TERRIBLE TORNADO

Leaves Death and Destruction In Its Path Through the South.

MANY SECTIONS MUCH DEVASTATED.

Storm Extended From California to Tennessee.

NO HOPE FOR SENATOR DAVIS

Tupper Predicts Short Life for Laurier Government—Says Race Cry Will Disrupt Liberal Party.

Memphis, Nov. 21, via Skagway, Nov. 29.—One of the most terrific storms known in the history of the country swept over this country today, the trend being from west to east. The damage done cannot yet be estimated, but in this city the deaths are estimated at 50, while the loss to property will exceed half a million dollars. Buildings were blown down and bridges, culverts and railroads were swept away all over Tennessee, Mississippi and Arkansas.

Many Killed.

Nashville, Nov. 21, via Skagway, Nov. 29.—The Associated Press reports say all the wires are down and storm returns are hard to get. The Courier's telephone service from 12 towns near Nashville give the number killed out right at 64 and the number injured, many fatally, at 32.

Storm at Denver.

Denver, Nov. 21, via Skagway, Nov. 29.—The worst storm that ever visited Colorado swept over the state today. Wires are down and all railroads are blocked.

At Colorado Springs.

Colorado Springs, Nov. 21, via Skagway, Nov. 29.—The storm created havoc in this city. The electric light plant is badly damaged and the city is in total darkness. All wires are down except one to Denver. Railroad traffic is suspended and the outlook is very gloomy. The air is thick with flying debris and the storm is not yet over. The estimated loss is upwards of $100,000.

At San Francisco.

San Francisco, Nov. 21, via Skagway, Nov. 29.—For a time here today the velocity of the wind was 42 miles an hour and much rain fell. Telegraphic communication was cut off for several hours. All railroad tracks are flooded and traffic is suspended. Only small damage was done to buildings.

Senator Davis Dying.

St. Paul, Nov. 21, via Skagway, Nov. 29.—There is no hope for the recovery of Senator Davis and his death is liable to occur at any hour.

Awaiting Kruger.

Marseilles, Nov. 22, via Skagway, Nov. 29.—The steamer Gelderland, with Kruger on board, is entering the harbor. Thirty thousand people are awaiting his arrival.

War Revenue Reduced.

Washington, Nov. 21, via Skagway, Nov. 29.—Republican members of the ways and means committee are making splendid progress in amending the war revenue law, and it now looks as though the reduction will amount to $30,000,000 per annum.

Sir Tupper's Views.

Vancouver, Nov. 21, via Skagway, Nov. 29.—Sir Charles Tupper, in an interview in the Victoria Colonist respecting a leader for the Conservative party, says a selection may be made soon although nothing will probably be done in the matter until after parliament meets. Tupper does not think the Laurier government will be long in power. Tupper says:

"The defeat of the Liberals in Ontario was a terrible blow to them. I have just heard that we have a majority in Prince Edward Island and accounts may change Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, where there are grave charges of fraud. The race cry is bound to disintegrate the Liberal party. Laurier, who is a Frenchman and a Catholic, started the race cry, but he will find that playing with fire at a time when social passion is flaming and rumors are spreading is very dangerous practice."

New York Horse Show.

New York, Nov. 22, via Skagway, Nov. 29.—New York's great annual horse show is now on, having opened on the 19th.

Hockey Match

Yesterday afternoon another hockey match was played at the big rink on Fourth avenue. A regular Thanksgiving crowd was present and in spite of the cold the onlookers entered heartily into the spirit of the game. There were about 260 present, much enthusiasm being manifested.

The game was called at 2:15, Miller of the A. E. Co. acting as referee.

The two teams lined up as follows: Timmons, goal; Kennedy, point; Barclay, cover point; Stevenson, Nash, Watt, Tiffin, forwards, with Tiffin as captain. Marsden, goal; Bell, point; Young, cover point; Patterson, McLennan, Treneman and Martin, forwards, under McLennan as captain.

The two teams were pretty evenly matched and the play was good throughout.

Four quarters of 15 minutes each were played, resulting in a score of nine each. At the conclusion of the match public skating began, although most of the spectators preferred to seek a place to get warm after watching the game.

A Haunted Place.

Southeastern Alaska has her "Lost Rocker" legend and the Yukon, according to recent arrivals from the north, is puzzling over the alleged nocturnal rambles of a ghost of a murdered man in the Forty-mile district. Following the excitement incident to the discovery of Bonanza bar and the sensational riches of Franklin gulch came the murder of an old Frenchman named Lasalle. Tanana Indians committed the crime in 1886. They crossed over to Forty-mile, murdering Lasalle in his cabin at the mouth of O'Brien creek. With axes and bludgeons the old man's head was literally beaten into a pulp.

This was in the fall of that year. Ever since the murder the residents have had an uneasy feeling regarding that cabin, and several have testified that they have heard strange noises in one of the rooms and seen things happen that had no earthly origin.—Great Falls (Mont.) Tribune.

Bought a Mine.

M. C. White, C. White, C. H. Maas, M. F. Madson, all employes of the Ames Mercantile Co., have formed a pool and purchased the hillside claim, 39 above Bonanza. The mine will be operated this winter and a considerable amount of dirt will be taken out for next summer's sluicing.

Mumm's, Pomeroy or Perinet champagnes $5 per bottle at the Regina Club hotel.

O'Brien In Court

George O'Brien, the man whose name for nearly a year past has been known in the Yukon in connection with the murder of Clayson, Reife and Olsen, which wholesale murder is known for a certainty to have occurred at a point on the Yukon river a short distance above Minto on last Christmas day, is to again appear in police court this afternoon, the hour set being 3 o'clock. Whether or not new evidence will be introduced at the hearing this afternoon is not known, but a "tip" was given that something sensational will be brought out. The delay in the hearing of the case in which grave suspicion rests upon O'Brien, has been due to the absence of and prolonged search for a person who is believed to be a very important witness for the prosecution. These delays are not usual in the meting out of British justice, and to the fact that delays are the exception and not the rule is doubtless due the fact that the Klondike is the most law-abiding mining country known in modern history. It may be that the events of this afternoon will be such as will enable the hastening of the case of O'Brien to its final hearing.

A Masculine Affair.

A Thanksgiving dinner was celebrated yesterday by six of Dawson's lonely bachelors, at J. F. Duffy's cabin on Third street. The participants were J. F. Duffy, J. McLaughlin, T. W. Grennan, R. S. Brown and C. J. Gillan. McLaughlin was chosen cook for the occasion and did remarkably well, serving turkey, roast pork, assorted pies and all the accessories of a swell dinner with that peculiar deftness only gained by long experience in the Klondike. Tom Grennan was the toastmaster and gave voice to some Chauncey Depew after dinner witticisms which were loudly applauded. The party adjourned at an early hour this morning to meet one year from date.

Elegantly furnished rooms with electric lights at the Regina Club hotel.

OFFICIAL CANVASS

Of Votes Cast at Recent Election Held Today at Noon by Sheriff.

NOEL SAVES HIS DEPOSIT MONEY

By Sixteen and a Half Votes—Wilson Outran His Ticket

WITH PRUDHOMME SECOND.

Little Interest Was Manifested in the Court Because the Final Result Had Been Long Known.

At last the ballot boxes are all in, and today when the noon gun shook the windows of the courthouse and everyone had put his watch back in his pocket, Sheriff Hilbeck, as returning officer, and his son Jack, as custodian of the sealed boxes, produced the keys and the long anticipated formality of counting the ballots officially commenced.

Mr. Prudhomme, now Councilman Prudhomme, was present, but his colleague, Mr. Wilson, was conspicuous by his absence, although Joe Clark was there to receive his certificate of election for him.

Beyond these two, the officials, two press representatives and Frank McQuillan, there was no one present which is easily accounted for by the fact that the result was so well known long ago that the official canvass was clothed with no uncertainty whatever. There were 16 boxes altogether and the returns from each is given as follows:

- Caribou—O'Brien 38, Noel 33, Wilson 5, Prudhomme 4.
  - Tagish—O'Brien 10, Noel 1, Wilson 5, Prudhomme 0.
  - Whitehorse—O'Brien 76, Noel 58, Wilson 15, Prudhomme 13.
  - Upper Lebarge—O'Brien 6, Noel 4, Wilson 1, Prudhomme 1.
  - Lower Lebarge—O'Brien 4, Noel 2, Wilson 3, Prudhomme 1.
  - Hootahinqua—O'Brien 1, Noel 4, Wilson 11, Prudhomme 7.
  - Big Salmon cast no votes at all.
  - Little Salmon—O'Brien 2, Noel 1, Wilson 3, Prudhomme 0.
  - Tantilus—O'Brien 2, Noel 1, Wilson 2, Prudhomme 1.
  - Five Fingers—O'Brien 3, Noel 1, Wilson 3, Prudhomme 2.
  - Hutchiku was, like Big Salmon, a blank.
  - Minto—O'Brien 4, Noel 0, Wilson 3, Prudhomme 2.
  - Selkirk—O'Brien 5, Noel 2, Wilson 3, Prudhomme 0.
  - Selwyn—O'Brien 4, Noel 3, Wilson 3, Prudhomme 2.
  - Ogilvie—O'Brien 3, Noel 0, Wilson 4, Prudhomme 1.
  - Fortymile—O'Brien 5, Noel 4, Wilson 5, Prudhomme 6.
- The final total of votes cast is 413, divided among the aspirants as follows: Wilson receives 147, Prudhomme, 120; O'Brien 875 and Noel 642.
- Mr. Wilson's majority is 542 and

THE TWENTIETH CENTURY.

With the passing of another thirty days, the year and the century will come to a close together. The past 100 years have witnessed more progress than was made in the preceding 500. What the twentieth century will bring forth is beyond the power of mortal man to foretell. The beginning will be fair with promise. The end may be anarchy and a lapse into barbarism. The civilization of the modern era is no more remarkable than has been the advancement attained in other periods of the world's history which have left nothing to us but marvelous traditions. Just at present we are on the highway of progress and traveling at a terrific pace, but on that very account the descent to Avernus will be swifter and easier than ever, should we happen to get turned in that direction.

The trend of events is toward the centralization of power and the concentration of wealth, both of which presage a clash of classes unless some equalizing force not now apparent is brought forward.

Our boast respecting the freedom and equality of all men may yet become nothing more than a boast, in which event disastrous results are certain to ensue. The twentieth century will call for the exhibition of statesmanship beyond what any previous era of the world's history has required.

If those good people on the outside who are prone to indulge in sympathetic speculation as to how it is possible for anyone to live in Dawson through one of those "terrible Klondike winters" and survive the awful effects of the class of food upon which we are popularly supposed to live, could really see how the average Dawsonite actually gets along, such sympathy would be short lived. As a matter of pure fact, this little Arcadia, up by the North Pole, has the best fed, most comfortably clad people on earth, when the community as a whole is considered.

Five days yet remain before the date upon which the Nugget's prize story contest terminates. Several contributions have already been received, and others, we are informed, are rapidly reaching completion and will be in within a day or two. We again urge upon all who intend entering the contest to take particular care that their manuscripts are handed in to the Nugget office on or before December 5, as none received after that date will be considered.

All the ballot boxes are in at last and a long waiting public now knows the exact result of the election which took place on October 17. We have been waiting with such a feeling of expectancy for Messrs. Prdhomme and Wilson to take their seats with the council that it rejoices us much to know that the season of anticipation is about to terminate. At last representative government is to be an accomplished fact.

Yesterday was Thanksgiving day, and very general observance of that fact was noticeable in Dawson, particularly among those who hail from the States.

The hockey game of the afternoon was a pleasant feature of the day, which was given over largely to quiet enjoyment. The fact that so many business houses closed their doors for the occasion was a graceful compliment which the American residents of Dawson highly appreciated.

St. Andrew's ball, Dawson's great society event, takes place tonight. Of all the affairs of the year in which our local four hundred participates St. Andrew's ball is the most elaborate. From all indications the preparations which have been made for celebrating the day of Scotia's patron saint, will far excel all past efforts put forth in Dawson on similar occasions.

Another terrible storm has swept over a large portion of Uncle Sam's domain, carrying death and destruction in its path. It appears to have covered the southern portion of the country with an impartial hand, leaving a trail hundreds of miles in width. We shall begin to think after a while that the Yukon is a pretty comfortable place of residence.

Hard luck stories and appeals for sympathy will always find a few listeners, no matter how insincere and dishonest the appeal may be. It does grate on one's nerves, though, to be asked to contribute a penny every day if the organ man never changes his tune.

The News is rapidly developing into an unmitigated nuisance.

Fortymile's Bright Future.
"There is not a creek in the whole Fortymile district which does not show some gold," said J. E. Snevely, deputy U. S. surveyor at Eagle, to a News representative. Mr. Snevely just came out from that prosperous American camp to spend a portion of the winter in this city and in doing some development work on some Muir glacier mining property.

"I do not mean," he continued, "that gold in paying quantities will be found on every stream, but the fact that it is distributed over the entire district is a very favorable sign. Although comparatively an old district and prospected by many men, there are miles of creeks which have never yet been scratched.

"If the prospecting had been systematic instead of haphazard, the result would have been the same, for the number of men has not been sufficient to cover such an extent of country.

"Eagle City is prospering in a steady way and many of the creeks in the district are paying well. Gold Run, on Slate creek, Hutchison, Mission, Chicken, Franklin and a number of others are producing. On Mission an English syndicate has 50 men employed. O'Brien creek is being prospected with favorable results. Next season will see a marked increase in the mineral development of the district.

"The presence of the military forces, with the improvements they are making to Fort Egbert, adjoining the townsite, adds life and bustle to the place.

"The trade of the Fortymile district is already large, and Skagway, in her efforts to secure the interior trade, can well afford to make friendly overtures for the trade of that section. The N. A. T. & T. Co., the A. C. & S. and the A. E. Co. all have large stores and warehouses at Eagle and supply most of the mining camps."

In addition to his engineering and mining work, Mr. Snevely is a farmer and has an 80-acre ranch adjoining Eagle and near the river. He has 15 acres cleared and ready for the plow and has part of that under cultivation. As a specimen of what can be grown in the interior, he has brought out as fine a bunch of oats as could be wished for. The heads are long and heavy, and the grain is fully developed and ripe, falling from the heads when dried. Speaking of the farming future of the district, Mr. Snevely said:

"The time is not yet ripe to boom agriculture in interior Alaska. The success of the proposition so far as nature is concerned is not in doubt, but there are many difficulties yet to be overcome. The cost of clearing, preparing and plowing the ground is the first obstacle. Doubtless the production of hay and grain for feed will be the first form of farming to prove successful. In a few years all the hay consumed in the interior will be grown there without doubt, for the broad, fertile valleys of Alaska are well adapted to hay and grain raising. The enormous price to which hay is destined to go this winter will lead many people to consider the

Wants to Fight a Duel.
Chicago, Nov. 5.—A special to the Record from Pana, Ill., says: Judge Righter of Shelby county has received a letter from Ralph Corti, an Italian, asking permission to fight a duel with Peter Camali, a fellow-countryman, who, the former claims, stole $200 from his while working in the mines at Moweaqua last year. Corti begs that they may be permitted to step off ten paces and shoot at each other until one or the other falls dead.

A Painful Memory.
A lady who lives on Morgan street took her 5-year-old son to a photographer's to have his picture taken. She was anxious to secure a good likeness at this particular sitting because she wished to distribute the pictures among some friends who were then her guests.

The child's idea of the affair, however, did not apparently harmonize with that of his mother, for when the man with the camera began to adjust the lens and direct it toward little Edward that young person set up what was unquestionably a howl.

In vain did the mother call into use her utmost forensic abilities. Edward did not want his picture taken. "Why, my child," she said soothingly, "the gentleman won't hurt you. Just smile and keep still for a moment, and it will be all over before you know it."

"Yes, I know, mamma," whimpered the youth, with the tears running down his cheeks, "but that's what you told me at the dentist's."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Battle With Robbers.
Titusville, Pa., Nov. 21.—Three masked robbers blew open the safe at D. A. V. & P. railway ticket office late last night, but secured only about $20. The bandits then went to a disorderly house on East Spring street, and, on entering, presented revolvers and proceeded to relieve the proprietress and inmates of what valuables they had, reported as amounting to $7000 worth of jewels and $500 in cash. Chief of Police McGrath and Officer Sheehy attempted their arrest. A pitched battle ensued in which about 20 shots were fired, three of which struck Chief McGrath, one in the abdomen and two in the left shoulder. Officer Sheehy was shot in the mouth, the ball passing through the side of the neck and inflicting a dangerous wound. In the confusion the robbers escaped from the house. Later the dead body of one of the robbers was found two blocks from the scene of the combat, with a bullet through his breast.

Wrecked in a Hurricane.
Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 21.—News has been received here that the Philadelphia schooner William M. Bird, from Charleston, S. C., to New London, Conn., was wrecked in the hurricane off the Frying Pan shoals, North Carolina, and ten of the crew, including Capt. Barrett, perished.

Two survivors, George W. Loid, the mate, and George Robinson, seaman, have been landed at Salisbury, Md., by the schooner Samuel T. Beachem, from Jacksonville, Fla., which vessel rescued them on the afternoon of November 3, 29 miles southwest of the Frying Pan lightship.

The survivors had been without food or water for 90 hours and suffered great hardships, having chewed the leather of their shoes to keep from starving. They have not recovered sufficiently to tell just how their comrades perished, but they state in an incoherent manner that the lost men were swept off one by one from the wreck as their strength grew weaker and drowned.

The William M. Bird, as Capt. John Steelman, master of the Beachem, states, became waterlogged at 11 p. m. on October 30 and was a complete wreck five minutes afterward.

More Mail Coming.
Owing to the fact that no mail was reported as having recently passed Selwyn, the Nugget stated on Wednesday that there was no incoming mail this side of Selwyn. This was an error, as the mail is due at Dawson tonight, having left Ogilvie at an early hour this morning.

Manager Downing of the lower river mail route, dispatched 13 sacks of mail down the river Wednesday at noon and by this time the anxiety of the people at Fortymile and Eagle for mail has probably been appeased. Another down river consignment is expected soon and will be dispatched immediately on its arrival here.

THE SIEGE OF MAFEKING

The Most Interesting Episode of British-Boer War.

Lasted 217 Days and Both Sides Believed Well - Baden-Powell's Courage.

Mafeking's remarkable siege and defense lasted just 217 days. The town and its story will furnish one of the most interesting episodes of the history of the war. Gatacre's reverses, Buller's failures and Kimberley's famous mines did not divert attention from the gallant defense made by the handful of men at Mafeking under the command of Col. Baden-Powell.

The little half British, half Bechuana settlement in the north on the Transvaal border was in reality hardly worth the siege or the defense to either side. But it was attacked vigorously and defended valiantly.

On October 12, only two days after arrival in England of the Boer ultimatum, the burghers crossed the Transvaal border 40 miles south of the town and cut off railway and telegraphic communication. From that time the people of the place were compelled to subsist upon the stock of provisions in Mafeking at the beginning of the war. Baden-Powell's scouts and runners brought news to the outer world occasionally telling of attacks and repulses, of the suffering of the besieged and of hunger and sickness, but always with the word that the heroic commander could still hold out.

Two days after the siege began the Boers opened an attack, thinking they could take the city at once. They met with a bewildering repulse, which Baden-Powell described in the following message: "Fight Monday. All night."

After this the burghers settled down to a bombardment which lasted almost up to the very day when the town was reached by the relieving forces. After a few weeks of shelling and waiting a Boer messenger with a white flag approached the British works and asked for a surrender. Baden-Powell was sleeping when the messenger arrived. He was awakened at once, and after giving the Boer an excellent luncheon he told him to return to Gen. Cronje.

"Tell Cronje," said the undaunted colonel, "that when we have had enough we will send out to him and let him know."

About this time Reuter's correspondent wrote: "Col. Baden-Powell is always smiling. When the people see him walking down the street whistling they take heart."

After the return of their man the Boers were inactive for several weeks. Then the colonel sent them this message:

"You can't take us by sitting down out there. Why don't you come in and get us?"

This started up the bombardment again. Week after week the shells shrieked over Mafeking. The convent was hit, the hotel was hurt a little, and the famous dog was killed, but no British.

Early in the siege Baden-Powell's men made a few sorties and inflicted some damage with their bayonets. The children became so accustomed to shells that they watched for them to burst and then fought for possession of the fragments.

On December 26 Mafeking prepared a sortie and carried death up to the very trenches of the enemy. Capts. Vernon and Sanford were killed and Lords Edward Cecil and Charles Cavendish Bentiick were wounded.

On January 6 word came from Baden-Powell: "We are making up our minds to stick out as long as need be, and have food for another three months." Col. Baden-Powell must have figured in his horses and mules as available food supply, for Mafeking had soon to begin dieting on that kind of fare.

Toward the end of February, says the Chicago Times-Herald, the people of Mafeking began to feel the pinch of hunger, and to realize, what a siege really means. On February 19 it was reported that the garrisons had been placed on the shortest possible rations. By this time the besieged were growing accustomed to horse meat, and that, too, in small quantities. Everybody was fed, but nobody was surfeited.

Then began several relief movements toward the town, with the chief and successful one marching from the south. The last attempts of the Boers to take Mafeking was made on May 19, when they were repulsed with severe loss.

Most Popular Young Lady.

This evening at St. Andrew's ball the question of who is the most popular young lady in Dawson is to be decided by the raffle of a bracelet.

The bracelet has been donated by Jeweler Sale and the proceeds are to go to Mrs. O'Neil who was recently the victim of such a painful accident. Chances in the raffle will cost $1. It is a good cause and it is to be hoped will end very successfully.

OFFICIAL CANVASS.

that of his running mate 334.

It was thought by some that Mr. Noel would lose his deposit money but the figures show him to have saved it by 16 1/2 votes, which is what might be termed a near thing.

The returns from the other polling places were given at the time of the election and the official count of today shows them not to have varied.

Mr. Wilson and Mr. Prudhomme are now members of the Yukon council, and will probably take their seats with the remainder of that body at its next regular meeting which takes place next Thursday evening.

St. Andrews Ball Tonight.

All arrangements for St. Andrew's ball tonight are complete and youth and beauty, gallantry and charm, grace and gentility, starch and style will hold high carnival. Hundreds of tickets have been sold and the attendance will be large and select. The management has taken such steps as will exclude any and all objectionable persons and there need be no fears entertained that the affairs will not be all that it should be so far as caste is concerned.

The Savoy has been especially refitted for the occasion. All partitions on the first floor have been removed, the interior has been beautifully and artistically decorated, and all that remains is for the participants to arrive in ample time to take part in the grand march, which begins promptly at 9 o'clock.

A Disastrous Fire.

The fire which occurred at 1:30 o'clock yesterday morning in Mrs. O'Neil's store on Second avenue, and next door to the Dawson Hardware store, was of disastrous effect in that it not only destroyed goods in the store to the value of $2000, but almost resulted in Mrs. O'Neil being cremated in her bed. As it was she was very badly injured by the flames, being much burned on the arms, breast and face. She is now at the McDonald hotel and is today resting comparatively easy as compared with the manner in which she suffered yesterday and last night. Her attending physicians do not hesitate to state that she will recover, although progress will be necessarily slow and painful.

The fire laddies did noble work in extinguishing the flames, which were confined within the walls in which the fire started, the origin being a spark from the stove falling on a fur rug. Mrs. O'Neil, the unfortunate lady, is a pioneer in Dawson and to her is extended a great deal of sympathy in her trouble, and it is probable that something more substantial than mere sympathy will be extended in the near future.

Thought Himself to Death.

The startling fulfillment of the prediction of Mrs. Elizabeth Horstman of Nuhawaak, Ind., made last July, when she was apparently in the best of health, that she would die on August 30, has set the press once more to discussing the probability of premonition of death. Mrs. Horstman, who was related by marriage to Bishop Horstman of Cleveland, is said to have been a person of great piety. It is not known that she was of a melancholy or a superstitious disposition. Neither is anything known as to the motive that prompted her to make the gloomy prediction. It is known positively, however, that she made it, and that it was fulfilled to the letter.

There are, of course, numerous interpretations of this event. One of the commonest is that founded on the fatalist theory. Her day had been appointed, and she was informed of the time by some occult or supernatural agency. The spiritualist view, in its broadest sense, is hardly less common. She was advised by some departed near and dear one as to the time when she should die. The rational belief is that which is advanced by the Pittsburg Dispatch: Her death is clearly an example of the remarkable power which the mind exercises over the body.

It is known that fatal results followed the experiment of making a man believe that he had been lanced and was slowly bleeding to death. The story of the practical joke played by a lot of young French medical students on the janitor of their college is familiar. They accused him of some fictitious offense, gave him a mock trial, and sentenced him to death by decapitation. He was led to a block. Beside it was an ax. His upper body was bared and his eyes were bandaged. His head was forced down to the block. One of the students smote him across the neck with a wet towel and—he was dead. It is held that it was not the ill usage or the shock that killed him, but his firm conviction that his time had come.

There are many cases recorded in which people have predicted the time of their deaths, and Mrs. Horstman's seems not unlike the others of which a record has been kept.

The Savoy Decorated.

Those who go to St. Andrew's ball this evening either as participants or spectators have in store a very pleasant evening, not only in the matter of the dancing and refreshments, the piping and the marching, but in the handsome scene the Savoy interior will present. The committee on decorations were fortunate in securing the services of Mr. James Townsend as decorator and from the way the room looked this afternoon there is little doubt but that Mr. Townsend will acquit himself in his usual creditable manner.

The principal feature of the decorations will be two monster flags looking down upon the ball room from the front and sides of the stage. The American flag on the left and the Union Jack on the right. The different colors of the bars are lighted up by the correspondingly colored electric lights, and both flags are mounted upon poles formed of lights. The walls of the room are decorated with the flags of nations, and the fronts and sides of the two tiers of boxes are all profusely draped with flags and colors.

The stage will be occupied by the orchestra and behind the drop will be spread the tables. Other refreshments will be served on the second floor at the rear end of the balcony.

Ladies will find a dressing room on the left hand side of the hall leading from the balcony to the front of the building, and the gentlemen will be likewise accommodated on the opposite side of the hall, where checks will be issued for hats and wraps.

WAS A WARM IO ROUND GO

The Glove Contest at the Savoy Wednesday Night.

Delay In Starting Causes Spectators to Squirm and Say Naughty Things—It Was a Draw.

The Rafael-Carroll 10-round go was successfully pulled off at the Standard theater Wednesday night before a large number of spectators. Many people, however, who would have purchased tickets were not aware of the meeting as no announcement was made in the columns of the newspapers relative to the match. The go was supposed to start at 11 p. m., but was delayed until nearly 1 o'clock, much to the annoyance of the awaiting spectators, who gave evidence of their impatience in repeated calls for the mitted gentry. Eddie O'Donnell was appointed referee and W. H. B. Lyons timekeeper.

Immediately after the men entered the ring and were introduced to the audience in the regulation style, O'Donnell announced a challenge from the Colorado Kid to the winner of the contest. Vincent White, who is to fight Slavin in the near future was then introduced. In the meantime the onlookers were busy sizing up the two men. Carroll appearing much heavier, some 15 pounds. Rafael looked closer knit and quicker. Both men were in fine condition and stood the rapid pace all through ten rounds of heavy fighting remarkably well.

At the call of time both men came quickly to the center of the ring, Rafael the aggressor, Carroll giving ground until his corner was reached when he rushed, Rafael getting away easily; two more rushes by Carroll followed, ending in clinches. Rafael led with right and drove left in strong on Carroll's wind, Carroll then got in right on jaw a stiff punch, both men coming together in a clinch. Carroll rushed and in the clinch slipped to the floor, where he stayed until the count of seven. Rafael then drove in right swing on jaw followed by a left. Carroll rushed and clinched at call of time.

Rafael in the first round having found Carroll's wind followed it up in all the following rounds when the opportunities came up. Carroll also found a favorite place to land, he driving in his right repeatedly on Rafael's heart.

The second round was almost a duplication of the first, only Carroll here found his opening on the heart which he got in twice. Towards the close of the round after a rush by Carroll, Rafael left an opening with both hands down which, if taken advantage of, might have terminated the go instantly, but Carroll for some unexplained reason did not drive in on his man. At call of time in this round Carroll was strong and a possible winner. In this round Rafael slipped to the floor twice.

Immediately at call of time in the third Carroll rushed Rafael, who slipped and by the impact of Carroll's rush fell heavily to the floor, breaking through the stage with part of his anatomy protruding towards the depths below. Both men were ordered to their corners by O'Donnell until repairs were made, when the round was started anew. Carroll continued his rushing in this and all subsequent rounds, with Rafael doing the leading.

Until the end of the ninth round it was anybody's battle, with both men comparatively strong. In the tenth Rafael went in to finish, swinging lefts and rights and driving in straight jabs, Carroll getting groggy at every punch and an evident loser if the pace continued, but time was called as Carroll was staggering from a heavy right swing. O'Donnell declared the go a draw. The men will probably meet again in the near future. During this round great excitement prevailed owing to the repeated fire alarms from the A. C. Co.'s whistle, many people rushing through the ropes, while the men were fighting, to leave the stage as it was thought that a serious conflagration was in progress.

Wade Has Troubles of His Own.

Although a crown prosecutor has the advantage of being at liberty to tell his troubles to a policeman, which privilege is supposed in a large measure to mitigate the pain of many unpleasant things, still there are things, even in the life of a crown prosecutor, which cannot be laid to rest in this way, and troubles arising from the recently installed telephone in the home of F. C. Wade is the source of one of these troubles.

"When the telephone was new in the house," said Mr. Wade yesterday, after he had been called away some four or five times by the telephone bell, "I waked one morning with the sound of its bell ringing in my ears, and heard Mrs. Wade telling someone over the wire that I was asleep, but that when I got up she would have me ring him up. I got up presently and went to the telephone. I turned the bell handle and waited, and after a time spent in breathless expectation of hearing a hello in response to my ring I rang again and waited some more.

"Then I went away and finished dressing, so as to give the operator in the central station time to decide on whether to answer me or not, and went to the box on the wall once more. "This time I rang and waited till my left ear turned cold from pressing the transmitter against it, and when I rang a wheel of blue sparks marked the radius of the bell handle, but I got no response. No sound came from within the thing I was pressing against my ear, but finally I thought I heard the suspicion of a laugh about the house, and being somewhat anxious to learn just where the fun came in, I turned from the deceitful phone to learn what it was all about.

"The whole family was laughing at me. Why? Because that telephone had only been fastened to the wall the evening before, and had not been connected with the wires."

Harry Edwards' Latest.

The trip of Mr. McLeod and Pilot McKinnon that was never completed to Dominion, and which has been thus far enveloped in that delightful veil of mystery which cover without altogether concealing, bids fair to become the theme of story, song, and art for years to come, if indeed, it does not become a part and parcel of the history of the country.

Practically all that is needed now to fulfill the foregoing prediction is for some poet-musician to give it voice. The story, so far as known, has been told and Artist Harry Edwards is at work on a picture commemorating the affair.

The central figure of the canvas is the equine source of much of the trouble which occurred on the memorable occasion depicted, and standing on either side of the noble descendant of the historic steed of Tam O'Shanter, are represented the victims of misplaced confidence, each expressing his views of the proper direction to be taken to arrive at Dominion, by pointing, one towards Whitehorse and the other in the direction of West Dawson.

From the dejected air worn by both gentlemen, and the decided stand of the animal, one has little difficulty in imagining how it happened.

Will Move Sunday.

The government telegraph office will on Sunday be moved from its present quarters, its home since the line first came into Dawson, to the new postoffice building, where it will be permanently located. The new quarters are commodious and much nearer to the business part of the city, on which account the move will be highly appreciated by the patrons of the company.

POLICE COURT NEWS.

Capt. Scarth was busy in the police court Wednesday afternoon, disposing of cases up for hearing.

The principal case, and the one occupying the most time, was that of Wm. Butler, a dispenser of fire water behind the bar of the Dewey hotel at the Forks, who was accused by one Christopher O'Toole of having despoiled him of $563 in good money of the realm. Mr. O'Toole, according to the tale he unfolded, had gone to the Dewey hotel one afternoon not long since and had two drinks and some conversation with Mr. Butler. Then he had inquired for one of the sprightly soubrettes resident in the hotel, who glories in the name of Marguerite. The obliging Mr. Butler went so far out of his way as to act as the O'Toole escort to the bower of Marguerite, and once there Mr. O'Toole seems to have been so overjoyed at the meeting that he got gay, generous and lastly drunk as a result. Whether it was the brandy which he drank first, or the smiles of the lady which he took in combination with the liquid refreshments which acted upon Mr. O'Toole, deponent sayeth not, but certain it is that the evidence goes to show that he told Marguerite that she could have anything she wanted, and, as her tastes are extravagant, with a strong leaning towards champagne (at the O'Toole expense) she touched the button and Mr. Butler brought wine. Many bottles were carried up to room No. 8, so many in fact that all parties seemed a little hazy in their recollection as to the exact number. At all events, after some time spent in the hilarities which the occasion demanded, and after Mr. O'Toole had done his best to reduce the violent attack of soubrette thirst from which he found the fair Marguerite suffering, he became weary and made known his desire to sleep. It then appears that both Marguerite and the solicitous Butler advised him to put his money away in a place of safety, because the room door could not be fastened. He counted out upon the lap of Marguerite $160, which Butler put away for him and gave him a receipt for. He testified that he knew nothing at all about the receipt or when he went there he had $670 in good chequako money and that was about 3 or 4 o'clock in the afternoon. When he waked he wondered where he was at; saw that it was 11 o'clock, and that all his wealth had departed from him. He told how he had carried his store of legal tender in a large poke and how a $100 bill had become stained, and gave a fairly good description of it. There were fifties and tens also, and after Attorney McKay had submitted to his honor that there was no evidence strong enough to warrant him in placing his client, Mr. Butler, upon trial, and Attorney McKay had submitted that the evidence was quite strong, Magistrate Scarth decided to have the accused appear before the next sitting of the territorial court for the hearing of criminal cases.

Magistrate Scarth occupied the bench in police court this morning.

Two years have passed since Adolph and Hilda Kruesner linked their destinies and launched that matrimonial bark on matrimony's placid, and otherwise, sea. A little son, in due time, came to gladden the Kruesner home and until the past few days the angel of peace has hovered over them. But on Tuesday of this week a cloud arose over a little matter of money. Hilda accused Adolph of stealing some nuggets from her and Adolph seized her by the neck, choked her, tossed her upon the bed and went out. The next morning the trouble was renewed and Hilda was again choked. This time she became hysterical and Adolph called in a doctor to revive her. Hilda recovered and had Adolph arrested for assault. Her story this morning did not materially differ from that given by his wife through an interpreter. The court explained to him that it is in bad form for a man to lick his wife and gave him seven days in the guard house to reflect and repent his rashness. Hilda smiled benignly when her liege lord was marched over to the "repository."

The complaint against W. Barrett by the proprietor of the Allman bath house was withdrawn at plaintiff's request. Mr. Barrett states that he objected to the accommodations at the bath house and after tendering payment for the bath, which he did not take, prepared to depart. The plaintiff, his wife, endeavored to forcibly restrain him and a struggle ensued which made the basis of the complaint.
