MANY old friends in Western Ontario will regret to hear of the death of Mr. John S. Dewar, for over forty years a member of the staff of the London Free Press. Mr. Dewar was particularly well known in Masonic circles, having filled many high offices in the craft. His long connection with the Free Press is an evidence that his faithful services were appreciated by those who knew him best.
THE new woman comes in for a goodly share of comment these days, the charming widow in Mr. A. Q. This excellent attraction presented by a well selected coterie of fun makers, will be at Music Hall, Watford, Thursday evening, Sept. 20th.

At the Methodist Conference in session at Montreal, the committee on itinerancy decided by a two-thirds majority not to interfere with the present pastoral term, and it is expected that this will be ratified by the general conference, so many prominent leaders being opposed to any interference with the arrangements which have come to be recognized as an integral part of the policy of the Methodist Church.

A STREET preacher in a West of Scotland town complained to a passing policeman about being annoyed by a part of the audience, and asked him to remove the obnoxious ones. "Weel, ye see," replied the cautious officer, "it would be a hard job for me to spot them; but I'll tell ye what I'd do if I were you." "What would you do?" eagerly inquired the preacher. "Just ga' round w' the hat!"
THE mistaken identity of a captivating widow furnishes the theme for a consistent and well planned plot in the reigning farcial success "The Real Widow Brown." It's funny, very funny, and an immense winner. THE following item from Napperton reads a little different from the usual mix up, when a horse meets an auto: "The other day an auto belonging to a Petrolia gentleman became frightened at a horse a short distance east of the church. After throwing the occupants on it ran for a few rods and landed in the ditch, where it remained for several days until the necessary repairs could be procured. Fortunately the occupants escaped unhurt."

THE advertising merchant is the one to blame for the very nature of the push and enterprise. There are more newspaper readers today than ever before in the history of the world. The newspaper places your business under the eyes of the buyer. He sees what he reads, and knowing where to find it, looks up the address and the merchant who asked him to come and see him. Success in these days of sharp competition calls for eternal vigilance. You can't keep a hustler down.
IN groceries we buy the best that money can buy, so when you buy groceries from us you can rely on getting the best.—GOODHAND & MILLER.
THE government have approved of an extension of time for the issuance of the Canadian general service medal granted for the Fenian raids of 1866 and 1870 and the Red River expedition of 1870 until the first July, 1907. The medal was authorized by the Parliament of Canada in 1898 but the time allotted for its issuance expired on the 1st of January, 1904. Since then a number of applications, including some from Great Britain, have been received, several applicants claiming that they did not know of the issuance of the medal until recently. Hence the extension of time.
ORDER your clothing now.—SWIFT BROS.
LAST month there were placed upon the shelves at the Public Library 79 new volumes, many of them the latest publications in history, biography, fiction, etc., also some old favorites were replaced, where the original had been worn through much handling. The books too were moved forward so that the title can be easily seen making the choosing of the volumes more satisfactory. If you are not already a member join at once and secure good reading for the long winter evenings. There is no institution in our town more deserving of support than our Public Library.
GRAND display of fall millinery on fair days, Sept. 27th and 28th.—A. BROWN & CO.
THE long-continued drought in this section is beginning to assume a serious aspect. In many parts of Lambton rain has not fallen for over two months, and the pastures are in a parched condition. In the south and southwestern townships the farmers are compelled to feed cut fodder to their cattle to keep them in any sort of condition. Many cattlemen with steers on hand, which should under ordinary conditions be fit to ship find that with the flies and dried-up pastures their cattle are going back. A large number of the farmers have not as yet sown their fall wheat, waiting for the rain to put the ground in proper shape.
WHEAT is down and flour is down. We sell the "Royal Household Flour" Arkona's Pride of the West" for $1.80, all Manitoba $2.10; oats, barley and chop on a small margin above cost, give us a call.—R. HASKETT.

WHILE driving to town from Warwick Village Friday morning Joseph Smith met with a serious mishap. Just as he turned off the Main Road, on 12 sideroad, the reins caught under the horse's tail and he lost control. The horse swerved off to the fence throwing Mr. Smith out. Mrs. McDonald, of Warwick Village, an old lady over 90 years of age, and Mrs. Smith, who were in the rig, were also thrown out. Mrs. McDonald was badly cut about the face and hands, and owing to her advanced age may result seriously. Mrs. Smith escaped with a sprained foot and Mr. Smith was not hurt. The old lady was brought to town and her injuries attended by Dr. Anld.
OUR exhibit in the south end of Palace Canada's leading pianos, organs and sewing machines, will again be the finest in the county.—L. D. CALDWELL.
THE long continuance of dry weather in this locality is beginning to seriously affect the prospects of the farmers for the next year. There has been practically no rain for a month. Very little fall wheat has been sown, and what has been sown has not made any progress, for lack of moisture. Farmers say that if rain does not come within a week, it will not be of any use to sow fall wheat, as it will be too late. The ground is so dry that heavy clay land cannot be plowed, and even on light land it is impossible to get the soil into condition for seeding. Pastures are burned bare and the dairying interests are suffering very seriously. A very large acreage of fall wheat would have been put in this season if the conditions had been as usual, as the crop has done very well in this locality for several seasons past.
WE are opening up the fall trade with a complete line of heavy and light shoes of the best Canadian and American makes and bought here the recent advance in shoes and our customers will get the benefit of our early buying.—GOODHAND & MILLER.

THE FAIR.
THURSDAY AND FRIDAY OF NEXT WEEK THE DAYS.
Every Thing Indicates a Successful Show.
The East Lambton County Fair which opens on Thursday next promises to be one of the best in the history of the society. Special efforts have been put forth to make it a success, and good weather and the co-operation of all interested is all that is required to make it a red letter event.
The erection of a new grand stand, judge's stand and other improvements at the Park adds greatly to its appearance and convenience. Heretofore many of the citizens of the town have complained that they did not have an opportunity to see the fair, and to overcome this objection the directors have made a new departure.
The contract has been let to run the electric light line to the Park, and the hall will be illuminated and open for visitors on Thursday night. This will be known as citizens' night, and will afford townspeople a chance to view the exhibits without the usual crush. In addition a first class concert program will be put on opposite the grand stand. John A. Kelly, the famous entertainer, the Caughlin family, assisted by best local talent, and Watford's popular band, will furnish a splendid program. The Society hope for a generous patronage as heavy expense has been incurred in making the necessary arrangements.
NOTES.
The entries are coming in rapidly. Don't delay, send in your lists.
See program on another page. Additional attractions are being arranged for.
Applications for booths and other privileges should be made to J. F. Elliot.
Report judges have been engaged for the stock, poultry, and many of the other departments.
In hog classes boar, over 6 and under 12 months, and sow ditto was omitted from prize list. Prizes will be awarded in these sections.
The green trot is likely to bring out a good field of promising young steppers that are being prepared for the event.
Stock exhibitors are specially reminded to have their stock on the grounds in time. Judging of hogs and sheep commences at 11, cattle and horses at 12 sharp. Have your exhibit in readiness as the judges will not wait.

EVAPORATOR BURNT.
Just at noon Tuesday the fire alarm was given, the scene of the fire being the apple evaporator, south of the bridge, owned by R. J. Graham, of Brockville. The fire originated in the drying kiln, and in a very short space of time the building and contents were consumed. The contents included a thousand bushels of apples. Lovell's blacksmith shop adjoining had a close call, the roof being damaged. Fortunately there was no wind blowing at the time, or the result would have been serious. The fire will be a loss to the town as well as to the firm, as 25 hands were employed and over $200 a week paid out for wages and apples. Mr. Graham's loss will be over $2,000. It is not known whether the building was insured or not. It is hoped that arrangements will be made to re-open the evaporator in another building as early as possible.

STERLING BANK SPECIAL.
The Sterling Bank offers five dollars to be awarded as follows: Best H. D. team, $2.00; Best milch cow any breed, $2.00; Best 5 lb. crock of butter, $1.00.
SPECIAL MEETING.
A special joint meeting of the Board of Trade and town council was held in the Fire Hall on Wednesday evening to consider what action should be taken to replace the evaporator recently destroyed by fire. There was a large and representative attendance present, and the sentiment was unanimous in favor of assisting an industry that was beneficial to the town. Manager Eccles, of the evaporator, was present and stated that he had been instructed to go to Kingsville and take charge of the evaporator there. Mr. Graham, the proprietor, did not purpose re-building this season, but had suggested that if the town felt disposed to provide him with a building suitable for a peeling station, a dry kiln could be erected and the business continued. Mr. Eccles stated that the pay roll here was about $200 per month, and it they had better facilities the factory could employ 40 hands for three months in the year. The goods were in demand and they could not supply half the orders they received. A building 40x35 would answer for temporary quarters. After some discussion, and estimates of probable cost were made, it was moved by D. G. Parker, seconded by P. J. Dadds, that the Board of Trade assume $100 of the cost of providing a building and the Council the remaining $50. A special committee, consisting of H. A. Cook, J. S. Williams, J. Fowler, P. J. Dadds and D. G. Parker, were appointed to make necessary arrangements with authority to act. The committee will submit their proposition to Mr. Graham to-day, (Thursday) and the matter will be disposed of. All are anxious to see the factory resume as early as possible.

Apple Crop Prospects.
Advices from all parts of the province would seem to indicate that, taken on the whole, the apple crop is not likely to be above an average one. In local districts, notably around the city, in York County, the yield is likely to fall far below that of last year. Northern Spies in many sections are a failure, while other districts report good yields.
Much even yet depends upon weather conditions and a succession of high winds, such as sometimes occur, would much reduce the amount available for export trade. It is said in some quarters that failure on the part of the Canadian shipper to establish and maintain a uniformly high grade on the British market has reacted to the detriment of the Canadian apple. The English buyer is extremely sensitive regarding any attempt at deception, and possesses an extremely good memory. With the unsavory relations connected with the American meat trade, it is sincerely to be hoped that the Canadian fruit trade, will be kept free from suspicion of wrong.—Toronto World.

Farmers' Profits Will Be Smaller.

It is estimated that the farmers of the United States will receive $200,000,000 less for their cereal crops this year than last, owing to the heavy depreciation in the prices between the two periods. The Canadian farmer will suffer, though not quite proportionately owing to the corn forming the principal item in the output of the American farmer. The reduction in the price of wheat will make a considerable difference to the western farmer. On the basis of current prices, a loss of 10,000,000 on wheat alone is shown. The Manitoba farmer this year will get but little over 50 cents a bushel for his wheat at his elevator. Allowing a crop of twenty bushels to the acre, his revenue per acre will leave but a small surplus over cost. Large crops and low prices are not to the interest of the farmer and this appears to be the substance of the story this season. The Ontario farmer has the advantage of a better market, but the land cost and cultivation are heavy items in comparison with the western proposition. A year ago No. 1 Northern was quoted at 95c. a bushel, to-day the price is below 80c. The estimate of the world's wheat crop by the Hungarian minister of agriculture is 3,527,000,000 bushels. This is 344,000,000 bushels larger than the crop of last year. The September condition of the American spring wheat crop issued on Monday is 3.9 per cent. lower than last September and will necessitate a corresponding reduction in the estimated yield. The corn crop, of which apprehension was felt earlier in the season, is nearly one per cent. better in condition than a year ago, and two weeks, it is said, will place the crop beyond the danger of frost.

Pull up the Blinds.

There are houses in this town where very little sunshine is permitted to enter. The houses are surrounded with trees and shrubs and the shutters and blinds are always "down." Every means possible is used to keep out the sunlight and incidentally the fresh air. Yet sunlight and fresh air are absolutely necessary to good health. The various speakers at the series of meetings held at Toronto in connection with the Tuberculosis Exhibition under the direction of the National Sanatorium Association, have all dwelt on the importance of sunlight and fresh air. Dr. Bruce Smith in the course of his lecture is reported to have endorsed the popular aphorism of the day that

For Coughs and Colds

There is a remedy over sixty years old—Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Of course you have heard of it, probably have used it. Once in the family, it stays; the one household remedy for coughs and hard colds on the chest. Ask your doctor about it.

"consumption, whilst communicable, is preventable and curable." This end was to be accomplished by living much in the open, fortifying the system by the eating of nutritious wholesome food and in the avoidance of all forms of dissipation that lead to the lowering of the vitality of the body. Drunkenness was an open door to consumption. In many epigrammatic forms Dr. Smith appealed to the home makers of city and country to let in a little more sunshine into their homes. Pull up the blinds, keep open the windows. It was a sin and shame to tile the doors and bar and lock the windows as was done in so many houses of both city and country.

A Woman's Kidneys.

What Doctors Notice and What They Don't.

Disease in the kidneys is one of the last ailments for which a doctor looks when treating women. This is a great mistake. Women are very prone to kidney trouble and in fact many physicians attribute a woman's languor and ill health to a derangement of the genital organs, when it's simply plain kidney disease, and nothing else. Many so supposed female complaints are either kidney or bladder diseases. Sick kidneys of course make associate organs sick also. The result is back pains, bearing down sensations, uterine weakness and headache. But Dr. Hamilton's Pills go right to the spot. They put life into the kidney that makes a worn out woman feel like new. Indirectly the blood and nervous centres are assisted by Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and the result is a proper performance of the function and a painless fulfilment of nature's command. Thus it is that a woman can gain much happiness and abundant good health by the regular use of Dr. Hamilton's Pills. From her home near Portland, Ont., Mrs. A. B. Coburn writes: "For two years past I have been sickly and weak. My color was dull and sallow, and I felt exhausted and weary, as if all my strength were being eaten up with some hidden trouble. I heard of Dr. Hamilton's Pills and decided to use them. The change in a few days was surprising. They regulated my kidneys and bowels and cured all my suffering; to-day I am perfectly well." You can rely on Dr. Hamilton's Pills with implicit confidence; their effect is wonderful. Sold by all dealers. Price 25c per box, five boxes for $1.00, or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont., and Hartford, Conn., U. S. A.

Beautify the School.

The beautiful should exist in the school life of a child. The school buildings and grounds should portray the artistic and beautiful. Those things which adorn the tasteful home should embellish the school property—the lawn, terraces, walks, trees and flowers. Within should be neatness and refinement. A neglected school house is a terrific demoralizer. Place a child at a mutilated desk, put in his hands torn and soiled books and we find an almost irresistible temptation to continue the destruction with knife and pencil. Put the same child in a neat, clean room with suitable and beautiful surroundings and we immediately remove the temptation for destruction.

With Dr. Hamilton's Pills your stomach gets a chance to recuperate, and does so quickly. For real buoyant health use Dr. Hamilton's Pills regularly. 25c per box at all dealers.

Life Full Of Troubles.

The latest version of life by an unknown writer:—Man that is born of his parents is of few days and full of microbes. He goeth to school when a youngster and gets the seat of his pants paddled for something he didn't do, until he is sick at heart. He groweth up like a weed in the back yard, and soon reaches the age when he is composed largely of feet, freckles and an appetite for pie. About the time he gets too long for short trousers and not long enough for long ones, he goeth away to college, learneth how to monkey with a three dollar mandolin and smoke cigarettes. He cometh home a bigger fool than ever and marrieth a sweet young thing whose pa is supposed to be wealthy, but whom he subsequently ascertaineth couldn't buy the prize rooster at a county fair. He worrieth along from year to year, gradually acquiring offspring, until his house resembles a Sunday School class just before Christmas. He fretteth through the day and lieth awake nights trying to figure out how to keep himself and his dependent population out of the poor house. Efforts are rewarded by having his daughters run away and get married and bring home a nice son-in-law every few days to feast at his board. His sons grow up and call him governor and set him back a five-spot every day or two. About the time he has acquired enough lucre to make it worth while for his heirs to quarrel over, he contracts a cold and is hurried away before he has time to have a talk with his family. His sons blow in his estate on bad whiskey and plug hats, and his wife puts on the finishing touches to his career by marrying the hired man.

Ontario Liquor Act.

As there appears to be a lack of knowledge of the severe penalties imposed by the Ontario Liquor Act, where liquor is furnished to persons who are on the "prohibited list." I consider it my duty to call public attention to several clauses of the said Act. Sub-section 5 of clause 33 provides that a license holder who permits liquor to be served to such persons on his premises is liable to a fine not exceeding $50, and is also liable for damages from $20 to $500 for any personal wrong that may be done as the result of such illegal furnishing of liquor. Sub-section 6 provides that any license holder who permits any such person to loiter in or about his bar-room shall be liable to a fine of from $10 to $20. Sub-section 7 provides that such prohibited person is also liable to a fine of from $10 to $20 for loitering in or around any place where liquor is sold. Sub-section 8 reads as follows:—After service of this notice if any other person with a knowledge of such notice sells, purchases for or on behalf of the said person with regard to whom the said notice has been served, or for his or her use any liquor, such other person shall upon conviction incur for every such offence a penalty of not less than $25 and not exceeding $50. BE THERE A WILL WISDOM POINTS THE WAY.—The sick man pines for relief, but he dislikes sending for the doctor, which means bottles of drugs never consumed. He has not the resolution to load his stomach with compounds which smell villainously and taste worse. But if he have the will to deal himself with his ailment, wisdom will direct his attention to Parmelee's Vegetable Pills, which, as a specific for indigestion and disorders of the digestive organs, have no equal.

Little Things Worth Knowing.

Brooms will last longer if dipped occasionally into boiling soda. Tough meat may be made tender by sprinkling with vinegar. Lamb chops are delicious if dipped in lemon juice before broiling. Hold a hot flatiron a few moments above a white spot on furniture. It will soon disappear. Discolorations on china baking dishes and custard cups can be removed with whiting. Kerosene oil and a soft cloth will keep mahogany furniture in fine condition. Soak lamp wicks in vinegar, then dry them thoroughly to keep the lamp from smoking. Glass can be cut with a pair of ordinary shears if the glass and shears and hands are kept under cold water. Alcohol will take out candle grease.

Must Sell Their Land. London, Sept. 12.—The Times Wellington correspondent says that the government land proposals, the most drastic in the history of the colonial legislation, are creating intense interest in New Zealand, especially the clauses compelling owners to sell within a decade the excess of land held beyond $250,000 unimproved value, and the provisions preventing the present owners of 1000 acres of first-class land, or those of 5000 acres of second-class land, adding to their estates either by freeholds or leaseholds. The correspondent adds that the proposals will be stoutly combated.

If a Cow gave Butter mankind would have to invent milk. Milk is Nature's emulsion—butter put in shape for digestion. Cod liver oil is extremely nourishing, but it has to be emulsified before we can digest it.

Scott's Emulsion combines the best oil with the valuable hypophosphites so that it is easy to digest and does far more good than the oil alone could. That makes Scott's Emulsion the most strengthening, nourishing food—medicine in the world.

Cutting Weeds On The Streets.

In the "Legal Department" of the Mail and Empire of last Saturday, the following questions, which had been sent from Forest, and the accompanying answers appeared:—Qu.—Has a Town Council power to pass a by-law compelling ratepayers to cut the weeds on the streets opposite their lots, and to appoint an inspector to notify the ratepayers when such weeds be cut? (1) If the ratepayers have been notified, and neglect to cut the weeds on the inspector or have them cut and charge the cost to ratepayers? (2) If the street at the back of my lot has never been open for public travel, and it has been used as a dumping ground for rubbish by order of the Town Council. Can I be compelled to cut the weeds on this street? Ans.—Section 547 of the Consolidated Municipal Act of 1903 says: "Municipalities may pass by laws for the purpose of preventing the growth of Canada thistles and other weeds detrimental to husbandry, and for compelling the destruction thereof." (1) If the by-law provides that the ratepayers should be notified to destroy the weeds, and if they neglect to do so within a certain limited time after notice, the inspector shall then cut down the weeds and the expense or cost thereof shall be charged to the ratepayers. I think the by-law would be legal and within the power of the Council and that the ratepayers can be compelled to pay the charge. (2) As the street in the rear of your premises was never opened and is not a public street you are not obliged to destroy the weeds growing upon it, and cannot be compelled to do so. A by-law must be "reasonable"; if it imposes an unreasonable obligation upon any rate payer, he has a legal right to refuse to obey, and can apply to the court for an injunction to retain the corporation for enforcing it against him.

It Imparts Strength. Just think of the enormous strengthening strength Ferrozene possesses,—consider what it did for H. V. Potter, well known in Kingston. I was subject to spells of dizziness. For eight months I had intense pain in my right side between the shoulders. I was almost incurable with weakness and lack of vigor. Often I scarcely ate any breakfast and felt miserable all day. Nervous, easily excited, troubled with heart weakness, I was in bad shape. Ferrozene restored and nourished me back to health in short order." Whatever your weakness may be Ferrozene will cure. LITTLE BELL BIOGRAPHIES. Schumann. ROBERT SCHUMANN, born at Zwickau, 1810, died near Bonn, 1856, was celebrated as a composer and as a critic of music. He might have become a pianist of the highest order had he not crippled the third finger of his right hand in an attempt to make it stronger and more facile by some mechanical device. This accident proves that there is no short cut to this end; it is reached only by persistent finger exercises in the hard old modern way at the keyboard. If Schumann could not become a great pianist, he did become a great composer. Although he wrote an opera, choral and orchestral works, he will, like Schubert, retain a high place in the musical world by his songs, pianoforte pieces and other short compositions. His style is very striking and original. And all his songs and pianoforte pieces are of the highest excellence and beauty. There is not even among Schubert's vast collection any more perfect song than Schumann's "Ich Grolle Nicht" (I Do Not Complain). And for a pianoforte piece, strictly such, there is not in the realm of music anything so ravishing and haunting as his sensuous "Traumerel" (Dreaming). Schumann's pianoforte works have this virtue also—they are indispensable to the teacher and the student. To the young player Schumann had said—"Make Bach your Daily Bread," to which we add, and

HARRIS & CO. PROPRIETORS

WATFORD, SEPT. 21, 1906.

Success.

The young man in business to-day is not to win. Quite different from the youth of years gone by, the young man recognizes that merit wins in the race for business supremacy. On every side are bright Canadians reading books of instruction, digging with inquisitive impetuosity into everyone's experience, and unthreading the labyrinth of difficulty. These boys have grasped the needs of the hour and it demands upon them. They know that very little comes to him who plays the lazy frog. The one who hustles is the winner. But the hustler must hustle intelligently. He must know how to approach people, how to become interesting to another, and how to hold attention. He must understand character, estimate the force of circumstances and judge as near the bull's eye of accuracy as possible. And if our young merchants, bankers, engineers and salesmen need instructions of a correspondence school or the first hand accuracy of experts, the young farmer must not despise schools, news papers, government reports, chemical knowledge of the soils and economical devices. He, above all, must sit at the feet of wisdom. He must be a learner of the minutest detail and a scorner of nothing pertaining to progressive farming. No youth need remain an incompetent or a weakling in this age of advantages.—Toronto World.

On Friday, Sept. 21st, His Lordship, the Bishop of Huron, will hold confirmation services in St. John's church, Kettle Point Indian reserve, at 3 p.m., and in St. Paul's church, Theford, at 7.30 p.m.

A meeting of the ratepayers to nominate a candidate to fill the vacancy in Adelaide township council caused by the death of the late lamented Samuel Harris, has been called for Thursday, Sept. 20, at one o'clock.

Elisha Milliken, a familiar character of Sarnia in years past, was found dead Monday in his home near the tunnel depot. The body has the appearance of having been dead a few days. He was unmarried and lived alone.

Miss Maria McAlpine, an elderly lady, and a retired school teacher, who lives alone at the south side of the town of Strathroy, suffered a paralytic stroke recently, and lay helpless for two days before being found by the neighbors.

On Friday last Isaac Groff, shipped from Forest to England eight car loads of fat cattle, 140 head, the average weight of which was 1,426 pounds. Mr. Groff states that it was the largest shipment of cattle made from Forest this season.

While on her way home last Saturday night, Mrs. Humphrey Tracy, of Petrola, was knocked down by a ruffian, at the corner of the Blind Line and Tank St. and her purse rifled of its money. Although she is of the opinion that she knows her assailant, the police are working on the case, however, and hope to secure the guilty party.

ARKONA

The dust is something fierce. The farmers are all anxious to see rain. Everything quiet in local option circles this week.

Miss Abell, of Toronto, is visiting at J. Jackson's.

Watford fair next Thursday and Friday. Everybody invited.

Miss Bernice Foster, of Detroit, visited at her home here this week.

Quite a large number from the village attended Strathroy fair on Tuesday.

Mr. Murtie is moving this week into the rooms in the rear of his drug store.

Harvey McKenzie, of the Sovereign Bank staff, spent Tuesday in Strathroy.

The Miss Faulds, of Ingersoll, are visiting their uncle, Mr. W. Faulds, here this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Murray Jaynes, of Midland, are spending a few weeks visiting at J. C. Jaynes'.

Organizer Dennison, of Wingham, is working here this week in the interests of the C. O. F.

WANTED.—An apprentice to learn the millinery business. Apply at once to Miss H. M. Irwin.

Mr. C. J. Ready, of Ridgeway, and Miss Cameron, of Strathroy, visited friends in town last week.

Mr. Jas. Shillington, of Montpelier, Vermont, is visiting his sister, Mrs. J. G. Brown's, in town this week.

LOST.—Between Strathroy and Arkona on Tuesday night several hats. Finder will kindly return as they will fit again by this time.

Frank Nichols and Lawrence McIntosh were passengers on the ill fated train that collided near Sudbury last week. Fortunately they escaped without injury.

Mrs. S. W. Smith and daughter Fern, who have been spending the last two months with friends and relatives in St. Paul, Minn., returned home on Tuesday evening.

Rev. Elliott, of Goderich, preached a very able and eloquent sermon in the Presbyterian church on Sunday afternoon, which was greatly appreciated by all who heard it.

Mr. John Martin and son Earl, who have taken up farms at Sullivan Lake, near Settler, are highly pleased with that section of the west and are loud in their praises of the great west.

Mr. Matt Smith, who has spent the last year in Qu'Appelle, arrived home on Thursday last. He was but a few hours ahead of the train that collided with the excursion train near Sudbury.

Mr. Fred Casselman, who has been teaching for the last two years just south of the village, leaves next week to take a university course at Kingston. Miss Campbell has been engaged to take his school here.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Maria White, of Saginaw, Mich., took place here on Sunday morning from the residence of her brother, N. C. Eastman. The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. Barber, of Wyoming. A very large number followed the remains to the Arkona cemetery, showing the high esteem in which she was held by all who knew her. The funeral sermon was preached in the Baptist church immediately after interment. She was a devout Christian woman, having been a member of the Baptist church for over forty years. Among relatives who attended the funeral were her son, Mr. A. White, of Duluth, and her daughter, Mrs. Charlott, of Cheboygan, the only children that survive her. Deceased left here some four years ago to reside in Saginaw, and had gone to Cheboygan for the benefit of her health which started to fail her at the death of her son, Justice White, who was drowned in Lake Superior four years ago, while boating, and whose body was never found.

Arkona defeated Parkhill here on Friday last in a one sided game of ball. The score being Arkona 19, Parkhill 5. Neither teams played very good ball. This is the thirteenth and last game of the season. Of the 13 games played Arkona has won eleven, lost one, and one tie, thus making it one of the most successful years that Arkona's team has ever had. The people of Arkona have reason to be proud of their base ball team, not only on account of their success, but principally because the sport has been of a clean and manly character. In the thirteen games played Arkona scored 179 runs as against 68 for their opponents. In batting Babe Smith carried off the honors with 44, while Alex Towle with 34 and W. Bell with 314 were the next welders of the willow. In run getting Babe Smith is also first with F. Casselman and Stan Smith close after him. Alex. Towle leads in 1 base hits, W. Bell in 2 base hits and Babe Smith in home runs. Stan Smith easily leads in pitching honors having rapidly developed into a first class twirler. Lanckin and Utter also did very good work in the box. Harold Smith did good work in every game and leads the outfielders in percentage. It is to be hoped that the team will continue next year it's admirable record and receive the same generous patronage that it has been accorded this year. It is also gratifying to note that the umpire, Mr. G. George, who had a hand in most every game came through without a scratch or his nerves shattered in the least.

SUTORVILLE

Great interest is being taken in the opening services at the handsome new Church of England, Christ Church, which will be dedicated on Sunday next by His Lordship, the Bishop of Huron. Opening service at 10.30 a.m., confirmation at 3 p.m. On the Sunday following the Rev. Canon Downie will be the special preacher.

Mr. A. J. Davis, Sutorville, is in receipt of a letter from Rev. Canon Downie, Port Stanley, inclosing his cheque for a handsome contribution to the building fund of Christ Church, Sutorville. Mr. Downie was always a warm friend of the people of Sutorville, and it is owing to his earnest active efforts that the building of the beautiful little church, to be opened next Sabbath by his Lordship the Bishop of Huron, was made possible. The people feel grateful to Mr. Downie for his continued interest in their welfare as evidenced in such practical manner. Mr. Downie will preach in the new church afternoon and evening on Sept. 30th.

BROOKE

The Harvest Thanksgiving Service at St. James church on Sunday last was largely attended, and the thank-offering was a very large one. The church was towards Northwest and Foreign missions handsomely decorated with the season's fruits, grains and flowers, and presented a very pretty appearance. On account of the dedication at Sutorville there will be no service in St. James on Sunday next.

The friends of Walnut Methodist church met at the home of Mr. F. Deacon on Monday evening, to bid Mrs. Bennett good-bye before leaving for her new home. The following address and presentation made:—

Walnut, Sept. 17th 1906.

Dear Sister,—We have met together to spend an hour with you before leaving for your new home.

We feel very keenly your removal from our midst but trust that your happiness may follow you and your husband wherever you lot may be cast in life. The members of Walnut church will not forget your faithfulness, and the efficient way in which you performed your duty as organist, and leader of the choir, and also your Christian influence will long remain in the minds of those associated with you. As a token of our appreciation and love, we ask you to accept this purse, not for its value, but for our desire to show our good will towards you, and as the ties of earth are broken, we trust that we shall all meet in our Father's house above.

Signed on behalf of Walnut Methodist Church.

Mr. John Smith made a fitting reply for Mrs. Bennett, after which supper was served, and the rest of the evening spent in music and games.

The auction sale of farm stock etc. at Oliver Clark's Main road, on Monday was a great success. There was a large crowd present, and the sale realized $2,200. J. F. Elliot conducted the sale, and disposed of the whole outfit in a little over three hours.

Mrs. J. G. Ormrod and sister, Mrs. A. L. Beedham, of Port Huron, spent last week with their sisters in Watford, London, Forest and Arkona, before Mrs. Ormrod moves to the Northwest to join her husband there. All friends join in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Ormrod every prosperity in their new home.

The three month's old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Clappole, of Kingscourt, died on Monday. The funeral took place to the Methodist cemetery, Warwick Village, on Wednesday afternoon.

Ida, the two year old daughter of Mr. John E. Aitken, died at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. McIlveen, Wednesday evening after a few hours illness. Funeral on Friday at 3 p.m. to Watford cemetery.

George Carpenter, 6th line, recently received a letter from his sister, Mrs. Hood, of Guelph, whom he had not heard from for over twenty-seven years. The last time they met was at their mother's funeral in Petrolia, and since that time they lost track of each other. Mr. Carpenter intends visiting his sister in Guelph this fall.

Mr. Henry Wadgh, of Warwick, was a passenger on the Imperial Limited which wrecked a harvester's special at Sudbury last week, told a Toronto News reporter that he was just returning on the east bound train from visiting his sons at Winnipeg, and at North Dakota. Speaking of the wreck, he said: "Yes, I was in it, and I never want to be in another. I'm not hurt much. My ear was bleeding a little and I was shook up, but it was such a terrible thing I was all broken up. I had just got up and was in the wash-room beginning to wash when the thump came. I was knocked over against the side of the car and a lamp chimney fell on my head. I couldn't think what was the matter, but we soon found out, and I shall never forget that sight as long as I live. The dead were taken out and among them a little girl. The wounded were quickly taken care of and removed to Sudbury. Several cars were smashed to pieces and the poor fellows were pinched beneath the wreckage. I went back to my car before the work was all done, but we didn't get away till about 5 or 6 o'clock in the afternoon. I saw one poor fellow over near the fence with a board attached to his leg for a splint. His limb evidently was broken."

WANSTEAD RECALLED

By the Conditions That Prevailed at Azilda Station.

Toronto, Sept. 15.—Conditions at Azilda, it seems, were somewhat alike to the circumstances surrounding the Grand Trunk wreck at Wanstead three years ago, which cost 28 lives. There is no night stationmaster or operator at Azilda, although several important trains were crossed at this point during hours of darkness. Neither is there telephone connections with this place from Sudbury. Even a semaphore signal had there been one, might have given the westbound train the minute it required to take the siding, but there is not a semaphore system either.

Motor Cycle Frightens Horses.

Strathroy, Sept. 17.—While driving to Delaware yesterday in company with her husband, Mrs. J. W. Parker met with a painful accident which will lay her up for some days.

When about two miles south of Mt. Brydges they met a cycle motor coming towards Mt. Brydges. The horse became frightened and unmanageable, turned around and threw the occupants out, breaking Mrs. Parker's eye glasses, which cut her face.

Dr. Morris, who was on the motor cycle, lost no time in attending to Mrs. Parker's injuries, and telephoned to Strathroy for another rig.

The horses, which belonged to J. T. Buttery, were badly cut.

14 Inches of Snow.

Telluride, Colo., Sept. 16.—Snow to the depth of fourteen inches fell on the mountains in West Colorado yesterday. Below an elevation of 10,000 feet, the snow melted as it fell.

This is the first snow storm of the season in this vicinity, and it has come about a month earlier than usual.

A Sombra Boy Killed.

Harry Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Smith, of Sombra village, was instantly killed at 2 a. m. on Sunday morning by falling into the hold of the steamer Alfred Mitchell, Escanaba. On receipt of the telegram announcing the sad news, Raymond Smith, a brother, left to bring the body home. The greatest sympathy is felt for the bereaved family, and grave fears are entertained for the mother, who is prostrated with grief and who has not been strong for some time.

APRIL SHOWERS

By FRANK H. SWEET

Copyright, 1906, by P. C. Eastment

There was a swift turn with scarcely any slackening of speed, the two outer wheels an inch above the ground, as they swung the corner, then the automobile settled down to a long, straight run.

"Do you think we can make it, Mr. Townsend?" the girl asked anxiously. "Make it"—lightly—"of course we can. It isn't over ten or twelve miles, and we can go at a snail's pace and do that in thirty minutes, and those clouds yonder are not halfway up the sky yet."

The girl's face showed relief. "I suppose it's foolish," she said, "but I do hate to get caught in a rain. And—and you know—er, rather, probably you don't know—it's a sort of life and death affair for a girl with a brand new hat and costume to get mixed up in a shower. Every true woman can sympathize with the girl who saved her hat at the expense of a month under a doctor's care."

"OH, YOU DEAR DOT!"

"We'll save yours without the expense of so much as a hatpin," he responded.

But he reckoned without thought of the month.

Ten minutes, and the clouds had not rolled up appreciably higher. Then suddenly a rain drop splashed against the girl's face, followed by a dash of water that dripped an ostrich feather toward her eyes. The girl's hands flew to her hatpins, but before they could be withdrawn the rain was coming down in torrents, and the hands fell to her side with a tragic motion of helplessness. Both shot a quick glance behind. There were no dark clouds rolling up and above them. On all sides save where the clouds were creeping up in front the sky was blue, but overhead a slight patch of mist had obscured the sky, but not so thickly as entirely to shut out the blue. The man scowled understandingly.

"It's April," he said, "and a crack opened in the sky just wide enough for a cloud to pop out. Human foresight isn't proof against that. And your dress, too. I'm sorry, Miss Ellis."

"Yes, so am I," quizzingly, her good humor quickly returning. "The costume was only sent home this morning, and I counted on it helping me out at the house party next week. What shall we do?"

"Scorch for shelter. I have already doubled speed. There," as a white spot showed under some trees in the distance, "that's a house, I think. No," as they rushed nearer, "it's a small hotel. We'll stop there."

Another two minutes and they had swung from the road and across the lawn, up to the very door, without regard to path or grass, and Mr. Townsend threw himself from the car and lifted her almost bodily to the shelter of the little piazza. Then he started back toward the car.

"I'll run up to the city and get you a change of clothing," he called hurriedly. "I can go to your home and be back in half an hour. Meanwhile go in somewhere away from the air."

But she threw up a hand protestingly. "What nonsense?" she cried. "The shower'll be over in five minutes. See, it's already breaking away; and just as soon as the sun is out it will be warm again. I would rather go on with you." She glanced down at her wet garments ruefully. "It wouldn't be any satisfaction staying here," she added. "You may see if you can borrow me some kind of wrap, though."

He hesitated, then stepped with her into the hotel. Leaving her in the parlor, he went to the office. As he entered a young lady appeared at a side door. After a moment their eyes met, then both sprang forward.

"Edith!" he cried delightedly. "When did you arrive?"

"Last night. We didn't stop over at Washington, as planned. One of our party knew about this quiet little hotel, and we came straight here for a few days' rest. It's funny to meet you so soon, though, but it saves me sending a message into the city after you. My friend leaves tomorrow, and we're planning a little home party tonight as a sort of farewell. No, never mind your clothes," as she saw him glance down at them significantly. "We can find a change for you in the hotel. You can't leave us now we've got you. Oh, you dear boy," bending forward suddenly and kissing him, regardless of the two or three men in the room, "I am glad to see you! Now stay here just a minute while I run up and get Jennie. She wants to meet you."

"Hold on; wait a minute!" called Mr. Townsend, suddenly recollecting himself. But the young lady was gone. He returned to the parlor, the wrap forgotten. His companion was not there.

"The lady you came in with has just left," said an attendant. "She asked about a train for the city, and I told her one was at the depot just ready to start. The depot's right behind the hotel. There," as the puffing of an engine came to them, "it's going now. She left this note."

Townsend snatched the note and read:

Mr. Townsend—I was standing by the door and saw the girl kiss you. For an instant I was surprised. Then I remembered I had known you only a month. Thank you for the auto ride. Sincerely,
RUTH ELLIS.

Townsend smothered an exclamation and sprang down the steps to his automobile, not even stopping to pick up his hat. Three minutes later the young lady re-entered the office.

"Where's the gentleman I was talking with a few minutes ago?" she asked of the clerk.

"Gone off in his auto," the clerk replied politely. "Seemed in a hurry." The young lady stared, then her eyes filled with tears, and she turned hurriedly and left the room.

Meanwhile Townsend was defying all consequences of speed in his mad rush to the city, forgetful that the train was being rapidly left behind. When he reached the residence of Miss Ellis it was stopping at a way station three miles away. He slipped into the vestibule, wet and miserable.

A half hour later her carriage drove up and stopped beside his automobile. He was at the carriage door when it opened. As she saw him Miss Ellis recoiled, her face darkening.

"You here," she began.

"It was my sister you saw," he broke in hurriedly and incoherently, "just my sister Edith; and"—

"I thought she was in Mexico," coldly.

"She was, but they got back earlier than expected. And now I suppose she is cross, too, from the way I left."

Miss Ellis waited inquiringly, but as he explained her face cleared like the sky after the shower. When he finished she was smiling.

"I think we can make it all right," Harry she said. She never had used that name before. "You run on to your hotel and put on dry clothing, and I will go in and do the same. Be back here in half an hour or so, and we'll go out to the hotel and spend the evening. Your sister will laugh with us when she hears the explanation. Hurry!"

Harry Townsend did hurry, and now his own face was as clear as the unclouded sky.

"Blessed old April shower!" he cried as he sprang into his automobile. "It helped me on with Miss Ellis more than a year of ordinary acquaintance could have done."

The Nutmeg.
The nutmeg is the kernel of the fruit of several species of trees growing wild in Asia, Africa and America. The cultivated nutmeg tree is from fifty to seventy feet high and produces fruit for sixty years. The fruit is of the size and appearance of a roundish pear, yellow in color. The fleshy part of the fruit is rather hard and resembles candied citron. Within is the nut, enveloped in a curious yellowish red aril known to us as mace. To prepare the seeds for use they are dried in a moderate heat for about two months. Then the shells are broken and the nutmegs picked out and assorted, the inferior ones being reserved for the oil press. As the essential oil of nutmeg brings a high price, dishonest growers often steep the nutmegs in hot water to extract the oil from them. They are then coated with lime and sent into the channels of commerce. Such nutmegs are worthless, their aroma and pungency having disappeared, these qualities being due exclusively to the oil. If on inserting a pin no oil rushes out to the surface, the nutmeg is, to all intents and purposes, a wooden nutmeg.

Help for Women Passing Through Change of Life.

Providence has allotted us each at least seventy years in which to fulfill our mission in life, and it is generally our own fault if we die prematurely.

Mrs. M.J. Dabruz

Nervous exhaustion invites disease. This statement is the positive truth.

When everything becomes a burden and you cannot walk a few blocks without excessive fatigue, and you break out into perspiration easily, and your face flushes, and you grow excited and shaky at the least provocation and you cannot bear to be crossed in anything, you are in danger; your nerves have given out; you need building up at once! To build up woman's nervous system and during the period of change of life we know of no better medicine than Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Here is an illustration.

Mrs. Mary J. Dabruz, of 150 Main Street, Winnipeg, Manitoba, writes: Dear Mrs. Pinkham—

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been a blessing to me through that delicate period known as the change of life. For six years it disturbed my entire system. I had hot flashes, was extremely nervous, became pale and debilitated, very irregular in the monthly flow, and the blood all seemed to be in my head. I had frequent palpitation and throbbing of the heart; in fact, my whole system seemed to be in disorder.

I received no relief from the suffering incident to this period until I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, but I date my relief from the time I took the first bottle. I gradually improved, nature took her course painlessly, and in due time I was a well woman."

Mrs. Pinkham, daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., invites all sick and ailing women to write her for advice. Her great experience is at their service, free of cost.

the lady decided on two hats from which to make her selection. One of them was $24, the other $16.

"Now, I want you to tell me honestly, George," she said, "which of these two you would advise me to get?"

Then she put one on after the other and permitted him to view her from in front, each side and from behind.

"Well, I'll tell you," he said at last. "The one you had on first looks to me as if it might be more stylish and all that, but the second one makes you look much younger than you do in the other."

He had wasted an hour, but he saved $8.—Chicago Record-Herald.

Short Lived Insects.
The wonderful brevity of insect life is curiously illustrated in the case of those that prey upon different species of mushrooms. The life of the mushroom itself is measured by hours, yet it is often entirely ruined by an insect which deposits its eggs upon the fungi while it is in the vigor of youth. The entire span of life of this mushroom fly is so brief that the grubs hatch from the eggs and the creature becomes fully developed and capable of laying eggs itself before the mushroom dies, even though the latter's life may not extend over a period of forty-eight hours from the moment it first pushes through the soil.

A NOBLE STOCK.
Pride, Dignity and Beauty of the Modern Spaniards.

You may see today in any church portal in Spain the stately figure of an expression immortalized in the portraits of Velasquez, the sinister cast of countenance of Philip II., the nose and proud bearing of a Roman centurion. In the Basque provinces the dignity and pride of the peasantry are reflected in the graceful carriage and symmetry of movement for which the men of that coast and the girls carrying pitchers on their heads are justly celebrated. There is no trace of awkwardness in a Spanish peasant, on whose features is stamped the pride of Rome, who will talk to you with the ease and volubility of a Spanish courtier. It is a noble stock.

Though today the glory of Spain has departed and the modern Spaniard favors a western "bowler" and the women wear Parisian hats, the national type of Spain persists with all its dignity and characteristics. Living types of Murillo's street urchins may be seen in any Spanish village—a group huddled together in some shady retreat, brown, chubby, curly headed, merry, little rascals, lurching off a watermelon picked up in the market, happy as princes in their tattered rags and with their meager morsel, or you may see the sunny side of Spain as Goya painted it—a dance in the open square, a bridal feast, a bullfighter's carousal, a brawl, an elopement. The apparel is less gaudy today, but the sun and the types and the spirit are the same.

That brawny plebeian with his wide brimmed sombrero, his swarthy countenance, aquiline nose and raven locks looks for all the world like a Roman gladiator. The lad at his side, with his finely chiseled features, might have waited on Poppaea. And that young girl in her white lace mantilla and the red roses in her warm black hair—such a one Goya would have delighted to portray as she stands there with her delicate head defiantly thrown back, her lustrous eyes aglow with mischief, the graceful line of figure and those pursed and pouting lips.—Nineteenth Century.

TONICS.

Two Edged Swords Capable of Mischief as Well as Benefit.

There is perhaps no class of remedial agents more abused than tonics. The abuse consists both in the excessive use and the misapplication of this class of agents, which within a restricted field possess an indisputable and important therapeutic value. The misuse of tonics is doubtless the outgrowth of a misconception of the real nature of this class of remedial agents and its limitations. Many physicians also seem to lose sight of the fact that tonics are, as has been said of drugs in general, two edged swords which are as capable of mischief as of benefit. Indeed, when the true nature of tonics—as is true, in fact, of most medicinal agents—is thoroughly understood, it is apparent that even in cases in which they accomplish the maximum of benefit there is also a certain amount of injury inflicted upon the organism, so that the effect obtained is really and simply the difference between the mischief done and the good accomplished. If the difference is on one side, the total result is benefit; if on the other side, the result is harm. This principle holds good with regard to most remedies, whether the means employed is a drug or a nonmedicinal agent.

The popular idea of a tonic is well expressed in the following definition, which we find in the National Medical Dictionary: "An agent which augments gradually and permanently the strength and vital activity of the body or its parts." A stimulant is defined by the same authority as being "an agent which increases the functional activity of any organ or series of organs." The distinction made seems to be that a stimulant produces temporary excitement, whereas a tonic produces a permanent increase of strength and vital activity.

The Word "Policy."

That "policy" which a man gets from an insurance company is no relative of that other word "policy" which the statesmen use. The latter is a lineal descendant, along with "polity" and "police," of the Greek "polis," a city. But the former is the late Latin "politium," "poleitium" or "poleitium," a register wherein dues were enrolled, which is believed to be really the Greek "polyptichum," a document folded into many leaves. If so, the development of the word may be paralleled by that of "diploma," the parent of "diplomatist," which meant simply a document folded double.

A Popular Welsh Drink.

All the Welsh counties swear by a drink called sowbeer. It is made from fourteen different field herbs, is harmless, except for its sleepy effects, and resembles treacle more than anything. The Welsh villagers always smoke a thin cigarette of dried sage when they drink sowbeer. The stuff is too complicated a mixture for the villagers to brew, but in all the larger towns there are dealers who make it.—London Telegraph.

Deceiving.

Minister—I'm sorry to find you coming out of a public house again, Hamish, after all you promised me. Hamish—Aye, sir, it's wonderfull what an awfu' deceivin' thing this mist is. D'ye ken, I went in there the noo thinkin' 'twas the butcher's shop.—London Tit-Bits.

Leaves seem light, useless, idle, wavering and changeable—they even dance. Yet God has made them part of the ark.

"Darling, yours shall be a sunny lot in life."

"Now, look here, George, are you talking of your behavior or of where we are going to build in the suburbs?"

One Vain Wish.

The Land of Old Age.

This is one of the bitterest things we mothers have to bear when we get old. We have learned then that we can't help our children to lead their lives one bit better. There is not one single stone we can carry from beneath their feet, be our old fingers ever so willing. With yearning hearts we see them making the mistakes we could teach them to avoid if only they would listen. We see them going through one experience after another, stumbling here, again hurting themselves against the same corner you hurt yourself so long ago, repeating all the world-worn mistakes, while we elders watch anxiously and may not even cry out. "Take care" Our sons repeat the follies of their fathers; our daughters make over again all the mistakes of their mothers. It is very hard to sit in silence when you see them doing all the things that you did and then so painfully learned better. We feel that we could so easily point to the fair open road if our children would let us, but we are as useless to them as guideposts to the blind. We must watch our children lose themselves in a tangle whose miseries we know so well, and see them at last, after long years of wandering, find their way back home heart sore and worn—and all the time we can't help thinking it all needn't have been. That, to us older mothers, is the heart rendering part of it.—Harper's Bazar.

Got $5 Reward For Giving Up $20,000

New York, Sept. 13.—According to the Sun to-day, William Fenlon, an employe of the New York, New Haven, and Hartford Railway at Furchester one day last week found a cigar box lying on the station platform. He took it into the baggage room and opened it. The box was packed with $100 bills.

An hour later a well-dressed woman rushed into the baggage room and asked him if he had seen a cigar box.

"What did it contain?" asked Fenlon.

The woman answered, "Twenty thousand dollars."

Fenlon put his hand under the counter, and, taking hold of the box full of money, handed it to the woman. Too nervous to give her name, or even thank him, the woman rushed out of the room and boarded a train for New York.

Fenlon returned an anonymous letter yesterday containing a $5 bill and thanking him for his honesty.

Population Increases.

Ottawa, Oct. 13.—The census taking of the past summer in the three prairie provinces shows Canada now possesses a population west of Lake Superior of something over a million souls.

The returns from Manitoba are not quite complete, but will show something over 260,000, as compared with 255,211 in 1901. Saskatchewan and Alberta both show more rapid gain. The former contains a population of about 260,000 and the latter 185,000. Five years ago the census of these districts gave a population of 163,531.

The True Test of Oysters.

"The best oyster experts that I know of," said the captain of an oyster boat, "judge an oyster by the smell instead of by the taste. There is something about the smell of any oyster that indicates its condition to me much plainly than does the taste. People buy them and eat them probably on account of their taste. So also do they buy tea, coffee and the various grades of whiskey and brandy for their taste, but all experts on those things pass upon them entirely by their smell. The professional tea taster or whisky taster, so called, never tastes them, but simply arrives at their taste by their peculiarities of flavor or, to speak plainly, smell. I can tell what price a load of oysters will be rated at when they arrive at the wharf here by opening up the hold of the boat and smelling. In eight cases out of ten I am right. It strikes oystermen as strange when they see persons going about from boat to boat, as they lie at the wharf, tasting oysters before they conclude to buy. Taste is all right, but if they don't smell right they will never taste right."

American Tourists and Their Ways.

English people, as a rule, try to enter a hotel drawing room or any other public place as quietly as possible and endeavor not to interfere with the other occupants of the room more than they can help. A party of French or Germans will never dream of stopping to consider whether their piercing voices are deafening their neighbors, while Americans have a particularly maddening habit of reading their correspondence aloud in public without the slightest regard to other people who are reading or conversing in the same room. It is no doubt part of the same lack of breeding which leads them to hold conversations at the top of their very penetrating voices not only in public picture galleries, but also in continental churches, without paying any attention to the fact that a solemn service may be going on within a few yards of them.—London Modern Society.

Too Much is Bad.

"Well," said Old Twilight to Sir Ann's eldest boy, "how'd you make out with yer ram lamb at the fair? Git anything?"
Wilfrid (his father was a grit) looked confused.
"I didn't show him—I never tuk him out on the wagon."
"Never tuk him out on the wagon? Snakes alive, boy, what'd you take him there for?"
"Well, when I see the other ram lambs in his class I reckoned he had no show, so tuk him home agin."
"Ah—huh?" mused Old Twilight, "that's the way with you. We think our ram lamb is the greatest ram lamb that ever happened; and if we never went away from home we'd never hev no idee what a real high bred ram lamb looked like. There's an old sayin' that a rhilin' stone gathers no moss. Well, moss ain't much use to a body, anyway, and 'periences is. Yes, sir, this here boy uv Sir Ann's has found out that there's milllyuns—yes, thousands uv ram lambs who wouldn't be found dead in a ten-acre field with his runt of a ram lamb. They wouldn't associate with him; they wouldn't be seen in his company; but Sir Ann's boy didn't know that till he tuk his imitation ram lamb to the fair. He found out that breeding and size don't fize so long as you don't 'fit' yer ram lamb to the show. How're you gon' to learn how? Why, go way from home an' associate with moss, which hev been 'fitted' to make their mark."
"If I had a boy uv my own, I'd kink him out when he was 'bout twenty an' make him rough it among strangers for a few years. When he ken home he would know a good ram lamb when he see him, and could start a nice flock uv sheep them." "Well, Wil, I'm glad ye tuk yer ram lamb to the fair. Ye didn't git a prize, but ye learned something that'll be a dang sight more usefuller to you than a red ticket an' a diploma."—The Khan

Official Story Puts Blame on the Brakes.

Montreal, Sept. 13.—Last night General Manager McNeill of the C. P. R., gave out the following report of the wreck at Sudbury:

As far as the messenger despatches we have of the accident go to show, it was caused by the failure of the brakes on the express to act. The harvesters' train was standing on the main line, waiting, while the brake-man ahead to turn the switch, so that it might be sidetracked to allow the passage of the east-bound express. Before he could get the switch in position the express arrived and plunged head on into the standing train, smashing the first colonist to fragments and killing or injuring over half of the people in it.

"The engineer of the east-bound express was not killed and he later claimed that the accident was caused through the failure of the brakes on his train. A hasty examination of the train proved the correctness of this assertion. A little back of the middle of the express a single wheel on the air brake tubes had been turned, which shut off the latter half of the train, where the heavy sleepers and diner were, from the front end. The result was that when the engineer applied the brakes from the front, half of the train was affected, and the weight of the latter half forced it on into the standing train."

"Had the brakes not been applied at all there would have been a much greater accident, as the harvesters' train was crowded with passengers."

Favor Smaller Farms.

Montreal Star.—Men who have bought land by the square mile and are trying to crop thousands of acres in grain farms may be compelled by the scarcity of labor to divide and sell. This will be no great hardship, for they can take a handsome profit. It will be no loss to the country, for the land will still be worked, and the laborer employed in harvest time will have all the weight of the latter half will grow up on the land. He will maintain and use schools, churches, and other institutions of civilization.

"I Kannot Tel a Lie."

London, Sept. 14.—Punch, in a fullpage cartoon, shows "Teddy" Roosevelt in cowboy costume, sleeves rolled up, standing, hatchet in hand, by a great tree which represents the English language. Father Time, examining the tree with a powerful nifty glass, observes a slight incision in the tree trunk. "Who has been trying to cut down this tree?" he asks. "Father," answers "Teddy," "I kannot tel a lie, I did it with my lit ax." To this Father Time replies: "Ah, well, boys will be boys."

G. T. R. Pays $4,500.

Sarnia, Sept. 13.—Mrs. Colman, widow of the late John Colman, Grand Trunk engineer, who lost his life in the St. Clair tunnel disaster two years ago, has settled her damage suit with the Grand Trunk Railway Company. The company paid Mrs. Colman $4,500 in full of all damages for the loss of her husband.

Marriage Complications.

William Higginson, of Meriden, Conn., aged 60, was married a few days ago to Mrs. Lucinda Beardsley, a widow. Higginson's two daughters were married recently to Mrs. Beardsley's grandsons. Friends trying to figure out the various relationships has given it up in despair. William Higginson married William Stone and shortly afterward Sadie Higginson was married to Harry Stone, William's brother. Mrs. Stone, mother of the two bridegrooms, is the daughter of Mrs. Beardsley.

A charge of selling liquor during prohibited hours was laid one day last week against Henry Bossesberry, of Grand Bend, by Inspector P. D. McCallum. The case was to have been tried on Friday, but the defendant called on Magistrate Thos. Parkinson, of Thedford, on Thursday, and pleaded guilty. He was fined $75 and $9 3/4 costs. Inspector McCallum is determined that the License Act must be complied with in his inspectorate.

Mr. CHARLES McMULLEN, of St. Thomas, has a cow which has certainly proven a good investment. Five years ago she gave birth to twin calves which he sold at one year old for $40. Two years ago two more arrived, sold one year and nine months for $80, and on Sunday, Sept. 2nd, two more, which will no doubt bring a handsome price.

At the last annual meeting of the Ontario Municipal Association the constitution was amended to include townships from which there should be a large attendance this year. The formation of a section for the consideration of purely township and county questions might be considered. Many of the questions discussed at the last meeting of the Association have been included in legislation adopted at last session. Others were laid over and will be again submitted for approval.

It is not easy to learn to keep a household account book all at once. A young husband gave his wife a neat little account book prettily designed to be inviting in appearance. He also gave her fifty dollars, and said: "I want you to put down what I give you on this side, and on the other write down the way it goes, and in two weeks I will give you another supply." Two weeks later he asked for the book. "Oh, I have kept that account," said the young man; "here it is." And on one page was inscribed: "Received from Fred, fifty dollars," and on the opposite was this summary, "Spent it all."

"I do wish it would rain some," sighed Aunt Lucy. "We won't get rain till the Watford Fair starts. That there fair is booked pretty deep in the rainy season. I do sincerely hope that they will keep up that air fair, else we won't get no rain in the autumn months 't all." "Stonishin' what luck some faira hev. Some of um hit on mud an' wind every time, and the only thing you bring home with you is the memory of a miserable day and large quantities of real estate. Soon's you see the hills out for the Watford Fair, Lucy, you kin set out yer rain bar's." "Till then we'll haul water from the creek."

Many have tried to devise a corn cure equal to Putnam's but after fifty years nothing has come upon the market that so painlessly cures corns and warts. Don't experiment, use the best, and that's Putnam's.

News for Sportsmen.

St. Thomas, Sept. 11.—A letter has been received from the provincial game warden directing the attention of the local sportsmen to the fact that the department will allow an open season for quail this year during the month of November also the denial and be satisfied with three or four brace per day, instead of destroying whole bevis as in the past. Mr. Tinsley trusts that the lovers of sport will be guided by the admonition contained in his letter.

Is there anything more annoying than having your corns popped upon? Is there anything more delightful than getting rid of it? Holloway's Corn Cure will do it. Try it and be convinced.

Honey is Scarce.

"There is a great scarcity of honey, throughout Ontario," said William Mo- Evey, of Woodburn, provincial inspector. "The crop is a complete failure in nearly every part. The scarcity is due to the extreme cool and wet weather, which prevailed during June and July." Prices have gone so high that many people have refused to buy honey. The luscious honey is selling as high as 25 cents per pound. Last season the same quality could be bought for 12 cents. Mr. McEvay anticipates that prices will go still higher.

Divorced and Remarried.

Yesterday afternoon a happy event took place at the rectory of St. George's Church, when Rev. Canon Davis performed the ceremony that joined together John Masterson, aged 36, of Mount Clemens, Mich., and Mrs. Helen Masterson, aged 32, of Port Huron. A peculiar feature of the marriage was the fact that this is the second time that Mr. and Mrs. Masterson have been married to each other. They were divorced eight years ago and have lived apart during that time. Canon Davis evidently got busy again and the result was the wedding of yesterday. The bride and groom appeared as happy as two turtle doves and left for their home at Mount Clemens after receiving the congratulations of Rev. Canon Davis on the happy termination of their estrangement.

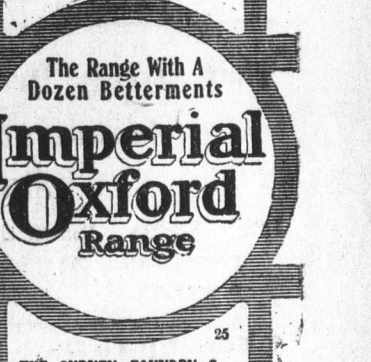

The Oven That Ends Guesswork

Before you put the roast in an Imperial Oxford oven, let the draft bring the heat to the right point. You'll know when it gets there if you'll look at the oven thermometer. After the roast goes in, you can know (not guess) it will be cooked right in a certain definite time. There's no up-and-downs to the oven-heat in a range built as this one is,—the diffusive oven-flue takes all the guess work out of cooking, all the drudgery out of oven-use.

That Rack That Ends Bother

When the roast needs basting, pull forth the Imperial Oxford draw-out oven rack,—roast and all—slide it right out where you can get at it. Needs't reach in and scorch your fingers nor near your wrists, baste it in comfort. That one thing alone,—the draw-out rack,—ought to make you like this range above all ranges. And that's only one of the twelve better things about this range. Come and look.

British Apple Crops.

In connection with prospects for home-grown British apples, H. G. & K. Ford, London, say:—"In nearly every district there is a plentiful supply of all the earlier sorts of apples, but in some places the later or winter kinds there is only half a crop. There is every probability of a good winter's trade here for all good brands of American and Canadian apples."

BABY NEARLY DEAD.

Mrs. John Cuddy, Killaloe, Station, Ont., says:—"My baby was so nearly dead that I had to place my ear close to his breast to know that he was breathing. He was in this condition when I first gave him Baby's Own Tablets and I hardly dared hope that they would save him. But they helped him almost at once, and soon made him a well child. He is now two years old and weighs forty-five pounds and has never known a sick day since I gave him the Tablets." Baby's Own Tablets cure constipation, indigestion, diarrhoea, teething troubles, break up colds, expel worms and give little ones natural healthy sleep. And the mother has the guarantee that this medicine contains no opiate or poisonous soothing stuff. Sold by all medicine dealers or sent by mail at 25c a box by writing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

HASSELWOOD—PROCTOR.

A pleasant event occurred at the home of Mrs. Lydia Hasselwood, Port Franks, on Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 12, when her daughter, Annie Bell, was united in marriage to Mr. Elson Proctor by the Rev. H. Currie, of Theford. The bride and groom, who were unattended, entered the parlor to the strains of the wedding march, played by Miss Emily Telford, Ottawa, cousin of the bride, with mandolin accompaniment by Miss Beatrice Browne, Detroit, and took their places under an arch of evergreens. The bride looked charming in a gown of white organdie trimmed with valenciennes, and carried a bouquet of white asters. The groom's gift to the bride was a gold bracelet. The bride's going away gown was a travelling suit of pearl gray broadcloth. After a dainty repast the happy couple left amid showers of rice for Theford, taking the 6.10 train for their future home in Sarnia township.

RUTHERFORD—RICHARDSON.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Richardson, Kerwood, was the scene of a quiet but very pretty wedding last Wednesday when their youngest daughter Dora May, was given in marriage to Rev. Forbes J. Rutherford, B. A., of Sandon, B. C. Rev. Wm. Conway B. A. officiated. The bride who was given away by her father, was attended by her sister Annie, while the groom was supported by Wm. Walden, B. A., of Toronto University. Promptly at 4 o'clock the bride leaning on the arm of her father entered the drawing room and took her place in front of a bank of ferns, and beneath a canopy formed of clematis, myrtle and white asters. The bride looked sweet in an exquisite gown of white silk cologne over taffeta, and carried white carnations. Mrs. Rev. Conway played Mendelssohn's wedding march preceding the ceremony and during congratulations, the bridal chorus. The gifts were many and costly among them being a beautiful piano from the bride's father, and some choice pieces of cut glass and silver from the bride's friends at Stayner, where she has been teaching for the past two years. The color scheme in the dining-room was also green and white the table being beautifully decorated with smilax, asters and carnations. A sumptuous wedding breakfast was partaken of by the immediate relatives of the bride and groom, after which Mr. and Mrs. Rutherford left for a short visit with his relatives before leaving for their future home in the west.

Souvenir of Edison's Experiments

Alderman Cowan showed a party of friends through the reconstructed Gratiot Park M. E. church Thursday evening. He pointed out a little table in the lobby of the audience room as being a rare souvenir, which has been in use for several years. The table is one used by Thos. A. Edison in his experiments and work of other days at old Fort Gratiot. Its top has a number of holes where the great inventor fastened down his instruments. The men associated with "Tom" still tell with glee of some of the experiments and tricks which were performed about the little table and speak with pride of their acquaintance with the now famous originator of the work and sport. The table will be kept with satisfaction for many days to come by the men in the church who knew Edison.—Port Huron Times.

The Delineator for October.

The strongest feature of the October Delineator, aside from the fashions, which are splendidly shown, is the opening of the Countess von Arnheim's new serial story, "Franklin Schmidt and Mr. Anstruther." It is now publicly announced that the Countess von Arnheim is the author of "Elizabeth and her German Garden." The serial stories, "The Diary of a baby," by Barry Pain, and "The Chauffeur and the Chaperon," by the Williamsons, merrily continue. J. J. Bell contributes another "Wec Macgregor," episode, and other contributors of short stories are Ralph Henry Barbour, George Middleton, Florence E. Wilkison, and Bonnie A. Nedwill. John Vance Cheney is represented by a poem, "Hallowe'en." The kitchen department, under the direction of M. Jean Marie Devaux, presents the second course of "A Perfect Dinner," some "Recipes for Cooking Game," more "Favorite Recipes of famous People," and seasonal advice about peppers, melons and grapes; the continuation of "A Culinary Dictionary," and the beginning of a series—"Around the World in Eighty Dishes." Seasonable suggestions for entertainments may be found in "The Practical Side of Amateur Theatricals," by Sarah Comstock, "A Paper Party," and "Hallowe'en Merrymaking for Girls and Boys." Subjects of vital importance are treated in the papers, "Coloring a Life," by Lida A. Churchill, "The Art of Pleasing," by Edger Sauts, "More Courtship After Marriage," and "A Royal Road to Perfect Memory," by William George Jordan. The departments, "The Money-makers" and "The Wisdom of Many" contain many original, as well as sensible ideas.

County Judge's Criminal Court.

Howard Vincent, the man who hired a rig from a Petrolia livery a few weeks ago and failing to return it in the time agreed upon was arrested in Sarnia on a charge of theft, was before County Judge MacWatt for trial on Saturday. The accused is a young Englishman who now says his present name is Houser. His doings on the day he hired the horse were decidedly suspicious and led to the impression that he is a smooth swindler. The judge reserved his decision on the charge of theft. Mr. R. I. Towers defended the accused.

Fatally Burned.

Port Huron, Mich., Sept. 14.—Lebrand, the two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Minnie Ebner, of this city, was burned to-day while playing around a gasoline stove, so seriously that she will die. It is thought that the child was reaching for an apple which was near the stove and in that way caught her dress afire. Her grandmother, Mrs. William Ford, who was standing in the door at the time, looked around on hearing the child's screams and made a heroic effort to extinguish the flames, which she did, but too late to save the little life. She was also painfully burned.

IS GOING SOME

HAS SPEED LIMIT OF DAN PATCH BEEN REACHED YET?

Has Gradually Lowered the Two Minute Mark.

When the peerless Dan Patch broke his own world's record last week and paced a mile in the fast time of 1:55 the public still wondered what the limit would be to this great horse's ability. He has gradually lowered the two minute mark until it is now placed where it will remain some time unless he lowers it himself which is not beyond the impossible. The public will have an opportunity to see as good a performance in the way of closely contested races, considering the difference in marks, as that of Dan Patch at the Port Huron races September 25, 26 and 28, 1906 and it will be well for every one to be on hand at that time as it is the last chance of the season to see the state's best performers race.

A party of four from Goldstream left there Tuesday for Philadelphia to attend a big meeting of the Friend's Society.

ENGLAND.
London, Sept. 17.—Canadian cattle in the British markets are quoted at 10½c to 11½c per lb.; refrigerator beef, 8½c per lb.

TORONTO.
Toronto, Sept. 18.—Conditions remain much the same at the western cattle market. The run was quite light this morning, and everything was cleaned up at fair prices, considering the very poor quality of much of the stuff.

Total receipts were 70 cars, consisting of 1,066 cattle, 2,183 sheep and lambs, 600 hogs and 143 calves.

Ewes were higher, bucks steady, lambs firmer, calves and hogs unchanged.

Export cattle—Still no business in this line; a few odd loads of unfinished stuff went for export at about 4c per pound; no fat or choice cattle were offered, suitable for shipping; as the demand is slack prices may still be quoted below par, as follows:
Export, choice, $4.75 to $4.90; do., medium, $4.25 to $4.50; do., bulls, $3.75 to $4; do., cows, $3.50 to $4.

Butcher cattle—Trade was very slow for medium and inferior cattle, and prices tended lower; good cattle are steady at former prices, although there were none worth more than $4.50 offered to-day.

Butcher cattle, choice, $4.40 to $4.65; do., medium, $4.40 to $4.50; do., common, $3.25 to $3.75; do., bulls, $2.75 to $3.50; do., coppers, $1.75 to $2.

Stockers and feeders—Dull business. Quotations remain steady; stockers, choice $3 to $3.25; do., common, $2.50 to $2.75; do., bulls, $2 to $2.25; heavy feeders, $4 to $4.10; short-keepers, $4.15 to $4.25.

Milch cows steady, with more active inquiry at $40 to $50 for choice, $25 and $35 for common, and $25 to $40 for springers.

Sheep and lambs—Export ewes steady and higher at $4.25 to $4.50; bucks unchanged at $3 to $3.50; lambs firmer at $5.25 to $5.85.

TORONTO HOG MARKET.
Toronto, Sept. 18.—Hogs, dressed, $9 to $9.50; live, unchanged, at $6.15 to $6.40.
