The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

My Dear Miss Cameron:
I am a reader of this paper and have noticed with interest the different occupations for women you sometimes suggest in your columns.
"Now, I would appreciate it very much if you would suggest a few ways in which a college girl can earn money during her summer vacation. I refer to a college girl who is trying as nearly as possible to earn her own way through college. What can you suggest in this line that would not bring her to the opening of the college year, tired out and unfit for the year's work?"
"An early answer through the columns of the paper is greatly desired."
Again I am going to ask my readers' help.
On the previous occasions when I have requested this I have found my readers most generous with their excellent suggestions, so I am sure they will be again.
Last summer I happened to hear of two college girls who spent the summer as book agents in southern Canada. They went through every primitive country which had not been done to death by summer tourists, and were regarded by the country people as a most welcome diversion.
Consequently, according to the reports which I got, they both had a delightful time and made very good money.
Other college girls whom I have known have earned money during the summer by acting as governesses, as monitors at summer camps, as play teachers in summer playgrounds, as teachers in summer schools, as clerks in the civil service (the examination is the last of April, I think) or in ordinary offices.
None of these things are very unique, so I am afraid I have not contributed much to the subject. And here, of course, is where I want my readers' help.
If you know of any way in which a college or high school girl has earned money in the summer, won't you write and tell us about it?
Through these columns I will pass your suggestion on, to this girl and to any others who may be desirous of similar information.
Ruth Cameron

A Poor Weak Woman

As she is termed, will endure bravely and patiently agonies which a strong man would give way under. The fact is women are more patient than they ought to be under such troubles.
Every woman ought to know that she may obtain the most experienced medical advice free of charge and in absolute confidence and privacy by writing to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, R. V. Pierce, M. D., President, Buffalo, N. Y. Dr. Pierce has been chief consulting physician of the 'Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y., for many years and has had a wider practical experience in the treatment of women's diseases than any other physician in this country. His medicines are world-famous for their astonishing efficacy.
The most perfect remedy ever devised for weak and delicate women is Dr. Pierce's 'Beverly' Prescription.
IT MAKES WEAK WOMEN STRONG.
SICK WOMEN WELL.
The many and varied symptoms of women's peculiar ailments are fully set forth in Plain English in the People's Medical Adviser (1008 pages), a newly revised and up-to-date Edition of which, cloth-bound, will be mailed for 20c on receipt of 50 one-cent stamps to pay cost of mailing only. Address as above.

Fads and Fashions.

Semi-rough woollens are used for the early spring suits. They are in two-toned effects, and not a few of the handsomest models are made of handloom homespun and tweeds.
White shirts continue to be narrow in effect, they are really much wider, in some instances the extra width is introduced in the form of inverted plaits down the side and back.
A novel belt to be worn with a high-waisted frock is of flowered ribbon in vivid tones edged at the top with a narrow band of fur and finished at the back with a big butterfly bow.
A new skirt has a bit of novelty in a little overskirt that opens in front from the belt. It is pulled gracefully back and passed under the edges of a wide box plait in the middle of the back.
The new trouser skirt is merely divided like a riding skirt, and this division is entirely hidden by a box plait that is stitched at its edges to the underskirt down the middle of back and front.
The skirt, slashed front and back at the hem, and showing an inset piece of the material or of contrasting stuff, while not strictly new, is being used to some extent in the new dresses and suits.
A unique headdress is a bandeau of old lace almost the width of the head at the top and narrowed at each side above the ear to go under two round pearl ornaments about the size of an old-fashioned silver watch.
In effect the new dresses presuppose a corsetless figure; in other words, the bust must not be rigidly confined and the hips must be flattened almost to a point of elimination. The waist line is not narrow, since small waists do not accord with classic lines.
Bordered crepe de chine, bordered foulards, bordered shantung, as well as bordered voiles and grenadines, are among the dress materials for the spring. Add to these the plain satins and light-weight woollens and a good idea of the fashionable fabrics is gained.
The Egyptian motifs show such de-

How the Animals See.

There is a most astonishing diversity among animals in respect to the number and location of their eyes. In mammals, birds, reptiles and fishes they are limited to two, and are invariably placed in the head; but others of the animal kingdom may have anywhere up to 50,000, and they seem to have been placed anywhere that seemed handy. The dragon fly possesses eyes composed of an aggregation of about 50,000 smaller eyes, and the common house fly has about 16,000, which may be seen by the aid of a magnifying glass of even small power.
In spiders and scorpions there are usually eight or ten eyes in one or more clusters on the dorsal aspect of that part of the body which is formed by the union of the head and thorax. The starfish has an eye on the tip of each of its five rays or arms, and in the sea urchin, which is nothing but a star-fish with the ends of its rays drawn close together, the five eyes are gathered in a circle around what is considered the hinder portion of its body.
The scallop has numerous eyes on the ledge of its mantle, extending from one end of the animal to the other, and forming a semi-circle. Some marine worms have eyes in clusters, not only the head, but also along each side of the body, even to the tip of the tail, and they are connected individually and directly with the median nervous cord. In the lowest forms we may find many 'intuitions' which have neither eyes nor nerves, but are nevertheless sensitive to light, either seeking or avoiding it.

The Court Courtesy.

Debutantes are already rehearsing for the forthcoming courts, and teachers of deportment in luxurious West End salons are busily engaged in putting pretty girls "through their paces" for these all important events.
The rehearsals are not so exacting as in Queen Victoria's time, for the Georgian debutante will not have to face quite so formidable an ordeal. She will curtsy once to the King and once to the Queen, and then retire as gracefully as possible to the supper room. However, even this comparatively simple performance must be carried out to perfection. The minimum cost of a debutante's outfit is £20, but as a rule over £200 is expended, the heaviest items in the account being £105 for the gown and £20 for the cloak. An American bride has been known to spend as much as £1,700 on her court outfit, the gown costing £1,500.

French Sewing Woman's Story Thrill.

Paris, March 27.—The European literary world is still marvelling at the genius of the little French sewing woman, Marguerite Audoux, who as the result of about ten years' spare time work, wrote "Marie Claire."
Not only has this story won the five thousand franc prize of the "Academy of Women" and astonished the ablest critics of the world, but it has provided a new viewpoint. It enables the leisure class to see the life of working people through the sober vision of a worker, and incidentally conquers fresh territory for aspiring womanhood.
The story of Marie Claire herself is as remarkable and improbable as any sensational novel, and gives fresh point to the old assertion that life is stranger than fiction. Losing her mother by death and her father by desertion, she became an inmate of a convent orphanage, until a home was provided for her with a Sologne farmer.
Her education was of the poorest, and her experience too narrow to allow of her imagination being touched by the splendid facts of life. But she hungered for books, and while a shepherdess at Sologne she came to Paris to appease this craving. In Paris she became a needle woman, and read eagerly in her scanty leisure, but it was not until her cousin failed that she gave way to the ambition of writing a story herself.
Marguerite Audoux was, however, ripe for the great effort. For five years she had been writing the book in her thoughts, while the actual work of composition occupied another five years, for through her defective schooling there were faults of spelling that could only be surmounted by the kindly offices of friends.
Professional writers brought up in a bookish atmosphere, and titled scribblers who write for vanity's sake, are not a little disturbed to find a humble needle woman soaring at once to a big place in the literary firmament. Marguerite Audoux stands for the republican idea in fiction, and is proof of the growing consciousness of the inarticulate millions.
Her lowly origin has not militated against her, however, or made a matter of scorn, as it was in the case of Keats. Indeed, her brave battle against the "slings and arrows of outrageous fortune" has fostered tender regard for the plucky little woman who has knocked on the door of the academic theory that culture is a necessary condition for fine literary achievement.
Looking at Marguerite Audoux you see the wistful dignity that is bred by endurance of a hard lot, without repining or protest, and the calm of conscious strength. The remarkable beauty of her eyes gives distinction to her face.
Yet it is hard for the people who have met her to realize that she is the author of the work described by the famous French author, Octave Mirbeau, in the following terms: "When you have read it you will ask, without wishing to wound the sensibilities of any one, who among our writers—and I include those who have won the greatest glory—could have written this book with such flawless construction, such purity and such dazzling grandeur?"

BEAVER FLOUR

combines the rich gluten of Manitoba Spring wheat and the lighter, but equally important, properties of Ontario Fall wheat. The two combined form a perfectly blended flour that makes bread light, white, nutritious and extremely palatable; while pastry made with Beaver Flour has a crisp, flaky texture that brings many a compliment to the cook.

You don't need to be an expert in baking to attain the best results with BEAVER FLOUR. But if you are an expert, you will readily recognize its incomparable qualities. Your grocer has BEAVER FLOUR, and will recommend it.

(b) Communicate to parties interested, also as promptly as possible, the above information;

(c) Indicate the wages paid for farm work;

(d) Make known the new diseases of vegetables which may appear in any part of the world, showing the territories infected, the progress of the disease, and, if possible, the remedies which are effective;

(e) Study questions concerning agricultural co-operation, insurance and credit in all their aspects; collect and publish information which might be useful in the various countries for the organization of works connected with agricultural co-operation, insurance, and credit;

(f) Submit to the approval of the Governments, if there is occasion for it, measures for the protection of the common interests of farmers and for the improvement of their condition, after having utilized all the necessary sources of information, such as the wishes expressed by international or other agricultural congresses or of congresses of sciences applied to agriculture, of agricultural societies, academies, learned bodies, etc."

Sweeper Runs Into an Express.

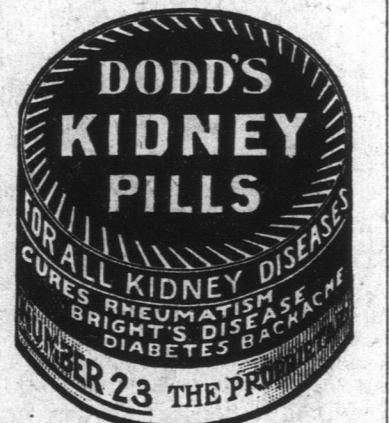

The sweeper going east this forenoon ran into C. P. Eagan's express near Molloy's saddlery. The foreman of the shop and the driver of the express, J. Walsh, were standing on the sidewalk examining the horse's collar when the sweeper without any warning struck the express and knocked it and the foreman of the saddlery over.

Killed Many Seals.

The Sch. Gurnet, arrived here a couple of days ago from Hants Hr., and is now loading freight at Job Bros. premises. She brought along 50 pelts of old hoods killed mostly near Scilly Cove and her skipper reports that many seals were shot in that section the past spring. Seals were taken there up to a few days ago.

Trouble at Bay Roberts

The past few days Magistrate Oke has been busy at Bay Roberts and tried several cases. Some were for petty larcenies, some men were charged with being drunk and disorderly at the Station and another man was convicted of the illegal use of a revolver. He fired the revolver on the street and threatened to shoot a resident of the place. All these before court were fined in various sums and had alternatives to go to prison for different terms.

S.S. Harlaw Abandoned.

Crosbie & Co. received a cablegram from St. Paul's Island in the Gulf this forenoon telling of the loss of the s.s. Harlaw. It came from Capt. Barbour and read as follows:

"Harlaw lost, men on St. Paul's; all hands safe. Try send a steamer as soon as possible."

The Government has arranged to send the S. S. Fogota there, which left here last midnight to take up the western mail route. As soon as she arrives at Fortune the Government will send her on to bring home the wrecked crew. The Harlaw was insured by Messrs. Pickford & Black for $24,000.

POSTAL TELEGRAPH MESSAGE.

The Postal Telegraphs had the following wire from Halifax at 1.15 p.m. to-day:

"Despatch St. Paul's Island says Harlaw abandoned, sinking condition on sealing trip. All on board got ashore."

Antique China Specimen Brings High Price.

Paris, March 28.—What is believed to be the highest price for antique china was paid yesterday at the Hotel Drouot, for a soup plate of old Faience of Deruta, which brought $14,400. The plate is only 41 centimeters in diameter, and is decorated in copper yellow and ruby red of metallic lustre. It has a centre picture of a woman with a short inscription underneath.

An old cup or urino faience, with the picture of a woman being burned alive and decorated on the back with small circles of metallic lustre made off Gubbio, fetched $3,000.

Tenders Invited for Two New Empresses

London, April 1. — Shipbuilding firms on the Clyde are, by invitation, tendering for the construction of new steamers of 5,000 tons shaft horse power for the Canadian Atlantic trade to replace the two Empresses now on the Liverpool-St. Lawrence route.

It is expected that contracts for the construction of two new vessels, larger and faster than these at present on the St. Lawrence route, will be given out before President Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, who is now here from his Mediterranean tour, leaves for Canada.

Liberals Assent to Lansdowne's Plan.

London, March 31. — Lord Lansdowne, leader of the Opposition in the second chamber, submitted in the House of Lords last evening the motion of which he gave notice on Tuesday, that an address be presented to the King asking him to consent to a bill being introduced limiting the prerogative and powers of the Crown in so far as they relate to the creation of peerages, and to the issue of writs and summons to Lords spiritual and temporal, to attend, sit and vote in the House of Lords.

Lord Morley, the Government leader, in the absence of Earl Crewe, announced that the Government regarded the course taken by Lord Lansdowne as entirely justifiable, and would offer no opposition to the address to His Majesty.

Lord Lansdowne's motion was then agreed to.

Unprecedented Feature

Of Coronation Year Will be Concert Hall Performances.

London, March 30.—An unprecedented feature of the Coronation year will be the introduction of concert hall performances by Royal command. Many royalties have visited London music halls privately, but the hallmark of royal patronage has never yet been bestowed upon the vaudeville stage. In response to a petition signed by leading vaudeville managers, the King and Queen will "command" a performance when they visit Edinburgh after the coronation ceremonies.

It is stated that their engagements preclude a similar act on their part so far as London is concerned.

Items of Interest.

The rainiest place in Europe is Cokice, in Dalmatia. The forecaster is unable to prophesy weather for that village, because he can't pronounce its name.

A New Hampshire judge ruled that a husband is responsible for his wife's board even when she goes home to live with her mother. This opens up a new field for family compact.

Phillip Hale recalls, apropos of the rumor that fashionable women in London are taking an interest in prize fights, that women themselves have taken part in these encounters. He quotes an 18th century chronicle:—"An extraordinary battle was fought in the Spa fields by two women against two tailors for a guinea a head, which was won by the ladies, who beat the tailors in a severe manner."

The latest virtue claimed for radium is that it will cure gout and rheumatism. Berlin doctors are said to have effected cures of these diseases by inhalations of radium emanations, and by injections of radioactive salts and by prescribing radioactive waters for internal use.

The most inveterate users of tobacco in the world, according to these figures, are the people of the Netherlands and Belgium, who consume respectively 7.5 and 6.2 pounds annually per capita. The United States comes next with an annual per capita consumption of 5.7 pounds, while the United Kingdom is only eleventh on the list, with an annual consumption of only two pounds per head.

Princess Victoria Patricia, younger daughter of the Duke and Duchess of Connaught, received many handsome presents and congratulations from her relatives and friends St. Patrick's day on the occasion of her twenty-fifth birthday anniversary. The Princess who is often spoke of as the prettiest woman in the British royal family, is looking forward with keen pleasure to her coming sojourn in Canada.

In remote parts of Norway and Sweden medicine and medical supplies are hard to procure, and boxes containing drugs, ointments and bandages are placed on trees along the way of the materials he goes to the box, takes what he wants and leaves the money to pay for it. The honesty of the people is such that the right amounts are always left, and, although the money is not collected for weeks none of it is ever stolen.

Complaint From Twillingate.

Dear Sir.—Some time ago, in January last, a steamer with freight called at Twillingate, presumably sent by the P. P. government. She arrived in the night, remained a few hours and left again without landing any of the freight. She did not land an organ belonging to the Methodist body here and the organ had to be transhipped by way of rail. But for the kindness of Mr. James, Hodder in loaning his horse to convey it from Lewisport, it would have cost the congregation about $5.00 in addition to the freight by rail. The captain left before some people who had goods on board knew that the steamer was in port. After being taxed to pay their proportion of the subsidy for a boat to call at Twillingate, those parties who needed the goods ordered them to be transhipped by rail and had to pay an extra freight, besides the cost of goods from Lewisport to Twillingate. During the Bond Administration a steamer capable of contending with the ice and the rigours of the winter months called at all the northern ports as far as Tilt Cove, at least as late as the 8th of February, and landed freight to all parties satisfactorily. And again, a few days ago the monopoly of the season was broken by the arrival of an obsolete man-of-war ship, called the Stella Maris, now a Croatian iron-clad, commanded by Commodore Winsor. This steamer struck a string of ice just inside Brunt Island, about a mile from the Coastal Wharf, she stuck. A good ice boat should have cut through it. The mail-men were dispatched to the shore, with about thirty lbs. of mail matter, and at the risk of their lives, as they fell through the ice several times and were up to their necks in water. She brought a few packages of freight for Hodge from Fogo, but no packages from St. John's. After a stay of about two hours she proceeded south. Now we are not opposed to a steamer plying between St. John's and the northern ports in the winter months with freight and passengers; providing the Government will equip a steamer capable of performing the work satisfactorily to the public. Then we would get as much or more freight as the steamer on the south-west coast. We claim we have as much right to a winter coastal boat as the people on the West Coast, especially as we are thirty-five miles from the railway station, shut off from St. John's for about four months in the year.

Yours truly, NATIVE. Twillingate, March 31st, 1911.

Children Had Eczema

Treatment prescribed had no effect—DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT made thorough cure. Mrs. Oscar Vancott, St. Antonio, Sack, writes:—"I have found Dr. Chase's Ointment to be a permanent cure for Eczema and other skin diseases. One son, while nursing, broke out with running watery sores all over his head and around the ears. Many salves were prescribed to no effect. The child's head became a mass of scabs and he suffered agony untold. He became weak and frail and would not eat and we thought we would lose him. "Providentially we heard of Dr. Chase's Ointment and it soon thoroughly cured him. He is seven years old now and strong and well. An older boy was also cured of eczema by this Ointment and we hope more people will learn about it so that their little ones may be saved from suffering. As a cure for eczema and itching skin disease there is no treatment to be compared to Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment, 60 cents a box, at all dealers of Edmondson, Bates & Co., Toronto. Dr. Chase's Recipes sent free.

Lecture by the Rev. Chas. Lench.

The lecture delivered by Rev. Mr. Lench at the Sunday School Room of Wesley Church last night, on "Twenty-Eight Years Ministry in the Ancient Colony" was needless to say largely attended. He opened by telling how he came to be selected for Newfoundland at Keewick College in 1883 by Mr. Lawrence because he had a strong constitution. He was given a warm welcome on arrival by the late Rev. Dr. Milligan, President of the Conference, and Rev. Dr. Dove. His first appointment was Flat Island, Placentia Bay. At the Conference next year he met for the first time his dear friends Revs. Goodison, Embree, Fox, Peach, Freeman, Pratt, Storey and Matthews and several others. Out of 19 ministers present at that meeting only one now remains in Newfoundland.

"Some have gone to lands far distant and some are gone from us for ever, longer here they may not stay. They have reached a fairer region, far away, far away!" The lecturer paid a glowing tribute of respect to those self-sacrificing men who had laboured so cheerfully under trying conditions in all weather over sea and land. He gave some pleasant reminiscences of his life on the circuit, Fortune, Channel, Herring Neck, Bonavista, Elliston, Freshwater, Western Bay and Greenspond. The four years spent in St. John's West were the happiest of all being a continuous picnic. The people were very kind to him and proved their love in a practical manner when they made up a purse for himself and Mrs. Lench and enabled them to go to England on three months holiday. They had the greatest time of their lives, while six kind hosts boarded their six children while they were absent. Very kindly references were made to the kindness of our people, their self-denial, hospitality and the ingenuity of our fishermen, their success abroad. Incidents connected with the Bank Crash and the Fire of 1892 were also related, and the two hours went all too quickly.

Kelligrew's Notes.

The A. W. Archer Co., now here, has engaged the S. U. F. Hall for one week and will give a series of entertainments. As cash is rather "shy," they are not doing as well as they expected.

Farmers say that this spring will be a very backward one, there being now four feet of frost in the ground, consequently it will be very late ere the sowing season arrives and fences are required. A small crop is now predicted, the heavy frost having set in before the snow fell.

As the census is to be taken this year it will be interesting to know how much agriculture has advanced the past ten years. Last season's crop being a poor one, it is feared the result will not be at all encouraging, except in the matter of fodder and hay.

Almost every outport family could raise a "grunter," yet young pigs are not to be had at any price before mid-summer. Instead of seeds, the Agricultural Society should import "porkers" for distribution in all the villages (not later than April), so that one could raise their winter's supply of meat. Eggs, too, are always in demand, and a flock of fifty hens would supply many a want in the grocery line, to say nothing of the palatable dish of roast chicken, etc.

Potatoes are in fairly good demand and are readily selling at $2.20 per barrel in town, the grocery stores here taking them at $2 per barrel in trade.

It is rumored that a petition will be largely signed the coming summer asking the Government to prohibit the running of motor cars and cycles on the Topsail Road three days in the week, the remaining four days of the week to use the roads in the eastern districts. This is a step in the right direction, as a lot of traffic is carried over the Topsail Road and many people are debarred from using the road for 6 months of the year owing to their houses being afraid of both cars and bikes. This would curtail the pleasures of the owners of cars, and at the same time would give the poor man a chance to use "his own" road.

Dr. Chisholm is a busy man these days attending to the many cases of lagrippe along the shore, and all are doing well under the skillful hand of the genial doctor.

Rev. Mr. Caldwell, we are pleased to say, is now much better, being out to-day for the first time in two weeks. Master Frank and Miss Caldwell are now fully recovered.

Many of our young men are now at work on the Iron Isle, and communication to and from the island should be better established. CORRESPONDENT. April 6th, 1911.

Playing Billiards With One Hand.

Champion Collins, of England, Tells the Story of His Career—Celebrated Match Recalled.

The reason why I first began to play billiards with one hand only is easy to explain, says Frank Collins, the one-hand billiard champion of England, in an English paper. Fourteen years ago I was in charge of a large billiard saloon in London, and as I was such a good exponent of the spot-stroke, then allowed in the game, I had always to give my opponents either a very big start or to play them on 50 and 100 breaks. One day there came along a gentleman whose form I knew well, who said he had at last found a "handicap" he could take me on at—viz., that if I would play him 500 up on level terms, myself using only one hand, and no rests whatever, he would back himself to beat me for £10.

Well, I knew his capabilities, and so I asked for a week or two to think it over. During that time I practised hard at this strange one-hand play, and after a while I came to the conclusion that I had an excellent sporting chance at it against him. So we made the match, which duly came off, and I won the game by 200, making three breaks of over 50 each, much to his surprise.

At that match the room was crowded, and several people present who owned or rented billiard saloons made me good offers to play exhibition matches with one hand at their places. Just at first a trifle nervous about doing this, after due consideration I accepted, and so began my one-handed billiard career, which has proved so strikingly successful.

Of course I use no rest at all, in making my strokes, not even when I have to use the long "butt." Naturally there is a tremendous strain on the arm in holding this unwieldy article, let alone in making a stroke with it. But practice has enabled me even to overcome this difficulty, and to-day I can play with the "long-arm" practically as well as with my own ordinary cue.

The hardest stroke to make with one hand is the forcing stroke from the centre of the table; but as a rule I bring that off successfully three times out of every four. I can make any screw-shot equally as well with one hand as with two, and I can play the snooker shot very well also with one hand. Indeed, I believe that, though some other players are able to play with one hand fairly successfully, on the whole, I am the only one who can make the snooker shot successfully under those conditions.

Playing with one hand, I have exceeded 100 in a break at least six different times; I have also made a break of 99 off the red alone with bolzoline balls, and one of 90 similarly with ivory balls.

My highest break playing one hand only has been 137; my highest score with both hands has been 428. I have naturally had matches against most of the chief amateurs and best-known professionals, and usually I have come off the best, though occasionally this or that first-rate amateur has said at the beginning of the game that he was sure it was impossible for me to play with one hand as well as he could with two.

The best one-handed man I've ever met was a cneist named Reeves, against whom I played in a money match at Brixton. He played extremely well, though I won easily; but our styles were quite different, as Reeves played with the left hand where I used the right. I also played D. Kellard one hand, he being allowed to place a handkerchief on the side of the table when he wished to keep his cue steady and to use the rest in the middle of the table. Nevertheless, I beat him.

I must have been born with the billiard instinct, I suppose, as my father was George Collins, the famous cueist of the earlier John Roberts and Joseph Bennett period, whilst my sisters, Ella, Ethel and Eva, are, as most folks know, the finest lady players at billiards in England, all of them being now coaches at various celebrated ladies' clubs.

Portia in Good Trim.

The S. S. Portia which tumbled down from the Dock premises is now having her hull painted at Bowring Bros. pier. While at the Dock the ship had two plates taken out of the hull cemented and replaced, tanks cemented and generally looked after, propeller shaft drawn and inspected, engines overhauled and the ship was renovated throughout. A staff of painters re-decorated and painted the saloon and staterooms, gave similar attention to the steerage and officers' quarters, while repairs were also given to the decks. Lloyd's Surveyor went through the ship submitting her to a rigid examination and pronounced her to be first class in every respect. Superintendent Engineer M. McGettigan supervised the work on the ship which is highly creditable and gives entire satisfaction to the owners Messrs. Bowring Bros. The Prospero on arrival here will be given similar attention.

Accidents at Sports.

During the progress of the C. L. B. Sports last night Private White had his knee cut by falling in the relay race, and Privates E. Spry, F. Reid, and one or two others were injured. In each case first aid was rendered by Mr. Reeves.

While playing hockey for medals at the C. C. C. Armoury a couple of nights ago Private T. Gladney, of the St. Patrick's Co. was hit with a stick in the face and 4 teeth were driven out of the front of his mouth. The accident was a painful one and he bled profusely.

No Sealing News.

Bowring Bros. yesterday had a wire from Capt. Clarke of the Southern Cross in which he says that the Viking is not injured in any way though a report to that effect was abroad in the city Wednesday night. As far as can be learned also, the Kite has not totally lost her propeller, but knocked off one of the blades in forcing through the ice. Baine Johnstone's had no news of from the Southern Cross to-day. Mr. Hepburn believes that a high sea is running at Channel owing to the storm of last evening and night and that the ship will not leave there until this moderate. She will go direct to Harbor Grace.

The general belief is that the Labrador will pick up a good trip of seals if not a full load. When last seen by the Southern Cross on March 25th, the ship was in the seals.

Keep Chaps Away.

It is not always easy to do so, but we are continually hearing of wonderful virtues of a preparation called Snow Cream, which is a positive chap and spray preventative. It costs 25 cts. per bot., and may be had at W. T. COURTENAY'S, the Prescription Pharmacy, cor. Duckworth and Prescott Sts.—mar20,11.

MARSHALL BROTHERS.

Uncle Walt THE POET PHILOSOPHER.

When I was young I used to go down the long potato row, and whack the weeds out with a hoe. Or, early in the summer morn, with one old mule, morose, forlorn, I'd go to cultivate the corn. All through the summer day I toiled, my raiment reeking wet and soiled, and I was fried and baked and broiled. And when at night I sought my bed my feet were like two tons of lead, and till next morning I was dead. When to the country I repair, and see the wondrous changes there, I always go up in the air. For now the farmer feels like Cleopatra as he reels along on plows with painted wheels. He drives a large and handsome team; his implements are like a dream; spring seats are spiked to every beam. He blithely tills his fertile lands, and never soils his lily hands, nor in the mud and gumbo stands. His pants are creased and show no dirt; his feet are by the thorns unhurt; he often wears a parboiled shirt. And when he goes to town he flukes the journey in a brace of snakes; his auto runs to beat the snakes. He has a gas plant of his own, a bathroom and a telephone, and often he has seeds to loan. Thus are the old world changes rung! It seems to me that I was stung long, long ago, when I was young!

Shipbuilders Meet.

The adjourned meeting of the shipwrights of the city took place yesterday at the office of the Marine and Fisheries Department. The matter of building vessels for the banking voyage and as carriers of our produce was discussed, but no definite decision was arrived at. The suggestions of the shipwrights will be fully considered and will be embodied in a report to the Government.

Lost His Money.

Last night as Mr. Martin Collins was proceeding home on Upper Battery Road he lost $3, the whole of his week's wages which, being a poor man, he could ill afford. He and his family remained up all night and searched for the money. It was all in 50 cent pieces and a few of these were found. Any person picking up the remainder would do a kindly act by returning it to Mr. Collins' family.

The Picnic Party

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,—When the People's Party by misrepresentation fooled the people into electing them as their representatives on the floor of the Legislature, they little dreamed that they would muzzle "The Read Place-man's Act" so as to enable them to hold office in defiance of the will of the people. The three representatives who are the beneficiaries of this Act even had the audacity of voting for the bill which created offices they fill. "Government by the people and for the people!" What a farce. Three men elected to represent their constituents accept office and pay under the Government, and by that act become the servants of the said Government. I doubt very much if any people living under responsible government would tolerate it outside of Newfoundland. I am inclined to believe what the leader of the late Tory party, now known as the People's Party, said, "That Newfoundlanders are too green to burn."

God's poor are certainly living in the land of milk and honey, while God's broken-down old men and women must be content with the crumbs that fall from the table of the Commissioners of Agriculture. The man who discovered the agricultural talent in the three commissioners deserves a place in the Hall of Fame alongside of the man who discovered the "brains" of the late Bond Government. The brains of the late Bond Government has been fully demonstrated on the Opposition side of the House during the present session in showing up the mistakes of the present "bull in a china shop government." Why they don't possess a sufficient amount of brains to "run a bull's eye shop." History repeats itself. Oh, how some men would slink into their holes if a Royal Commission were appointed to inquire into the lumber deals. Some of them would envy John Gieson in his office of taking care of the mummy in the Museum or the man who looks after John.

Six Sealers Drowned.

Special Evening Telegram. CHARLOTTETOWN, To-Day. Word was received at Souris yesterday of an accident at Magdalen's. Six men went out in a boat to a pan of ice to secure seals, but the boat was upset and all were drowned.

Football Season Costs Yale College $2,400 a Man.

A comparison of the cost of athletics at Yale and Harvard shows that Yale spends about one-third more every year than Harvard on each of its big athletic teams. It cost the Cambridge university $127,945 to run athletics last year, or about $425 a day for the ten months through which the college season lasts. The football expenditures were approximately $31,000, an average of about $1,000 a man to the squad of 31 players. Track athletics cost $5,000; baseball, $11,000, and rowing, $15,500.

At Yale the appropriation for football was $40,000. It meant that for every man who got into a "championship" game, as the contests with Harvard and Princeton are called, $2,500 was expended. On baseball Yale put out a total of $13,500. Rowing is practically a flat financial loss, since no admission can be charged and more than $20,000 is appropriated every year for it at New Haven.

John Redmond Remonstrates.

Special Evening Telegram. LONDON, To-Day.

Mr. John Redmond is in correspondence with Pres. Taft concerning his proposition to secure by legislation protection in the States for the Irish National Trade Mark. In his letter Mr. Redmond calls attention to the increase of the exports from Ireland to the States and says that an attempt has recently been made by an American citizen to procure the registration of a mark identical in design with the Irish mark. In view of the injurious effect such an attempt, if successful, would have on the export of Irish goods, because American law has no provision by which the National trade mark of Ireland can be registered as in the United Kingdom, he asks for some legislative protection. In replying, President Taft writes to say that he thinks such a provision would be fair and equitable.

Carnegie and Arbitration Treaty.

Special to Evening Telegram. NEW YORK, To-Day.

Mr. Andrew Carnegie has declined to become the Chairman of the proposed United Association of all the organizations now working for the Arbitration Treaty between the States and Britain. He believes it is not the time to accelerate action by public opinion, and that the wiser course is to allow the Senate to deliberate on the form of treaty, unhampered and unprompted. Mr. Carnegie thinks the treaty will pass, as he has the assurance of many prominent democrats, who intend to co-operate with the administration to attain that end.

German Liner Ashore.

Special to Evening Telegram. NEW YORK, To-Day.

The s.s. Princess Irene of the North German Lloyd Line is ashore off the coast of Long Island, fifty miles from New York harbor. After grounding during the fog yesterday morning, she lay helpless throughout the day. She summoned tugs, but efforts to pull her off failed. Because of the rough sea, no attempt was made to transfer the passengers. Last night a ground swell was battering the full height of the vessel's superstructure. There are seventeen hundred passengers on board.

Special Evening Telegram. SPRINGFIELD MINES, To-Day.

The officers of the United Mine Workers for the Nova Scotia District have been summoned to a meeting on April 15th. The coal operators of the province have been invited to be present to discuss the schedules of wages and other matters. It is said here that if the conference does not materialize and nothing is done on the part of the operators, efforts will be made to have a general strike called of the coal mines all over the Province on May 15th.

Paragraphs of Interest From Britain and the Continent.

In England Next.
Owing to Graham White's win in 1910, the next Gordon-Bennett aero-plane race is to be held in England
over a ninety-four mile course.

Flying Half-Mile.
A Miss Stewart has covered a flying half mile on Brooklands, England, motor track at a speed of over eighty-nine miles an hour on a 120 h.-p. car.

A Youthful Boxer.
Sambo Stewart has covered the five-year-old boxer of England, and who turns the scale at 20 pounds, is willing to box
any boy in the kingdom his own age and weight.

Footballers' Weights.
The smallest goalkeeper in the first league belongs to Middlesbrough,
while Sunderland has the distinction of possessing the heaviest set of players in the same league.

Tall Players.
There are less than thirty footballers in the first league who are over six feet in height. The majority of them are goal keepers, half a dozen or so of them are backs, and only one forward.

A New Industry.
An enterprising photographer in Edgeware Road has purchased an aero-plane which formerly belonged to the Hon. Alan Boyle, and he is reaping a rich harvest by taking pictures of budding fliers in the machine.

Fast Motor Sleigh.
A motor-sleigh that can travel over the snow at a speed of over forty miles an hour has just been built for the Grand Duke Cyril of Russia. The sleigh is propelled by a large, many bladed air propeller which forces the vehicle along.

A Great Fencer.
One of the greatest fencing-masters of the age, Kirchoffer, has lost both of his legs through gangrene, and all the world's great fencers will appear at his benefit in Paris this month.
Kirchoffer never refused to give a display for charity except once, when asked to go to Berlin by the Kaiser.

Aeroplane O. K.
The Paulhan aeroplane, which has been built in France for the British Government, has fulfilled all conditions. It had to make a two hours flight with a passenger and a load of 440 pounds, and fly in a wind of eight-teen miles an hour.

England's Honor.
It looks as though England, in the person of Owen Moran, of Birmingham, will have the honor of winning the light-weight boxing championship of the world. The present holder, Ad Wolstag, is dodging Moran in every conceivable way, and rather than tackle
the Birmingham boy he has accepted the challenge of a much inferior boxer—English Exchange.

Fog Stopped Game.
At a recent Cup-tie match played between Clapton Orient and Woolwich Arsenal on the former's ground, which was witnessed a sight never seen on a football field before. Ten minutes from the kick-off of the second half the game was stopped on account of the fog, making it impossible to follow the game. Three parts of the spectators lit their newspapers and programmes and formed torchlights, which caused much amusement; but after a while the referee thought it advisable to stop the game.

How to Grow Hair.
It has been proved that Henna leaves contain the ingredients that will positively grow hair. That they contain this long-looked-for article is proven every day.

This preparation is called SALVIA and is being sold with a guarantee to cure Dandruff and to grow hair in abundance. Being daintily perfumed, SALVIA makes a most pleasant hair dressing. McMurdo & Co., your druggist, is the first to import this preparation into St. John's and a large generous bottle, can be procured for 50c.

EMBROIDERIES!

A cable to our Agent in Switzerland to send us a big

that he was sending absolutely the best lot of Embroid-

BY CHAMPION GOTCH.

Says He Felt as if Every Bone, Ten-

Been Drawn as Tight as a Harp-

—Toe Hold is Most Deadly Hold in Wrestling.

Dr. Roller, Henry Ordeman, Mort
Henderson and half a dozen other wrestlers have come out in favor of placing the toe hold in the same class as the strangle hold and barring its use in wrestling matches. The toe hold is the deadliest invented in recent years. Frank Gotch first saw its possibilities and used it on his opponents, with the result that he won his matches in short order. Having seen it used on more than a score of occasions, I am inclined to side with those who want it barred. It is a cruel vicious lock, one that requires no especial cleverness to secure, and once secured cannot be broken, provided the user has even ordinarstrength, which all the big wrestler have. If a man hasn't sense enough to give up (and many have the mistaken idea that "gameness" requires a man to take a chance on broken bones rather than quit), no one can tell what may happen. Suddenly, and ferociously applied, it means the breaking of a bone in the foot or ankle, and perhaps the leg. Slowly applied it means indescribable torture.

Yankee Rogers once had the toe hold applied by Frank Gotch, who knows better than anyone else how to put the terrible lock on a victim.
He afterwards said to me:
"When Gotch gets this clutch on you something's got to give. In my case he wasn't vicious and refrained from snapping it on quick. He simply sat on me and slowly but firmly worked my leg up backward, at the same time twisting my foot with his powerful grip. The sensation was as if every nerve, muscle and tendon in your entire body had been drawn as tight as a harpstring, and every time Gotch added a little pressure it was as if some one was twanging on the tightest strings with a hammer. I was terrible, absolutely terrible, and if the upper man had any person-enmity for his opponent and chose to go to the limit in grueling him
it would mean that he might be cri-pled for life. I stood the pain until my eyes bulged out of their sockets.
Then, realizing the hopelessness of resistance, I tried to turn over on my back and allow the fall. But I couldneven do that. I was powerless in every muscle and could only gasp luckily the referee saw me trying to say something and asked me if I conceded the fall. I could still nod my head and gave up the match, as any man in the world under similar circumstances must have done. Take it from me, I want no further acquaintance with the toe hold."

If that isn't as brutal as the
"strangle" I miss my guess.—Buffalo Courier.

Indigestion & Dyspepsia
In all its Forms can be Cured.

It is quite a daily occurrence to hear persons say: Oh, what a feeling of distress I have after meals, fullness of the stomach, heaviness and headache, I feel too tired to do anything I have no heart to exert myself and at times I care for nothing. I often have a pain in the pit of my stomach, no appetite, my heart beats rapidly on the slightest exertion. I feel just as tired when rising in the morning as when retiring to bed. My sleep is often disturbed, and I often awake with a sense of suffocation and a difficulty of again going to sleep. I have to be careful of what I eat, and my life seems a veritable burden.

Now, it seems a shame and a pity for persons to be suffering like that when it is in their power to get cured
by taking a Bottle of Dr. Stafford's Prescription A. A sure cure for persons afflicted with stomach troubles
it can be obtained at

Banker Huron Sailing.
The banker Huron, Capt. W. Martin, of New Perlican, sails to-day for Quero Bank to make her first trial for codfish. Capt. Martin will go to Long Harbor, P. B., where herring are reported plentiful and where she will take a bait supply. It was the intention to have the vessel docked, but there being no room at the Dry Dock a diver was sent down to examine the bottom, found it all right, and she will not receive a cleaning up until the voyage is over.

Priest to the Rescue in Gale of Wind.
The Rev. John O'Shea, curate of Ardmore, with a number of helpers,
put off in a boat on Saturday morning in the face of a gale to rescue
the crew of the Montrose schooner Teaser, which was wrecked off the Waterford coast.

The party got alongside the wreck,
and found two men, who were, however, so exhausted that they died before reaching shore. Father O'Shea administered the last sacrament.—Daily Mail, March 28.

C. L. B. Annual Winter Sports.

A large gathering of the friends of the C. L. B. attended the C. L. B. Armoury last night to witness the annual indoor sports. This is the 8th

Special Evening Telegram.
LONDON, April 6.
Replying to a question by the House of Commons, Sir Edward Grey said that Chancellor Holweg's speech in the Reichstag on disarmament expressly accepted the idea of an exchange of information between Britain and Germany on the subject of Naval construction, declaring such change to be not alone practicable
but desirable, in so far as the exchange of information tended to allay suspicion, and would have an effect on the expenditure of the two countries for armament.

$20,000,000 Baby.
The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. McLean, famous throughout the country as "the $20,000,000 baby," that being the amount the child will one day inherit, figures prominently in the newspapers again to-day as the result of a report that the anxious parents have decided to take out an insurance policy against any ransom any eventual kidnappers may demand.

Mr. McLean is the son of a millionaire traction magnate and newspaper proprietor of Washington. He married Miss Evelyn Walsh, heiress of the late Mr. Thomas F. Walsh, a fabulously wealthy gold prospector. Since their baby was six months old Mr.
and Mrs. McLean have displayed great anxiety lest he should be kidnapped.

Last summer a burglar attempted to break into their summer residence, and the parents were so alarmed that they had a special ironclad perambulator constructed in the form of a steel cage. In this, guarded by detectives, the $20,000,000 baby has ever since been taken for his airings.

A premium of 20s. per cent. has,
says The Times, been quoted by the underwriters at Lloyd's to cover the payment of a total loss should "the infant of wealthy American parents
resident in an American city" be kidnapped, and 10s. per cent. to pay any ransom demanded up to £2,000. The child is warranted to take the air in the "ironclad" perambulator, and to be guarded by three private detectives.

bell lectured before the Star of the
