HIGH SCHOOL LOSES TO HALIFAX ACADEMY

In Closely Contested Game of Baseball—Score 8 to 7

A most interesting game of baseball was played on the College campus last Saturday afternoon, when the local High School team went down to defeat before the Halifax Academy team. Ten innings were necessary to decide the contest which was full of thrills and much enjoyed by the spectators.

The locals opened the scoring in the first innings when Williams hit out a three bagger to right field bringing in a run. In the next innings Halifax scored two, but Wolfville came back and scored three. Prescott, pitching for Wolfville, weakened in the third and the visitors scored four runs giving them the lead. Phinney pitched for Wolfville for the remainder of the game and allowed only one hit and struck out twelve men. When the locals scored a run in the seventh, making the tally 6 to 5, the seventh, Prescott, pitching for Wolfville, was replaced by Phinney. In the ninth inning there were two out and a man on third, when Phinney singled and brought in the run that tied the score, amid the cheers of the fans. Chances looked bright for the home team but in the tenth the visitors scored two while the locals got only one.

Score by innings:

DR. PATTERSON ADDRESSES HALIFAX ROTARY CLUB

HALIFAX, June 17th.—Dr. F. W. Patterson, president of Acadia University, was the speaker at the Rotary Club luncheon at the Green Lantern yesterday. The announcement that Dr. Patterson was to speak assured the large attendance which marked the luncheon as being one of the most successful held in many weeks.

The speaker in the course of his address referred to the great advance which has been made in the methods employed in higher education during the past few years. He emphasized the importance of recognizing that not all of the students of a college possessed the same degree of mental ability or alertness of mind. For this reason it was being found that better results were obtained through dividing the students into classes according to their ability.

Real headway being made in educational methods," stated Dr. Patterson. "I predict that the next 20 years will see a more marked advance in higher education than during any previous 20 years."

The question was often heard asked why the community should support the Universities and the institutions of higher education, and those who argued against the support of colleges would point out that only one of every ten High School students ever went to the University. In reply Dr. Patterson said that while it was true that a relatively small proportion of the High School students ever went to college yet the great services which that small number rendered justified the support of the institutions to which they went.

Speaking of those great services which have been rendered to humanity through the work of scientists, the speaker referred in particular to the work of Louis Pasteur whose discoveries in the medical science had added an average of 18 years to the life of man, and that was only one instance.

The educational system was not a system of waste but a productive one that brought great good to civilization and more than justified the cost of maintenance.

JOHN B. PIRIE WILL NOT HANG

OTTAWA, June 16.—Sentence of death passed on John B. Pirie, murderer of his wife and two children, has been commuted to life imprisonment. After three months during which period he was under observation by alienists, the Government, on the advice of these alienists, has come to the conclusion that Pirie should not hang.

Acadian Want Ads. are Workers.

SIR BRODERICK HARTWELL

The Government takes the stand that such an audit would cost too much money. True, it did cost the taxpayers of New Brunswick $9,000 to have their books audited. It seems remarkable, however, that the Government is not worrying about the $2,000 per day which the taxpayers have been losing every day in coal royalties since March 6th, and will continue to lose as long as the coal strike lasts. And the disconcerting phase of it is that the poor old taxpayer has got to make it up.

But to come back to the independent audit. I wonder if an audit would really cost us money or if it might not save us some.

DOUBTFUL PRESENTATION TO FORMER WOLFVILLE RESIDENT

DIGBY, June 13.—The home of Mrs. Arthur Turnbull was the scene of a very pleasant event when the Women's Missionary Auxiliary of Grace Methodist met and had a session of more than ordinary interest. In addition to the report of the delegate to Branch, which was presented by Mrs. C. H. Carty, there was a pleasing function, when Mrs. England, on behalf of the ladies of the Auxiliary, presented Mrs. Watts with a purse of money as a token of their esteem and regard, also expressing sincere regret at Mrs. Watt's prospective removal to Kingston, where Rev. Mr. Watts has accepted a call to serve the new circuit recently organized.

CORRESPONDENCE

WOLFVILLE MUST PAY FOR SPECIAL POLICE

To the Editor of THE ACADIAN: Dear Sir,—Is it a fact that the Government of Nova Scotia is recruiting a detachment of twenty-five men from Wolfville for police service in the mining districts of Cape Breton? It is indeed a pretty state of affairs that men are being paid $4.00 per day to show down our own Canadian citizens. During the war it was only considered worth $1.10 per day to kill Germans. The Government appears to have lost its reason altogether. Does it occur to you, sir, just what this squad will cost the citizens of Wolfville, for it is only too plain that if twenty-five men is the proportion for Wolfville to raise it is also the proportion for Wolfville to support. Twenty-five men at $4.00 per day, plus the salary of Capt. Ruffee, plus their board and transportation, will amount to at least $140 per day. Presuming that they are kept on pay for only ten days the cost will be $1,400. A month will cost $4,200.

One wonders if the people of Wolfville are altogether satisfied with the manner in which the Government is handling the situation in Cape Breton. It looks like an expensive proposition for us. Especially when we realize that about one hundred of our young citizens, taxpayers like ourselves, have gone to the United States and Upper Canada during the past two years and that we will have to pay their share of the expense as well as our own.

I trust, sir, that you will pardon me for not signing my name to this communication. I have been a life long Liberal and do not wish to break with my Liberal friends who are still hanging to the old party. But let me tell them this—I am still a Liberal and when the Federal election comes on I will be found working for Mackenzie King and the grand old party, but at present I feel it is my duty to Nova Scotia and to my children who will follow me to line myself up with the ever-growing throng who are against this present administration at Halifax.

LIBERAL.

QUESTIONS FOR THE ARMSTRONG CANDIDATES

To the Editor of THE ACADIAN: Sir,—In May, 1924, Premier Armstrong accompanied by Mr. Irvine, special agent of the Dominion Coal Company, visited Toronto and made a proposition to Premier Ferguson to deliver Dominion Coal there for from $7.00 to $7.50 per ton by car load lots.

I beg to ask Col. Borden and Hon. J. A. MacDonald, if Mr. Armstrong has power and can arrange to deliver coal 1500 miles away, why cannot he deliver it 250 miles away at at least the same price?

If so, is not taxing the people of Nova Scotia $12.00 per ton an imposition and an outrage?

I ask these candidates do they justify and approve of such an abuse of official power?

HONESTY.

AN INDEPENDENT AUDIT

To the Editor of THE ACADIAN: Dear Sir,—We hear a good deal these days for and against an independent audit of the books of the Provincial Government. It does not appear to me that there is anything mysterious about the situation. The plain facts are these, and I am endeavouring to look at them without my eyes clouded with partisan politics, which is the curse of this land of ours.

(1) The books of the Provincial Government have not been audited for the past forty-three years, except by an auditor who is dependent upon the Provincial Government for his bread and butter.

(2) An independent audit of the Province of New Brunswick, the city of Halifax, and the municipalities of Cape Breton and Kings have recently been held. Everyone is aware of the discoveries made in these instances.

(3) In the independent audit of the municipality of Cape Breton it was discovered that the treasurer of the municipality, Hon. D. A. Cameron, then also Provincial Treasurer of Nova Scotia and the man who received and paid out our hard earned taxes, had helped himself to the sum of $30,000. This crime Mr. Cameron has admitted and the money has been returned.

(4) The people of Nova Scotia are demanding that the books of the Provincial Government be examined by an independent audit. The Government refuses to have this done. Why?

The Government takes the stand that such an audit would cost too much money. True, it did cost the taxpayers of New Brunswick $9,000 to have their books audited. It seems remarkable, however, that the Government is not worrying about the $2,000 per day which the taxpayers have been losing every day in coal royalties since March 6th, and will continue to lose as long as the coal strike lasts. And the disconcerting phase of it is that the poor old taxpayer has got to make it up.

But to come back to the independent audit. I wonder if an audit would really cost us money or if it might not save us some.

SPLENDID PERFORMANCE BY MT. ALLISON STUDENTS

Those who attended the performance given by the students of Mount Allison University at the Orpheum Theatre on Tuesday evening were loud in their praises of the excellent entertainment presented. On at least two other occasions students of that university have given plays in Wolfville and they have always been splendidly presented, and we do not understand why the audience was so small on Tuesday evening, unless it was that not sufficient advertising was done.

However, even though the audience was small they made up for it by their enthusiasm. The play presented was "The Romantic Age", a three act comedy by the direction of Miss Ida M. Leslie, B.L.I. All the parts were admirably well taken and we have seen many professional shows that were not given as well. The cast was as follows:

Henry Knowle — Lawton Scovill
Mary Knowle (his wife) — Ella Rogers
Melisande (his daughter) — Laura Welton
Jane (his niece) — Lucille Hodgson
Gervase Mallory — Albert Trueman
Bobby — Ernest Huestis
Master Sinclair — G. Wilson McLeod
Ern — David McLeod

Special mention must be made of the excellent acting of Albert Trueman, who took his part perfectly, and we would predict for him a most successful stage career, if he were so minded. He is also an accomplished musician, his two violin selections being so well rendered and enjoyed by the audience that the play forced to respond to an encore.

The selections by the orchestra before the play and between acts were also greatly enjoyed, the playing of Miss Lucille Hodgson at the piano being specially pleasing.

"MAN WHO FIGHTS ALONE" BIG FILM

Farnum Starred—Wilson and Horton Featured

"The man who fights alone," is a big picture in every sense of the word—story, cast, stars all top-notchers. There's not a doubt but that William Farnum is the most popular western star in motion pictures today. In this production, a screen adaptation by Jack Cunningham, he is supported by Lois Wilson and Edward Horton and a big cast which includes, among other big names, Lionel Belmore, Dawn O'Day and George Irving.

The story has to do with a civil engineer and his band of empire builders—a sort of advance guard of civilization which is preparing the great western vastness for the endless tide of humanity which is to follow. It's a story of a strong man's fight against great obstacles—both physical and mental, the kind of story with which Farnum's name has become associated—a tale of the great outdoors, a real man's story, with a delightful theme running throughout—a romantic story of love and sacrifice that will restore your faith in motion pictures as a medium of both instruction and entertainment.

Comedy? Lots of it to relieve the strain of the heavier scenes. Action? Thrills? This is the greatest Farnum picture of them all, and you know what that means!

Orpheum Theatre next Wednesday and Thursday.

$6,600 FOR WOLFVILLE HARBOR

Included in the supplementary estimates tabled at Ottawa yesterday was $358,300 for Harbors and Rivers in Nova Scotia. Some of the amounts were as follows: Wolfville, $6,000; Canada Creek, $6,000; Halls Harbor, $11,000; Hantsport, $1,900.

Cranks are out of date. Self-starters are in demand.

KINGS CO. CANDIDATES GIVE ANSWERS

To Questions Submitted to Them by Social Service Council

At the annual business meeting of the Kings County Social Service Council in Berwick, June 1st, it was decided to ask the candidates seeking election several questions that their attitude on certain matters of public welfare might be known to the electors. Accordingly the secretary for Kings County wrote to the candidates of both parties requesting an answer to these enquiries. These answers are herewith appended:

Upper Dyke Village, Kings Co., N.S.
Rev. G. D. Hudson,
Secretary Kings County Social Service Council, Upper Canada.

Dear Sir: In reply to your letter of June 8th containing a number of questions, if I should be elected to represent Kings County would I use my influence and vote for:

Question 1.—Additional necessary legislation for protection of children. Answer.—Yes.

Question 2.—Adequate provision for the care of the feeble minded. Answer.—As far as our limited finances will permit. I think that a start should be made in this important work by looking after the feeble minded girls of child bearing age.

Question 3.—The establishment of a Reformatory or Industrial Farm to replace our present jail system, in order that persons who must for a time be kept under restraint may have reasonable employment and receive humane treatment. Answer.—This matter is at present under the consideration of the Government. The Attorney General has recently had a conference with authorities in New Brunswick with the idea in mind of having a Maritime Farm for this purpose.

Question 4.—Are you in favor of the present Prohibition Laws—The Nova Scotia Temperance Act? Answer.—Yes.

Question 5.—Will you use your vote and influence to secure all necessary amendments to the present law in order that it may be made a better instrument for the suppression of the liquor traffic. Answer.—Yes.

Question 6.—Are you in favor of a frank acceptance by the administration of the duties and responsibilities of the enforcement of this law to the full extent of the powers of the Government, and will you use your vote and influence to have such a policy of rigid enforcement by the Government adopted. Answer.—Yes. To act in co-operation with the municipal authorities.

Question 7.—The enforcement of the Lord's Day Act, the laws relating to gambling, the enforcement of other laws in the interest of public morals. Answer.—Yes.

It was further resolved that the candidates be asked: Will you co-operate with individuals or committees in an effort to prevent any form of bribery or other infraction of the law governing elections. Answer.—Yes.

JOHN A. McDONALD, Mr. Allison H. Borden.

The following letter was received from Mr. Allison H. Borden:

In view of the short time before election day, and the very considerable number of engagements that have been made for me, there is not sufficient time for me to examine in complete detail all the questions you have been good enough to ask. I feel, however, that I am in accord with what the Kings County Social Service Council desires to accomplish.

If elected I shall welcome advice in matters of legislation and law enforcement in the public service it is giving. Yours very truly,
ALLISON H. BORDEN,
June 16, 1925

Rev. G. D. Hudson,
Secretary Kings County Social Service Council, Upper Canada, N.S.

Dear Sir: We acknowledge receipt of your letter of the 8th inst. and in reply may say that if elected to represent Kings County in the House of Assembly my duty would be to examine in complete detail all the questions you have been good enough to ask. I feel, however, that I am in accord with what the Kings County Social Service Council desires to accomplish.

(1) Additional necessary legislation for the protection of children.

(2) Adequate provision for the care of the feeble minded.

(3) The establishment of a Reformatory or Industrial Farm to replace our present jail system in order that persons who must for a time be kept under restraint may have reasonable employment and receive humane treatment. We are prepared to support such a measure as soon as the provincial finances warrant the expense.

(4) We are in favor of the effective enforcement of the Nova Scotia Temperance Act.

(5) We will use our vote and influence to secure all necessary amendments to the present law in order that it be made a better instrument for the suppression of the liquor traffic.

(6) We are in favor of a frank acceptance by the Administration of the duties and responsibilities of enforcement of this law to the full extent of the powers of the Government and will use our vote and influence to have such a policy of rigid Government enforcement adopted.

(7) We favor the enforcement of the Lord's Day Act, the law relating to gambling and the enforcement of other laws in the interest of public health, public safety and public morals. We will also co-operate with individuals or committees in an effort to prevent any form of bribery or other infraction of the law governing elections.

Very sincerely yours,
R. T. CALDWELL,
G. C. NOWLAN.

BASEBALL LEAGUE FOR WOLFVILLE

Three Teams Will Play Twelve Game Schedule—First Game on Friday Evening

At a meeting of baseball enthusiasts, held at the Town Hall on Monday evening, a town league was organized and a schedule of games drawn up. Outside of Wolfville, baseball seems to be a dead issue in the Valley this season. Here, however, we have a number of excellent players and the local league was formed for the purpose of giving them a chance to play the game. Some good ball is promised and it is hoped that the citizens of Wolfville will take sufficient interest to attend the games, which will be played on Monday and Friday evenings.

The boys have been divided into three teams, the High School forming one, and the other two teams calling themselves the "Braves" and "Red Sox". The schedule of games was drawn up as follows:

- June 19—Braves vs. Red Sox
- " 22—Red Sox vs. Braves
- " 26—High School vs. Braves
- " 29—Braves vs. Red Sox
- July 3—High School vs. Red Sox
- " 6—Braves vs. High School
- " 10—Red Sox vs. High School
- " 13—Red Sox vs. Braves
- " 17—High School vs. Red Sox
- " 24—Red Sox vs. High School
- " 27—Braves vs. High School

As will be seen by the above schedule the first game will be played on Friday evening, between the Braves and Red Sox. The game will start at 6.30 and it is hoped that a large number will be present. Don Munro will pitch for the Braves and Colin Munro catch, while Tom Dick and Wallace Bartheaux will be the battery for the Red Sox. A good game is assured. No admission will be charged, but a collection will be taken at each game to defray necessary expenses.

The trophy which was put up by THE ACADIAN two years ago, and won that year by the West End team, will be up for competition again this year. As there was no league last season the cup was not presented but has been reposing in the office of this paper. It may now be seen in our window.

In addition to the local games it is hoped that some exhibition games may be arranged with outside teams during the season, and prospects look good for a big year in baseball for Wolfville.

GOOD WORK AT CEMETERY ENTRANCE

To the Editor of THE ACADIAN: Mr. Editor,—With your permission I wish to express the appreciation of the Directors of the Willow Bank Cemetery Corporation of the fine work done by the Town Council under the direction of the Mayor on the streets leading to the Western entrance of the cemetery. The difference between the condition of those streets as they were on May 1st and as they are today is most marked. The change is very gratifying to us all, because it speaks as nothing else can do of a desire on the part of the representatives of the citizens to do their part in making the town still more attractive as a place of residence. We are all justly proud of its appearance, the beauty of its surroundings and the good taste displayed by so many of its residents in the care of the grounds, walk its paths, note the well kept lots and their neat and tidy appearance. Then quietly and calmly ask yourselves the question, How can all this be done, and done so well, with the amount of money placed in the hands of the managing director? This may lead to another question for some of you. Have I paid my annual assessment? My friend! Honor bright! and Fair play!

J. W. MANNING, Pres.

TO RECEIVE $10,000 ANNUITY

Among the supplementary estimates tabled in the House at Ottawa yesterday was an annuity of $10,000 for Right Hon. W. S. Fielding, Minister of Finance, in acknowledgement of his long and distinguished public service, the annuity to commence on his retirement from public life and to continue thereafter during his lifetime.

Editorial

Our pulpits are our work clothes. Each of us live some kind of a sermon every day.

OLD UTILITIES REGAINING PRESTIGE

IT IS encouraging to note in recent times a disposition to again utilize for public service institutions which in the days of our fathers contributed not a little to pioneer life and which were finally discarded as old-fashioned and primitive.

In the development of hydro energy, for instance, the waterways of this country, which in the early days provided power for the operating of saw and grist-mills and other useful purposes, and which were in too many cases supplanted by expensive steam plants, have been made the means of promoting undertakings which were not so long ago considered impractical. Throughout our own valley today electricity is furnishing light and power, and making rural life easier and pleasanter, not so much because of any new invention as in consequence of the restoration of methods utilized in the long ago.

And now the windmill, which not so long ago was regarded as a useful device for many purposes in this country, is coming back. England is taking the lead in the effort to harness the windmill for creating electric current for the purpose of lighting the homes and villages, and the doing of many "odd jobs" that will make the English countryside all the merrier.

In our mania for speed and power we are apt to forget the simpler methods and fail to utilize the smaller economies. It is well that England, in this time when the world's great need is more intense than ever before, has recognized the utility of the humble windmill, and will harness it up to turn out cheaper living, less tiresome labor and brighter evenings for her people. Other countries may well follow.

YOUR OWN TOWN

YOUR own town is where your home is, where your business is situated, where your vote is cast, where your children are educated, where your neighbors dwell, and where your life, or the greater part of it, is spent.

It has a right to your loyalty. It supports you and you must support it. Your town wants your friendship—not partisanship; co-operation—not dissent; sympathy—not criticism; intelligent support—not indifference.

Your town supplies you with law and order, trade, friends, education, recreation, and the rights of a freeborn Canadian. You should believe in your town and work for it.

You will always find people who are willing to condemn their own town, their own country, and the world in general. You will also hear people say that the world is a funny place to live in, and that it is going to the dogs. On the other hand you will hear people say that the world is all right, but the people that live in it are all wrong, and we believe there is a great deal in this.

Compare our lives in Canada today with those of our forefathers fifty years ago. In those days there were few railroads, no motor cars, no telephones, no lighting plants, no radio, nor a thousand other things that make life worth living today.

In spite of the fact that conditions are not as good as we would like them to be, Canada is a good place to live in, and your town is the best town in Canada.

LET'S STOP THE DRUNKEN AUTO DRIVER

THE IMPOSITION of a fine—even a heavy one—means very little to the ordinary offender who persists in driving a motor car while under the influence of intoxicants. A jail sentence is more likely to prove efficacious, but even that may be forgotten in the course of time. The most likely method of correcting this menace to public safety, in our opinion, would be the cancellation of the driver's license until such time as he may be able to establish that there is no likelihood of further offence. Capital punishment may have many weak points but its carrying out makes evident that there will not be any possibility of a repetition of the crime. We would not go so far in the case of a drunken automobile driver, but the public safety justifies extreme methods where necessary.

The car driver who operates his machine while incapable because of drink is perhaps the greatest menace of the present age. We have them in this section and they are becoming more and more common throughout the country. While those in authority remain inactive a tragedy is liable to occur any day. THE ACADIAN has no desire to restrict any person's privilege, but it is full time that the roads were made safe for respectable people.

A DAY IN JUNE

THE WORLD we live in has two divisions—outdoor and indoor. And the people in it may be roughly classified as outdoor or indoor people with outdoor or indoor minds.

We who live more and more indoors, who work indoors and play indoors and worship indoors, have need from time to time to get out into the open. "I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills," sang an ancient poet, "from whence cometh my help."

This chance is ours today. As of old, there is always something new and prophetic in the coming of June. No man, unless he be utterly dead of soul, but feels a new thrill of life and a quickening of the pulse, as he witnesses the renewal of the year.

Since time began this lesson has touched the heart of mankind with new hope. If God so clothe the grass of the field, which today is, and tomorrow is cast into the oven, will He not much more, and by a mightier ministry, renew the drab spirit of man?

COMPULSORY AUTOMOBILE INSURANCE

AUTOMOBILE owners in the State of California will be compelled to carry insurance, according to reports of proposed legislation in that state. Such a measure has much to commend it. Not infrequently a driver, who is the cause of an accident in which the other suffers heavy loss, is financially worthless and it is quite useless for the injured one to attempt to recover damages. With compulsory insurance the injured one would be able to obtain some compensation.

THE FLYING HENS

RESIDENTS who are interested in beautifying their premises report that they are sadly handicapped in their work by the presence of stray fowls. While we are great poultry boosters we do not believe in allowing the chicken to trespass on our neighbors. Chickens do not belong in gardens or in flower beds, and owners should have due respect for the rights of their neighbors. The hen is a great institution but only when under control.

Answer to Last Week's Puzzle

A TRADE AT HOME FABLE

Once upon a time there was a certain woman in Smallville who complained that a certain article of merchandise cost a few cents more from the home merchant than from the merchant in Bigtown. Whereupon the woman went to Bigtown to make certain purchases. She found that while she had saved a few cents here and there, she had lost many dollars through more expensive purchases, and came home sadder and poorer, but wiser. What with transportation expense, innocent but costly temptations—the little things—which are held out for the gullible, had she left whereupon to base any claim for trading away? So it now happens that this good woman trades at home where she can get right down to genuine values and close business contact with the home merchant on such matters as refunds, exchanges, try-ons, guarantees and repairs, besides the convenience of charge accounts and extension of credit when ever justified and wherever worthy; and plus all this, home pride and community spirit.

Along with trade at home, why not print at home?

BOYS AND BASEBALL

Persons who are not much past middle age remember with what comparatively slight equipment they took part in games that now seem to require a somewhat elaborate outfit. Take baseball, for example; if among the boys of the neighborhood a ball and a bat were procurable, nothing else was necessary. To be sure, there were some boys who had got their mothers to cut off the fingers of old gloves, kid gloves usually, which fitted their hands tightly, and who deduced themselves with the belief that by wearing these homemade "mitts" they suffered less pain from the sting of hard-thrown balls than did those whose hands were uncovered. The boys who were daring enough to "catch behind the bat" were never provided with either mask or chest protector, and why there are not more damaged countenances and injured spleens among the present middle-aged generation than appears to be the case it is hard to understand. Gnarled and knobby and bent fingers are probably more numerous now than they will be twenty years hence, for the modern devices for protecting the hands in baseball are not only adequate but seem to be employed even by the gamins who play the game in the sand lots. As for spiked shoes, to prevent the players from slipping and turning his ankle, or padded trousers, to protect his thighs when he slid to base, they were unknown in the good old days. Mothers had to be even busier and fiercer with the needle than they are now.

Under modern conditions baseball is played with greater skill than it used to be; and no one can regret that the liability to painful injury has been diminished. Even with the most complete equipment it cannot be made any more than football—a game for mollycoddlers.—Youths' Companion.

"Mother," said a little boy after coming from a walk, "I've seen man who makes horses."
"Are you sure," asked his mother.
"Yes," he replied. "He had a horse nearly finished when I saw him; he was just nailing on his back feet."

NEWSPAPER PUBLICITY WINS

H. L. Leeper, postmaster in Yakima, Wash., is ready to admit that there is about as much difference between newspaper publicity and word-of-mouth publicity gained from bulletin boards and posted notices, as there is between daylight and darkness, according to The Yakima Republic.

For several weeks recently Mr. Leeper had notices posted to the effect that bids were desired for the operation of the Yakima-Toppenish star mail route. Days and days went by with no one applying for the job. As the final date on which the bids had to be at Washington, D.C., approached, and no enquiries had been received yet, he decided to give out the notice as a news story.

The story was given three or four lines in The Republic and since its publication the postmaster has received more than twenty calls. "And that isn't the half of it," he says, "for they are still coming".—Ex.

MIXED HIS PHYSIOLOGY

The following remarkable statement was included in the examination paper turned in by a boy:

"The human body is divided into three parts—the head, the chest and the stomach. The head contains the eyes and brain, if any. The chest contains the lungs and a piece of liver. The stomach is devoted to the bowels of which there are five, a, e, i, o, u, and sometimes w and y."

IN SAFE KEEPING

"Come, Willie," said his mother, "do not be selfish. Let your little brother play with your marbles a while."
"But," protested Willie, "he means to keep them always."
"Oh, I think not."
"Yes, 'cause he's swallowed two of them already."

Wolfville's Ambitions

Wolfville wants more population, more industry, more capital, more trade, more prosperity.

And the unfailing formula for accomplishing these ambitions is to make Wolfville attractive---then keep it so. There is plenty of room in our town for citizens of the right sort. They will come, if Wolfville broadcasts an inviting message beyond the borders of this community.

For years, country populations have gone cityward. But the peak has been reached. The tide has turned. City folks are flocking out to the small and medium-sized towns---where they find more joy in living.

Wolfville can reap its share of this vast number of home seekers. But ambitions have got to be backed up by performance. We must stimulate pride and Patriotism within the community. We must make certain we can provide all essentials that make for moral and physical well-being of all who would come among us.

Good government, thriving Industries, good schools and churches, pure water, clean streets, better roads, opportunities for the rising generation, a progressive community spirit and true co-operation---all make for a splendid inducement to folks looking for a real home town.

Let each one do his part toward making Wolfville a better place to live in then---spread the good word to every corner of the globe.

POLITICAL NOTES

The number of "largest and most enthusiastic conventions" that have been held during recent weeks in Nova Scotia may indicate either an increased interest in politics on the part of our people or a tendency to exaggerate on the part of the reporters of the daily press.

A very wise man in years that are past discovered "that people like to be fooled". He was not a politician, but since that day politicians have profited very often by his experience. If you like to be fooled—enough said!

The privilege of having a voice in the administration of public affairs cost our forefathers more than we in this generation will ever be able to realize. It is too priceless a legacy to be lightly treated. The man who attempts to barter with you for this right, which is yours only, is not a friend—but an enemy, and should be treated as such.

GENERAL FARM CONDITIONS

Principal Cumming has recently made a series of visits to different sections of Nova Scotia and is in a position to size up pretty accurately the general farm conditions in this province. He states that farmers as a rule are feeling somewhat depressed. The markets have been poor for such products as hay, potatoes and vegetables.

On the other hand, they admit that the products of the dairy, lambs and wool, and, with the exception of a slump in the early summer of last year, poultry products, have sold readily and at good prices. Hogs have been rather low, but the market for them is gradually rising to a fair level.

In other words, the sale of raw material from the fields has not brought very satisfactory returns during the past year, but the sale of the products of live stock has been pretty well sustained and leaves little ground for complaint. Men who have raised special vegetables for a cash market, such as cabbage, etc., have not realized well on their crops, taken as a rule.

The moral of this situation is evident. Dairy products are higher than last year in market returns. Eggs are keeping up well. Hogs are on the increase. The outlook for lambs is good. Wool is somewhat lower than it was, but will probably bring fair returns yet. So, the principle on which one should work to make the best of the present situation is to turn all that is possible of one's crop into live stock channels and market them through these.

Undoubtedly one of the big elements in our situation all over at present is a kind of spell of the "blues". Savings deposits in the banks are apparently showing a big increase. Motor car sales in Nova Scotia are to date the largest, according to dealers, in any similar period yet. It is not a time to let down in crop production but rather a time when one is challenged to pit his own wit and ability against the problems to be met. There are apparently ways and means of making farming pay as well as at any time in the past, with the exception of the inflated period late in the war.

TAKES TIME

There are 284,528,211,840 different combinations of dominoes possible, according to the computation of a mathematician. If you don't believe him, try it out and see!

Items Of Local Interest

Next Sunday is Father's Day. Today is Nomination Day for the Provincial elections.

From present indications this year's strawberry crop will be a record one in this vicinity.

When in need of printing you will do well to try THE ACADIAN printers, and be sure of satisfaction.

Mr. L. W. Sleep has purchased the house at the head of Locust avenue, now occupied by Mr. W. C. Bleakney and family.

A number of delegates attending the convention of the Navy League of Canada at Halifax this week motored through this portion of the Valley on Monday.

The weather during the present week has been ideal for growing crops. With bright, warm days and generous showers at night grass is growing rapidly and the promise of a good hay-crop is assured.

THE ACADIAN regrets that it is unable to publish the letter signed "Contented" because of the fact that the writer's name does not accompany it. It is an unflattering rule in a well conducted newspaper offices that the name of the writer of all contributions must be submitted to the editor, not necessarily for publication but as an assurance of good faith.

Messrs. Charles Davidson and N. Meisner, of this town, have recently purchased from Parker Bros., of Hall's Harbor, a handsome motor boat, which is now lying at the wharf here. She is being re-fitted with power and should be in readiness for use within a few days. Such a boat will be a decided advantage to the port, and would be most useful in taking out sailing parties should the owners be inclined to use her for that purpose.

Owing to unforeseen conditions that have arisen it has been found necessary to make a change in the program of speakers for the political meeting on Friday evening. The committee has been exceedingly fortunate in being able to secure the services of Mrs. H. P. Newcombe, to take the place of Mr. O'Connor, who will be unable to be present. Mrs. Newcombe is a most attractive and interesting speaker and we are sure she will be heard with a great deal of pleasure. Her appearance should assure the attendance of a large number of ladies at the meeting, which will open at 8 o'clock instead of 7.30 as announced in the poster.

It was an interested and most attentive audience which filled the Orpheum Theatre last Friday evening to hear discussed the political issues of the day. The seating capacity of the theatre was fully taxed and many persons were standing during the greater part of the time. Mayor Chambers presided, and briefly and fittingly introduced the speakers. Messrs F. P. Bligh, of Halifax, and A. L. Davidson, of Middleton, both natives of this county. Both speakers were given a splendid hearing and the best of order prevailed throughout. The disagreeable features which too often mar such gatherings were entirely lacking, and the addresses were listened to attentively by all present.

POPULATION AND USE OF POWER

Canada possesses minimum water-power resources of over 18,000,000 twenty-four hour horse-power distributed from coast to coast at advantageous sites near the centres of industry, and in the East and West enormous reserves of coal and other fuel.

That she is making use of her great power resources is shown by the facts that during the past ten years the developed water-power has increased from 1,936,000 horse-power to 3,570,000 horse-power or nearly 85 per cent., and the water-power developed per 1,000 of the population from 252 horse-power to 387 horse-power.

During these past ten years, while the population increased 20 per cent. the use of power per head of the population increased nearly 54 per cent.

ABOUT BOOKS

By THE ACADIAN Bookman
Frederick Palmer's new novel, "Invisible Wounds" (Toronto: McClelland & Stewart, $2.00), is, as the title suggests, a story of the wounds of the spirit. In spite of the fact that the author has not yet a complete mastery of prose or of some of the aspects of narrative technique, his keen sense for dramatic situations resulting from the interaction of characters has enabled him to produce a piece of fiction with its great moments. He holds the reader in suspense until the very last page. There is an element of freshness about the novel in that the deus ex machina is no other than our new and only partially understood friend, the psychiatrist.

Ridgwell Callum's "The Riddle of Three-Way Creek" (Toronto: McClelland & Stewart, $2.00) is a story with a Canadian setting, perhaps more the Western Canada of romance and film-drama than of reality. The author makes large use of coincidence in building up his plot, with very readable results. With the exception of Andrew McFarrell, the consistency of whose character is sacrificed in order to make him the villain of the piece, the characters are well drawn, and Lightning is worthy of immortality in fiction. This is a good book to read while lying in the hammock on a warm summer's day.

"The Rector of Maliseet" (Toronto: J. M. Dent and Sons, $1.75), by Leslie Reid, "an unusually brilliant First Novel by a young English author now resident in Canada," takes us into the realm of fine art in fiction. The artist has mastered his medium of expression. His felicity of phrase in describing the setting of his novel, and the poetic skill with which he harmonizes the plot and characters with the setting, justify comparison with Hardy in such novels as "The Return of the Native". With equal art he has made the action the natural flow of events from the influence of the characters on each other in the given environment. The result is that sense of organic unity and poetic realism which we recognize as the insignia of art in prose fiction. Mr. Reid has a gift which we hope soon to see exemplified in other novels.

HAS MOTION PICTURE OF DRUMMING PARTRIDGE

Devising a new kind of motion picture camera with a built-in motor that is almost noiseless in operation, Burton S. Moore, proprietor of the Nictau Camps in New Brunswick, has succeeded in taking about 4,000 feet of film of wild life in action which will be shown in due course on Canadian and United States screens. He has been particularly successful in depicting every motion in that special phenomenon by partridges known as drumming.

This church, with a membership of 160, raised for all purposes the sum of $3162.00, and has increased in membership and its beloved pastor have passed the 5th milestone and under the new basis of union, a further invitation may be extended him to remain.

The floral tributes were many. The remains were laid to rest at Lakeville.

WHERE THE FARMER COMES IN

Edwin T. Meredith, formerly secretary of agriculture of the United States, tells of an experience of his which might be common to all. He says:

In a store in New York recently I saw a girl buying a tube of dental cream. I asked her at what work she was engaged. "I am a stenographer," she replied. "Where?" "Up stairs." "Are you interested in agriculture in Madison county, Iowa, or Texas?" "I never saw a farm and wouldn't know one if I did."

I went up to see the lawyer who employed her. "Are you interested in agriculture?" "Not a bit, I am employed by a bank, that takes all my time." "I went to the banker and asked, "Are you interested in agriculture?" "No, we have no farmers' deposits." "We have no farmers' loans." "With whom do you do business?" "Steel corporations largely."

I went to a steel corporation. "Are you interested in agriculture?" "Not a particle. We manufacture only structural steel." "To whom did you sell your last order?" "Bill Smith, of Rock Island, Ill."

I saw Bill Smith and said to him: "Are you interested in agriculture?" "Well, I should say so. We sell the farmer trucks and tires. We sell him wire fences; we sell him a thousand things, and we just bought structural steel last week to build a new unit to our factory."

All right; no farmer, no tire order; no tire order, no manufacturer; no manufacturer, no structural steel order; no steel order, no steel company; no steel company, no bank; no bank, a lawyer without a client; a lawyer without a client, no stenographer and no stenographer, no tooth paste.

HUMORIST WRITES ROAD SIGNS

"Bugs" Baer, a well-known newspaper humorist, has written and published a series of "road signs", probably merely intended to entertain. But many of them might be erected with benefit to the safety of traffic.

"Don't run up your mileage with skids," contains a lot of real caution in tabloid form. "Don't do your thinking with brakes," will strike a responsive chord in every man who has had near nervous prostration at the sight of the reckless driver stopping in a hurry.

"There are three grades of eggs, but only one grade of crossing and that's dangerous," ought to be pasted in the hats of all those who try to "beat the train" across its right of way.

"The glass in your windshield is the same stuff they put in hospital windows. Which will you look through?" is a very pertinent query, and "Fifteen miles an hour may be a chill, but fifty is fever," is not too medical to be understood.

To towns troubled with too much speeding by tourists, Mr. Baer suggests, "Speed limit in this town fifteen miles an hour. One day for every mile over that," or "We have seven hotels and one jail, take your pick."

"Don't try to scare locomotives with your horn." "The minute you save may be your last one." "You wouldn't travel on a freight train, so don't try to travel under one," are all good to remember.

Mr. Baer intended to be funny, and succeeded; he may not have intended to be serious, but many can take his cleverness seriously with benefit to themselves and the general public.

In other words (Mr. Baer once more) "Accident insurance is a good thing to have without the accident."

IF I SHOULD DIE

If I should die before you pass into that land of the eternal rest, Try to think well of me!
For I have lived my early life Battling against great odds, Endeavoring to serve my fellowmen, Knowing their frailties, their temptations, and their needs.

Because I, too, am human, Never doubting for a moment God is good And that eventually right shall conquer wrong.

Trusting His mercy and His grace, He knows wherein I failed!
Only remember I have tried to live aright, And that I love my neighbors.

I shall be waiting for you, by the grace of God,
Yonder, where early things have passed away.
My happiness not perfectly complete Until you come,
Because—I loved you best!

ABOVE THE KNEES, PLEASE

Paris rulers of fashion say to women all over the world: "Wear your skirts above your knees and paint your ears red."

And the pathetic fact is that millions of women will wear skirts so short as to be silly, and paint their ears without loss of time. Also the eyelids are to be stained dark brown or blue, the eyelashes curled, and the inside of the nostril stained bright red.

The short skirt, in reason, is sensible, a step toward common sense, and away from microbes. Red ears, when natural, indicate good blood condition. But for women to wear skirts that would look foolish on a child, paint artificial health on their ears, curl their lashes and color their eyelids, that seems too much. However, back of it all there is divine wisdom, undoubtedly. Woman is on her way to some grand destiny. Let us observe and admire, but not criticize.—Arthur Brisbane.

CUTTING THE PRICE

A young matron in whom the shopping instinct was strong asked a German grocer the price of lard.

"Twenty-five cents a pound," he replied.

"But," she said, "the price at the next corner is only 20 cents."

"Vell," asked Otto, "vy don't you buy it down there?"

"They haven't any," she explained.

"Oh, I see," replied the grocer. "Ven I don't have any I sell it for 10 cents."

A SUMMER COAT OF BLACK BENGALINE TRIMMED WITH BROWN FUR

Fur continues to be favored for the Summer coat, but the fur is usually very lightweight, and of a lighter Summer tone.

The effective coat sketched above reflects the newer style tendencies in its choice of black bengaline as a medium, its use of the flare front and straight back, and its untrimmed collar. The fur which borders the coat is ermine dyed a lovely brown.

The same model would be most attractive in white bengaline, with white fur at the hem.

TOURIST TRADE GOOD BUSINESS FOR RETAILERS

Visitors Can Take Back $100 Worth of Goods as Souvenirs

On the basis that during 1924, more than $150,000,000 was realized from tourist traffic throughout Canada, Canadian Grocer expects that approximately 200,000,000 will be brought into the country by visitors during 1925. It has been estimated that in the Province of Ontario alone approximately $5,000,000 will be spent for hotel accommodation. In all the resort districts throughout Canada business is brought to the merchant as well as the hotels, garages, etc.

It is estimated by Canadian Automobile Trade that last year there entered Ontario alone 3,000,000 cars bearing the United States license—10 cars for every car owned in the province. If each driver left no more than a dollar bill at some service station or garage the amount of business based on such a conservative estimate would still be substantial in the aggregate. But it needs little imagination to place the expenditures at a very much higher figure when hotel accommodation, garage service, etc., are taken into consideration, not to mention the purchases made in the retail stores. Russell Kelley, president of the New Ontario Tourist Association, estimates that $20,000,000 was left by tourists in the retail stores of Quebec last year. The Ontario association is out to develop aggressively this year along the lines so successfully followed by the tourist association in Quebec. In British Columbia and other provinces, too, active steps are being taken to take full advantage of the tourist business.

Illustrative of the profitable business which may be done by retailers with tourists is an article appearing in Men's Wear Review describing the methods of William McLelland, King St., Hamilton. Passing his store the other day Men's Wear Review noticed the following sign:

TOURISTS
ARE INVITED TO INSPECT OUR STOCK AT THEIR LEISURE AND ANY INFORMATION WILL BE CHEERFULLY GIVEN.

—Wm. McLelland.
Mr. McLelland takes advantage of the fact that our friends from across the border can purchase all kinds of woollen goods cheaper here and also that they can take back with them up to $100 worth of goods without having to pay any duty. He sells them winter underwear and heavy sweaters in midsummer. "From your sign at the front it looks as if you are expecting a good tourist trade this season?" asked Men's Wear Review.

"We certainly do," replied Mr. McLelland. "During the three or four months easily 50 per cent. of our business is done with tourists. Naturally we give them a hearty invitation to visit the store. They are good spenders."

"What goods do you find tourists most interested in?" was asked.

"Woolen goods seem to catch their eye most of all," he said.

"About how much cheaper can you sell them than merchants in the United States?"

"Anywhere from 33 1/3 per cent. to 50 per cent."

"We sell a lot of woolen underwear, winter coats, automobile rugs, hosiery and imported coats."

"No Duty on $100 Purchases" was explained that the duty on these goods coming into the United States was about 40 per cent. higher than the Canadian tariff. Mr. McLelland also has a ladies' wear section including hosiery, water coats, fancy goods, etc.

Mr. McLelland also sells baggage, such as travelling bags and trunks. No Duty on $100 Purchases.

In the window was noticed a letter from the Collector of Customs at Buffalo explaining that bona fide tourists returning to the United States could purchase up to $100 worth of goods in Canada without having to pay any duty. The store staff always explained this to tourists so as to relieve their minds in purchasing woollen goods, etc.

BUCKWHEAT AS A FARM CROP
(Experimental Farms Note)

Buckwheat is a valuable addition to the general run of farm crops. It often serves as a means of making extra money by rounding out the farm business rather than replacing some other important crop. Undoubtedly more buckwheat would be grown if its advantages were better known and understood.

Buckwheat has sturdy traits which make it valuable in many ways. It is one of the most successful poor-land crops that can be grown. It has the added advantage of generally being sown in early summer when the usual rush of spring seeding is over, and at the same time requires about as little labour to handle as any crop worth growing. It is practically immune to insect and plant-disease pests.

On account of its rapid growing habits, buckwheat makes an excellent green manure and for the same reason is valuable in checking the growth of weeds. The Cereal Division has found that by growing two crops of buckwheat in succession and ploughing each under as soon as the first flowers bloom, we can control couchgrass almost invariably.

Buckwheat is a real money crop to the bee-keeper and a few acres of this crop will mean a considerable source of nectar for the bees.

The average yield of buckwheat runs from fifteen to twenty bushels per acre but yields of thirty-five and fifty bushels have been recorded under very favourable conditions. The prices paid for seed do not vary much and the demand is usually quite steady.

Buckwheat requires a cool moist climate and under average weather conditions a crop will mature in from eight to eleven weeks.

As far as soil is concerned, buckwheat does well on almost any soil, as long as it is well drained, but it does its best on sandy or light loams. While the seed will germinate and grow on light, dry soil, the yields will be reduced, especially during periods of drought. On heavy, rich soils, it is inclined to lodge, and this tendency makes the crop difficult to handle at harvest. The yield is not lowered, however, if the crop is grown on good land.

There are three main varieties generally found are Silver-Hull and Japanese. The amount of seed to sow varies from two to five pecks depending on the type of soil it is sown on. The lighter soils require more, and the better land less, seed. The crop is generally sown any time from the middle of June till the middle of July, the earlier seeding is more apt to be blasted if a drought occurs when the blossoms appear.

The crop is harvested as soon as the first seeds are fully mature, the remaining seed maturing in the stock. The crop can be cut either by cradle or self reaper and the sheaves put in long shocks until dry enough to thresh.

It has been found that sweet clover seed may be sown quite safely with buckwheat and usually will add very considerably to the feeding value of the straw. In fact, these crops go very well together, both thriving under essentially similar conditions.

J. G. Carl Fraser, Cerealist.
So live, brother, that if ever you have to be pulled out from underneath your car, the reporters will not have to write, "There was an odor of liquor about the wreck."

STAMP TAX AMENDMENTS EFFECTIVE JULY FIRST

Amendments to the Special War Revenue Act respecting stamp taxes which go into effect July 1st, provide for a definition of a check which will require the issuer of "wheat tickets" or "cream tickets" or other documents issued by a company to a farmer negotiable at a bank, to affix on them a stamp. There will be a minimum stamp tax on foreign bills of $1.00.

Under the amendment a person can transfer an amount to his credit from one branch to another branch of the same bank. Money orders or travellers' checks issued by "banks or any person" will, under the amendments, be subject to stamp tax not exceeding five dollars. The amendments become effective July 1, 1925.

B.C. EXPECTS MILLION FROM THE TOURISTS

Heavier Traffic Than Ever Before Being Predicted For Coast

VANCOUVER—British Columbia's tourist harvest this year promises to be greater than ever, report railway and other transportation companies, publicity and development associations. The tide has already started to flow this year although it will not reach its height until June. There is a growing consciousness among the people of this province that the tourist traffic really constitutes one of the most important industries of the coast, representing as it does a producer of millions of dollars in revenue each year. A few years ago the tourist was regarded with a feeling akin to contempt and little effort was made to encourage the traffic. That sentiment has now been almost entirely replaced by a desire to cater to the needs of the traveler, the basic conviction behind the changed point of view being that the tourist as such is a distributor of cash and is also a potential settler, and permanent source of wealth to the district in which he settles.

MUST LOWER COSTS

Canada must lower production costs to become an important exporting country. Manufactured goods from England and the United States are under bidding Canadian producers in the European markets. European manufacturers are taking Canadian raw materials, with which we are so bountifully supplied, and producing from them, with the benefit of the low wages paid on the continent, goods to undersell Canadian manufacture of the same line. In agricultural products, we are also suffering from the handicap of high prices and Australia and New Zealand are laying down butter on the English and French markets at levels that make competition very keen for Canadian producers.

The cost of living is higher in Canada than on the continent, and the wages paid are also much higher. This seems to be preventing Canada from taking full advantage of her great resources in raw materials.—Financial Post.

HEALTH

There is too much ill health, too much catching of everything, including influenza, that happens along. Not a disciple of the spiritualist or even the cult, "better and better," we are, however, a firm believer of not lying down in the road and letting the stylish or prevalent vehicle of disease run over us.

There are simple rules to follow. Have a clean conscience and open bowels. Take a bath at least twice a week, whether you need it or not. Let a little fresh air in the house. Do the daily dozen exercises every morning. Don't worry and remember your stomach needs about as much care as the furnace. When the latter is clogged up, you have gas, clinkers, soot and no heat. In such a case what do you do? Poke it, shake it up, stir it up, just physical. Did you ever stop to think that your stomach and bowels need poking, shaking up, get out the clinkers, "grip" and several more of these relations?

Don't be so darn physically lazy and don't go gunning for "grip"; you might hit it.

PORT WILLIAMS AND VICINITY

The Women's Institute held their regular monthly meeting on Thursday, June 11, at Mrs. Eldon Coldwell's, on the lawn. After the regular business routine, the reports of the convention were read by the delegates, Mrs. Fred Wood and Mrs. Thos. MacCabe. They were full of interest from start to finish and had their full share of new ideas and suggestions. One outstanding item of interest to the wives and mothers was that the women have been granted the right to vote at the public school meeting just the same as the men, that is, they do not have to be property owners in order to vote. This has been a question of right, which has been struggled for some time, and through the Women's Institute it has been brought to pass. Now it remains for the wives and mothers to make use of their opportunity, but not to abuse it in any way—go and vote, but remember and vote for the uplift of both your children and the schools which they attend—not for any grudge or personal feeling you may have, but for the good of the community.

Miss Minnie Healy, who has spent the last year in U.S., has arrived home for the summer months. Miss Edith Burnham (as advertised) gave a very interesting recital in Temperance Hall on Friday, June 12. Miss Burnham possesses a most retentive memory and has a very pleasing personality, and all who heard her give the following numbers were well pleased. The Song My Paddle Sings—Pauline Johnson. The Princess—Alfred Tennyson. Caddy and the Bears—Lilliput Levee. The House with Nobody in It—Joyce Kilmer. A selection from Lowell. Little Boy Blue—Eugene Field. The "Will-O'-The-Wisp"—Doril Halman. The Bells—Edgar Allan Poe. The Famous Sleep Walking Scene—Shakespeare. An old Sweetheart of Mine—James Whitcomb Riley. Miss Burnham was assisted by Mr. Eric Wilson, baritone, and Mr. Wm. Watson, violinist.

Mr. Manning K. Ellis was in Sydney on a business trip last week. Prof. W. E. Van der University of Manitoba, Winnipeg, who was attending the recent conference of the Universities which was held in Halifax, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Vaughn for a short time. Instead of the regular preaching service in the United Baptist church, Sunday evening, the choir rendered a service of song, of old and familiar Gospel songs, taken from the collection of songs and solos compiled by Ira D. Sankey, James McGranahan, P. P. Bliss and many others. Mrs. Nichol, of Somerville, Mass., is visiting her sister, Mrs. S. L. Gates. Mrs. Robert F. Newcombe, of Belcher Street, with her little daughter Isobel, is visiting in Lawrencetown, the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Beckwith. Miss Mary Campbell, of Hudson, New York, is the guest of Miss Susie Chase, Church Street. Mrs. Newton Newcombe, Belcher Street, is visiting relatives and friends in Bridgetown. Miss Ruth Elderkin, Wolfville, spent the week end as the guest of Miss Susie Chase, Church Street. Rev. and Mrs. P. Archibald, of Upper Canard Presbyterian church, who have already won a place in the heart of their people, were at home to their many friends on Wednesday afternoon and evening. Church Street was well represented, as several of his parishioners live there. Miss Norah Bell, of Trinidad, is the guest of Mrs. Elizabeth Chase, Church Street. Miss Bell is the daughter of the Rev. Mr. Bell, who will be remembered as the pastor of the Presbyterian church, Upper Canard, for several years, and Mrs. Bell. Their daughter is on her way to join her parents in England, where they are on furlough. Mrs. Ross and daughter, of Lynn, Mass., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. K. Ellis, Belcher Street. Mr. and Mrs. Millidge Schofield, Belcher Street, motored to Halifax on Saturday, where they spent the day. Mrs. Beck, from New Glasgow, is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Charles Collins, Lower Church Street. Dr. Ross Collins, who has a position as teacher in Columbia University, Washington, and his brother, Wylie, who is studying medicine at Harvard, arrived home last week to spend their vacation with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dexter Collins.

Several of our residents motored up to Kentville last Tuesday evening and enjoyed the splendid music of the band, its first open air concert of the season and one well worth while. Mrs. Grace Andrew, nurse, returned home last Wednesday from a period of several weeks professional duties at Port Williams. Misses Rena Cox and Hilda Johnson visited friends in Kentville last Thursday afternoon. Mr. Ward, our teacher, and the pupils of our school, after the roll call Thursday afternoon, hiked up to "Neary Hollow", with well laden baskets and spent the whole afternoon on a picnic, which was thoroughly enjoyed by all. A few of the young people joined them at tea time to assist and see that all enjoyed plenty of the "eats". This ideal picnic place is situated on north side of hollow, and games, bag races and other stunts were enjoyed to the full, all being loath to leave in the evening. Our school did not have its annual afternoon on a sleighing party during present term, hence the picnic.

Miss Catherine Fraser, teacher at Gaspereaux, was a week end guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Pearson. Miss Annie Pearson, who has been visiting in Parrsboro the past three weeks, arrived home Saturday evening and resumed her duties as assistant to the Town Clerk, Wolfville, on Monday. Mrs. Arthur Leslie, of Dartmouth, spent the week end here, a guest of her sister, Mrs. J. Harvey, and her friend, Mrs. Lilla Forsythe, returning to her home on Monday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Lee Bishop and little daughter, also Mr. and Mrs. Hazen Bishop and little daughter Dorothy, motored to New Ross in the latter's auto on Sunday, returning in the evening. Mr. and Mrs. T. Andrew Pearson and daughter, accompanied by Mr. Borden Fraser and sister, motored through to Belleisle, Annapolis county, on Sunday, where they spent the day at the home of Mr. Fraser and sister, returning in the evening, having had a delightful trip. Miss Betty Morgan, of Port Williams, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. J. Fenwick, on Sunday afternoon. Mrs. W. Curry, our choir leader, very acceptably sang two solos, also in a duet, at the splendid song service at New Minas Baptist church on Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. G. I. Fraser are visiting a few days this week at West Gore, Hants county, guests at the home of the former's sister, Mrs. Wallace. Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Bishop, accompanied by Mrs. Grace Andrew, left Tuesday morning on a motor and camping trip, to be gone several days. LILY OF THE VALLEY DIVISION CLOSSES SUCCESSFUL YEAR (From "Forward") The Lily of the Valley Division No. 440 has disbanded for the summer months, after an exceptionally interesting and profitable winter. The members have attended the meetings regularly, and have evinced much interest in all the proceedings. During the early part of the winter we held two open meetings. These meetings took the form of lectures, given by Bro. J. Macaskill and Mr. H. R. Grant. Our object being to create a greater interest in Temperance in this community. On April 9th a very successful entertainment was given under the leadership of our W. A. Mrs. R. Newcombe. The sum of $21.10 was realized. During the latter part of the winter, we carried on a "Mock Parliament" and I would suggest to any of you who desire variety of entertainment, to try this method. It is fine, and while we discussed many important questions, and passed bills of great import, yet we found plenty of amusement as well; and the evenings all too short. On the 23rd of April we accepted an invitation to Avonport, from "Hopeful" Division, and found many young "Hobbits" to carry on the work at that place. Throughout the winter we have used various means to make the meetings interesting and instructive, and as we close our sessions for the summer,

Of these, however, only three were correct. First place goes to Miss Marguerite Marshall, of Wolfville, and second to Mrs. Rufus Eaton, Canning. Will these please advise us to whom, outside their families, they would like us to send THE ACADIAN for six and three months respectively. The only other correct solution came from Mr. J. Vimy is not remaining for a second term as Governor-General of Canada. Premier King, replying to a question in the House of Commons this afternoon by Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, leader of the Opposition, intimated that His Excellency regretted that he was not able to consider an extension of his term. Nothing short of exceptional public need, His Excellency felt, would compel him to remain longer than the regular term. Mr. Meighen in putting his question observed that if His Excellency could be persuaded to remain the extension of his term would meet with almost universal approval, and if the Government had any favorable statement it would be most welcome.

IN a less enlightened age people fought to safeguard their valuables. Often they placed them in a strong box which they hid in some secret place, hoping to protect them. Today the safety and security of steel vaults eliminate the danger of loss by fire or theft, and give peace of mind for the safety of valuable belongings. Documents lying unprotected in your house or office demand the security of a Safety Deposit Box.

STRIKING THE BALANCE

Quality or price alone are not standards by which to judge your purchases. It is possible to pay too much for quality, just as it is possible to sacrifice quality for price. The balance between these two—the provision of the highest possible standard at prices that are, indeed, moderate—is the true test of value, and it is here that we are able to excel.

DIARY OF MARGARET D. MICHENER

Dec. 4th, 1850. Here I am at my lonely dwelling for a few minutes writing. Father and I went to Windsor Tuesday afternoon. I called at Dr. Harding's to pass an examination to get a license for teaching school. Mr. Murdoch gave me the license. In the evening we attended a lecture at the Temperance Hall. We stopped at Mr. McHaffey's all night, then after doing some shopping we returned home. Olivia has been spending the day with Mary. Ann is there also.

9th. I came down this afternoon as Mr. West is at work here. John Michener has been in; he reminds me much of dear Simeon. The "Hantsport" arrived Sunday night. Michael Davidson came up to father's on Friday to tell me Capt. Curry had got back. Oh, how it surprised me for I thought he would never return. I had to drop my work, for it came to me so forcibly that he had returned alone. I could not eat and did not sleep much that night. On Saturday

GIRL GARBED AS A LUMBERJACK REMOVED FROM CAMP IN NORTH

The photographs above show a young Ontario girl who for a considerable time wielded axe and "peavey" in a Northern Ontario camp with all the prowess of a sure-enough lumberjack. She shall be nameless as she has now been removed through the good offices of the Children's Aid Society to a different social station. In Ontario, happily, such cases are rare, says J. J. Kelso, Provincial Superintendent of Neglected and Dependent Children, though intervention occasionally becomes necessary. This girl, when found by the authorities was keeping house for an uncle in an out-of-the-way spot in the Temiskaming woods. She frequently was engaged in rough lumbering operations. She has been removed to an urban centre where she has an opportunity to educate herself and enjoy the refinements of civilization.

John came down with me to see Curry. I knew not how to meet him, but knew I must; so after a while I went in. He told me the sad tale, and we believe the medicine was the cause of Simeon's death. He said they would have had a pleasant time had they not been ill. Everybody liked Simeon and the people where they boarded were very kind. Every respect was shown at his burial; the seamen followed to his grave and all the vessels had their flags at half mast in token of his death. I am glad to know all the particulars from one who was with him to the last. Maria should be thankful and happy.

11th. This day is snowy. I stayed all night with Abigail and today at Mary's. Mr. West is here at work, doing some carpentering.

13th. John Michener came up to mother's and spent the afternoon and evening. Joe and Olivia were there also and many others calling in. Ann went down to Mrs. E. Holmes to watch, as her child is very ill.

14th. Saturday night I went to stay the night; about half past eleven the child died in my arms. It was the first time I had ever seen one die; it sank away so gently I hardly knew it was gone. I thought how sweet to die and at rest from the tumult of this world. Dear little babe, it looked more beautiful in death than when living, for it was a great sufferer. Mrs. Hicks and Jane Lynch sat with me. Mrs. Hicks is a widow for three years. She has six children. I feel a nearness to widows.

15th. Sunday. Rev. McKee preached both morning and afternoon.

16th. This has been a lovely day. I arose early and took a walk. Father and James killed pigs this morning. In the afternoon we went to the funeral. Rev. Vaughan preached from the text "Remember how short my time is", etc.

17th. Have been stormy and cold.

18th: Mother and I went up to Lydia's. The last time I was there dear

19th. This day is snowy. I stayed all night with Abigail and today at Mary's. Mr. West is here at work, doing some carpentering.

20th. I thought I would go down home but a big snow storm came so I could not go. I went over to Mrs. Whitman Holmes' who is falling fast. She has no expectation of seeing another winter. She is calmly awaiting the end.

21st. This is a fine day. John and Ann went to Olivia's. W. Irish came in and spent the evening with us.

22nd. This day is snowy. I stayed all night with Abigail and today at Mary's. Mr. West is here at work, doing some carpentering.

23rd. John Michener came up to mother's and spent the afternoon and evening. Joe and Olivia were there also and many others calling in. Ann went down to Mrs. E. Holmes to watch, as her child is very ill.

Someone, just for a joke, asked in a local store for sweet potato seeds. The clerk hunted all through the seeds but could not find sweet potato seeds, and finally appealed to the boss.

The latter explained that he was being kidded and cautioned him about not letting smart Alecks put anything over on him.

A few days later a lady entered the store and asked for some bird seed.

"Aw, go on," grinned the clerk, "you can't kid me. Birds are hatched from eggs."

It was at that moment a thought suddenly leapt in Angus's mind, and he said:

"Bant! Bant your name? Might I ask what is your Christian name?"

They both stared at him because of the unexpectedness, and also the unintelligibility of the enquiry. But Greer laughed.

"Christian name is good!" he commented.

Bantling paid no heed to the enquiry, just sucking the ends of his moustache aware that he was having little effect on MacPherson. Then he said:

"Our word is as good as yours, old-timer. We found the ore deposit before you—see?"

"You've found it!"

"We will find it when you lead us to it. Now, don't fret. This is the fortune of war. We'll stake her. You can say what you like after, but our word is as good as yours." Bantling paused and then said: "We have your squeaky-voiced partner trussed up, and he can say trussed, and coyotes can have him if you don't lead us to the place."

Angus peered at his eyes as that speech was delivered, then looked at Greer.

"He's bluffing, ain't he?" he asked Greer.

Greer only puckered his eyes, inscrutable.

"Piccolo wouldn't tell you, then?"

Angus enquired, addressing Bantling again. "So you trussed him up and came to find me."

"I'm the enquirer," answered Bantling, "not you."

"So!" said Angus. "Well, if you've left Piccolo trussed up the coyotes may get the courage to eat him, or the bobcats might see he was unable to defend himself and pass by on the other side as their usage is with men. Then your goose with the golden eggs is done for. Ah well. But perhaps Movie Bill is looking after him to the place."

Bantling's eyes blinked rapidly.

"Movie Bill?" he asked. "What about him?"

At that Angus shut up like a clam. He sat very still, staring at the ground. What he wondered, was he to believe? He had a terrible dread that perhaps Piccolo was no longer a living man, that they had caught his partner, held him up, tried to get the information they wanted from him—killed him. So ended his dark fear. It was a dread that possessed him so strongly that he said, to test, to seek evidence:

"You went the wrong way about this. I certainly drew that map you have, but only to help Piccolo give an impression of this country, and because I'm accustomed to drawing maps. It is of no service without Piccolo. If you wanted to be the bold bad bandits like what you read about in the Sunday editions you should have held me up as the hostage, or ransom as they say, and said to Piccolo: 'Blab it out, Pic! Show us the place where you got these bonny specimens or we'll blow out the brains of your auld friend.'"

He spread out his palms in a frail-looking gesture before him.

The two frowned, then looked one to the other. Angus felt sure then that his guess that they had done away with Piccolo was correct. Dimly to his ears sounded the tom-tomming of the creek, although truly it roared on loud enough. A great weariness filled him again. He felt less enraged than broken. It seemed a bitter and callous world.

And then a high shrill voice pierced the minor-key brawl of the creek:

"Put up your hands! Both of you! Smart!"

Angus's heart clutched. He looked up, and there was Piccolo, a meagre little man on a rock, like a caricature of the central figure in pictures called "The Last Stand", rifle tensely in his hands, finger on trigger.

Greer wheeled, raising his arms high in air. The crazy Bantling turned with his gun up to fire. And fire he did, but only with the involuntary jerk of his hand as he fell. Pic had fired first.

The detonations in that compressed place at the gorge of Give-Out creek were deafening in their ears, two thuds of sound that made the ear-drums, for a moment or two after, register nothing; and then the roar of the creek came back by degrees. There was no smoke, just a waft of acid odour.

Bantling lay on his face. Greer, hands still in air, quivered perceptibly. But for that matter so did Angus, swallowing with difficulty, not as young as he had been; and so did Piccolo.

"By your leave, sir," said Angus, and stretching out his slightly shaking hand he annexed Greer's rifle.

Piccolo was no movie hero. He was certainly trembling like one of the aspens by the creek side as he came close to them.

"For Heaven's sake," said Greer, "slip your finger off that trigger. I ain't heeled now. She might go off."

Piccolo gave a shrill little laugh.

"Sure, she might!" he said. "Now what's the game? See if he has an automatic in his pocket, Scotty, or any other shooting iron—or a knife, or anything."

His voice quavered high, very tremulous, and with a note of almost crazy exultation.

Angus felt Greer carefully, and was satisfied that the rifle he had annexed was his only lethal weapon.

"Well? What's the game?" asked Piccolo. "What were you hazing my friend Mr. MacPherson for?"

Greer said not a word.

"He wanted me to tell him where the location is where you found your specimens. He has some of them. I don't know how he got them," Angus explained.

Piccolo looked ashamed. In the stress of the moment he confessed.

"I guess I dropped them at the hotel veranda at Colvill," said he. "Movie Bill had picked them up by the time I went back for them."

"So!" said Angus, but in a very absent way.

He bent forward and felt Bantling's heart. He opened one of the fallen man's eyes, and then rose. He was again trembling.

"He's dead!" he said.

Give-Out creek roared on with a note unchanged, but to Angus it seemed that its note had changed. Piccolo stood very white, looking down at the body.

"I suppose," said he, "we should go through his pockets for more evidence—the way the Kokanee policeman went through that man Grafters' pockets."

The voice of Greer astonished them both.

"Is Grafters dead? Did he get it?" he asked, sepulchral, almost unaware.

"Oh, you know Grafters! Well that was an act of God," said Angus. "He was overtaken by a snowslide. Him and Hawke."

Greer just stood staring.

"I don't like doing this," Piccolo's chirping voice rose up, as he searched Bantling's pockets. "No, he has no letters. Look—chewing gum!" His lip quivered. There were queer sensitive streaks in Piccolo. "What does a dead man want with chewing gum? The sugar coated kind too!" His voice quavered tensely.

"Here you!" roared Angus. "Keep a grip on yourself." He was master of the situation. "You," and he glared at Greer, "get that little shovel and pick there and dig. Dig good, or I'll show you how. Step lively; shake a leg. Bend to it. Dig and get your partner to his bed."

The blaze in MacPherson's eyes made Greer work hard. Piccolo looked like one on the verge of breakdown. In that thin voice of his he said:

"He should have a board or something over him. He should not have grabbed the rifle. I had to shoot."

"Sure you had to! Sure you had to!" cried out Angus, in a tone like a Nova Scotia skipper in a fog. "We'll get a bit stick up to him. I'll carve his name to please you. I'm a grand hand at the whittling. What was his name again?"

"Bantling. Mark Bantling," said Greer, digging hard, for Angus stood four-square and grim, rifle in hand, above the hole he dug.

"Twelve letters. Huh! Here, you Piccolo, cut out your false sentiment. You acted like a man in the circumstances. He was a sure-thing tough—a sure-thing tough. Brace yourself. I can't carve twelve letters on a stick; the initials will have to do. And take back what you pumped into my head about Movie Bill!"

He was going to add: "It was this man Bantling who wrote the letter!" but Greer, climbing out of the hole to drag his fallen partner into it, in some emotion of chagrin over having lost presence and desirous just to contradict the hints about that man who had won, snapped:

"Oh, Movie Bill is on to it all right!"

Angus's voice sounded old and petulant as he cried out at that:

"Confound you! Confound you both! I'll believe Movie Bill is crooked when I have proof. I have no proof now."

"That's all right," soothed Greer, "he told me himself. He told Bantling over the phone that he was on to it."

"Over the phone?" shrilled Angus, almost as shrill as Piccolo. And then: "There, there! No more, either of you. Leave calumny to the sewing circles when the towns are built. No more about that man Movie Bill. I keep an open mind!"

Piccolo, calmed down, but annoyed then by Angus classing him and Greer together, gave a little laugh, a slight sneer. He muttered: "You'll find out about—"

"What's that?" asked Angus.

"Nothing," said Piccolo. "You'll see."

"That's what I say: I'll see!"

And never a word of appreciation to Piccolo for the splendid way, like a hero in a movie, in which he had come to the rescue! After all that he had done for him too! Made a camp for him when he gave out; brought him water; rescued him from two bad men! Did Angus think it was nothing to him that he had been forced to shoot one of them? Even to shoot up a man like that was an ordeal. No sympathy with him when he was using afterwards. Classed him with Greer! Oh, a snappy, crockety, cranky old man!

Piccolo was "peevish" indeed.

down, crossed the creek jumping from one boulder to another, and—" he stopped, "you know the rest. Trussed up nothing!" he snorted.

Angus gave a grunt and turned to Greer.

"You maybe ain't as tough as you talk," said he. "I always believe in giving a man the benefit of the doubt. When did you invent that lie? How did your partner know to say what he did?"

"Well, we knew you were out with him. When we met you, you sang out: 'Is that you, Piccolo?' so Bant worked his line of talk on that."

"Very clever," said Angus. "More clever than I thought. He did the way some of these fake character readers do. They get their clients to tell them, without realizing they are doing so; and then they tell it back. Very clever of him. Is that you, Piccolo?" and so he knew I was alone, expecting Pic. Well, you did not keep a good look-out for him, considering you knew I was expecting him."

"I sure did. But not to the south side of the creek, right behind my back."

"What made you come down here?"

"We saw the smoke of your fire."

"Who's the 'we'? How many of you are there?"

Greer did not answer at once. Then—"Just the two," said he.

Angus looked at him thoughtfully. He found his face shifty.

THE FEMININE TOUCH

"Well, how do you like that new mare of yours?"

"Oh, fairly well. But I wish I had bought a horse. She's always stopping to look at herself in the puddles."

Here and There

Canada spent $49,066,179 last year for pensions and re-establishment of Veterans of the Great War, according to a report recently issued from Ottawa by the department in charge of this work.

Without a dissentient voice over 4,000 cattle owners in 200 districts have voted to make Prince Edward Island a disease-free area under the Department of Agriculture arrangement which calls for a two-thirds vote of all cattle owners.

Two thousand young buffalo from the Wainwright herd will make a 700-mile trek northward this summer to the buffalo reserve on the Slave River where they will be turned loose to mingle with the wood bison which roam that area.

"In all parts of Canada and the United States," according to Robt. G. Hodgson, editor of the Fur Trade Journal of Canada, "Muskrat farms are being established, mostly on a large scale and they are rapidly turning what was once marshland of little value into the most productive part of the farm," Mr. Hodgson adds.

The record established recently at Acme when 114 horses worked in one field at one time seeding the crop of Mrs. C. W. King, has been broken at Gadsby, Alberta. When the neighbors of J. B. Ball who recently suffered a broken arm, put in his 100-acre crop, 39 outfits were at work on one day and 175 horses. The crop was put in in a single day.

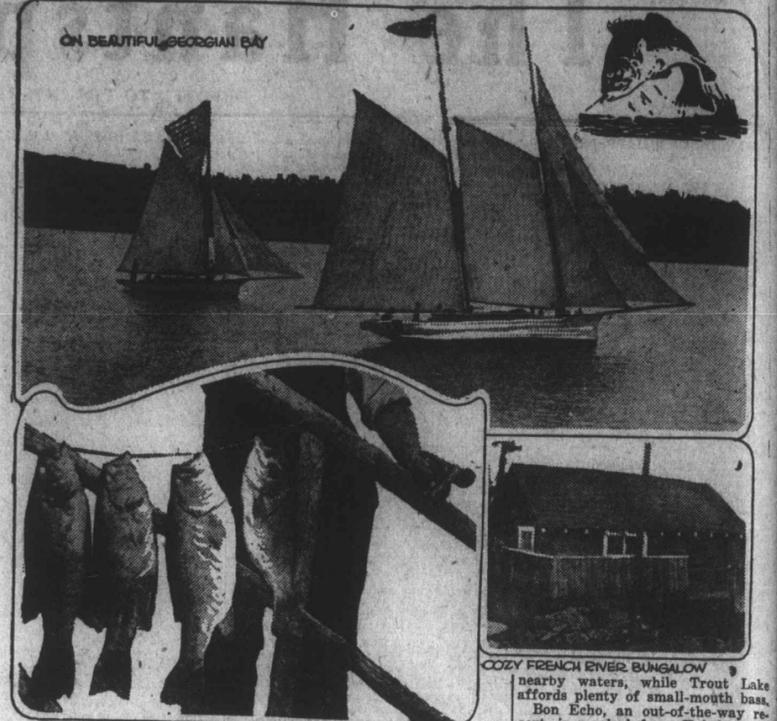

H. E. Morriss, whose horse Manna made a run away victory in the English Derby, will visit Canada in the fall en route to China from which country he hails. He will sail on the Canadian Pacific S.S. Minnedosa from Southampton on October 8, stay a short time in the Dominion, and sail from Vancouver for China on the S.S. Empress of Australia, October 29.

Rebuilt in nine months after the fire that destroyed it last October, the Chateau Lake Louise hotel opened for the current season on Sunday, May 31 as the Trans-Canada train arrived from its cross-continent run. The hotel was rebuilt under exceptionally difficult conditions in temperatures as low as fifty degrees below zero during which a wooden wall heated by stoves had to be erected about the construction works.

Following the opening visit by Their Majesties King George and Queen Mary to the Wembley Exhibition, the Duke and Duchess of York also went over the grounds. Their Majesties were especially delighted with Treasure Island, the Paradise of children, and travelled over the miniature Canadian Pacific train that runs around the Island, passing en route the replica of Banff Station and the reproduction of the Canadian Pacific Rockies.

Canada will be well represented at the New Zealand and South Seas International Exhibition to be held at Dunedin between November, 1925 and April, 1926. Both the Dominion Government and the Canadian Pacific Railway have announced their intention to send well-appointed exhibits to the Exposition. It is probable that the provincial governments and many Canadian manufacturers will follow suit.

Ontario's Many Summer Resorts Afford Varied Pleasures

Every summer tens of thousands of visitors seek rest and recreation, health and happiness in the fascinating hinterland of Ontario, where woods and waters abound on every hand, each with its especial charm.

A fascinating retreat for fishermen in this part of Ontario, is the French River district. Since the erection of a comfortable, commodious bungalow camp which opened in 1923, visitors have flocked there in numbers that have taxed its capacity. Fighting bass, grown strong in the swift waters of the river, and huge muskellunge are caught in large numbers. Other species are plentiful too.

Most of the Ontario places are easily reached from Toronto. The Muskoka and Kawartha chains of lakes are the annual haven of many visiting families who occupy cottages, camps and hotels of varying degrees of comfort and luxury. All enjoy the dry, pine-scented air that is a sure remedy for hay fever. Mixed fishing is insured here and in men; others delight in sailing and paddling canoes. The summers are all too brief to satisfy these lovers of Ontario's out-of-doors.

Camps hidden miles deep, away from the railway lines, yield exceptionally good fishing and wholesome food. Such a one is Billy Burke's log camp on Trout Lake, reached by an 8-mile launch ride from Paget station. Ka-Wig-A-Mog Lodge, hidden away from civilization, is about 8 miles from Pakeyville, and transportation is via the Key Valley Railway, owned by a Milwaukee lumber concern, which operates a railway bus, mounted on railway car trucks, and fitted with a Ford motor for power. At the sawmill town, this mode of locomotion is exchanged for a motor launch that carries guests to Ka-Wig-A-Mog Lodge, an attractive structure devoted to dining and social affairs. In addition to the Lodge, there are a number of cottages built about an eighth of a mile apart, on both sides of the long, narrow lake, thus insuring privacy. Mixed fishing is insured here and in nearby waters, while Trout Lake affords plenty of small-mouth bass. Bon Echo, an out-of-the-way resort, is reached from Kaledar, Ontario, by automobile which passes along hillside carpeted with blue flowers and seeming to emanate a blue haze. The Inn is located on a spit of land that separates the Masanaw Lakes, two lovely sheets of water. They are of great depth and from them rises a sheer rock to over 200 feet, possessed of a three-fold echo. It bears on one face a bas-relief of Walt Whitman, to whom the rock is dedicated. Bass fishing is good. There are two fine beaches; one of deep water that delights divers, and the other has a vast, silver sandy floor with shallow water, and makes a safe, ideal beach for women and children.

Port au Baril on Georgian Bay, is unique in that its capacious rustic hotel is located on an island. Fishing, bathing and boating are its chief attractions. Georgian Bay with its thousands of islands and indented shore-line, is a paradise of beauty and sport, and is sought by many visitors from the States with summer homes on the islands. Those who prefer the mainland, will find a string of summer resorts dotting the shore-line for 100 miles.

BEAUTIFYING A RAILROAD SYSTEM

Strangers, travelling upon the railways in Canada find pleasure in passing through a country that is new and fresh and possessing a wild, primitive grandeur practically unattained. But in no small degree this pleasure is heightened and contributed to by a wonderful transformation wrought artificially by the lavish use of trees and flowers which have been planted and cultivated under the supervision of expert horticulturists employed for the purpose by the railway company.

The most striking example of what can be effected by this means is to be seen along the Canadian Pacific tracks through the Prairie Provinces, according to an article on the subject in the April "Landscape Architecture" by E. L. Chicanot.

"Along the more than three thousand miles of main line," writes Mr. Chicanot, "there were naturally a good many men, station agents and who, with the limited means at their command and to the best of their ability, cultivated little pieces of ground about the scenes of their activities. The planting of a little garden at a station, especially in certain bleak, treeless areas, was a conspicuous feature and added some little beauty to the surroundings. This gave to a higher official of the company, about thirty-five years ago, the idea of expanding the work of beautifying the grounds by selecting and encouraging agents and others in work of this kind. This took concrete form in the distribution to station-agents throughout the system of free packets of flower seeds. Inevitably, of course, some men did not bother about them but sufficient did to produce a very marked effect and make noticeably attractive those stations where the seed had been properly used and cared for."

"The impression was so striking that the Operating Department of the company proceeded to have principal stations and division points along the system. The result of this again was so impressive that a special study was made of the whole question, and subsequently it was decided to engage in the work thoroughly and systematically and to add an expert horticulturalist to the staff."

"The work since that time (1908) has grown tremendously, each year seeing a number of new gardens laid out about the company's stations until today the Canadian Pacific Railway has the largest number of gardens of any railway company in the world."

"Now along the steel system from coast to coast lies a series of fair gardens and spots of green sward and often the cool and refreshing air about the station constitutes the one cheerful feature of entry into a town otherwise drab and unattractive."
