GERMAN LOSSES AT LEAST 2,000 IN RECENT ATTACK.

PARIS, Jan. 27.--The official announcement to-day says as follows: "At Nieuport and Ypres there were artillery engagements yesterday. The enemy lost in this affair what amounted to a battalion and a half of men.

Mr. E. W. Hawk nominated Mr. Chas. H. Ketcheson, seconded by Mr. Thos. J. Taylor, Deseronto. No other nominations were made and the vote in favor of Mr. Ketcheson was taken standing. After the declaration was made, Warden Ketcheson took the chair, amid cheers.

Council resumed at 10 o'clock. Warden Ketcheson in the chair. Minutes of Tuesday afternoon read and confirmed.

Warden Ketcheson addressed the council. He said it was very gratifying for him to address the council in the position he occupied. There were some new faces present at this council and he was pleased to welcome them. While he spoke with regret that some old members were not present. During the coming year there would be considerable business to be transacted and there were many important matters to be attended to.

The past year the county did not receive the amount of grants from the Government which it had received in some other years as school grants. His Honor referred to the fact that this year the question of assisting in the erection of the Children's Aid Society Shelter. It would be necessary to appoint a committee in reference to this matter. The question of county roads system was spoken of. The Government grant for improved roads was in the hands of the Government when the convention of the Good Roads Association is in session at Toronto. It is his injustice to have been denied the grant of their organization of her services as mayor. Mrs. Connell was completely taken by surprise.

The program follows: O'Brien--Mrs. Connell, Miss E. Fenn, Messrs. Connell, Weese and Holt. Song--"The Minister Boy."--Mr. Ball. Song--"I Hear a Thrush at Eve"--The Kathleen Thompson. Off For Third Contingent

Three men left town Friday morning reporting for duty at Cobourg, with others of the 40th Regiment, who will join the Third Canadian Contingent at Belleville. Their names are: John D. McEachern, of town. Wm. Goulabra, of Seymour. Ernest Dunn, of town.

They left in charge of Lieut. R. H. Pearce, who attended the annual meeting of the 40th Regiment's officers in Cobourg that day. Eight men volunteered here, but only three were accepted.

On Thursday evening the fellow members of the local Standard Bank staff presented Mr. McEachern with a fine sweater coat, upon his leaving for active militia service. The Bank grants half-pay to their employees who enlist.

The number of men in Cobourg on that date totalled 86. They are billeted in private house, and will drill each day at the armouries until the quota of 120 are secured, when they will go to Belleville.

Among the men in Cobourg are 11 from Warkworth, and about twenty from Brighton. Every man volunteering from Brighton, and they now total over 50, has been presented with a wrist watch in token of appreciation, by citizens of that village.--Campbellford News.

Littleless

Dr. Gordon who is drawing tremendous crowds at his lectures at Belleville has expressed his opinion that a true citizen will stand for a united country. A true citizen should wear a crown of prophecy. Nothing annoys a big man like a little man follow God over us from littleness and meanness. With the Reverend gentleman's opinion we most heartily concur and to his concluding sentence we reverently add, amen.--Tweed Advocate.

GOLBOURNE BOY DIED HERE

IRISH CONCERT AT JOHN STREET

A delightful Irish concert was given last evening in the rooms of John Street Presbyterian Church by Mrs. Charles Connell, choir leader assisted by the John Street choir and other local talent. The program was almost entirely Irish in its composition, so that those of the large audience whose ancestors were natives of Erin must have felt the national spirit stirring. All Scotch and Irish manifested in no uncertain way their pleasure by the rounds of applause which followed the rendition of each number. The selections were classical Irish compositions and they were sung and played with very great ability by the artists who took part in the evening's entertainment. Some of them were new to Belleville audiences but they were well received.

A pleasing feature of the concert was the presentation at the close to Mrs. Connell of a beautiful bouquet of carnations, the gift of the choir as a token of their appreciation of her services as singer. Mrs. Connell was completely taken by surprise.

The program follows: O'Brien--Mrs. Connell, Miss E. Fenn, Messrs. Connell, Weese and Holt. Song--"The Minister Boy."--Mr. Ball. Song--"I Hear a Thrush at Eve"--The Kathleen Thompson. Song--"As Long as the Shamrock Grows"--Mrs. W. Matheson. Song--"Selected--Miss Marysle Stork. Song--"The Dear Homeland."--Mr. W. S. Matheson. Song--"The Scotchman--Kenneth Ross. Recitation and encore--Mrs. Carrie Connell. Song--"Patriotic--Mr. A. Rogers. Song--"Miss LaVole. Violin Solo--"The Coulin"--Charles Connell. Song--"For Ireland and You"--Herbert Wrightmeier. Piano--Irish Selections--Mrs. Campbell. Song--"Come Back to Erin."--The Blackbird. Mrs. P. Allen. Song--"Kilgarny"--Prof. Cameron. Selection--"The Shamrock"--Mrs. Connell, Miss E. Fenn, Messrs. See What The People of Edmontan Are Doing For Their Public School Children.

The following article from The Edmontan Journal of recent date shows what remarkable progress that city has been making in the way of extending municipal services.

Pupils of the public schools in Edmontan will have dental work done at the expense of the municipality in the future. The Board of Education has accepted an offer of the services of 25 members of the Edmontan Dental Association a half day every month without charge. The Board will furnish equipment and materials used, also provide rooms in one of the hospitals or schools. S. A. Gordon Banes, a member of the School Board announced to-day that the dental department will be in operation before the close of this month. The enrolment in the public schools of Edmontan is more than 10,000. Every child's teeth will be examined. The work will be done by experienced practitioners, each patient receiving the same attention that is required in regular practice. The plan is to install a complete complete dental ward.

Drill Ye Terriers Drill!

The adjourned meeting of the Home Guard promoters was held in the town hall on Monday night when the report of the committee appointed at the previous meeting was heard and it was the unanimous opinion that the local Civilian Rifle Association could admirably serve the purpose of a Home Guard.

DISASTROUS FIRE SWEEP AWAY PALACE THEATRE AND CREATED HEAVY LOSSES

Two Buildings Damaged and Contents More or Less Suffered--Fire Was Deceptive--Palace Caught From Shoe Shine Parlor--Statement of Losses.

TOTALY DESTROYED Scott's "Palace" Theatre. L. Meropoulos, Shoe Shine Parlor. DAMAGED BY WATER AND SMOKE. W. H. Lanning's Grocery. Bank of Commerce Building. L. Meropoulos' Household Contents. W. B. Riggs' piano and organ stock. Harry McCrodon's Furnishings. Richardson (Mrs. Wilson) Building.

Twenty-five or thirty thousand dollars damage was done in the vicinity of Wellington street, a business district which broke out in the central business district. The conflagration was in a very small way when the blaze was first discovered. It broke out in the shoe store owned by Mr. L. Meropoulos, a Greek. His shop was in the building in a gaugeway between the building at the corner of Campbell and Front street and the "Palace" theatre building. The firemen were devoting their attention to this shop and were about to leave when some one noticed fire in the Palace theatre's first floor. Unfortunately by that time the ceiling of the theatre had fallen and the flames which had burned their way through the theatre building's north wall from the roof of Meropoulos' then a fire began. The "Palace" theatre, a valuable building, for the first time had fallen to the ground. The building was on fire and the only light from the front and rear which was left. Water seemed useless on the flames and the heavy iron roof alone prevented a widespread conflagration. Everything within the "Palace" was consumed except the box at the front where the operation of the picture machines took place.

Meanwhile fire broke in over the Riggs' music store from the roof into Mr. Harry McCrodon's living-rooms. The ceiling had to be torn down and water and smoke rained all the contents which could not be removed. Water poured into Riggs' music store and the valuable stock of musical instruments were only saved from immense damage by being removed to the rear portion of the store. The roof of which was not leaking. His loss is not heavy, but is covered by insurance.

Stocks of groceries in Mr. W. H. Lanning's store were damaged by water and smoke and so were the household furnishings of Mr. Meropoulos, who lived over the shoe parlor. Mr. Lanning's stock is insured but his loss to business will be heavy. L. Meropoulos and W. H. Lanning occupied stores in the building, which is shortly to be torn down and a modern bank building for the Bank of Commerce, erected on the site. This building is 75 years old. It was recently disposed of by Ex-Mayor Willis, the stock and building losses were covered by insurance.

The Palace theatre is a heavy loss to Mr. C. E. Scott, the manager, who had the premises leased for a number of years yet. His valuation of it was over $5,000, but he did not have that much insurance for the furnishings were all expensive. Fortunately $600 worth of films had been taken out last night and shipped away. The Palace theatre building was a three story brick structure, owned by Mrs. M. F. Scott and her two daughters of New York City. It was worth about $10,000 and was insured for $5,700. There was $200 insurance on plate glass. The next building south is also owned by Mrs. Wilson. It is insured for $5,000. The loss in this structure is not heavy. Mr. W. B. Riggs' stock was insured for about $5,000. The damage is not heavy except to cases by dampness, water, and smoke. F. Naylor's piano and organ stock was completely destroyed. The firemen were engaged all morning in fighting the flames. Police Officer Charles W. Thompson made a rescue of a terrier dog, this morning belonging to Mr. Lanning. The dog had been left on the night to watch the premises and he was overcome with smoke and dampness. The poor creature could not be found until the theatre was almost finished.

Mr. Scott's business loss will be heavy. He was looking for a very large percentage owing to the fact that the Thirty-Ninth Battalion will be mobilized here with 1,200 men, who are good patrons of amusements. The upstairs of the Palace building was not occupied as there was no front store entrance. Mr. Lanning will be leaving the corner building shortly as the property is to undergo changes. The building at the corner, which is soon to be replaced by a modern structure, gave the firemen a considerable fight at noon today, under the roof. Mr. Scott, manager of the "Palace," this morning had the Belleville firemen take breakfast at the Queens hotel at his expense.

As the item of drill so necessary to training of a Home Guard does not appear on the curriculum of the Rifle Association it was decided to adopt it and the following gentlemen were appointed instructors.

Hon. Instructor--S. Battina, veteran of the Fenian Raid. Instructor--J. N. Sills, graduate of Royal Military College, Toronto. Sergeants--A. Beach and E. Jackson, members of Old Country Regiment. The initial drill to be given in the town hall to-night (Thursday) and it is to be hoped that these will be a good attendance.

Immediately after the annual meeting of the Rifle Association which takes place in the course of a week or ten days target shooting will begin and the Reeve has consented to give the town hall free for this and drill purposes.--Tweed Advocate.

LETTER WITH A RECORD

Mr. A. Boyd of Wima & Company possesses a letter with a remarkable record. It has been at the bottom of the St. Lawrence and has been twice across the ocean. On May 29th, 1914, it was sent to his father, Mr. A. Boyd, High Street, Patna, By Ayr, Ayrshire, Scotland. It was carried down by the Empress of Ireland wreck and was recovered by divers. On Dec. 24th, it was sent from Ottawa to Scotland where it arrived on Jan. 5th, 1915. Mr. Boyd's father returned it to him and it arrived in Belleville yesterday. All the mailage is gone, together with the stamp, but the ink writing is as plain as the day on which it was written.

WARNING TO MINISTERS WHO MARRY SOLDIERS

Rev. Dr. S. L. Chown has written a letter to the Christian Guardian calling the attention of the Methodist ministers to a pertinent point on the question of marrying soldiers of the Canadian contingent.

The letter says: "My attention has been drawn to the question of the marriage of men already enlisted in the present contingent of the Canadian expeditionary force. It is highly desirable that such marriages should not interfere with the relation of the bridegroom to the army. You are aware that, according to present military regulations, the wife has the privilege of withdrawing her husband from the army. It would, therefore, be clear that a man through his marriage may be prevented from proceeding overseas. On this account I desire to urge that any of our ministers, before celebrating the marriage of any such soldiers, will call the written permission be obtained from the bride for the bridegroom, and that the permission of the commanding officer is presented in order to make the marriage altogether regular.

MEMORIAL SERVICE FOR LATE CANON JONES

A memorial service for the late Rev. Canon Septimus Jones of Toronto, at one time rector of Christ Church, Belleville, was held in that church at two o'clock yesterday afternoon, the hour of his burial in Toronto. Several of the old members of the church who were members in his time forty-five years ago were present.

The service consisted of the regular funeral service with some additional prayers and an address by Rev. R. C. Bladgrave, B.A., B.D. The Rev. said that some of those who were connected with the church back in the sixties, at the time of its founding, were called together to honor the memory of the founder, to mark the continuity of the work he had done, and to unite with the friends in Toronto, and the bereaved ones, in sympathetic service and intercessory prayer. The flight of time was specially noted as it was suggested in reflections and memories that covered half a century. "Good thoughts and good words are helpful but achievements are greater and our late brother achieved something in his life of service." Two stalwarts of the church had recently gone in the persons of the deceased and the late Rev. Wm. Fleming. Our duty is to keep in our lives whatever of good there may be in subjection, that in the end the good may triumph.

There was present at the service a widow who was the first married in Christ Church, also one who was in the class first presented by Rev. Septimus Jones for confirmation.

ACETYLENE GAS

The acetylene gas plant, which furnished light for the Bathurst hotel, Barry's Bay, exploded about 9.30 Saturday morning, and Bert Billings, a son of the proprietor of the hotel received injuries from which he died the same evening in the hospital at Pembroke. Little or no damage was done to the building. About three months ago the same plant caught fire and came near causing a serious disaster.

Billings was a widower, and was managing the hotel for his father-in-law, Bancroft Times.

"I read in the paper where a young woman had been cured of the same troubles by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I threw away the medicine she had been taking the day before I had taken half a bottle I was able to sit up and in a short time I was able to do all my work. Your medicine has proved itself able to do all you say it will and I have recommended it in every household I have visited."

BRITZ OF HEADQUARTERS

BY MARGIN BARBER
Supplied Exclusively in Canada by the British & Colonial Press, Limited, Toronto.

The answers of the other servants were equally straightforward. The butler, under-butler, chief, second footman, pantry-boy, parlor-maid, chamber-maids, and kitchen-maid, and the majestic Blodgett himself were interrogated persistently, minutely, doggedly, even bullyingly, and in the end the net result of what they had to tell was as follows: That is to say, as far as Mrs. Missioner and her friends and the diamond expert were concerned, Donnelly thought otherwise. Carson's mind was a receptive blank.

CHAPTER IV
"The Chief Wants to See You"
Elinor Holcomb, tall, graceful, gray-eyed, stood framed between crimson portieres like a Velasquez portrait.

"Sparklers—shiners—diamonds?"
"Sparklers—shiners—diamonds?" "I don't know," said Mrs. Missioner doubtfully.

BRIDGE STREET ANNIVERSARY; REV. DR. CLEAVER PREACHER

(From Monday's Daily.)
Bridge Street Methodist Church yesterday, observed its anniversary, with Rev. D. Solomon Cleaver, of Toronto, as the preacher of the day.

Not by night, not by power, but by my spirit, said the Lord of Hosts (Zech. 4) was taken as text for the evening sermon by Dr. Cleaver.

Israel had followed after strange gods and their punishment came as justly in their being abandoned to the gods of their choice. They were taken into slavery and remained captive until cured of their idolatry.

FRUIT-A-LIVES

Cured Both Stomach Trouble and Headaches

PARANSTON, ONT., June 20, 1913.
"I really believe that I owe my life to 'Fruit-a-lives'. Ever since childhood, I have been under the care of physicians and have been paying doctor's bills. I was so sick and worn out that people on the street often asked me if I thought I could get along without help.

Today, I am feeling fine, and a physician meeting me on the street, noticed my improved appearance and asked the reason. I replied, 'I am taking Fruit-a-lives'.

NEWS AND VIEWS AMELIASBURG CORRESPONDENT

Horse Drowned—Prospect for High Prices in Cheese—Sunday School Convention—Patriotic Prince Edward Ready to do its Duty—“Jack Canuck’s” Gentle Style—A Suggestion to Belleville Fair Board—The Conservative Love-Feast at Picton.

Considerable building is being planned for this season, should the war not prevent operations, which it will not be likely to do. On Friday last, Ernest Cox of Trenton lost a horse by drowning near Nigger Island. The ice at this particular place is never considered safe and why anyone living as near the bay as Trenton should venture upon the ice in the vicinity of the light-house we are unable to account for. The ice was not more than two inches in thickness and was so treacherous that even the cutter could not be taken out.

People unacquainted with the ice should either follow a bushy road if there is one or follow someone who does know where the ice is safe. This is the time of year most of the cheese factories are letting milk routes for the coming season. There is a strong feeling that cheese will continue to be a good price and arrangements are being made by some farmers to increase their herds of milk cows. It is much to be regretted that some arrangement is not entered into by many of the cheese companies to define their boundaries and stop trespassing upon each others' grounds. It is an expensive, as well as very unsatisfactory precedent to establish, for all parties interested.

The Sabath School Convention was held at Rednersville on Tuesday of this week and was attended by a large number of enthusiastic Sabath School workers. Some excellent papers were read, besides a splendid address by Mr. Farewell of the Provincial Association. The delegates were entertained by the ladies.

Prince Edward is showing a disposition not to be behind in recruiting for the Third Contingent. Already a good number have enlisted and will no doubt give a good account of themselves when the opportunity presents among the regulars in defence of our homes in rear of the front and the 16th Battalion was composed of as fine a set of men as the country could produce. That patriotic spirit has not been confined to the descendants of many of those old veterans are just as keen to do their duty as their fathers and grandfathers were. Perhaps there is no township in the county which can produce a greater number of good marksmen among the young men than is to be found in this township. While there are no doubt many others, the accompanying list has been prepared to me of a few of the young men who would be willing to do their duty.

The following young men would be likely to form the list of recruits, should necessity require.—Ray Beinaq, Geo. Moyle, Robt. Babcock, Frank Pitcher, Vernon Lawrence, Charlie Post, Harry Reddick, Stanley Gerow, Charlie Thompson, Bland Thompson, Earl Duke, W. G. Anderson, A. W. Anderson, John Walker, Geo. Robinson, Roy Vallas, Wellington Howell, John Anderson, Benj. Anderson, —Hubbs, —Young, Benj. Juby, Leonard Thompson, Geo. Thompson, Leslie Parliament, Harry Cromtingham, W. C. Roblin, Albert Hillman, Albert File, Rodney Yott, Harry Adams, Ross Roblin, Roy Roblin, Fred Newman, Morley Welbanks, Lorne Dempsey, Lorne Wilder, Milton Tompkins, Chas. Loveless, Alfred Wannamaker, Ernest Russell, Stanley Brickman, Ross Bellap, Kenneth Weese, Claude Sager, Edgar Weese, Percy Hayes, Wm. Rowe, Arthur Roy, Roy Chas. Finland, T. G. Sager, Geo. Noble, Fred Cunningham, Morgan Lott, Leslie Cross, Frank Cross, John Keeble, W. Dickson, Harry Brickman.

“Jack Canuck,” which prides itself in being a plain speaker and out-and-out advocate of what it thinks to the point, does not always express its views in the most polished language. While plain speaking on any public question is not always to be condemned, still at the same time there is no good reason why such comments should not be made in at least respectable terms. It would not lessen the strength of the arguments and would do more to convince the readers thereof of the finer sensibility of the writers and their true conception of what should be characteristic of true journalism. Any journal that is unable to express its views without indulging in terms bordering on blasphemy and other ungentlemanly language can scarcely hope to be rewarded with either the respect or esteem of its readers.

At this season of the year the nurserymen have their agents canvassing for fruit trees. Scarcely a year passes without some new fruit being introduced and in the majority of cases about all the agent knows about the stock is that if successful in landing an order he gets a “good commission” and with this inducement in view he talks the apple, plum or pear etc up to the highest pitch. Fruit growers should have learned long ago that only the fruit which does well in their immediate locality is the safe variety to plant. The fancy new varieties are generally an unsafe investment. Simply because some variety has done well a hundred miles or less from here is not always a guarantee the same fruit would do half as well here. Every fruit-grower knows the Ben Davis and the following answer was given to an Ontario fruit-grower who wanted to know about planting it.

Ontario grows a particularly hard Ben Davis. The apple will pay well even if one gets a low price per barrel, because it sells yearly and so heavily. It makes a fairly good apple in the spring and is excellent for pies at that time. A writer in the States has had some experience for he has the following reference to the apple—an unfair one—Ben Davis a combination of cork dust, sawdust and beeswax—treacherously colored Baldwin red and Northern Spyr stripes. Handsome in color but dry as a bone in flesh and taste. Will keep like potatoes and eat like turnips.

The Belleville Agricultural Fair this year promises to be a bigger and better fair than has been. That sounds good and we are assured that this guarantee is backed up with the promise that the receipts will not be sent to an unfair one—Ben Davis a combination of cork dust, sawdust and beeswax—treacherously colored Baldwin red and Northern Spyr stripes. Handsome in color but dry as a bone in flesh and taste. Will keep like potatoes and eat like turnips.

The Conservation Association for this county was held at Picton on Saturday and was as usual largely attended. The addresses were of a laudatory character, as would be expected, on what the Borden government has done and intended doing. There is a cleavage in the party as to who the next candidate will be plain man or a party man. It appears to be generally conceded that Mr. Hepburn's days are numbered. While he has a number of friends there are a goodly number who do not approve of his course in the last Provincial Election and will make their influence felt, should he again be a candidate. Mr. Hepburn should have used more discretion in not meddling with the affairs of the party which properly did not belong to him.

Rev. Mr. Williams of Consecow will deliver an address this week on “The British Navy and the war,” at one of the churches in this township. The Rev. gentleman is well qualified to speak, especially upon the navy as he served some years on the man-of-war, and is in a position to deliver an interesting address. There is every reason to believe there will be a large number who will take advantage of the opportunity to hear him.

It was with feelings of the deepest regret and sorrow we learned of the death of the sad bereavement which has come to Rev. Mr. Rickett and family through the death of Mrs. Rickett at Toronto. Mr. Rickett was a former pastor of this township and during his pastorate endeavored himself to all, and the heartfelt sympathy of his many friends will go out to himself and son and daughter at this time in the severe affliction which has befallen them.

Local Boys in Picture

An interesting picture taken in London is shown in Mr. F. W. Wood's store window. It is the photo of a banquet tendered officers of the first Canadian Contingent, who are members of the Masonic order, by Canada Lodge, A.F. & A.M. of London, Eng. In the immediate foreground, may be seen Lieut. W. J. Doscoe of town and on either side of him are Lieuts. Ponon and O'Flynn of Belleville.—Campbell News.

BURN'S NIGHT CELEBRATION

The following programme was rendered at the anniversary of Robert Burns held by Camp Rob Roy S. O. S. on Monday evening:—Messrs John and William McIntosh—bagpipe duet. Mr. John McIntosh—pipe march. John McIntosh—song “Stirling Bridge.” Miss Claire Coughlin—Dance—“The Highland Fling.” Mr. John McIntosh accompanying on the pipe. W. J. Andrews, an Englishman, and Dan McIntosh sang a duet accompanied by Miss Jessie McIntosh. Gramophone selection—Scottish airs. Mr. McMillen—Scottish Song. Rev. A. S. Kerr delivered an able address and Rev. E. C. Currie spoke at some length, delivering a delightful reading of an event said to have happened in Winnipeg. Mrs. Caldwell, Scotchman, American and Canadian—taking part. The first four expressing their ideas of Canada in words of highest praise. Miss McLean was the accompanist for some of the singers of the evening. Supper was then served and for an hour the fellow-countrymen of Bobbie Burns danced in the Johnstone Academy.

Relic of Waterloo

A crude looking weapon of warfare which bears the distinction of having seen service in the historical battle of Waterloo was shown at the weekly Dr. J. I. Newton. It is in the form of a flintlock pistol 9 inches long and with a barrel only an inch and a half in length. The powder pan and flint cock are on top differing to the flintlock musket which has powder pan on the side some of which pattern are still in existence throughout the county. An examination of the relic affords a faint idea of the crudeness of the munitions of war of the 18th century as compared with those of modern times. The pistol was used in the battle of Waterloo by the late John Newton of Hungerford and is naturally prized very highly by the present owner Mr. Newton kindly consented to leave it at our office for a few days where any wishing may see it.—Tweed Advocate.

The Snow Exploded

On Thursday morning last week a heavy explosion that was heard over most of the village, caused many of the citizens to wonder what had happened. Mr. Kellogg had scattered snow on his shop floor while sweeping, and when the job of sweeping was completed the floor dust and snow were dumped into the coal stove. The mixture of snow and refuse was in a manner conveyed to the stove, thus trouble started. The explosion did apparently no harm to the stove or pipes, but as soon as it reached the top of the chimney it burst and the days ago of the chimney that projected above the roof. A new chimney had to be erected.—Warkworth Journal.

Musical Hecky Match

The married men and single men of the 15th band played a return match from 10 to 11 last night which resulted in a tie. Considerable rivalry existed and both sides worked hard. Ten minutes over-time was played, during which the single men scored one goal by kind permission of the married men's goal keeper. Davis, the referee had a very busy time calling penalties. Thompson would make a great catcher for the Park Nine baseball team. A letter to the game both teams were banqueted at the Royal Cafe. In the former game the score was 3-1 in favor of the married men. Public opinion says all the players have missed their calling.

Bitten by a Horse

An accident which might have proved more serious occurred to Mr. Fred McKee, when the horse to which he was attending, suddenly turned on him and gave him a nasty bite in the neck. The cut is within an inch of the jugular vein, and might easily have been very serious indeed. As it is unable to realize what had occurred to him, so unexpected was the attack.—Hastings Star.

This was followed by one or two musical selections, after which the men of the company fell to speech making. Some of the speakers, although undisciplined in the art of public oratory, did most creditably, and deserve full commendation on the occasion of their first attempt. Nearly every one referred to the happy memories of acquaintance with Mr. Geo. Jose, and to his bearing and character which undoubtedly elicited the admiration of all who knew him. They wished him to convey their kind wishes and respects to Mrs. Jose, who through unavoidable circumstances was unable to accompany her husband on his visit home. Mr. George replied very feelingly and suitably and modestly remarked that his only regret was that he had not accomplished more, and been even a more worthy example during his early life in Hallowsay. They also wished him God-speed on his return west. The company dispersed after singing “God be with you all we mean well” and receiving the benediction by Rev. A. E. Richmond.

TALKED BY TELEPHONE FROM OCEAN TO OCEAN

Crowning Achievement in the Life of Inventor Bell—Held a Conversation From New York With Thomas Watson in San Francisco.

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—At 4 o'clock this afternoon, from the office of Theodore N. Vall, President of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, 16 Dey Street, this city, Dr. Alexander Graham Bell, inventor of the telephone, spoke over the newly completed trans-continental telephone line to Thomas A. Watson in San Francisco. Watson it will be remembered was the mechanical assistant who built Bell's first telephone and it was these two men who, 39 years ago next June, carried on the first conversation by telephone.

From the White House at Washington also, President Wilson, whose telephone had been connected, to-day spoke into the mouthpiece and his voice was whirled across thirteen states to the shores of the Pacific. From Boston, Mayor Curley had a word to say to Mayor Rolph of San Francisco, and most remarkable of all from Jeckyl Island, 1,000 miles down the Atlantic seaboard to the Georgia coast, Theodore N. Vall spoke to San Francisco 4,400 miles away.

It had been planned by Mr. Vall that the year of the Panama-Pacific Exposition in celebration of the completion of the great canal connecting the waters of the Atlantic and the Pacific should be made still more memorable by the completion of a speech canal connecting the two oceans in a manner no less serviceable to mankind and by means of an engineering skill quite as great as that required in digging the big ditch.

To-day's celebration, in the opinion of some eminent scientists and engineers present, discloses a scientific achievement no less wonderful than its predecessor of 39 years ago. That two human beings, speaking in their ordinary tones and separated by three thousand four hundred miles of mountain and valley, desert and fertile plain, should converse with as much ease as if but a few feet intervened between them, is surely one of the greatest of latter day marvels. It implies at once a perfection of apparatus and equipment, a nicety of adjustment and an excellence of engineering skill never before attained.

The route of this new trans-continental line from San Francisco is via Salt Lake City, Denver, Omaha, Chicago. At Chicago the line branches one branch going to Pittsburgh thence to New York and the other branch to Buffalo and from there to New York. A continuation of the line also runs from Buffalo to Boston, and of the Pittsburgh line to Baltimore, Washington and Philadelphia.

In the line there are four wires making it possible to carry on three conversations simultaneously. Each wire is 3,400 miles long and of No. 8 copper, 165 inches in diameter. The total weight of the wire is 3,900 tons supported by 130,000 poles. The line is not yet open for commercial use. Arrangements are being perfected to that end and announcement of its opening for commercial purposes will be long delayed, although much work yet remains to be done.

In no line of human endeavor has the inventive brain of the scientist contributed more to the progress than by the creation of the art of telephony. When the telephone was born, nothing analogous to telephone service as we now know it existed. There was no tradition to guide, no experience to follow, no model of the apparatus, the methods—an entire new art had to be created. The art of electrical engineering did not exist. The Bell pioneers recognizing that success depended upon the highest engineering and technical skill, once organized an experimental and research department, which is now directed by a staff of over 550 engineers and scientists, including former professors, post-graduate students, scientific investigators—the graduates of over 140 universities.

New improvements in telephones, switchboards, line cables have followed one another with remarkable rapidity. While each successive type of apparatus to the superficial observer suggests similarity, each step in the evolution has marked a decided improvement. These changes, this evolution, have not only been continuous, but are continuing. Since 1877 there have been introduced 53 different types and styles of receivers, and 73 types and styles of transmitters. The solution of this problem of trans-continental telephony was found only in the cumulative effect of improvements, great and small, in telephone transmitter, line, cable, switchboard and every other piece of apparatus or plant required in the transmission of speech.

To Canadians this latest step in the advance of the telephone art is of especial interest, for as Dr. Graham Bell has more than once affirmed it was at Brantford, Ontario, that the telephone was born. Moreover both Paris, Ontario and Toronto figure in those historic experiments which marked the beginning of this great utility. This is the way Dr. Bell himself describes the birth of the telephone—"When I went from Boston to Brantford, Ontario, in the summer of 1874," he says, "I had under way, two distinct lines of investigation. On the one hand was my system of multiple telephony. I had reached the application of the undulatory current, the conception that if you could move an armature as the air is moved during the passage of a sound you could transmit speech.

graph wire leading into Brantford. Then I had some friends in Brantford who spoke, sang and recited into the membrane telephone while a large number of guests at my father's house at Tuttle Heights listened to the transmission. "So these experiments at Brantford were the first experiments that were really successful in transmitting speech from one place to another at a distance, but they were all one-sided, not reciprocal.

"The first reciprocal communication occurred after my return to Boston in October 1876. On October 3 occurred the first conversation by telephone between persons separated by miles of space. This was from Cambridgeport to Boston, a distance of 3 1/2 miles. Mr. Thos. A. Watson built the Cambridgeport and I at the Boston end of the wire. I noted what I said and what I thought I heard him say and the parallel columns were reported in the Boston Advertiser of October 19, 1876."

FAIR AUDIENCE AT GRIFFIN'S LAST NIGHT

The dramatic presentation of Harold Bell Wright's popular novel, "The Shepherd of the Hills" did not bring out a capacity audience at Griffin's Family Theatre last night. The house was about two-thirds filled when the curtain rang up on the first act. It is now only about a year since the same attraction was booked here and was then presented by a notably strong and capable company. As a rule the public does not take to the presentation of attractions by the companies that succeed the original company, judging from long experience that the later troupes are cheap and unsatisfactory, travelling on the reputation of those artists who have gone before. In this estimate the public is, generally speaking, right.

Leon's production was the first theatrical performance seen here in several months. Had it been something not seen here before, or had it had something of reputation, there is little doubt but that every seat would have been taken. The production here has so long been deprived of the theatrical entertainment that they are willing to pay out their money and go as soon as something worth while comes along. The prevailing hard times would not prevent a large attendance if anything of outstanding merit were to come along.

The most capable of the characters in last night's company was Mr. Jas. M. Mabe, who performed the part of "Freddie" Hill. His work was probably droll and served to give an air of sprightliness to the performance. Mr. Thos Fitzgerald was scarcely satisfactory as "Th. Shepherd of the Hills." The very important role needs strengthening. The other characters were portrayed fair success.

OTHER INTERESTING EXHIBITS IN WINDOW

Colonel Ponton has placed the following additional articles of interest in the military windows of Ketcheson & Earle. These interesting exhibits will be all removed on Wednesday so that those who desire to inspect them should do so at once. They have been examined by several thousand people since put on exhibition on Friday last.

THE STORY OF JEAN VAL JEAN

A large crowd listened to Rev. Dr. Cleaver last night deliver an address on "Jean Val Jean," the great character in one of the novels of Victor Hugo, "Les Miserables." The story was most inspiring and all who were there were delighted with Dr. Cleaver's masterful effort.

THERE ARE MANY FINE ATTRACTIONS COMING

Mr. Walter Kennedy, the late popular manager of the Griffin Opera house in this city and now booking agent at the central office, Toronto, has in the city this evening. He has formed The Ontario Trust has a fine line of attractions in prospect for Belleville patrons. Among others that will come this way he mentioned "School Days," a pleasing musical comedy at popular prices. "The Millstones," a strong comedy drama. "The Red Rose" with Zola Barrett in the leading role and the same cast as proved so popular here two seasons ago. "A Long Way to Tipperary" a catchy musical comedy. "Damaged Goods," a drama that has created a profound sensation in the United States; and "Mutt and Jeff in Mexico." These are but a few of the good things in store, and other fine attractions will be booked in due course.

Savage and Futile Warfare

The world will wait with interest for an official justification from Berlin of the German air raid upon non-combatants in undefended English towns. In truth, it cannot be justified. It has no warrant in international law. It is against both the spirit and the letter of the Hague Convention. No military necessity can be pleaded for it. It is a bit of pure savagery in warfare.

We assert this, not because the Germans did it, but because it was done at all. Whoever does it ought to fall under the heaviest condemnation of civilized men. We do not say that the British would not have done the same thing in the Germans' place. Americans at war might do it. Who can tell to what brutalities the fierce passions of men, once let loose in murderous strife, may not impel them? But there are laws by which all such inhumanities must be judged. There are the rules of war, there are the agreements of nations, there is the conscience of mankind. All these may be invoked against the raining of death by night from the sky upon private houses, unwarned and undefended. If the attack had been made to drop bombs upon warships, at sea or in port, or upon barracks or fortifications or encampments, or even signal stations and coast guard detachments, it would have been terrible, but it would have been lawful. Even so, the large expediency of the raid has been questioned. But what we have, in the detailed accounts of the bomb-dropping, without notification, in a series of unfortified English towns, is a mere exhibition of ferocity, at once contrary to law and wholly futile.

The laws of war relating to air craft are as yet in the forming. Effort was made at the Hague Conference to prohibit altogether the dropping of bombs from airships. As only Great Britain and Belgium agreed to this, it is not binding. But let it not be thought that the Conference left the matter there. It established regulations in regard to all bombardments, which apply to aerial as well as naval bombardment. These regulations were entirely disregarded in yesterday's air raid in England. For the regulations forbid absolutely "the attack or bombardment by any means whatever of towns, villages, habitations, or buildings which are not defended." And in case of defended places "the commander of an attacking force, before commencing a bombardment, except in the case of an assault, should do all he can to warn the authorities." Nor is this all. The Hague Conference adopted a Preamble, in which the following language was used:

Until a more complete code of the laws of war is issued, the High Contracting Parties think it right to declare that in cases not included in the Regulations adopted by them, populations and belongings remain under the protection and empire of the principles of international law, as they result from the usages established between civilized nations, from the laws of humanity and the requirements of public conscience.

Colborne Flotation Sued Him For $1,400 on Stock Subscription

The action of the Canadian Ohio Motor Car Co., Limited, of Colborne, Ont., against Joseph Colborne, postmaster of the same place, has been dismissed by Mr. Justice Latchford at Toronto. The action was to recover $1,400 alleged due by the defendant upon a call as a subscriber to stock of the company.

The company was promoted by W. B. Fox of Toronto, who discovered that Colborne wanted an industry and that a Cincinnati company wanted to establish a Canadian branch. About $40,000 stock was subscribed by Colborne people on the condition that they were not to be liable unless $20,000 was subscribed.

His lordship finds that no proper call was ever made upon the defendant, nor was the $60,000 subscribed. The Cincinnati directors were careful to incur no liability and to insure on cash for the cars from their confiding Canadian friends. In giving judgment, Mr. Justice Latchford says: "Troubles were the meaning accumulating; costly premises and a more costly staff had been established in Toronto, and a number of cars purchased from the Ohio Company or from the receiver into whose hands it had passed. The gentlemen who expected to see a prosperous industry at Colborne realised towards the close of 1912 that they had been merely the sales agents of the foreign manufacturers. They had bought 40 per cent of the forty cars, spent the 25 per cent collected from the subscribers to the stock book agreement, and nearly $20,000 additional borrowed from a bank on their personal security. When an audit was held, it was found that the losses were about $17,000."

REV. CANON SEPTIMIUS JONES HAS PASSED TO HIS REST

Was Founder and First Rector of Christ Church, Belleville—Was Prominent Clergyman in Toronto for Many Years—Was Well Known in Belleville.

Rev. Canon Septimus Jones, one of the best known clergymen of the Anglican faith in Toronto and the first rector of Christ church, Belleville, passed to his rest last evening at his home, 18 Prince Arthur avenue, Toronto. Up to within the past two weeks he had been in the best of health, but he gradually sank through the decline of old age and the end came peacefully yesterday evening in the midst of his family.

Up to the beginning of this year he still preserved his wonderful musical talent and he and Mrs. Jones delighted their friends with their music.

It is a remarkable coincidence, that the grand niece, formerly Miss E. Ponton, of the builder and first rector of Christ church, is the wife of the present rector, Rev. R. C. Blagrove, born at Eastbourne, England in 1890. Mr. Jones was one of the few persons surviving who witnessed the Coronation of Queen Victoria, and he remembered being held in his father's arms to see the Duke of Wellington.

His father, Rev. James Jones, in the age of fifty-seven emigrated to the wilds of Canada and started his labors as a missionary in the Eastern Townships. He died at the age of ninety-two. He had been an intimate friend of the late Archbishop Dand of Montreal.

WORKER IN MANY FIELDS.

Of the fifteen children, three of the sons entered the ministry. Septimus, the seventh son, as his name indicated, being ordained by the Bishop of Quebec in 1853. He served as a missionary in Gaspe for a little time, then went to the United States, being in Philadelphia when the war broke out. He then moved to Canada, settling first in Cobourg, where he was under the late Bishop Bethune. Then he moved to Belleville, becoming curate for the father of Miss Grier, for years the well-known Principal of the Bishop Strachan School, who lately retired from that position.

Mr. Jones then established in Belleville a church of his own, Christ church, building the first of five such edifices which have stood to his credit in Canada. In 1870 he moved to Toronto, becoming curate at St. Paul's, under Rev. Salter Evans. When that parish was divided the school house was moved over to the "Potter's Field" at the head of Yonge St. and he became the first rector of the new church of the Redeemer on the corner of North and Bloor streets. He enlarged the church twice, and in 1877 built the most handsome edifice which now stands at the corner of Bloor street and Avenue road.

CELEBRATED FIFTY-ONE YEARS OF THEIR WEDDED LIFE

A very pleasing and interesting event took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Loucks near Foxboro, on the evening of Jan. 20th, when they celebrated the 51st anniversary of their marriage. Their only daughter, Mrs. L. E. Henderson was present and took an active part in the celebration. The guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Coulter, Mr. and Mrs. A. Ross, Mr. Long of Peterboro, Mrs. E. Carniff, Mr. H. Motz, Mr. and Mrs. C. Bronson and their pretty little daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. Beard, Mr. and Mrs. Caverly, Mr. and Mrs. S. Gray, Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Faulkner and the pastor, Rev. Mr. Jones. The guests were entertained by games, vocal and instrumental music, a recitation and a program of toasts. Lunch was served about 11. The menu consisted of a large variety. The recitation was given by Mr. Loucks entitled "The Race for a Life, or the Foot of Scaumash" it was one of E. M. Pierce's poems and was quite lengthy. The details were thrilling and exciting and it took forty minutes to deliver it. This he did without a note or a prompter, a remarkable thing for him to do, and the rendering was such as you could not have anticipated from a man of his age. One of the most prominent in the recitation was a little girl, 10 years of age who proved to be one of the brightest, bravest and pluckiest little girls the world has ever known. To make the account seem more real this little girl was represented by Miss Anna Bronson in her clever, modest, graceful way and it reflected much credit upon her. She was dressed very prettily and was the admiration of all present. After lunch the following toast was proposed—

"Here's to the woman whose hand in life she clasps your own Like a grip of steel, the years ago That makes you feel You're not in the world alone."

"Here's to the woman whose laugh puts the sombre clouds to rout, The woman who's fair And kind and square To the ore that's down and out."

The toast was responded to by Dr. J. A. Faulkner and Rev. Mr. Jones in speeches that were very appropriate, fully in keeping with the subject, interesting and edifying and were appreciated by all.

Mr. Loucks in writing some reminiscences says—

"I find I am now 75 years old and looking over my shoulder I can see that my school boy days were the most pleasant and happy days of my life, free from cares. I will never forget the pleasant times spent in my six years. When a boy he was a general good natured fellow, always full of fun, and I don't think he has gotten over it yet. Our associations as mates were mutually very pleasant and agreeable."

"WHEN I WAS A BOY."

"The playground and the village street I see, and am again a boy, When life was beautiful and sweet, And just to live and love was joy, Aglow with all good natured fun, What careless, merry times were ours, We felt we were afloat upon A summer sea of sunny hours."

Higher Duties Against Canada.

OTTAWA, Jan. 25.—The new Australian tariff increases the duty on Canadian farm implements to various degrees. Some from five to 50 per cent, some from 15 to 25 per cent, and some from 25 to 30 per cent, together with an increase in the specific duties.

On pianos and organs the fixed duties are raised one pound sterling and the ad valorem from 35 to 50 per cent.

The duty on the chassis of motor cars from Canada is increased from 5 to 10 per cent. There is also a five per cent. increase on many vehicle parts.

Four Years For Horse Theft.

GALT, Ont., Jan. 25.—David Givens was Saturday sentenced by Magistrate Blake to four years in Kingston Penitentiary for the theft of a horse from Robert S. Armstrong, of Ayr, on June 16. Givens is a Galt man, but had been away from here for 14 years. After stealing the horse Givens sold it to a local dealer for $50 and then skipped out, but returned about two weeks ago and was arrested. The crown termed him as a dangerous man, traveling the country under four or five names. The purchaser of the horse proved to be the satisfaction of the court that he did not know the animal was stolen.

SHE WAS IN BED FOR SEVEN WEEKS

Then Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured Madame Berube.

Montreal lady tells how, after four years' illness, she found a Complete Cure for all Her Troubles.

Montreal, Que., Jan. 25 (Special).—Madame J. Baptiste Berube, residing at 1393 Logan Avenue, this city, asserts that after four years' suffering from kidney disease she has been completely restored to health by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"I had a pain in my left side around the heart," Madame Berube says, in her statement. "I suffered constantly with headache and backache, and for seven weeks I was in bed with kidney disease and feebleness. The doctor could not help me so I resorted to Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"After the first box I was some better. I continued to use Dodd's Kidney Pills till now the palpitation has left me, and I am a well woman, able to do my work. Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me and I recommend them to all persons who suffer as I did."

Notice how many women are rising to tell their suffering sisters they can find relief in Dodd's Kidney Pills. The reason is that nine-tenths of women's ills spring from diseased or disordered kidneys. Every woman whose kidneys show signs of weakness should use Dodd's Kidney Pills.

SOAP-BOX PATRIOTISM.

One of the largest of the incorporated villages of the Belleville section has so far contributed a total of only four volunteers for the three overseas contingents. And yet if anyone were to state publicly that the people of this particular village were not as loyal to the Empire and as true to British connection as they should be, he would be called a malicious slanderer and a purveyor of defamatory libels.

During the period of the South African war, we remember an organization at the village of Moira that was known locally as "The Sons of Rest" or "The Soap-box Club." It was the custom for the members to hold sessions every week-night at the only departmental store that the village contained, and conduct nightly debates. Prior to the war, questions of sociology, economics, scientific agriculture, higher criticism and advanced ethics were discussed with such positiveness, assurance, dialectic and argumentative skill as would have made some of the older statesmen and philosophers turn an emerald hue from jealousy. One thing we always noted about the statements that were made and the conclusions drawn—there never was any doubt or indecision. The speaker always KNEW. These soap-box philosophers seldom agreed with one another in their thoughts, expressions, and deductions. But that fact did not seem to shake the faith of the individual member in his own infallibility, and besides it gave to the deliberations an air of liveliness, independence of thinking, and wholesome variety.

The South African war came along in due course, and we recall with what contemptuous criticism the Soap-box Club assailed the blundering of Buller and the other British leaders in the early stages of the war. The success of Roberts and Sir John French at Paardeburg was conceded, but the failure to capture De Wet and Delarey and the slow progress made in rounding up Botha's commandoes called for much sharp criticism. Had the Sons of Rest been consulted the war would have been wound up months earlier than it was and Great Britain would have saved a lot of valuable time and good money. But the War Office went on making a grand mess of things, apparently not knowing of all the wisdom that was going to waste at Moira.

One other thing we noticed—the Soap-box Club furnished no volunteers for the war. They thought they had done their duty to the Empire by telling how the enemy might be more speedily destroyed. They discharged their obligations by contributing two and a half years of TALK.

We fear there is too much of this Soap-box brand of patriotism in Canada at the present crisis. The following stanzas which appeared a few days ago in the Elm Grove correspondence of The Alliston Herald would go to prove that there are others outside of Hastings county who are prone to indulge in war behind a thousand leagues of ocean, and a safe barricade of soap-boxes. The metrical version reads thus,—

Elm Grove will soon be famous,
I'll have you understand;
We have the finest lot of lads
That ever stepped this land.
And if you don't believe me
Some night down here just drop
And see the boys adorning in
Tommy Dawes's shop.

They are drilling steady every night,
Good boys, and staunch and true,
Waiting at their country's call
To do their duty too.
For if the Germans get to know,
I'm sure the war they'll stop
Before the boys get after them from
Tommy Dawes's shop.

They kill the generals every night,
The Kaiser and his son,
They even bring the Zeppelins down
With one old rusty gun;
And the punishment they put them to
The authorities should stop.
I do believe they are burying them
'Neath Tommy Dawes's shop.

The contingent at Elm Grove is doing just as effective work towards defeating the Germans as some of the communities in the region about the Bay of Quinte, Frankford, Marmora, and a number of other centers have responded nobly to the Empire's call for men. But we regret, at the same time, to be compelled to admit that right here in this district where we boast our United Empire Loyalist ancestry, and our readiness to prove ourselves worthy of such an ancestry there have been many neighborhoods, hamlets and villages, that have contributed not one, single, native-born, Canadian son to fight the enemies of our nation.

Is Bay of Quinte loyalty, after all, only a cheap, counterfeit sentiment that manifests itself in frantic flag-flapping at election time, fervid Twelfth of July orations, parading of brilliantly uniformed men to religious services, soap-box debates about the incapacity of our military leaders, and then, when danger actually threatens, the cyclone cellar for ours?

In Belleville, as elsewhere, the work of recruiting has been hampered by the unwillingness of relatives to give their consent to those who would volunteer their services. The reluctance of father or mother to part with a son, for the terribly uncertain hazard of war, is quite natural. But these parents should reflect that unless we have defenders our homes might become as the homes of Belgium. The present war is not a contest to enhance our national glory or prestige, but a fight for our national existence and for all that we hold dear, whether in the nation, the community, or the home. Therefore, though filial affection instinctively prompts us to hold those who are dear to us back from the immediate peril of war, there is a higher ideal and a nobler duty that calls for the subversion of self and the supreme sacrifice, it may be, of life itself.

We all abhor the evils and the perils of war, but dishonorable peace is far less to be desired than is battling for a just cause. England fighting for a scrap of paper is vastly more heroic than would be England sitting down in ignoble sloth, indifferent to her pledged word or her national honor. The clang of swords is infinitely to be preferred to the clanking of chains. Eddie O'Flynn and Dick Ponton at Salisbury Plain give a finer expression to concrete loyalty than they could have done in a century of service in the routine of a law office in Belleville. They could have found excuses, but their patriotism was not of the parade and the mess-room, but twenty-four carats fine.

Canada has not yet come anywhere near to doing her duty in this war. Australia with a population of four millions already has one hundred and sixty thousand men under training. If Canada did as well as Australia or Great Britain we would now have at least three hundred thousand men bearing arms. We do not wish to join in the soap-box chorus of criticism, but we must say that a good deal of this unsatisfactory showing is due to lack of strong leadership and direction at Ottawa. There has been timidity and hesitation where there should have been firmness and decision. While one section of the cabinet was crowing about the arrival of an Emergency which they positively foresaw at least two years ago, for which they had failed to provide even fifty thousand rifles, the German section of the cabinet, headed by Bob Rogers, was determined to show its loyalty to the Empire by precipitating a premature and unnecessary general election.

This war it not likely to be ended soon. It is going to be a tremendously costly thing to defeat Germany on the defence. The past month of aggressive tactics in Flanders and France has demonstrated that the present allied forces are totally inadequate to make any real impression on the German lines. The Empire needs men and more men. Let us hope that Canada, the Bay of Quinte district and the city of Belleville will respond to this third call for volunteers in a manner that will show that our patriotism is deep-based on patriotic deeds and not on empty words.

WHY NOT CANADA?

There are indications that Russia is preparing to make purchases in the United States upon a yet larger scale than is represented in the war material orders placed there during the past three months. These army purchases represent many millions of dollars in outlay, but Russia must keep up her vast agricultural industries in active operation along with her huge military enterprises. During recent years Germany has been selling to Russia manufactured goods to the value of about $400,000,000 annually. There is about to be organized in New York a purchasing syndicate to be known as the Russo-American Bank. The syndicate will include several prominent American bankers and is designed to establish in the United States the same kind of credit system through which Russian supplies have hitherto been purchased in Germany.

The Russo-American Bank proposes not only to finance war material orders, but contract for steel rails, excavating machinery, agricultural machinery and implements, and, in short, to open a channel for trade between the United States and Russia such as has not hitherto been provided. Shipments to Russia from the United States during the continuance of the war will have to be sent through the Panama Canal or by rail across to the Pacific, and will reach their destination through the port of Vladivostok. It is a long and costly haul, but it is a route, which, according to present indications, is likely to stay open. The syndicate proposes to maintain a department of sales both in the United States and at Petrograd, where American manufacturers can show samples.

Canada is in as good a position, and in some respects a better position, to supply Russia's needs, if we are able to finance the transactions, and our Banks ought to be able to attend to that. What is the Government doing to capture a share of Russia's vast import trade?

A PLOT A YEAR OLD.

Until recently even those who believed Germany and Austria in the wrong were inclined to make some allowance for Austria's anger against Serbia because of the murder of Archduke Francis Ferdinand. It now appears, however, that an attack on Serbia was contemplated in August, 1913, nine months before the assassination. The London Nation says that the ultimatum prepared in 1913 differed little from that which startled Europe this summer.

The revelation was made by Signor Giolitti in the Italian Chamber of Deputies. He said that in August, 1913, he was informed by the Marquis di San Giuliano that Austria had communicated her design of attacking Serbia, and invoked Italian aid under the Triple Alliance. The Italian statesmen refused to join in the attack, and they so informed Austria, and urged Germany to dissuade her from a most dangerous adventure. The Triple Alliance of Germany, Austria and Italy was for defence. Italy said in 1913 that she was not bound to act with Austria, because nobody was attacking Austria. She took the same position in 1914.

Austria and Germany were, therefore, fully warned that their action was disapproved by a friendly power, and they must have known that they were practically destroying the Triple Alliance. They did not rush into the war merely because of anger at a murder. They did in 1914 something which they had contemplated months before the murder, something which they had been warned by Italy not to do. It looks like a case of national madness.

The Boston Transcript may be prophetic when it says: "We confidently expect to see our differences with England amicably settled by the diplomats a couple of years or so after the war is over."

Emma Eames, the famous singer, in denouncing Germany's outrage on Belgium, says: "Germany was the only one of the three nations, France, England and Germany, who, like a murderer, having lived long in the thought of a possible crime, is sufficiently self-hypnotized to accomplish it, and awakes with amazement to find himself unapproved by the victims and onlookers."

The correspondent of the Chicago News who has been interviewing men of prominence in Europe, cables his paper that the silence of the United States, in the face of "the crucifixion of Belgium," has lost the Republic the respect of the Allies, while she has earned the contempt of Germany. "Watchful waiting" while the greatest crime of the age was being perpetrated has its demerits.

News from Austria-Hungary tells of "peace-riots." That's good. As soon as the people of Austria and Germany fully realize how they have been misled by the military caste, there is going to be a terrible reckoning. The Dual alliance is as likely to collapse from internal dissension as from actual defeat at the hands of the Allies.

The disaster which has fallen upon Italy is overwhelming in its loss of life and the suffering and distress which must follow in its wake. And yet the world is so absorbed with the conflict in Europe and all that it involves that one of the greatest catastrophes in modern times probably stirs the public less than a minor engagement at sea or an airship raid. And yet it would be a cold heart which is not touched by the story of death and devastation among the Italian people.

The linotype operator touches from ten to twenty thousand keys each day in this office. Small wonder then that he makes a mistake occasionally. The proofreader is occasionally giving his attention to something else while reading the proof mechanically and it is not surprising that he may pass over an error in spelling. The slugs from which the paper is printed are handled several times, carefully of course, but occasionally one will get misplaced. Atmospheric conditions are not always the same and with numerous other things to look after the pressman sometimes fails to look after them and then fails to get a good print. The printed sheet sometimes has to be handled immediately before it has had time to dry and ink smears result. When we consider all these things we are highly gratified that there are not more mistakes and that the papers are delivered in as good a condition as they are.

Rev. J. E. Adams, who has been an acting chaplain with the Gordon Highlanders at the front, is home again. In a recent sermon he referred to the death roll of the Gordon Highlanders, and said the 1st Gordons, where were they? There were still some of the 2nd Gordons left, he believed. After a certain famous battle the roll call disclosed only 120 men and three officers. Of the 2nd Gordons, who went out over 1,000 strong, when one spoke to the officers they declined to talk about the things that had happened. Mr. Adams added that the British soldiers appreciated the religious services. When asked what hymns they would sing, the reply was, "Rock of Ages," "Nearer my God, to Thee," "Jesus, Lover of my Soul," or "Lead Kindly Light."

The London Chronicle tells of the precautions that Germany is taking to make certain that the truth shall not be in her. On the eastern frontier of Holland, in the manufacturing district of which Enschede is the chief centre, a good many Dutch workmen find employment in factories in adjoining German towns, such as Gronau. But because living is cheaper in their own country they prefer to reside in it, crossing over the border to their work in the morning and returning at night. It is their habit to carry their dinner with them, and since the war broke out they have been prohibited from wrapping it in Dutch newspapers. They must use German newspapers, provided for the purpose. If they import their own they are immediately confiscated at the frontier.

Both the official and semi-official reports from Russia give a strong impression of substantial progress on the part of the Allies. In Poland and on the Vistula the outcome of the hard fighting which has now continued for weeks is that the Germans are held firm. They make no real progress anywhere; they have lost points of importance, including that which they had on the right bank of the Bzura. In Galicia there is a different story. There the Austrian defeat is being converted into something very like a rout. The foothills of the Carpathians are being steadily cleared of the enemy, who are being pushed westward, and off the natural line of retreat through the passes. The movement is necessarily slow. The country is full of difficulties, but the progress made is substantial.

Count Bernstorff, the German Ambassador to Washington, again declares that Germany had offered to indemnify Belgium for any damage caused by marching through her territory, and that Germany had assured Belgium that her independence would be undisturbed. But as the Massachusetts student at Amherst College asked Dr. Derubert, how did Belgium know that Germany would keep her word?

Lord Halsbury, the stern old lawyer, who for many years was Lord High Chancellor would give the Kaiser short shrift. In a recent speech he said: "Any Emperor who wants to take somebody else's land is a dirty thief, and whether the offender be Napoleon—who committed great crimes—or Sennacherib, he ought to be hanged." We can only hope that Lord Halsbury could have the opportunity to pass sentence upon the Prussian War Lords when the day of reckoning comes.

INVOCATION.

God, I see the nations rise
With the blood lust in their eyes;
They will tread Thy white Truth down,
Deck the monster with a crown,
March in every street, and cry
Babel speech against the sky.

God, I see it in a dream,
People passing stream on stream,
Crying "War" and "War" and "War!"
Heaping sacrifice to Thor;
God, I see the long, grey guns
Coughing crimson on Thy sons.

Trampled is all hope, and vain;
Soon amid the empurpled slain
Brotherhood shall stricken lie;
All the dreams of men shall die;
Dirty sweat and bloody tears,
These shall weight our staggering years.

Slav and Saxon, Greek and Jap,
All are in the war god's lap;
Tumbled like a painted game,
Strutting tin for tinsel fame;
Sudden sprawl of the huge knees
Down shall crash the destinies!

God, I see the nations rise
With the blood lust in their eyes.
Speak! Thy congregated powers,
Yet may hush the throbbing hours.
Speak! Or is Wrath once more hurled
Vast and righteous on the world?

Lesson VI.—First Quarter, For Feb. 7, 1915.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Ruth 1, 6-18. Memory Verses, 16, 17—Golden Text, Ruth 1, 16—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

We have just one lesson in this beautiful story of Ruth, but we will seek to gather many things from the whole story. The first and last names in the book, Bethlehem and David, are two of the most suggestive in the Bible. No man's name is mentioned so often as David, and his is the first and last name of a man in the New Testament. Bethlehem, besides all the other interesting facts connected with it, will always be of special interest as the birthplace of the firstborn son of Mary, Jesus Christ our Lord. Ruth is one of the four women mentioned in Matt. 1 among the ancestors of the son of David. Some one has said that the four chapters of this book might be entitled Ruth deciding—gleaning—resting—rewarded.

The devotion of Ruth is an example of the devotion to Jesus Christ, which is expected of all believers. Her patient gleaning in the field of Boaz has in it an example of the patience and faithfulness which should be seen in every Christian. Her quiet expectation of some great reward makes us think of her mother-in-law, who shall inherit the earth. When we see her as the wife of Boaz, the owner of the field in which she had so patiently gleaned, we cannot but think of the time when the church, the body of Christ, the company of all the faithful gleaners of this present age, shall become the bride of our mighty man of wealth, the owner of the field, which is the world, and then we shall inherit all things with Him and reign with Him on the earth (Rev. xxi, 7, v. 10).

That Naomi and her husband and sons should leave Bethlehem because of a famine and go to sojourn in Moab seems like the misstep which Abram made when he left Canaan because of a famine and went down to Egypt, for he only got into trouble there, and we read of no altar made there (Gen. xii, 10; xiii, 1-4). Poor Naomi found trouble enough in Moab in the loss of her husband and two sons, but she seems to acknowledge that the going to Moab was her affair, while it was her gracious Lord who brought her back to Bethlehem. "I went out full and the Lord hath brought me home again empty" (chapter 1, 21). She turned her steps homeward because she heard that the Lord had given bread to Bethlehem (verse 6).

The wandering boy of Luke xv turned homeward when he thought of the bread in his father's house. It seems as if we should be ever telling to the perishing of the bread, and to spare, in our Father's house, for how can they hear unless some one tells? Naomi knew the man of Israel. These women of Moab must have learned of Him through her, and Ruth had learned to know Him well enough to forsake all for Him, to esteem Him more than her own people and her father's house. Orpah had not so learned to know Him. If our testimony is what it should be and our life He will use us to gather some to Himself. The devotion of Ruth in the ever memorable words of verses 16, 17, are in a measure repeated by Ittal to David in II Sam. xv, 21. The words in verse 19, "So they two went," are found in II Kings ii, 2, 4, 6, 7, 8, 11, and there again we see a steadfast purpose on the part of Elisha which brought to him that which his soul desired. This is the steadfastness which we so greatly need (I Cor. xv, 58).

The friendliness and thoughtful kindness of Boaz in chapter ii are but a faint type of the loving kindness of our Lord Jesus, who can truly say, "I know thy works," etc. (ii, 11, 12; Rev. ii, 2, 9, 13, 19). If, as His redeemed ones, we have not recognized many "handfuls of purpose" as we have gleaned in the part of the field He has assigned us, we must be blind indeed (chapter ii, 16). The words of Boaz in Ruth iii, 11, "Fear not, my daughter; I will do to thee all that thou requirest," made a great impression upon my wife, as we saw them in a motto in the Y. W. C. A. at Cape Town, South Africa, in 1898, and we have often passed them on to others since then. There is also much comfort in the words of Naomi in chapter iii, 18, "Sit still, my daughter, for the man will not be in rest until he have finished the thing this day."

In chapter iv Boaz as the kinsman redeemer, having the right to redeem and accomplishing the same, is wonderfully suggestive of our Redeemer, who not only redeems us, but also our inheritance, the earth, and seals us with the Holy Spirit, the earnest of our inheritance, until the redemption of the purchased possession (Eph. 1, 13, 14). When Naomi became nurse for little Obed (chapter iv, 16, 21) she no doubt forgot in a measure the emptiness of chapter i, 21. Ruth also forgot the weary days of her poverty when she gleaned in the field of Boaz. So we shall forget all our misery and remember it as waters that pass away (Job 15, 16).

Let us be certain that we are redeemed by the precious blood of Jesus Christ and then patiently and unweariedly fill the place to which He has assigned us, rejoicing in the glory which shall be ours at His appearing.

FINE MILITARY EXHIBITION

Col. Ponton Places Belles and Interesting Documents from England on View—Purpose is to Aid Recruiting

To aid in recruiting an excellent military exhibition has been arranged in the show-window of Messrs. Ketcheson and Earle, Flags form background and interesting weapons and photographs comprise the exhibit.

A large number of these have been received by Lt.-Col. W. N. Ponton, K.C., from his son, Lieut. Richard Douglas Ponton, F. Company, 2nd Battalion, First Brigade, First Canadian Contingent, Salisbury Plain. There are photographs of F. Company, colorful posters and pamphlets. The pictures include the "Wreck of the Birkenhead," "The Tale of a Glorious End," and "Magna Charta." The late Duke of Argyll, late Honorary Colonel of the Fifteenth Regiment, Major General Sem Hughes, the Fifteenth Company which was stationed at the fort at Niagara in 1869 for almost a year and of which Mr. J. W. Johnson, M.P., and Mr. J. A. Boyd still survive, the camp of the Fifteenth at Prescott in 1863, Lord Roberts' last message to the boys of the Empire, etc.

Military weapons predominate. There are Epulettes and spurs and stirrups of the good old days, "Life Savers" (revolvers) of 1700 and 1913, the latter with ten cartridges in the magazine.

Communion of 1837 (Canadian Religion), Indian mummy cartridge, 1857, Boer War (Dum-dum), 1200, Krag Jorgenson Pointed Bullet, 1914, Modern Canadian Rifles, Old fashioned swords, Old Sinder rifles and long bayonets used on short rifles.

The picture has the following words: "The Celebrated British Recruiting Poster sent by Lieut. R. D. Ponton from Salisbury Plain." It is the Belgian "scrap of paper."

Other interesting exhibits are: A "scrap of paper," The great seal coloured with British gunpowder, "What we have we hold," Queen Elizabeth's Armada Bible—1588, Emergency Ration and First Aid dressing carried by British troops, These carried by a Belleville boy through South Africa.

There is also an eighteen pounder shell with cap as used by the Thirty-Fourth Battery. These shells it is proposed if possible to manufacture in Belleville at one of the foundries.

The heavy "sixty pounder" is also on exhibition.

Col. Ponton has also placed on view a Canadian flag which he gave to Sgt. Jack McNeil who carried it through Paardeburg, Bloemfontein, and Pretoria. It is stained with the blood of Charles Gibson who was wounded at Paardeburg and who is now sergeant with the Belleville boys at Salisbury Plain.

IMPORTANT BUSINESS CHANGE

Mr. J. L. R. Gorman, the Well-Known Local Real Estate Man Forms a Partnership—New Firm Will be Known as Gorman and Anderson

An important business change in Belleville was reported to The Ontario this morning. Mr. J. L. R. Gorman, who has for nearly a year past been conducting a flourishing real estate business in this city, has taken unto himself a partner in the person of Mr. George W. Anderson. The new firm will be known as Gorman & Anderson.

Mr. Gorman, or "Bob" as he is familiarly called by his friends, is too well known to need any introduction to our readers. He came back to the city from the West and opened a real estate office here about March last, 1914. Since that time, by his energy, enterprise and progressive advertising, he has in the remarkably short time of ten months built up a business that might well have been years ago. He has to his credit some of the biggest transactions in real estate that have taken place of recent years in Belleville. Mr. Gorman has not only listed property, but has sold it rapidly and the business expanded that some time ago he was compelled to employ outside assistance. As sales men and outside representatives he therefore engaged Messrs. Chas. W. Smith and Archie Gilmour.

These two gentlemen have since the time of their appointment been contributing very materially to the success of the firm's business.

Mr. Anderson is well known to the people of Belleville and about the surrounding districts. He came to this city to reside several months ago. He is a son of the late William Anderson, M.P.P. of Prince Edward Co. and succeeded to his father's estate at Montserrat. He is a farmer and Mr. Anderson entered upon the business of breeding thoroughbred Holstein cattle and soon this herd at "Evergreen Farm," became one of the largest and best in Ontario. About two years ago Mr. Anderson decided to retire from the over-strenuous work of superintending the farm and stock. He held a sale of his thoroughbred stock and had the satisfaction of receiving a splendid monetary reward for his MacDougall.

At a later date Mr. Anderson disposed of his farm and moved to Belleville.

The new firm should meet with great success in the real estate field. Mr. Gorman has already proved his worth and adaptability for the business. Mr. Anderson, from his long experience in agriculture will be an excellent judge of farm properties and values. He will give his attention more especially to the rural branch of the business while Mr. Gorman will look after the city end.

There has been of recent years a remarkable change in the methods of selling property. It has now become the practice to hand over the merchandising of real estate to specialists in that line. In this way buyers and sellers are more speedily brought together and better prices are obtained, and everything is transacted on a business-like basis. The old haphazard methods of testing and selling have fallen into disfavor and property can now be sold more quickly and for a better price. The new firm hopes by the use of modern methods and reliable dealing, to obtain a fair share of the business being offered in Belleville.

REV. DR. MACTAVISH GOES TO MADOC

COL. PRESTON WAS IN TOWN

Col. J. A. V. Preston, the O.C. the 39th Battalion of the Third Contingent was in Belleville yesterday inspecting the various equipments and military buildings. He was accompanied by Major R. W. Smart. Col. Preston met a number of the officers who will serve in the battalion and created a fine impression.

In the afternoon he inspected both corps at Belleville armories, the 15th and 49th and addressed some congratulatory remarks to the volunteers. He is a militia staff course officer and will qualify for the command. He is a veteran of 1885, having served in the Northwest Rebellion with the Midland Battalion at Batoche. He wears the medal.

Major Smart also wears a medal for service in the Northwest Rebellion with the Midland Battalion.

The one hundred and twenty recruits of the Belleville units, 15th and 49th regiments, went out this morning on a short route march together. Each unit will try to raise a company of volunteers.

GERMAN IN LINDSAY RANKS

Last evening a volunteer was placed in the guard room and this morning was brought forward Lieut.-Col. Fee for insubordination, and also for being a German. The young man was born in Germany, and has also visited that country since coming to America. Sgt.-Major Sims was instructed to deprive the young man of his uniform and discharge him—Lindsay Post.

RESPONSE WAS LIBERAL

On behalf of the Indigent Committee of the W.C.A. I desire to thank those of the public who so quickly responded to the appeal of Miss Mary Yeomans by providing the necessary boots for some of the children in her ward and to one of our merchants for his generous gift of stockings. In acknowledging the response to this our first appeal I would also like to thank the management of our local papers for their kind offer to insert free of charge any appeal made by members of the Indigent Committee, for definite requirements in special cases for food, clothing or other assistance.

Lela Holmes, Convener.

EXPENDITURE PROVIDED FOR

The following telegram received this morning from Col. J. Lyons Biggar, Ottawa by Mr. W. B. Northrup, M.P. removes all doubt as to the mobilizing of the Third Contingent at Belleville and at the same time indicates that the arrangements have so far progressed that the government has already set aside an appropriation for the necessary expenditure. The reference to "Denoon" is due to the fact that the Messrs. Denoon have tendered the use of part of their factory building for the use of the contingent, rent free.

HOW CANADA HAS FOUND HERSELF

National self-confidence was never fully asserted in this country until the outbreak of war. Till the tramp of the jack-boots began to vibrate in Europe we never really knew what it was to be hung entirely back upon our own resources.

And the Made-in-Canada campaign is the best single expression of the change. It's one thing to have factories and markets and railways booming in a time of fat prosperity when everything heads that way. It's a different thing to have to put your house in order and begin to look after your own affairs. We have talked a good deal in this country, and not without reason about self-government. We have said very much less about self-help. We have been inspired by the liberty that has made it possible for us to stand up in the world as a real democracy and yet remain loyal to the Crown over the sea.

Every dollar's worth of goods made and sold in this country in a time of war is a direct help to England; in this cause; just as much, if not as directly, as every bushel of wheat that we grow. The Made-in-Canada campaign is one of the inspirations of British self-help the world over, and in it Canada can be truly said to have found herself.

HOPE FOR THE CHRONIC DYSPPEPTIC

Through lack of consideration of the body's needs many persons allow disorders of the digestive apparatus to endure until they become chronic, filling days and nights with suffering. To these a course of Farmole's Vegetable Pills is recommended as a sure and speedy way to regain health. These pills are specially compounded to combat dyspepsia and the many ills that follow in its train, and they are successful always.

DR. GOLDSMITH "DRESSED UP"

To Please Wounded Soldiers on Xmas Day in a Bologne Hospital

Dr. Herbert K. Clutterbuck, of Toronto, and Dr. Perry Goldsmith, formerly of Belleville, spent Christmas in a Bologne hospital, where they dressed up as chefs, with paper caps, to distribute the Christmas cheer. Dr. Clutterbuck, who is attached to the British forces (as he was studying in England when war was declared), was in the Bologne Hospital when he heard, to his delight, that Dr. Goldsmith was being sent to the same institution from the Canadian forces. He writes to Mrs. Clutterbuck as follows:

"We will redress the sufferings of Belgium in so far as that is possible in a casual way. I am certain because of the fact that before a year is closed, the German nation will get of the British culture the more we realize that this is not ordinary war, but involves the honor of our race, and at such a time all private considerations must give place to the common danger. Let me one doubt the magnitude of our task, or he will be living in a fool's paradise.

"The flashlight picture I send shows our ward on Christmas Day. The men had a dinner of turkey, mashed potatoes, Brussels sprouts, and plum pudding, with apples, bananas, and oranges, while those who wished were given ale. After that we had a concert with a graphophone. Three of the French soldiers sang 'La Marseillaise,' and then one of them, as an act of courtesy, made an attempt to sing a German Christmas carol for the benefit of a wounded German prisoner. Afterwards they all shook hands quite cordially.

"Christmas crackers were also distributed, and for the photograph the men wore the funny paper caps obtained therein.

"We have quite a few wounded Germans now in our ward, an X-Ray outfit, laboratory, and sterilizer. It is not an old chateau, and is near the railway yards, just across from two submarines. Yesterday an aeroplane flew overhead.

"The photograph seems to make the ward look smaller than it really is. We have accommodation for about 500 in the hospital. The surgeons dressed as chefs, with paper caps, to distribute the Christmas cheer. A few weeks ago one of the Canadian hospital units was detached from the base on Salisbury Plain and sent to France, and until such time as they get a hospital of their own individual members have been attached to the various hospitals here, and the one we got at our hospital is no other than Dr. Perry Goldsmith, my old Toronto friend. He is the short man with the woman's apron on. He came into my ward to show his picture taken."

MONEY A POOR SUBSTITUTE.

Back at West Huntingdon there resides a gentleman who has not done any flag-waving, sung any "Tipperary" choruses, or engaged in any gymnastics at patriotic rallies, who has never boasted of the loyal deeds that he has done, and who has never uttered a word about other deeds that he proposes yet to accomplish, but who has probably done more for the cause of the Empire at the present crisis than any other man in the County of Hastings or the City of Belleville. He has given three staunch and true Canadian-born sons as volunteers for the war. We refer to Alderman Willett McTaggart.

He won the title of "Alderman" by several years of honest and faithful service in the Moira Town Council. Since the dissolution of that famous body he has continued to bear the title, with becoming diffidence and humility, as a sort of honorary appellation.

While Alderman McTaggart has always voted the Liberal ticket, he is no slave to any party. He has about him a sort of rugged independence that means adherence to party and party creeds only as long as he believes they are right. He cleaves to the Liberal party because up to the present time the principles of that party have been but a reflection of his own. Their patriotism like his has been the patriotism of deeds rather than empty words.

He had only contemptuous scorn for the Borden "Emergency" policy that proposed to donate three empty ships to Great Britain and then let the Motherland hire Englishmen to defend us. He wanted no policy of naval defence that would proclaim to the world that Canadians were too lazy, too unpatriotic or too cowardly to fight in behalf of their own country. His creed and watchword were the same last winter as they are now, "Canada for the Canadians, but loyal co-operation with the Empire, a Canadian fleet manned and maintained by Canadians, Canadian sons for the defence of Canada, and deeds not words."

Not a very elaborate program, that, but it involves much in its comprehensiveness.

It might be of further interest to point out that Alderman McTaggart has done almost as much in the real defence of the Empire as have some of the villages of the district that have a thousand or more population. These places have contributed generously towards the various patriotic funds, but their stalwart young men are walking the streets as though there were no war and as though the payment of a little money would atone for the failure to make the real sacrifice by which the war is to be decided. Money is a welcome gift from those who cannot give themselves, but where it means a shirking of responsibility the Motherland might well say, "thy money perish with thee."

And that was why Ald. McTaggart and all true Canadian patriots had such an intense antagonism for the Borden naval policy—it meant shirking instead of working, it was giving money instead of manhood and personal sacrifice.

The Canadian people have in the past few years of prosperity become so mercenary and money-mad, they have become so saturated with the idea that "money talks" and that the handing out of filthy coin discharges every obligation, that the present humiliating reluctance with which native Canadians are rallying to the colors is but a natural consequence. The false philosophy we have been sown is now producing its necessary harvest.

There are some things that are greater than gold and some things for which gold is the cheapest of substitutes. There are some things which are greater than life or death. Many of our young men have nobly responded to the call. Many are going, or have already gone to the front, who could have found plausible excuses, who could have paid over some mean, miserable money and shirked. They have come forward knowing full well the arduous road they must travel. But they heard their country's call and that was sufficient. They did so in the full realization of the spirit of that admirable poem from the Westminster Gazette, republished in yesterday's Ontario of which the concluding words were,—

"But greater things than Life and Death
Are Truth and Right which cannot die."

THE REMEDY.

The Belleville district does not stand alone in its apathetic response to the call for volunteers. Among the Canadian-born all over Ontario and Quebec there appears to be the same lack of appreciation of the seriousness of the military situation. Saturday's issue of The Toronto Globe gave some figures in regard to the recruiting which show a truly startling condition of affairs in the western peninsula. The statement gives the number of volunteers called for and the actual response up to the beginning of last week,—

33rd Battalion—London, quota 250, Jan. 19, recruits 206; Windsor, 250, Jan. 19, 195; Chatham, 200, Jan. 19, 63; St. Thomas, 200, Jan. 18, 90; Strathroy, 150, Jan. 19, 29; Clinton, 150, Jan. 19, 35.

34th Battalion—Woodstock, quota 150, Jan. 20, recruits 105; Sarnia, 150, Jan. 16, 40; Stratford, 150, Jan. 16, 101; Galt, 200, Jan. 18, 141; Guelph, 200, Jan. 19, 50; Walkerton, 150, Jan. 16, 23; Berlin, 150, Jan. 19, 47."

The Globe does not reproach our young men with a lack of courage or national spirit, but rather chooses to believe that the disappointing answer to the appeal is due to a failure to see the pressing need for their assistance. The statement is then made that what we require is a campaign of education to inform the people upon the causes of the war, the issues involved, and the urgent necessity for further help from Canada. To carry on this campaign it is suggested that public addresses be delivered, wherever an audience can be gathered, by members of parliament and other prominent public men.

With this suggestion we heartily agree. We have already had an admirable campaign carried on all over the county for the collection of funds for the various patriotic enterprises. In this connection Col. Ponton, Mr. H. F. Ketcheson, Mr. C. M. Reid, Mr. John Elliott, Mr. Henry Sneyd and others of our citizens with speaking ability have done valuable service. And let us not slight the importance and necessity of looking after those left dependent because their chief support has gone to the war. But this work should be delegated and entrusted to those whose age or physical inability or business responsibilities make it altogether impossible for them to serve their country in the ranks of the active defenders.

Since the commencement of the war there has not been as far as we are aware a single word uttered in public by either of our local members of the commons, or by our resident senators at any patriotic gathering or for any patriotic purpose. We do not say this in a spirit of reproach, for we are not aware that any of them have been asked to do so.

We have had a splendidly successful campaign for MONEY. We now need to undertake the greater and more necessary campaign for MEN.

In Great Britain we have lately witnessed the finest example of unanimously responsive patriotism that the world has ever seen. One of the bitterest political feuds of recent years was instantly dropped. Ireland on the verge of civil war united at once to make common cause against the enemy. Laborist, Radical, and Socialist combined with aristocrat and fossilized Tory to give the government loyal and enthusiastic support. Everywhere in the face of a national need and a national peril there was singleness of purpose, harmony, and ardent devotion to the interests of right and humanity. National leaders like Asquith, Lloyd George, Balfour, Bonar Law, Winston Churchill and John Redmond stumped the country in behalf of recruiting, more zealously than they had ever worked before in a political campaign. The leaders of rival parties often spoke from the same platform. The Conservative Kitchener was invited to take charge of the War Office and several other Conservative leaders were accorded honorable positions in the service. No bye-elections have been contested, and even a general election, now constitutionally due in a short time, will be allowed to go uncontested tested in the same way as have the bye-elections. There is one great problem before the nation that excludes every petty issue.

Contrast this magnificent exhibition with littleness and fearsome self-seeking of the pica-yune politicians at Ottawa. Could any Canadian imagine Bob Rogers, the master of the administration, rising above the pettiness of partisanship and proposing a joint campaign in behalf of recruiting? Instead of the government seeking co-operation, and sternly subordinating every other interest to the successful prosecution of the war, rather do we see the war and every other interest manipulated as far as may be to give prestige to the party in power for the holding of an ill-timed and reasonable general election. To the Conservative party must be gathered the entire glory of defeating the Germans. And, in consequence of this subordination of national to party ends, we see the present lack of direction, doubt, hesitation, timidity, unenthusiasm, and endless shifting and changing of policy at headquarters.

The Liberal party cares little who reaps the glory of having defeated the Germanic coalition as long as the coalition is defeated. They are willing to leave to others the flag-waving and shouting as long as they do not see their country undeservedly held up to the scorn of the other members of the Empire and to the world, as a potential giant that hesitated and truckled in the hour of necessity and danger.

Let us not in our baseless egotism try to delude ourselves or others by boasting about what Canada has already done. Compared with Great Britain, Australia, New Zealand, or even South Africa, this lusty and prosperous young nation has lingered sadly in the rear.

But whatever spirit of dalliance and cheap partisan cunning may dominate the councils at Ottawa, we who reside in the Bay of Quinte district can show that we are able to rise above party long enough to meet this great conflagration of war. There will be plenty of time, after the tremendous contest is ended to settle old party scores. But in the meantime let us show that we can be men and patriots.

Let us here begin a series of earnest non-partisan public meetings with a view to securing volunteers for the war. We have in our local commoners two excellent public speakers. The Liberal party can also furnish an array of speaking talent such as would be able to do yeoman service for any cause. Our recruiting officers all know that here as elsewhere the people have not seemed to realize the critical nature of the crisis through which we are passing and the sternness of the measures that will require to be employed to bring about a successful issue.

Now is the time to act.

One Frenchman has truly said of King Albert: "Glory be to King Albert, who has revealed to us the value of our souls." Another has written: "How fine a spectacle of this young Prince, who rivals the best kings in wisdom, and the roughest troopers in courage."

Edmonton has already sent 2,240 volunteers to the front, and is about to send 2,428 more. The Lethbridge Herald says: Besides the men enlisted and enlisting, there were reservists of the British, French, Belgian and Serbian armies who answered the call of their several countries. There is no means of knowing how many reservists left, but 1,500 would be a low estimate. This would bring the total of men from Alberta, north of Red Deer, joining the armies of the Allies up to 6,000, or nearly as many as all Canada sent to South Africa in three years of war.

Mr. Bourassa, in his recent self-advertising harangue, referred to Ireland. He gets his answer from Mr. William Redmond, M.P., who speaks with no uncertain words as to Ireland's stand, shoulder to shoulder, with Great Britain and her Allies. Bourassa and Laverge are in a contemptible little minority unworthy of notice.

The German Minister of War and Chief of Staff von Falkenhayn, talks boastfully about being able to continue the war indefinitely, but reading between the lines, it is safe to say he is not as cocksure as he pretends to be. His coarse threat about driving the British "back with bloody heads" is the measure of a vulgar braggart.

The United States has already exported about three million dollars worth of firearms and ammunition since the outbreak of the war, mostly to the Allies, not to speak of such big guns as the fourteen inch guns which are being carried over to Belfast by the steamer Orduña which was in Halifax on Monday. Uncle Sam's neutrality does not prevent him from providing the sinews of war for the Allies.

And now the Chief of the German General Staff tells the admiring correspondent who interviewed him that the war was forced upon Germany by an "unprovoked attack." It is amazing that even the Prussian Junkers should expect the world to swallow such a stupid falsehood.

The war has abounded in instances of the revived use of weapons which before it broke out were generally pronounced obsolete. The lance, the bayonet and the sabre have all been brought into play, and now comes a statement from General von Heeringen that the hand grenade is proving very effective. The grenade is thrown into the enemy's trenches, and is available only at short range. "Grenadiers" were originally soldiers trained to throw grenades, to shower them from the glacis about the enemy's ears, but did not long preserve their specialty. For more than a century "grenadier" has been a term applied to tall men organized in elite regiments, mainly royal or imperial guards. Its use has long survived its meaning with soldiers who knew not grenades.

La Patrie, of Montreal, has this to say with reference to Armand Laverge, M.P.P., who, as we all remember, was an influential factor in the Borden Cabinet-making at Ottawa in October, 1911, and who, subsequently, was promoted to a Lieutenant-Colonelcy by the present Minister of Militia (General Sam Hughes):

"In entering the Militia the member for Montmagny could not ignore the fact that he engaged himself to serve in any part of the world whether for the defence of Canada or of the Empire. These obligations are clearly defined in the Militia Act, promulgated by the Parliament of Canada, and as to which there has never been any doubt as to the constitutionality. Mr. Laverge finds our participation in the war dangerous. It is assuredly so for him. And it is still more so because men, who like the member for Montmagny who wear the uniform and the sword, seek to paralyze the national effort. In the whole breadth of the British Empire, in France or in Russia, we would seek in vain to find one snob (pekin) who would not be ashamed to see himself in the position which 'Lieutenant-Colonel' Armand Laverge takes before the representatives of the country."

Hamilton Holt, editor and owner of the New York Independent, publishes the following in this week's Independent:

Plumes of fire are dropped from the clouds on undefended towns and cities. The United States is silent.

Deadly mines are strewn on the high seas. The United States is silent.

Buildings dedicated to religion, art, science and charity are razed to the ground. The United States is silent.

Enormous fines, far in excess of military necessities are levied on ravaged cities. The United States is silent.

Seven millions stand emaciated in Belgium. The United States is silent.

The Hague Conventions are thrown into the scrap basket. The United States is silent.

But—The dollars of American trade are threatened. And the United States protests.

It is the duty of the United States to protect the commercial rights of her citizens. But it is also the duty of the United States to protect the civilization of the world.

SING A SONG OF EUROPE.

Sing a song of Europe,
Highly civilized,
Four and twenty nations,
Wholly hypnotized,
When the battles open
The bullets start to sing,
Isn't that a silly way
To act for any king?

The kings are in the backgrounds
Issuing commands
The queens are in the parlor
Per etiquette's demands.
The bankers in the counting house
Are busy multiplying,
The common people at the front
Are doing all the dying.

—Life.

THE BEAUTIFUL LAND OF NOD.

Come cuddle your head on my shoulder, dear,
Your head like the golden-rod,
And we will go saffling away from here
To the beautiful land of Nod.
Away from life's hurry and flurry, and worry,
Away from earth's shadow and gloom,
To a world of fair weather we'll float off together
Where roses are always in bloom.

Just shut up your eyes and fold your hands,
Your hands like the leaf of a rose,
And we will go saffling to those fair lands,
That never an atlas shows.
On the north and the west they are bounded by rest,
On the south and the east by dreams;
'Tis a country ideal, where nothing is real,
But everything only seems.

Just drop down the curtain of those dear eyes,
Those eyes like a bright bluebell,
And we will sail out under starlit skies,
To the land where the fairies dwell.
Down the river of sleep our barque shall sweep
'Till it reaches that mystical isle
Which no man hath seen, but where all have been,

And there we will pause awhile.
I will croon you a song as we float along
To that shore that is blessed of God,
Then ho! for that fair land, we're off for that rare land,
That beautiful Land of Nod.

—Eugene Field.

THE MAN OF FORTY

The twentieth century has been proclaimed as the age of the young man. Certainly it has become an era of opportunity for him. In no prior century has the man in his thirties figured so large and so much in public life. In what other period would the metropolis of the world have chosen a man of thirty-four for its chief executive?

What is true of the headship of six million people is true also in most of the other spheres of human activity. The man in his thirties has been sought, has been pushed forward, has had opportunities thrust upon him he has elbowed out many cases the man of more years. Business, industry, commerce have called for young men; and the average man on the springtime side of forty has been well advanced beyond the status possible at that age in the time of his fathers, or of his forefathers.

On the whole the clear-eyed youngster of thirty-odd has borne his responsibilities well. He has outgrown the superior knowledge of youth, so he is able to see his errors, and he has as yet not acquired the stubbornness of age, so he is ready to acknowledge his mistakes and correct them.

But now comes professor Bishop of Fordham, with a message of hope for the older men—for those of forty or more years. It is all very well for the world to use the energy of the younger men and to trust them with bigger tasks than was the wont of past generations, but the world has need of the men who have crossed the line of middle age. Says Dr. Bishop:

The life of a brain worker should consist of forty years of preparation and forty years of preparatory labor.

He marks out a new curve on the efficiency chart. The zenith of effectiveness is not at forty, but beyond. The man of thirty-odd can do big things, but in the forties his achievements should be bigger. He is still preparing for his real work as he passes on his fortieth year and then he really begins. The curve is drawn higher and higher as he goes on two-score years and ten, and to three-score years.

This after all, is undoubtedly the sum of human experience even in this age of the young man. It is the exceptional man who is really prepared for life before middle age. It is then with brain stored and its processes disciplined that man begins to do his best work.—From the New York Mail.

WHERE DID THE MONEY COME FROM?

A well known city departmental store has contributed one hundred thousand dollars to the purchase of armored automobiles for war use. With due respect for the company who gave such a generous donation to such a worthy cause we wish to add that there must be more than a living margin on the many bargains we read about. Are you reader, assisting in this big donation or are you spending your money with the home merchants whose profits are small, but who gives as generously according to his means.—Tweed Advocate.

VERY EXCLUSIVE

In a leading article on "War the Reformer," the Morning Post develops the theory that in future we shall be more inclined to run all things for ourselves:

If the Government now opposes itself to this stream of tendency it will in the end either have to submit or be swept away and we look to the rise of a party which will have for its motto—Britain for the British, if not England for the English.

This is enthusiasm for a phrase carried to an extreme. We are not only to shout out all French, Russians and Belgians. The Scotsman, the Irishman and the Welsh are to be the victims of the same exclusive policy. We have here revealed a passion for nationality which is rather a new thing on the part of the Conservative Press. Perhaps, however, there is something of personal feeling in this raising of the banner of England for the English, for in the world of Fleet street the Scotsman is very apt to become the predominant partner.—Westminster Gazette.

THOSE FETCHING FEATHERS

In the East they are again welcoming the little feather worn in the band of the new masculine hats. They come in blue, or red, or scarlet, as the taste or complexion demands, and some of the best Eastern dressers, don't you know, are finding them deucedly fetching.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

MEMORIAL SERVICE FOR THE LATE REV. WILBERT PERRY FERGUSON, D.D., PH.D.

Last Tribute Paid to Departed Educationist and Divine at Tabernacle Methodist Church - Address by Rev Dr. Baker of Albert College.

(From Friday's Daily) A solemn service in memory of the late Rev. Wilbert Perry Ferguson, D.D., Ph.D., who died at Honolulu on January 5, was held in the Tabernacle Methodist Church on Thursday afternoon January 21st. Rev. E. N. Baker, D.D., presiding.

The ashes of the late Dr. Ferguson are being brought here for interment. Members of the family, relatives, close friends of the family and students of Albert College, attended.

Many tributes of flowers of the season surrounded the pulpit. There was a background of royal purple to the flowers.

On the platform were Rev. Dr. Baker, Rev. H. S. Osborne, Rev. A. R. Sanderson and Rev. W. G. Clarke. The opening hymn was "O God our help in ages past." The Rev. A. R. Sanderson offered up prayer and Rev. H. S. Osborne read the nineteenth Psalm. Following the Scripture reading, the congregation led by the choir sang "For all the saints who from their labors rest."

Biography of the late Dr. Ferguson.

Rev. Dr. Baker read the biography of the late Dr. Ferguson, which was as follows:

Wilbert Perry Ferguson was born in Napanea, February 2, 1863, the second son of Rev. John and Catherine Matilda (Pomeroy) Ferguson. He was educated in the public schools of Athens and Iroquois, Ont., and in Albert College, Belleville, graduating in 1882 with the degree of B.A., and receiving the highest honors as a gold medalist. He entered the ministry of the Methodist Church in Canada, and was after a few years transferred to the Methodist Episcopal Church of the United States. He was a graduate of Drew Theological Seminary with the degree of B.D., and of Syracuse University with the degree of Ph. D. Wesleyan University conferred upon him the honorary degree of D.D. He was President of Centenary Collegiate Institute, Hacketts-town, N.Y., for five years and at the time of his death, January 5, 1915, was Principal of Mills College, Honolulu.

Rev. W. G. Clarke, pastor of the Church, and the family pastor, said that a year ago he had been called to the bedside of the Rev. John Ferguson who was then very low. Today, he whom we thought near the border land, was sitting in the audience at the memorial service for his son, who a year ago was pursuing the activities of life in Honolulu with no thought of death, and yet to-day the congregation was gathered remembering that he was gone and to do honor to his memory. Surely it becomes us to see whereon our hope rests. When we thought of what life is, we are glad to be alive. It is a Living is to accomplish a course. Life is not going to be a pleasure jaunt, it is the responsibility of carrying a cargo from a port to a port. We may not realize it at the start, but there are storms, fogs, mines, icebergs, foes but realizing that we are piloted and directed and that we are moved by the great winds of the universe, we say let it be so long as we ceaseless go. Life is not simply getting to Heaven. The great point is that we are simply in training here that we may be fitted for an eternal work and receive the last degree, "Well done," and sent out on the itinerary of the universe.

But heaven is here also. We are mounting these peaks. We are living and moving and having our being in God. That is life, the strenuous life. To accomplish the course with joy and glory God is life's great purpose. So it was with Paul, so it was with Dr. Ferguson. Life was a ceaseless struggle and battle. It is inspiring to be out in the field where the fighting is severest. That spirit of the soldier caught Paul. That spirit caught Dr. Ferguson. It is only when we pass over to the other side that we are really living. Without shedding of blood there is no living. "I give but it costs, yet the joy of doing it profits."

The wild joy of living has been experienced by Rev. Dr. John Ferguson on the mission-field. But we can do it every day - giving of our best - that is life. Paul said "For me to live is Christ. It is not walking with Christ, but having Christ in the heart, doing the will of Christ that means true fellowship. It is Christ thinking and planning in us."

Dr. Baker said he had been privileged to read some of the letters written by the late Wilbert Perry Ferguson. He had been great as a preacher, an orator and as a worker, and that greatness was manifested even in the amenities of the home. The speaker read extracts from one of the recent letters to his father, Rev. John Ferguson. In one phrase he expressed his desire to live for there remains so much work to be done. It was thirty-four years since he had preached his first sermon. He had started out with the unquenchable desire of being a soul winner. His confession was that if he had not left the pastorate, he might have felt inclined to go into evangelism and the thought occurred that his life might have been more fruitful. "To preach is still my highest joy." "Intropection is largely speculative as to what might have been." "I am happy in my work."

In these letters a great man had opened his heart said Dr. Baker. Do you really believe that love's strength stands in sacrifice, not in the wine drunk, but in the wine spilled.

Dr. Baker prayed for blessing on the father, the brothers, the sisters, the family. "May the mantle of God fall upon these young men" was his prayer. He referred to the students of Albert College.

The closing hymn was "Lord it belongs not to my care, whether I die or live." Rev. Amos Campbell pronounced the benediction.

The mourners included Rev. John Ferguson, father; Rev. Dr. John G. Ferguson of Boston, Mass., and Shanghai, China; and Dr. Frank L. Ferguson of New York City, brothers; Mrs. A. P. Sherman, Belleville, Mrs. Anderson of Boston and Mrs. Taplin, Wellesley, Mass., sisters; and Percy Ferguson of New York City, son of the late Dr. W. P. Ferguson.

Mrs. John Boldrick of Pictou, formerly of Belleville, has left for Denver, Texas, to spend the winter with her son, Mr. Sam Boldrick.

ALMOST EVERY ONE NEEDS A TONIC

Almost everyone - man, woman and child - needs a tonic at sometime. It is often said that a man is lazy because he takes little or no interest in his work; but the truth is he is not well. He needs a tonic. The same answer be? He had been a brilliant student and universities delighted to honor him, and conferred degrees upon him, and conferred degrees upon him. But the late Dr. Ferguson would have said, if this is all of life, the game is not worth the candle. The question is what is it to live?

Trenton, Jan. 21. The Patriotic dance in aid of the Belgian Relief Fund was a very brilliant and successful affair. The beautiful new building of the Trenton Garage Co. was placed at the disposal of the Ladies' Committee and filled the bill for the occasion. The Rev. E. C. Currie of John Street conducted the service. Many beautiful floral tributes were placed on the altar. There was a large attendance of friends. The interment was in Belleville cemetery. The obsequies of the late James Cummings were largely attended on Wednesday afternoon. Rev. Mr. Jobbi conducted the service at the residence in the third of Sidney. Many floral tributes and a large concourse of friends marked the public interment. The burial was in the family plot in Stirling cemetery.

What are the gardeners and farmers going to do without potash? Practically all of it came from Germany and the supply is out off, and little there is in the country being held at prohibitive prices and import having ceased. The German Potash Trust which has in the past handled the Canadian supply, has closed its doors, and it will probably be some time before it resumes activity. War has also interfered with the importation of bone, nitrate of soda, sulphate of ammonia and basic slag, causing rapid increases in prices. This is a serious question that agriculturists have to solve or have solved for them. Something must be done to free Canada from this German Government controlled trust. It is all very well to say farmers must dig deeper, look more carefully after drainage, take care in turning under vegetable matter and give more frequent cultivation. Careful tillage and the best farming methods are desirable, but certain necessary constituents to the soil, but they mean time and money, they make plant food in the soil more available and to some extent take the place of certain elements of the costly fertilizer, nevertheless the question will not down.

While other forms of fertilizers are available, such as nitrogen, in the form of dried fish and blood, cyanide and very import-phosphate, Canada must have potash. It is to be hoped that there were a number of phosphate mines, operated in the counties of Leeds and Frontenac, notably in Crosby, near the new line of the Canadian Northern and it is to be hoped that this industry will be revived by present conditions. It must be pointed out however, that no one fertilizer ingredient can be substituted for another and that most of our soils need more or less potash to give the best results.

From time to time reports of the discovery of potash in Canada has been received, but so far nothing of economic value has been found apart from potash in the form of fertilizer, which has attracted the attention it should, and keep which is found in the grooves along the Pacific Coast.

The recently reported discovery along the line of the Canadian Northern Railway in Saskatchewan, draws attention to the fact that for a number of years, German interests have kept a close watch on all such prospects and have traced out every case where potash discoveries have been reported in order that they may be in a position to secure such deposits and obtain control of the world's potash supply. If such an attempt is made in the event of these Saskatchewan discoveries proving valuable, action should be taken to prevent it.

It is probably in the vast deposits of Feldspar that the salvation of the tiller of the soil lies. W. H. Smith M. E. recently pointed out that along the Central Ontario are found large beds of Orthoclase and Interoite Feldspar with high potash contents. Consumers of potash salts must now turn their attention to the utilization of this Feldspar. Once this business is established it will in all probability become permanent.

Present conditions show how very necessary it is that Canada should have an independent source of supply. Practical methods have been worked out for the handling of Feldspar fertilizing pots, also alumina a most profitable by-product that is rising in price, which should prove an additional incentive to capital to take up the all important question of providing the Canadian market with a steady and reliable supply of potash at a reasonable price.

A WOMAN'S MESSAGE TO WOMEN If you are troubled with weak, tired feelings, headache, backache, nervousness, constipation, catarrhal conditions, pain in the sides regularly or irregularly, bloating or unnatural enlargements, sense of falling or misplacement of internal organs, nervousness, desire to cry, palpitation, hot flashes, dark rings under the eyes, or a loss of interest in life, I invite you to write and ask for my simple method of home treatment, with ten days' trial, entirely free and postpaid, also reference to Canadian ladies who gladly tell how they have regained health, strength and happiness by this method. Write to-day. Address: Mrs. M. Summers, Box 87, Windsor, Ont.

Trenton, Jan. 22nd. - Today is "Dollar Day" with the merchants but owing to the very cold weather there is no influx of buyers in town. The object of horses attached to a farmer's sleigh through the breaking of one of the lines, near Bayside, got away from the driver. They came across the bridge and along Dundas street at a dangerous pace, but fortunately did not collide with any other object. Eventually they were brought to a stop, when it was found that one of the animals was rather badly injured.

Some of the men engaged in hauling logs from the bay are not any too merciful to their horses. We witnessed a sight today which made our blood boil, and felt very much like laying a complaint before the P. M. I indicated a point to a large attendance at the First Methodist church this evening to hear Mr. H. B. Ames M.P., address members of the Canadian Club on the "British Navy."

The City of Toronto Public Park System covers a greater acreage than is contained within the limits of the corporation of Trenton. Let Trenton get park lands before they become prohibitive in value. Toronto, owing to shortsightedness of these city fathers in former years neglected to purchase her breathing space when land values were reasonable, consequently many millions of dollars, which might have been saved to the city, have since had to be paid. Give the coming citizens of Trenton a chance to grow up into healthy men and women. They have had little or nothing done for them heretofore.

The following Trenton men have joined the 3rd Prince of Wales Dragoon - W. Hennessy, G. LaBrash, J. Johnson, W. Fitzpatrick, H. G. G. Gher, S. Anderson, G. Squiera, W. Reid, W. Ridley, J. Birchell, G. Goshell, J. Bowley and B. Campbell.

Owing to the delay in reorganizing the Free Library, the Inspector of Public Libraries has notified the mayor that it is the intention of the Department of Education to remove the 1300 volumes which have lain in a back room here for years, to other towns where libraries exist. This is a flattering state of affairs, is it not? But we believe that if Trenton does not get a library this year she will never get one. The present mayor and council are, we believe, favorable to the project.

DIRECTORS' SUGGESTIONS

Mr. R. J. Garbutt spoke in short on the work of the past year. Mr. Denyes suggested the prize list might be set down. The fair was too early and stretched over too many days. The prize list is an honor. Mr. Harry Ketcheson thought the fair too early. More money should be put in the horse events.

Mr. Terwilliger thought the prize list too expensive. Belleville should profit by its experience with amusement companies. He referred to the production of Hastings. He suggested that the Poultry Association and Horticultural Society exhibit largely. This will be the year of Canada's greatest activity, her trials and her greatest triumph we hope. Hence we hope that the people will co-operate.

Canada should show the world and Germany that she is one of the greatest producing countries.

Mr. Brickman expressed the view that the fair was a little early for fruit and vegetables. The horse races is the strongest drawing card.

Mr. Arthur Jones sounded the death knell of discouragement. Although there was a deficit, the fair is growing. The 1914 directorate had done splendidly.

The date is too early he believed.

The proper attraction such as the Royal Canadian Dragoons in 1913 drew an increased attendance.

He suggested the appointment of a director from the Poultry Assoc.

Mr. Charles Weese was well satisfied with 1914 show, outside of the wild west attraction. "Be careful and appoint directors who will get out and work."

Mr. W. C. Reid urged co-operation. The exhibit is early. A later date will suit the fruit industry better.

"Our fair is too early," said Mr. S. Wellbanks, when it comes to fruit. "I saw no finer exhibit in horses than at Belleville fair in 1914."

Mr. W. W. Anderson of Prince Edward—"As far as our fair is concerned we must take an example from others. We put on attractions to keep the people busy, forgetting the agricultural end of the fair." Picton had a great fair. Every class was filled. The townspeople put up nice exhibits.

"Sidney, Thurlow, Tynding and Ameliasburg—where are you going to get four better townships? Increase the prizes and cut out the attractions. I would not ask the citizens for any money, but only request their co-operation to make the fair most successful."

President G. M. Campbell said "I hope the directors will carry these resolutions. Hitherto we have had good reports and suggestions, only to be carried out on the morning of the fair."

Mr. E. B. Mallory said the secret of Picton fair's success was the prize list. As a farmer he knew how the early fair troubled the agriculturalists in their busy season. Keep the prize list up. It should not be out of the district was the union of Belleville, Frankford and Stirling. How it could be worked out to have only one fair for West Hastings was another consideration.

Mr. Wellbanks—"I think our prize list is the equal of any."

RENTERS CHARGED WITH THEFT OF GOODS

Quantities of Goods Believed to Have Been Stolen in October Recovered by Police This Morning

(From Thursday's Daily.)

Belleville police this morning recovered a large quantity of the goods which were stolen from three C.P.R. cars on Oct. 28th, as they stood just east of George street crossing. The thefts included 77 pairs of boots worth $101.50, four packages of Meador's cream cheese from another car, and a dozen pairs of coffee from the third car.

The police have been following the case and last night secured a search warrant. This morning Sergeants Harvill and Naphin and Officer Thompson, arrested Wm. A. McMichael, Church street, and found what is thought to be part of the stolen goods at his home besides a mangled purse which resembled that snatched on Saturday evening. Constables Thompson and Corrigan arrested Wm. Wallace, Church street, a little later.

These two men are charged with theft in connection with the case. One of the boots, partly worn and unworn have been recovered from people to whom they were sold. A considerable quantity is believed to have been sent to Montreal.

BROKE INTO WAREHOUSE

Early last evening, some person broke into a store house on South Front street in which stores are kept by Messrs. Lynch and McGuire, merchants. Entrance was secured by forcing a padlock. The intruder was discovered and he made his escape, although pursued. Whether any goods were taken, and if so, what, is yet unknown. The police are working on the matter.

Kidneys Wrong?

If they are you are in danger. When through weakness or disease the kidneys fail to filter the impurities from the blood, trouble comes at once. Backache, Rheumatism, Sciatica, Gravel, Diabetes, Gall Stones, and the deadly Bright's Disease are some of the results of neglected kidneys. ## INTERESTING LETTER FROM MISS DENMARK

Belleville has three nurses with the first contingent. Miss Ethel Ridley as matron and Miss Nida Denmark are with Dr. Shillington in the Canadian Hospital at Le Touquet in France, and Miss Geen in one of the hospitals at Salisbury Plain. Any news that they bring home is eagerly sought for, so the following extracts from two letters from Miss Denmark will be of interest, particularly to those connected with Red Cross work.

"I do not know when I will be able to write you again, as we are terribly busy in this new hospital. I am in the operating with two other nurses. Three-fourths of our Miss Ridley are living in a villa owned by a Russian Count, a wonderful place surrounded by pines, very near the sea and five minutes walk from the hospital which was an enormous house. We have named the wards after the provinces in the Dominion and can accommodate nearly 300 patients. Any more about the hospital I cannot tell you.

They say that on a clear calm night cannot be heard, but so far I have been too sleepy to listen. The villa is steam heated and has plenty of bathrooms, we get good and hot meals, so we are very comfortable."

In another letter, Miss Denmark says:—"You people at home know about twice as much war news as we do, not having time to read the papers. You may depend on it, though, when I get home to Canada, I am not unpeaking and awful. It you have anything to do with the Red Cross work, send shirts and warm clothing for they are needed sadly, also night shirts, pyjamas and socks."

"At Christmas time there were only 150 cases in the Hospital and those in charge did all they could to make it a jolly and bright day. The place was decorated with pine from the forest and with bunting and flags sent by societies and different people in England. Each man found in the morning, a red stocking tied to the foot of his cot which was filled with small toys and socks. I saw some useful article at the bottom. In the afternoon a concert was held at which many prominent London entertainers took part, coming over from England for that purpose. The night was spent in different pieces from Kipling and sang rollicking songs as only the British Tommy can."

BELLEVILLE JUNIORS PUT UP A GREAT GAME

Kingston Last Night—But the Speedy Frontenacs Nosed Out a Victory—Score 5-2

The Kingston Belleville Juniors at the Kingston Arena last night before a crowd of over twenty-five hundred people, after one of the hardest, closest fought games possible. The Frontenacs won purely on their merits. They excelled in team-play, combination, and back-checking. The absence of Goyer from the locals was very apparent, although Duesberry played a hard game, he lacked the experience of the work of Nurse in the Kingston game. The outstanding feature of the game, he easily being the best man in any department. Arnott and Elliott were the pick of the forward line and although Elliott was off 4 times for a total of eight minutes, it must be said that he was the back checker in the Belleville line-up. Pimiott was watched very closely. Stinson, the 15 year old novice, and Stewart were the best men on the Frontenacs. Everyone of our boys played a hard grueling game, but they lacked aggressiveness. Plenty of excitement was afforded every minute for the crowd of over 300 ardent supporters who journeyed by special train over the C. N. R. and who returned disappointed but still "ardent" supporters. Congratulations should be given to the C. N. R. and city ticket agent Patterson for the excellent service given. The special made the run to Kingston in one and three-quarter hours, arriving right on time.

Led by the 15th Regimental Band the crowd marched to the Arena. After the game the crowd formed in line, just to show the Limestone that their heart was still in the right place, and marched to the train.

First Period.

At 8:45 the game started. Considerable delay being caused by players' certificates not being on hand. Belleville rushed and Mills saved. Frontenacs returned and Nurse starts right in and makes a sensational save. Play went up and down the ice with out intermission for 7 1/2 minutes, when Elliott is sent to the box for tripping. Stewart immediately follows a forced rest for slashing Pimiott. A like effort by the crowd of over 300 ardent supporters who journeyed by special train over the C. N. R. and who returned disappointed but still "ardent" supporters. Congratulations should be given to the C. N. R. and city ticket agent Patterson for the excellent service given. The special made the run to Kingston in one and three-quarter hours, arriving right on time.

Led by the 15th Regimental Band the crowd marched to the Arena. After the game the crowd formed in line, just to show the Limestone that their heart was still in the right place, and marched to the train.

Second Period.

Both teams came back full of confidence and the pace set was faster than ever. Arnott draws down the referee's wrath and is sent off for 2-2 minutes after resumption of play. Smith scoring on a nice shot from left wing. Cook earns a rest for tripping and has a few serious instructions from Mgr. Sutherland. Stewart took the penalty bench for loafing, leaving 7 men to 5, but Elliott and Duesberry get two minutes in lost succession and the advantage is lost.

Last Period.

Duesberry and Smith are still serving time, Milan is banished for bodying Elliott into the boards. Duesberry gets his second period for becoming over-strenuous. Elliott gave Stewart what appeared a straight body check. Elliott was put off. Elliott had been a little aggressive up to this time but if a little of the same "pep" could be instilled into the rest of the team it would be better for Belleville. After 7 minutes of real hockey Cook makes a grand rush, and scores. Play was desperate for the last half of the period. Pimiott made some rushes of the most sensational variety. White, who has been playing a steady even defence also went up and helped the forwards but all was as usual. After 17 minutes of play, Cook is sent off for tripping. The gong rings with the Belleville team in a body, bombarding the Kingston goal. The final curtain was rung down one of the most exciting if not the fastest, disappointing games from a Belleville standpoint, ever played in this district. Final score 5-2.

The line-up

Belleville	Goal	Frontenacs
Nurse	Defence	Mills
Pimiott	Defence	McCallum
White	Defence	Stewart
Elliott	Forward	Millan
L. Arnott	Center	Stinson
Duesberry	Right Wing	Cook

Referee—C. Gillfillan, Uxbridge
Timekeepers—E. Lang, Belleville; Jas. Sutherland, Kingston; Penzly, C. Freshette, Belleville; E. Hartnick, of Kingston.

Notes.

Belleville lost, but no one would have known it because of the sportsmanlike spirit shown by the players and rooters.

Dick Arnott still wears his smile.

The referee is a "nice feller" and we're not going to kick, but it looked like an offside when Kingston scored their first goal.

It was rumored after the game that Referee Gillfillan and Eddie Elliott had become close friends. No, Ed, you didn't deserve it all but you didn't talk back and you deserve credit.

Pardon me, Mr. Sutherland, but Nurse had no horse-shoes on him, he just played his usual shoe. Some style, eh girls.

Young Whalen was hard checked but played a heady game throughout.

"Lionel" Arnott played like a "lion in '11" and no mistake.

All right, bring on your city league now, we hope to beat the K.C.I. in Kingston but it is essential that we have no more hockey in Belleville.

NAPANEE

ONTARIO BUSINESS COLLEGE

This above gives the result of one of the closest and fastest games ever played in the down-bay town. Last night the Ontario Business College team journeyed to Napanee, played their senior team and came out on the sheet and by a 10 to 6 score. The teamwork and combination play put up by Napanee was wonderful and only for the work of the O.B.C. defence and the marvelous exhibition of Fenn this score would have been larger. Time and again the Napanee forwards would come down four abreast evading the College defence, only to be stopped by Fenn. Moore and Blais were wanted too closely to get away and did not figure in the score column. Beaulac, the new man on the O.B.C. line-up, was the speediest skater on the ice, and, except for the fault of roaming from his position, was a good goal-keeper. The leading goal-getter for Napanee and combined with Starke, was the pick of the forward line. Grange was a star on the defence and figured in several nice rushes. Over 300 students under the direction of Coach-Leader Thompson furnished in fine style the Belleville support. 'Crecker' Phillips refereed in excellent style, the teams gathering around and after the game and giving three cheers for the referee.

It is expected that a double-header will be played in Belleville next Wednesday evening between the 'Ladies' and Gentlemen's teams of Napanee and the Ontario Business College. Two of the best games of the season are assured.

FIRST PERIOD

The game was promptly called at 8.15 and immediately the face of Bradley rushed and passed to McGie, who evaded the defence and scored, time 30 seconds. Play changed from end to end with 3 and 4-man rushes. Over 300 students in goal for the O.B.C. showed a fine work. Six minutes after play had started, Soby evaded the score. McGie came to the rescue five minutes later and made the score 2-1 in favor of the O.B.C. Blais took a shot for tripping. Stark scored on a 4-man rush and Bradley slipped one in one minute before the period ended. O.B.C. 3; Napanee 2.

SECOND PERIOD

Up to this time the O.B.C. defence had not been able to get away. In three minutes after play was resumed, Ketcheson, after a beautiful rush, made the score 4-2. Napanee now started some of the finest team play and Soby notched another goal, making the score 4-3. Play now centered around the Belleville goal, but all attempts to score were brilliantly taken care of by Fenn until 18 minutes had elapsed when Grange made a beautiful rush and scored. The period ended with the score 4-4.

THIRD PERIOD

Play was now very fast and owing to the snow storm that now became quite heavy, going was slow and combined with the small rink of the O.B.C. team defence could not rush. Moore up to this time played in his usual brilliant style, but was watched throughout the evening and any attempts to try and get away were brought two men down upon him. Five minutes after play started Ketcheson rushed and on a pass from Beaulac, scored. Play now became very exciting as it was a case of individual play against perfect combination, with team-play winning out. Soby evaded matters up and shortly after Bradley again put the O.B.C. in the lead on a nice two-man rush from mid-ice evaded up and scored once more. Schermerhorn, who had been playing a hard game, put Napanee in the lead for the first time in the match on a rush by Blais and Bradley, Bradley scored. The O.B.C. now played with renewed energy but were unable to score 3 minutes before full time started at last score, Napanee 9, O.B.C. 7.

OSGOODE HALL NOTES

Trenton Industry Before the Courts. Before Letchford J. in Single Court. Benseny vs. Marsh — W. C. Mickel, K.C., moved before Hon. Mr. Justice Letchford in Single Court to continue an injunction granted by His Honour Judge Frazer of Hastings County. In December 1913, the defendant sold the plaintiff a resident of Trenton, a secret process for making paste, gum and dextrine and also an improvement that he might discover in said process. The defendant went to England last summer and while there discovered an improvement in the process greatly cheapening the manufacture of the paste and instead of delivering it over to plaintiff under the terms of their contract, demanded an additional payment and endeavored to negotiate a sale of the newly discovered process to parties in Western Ontario. An interim injunction was obtained from Judge Frazer restraining the sale or delivery of the new process to anyone but the plaintiff. Judgment for plaintiff making the injunction perpetual and for costs.

TO-DAYS MARKET

(From Saturday's Daily.)

The market today was not so active as usual, owing to the last couple of days having been inclement and having prevented the farmers from making preparations to attend. The market looked exceedingly slim and deserted. Most of the offerings were in beef and dressed pork, the former 10c and 11c per pound the latter at $11 per cwt. Northern Sp. apples of No. 1 grade were bringing $3.50 per barrel. They were very scarce however. Potatoes sold regularly at 70c per bag. The other offerings were in pairs of 50c per bushel, a 4 in weight. Hay was particularly plentiful, much having been brought from across the bay by the ice route. Seventeen dollars per ton was the run of hay. Some was sold at any lower figure today.

Hogs remain at $7.60 per cwt. Live weight and $9.50 to $10 dressed. Butter sold by the pound at 30c. Some baskets were secured as low as 25c, net pounds. Fresh eggs were disposed of at 35c. Dozen and packed at 30c. Poultry was very firm. Chickens went from 75c per pair to $1.25. Fowl bring about 104 per pound. Some live geese were offered at $1.50 and $2.00 each and ducks were easier at 75c each. The little grain on the market was soon picked up at fairly high prices.

ENJOYABLE CONCERT

(From Saturday's Daily.)

The Tabernacle choir and all connected with the program are to be heartily congratulated upon the splendid entertainment they provided to an appreciative audience last night. The concert was held in the main auditorium of the church and was well patronized by the congregation and friends.

LAST EVENING

Mr. J. E. Walmaley, superintendent of the Tabernacle Sunday school occupied the chair and so managed it that the nineteen numbers, comprising an elaborate program were ended shortly after ten o'clock. A mixed quartet, composed of Mrs. Grant, soprano; Mrs. Nicholson, alto; Mr. Schryver, tenor and Mr. Moore, baritone, rendered several delightful selections among them "The Skippers of St. Ives," "Tell Her I Love So," and "Now Will say Good Night." The voices blended and balanced most harmoniously each part being intelligible without surpassing another in volume. The same remark applies to the rendition of the "Misere" from Verdi's "H. Trovatore" by a trio composed of Mrs. Grant, Mrs. Nicholson, and Mr. Schryver.

A soprano and mezzo-soprano duet, "Barenolle" by Offenbach brought out the beauties of both voices most pleasingly. Another duet "Life's Lullaby" by Mrs. Grant and Mrs. Nicholson was rendered with excellent expression. Belleville's best vocalists were represented in solo numbers in the evening's program. Miss Gunn who is gifted with a rich soprano voice, rendered with excellent expression that favorite solo "Face to Face." Mr. Burke's powerful and resonant baritone voice was heard to advantage in "Jerusalem." Miss Stork, who sings with a slight hiccup, had a number particularly suited to her voice in "The Plains of Pease." Miss Grant, who is a young vocalist of much promise, gave a beautiful interpretation to "Cooler" rather difficult solo "Give Me O God." Miss Brown's "The Lullaby" tones were heard to the evident enjoyment of the audience. In a sweetly rendered English song, "Swallows," Mr. Dan, Cameron sang in his usual vigorous style. Bevan's "Flight of the Ages" Mrs. A. Grant, whom Belleville audiences owe a debt of gratitude for her many pleasing favors so graciously given was thought by many who heard her last night, never to have sung so well before. Her solo, "Show Me Thy Ways" was a fine and impressive rendition. Miss Bowden's solo was also delightfully given.

Mr. Duff, the very efficient organist of the Tabernacle choir, rendered a double number on the pipe organ, and succeeded in bringing out a remarkable degree of harmony and expression in Bartle's "St. Cecilia" and Delbe's "Rizzi." The only other instrumental number was of exceptional smooth-toned and mellow cornet rendition of "The Rosary" by Mr. Hinehey, the well known and popular leader of the Fifteenth Regimental band.

Before the conclusion of the program, Rev. W. G. Clarke gave a brief expression of gratitude on the part of the congregation and pastor of the good work done by the choir and particularly by the leader, Mrs. Grant. After Mr. Clarke had concluded, little Miss Clarke presented Mrs. Grant with a beautiful bouquet of roses, and the audience visibly applauded. At the conclusion of the program lunch was served in the basement to those who had assisted in providing so excellent and enjoyable a program.

In the October made butter which was tested for keeping quality, Belleville Creamery came fifth with 95.13 points out of a possible score of 100. The first prize winner was only two points ahead with 97.49. PATRIOTIC CONCERT

(From Saturday's Daily.)

The Madeo Review gives the following account of the Patriotic Concert held there last Thursday.

Thursday evening was the date of the Patriotic Concert under the auspices of the Madeo Patriotic Club. The hall was filled with a very attentive audience who listened with much interest to the addresses by Dean Starr, of Kingston, and Col. Ponton, of Belleville.

Dean Starr, recently returned from the homeland and the battlefields of France, in a very earnest speech urged upon his hearers their "individual responsibility" in this great struggle.

This feeling of "individual responsibility" had changed the whole appearance of the English race. Everywhere people of naturally light dispositions were regarding this contest with calm determination that each and every one must see the allies victorious. He spoke of the fortitude with which mothers were giving their sons to the grand cause of liberty and the response to the call of the country which was being rendered by the masses, high and low, rich and poor, save one—the professional sporting class. The professional sports alone had failed to see the call of duty. Dean Starr has been in the field for a long character as an Irishman, a rather dry character at home, who had proved a man when brought face to face with a crisis. Four British soldiers became cut off from their regiment and one of them, the Irishman, was seen by the Germans. They took refuge in a house, momentarily expecting to be shot. The Irishman said, "I'm going out." The officer in the party said that this would expose their hiding place and forbid him. But this man had felt the truth of "individual responsibility" and replied "I'm going out." You have wives and children at home. I alone have been seen by the enemy. Here is my shooting-iron. You fellows stay here. I'm going out." He went out alone and in a few minutes was riddled by German bullets. Such examples of true patriotism as this is bringing the best in the British race to the top, and after all the war may be a blessing to our country ridding her of some at least of her wasteful luxuries.

Col. Ponton, of Belleville, is an orator well known to Madeo people and his patriotic appeal to Madeo people was delivered with the force and earnestness of one who has been working in a noble cause. His plea was for recruits. He wished the young men of Madeo to enlist in the grand old 49th regiment. The country needs men, it more men the sooner the war would be over and more of those who have gone before will return. Canada was responding nobly to the call but he wished to see more volunteers in the 49th, Brock's old regiment to leave those dependents on them as the great sum being raised by the Patriotic Clubs would undoubtedly go well for those left behind. He told many incidents reported to him by his own men in the 49th, the most of his first contingent, showing that the Hastings boys are among the best of Canada's thirty thousand.

In addition to these speeches songs by Misses Pym, Aylesworth and LaVie, a chorus by the boys and selections by the orchestra made a most instructive and pleasant evening. A subscription list was opened and several hundred dollars raised, which has been increased to a total now is nearly six hundred dollars.

K. of C. Banquet

The banquet and entertainment tendered by the Belleville Council No. 1008 Knights of Columbus to the members of District No. 2 K. of C. and State Deputy T. M. Phelan of Toronto Thursday evening proved a most successful affair. Mr. Wm. L. Doyle was chairman and made an admirable impression. There were many visitors present from Brockville, Kingston and Toronto. The affair was a social success. The work of Jules Brazil, extender of Toronto was roundly applauded. He was perceived in his role. Mr. J. V. Doyle of Belleville and Mr. O'Connor of Kingston were State Deputy Phelan, Deputy Dr. J. F. Dolan, E. J. Butler, Rev. Father Truax, Grand Knight, Rev. Father Killeen, Rev. Father Corrigan, Rev. Father McDonald and Hanley Kingston, Grand Knight Downey of Brockville. Dr. Coughlin, C. C. St. Charles, Toronto; Edwin McDonald, a young and promising barrister of Toronto and P. J. O'Rourke of Trenton were also present.

There are now 42 recruits for the Third Contingent at Pictou. The additions to the list were—John S. Marshall, Hugh Kemman, Earl Ryckman, Wm. Woodrow, Joseph Cole and Fred A. Cole.

The company marched through Bloomfield, the latter part of last week and to Cherry Valley and back on Wednesday of this week.
