MUSKOKA FIRES OUT OF CONTROL

City To Feel Coal Pinch If Mine Suspension Continues

FIRES GAIN HEADWAY IN NORTH

Muskoka Forests Being Swept Down as Winds Fan Flames.

BALA IS MENACED

Moon River Is Used as Break To Save Summer Cottages.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Toronto, Aug. 28.—Forest fires in Muskoka are giving some concern. One in the vicinity of Bala, Ont., is now past control, and should the wind swing to the north, Kimberley Point will almost immediately be in danger, according to a despatch from Bala.

Fifty men have been using the Moon river road as a fire break between the bush fire and cottages along the Mushkosh river. A shift in the wind saved the cottages, according to the fire fighters.

The bush in the neighborhood of Roderick is a smoking desert, the despatch says, after the fire which started northeast of Bala has spread west, and crossed both railway systems.

The Canadian National Railway flag station at Medora was destroyed. A fire break is being established near Beaumaris, Muskoka, one of the best known summer resorts in the province, from where two distinct fires are easily visible, according to the despatch. Should a northwest wind arise, the Indian reservation near Isola, and the town of Bala would also be threatened.

BOOTLEGGERS ARE DETERRED BY JAIL TERM, NOT 4.4 BEER

Jail Cost Low In Middlesex

Governor Byron Dawson is being congratulated on an official report issued from the office of the provincial secretary. In this report, dealing with the cost of prison operation, it is shown that Castle Carter is the second among forty-six in economical operation. At the local institution the daily cost per prisoner for clothing, fuel and food is only 31.6 cents. In contrast to this, one prison is operated at a cost of $2.50 per prisoner. These figures cover the jail year just ended.

Inspector Is Confident Illegal Sale Almost Stamped Out Here.

DRIEST OF PROVINCE

Police Court Statistics Showing Increase of Offences Are Disputed.

If illicit liquor traffic in London has been lessened in the past two months since the advent of 4.4 beer, the new beverage itself is not responsible. Bootleggers' activities have been brought almost to a halt in London, because of the O. T. A. amendment, which calls for a jail term for persons convicted of selling liquor.

This is the opinion of License Inspector Walter Bolton, who is confident that there is less bootlegging in the city at present than in former months, although he will not deny that there is more drinking.

Either local bootleggers are keeping low and covering their business with the utmost caution and secrecy, or they have forsaken the game altogether out of sheer fear of jail, Inspector Bolton believes.

He also states that there has been less drinking of stronger liquor in the city since the new beer was placed on the market, but police court statistics of the past two months reveal that there has been as much if not more drinking, and the liquor consumed has been decidedly "strong."

The intoxicated men who have appeared in court recently have declared themselves victims of rubbing alcohol, lemon extract, home brew, or dispensary liquor. Persons convicted of having bottles of liquor in a public place were seldom in possession of a bootlegger's brand. From these facts Inspector Bolton is convinced that compulsory imposition of a jail term for persons convicted of selling liquor has had much to do with stamping out the illegal sale of liquor locally.

Not since pre O. T. A. days has London been so dry, according to Inspector Bolton. The city has now a reputation in all parts of Ontario for being the "driest of the province." Unlike other cities, Inspector Bolton is assured that there is not a "bar" in London.

FORRESTER FOR TORONTO AND MATTHEWS FOR LONDON JOB

Important Staff Changes For London Division of C.N.R. Are Thought To Be Pending.

Important staff changes in the London division of the C. N. R. are thought to be pending, as the result of the promoting of C. G. Bowker, former central region head to be head of the United States lines.

Charles G. Forrester, superintendent of the London division is likely to go to Toronto to be assistant manager of the central region. The appointment of Mr. Forrester would be an exceedingly popular one with the employees of the railroad. Mr. Forrester is at present in Toronto, and could not be reached to verify the statement this morning.

H. E. Matthews, now divisional manager at St. Thomas would likely be the choice to succeed Mr. Forrester in London, should the contemplated appointment be made.

SEEK CUT IN RATES ON FRUIT

Ontario Department of Agriculture to Back Growers' Appeal.

MARTIN TO ACT

Apples That Go To Consumer For $2.50 Bring Producer 9 Cents Bushel.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Toronto, Aug. 28.—The Ontario department of agriculture will support the application to be made by the Niagara Fruit Growers' Association to the Dominoin railway board for reduction in railway rates on Ontario fruit. Reports of Hon. J. S. Martin, minister of agriculture, alleging excessive freight charges, resulted in the minister's announcement that the department would back the application.

The department is also co-operating with the Ontario Flour Millers' Association in an application to the railway board for reduced grain freight rates, it was learned today.

According to a statement received by Mr. Martin from a fruit shipper near St. Catharines, the gross sale price for twenty bushels of apples sold to a Toronto wholesaler was $11.50, but by the time reductions of $7.60 for freight, 60 cents for cartage and the commission merchant's rate of $1.44 had been deducted, the net amount returned to the grower and shipper was only $1.85—a trifle over nine cents per bushel.

An accompanying letter to the minister stated that the apples were packed in bushel baskets, and were all selected number ones. It was also stated that these varieties of apples were retailing in Toronto upon that day, Aug. 11, at $2.50 per bushel.

In their letter to Chairman H. A. McKeown, of the railway commission, on transportation points out that in its opinion the railway services of Canada are extravagant, and out of proportion to our population.

They claim that the extra cost of providing, too, luxious passenger accommodation causes undue increases in the cost of hauling freight, and the demand is made that the rates on their products particularly be reduced. The committee also complains that the cost of intensive traffic solicitation is added into freight bills, owing to the competition for business between the C. P. R. and the publicly owned lines.

RUM-RUNNING BY AIR IS DENIED

Elgin Inspector Not Agitated by Tale of Lakeshore Operations.

License Inspector Ross of St. Thomas denies emphatically that there is any aerial rum-running from Port Stanley or the lake shore of Elgin county.

"I have been in Port Stanley several times lately, and no trace of rum-running has come to my attention, either in the air or on the water," stated the inspector this morning, when questioned concerning rumors of a fleet of aeroplanes which are alleged to be operating four nights a week between Port Stanley and the American shore.

Residents of Port Stanley, when questioned concerning the rumored activities of a squadron of rum-running aeroplanes, state that the planes flying about Port Talbot engaged in an aerial survey for an American real estate syndicate, probably gave rise to the thrilling rumor.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Hamilton, Aug. 28.—Two small boys, breaking into a disused shed on a deserted section of the mountainside, discovered the lifeless body of an unknown man hanging from the rafters. No clue to his identity was discovered by the police, who, after investigation, declared it a plain case of suicide.

King Ready For Stump

Premier and Cabinet Minister Start On Road Next Week.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Ottawa, Aug. 28.—The early days of September will find several members of the federal cabinet on speaking tours throughout the country. Increasing importance is placed upon Premier King's speech to his constituents in North York on Sept. 5, as it is learned that meetings are to be announced throughout Ontario during the next few weeks. On Sept. 1, Hon. Thomas A. Low, minister of trade and commerce, will address a meeting at Mitchell; on Sept. 1, he will speak at Milton, and on Sept. 4 at Cayuga. Other meetings will be held in Western Ontario during the following week, where the minister will speak.

Premier King will, it is understood, address several meetings after Sept. 5 and before returning to the capital. The itinerary will be announced within the next few days.

PUT TRAFFIC ON UNIFORM PLAN

Union of Canadian Municipalities Will Make Appeal to Ottawa.

Interesting facts and figures regarding traffic conditions in twenty-five of the larger cities of Canada are being included in a report which City Clerk Baker has under preparation for the Union of Canadian Municipalities of which he is Secretary-Treasurer this year. The report, which will be ready to be sent out in the course of a few days will also contain a number of valuable suggestions by mayors of Canadian cities, chiefs of police, commissioners of public safety and others relating to the best methods of dealing with the traffic situation in city streets which becomes each year a more acute problem.

Twenty-five cities sent in full replies to a questionaire sent out by Mr. Baker some time ago. The information thus gathered contains statistics of all accidents fatal and otherwise occurring within the last three years. A feature of the recommendations made is a constantly-recurring reference to the desirability of adopting uniform traffic laws for all the cities of the Dominion. It is likely that as a result of this report the Union of Municipalities will take the question up with the Federal government which in turn will be asked to secure the co-operation of the provincial governments in the adoption of uniform regulations for all the provinces.

Progress is also being made by the organization in securing information on the level crossing problem in Canadian cities, the feasibility of a uniform accounting system for all municipalities and the problem which all Canadian centers are meeting at the present time of newly arrived immigrants becoming a charge on the municipality.

HULL OF THE NANCY WILL BE PRESERVED

Remains of Ancient Craft Are To Be Removed From Notawassage River.

Special to The Advertiser.

Toronto, Aug. 28.—With the idea of preserving the hull of the "Nancy" to posterity and enabling people to see it from time to time, the provincial government has decided to bring it to Toronto from where it is now located on the Nottawasage river and present it to the Canadian National Exhibition to be shown during the fair and at other imes. The hull will not be on view at this year's exhibition, as it will take some time to get it in shape to bring it to Toronto. It is circulated that the cost of removal will be about $2,500.

STOCKHOLDERS RECEIVE ADDITIONAL $4 PAYMENT

Canadian Press Despatch.

Toronto, Aug. 28.—A further payment of $4 per share to stockholders in the Toronto Railway Company was anounced today by D. H. MacDougall, liquidator of the company. This payment brings the total amount per share paid to date $114.

The liquidator has forwarded $480,000 in order to make this extra payment Mr. MacDougall intimates that further distribution of assets will be made when "certain legal proceedings have been finally adjudicated".

NO HURRY TO STAGE CITY "BY"

Premier Ferguson Announces London Contest Date Not Yet Decided.

PROSPECTS LOOM

E. S. Little and A. R. Cairncross Approached by the Liberals.

Interest in the by-election which will be necessary in London to fill the seat in the Ontario legislature, made vacant by the death of Sir Adam Beck, while productive of much gossip and speculation, has not yet resulted in any definite steps being taken by any of the parties to place candidates in the field. There is a feeling in political circles that the date of the by-election is still distant, and this belief is borne out by a despatch to The Advertiser this morning from Toronto in which Premier Ferguson is quoted as saying that he has not given any thought yet to the date of the by-election for London. He indicated that it would not take place for some time.

Labor Men Active.

Members of the Labor party are taking a keen interest in the approaching contest, and an active search is said to be in progress for a suitable candidate to carry the labor banner should a decision be reached to enter the arena. In this connection the name of Ald. Frank McKay has been repeatedly mentioned as one that would be acceptable to practically all members of the party. No move has been made as yet to call a convention for the purpose of placing a candidate in the field, the feeling being that there is still plenty of time for the procedure which may not take place until after the election date has been definitely fixed.

Ald. McKay is non-committal on the subject merely remarking "I will have a hard time filling all the jobs they are finding for me these days" when acquainted with the rumors which have connected his name with the candidacy.

Liberal Prospects.

Activity has been evident among the Liberals of the city who are understood to have approached ex-Mayor E. S. Little and A. R. Cairncross with a view to having their names brought before a convention as Liberal candidate, while the executive of the Conservatives, it is stated on good authority, have agreed to offer nomination to J. P. Moore, vice-president of the London & Port Stanley Railway commission, with E. R. Dennis as a possibility in the event of his being unable for any reason to accept.

The Orange Order, which, smarting under an alleged insult from one of Meighen's followers recently, threatened to place a candidate in the field, have since thought better of the idea, it is stated, and will not be represented. Neither the "wet" nor the "dry" parties of the city has made any move to secure representation as such in the contest.

LONDON SURE TO SUFFER UNLESS THE ANTHRACITE TIE-UP IS SHORT-LIVED

W. A. Martin Believes Strike Will Be Endurance Test and That Local Consumers Will Have To Depend On Substitutes Before Winter Is Over—Bins Well Stocked Now, But Month or Two May Tell Different Story.

SUPPLY AT MINES NOT SUFFICIENT FOR WINTER

Suspension for more than two months of mining operations in the hard coal fields of Pennsylvania will cause an alarming shortage of anthracite coal in London and district, according to local dealers.

Should the strike, which is called for next Tuesday, last until October or November hard coal in cities west of Buffalo will be at a premium, and the scarcity will be felt for many months. There is every indication, dealers believe, that the forthcoming strike will be a test of endurance between the operators and miners, and the western market, centering about London, will be the greatest sufferer.

GOVERNOR NOT TO INTERFERE

Pinchot Will Take No Action to Prevent Suspension at Coal Mines.

Associated Press Despatch.

Chambersburg, Pa., Aug. 28.—Governor Pinchot, who is making an inspection tour of state and state-aided institutions, received word here last night of the decision of the anthracite miners to suspend work Aug. 31, but it brought no statement from him. Today, however, he kept in close touch with the situation, receiving reports from various sources. Those close to Mr. Pinchot expressed the belief he will take no immediate action in the controversy. The date set for the suspension will find him in the bituminous region.

INVOLVES 158,000 MEN.

Associated Press Despatch.

Philadelphia, Aug. 28.—A hard coal suspension Sept. 1 involving 158,000 men and shutting off the favorite fuel of thousands of householders, was called last night by John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers' of America.

"Your scale committee," reads the call made public at the miners' headquarters at the hotel Bellevue-Stratford, "charged with the responsibility of making a new contract, has been unable to arrive at any understanding as affecting wages or conditions of employment to be effective after Aug. 31, 1925. Therefore, our membership in districts Nos. 1, 7 and 9, is advised that no contract being in effect, a suspension of mining will automatically take place at midnight, Monday, Aug. 31, 1925."

Instructions as to retention in the mines of an emergency force to man pumps to prevent flooding and to keep up the workings during the shutdown were held in abeyance, pending a further meeting with the mine owners' here today. A meeting yesterday was deadlock on adjournment, with miners insisting that full shifts of these so-called maintenance men be employed, and with the operators insisting upon the right to cut down where practicable. Any agreement reached today on the question will be broadcast throughout the anthracite region by the union heads in the form of a supplemental suspension order.

Meanwhile, the miners' scale committee, which signed the call, announced it would "continue to use

Substitutes Available.

The outlook for London, however, so far as general heating is concerned, is not extremely critical. Although dealers are decidedly pessimistic concerning the prospects of securing a scant suply of anthracite coal, the city is fortunate in being in a position to purchase high-grade substitutes in case of necessity, and having had experience in former strikes, London is at present supplied with well-stocked bins of anthracite, which will last, it is believed, for several months at least.

Optimistic reports from the anthracite mines tell of a vast supply of coal above ground which will meet demands for the winter months. According to William Martin of the William Martin Coal Co., who has had years of experience in both the producing and retail end of the coal business and who has made a study of the present strike situation, it is ridiculous to suppose that sufficient coal has been mined in Pennsylvania to suffice for the winter months. As much as 7,000,000 tons would have to be above ground to constitute an adequate supply, he declares. From personal knowledge of the hard coal fields he states that that amount is far in excess of any surplus quantity available in Pennsylvania at the present time.

London Likely To Suffer.

It is Mr. Martin's opinion that unless the strike is short lived London and the western market will suffer materially. He points out that in this district only three sizes of coal are used to any extent—egg, stove and chestnut—whereas in the eastern states all sizes are marketed.

"It is a fact, and it is only natural, that when the strike is over the Eastern States will be given a preference by the producers," Mr. Martin said today. "The producers will sell their coal first in districts where there is a market for all sizes from large egg to screanings and consequently the western market, which includes particularly Canada, where three sizes are used almost exclusively, will receive only secondary consideration. The shortage here therefore, will not be relieved for months after the eastern states have received their supply".

Loss on Substitutes.

Numerous strikes and threatened strikes in the hard coal regions of Pennsylvania in the past few years have placed local dealers in a ticklish position. Last year when a lengthy strike was anticipated, London dealers stocked up with substitutes at cost price or less. Their the strike did not endure, however, the dealers lost considerably in being forced to sell the hard coal substitutes at cost price or less. There position at the present time is one of watchful waiting and not until a long strike is assured will they purchase any substantial quantity of substitutes.

In the event of a critical situation in London, however, excellent substitutes will undoubtedly oe available. Coke is one that can already be purchased, and high grade, low volatile soft coal, (smokeless coal) can be obtained in large amounts from nearby fields at little notice.

According to Mr. Martin no alarm need be felt in London for a month at least. Having taken heed to repeated warnings, Londoners have bought good supplies of anthracite during the summer months and not in years have the bins of local cellars been so well-filled. Undoubtedly there will be a serious shortage, he declares, but preparedness and relief through substitutes will offset it considerably.

Labor Strongly Opposed To Payment of Prisoners

Bar Association Resolution Is Against Principles of Unionism.

CONGRESS MAY ACT

Plan Would Result in Wage-Cutting, Declares Ald. Ashton.

The motion recommended by the committee on criminal justice of the Canadian Bar association at the Winnipeg convention, that prisoners in jails be paid for the work they do and the money go to support their families, is one that is greatly opposed by labor in all countries, and Canadian labor especially, according to Alderman John Ashton.

Ald. Ashton said this morning that the matter had been discussed for the past several years at the dominion trades and labor congress, and each year has found the delegates more opposed to the idea.

"When prisoners in jails or penitentiaries are paid for their work the scale of wages is usually below that of outside labor. Therefore, the manufacturing firms of the country are forced to lower the price of their product to compete with that of the prisons, and if this is done then labor has to work for less," said Ald. Ashton.

The motion of the committee, brought in yesterday, urged that wages be paid to prisoners, based on capacity and the wages being paid to workers in the country.

It can be easily seen that if the motion passes the bar association convention there will be action taken against it by the trades and labor congress that convenes in Ottawa on Monday.

Collegiate Students Win $1,275 Scholarship Total

Principal Miller Pleased at the Showing Made in Big Field.

WON EIGHT PRIZES

Announcement of the University of Western Ontario scholarships won by students of the London collegiate yesterday drew from Principal E. A. Miller, M.A., this morning expressions of pleasure that local collegiate scholars had done so well.

"I am quite delighted with the results," declared Mr. Miller, "and it is indeed encouraging to see the students of the collegiate doing so well and holding up London's end in the capturing of the scholarships at University of Western Ontario."

In all, eight scholarships were won by students of the central and south units, (no students competing from the east unit, to a total value of $1,275, besides ranking for a number of other scholarships which they were unable to hold on account of the ruling that no students can hold more than one scholarship.

The scholarships were won in competition with students from the whole province, but more particularly from the 14 Western Ontario counties. To hold any scholarship the winner must, of course, attend the university here.

Scholarships won by local collegiate students this year at University of Western Ontario are as follows:

Louise Wyatt, central collegiate—General proficiency scholarship, honor matriculation work, $100 cash and four years' free tuition, value $300.

Arthur C. Hill, south collegiate—General proficiency scholarship, honor matriculation work, $100 cash and four years' free tuition, value $300.

Thelma Richardson, central collegiate — Classics and mathematics scholarship, honor matriculation work, $50 cash and two years' free tuition, value $150.

Alice Coleridge, central collegiate—English and mathematics scholarship, honor matriculation work, $50 cash and two years' free tuition, value $150.

Eva Hoffman, central collegiate—General proficiency scholarship, pass junior matriculation work, one of two scholarships given, $100 cash.

Edward Letts, central collegiate—Special tuition scholarship, honor matriculation, $100 cash.

Archie N. Knapp, south collegiate—French scholarship, honor matriculation work, $25 cash and one years' free tuliton, value $75.

SPRINGER HEIRS TO SEND DELEGATES TO CHICAGO

A special meeting of the Springer heirs has been called to meet at the home of Mrs. D. McGugan, 188 Sydenham street, next Wednesday evening. Among the most important business will be the choosing of delegates to go to the annual convention, which is being held in Chicago September 10 and 11.

The officers of the local club have received a report from Chicago headquarters regarding the progress made to date, in securing the value of the disputed land for the heirs. The report is very encouraging and has greatly stimulated interest in the local association.

LAWYERS OUTNUMBER CLIENTS IN THIS COURT

Judge Macbeth presided at the first division court session this morning, when a fairly large list of disputes awaited settlement. No large amounts were involved. A feature of this morning's court was the unusually large representation of the legal profession, local firms all having one or two members on hand. A total count of lawyers on the floor showed that they outnumbered their clients nearly three to one.

LONDON KEEPS OUT OF TORONTO FIGHT

Refuses To Aid Queen City in Protesting Telephone Rates.

Little interest is being manifested by London in the effort by Toronto to obtain a reduction of telephone rates. The board of control of the Queen City instructed Corporation Counsel R. G. Geary to proceed with an application to the railway board to authorize a reduction of telephone rates to the basis obtaining prior to the 1919 increase.

The coolness of London and other Ontario municipalities toward Toronto's move has its origin, according to City Clerk Baker, to the fact that several years ago when the municipalities of Ontario were preparing to make a concerted effort to obtain lower phone rates, Toronto showed no disposition to join with them, and this aloofness proved a serious weakness to the cause. Under these circumstances Mr. Baker feels that London can well afford to bide its time until it is seen what progress Toronto makes toward getting the desired lower rates.

PLOWING DEMONSTRATION ARRANGED AT WELDWOOD

A plowing demonstration under the joint auspices of the local department of agriculture and the Farmers' Advocate, will be held at Weldwood farm on the Lambeth highway on Sept. 1st. During the evening he will address a meeting of junior farmers in the town hall, Komoka, on the organization of plowing matches.

UNION TO CONSIDER VETERANS' APPEAL

Willing To Put 20-Piece Organization at Fair If Rule Is Altered.

Consideration will be given by the London Musicians' union at a special meeting tonight to the request of the London Veterans' Band, Incorporated, to play at the Western Fair this year with 20 members, instead of 25 players, as called for by local regulations.

The Veterans' band had agreed to play before the grand stand at the fair but has since been informed within the past day or two that the fair board is desirous of having only 20 players instead of 25 as counted on by the band. Since the local union has standing a ruling that a union band of 25 members must be employed at the fair the Veterans' band promptly forwarded a request to the union to secure special permission to play with the smaller number and it is this request which will come before the executive tonight.

W. A. Bluethner, president of the union, will table tonight the letter from Tom Moore, Ottawa, president of the dominion trades and labor congress, to the effect that no ruling will be forthcoming from government officials at Ottawa regarding the playing privileges of the Royal Canadian regiment band here in competition with union bands until such time as a somewhat similar controversy is settled at Winnipeg as it effects the Princess Patricia regimental band in that city. This is in accordance with the interview given the Advertiser by Mr. Bluethner earlier in the week.

The fair board is determined, it is said, to have only 20 men in the local bands before the grand stand and unless this can be secured it is said to be the intention of the board to employ out of town organizations to provide the music at the fair.

GOVERNOR DECIDES HE WILL NOT INTERFERE

every influence to bring about, if possible, a general agreement which will mean substantial progress for the anthracite mine workers. The September suspension is not regarded as a calamity by operators or miners, to judge from their personal talks; providing it is a short one.

Operators say that anglers and nimrods among the miners hearing the call of September forests and streams provide the bulk of the suspension boosters.

Speculation is already developing here as to what outside intermediary will eventually appear to bring the two warring sides together and make the walkout "short." The name of Governor Pinchot is mentioned frequently in miners' circles. Operators have not openly expressed themselves.

AGREE ON MAINTENANCE.

Associated Press Despatch.

Wellington, N. Z., Aug. 28.—There was a remarkable scene at a banquet given by Premier Coates last night in honor of the visiting press delegates who are on their way to Australia to attend the imperial press conference in connection with a speech made by J. H. Woods, of the Calgary Herald president of the Canadian Press.

Mr. Woods spoke for Canada in response to the welcoming words of Premier Coates following Lord Burnham, president of the imperial press conference. Mr. Woods eloquently appealed for tolerance and active sympathy among the dominions.

When he sat down the gathering rose and cheered Canada and the New Zealanders scrambled to shake hands with Mr. Woods. They expressed admiration and good wishes for Canada.

Lord Burnham said he knew no country fitted to raise men of the British breed than New Zealand. He paid a tribute to the staunch, independent women of New Zealand, who were living in the widest diffusion of happiness and comfort, without class hatreds or class divisions.

Lady Violet Astor, wife of Hon. J. J. Astor, chairman of the Times Publishing Company who spoke on behalf of the ladies, asked the mothers of New Zealand to help immigration looking after the welfare of the young immigrants in the dominion. A high note of loyalty to the mother country and good will towards the component parts of the British Empire was struck at the banquet. Premier Coates, in welcoming the visitors said New Zealand yielded to no other dominion in patriotism and loyalty to the throne and constitution which had been New Zealand's bulwarks and safety in her days of national infancy. He spoke of New Zealand's growth which he thought had been phenomenal and said the population had doubled in the past decade.

Dwelling upon the unsolicited preference which New Zealand had given Great Britain Premier Coates asserted that 95 per cent of the government's orders for machinery last year had been placed in Great Britain.

LEAVES FOR SYDNEY.

Associated Press Despatch.

Wellington, N. Z., Aug. 28.—The entire delegation en route to Australia to attend the imperial press conference left New Zealand for Sydney today. A great crowd assembled at the wharf to wish the delegates god-speed and the departing visitors were heartily cheered.

The press people were enthusiastic in their expressions of appreciation of the warmth of the hospitality they have received in New Zealand.

GIVEN ONE WEEK MORE TO DEMOLISH BUILDING

William B. Davidson, charged by members of the provincial fire marshal's department with a breach of the fire marshal's act in failing to tear down a Dundas street dwelling condemned by them as a fire menace, was given one week by Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon in police court this morning to have the building removed.

Davidson appeared in court last week and declared that he was not owner of the house, but that the deed was made out in his wife's name. His wife had not been notified that the building must be removed, he told the court today. He asked for another week that the information could be given Mrs. Davidson.

SPLIT IN KNOLLWOOD ASSOCIATION LIKELY

Intrusion of Politics Into Organization's Affairs Causing Strife.

The Knollwood Park Improvement society is threatened with the loss of a considerable portion of its membership. Edward F. Horler, vice-president of the association, declares he knows several who resent the intrusion of the union label issue into the affairs of the society.

They declare it is a political move, and that the association should be entirely non-political. At last night's meeting the vote on the motion to rescind the resolution requiring the union label on printing was a tie, so the motion was lost.

The society is evenly divided on the issue, and there is even some talk of forming a rival body, to be known as the Knollwood Park Ratepayers' society.

HODGINS LIKELY CHOICE FOR ALLOWANCE BOARD

Several New Names Added To Middlesex List by Province.

The mothers' allowance board of the county of Middlesex met this afternoon in the county buildings in connection with the routine business in administering the funds of the commission to the widows of this district. Several new names have been approved by the provincial board, and will be added to the list of those receiving help in this district.

No official word has reached the members of the local board in connection with the appointment of a successor to the late W. D. Drummond, but it is thought likely that Reeve Hodgins of London township will be appointed.

CITY HALL CLUB HAS ENJOYABLE CORN ROAST

Members of the City Hall Social and Sports club report a rousing good time at the corn roast and dance staged last night on the farm of Harry Boss, about a mile and a half north of Crumlin. The site of the farm is a beautiful one, and no pains had been spared to make it attractive for the occasion. The lawn, tastefully decorated by novel arrangements of Chinese lanterns, proved admirably suited to dancing on the green, and the ensuing corn and weiner roast was also a most enjoyable event.

The mayor and several members of the city council were present with their wives and took a share in the merry-making. A feature of the program were several vocal selections by Ald. James McCormick.

SOUSA'S MARCHES REPLACING JAZZ

Paris Finds Old Favorites of Great Bandmaster Just Right For Modern Steps.

Associated Press Despatch.

Paris, Aug. 28. — John Philip Sousa's stirring marches of Spanish-American war days are enjoying an unusual revival in the dancing resorts of the Montmartre and the newly-opened dispensaries of melody and champagne in the Latin quarter and Montparnasse.

Strangely, it is not the visiting Americans who demand encores of such old favorites as The Stars and Stripes Forever and National Emblem, but the native French and the sprinkling of other Europeans attracted to Paris by the exposition season.

The revival has amply proven—at least to dancing Paris—that the old works of the famous bandmaster are just as good for the modern one-step as for the two-step of McKinley and Roosevelt vintage. Furthermore, they provide welcome change from the overdone jazz, langorous tangoes and the Java.

SEAMEN'S STRIKE IS NEARING END

Liners From Australian Ports Experience Little Difficulty in Getting Away.

Associated Press Despatch

Melbourne, Australia, Aug. 28.—There are increasing indications that the unofficial strike of the British seamen at Australian ports is nearing an end.

The secretary of the Melbourne trades hall council has announced that the dispute is now in the hands of the British seamen themselves and that the council is not in any manner in charge of it.

The liner Chitral has arrived here and the stevedores have commenced loading her. They will work also for other vessels manned by British crews.

A cable has been received from the transport workers' union, London, confirming the report that the seamen's strike is unofficial.

PROTESTS BILL.

Associated Press Despatch

Melbourne, Australia, Aug. 28.—There was an uproar in the house of representatives today when Premier S. M. Bruce asked leave to introduce a bill to appoint special police in connection with the strike of the British seamen at Australian ports. Hunter Charlton, labor leader, vigorously protested against it. He declared that such a bill should not be sprung on the house as this had been. The debate on the premier's proposed bill is still proceeding in the house of representatives.

BROWN PROVES BEST LEFT-HANDED PLAYER

Hunt Club Golf Title Captured With One Point To Spare.

Jack Brown of Brown Bros. was the winner of the left-handed players' title this year at the London Hunt and Country club. Yesterday he defeated Doug Weldon one up, after a round that saw brilliant golf and a see-saw score.

Mr. Brown at several times was ahead three up, but Mr. Weldon pulled himself together and evened the match.

Mr. Brown will be presented with a silver trophy emblematic of the championship. This tournament has been conducted for several years. Mr. Brown reached the semi-finals several times, but this was the first year he had gained the finals.

QUEEN'S PARK LAYOUT IMPROVED FOR FAIR

Roads in Queen's park have been oiled by the city and by the time the Western Fair opens the roads will be in the best of shape.

Other repair work at the exhibition grounds is nearly complete. The stage for the grandstand has been put back in place following the work on the new ball field, and the new flood lights will soon be installed.

Renovations to buildings are now in the process of finishing, and when crowds throng the fair grounds there will be many changes from the past years in the layout and look of buildings.

TAG DAY PLANNED FOR PAPER FUNDS

Dawn of Tomorrow Looks For Support On Streets Tomorrow.

A tag day will be held Saturday to raise funds to cover the deficit incurred by The Dawn of Tomorrow, the national negro weekly and official organ of the Canadian League For the Advancement of Colored People.

The paper is published in London, but its circulation embraces the whole of the province. E. C. Jenkins, one of the leaders in the movement pertaining to the welfare of the race is the editor. The paper is a model of its kind and is well written and edited.

The revenue from advertising and circulation, howeevr, has been found insufficient to cover the cost of publishing and a deficit has resulted. It is hoped that this will be wiped out by Saturday's tag day.

The boy scouts and the girls of the Salvation Army will assist in the tag day, together with the girls of the League For the Advancement of Colored People.

OLD-TIME DANCING IS GIVEN ITS INNING

Merrymaking Marks Opening of Pavement On Marshall Street.

Some went through curiosity, but of the thousand odd persons who attended the pavement dance on Marshall street last night, the majority came for the dancing. And dancing it was, for there were all sorts and kinds of the terpsichorean art and most of it was not of the modern school.

The happiest part of the program was when "Caller-off" McLaren signalled for everyone to join hands. His cries of "ladies in the middle and gentlemen join hands" were greeted with delight and much laughter on the part of the folks. All in all it was a grand occasion and with the attendance of ex-Mayor Hugh A. Stevenson there was an added significance.

Lions Club May Abandon Plan For New Bandstand

Lack of Outside Co-operation and Enthusiasm Cited As Cause.

TO HOLD MEETING

Lack of outside co-operation and enthusiasm will likely force the Lions club to abandon its efforts to raise $5,000 on behalf of the proposed Victoria park bandstand.

A member of the Lions club executive states that the whole question will be taken under serious advisement at the next meeting with the probable result that the bandstand plan will be given up and the club decide to devote its attention to smaller and less pretentious schemes.

Favoring the latter plan, the executive member criticized most particularly the local bands who have failed to rally behind the movement, with the exception of the military tattoo and the offer of the Veterans' Band, Limited, to play at a series of concerts without remuneration.

Pulsing the lack of public enthusiasm for the new bandstand, having in mind the comparatively poor attendance at the tattoo put on by the club in Tecumseh park, and the comment by E. V. Buchanan, manager of the public utilities commission, that the day of band concerts has passed in favor of radio, the executive member inclines to the belief that the citizens of London as a whole are not very much interested in having a bandstand built in Victoria park by the Lions club and the city, or by any other organization.

As intimated, the Lions club has now only two courses to pursue with regard to its campaign for the bandstand—first, to continue the campaign, but with renewed vigor, and re-direction of effort along other lines than band concerts, since apparently the club can from now on rely upon only the Royal Canadian regiment band to provide free concerts; and second, to abandon the whole proposal, accepting what appears to be the general verdict that a bandstand is not as desirable as it was first thought when the club inaugurated its campaign.

Unless reassurance reaches the club, and the form or source of this reassurance was not made quite clear, the executive member believes that the Lions club would be ill-advised to pursue the matter further and that very probably such will be the action taken when the club holds its business session some time within the next few days.

PETS PROTECTED AT VACATION TIME

Humane Society Will Take Action in Case of Neglected Animals.

Action will be taken against people who go away for vacations and leave small pets at home without care, if the case comes to the attention of the London Humane Society, it was decided at a meeting of that body last night in the city hall.

The society is willing to take care of pets for a nominal sum if they are brought to the kennels, and with this end in view it is building new kennels at the Victoria street home.

Through the kindness and wish of the Western Fair board the society will maintain a tent on the fair grounds during fair week, and there will be a veterinary surgeon in charge throughout the entire length of the fair to give first aid to animals.

One of the most important activities of the society is to see that all performing animals are given proper care. There have not been many of these animals in London during the past month, but all that were here were receiving proper care, according to the report of Inspector George Tustin.

The public continues to take advantage of the offer of the Humane Society for free advice on the care of animals, and an increasingly large number of inquiries are received each day.

The condensed monthly report of Inspector George Tustin is as follows: Complaints, 289; horses examined, 654; horses destroyed, 6; horses seized unfit to work, 7; cattle examined in transit, 645; stray diseased dogs picked up, 42; dogs destroyed, 36; cats destroyed, 32; performing animals examined, 47; poultry in transit examined, 649; warnings issued, 15; prosecutions and convictions numbered 5; first aid was rendered in 26 cases.

Explorer Halted By Snow and Fog

Associated Press Despatch.

Washington, Aug. 27.—Racing with the icy barriers that threaten to lock the northland earlier than usual, the MacMillan Arctic expedition is fighting its way south through blinding snow and fog. Held up by bad weather in Murchison Sound, the Peary and Bowdoin, MacMillan's ships, are forging ahead in an effort to clear the ice-filled waters of Melville Bay before the passage is closed to them. Despatches to the National Geographical scoiety said today that the Peary had reached Parker Snow Point, about 150 miles south of Etah, while the Bowdoin, rather than expend the fuel in a battle against headwinds, hove to in the lee of Saunders Island, a few miles farther north.

KNOLLWOOD PARK MEETING IS WARM

Motion On Printing Question Is Lost After Spirited Discussion.

A motion to reopen the question of having all printing done by union shops precipitated an angry discussion at the meeting of the Knollwood Park ratepayers' association last evening.

Other matters discussed were the failure of the mayor's promise to institute garbage collection in the park, and the appointment of a deputation to wait on the council in regard to street numbering. The matter of protection at the C. P. R. crossing on Quebec street was laid over till a census is taken during the school term of the number of persons and vehicles crossing there.

"Don't act the kaiser. We finished one. I'll sit down when I am ready," declared Mr. Fox, when told to sit down by the chairman, while discussing the question of printing.

"If you want to be boss, come up and take the chair. I'm not anxious to keep it. If not, shut up and sit down," countered A. Sanderson, president of the association.

The vote on the reopening of the question was then taken. The result was a tie, and the motion was lost, a two-thirds vote being necessary.

The question was introduced by Edward Horler, vice-president of the association, who declared that it was a non-political association, and that it was setting an exceedingly bad precedent.

Mr. Hollins, who had previously done their work, had done many favors for the association. He paid union wages, but his shop was not large enough to employ union labor. Were they to discriminate against him in favor of the larger downtown shops

J. Rollins said the union label was the guarantee of a fair living wage. Edmund Hayden, too, had done many favors for them, besides Mr. Hollins, he said.

Much discussion followed, but the motion to reopen the question was lost, after a debate on proper parliamentary procedure.

Linwood Street Miracle.

The association confirmed their belief in deputations as workers of miracles, when reports were presented showing that the city council had been moved to act by a deputation which had waited upon it. Linwood street had been graveled, and action was being taken by the city engineer to stop the dumping of sewage in the open drain at the north end of the park. A deputation to the county council regarding lights on Oxford street met no success.

The mayor came in for much criticism, as a result of his promise of one month ago that the park would have garbage collection within two weeks. As yet the park residents have failed to catch sight of a garbage wagon, and their faith in the mayor is wrecked. Three letters have been sent to him regarding the matter. Several times the secretary of the association has endeavored to see him, but has had no success. No replies have been received to the letters. The secretary voiced the opinion of the meeting when he declared the mayor was trying to evade this issue. A deputation was appointed to wait on No. 2 committee in regard to the matter.

The deputation to No. 2 committee will also inquire when Sterling street is to be renumbered as promised by the engineer last year. Several numbers on the street are duplicated and much inconvenience is caused the residents by wrongly delivered mail and parcels. This would be corrected by a renumbering of the street.

Favor Hotel Scheme.

No representatives for either the pro or con of the hotel question were present and the matter was laid over after an informal discussion, in which a majority favored the exchange of sites and a fixed assessment.

Nominations for the post of acting secretary were received to assume the duties of A. Williams, who will be absent from October 15 to December 15.

J. Edwards, A. Sanderson, Mrs. Johnston and H. David were announced as winners of the contest to discover the number of errors in the program for a picnic held recently. The correct number was ten.

A deputation was appointed to wait on the board of education in regard to a bill for $6 presented for the use of Knollwood Park school. None of the members or officers seems to be quite clear as to why this bill should be presented.

AIN'T NATURE GRAND!

A Nelson township farmer reports having an apple tree with apples ripening on one section and blossoms in full bloom on another "which is a rare and pretty sight at this season of the year." Yes, indeed.

Fearing that the lay mind would fail to grasp the fact that Isostasy is the theory of equilibrium in the earth's crust a Toronto geologist caused an earthquake in literary circles by perpetrating the following:

"What is it rules the upper crust?
Isostasy! Isostasy!
What actuates the overthrust?
Isostasy! Isostasy!
What gives the shorelines wanderlust?
What humbles highlands into dust?
What makes the strongest stratum bust?
Isostasy! Isostasy!

The professor remarked that a continuation of this sort of thing would bring on, geologically speaking "the universal deluge and the end of the present order of things." We wouldn't be a bit surprised.

Just to show that we're not afraid of earthquakes, let's give the health department's poet another chance. Here goes!

"The board of health department boasts
A pretty bobbed-hair flapper,
And Betty is the charming one,
This may seem Idol chatter.
I hope to tell the cross-eyed world
She's full of pep and vim,
She plays at tennis on the court
Till she fairly buckles in."

If the old earth's crust can stand up under that one, we're fairly safe.

France Has Two Wars Now.

While France has her financial advisors in London discussing the repayment of her debt to Britain, she is at the same time carrying on a two-headed war that must be plunging her farther into debt at an alarming rate. The Moroccan affair, being of long standing now, comes first, and the possibilities of a definite favorable outcome proved so unfavorable to France, as they had previously done to Spain, that the forces of the countries have been united in an effort to bring Abd-el-Krim to his knees.

The negotiations leading up to this Franco-Spanish action were conducted and concluded in such an atmosphere of secrecy that no definite statement was given about the possibility of peaceful settlement. The only definite statement was that of Marshal Petain's report on Moroccan operations, in which he stated the Riffs had 40,000 warriors, "keen mountaineers, active, skilful in arms, with an admirable knowledge of the precipitous country in which they are fighting, frugal to the point of being able to do without the convoys, which burden our columns, and having machine guns, artillery, and an abundant reserve of munitions." From an affair that looked to be impossible of long duration, it has grown to a war where French and Spanish armies have come into joint action to try and secure a decision before the next session of the French chamber, in which there is a strong socialist following opposed to the war.

France has her second war with the Druses, in Syria, and the fighting brings to print such names as Nazareth, Tyne, the borders of the Sea of Galilee, and the territory around Jordan. It is possible to get some idea of the ferocity of some of the attacks launched against the French from the casualty list of one engagement, where a horde of infuriated Druses fell upon a convoy of French artillery. Eight hundred were killed, wounded and missing, three aeroplanes wrecked, many guns and camels taken.

From the maze of explanations for the hatred of the French by the Druses, one can select almost anything from disputes over oil possessions to the abrupt manner in which the French have sought to make themselves at home in a land where their rights are at the best questionable. One explanation goes back into the threads of tradition, which were disrupted when the French insisted that no traveller could accept hospitality in private Druse houses. This was an old custom, dating back from the days when a hotel was unknown in the Lebanon mountains. Since the French occupation of Syria, which came about on the allowance of the League of Nations, there have been a number of modern hotels erected, but custom dies hard, and many travellers preferred the old order and continued to accept the hospitality of the natives. The inability of the French to reconcile the old with the new was revealed in an order which forbade travellers to stop with the Druses, and they imprisoned several of the natives for so doing.

That was merely one of many blunders, each of which was as stupid as it was unnecessary. The French went to Syria on the pretext that it would be an Arabia for the Arabians, an unmolested home for the Moslems. They have been there five years and have faced five rebellions. Now they have the sixth on their hands. Some of the French leaders have come there from colonies in Africa, and have proceeded to use jungle methods on a particularly high-spirited, people. They mistook a religious festival for a political gathering and sent an army to disperse it; to make matters worse, firing by the troops followed, and an effort followed to arrest every Arab leader.

As a result, in this land, about fifty miles from Damascus, the Druses, the most fanatical of all easterners, have sent their wives, children and cattle across the border into Palestine, and the onslaught on the French convoy, referred to above, is the answer to French ideas of colonization.

With these two wars on her hands, France has a problem large enough to give serious thought, even if her whole governing force were behind the carrying on of such wars. But it is not, and there is enough disaffection in the French chamber to put the government out of power when it is called upon to try and justify the autocratic course it has followed in the name of peace.

The Merits of the Hotel Plan.

Any new enterprise can anticipate opposition, and the present hotel proposition in London cannot expect to be any exception. For that reason the opposition put forth by speakers at the meeting of the Trades and Labor Council is not surprising. It is only natural to expect that those already in the hotel business here would not look with favor upon a formidable competitor, and these gentlemen are quite within their right in seeking to give voice to their opinions.

The plea of Mr. Sp[illegible] a hotel man himself, but appearing for th[illegible] in the business here, is not convincing. He seeks to create the impression that the total risk is to be assumed by Londoners, and that they are being called upon to assume responsibility for a very doubtful undertaking. His opinion is that it cannot be made to pay; the opinion of the men who will put up 75 per cent of the capital, and of the man who will invest his own money to furnish the building throughout is that it can be made to pay, and these men have practical knowledge, and on this basis they formed their opinion.

The statement, "it can't be done" has never yet scored a victory in any field. There are institutions, enterprises of all sorts, all over the country today that are monuments to the fact that "it has been done."

Labor in London stands to benefit by the erection of the new hotel, because from the day the first sod is turned until the place is open and ready to do business it means a source of employment, and employment now means much to those who might otherwise be without it.

The labor men take exception to what they term the tax exemption on the building. The new hotel will carry a fixed assessment of $200,000 as far as the general tax rate is concerned, but it can have no exemption from school or local improvement taxes. It will mean a general tax of approximately $8,000, and a school tax of $9,000, together $17,000, as against a present revenue of $650 from the federal square. The present arrangement appears a reasonable one, a compromise between full assessment and total exemption, and one calculated to give a new venture an opportunity to get under way before bearing its full amount of local taxation.

It is well to have all opposition to the hotel plan brought out in the open. In this way can the ratepayers form a fair opinion before they cast their votes. It is well, though, to get the fact firmly established, that the city, as such, is not taking on any obligation whatever—simply the transfer of one central property for another, with a credit balance of $25,000, and sanctioning a fixed assessment of $200,000 for ten years. There is enough merit in the proposition to warrant the carrying of both these proposals.

This Time We Differ.

Dorothy Dix told yesterday of a woman whose husband had left her and finally married his secretary. The woman analyzed her own position after the first great wave of hate had passed over and came to the conclusion that she was to blame for having lost her husband. In a moment of self stocktaking she decided she worried him too much about the children, and was so taken up with her work at home that she neglected to keep herself looking as neat and attractive as the secretary whom he faced at the office after leaving home. So he simply slipped and slid until he was driven to find future happiness in the arms of his secretary.

As a general thing, Dorothy Dix has a quota of common sense in her views, but on this occasion she is trying to make a martyr out of a poor fish. That man had no right to compare the appearance of his wife, working for him at home, with that of his secretary, whose work never made it necessary for her to be anything but well dressed. He asked his wife to share his fortunes with him, and she did. The wife's share was making the home, raising and training a family, and in this she was no doubt willing to sacrifice herself and her appearance. It is that spirit of sacrifice that should have bound them together instead of being turned into a banana peeling on which to slip.

No, we can't see where there's anything to get sorry or explanatory about in his case. He was simply a chump, self-centered, and as empty of devotion to an ideal as the Home Bank was empty of available cash.

Buyin' At Home

Just once I shipped my ducats out to buy some classy raiment with, it looked much like a scarecrow kind, and fit me like a kitchen seive.

I used to buy my clothes at home and got a decent raiment, too, and folks allowed as how I dressed just like a he-man ought to do. Most times I got my clothes from Steve, and with his kindly care for me, he kept my tastes quite well in hand, not lookin' like a bamboo tree.

But come a time I got a book that told about new clothes this year, and intimating present styles was out of date and powerful queer. And in that book there strutted dudes decked in the raiment of the day, some standin' still upon the sod while others walked a piece away.

And then the book went on to tell how folks had realized the fact, that styles the average person wore were mostly chipped, more often cracked. There was one jay I fancied there, a pompous sort and fairly broad, he looked a dandy in his rags, a well-groomed nag and neatly shod.

I got to thinkin' how I'd look if I was clad in clothes like him, the bulgin' spots upon my frame would look to be uncommon slim.

And so I sent my coin that night, it went six hundred miles away, for I was longin' for the chance to be a dressy sort of jay.

Then come the box to me one day, and I beheld my raiment new, it glittered like the days in spring when sunshine strikes the morning dew. Ah it was easy on the eyes, a thing that Solomon might wear, and folks would feast upon the show, nor note the dandruff in my hair.

But when I put the garment on it hunched up close about my neck, the sleeves they looked as how I be survivin' from a steamship wreck. The coat was bad, the vest was worse, the pants might fit some other guy, but he would have to weigh a ton and stand up most infernal high.

So I sat down and wrote away and called them robbers, bandits, too, they were the worst confounded cheats I'd ever heard about or knew. But they writ back assurin' me that they had sent just what I said, there must be somethin' wrong with me, or I had hops inside my head.

So now I'm dealin' here at home and mostly buying off of Steve, who takes the hunches from my neck and cleaves the surplus from the sleeve. No more I take my hard-earned kale to go six hundred miles from here, it circulates quite close to home, I see it seven times a year.—ARK.

To the Editor

24 Hours a Day.

Editor of The Advertiser:

Sir,—In order that the people of London and district may realize just what the Amputations' Association of the Great War is doing I would like to quote a few facts: Ours was the first organization to advocate the stabilization of the pension at $900 per annum for a single total disability case.

This was advocated before the parliamentary committee under the chairmanship of Hume Cronyn, then M.P. for London, and endorsed by the convention in Vancouver in September, 1922. The Toronto branch alone raised $2,300 by voluntary subscription for the purpose of carrying on this campaign. By a resolution passed at our dominion convention in Toronto, 1921, reaffirmed in Vancouver, 1922, and again in Ottawa, 1924, we cannot enter into any amalgamation until the major organization show their sincerity by really organizing into a confederation that will stand for ever.

There is a total of 4,234 amputations in Canada. Included in this are the following: Both legs and arms, 1; both legs and right arm, 1; both legs and left arm, 2; right leg and left arm, 3; left leg and left arm, 4; right leg and right arm, 2; left leg and right arm, 6; both arms and foot, 1; both arms, 7; both legs, 95.

The amputation and blind case is under constant nervous strain, which adds materially to the general difficulty of living. This nervous strain may have one or more of the following effects, namely:

Insomnia, pains in phantom limb, nerve ends on stump, irritability and indigestion and organic complaints.

An amputation or blind case is a permanent disability, and the disability remains 24 hours each day, and not for an eight or ten-hour day.

Employers of labor and the general public immediately conclude our men are not able to perform efficient work.

This is our greatest hindrance in securing employment. Also, the only recreation we get is from the theatres, concerts and public sports, but only as spectators.

We trust that the public will bear these facts in mind.—Thanking you for your valuable space.

Sec.-Treas., London Branch.

MOFFAT INDUCTED AT FINGAL CHURCH

London Presbytery Holds Special Session—Changes Are Noted.

Special to The Advertiser by a Staff Correspondent.

Fingal, Aug. 27.—London Presbyterian presbytery met in special session here today for the induction of Rev. Walter Moffat, Millbank, as pastor of Knox Presbyterian church, Fingal.

Other business transacted at the meeting, at which Rev. F. S. Okell, B.A., London, presided in the absence of Rev. James Mackay, B.D., London, moderator, included approval of the translation of Rev. William Smith, Knollwood park mission, London, to Geneva church, Chesley, and of Rev. N. Stevenson, Appin, to Ailsa Craig church.

Mr. Smith will be relieved at Knollwood park on September 6, on which date the presbytery home mission committee, with Mr. Mackay as chairman, will take charge of the congregation.

Mr. Stevenson will be relieved at Appin on September 13, when the congregation will be in charge of Rev. John Galloway, Glencoe, as interim moderator. Arrangements were made for Mr. Stevenson's induction at Ailsa Craig as follows: Mr. Mackay will preside, Rev. W. Moffat will preach the sermon, Rev. John Galloway will address the minister, and Rev. Peter Jamieson, Port Stanley, will address the people.

Keen regret was expressed by different members of the presbytery in losing the services of Mr. Smith, who will become a member of Bruce presbytery by reason of his move to Chesley. Laudatory remarks were passed in connection with Mr. Smith's work as pastor at Knollwood park church since 1920, during which time the congregation has grown from a mission to a point where it will shortly become a self-supporting charge.

Appin congregation was largely represented for the purpose of expressing the unwillingness of that congregation to part with Mr. Stevenson as their pastor. Though loath to let Mr. Stevenson go to Ailsa Craig, the Appin representatives wished him every success in his new field.

Mr. Okell conducted the induction service of Mr. Moffat, with the sermon being preached by Rev. Thomas McConnell, B.A., who was recently inducted at Dutton, on the subject, "Isaiah's Call to the Ministry." Rev. John McNair, D.D., London, clerk of the presbytery, addressed the people, while Rev. Peter Jamieson addressed the minister. At the conclusion of the service, which was most inspiring, a reception was held for Mr. Moffat and a delightful supper served by the ladies' aid of the church.

THE GUMPS

Peter Visits the Old Orchard And Hears a Very Bad Rumor

By THORNTON W. BURGESS.

Peter Rabbit had been spending so much time in the Green Forest and at the Smiling Pool that he had rather neglected the Old Orchard. He was reminded of this one day when Carol the Meadow Lark happened to stop near where Peter was peeping out from the dear old Briar Patch. As usual, Peter was curious.

"What's the news, Carol?" he asked.

"There isn't any news," replied Carol. "That is, there isn't any news, unless it is news to you that some of the people in the Old Orchard are talking about Jenny Wren and Mr. Wren."

"Huh!" cried Peter. "If you had said that Jenny Wren was talking about other people it wouldn't have surprised me any. Did you ever in your life hear a tongue go as her tongue can? But what are the neighbors saying about Jenny and Mr. Wren?"

"They are not really saying anything," replied Carol. "They are just hinting at things. It is a rumor that is going around. You know what a rumor is, don't you, Peter?"

Peter rubbed his nose thoughtfully. "It—it is a story about something or somebody that no one seems to know the truth about or just how it came to start, isn't it?" asked Peter.

Carol nodded. "That's it," said he. "Well, some bad things have happened up in the Old Orchard this spring and summer, and it is rumored that Jenny and Mr. Wren know more about these things than they will admit."

Peter's long ears stood straight up. "What kind of bad things have happened up in the Old Orchard?" he demanded.

"Well," replied Carol, "some eggs have been thrown out of nests and some others have had holes made in them as they lay in the nests."

"Sammy Jay's work!" cried Peter.

Carol shook his head. "No," said he, "it wasn't the work of Sammy Jay. In the first place, Sammy eats eggs when he takes them. In the second place, some of these eggs were in nests where you know that that nest is always in a hole in a tree with a very small opening, or else in one of those houses Farmer Brown's Boy puts up. Sammy Jay couldn't possibly get his head through one of those openings. In fact, nobody larger than Tommy Tit himself could get inside. Now, who is there around the Old Orchard as small as or smaller than Tommy Tit?"

Peter looked startled. He couldn't think of anybody but Jenny Wren and Mr. Wren. Carol saw the startled look on Peter's face and understood it. "You are thinking," said he, "just what everybody else has been thinking. No one knows that Jenny Wren or Mr. Wren threw out those eggs of Tommy Tit and Mrs. Chickadee, but everybody thinks that one or other of them did it because there was no one else who could have done it. Besides, those Wrens have been anything but good neighbors. They have done their best to drive others away from that part of the Old Orchard where they are [illegible]

"There isn't any news," replied Carol.

Sammy Jay couldn't possibly get at them. Tommy Tit the Chickadee and Mrs. Tommy were among those whose eggs were thrown out, and if you know [illegible] about the nesting of Tommy Tit and his pretty little wife, you know that they are not to be blamed for that."

"I don't believe it," declared Peter. "I just won't believe anything like that of Jenny Wren. She's a great talker, and she dearly loves to boss, but I won't believe that she would do anything so dreadful."

"No one wants to believe it," replied Carol, "but what else can you do under the circumstances? Anyway, as I told you before, it is just rumor."

"Well, all I can say is it is a mighty bad rumor," said Peter.

CHILDREN PERISH AS HOME BURNS

Winnipeg Woman in Serious Condition After Early Morning Blaze.

Associated Press Despatch.

Winnipeg, Aug. 28.—Two children, Harry, 7, and Julia, 5, were asphyxiated when the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. Kolylick was completely destroyed by fire which started early this morning. The mother is in a serious condition from shock and suffocation and is resting at the residence of a neighbor, and a niece, Phyllis Stadnyk, aged 14, is in the general hospital suffering from cuts and wounds received apparently when she tried to escape from the burning house through a window.

At the time of the fire the mother and the three children were alone in the house. They were awakened from their sleep by the cries of neighbors and the sound of a gathering crowd outside, but the heavy smoke had smothered the two young children in their beds.

The alarm was turned in by Tony Zanewick, who observed smoke coming from the house as he was going home about 2 o'clock. Three brigades of the city fire department responded but when they arrived the flames had already broken through the roof and the damage had been done.

of St. Paul's cathedral, speaking from the modernist standpoint at a conference of modern churchmen at Oxford, said: "We are not a well-drilled army and have no party program, no official syllabus of opinion to defend. We are agreed that the spirit of truth is blessed by honest inquiry. The Bible of the race is still being written. We have discarded the infallible church and infallible book."

Mrs. McLevey was of United Empire Loyalist descent, being a granddaughter of Peter Lampman, who settled more than a century ago in Pennsylvania. OFFER BOND BREAD AS PRIZES IN L. & P. S. RAIN CONTEST

Tomorrow's Event Is Big Feature On Railway's Program.

LABOR DAY PLANS

FATHER HENRY CARR,

who is reported to be retiring as superior of St. Michael's college, having held that office since 1915.

The staff of life in the form of the famous Bond Bread, produced by the Monarch Bakeries of London, will be the big prize offered in family quantities for 55 winners, by the London & Port Stanley railway in tomorrow's event in the regular Wednesday and Saturday rain contests.

Subject to the same conditions under which prizes have been distributed twice within the last couple of weeks, the railway is offering Bond bread tickets in five lots of 50 worth each, 25 lots of $2 each, and 25 lots of $1 each. Thus the person who takes his trip on the L. & P. S. or who visits the L. & P. S. cafeteria or Bridge street restaurant tomorrow is apt to find that the free lucky number issued to him or her, as the case may be, fills the pantry with the product that has earned its title as "The King of Foods." Bond bread is the product of Monarch Bakeries, Limited, of London, and is sold in the delicious way, wrapped in waxed, sealed packages bearing the company's bonded guarantee of pure ingredients.

Amateur Theatricals.

The big rain contest and the sixth of the every-Saturday-evening series of amateur theatrical contests at the Beach Movies theatre are the events certain to attract a big crowd to the Coney Island of Western Ontario tomorrow. The Saturday evening addition of the offerings of the amateur vaudevillians of Western Ontario has made a great hit with the theatregoers, and rounds out the most generous bargain bill given in this part of the country, if not on the continent. Tomorrow night, as an example, several semi-pro acts that are ready now for the professional stage will go before the footlights in a struggle for the plaudits of the audience and the generous cash prizes offered by the management. For the last three weeks the number of acts has run from ten to twelve, and it has been necessary to prohibit encores for the sake of speed. The movie bill of ten big reels is capped by the William Fox production, Troubles of a Bride, being the sensational answer to the old query, "At what age should a girl marry?" There will also be a couple of flashing comedies and an accompaniment of orchestral music, all of which seems plenty for fifteen cents for adults and ten cents for children, including war tax.

$150 Prize Wednesday.

The L. & P. S. is finishing the closing weeks of the Port Stanley season in a blaze of glory. Next Wednesday L. & P. S. patrons will have lucky numbers free for a $150 order on the Heintzmen Piano Co. of 242 Dundas street, London, good either for radio or phonograph up to that cost, or for a payment of that amount on any piano or other merchandise sold by the Heintzman Company. On Saturday the girls will have their fling at a $150 diamond ring supplied from the magnificent diamond stock of C. H. Ward & Co. of Richmond street, London.

Just a hint of the sensational things that are coming is found in today's advertisements of the London & Port Stanley Railway with respect to Labor Day. The whole story cannot be told just yet, but it is already known that the L. & P. S. will this time offer prizes, rain or shine. The rain list will include a brand new Essex Six coach, worth $1,215 cash, supplied by the London Hudson-Essex Sales, and a $1,050 Heintzman Company player-piano. The winner of the latter prize will have the rich alternative of taking a $600 upright Heintzman piano and a $450 Zenith radio receiving set, installed complete with batteries, tubes, etc. The Zenith is one of the world's finest, and with the approach of the autumn season will be sufficient in itself to create a first-class sensation. As stated, these are only the prizes to be offered if it rains during a six-hour period. But if it does not rain, there will be a drawing in any event with six smashing prizes, having an actual cash value of $450.

HUGE CASKS PROVIDE TRANSPORT PROBLEM

Eighteen Enormous Containers Arrive on Three M.C.R. Flat Cars.

London may soon have a new industry, if a way is not found to move eighteen enormous casks off three Michigan Central flat cars on the Bathurst street track. Where the kegs came from is a mystery and to whom they are consigned is another mystery.

They arrived early yesterday, but they are of such enormous proportions, that the consignee has found, as yet no one who is willing to undertake the moving of them. If a means is not found soon it is suggested that they be left there, and the owner be permitted to make wine on spot.

The kegs have been labelled by the trainmen, with various inscriptions such as "Pop" "For the Carpenters' Picnic", "Fergusons royal gift" and "Gin for better babies"

AT THE THEATRES

CAPITOL THEATRE.

Raffles

A rapid, mystery melodrama of stirring situations is "Raffes," which is the Capitol theatre feature for the remainder of the week.

House Peters in the title role plays the amateur cracksman with great skill and histrionic ability. He gives a reserved, careful, delineation of the most entertaining of fiction crooks. Both young and old will revel in the exciting situations in the production.

The almost impossible theft of a famous string of pearls from the neck of a fashionable woman traveller aboard an ocean steamer between Calcutta and Liverpool forms the groundwork of the story. From the ballroom of the ocean liner the story changes to London and a large estate just outside the English capital.

Until the very end of the film the mystery is sustained and the mysterious Mr. Raffles is always a jump or two head of the brainiest detective in England who is hounding him. It is a story of hit and miss from the point of view of the criminal experts who are trying to catch.

A Capitol comic creation, "The Iron Nag," and Pathe review complete the bill.

LOEW'S THEATRE

Rin-Tin-Tin

"Tracked in the Snow," a thrilling drama of the silent north, is the feature picture for the remainder of this week at Loew's Theatre, and the acting of Rin-Tin-Tin, the world famous dog and war veteran, is beyond all description. For the first time London audiences have enjoyed the privilege of seeing this remarkable animal enact the part of a wolf trained from puppyhood as a pet.

The piece has its hero, Rin-Tin-Tin, a very villainous villain, a real girl of the north, in fact all the essentials of a real thriller and none of the cheap incidents resorted to too frequently in this type of play.

The photograph is beautiful, in fact the whole story is tremendously pleasing. That London children appreciate a picture featuring this remarkable dog was shown in the fact that Loew's was packed to the doors during the initial performance yesterday.

The vaudeville is well up to Loew's standard of excellence, the Fred Ireland Dance Drive being the leading turn. The other pictures are just what the program needs in the way of perfect balance.

GRAND THEATRE

My China Doll

My China Doll, a fantastic musical extravaganza, formed an appropriate opening for London's theatrical season at the Grand theatre last night. It is a tuneful presentation, embracing all manner of pleasing novelties and scenic effects, and forming a continual festival of music, interwoven about a plot laid in New York's sinister Chinatown.

My China Doll is particularly outstanding for a freshness and spirit o flightness which it contains. It has pretty girls with becoming costumes, lilting songs and colorful settings, all constituting worthwhile entertainment. And behind a fairy-tale story—for My China Doll tells of Cinderella, Jack the Giant-Killer, and other stories that play upon the imagination of childhood—there is a veil of truthfulness, and through it can be seen facts of love and a life of beauty.

The songs and dances are built around a well-conceived plot, bolstered with jazz and opera, but the story itself, stripped of pretty trimmings, would be strong enough to command attention.

The story has to do with Peach Blossom, a petite Chinese girl, ruled by a cruel and ugly parent. He does not permit her to mingle with white men, and, disappointed in love and seeking forgetfulness, she smokes the "poppy pipe" to bring her dreams of happiness.

Peach Blossom is carried through dreamland by a fairy, the spirit of the poppy pipe, and then commence scenes of the "Land of Story Books," the "Land of Music," and the "Land of Flowers."

Red Riding Hood, Simple Simon, Miss Muffett, Mother Goose, the Fairy Queen and Prince Charming are all present. Peach Blossom enjoys herself with companionship of love. In the "Land of Music" she has an equally wonderful time as Little Miss Ragtime, though she upsets Harmony and the Queen of Songs, and finally enraptures even them with her light-hetrted melodies.

Awakening from the influence of the poppy pipe, Peach Blossom's father in a spirit of cruelty tells her that she is not a Chinese maid, but the daughter of a wealthy white woman, from whom the China Doll was stolen years before. It is actual happiness for Peach Blossom from then on. She attains her wishes and marries her Prince Charming of real life.

Cecil Manners as Peach Blossom is suitably cast, singing, dancing and acting with a versatility which the character calls for. Probably the outstanding member of the company is Miss Bessie Delmore, who plays the role of Melinda Boi'kins, a delightful comedy part which in her hands is made the most attractively humorous tid-bit of the show.

FERGUSON BACKS ENDOWMENT FUND

Substantial Contribution Expected To Come From Provincial Government.

Announcement that Premier Ferguson had expressed hearty sympathy with the plan to raise an endowment fund of $500,000 for Queen Alexandra sanatorium as a memorial to the late Sir Adam Beck was made at a meeting of the executive of the London Health association held in the chamber of commerce headquarters last night.

Philip Pocock and Col. E. I. Leonard visited Toronto on Wednesday last and laid the project before the premier and also the officials of the hydro-electric commission. The idea of a province-wide campaign was very favorably received by all those interviewed, and there is every probability that a substantial contribution to the fund will be forthcoming from the provincial government.

Plans for the definite launching of a campaign effort which will embrace every municipality in Ontario were discussed at some length, and a committee was appointed to go into details and report at the next meeting, which will be at the call of the chair. This committee will consist of Col. E. I. Leonard, Philip Pocock, G. J. Ingram, G. F. Pearson, F. A. Gaby, chief engineer of the hydro-electric power commission of Ontario, and ex-Mayor C. A. Maguire of Toronto, president of the Ontario Municipal Electrical association.

Among the details to be arranged will be the appointment of a permanent secretary to undertake the work of organization.

The executive unanimously agreed to wipe off its books debts amounting to $4,540, which Dr. Pratten reported the institution found it impossible to iollect from indigent patients.

Every year, he pointed out, there are a certain number of civilian patients who are in such reduced circumstances that it is next to impossible for them to pay for treatment and yet their condition demands treatment both from humane considerations and from the standpoint of public health. Cases such as these made up the amount which it was decided to write off.

NOTED PARIS LAWYER ADDRESSES MEETING

Manuel Fourcade Defines Advocate at Canadian Bar Association Convention.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Winnipeg, Aug. 28.—The characteristics of the French advocate was the subject of an address by Manuel Fourcade, batonnier, of Paris, before the Canadian bar association convention here yesterday. The speech was rich in fine sentiment and in bright humor, recalling with pleasure the visit of the Canadian and American bar members to Paris last year.

M. Fourcade, speaking in French, said the first characteristic of the French advocate is that he is not the agent or mandatory of his client. There is the branch of the avoue who prepares the case, which office is distinct again from that of the notary who looks after deeds.

As the advocate is not the agent of his client, his work is over when the case is completed in the courts. If any money is awarded he does not receive it, and has no account to render.

BRITISH HEIR ATTENDS RECEPTION INCOGNITO

Associated Press Despatch.

His royal highness lunched yesterday at the Chilean embassy and subsequently went by special train to Hurlingham, where he played four chukkers of polo. Then, incognito, he attended the wedding reception of Lewis Lacey, the international polo player.

TALES OF BRUTALITY AT SEA TOLD BY ALASKAN FISHERMEN

Special to The Advertiser.

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 27.—Tales of brutality at sea such as Joseph Conrad might have told were recited by the crews of thirteen battered old wind-jammers, returned from the Alaskan fishing season.

Daniel Flores of the Star of Holland said he had earned $250 on the cruise, but that liquor and drugs had been charged against his wages until his employers had offered him 25 cents for his summer's work. Albert Aouna of the Star of England led a delegation of 50 seamen to the state labor commission to charge that during the stay in the north the men were beaten, forced into intoxication, and "gouged" by exorbitant prices on commissary wares.

Commissary prices, the men said, included the following: Peach pie, $1; cup cakes, 10 cents; jam, 75 cents.

The cooks were told to spoil the food by oversalting it, so the men would be forced to buy from the commissary, they told the commissioner.

Boys under eighteen, signed for the cruise illegally, were encouraged to buy drugs and liquor, so that their money would revert back to the employment agents, officials were told.

Churchill's Surrender In Debt Brings Stormy Flow of Protest

By JOHN GUNTHER.
Special Cable to The Advertiser and the Chicago Daily News. Copyright.

London, Aug. 7.—Joseph Caillaux departed from London today leaving behind him amazed tributes to his own financial dexterity and also considerable indignation at the terms of the agreement he secured with Winston Churchill.

Many quarters bitterly protested against the provisional settlement, under which Mr. Churchill reduced the French debt to 62 annual installments of £12,500,000 each. It must be understood that this agreement by no means settles the debt issue between France and Great Britain.

Powerful sections of the British press, including all the old Northcliffe group, bitterly denounce what they term Churchill's surrender, whereby the British taxpayers must pay part of the French war debt for two generations, with the further possibility of a long moratorium before the French begin any payments at all.

BORDER BELIEVES DENNIS IS CHOICE

Claim Conservative Association Head First in Line For Vacancy.

Special to The Advertiser by a Staff Correspondent.

Windsor, Aug. 27.—E. R. Dennis, president of the Western Ontario Conservative association, is first in line as the party choice in the coming by-election to fill the vacant seat of London, occasioned by the recent death of Sir Adam Beck, according to a report in circulation here today.

The most ardent supporters of the late Sir Adam will undoubtedly oppose it, it is said, the proposed Dennis nomination on the belief that the standard should go to an avowed supporter of the late Sir Adam. In this connection they offer as a substitute J. Percy Moore, who was recognized as Sir Adam's right-hand man on the London & Port Stanley Railway commission.

Should E. R. Dennis win the nomination, however, the Labor forces will not enter the field, they have promised, while on the other hand, the "Beck Grits" will show extreme displeasure. Local Tories recall that Mr. Dennis, when placed in nomination during the last provincial campaign, announced to the gathering, "We'll wait and hear what Sir Adam has to say about his probable nomination." And Sir Adam entered the fight.

All Three TIRE Merits in "DUNLOP"

Dunlop Tires combine the three vital features of merit individually endorsed by outstanding Tire Engineers

FEATURE No. 1

"Broad-Span" Tread

The benefits of the broad-span tread tire, along with other outstanding tire-building improvements, have been enjoyed by Dunlop Tire Users ever since the first Dunlop Balloon Tire was sold because this feature originated with Dunlop Balloon Tires. The wider the span of the tread of a Balloon Tire, and the more evenly its wearing surface bears upon the road, so much better will be the results in Greater Traction—More Road Grip, hence Resistance to Skidding (no other tire enjoys Dunlop tire popularity as an Anti-Skid)—Lower possible Air Pressure, hence easier riding—More Power, due to greater road contact—and Longer Tire Life, due to proper distribution of wear and tear.

FEATURE No. 2

"Pressure-Gummed" Cure

The Cord Fabric in Dunlop Tires is Pressure-Gummed by a special treatment. The binder of rubber is applied to the fabric under great pressure until every single cord is impregnated through and through and thoroughly embedded in the solution of rubber. When vulcanized, the Cord material becomes an inseparable unit of the Tire structure.

FEATURE No. 3

"Ultra-Resilient" Cord

The success of the Balloon Tire lies largely in its ability to absorb shock and carry the required weight without damage to itself. To secure the necessary flexibility in the Balloon Tire, Dunlop experts perfected an Ultra-Resilient Cord material combining the essential qualities of great strength and flexibility. This material has been adopted the world over by the Dunlop Rubber Industries.

DUNLOP TIRES

Users of Dunlop Tires enjoy the benefits of the most competent and highly-paid tire experts engaged in the industry. There is no feature of excellence in tire construction that is not incorporated in Dunlop Tires, which are serviced in all parts of the World so that no matter where you travel, if you need tires, you can get Dunlop with Dunlop satisfaction and fair price.

Here again is why "DUNLOP" still represents the greatest tire value in the World.

The lovely old home of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. The function was arranged by a number of Miss McCamus' friends, Miss Sophie Porter lending her home for the occasion. During the afternoon Miss McCamus was presented with a handsome steamer trunk, the gift of those present. Tea was served from a table prettily arranged out under the trees, and centered with a large bowl of mauve cosmos. Here Mrs. Donald McLean, president of the Y. W. C. Let's Try to Make Things Pleasanter at Home by Refraining From Nagging.

Do you ever consciously try to make yourself more agreeable to those about you?

I mean to your own family, to those of your own household, the people who cannot escape you and who have to endure your society 365 days a year through innumerable years?

We are compelled to be pleasant to strangers. Otherwise, we would be ostracized in society and go bankrupt in business. So in public we wear the smile that won't come off and use tact and diplomacy in dealing with those whom we wish to placate.

But in the family circle we feel that we can slump and do as we please, and that if we are moral and upright, and don't get drunk or swear and break up the furniture that we have done all that any one has a right to expect of us. If we go a step beyond that and actually display good manners, and are polite and considerate, and do our duty as husbands and wives, and parents, and children, and sisters and brothers we hurl bouquets at ourselves and hope that our relatives appreciate how Providence has blessed them in bestowing us upon them.

But, alas, the cold fact remains that one may be a model of all the virtues, and yet be a most disagreeable individual with whom to live. Some of the best men in the world are the worst husbands. Many of the most conscientious, unselfish and self-sacrificing wives and mothers drive their husbands to drink and send their children to the uttermost parts of the earth to get away from them. 'Few brothers and sisters ever quit fighting and get on friendly terms until they separate and go their different ways in life.

The truth is, it isn't their good qualities that make people pleasant to live with, but their little ways. And so it behooves us all to take stock of our own personal peculiarities in order that we may correct such of them as daily and hourly afflict those with whom we live.

Let us, then, stop nagging—even the children. Let's say a thing once and let it go, instead of harping upon it until we wear everybody's nerves to a frazzle.

Let's refrain from telling Johnny every time he comes in the house to take off his cap and not to bang the door, and not to sit on the back of his neck, and not to leave his spoon in his cup.

Let's not greet our husbands when they come home of an evening with the usual monologue about the old automobile, with its many defects, and how much we need a new car, nor demand to know why we can't have a limousine like Mrs. Million Bucks. Let's not ask our wives for the millionth time why it is that there never can be a decent cup of coffee in the house; why she can not think of something to have for breakfast besides bacon and eggs, and how came the gas bill to be so big, and why she doesn't make Susie stay at home of nights and read improving books instead of running around with fool jellybeans to parties.

Let's suppress our curiosity. Let's refrain from prying into the letters of other members of the family. Let's can the questionnaire, and not ask every one who leaves the house where he or she is going; what they are going to do, whom they expect to see, what they said to the other people, what the other people said to them and why they are going to do what they are going to do, anyway.

Let's refrain from giving unsolicited advice. Let's permit other members of the family to eat what they want to eat in peace, without telling them how bad everything they like is for their digestion. Let's let other members of the family exercise their own taste in buying their clothes, and their furniture, and their automobiles without our trying to force our selections upon them.

Let's not tell Mary how she should run her house and raise her children; nor John how to conduct his business, nor Tom, and Dick, and Susie where to get on and where to get off in every move they make. Let's not tell home people home truths. Let's not tell Mary that her hat is ten years too young for her, and that she looks like old sheep masquerading as spring lamb with bobbed hair. Let's not tell Emma that she is getting fat, and Jane that she looks like a living skeleton, and Tom that we have heard his funny story a dozen times before.

Let's not interrupt those who try to tell us some incident that is, at least, interesting to themselves by interjecting remarks that show that we haven't been listening to what they said at all.

Let's try not to bore those with whom we live any more than we can help. Let's not make ourselves a perpetual subject of conversation, and let's keep tab on our stories and reminiscences so that we shall not repeat the same things until our families feel like screaming when they hear us start on the old familiar repertoire.

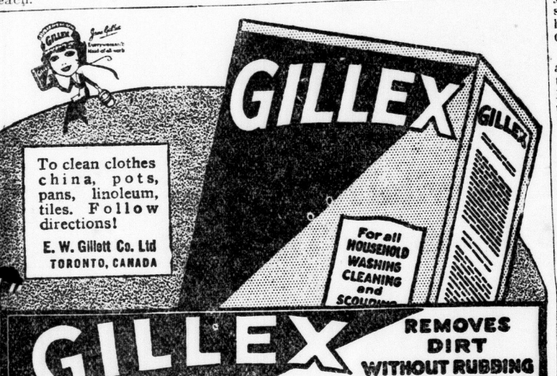

Let's have a little respect for the privacy of others, and remember that we get as much on the nerves of those with whom we live as they do on ours, and that they would like a little rest from our society now and then. Let's respect the belongings of others and reflect that the ties of blood gives us no right to sponge on them.

There is nothing that so much needs improving as family life. Let's help along the good work by trying to make things pleasanter for those with whom we live

WOMEN and THE HOME

SEVEN ACRES PROVIDE HOME FOR STRAY CATS AND DOGS

Humane Society's Kennels Dwindle As London Is Cleaned Up.

REFUSE TO LEAVE

At the very tip end of Victoria street west is to be found one of the most interesting spots in all London—the headquarters of the London Humane society and home of Inspector Tustin. Flowers clamber up the front veranda and great shade trees provide a happy resting-place for hundreds of birds who have learned to love the inspector and daily visit his feeding and drinking troughs. Here during the month of August 348 animals were looked after by the inspector. Every 48 hours the inspector's merciful gun puts tortured animals out of their pain and sends them on to the happy hunting ground. This gun, specially built for this work, comes from England. It has a wide-lipped bore, which is placed firmly over the brain of the animal, and does its work instantly and mercifully.

Seven acres of ground surround the home of Inspector Tustin, and are used for pasture and runways for dogs, thus making one of the best Humane society headquarters in Canada. Mr. Tustin carries on his work effectively without regard to persons. If a prosecution is necessary the inspector prosecutes and cannot be turned from his decision to do so. And as a result of his work London is being rapidly cleaned out of stray animals.

No Stray Dogs.

"A stray dog in the city is now a thing of the past," says the inspector. "Four years ago we had a long row of kennels extending all the way back to the end of the pasture, with as many as from 28 to 35 kennels in operation. Today I have but one dog and four cats.

The dog is a beautiful English bull, who was picked up on Princess avenue east over three months ago. It took almost this length of time to identify the owner, who is delighted with the excellent care which his pet has had at the hands of the inspector.

Teddy, as the bull is called, likes nothing better than to get a chance to scare the newly-arrived cats, but Mr. Tustin will have none of this, and no one knows it better than Teddy.

He has made friends with Mr. Tustin's pet duck, who loves to preen herself in Teddy's stall. This duck came to Mr. Tustin's home five years ago and has remained with him ever since. It is of the wild Muskoka variety, but prefers Mr. Tustin's care to foraging for itself. So friendly has it become that it wags its tail when Mr. Tustin comes into sight. It used to go off for days at a time, but always returned. Now it is too old and fat to make such lengthy journeys, and so just putters about the yard under the dignified name of "Fat."

Refuses to Leave.

Mr. Tustin has another feathered friend. This one is a pheasant who was found during the summer on Elmwood avenue suffering from a hurt wing. Mr. Tustin took it home and cared for the wing, releasing it on August 20 in the woods nearby. Mr. Pheasant spent just three days getting back to Mr. Tustin and his kind home, and now refuses to leave.

Often American touring cars drop pet animals as they pass through London. And sometimes weeks and months elapse before they are traced to Mr. Tustin's home. Great is the rejoicing when they are returned safe and sound and happy.

This and other similar work keeps Mr. Tustin's days full and keeps London streets free of stray animals and London's children safe from the bites of irritable and diseased dogs. receivedi-TusYletaohr etaordlutaoin

MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION HOLDS FINE MEETING

Inspiring Papers Feature Session at Egerton Street Church.

A very enthusiastic meeting of the first church vacation school mothers' association was held in the school-room of the Egerton street Baptist church Wednesday afternoon, with Mrs. H. M. Egen, the vice-president, in the chair. There was a splendid attendance.

During the afternoon an excellent and inspiring paper on "Dr. Lymon Abbott's Ideal Mother," was given by Mrs. A. E. Tutt, and Mrs. McKay spoke interestingly on "The Aims of the Church Vacation Bible Schools." Both talks were intensely interesting and helpful and created a great deal of friendly discussion.

Breaking the more serious train of thought throughout the session was an instrumental duet well played by Mrs. H. M. Higgins and her daughter, Miss Daisy Higgins. The meeting closed with prayer by Mrs. Tutt.

Once more a cordial invitation has been extended to mothers in the locality to attend the mothers' association meetings, which are held each Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Oscar Norton was general convener of the event which was one of the most successful ever held at the church.

An attractive program included numbers by the Adanac orchestra, readings by Miss Elsie Derman and vocal numbers by Mrs. H. Zilliax, Charles Auld and Mrs. J. Calhoun.

NEW SUGGESTIONS FOR SCHOOL GIRL

Two-Piece Velvet Frocks and Scarfs Are Very Fashionable.

By AILEEN LAMONT.
Associated Press Despatch.
Copyright, 1925.

New York, Aug. 27.—The wardrobe trunks which will be carried back to girls' colleges and fashionable schools in the next month will be well supplied with two-piece frocks, many of them of velvet and velveteen. These dresses in most instances are severely plain. The only decorations many of them carry is a row of bright metal or glass buttons up the front of their jumper.

Scarfs continue to be worn with practically every costume. One reason is that these accessories give the little individual a touch of personality which every costume needs. The large handkerchiefs are being used for this purpose with excellent effect since they may be tied in countless ways. Bobbed-haired bandits find them particularly useful and businesslike.

The decoration of the garter is no longer confined to the English peerage. In these days of short skirts nearly every woman wears garters, and they are decorations also. As a result many of the newer girdles and corsets are made without hose supporters. The girdles are usually of elastic webbing or perforated rubber.

The younger set seems likely to wear the older skins this fall, so far as fur coats are concerned. There seemingly has been no less in popularity of raccoon, muskrat, nutria and leopard cat. Many of the coats are bordered and collared in fox. A combination of the flat-haired antelopes with beaver is an attractive one.

A stripe down the trouser leg has always been a feature of military dress uniforms. The stripe down the leg on the newest lingerie, however, is not military, and it is distinctly undress. On the newest step-ins, it consists of a double row of val lace, running from hip to the bottom of the hem.

LONDON CONTRIBUTES TO MISSIONARY APPEAL

Four Young Women, Adelaide Street Baptist Church, Will Train.

An interesting meeting was held this week by the members of the McLaurin young women's mission circle of the Adelaide street Baptist church, when they gathered around a uniquely arranged camp fire on the lawn of the church. The session was presided over by Mrs. William Blanchard, the president, and Mrs. James Baldwin directed the opening exercises.

Inspiring messages were received from Miss Cora Carson, of the Moody Bible institute of Chicago, and from four London girls, who leave shortly to train in this institution, with the exception of Miss Beatrice Benstead, who takes her training at the Moody Bible institute in Toronto. The other three are Miss Anne Mason, Miss Lucy Mason and Miss Maude Carson.

Rev. J. H. Slimon, pastor of the church, spoke interestingly to the young women in particular, after which charming solos were rendered by Mrs. Rowley and Miss Louise York, accompanied by Miss Gertrude Parr. At the conclusion of the meeting dainty picnic refreshments were served under the direction of Mrs. Frank Pierce.

WARDSVILLE

Special to The Advertiser.

Wardsville, Aug. 27.—Mr. Herbert Marcus and little daughters of Los Angeles spent the week-end with friends in town.

Visitors in the village are: Mrs. John McVicar and children from the west, Mrs. Chas. Normandy of Washington, Mrs. Douglas of Windsor, John Armstrong of Strathroy and Thomas Armstrong of London, Mrs. Weeks of Exeter, Mr. Russell Shepherd and wife of St. Louis, and Mr. Cecil Shepherd and wife of Cleveland, Miss Jean Faulds of London, and Miss Florence Simpson of Windsor.

Complimenting Miss Beulah Laidlaw, who is leaving shortly to teach in the Rainy River district, the members of her Alert class of the First United church, Westminster, assembled at her home on Wednesday evening and presented her with a lovely ivory clock. Other friends in the community were also present at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Laidlaw, Wilton Grove, and showered her with dainty handkerchiefs. Miss Laidlaw will make part of the trip by boat, going from Sarnia to Port Arthur by water.

ENJOYABLE PARTY AT ST. GEORGE'S

Young Women's Mission Circle Give Successful Lawn Fete.

A very successful lawn fete was held at St. George's Presbyterian church last evening, under the auspices of the young women's mission circle. The party was well patronized and the attractive booths lured many a guest.

In the church an excellent program, which featured the event, was given. It was arranged under the direction of the organist, Miss Ella Angus, and included exceptionally well-rendered selections from the choir, musical selections by the Duncan brothers, vocal solos by Miss Eleanor Clarke, violin solos by Allan MacDonald, and clever readings by Miss Florence Lewis.

Gayly festooned were the grounds for the occasion, red, white and blue streamers and many flags adding a patriotic note. Colored lights lent charm to the affair, which was convened by Miss Eva Clarke, assisted in the following booths by: candy and ice cream, Mrs. A. Leigh, assisted by Miss E. Downing; fish pond, the Misses Helen Wallace and S. Downing; flowers, the Misses Agnes Armour and Jessie Dunston; hot dogs and coffee, Mrs. S. Grosvenor, Miss Agnes Watt and Mrs. Allan MacDonald.

KIWANIS CARNIVAL DRAWS BIG CROWD

Ballyhoo Men Really Magnetic and Coin of Realm Flows Freely.

Special to The Advertiser.

St. Thomas, Aug. 27.—A large crowd visited the Y. M. C. A. park tonight at the opening of the three-day Kiwanis carnival. A steady flow of dimes went into the various long-shot devices, and the carnival is a sure success. Handsome baskets of fruit, boxes of candy and novelties were passed out to the lucky number holders and the wheels hummed merrily. The Kiwanians are good ballyhoo men, and shouted themselves hoarse. The evening was a little cool for the famous Kiwanis pink lemonade to get a big call, but the hot-dogs held their usual popularity. The Elgin Regiment band gave an enjoyable concert. The proceeds will go to swell the Kiwanis playground fund.

The party of United States congressmen touring Ontario to investigate the effect of 4.4 beer, who were scheduled to arrive in the city this afternoon, did not come. They were to be met by Mayor George Sloggett, together with E. McCredie and Dr. T. G. Mitton, representing local temperance forces.

More Passengers.

More people are riding on the street cars this year than last, Manager Chas. Johns reported at a meeting of No. 4 committee tonight. There has been an increase of 35,000 in the number of passengers carried during the first eight months of this year, as compared with last year.

This month's report shows a deficit of $891.04, which is larger by $107.04 than the same month a year ago. This is due to a decrease of 12,188 in passengers carried, with a corresponding loss of $1,007.50 in receipts. The month was a large one last year owing to the old boys' reunion, which was held on August 4, 5, 6.

The matter of the purchase of the new fire truck was laid over until Monday night owing to No. 3 committee being without a quorum. The report of the special committee which is deciding between the La France and Seagraves trucks will be made next Monday night.

A flower show, open to both professionals and amateurs, will be held here September 21-22. The project is under the direction of R. V. Smith of the Old Gardens, Princess avenue, and is calculated to stimulate flower cultivation throughout the city. Arrangements are being made to provide accommodation, and Mr. Smith has intimated his intention of bearing the entire expense himself.

Only eight prisoners are confined in the county jail at present. This is the smallest number in several months.

Signalman Hurt.

F. N. Gadsby, M. C. R. signalman, was thrown against the wall of a tool car when a switch engine threw another car into it at Hagersville last night, and is confined to his bed with a sprained back as a result. Mr. Gadsby was struck by a passenger train some time ago, and had not fully recovered from that accident.

Local exhibits won first prizes at the Canadian Gladiolus society exhibition in Hamilton yesterday in the only two events competed for. The Horticultural society's exhibit, regarded as the feature of the show, comprised 1,500 stalks, placed on tables to form the letter H.

First prizes for Herefords in every event, except that of aged cows, went to McNeill & McNeill of Dutton, who are exhibiting in Ottawa this week. The herd also won silver cups for the best male and the best female.

Word was received today of the death in Hamilton of Mrs. Drummond, wife of Rev. Dr. D. R. Drummond of St. Paul's Presbyterian church there and former pastor for several years of Knox church here.

WEDDINGS

CLARK—ADAMS.

Guelph, Aug. 28.—The Church of Our Lady was the scene of a very pretty wedding recently, when Madelyn Gertrude Adams, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. Adams of Guelph, became the bride of Michael Thomas Clark, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. Clark of London, Ont. The bride entered the church on the arm of her father to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, and was preceded by her nine Sodality bridesmaids, wearing white gowns and white veils, and by her maid of honor, Miss Helen Lester, of Toronto, cousin of the bride, who wore a becoming gown of orchid satin, with overdress of ecru net, with picture hat to match, and shower bouquet of sweet peas and orchids. The bride was gowned in white crepe romaine, with silver trimming and orange blossoms. Her Grecian veil of embroidered tulle was held in place by a silver bandeau and caught at each side with clusters of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses, lilies of the valley and baby breath. Mr. Vincent Adams, brother of the bride, acted as groomsman. Rev. F. W. Doyle, S.J., performed the ceremony. During the offertory Archie McLelland sang beautifully "Ave Marie." After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Cork street, where Mrs. Adams, mother of the bride, and Mrs. Clark, mother the bridegroom, received with the bridal party. Mrs. Adams wore a gown of crepe-faced satin, with picture hat to match, and corsage of sweet peas. Mrs. Clark wore gray crepe, and hat to match, with corsage of pansies. Later the happy couple left for a trip down the St. Lawrence and Saguenay rivers. The bride travelled in a black ensemble dress, with sand crepe trimming, and nile green hat, with ostrich plume. The bride threw her bouquet from the train, and it was caught by Miss Lavina McLelland. Mr. and Mrs. Clark will, on their return, reside in London, Ont.

All But One of Tecs' Nine Safeties Count In Scoring 5-1 Victory Over Aces

BAKERMEN LENGTHEN LEAD OVER SAGINAW

Tecs Finally Lose Aversion To Left-Hand Pitching.

TWO TRIPLES

Bill Coogan, late of Coogan's Bluff, and bound somewhere, yesterday wove his spell once more over the Saginaw Aces, letting them down with four hits, and taking the first game by a count of 5—1. Three of these hits came in the first inning, but otherwise the Aces were under the anaesthetic for the rest of the afternoon, and that's no joke ether. This was William's 19th win, eight or nine of which have come his way through the medium of the Aces, and it looks as if the Voodoo Man should render the Saginaw players a hearty vote of thanks for their work this season.

Out from behind Coogan's fine hurling sprang the Tecs to pelt Lefty Jacobs, now the property of the New York Yankees, with nine hits, two of them triples sired by Stimpson and Cross at very opportune moments, not to mention several doubles. Nunamaker threw in his ace in the hole, and from last reports he was still in it.

Coogan never looked better. He had marvelous control, better than even Jim Ward guessed at times, a baffling change of pace and a twisting, curved slow ball, that came down the alley looking like a football, but proving as elusive as a wisp of smoke to hit. The Aces combed him for one hit in eight innings after the first round, and they only strayed out on the paths through walks or errors, of which there were just enough to provide frills to ornament Coogan's performance.

Eight Hits Count.

Offensively, the Tecs obtained but nine hits, but every one, except one, told a bedtime story to the Aces. A month ago all Jacobs or any other good left-hander had to throw in was his glove, but recently even the erratic gents have had to toss in the whole box of tricks to get an even break with the Tecs, who bat mostly from the wrong side of the plate. Even with Dodson's trick knee, and Calbert's perennial charley horse, the Ace outfield looks like the fleetest in the league, and they were run ragged chasing blows that fell short, then long, and generally where the visiting patrolmen weren't.

The Aces marked up a run in the first round, but this proved to be an extravagant gesture merely. With one gone, Foster's infield single to short, Dodson's double which nearly took the third bag with it, and Calbert's smart single to right, counted in the Aces' first, last and only counter.

In the fourth they were to suffer the snuffing out of hopes falsely raised. Sandquist laid the plot here by messing up Nunamaker's easy grounder, and Kerr, the Conacher of the west, tossed in a double to left. Sandquist, however, made up for his blunder by taking Ussat's choice and pegging past the big manager's left ear for a killing at the plate. Beumel was an easy infield out.

Sandy Musses One.

With two gone in the eighth, Sandquist had a double-barrelled error, mussing up Calbert's fast hop, and then throwing high over Cross' head to let Calbert get to second. Nunamaker left Cal there by bouncing a grounder at Coogan.

With two gone in the ninth, and pitching into the path of a red-hot sun that was slipping below the roof of the grandstand, Coogan hit Beumel and walked Jacobs. Carlin had the count two and two, but Coogan made him bite hard on nothing but a sharp breaking bender.

Jacobs issued a walk to Baker in the first inning, and Stimpson counted this in with a three-base slap to right field. Klein started the second by dropping a double down between Dodson and Kerr, and scored as Kerman blazed a single through the infield. Sandquist started the third with a Texas leaguer, good for two bases, and counted in on Baker's single through the mound, Mike taking second as Dodson failed to find a handle on the ball.

Cross Gets Daily Triple.

He dived back into second as Carlin let Beumel's peg go through, and made third, from where he scored on Cross' mighty blow out past the right field flag, on the way to the gate. Calbert stopped Cross at third by smart running.

Jacobs settled down from there on, and so did his support. A misplay by Carlin gave Brower a life in the sixth, but he underestimated Calbert's arm as Klein singled to right, and was caught at second as he overran the bag. A bullet-like peg, straight and too true to the mark, cut him down.

In the eighth the Tecs sweetened the pot to the extent of a run. Baker blazed another single past Jacobs, and Stimpson sacrificed him along. Baker was nearly caught by one of Beumel's quick pegs to second, and then feinted another doze. He had a long lead and as Beumel fell into the trap and pegged, Mike dashed for third, scoring later on Brower's single to left. Klein lined out to Calbert to end the Tecs' scoring.

Hamilton, Aug. 27.—Bay City and Hamilton resumed their argument here this afternoon, and Ralph Judd held the visitors in the hollow of his hand, winning by a score of 10 to 2. Cozington's homer in the seventh, Brown's double, an error by McCrea and an infield out gave the Wolves their only tallies, while the Clippers rammed the delivery of Thomas for sixteen safeties.

COLTS DROP TWO.
Special to The Advertiser.

Flint, Aug. 27.—Flint won both games of today's double-header with Kitchener, winning the first by a batfest 7 to 3, and nosing out the Colts in one extra inning in the second, 3 to 2.

Kitchener gained her two runs in the second game through the generosity of Hendee, who passed five batters. Good then relieved him and held the enemy to three hits over the remaining distance. Kuhel's homer over the left wall, scoring Trefry with him, tied the count for the Vehics in the fourth, and Trefry's single, Dunn's sacrifice and Kuhel's third hit gained the verdict in the eighth.

Two Soccer Games on Saturday Bill

London will have two soccer games on Saturday. One will be a first-round Brisco charity cup tie between the Thistles and Westminster Hospital. This game will be played at Springbank, and the kick-off is at 3 o'clock, with George Robertson in charge. These two teams are very evenly matched, and a splendid game should be the outcome.

The other game is at Carling heights, where the Garrison team will be opposed by the Caledonians of St. Thomas in an interesting league fixture. Both sides will be at full strength, and the Caleys are anxious to win this game, as they are well in the running for league honors, while the Soldiers will be much stronger for this game. The kick-off is at 5:45 p.m., with J. Moir as referee.

KID KAPLAN DRAWS WITH BABE HERMAN

Challenger Finally Takes Aggressive After Trailing in Early Stages.

Associated Press Despatch.

Waterbury, Conn., Aug. 27.—Louis "Kid" Kaplan, world's featherweight champion, successfully defended his title here tonight against Babe Herman, the Pacific coast featherweight, after fifteen rounds of fighting. The weights were: Kaplan 126, and Herman 125.

Kaplan took the aggressive at the start, and the fight was tame until the sixth when Herman seemed to find himself and sailed into the champion, punching him around the ring and closing one of his eyes. Kaplan was missing now and again when Herman the champion on his bad eye. In the the chamion on his bad eye. In the eighth Herman staggered Kaplan with a right uppercut and poked at his ribs with terrific force. The crowd was yelling for action, as they were clinching often, and Herman was tieing the champion up repeatedly as he would rush in.

In the remaining rounds Herman seemed to land more often and harder than did the champion. In the fourteenth Herman's manager protested that the rounds were being shortened.

Kaplan frantically endeavored to get inside Herman's close guard and stood his ground when Herman attacked. Kaplan took a lot of punishment towards the end and was rocked in the fifteenth as if he would go down under a terrific shower of punches at the body and head. The champion was missing frequently at the close, and, according to newspapermen here, Herman deserved the verdict.

London Horseshoe Club to Send Representatives to Philadelphia

Proof that horseshoe pitching is getting a firmer hold on London is established in the fact that the Westoe street club, the larger of the two in the city has strung up lights over its pitches, a la bowlers, and at least 25 enthusiasts can be seen tossing ringers long past the curfew hour every night.

"And, more than that," says Harry Storie, one of the organizers of the club, "tournaments are coming in the near future. We have a splendid team that is all set to clean up when the tourneys come. Several of our club members will be playing in the international meet in Philadelphia next month, and we have at least one man in teh district who will be among the high ones in the Quaker City. He counts nothing but ringers, and that means something."

The club really got under way this season. Lately the number of pitches has been increased to accommodate the players. The other club in the city, known as the London West club, also has grown considerably since its inception, and the rivalry between the two is very keen. There are also clubs in Byron, Dorchester and several other places throughout the district, and they are all organized in a sort of unofficial league. Next year should see several leagues throughout the country, with interclub tournaments and a Western Ontario championship.

DIAMOND GLINTS

* * *

It's Alten's turn today, and Pete Harris should extend the southpaw blight to another day tomorrow.

* * *

Yesterday saw one of the biggest crowds of the season, other than on a Saturday or a Wednesday. The Aces would rather draw crowds than Coogan.

Scouts were identified, but it was only circumstantial evidence. There must have been scouts there, as Sandquist made three errors. That's evidence.

Champions Begin Year at Home With West Bromwich Albions.

SHEFFIELD PLAYS

Associated Press Despatch.

London, Aug. 27.—The curtain rises on soccer football throughout England the day after tomorrow when the eighty-eight clubs that compose the three divisions of the football league will get under way for the 1925-26 season.

Many changes have been made in the personnel of the various teams. Each division sees newcomers and has witnessed the passing of old stand-bys.

Huddersfield Town, champions of the English league, begin the season at home when they receive the sternest of their last year's opponents, West Bromwich Albions.

The cupholders, Sheffield United, will assist in staging another battle in the "war of the roses" when they cross the county line into Lancashire to take on Everton.

Considerable interest will be centered on Leicester City in their first appearance in the senior division. They will have as their guests Liverpool.

The other promoted club, Manchester United, travel to Upton Park, where they will be entertained by West Ham. An interesting contest can be looked for and should furnish an excellent rival feature to the tilt at Highbury, where the Arsenal engage in a regalar metropolitan tussle with the only other London team in the first division, the 'Spurs.

Other scheduled encounters in the first division are:
Burnley at Villa Park vs. Aston Villa.
Bury at Blackburn.
Newcastle United at Bolton.
Cardiff City at Manchester.
Leeds United at Nottingham.
Birmingham at Sunderland.

Associated Press Despatch.

Glasgow, Aug. 27.—Some interesting contests are promised for the first division of the Scottish football league on Saturday, and it is not unlikely that as a result of them the aspect of the league will undergo another change. Perhaps the most intriguing of the scheduled games is that slated for Tyne Castle Park when Heart of Midlothian face the Airdrieonians. The Edinburgh club started off badly, drawing to Falkirk in their first game and losing to Hamilton Academicals in their second.

On their own ground they should give Airdrie a tussle. Celtic have an opportunity of strengthening their position at the head of the league on Saturday when they play Hamilton at Celtic Park. They will not have everything their own way against the Academicals, though for the latter are tremendously pleased with their trinity of goals against the Hearts last week.

Dundee United will play their first home game at Tannadice Park Saturday with Falkirk after having had some disastrous experiences in their two previous games, both of which were played away from home.

Rangers are confronted with no insuperable difficulties when they entertain their neighbors from Greenock, and it would be contrary to all Rangers precedents if they should yield anything to Morton on Saturday.

Hibernians, who staged a comeback after their humiliation of two weeks ago by piling eight vicious goals on the heads of unfortunate Hilmarnock, have another chance to square themselves with their Easter Road patrons when they travel to Perth to take on St. Johnstone. The Saints are not to be despised, however. They defeated Dundee away from home last week.

Other scheduled games are:
Cowdenbeath at Aberdeen.
Clydebank at Kilmarnock.
Queen's Park at Motherwell.
Partick at Kirkcaldy (Raith Rovers).
Dundee at Paisley (St. Mirren).

PHILS BEAT CUBS.
Associated Press Despatch.

Philadelphia, Aug. 27.—Philadelphia made it two out of three by taking the final game from Chicago today 4 to 0. Blake's wildness in the first inning and three hits cinched the game for the Phillies.

The score:		R.	H.	E.
Chicago	000 000 000—	0	6	0
Philadelphia	300 001 00x—	4	6	1

ROBINS WIN 10-9.
Associated Press Despatch.

Brooklyn, Aug. 27.—Brooklyn took a firmer grip on fourth place today by defeating St. Louis 10 to 9, Hank Deberry's single in the ninth scoring Brown with the winning counter.

The score:		R.	H.	E.
St. Louis	006 010 200—	9	13	2

MITCHELL LACROSSE TEAM DEFEATED 15-4

Special to The Advertiser.

Stratford, Aug. 27.—The patience of Stratford's lacrosse fans was tried again here this evening, when they waited for an hour and a half after the hour the game between Stratford and Mitchell had been advertised to commence. When the Mitchell squad did arrive they were minus several of their regulars. As a result, Stratford scored almost at will, the final score being 15 to 4.

Dresden Seniors Nose Sarnia Out By 5-4 Score In Thirteen-Inning Thriller

THIRD GAME NOW NECESSARY TO DECIDE KENT LEAGUE TITLE

Dresden and Sarnia Senior Teams Will Meet in Chatham Today.

ERROR IS FACTOR

Special to The Advertiser.

Dresden, Aug. 27.—Today the local seniors evened up the series for the Kent league championship when they defeated Sarnia here, 5 to 4, in a thrilling battle that went thirteen innings. In the thirteenth, after McMillan was safe on an error, he made second when the hurried throw went wild over the first baseman's head. Bruce Wallace's single moved him along to third. Then Miller hit to Moorehouse, who elected to make the play on the batter, but while he was doing it McMillan raced for home, beating the throw from first by a perfect slide.

It was a fitting climax to a well-played tilt that included hard smacks on both sides, as well as stellar fielding, and it was anybody's game until McMillan was over the plate with the deciding tally. Wallace, the local fork-hand twirler, worked until the tenth frame, about evenly dividing the honors with Moorehouse, the Tunnel City moundsman.

Hank Johnson relieved Wallace to start the eleventh inning, and he more than made up for the pasting the borderers gave him in Sarnia in the opening game of the series.

The third game to decide which of the teams will meet the London Braves in the next round of the O. B. A. A. senior play-offs will be staged in Chatham tomorrow.

Special to The Advertiser.

Wallaceburg, Aug. 27.—In the local police court on Tuesday afternoon, Robert Harron pleaded guilty to a charge of failing to stop and render assistance after his automobile had run into a horse and buggy driven by Mrs. S. Templeton. Harren satisfied the court that he settled the amount of damage incurred and was allowed to go on suspended sentence on payment of costs.

Skipping his bail two months ago, after having been arrested by Provincial Officer W. C. Oliver upon a charge of having liquor in a public place, Frank Cook was rearrested on Monday by Officer Oliver. He was fined $50 and costs or one month in jail. To a charge of having liquor in other than his private dwelling house, he pleaded guilty, and was fined $150 and costs or three months in jail, the jail sentences to run consecutively.

COLLEGE FOOTBALL — BUSINESS OR SPORT?

—AS ANALYZED BY A GRADUATE MANAGER—

CHAPTER V.

Virtually every American university of any worthwhile football aspirations carries a scout, and sometimes a whole staff of them.

The business of the scout is to trail football prospects almost from infancy, and eventually steer them into his particular university. I dare say that if an 11-pound male child should be born in Sweetwater, Arizona, a record of the event would find its way into the card indexes of a score of big universities before nightfall and from then on until maturity not a single squirm or gesture of the newcomer would escape the scouts.

The scouts—also moving about in that hushed limbo of the soft shoe—the no man's land of the annual report—have done their work well.

But sometimes they get to the limit of their resources and have to call in other intelligence and combat forces of the college.

That is how the Uhlans came about.

Before introducing the Uhlans, let it be recalled that a college lad these days doesn't really crash in among the elect unless he has had an automobile of some kind. Many of the boys manage nothing better than Fords, but they make the most of them. It has become the mode to strip the Ford down, and put some kind of racing body on it, or else just go tearing around on the skeleton, with some kind of an improvised seat. In this way, with the muffler open, one can stir up a lot of dust and noise, and also convey the idea that in using a Ford one is merely thumbing his nose at convention.

Rushing the Football Birds.

A graduate manager in a college which I know well, was called upon by his head scout.

"I'm stuck," said the scout. "I've got a big crop of yearlings coming up, all within two or three hundred miles of here. Some of the best prospects of years are among them, but we can't get at them. Every man on my staff is out on an important job, and here these boys are right at our door and nobody doing anything. They all need nursing. We ought to be sending in some of the fraternities and begin rushing these birds."

The scout was interrupted by a frightful rending noise, as if somebody was tearing a big sheet. They looked out the window, but found only a cloud of dust and a bad smell.

"I've got the idea," said the graduate manager. "We'll organize these stripped Ford maniacs!" They did.

That was the beginning of the Uhlans. Here's how they work:

All the boys with Fords, or automobiles of any kind, are signed up for "co-operation in athletic work." Every night the scout turns in to the graduate manager a list of high school boys, within automobile distance who need attention. This list is delivered to the head of the Uhlans.

Enthusiastic Recruiters.

The next morning the members of the automobile corps receive their assignments. That afternoon there is a rip and a roar as the automobiles depart. The Uhlans make a merry and hilarious onslaught on the dazzled high school lads. They drag them to fraternity parties, college sprees of one sort or another; they hold out the bait of fraternity membership; they cultivate intimate, friendly relationships; they lose no opportunity to boom their college and its superiority over all other colleges.

The high school boys meet all sorts of friendly and interesting people around the big college, and if they happen to meet a few charming girls, so much the better.

The Uhlans have proved most effective in scouting work. While this is a comparatively new institution, its possibilities have been thoroughly realized. A really competent graduate manager now estimates carefully his automobile resources, and articulates them with the scouting operations.

Extra Money.

The graduate manager is compelled to enlist so much co-operation from the student body that it sometimes becomes necessary to let some of the boys make a little side money.

Sometimes these boys are taken care of by the apportionment of patronage of one sort or another, which comes within the direct control of the graduate manager; in other instances the boys are taken care of through the smoothly oiled channels of college politics.

I can hear the exclamations of horror at all this.

But why not?

If we are going to "come clean," we will have to admit that college boys hope some day to make a big noise with an automobile and to engage in politics.

With all our underground operations, we are giving them better training for their life work than the professors who are loading them down with nonnegotiable Greek roots. In succeeding chapters I will outline some of the methods by which the boys pick up "side money."

Tomorrow: "Football's Pork Barrel."

C. N. FIRE TEAMS IN TEST OF SPEED

Stratford, Aug. 27.—The team captained by J. Heideman won both the wet and dry races at the annual fire brigade competitions held at the C. N. R. shops. Both races were contested in three moves. The aggregate time of Heideman's team in each race was the lowest. Eight teams competed. Names of the teams, their captains' times for each move, and the total time for the three moves are:

Dry race—Machine shop, A. Murr, 33 seconds, 10 4-5 seconds, 13 seconds; total 56 4-5 seconds. Tender shop, A. Bowling, 30 4-5 seconds, 7 4-5 seconds, 19 seconds; total 57 3-5 seconds. Attend Banquet.

J. Pigott, superintendent of the C. N.R., Stratford division, and G. M. Wilson, superintendent of the C. N. R. shops, went to Toronto this afternoon to attend a banquet in honor of C. G. Bowker, former manager of the central region, who has been placed in control of all C. N. R. lines in the United States. Mr. Bowker was presented with a diamond ring, the gift of the officials of the central region.

Commander Chosen.

At a special meeting of Stratford camp, Woodmen of the World, Robert Murdie was elected council commander in place of R. J." Roberts, resigned.

Collegiate Crowded.

It is anticipated that there will be a larger enrolment at the collegiate institute than there was last year and this, with the existing congested conditions, will make things awkward. Two classrooms at Hamlet school and two in St. Joseph's separate school will be used for overflow forms, the same as last year, but it is highly probable that even with this auxiliary accommodation there will be much overcrowding.

Entries For Swimming Meet On Saturday Close Tonight

So great has the interest in the Western Ontario swimming and diving championships to be staged at the local Thames park pool tomorrow become that already contestants from Sarnia, Stratford, Brantford, Woodstock, Galt, St. Thomas and Kitchener are assured and many more district centers are expected to be represented before the entries close this evening.

This meet, which has the official sanction of the Ontario branch of the A. A. U. of Canada and the Canadian Amateur Swimming association, is the first of its kind ever held in Western Ontario, and because of this marks a distinct step forward in this field of athletics in this district, as heretofore the Ontario championships, generally staged in Toronto, have usually meant little more than competition for the Queen City titles.

More than 75 contestants will take part in the various events and a goodly proportion of these will be girls and boys who have been developed in the London playgrounds. Three teams will represent London in the relay race.

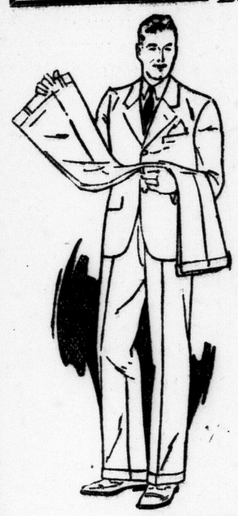

Arrangements have been made to seat a crowd of 1,200 spectators, but so great has interest in the meet become that it is likely that even this arrangement will not suffice to accommodate the people who will turn out to see the competitions.

The officials, who will have charge of the meet are: Starter, J. Middlebrook, clerk and announcer, G. N. Goodman; judges of diving, Martin, (Brantford), Pollock (London); judges, K. McFarlane, J. Jordan, F. Warren; scorers, J. Rourke, K. Lindsay; timers, D. Westman, K. Hunter.

Nopper Pitches 7-0 Shutout Win

St. Peters Move Up Through Victory Over Marconis.

Aided by five errors, kicked in by the present leaders, the St. Peter's kids last night turned in a 7—0 victory over Marconis at Sunshine park, and moved into second place in the second series standing. The hitting was fairly even, the winners securing only one more safe blow than their opponents, but the game was decided, on one hand, through Nopper's good pitching, which accounted for seven strikeouts, and the support accorded the St. Peter's hurler, and, on the other, by the succession of miscues, perpetrated by the losers.

Tonight St. Martin's will oppose St. Mary's at 6:30.

PRINCESS ILEANA WILL WED DUKE OF APULIA

Associated Press Despatch.

London, Aug. 28.—Despatches from Rome report the engagement of Princess Ileana, youngest daughter of the king and queen of Rumania, to the Duke of Apulia, eldest son of the Duke of Aosta. There is no official confirmation.

The Duke of Aosta is a cousin of King Victor Emmanuel of Italy. His eldest son, the Duke of Apulia, is 26 years old and is a major of artillery in the Italian army.

Princess Ileana is 16. Her eldest sister, Princess Elizabeth, married former King George of Greece, and her other sister, Princess Marie, is the queen of Jugo-Slavia.

At the time of the Rumanian queen's visit to London last year, there were reports that Ileana might be the choice of the Prince of Wales. Later it was reported, only to be officially denied, that she was to marry King Boris of Bulgaria.

BEARS WALLOP CAN AND SIGNAL

Wall Street Leaders Under Pressure, Driven Down From Original Highs.

Associated Press Despatch.

New York, Aug. 28—Wall Street, noon.—A sudden bear drive against American Can and General Railway Signal, which drove these stocks down 7½ and 10 points respectively from their early highs, led to heavy profit-taking in other high-priced specialties, which turned the general course of prices downward around the end of the first hour. General Electric, Mack Trucks, United States Cast Iron Pipe, Sears-Roebuck, Woolworth and United States Realty fell back 2 to 4 points from their early highs, with more moderate recessions taking place in other parts of the list. Bullish operations were not altogether abandoned. Midland Steel Products preferred soared 3⅞ points to 145½, and Otis Steel preferred 6 points, in response to merger rumors, while the Commercial Solvents issues, Gabriel Rubber and Brown Shoe were marked up 2 to 6 points. Call money renewed at 4½ per cent.

Ordinary inactive shares loomed into prominence in the afternoon, when some of the popular issues began to gather renewed strength. Southern Railway, preferred, Chicago and Northwestern, preferred, Pittsburg Terminal Coal, National Enamelling and Stamping, and New York Dock were outstanding incidents of the brief buying movement. Southern Railway, pfd., touched 94, the highest since 1907, and St. Louis and San Francisco reached 102¼, a new record figure.

Associated Press Despatch.

New York, Aug. 27.—The raw sugar market was without change today, spot Cubans being quoted at 4.40c, duty paid, with sales of 100,000 bags to local and outport refiners, prompt shipment, at that level.

Trading in raw sugar futures was less active, but the tone was steady, with final prices unchanged to 1 point net lower for the active positions. The continued liberal offerings in the spot market led to renewed commission-house selling, but there was enough demand from trade interests to absorb the offerings. September closed at 2.57, December 2.63, March 2.68, May 2.75.

The refined sugar market was unchanged, at 5.50c to 5.60c for fine granulated. A fair inquiry was reported, with refiners behind on deliveries, owing to the recent heavy export sales.

Brazilian and Smelters Lead in Volume of Trading On Toronto Exchange.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Toronto, Aug. 28.—Dominion Canners' sudden climb of 4¾ points to 131 this morning, following its 7 point jump yesterday, was one of the features of this morning's stock exchange.

The session was fully as active as any of the recent exceptional ones, with Brazilian and Smelters leading in the volume of transactions. Brazilian registered over 1,500 shares, and slumped from its new high of 69¼ to 68¼, but recovered to its former point at the close. Smelters opened strong, then received ½ point at 120. Davies A advanced 2⅜ at 31⅝. Winnipeg advanced 1¼ at 51½, and City Dairy a point at 89, while Bell Telephone strengthened ¾c to 140.

Weak issues were prominent, however. B. C. Fishing dropping ¾, Canada Bread common and F. N. Burt ½ point each; while Canada Steamships preferred further eased back 1⅛ to 46⅞.

Trading was very active. Apart from the strength in the Asbestos issues and a few other isolated spots, a general reactionary tendency was prevalent. Brazilian Traction, with approximately 7,246 shares traded in, opened at 69½, dropped to 68½, and then sold up to 69¼ for a net loss of ¼ from yesterday's closing figures.

Consolidated Mining and Smelting closed off a point at 119½, after selling up to 121 early in the morning. Canada Cement sold into new high ground at 112, and later receded to 111½, closing at that figure for a net gain of 1½ points.

Grain Markets

WINNIPEG

Canadian Press Despatch.

Winnipeg, Aug. 27. — The wheat market was steadier today, and, with the exception of one decline, when the October future fell to $1.40, or ⅝c below the previous close, prices were mostly higher. At the close October wheat was up to $1.42¼, a gain of 1⅞c. December delivery closed at $1.39, an advance of 2⅜c, and May at $1.43⅜, 2¼c up. Trade was not large, but there was not the selling pressure in evidence as during the last few days.

The coarse grain market was again dull, but firm, with prices following the trend of wheat. There was some inquiry for barley and rye, but the offerings seemed to be well taken. The flax market was firmer, prices being mostly 1c higher. Trade, however, was light and featureless.

The cash wheat market was dull and uninteresting on account of the lack of wheat supplies. In the cash coarse grain market a small trade was done in barley and rye.

Cash prices:

Wheat—No. 1 northern, $1.66¼; No. 2 northern, $1.61¼; No. 3 northern, $1.57¼; No. 4, $1.48¾; No. 5 $1.26¼; No. 6, $1.02¼; feed, 82¼c; track, $1.47¼.

CHICAGO

Associated Press Despatch.

Chicago, Aug. 28.—Foreign interests sold wheat at the opening of the board of trade today, but the buying was of a good class, and there was an abundance of short covering. This rallied the market until it went beyond $1.57 for September, and selling orders at this figure stopped the advance. Wheat opened ⅜c to 1½c lower, but the rally sent September to $1.57⅛, and December to $1.57. The selling orders at $1.57, however, caused a slump of half a cent, and the market steadied at this figure.

Short covering and general commission house buying caused an upturn in corn right after the opening, but when local traders turned to the selling side on the bulge a reaction set in. Corn opened ⅛c down to ⅜c up, reached 95⅜ on the rally and then sagged to about initial figures an hour after the opening.

Oats showed some strength early. After starting unchanged to ⅝c up, values slowly advanced a half cent and steadied there.

MONTREAL.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Montreal, Aug. 27. — There was a fairly good inquiry from English importers on the Montreal market today for Manitoba spring wheat for prompt and nearby shipment, but on account of the continued light offerings, little business of importance was done. There has been some demand for new crop wheat, and sales of odd lots of No. 1 northern were made to London for September shipment, and odd lots of old crop No. 2 northern en route from Fort William were sold to New York houses at 32c per bushel over the Winnipeg October option, c.i.f. Montreal.

Business in ocean grain room has been quiet, owing to the fact that the demand has only been for odd loads for prompt and nearby shipment.

A little more business was transacted in cash grain on the domestic market, there being a steady demand for American malting barley for export account, and sales were made at 78½c per bushel, c.i.f., while Ontario No. 3 malting barley in carlots sold for local account at 85c per bushel, ex-track.

Offerings of Ontario oats were more liberal, and sales of quite a few loads were made at 50c to 53c per bushel, ex-track, as to quality. The market for carlots of Canadian western oats was steady, with No. 2 quoted at 66½c, No. 3 at 60c, and extra No. 1 feed at 60c.

QUALITY OF LAWS NO DISADVANTAGE,

Hon. Mr. Justice Renfret Speaks at Convention of Bar Association.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Winnipeg, Aug. 27.—At the conclusion of a long-drawn-out afternoon session of the annual convention of the Canadian bar association today, Hon. Mr. Justice Rinfret of the supreme court of Canada, delivered an inspiring address, the keynote of which was Canadian national unity.

Justice Rinfret traced the mutual growth and interweaving of French and English laws in Canada.

"There is no disadvantage in this quality of laws in the Dominion," he said. "We should have faith in the co-operation of the Canadian branches of the two great races to whom Providence has committed the destinies of this country. One and all, we are the servants of the law—the foundation of justice."

John E. Read, dean of Dalhousie law school, in an address on Canadian, American and English methods of legal education, warned that legal education should not be considered by itself. High ideal and Canadian patriotism should be exalted.

He presented the report of the committee on legal education which recommended that the preliminary education essentials should not be lower than the second year of the B.A. university course. The committee reported that four provinces, Manitoba, Nova Scotia, Alberta and New Brunswick had adopted this standard. It was further reported that the dean of Osgoode law school had recommended the new standard. The hope was expressed that Ontario would adopt the two-year standard during the coming year.

In the discussion which followed the fear was expressed from the floor of the convention that a standard might be adopted which would exclude Abraham Lincoln.

FATALLY MAULED BY DOGS IN NORTH

15 Crazed Huskies Attack Lone Woman at R. C. M. P. Post.

Canadian Press Despatch.

The Pas, Man., Aug. 27.—Details of the death of Mrs. Clay, wife of Sergt. S. G. Clay of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police at Chesterfield Inlet several months ago, were given today by Constable J. Stalworthy, who arrived here with a party from the Far North. Mrs. Clay died of injuries when attacked by 15 vicious huskies.

It was Constable Stalworthy and Corp. R. Penny, who beat off the dogs that attacked Mrs. Clay. Constable Stalworthy heard the screams of a woman and the howls of the dogs, and, rushing out of the kitchen of the detachment barracks, saw Mrs. Clay stretched on the ground and the animals tearing at her. He and Corp. Penny grabbed heavy sticks and clubbed the dogs off. Mrs. Clay was still alive, but her right leg from the knee down had been stripped of its flesh.

Knowing there was only one chance to save her life, Mrs. Clay consented to having her leg amputated above the knee. Infection, however, set in, and Mrs. Clay succumbed. Sergt. Clay has been in various parts of the Arctic for 20 years. There were no children.

The dogs which attacked Mrs. Clay were immediately shot.

$40,000 LOSS, FIREMAN HURT, 45 EMPLOYEES LEFT JOBLESS WHEN TAVISTOCK MILL BURNS

Blaze Guts Top Floors of James Fields & Son Plant.

OLDEST INDUSTRY

Special to The Advertiser by a Staff Correspondent.

Tavistock, Aug. 27.—Loss estimated at more than $40,000 was caused by fire, which tonight gutted the top floors of the woolen mill of James G. Field & Son. Valuable machinery on the ground floor was damaged considerably by water, but the fire was confined to the upper part of the building by the heroic efforts of the local fire-fighters, who for two hours battled with the flames.

The fire started in the picking room about 8:30 p.m., and spread, with marked rapidity because of the inflammable nature of the material and the frame construction of the building. The firemen had two streams of water, with a good pressure, and working from long ladders, flooded the upper stories of the building. During the fire Henry Matthews fell from the top of a ladder and sustained a fractured arm.

About 45 hands are thrown out of employment by the fire, as the factory was running day and night and had orders ahead which would keep the plant going to capacity for months. This is the height of the busy season, and this season is the busiest the company has experienced in several years. Even by the erection of temporary quarters it will be weeks before the company can get into full operation again. It is expected that plans for rebuilding will be made at once, as this is the oldest industry in the town, having been founded more than 50 years ago.

An addition to the factory, which was erected a few years ago, and which housed the knitting machines, was saved. The office records and equipment were carried safely from the building.

Burning embers endangered adjoining buildings, but these small fires were quickly extinguished by citizens, who rallied to the support of the volunteer fire department, for whom only words of praise are being heard because of the excellent work they did in confining the fire to the upper part of the factory, for at first it seemed that the whole place was doomed.

TORONTO FAVORS NAMING OF GABY

Chief Engineer of Hydro-Electric Commission Prominently Mentioned.

Opinion in provincial government circles in Toronto appears to favor the appointment of F. A. Gaby, chief engineer of the Ontario Hydro-Electric commission, as general manager of the commission, according to Philip Pocock, who was in Toronto on Wednesday of this week in connection with the proposed endowment fund for Byron Sanatorium as a memorial to the late Sir Adam Beck.

The re-organization of the commission to permit the appointment of a general manager commends itself to officials of the commission as the best way to fill the gap caused by the death of Sir Adam, who was in effect both chairman and general manager of the commission.

W. W. Pope, secretary of the commission, and Ex-Mayor C. A. Maguire, president of the Ontario Municipalities Electrical association, both expressed the opinion to Mr. Pocock that some such arrangement offered the best means of carrying on the work of the commission, and spoke highly of Mr. Gaby's qualifications for the position.

The appointment of a chairman is still in abeyance, and is causing much speculation. Belief that Premier Ferguson will be appointed to the chairmanship is on the wane to some extent. Mr. Maguire is the unanimous choice of the Ontario municipalities for this important post, while attorney-general F. W. Nickle is also prominently mentioned for a place on the commission.

U. S. COMMITTEE NOT ON HAND FOR MEETING

Inquiries Into Ontario Temperance Laws Fail To Appear in London.

London citizens, prohibitionist and anti-prohibitionist did not get an opportunity to air their views on the Ontario temperance act and 4.4 per cent beer last night before the special United States Congress committee touring Ontario to secure information regarding temperance laws in the province.

Both dry and wet representatives were on hand at the chamber of commerce offices at the time appointed for the meeting last night, but no committee was in sight nor could any information be secured as to the committee's whereabout, either in London or at St. Thomas.

David Ross, president of the local branch of the Ontario prohibition union, was present, together with one or two men and several ladies, to put in a word on behalf of Ontario's dry laws, whilst J. M. Donahue, and one or two other men, formed the representation from the local branch of the Moderation league.

AUSTRALIA MOVES TO HELP EMPIRE TRADE

Resolution Moved in House To Endorse Amendment of Commercial Treaty.

Associated Press Despatch.

Melbourne, Australia, Aug. 27.—Hon. H. E. Pratten, minister of trade and customs, moved a resolution in the House of Representatives today to endorse the amended version of the reciprocal commercial treaty between Canada and Australia.

The amended version of the treaty relates to the recent Australian regulations which, with exceptions, provides that before imports entering Australia are entitled to the British preferential tariff they must be 75 per cent British material and labor. The old regulation, which applied generally throughout the empire, including Canada, was that manufactured goods entitled to the preferential tariff in Australia must be 25 per cent. British material and labor.

ALIENS FORGOTTEN IN MONTREAL JAIL

Lawyer Charges Foreigners Left Behind Bars After Terms Expire.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Montreal, Aug. 27.—Charging that many men are held without warrant in Bordeaux jail, A. H. Tanner, local lawyer, took out a writ of habeas corpus against Governor Seguin of the Montreal prison this morning. Mr. Tanner has already taken out several similar writs. Most of his complaints arise out of conflicting provisions of the immigration act.

The lawyer states that alien convicts subject to deportation under the law, are held in Bordeaux jail under orders from various Ottawa departments which enjoin the governor to turn the prisoner over to certain persons to be indicated by the department of immigration. These persons, avers Mr. Tanner, are never named, and the case is eventually lost sight of. In the meantime, the prisoner, after expurgating his sentence, languishes in jail for months, perhaps years, before someone brings their plight before the authorities.

The case under review is that of Hum Bing You, who was convicted in July, 1924, fined, and sentenced to jail. When his term expired in January last he was not released, and is still in Bordeaux jail, in a cell under prison regime.

CAILLAUX LAUDED FOR DEBT EFFORT

French Finance Minister Highly Praised by Colleagues.

Associated Press Despatch.

Paris, Aug. 27.—M. Caillaux, the French minister of finance, set forth at great length the result of his conference at London to his colleagues at a cabinet meeting tonight. He had reached a tentative settlement with the British chancellor of the exchequer, Winston Churchill, on France's debt to Great Britain—an outcome which has been received with general satisfaction in French quarters.

At the conclusion of his statement he pleaded fatigue, and asked to be excused. Before he left, Premier Painleve, on behalf of the cabinet, thanked M. Caillaux for the efforts he had made to bring together the French and English viewpoints.

TWO-NATION UNION BACKED BY LOEBE,

Guarantors Determined To Keep One Foot in Door of Control.

By A. R. DECKER.

By Radio to The Advertiser and the Chicago Daily News. Copyright.

Vienna, Aug. 27.—President Loebe and 30 members of the German Reichstag are expected here Saturday to participate in a meeting to further the campaign for union of Austria and Germany. Loebe is the official German "Anschulss" agitator.

Most of the Anschulss propaganda is made in Germany, partly from sincere reasons and partly to make France nervous. Very few Austrians really desire union with Germany, but Austria, as well as Germany, has an axe to grind. Austria wants loans and preferential tariffs. Austria feels that her frontiers are artificial, and therefore deserving of special consideration.

However, the Anschulss propaganda is heading toward the rocks. League Commissioner Alfred Zimmerman can safely leave at the end of this year. The league's financial exports will report that Austria is able to exist alone, and that the central committee can be either entirely removed or reduced. Austrian loan creditors will be adequately protected by receipts which will be deposited in Berne. Also, the league will reserve the right to resume control if it is deemed necessary.

Austrians had hoped to receive a preferential tariff. The league council will decide whether control is to be removed, but the loan guarantors have the last word.

France and Czecho-Slovakia are in favor of removal. England favors attenuation of control. Italy seems non-committal. The Austrians have long fought control, some parties showing little appreciation of Commissioner Zimmerman's work. However, high taxes have long since balanced the budget and made the commissioner powerless, because there is no deficit.

The question is, Can Austria hold the pace? League officials intend in departing to keep one foot in the door and encourage Austria to financial independence.

Sees New Civilization Occupying Polar Regions Under Genial Climate.

ALL WILL CHANGE

Associated Press Despatch.

London, Aug. 27.—A startling view of the future of mankind was expressed by Professor W. A. Parks of the University of Toronto, addressing the geological section of the British Association for the Advancement of Science today.

Professor Parks said that earthquakes were really a blessing in disguise, for, if the earth's crust were rigid enough to resist earthquakes, a universal deluge, geographically speaking, would be within sight, as the power of erosion is great enough to reduce the land to sea level but for the opposing rejuvenating forces.

Professor Parks was confident that there was no limit to the upward tendency of life. He said that the future variation in climate would probably greatly affect human activities, and that it was not impossible, within a measurable number of years, that the present sites of civilization would be buried under glaciers and that a new civilization would occupy the polar regions under a genial climate.

YOUTH FINED $20 FOR ASSAULT ON WOMAN

Louis Filstein, 18 years old, was fined $20 and costs in police court yesterday morning after pleading guilty to a charge of common assault against Mrs. Sadie Fogel.

Filstein, who was arrested two weeks ago, was first charged with assault occasioning actual bodily harm, a more serious offence, but upon Mrs. Fogel's consent the charge was amended to that of common assault.

In imposing the fine, Magistrate Graydon told Filstein that Russians in London caused the police more trouble than any other citizens.

Filstein was taken from his bed, where he has been suffering from influenza, to appear in court in order that he would not have to forfeit bail of $1,000.

Foresters Ask Modified Act

Associated Press Despatch

Detroit, Aug. 27.—A resolution favoring a "reasonable modification" of the Volstead act was passed by the Foresters of America just before the close of their three-day convention here yesterday. The resolution declared that it was apparent that the majority of the people of this nation were not satisfied with the results produced by the Volstead act.

JACK AYLWARD WINS BIKE AT PARK PICNIC

Jack Aylward, 849 Hellmuth avenue, probably dreamed last night of winning the bicycle in the draw held last night at the Victor amusement park, but little did he think that his dream would be realized. At 10:30 last night his name was drawn and he was announced the winner of the Red Bird bike.

Jack was not at the park and when his mother was informed that her son had won the bicycle she decided not to awaken the boy who was sound asleep, until this morning, and then the good news would be conveyed.

The number of the winning ticket was 2,447 and the person who drew the number was Miss Marchely, who performed the feat in front of the ferris wheel.

"Y" PROGRAM AWAITS ARRIVAL OF SECRETARIES

The fall program of the London Y. M. C. A. will not be definitely drawn up until a conference of secretaries is held, some time in September. At present only one secretary, W. Sherwin, is on duty.

On September 1, Hiles Templin, new assistant boys' secretary, will assume his duties, as will Fred Warren, new office secretary.

Roy Begg, recently chosen physical director, will arrive in the city tonight and will commence work Monday.

CHATHAM SURVEYS PLAYGROUND PLAN

Deputation Views London System With Supervisor as Guide.

With the object of securing first-hand information as to the inauguration and operation of London's public playgrounds system a deputation from Chatham is in the city today and is making a tour of all the city playgrounds under the guidance of Chief Supervisor Goodman.

Chatham already has one public playground, but is considering entering upon a much more extended program. The deputation, which consists of Mrs. L. C. Sheply, president of the Queen Mary home and school; Mrs. William Coltart, a member of the board of education and Mrs. W. W. Turner of the Chatham playgrounds' committee will visit a number of centers in which playgrounds are in operation in search of helpful hints and ideas.

The members of the deputation spent considerable time with General Manager E. V. Buchanan of the public utilities commission, who gave them much valuable data relative to the operation of the playgrounds system here.

INDIAN YOUTH GIVEN TEN-DAY JAIL TERM

Caught by Constable Stringing Wire Across Highway Near Middlemiss.

Constable Nelson of the mounted police visited the Indian fair at Walpole Island yesterday. During his stay there he apprehended an Indian youth on a charge of stringing a wire across the Caradoc-Ekfrid town line near Middlemiss recently. The delinquent Indian was brought into the juvenile court this morning and as a result of his misdemeanor will spend the next ten days in the detention room of the children's shelter.

M'CALL CLAN GATHERS AT BIG FAMILY REUNION

Two-Day Celebration and Memorial Services Held Near Clachan.

Special to The Advertiser.

Rodney, Aug. 27.—The descendants of the McCall family, pioneers of the township of Aldborough, in the Clachan district, have for a number of years been holding a family reunion every two years in different places. This year it was held at the Aldborough Plains, near Clachan, when nearly 100 of the clan, from the Atlantic to the Pacific, assembled at the Baptist church. This section is the birthplace of nearly all the clan.

On Sunday a memorial service, held in the beautifully-kept cemetery, was very largely attended by the public in general and McCall descendants en masse, and took part in the splendid service of sacred song and addresses.

Among those who gave short addresses were A. L. Graham of Otterville, Duncan Graham of Cass City, Mich., D. McCall of Colorado, D. W. Graham of Wallacetown, Rev. Stalker, D.D.; Crinan; locally, John McLarty, W. W. Campbell, D. G. McPherson, D. L. Purcell, T. C. Campbell, A. McIntyre and others. All spoke very highly of the purpose of the service and the condition of the cemetery. A. W. Graham of Louisville, Ky., presided.

It was decided to hold the next reunion four years hence, in the

SUPERTWIST

Answers the Mileage Question

BY inventing a new material, Goodyear settled the question of mileage in Goodyear Balloon Tires. This material is the new, Goodyear, cord fabric, SUPERTWIST.

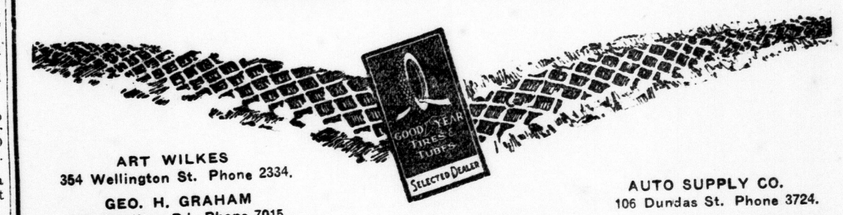

Its special feature is its extreme elasticity. It far outstretches the breaking point of other cord fabric. Consequently it has a far greater capacity to withstand road shocks, stone bruises, other injuries and the effect of wear. SUPERTWIST is a Goodyear discovery, a Goodyear product, and only Goodyear Tires are made of SUPERTWIST. In other words, Goodyear has made the Balloon Tire which stretches rather than breaks under road shocks.

So extraordinary was the increased life of Goodyear Balloon Tires made possible by SUPERTWIST that it is now used in all Goodyear Cord Tires.

Your Goodyear Selected Dealer has in stock Goodyear Tires of SUPERTWIST at prices no higher than you have been paying.

STARVED HEARTS

By MILDRED BARBOUR.

CONCERNING THE ACTION AND THE CHARACTERS.

STEPHEN LANE, wealthy, middle-aged, despotic, rules with a tyrant hand his young wife,

BARBARA, who sold herself into a loveless marriage, and

MADELON, his beautiful orphaned niece, whose father's marriage he had opposed some twenty years before and whose guardianship now devolves upon him. He broke up her boy-and-girl affair with DUANE FARLEY. Farley turned for sympathy to Barbara, who, unknown to Farley, fell in love with him. Lane, sent abroad, with business and professional ruin as the only alternative.

JULIAN BARTON, Madelon's real love, whose suit was sponsored by

ANN ORDWAY, lifelong family friend, who loved Lane deeply, despite his faults, but whose lack of beauty kept her unnoticed by him. Lane sends Barbara and Madelon to California, where the latter meets

HOWARD CHANDLER, fascinating drifter, and marries him to escape Lane's tyranny.

CHAPTER LIII.

A Newspaper Cut.

"Ma petite, ma pauvre bebe," sighed Mme. Guilbert, when Madelon had told her that she must leave the school and all her happy surroundings, "you will not be happy, I feel it! This bete, this guardian of yours, he has a hard heart. He will ruin your life."

"I must do it for Barbara's sake," Madelon persisted. "But, oh, it will be hard!"

"And what will Andre do?" signed the Frenchwoman. "He will be desolate. There are others, too, who will carry the broken heart," she added shrewdly. "Ah, you need not blush, cherie! Guilbert, she is not blind. And why should the young men not pine? You are young and lovely. It is wicked that you should withdraw from the world like the good nuns. Why do you not marry Andre?"

Madelon shook her head.

"Never without love—and you know where my heart is."

Mme. Guilbert shrugged.

"It is strange for one so young to be so constant. Eh bien, it is beautiful also! But, alas, poor Andre!"

Madelon found it hard to say farewell to the young Frenchman. He was very attractive and very much in love. He implored her to marry him, not to persist in her sacrifice.

It was the last night of her stay in the little apartment where she had been so happy. The place was stripped of all her pretty tasteful furnishings. The furniture was crated, ready for shipment. Draperies had been taken down and stored away with linens and pictures in huge packing boxes.

Madelon had laughingly offered one of these latter in lieu of a chair to Beauchamp, and they sat thus, swinging their feet in the ruins of her home.

She felt it to be the saddest night of her life.

On one side youth and love and happiness held out its hand, beckoned her to a future of sunshine and laughter.

On the other, yawned the door to Stephen Lane's home. Beyond that door lay bondage. No faintest ray of hope shone from it. She could fairly feel its darkness and its chill. She could see herself going down the corridor of years, as she would soon go down its dark halls—fearful, alone, a little older day by day, her heart a little emptier.

Before temptation could assail her, she conjured up a vision of Barbara. Barbara, like a sweet, anxious spirit, hovering above her, watching with eyes that pleaded.

She sent Beauchamp away.

He pressed his lips to her soft palms.

"Until we meet again," he said. "It will be soon. It must be soon."

The following afternoon she stood in the doorway of her stripped apartment and looked back through the vista of rooms. The crated furniture had been removed. Not a scrap of paper remained to testify to her former occupancy. The sunlight streamed in through curtainless windows and cut a pathway across the empty polished floor. The fireplace was swept clean of its ashes.

Tears blurred Madelon's vision.

"How foolish I am!" she told herself, as she brushed them away with her gloved hand, but nevertheless, "Good-bye," she whispered softly, "good-bye little home! I hope you will bring happiness to the next owner as you brought it to me. I hope they find the little god of contentment perching above the fireplace, for I know that I am leaving him behind."

"I'm taking you up to my apartment for lunch," she said after her cheerful greeting. "It'll break the sharp contrast between your own place and Stephen's gloomy cave."

"By the way, I've got something to show you," she remarked after luncheon, leading the way to her cheerful sitting-room.

To Be Continued.

NO ONE IS BLAMED FOR BRIGGS' DEATH

Coroner's Jury Renders Verdict After Hearing Mass of Evidence.

Accidental death was the verdict brought in by the jury at the inquest held at St. Johns last night to investigate the death of Henry Briggs on Aug. 21. Briggs was an employee of the McLeod, Chalmers & Hunter Construction Company, who are the contractors for the St. Johns stretch of the Proof Line paving.

From the evidence brought out during the inquest, it would appear that Briggs had stepped under the large skip, or feed hopper, of the paver to close off the delivery pan of the mixer. While standing beneath the hopper the holding mechanism let go, and the whole hopper, weighing over a ton, fell upon Briggs, crushing him terribly.

George Boynton, operator of the mixer, was the star witness. On the stand, he told simply of what he had seen at the time Briggs was killed. He stated that the safety chains were not in place, as they were impracticable while the mixer was in use, and were placed there as a preventative to meddling after the plant had been closed down for the night. The pawl which released the weight of the hopper was though to have worked out of its slot, due to the vibration of the mixer.

Thomas Terry, expert counsel for the crown, stated that this pawl, although not defective, was not in the best of shape, but added that it had appeared satisfactory while he watched the machine in operation.

Crown Attorney A. M. Judd examined all his witnesses closely, and spent considerable time on the operator of the machine, Boynton, a qualified engineer for such work. During the course of the inquiry he pointed out that this was not the first accident of this kind in which a falling hopper had killed a concrete worker, and went to considerable length in establishing the fact that the holding mechanism was one of the accepted pattern, and looked upon by the trade as a satisfactory device.

The jury was as follows: Foreman, Rev. A. V. Robb, George Hudson, B. Needham, Gray McNeil, Herbert Fortner, Edwin Peters, C. J. Conn. The body was officially identified at the preliminary inquest by C. W. Taylor.

WINDSOR FIRMS ABSORBED IN ONE

Two of Largest Industries in Border Cities Merged.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Windsor, Aug. 27. — Lieut-Col. Walter L. McGregor, president and general manager of the Ideal Fence and Spring Co. of Canada, Ltd., 1025 McDongall street, announced today that the spring division of his concern, together with the Leggett and Platt Spring Bed Co., of Windsor, had been absorbed by the L. A. Young Industries, Inc., of Detroit. Approximately $600,000 is represented in the merger, it was stated.

The amalgamation of these two local industries which have long ranked among the foremost in the border cities has aroused wide interest in manufacturing circles here. L. A. Young, head of the interests behind the merger, is incorporating a new company which will own the two plants. He will continue to develop not only the cushion spring industry, but also many other lines made from wire.

Plans are now under way for the enlarging of the plant of the Ideal Fence and Spring Company, and new equipment is to be installed.
