

POINTS YET TO SETTLE.

St. Thomas Gets Concessions From the Hydro

Which Hamilton Aldermen Think This City Should Get

Will Cataract Make a Move For a Decision?

There is a feeling among the City Hall officials to-day that the Cataract Power Company will make a move before the Power Committee meets to-morrow afternoon to recommend the Council to close with the Hydro-Electric Commission for a thousand horse-power, and suggest a speedy way of settling the validity of the contract entered into by last year's Council and under which the city now refuses to admit that it is liable.

In the meantime the aldermen who are fighting to protect the city's interests have had impressed upon them by the case of St. Thomas the necessity of Hamilton carefully threshing out with the Commission every detail. The restlessness displayed by some of the municipalities is apparently stampeding the Commission, which seems willing now to grant any concession. It swept away practically all the obstacles to the scheme for St. Thomas, although that municipality was at sea on several points, until a deputation went straight to headquarters and demanded definite information.

There are several pointers in the St. Thomas case by which Hamilton may profit if the aldermen take time to carefully consider them.

One of the strongest objections made by St. Thomas was to building a line from Port Stanley to its distributing station at a cost of $4,000. The deputation put it up to Mr. Beck so strong that he admitted the engineer had made a mistake and that the commission would build this piece of line.

If the commission is going to do this why should it not build the line from Dundas to the city's distributing station? Why should the Hamilton ratepayers be soaked several thousands of dollars for this when St. Thomas does not have to pay. The cases are practically identical.

Hamilton will fight for the right to sell power as it pleases as long as it does not sell below cost. St. Thomas has secured the promise of the commission that it will be permitted to sell power below cost to customers who use it when the peak load is not on, and Hamilton should have the same privilege. The stand taken by St. Thomas is that it is selling the power twice by doing this and thus does not have to keep it up to the original cost.

St. Thomas has received the commission's assurance that it will get the credit for all power sold to Port Stanley and rural districts. The commission is dealing direct with Dundas here and the city so far has no assurance that it will have the right to sell power to the rural districts. The aldermen who want to see the city protected think these matters should be set down in black and white in the agreement.

IN BAD SHAPE.

Abraham Hill Found on Roadside With Broken Skull.

How Abraham Hill, 71 King street west, came to be lying beside the H. G. & B. tracks near Grimsby yesterday morning at 4 o'clock with a fractured skull is a mystery. Whether he was robbed and assaulted or met with an accident is not known, but when picked up no money was found in his pockets.

As the night freight car was running along about a mile east of Grimsby the motorman noticed a man lying beside the tracks. The car was stopped, and the crew took Hill into the home of Mrs. W. H. Nelles, near by, and Dr. Smith, of Grimsby, was called, and found that he had a fracture at the base of the skull, and was also badly cut and bruised. He was unconscious.

The injured man was at once brought to the City Hospital, where his injuries were attended to by Dr. Rennie. This morning he was still in a critical condition. The railway officials have made investigations, and are confident Hill was not struck by a car.

MOSBY DEAD.

Well-Known Trainer and Horseman Got Sudden Call.

Death came suddenly to William Mosby, who was a visitor at the races here last week. While staying at the Royal Hotel he became ill, and was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital, where he died this morning. Deceased was 53 years of age, and had been a resident of Hamilton for many years. He was formerly a trainer for William Hendrie until a few years ago, when he bought several horses of his own. These he sold last spring on account of his health failing. He was a native of Versailles, Woodford county, Kentucky, and is survived by one brother, F. F. Mosby, in California, who has been communicated with in regard to the interment.

Dived to Death

San Francisco, Oct. 4.—Several hundred people saw John Mangels a "flaming high diver," plunge 57 feet to probable death at a local amusement park here last night when he failed to rise from the shallow tank into which he dove head on. Mangels is known on the bills as "Towers" and made the leap nightly clad in a sheet of flame from oil soaped cotton. He is believed to have miscalculated the distance shot like a comet into the tank from which he was removed with a broken neck. Doctors say he cannot recover.

WILL FIGHT IT.

Effort to Deport Greathed Not Likely to Succeed.

It is pretty safe to say that the deaf mute Greathed, about whose case a great deal has been said in certain quarters, will not be deported. The St. George's Society has taken up his case. Mr. J. H. Collinson, the president, looked into it and interviewed Mayor McLaren and Relief Officer McMenemy and on Saturday wired Mr. Scott, of the Department of Immigration, to hold up proceedings. The St. George's officers say the attempt to deport Greathed is wholly unjustifiable. He has been in Canada just two years. Being a deaf mute he has had some trouble about getting work, but he is an industrious painter and decorator and is now employed by James Mathews, who expects to have work for him pretty much all winter. He has a comfortable little home, a wife who helps him by doing laundry work, and two little children. He has a good record and but for the fact that at one time, on the advice of a neighbor, his wife applied to the city for a little fuel, he probably would never have come into the limelight in the manner that he has. He is quite determined to prove himself a worthy citizen and will resist deportation to the utmost—and St. George's Society will help him, for he is an Englishman. Greathed, by the way has recently painted the King William police station, and the police all have a good word for him.

Relief Officer McMenemy said to-day that the city would do nothing more on the case.

Three More Civic Departments May be Consolidated.

Want New Plumbing and Air Shaft In City Hall.

Mayor Talks of Establishing an Information Bureau.

The spirit of consolidation is in the air at the City Hall these days. Following the announcement of the different officials and departments to work under City Engineer Macallum came a rumor to-day that as soon as the new Board of Control takes hold there is a possibility of the assessment, city clerk and city treasurer's departments being consolidated. The Board of Health and Hospital Board are also slated for consolidation if the scheme of some of the aldermen to get the Board of Works to take over the scavenger system is successful. They think that with one board Dr. Roberts could have charge of the contagious and infectious diseases, while Dr. Langrill would continue to have charge of the balance of the hospital work.

The Markets Committee may be called upon to spend a lot of money on the City Hall next year. Complaints about the plumbing, which is twenty years old, and the poor ventilation are heard every year as winter approaches, and the officials are beginning to grumble already. They think that the plumbing should be renewed and a ventilation staff connected with all the offices installed. City Engineer Macallum to-day condemned the building as a fire trap. He says if a fire should suddenly break out at night when the Board of Education is in session the trustees or caretaker's family on the top floor would have a poor show for their lives.

Mayor McLaren's attention has been called to the way strangers are permitted to wander around the City Hall without any one to direct them to the various offices or give them information about the city. The tablets placed near the main entrance, giving a directory of the offices, are apparently overlooked. It is not improbable that an information bureau, with telephone connection, will be established.

President J. H. Collinson, of St. George's Society, on Saturday called the attention of Mayor McLaren and the acting Medical Health Officer, Dr. McGillivray, to the sanitary conditions of 174 and 176 Canada street, where five cases of typhoid fever were discovered. Mrs. Chappell and child, of 176 Canada street, are in the hospital at present. "This was the first intimation we had of the cases," said Dr. McGillivray to-day. "The doctor who was attending the cases should have reported them. We" (Continued on Page 5.)

James S. Baikie Passed Away In Chatham.

Word was received here to-day of the death in Chatham of James S. Baikie, proprietor of the Central Hotel, and a former well-known Hamiltonian. John Garrity, caretaker of the Sophia street school, left for Chatham to-day to accompany the body here. The funeral will take place on Wednesday morning, from Mr. Garrity's residence, 35 Tom street. Mr. Baikie had been ill for nearly a year. He was well known in sporting and theatrical circles here. When Tom Reche managed the Grand Opera House, Mr. Baikie was treasurer in the box-office. Later he occupied a similar position in the old Star Theatre, and left here about six years ago to go into the hotel business in Stratford.

HOLY ROSARY.

Important Feast Celebrated In Catholic Churches Yesterday.

The feast of the holy rosary was celebrated yesterday in the Catholic churches of the city. At St. Mary's Cathedral in the evening His Lordship Bishop Dowling delivered an instruction on the significance of the day and the institution of the feast. The October devotions, as usual, will be held every evening during the month. In the afternoon His Lordship presided at the closing services of the three days' retreat for young women, conducted by Rev. Father O'Reilly, of the Redemptionist Order. Father O'Reilly is a very impressive speaker and preached at the high mass in the morning.

WAS UNTRUE.

C. W. Bennett, Dangerously Ill, But Not Dead.

The report received from New York on Saturday about the death there of C. W. Bennett, formerly head of the Canadian vaudeville circuit, which bears his name, is untrue. When Mr. Bennett's many friends here read the story they wired telegrams of condolences to his widow. No one was more surprised than Mrs. Bennett when these messages began pouring in. This morning John G. Appleton, manager of the Bennett Theatre here, received a letter from Mrs. Bennett in which she said that while Mr. Bennett was still seriously ill the doctors had hopes for his recovery. His mother has arrived from South Dakota and is at his bedside. Mrs. Bennett is at a loss to understand how the report of her husband's death originated.

The Man in Overalls

The man who commits a brutal crime or invades the sanctity of the home will hold up both hands for laws to restrain newspapers from publishing the details of his infamy. He and the women's missionary conference will be as one in the matter. But would it be good for society?

If I were a city merchant I should agitate for well-lighted streets in the business section at any rate. Let there be light.

But couldn't the sanduscker do a little filling in behind the revetment wall between now and Christmas?

The City Engineer seems to be gradually getting his bearings. Can he stand off the aldermen?

It will be quite comical to see Ald. Hopkins in the mayoralty race. He will be sure of the mountain vote, no doubt, no doubt.

Gilbert Put Saskatoon Fire Brigade In Good Shape.

Referring to the resignation of W. A. Gilbert as Chief of the Saskatoon fire department, the Phoenix, of that city, says: Chief Gilbert, of the local fire brigade, will leave for the east at the end of next month, and in order that the city council may know his intentions he has sent in his resignation.

Mr. Gilbert has been connected with the fire department since April last, and has proved himself a capable officer. He came here from Hamilton, Ontario, and it is said that the ill health of his wife, now resident in that place, is the compelling cause of his plans to go back there.

Chief Gilbert has done good work here and leaves the fire department in good condition.

NO NEW TRIAL.

Application on Behalf of David Irvine Refused.

(Special Despatch to the Times.) Toronto, Oct. 4.—A. M. Lewis, of Hamilton, failed to-day before the Court of Appeals at Osgoode Hall to get an order directing Judge Monk to grant David Irvine a reserved case. Irvine was found guilty on a charge of assaulting Fred Porteous, with intent to rob, and sentenced to twelve years in Kingston Penitentiary. Porteous identified Irvine and Irvine finds fault with this identification. Mr. Lewis may ask the Minister of Justice to grant Irvine a new trial.

ARE CROWDED.

Hotels Unable to Accommodate Travelling Public.

The temperance people say one of their strongest cards in cutting off fifteen hotels, if they hold the balance of power in the Council next year, will be the fact that although over 60 hotel licenses are issued here there is never any accommodation for the general travelling public during race meetings or on other occasions when crowds are attracted to the city. People who have come to Hamilton during the past week to stay a day or two have been forced to go on to Toronto to find accommodation. All the boarding houses are filled as well as hotels. A score of vaudeville performers appearing at Bennett's this week had an unpleasant time yesterday and this morning hustling around for accommodation.

HIGH TIMES AT MEETING.

Angry Crowd Hoots Down the Beamsville Councillors.

But Majority Decided to Go on With Injunction.

Trouble Is Over Building on the Street Line.

Beamsville, Oct. 4.—(Special.)—The Council meeting held on Friday night resembled a miniature Donnybrook. The sensation in village affairs had been caused by the action of the Councillors, who are in the majority, standing out against the people's wishes to force a law suit on between the corporation and Mr. John Stirling, who is putting up a new business block.

Councillors Bennett, Reid and Lloyd feel that the new structure is encroaching on corporation property, and are determined to order an injunction stopping further building on, and if necessary to force Stirling to go to the courts to prove his claim to property which citizens contend is of no earthly use to the village.

Reeve Davis is heading the citizens in the agitation against any more law costs, the ratepayers being heartily sick of paying such burdens year in and year out.

However, the injunction proceedings had hung fire for several Council meetings, and Mr. Stirling went on with his building. Reeve Davis notified the ratepayers of a meeting called for Friday night. When Mr. Lloyd arose to move that an injunction be entered in the corporation chamber. There were cat calls, hissing, yelling and stamping of feet. In the uproar Mr. Lloyd's voice was inaudible, but he continued to read his motion, which was seconded by Mr. Bennett and passed.

The people were just as determined as the Councillors, and a committee, composed of Robert Cruickshank, William Everett and George Bartlett, prevailed on the Reeve to call an indignation meeting for Saturday night, which was a plebiscite to the voters. It looks as if the three Councillors will disregard the wishes of a large majority of the citizens, and that there will be something doing, as a number of ratepayers say they will turn the Council out of doors and look them out.

Mr. A. E. Hoshal suggested a good way out of the difficulty by submitting a plebiscite to the voters. It looks as if the three Councillors will disregard the wishes of a large majority of the citizens, and that there will be something doing, as a number of ratepayers say they will turn the Council out of doors and look them out.

Will He Confess?

Laporte, Ind., Oct. 4.—Ray Lamphere, who was convicted as an accomplice of the arch murderer, Mrs. Gunness, has but a few days more to live, according to prison physicians. He is suffering from consumption. State Attorney Smith is confident he will make a confession, clearing every detail of the Gunness death farm mystery when he realizes that his end is at hand. Up to the present time, he has protested persistently that he knows nothing about how Mrs. Gunness killed and disposed of her victims.

ENDED LIFE BY CARBOLIC.

Machinist's Body Found In Boat House Yesterday.

There Was a Bit of Romance In the Case.

Did Not Seem to Forget His Divorced Wife.

Lying in a boat-house at the foot of Wellington street, and belonging to William Dufton, who lives at 222 Barton street east, Norman H. Case was found dead with an empty bottle which had contained carbolic acid beside him, yesterday morning.

Dr. Rennie was called and expressed the opinion that the man had committed suicide. He ordered the body to be taken to the city morgue.

Yesterday morning William Dufton and Thomas Marshall, 297 Mary street, went for a walk to the bay front, and on entering the boat-house Dufton was surprised to find Case, whom he knew slightly, lying dead there. The police and Dr. Rennie were at once called, and they concluded the man had not been dead long, as his body was warm.

In one pocket of the deceased's clothing was found a machinist's due book, which explained the cause of his death, for in it was written the message, "I am tired of living; tell A. P. Case, Detroit, who will look after me." The message was signed N. H. Case.

The book was a due book of the International Association of Machinists, Lodge No. 44, and it showed that Bro. N. Case was initiated April 21, 1904, and was entered as being most experienced at vice work. His number was 150,078. His initiation was signed by John Gillespie, President, and Oscar Lee, Secretary.

Dr. Rennie examined the dead man's writing found on papers in his trunk, and compared it with that in the book, and found them to be the same. It was concluded that an inquest was not necessary.

Despondency was apparently the cause of the act. He had lived in the city for some few years, and had boarded at Mrs. Milne's house, 121 Wellington street, for the past four years, and had worked a good deal at the Sawyer-Massey factory. He is said to have been drinking for the past seven weeks.

He left his boarding house last Monday, and his landlady had not seen him all the week until Saturday afternoon, when he called at the house and appeared in good health and spirits. When going out he wished Mrs. Milne good-bye. That was a most unusual thing for him, for he was never known before to use any expression when going away for a short stay except "So long."

Not without a little pathos is the story of the man's despondency. Some years ago he was divorced in Detroit, where he formerly lived. It is assumed he loved the woman dearly, for the frequently referred to her in an affectionate way, though it is said he married again and had two children by his second wife. Two years ago he went to Detroit and saw his first wife. When he returned he drank worse than ever, and would frequently go on long drinking bouts. He often used to refer to the nice house he used to have in Detroit. He was a good worker when sober. He was about 47 years of age.

If no word is received from the relatives in Detroit, the body will be buried by the city.

Woodstock Sentinel-Review.—Mr. and Mrs. John Moodie and Dr. Fletcher, of Hamilton, paid a short visit to the city yesterday on their return from St. Mary's. Mrs. Moodie, who is a niece of Mrs. M. C. Moodie, recently returned from an auto tour through Great Britain and the continent. Miss Martha Healy, of Woodstock, came to this city to-day to enter the Hospital training school for nurses. On Thursday night about fifteen of her girl friends assembled at her home to bid her farewell and all the complements of success. Incidental with the good wishes Miss Healy was also made the recipient of a valuable opal ring in token of her Ingersoll friends' esteem and admiration.

POLICEMEN WHO BOOZE.

Some Stinging Comments by the Police Commissioners.

No Punishment Too Severe For the Hotel Man.

Old Officer Fined a Month's Pay—His Last Chance.

The Board of Police Commissioners at a special meeting at noon to-day, after firing a constable a month's salary for being drunk on duty, decided to urge the License Commissioners to make the penalty for supplying men in uniform with liquor so severe that no hotelkeeper would dare offend. They intimated that an hotel man who offended should lose his license.

Judge Snider was unable to attend the meeting. Magistrate Jelfs and Mayor McLaren, however, agreed that drastic action must be taken to stamp out boozing. Sergeant Robinson made the complaint and the officer pleaded guilty.

The offender, an old policeman, will be dismissed for the next offence. "I think there are still some constables getting free drinks from saloons," said Mayor McLaren after the charge was read. "I know a very respectable citizen who saw a man in uniform the other night in an alley putting a glass of beer into him."

The Mayor suggested the advisability of seeking the co-operation of the License Commissioners. Magistrate Jelfs did not seem to think that it was much use. "We have tried it time and again," he said. "We had the case of a constable who was taken in in uniform and given liquor by an hotel man, who tried to bribe the officer. I think it is the worst offence an hotel man can commit. The Commissioners promised to look into this, and made some threats, but nothing was done. Of course we can find out what they would be willing to do."

"It is a serious thing when a man makes a sucker of himself for a glass of beer and places himself under an obligation to the hotel man," observed the Mayor. "I am willing to join you in an appeal to the License Commissioners," said Chairman Jelfs, "and request them to make the offence such a serious one that a man who offends will lose his license."

"Hotel men should not give a man liquor free in uniform or out of it, but in no case when he is in uniform." "Well, what will we do with this case?"

"I think there is only one remedy, dismissal, when this happens," said the Mayor. "The people are paying high taxes and for a purpose. They are not getting results. This is not the only case. It is only one found out." "A lady telephoned me about this officer the afternoon it occurred. She said he was intoxicated when serving the summons," said the magistrate.

"We must put a stop to it," added the Mayor. Addressing the constable, the magistrate said, "Owing to your long service on the force we are not going to discharge you. You are fined a month's wages. If it comes to the notice of the board that you are drinking again, off you go."

Color-Sergt. Maxwell applied to be appointed drill and physical instructor for the police force. This matter and applications for the position of market constable were laid over.

Bishop DuMoulin wrote the board asking that his thanks be conveyed to Chief Smith and his men for the ease with which they had watched his residence during the summer months while it was vacant.

A man named Davidson, whose son was fined in the police court for obstructing the street car tracks, wrote a long letter. The commissioners agreed it was a matter for the courts, and not the board. The matter of licensing automobile garages will be looked into.

A WARNING.

Inspector Berlinghoff Has Eye on Cabmen and Others.

J. Berlinghoff, inspector of the S. P. C. A., stated to-day that he had found it necessary to warn several dealers on the market in regard to the condition of their horses. In one instance he found the horse covered with large open sores and being driven brutally by a couple of lads who were too young to know any better. He intends to stop this kind of work, and gave orders to have the animal remain in the stable until examined and found fit for service, and then it must have a driver who is capable of caring for it. He also had to warn several cabmen who had driven their horses for long distances, and then left them in the open without covering. He does not wish to put the owners to any unnecessary trouble, but he intends to be strict. He will give them ample warning, and if they will not heed that he will have to resort to more serious means.

Katharine's Sacrifice

Katharine received the message in utter silence. By sheer force of will she had dragged herself from her bed and struggled into her clothes.

She had sent Patty flying for hot water and mustard, into a large tub of which she plunged Katharine's two little feet; then twisting up the edge of the bed, grasping the back of a chair and holding her head erect, with closed eyes and compressed lips.

Gordon laughed shortly, and tightened his grip on her wrist. "Oh, dear! no! I am not going to deprive myself of my company just yet. I have really a great deal to say to you, my wife!"

CHOKED HIM.

Buffalo, Oct. 4.-William Boyle tried to swallow too large a mouthful of a steak which he was eating at a restaurant at 24 Main street last night. He choked to death.

Sergeant Higgins of the first precinct, was passing by when Boyle began to strangle. Higgins was called into the restaurant, but was unable to relieve the man. He then telephoned to police station No. 1 for a patrol wagon to remove the man to the Emergency Hospital.

The wagon, which was answering another call, chanced to pass the restaurant a minute later. Boyle was placed in it. He died while the wagon was being rushed to the hospital full speed.

The dead man was about 30 years old. He had been rooming at the Home-stead lodging-house, 24 Lloyd street.

It was said last night that he had been a mail carrier.

SCRAP BOOK POETRY

OCTOBER'S BRIGHT BLUE WEATHER. O suns and skies and clouds of June, And flowers of June together, You cannot rival for an hour October's bright blue weather.

When load the bumblebees make haste, Beated, thrifless, vagrant, And goldenrod is dying fast, And lanes with grapes are fragrant;

When the gentians roll their fringes tight To save them for the morning, And chestnuts fall from satin burrs Without a sound of warning;

When all the lovely wayside things Their white-winged seeds are sowing, And in the fields still green and fair, Late afternoons are growing;

When spring runs low, and in the brooks In idle glades freighting Bright leaves sink noiseless in the hush of woods, for winter waiting;

When comrades seek sweet country haunts, And fondred in the fast, Late afternoons are growing;

O sun and skies and flowers of June, Count all your boast together, Love loveth best of all the year October's bright blue weather. -Helen Hunt Jackson.

IN GLANFORD.

Happy Matrimonial Event at Mr. S. Hyslop's.

A pretty wedding took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. S. Hyslop, Glanford, on Wednesday, Sept. 29, when their youngest daughter, Hannah, was united in marriage to Stanley McKennell, of Binbrook. The ceremony, which took place under a beautiful arch of evergreen and maple leaves was performed by Rev. Mr. Morris and Rev. S. Sakiskian. The bride was given away by her father, and was handsomely gowned in white embroidery and carried a beautiful bouquet of white carnations and maiden hair fern. She was attended by her cousin, Miss Tillie Ashbaugh, who wore a beautiful dress of mauve, and carried white asters, and Mr. Ernie Smith, cousin of the groom, acted as best man. Miss Margaret Fleming played the wedding march. The bride's going away suit was of green broadcloth, with hat to match. The groom's gift to the bride was a rich set of furs; to the bridesmaid a gold brooch, to the best man gold cuff links. After the ceremony the guests, numbering 125, sat down to a sumptuous repast, which was followed by speeches from Revs. Morris and Sakiskian. Dr. Boyce, Dr. McIlwraith, Mr. D. Reed, M. P. F., and Mr. Senn.

The beautiful and costly presents testify to the high esteem in which the bride and groom are held by their many friends. After congratulations and best wishes, amid a shower of rice, the happy couple left for a short honeymoon.

BE HONEST.

Rockefeller's Advice to the Cleveland Sunday School Boys.

Cleveland, O., Oct. 3.-John D. Rockefeller to-day told the Euclid Avenue Baptist Sunday school how to get a job and hold it.

"You've got to get a reputation before you can get a job, and you'll have to work to hold it." This is Mr. Rockefeller's philosophy.

"A boy does not have to be smart," he said, "he must work as hard when his employer is away as when he is watching."

Last Sunday was Mr. Rockefeller's 54th anniversary of the day when he obtained his first position. To-day he told of his own experiences in getting a job.

"I was a boy like some of you then, and the trouble I encountered always makes me remember it. I was almost discouraged when I got a job. It was in the morning when I found a place where there was a little ray of hope. I was told to come again."</

PERJURERS FAIL.

The West Peterboro election petition against Mr. J. R. Stratton, M. P., has been dismissed, and the member has been confirmed in his seat. We think it is hardly necessary to review the evidence of the trial to convince our readers that there has been a shameful conspiracy to deprive Mr. Stratton of his seat by wholesale perjury. Every reader who followed the course of the trial must have come to that conclusion long before the collapse of the case. On Saturday, when the judges very vigorously expressed their opinion of the principal witnesses depended on by the petitioners, their senior counsel frankly stated that in view of the court's opinion it was useless to proceed further. In dismissing the charges, Justice MacMahon spoke in scathing terms of the character of the tools by whose evidence it was sought to unseat Mr. Stratton. The principal witness, Gates, he regarded as a cheap perjurer. "Gates," said his lordship, "said in the witness-box that $400 was his price or limit for perjuring himself, while he swore to the affidavit that was produced here for $50. I think that his limit is even under $50. I think he is a man who from his tone here and his actions in the box would perjure himself for $5 or even less." Mr. Justice Magee, who delivered judgment in the other cases, was scarcely less severe in his language in dealing with the evidence of the petitioner's witnesses. The persecution of Mr. Stratton has been conducted with great energy and bitterness. The outcome of the trial shows that there was no foundation in fact for the charges against the member for West Peterboro. One can hardly fail to agree with the two judges in coming to the conclusion that it rested on perjured evidence, manufactured for the purpose of obtaining money. After hearing all the prosecution had to offer, Mr. Justice MacMahon significantly said: "I think that the foundation of the petition was furnished by Gates in the declaration he made and for which he received $50."

The statement is a terrible commentary upon the course of Mr. Stratton's enemies. It is difficult to understand how any man who aspires to move among decent citizens should have proceeded in that manner to obtain matter upon which to found an attack upon Mr. Stratton's right to the seat. Mr. Justice MacMahon, evidently shocked at the disclosures of the evidence as to the means adopted, charitably said: "One cannot help thinking that the person who paid the money for that declaration could not have been aware of the strictures which have been passed on those who obtain affidavits from voters and for which a sum of money was paid." He found that attempts had been made to extort money from Mr. Stratton, and that the petitioner's witnesses had declared frankly their readiness to perjure themselves for a consideration. The court could do nothing but reject the evidence of such men, and the petitioners had no other to offer. Ought such men to be allowed to enjoy their liberty and the avails of their crime? The man who fires another man's house or who steals his property is sent to prison. Is not the purchasing of perjured evidence, whereby to attack a man's seat in Parliament and his reputation, an even more detestable crime? Ought not both the perjurers and those who hired them to be severely dealt with?

BEACH MATTERS.

Beach residents are not very well situated now as regards school accommodation for their families. They are cut off from the township schools by the new arrangements between the Beach Commission and the municipality, and they find themselves compelled to send their children into the city at no small expense, or allow them to go unschooled. Even when car fare and city school fees are commuted the expense is considerable, leaving the matter of distance out of the computation. There is a good deal of feeling with regard to it, and if some arrangement could be made that would open the township schools to Beach pupils the Commissioners would earn the gratitude of many who feel that they now suffer a wrong. Another work that presses on the attention of the Beach Commissioners is the removal of the remains of the old Elmore wharf. It is not only that it is an obstruction and an eyesore; it is a source of grave peril. It extends out a considerable distance into the bay, preventing near-shore sailing. Inshore it has been partly demolished, a gap having been made through the piling, and by this passage light rowboats and canoes may be taken. But not without peril. When the water is low they become fast on the stones; and although adults capable of managing a boat are in comparatively little danger of being drowned by being capsized into the shallow water at that point, the lives of children are seriously menaced. A number of rescues of children have been reported, and the wonder is that there have been no fatalities. The danger is one to which Beach people cannot shut their eyes. The attention of the Commission has been called to it, and they in turn have communicated with Hon. Mr. Cochrane. He concedes the danger and nuisance caused by the ruin of the dock; but as yet has taken no steps to remove it. It is a work that should not be delayed because of differences of opinion as to responsibility for the dock's being there; the Government through its Commission controls the Beach and is rightly held to responsibility for the safety of the shore. It should bestir itself and see that the obstruction is removed. If not earlier, work should be begun on the ice this winter, when the piles can easily be drawn. The stone and timber taken out can doubtless be put to account. But in any event, the gain by the removal of the old dock will be worth the expense.

APPLE SHIPPING.

Canadian fruit exporters may gather some helpful hints from a recent report sent to the Canadian Department of Trade and Commerce by E. D. Arnaud, our Trade Commissioner at Bristol, England. To secure the best results it is important that Canadian fruit-shippers understand, not only the art of packing the fruit and caring for it in transit, but also the best means of distributing it to the consumers. This last knowledge is evidently sometimes lacking, and loss is entailed on that account. Mr. Arnaud directs attention to the excellent facilities that are provided at the Avonmouth docks at Bristol for the handling of fruit cargoes to a population of about 9,000,000 people within a radius of ninety miles of that city. We learn that, notwithstanding that the freight cost is increased thereby, most of the Canadian apples are shipped direct to London or Liverpool, there to be distributed to their final markets. This is hardly well advised. The South Australia commercial agent, who has been giving the matter considerable study, and who has urged upon his people the importance of attractive packages, has this to say upon the subject: "A point of extreme interest to the growers, and one which has to an extent been overlooked by them, is the reduction of transit charges in England. Under the existing system the majority of the apples are shipped to London, and sent thence to other places by rail, which involves extra expense. It costs 103-4d. to send a case of apples from London to Birmingham, and from Bristol to Birmingham the charge is 41-2d. Large quantities of South Australian apples are sold in those places, and also at Cardiff, and in every instance the fruit is railed from London. It is difficult to understand why the shippers insist upon their goods being dumped down in London, instead of giving their agent the option of a portion of it at least being sent round to Bristol, which would save a shilling a case to the exporter. If a Cardiff buyer send to London for his fruit he has to pay, say 12s. 6d. a case for it, and a shilling for carriage, and he would sooner pay 13s. or 13s. 3d. for the fruit at Bristol, which would serve not only Cardiff, but other large cities. The same argument applies to Birmingham. The buyer would much rather pay 12s. 9d. at Bristol and 41-2d. carriage, than 12s. 6d. in London and 103-4d. carriage. The freight is exactly the same from Adelaide to Bristol as to London, and it is hard to understand why the exporters persist in ignoring the advantages to be gained by consigning some of their fruit to ports other than London."

The subject is of sufficient importance to engage the attention of our people. It should be their endeavor to profit by the watchfulness of the Canadian agents in outside markets, and the apple crop marketing is worthy of scientific study.

COURTSHIP REFORM.

Dr. Carl D. Case recently delivered a strong sermon in denunciation of people marrying "for what they are going to get out of it, instead of for what they are going to give." He wants to see a reform in courtship, and this is how he puts it: "Instead of that man and girl telling each other what they are, or having a few hours' heart-to-heart talk about themselves, they always tried to appear at their best. They did not know one another, and soon little difficulties arose. The wife began by recalling her old ideal, of what she might have been had she not married, and telling her immediate family about it, as in a case I have in mind. Thus that real relationship of interests is lacking, and instead of growing to know each other better as years go on, there is a gradual estrangement. Dr. Case's idea is that courtship should be a period of getting real well acquainted; of candid confession, not of hiding each other's faults and pretending to virtues and good qualities which they do not possess. But, alas! isn't Dr. Case asking a very frail humanity to at once become ideal? Civilization has advanced very slowly from the age when it was the custom to go out and club or capture wives and drag them to the marital cave, to this somewhat more enlightened period of—well, barter, of which he speaks. The age of force has been succeeded by the age of cunning, but only by slow degrees has the change been accomplished. The female attracts by her soft airs and her finery; the male by his masculine vigor and control; both plus wealth—the plus element counting for much. But the age of adaptation, on scientific principles, will not be ushered in at a bound. Mankind must just blunder along slowly gaining wisdom by experience."

A number of the discharged post office employees of France have organized a co-operative postal association, the 150 members subscribing a capital of $20 a piece. It purposes competing with the Government system in all branches of postal business not declared to be a monopoly of the department. It will be interesting to mark how long the association will last, and how serious will be its effect on the French revenue.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The screamer of the Toronto Telegram evidently appreciates the well-known fact that even a mangle cur can attract much attention by baying at the moon. Mark how he persists in abuse of Lieutenant-Governor Gibson.

The man or newspaper that sells his or its influence and efforts to outside interests to knock the city and its enterprises has no right to pretend to solicitude for the welfare and progress of the community whose air he or it pollutes.

The Canadian life insurance companies appear to have had an excellent year. Their total income of the companies was $28,786,482. Out of every $100 of income there were paid to policy-holders $33.86, in general expenses $21.25, in taxes 87 cents, and in dividends to stockholders 99 cents, leaving $43.03 to be carried to reserves. The showing is a good one, indicating solidity and prosperity.

The United States referee board which reported against Dr. Wiley's ruling against the use of benzoate of soda and like chemicals in canned foods was evidently eagerly welcomed by the frauds and "embalmed food" men. H. E. Barnard, the Indiana State Food Commissioner, in his July report shows that of 358 samples of foods tested 203 were classed as illegal, 60.6 per cent. being adulterated. United States food products will naturally not benefit in foreign lands by that sort of thing.

Returns of Fourth of July casualties among our neighbors are now fairly complete. The mortality list for 1909, as given in the Journal of the American Medical Association, is longer than that of any year since the bloody slaughter of 1903, when 406 lives were sacrificed. Thus far, 215 deaths have resulted from the last Fourth of July celebration. Illinois had the most deaths, a prominence which it has held for five consecutive years. It had no fewer than 20 tetanus fatalities. Besides its death list, it presents 547 cases of non-fatal injuries.

A cable to the Mail and Empire states that "there is apparently a distinct and growing nervousness in certain Unionist circles with regard to precipitating a conflict between the two Houses on a question of finance." Unionist organs are urging the Lords to accept the budget and an effort is made to influence them by representing the King to be favorable to its acceptance. Mr. R. L. Borden in an interview says: "The budget seems to have caught the favor of a large portion of the British people"; and he freely declares that the Tory tactics in opposing it have been very faulty.

The Detroit United Railway employees have been agreeably surprised by obtaining a considerable increase in wages without the advance even being suggested by them. The Detroit Street Railway is in the happy position of not having to pay large sums in percentages on its gross earnings to the city. Even the inter-urban lines are allowed to bring freight cars into the city without let or hindrance, at a charge of 50 cents a car, the express and freight business alone amounting to between $500,000 and $600,000 a year, or between 6 and 7 per cent. of its gross earnings. The company is wise in sharing its advantages with its employees.

The tobacco growers of Kent and Essex appear to have been in great luck this year. More than 20 buyers have already been operating through those counties and it is said that every available pound of the tobacco crop has already been purchased at record-breaking prices. It has been alleged that this is a move of the Imperial Tobacco Company to get ahead of the independent companies and corner the crop. The Imperial people, however, say that the crop is short, and the prices paid for the five or six million pounds of these two counties is its legitimate commercial value.

Rochester, N. Y., has an independent telephone company of which we used to hear much, it being trotted out on all occasions as an illustration of the benefits of telephone competition, its rates being $48 for business service. It has found that it was losing money, and has just got Rochester to amend its franchise to allow it to charge $60. Service must be paid for by somebody, and the public will yet learn that every dollar of unnecessary capital invested in these utilities is an addition to the popular burdens. And it is little difference whether the burden is watered stock, or duplication for competition. They are both evils.

The wronged householder will note that the Hamilton Herald, while characterizing as false the statement that it opposes the readjustment of the water rates to relieve them on the plea that the council needs money, admits that it opposes this act of justice on the ground that "what they would save in lower water rates they would lose in higher taxes. Revenue must be raised—if not in one way, then in another." And there you have it. The fact that the present impost raises money reconciles it to the gross injustice committed against the householders. Any way to raise money—even if the money is to be wasted in unprofitable Hydro and similar schemes to the city's disadvantage.

The truth is out now about the nature of the disease which carried off Harriman. Professor Struppell, of Vienna, says he suffered from chronic spondylitis, a peculiar form of spinal disease, and was sent to take the cure in the Summerville Hills and at Gastein. While at the latter place a suspicious stomach disorder arose which was finally diagnosed as malignant and inoperable. Professor Frederick Muller confirmed the diagnosis of carcinoma (cancer) of the stomach, and when Harriman left there for America, it was with the knowledge that he was a doomed man and that all that human skill could do would be to make his few remaining days as painless as possible.

WILLING TO SUPPORT HER. (Washington Post.) Two young ladies boarded a crowded street car and were obliged to stand. One of them, to steady herself, took hold of what she supposed was her friend's hand. They had stood thus for some time, when on looking down, she discovered that she was holding a man's hand. Greatly embarrassed, she exclaimed: "Oh, I've got the wrong hand!" Whereupon the man, with a smile, stretched forth his other hand, saying: "Here is the other one, madam."

GERMANY'S PLLEDGE TO PEACE. (N. Y. Journal of Commerce.) As Germany can only pay for her increasingly high demand in raw products and foodstuffs by the exports of her highly developed industry, by the earnings of her shipping, and by the interest accruing from her investments abroad, the vulnerable character of the structure which the German business man of our time has reared is sufficiently apparent. It is hardly conceivable that Germany can allow the cessation of her commerce and industry to be toppled over by rash adventures in the field of world politics. There is too much at stake to permit German policy being anything but peaceful—to admit of the possibility that the fears of the British scare-mongers may be over-ruled. With a watchful and not over-friendly Russia on one frontier, and an over-suspicious France on the other, both having a perfect understanding with Great Britain in regard to the maintenance of the status quo in Europe, necessity would seem to combine with policy in constraining Germany to keep the peace.

ASCENSION RALLY DAY.

Postmaster Brown Tells of Early Days of the School.

A most successful and enthusiastic rally was held by the Church of the Ascension Sunday School yesterday, the attendance of scholars being nearly 400, besides members of the home department, men's Bible class and a large number of visitors. The platform was prettily decorated by a committee consisting of the Misses Otton, Jolley and Yorrick.

Mr. Perry, the new curate, was given a rousing welcome, and has already secured the sympathy and co-operation of all the Sunday school scholars and workers by the manly and earnest way in which he spoke to the meeting. Mr. Adam Brown, who was superintendent for many years in the early history of the church, spoke in his usual cheery and helpful way, and gave the scholars some good, earnest advice. He also spoke very interestingly of the olden days, when, thirty-one years ago, he had been asked by the rector, Rev. Jas. Carmichael, to take the superintendency of the Sunday school, and he counted these as among the happiest days of his life. Mr. Brown very kindly presented 500 souvenir cards to the school with an appropriate motto and date of the rally. Mr. Aronson, another ex-superintendent, spoke, addressing his remarks more particularly to the home department.

Bright and encouraging addresses were also given by the two church wardens, Mr. Henderson and Mr. Smye, both of whom have risen from scholars in the school to their present important positions in the church. Among the visitors was Miss Mary Ann Wilson, who is now over 70 years of age, and who at one time had charge of the infant class, and who is still spending all her time doing works of charity and kindness. Miss Wilson was present as a scholar when the Sunday school was first opened under the late Mr. Hebbden.

Rev. Canon Wade presided. Everything points to a most successful fall and winter's work in every way. In his remarks Mr. Brown said it gave him great pleasure to be present with them on so happy an occasion. He would first and foremost extend the heartiest of welcomes to their new assistant minister, Rev. Wm. Perry, and assure him that he could count on the hearty support of the people in every way. Thirty-one years ago this summer, at the pressing request of the then beloved and never to be forgotten rector, Rev. James Carmichael, he assumed the duties of superintendent. While he sought to escape the position at the time, he never regretted it, and he looked back on the many years he had been superintendent as among the happiest of his life. When he saw, as he often did, mothers wheeling baby carriages and he remembered placing these mothers in the infant class in the school, it made him feel that he must be getting old. He saw in the audience before him one who had been a scholar the first day the Sunday school was opened, and that was in 1830. The school was held in the church just inside the west entrance. From a scholar he to whom he referred became a teacher of the infant class. The lives of hundreds of men and women to-day were influenced for good by the teaching they received as little children from Mary Ann Wilson. Let honor be done to Miss Wilson to-day for her long and faithful service. He spoke of the devoted women who in the early days of the history of the parish did so much for the school, some of them very dear to him. Mr. Brown told of the old wooden school house in the days of the first rector, the revered Rev. John Hebbden, which later on was removed and a stone building erected; then when James Carmichael came it was soon found to be too small, and an addition was made, and it was then considered a model school, but it has had to give way to the fine modern building in which they now were; and the parish could never forget the debt of gratitude they owed to Mr. Alfred Powis for what he accomplished in the building of the new school. He is deserving of the credit of it, and merited every good thing that could be said about him for his splendid work. The Ascension Sunday school was always an important one in the city and diocese. It has had a notable record; not a few old scholars have become ministers. He remembered a few names, among them Rev. Messrs. Sadler, Murphy and Aylmer, and Miss Wade, now doing good work in China. It was a great privilege to have such a school. In after years the scholars would bless the teachers to whom they owed so much. He gave the scholars a lot of good advice as to things they would not be sorry for doing through life. They were to be the future men and women of the land, and what they were taught in the Sunday school would fit them to be useful members of their church and good citizens—just the sort Canada wants. He desired to mark the occasion by presenting each one with a card, which would be handed to all, young and old, as they left the building. He read it as follows:

A MOTTO GOOD FOR ALL. Do all the good you can, In all the ways you can, At all the times you can, To all the people you can, In all the places you can, And as long as ever you can.

DUMA ELECTIONS. St. Petersburg, Oct. 4.—Elections to fill vacancies in the Duma are being held to-day in St. Petersburg and Moscow. The vote is very light. It is expected that the Constitutional Democratic candidate, N. N. PREDICTS WAR. Governor-General Warns Canadians to be Prepared for Germans.

Winnipeg, Man., Oct. 3.—Governor-General Earl Grey, at a banquet tendered him by the Canadian Club at Calgary declared that in the training of its people Canada should imitate Germany, and in patriotism. He asserted that the German menace was not a political one, but was very real, and provision should be made to meet it. War would come in the near future, he said, and Canada should not supply merely a Drednought or two, but should build a navy of her own. Referring to American immigration, Earl Grey said: "The more they come the better I am pleased. They make good Canadians. Nature causes the best man to gravitate to the highest ideal. Our American friends sink into us as raindrops in the sea and will like and fight for our flag, if necessary." Many preachers are trying to educate the tallenders and leaving the leaders to their own ways.

are taking steps to have the sanitary conditions remedied."

The Canada street houses, the small-pox hospital and other places requiring attention were visited yesterday afternoon by Mayor McLaughlin, Dr. McGillivray, Charles Peables and Frank Quinn, of the Board of Health. The doctor expects to release two of the smallpox cases on Saturday.

City Engineer Macallum explained to-day that what the Sewers Committee had done in the matter of placing Building Inspector Anderson under his department in the matter of private sewer construction and connections was to revise an old by-law, which has been a dead letter for a long time, and which provides for the City Engineer having the say about the issuing of permits.

Chairman Allan, of the Board of Works, announced to-day that during the winter, a very complete map of the city would be secured for the guidance of the building inspector in issuing permits to prevent encroachments on city streets, so frequently complained about.

Engineer McFarlane's report of the amount of water pumped in September shows a decrease of three per cent. over the corresponding month a year ago. August showed an increase of eleven per cent., although the street water and lawn sprinkling was shut off for several days on account of the accident at the pump house. The amount of water pumped last month was 236,923,930 gallons, a decrease of 6,226,630.

IN A WELL.

Trying to Rescue Farmer Buried 60 Feet Underground.

New York, Oct. 4.—All night long layers of men were engaged in the work of sinking a new shaft alongside of the well at the bottom of which lies John Coffin, the young farmer who was buried by a cave-in while deepening the well on his father's farm, two miles north of Central Islip, L. I., yesterday forenoon.

Although there is a possibility that the cross beams at the bottom of the well may have formed an air chamber in which Coffin might live for a short time, there is not believed to be more than one chance in a thousand that he could keep alive until the men now at work could reach the place where he must be. He is 60 feet from the surface and there is thirty feet of sand and clay on top of him.

Constable Schwartz, who has charge of the men at work, said to-day that it might be three or four days before Coffin could be reached, and that his opinion there was London out of the slightest chance of finding him alive.

MR. STRATTON KEEPS HIS SEAT.

West Peterboro Tories Fail to Unseat the Member.

The Charges Affecting Mr. Leary Entirely Disproved.

The Petition Dismissed Also the Petition Against Burnham.

Peterboro, Oct. 3.—Finding the evidence offered in support of the Leary charges in connection with the petition of Mr. J. H. Burnham, the unsuccessful Conservative candidate for West Peterborough at the last election, to unseat Mr. J. R. Stratton, absolutely unworthy of credence, Justices MacMahon and Magee on Saturday dismissed the case.

Mr. DuVernet, K. C., senior counsel for the petitioner, then asked that the petition should be dismissed as a whole. It was useless in view of the expressed opinion of their Lordships to proceed with the matter. He pointed out that he had placed his strongest case before the court, and, therefore, it would only be wasting the time of the judges and his client's money to proceed further. The petition was consequently dismissed, each party to pay their own costs, and, as an immediate result, the cross-petition against Mr. Burnham was also dismissed with the consent of Mr. G. H. Watson, K. C., who appeared on Mr. Stratton's behalf.

LEARY PROVED ALIBI.

The Leary charges, it will be remembered, were dependent upon the evidence of a group of Englishmen who swore that on election day Robert H. Leary paid them $2 each in the Liberal committee rooms. Leary was an active supporter of Mr. Stratton, and it was the hope of the petitioner to prove agency and to thus have the ground for the unseating of the sitting member. In reply, however, Mr. Leary was able to prove conclusively that he was not even in Peterboro at the time the money was alleged to have been paid over, and their Lordships' judgment was a complete vindication of Mr. Stratton and his supporters.

FOUNDATION OF PETITION.

At the outset in delivering judgment, Mr. Justice MacMahon dismissed two charges in a word. These involved the allegation that two men, Charles Pritchard and Wm. Banks, had been bribed by Leary and the Justice contented himself with saying that no evidence had been offered in proof thereof. Taking up the charge in which the notorious Gates, the witness who was ordered out of the box as being unworthy of belief, was concerned, Judge MacMahon said: "I think that the foundation of the petition was furnished by Gates in the declaration he made and for which he received $50. One cannot help thinking that the person who paid the money for that declaration could not have been aware of the strictures which have been passed on those who obtain affidavits from voters and for which a sum of money was paid.

"It must be remembered in the first place that Gates did not possess the franchise. He was not a voter in this election, and it is amazing to us that a man who has no interest in the government of the country, so far as the representation is concerned, should take the active part that Gates said he did."

MOVEMENTS ACCOUNTED FOR.

Proceeding, his Lordship alluded to Gates' statement that he was at the committee room for a considerable time before he got into the "little room" in which Leary was alleged to have been handing out $2 bills. According to Gates' statement he did not get in until 4 o'clock, while the court had the evidence of Morgan, the man who drove Leary out to North Monaghan, Mr. R. R. Hall, ex-M. P., Mr. Stratton, Mr. Gordon, the outside scrutineer at one of the North Monaghan polling stations, and Mr. Thomas Hunter, the Deputy Returning Officer, as well as Leary himself, that Leary was not there at the time Gates stated. "All this evidence combined gives an accurate account of Leary's movements between 3.45 and the time he came back to the committee room shortly before 5 o'clock," commented the judge, "and he, therefore, could not have paid the money to Gates."

Proceeding, Judge MacMahon said: "Some evidence has been given as to a number of people lining up to get into the little room like people before the ticket office of a theatre. Numerous witnesses have been called to prove that no such lining up took place, and the majority of those who were in the committee room during the afternoon to give attention to the business that was being conducted there also say that the door of the little room was not closed, but propped open with a stick."

AN INCREDIBLE STORY.

Then His Lordship proceeded to deal with the interview in Mr. R. R. Hall's office between Gates and Ashley and Mr. Stratton, Hall, Leary and W. S. Davidson, when Gates alleged that he had been offered $400 and Ashley $200 to make a false affidavit denying the charge of bribery and to leave the country. "Ashley," he said, "did not make any claim until Gates took him to Mr. Hall's office. Gates says that on election day he told Mr. Stratton that he knew of two or three men who had not voted, and that Mr. Stratton told him to bring them up and to make his own terms with Mr. Stratton, on the other hand, says that he did not see the man until he met him in Mr. Hall's office. It is incredible to us that a man whom Mr. Stratton did not know should be entrusted with bringing up voters to the poll and to pay what he thought proper.

"Mr. Leary says he didn't know Gates, and didn't give him any money. I think Leary—he was quite open in his statement—to be worthy of credence, and in the light of that statement and the surrounding circumstances I think that Gates could not be believed for many reasons.

"Gates said in the witness box that $400 was his price or limit for perjuring himself, while he swore to the affidavit that was produced here for $500. I think that his limit is even under $50. I think he is a man who from his tone here and his actions in the box would perjure himself for $5 or even less."

As the interview when Gates and

Ashley endeavored to extort money for a false affidavit Mr. W. S. Davidson and Mr. Leary "took the stand," said His Lordship. "That was proper for anyone who was not guilty of the crime with which he was charged, in saying that there was not a word of truth in it and refusing to pay a cent."

His Lordship commented on the absurdity of Ashley's statement that he was offered $2 to sign the false affidavit at the time when he was demanding $200. "We have," he said, "come to the conclusions that the allegations have been met by overwhelming evidence. With regard to Gates we cannot believe one word that he says, and the position of Ashley is almost the same. In fact, Gates seems to have got control over Ashley and to have been using him for his own purposes. They attempted on the occasion of the interview in Mr. Hall's office, to extort $600 from Mr. Stratton, and, believing that they have been met by overwhelming evidence given by respectable witnesses, the charges are dismissed."

UNWORTHY OF BELIEF.

Mr. Justice Magee delivered judgment in the other cases in which Leary was charged with having bribed. He went into each case in detail, and stated in every instance that he did not consider those witnesses for the petitioner, who had stated that they had received money from Leary, worthy of belief. Mr. Justice MacMahon concurred, and the whole of the Leary charges were therefore dismissed.

Judge Magee—the evidence to be given in connection with the remaining charges is distinct from that which has been put forward?

Mr. DuVernet—I have, of course, offered my strongest case first, and therefore I do not consider it wise to waste the time of the court or the resources of my client.

Mr. Watson stated that he was willing, in view of what had occurred, to consent to the dismissal of the cross-petition.

Their Lordships dismissed both petitions, ordering each party to pay his own costs.

OPENED BY KING.

His Majesty Will Press Button For Montreal Hospital.

Montreal, Oct. 3.—King Edward has consented to open the new Royal Edward Institute for the prevention and cure of tuberculosis, erected by Col. Burland and his sisters on Belmont Park.

His Majesty, however, will not be here in person, but by one of the most unique and ingenious arrangements ever devised he will, in Buckingham Palace, press the button which will automatically hoist the flag, turn on the lights, and open the doors of the building in Montreal. Col. Burland is the originator of the idea. Arrangements were made with the King through the Governor-General of Canada. His Majesty graciously consented when told of the nature of the project to be done by the institute. The exact date will be fixed by the King himself.

The Commercial Cable Co. and the C. P. R. Telegraph Co. have undertaken to make the required electrical connections. A set of telegraph instruments, made of Cobalt silver, are being sent to the King for the purpose, suitably inscribed.

The Royal Standard, only raised when Royalty is present, is to be hoisted over the institute. Earl Grey will officiate with Sir George Drummond and other leading citizens.

WRITE TO NEGROES.

German Girls Correspond With "Black Princes" in Africa.

Berlin, Oct. 3.—The Government has issued a warning to parents and teachers regarding the exchange of letters between German girls and negroes in the German African colonies. While in most instances such correspondence has been harmless, the official communication says, the custom still is to be deplored. In a majority of cases the correspondence was begun by German girls as an odd experience, their principal object being to receive African curiosities and photographs and letters from a "black prince."

The girls also have sent their photographs to Africa, so that in the houses of many negroes in the colonies hang the pictures of young German women of good family. This has been seriously objected to by Germans residing in the colonies.

CROWN PRINCE FLEW

The Kaiser's Heir Went For Ride in an Aeroplane.

Potsdam, Oct. 2.—Orville Wright today broke his own and all other records for high flying. He reached the unprecedented height of more than 1,600 feet, although an official measurement was not taken. He had a red-letter day in a double sense in his experience as an aviator, taking up Crown Prince Frederick William as a passenger and more than doubling the altitude record which he made recently over the same field. The Crown Prince had been constantly urging Wright since he first saw the latter flying to take him up as a passenger, and to-day his request was gratified. The machine, with the Prince in the passenger's seat, soared round the field for about ten minutes at a height of about sixty feet, while the crowds below cheered heartily.

TURNED-UP TROUSERS

Blamed for Epidemic of Influenza in London.

London, Oct. 3.—Influenza has already made its appearance in London in the guise of a catarrhal affection of the nose and throat of an unusually tenacious and severe variety.

A physician connected with one of the great London hospitals has suggested, as one of the causes of the outbreak, the habit of turning up the trousers. This fashion, he says, is responsible for many autumn coughs and colds contracted before the system has had time to become accustomed to the constant foot dampness, which for every Londoner is a winter portion.

The turned-up edges of the trousers become soaked through, and then act as wet-bands around the ankles.

MANGLED BY AN ELK

Terrible Struggle Between Toronto Man and Beast.

Toronto, Oct. 4.—With his head, legs, and arms out and torn in a dozen places, and his whole body more or less bruised and scratched, Bartholomew Bowler, a machinist, 116 Spruce avenue, is lying in his home under a physician's care as a result of a terrible, long-drawn-out fight with a maddened elk in Riverdale Park in the early hours of Sunday morning. Bowler saved himself from a horrible death by locking his legs and arms in the brute's antlers and clinging there, bleeding and but half sensible, until the elk became exhausted. Then he dragged himself to safety.

Bowler went to Riverdale Park about 5 o'clock to gather mushrooms and his search took him to a rich stretch of pasture in the elk's paddock, where the mushrooms were temptingly thick. Disregarding caution, he climbed the fence and started to work. The elk came towards him, but at first showed no sign of hostility, and Bowler, reassured by the quietness of the animal, suddenly lowered its antlers and charged. Bowler was taken by surprise and almost before he was aware of the animal's intention it was upon him.

He was knocked to the ground with one crushing blow and before he could get to his feet the brute attacked him again, its antlers beating and tearing his body in a fearful manner. With the blood streaming down his face and almost unconscious, Bowler finally managed to grip one of the antlers with his arms and twisted his legs around the other. There he clung for an awful quarter of an hour, desperately resisting the animal's attempts to shake him off. Just before help arrived the elk became exhausted by the struggle, and Bowler, dragging himself free, staggered to the fence and got over. The elk made no attempt to follow him.

Meanwhile a night watchman, who had seen Bowler's struggle for life, ran to the nearest phone and telephoned the police that a man had been killed by the elk. P. C. McCrae was sent down from Wilton avenue station and practically carried the injured man to his home. Dr. W. H. Alexander, of Carlton street, attended Bowler and found his head a mass of bruises and scratches. On his legs were three deep tears between five and six inches long, while his left arm bore a gash nearly three inches long. In addition he was scratched and bruised in a dozen places.

ASSAULTED BY CHINESE.

Pitiful Story Told by Young Stratford Girl.

Stratford, Oct. 3.—Charlie Lee Hing, a Chinese, kept a laundry here a few years ago, and employed a thirteen-year-old orphan girl at large wages to help in the laundry. Shortly after she entered his employ, it is alleged, he attempted to assault her. Lately he has run the Gold Dollar restaurant at Woodstock, and while there induced the same girl to go there to work, assuring her that other girls were in his employ.

Tempted by the good wages, she went, and on Wednesday last he is alleged to have again brutally assaulted her. The girl returned home, when it was found she had been drugged, but had reached the train for home before the drug took effect. When the girl regained her normal condition she told a pitiful story to the Children's Aid Inspector, Mr. Gunton, and subsequently had a warrant sworn out before Police Magistrate O'Loane.

An officer went to Woodstock to-day to bring the Chinese here to stand trial.

NEW CURATE AT ASCENSION.

Rev. T. H. Perry Pleas Large Congregations Yesterday.

Rally at Gospel Tabernacle—Anniversary at Chalmers'.

Eminent Divines at St. Paul's and James St. Baptist.

The new curate at the Church of the Ascension, Rev. T. H. Perry, M. A., formerly of Holy Trinity Church, St. Thomas, preached his first sermon yesterday morning, and the congregation is to be congratulated upon securing such an excellent preacher. His sermon was thoughtful and full of whole-souled sincerity.

"Fight the good fight of faith, lay hold on eternal life, whereunto thou art called and hast professed a good profession before many witnesses"—I Timothy vi, 12, was his text.

Various are the battles to be fought, said the preacher, and none know how to fight them till it is known who are the enemies. Bad habits, imperfect institutions and innumerable unseen forces have to be contended against. To be good must be the credit of all strength. The speaker pointed out the prevalence of condemning the doers, instead of the cause of wickedness. Christ never did that; He hated sin, but loved the sinner, and so all should do that and strive to direct themselves against the evil of sin. Thoughts of their own insignificance keeps many men back from doing much good work, but such should remember the words, "Just as I am without one plea."

In conclusion, the eloquent young divine maintained that every young man who wants to prove he is going to fight the good fight, and none know how to find the real siege has begun. First come humility, then self-understanding, followed by a cry to God for strength, and though the fight is hard yet there is a solemn joy in it, and the fight becomes freer and subsequently no pleasure in human life can compare to the happiness there is in fighting the good fight.

He made a passionate appeal for the sympathy and prayers of the members of the church, expressing his intention to do his work faithfully as a servant of Jesus Christ.

Rev. Mr. Perry also preached a forceful sermon at the evening service.

That he has made a favorable impression is evidenced by the comments heard everywhere about him.

Both the morning and evening congregations were large.

DR. GORDON HERE.

Rev. John Gordon, D. D., of Temple College, Philadelphia, who occupied the pulpit of James Street Baptist Church at both services yesterday, took occasion in his evening discourse to rap the higher critics who challenged the pre-existence of the son of Man. There are persons now," he said, "who are denaturalizing Christ instead of giving us the real Christ, the historical Christ, the only one we want."

With features that readily respond in helping to express any emotion, a personality that makes itself felt, and the gift of painting vivid pictures, characterized by clearness and simplicity, Professor Gordon in the pulpit commands attention. From the Gospel story of the journey of Jesus to Jerusalem by way of Jericho, the healing of the blind beggar and the conversion of the rich man, he drew many inspiring lessons. The chief thought was that emphasis was that Jesus came to seek and save, and that His Gospel was for humanity, irrespective of class or distinction. While impressing the saving power of Christ, Professor Gordon referred to the fact that many refused to acknowledge themselves sinners. No matter how righteous a life a man might lead, every man, he declared, was a lost man without Christ.

Dr. Gordon's inspiring and scholarly discourse made a noticeable impression, and so impressive was the silence as he concluded one might hear a pin fall.

Dr. Gilmore, a former pastor of James Street Baptist Church, will preach on Sunday next.

GOSPEL TABERNACLE RALLY.

Yesterday afternoon Gospel Tabernacle held its annual rally. After a responsive reading from the school, the pastor, Rev. P. W. Philpott, gave a short sermon. He said every man was a sinner by nature, but the Bible did not say that we would all be condemned. No person would be lost because of sin, but only those who would not accept Christ as their Saviour. It made no difference how good or how man any person may be, the most vital question was, "Will you receive Christ as your Saviour?" He had heard a lot of people say that boys would be boys and girls would be girls, but boys and girls must die the same as old people. They all know right from wrong and will be held responsible. While he believed that no matter when a man came to God he would be saved, he did not think it should be put off till the last moment. Until people took Christ as their Saviour all their time was worse than wasted. In conclusion, the speaker made an impressive appeal to the young people present to live and work for their Master.

A song by Fred Smythe and the music by the church orchestra were much appreciated.

For Rally Day were sung heartily by the school, under the able leadership of E. Tovel, Superintendent of the Sunday school.

CHALMERS' CHURCH.

The anniversary services of Chalmers' Church, Mount Hamilton, were held yesterday morning and evening, and large audiences were present on both occasions. Mr. R. B. Nellis, secretary of the day, and the two sermons he delivered were eloquent and practically interesting. Rev. F. W. K. Harris, B. A., pastor of the church, assisted in the services. In the morning Mr. Nellis chose for his text Proverbs xi, 30. "The fruit of the righteous is a tree of life, and he that winneth souls is wise." He said: "Some of us were tired of intellectual convulsions within the church. We were Marconi to come to lecture on wireless telegraphy in Chalmers' Church every seat would be filled. If an evangelist were to come here quietly to preach Christ without any hectic display, the pastor would have to do some personal work to secure an audience. Yet the service of soul saving is the greatest thing of the day. His subject was, 'High Ideals in Christian Service and How to Obtain Them.' The question was, how could we make our personal equipment for service more efficient? He would speak of the great soul-saver, the world's ever-awake—Paul. There were four great principles that made him the power of his own Christian experience. The men who do effective work for Christ are the men who have had reality of their own Christian experience. No man or woman will ever see supernatural results unless they have Jesus Christ with them. Paul meant business when he went on his knees to pray. There was nothing so great in all the world as the power of the consecrated prayer. Paul lived by the will of God. Did they ever try to live a week absolutely by the will of God? Paul was also broad in his sympathy—sympathy that drew out the largeness of his heart. He was big in his doctrine. Some of them were tired of this way of doctrine. The average man took no interest in services, and things that counted were those which were essential to man's salvation. Paul was big in his methods. The church was struggling with the problem of how to do things. Paul also had a vision of what the kingdom of Christ was to be in this world. His vision included all the high and the low. Mr. Nellis told a pathetic little story of the death of a young man in Kingston Penitentiary, who was born there while his mother was a prisoner, and who had spent ten years of his twenty-two within its walls. He died with the expression on his lips that he "never had a chance." The preacher believed that God would give that had a chance some day.

Mrs. Adam Inch and Mrs. Kennedy, of the Jerry McCauley Mission, New York, sang a solo each. Mr. Nellis preached in the evening to another large congregation. At this service Miss Edith Taylor sang solo very nicely. He also preached in the afternoon in the Barton Presbyterian Church.

ST. STEPHEN'S CHURCH.

St. Stephen's Anglican Church, Mount Hamilton, held three services yesterday in continuation of the harvest home festival. In the morning Rev. E. N. R. Burns, of St. Luke's Church, preached an appropriate sermon. In the afternoon a children's service was held, and in the evening Mr. Dymont, a student from Toronto, had charge of services, and preached an interesting sermon from the words, "Therefore take no thought." There was a seeming contradiction in these words. God did not mean that they were to take no thought for the future. They were to take thought of higher and spiritual things, to use the gifts God had given them. The congregation in the evening was very large.

DR. EAKIN AT ST. PAUL'S.

In St. Paul's Presbyterian Church last evening the Rev. Dr. Eakin, of St. Andrew's Church, Toronto, preached on the text, "Trust in the Lord and do good." From these words a very interesting and instructive sermon was delivered. He stated that the ancient theologians devised more questions than they could answer, and a large number of the people to-day were committing the same mistake and were trying to theologize themselves when what they needed was the essential principles of life, which never change. It takes very little theology, nor does a man need to have the wisdom of God, to live a true and practical life. The life of man was not built upon argument and creeds, but upon activity and deeds. The trust in God was all the theology that any person needed to live an ideal, practical life. No one had ever turned to God with the sincere desire in his heart to know the straight road, who had not received help and hope. Every virtue and thought of holiness was God seeking to express Himself in us. He explained that the right and the only way to reach the ideal state of manhood was to live a practical life and follow to seek to serve our Master, when ought to be the first and the best help our fellow men. Salvation could only come through co-working with the Divine Spirit. In conclusion he emphasized that God imposed no great intellectual burden upon us, and that there was nothing more simple and clearer for the founder of a true and noble life than the wonderful words of Christ, found throughout the New Testament.

WORK IN THE WEST.

The congregation of St. Andrew's Church had the pleasure yesterday of hearing Rev. Mr. Wilson, of Vancouver, preach about the work of the missionaries are doing out in the great West. He has been sent on a mission to Ontario, with the intention of securing volunteers to do the work of the Yukon and its resources; the great wheat belt, which he said gave employment to many thousands of people, and many of the people are ignorant of God, and he said it was his duty to try to secure people who would be willing to leave their homes and families, who some day, may become great men of the Empire.

LABOR REFORMS.

Canadian Federation Deputation Wait on Premier.

Ottawa, Oct. 3.—The Executive Committee of the American Federation of Labor waited on Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King on Saturday, and urged the Government to act upon the various resolutions passed at the convention of last week. The deputation asked for legislation placing a tax on all foreign labor employed in Canada by non-Canadian companies, for the Government to subsidize to promote ship-building in Canada, for the enactment of pieces, for the passing of a bill providing for industrial co-operative societies, for a royal commission to inquire into the evil effects of international unionism in Canada, for the prohibition of members of military bands belonging to international labor unions, for a system of physical and military drills in schools, and for the extension of the Lemoine act to apply to all industrial disputes.

The Prime Minister and the Minister of Labor promised that the Government would give careful consideration to all the requests preferred by the Federation.

INCLOSURE.

To the Editor of the Times: Sir,—When those old land-grabbers stole the grass from the poor man's cow and donkey and goose, they didn't call it stealing. They called it 'inclosing.' They made the commons smaller and the private parks larger. History that is interesting is going to be read afresh and the commons will be restored. An old item in my notebook may as well come to the light. It is from Thos. Fuller. "The margin shall direct you to the author (Mr. Bentham's Christian Conflict) that counts eleven manors in Northamptonshire thus enclosed. Inclosure with depopulation is a canker to the commons. It is a disease no proof; woeful experience shows how it unhouses thousands of people, till desperate need thrusts them on the galleys." A parliamentary blue book allows that two million and a quarter acres were thus enclosed.

BOY PREACHER

Lonnie Dennis In the A. M. E. Church Yesterday.

Those who attended the services in the A. M. E. Church yesterday heard remarkable sermons. The preacher was Lonnie Dennis, the boy evangelist, who for years, although but 15 years old at present, has been traveling from place to place preaching the Gospel. Seven years ago, when eight years of age he spoke in this city and much comment was made as to his ability as a speaker. Since that time he has masterfully improved and broadened out his ideas so that yesterday's sermons were real treat.

He selected as his theme, II Timothy ii, 15, "Study to show thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth." He said although the words of the text had been spoken to a minister they were applicable to every one who is a true believer, as the preacher or pastor is not alone responsible for the teaching of the word of God. Every Christian has a part and should be a worker, not a worker for praise from the pastor but for the furtherance of God's word so that others might see salvation. If a Christian is to follow in the steps of Christ he must seek to raise the fallen from out of the depths of sin and not allow them to be crushed in the mire, from which they may not later be raised. One of the kinds of people the Church is best without is that kind of a worker who works only under the instigation of the praise of the pastor. The pastor's duty is not to pet and care for the workers as though they were babies, but to train them, they would resent such treatment. Numerous people who idle away their time are of no use to the Master or any one else. He considered the tramps because of the nobility on the same level, because the tramp idled away their time on the road and away from their castles. Such people do not enjoy the same feelings of ecstasy as the earnest worker for the master who seeks only to bring about that salvation to other souls, of which he himself is deprived. Such a worker does not get disappointed over little things, as the saving of one little thing, as the saving of one little thing, means another worker who may save thousands of souls. Christian, too, is not counted on a money basis as God considers not the money so much as the spirit in which it is given.

He spoke at the afternoon session and made a deep impression on the minds of the Sunday School scholars.

MEN'S P. S. A.

New Brotherhood Made a Good Start Here.

Yesterday afternoon the Men's Pleasant Sunday Afternoon Brotherhood had its first meeting in the First Congregational Church. The P. S. A., as the brotherhood is called, is along the lines of the same brotherhood in England. Christian men, working for the advancement of the Christian cause, become associated with one another, and meet together so that a brotherly spirit may be maintained. Rev. E. H. Tippett, pastor of the church, who has had considerable experience in organizing P. S. A.'s, was the instigator of the movement, and the idea was rapidly taken up by the members, not of one church, but of all denominations, and at yesterday afternoon's meeting the large number of men who attended completely filled the church. Mr. Tippett spoke of how the movement started in England 34 years ago, and so rapidly did it spread that there are now about 2,000 brotherhoods in England and Scotland, and the estimate of the number of members is 500,000. He said the movement first started in Canada in a church in Montreal, of which he afterwards became pastor, and since that started seven other churches in Montreal have organized brotherhoods. When he came to Hamilton he fully intended organizing a P. S. A. and now it has been started in such a way that it is bound to succeed. "Pleasant Sunday Afternoon" did not mean that the members gathered together to hear a concert, but to get a grip upon the joy of religion, and in a frank, hearty way acknowledge the name of Jesus Christ. Such an organization was sure to be looked up to, as it stimulated public action toward better moral and social elements. He did not intend to deal fully with the objects of the P. S. A., but would do so at a later meeting. It was the purpose of the brotherhood to have a small library of the very best books. At any of the meetings the members were not restrained from expressing their pleasure in a hand-clap, as such an expression of joy and Christianity should be associated together. He then introduced Mr. J. Boyd, who is acting as general secretary until a business meeting is called to elect the officers. Mr. H. Brooks, who has charge of the singing, was also introduced. Mr. Tippett said as he could not introduce each one to the one sitting next to him, they would be obliged to do so themselves by shaking hands with one another.

Next Sunday afternoon a talented speaker would address the gathering.

ATE HIS OWN CHILD.

Terrible Story of Cannibalism in the Arctic Circle.

St. John's Nfld., Oct. 3.—Tragedy in the icy wastes of the Far North formed the burden of the news brought to this port to-day by the Hudson Bay Company's steamer Adventure, which arrived with the crew of the lost Dundee whaler, Paradox, and the story of the Eskimo who, driven to cannibalism by starvation, ate his child, and, shooting several neighbors who attempted summary punishment, fled into the trackless wilderness of ice.

The Paradox, one of the fleet of Dundee whalers, met the fate of her companion ship, Snowdrop, when she was crushed in the merciless jaws of the ice floes off Baffin's Land, early in August, a year ago. The crew, with scanty provisions, made their perilous way over the broken ice towards the mainland and were picked up by the Hudson Bay Company's steamer Pelican, which took them to Fort Churchill, where they remained until the arrival of the Adventure on her regular Fall trip.

The Hudson Bay Mounted Police report, through despatches brought by the Adventure, the cannibalism of the starving Eskimo. The man's fishing and hunting season had been a failure, and driven mad by hunger, he cut the throat of one of his children and then ate the little victim.

When the man's neighbors heard of the horrible crime they attacked him, according to the primitive law of their race. The outcast fled to the shelter of his igloo, and beat off all assaults, shooting down several of the attacking party and escaping into the wilderness. Whether he finally succeeded in reaching some remote settlement where the news of his crime had not reached or whether he succumbed to starvation is not known.

WESLEY'S DIARIES. They Have Been Deciphered After Long Years of Labor.

London, Oct. 3.—Recent discoveries will involve the rewriting of John Wesley's life. The Rev. Nehemiah Curdock some time ago unearthed a large number of diaries in Wesley's handwriting, but written in three ways—obsolete, shorthand, curiously abbreviated long-hand, and an extraordinary cipher of which no one had a key.

By the unparing labor of himself and expert students, keys to the cipher and shorthand were discovered, and the work of transcription has now been completed. The diaries, edited by Mr. Curdock, will be published shortly.

He spent four years in the work of deciphering the cipher used chiefly in an Oxford diary, and relating to religious beliefs. The cipher for a long time baffled Mr. Curdock, but a missing letter at last came to him in a dream.

The documents throw a new and strange light on the development of Wesley's character, on his literary, political and social activity in America, on the part he played in the creation of a new church hymnology, and on his early life at Oxford. New versions of early journals have come to light, including a beautiful account of the famous Georgian love affair. The discoveries will necessitate the rewriting of the great religious teacher's life.

TRAINMEN KILLED. Collision on the Canadian Northern Brings Death to Two.

Fort Frances, Oct. 3.—A head-on collision two miles this side of Banning, on the C. N. R. yesterday afternoon resulted in the death of Fireman Woodcock and Brakeman Lockhart of No. 97, westbound, both being scalded to death by escaping steam from the damaged engine. Both engines were badly wrecked, and nearly a dozen box cars converted into kindling wood. The east-bound train, which consisted of twenty-three cars of wheat, piled the engine clear over the other, and literally cut the cars in two. One car of wheat was burst and scattered down the embankment, and a car of liquor was also said to be demolished.

The engineer of the eastbound train and crew had a narrow escape by jumping. The engineer of the unfortunate No. 97 also escaped by jumping, but got caught by the flying wreckage and severely bruised. A wrecking crew and doctor were at once despatched for the scene.

The bodies of the two unfortunate trainmen were sent on Sunday to Rainy River for burial. The cause of the collision is said to be due to the east-bound freight crew overlooking orders, as they were ordered to wait at Taseine station for No. 97, a local west-bound freight. They did not do so, and when some two miles from Banning both trains met at full speed.

WHO PAYS FOR ADVERTISING? In answer to this question a successful advertiser said: Neither the manufacturer nor the consumer pays for advertising, but the manufacturer who does not advertise does pay for it.

"Suppose you have spent about $70,000 advertising and you have increased the volume of business from $800,000 a year to $1,000,000 during a certain time? Who pays for the advertising? "The consumer gets the same quality and a little more than he would if he bought unadvertised goods and in addition, because of the advertising, he knows who is back of the goods. The advertiser makes the same profit, plus the big bonus in being assisted in the distribution of the goods and you—why, you have simply laid down about $10,000 each year for advertising and got back over $65,000 of extra business which you could have got in no other way at that cost, and you have also added enough credit value to the good-will of your business—news paper for your advertising of itself."—Newspaperdom.

DEFENDS BUDGET. Jee Chamberlain's Brother is No Recreant.

The Liberal meeting in Bingley Hall, Birmingham, at which Mr. Asquith presided, was presided over by Mr. Arthur Chamberlain, who in his introductory speech spoke strongly in favor of the budget. Mr. Chamberlain said the meeting was in support of a budget that was so bold, so far-reaching, and so evidently the landmark of a new age and of a nobler and a more effective Liberalism—that it might well secure the enthusiastic support of all true Liberals as it had the bitter hostility of all Tories. By him and many others who were business men first and politicians a long way afterwards, anything in the nature of taxation was felt if not with anxiety at least with suspi-

Stop Look What's Here

William Travers Jerome, District Attorney of New York, went down to Georgia to address the Georgia Bar Association.

Colonel Peter Meldrim was showing Jerome around.

"You see that man," said the Colonel, pointing out a distinguished person who sat on the hotel porch.

"Well, suh, that is a man in whom our State takes great pride. He is Judge —, suh, the only man in Georgia who can strut sitting down."

Discussing in Anoka a certain battle of the Civil War, P. G. Woodward, commander of the Minnesota Department of the Grand Army of the Republic, said:

"That general reminded me of a waiter in a restaurant. The general was too scientific. He was too busy with causes and effects, with technical moves and what not, to get results—that is, to win battles."

"So with my Minneapolis waiter. In a restaurant I said to him: 'Look at the color of this water. Why, it's not fit to drink!'"

"But the waiter, instead of rushing some crystal-pure water to me, took up my goblet, studied it carefully, shook his head and said: 'No, sir, you're deceiving yourself, sir. The water's perfectly all right. It's only the glass what's dirty!'"

Of two boys, born in a country town in Iowa, one went to Chicago and became rich and the other stayed at home and when he was 60 was very poor. The stay-at-home had heard of the success of his boyhood friend and he went up to Chicago to see him one day, thinking to obtain a loan to tide him over the winter. He went to the rich one's office, found him installed in a magnificent suite and was held up by an office-boy in livery.

"Just tell my old friend that Bill, the friend of his boyhood days, is outside and wants to talk over old times with him."

Presently the visitor was admitted. "Hello, Bill," said the millionaire. "I'm glad to see you."

"You talked for a time and then the visitor remarked: 'I hear you are worth millions.'"

"Yes, I'm pretty rich; and how has the world treated you?"

"Oh, I've had a terrible time. I had a business, but I lost that a while ago. You see, my wife's father died, and her mother, and then we lost our daughter. Right on the heels of that my mother died, and, soon after, my father. It was tough."

The millionaire took out a handkerchief and wiped his eyes. "It certainly was," he commented.

"Yes," continued the visitor, "and that wasn't the worst of it. Early the next spring my boy, on whom I had set so many hopes, he died, too; and then, with all that expense, I lost my business paying doctor's bills. Then, to close it all up, it wasn't six months before my faithful wife died, and I was left all alone."

The millionaire was sobbing by this time. He leaned over and touched a button on his desk, and a big porter came in.

"Jim," said the millionaire, "throw this man out. He's breaking my heart!"—Saturday Evening Post.

JUNGLE TERRIERS READY FOR THE BIG BATTLE.

Nearly a Thousand Enthusiasts Watched the Yellow and Black Team Working Out at the Cricket Grounds on Saturday.

About one thousand enthusiastic football fans were at the Cricket Grounds on Saturday afternoon to see the Jungle Terriers at play. It was the finest turnout since the opening of the practicing season, practically all off last year's seniors being out, together with the new candidates and the intermediates and singles. Rajah Wigle was the only absentee, but he had a good excuse, and promises to be out for the remaining workouts this week. Art Moore was on the job and displayed all his old time form. Experts say he is better than ever, and look forward for him to make some great runs this year. His blocking, tackling and running on Saturday certainly gave promise of great things for the coming season. The team lined up against the intermediates, and had a hard workout for an hour or so. Every kind of work was indulged in, and with a few more such workouts the yellow and black bunch will be in shape to put it all over the Parliament Hill aggregation. "Kid" Smith played a wonderful game, and put over a couple of beautiful drops. He gives promise of filling Davey Top's shoes to a nicety. The other members of the team worked hard and were on the job at all times. Trainer Sim Vaughan says the boys are in five physical shape, and can stand all the knocks the Ottawa bunch are likely to hand out.

The tackling dummy has not yet been put together, but it will be ready for the practice which will be held to-night. This week will be a heavy one for the players, as practices will be held this evening, to-morrow afternoon, Wednesday night and the following afternoon.

The decisive defeat handed Montreal at the hands of the Rough Riders proves conclusively that the Tigers will have one of their hardest games of the season on Saturday next. Despite the walls of weakness that have been issued from the Ottawa camp, it is quite evident that the Rough Riders have a very strong team this year, and one that will take a lot of beating.

Captain Ben Simpson is tickled to death with the way the boys are turning out and their enthusiasm certainly does them credit.

There has been much comment on Kelly's non-appearance on the line-up of the Montreal team for the Ottawa game. There still seems to be a possibility that he will play with the Ottawa team.

Ed Zimmerman did not appear on the line-up of the Ottawa team on Saturday, and it is not likely that he will play with them this year. He is only in the Capital on a visit, and did not go there, as was at first believed; to take up permanent residence. He is one of the best back division players in the Dominion, and will make a valuable acquisition for the team that gets him.

OTTAWA WINS OPENING GAME OF INTER-PROVINCIAL.

Rough Riders Put It All Over Montreal by a Score of 25 to 14—Kelly's Absence From Montreal Line-Up a Great Surprise.

Ottawa, Oct. 4.—The Ottawa Football Club won the opening game of the Interprovincial Amateur Football Union from Montreal by 25 points to 14 at Varsity oval on Saturday afternoon in the presence of a crowd of about four thousand people. The weather was fair, and the game, although too one-sided to be really exciting, was interesting at all times, abounding in long runs and other sensational plays.

Jack Ryan was on the side line for the first time for five years, while Ernest Hamilton, the Montreal amateur whose standing was questioned, was again at right-half for the visitors. Six or seven new faces were seen on both sides, the teams being below last year's standing. Ottawas were without the Kennedy boys, Doc Sheriff, Allan Powell, Bert Stronach, Baz Aylmer and the famous Ryan, while Montreal lined up minus Ted Savage, George Kelly, Walter Molson, Percy Roberts and others who have done so much to make the M. A. A. A. such a power in football. Kelly, it is again said, may play with Ottawa.

The Ottawas excelled the visitors in the scrimmage and on the wing line. Quarter-back Snelling was given excellent protection, the Ottawa men tearing big holes in the Montreal line at every onslaught, and giving Baillie and the other backs no opportunities to shine.

On the other hand Montreal failed to break through when they had possession of the ball, the Ottawa scrimmage and wing men having it on their opponents in speed, strength and staying powers. Jack Williams and the other Ottawa backs did more running with the ball than Montreal, the three touchdowns which the Ottawas got falling to the men behind the line. Once Williams faked a drop for goal, hugged the ball and went over the line, and twice Gerard pulled off long runs for tries. The Montreal backs outplayed Ottawa, but the slow following up of the visiting wings and the clever kicking of the home team gave Williams and his assistants plenty of time to clear. Both back lines made a few costly fumbles. The passing of the Montreal backs was very bad, Ottawas getting two of their touchdowns by intercepting long throws or picking up loose balls from the scrimmage. Williams and Gerard were conspicuous on the Ottawa back line, Gerard, the new man, proving a star. Stinson and Duckett did most of the hard work for Montreal, both being very fast and insignificant punters.

Williams, however, placed his kicks better than did the visiting backs, generally landing the rubber where his own men could fall on it. Kilt, who took Ryan's place, and Convey, another new outside wing, both made good. The tackling was a feature of both sides.

Play was clean. Referee Henry and Griffiths handling affairs without a mistake. Ottawa scored fifteen points and cinched the game when they played with the wind in the first quarter. Gerard's try, which was not converted, Williams' drop from field, Williams' try, which he kicked off successfully, and several rouges giving them a safe lead. Montreal scored a rouge in the first quarter and two in the second, it being 15 to 3 at half time.

In the third quarter Ottawa added eleven with Gerard's try, which Williams again converted, and a few rouges. Montreal did not score again until the fourth, when Stinson dropped a goal. Then they rallied, and profited by fumbles on the Ottawa back division. Cameron fell on the ball for a try, Stinson converting.

The general opinion is that both teams will have to strengthen if they are to be in with the tigers. Tigers play here next Saturday, and Ottawas will likely have Nick Bawlf at full-back for the occasion. The teams were: Montreal—Stinson, full back; Hamilton, right half; Duckett, centre half; W. Craig, left half; Buz Baillie, quarter; McNamee, McAllan, Colls, scrum; Egan, J. Baillie, A. Cameron, right wings; Douglas, Ward, Armstrong, right wings.

home in second place on Saturday at 20 to 1 for place. The most plausible solution to this mystery would be that Sol did not have any money on him.

Jim Hammond's big bear will run in the steeplechase on Thursday and on the form the horse has been displaying lately it has a good chance to cop the first money.

Canadian Runner Took St. Yves' Measure

Defeated St. Yves the French Marathon Runner, yesterday at the National grounds, but St. Yves was unable to finish. He gave up in the 23rd mile, dropping to the ground from sheer exhaustion.

The race up to that time was close, St. Yves leading all the way, with Holmer five yards behind. St. Yves tried repeatedly to shake off the Canadian but the latter stuck close to him, and at the beginning of the 23rd mile began to force St. Yves. The latter kept up the faster clip for a couple of laps and then collapsed. Holmer finished alone in 2:22.46, which is an American record. It was found that St. Yves was suffering from heart trouble, and was evidently in distress during the whole race. Holmer finished strong, and was never in distress.

James J. Jeffries, who is in Paris, now says he will not sail for this country before October 18th and that if he decides to fight Jack Johnson a purse of $150,000 must be guaranteed and the date of the mill must not be fixed earlier than next April. Jeffries is talking pretty freely on the other side, according to reliable cable messages received in New York, and is telling Frenchmen that he is still the champion heavyweight pugilist of the world. It is just possible, though, that the boiler-maker is joking in regard to the $150,000 purse, for should he make such a demand after his arrival in New York there is no doubt that the sporting public would jump to the conclusion that Jeffries doesn't want to fight Johnson or anybody else.

SHAMROCKS FIRST GAME OF CHAMPIONSHIP BY 7 TO 5.

The Game Was Keenly Contested and Ended in a Fight—Bradford Won Intermediate C. L. A. Championship.

On a soggy field at Mill End, soaked with rain of a particularly moist week, the Shamrocks lined up with Montreal on Saturday afternoon, first game of championship.

Shamrocks—Muir, goal; Dillon, point; Kavanagh, cover; Howard, Tobin, McLeane, defence; Ross, centre; Munday, Hyland, O'Reilly, home; Brennan, outside; Hogan, inside.

Montreal—Hogan, goal; G. Finlayson, point; Neville, cover; R. Finlayson, Manckrow, F. Scott, defence; Kane, centre; Laviolette, H. Scott, Dade, home; F. Hogan, outside; Roberts, inside.

In the practice on Saturday the seniors lined up against the juniors, and the two teams struggled fiercely for an hour's play. Levaek was at full back for the seniors, with Norcross, Murphy and "Mer" Kent on the half line.

All four of the men were working well, Levaek especially getting in some nice punts. Levaek had some trouble early in the season in placing his kicks, but he is getting his eye on the ball better now. Corvill, at quarter, is doing even faster work than he did last year for Varsity, and besides, he is handling his men well. There is no more popular man on the field than Corvill, and it all helps him in running his team. The scrimmage was looked after by Russell, Livingstone and Hugh Brown, and all played well. The average weight of the three men is about 180 pounds, and opposing teams will find it a mighty solid chunk to run up against. On the wings were Baycroft, Grant, Spragg, Gibson, "Art" Kent and Van Burisk.

The team will practice again this evening and the line-up for the Montreal game will likely be known by Friday morning.

H. J. C. SATURDAY'S CARD BEST OF AUTUMN MEETING.

Attendance at the Track Was Up to the Record—Woolwinder Won the Autumn Handicap—Barns Rode Three Winners.

Saturday broke the attendance record for the autumn meeting of the Hamilton Jockey Club, there being over three thousand people at the track. Two special trains were needed to bring the fifteen hundred people that came up from Toronto, while the Buffalo train carried over five hundred. The programme was the best offered since the opening of the meeting, and the racing left nothing to be desired. Close and exciting finishes were the order of the day, and as several of the favorites came home the talent did not have a bad day. The Thirtieth Band was in attendance, and added to the entertainment by an excellent programme of music. The weather was bright and cheerful, a welcome departure from the conditions that existed for the preceding days of the meeting.

Just after the start in the first race Patriot got in a bunch, and, stumbling, threw Jockey Rice over his head. Fortunately he was not stepped on, and was able to walk to the jockey's quarters. King Avondale, third choice in this race, broke in front, and held that position throughout the race. Ida D. challenged in the stretch, but was left behind. Woolwinder was favorite, and although he got a bad start, Jockey Burns drove him hard and got third money.

The second race was won by the favorite, The Earl, who breezed in by five lengths. Maxim Gun held the lead until the stretch, when Musgrave let the favorite out. Great Jubilee and Alice Mack had a great run for second place, and the former got the decision.

The favorite, John Dillon, walked away with the steeplechase. He fenced in excellent style and was never in danger. Lizzie Flat was expected to be a contender in this event, but the horse shied second about four lengths behind the winner, and Butter Ladie got third money.

The talent reaped a harvest of gold in the fourth race. The St. James' stable entry, Woolwinder and Green Seal, with the two best jockeys at the track, Burns and Howard, on them, clocked good time, when they decided to go for a lot of money was put up. Pinkola and Cave Adam were also well backed. Green Seal took an early lead and Pinkola stuck to his flanks. At the top bend Pinkola shot to the front and the others moved up. Woolwinder came with a rush in the stretch, and the best of the race, when they decided to go for a lot of money was put up. Pinkola and Cave Adam were also well backed. THE GAMES IN THE JUNIOR FOOTBALL LEAGUES.

Opening of the Junior Football Leagues Was Not Auspicious—Ascensions, Knox Mission and Erskines Were the Victors on Saturday.

Saturday's results: Senior Church League. Ascension 11, First Church 2. Junior Church League. Knox Church Mission 14, St. Andrew's 1. Erskines 15, Y. M. C. A. 4.

The junior football leagues have got started and while there have been less than auspicious openings, Saturday's was anything but promising.

The junior football leagues have got started and while there have been less than auspicious openings, Saturday's was anything but promising.

The Junior Church League got off to a much better start than the other one. All the teams were evenly matched, except in one case, when St. Andrew's was outclassed.

In the other league only one game took place, and it proved to be a rough and tumble affair. The game ended at three o'clock.

One thing that was amply demonstrated on Saturday is that the officials must have full control of the teams.

At Victoria Park the Senior City League was opened. The usual formalities were gone through, after which the ball was kicked off.

HAMILTON COLLEGIATE ATHLETES DID WELL

At the Interscholastic Track and Field Championships in Toronto on Saturday—Fast Time Was Made and Five Records Lowered.

Toronto, Oct. 4.—That the quality of athletics in the smaller colleges and high schools is rapidly improving was amply demonstrated at Varsity field on Saturday, when no less than five records were lowered and one was equalled at the interscholastic annual track and field meet.

Parkdale Collegiate won the team championship easily, being 21 points ahead of Hamilton, the second team. There were several very promising youngsters in the competitions, notably the Hamilton sprinter, Morgan, Hughes, of Harbord, McEachern, of Northwest High, Graham, of Woodstock College, and Manning, of Hamilton.

The records broken are: Half-mile—Old record, 2:09.15; new record, 2:07.85, made by R. Hughes, of Harbord C. I. The 100 yards record was equalled by C. Morgan, of Hamilton C. I., the time being 1:32.5.

In the high jump, C. Manning, of Hamilton C. I., made a jump of 5 feet 3 3/4 inches; old record, 5 feet 3 1/4 inches. Harold Harshaw, of Parkdale Collegiate Institute, made a new record for the discus, his distance being 85 feet 1 inch.

In the discus, his distance being 85 feet 1 inch.

SOCCER

With such favorable soccer weather on Saturday, large numbers of fans attended the games, but the variety of football they witnessed was rather tame. The Westinghouse still maintain their supremacy, and in Saturday's game with the Laneshires had a walk-away. The Westinghouse team are playing good football, one of the remarkable features being their great combination work.

From the start the Westinghouse had the advantage of the Laneshires, who were lacking in good combination and had to rely more on individual play. Linton and White for the Laneshires were at all times in evidence. J. Gillespie was another of the shining lights for the same team, and took advantage of many opportunities for gains. In the first half the Westinghouse started the work, and managed to score three goals. Many good kicks were blocked by the goalkeeper of the Laneshires. The play in the first half was rather uneven, but not so much so as in the last half. In the first part of the game the Laneshires were unable to make any scores, but managed to keep their opponents down. In the second half they were taxed to the utmost to keep the Westinghouse from piling up a big score.

The game ended with the score 7-0 in favor of Westinghouse. The goals were scored as follows: Linton, 2; Wilson, 2; White, 2; T. Thoms, 1. The game between the Independent Labor Party and the S. O. S. was not up to the expectations of the fans, who had expected to see even play, but the Labor Party had been practising steadily since their last game, and were in fine form. The S. O. S. were whitewashed. From the start it was evident that the Labor Party would lead in the scoring. After the kick-off the S. O. S. tried a rush down the field, but poor combination lost the ball for them, and the Labor Party were given an opportunity of showing what they could do. They made good use of it, and the play was well into the S. O. S. ground before they could be checked. Despite the hard work of the S. O. S. to gain an advantage they could not do so, and soon slackened somewhat. The center half was apparently been saving their strength until the S. O. S. would show some signs of weakness, for they were not long in starting in earnest, and after some very close play on the S. O. S. ground, a good kick narrowly missed the goal. Robertson, in goal for the S. O. S., played up well, and kept many shots from passing between the posts. Although the ball was kicked well out into the field, the S. O. S. could not keep their ground clear, and it was but a short time before the shots were again raining on the goal, and after a number had been blocked a swift straight one passed between the posts, making the opening score 1-0 in favor of the Independent Labor Party. After the opening score the S. O. S. made the S. O. S. played poorly, and the Labor Party had but a fraction of the opposition they had met with in the opening play. The S. O. S. appeared to have lost all hope of scoring, and contented themselves with trying to keep the Labor Party from making more goals, but even that was not done. The Labor Party before the half was ended had added three more points to their score, making it 4-0 in their favor. The play in the second half was an improvement on that of the first, and the S. O. S. played so well that it looked as though they were having things their own way. Before the final whistle sounded the Labor Party had added two other goals, the final score being 6-0. The line-up of the teams was as follows: Independent Labor Party—Johnson, Laville, Potts, Munns, Grant, Bell, Dove, Jones, Coleman, Archer and Neville. S. O. S.—Robertson, J. Newton, Smart, Gibson, Mitchell, Chapman, Sheldan, Adamson, Purvis, Hastings and Phinn. Lives of great men all remind us. What a lot we owe our wives. Little women get behind us. And makes something of our lives. —Catholic Standard and Times.

ACCUSED OF STEALING $100.

Signora Taglerino Complainant Against Giovanni Curto.

Christina Olman Gets a Term Behind the Bars.

Her Place in West End Has Been a Nuisance.

The Taglerinos, from 398 Sherman avenue north, are monopolizing a good deal of the time, lately, in Police Court.

Mr. Scarrone interpreted an intelligible story, which in brief was that Giovanni Curto called to see a friend of his at the Signora's house.

Over the bridge en route for three months in the ethical institution on Barton street went Christina Olman, 31 New street, for keeping a house of doubtful propriety.

Many complaints lodged by neighbors to the police about the house, were the cause of it being raided on Saturday night by Sergeants Robinson and Bainbridge and a number of constables.

P. C. Hill and Duffy had been watching the house for a long time, and read out a long list of calls that had been made by men on various evenings at short intervals.

William H. Allen and Frank Osborne said many things that proved the absence of virtue in the house, and also told of sounds of revelry, accompanied by coarse and undignified language.

"Do you want to be sworn?" was asked the lady.

"I've got so cold I can hardly speak," However, she entered the box and disputed the veracity of the constables and other witnesses.

When the three months' sentence was handed out it threw her in a high state of glee, for she replied: "Very much obliged; it won't break my heart."

"This way," said the constable, pointing to the bridge of signs.

"Oh, I know the way," she retorted. She has crossed and re-crossed that bridge many times.

When Christ Johnson, 66 Cathcart street, took unto himself a wife, he solemnly vowed he would support her, but it is alleged he has been lax in his early promise, hence his being called to the bulwarks for non-support.

After a prolonged absence from the city he returned yesterday and called on his wife, but her story after his hand, with a warrant in hand, were given a chase, which was a long and trying one but resulted in the capture of the said Chris.

He was remanded till Wednesday, without being asked to plead. T. B. McQueen, the defendant and arraigned arranged bail in the sum of $100.

Mrs. Johnson told his Worship this morning that last night somebody had called at her mother's house and offered to knock her head off if she appeared in the case. That matter may be investigated.

W. Smith, 15 Case street, stole a saw. Its intrinsic value was said to be 25 cents. Charles Chadwick was the complainant and said defendant had been working for him, but terminated his work here on Saturday and besides taking himself away took the saw.

Crown Attorney Washington said the newspapers were the cause of misinter- preting the Magistrate's remarks about persons stealing goods under 25 cents in value. He explained that his Worship referred only to things that grow on the earth, when taken from where they are growing, such as fruits.

Magistrate Jelis asked Smith how long he had been in the country.

"Four months," was the answer.

"Do you know you could be deported for this?"

"Yes."

Defendant said he did not think the thing was any value.

He was let go on deferred sentence, with an exhortation to live uprightly.

He left the court in company with his good-looking young wife and baby, and as they left the trio looked the embodiment of gladness.

John Hallam, of Toronto, was up last week for driving a modern juggernaut at a tip top speed in East Flamboro. The case was adjourned till to-day to allow the Torontonians to bring around five witnesses, but he did not show up whereat he was assessed $10.

Several who had presided over the half pint measures in various institutions on Saturday where liquors that eat away all self respect are sold failed to appear this morning. They were out on $5 bail. They forfeited the whole of their bail by not appearing.

Hung by the Wrists

Lansing, Mich., Oct. 4.—Mrs. W. B. Scott, wife of a baker of this city, was found in the woodshed of her home yesterday gagged and suspended by the wrists from the rafters so that her toes just touched the floor. The woman had been hanged there by two masked men who then ransacked the house, and had been tied up for more than two hours when her husband and a neighbor found her. She was utterly exhausted and suffered severely from the shock.

TEA TABLE GOSSIP.

At the reception service in Barton Street Methodist Church last night 34 new names were added to the membership roll.

Mrs. Goforth, Honan, China, will address a meeting of ladies in MacNab Street Church school-room to-morrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. All interested are cordially invited.

About $25 damage was done by fire in the home of Thomas Clarkson, 16 Poulette street, yesterday. It was caused by the accidental dropping of a lamp. The firemen soon put the blaze out.

Mr. Ben Netherell, employed at the Pain Carriage Works, in this city, went to Toronto on Saturday to see a sister he had not seen in twenty years. She discovered his whereabouts through the "missing" column in an old country newspaper and wrote him from Toronto.

George Bennett, 73 Park street south, was turning the crank that starts the machinery of an automobile, yesterday afternoon, in the Park street garage, when it slipped back and struck him on the leg, breaking the limb. He was taken to the City Hospital, where the leg was set. He is doing nicely to-day.

AT FIRST.

Sunday Evening Social Half Hour Proves Enjoyable.

An innovation in connection with First Methodist Church services which promises to be very popular with the congregation is the Sunday evening social half-hour. The second of these was held last night, and enough of the people of the church remained for it to fill the large school-room. The pastor said a few words, and all joined in a social song, after which they intermingled in a social way, and heard two delightful songs, "The Cross is Not Greater Than the Crown," by Mr. Robert Cunningham, a recent comer to the city, who has a beautiful tenor voice, and "At Even Ere the Sun Was Set," by Miss Mathleen Laneley.

WHOSE LAND?

Member of the Parks Board Answers Question.

In answer to the question asked in Saturday night's Times, "Who owns this piece of Beach swamp that the Parks Board is so anxious to pay $20,000 for?" the following facts are supplied by a member of the board:

H. N. Watson, William Marshall, W. R. Marshall, T. Patterson and E. G. Payne own land having a frontage of 843 feet.

Mrs. J. Grossman owns 60 feet. She positively refuses to sell, and the Parks Board desires to take the property it will have to be expropriated.

Harry Freed owns 476 feet. He has had it over 30 years.

Two years ago the Ingersoll company offered $20,000 for the two properties, not including Mrs. Grossman's, and paid $1,500 down, which it forfeited when it could not get permission to go on with the White City scheme.

Toronto, Ont., Oct. 4.—The firm of Wyatt & Co., stock brokers, the head of which Major Harry F. Wyatt, died suddenly on Thursday last, assigned this morning to E. R. C. Clarkson, assignee. Nothing has been given out as to the state of the firm's accounts, but it is understood there will be a deficiency. One report, indeed, has it the shortage amount into the tens of thousands. Several accountants are now at work on the books, and it is intimated that as soon as their investigations make it possible a meeting of the firm's creditors will be called.
