A Wise Request.

Recently in London, the Lord Mayor, addressing a public meeting on some of the many questions that come under the head of National Service, spoke of the duty owed to the young soldier particularly. He asked that private homes be opened for their use, that homes where these boys might learn something of the better side of life than is possible in barracks or in training camps; be ragged, that good food, proper amusements, opportunities to see a little more of life than to that from which many of the soldiers had to come, to obtain good books, in a word the Lord Mayor asked that these boys should not be allowed to develop idle, useless habits while in the service of the country. The Lord Mayor recognized a very serious menace to the young manhood of the Empire, and his attempt to better the condition of the military service as regards the leisure of the young soldier should be widely supported. Thousands of students have left the colleges with their education incomplete; men who were just at the bottom of a professional career have given up most willingly every prospect of attainment, and cheerfully accepted all sorts of discomfort that they might serve in the vast army of the allied nations. The physical discomfort is the smallest part of the matter, although there is more than a word to be said regarding the breaking of a soldier in training because of a lack of proper housing facilities, decent food, or proper medical attendance. These things, however, are not the things the Lord Mayor had in mind, but rather the danger of mental dissolution because of insufficient attention. It is a very real danger to the young man, and it is only right that some adequate opportunity for proper recreation, for a little study, for something that will raise the daily life above the level of mere physical existence, is due to these young soldiers of to-day who, in all probability, will be the citizens of to-morrow. If they are to return to the homes they have left less vigorous in body those scars will be honorable; if to the less able body is added a mental inability because of the idle habits acquired while in training, the latter will be a permanent handicap.

Silent Bidders.

There are many methods in auction rooms whereby well known bidders signify to the auctioneer their intention of increasing the last bid made without any verbal notification. One of these methods, which is very generally used, is that of a bidder placing a card on the table, or a small object, or a third tickle himself behind the right or left ear. It is a fact that one of the richest buyers in a certain western auction room intimates that he has reached his limit by the polishing of his eye-glasses, while another, adopting the most nonchalant attitude, as if he were really not bidding at all, but casually examining the goods, gives the signal by the opening and snuffing of his nose. In the case of his gold hunting watch, as if he were just glancing at the time.

Don't Be Dyspeptic.

The dyspeptic has thought only of the stomach when the real source of trouble is the Liver, Kidneys and Bowels. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills thoroughly cleanse and purify the digestive and excretory system and in this way put the organs of digestion into splendid working condition. A little patient urging on these organs when sluggish will restore the habit of healthful digestion.

A Centenarian.

David Kenney, aged nearly 102 years, has left his home in Dartmouth to go on a fishing trip to Sheet Harbor, where a number of his sons reside. Mr. Kenney lived in the times when Napoleon was endeavoring to conquer the world and says, "Not only do I expect to live to see the complete overthrow of the Kaiser, but if the recruiting officers would take me on I'd like to go over and help to thrash the Hun to a finish."

Flag Funerals.

Britain is the only country which allows its historical flags to go into the pawnshop or auction room. One such flag, after having waved over 300 p. f. for three years during the siege of Gibraltar, was actually found covering the sofa cushions of a tradesman's sitting room!

OLEOMARGARINE. Pointed Paragraphs.

The atrocious prices of butter is bound to force the Government to remove the prohibition on the importation of Oleomargarine. One thing is certain, and that is that those who are opposed to the repeal of this law must give up their stupid misrepresentation of the article in question. Years ago, when the making of Oleomargarine was more for the purpose of utilizing waste and rancid beef fats than of supplying a real article of food, logical and just objections do not hold good at the present time. The product being now a perfectly unobjectionable article of food. At first, Oleomargarine was made from beef tallow and was not as palatable as it is to-day, its present constituents being Oleo oil, lard, cotton seed oil, various other vegetable oils, butter, milk or cream, casein, water and salt. All these are perfectly edible and easily digestible. Oleo oil is extracted from sweet, neutral oil from leaf lard.

High grade Oleomargarine generally contains Oleo oil 88 per cent, lard 37, butter, 26, cotton oil being used where no butter is put into the mixture. It must be remembered that this article is extensively used in England, where it has to pass through strict tests before being permitted to be sold.

Magicians of the Pen.

While W. W. Jacobs confesses that he often sits, pen in hand, a whole morning without putting a solitary word on paper, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle has written a story of 12,000 words without once leaving his desk. Even such a painstaking writer as the late R. L. Stevenson had his spasms of lightning work, in one of which he completed his famous "Jekyll and Hyde" story within seven days and H. L. Calne wrote the first and last lines of his "Life of Lord Byron" in three weeks. While Sir J. M. Barrie counts five or six hundred words a "good day's" work, H. G. Wells has often written 10,000 words between breakfast and bed, and Mrs. L. T. Meade has produced 30,000 words in a busy day.

The late Andrew Lang, when in the mood, has more than once written 5,000 of a book between breakfast and a late luncheon, and it is said that S. R. Crockett wrote the last half of "The Stickler Minister" in forty hours.

But all these feats of rapid authorship, marvellous as they are, were quite eclipsed by the elder Dumas, who, in one phenomenal year, actually turned out volumes at the rate of one a week.

Sydney has celebrated the entry of the United States into the war. The demonstration, in which thousands of citizens took part, started with a torchlight procession, headed by hands and carrying the flag of the Allies, and followed by the Stars and Stripes. The procession was followed by a grand display of fireworks. After which an open air meeting was held, which was addressed by the Mayor and others. A number of Americans took part in the demonstration.

Heart's Action Was Weak And Circulation Poor

He Was Always Tired and Nervous and Had Pains in Feet and Legs—Dr. Chase's Nerve Food Cured.

The heart is a wonderful worker, sending every year in and year out, forever pumping the blood through the body. It has the blood in rich and nourishing it pumps its own blood and keeps up a vigorous circulation and sends it through the arteries and veins of the human system.

But when the blood gets thin the heart is strained, and the system is weakened. The heart is the pump, and the blood is the water. If the pump is weak, the water will not flow, and the system will be weakened. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is a powerful tonic, and it will strengthen the heart and the system. It will give you a new lease of life, and it will make you feel like a new man.

German Mind Terribly Warped.

That the German mind has been terribly warped, that it seems utterly incapable of distinguishing right from wrong, is evidenced by a most striking illustration afforded by a letter written by a young German woman, daughter of a Government architect, to a young lady friend in Switzerland. The translation recently appeared in a Swiss newspaper:

"My dear little Louise,—The contents of your last letter would have wounded me if I had not known that your opinions on our glorious war were the outcome of ignorance. You live in a country which is effeminated by the influence of old-fashioned ideas of liberty, which are now centuries behind us. You require a strong dose of Prussian culture. It is evident that you, a Swissess, fashioned to French thought, cannot understand that my young German girl's heart has ardently, passionately desired this war; it has been talked of with us for years, and my father used to say to us children, 'Germ any is becoming too small for us; we must turn to France in order to make a place for ourselves and to get money.' Is it our fault if France does not understand that we need money and territory?"

"Then you reproach me for the treatment of our soldiers towards the Belgian 'canaille'; you also speak of the damage to the Rheims Cathedral, of villages and towns burnt, etc., etc. That is war!

"You have something to learn in order to equal us and I can assure you that all that has been done up to now is a mere bagatelle to what is going to happen. There is only one country worthy to dominate the whole world, which has attained a high degree of civilization, and that is Prussia. I say Prussia, as for if G. M. man we are overlords of the world, the Prussian is par excellence the overlord of the Germans. All other nations are degenerate, and of inferior value. Only yesterday our pastor was explaining in a convincing manner that the first man and woman, Adam and Eve, were also Prussians. That is easy to understand, for in the beginning God created man according to his own image, if, therefore, all men have descended from a Prussian, Adam, and from his wife, there should only exist Prussians—or at least Germans—and everything that grows and exists should belong to us. You must admit that is logical reasoning, and that is why our device is 'God with us and Germany over all.' You will understand now why we wanted this war.

"Is it not shameful that other people who have no right to exist on this earth should wish to reduce our inheritance? We are the divine fruit and all others are but weeds. That is why our great Emperor, representing God on earth, has decided to put an end to all these injustices, and to exterminate the weeds. Now, do you understand?"

"With a handshake 'a la Prussienne.' I remain, etc."

If this is the way German women talk and think, then it is no wonder that the German soldier has behaved as murderous and licentious beasts in all the territories which they have overrun. The race stands on a moral plane lower than that of the Zulus, and this fact itself is sufficient reason for the rest of Europe to wage ceaseless and relentless war until such a nation lies prostrate in the dust.

THE ACADIAN.

WOLFVILLE, N.S., APR. 27, 1917.

Western Counties Board of Trade.

The meeting of the Western Counties Board of Trade which took place in this town on Tuesday afternoon was a most successful and interesting one.

The meeting opened at 5 p. m. and was well attended. Twenty delegates represented the Boards and the full program was taken up during the afternoon and evening.

The following delegates were in attendance:

W. G. Clarke, W. M. Romans, W. W. Graham, Bear River; Geo. E. Corbit, B. B. Hardwick, L. M. Fortier, F. C. Whitman, Annapolis Royal; E. A. Hicks, Karl Freeman, Bridgetown; Dr. Hutchins, F. E. Cox, O. P. Goucher, P. R. Beatty, Middleton; W. S. Blair, W. B. Moore, G. S. Roy, Kentville; H. G. Perry, W. A. Coit, Wolfville; and invited speakers.

The afternoon session was devoted to a report of the committee appointed to consider what was being done in connection with returned soldiers and immigration.

The Board of Trade were asked to co-operate with the department of Industries and Immigration. A series of question sheets are to be prepared to secure local information in regard to farms and industries, etc. A standing committee consisting of Messrs. Geo. E. Corbit, Geo. E. Graham, W. G. Clarke and F. C. Whitman was named to carry on this important work and report to the next meeting at Bear River in July. The following subjects were discussed:

'Plant Diseases and their Control' by Mr. Paul A. Murphy, Dominion Plant Pathologist for P. E. I. and N. S. Mr. Murphy gave a very interesting address and spoke especially on potato diseases and their prevention.

'The Daylight Saving Scheme.' A motion was passed asking that the legislature pass a law that will give the public the advantage of being able to have one hour more of daylight in which to work.

'The Practicability of Inducing Nova Scotians now living in the New England States to return to their native land and take up farming as a vocation.' This subject was coupled with the first matter discussed and the Standing Committee was asked to so word advertising publications that it could be used in New England.

'Protection of Song Birds' was admirably presented by Prof. H. G. Perry and listened to with marked attention.

The Kentville Board presented two papers on 'Credit System' and 'Rural Co-operation with the work of Boards of Trade.' It was asked that these papers be printed for circulation to the various Boards. The writers, G. C. Roy and Prof. W. S. Blair, were complimented and thanked.

'Fuel Supply for Annapolis Valley.' The following resolution was passed: That the correspondence and reports of the Committee of the Annapolis Royal Board of Trade be submitted to the Minister of Public Works and that the government be asked to take such action that will put a stop to commandeering and insure a better delivery of coal to consumers.

'Train Service between Middleton and Annapolis Royal.' A resolution was passed asking the Board to assist in securing a better train service and asking that the train which now comes from Halifax to Kentville be extended to Annapolis Royal and return the following morning, daily.

At the close of the evening meeting the local Board entertained the visitors at a luncheon at the Royal Hotel. President Calkin presided and short addresses were given by Geo. E. Calkin, president of the Western Board, Mr. B. O. Davidson, editor of THE ACADIAN, Prof. Perry, Mayor Hales, Messrs. F. C. Whitman, B. B. Hardwick and O. P. Goucher. The affair was brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem.

A large number took advantage of the excursion to Halifax on Tuesday and spent a very pleasant day.

Progress of the War.

Halifax April 23.—The arrival of Balfour and his party in Halifax on Friday morning, and their visit to Washington, will probably have more far-reaching results than perhaps any event of a more spectacular character. We found to our sorrow at the beginning of the war the costly results of a lack of co-operation; evidently it is the intention to have the United States start with every facility for doing the right thing according to the experience of our allies. The staff which Mr. Balfour has brought with him seems to indicate that every department of the war machinery of the United States is to be advised by a British expert. And, when to these British experts is added the French party, the most skilled advice which can be obtained will be at the service of the United States. General Joffre and his party, who are also expected to participate in the conference, will not likely come through Halifax. This visit and conference ought to strengthen the bonds of kindly feeling between the allies and the United States; and if a United States party goes to Russia for a similar conference, the ties of friendship will then be completely cemented.

The skulking German destroyers, which have frequently raided the British coast in the fog, and on previous occasions got away without much damage, found that after all this is a dangerous experiment. The party of five destroyers which attempted to bombard Dover, and did throw a few shells into a plowed field, met with a loss of at least two of their number, without any corresponding British loss. A few lessons of this kind would teach the baby killers that running up and trying to run away is no longer a profitable occupation—for sometimes the running away is not real good. It takes all the traditions of the British Navy, and all the grace which can be put into a human heart, to rescue German wounded on a hospital ship which had been torpedoed by the Huns, and still the Navy lives up to its high traditions and, notwithstanding the cowardly action of the submarine commanders and their masters, and the equally cowardly action of the German prisoners, over 100 of the German wounded were rescued. We shudder to think what would happen to the British wounded if the cases were reversed.

Died at Black River.
Mr. James Ellis, passed away at his home in Black River on Wednesday, April 18th, aged seventy-seven years. The funeral was held on Friday afternoon. After a short service at the house the body was taken to the church where a large number of friends gathered to hear the funeral sermon and pay their last tribute to the deceased. Interment was in the Black River cemetery.

Mr. Ellis was a member of the Black River Baptist church and was a regular attendant at the services when possible, and a devout Christian worker. The pastor, E. A. Robertson, officiated at the services.

SOME FACTS WORTH NOTING.

Did any one ever see the name of any Upper Canadian firm on the subscription list that was being made up locally for the Y.M.C.A., the Patriotic Fund, the Canadian or British Red Cross Fund, for the soldier boys, etc., etc.?

Again, scan the assessment list at the municipal building and see if you can discover how much these out-of-town business houses are assessed, thereby finding out to what extent their money is being used to defray the costs of road building, schools, and public works of other kinds.

No matter how minute or how prolonged the scrutiny, along the lines suggested, one must discover that not one cent of the money sent out of this town, county and province returns to help carry on the works as above referred to.

Were our town and county merchants not called upon to pay heavy taxes, and, were they passed over by those seeking aid for the prosecution of patriotic and charitable work, there is no doubt that they, being then to a certain extent on an equal footing with the outside dealer, would be in a position to offer a tempting bait which would be the means of securing more of your business.

But we must keep in mind that it is to those who are conducting our stores that we look for the greater amount of money for the town and county coffers and also we believe from them come the major portion of the amounts figuring on public voluntary lists.

A community without stores would be a pretty mean place in which to reside. Stores without business are impossible. Now what about those who are buying out-of-town articles which might be purchased in town. Are they not pulling in the direction of a storeless community and are they not whenever they send a cent out-of-town that might have stayed in town, cutting down the town revenue as well as striking a blow at our voluntary contributions?

How is the money raised to buy fire apparatus, clean our streets and do the hundred and one other things that is done by the town? By taxation, everything knows that. And what are the two broadest divisions in property? Why, residential and business of course. And which is the more valuable? Business property, you will reply.

We are going along nicely now. But if the value of our business properties be reduced, the amount of taxes the town will be able to get from that source will be lessened. That is self-evident, isn't it? But the town

The Flags of Nations.

A medley of the flags of nations, Christian and pagan, rises upon the breeze to flout a warning in the face of embattled tyranny that the God-given rights of humanity may not be trampled underfoot. The Union Jack flutters in the wind of battle and the Stars and Stripes lends action to the play of colors. The Tricolor of France and the bars of Russia, these are two symbols of freedom forever. What a galaxy of emblems, all floating and nailed to the staff of liberty are the ensigns of these sixteen countries, great and small:

Britain	China
France	Montenegro
Russia	Roumania

What a triumph for the principles of righteousness that these peoples rallied to save the world, and because of them today the world is nearer!

What a sinister thought comes to mind when the flag of four other nations, with equal capabilities for good and with every good quality horribly perverted to slaughter, are considered. What an outlaw quartette of emblems are the flag of:

Germany	Turkey
Austria	Bulgaria

The ration of nations declared for rights is mighty as against the nations fighting for wrong. The brotherhood of man is represented in these nations, and the few neutrals left. Only a few members of the great human family of nations have sought to destroy that family. The others fight as brothers-in-arms and exit the age-long struggle toward peace and amity, saving men as taught in the era of Christ.

Sudden Death.

A very sudden death occurred on Monday evening when a well-known citizen Mr. Winfield S. Wallace, dropped dead on the sidewalk in front of his residence. Mr. Wallace had not been in good health for some time, but of late had been feeling better and only last week bought a new car which he was out driving the afternoon before his death. On his return he had a bad turn and quivered severely and was urged by his wife not to go out. Needing something from a nearby store, however, he went out to make a purchase, and on stepping out of the store fell to the sidewalk and expired instantly.

The deceased was in his 57th year, a son of the late William Wallace and had lived practically all his life in Wolfville, coming here with his family when a boy. He formerly carried on a successful tailoring business from which he retired some years ago. He is survived by his widow, formerly Miss Ella Godfrey, and two sisters, Mrs. Horace Cooledge, of Wolfston, Mass., and Mrs. Parker Isley, of Colbrook, this county.

The funeral took place at 10 o'clock on Thursday afternoon, conducted by Rev. M. P. Freeman and Dr. Spidle. The interment was at Willow bank.

Baby's Own Tablets Used Ten Years.

Mrs. W. J. Wilson, Carp, Ont., writes: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets for the last ten years and can highly recommend them for babyhood ailments. My baby was very delicate; in fact we never thought he would live but thanks to the Tablets he is now a fine healthy boy. Baby's Own Tablets should be kept in every home where there are small children. They regulate the bowels and stomach, and never fail to cure the minor ailments of little ones. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont."

Seed Wheat! Arrangements were made by the Kings County Farmers' Association whereby 400 bushels of Red Fife and Marquis wheat for seed is being held by the Woodworth Mills, Berwick, N. S., for Kings County Farmers at the reasonable price of $2.75 per bushel. Order your supply early as later purchased seed wheat will be much higher. Indications are that flour will steadily advance in price and the only safe plan to ensure a wheat supply is for Kings County to grow the wheat required for her own use.

PASSED STONE FROM BLADDER

During August last, I went to hospital to consult a specialist as I had been suffering terribly with stones in the bladder. He desired to operate but said the stone was too large to remove and too hard to crush. I returned home and was recommended by a friend to try

An Interesting Service.

A most interesting service was recently held in the Seminary chapel. Two large flags, six feet by twelve feet, made of best English bunting, a Union Jack and a Canadian Ensign, were presented to the Seminary by the pupils resident in the school. The presentation was made by Miss Letitia Gibson, who read an original poem re "The Flag" and Miss Elleta Collette, the president of the Senior Class, made the presentation, while the two smallest pupils in the school from the Junior Department drew the pictures that decorated the flags. After the acknowledgement and reception of the gift by the Principal, "Oh Canada" and the National Anthem were sung. It was a happy and beautiful thought, simply and graciously expressed. The flags will be displayed always in the school.
