THE PRINCE IMPERIAL'S MONUMENT.

Dean Stanley to-day received an address with 3,200 signatures, and gave audience to a deputation protesting against the proposed erection of a monument in Westminster Abbey to the memory of the Prince Imperial. Dean Stanley refused to alter his decision, and said if he were to give way, it would open the door for complaints from every party against honours to rivals. Relative to the supposed feeling in America against the erection of the monument, he said:—"Doubtless if the Orleans Prince had fallen in the war of secession, their graves would have been heaped with all the honours the United States could bestow "Thomas Carlyle did not sign the memorial, as alleged.

EXPENDITURES. CALCUTTA, Feb. 24. The India Budget shows a surplus of £119,000 for 1879 and 1880, and the estimate for 1881 shows a surplus of £417,000. The above results are reached after paying from the ordinary revenue all the charges on account of famine, the Afghan war, and the froatier rallways. The war expenditure in 1879 and 1880 was three and a quarter million pounds. The total net war expenditure to the end of 1881, including 1879 and 1880, is estimated at five and three-quarter million pounds.

A Berlin despatch says the Reforatag passed the navy estimates, with the exception of the part submitted to the Budget Committee. During the debate Von Stosch, chief of the Admiralty, said it was inexpedient to give further information relative to the loss of the ironolad Grosser Kurfurst. Herr Haenel consequently proposed his motion, calling on Von Stosch to submit a report on the subject. At the suggestion of Herr Lasker, it was agreed to discuss this motion within a few days, independently of the estimates. During the debate on the

SEARCHING SUSPECTED HOUSES.

LONDON, Feb. 21.

The Russian arrested on the 17th inst. in Paris is Karl, alias Mayor, alias Hartmann, and is believed to be the man who rented the house in Moscow whence the explosion of the mine under the railway was operated. If this fact is established to the satisfaction of the French Government, he will be surrendered as a common murderer, although no extradition treaty between France and Russia exists. The statement published this morning that some reactionary Deputies have applied for the man's release, but were told if it appeared the man was connected with the Moscow attempt, he would be surrendered to the Russian authorities, is erroneous. The facts seem to be, the leaders of a Republican group, not reactionaries, asked Premier de Freycinet whether the man is charged with political or common law offences. The Premier referred them to M. Casot, Minister of Justice. M. Casot claimed for the Government perfect freedom to take whatever course it might think advisable. M. Taillandre, Republican member of the Chamber of Deputies, expressed dissatisfaction with this reply, but said he would refer it to his colleagues at the arrest. The Mot d'Ordre, the Lanterne, and the Justice regard the alleged offence as absolutely political.

In Hereford, one gentleman bet another "a new hat" that in his speech to his constituents on the 3rd, Mr. John Bright would glorify Free Trade, and in connection the best method of securing the best pictures in the proposed Leicoster Art Gallery. Here is his reply:—"Dear Sir,—Your letter is deeply interesting to me. But what use is there in my telling you what use is there in my telling you what to do? The mob will not let you do it. It is fatally true that no one nowadays can appreciate pictures by the old masters, and that every one can understand Frith's "Derty Day"—that is to say, very body is mitrested in jookeys, harlots, mountebanks, and men about town, but nobody in saints, heroes, kings, or wise men, either from the East or West. HOUSE OF COMMONS.

OTTAWA, Feb. 23. A RAILWAY COMMISSION. Mr. McCARTHY introduced a bill led an Act to Constitute a Court of Railway Commissioners for Canada. H said the object of the bill as indicated i its title was to constitute a tribunal wit the title was to constitute a tribunal with power to determine summarily dispute arising between railway companies as to crossings, the arrangement of traffic, the adjustment of rates and other matters of that character. The bill also proposed to give this tribunal power to determine matters in dispute between municipal corporations, as to the alignment and places where railway companies are to use the streets and public highways within the limits of their respective corporations. He also proposed, in the measure, to trans. fer to the Commission all the power which the Railway Committee of the Privy Council now exercises, with regard to the highways and bridges, traffic arrangements and tolls, except the power regarding the opening of roads, which he thought should atill be left with the Governor-in-Council

The bill also suggested amendments to the General Railway Act. These were of a character to make the arrangements made by railway companies, and the to is fron time to time proposed to be charged by them, under the control of the Commission and to facilitate as much as possible the appeals of parties injuriously at fected by the rates of traffic and tolls from time to time impose d by railway companies. There was one especial grievance at which he desired to strike, about which he felt very warmly and from which his constituents had suffered to a large extent, and that was the power which railway companies imagined they had, perhape they had according to law, virtually to amalgamate with rival companies without coming to the Legislature for express power to do so. He did not think such amalgamation should be permitted, and he also did not think that a corporation empowered by Parliament to run a road in one section of permitted, and he als) did not think that a corporation empowered by Parliament to run a road in one section of the country had a right, without express power from Parliament, to join with another which might have been designed to compete with a line already existing. The particular case to which he alluded was one of very great hardship. The municipalities in the country of Simcoe granted something like half a million of dellars towards the construction of the Hamilton and North-Western railway, with the idea of having to a certain extent a competing line with the Northern railway. The Hamilton and North-Western was also aided by the Ontario Government. It was constructed, went into operation at was constructed, went into operation and continued to run satisfactorily for six or seven months, when, without the authoror seven months, when, without the authorthy of the municipalities which aided the line, the Company amalgamated with the Northern Railway Company, so that the sompeting line which the people subscribed so much to construct virtually fell under the contrel of the road. That was done under a general power which the Court of Chancery of Oatario had decided existed under the Railway Act. He desired now to have it expressed in the Act that no such power of amalgamation could exist without an appeal to Parliament.

Mr. MACKENZIE asked if the hon.
gentleman proposed to repeal the powers gentleman proposed to repeal the powers to amalgamate which Companies such as the Grand Trunk railway now possessed, mot only under the General Act, but under the special Acts of incorporation.

Mr. McCARTHY said he, of course, did not propose to interfere with private legislation. What he proposed to do legislation. What he proposed to do was to provide that there should not be power in the General Railway Act for Companies under the colour of making traffic arrangements, to amaigamate. He also proposed in the bill to introduce what was known in England as the equality clause. That was a clause which gave companies power to alter their tariff from time to time, but which did net permit them, in doing so, to place upon one person a greater barden than upon another. This provision had been long on the English statute book, and it was curious that it had not been placed on our statute book before this. There was nothing, he might may, very new or novel in the bill. Its passage would be practically the enactsay, very new or novel in the bill. Its passage would be practically the enactment in this country of the English statute of 1872, which was adopted as the result ment the hon gentleman proposed for the payment of the Commission. Mr. McCARTHY said that he could not, of course, as a private member, provide for the payment of the Commission out of the consolidated revenue fund, but what he did propose was that the Commission should have the authority, with the covernor General in consent of the Governor-General-in Council, to impose fees, and that eut o those fees the Commissioners should be paid such a sum each as the Governor-General thought proper.

Have you any remarks to make on sugar for sweetening a baby's food?

A small quantity of sugar in an infant's and fattening, and making cow's milk to resemble somewhat in its properties human milk; but, bear in mind, it must be used sparingly. Much sugar cloys the spontage, weakens the digestion, produces acidity, sour belchings, and wind:—

Things sweet to taste prove in digestion sour. If a babe's bowels be either regular or If a babe's bowels be either regular or relaxed, lump sugar is the best for the purpose of sweeteninghis food; if his bowels are inclined to be costive, raw sugar ought to be substituted for lump sugar, as raw sugar acts on a young babe as an aperient, and, in the generality of cases, is far preferable to physicking him with opening medicine. A infant's bowels, whenever it practicable (and it generally is), ought to be regulated by a judicious dietary rather than by physic. VACCINATION AND RE-VACCINATION.

Are you an advocate for vaccination? Are you an advocate for vaccination?
Certainly. I consider it to be one of the greatest blessings ever conferred upon mankind. Small-pox, before vaccination was adopted, ravaged the country like a plague, and carried off thousands annually; and those who did escape with their lives were frequently made loathsome and disgusting objects by it. Even inoculation (which is cutting for the small-pox) was attended with danger, more especially to the unprojected—as it caused the disease to spread like wildfire, and thus it carried off immense numbers.

Vaccination is one, and an important cause of our increasing population; smallpox, in olden times, decimated the country. But vaccination does not always protect child from small-pox?

I grant you that it does not always protect him, neither does inoculation; but when he is vaccinated, if he take the infection, he is seldom pitted, and very rarely dies, and the disease assumes a comparatively mild form. There are a few, tery few fatal cases recorded after vaccination, and these may be considered as anly exceptions to the general rule; and, ossibly, some of these may be traced to he arm, when the child was vaccinated, of theildren and adults were re-vaccinated—say every seven years after the first vac--say every seven years after the first vac-

Do you consider it, then, the imperative

I'decidedly do: it would be an excellent quotations.

SHENT-Offerings have been very small, but quite sufficient, as there has been scarcely any demand heard either for the local market or for shipment; prices remain much as before, a decline being averted chiefly by the high prices of skins. First-class, that is the best offering, have usually sold from $5.25 to $6.50, and second-class at $4.25 to $6. Lawns—Have been in fair supply, but all have been wanted and readily taken at firmer prices; they have generally advanced at least 25c. Really first-class lambs, dressing not less than 50 lbs, have been firmer and wanted at $5 to $5.5. Lambs dressing from 40 to 43 lbs have risen to $4.25 to $4.75. Second-class, dressing from 30 to $3.1bs, have been slow of sale, and selling at from $3.50 to $4.

CALVES—There has not been much business done through the week; both supply and demand seem to have fallen off somewhat, but prices remain steady at-from $6 to $7 per contal, live-weight.

HIDES, SKINS AND WOOL.

TRADE—Has continued steady and fairly active. House—Green have remained unchanged at last week's decline; cured have been rather slow of sale in consequence of imports from the States, but a tew have changed hands at $2 to $0.25, cars being offered at the former price to-day.

Calfridge—Have continued to offer freely, and to sell readily at firm prices. No change is reported; the best green bring $1.75 to $2.12. Dry have sold as before at 75c to $1.60.

WOOL—The market has been fairly active and firm; large sales have been made to Canadian mills on p 1; deales have made purchases of round lots at 31c for facec; at $25 for super and combing, and 38c for extra super. These prices would readily be repeated; indeed we should say that super and combing might bring 33c.

Tallow—Abundant, dull and lower; nothing over 5 to 55c is now paid for railroad, and cars have been efferted at 54c.

"VASELINE."

A new product made from petroleum is a felly called "Vaseline," which is of the greatest utility is medicine, pharmacy and for toilet use. Physicians all over the world have discovered its great value in the treatment of wounds, burns, skin diseases, rheuma tism, catarrh, and every allment where a liniment is needed, and in almost every hospital in America and Europe this substance is now in constant use, and is acknowledged not only to be the best treatment, but also one of the most important recent additions to medicine. It is put up in bottles by the Cheese brough Manufacturing Company, of New York, and as a family remedy, it is, without doubt, the best in as a family remedy, it is, without doubt, the best in use. Its healing and pain-aliaying qualities being superior to those of any known substance, while the speedy relief it affords for piles and chilblains is almost magical. As an emollient, Vaseline is way ahead of anything else, as it renders the skin smooth, soft and clear, and our lady friends will find it not only the best, but, perhaps, the sole substance it not only the best, but, perhaps, the sole substance which will really preserve and restore to the complexion the hues of youth, making the cheek like velvet and the skin like satin. The complexion powders in common use, are, as a rule, in jurious to the skin and destructive of any complexion, while Vaseline is entirely healthful and beneficial. There s also made a "Pomade Vaseline," which is said to be of great benefit to the hair, keeping it soft and glossy, preventing and curing dandruff, and keeping the scalp healthful and free from disease, and from those objectionable creatures which sometimes find a dwelling there. Numberless instances are cited of how, by the use of this pomade, thin and falling hair has resumed a vigorous growth. Both the pure Vaseline and the pomade are put up in twenty-five cent bottles and are to be found at all first-class druggists, and we selvis our readers to make a trial of this wonderful substance, and we think they will of this wonderful substance, and we think they that the claims to merit not in the least exaggerate
