"A Little While." "A little while " is whispered in my heart-Yes, for a little while We two must live asunder-far apart-But for a little while.

Each hour that moves with swift or lingering feet,

Each calm or restless night. But bastens on the hour when we shall meet, ed with new joy, and he cried out : With rapturous delight.

This wearying loneliness of heart and soul. This mourning, longing love, These sad, sad records traced on memory's scroll.

Shall find no place above. " A little while "-O then, my soul, be strong ! cold !

Droop not, nor loiter here ! The way is gloomy, but it is not long-The end is drawing near.

Bear patiently the burden of thy grief. Stayed by a heavenly arm; And soon will come the time of sweat relie Thy sorrow's healing balm.

"A little while" is it ? Then work and wait To do thy Saviour's will, Or thou wilt mourn when it is all too late His bidding to fulfil.

If heaven be near, yet earth is nearer still-Weep not thy life away ! But labor faithfully in hope until The blest redeeming day.

THE GREAT WANT SUPPLIED.

It is a well known fact that Physicians have long sought to discover a vegetable purgative as a substitute for Calomel, and that would cleanse the Alimentary Canal of all diseased, and retained humors, as thoroughly as Lobelia will the stomach, without producing sickness at stomach, weakness, or irritation of the mucous membrane. In Dr. Radway's Pills, this very important and essential principle is secured. A dose of two to six (according to the condition of the system) of Dr. Radway's Pills will produce all the positive alterative change-from a sluggish or torpid, to a healthy action of the Liver-as the phyician, hopes to obtain by a dose of Blue Pills, or Calomel: and will as thoroughly cleanse the Stomach, and purge from the bowels the diseased and retained humors the most approv metic, or cathartic
