PROCLAMATION

TO THE GOOD PEOPLE OF P. E. I.

PROBABLY there is not a family in your Province but what contains members who are more or less afflicted by Hayfever or Chronic Affections.

As a remedy for these various complaints, there are numerous preparations brought into the market, but all of them of little or no good. But there is a discovery which has recently been made in chemical analysis that is wonderful in its operation. It has been long enough tried and we have found sufficient to satisfy all friends here that the highest skill of the people of the United States can give—that the medicine will do just what it is recommended. It is NECTAR HAMPTON'S VEGETABLE TINCTURE. The medicine is compounded from the Vegetable Kingdom and may be used by any person without injurious consequences. By a wise choice and combination of some of the best of each class of co-operative, simple remedies, it fully removes all the essential parts of the human system and these it has proved itself an effectually curative of the whole round of chronic affections.

Over two million bottles have been sold in the north and west during the last five years.

Three to five bottles will cure the worst case of Rheumatism.

Two bottles will check the worst case of Dyspepsia.

Three bottles are warranted to cure the severest case of Hayfever.

Five to eight bottles will cure the worst case of Skin.

Three bottles are a certain remedy for the Piles.

Five bottles will cure the worst case of Gout.

Three to five bottles have never failed to cure the worst case of Liver Complaint.

Five bottles will cure the worst case of Cough, Consumption, General Debility, Asthma, &c.

As a FEMALE MEDICINE it has no superior.

HASZARD'S GAZETTE, JULY 15.

A LADY IN A CAR.—The seats of the car were all occupied—crowded. None of our avenue cars ever yet were full, so of course, the houses on wheels stopped for me. Not wishing to disturb those who were seated, I was intending to stand but a gentleman up the far end arose and insisted upon me taking his seat. Being very tired I thanked him and obeyed.

Presently a lady, much younger, much prettier, and much better dressed than myself, entered the car. No less than four gentlemen arose instantly offered her a seat. She smiled sweetly and unaffectedly, and, thanking the gentleman who urged the nearest seat to her, she seated herself with a peculiar grace of manner.

She had one of those faces Raphael was always painting—touching sweet and expressive.

A little after this young beauty had taken her seat, a poor woman, looking very thin and very pale, with that care-worn, haggard look that poverty, and sorrow, and hard labor always give, came in. She might have been one of those poor seamstresses who work like slaves and—starve for their labor.

The woman was thinly clad, and seemed weak and exhausted. She had evidently no sixpences to throw away, and came in the car not to stand but to rest while she was helped on her journey. While she was meekly standing for the moment, none of the gentlemen (?) offered to rise, Raphael's angel, with sweet reproving eyes, looked on those who had offered her a seat, and seeing none of them attempt to move, and just as I myself was rising to give the poor old lady a seat, she arose and insisted upon the woman taking her seat. It was all the work of a moment; and the look of grateful surprise the old woman gave her, and the glance of sweet pity the beautiful girl bestowed on the woman as she yielded her seat, and the evident consternation of the broad cloth individual, who were manifestly put to shame, all were to me irresistibly interesting and instructive. One of the same broadcloth wearers, apparently overpowered with confusion, got up and left the car, and the Raphael's angel took his vacant seat.—Day Book.

HUMAN BRUTES.—There are men of the world, of decided talents and excellent qualities, whose influence is greatly abridged by their unctuousness and incivility. Their qualities are sheathed in a porcupine crust.—Their wants of faculty, of tact in one word, of adaptability, renders them unpleasant persons in society, and though we admire their abilities and their worth they are so rude and cynical that we dread them. But little good is derived from the company of a higher intellectual wolf, or bear. Next in importance to acting, is the method of acting, and manner is power.

A VULGAR ERROR.—One of the “vulgar errors” in France is that it is not allowed to cut down a person found hanging or to break open the door of a person suffocating himself with the fumes of charcoal, without the presence of the commissary of the police. A woman living at No. 14, Rue des Tournelles, on returning home on Saturday, found her husband hanging to the window, and struggling in the agony of death. Instead of cutting him down, she hurried off to the commissary of police; but when the funerary arrived the man was quite dead.

A SPIDER'S WEB.—On stepping out of the house, my attention was attracted by a spider's web covering the whole of a large lemon-tree nearly. The tree was oval, and well shaped; and the web was thrown over it in the most artistic manner, and with the finest effect. Broad flat cords were stretched out, like the cords of a tent, from its circumference to the neighbouring bushes; and it looked as if some genius of the lamp, at the command of its master, had exhausted taste and skill to cover with this delicate drapery the rich-looking fruit beneath: I think the web would measure full ten yards in diameter.—Hennion's Valley of the Amazons.

If a plump, juicy man weighing one hundred pounds, were squeezed flat under a hydraulic press, seventy-five pounds of water would run out, and only twenty-five pounds of dry residue would remain. Now, such an experiment would not be very agreeable, especially if the man was alive when put under the press; but the fact is interesting, as showing us of what stuff we are made.

Notice to Travellers.

IT has become an established fact that accidents will happen notwithstanding the care and attention which may be paid to the safety and convenience of travellers. Explosions will take place, bridges will be left open, and cars run off the track as usual. It is well enough for the driver to call out to the passengers to “bowse,” and “take heed,” yet these casualties will occur, which result in severe contusions, broken limbs, burns, bruises, &c.

The Mexican Mustang Liniment.

Upon such occasions, is invaluable! The wounded passenger, or of his saddle and harness properties have induced us to who have tried it, to always carry a bottle of it with them when they are travelling.

Frequent tests have proven it to be efficacious in curing Rheumatism, Piles, Seroflous diseases, Cancerous Ulcers, Old Sores, Neuralgia, Toothache, Fissures, &c. Also, Rashes, Ringworm, Scratches, Cracked Heels, Glands, &c., on Horses and other animals.

It is external in its application, and we GUARANTEE it to care PERMANENTLY in every case, for which we recommend it.

Many Physicians use it because they can depend upon it, as can their patients.

Farmers and Livery Stable Keepers.

Say they will have it, and will not be satisfied with the ordinary liniments, or a salve. Therefore we say to travellers, always and byways use the Mexican Liniment! It has become so thoroughly introduced throughout the United States, British Possessions, and West Indies, that it is almost impossible to step off the train at any station without finding it in the pay bags of the passengers.

The price is as follows:—25 cents, 50 cents, and $1 per bottle; the $0 cent being three times as large as the 25 cent size, and the $1 size nearly three times as large as the 50 cent size, so that the large bottles are cheaper.
