when curiosity sometimes got the better of good breeding, Chris would half-fie him in the most engaging manner.

"Really, you are an exceedingly clever girl," he said.

"In fact, we are both exceedingly clever," Chris replied, coolly. "And yet nobody is ever quite so clever as he imagines himself to be. Do you ever make mistakes, Lord Littimer?"

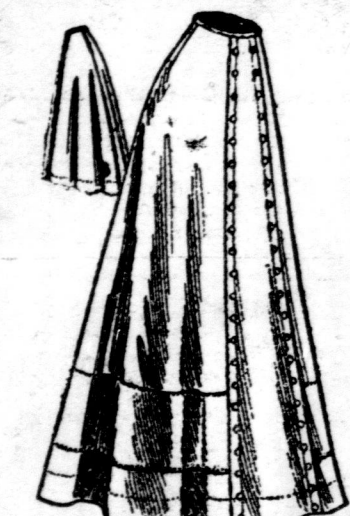

"Sometimes," Littimer said, with a touch of cynical humor. "For instance, I married some years ago. That was bad. Then I had a son, which was worse."

"At one time you were fond of your family?"

"Well, upon my word, you are the only creature I ever loved as much as the audacity to ask me that question."

come together again, and that is why he came here at night to see your Rembrandt. And yet you trusted that man blindly all the time your own son was suffering on mere suspicions. How blind you have been!"

"I'm blind still," Littimer said, curtly. "My dear young lady, I admit that you are making out a pretty strong case; indeed, I might go farther and say that you have all my sympathy. But who you say would not be taken as evidence in a court of law. If you produce that ring, for instance—but that is at the bottom of the North Sea."

Chris took a small cardboard box from her pocket, and from thence produced a ring. It was a ruby ring with black pearls on either side, and had some inscription inside.

"Look at that," she said. "It was sent to me today—by my—by a friend of mine. It is the ring which Reginald Henson shows to Lady Littimer when he wants money from her. It was lost by Henson a night or two ago, and it fell into the hands of someone who is interested, like myself, in the exposure and disgrace of Reginald Henson."

Littimer examined the ring carefully. "It is a wonderfully good imitation," he said, presently.

"So I am told," said Chris. "So good that it must have actually been copied from the original. Now, how could Henson have had a copy made unless he possessed the original? Will you be good enough to answer me that question, Lord Littimer?"

Littimer could do no more than gaze at the ring in his hand for some time.

"I could have sworn—indeed, I am ready to swear—that the real ring was mine from the day that Frank was a year old till it disappeared. Of course, scores of people had looked at it, Henson amongst the rest. But how did Claire Carfax—"

"Easily enough. Henson had a first copy made from a description. I don't know why; probably he shall never know why. Probably he had it done when he knew that your son and Miss Carfax had struck up a flirtation. It was his idea to forge a letter from Frank to Miss Carfax, enclosing the ring, so that means he hoped to create a mischievous impression, if it had been nipped in the bud, could never have been traced to him. As matters turned out he succeeded beyond his wildest expectations. He had got the real ring, too, which was likely to prove a very useful thing in case he ever wanted to make terms. A second and a faithful copy was made—the copy you hold in your hands—to hold temptingly over Lady Littimer's head when he wanted large sums of money from her."

"The scoundrel! He gets the money, of course?"

"He does. To my certain knowledge he has had nearly £70,000. But the case is in good hands. You have only to wait a few days longer and you see, I have wound his accomplice, the Rev. James Merritt, round my finger. Of course, the idea of getting up a bazaar has all been nonsense. I am only waiting for a little further information, and then Merritt will feel the iron hand under the velvet glove. Unless I am greatly mistaken, Merritt can tell us where Prince Rupert's ring is. Already Van Sneek is in our grasp."

"Van Sneek! Is he in England?"

"He is. Did you read that strange case of a man being found half-murdered in the conservatory of Mr. Steel, the novelist, in Brighton? Well, that was Van Sneek. But I can't tell you any more at present. You must wait and be content."

"Tell me one thing, and I will wait as long as you like. Who are you?"

Chris shook her head, merrily. "A great relief had been taken off her mind. She had approached a delicate and difficult matter, and she had succeeded beyond her expectations. That she had shaken the man opposite her sorely was evident from his face. The hardness had gone from his eyes, his lips were no longer bitter and cynical. "I may have been guilty of a great wrong," he murmured. "All these years I may have been living under a misapprehension. And you have told me what I should never have suspected, although I have never had a high opinion of my dear Reginald. Where is my wife now?"

"She is still at Longdon Grange. You will notice a great change in her, a great and sorrowful change. But it is not too late to—"

Littimer rose and went swiftly towards the house, but any other time the action would have been idle, but the action was understood. She had touched the man to the bottom of his soul, and he was anxious to hide his emotion.

"Poor man," Chris murmured. "His hard cynicism conceals a deal of suffering. But the suffering is past; we have only to wait patiently for daylight now."

Chris rose restlessly in her turn and strolled along the terrace to her favorite spot looking over the cliffs. There was nobody about; it was very hot there. The girl removed her glasses and pushed back the bandied hair from her forehead. She had drawn a photograph from her pocket which she was regarding intently. She was quite heedless of the fact that somebody was coming along the cliffs towards her. She raised the photograph to her lips and kissed it tenderly.

"Poor Frank," she murmured. "Poor fellow, so weak and amiable. And yet with all your faults—"

Chris paused, and a little cry escaped her lips. Frank Littimer, looking very wild and haggard, stood before her.

"I beg your pardon," he began. "I came to see you because—"

The words died away. He staggered back, pale as the foam beating on the rocks below, his hand clutching at his left side as if there was some mortal pain there.

"Chris," he murmured. "Chris, Chris, Chris! And they told me—"

He could say no more, he could only stand there trembling from head to foot, fearful lest his mocking senses were making sport of him. Surely, it was some beautiful vision he had come upon. With one unsteady hand he touched the girl's sleeve; he pressed her warm red cheeks with his fingers, and with that touch his manhood came back to him.

WERE GUESTS OF CANADIAN PACIFIC

Canadian Medical Association
Delightfully Entertained at Caledonia Springs.

Ottawa, June 10.—The members of the Canadian Medical Association and their friends to the number of about 300 were the guests of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company this afternoon and were taken in a special train to Caledonia Springs, the well-known health resort near Ottawa, where they were entertained at a luncheon in the company's hotel there and shown innumerable other courtesies. The medical men who were the objects of the hospitality speak in glowing terms of the kindness shown them and are loud in their praise of the springs as a health resort. During the luncheon, Sir James Grant and Dr. F. Montisambert, president of the Medical Association, expressed appreciation of the action of the Canadian Pacific in giving the members an opportunity of visiting a place of such interest and beauty as Caledonia Springs and bespoke the concern of the profession in its development.

The train that carried the doctors on the excursion reached its destination at 1:30 p.m. The visitors were escorted to the hotel recently erected by the company and were shown the many features of interest in the immense area that is the rarest of beauty spots. The hotel, a building of palatial dimensions and great external beauty, was the object of deep admiration.

With its outlook over a region of varied scenery, its surroundings of sweeping lawn, tennis court, croquet grounds, spacious verandas, magnificently furnished reception room, exquisite dining hall and its general completeness of appointment is an ideal place of summer residence. At the disposal of guests every convenience has been placed, and what man has not done, nature has. The hotel accommodates 200 persons. It is set in the heart of a park of gentle dells and sloping mounds of grass and level field, scenery that is restful in its effect upon the mind. Closely adjacent to the hotel are the famous Caledonia Sulphur Springs and baths. The visitors who summers there may without the slightest difficulty obtain a most healthful beverage.

Of the medicinal value of the water with its saline and sulphurous qualities the highest opinion is expressed. The baths, too, are of inestimable importance. The water is heated and every facility for its use has been devised. The visitors showed the deepest interest in the baths and the spring and numerous expressions of confidence in their value were heard.

The luncheon constituted a most delightful affair. No pains had been spared by the company to meet every wish of their guests. The menu would have done credit to the most elaborate banquet feast, and all details were attended to as only the Canadian Pacific can arrange.

In reply to the thanks of the Medical Association for the kindness of the company, Mr. Lagene, assistant manager of the hotel department, welcomed the doctors to the springs, and mentioned the work of development that is proceeding to make it a perfect resort.

A most interesting feature of the afternoon's outing was a visit to the bottling works where Caledonia water is prepared for distribution.

Many comments were made by the doctors on the work which the company is doing in Caledonia Springs; a most desirable health resort. In connection with the hotel a farm of 200 acres is cultivated.

The excursion returned to Ottawa at 6 p.m., and the members of the Medical Association bow to the courtesy and unbounded kindness of the Canadian Pacific.

SCHOOL PICNIC A BIG SUCCESS

rosy-cheeked children. So impressed was he with this fact that he referred to it in nearly all his public addresses. He would have found texts for many sermons on this theme had he been at the picnic yesterday, for a brighter, healthier, happier bunch of kiddies could not be found.

Did they have a good time? There was not a dull minute from the time they rose from their cots yesterday morning until they were tucked away at night.

The Fun Begins. Early in the morning they started for Springbank.

They sang and cheered and jibed their elders on their way down to their heart's content.

Every street car load seemed bigger and noisier than the rest. At noon, the park was swarming with the children, and there were soon eagerly engaged in their contests.

The liberal prize list gave the different schools plenty of opportunity for competition of all kinds, and the prizes were widely distributed.

At 1 o'clock the "grown-ups" took it into their heads to go to town, and from that time until well on in the afternoon, there were immense crowds of grown-up youngsters on their way to have a real holiday with the "kiddies."

For real, downright enjoyment, the average man prefers the school picnic to any other, and the crowd of elders was larger than ever.

Shortly after 1:30 the programme, when the lunches had been disposed of, was in full swing.

The Programme. The schools were divided and each school given a section. The large Springbank grounds were scarcely large enough to hold the immense throng.

Many of the larger boys tired of the contests, and went down to the river, and fished or had a swim or some pebbles in the water.

Some got trophies for their chase, one boy leading home a half-dozen large carp to prove to his fond parents that he was an angler worthy to be a disciple of Frank Walton.

The whole scene was a panorama of beauty, and was one long to be remembered.

The school games were as interesting as usual. The competition in every class was keen. There were many miniature Longhorns unearthed, and the speed shown was great.

Races were on the programme for every sort of person, even to a race for the staid lady school teachers, and they raced well.

The Feature. The great feature of the afternoon's sport was the baseball match between the "Mas" and "Pas".

Such a game it was. But about the costumes!

The "Mas" were dressed in a becoming "Mother Hubbard" dress, trimmed with real Honiton lace a la Princess. That is as near as the writer can get to it, but it must be admitted that the "Mas" were things of beauty and a nightmare for ever. They made Joseph's well-known raiment look as quiet as a Quaker's dress.

The "Pas" were becomingly gowned in overalls, with straw hats perched rakishly over the north eye. The color scheme was blue, while the playing was lurid.

When the demon athletes appeared clothed in devilish garments, the band led them to the scene of mortal combat. They paraded the ground and gave the girls a treat, when Umpire "Tommy" Gillean, the worst umpire in captivity, assigned them their places.

The word assigned is used advisedly here, as the players, with few exceptions, knew where they were going.

Ex-Ald. Gillean. Umpire Gillean's garment was a far-fetched creation. It looked like a cross between a summer suit and a dressing case, but it went all right. The demon athletes lined up as follows:

"Mas"—Ma Copeland, c.; Ma Bryant, p.; Ma Edwards, 1b.; Ma Brown, 2b.; Ma Campbell, s.; Ma Wyatt, 3b.; Ma Snelgrove, l. f.; Ma Althouse, c. f.; Ma Walker, r. f.

"Pas"—Pa Downing, 2b.; Pa Stuart, 1b.; Pa Muggan, p.; Pa Graham, 3b.; Pa Overholt, r. f. and p.; Pa Taylor, c. f.; Pa Riddle, c.; Pa Hamilton, 2b.; and Pa McVicar, r. f.

A Pitching Duel. My, such a game. It developed into a pitching duel between "Rube Waddell" Bryant, the demon south-paw, and "Christie Matthews" Muggan, the celebrated smoke ball artist. Ma Bryant lasted longer than the other demon pitcher. Pa Muggan was driven to the stables in the fourth innings on account of some tall hitting by the enemy, and a tired feeling. He was succeeded by Pa Overholt, who lasted one round. Pa Downing was then put in, but the Mas whaled his salivated slants to the meadows beyond.

The most marvelous work of the afternoon was done by Ma Snelgrove, who made a three-base slam and stole home while Pa Graham was blaming the rest of the contingent for playing ball so badly.

A Brilliant Play. The most brilliant play of the day was when Ma Brown, by an almost superhuman effort, dived deep into the hay, grabbed the sliding liner, touched second, and by a great throw, beat the fast, but perspiring, Pa Graham at the bag. This was a play.

Ma Edwards, at first, was very graceful, but had on a beautiful pair of overalls, but all he caught was his breath.

Pa Graham was strong on adjectives, but his fielding average was .923. Pa Taylor struck out more often than any person else, and did some great springing to the lunch counter.

Pa Muggan was a great pitcher, but he went to the well once too often. Ma Copeland received for the winners. He was strong on receiving the curves of the demon southpaw, but long on receiving the compliments of the ladies.

Pa Downing looked like a real ball player, and it was rumored that he would be heavily fined for even looking like a player.

Umpire Gillean's work was as faultless as the playing. His voice showed signs of wear after the first minute or two, but he managed to keep on shouting until the going down of the sun.

The Score. The score was as follows: R. H. E. Mas.....023555—18 23 13 Pas.....024502—11 7 9

Batteries—Bryant and Copeland; Muggan, Overholt, Downing and Riddle.

The Baby Show. The next greatest feature was the baby show. The one mistake made was in this show. It should have been earlier in the afternoon.

There was a large number of babies on the grounds early in the afternoon, but they became restless, and the larger part of them were taken home before the show took place.

When they did line up there were only six babies shown.

They were a good lot, were these kiddies, and Judges E. J. MacRobert and Rev. D. S. Hamilton had a hard time coming to a decision.

They gave a judgment worthy of Solomon, however.

Two youngsters were tied for first place, James W. Wootton, West London, and Mary Louise Wyatt, daughter of Principal Wyatt, of the Wortley road school.

The other four babies—Alfred Oatridge, of the Pine Line road; Wilfred Downing, Wilson avenue; Jack Black, 491 Horton street, and Ralph Williams, Kensington street, were adjudged even for second place.

Every child received a prize from the chairman of the board of education, Hon. C. S. Hyman, an interested spectator of the games in the afternoon.

The Seventh Regiment Band, under the leadership of Bandmaster Slatyer, rendered an excellent programme of music during the day.

LEBENSBERGER'S FINE PITCHING HOLDS HAMILTON TO FOUR

London's New Slabman Hands Out a Fine Line of Twirling and Makes Good By Defeating the Fast Hamilton Team Four to Three.

The Londoners did it to the Tigers yesterday across the creek, but it took ten rounds to turn the trick, and there were times when a bet either way looked like counterfeit greenbacks. Four to three was the official score, and if one were to judge by the number of bingles made by the local boys and the host of misplays laid down to the Tigers, the score should have been much larger. However, one Long, Hamilton's slacker, had a faculty of pitching himself out of holes, disconcerting to the ambitious locals. He received poor support, however, and had to do almost everything himself.

"Leibs" a Good One. On the other hand, London's new rubber artist, Lebensberger, made good with a vengeance, holding the visitors down to four hits, and in only one session did they double on him. Misplayed played no small part in Hamilton's run-getting, and our own "Nig" made a very costly miff in the third, almost allowing the Tigers their first tally. A gift, a two-bagger and a single, together with an error by Dauber at the plate, gave the Tigers three in the third. After that they played the part of spectators as far as run-getting was concerned. Lebensberger shot them over from all directions, and he apparently had a little of everything that was good in the curve line. Leib has been dubbed "Rube Waddell," but he failed to go astray yesterday.

Jeffries Starts Scoring. It was the toughest kind of work for the locals to score, and time after time they were left two and three on the bases. Timely hitting, though, in the third, fifth and sixth innings, coupled with misplays on the part of the Tigers, enabled them to tie the score, and in the tenth, "Nig" Jeffries scored Keenan by slugging to right, after the latter had reached his base in the same manner and had gone up on an error in center.

DAVY BOLE, London's speedy hockey and rugby player, who leaves today to take up his residence in Winnipeg. Bole is one of the most popular boys who ever sported a skate or a rugby outfit in this city, and his loss will be deeply regretted. Ever earnest in his efforts to bring about a victory for the home team, he was always fair and square in his play, and he numbered among his friends his opponents in every place he has played.

FINE EXHIBITION AT TWILIGHT MEET

Close hand-apping and good fields made the twilight athletic meet at Queen's Park last night a splendid event, and those who attended were treated to a fine exhibition of athletics. In one event, the five mile, the hand-apping was off, Chapman, the winner, having been given 200 yards over Ashford, who started from scratch and finished a half second behind. The final event will be run off tonight, and as the admission fee is but 10 cents, it is thought that a large attendance should be good.

Last night's results: 100 yards dash—Vincent Adams (3 yards), 1:10; Bert Marsh (6 yards), 2:10; Elmer George (5 yards), 2:10; Elmer George (4 yards), 4:10; 1 mile—11:20. Half-mile championship—R. O. Campbell (scratch), 1:10; Clark Meyers (50 yards), 2:10; Bert Simmons (50 yards), 3:10; Pyman (25 yards), 4:10; W. B. Brady (20 yards), 5:10. 200 yards—Vincent Adams (6 yards), 1:10; J. Sweeney (scratch), 2:10; Elmer George (10 yards), 3:10; E. Adams (8 yards), 4:10. Time, 24 seconds. Five-mile run—Wallace Chapman (200 yards), 1:10; R. Ashford (20 yards), 2:10; Pyman (150 yards), 3:10; Time, 25:05.

THE SCORES IN THE BIG LEAGUES

Results of the Contests in the American, National and Eastern.

DETROIT, June 11.—In a game chiefly characterized by fast, clever play and undeniably good pitching by Eddie Willett, the Tigers again trounced the Highlanders yesterday, this time by a score of 3 to 1. Willett was very much present as one of the stars in a contest lasting but one hour and twenty minutes. At all stages of the game he had the New Yorkers on his staff and in the fourth inning he showed to particularly good advantage, pitching himself out of a deep, deep hole.

During the first four innings it looked as if Jack Chesbro had the Tigers on the run. In that time not a hit was given by Willett, and delivery and he appeared awfully good. But in the fifth a double by Cobb followed by a sacrifice by Jones and a short hit by Kilfiter, gave the Highlanders a lead. In the sixth New York opened with a safe bunt by Keeler, Chase sacrificed and Ball fell to Schmidt. The crowd breathed easier, only to have Stahl single center and score "Wee Willie." In Detroit's half, however, O'Leary opened with a double to right. Willett sacrificed and McIntyre walked. Schaefer then sent a long sacrifice fly to Hemphill and O'Leary scored easily.

From that time on Willett held the Highlanders powerless. Keeler's hit in the eighth, which made the fourth he got in as many times at bat, was the only hit off Willett after the sixth inning. In the eighth Detroit also copped the extra run.

O'Leary again opened with a single. Willett tried to sacrifice, but popped to Conroy. McIntyre followed with a single to left, Charley going to second. Schaefer forced McIntyre, Niles to Ball, but O'Leary got to third. Crawford contributed a single to right. O'Leary sacrificed and McIntyre scored. Willett's ninth was the fourth. He started it by walking Hemphill, Keeler tried to sacrifice, but beat the bunt. Chase also walked and the bases were full. Ball grounded to Crawford and Sam right there showed his class as a first-sacker by nabbing Hemphill at the plate. Conroy grounded to the box and was an easy out. Willett may have gone up in the air when last year, but he never has been over anything on his steady-ness yesterday.

Two of the stellar plays of the game were long runs by Jones and McIntyre. Stahl filed in the second and Davy Bole made a grand running catch, setting the ball back of second. In the eighth, Hemphill filed to short left and McIntyre did a sprint that put him in the ten-seconds class and won out. Taken as a whole the game was a blessed relief from the lazy affairs of some time past. The whole team showed lots of ginger. The fact that the contest was errorless speaks for itself.

Friday is Flag Day. President Navin announced at the close of the game that Donovan will pitch. Ban Johnson has restored "the smile" to favor that he may work on the big day for the 1907 pennant winners. But the mighty Ban did not lift the suspension resting on Jennings. The game little Irishman, who came to Detroit last season and won a pennant for the town, will not be allowed on the field today unless the league president relents and comes through this morning. Johnson is in a fair way to make himself everlastingly unpopular in this man's town unless he mends his ways this forenoon. The score:

SHORT-HANDED crews will be common today in St. Thomas. The couplingpin throwers will all be out to the game.

THERE IS MUCH TALK of moving the Niagara Falls Park nearer to the city. Why not take it into Buffalo, where there are some fans?

GUELPH CAN NOW GO BACK to City League ball. One reason why that variety is popular there is that the hat is passed around, and those who don't want to donate don't have to. Judging by the more who don't want to than there are that do.

THE FOLLOWING OBITUARIES are offered by the Guelph sporting scribes: The Mercury: It has come at last—the long-expected, and long expected tearing away of the Guelph International from a reluctant public. Manager Murray has decided that the task of separating enough quarters from local followers to make both ends meet is too strenuous for him. The ten paid admissions at yesterday's double-header was the last straw. After the game, the books were closed, the ticket was locked up and the team started in to pack. They will play no more in Guelph.

The Herald: Manager Jack Murray, of the late Guelph team in the International League, paid a farewell visit to this office this morning. He explained, as the Guelph public all know, that it was an impossibility to run a team on the support that the Royals had been receiving, for on almost every game the club has lost about $50.

He stated that the transfer of the franchise was in no way due to the lack of support by the press of the city, for they had rendered him every assistance possible. He was sorry that they were going away, for the boys had made many friends here, and were sorry to leave.

THERE IS MUCH CAUSE for satisfaction in the transfer of the Guelph team to St. Thomas. We can wallop the Caboose Riders more frequently now.

LOCAL HOCKEY FANS will be sorry to learn that Davy Bole, the crack center man, is leaving today to take up his future residence in Winnipeg. Bole was one of the best boys that ever stepped on local ice, and was an excellent rugby player as well. He will return next week to give his whole time and attention to local affairs in the baseball world.

THE LOSS OF BOLE, coupled with the fact that Jay Thompson, of the London defense, is also residing in the west, will cripple the local intermediate team considerably.

IT IS DOUBTFUL if a more popular list was ever made on local sports.

MUST TAKE HIS CHOICE If Will Not Repair a Great Wrong Will Be Sent to Prison.

Woodstock, Jan. 11.—Judge Finkle, of Oxford, wherever possible tempers justice with mercy. On Tuesday afternoon Thos. Anderson, a young man whose home has been in Tillsonburg, came before him charged with highway robbery. The crown alleged that a few months ago he, with three others, conspired to rob John Bole, a farmer, on his way home from the town. Two of the men were promptly arrested and sentenced to terms at Kingston. The crown claimed that while Anderson had no actual part in the robbery, he knew it was coming off, and was guarding the road.

In addressing the jury Mr. W. C. Brown, of Tillsonburg, most pathetically told of Anderson's old mother waiting down on the farm for his return, and of his wife, who was also waiting, just about to be come a mother. This was a surprise, as previously Anderson had said he was a single man. The jury was out, and in a few minutes returned with a verdict of guilty. In the meanwhile Judge Finkle had questioned the chief of police of Tillsonburg, and found that the girl is not the man's wife.

The judge sent Crown Attorney Ball to the prisoner with a proposition, which was that if he would marry the girl, the sentence would be suspended. The man said he would not, but he was given a chance to think he over. It was not long that he came back with a marriage certificate. The chief of Tillsonburg has instructions to bring him back before Judge Finkle to be sentenced.

SHOT HIS STEP-SON Frank Pikarski Attempts Murder and Suicide at Edmonton.

Edmonton, Alta, June 11.—With a bullet through his body, the bullet entering at the base of his neck and coming out below the left shoulder blade, and blood streaming from his breast and back, Harry Denbicki, a Pole, who lives at 725a Sydney avenue, ran nearly two blocks on Tuesday afternoon to the public hospital. Just as he reached the corner of the building he fell to the ground exhausted. The nurses and others who had been attracted by his shouts, ran to the spot and he was carried into the building.

From the stories of the neighbors and to all appearances the wounded man, who is still alive and may recover, was the victim of a murderous assault by his stepfather, Frank Pikarski, with whom he lived, and with whom he has had frequent quarrels. Two minutes after the first rifle shot rang out, another was heard, and upon investigation the stepfather was found in the left hand of the man at the rear of the lot, with a bullet wound in the left side of his head, but which has no appearance of proving fatal. He had attempted to commit suicide by blowing out his brains after shooting down his stepson.

The asbestos slates of a Munich firm are claimed to be not only waterproof but as hard as steel, as strong as natural slate, so that they can be applied to walls or roof without lathing or boarding. They can be bored, nailed or cut like wood. They make wooden walls fireproof, serve for heat and electric insulation, and protect from damp and vermin.

Big Difference as Compared With the City Rate.

That Chelsea Green residents have it comparatively easy as far as taxation is concerned is very evident.

The tax rate in Chelsea Green is now about 15 mills, whereas it is 22½ mills in the city.

Then the assessment is much lower. A house which would have an assessed value of $2,800 or $3,000 in the city is assessed for about $1,400 or $1,500 in the Green.

Chelsea Green has nearly every accommodation of the city and is but three or four minutes' walk to the street car.

They have a sewerage system for drainage and storm water.

A postoffice is kept in the grocery store and the streets are lighted with electric arc lights which are said to be superior to those in use in the city and which cost but $12 per annum, and no "moonlight schedule."

The school accommodates about sixty pupils, several of whom are preparing for the entrance examination.

There is only one thing lacking in Chelsea, that being gas mains. The average working man does not look for gas, however, and is really as well looked after in Chelsea Green as he would be in the city.

CHELSEA GREEN PEOPLE WOULD LIKE STREET CARS

To Run From Wellington Street to the Green.

A matter which was the cause of much discussion in Chelsea Green some time ago, but which was dropped until recently is street car accommodation for Chelsea Green.

The proposition which has recently been revived is for an extension of the Wellington line across into the Green and up Adelaide street to connect with the Ottawa avenue belt.

Chelsea Green has now practically every accommodation of the city with the exception of street railway service.

Although it is but a few minutes' walk to the Ottawa cars, the residents consider that the street railway would have a paying proposition in a Chelsea Green belt.

Londoners Anxious for Pavements

Petitions for pavements are coming in at almost every meeting of the council and the amount of pavement to be laid this year will be considerable.

Up to date the following pavements have been petitioned for and granted: Dundas street, between Wellington and Adelaide streets.

Queen's avenue between Richmond and Talbot streets.

The Fair Board and the Piano Men

Owing to the action of the Western Fair Board in raising the price of floor space for exhibits at the fair, the local piano merchants are up in arms, and it is said will shortly call a meeting to discuss the matter.

Well-Known Citizen Has a Close Call

The prompt action of a motorman on a Springfield car yesterday afternoon alone saved Mr. A. Somerville, the grocer, who boards at the City Hotel, from death.

The car was running west on York street with a trailer, and was heavily loaded. As it neared Ridout street Mr. Somerville stepped onto the track.

The motorman rang the bell, but

KING STREET EAST WANTS A PAVEMENT

Between Adelaide and Gleebe Streets—Petition in Circulation.

A petition is now in circulation among the residents of King street for a pavement on that thoroughfare between Adelaide and Gleebe streets, or possibly Rectory street.

The street would be greatly improved by a pavement, and it is said that the residents will support the proposition, particularly for an asphalt pavement.

It is also very likely that a petition will be circulated for a pavement on Rectory street and on Gleebe street, between King street and Dundas street.

At any rate the King street pavement petition will be presented to the council as soon as possible, as the aim of the residents is said to be to have the work done by the Barber Company this summer, while their plant is in the city.

PRESENTATION TO MR. HENRY POCOCK

Trustees of Hyatt Avenue Church Appreciate His Efforts.

The board of trustees of Hyatt Avenue Church met at the church last evening and presented Mr. Henry Pocock with a beautiful silver table service.

The presentation was made by Mr. Ball on behalf of the board.

Although greatly surprised Mr. Pocock responded suitably.

In making the presentation Mr. Ball referred to the good work done by Mr. Pocock, particularly while the new church was being erected.

EAST END BAND CONCERT A SUCCESS

Seventh Regiment Musicians Made a Big Hit Last Night.

The band concert given in Queen's Park last night proved a decided hit. There was a large attendance and the programme, provided by the Seventh Regiment Band was excellent.

That the east end appreciates its share of concerts was proven by the large number who attended the concert last night.

KING STREET CHURCH WILL BE ON A NEW SITE.

Presbyterians Are Considering the Erection of a New Edifice.

There has been a rumor going the rounds in the east end recently that the members of King Street Presbyterian Church were considering the erection of a new church.

The present church is rapidly becoming too small to accommodate the increasing membership.

The church debt is decreasing and although nothing definite has been decided on as yet, it is expected that as soon as the present debt is wiped off a new church proposition will be considered.

It is not thought that the new church will be located on the present site, as it is hardly suitable.

EAST END NOTES.

The business of Mr. Coates, the Chelsea Green grocer, has been purchased by Mr. Wright, who is now managing the store and postoffice.

Rev. James Rollins, of King Street Presbyterian Church will preach the preparatory sermon at St. Andrew's Church, Stratford, this evening.

Heretofore the charge for piano exhibits has been $2 each.

Now the fair board proposes to tax the piano men $1 a foot for piano space in the building, and 50 cents a foot extra for the side when corner spaces are used.

The Stanton Case.

Mrs. Bertha Stanton, charged with attempting to commit suicide, was remanded for a week. General sympathy was felt for Mrs. Stanton in court this morning, and it is understood that an effort may be made by the crown to get her to testify against her husband, as it is stated that his treatment of her has been anything but proper.

The police are investigating some stories, which, if it is alleged, will vindicate the woman and expose a condition of terrible immorality to which she has been subjected.

Another Case.

Fred Ashton, charged by his wife with non-support, promised to support her as best he could according to his means.

Mrs. Ashton's chief anxiety seemed to be, however, that Ashton was another woman, and is going to leave her.

EX-ALD. HEAMAN IS PRESIDENT

Of the Coal Dealers' Association—Ontario Convention Ended.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Hamilton, June 12.—Today closes the coal dealers' convention in Hamilton, the members having held their final general meeting last evening, and devoting today to seeing Hamilton and the surrounding country.

At the meeting last evening a surprise was in store for the retiring president, J. C. Hay, the members of the association presenting to him a splendid cabinet of silver, in recognition of his services to the association during the past three years.

Mr. Hay responded feelingly to the address of presentation, being entirely taken by surprise.

Officers Elected. The election of officers took place last evening and resulted as follows: Ex-Ald. Heaman, president; J. M. Peregrine, vice-president; E. M. Trovorn, secretary and treasurer.

A board of directors was also elected, as follows: B. Blair, Woodstock; J. K. McLaughlin, Owen Sound; J. E. A. Fitzgerald, Peterborough; D. B. Jacques, Toronto, and E. Brown, Port Hope.

The main questions discussed at yesterday's meeting were: Reciprocal demurrage, car shortage and the installation of a weighing system on the frontier. The delegates propose to do all in their power to have the railroad install a set of scales on the border, so that all coal coming to dealers of Canada may be weighed before it comes in, thus detecting any shortage.

In regard to the demurrage, the association desires that when their men gain time by unloading more cars than scheduled in an allotted time, this time be credited to them on the overtime lists.

THE PRICE OF MEAT

General Rise Cause of a Debate in the British Commons.

London, June 12.—The retail trade organizations have been notified of a further general rise in the price of meat, the advance being attributed to the shortage of cattle here and the scarcity in America.

In the House of Commons last night several members protested against the board of agriculture's refusal to withdraw the prohibition against the importation of cattle from immediate slaughter from disease-free countries, alleging that this refusal was playing into the hands of the American meat combination.

Mr. Edward Strachey, a representative of the board of agriculture in the House, on behalf of the board, denied that the operations of the so-called meat trust to raise the prices. On the contrary, he said, the policy of the trust in bringing dead meat into the country in preference to live cattle was an economical method, tending to lower the prices.

Sculptured Shrubs.

Mr. S. Baker, of the London Nursery, speaking to The Advertiser today, stated that it would be a good move to have some evergreens trimmed into different shapes in Victoria Park so that the people of London may be able to see what can be done in this line. Sculptured shrubs are very popular in England. There are a few of them in London, but the people do not see much of them.

H. Lincoln, of Mich. Dr. and Mrs. Woodburne and children left immediately for Pontiac. Much sympathy is expressed for Mrs. Woodburne, who so recently returned from India, after nearly eight years' absence.

ARDOR FOR UNION
COOLING DOWN

Presbyterians Far From Being Agreed, Says Dr. Griffin To Toronto Conference.

Toronto, June 11.—At this morning's meeting of the Toronto conference, Rev. T. E. Bartley of this city was elected president. Previously the choice had fallen on Rev. Dr. Solomon Cleaver, who was elected on the first ballot, but the announcement is made that on the advice of his medical attendant he has to decline the honor conferred upon him.

Rev. Dr. Griffin, treasurer of the superannuation fund, told the conference today that the ardor of the Presbyterian brethren for church union seemed to be cooling down. Instead of being unanimous, as formerly, there was now a strong minority in the assembly opposed to proceeding any further with the negotiations. If there is to be a union, there would have to be a great deal of agonizing over the superannuation fund.

The basis proposed by the union committee was absolutely impossible. After he (Dr. Griffin) had expressed his views, no Methodist conference would accept it. He was not fighting union, but was fighting any schemes that would invade the rights of preachers and their widows and orphans. They should not go forward in the dark, not tumble over themselves to have union with the best church on earth if in doing so they destroyed the interests and living of the men who had planted Methodism in this country.

JUNE WEDDINGS

MacGregor—Hanson.

A very quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. E. Hanson, Wheatley, on Wednesday, June 10, when his eldest daughter, Ida Marie, was united in marriage to Mr. Jas. W. MacGregor, under an arch of smilax and snowballs, in the presence of thirty guests. The bride, who was dressed in white duchess satin, trimmed with silk tulle, and carried a bouquet of white roses, entered the parlor to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, played by Miss L. McKay, of London, and was given away by her father. She was attended by her little sister as flower girl, dressed in floral pink voile and carrying pink roses. Four girls preceded the bride, with strands of white satin ribbon, forming an aisle to the altar.

The groom's gift to the bride was a beautiful pearl crescent brooch; to the flower girl a gold bracelet, and to the pianist a pair of gold pins set with turquoise and pearls. The bride's going-away gown was of brown coral-voile, trimmed with passementerie, and wearing a white picture hat.

The out-of-town guests were from Ridgeway, Leamington, Detroit, Comber and London. The bridal couple left on the 5:45 train for eastern points, and on their return will reside on Chestnut avenue.

Smith—Faulls.

A pleasant event took place in St. Thomas Wednesday afternoon, when Mr. Earl Faulls and Agnes Smith, a popular couple, were united in marriage by Rev. H. L. Pidgeon. The bride was charming in a cream voile, over taffeta, and carried roses. The couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Goble, of Springfield. The bride's going-away dress was of navy chiffon broadcloth and pattern hat to match. After a short sojourn at eastern points the young couple will reside in St. Thomas.

Henderson—Nadiger.

A very pleasant event took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Gottfried Nadiger, Dasherwood, Ont., on Tuesday, June 9, at 5 o'clock in the afternoon, when their youngest daughter, Selma, became the bride of Mr. Wm. J. Henderson, a prosperous young carriage painter, of Chatham, played by Miss Ella Henderson, cousin of the groom, the groom took his place in the parlor, beneath a beautiful arch of evergreens and paeonies, assisted by the bride's brother, Mr. Ed Nadiger, the bride following leaning on the arm of her father, and attended by the groom's sister, Miss Rae Henderson, of London. The bride was tastefully attired in point d'esprit white silk, trimmed with duchess lace, and wore a bridal veil caught up with ribbons of the valley, and carried a beautiful bouquet of white carnations and maiden hair ferns. The bridesmaid wore a cream voile, trimmed with overlace and taffeta, ribbon, and carried a handsome bouquet of pink carnations.

After the ceremony the party proceeded to the dining-room, where a sumptuous repast was provided by the host and hostess. The following Thursday the happy couple left for their home in Chatham, where they will reside.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Tune, of Dasherwood, in the presence of a large number of guests from Dasherwood, London, Mount Clemens, Mich., Kalamazoo, Ingersoll, Thornhill, Evelyn, Clinton and many other places.

The splendid array of presents, both beautiful and costly, testified to the high esteem in which the young couple are held.

After tea the remainder of the evening was spent in music and dancing.

THE HEARST RECOUNT.

New York, June 11.—The vote of 502 election precincts out of a total of 1,948 in this city had been counted when court adjourned today to decide whether W. R. Hearst or George B. McClellan was elected mayor of New York in 1905. Mr. Hearst's net gain thus far is 215, of which 27 were added today when the contents of 112 boxes were counted. In some of the boxes opened late in the day Mayor McClellan made greater gains than did Mr. Hearst, both taking votes which had been credited to Irvins, the Republican candidate.

New York police, after a three-weeks' search, have given up the attempt to discover printers and circulators of a circular distributed on the Eastside, calling upon workmen to procure arms and not only help themselves to whatever they need or want, but to kill "the Wall street parasites."

Asserting that man did not live in California at the time of the three-toed horse, and that the claims of early human life in California, made by Professor J. D. Whitney, the anthropologist, are all wrong, Dr. W. J. Sinclair has just issued a bulletin from the University of California that may revolutionize modern anthropological ideas.

UNCLEAN CURRENCY.

It is only the usefulness of money that has caused us to tolerate for so long a circulating medium that is the most unclean thing in modern life. Bread tickets and milk tickets we will not accept after they have been in the homes of other people about whom we know nothing. It has been found necessary to furnish tickets that can be used but once. With bank notes we cannot go so far, but we have a right to demand that they shall not circulate after they have become offensive both to touch and smell.
