BRILLIANT ATTACK MADE BY FRENCH MARINES AND PART OF BRITISH TROOPS

Rafts Were Made and Enemy Was Surrounded—Many Guns Were Left on the Field—Features of Situation To-day.

[By Special Wire to the Courier] PARIS, Nov. 19.—A brilliant attack by British troops and French sailors caused the Germans to evacuate Schoorbakke, Belgium, which is practically surrounded by the water from the broken dykes, according to news reaching here from the battle front. Because of the flood only two roads were open to the town and on one of these the British approached in two armored automobiles. It was a night attack and the Germans in the town immediately turned their attention to them. Meanwhile the blue jackets who had made rafts on flat-bottomed boats, crossed the water and took the Germans in the rear, forcing them to flee by the one road still left open. The Germans abandoned many guns, ammunition and stores, and their dead and wounded.

There is some anxiety here as to just what has happened at Chauvincourt, a village near St. Mihiel on the Lorraine frontier. On Tuesday, the French official communication reported that the French troops had occupied the western part of Chauvincourt and Tuesday's official statement said that this part of the town had been blown up by the Germans who apparently had mined the place before they retired. However, the French troops suffered by this exploit is not yet known.

Chauvincourt, which contained vast French military buildings and stores, is on the right bank of the Meuse. It has been occupied by the Germans for some time and is an important link between Argonne and Metz.

The Belgian army is drawing a supply of new officers in large part from the Belgian civic guard.
According to a member of the Belgian war offices at Havre, the civic guard is composed of men who have seen service in the army and are well qualified to become officers.

Figures are not yet available regarding the result of the mobilization of the Belgian class of 1915 or regarding the call for volunteers but it is known that the young men refugees in Holland, England and France, are responding with great readiness and enthusiasm.

Unexpected Blow Was Delivered on Russian Centre by the Germans

[By Special Wire to the Courier]
LONDON, Nov. 19, 12:07 p.m.
—The unexpected blow delivered on the Russian centre by General Von Hindenberg with his army which had retreated from before Warsaw was the predominant feature of the news reaching London to-day from the eastern arena.

No change of importance has been recorded for some days past in the western arena, where Flemish is still the scene of heavy fighting. In spite of adverse weather conditions, and flooded trenches the Germans appear to be holding their positions, from which, at intervals, they launch the attacks for which the territory from the Belgian coast to Arras has become famous.

The allied warships are still off the coast, hurling shells inland when opportunity offers. The Belgian army remains in the region where the floods have been the worst, and some despatches say that in certain places they have been fighting from small boats.

Having for the time been driven back the Russian advance toward the German frontier of Posen, General von Hindenberg is the hero of the hour in Berlin. There is much criticism in Berlin of the German retreat from Warsaw, but if the present marked reversal of form proves permanent, the German centre doubtless will retrieve its reputation just as the Allies retrieved themselves almost at the gates of Paris. The German wedge from Posen would appear to have driven the Russian centre more than 50 miles back from the frontier, so that the line is now about midway between German territory and Warsaw. Elsewhere along the great eastern front the Russians, where they are not progressing, seem to be child-ing their own.

AUSTRALIAN FORCE
TO TAKE POSSESSION OF PACIFIC ISLANDS

[By Special Wire to the Courier]
SYDNEY, Australia, Nov. 19.
—The following official statement has been issued by G. F. Pearce, Minister of Defence of the Commonwealth.

"The Japanese Government has intimated to the British Government that it is ready to hand over the Marshall and other German islands in the Pacific, temporarily occupied by the Japanese, to an Australian force and the British Government has informed the Japanese government of its intention to act accordingly. A special Australian force will be despatched to the islands and will remain in occupation until the termination of the war when the matter of the ultimate disposal of the islands will be a question for solution by the powers."

"It will be necessary as the federal government will have the responsibility for the occupation of the islands, that not only the military occupation but such matters as trade, food supply, postal and commercial affairs be investigated and organized. Commander Pethbridge will accompany the force to make the necessary arrangements."

Canadians to Attend
Funeral of Roberts

SALISBURY PLAIN, Nov. 19.— Thirty Ontario men, under Major Kimmings, of Winona, have been selected to represent the Canadian expeditionary force at the funeral of Lord Roberts. They are from the battalion commanded by Lieut.-Col. Hill of Niagara (First Battalion First Infantry Brigade).

Lieut.-Col. Rennie of Toronto, will represent the Queen's Own Rifles, of which Regiment Lord Roberts was honorary colonel.

The War Office has ordered the reorganization of the Canadians. The infantry division returns to the eight company (instead of the four double companies) establishment, and the artillery to the four-gun battery.

John Larne, a French-Canadian soldier of Neuville, Portneuf county, Que., died at Bulford Hospital of meningitis.

Canadian Associated cables yesterday stated that General Alderson, commanding many Canadian staff officers, would attend the funeral of Lord Roberts. They also stated that the death of Douglas Kirkpatrick Benham, a member of the Canadian contingent, who joined at Vancouver.

He was a son of the late John Benham of Clapham, London.

JAPAN GENEROUS

LONDON, Nov. 19.—A despatch to the Morning Post from Sydney, N.S.W., says Japan has notified Great Britain of her readiness to hand over the Marshall Islands and other German islands in the Pacific now occupied by the Japanese to Australia, which will send forces to occupy them until the war is ended, when their ultimate disposition will be decided.

LORD "BOBS" LAID
AT REST WITH HONOR TO-DAY IN ST. PAUL'S

Most Impressive Funeral in London Since That of the Duke of Wellington—King Attended the Service at the Cathedral.

[By Special Wire to the Courier]
LONDON, Nov. 19, 12:57 p.m.
—The body of Field Marshal Lord Roberts, the hero of Great Britain's South African campaign, probably the best known leader of the British army to-day and the ideal of the enlisted men, was laid at rest in St. Paul's Cathedral today.

Lord Roberts died in France at the headquarters of the British expeditionary force, the night of November 14, of pneumonia. He was in his 82nd year. His body was returned to England yesterday. Last night there were private services at his home in Ascot, and to-day occurred the public funeral.

Lord Roberts rests beside the hero of Waterloo, the Duke of Wellington; Lord Nelson, Lord Napier and other heroes of Great Britain's Indian and African wars with whom he had been associated in his more than half a century of distinguished military service.
It is recalled to-day that it was just 62 years ago that the body of the Duke of Wellington was interred in St. Paul's Cathedral.

Lord Kitchener, Secretary for War; Admiral Lord Charles Beresford, Lord Grenfell, Admiral Sir E. H. Seymour, Sir Evelyn Wood and other prominent naval and army officers followed the caisson bearing the flag-draped coffin through the streets of the city.
The thoroughfares were lined soldiers and massed with hundreds of thousands of English men, who stood with bared heads in a drizzling rain storm as the body of Great Britain's most beloved military leader passed.

King George was not in the procession. He drove from Buckingham Palace direct to the cathedral, which he reached shortly before the arrival of the funeral cortege. This is the first time England's King has attended the funeral of a national hero since the burial of the Duke of Wellington.

Preceding the caisson was a battery of Indian artillery, given this place of honor because of Lord Roberts' lifelong devotion to the King's Indian troops. His final visit to France was for the purpose of welcoming the Indian contingents and looking after their needs. Tall Sikhs, their turbans wound with khaki and wearing their regulation khaki great coats, which covered their picturesque costumes, led the white mules of their battery burdened with unlimbered guns, and Indian officers, wrapped in their khaki capotes, paid silent tribute to their departed friend. Lieut.-General Pole-Carew and eight other officers rode beside the caisson carrying the insignia of the Field Marshal, while a groom walked behind leading the former chief's horse.

It required more than an hour for the military escort to pass a given point in the line of march.
The funeral party arrived at the Charing Cross station, and the procession, moving to the Victoria Embankment, made its way

GENERAL HUGHES
GIVES REASONS
FOR REPRIMAND

[By Special Wire to the Courier]
OTTAWA, Nov. 19.—As a sequel to the Toronto home guard mobilization incident, Major General Sam Hughes to-day issued instructions to the general, divisional and district officers commanding that no further instructions shall be given in mobilization, without people being fully apprised in advance. It was understood, he says, that this was to be done in Toronto, but it must have been overlooked.

"The whole craze has an utterly demoralizing effect on recruiting and on the health and nerves of people, and something must be done to stop the unbalanced excitement," said the minister.

"The people may rest assured that the most careful watch is being kept on every part of the United States border, as well as in Canadian centers, for any threatening marauding raids, but the militia departments will not lend itself to intensify any feeling of panic. If mobilization is to be practiced it can be done just as well by having ample notice given to the public that it is only a practice, otherwise it will be the old cry of 'wolf—wolf!'"

"No call for mobilization should ever be given, unless in case of real emergency and all practices should be so notified to the public."

Regarding the purchase of rifles by the City of Toronto, an official statement by the department, says the minister was asked by the board of control to give an opinion on the purchase of several thousand Winchester 30-30. He declined to offer any advice, but warned that the Winchester 30-30 was not a military rifle. He further suggested that before investing the money of the city, they should consult an expert purchaser and recommended the firm of Rice, Lewis and Company, of Toronto, to be consulted.

GOVERNOR OF METZ

LONDON, Nov. 19, 4:45 a.m.— General Von Winzfeldt, the governor of Metz, died at Weisbaden after a short illness, according to an Amsterdam despatch to the Reuter's Telegram company.

BRITISH TORPEDO GUNBOAT SUNK BY GERMAN SUBMARINE.

The British torpedo gunboat Niger was torpedoed by a submarine in the Downs, according to an official announcement from London. The Niger foundered, but all the officers and crew were saved. Two men were severely and two slightly injured. The Niger was built in 1892, displaced 850 tons and carried a complement of eighty-five men. She was 220 feet long and was capable of making a speed of nineteen knots.

BELGIUM SORELY STRICKEN—ONE THIRD OF POPULATION
SUBSISTING ON CHARITY

Towns and Cities are Ruined—Flanders is Now a Mere Island—Desolation Everywhere—Bridges Blown Up.

[By Special Wire to the Courier]
THE HAGUE, via London, Nov. 19.—Advises received from Thiel, Belgium, which were brought by way of Sas Van Ghent by messenger, and are dated Monday, November 16, state that West Flanders, the scene of incessant military operations, remains an island, cut off from the rest of Belgium through the blowing up of most of the bridges leading thereto. Peasants are obliged to make emergency bridges from planks and crawl along these to escape from the danger zone. The Germans have declared the interior west of the railroad running from Antwerp to Brussels and thence to Mons, an official war area, and where nobody, including even Germans, is allowed to travel without a special military passport.

It is difficult to obtain reliable news of the situation in the war zone, as the bedraggled men and women, who manage to escape, are too miserable, through cold and hunger to give a connected account of their experience.
Their only definite recollection seems to be the continued cannon fire and the endless procession of wounded filling their villages.

It was learned from some of them, however, that Dixmude, the scene of such severe fighting, is entirely ruined. Nieupoort also suffered severely. The principal church has lost its tower and its roof and the renaissance carvings in its interior have been demolished. In Ypres, the Cloth Hall, which was one of the few ancient buildings saved from the English siege in the year 1383, is severely damaged by shrapnel fire. In Ter-monde, the Germans have ordered the schools re-opened, but since the ten thousand inhabitants have been reduced to a hundred, there are no pupils, and besides, as four fifths of the town is in ruins, there are no schools.

The bridges here are lightly guarded by men of the Bavarian landwehr.

Ghent is deserted by its population, but is overflowing with German wounded. Zeebrugge, according to reports, has been made a station for submarines by the Germans. At Alost, the population is beginning to return. The people are establishing themselves in shacks and in the ruins of their old homes.

From the entire province of Flanders, where the roads are full of aimlessly drifting people, come credible reports of ever-increasing suffering and privation. Food is exceedingly scarce and many persons are suffering from hunger. The peasants are cutting down the old line of trees at the country places for fuel.

Brussels is quiet. About one-third of the population there is supported by public charity. A similar situation exists in Malines.

COMMITTED SUICIDE JUST OUTSIDE OFFICE OF THE BRANT DRAGOONS TO-DAY

Samuel Bonsfield Evidently Mentally Unbalanced Took His Own Life To-day—He Intended Joining Active Service Contingent.

Samuel Bonsfield, an applicant for enlistment at the 25th. Brant Dragoons committed suicide in a sensational manner to-day. Bonsfield shot himself at 11:45 and expired at 1:30 this afternoon.

The affair took place at the headquarters of the 25th. Brant Dragoons and caused quite a sensation in that region of George street when it became known.

Standing near a window, with three boys in the vicinity, he is said to have put a revolver to his eye and fired point blank into his head. The wound caused instantaneous unconsciousness, and in this condition he remained until he died. The bullet went clean through the head to the skull at the back and there it lodged.

Ralph Andrews and Henry Saunders were standing a few feet away, singing "It's a long way to Tipperary," when they heard the report, and looking round saw Bonsfield, then unknown, fall to the floor. It was immediately seen that he was very badly injured and a doctor was summoned.
Dr. Phillips arrived and saw that there was little hope. After rendering first aid, he had the victim conveyed to the hospital. There little hope was held out for his recovery, and after the wound had been dressed he passed away, being in the institution only thirty-five minutes. The doctors there found that the discharge from the revolver had ploughed a hole right through the brain and all they could do was to vain.

He was not a member of the 25th.
Dragoons, but had voiced the intention of joining the regiment. To this end he left his work as a farm laborer yesterday, and made for Brantford.
He was present at the armories during the entire morning and watched the Dragoons going through their paces. When they left, he went with them to the headquarters and was one of a bunch who were singing merrily a patriotic air. He had not been in the building more than five minutes, awaiting the arrival of an officer, when the shooting took place. No one saw the actual shot and there were some who thought that it might be an accident. "The doctors however,

WAR SUMMARY

[By Special Wire to the Courier]
Violent fighting has been resumed within a two hour moonlight ride of the gates of Paris. At Tracy-le-Val, where the main battle line from the north swings to the eastward, at the point nearest Paris, a German advance led to a violent encounter. The Germans attempted to capture the town won by the allies a few days ago, but according to the French war office statement today they were repulsed with very heavy losses.

In Flanders, the artillery duel, described during the last few days as of furious intensity, has become still more violent on the part of the Germans at least, but here, as elsewhere, the opposing forces are holding fast to their main positions.

An official German communication states that heavy fighting has been resumed in the Arronne forest, around which some of the most severe encounters of the war have raged from time to time during the last two months. A heavy loss, it is said, was inflicted on the enemy. In a battle between two squadrons of aeroplanes, it is said one airship of the allies and one of the Germans were lost.

Germany's new attack on the Russian army in the centre of the eastern battle line stood out conspicuously to-day as of chief importance in the European war.
The sudden assault of the Germans in Russian Poland, from which territory they were driven recently, as being driven in disorder, has lent a new aspect to this campaign, which, for Germany, is no less important than the campaign in Flanders.

MOOSE HOLD SOCIAL EVENT

The Moose herd gathered last night in the shelter of their forest home on Colborne street, when an evening of progressive euchre and dancing was held. It was a splendid success, the herd rallying to the call in no uncertain manner. The result will be a generous contribution of vegetables of all kinds, which will be donated to the city relief. When the members had assembled, a round of euchre was played which was won by Mrs. M. Howell and Mrs. H. Howell.

WAS GOLFER WITH TRUE SPIRIT

With the death of Col. D. R. Wilkie, manager of the Imperial Bank of Canada, another of the famous quartet of golf players often seen on the links of the old Toronto Golf Club passed to the great beyond. Colonel Wilkie, several years ago, was an ardent golfer, and with Messrs. Chas. Cockshutt and H. D. Warren and Sir E. B. Osler was invariably found of a Saturday afternoon enjoying his favorite pastime. His death leaves only one member of the famous quartet, viz., Sir E. B. Osler. H. D. Warren took the journey across the river four years ago, and then two years later, Charles Cockshutt departed this life. They were average golfers, who learned the true spirit of the game and took great pleasure in their friendly contests upon the links. Mr. Warren was one of the first men to use the old Haskell ball, and he had his rivals guessing for several Saturdays after he first started using it. Col. Wilkie and Mr. Warren were right handed players and Mr. Cockshutt and Sir E. B. Osler left handed. They used to pair up this way. Every one of the quartet had a peculiar swing which came from an exaggerated motion, but they got the distance when they hit it. It was due to their assistance that the famous caddy supper at the Toronto Golf club was kept up and they took great pleasure in watching the boys enjoy themselves. Their generosity and good-fellowship was very marked and they were considered good sports from the word go.—Mail-Enterprise

Laid at Rest

The funeral of the late Mac Drury took place yesterday from the family residence, 46 Edward street, and was largely attended by friends and sympathizers. Rev. G. H. North conducted impressive services at the house, and grave in Mt. Hope cemetery. The pallbearers were four uncles: Wm. and George Bygrave, E. Sargess and E. Johnson; and Messrs. Wm. Ackers and John Munday. The floral tributes were beautiful and were as follows: Pillow, from family and relatives; wreaths, employees of F. W. Woolworth & Co., Mr. and Mrs. J. Burgess, and employees of the Massey-Harris company; sprays, Mr. and Mrs. E. Drury, Ladies Aid of Gospel Tabernacle, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Nuptial Notes

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at Grace Church, Tuesday, at 3 o'clock, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. Patterson-Smyth, when Mr. John Byatt was united in holy matrimony to Miss Rachel Turner of Essex, England. The bride entered the church on the arm of her brother-in-law, Mr. Calversbert of Woodstock, who gave her away. The bride looked very lovely in a gown of white silk trimmed with Irish lace and with a veil and orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums. She was attended by Mrs. P. Biggs, as matron of honor, wearing a dress of American beauty silk, with an overdress of black lace. The bridesmaid was Miss Prior, a friend of the bride's who wore a pale blue dress of crepe de chine, trimmed with lace over pink silk, and a black velvet hat, trimmed with pale pink marabout, and carried a bouquet of pink chrysanthemums. Mr. P. Biggs acted as best man. There was a large number of friends at the church, also members of the A. Y. P. A. The bride's gift to the groom was a gold watch and chain; the bridegroom to the bride, a gold bracelet; the bridegroom's gift to the matron of honor and bridesmaid, were gold brooches; to the groomsmen and Mr. Calversbert, gold stick pins. Mrs. Harry Cockshutt kindly loaned her carriage for the use of the bride. The reception was afterwards held at Mrs. A. Amos' 90 Winnett street, the friend of the bride, where a dainty repast was served. The table was prettily decorated. Rev. Patterson-Smyth proposed the toast, and was responded to heartily. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful presents.

TRADES AND LABOR

Council Decides to Investigate the Manufacture of Toys in Toronto.

The Trades and Labor Council had an interesting session last evening, President Phippos and his recently installed brother officers, promise to make this council one of the busy bees in the local hive. A workingman's letter through the press, complaining of harsh treatment at the hands of official city servants, came in for much discussion. The census of opinion held at that every citizen was entitled to fair play and was entitled to a just portion of the city work, but also opinionated that the said officials were entitled to a fair share. To this a committee will probe the affair. The council invites correspondence and any help or censure that is pleasing to those who wish to kick.

The barber stated he did not object to his employee's taking this half day, but he couldn't afford to if it objected to unions looking after his estate. Two other master barbers who insist on gazing at things from the same tree-top are also on the unfair list.

CLEVER PUPILS

Brantford Young Ladies Are Winners of Scholarships at the Collegiate.

The scholarships awarded in June Upper School Examinations have been announced and the results are very congratulatory to the Collegiate staff and the pupils concerned. The value of the first scholarship is $100, the second $60, and the third $40. The announcement has been delayed somewhat owing to the necessity of the Government considering the question of supplementing the amount of interest accrued from the bequest. This year the interest amounted to only 2 per cent. of the sum required to pay the scholarships in full, but the government made a loan of $1000 to the trustees. Dr. Pynes states, however, that in subsequent years the interest available from the bequest will be sufficient to pay the scholarships in full. The following are the winners: The Army Medical Corps of which Jav Mott, of this city is a member, and which is now stationed at Hamilton, leaves the Ambitious City to-day take up its training quarters with the second contingent at Toronto. NOW IN TORONTO. Armen Amirkhanian, the local Armenian Missionary, left Brantford this morning for St. Catharines, where he will adjust some Armenian differences in that centre.

ORANGE CONCERT. Loyal Orange Lodge No. 742, Brantford, held in their rooms on Tuesday night a concert, over which Mayor John Spence presided. It was an enthusiastic and jolly gathering and one of the best nights ever held under such auspices. The program was patriotic and lengthy. Mr. A. Smith had quite an ovation on his singing of the "Call of the Motherland," and he replied with an encore. Other items were, "A's a long way to Tipperary!" by Mr. Ramsbottom, an enthusiastic and splendid style by Mr. Lamb. The most interesting feature of the evening, however, was Mayor Spence's reading of a letter received from a reservist who left the city at the outbreak of the war. It was a diary of his movements from that time till October 14, and was listened to with close attention. Mr. Henry Fielding then objected with a stirring recitation, "Ballaclava," and the concert closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

(Continued from Page 1) along the mist-covered Thames to Blackfriars Bridge. The three bridges over the river commanding the route of march were massed with crowds, but it was with great difficulty that they could see the procession in the avenue below, because of the rain and heavy fog.

The pipers of the London Scottish, followed by a battalion of that regiment, led the procession, in which the Guards and battalions of naval detachments preceded the Indian battery. After came the carriers and porters, a battery of the Royal Horse Artillery, while three battalions of cavalry, all in field khaki, brought up the rear of the military escort.

Long before the time fixed for the commencement of the funeral services the vast cathedral slowly filled up. The strains of the Dead March to Saul, accompanied by the booming of guns, announced the approach of the funeral procession. The gloomy solemnity of the cathedral was intensified by the fog, which drifted in when the great doors were opened to admit the procession.

King George was met at the south door of the Cathedral by the Bishop of London, and the Cathedral clergy met by them conducted to the altar by the Duke of Wellington, more than sixty years ago.

The last act after the blessing had been given by the archbishop of Canterbury, was a proclamation of the late Field Marshal's titles by the Garter-king-at-arms. Then followed Chopin's funeral march and as the trumpeters of the Royal Artillery sounded "God Save the King," the vast assembly slowly dispersed.

LONDON, Nov. 19, 12.12 p.m.—The body of Field Marshal Lord Roberts, borne on a gun carriage, moved slowly through the streets of London to-day to its last resting place in St. Paul's Cathedral. The streets were lined with troops, while hundreds of thousands of civilians stood with bared heads as the funeral cortege went by.

SUMMARY

(Continued from Page 1) Russian military officials admit a reverse in this territory, and Berlin is celebrating a great victory said to have been won, but the meagreness of authentic information from the front makes it impossible to determine the extent or importance of the German successes.

Refugees from Belgium state that West Flanders, which is virtually cut off from the rest of the world, continues to be the scene of incessant military operations. They speak of an inferno of shot and shell, and the grim reports of continuous cannonading and endless processions of the wounded.

The sound of cannonading off the coast of Sweden, in the Baltic Sea was reported. It was thought possible that the main Russian fleet, which recently set sail from Helsingfors, Finland, might have engaged the Germans. The general staff of the Russian army, which invaded Turkey, announces that the advance of the Turks has been checked, and their troops which have been successfully pursuing the Russian advance guards, are now in retreat.

Music and Drama

At the Colonial for Wednesday and Thursday is a program of unique power and strong dramatic caste. "Clothes," and it can be safely said to be one of the strongest moves in the assaulting of the "smart set" and their fallacies. New York and the West are the scenes of this drama of vanity, villainy and, of course, happy lovers.

Major John Allan, Conservative, was elected to the Ontario Legislature for West Hamilton by a majority of only 39 over Walter R. Rollo, Independent Labor candidate, in the bye-election occasioned by Col Hendrie's appointment as Lieutenant-Governor.

THE SITUATION

Today's news upsets the rather disquieting information which was received yesterday—that the Germans were again making a strong advance in Russian Poland, and that this attack in strong force would prevent the Czar's armies from continuing their good work in East Prussia and Galicia.

Map-making firms are said to have been forced to suspend business on account of the war. In reality there is another map-making firm—Joffre, French and Duke Nicholas—who have monopolized the business.

Germany is putting submarines together at Zebrugge for use against Britain. The importance of keeping the enemy out of Calais and Dunkirk looms up now larger than ever, because there will soon be over a million troops to transport to France.

"dead," shows how little chagrin the intervention of the Porte really caused them. It was a welcome addition to their "bill-of-fare"—that is all. "Ho! Ho!" we can imagine them crying. "This is fatter than we hoped."

Turkey has voluntarily placed its rich and tempting territory among the spoils of war. As for Turkey, her attack on Egypt has not yet materialized.

The part played by airmen in the present war is the outstanding feature of the struggle. In the first six weeks of the war the British airmen accompanied the troops at the front some 87,000 miles.

THE BUSINESS OUTLOOK Springfield Republican: The predictions are growing more optimistic. "The United States is on the verge of the greatest prosperity the country has ever known."

FIGHTING TUBERCULOSIS New York Press: If there is one disease above others where medicines are futile and recovery depends upon leaving the body free to fight its own battles with death, it is tuberculosis.

BEGONE DER KAISER. Der Kaiser got him well prepared. To make dot Europe hretty scared; He swooped him down upon her gates. I'll stop not for den dousand fates.

Der Kaiser den said in despair. His horned moustache—majestic hair; With bully pictured on his face, By Gott! We'll surely win dis race.

To Paris we'll mak sprightly bounds. List to red din! My army hounds! We'll be in Paris too leedle soon. For either French or Belgian tune. But hark! What monster's that I hear?

Mine head is getting awful queer. Mit horns in earth and tail in air! That must be John Bull coming there.

'Tis surely, John! Go stop him quick; He's got his gun, his sword, his pick; For everything goes with a throb. When John Bull's on the job.

Get 'round, my Germans, boldly bound; And make those Allied forces rebound; Dare stand before my marshalled hosts; We're due in Paris, drinking toasts.

Before John Bull's awake, my boys! We'll make their battlements mere toys. When Krupp and Zeppelin both get there, They'll make Old Uncle John Bull stare!

But don't be too sure, Kaiser Bill; Before you're through, you'll get your fill. 'Cause John Bull's 'got his mad up' now. And right through everything he'll blow.

Call halt! I say, you've passed the Somme; You're organization's on the bomb! 'Tis fleet 'advance, yes doubly fleet, Now, Kaiser Bill, how 'st on retreat!

The little Admiral you must try. For Britain's navy's yet to die, Before on British soil your foot Can ever tread or whims take root.

All business too is at a stand In Belgium, France and Everyland, But misery's yell will greatest be 'In Turkey, Austria, Germany!

Brave Belgium's suffered endless wrongs, By three, dire Kaiser—"Hammer and tongue," But in the end we hope to see, Justice, handed out to thee.

Thou blackavised, conceited Krupp, Where 'st thou raised 'O, where brought up? 'Must 'been 'round camp fires' blazing glow. Begone! Black Kaiser down below!

And take with thee thy wizard charm, Thy sounding umbral's false alarm Thy Death Head's, Krupp's, thy Tu-bal Cain, And say, you ne'er come back again. Remembered not for goodness wrought, But for the misery thou hast brought.

To old and young, to great and small, May God soon hasten thy downfall. —W. N. C. Brantford, Nov. 17, 1914.

LITTLE HOLLAND HAVING TROUBLES ALL ITS OWN

Neutrality Hard to Enforce Where the Belligerents Are So Close.

THE HAGUE, via London Nov. 18.—Holland's difficult position as a result of the European war is shown by one week's reports from the coast and frontiers.

Over one hundred bodies, presumably of British sailors from sunken warships, have been washed ashore and buried with military honors.

Along the southern frontier nearly 900 Belgians, who had been hiding from the Germans surrounded by the Dutch army.

They crossed the frontier in civilian clothes and then put on their uniforms, which they carried in bags and claimed protection in the Dutch international detention camps saying that otherwise they would starve.

Since the beginning of the cold weather a dozen Germans have crossed into Holland, surrendered their arms and been sent to the detention camps.

On November 17 an apparently damaged war balloon floating at a great height passed over the southern provinces and disappeared in an easterly direction.

BARON CONGLETON KILLED Was a Lieutenant in the Grenadier Guards Regiment

LONDON, Nov. 19.—According to casualty lists dated Nov. 11, 12 and 13, 25 officers have been killed and 53 wounded. Fourteen officers are reported missing.

Among the killed is Henry Bligh Fortescue Parnell, fifth Baron Congleton, a lieutenant in the Grenadier Guards.

PORTUGUESE AT FRONT Lisbon Newspapers Say Further Reinforcements will Sail Next Week

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Portuguese newspapers arriving in New York again assert that a portion of the Portuguese army is at the front.

It is now stated that additional preparations are being made and that the first army corps is to sail from Lisbon within a week.

Major-General, the Hon. Sam Hughes, in a characteristic speech described Toronto's mobilization as "ridiculous nonsense."

Sir Nigel

By A. Conan Doyle Copyright, 1905, 1906, by A. Conan Doyle.

"Give yourself time, good Master Wintorsole, give yourself time!" said Chandos in a soothing voice.

"What of the papers, my worthy sir?" "I swear by our good patron Saint Leonard, it is no fault of mine!

"I don't not, Master Mayor, that you are an excellent fishmonger; but the matter concerns the papers I gave into your keeping. Where are they?"

"Alas! I know not. It was but for as long as you would say an angelus that I left the chamber, and when I came back there was the coffee, broken and empty, upon my table."

"There was a varlet who hath come with the last few days in my employ. He is not to be found, and I have sent horsemen along both the Udmore road and that of Rye, that they may seize him. By the help of Saint Leonard they shall scarce miss him, for one can tell him a bow-shot off by his hair."

"Is it red?" asked Chandos eagerly. "Is it fox-red, and the man a small man pocked with warts and very quick in his movements?"

"It is the man himself." Chandos shook his clenched hand with annoyance, and then set off swiftly down the street.

"I will join you there, fair sir, and with the help of Saint Paul I will bring this Red Ferret with me."

"Aboard, aboard! Time passes!" cried Badding impatiently, while already his seamen were hauling on the ropes, and raising the mainsail.

"There was a cry of anger from the crowd, for Badding was the hero of all the Cinque Ports and had never yet met his match in manhood.

"You have fairly won your place, archer," said he. "You are the very man for our work. Where is Black Simon of Norwiche?"

"Who is warden here?" asked Chandos, springing from his horse.

"A moment later a short swarthy man, bull-necked and deep-chested, pushed through the people. He was clad in rough russet wool with a scarlet cloth tied round his black curly head.

"How now, gentles, will you never wait your turn?" he rumbled in a deep angry voice. Can you not see that we are warping the Rose of Guineen into midstream for the abbott? Is this a time to break in upon us? Your goods will go aboard in due season, I promise you; so ride back into the town and find such pleasure as you may, while I and my mates do our work without let or hindrance."

"It is the gentle Chandos!" cried some one in the crowd. "It is the good Sir John."

"The tough harbor-master changed his gruffness to smiles in an instant. "Nay, Sir John, what would you? I pray you to hold me excused if I was short of speech, but we port-wardens are sore plagued with foolish young lordlings, who get betwixt us and our work and blame us because we do not turn an ebb-tide into a flood, or a south wind into a north."

"I pray you did any man join her at the very last?" "Nay, I know not. I saw no one."

"There was a rush for the boat; but the stout little seaman picked his men. "Go back, Jerry! Your heart is good, but you are overfat for the work. You, Luke, and you, Thomas, and the French, and William, and William, do it. All it needs is a little, quiet and persistent campaign right in a man's own family. And the time to begin it is—Now."

AFRAID SHE WAS DYING

Suffered Terribly Until She Took "Fruit-a-tives"

ST. JEAN DE MATHA, JAN. 27th, 1914. "After suffering for a long time with Dyspepsia, I have been cured by 'Fruit-a-tives'. I suffered so much that I would not dare eat for I was afraid of dying. Five years ago, I received samples of 'Fruit-a-tives'. I did not wish to try them for I had little confidence in them but, seeing my husband's anxiety, I decided to do so and at once I felt relief. Then I sent for three boxes and I kept improving until I was cured. While sick, I lost several pounds, but after taking 'Fruit-a-tives', I quickly regained what I had lost. Now I eat, sleep and digest well—in a word, I am completely cured, thanks to 'Fruit-a-tives'."

MADAM M. CHARBONNEAU "Fruit-a-tives" is the greatest stomach tonic in the world and will always cure Indigestion, Sour Stomach, "Heartburn", Dyspepsia and other Stomach Troubles.

UNITED STATES IS NOT LOOKING FOR ANY TROUBLE

Secretary Daniels Believes That Turks Who Fired Were Friendly.

(By Special Wire to the Courier) WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Definite details of the adventure of the cruiser Tennessee in the Gulf of Smyrna were eagerly awaited to-day by administration officials, who remained confident that the affair probably would be adjusted through channels of diplomacy.

Embassador Morgenthau had been directed to inquire of the Turkish Government why land forces had fired on the Tennessee and her sister ship, North Carolina, in nearby waters.

President Wilson was determined that the United States should not become involved in trouble with Turkey, and confidence was expressed that if the Turkish officers had acted without authority of their government, or the firing was unjustifiable by naval procedure, that the Porte would apologize.

Secretary of the Navy Daniels summed up his view of the incident by declaring he believed that the firing was intended as a friendly warning to prevent the launch from entering mined waters.

"I believe that when Captain Decker's report is received it will prove that the firing was a friendly, and not an unfriendly, act," said the Secretary. "Reports that the waters of Smyrna harbor are mined indicate that the shots were fired to warn the vessel against the danger of mines which it might have come into contact with had it entered the harbor."

When the new cruiser advanced by Mr. Daniels was that the port had been officially closed, and that the approach of the vessel caused the guns of the forts to sound a warning to prevent it from trespassing. The Tennessee to-day was at Scio (Chios), in the Aegean Sea, from where Captain Decker, commencing at 1:30 p. m. sharp, the following goods: 1 kitchen table, 1 walnut sideboard, antique, 1 oak sideboard, 2 dressers, 2 commodes, 1 cupboard, 1 devonport, leather covered, 1 parlor table, five dining room chairs, 1 leather bed, 1 hall rack, 1 closed-toe gas range, 1 small table, 1 oak library table, three kitchen chairs, 1 oak southerner coal heater, 1 large coal heater, 1 magic steel range, 1 cupboard, glass doors, 1 green rug 10x12, 1 child's iron crib, 1 famous active coal range with reservoir, 1 leather suit case and other articles; also a quantity of clothing and shoes, on Friday next, November 20th, at 417 Colborne street, opposite Alexandra church, at 1:30 p. m.
