LOSS AT CAMPBELLTON OVER FIVE MILLION

Relief for the Sufferers is Needed on a Most Generous Scale.—Judgement Should be Used in Making Donations of Clothing or Other Goods.

There is danger that the outside public will get a wrong impression about the extent of the need at Campbellton, says the St. John Times. Some of the earlier despatches said that four thousand people were homeless, and the loss from $1,500,000 to $2,000,000, and that was not the whole of it. Obviously the loss would be enormously greater than the insurance, and nothing was saved. One gentleman who lived in the town asserts that there must have been nearly seven thousand people, for the place was growing rapidly, and that the loss is from $5,000,000 to $6,000,000. Even if we discount his estimate a good deal it is still evident that the earlier statements of population and loss were very far below the mark. This makes it the more necessary to provide relief on the most generous scale.

A correspondent of the St. John Globe writes:—I observe by your paper that there is a call for assistance for the people of Campbellton and that this assistance will go either in goods or in money. May I venture to express the hope that what ever is sent in the way of clothing will be as far as possible new or at least unused articles. Whatever committee has charge of the collection of clothing should rigidly decline to accept all articles that are not in the best possible condition, and worthy of acceptance. A few years ago there was a very extensive gathering of garments in St. John and vicinity for the sufferers by fire in a neighboring province, and while by far the larger part of the articles sent to the managing committee were in good condition, some were so soiled and worn that they were of no use whatever. A like observation might be made in regard to food. Nothing but the best should be sent. The people who are in distress are not paupers or lazy people who require to be fed at the public expense, but they are people who, for the time, are in distress arising out of a particular cause and whose temporary necessities only require to be relieved.

I would like to make one other observation. It is that people who contribute cash contribution should not be expected, whether grocers or dry goods men, or shoe men, to contribute also out of their stock in trade. One form of gift should suffice.

Hospital Fund Benefit

An extravaganza, "Snap-Shots" is to be given by amateur local talent in the Court House on Wednesday evening next, under the able direction of Miss Walle, of the Beck Entertainment Bureau, of Boston, who so successfully staged the "Union Depot" a few weeks ago for the benefit of the County Hospital Recreation Hall Fund. Miss Walle has just arrived from Yarmouth, where she put on "Snap-shots" as a benefit entertainment and the Yarmouth Times has this to say of the performances:— "The extravaganza, "Snap Shots," which was given on Tuesday evening, under the auspices and for the benefit of the Old Ladies Home, drew a crowded house. Nearly one hundred of our best local talent took part and created fun for the whole evening. The snap shots were taken in a studio of a photographer on circus day, and all had their pictures "took" from the kiddie with his bag of peanuts to the farmer with his wife and eight children. Miss Allen made an admirable assistant to the photographer, Mr. Joseph Boyd. Winnifred Doane also put a great deal of life into the play as he induced each patron "to look at the birdie." The choruses, solos and dances were all heartily applauded."

Troops at Springhill

As the result of serious disturbances at the Cumberland Coal and Railway Company's colliery at Springhill, the troops have been called for, and several detachments will give aid at the scene of the trouble, says a despatch to Monday's Chronicle.

For some days past the miners who are on strike had become very restless and several incipient riots have occurred. The men who are all members of the United Mine Workers of America have been on strike for more than a year, and the management at the mines have been rapidly filling their places with men imported from outside points.

During the past few weeks the strikers have been ordered to vacate the houses owned by the Company so that they could be occupied by the men at work in the colliery.

This was the cause of the recent outbreak. Several hundred of the strikers and their sympathizers have assembled on different occasions and hurled stones through the windows of the houses.

The town police and the officers in the employ of the Company are unable to control the situation, and the management have been obliged to call for the military.

Suppose This Should Happen?

To the Editor of Monitor-Sentinel:— Much interest has been aroused in the Monitor-Sentinel's discussion of the mail order business, and there is a desire that a remedy shall be found.

If the present craze for sending abroad continues it would really appear that the dealers in the small towns will have to shut up shop, and unless the inhabitants of the different communities can be aroused to a sense of the selfishness of such a policy, they, as well as the small traders, are doomed. Real estate, without business will fall flat as a pancake, the country will be robbed of its population, every newspaper office in the maritime province towns will be compelled to close, and the former will find it necessary to do his selling as well as his buying abroad. Then when he has to compete in cities far afield and begins to realize the disadvantages he is under, when his fortune begins to dwindle and his holdings shrink alarmingly in value, when he finds his province deprived of business and its population scattered in all quarters of the globe, when he sees the grass grow in the streets and the forest trees beginning to sprout up where once stood the stately public buildings and the attractive homes, he will realize when it is too late that he was penny wise and pound foolish. This picture may seem a bit overdrawn, but what else can be the outcome if the product of our labors is continually poured into the coffers of the merchants of far away cities never to return to the land out of which it came. Where the wealth is the population is sure to go, and as our wealth is being sent away by thousands every year, we will have no body but ourselves to blame if we find our cities leaving us also, and like our money, to return no more forever.

F. C. Bezanson, of Sydney Killed in Automobile Accident

Sydney, July 16—F. C. Bezanson, of this city, was instantly killed last night, near Smoky, Ingonish, while on an automobile tour with a party of Sydney gentlemen.

The party left here last Thursday morning, and included Mr. Bezanson, owner of the auto, S. Shaver, Walter Hall and Dr. Bruce.

They were driving slowly along a narrow stretch of road five miles from Ingonish, a high cliff on one side and an embankment on the other. In trying to avoid a stump, the machine, driven by Mr. Bezanson, skidded, the hind wheel going over the embankment, throwing all out.

All four men were thrown out. Bezanson was pinned between the hood of the auto and a large block of concrete and when found, he was dead with his breast badly crushed. The other three men were injured, Shaver being the most fortunate, he falling in a tree when the machine upset.

A short distance along the road a team was met and some of the party were taken to Ingonish from whence word of the accident was sent to Sydney, and the remains were brought to the city on the Dominion Coal Co.'s, steamer D. H. Thomas.

Frank Bezanson came from Moncton and has been in business here for about ten years. His only relatives are his father and mother in Moncton. He is well-known throughout the Province.

NEW LIGHT FLUME

(Annapolis Spectator.)

We paid a visit to the town's light power plant in Lequille, where Mr. Avar Beeler is installing the new wood stove pipe flume for the town. If we are any judge of such things we should say it was all right. It certainly looks neat, strong and well calculated to fill the requirements. This flume is the first of its kind in this province, and no doubt proprietors of water power plants in Nova Scotia will watch with interest the degree of success that this will attain.

"Old Home Week" Celebration at Amherst

AMHERST, July 16—The great "Old Home Week" celebration is over. It opened with sacred services on Sunday July 10th, and closed in blaze of glory with a dazzling display of fireworks last night. From start to finish the celebration was a success. The weather was on his best behavior. The celebration was well advertised. The number of home comers and visitors was great and the program for the week, embracing processions, sports of all kinds, racing, dancing, theatrical performances, a masquerade carnival, fireworks and other forms of amusements were put through without a single hitch.

Today the citizens of Amherst are tired but happy and satisfied. When the program was published a few months ago, many felt that the committee was attempting too much, but instead of criticizing, they fell into line behind the man in charge and did everything in their power to make the celebration a success, and a success it was.

Funeral of Muriel Joy Lloyd

The funeral of Muriel Joy Lloyd, daughter of our esteemed citizen, J. E. Lloyd took place from the home on Wednesday afternoon last at three o'clock and was very largely attended. A further evidence of the sympathy felt for the bereaved family. In fact, the house and grounds overflowed with the people. The service was conducted by Rev. W. H. Warren, assisted by Rev. N. A. McNeill. Members of the Baptist choir sang appropriate selections. The white casket was profusely laden with beautiful floral emblems, among them a large cross, a wreath of roses, a tribute of love from a number of girl associates. Exquisite wreaths and other emblems from various friends were also noticeable. The grave into which the casket containing the loved remains was tenderly lowered, had been lined with flowers and foliage by two of her girl friends and after the sad ceremony was over only a profusion of flowers, sweet emblems of the lovely grace departed, marked its resting place. The pallbearers were Dr. C. P. Freeman, Messrs. Jack Bell, Frank Ruggles and Frank Palfrey.

Young Girl Drowned at Round Hill

A fatal drowning accident occurred at Round Hill on Tuesday afternoon 12th inst., of which Miss Annie Cookley, a girl of sixteen years, was the victim. While in bathing in the Annapolis river, near the government wharf she was carried off her feet by the current. A little girl five years of age, who was the only witness of the catastrophe, summoned assistance by outcries but too late to be of service in saving the drowning girl, as she was then disappearing for the last time. A search was made for the body but the swift current carried it to the Granville shore, where it was not found until next day at noon, at Belleisle. Her mother and several brothers and sisters survive the victim of this sad fatality.

Daniel Ryan Coming

What promises to be the best of the season's offering in things theatrical is Mr. Daniel Ryan and his excellent company in "The Black Fox" the attraction announced for Friday evening at the Court House, Bridgetown.

What the Montreal papers say:— Montreal Daily Star: "Capacity house greets the second week of 'The Black Fox' at the Princess, last night, and judging by the play it is the biggest success that Mr. Ryan and his excellent company have had since their engagement here."

Morning Gazette:—"Mr. Ryan and his popular company opened his last week at the Princess last night to a standing room audience, this is the second week of success of 'The Black Fox'. Mr. Ryan and his company received many curtain calls, especially at the end of the second act. It is to be hoped Montreal will have the pleasure of having Mr. Ryan and his company for a longer stay next summer."

Apple Crop One Half Yield

Mr. F. C. Whitman of Annapolis states so in Morning Chronicle.

Sir:—I am sending you an editorial in the Fruitman's Guide, published July 2nd. It is so applicable to Nova Scotia that it is well worth publication here.

It is currently reported that there are no apples in Nova Scotia this year, which gives growers who have a crop the impression that they are the only ones and prices will be high.

While it is too early to really predict what the Nova Scotia crop will be I can only say from what I have seen and heard that there will be about half a normal crop. Kings, Baldwins and Ben Davis are the leaders. Nonpareils are beginning to show up better than expected and as a general rule trees that were not in bearing last year, no matter what variety, have a good showing of first class fruit. As a fact the apples on the trees are larger and more forward than usual at this time of the year.

While last season trees were too thickly set giving a large crop of small sized apples, there is a probability this year of the picking being very large sized fruit which will make up for quantity in size.

There is no question but that the frost of April hurt the buds and the frost of early June hurt the blossoms on early fruit, particularly, and was serious to all trees in blossom at that time.

The Gravenstein has again got a black eye, the third year in succession. Spot is in evidence and the Gravenstein will be the worst sufferer.

I cannot agree with the enthusiastic statement issued some time ago that we have a 1,000,000 barrel crop and that the frost did no damage. Cut the amount in half, and say that the frost killed the other half is more like it.

Need of Supervision Over Nickel Shows

At Ottawa the other day the City Council considered the situation respecting the nickel shows, and one of the aldermen stated that a father had complained to him that his children actually stole postage stamps to obtain money for admission to the cheap shows. During the course of the discussion it came out by the admission of an alderman that when visiting a picture show, he had seen one suggestive film that should never be shown. The Ottawa Council intend to introduce a by-law dealing with the whole subject and it was proposed by one of the aldermen that the by-law should make it illegal for children under fifteen years of age to attend these shows unless accompanied by their parents or guardians. The suggestion frequently made in these columns that the films should be censored or registered by the police was also brought up. Incidentally it may be said that the managers of the shows in Moncton claim that care is exercised in regard to rejecting suggestive films and that recently there has been quite a change in the subjects selected by the producing agencies.—Moncton Times.

Hampton Breakwater

Editor of the Monitor-Sentinel:— Thinking that many of the readers of the Monitor would like to know how the extension of our wharf is getting on I thought I would give a short outline of the progress so far. Our commissioner, Eddie B. Foster, has spared no pains in procuring the best of timber and skilled help for building the new break, which when completed, will be a credit to the place, and to L. L. Brooks, the boss foreman of construction, the thanks of our community is due for most thorough block of wharf that has ever been built in this place. Starting at the foundation it has been built in a thorough and business like manner. Work has been suspended until after haying, when it will be rushed to completion. Length of block is fifty-five feet.

Yours truly,
RESIDENT.

WHEN ROYALTY VISITED THE VALLEY

Prince George, Now King George V., Made a Happy Impression Upon the People Who Met His Majesty, While on His Holiday Trip to the Annapolis Valley.

The recent accession of King George V. to the throne, has stirred up reminiscences of the occasion, when, in 1884, as Prince George, he visited this province and spent some time on a fishing expedition in this part of the Valley.

While a guest at the Hillsdale House, Annapolis, he with his party made a trip "out South" and were entertained at the home of the late Alexander Dargie, Mr. Dargie's father was one of the original grantees of Annapolis County and it was to this homestead property that the visit was made.

Mr. Alex. Dargie's oldest brother was born in Quebec and was the first male child born in Quebec after it was taken by the English. A grant of land was given Mr. Dargie, the elder, of a portion of what is now the site of the city of Quebec. Unfortunately for the heirs, the land was not considered of much value and the title to it was lost.

Messrs. Burniston, Norman and John Dargie, all now residing within a few miles of Bridgetown, are sons of Alexander Dargie. Burniston was a young man at home at the time of the Prince's visit, and was much impressed by the genial and simple manners of the Prince.

The Prince was the youngest of the party and when they arrived at the Dargie home one of the members of the family stepped up to him and asked "which is the Prince?" "I am the fellow," was the reply. As a memento of appreciation of the kindness and entertainment received at the Dargie home the Prince presented Mr. Dargie senior with a nice pocket flask.

Mr. D. R. McClelland of Annapolis, who was the driver for the royal party on this occasion writes an interesting letter to the Spectator concerning their visit to Annapolis, as follows:—

To the Editor of the Spectator. At this time when George V. has ascended to the throne of the British Empire, I thought a few incidents in connection with his visit to the historic town of Annapolis Royal in 1884 might be of interest to your readers.

At that time, and for a number of years after, I did the carriage work for the Hillsdale House (now owned by C. A. Perkins, but at that time owned by the late Mrs. E. Ryerson,) and in that connection it became my privilege to drive the Prince and his party on that occasion.

The party, consisting of Captain F. Durant, H. R. H. Prince George of Wales, Lieut. H. M. C. Colville and G. A. M. Scates, all of H. M. S. Canada, arrived by regular express from Halifax, June 5th, 1884, and registered at the Hillsdale House.

After lunch they took a carriage and were driven, first, through the old fort grounds and about the town, then out around the "Cape" to Lequille and the Indian Village, thence around the "Three Bridges," and back to town via the Marsh road and across the Allen River.

The following day I took the party on a fishing trip, eight miles out on the Dalhousie road on the stream that joins the Annapolis river at Round Hill. There at "Wright's Bridge" we took boat and proceeded up stream to the first rapid. In taking the boat up over the rapid, Prince George entered the water with Lieut. Colville and myself and assisted manfully with the work.

While the other members of the party fished the rapid and other parts of the stream from the banks, I took the Prince in the boat to a pool farther up stream, where he landed nineteen very fine trout.

Time passed rapidly, and about 1 p. m. o'clock we heard a loud call. The hamper of lunch was in the boat, and on the call being repeated, the Prince said to me, "that is the Captain. The Captain is hungry. When the Captain is hungry it will not do to keep him waiting. We must go."

After lunch and some more fishing we went up to Mr. Alexander Dargie's house, where the members of the party expressed a desire for a drink of milk.

Mrs. Dargie kindly set out all the milk they wished for, and after satisfying their thirst, Mr. Scates presented Mr. and Mrs. Dargie to Prince George, and they expressed their pleasure at meeting a grandson of Queen Victoria. The Prince very graciously presented Mr. Dargie with a nice pocket flask as a memento of his visit.

The following morning the party took a stroll about the town, and in the afternoon took train for Halifax, the Prince expressing himself much pleased with his visit to Annapolis Royal, the Hillsdale House, and his day's fishing on the Dalhousie waters.

The fishing rod used by Prince George on that occasion was loaned him by the late Stewart Ruggles, a brother of H. D. Ruggles, Esq., barrister, Annapolis Royal.

Yours etc,

D. R. McClelland,

Thinning and Summer Pruning of Fruit

(By J. L. Hamilton in Canadian Horticulturist.)

Although it is frequently regarded as one of the minor operations of the orchard and sadly neglected, a great deal of the success of the commercial orchard depends on the proper thinning of the fruit. It should be understood that it is seed production rather than fruit production which saps the vitality of the trees; consequently, as trees are disposed to overbear, exhaustion ensues, and a year is needed in which to recuperate. This is the reason why most trees only bear a good crop every second year.

If, however, thinning is performed judiciously, the tree freed from the labor of so much seed production turns its attention to perfecting the fruit left on it; hence they are larger, more perfect, more vigorous, and consequently more resistant to disease; in other words, more No. 1 fruit is produced and fewer culls. Sun and air, also, obtain full access, and a better color is obtained, which, in this day of the red apple, means better prices.

When fruit, particularly apples and pears, touch one another, the spray cannot find access; besides which, at the point of contact the skin is thinner, and insects which feed on the fruit find easy access, generally spoiling both fruits where they touch.

If the simple rule is observed to thin all fruits so that when matured, no two shall touch one another, the tree will not be exhausted by the over production of seed, and so will bear well every year. The crop also will be heavier, since the individual specimens will be much larger, besides almost all of them being perfect specimens, and in consequence, of the highest market value. This good fruit can be obtained only where intelligent spraying is conscientiously carried out in conjunction with the pruning and thinning.

SUMMER PRUNING

Another point often imperfectly understood is the importance of summer pruning. In the winter we prune to shape the tree and for wood production, generally cutting back about one third of the year's growth, whereas in summer we prune with the object in the apple orchard, of producing fruit bearing spurs. These spurs are really abortive branches, that is, branches whose growth has been checked.

If then, in summer, we pinch back with the finger and thumb, all branches whilst they are still green and tender, upon which we want fruit spurs to form, at about the fourth leaf of the young growth we will find that the end bud left will grow strongly, as it receives most of the sap and tries to take the place of the original twig which has been shortened; at the same time the other three buds left on the shoot will also start to grow, but, since the end one is taking most of the sap, these are starved and dwarfed, forming fruit spurs.

If these points are properly attended to, and the land is cultivated 'with brains,' the crop can hardly fail to be a good one, given reasonable weather. In cultivating, never, if possible, use a plow, which tears up and breaks the surface roots, leaving projecting ends and weakening the tree. Always disk the orchard; use a disk with side draft to cultivate close to the stems, without bringing the team close. If the disk does not cultivate deep enough, weight it. Commence to cultivate just as growth starts, and keep on until you want growth to stop, or in other words, when the tree has made all the wood it can ripen before frost.

Also rake up and burn all traves and rubbish, as these are the winter nesting place of insect pests and many fungous diseases.

Burn or otherwise destroy all the fruit you thin out. Remember, that a few fruit trees, properly attended to, will pay, whereas a number of neglected ones are an expense and an eyesore.

The Campbellton Sufferers

CAMPBELLTON, July 14.—Pestilence today added its horrors to the plight of the hapless people of Campbellton. A case of smallpox was discovered and promptly reported. Quarantine was at once established and vigorous action will be taken to prevent the spread of the dread disease.

The people are cheerful, but they are just beginning to realize that the worst may be before them. Everyone who can is leaving the scene desolation. Of those who remain, many are huddled together in tents or shelters made of blankets or boards thrown hastily together. Others are in the open fields or woods at the back of the town, without any shelter whatever, and very little clothing. Food in plenty is being issued in a systematic way, so that no one need suffer from hunger. Men of the militia are trying to preserve order and are doing good work, but there ought to be many more on the spot to protect persons and property and prevent looting, which has already begun. Some one started selling liquor yesterday at the back of the town, and an armed guard went out and seized the stock, took it down to the wharf and destroyed it. One of the militia men on guard last night, was on the head with a stone and knocked down. The most pressing need seems to be clothing of all kinds and shelters. There are about 40 tents and 400 are needed.

WHY IS HALIFAX SO SLOW IN ACTING

The Bank of Nova Scotia has taken a leading part in the work of relief to the sufferers by the Campbellton fire in subscribing yesterday $5000 which is to be used immediately in purchasing supplies. This generous action on the part of the bank was the subject of much favorable comment.

At Amherst yesterday, citizens called together by Mayor Curry, voted $500 and they propose sending more along later.

LAKE OF THE WOODS SENDS CAR OF FLOUR

The following offer of assistance was yesterday telegraphed from Montreal to the Mayor of Campbellton by the Lake of the Woods Milling company.

"Murray, mayor of Campbellton. 'We will be pleased to forward to you for the relief of the fire sufferers of Campbellton one car of flour, or, if you prefer, its equivalent in cash up to one thousand dollars.

(Sgd.) 'LAKE OF WOODS MILLING CO., LTD.

'Robt. Meighen, president.'

The following message was received by the relief committee at Campbellton from the Boston Post:

BOSTON, July 12, 1910. To chairman of relief committee, Campbellton. Please draw or Boston Post at once for $500 as its contribution toward the relief of the homeless and stricken people of Campbellton. Arrangements will doubtless be made here for adequate relief fund. Boston sends her sympathy to your people in the terrible disaster that has overwhelmed your enterprising community.

EDITOR BOSTON POST. The Ottawa city council this evening voted $1,000 to the relief of the sufferers from the fire at Campbellton.

Frank Rhind, manager of the Royal Insurance company, received a telegram yesterday from the agent in Campbellton, stating that thirty houses had escaped the flames.

The city of St. John voted $2000 toward the relief fund.

ST. JOHN, Thursday, July 14.—T. H. Cochrane, agent in Campbellton for the wholesale grocery firm of Jones & Schofield, who was one of the number left homeless as the result of Monday's conflagration in that town, arrived here last evening and registered at the Royal hotel. When approached by a reporter for The Telegraph, Mr. Cochrane talked at some length about the distressing scenes during and after the big fire.

"The fire itself," said Mr. Cochrane, "was almost beyond description. Imagine a town the size of Campbellton, about a mile and a half long and a half mile wide, one solid mass of flames and then you will have the picture which words alone could not describe. The amazing feature of it all, too," he said, "was the rapidity with which the flames spread, the whole town being enveloped in less than two hours after the fire started. This was due to the terrific gale which was blowing and which picked up the glowing embers and scattered them all over the town. The residents found it useless to fight the flames, and in fact it was more than we could do to look after the safety of ourselves and our friends and relatives.

"The scenes in many instances were heart rending, especially in the cases where families had been separated and mothers and fathers were nearly frantic in not being able to find their children."

Although nothing definite is known as to whether or not more than one life was lost, Mr. Cochrane says he knows of one case in which a mother is being mourning the loss of a little babe whose death has so far gone unrecorded. "I was placing my wife and children on board the steamer Senlac when I met a poor French woman who was almost hysterical. She told me that she could not get to her little child whom she felt sure had been burned to death. When I left Campbellton Tuesday evening this woman had heard nothing of her child, and it is probable that she never will.

(Later the child was found.) "What is most deplorable in the case of Campbellton," said Mr. Cochrane, "is the fact that most of her residents were simple laboring people who possessed nothing beyond their homes. Now they are totally deprived of both and are in destitute circumstances, with nothing at their command to make another start.

"Outsiders cannot realize the extent of the suffering of these unfortunate, homeless people."

He told of three instances where mothers had given birth to children and on the open fields while the flames raged nearby. "There can be no doubt," he said, "but that this industrial town will be rebuilt. This is not only the feeling but the desire of all the leading merchants who suffered terrible losses. Campbellton in view of its location and its rich lumber territories, has yet excellent possibilities. In fact, an immediate stir will be noticed there, as temporary lumber mills will be erected in order to fill the immense lumber contracts. There are yet millions of feet of lumber to be cut and I believe that operations will be resumed at once."

Work of the S. P. C. A.

If the magistrate decides that an offence has been committed he may sentence the offenders to three months imprisonment, or impose a fine of fifty dollars.

Again the S. P. C. may take from owners any animals which are unfit for work or which are being cruelly treated. The animals may be placed under proper care at the expense of the owner. If an animal is found to be "disabled past recovery" it may be humanely destroyed by the agent of the society.

The following may be given as illustrations of cruelty toward animals which are punishable with fine, and imprisonment:

(1) Keeping horses or cows in a barn without allowing them any exercise and keeping animal in a barn which does not give them proper protection from cold rain or snow. Many of such cases are to be found in this country and it is expected that prosecution will have to be instituted unless improvement is made.

(2) Unnecessary brutality or whipping animals. It frequently happens that horses are underfed and in such cases the drivers try to make up in the lack of vim in the animal by plying the whip on its back. In other cases thoughtless drivers strike the animals unnecessarily hard. If the owners and drivers will apply the Golden Rule to such cases they will realize how brutal and cowardly it is to thus strike animals who are entrusted to their care. They will also frequently find that so called "balky" horses are suffering from physical troubles rather than stubbornness. Underfeeding animal. This is an offence also punishable under the code.

Tying the legs of calves and sheep when they are being transported to market. Several persons have been convicted in this offence.

These are only general illustrations of cruelty to animals and many others could be given, but it is hoped that the above have sufficiently outlined the sphere of work of the society.

WHAT YOU MAY DO.

If you wish to prevent your own city or town from thriving, don't put up any more buildings than you can conveniently occupy yourselves. If you should accidentally have an empty dwelling and any one wants to rent it, ask him about three times the actual price for every spot of ground God has given you stewardship over. Turn a cold shoulder to every mechanic or business man seeking a home among you. Look at every new comer with a scowl. Run down the work of every new workman. Go abroad for wares, rather than trade with those who seek to do business in your midst. Fail to advertise or in any way to support your local paper, so that the people may not know whether any business is going on in town or not. Wrap yourself up within yourself, and cover yourself up with a coat of impervious selfishness.

Prevention of Cruelty

It is with pleasure that we quote the following from the Antigonish Casket:

The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals has done and is doing excellent work in restraining the cruelty of owners of animals towards the poor dumb brutes. There was a time when some men, even, in this enlightened country, believed, beyond cavil or question, that ownership of a horse implied a corresponding right to abuse the animal at will. The society has done much, if in no other way than in drawing the attention of the public to the fact that the law of the land punishes cruelty to and neglect of animals. There is much however, yet to be desired. We have seen instances of wanton cruelty in country districts which would not be tolerated in cities and towns. The Society should have more officers in rural districts. County Councils might be empowered to appoint officials in each section, and give due notice of appointment. The animal-better, like the wife-beater, is a coward, and the knowledge that he is likely to be reported and punished would, doubtless, have a salutary effect.

Amén and amén to all this! There are few organizations more deserving the sympathy and support of a civilized community than this Society. Humanity towards the lower animals is a sentiment of but recent growth, and even yet, after nearly twenty centuries of Christianity, there are Christian nations among whom the sentiment is unknown. The lower animals cannot, of course, be regarded as possessing "rights" in the same sense that human beings do, but on the other hand, the man who exhibits his cruelty towards the helpless and the inferior part of nature is allowing these impulses to take possession of him which tend to bring him down to the level of the objects of his cruelty. The poet Burns lived in a cruel age, but was much above his surroundings in this regard. His exquisitely tender poem of regret for having disturbed the little nest of the field mouse with his plough, brought him much ridicule at the time but proved in later years to be an inspiration to the English-speaking world in bringing about a kinder treatment of the lower animals. The Rev. Sydney Smith was regarded as a humanitarian of that period, yet he hurled the shafts of his pungent ridicule and poured his contempt out as a proposal to found a society to protect the dumb, servitors of man from man's brutality. His sarcasm served to stop the agitation for a time, but at length such societies came into existence and have wrought little less than a revolution. The work of the same society in protecting children has also resulted in the saving of thousands of innocents from untold cruelties, for strange as it may seem, human society has in the past, perhaps, perpetrated even more terrible brutalities upon the young of the human race than upon the beasts of the field. All honor to those whose strength, energy and courage are given to the carrying out of the purpose of this noble organization!

NEWSPAPERS BEST MEDIUM

Because They Reach the Home, Says Buffalo Expert.

"The newspaper is the best advertising medium in existence, declares G. W. Johnson, an advertising expert of Buffalo, N. Y., who makes a specialty of raising large sums of money for charitable purposes in short spaces of time. Mr. Johnson relies entirely upon advertising to accomplish his ends. In ten days he raised $300,000 to build a Y. M. C. A. for Buffalo. In a published interview he says among other things:

"The newspaper is the best thing there is in advertising, because it reaches the home. It stands in exactly the same relationship to the community as does the physician to his patients or the clergyman to his congregation. In a local advertising campaign the home must be reached. All articles used in a home are advertised of course, and the women of this country do more than ninety per cent of the general buying for the home. The newspaper reaches the women, thereby placing before them the good qualities or new ideas of the article advertised.

"Every newspaper naturally has some standing in the community through which its circulation carries it. Take, for example, a newspaper of the very highest type. Any article advertised in that paper gains a prestige in proportion to the standing of the paper. In other words a newspaper gives to its advertising its own standing."— Editor and Publisher.

Directions for Sending Specimens

Orchardists are urged to, examine their trees and plantations very closely for insect and fungous pests. Specimens of insects, if dead, should be wrapped in paper or cotton and inclosed in a pasteboard box. If the specimen is particularly soft it should be packed in cotton saturated in alcohol. Whenever possible grubs, caterpillars and so forth, should be packed alive in a box together with a supply of their food; air-holes are not necessary. Particulars as to where the insect was found and the nature of the damage which it is doing, whether to leaves, buds, or stem, are frequently of very great importance. Send for information and identification of specimens to—

For Campers

Don'ts That May Save Many Thousand Dollars.

1. Don't, when in the woods, throw down lighted matches, cigar stubs, or other flaming objects; make sure that the flame has been thoroughly extinguished before throwing it away.
2. Don't build your campfire larger than is necessary.
3. Don't under any circumstances, leave your fire unguarded even for a comparatively short time, see that it is dead out before you go away.
4. Don't build your fire in leaves, rotten wood or other inflammable material.
5. Don't build your fire against a large or hollow log, where it is hard to be sure when it has been entirely put out.

To these "don'ts" it may be added that in windy weather or in a dangerous place, it is well to confine the fire in a hole dug clean down to the mineral soil. A fire may smoulder in the humus, or "duff" for days, only waiting for a strong breeze to fan it into a flame that may burn over miles of timber.

Summer tourists and campers unfortunately have a bad reputation among owners of timber as being often a cause of fires. Such fires could be prevented, almost without exception, by a little extra care on the part of the campers, who have been the unintentional cause of much forest destruction, and who have just as real an interest in the preservation of the forests as the owners of the timber themselves. The rules given above are the result of long experience and observation on the part of many woodsmen and lumbermen as to the origin of fires from this cause, and are earnestly commended to the attention of campers, sportsmen and others.

Onions and Tuberculosis

After one year in research work, twelve prominent physicians of Pennsylvania have come positively to the conclusion that onions are more than a plausible remedy for consumption. While not absolutely declaring that onions taken internally will cure tuberculosis, these twelve physicians assert that they have, through the prescribing of onions or onion soup, relieved numerous cases of tuberculosis, and they recommend that the physicians of the country follow this lead with an idea of eventually working out an absolute cure.

About one year ago these twelve physicians held an informal feast at the Fort Pitt Hotel. Dr. Harry M. Geobring during the course of the meal related an experience he had with a tuberculosis patient in which he had suggested that the patient eat many onions. The statement of Dr. Geobring caused a long discussion, as a result of which the twelve doctors agreed to prescribe onions to their patients, it having been agreed among them that onions could do no harm and might do a great deal of good. According to agreement, they met again. All had kept their onion agreement, and as a result all reported that every tuberculosis patient who had followed their advice and freely partaken of onions had showed signs of improvement, the one exception being a patient in the advanced stages. As a result of the meeting the physicians have decided to call upon their fellow-physicians to extend the treatment.

Gentlemen,— Last August my horse was badly cut in eleven places by a barbed wire fence. Three of the cuts, (small ones healed soon, but the others became foul and rotten, and though I tried many kinds of medicine they had no beneficial result. At last a doctor advised me to use MINARD'S LINIMENT and in four weeks' time every sore was healed and the hair has grown over each one in fine condition. The Liniment is certainly wonderful in its working.

Don't Overdraw on Your Fund of Vitality

Oh, I just felt like it, so I kept a-going until I got what I planned to do done, and then I went to bed with a raging headache, and today I'm a perfect wreck," explained my neighbor when I dropped in upon her in the middle of the morning yesterday and found her limp and wretched on the couch with her morning work untouched.

"I felt like it," is never a sufficient excuse for deliberately overdrawing your fund of vitality.

Any more than it is an excuse for the man who deliberately overdraws his account at the bank.

It takes strength of mind to accomplish things in spite of difficulties, to carry them through to the end in the face of obstacles, but it often takes still more strength and of a much higher variety to lay aside an unfinished task even though at the moment you may feel like finishing it.

To know how to spend one's self to the best advantage—that is, so as to get the most usefulness and enjoyment out of a given amount of vitality is a much greater lesson than the use of money, and one far fewer people learn.

The woman who says, "Oh, I just want to finish this seam or get this petal done before dark," and then bends almost double over the work, straining her eyes in the twilight to reach the desired goal, is paying a wretchedly high price for an absurdly small accomplishment.

Just because the payment is not demanded of her for years she thinks she has escaped without making it, but some day when she is envying the fine, clear eyes of the woman who had the self-control to lay aside the almost finished work, she may realize that nature, although she often forgets for years to ask payment on the checks you draw upon your account with her, sooner or later, surely exacts it.

We have a great deal of talk these days upon the conservation of natural resources.

Wise people point out to us, how, by using our great timber lands wisely and farsightedly, instead of ruthlessly unscientifically, we can get just as much out of them without exhausting them.

Are the resources of nature any different from the resources of the body of man in this respect.

Are they any less susceptible of conservation?

Most of us applaud the people who are trying to save the resources of nature from short-sighted misuse, and to bring about a wise treatment of them which will utilize without exhausting.

If we approve this principle why not carry it into our own lives and apply it to our utilization of our own vitality.— Ruth Cameron.

I have used Empire Liniment much in my family and I find it excellent for headache, and for other pains. I consider it has no equal.

PRISON FARM FOR DRUNKARDS

The province of Ontario has just inaugurated a prison farm for the province, and the system is working well. Persons guilty of petty crimes are sent to this farm. It is now proposed to have a similar institution at Toronto for ordinary drunks and vagrants. This statement was made last week by Property Commissioner Harris at a luncheon attended by prominent clergymen and business men interested in charities and rescue work. We quote from the Toronto report:—

"A resolution by Rev. Father Minchan, that a committee should ask the attorney-general to secure the attendance of all sheriffs, police chiefs and magistrates at the forthcoming convention of 'Charities and Conventions' in Guelph next June, was adopted. Warden Gilmour of the Central Prison criticized the ticket of leave system, as allowing the released prisoner to get back to his vices, because the average sheriff to whom he was to report monthly is disinterested. In fact there were but three sheriffs in the province who seemed to care.

"It is one of the scandals of municipal justice," opined Rev. Father Minehan, "this sending a man to jail for thirty days. He is in that time getting ready for a good drunk when he is liberated."

Work on a farm would be good for the health and morals of the drunkard and at the inspiration of his term he would be in a much better condition physically to withstand temptation than if he were merely released from jail or from the wretched 'chain-gang'

"A Kingly Gift"

EARL GREY'S APPEAL

On behalf of Needy Consumptives Strong words of Canada's Governor-General

At the official opening of the King Edward Sanatorium for Consumptives, near Toronto, His Excellency delivered an address that must have an important bearing on the future of the sanatorium movement in Canada. We quote:—

"The proceedings this afternoon commenced with a beautiful and reverent prayer from your old friend, Dr. Potts. He prayed that the light of the Lord might shine upon us. That prayer is abundantly answered. He also prayed that the White Plague might be removed. Well, whether that prayer will be answered or not depends upon yourselves."

"Is it not a standing shame and reproach to the governments and individuals that there is not more care taken by the people of Canada to protect themselves against the curse of consumption?"

On his way out to the King Edward Sanatorium,—so named by permission of His Majesty King Edward VII—the Governor-General's car was stopped in its progress outside the Canada Cycle & Motor Co. by a large crowd of its employees. A contribution of one hundred dollars was handed the Governor-General, a donation to the Toronto Free Hospital for Consumptives.

"'Twas a kingly gift" said His Excellency in making acknowledgment. "I will tell the King."

Addressing the large audience that attended these opening exercises, referring to this event, Earl Grey said:

"Ladies and gentlemen, when the workmen of Canada are setting an example of this character, I hope you will not be slow to follow, and I trust that the example of the Canada Cycle & Motor Co. may be followed, as I am sure it will, in every factory and manufacturing industry throughout the land."

We carry these words to the people of Canada in our appeal to-day on behalf of the

Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives

An institution that has never refused a single applicant admission, because of his or her inability to pay.

Seventy-five patients can be cared for to-day. Accommodation could be provided for three hundred if the required money were forthcoming.

To make this possible, our appeal is for $50,000, to be used in extension of buildings and maintenance of patients.

Where will your money do more good? Every community and every individual is interested.

His Excellency Earl Grey has shown his interest and sympathy in the work at Muskoka for needy consumptives, by accepting the position of Honorary President of the National Sanitarium Association.

Contributions may be sent to Sir Wm. R. Meredith, Kt., Chief Justice, Osgoode Hall, Toronto; W. J. Gage, Esq., 84 Spadina Ave., or J. S. Robertson, Sec'y-Treas., National Sanitarium Association, 347 King Street West, Toronto, Canada.

PROPRIETOR AND PUBLISHER.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 20, 1910.

Some people have peculiar ideas of the duties or obligations of a newspaper in regard to printing the news.
It is true that there is, even among journalists, a free and widely diversified opinion as to what is rightly and properly "news," a matter which each is privileged to decide upon for himself, and just as his taste and judgement are evidenced in the prestige of his paper raised or lowered accordingly.

If the journalist chooses to print every bit of floating gossip or scandalous he will satisfy the debased moral sense or the lower intelligence of a certain class of readers. Many newspapers admit this kind of news to their columns because, they claim, the people must have what they want or what appeals to them. The better class of journalists, however, exclude sensational matters and make a point of printing what is refining or enlightening in its influence, admitting only such sensational stories as would have the effect of accentuating a natural revulsion against crime.

On one point, however, it seems to us, that any journal having regard to its avowed position as guardian of the people's rights is prohibited from privilege of option, and that is when a municipal law or statute is broken or disregarded. The laws are made by the people, the general public. When an individual chooses to disregard the authority of the law,— the voice of the people,—the people undoubtedly have a right to know it.
The paper that suppresses such information well deserves the censure that it is sure to receive.

We trust it is unnecessary to "point the moral."

A meeting of citizens is called for on Monday night, the 1st of August, the regular night of meeting for the Town Council, for the purpose of taking action on the question of voting a sum of money for the relief fund of the people of Campbellton. It is generally thought that some recognition of the needs of the unfortunate people should be made, and in order to make the expression of sympathy general, that the donation should be given in the form of a voted sum from the town. It is likely that the donation will not exceed one hundred dollars, and while the sum is small and will not be felt by any individual rate payer it will probably be a fairly proportionate sum for our small town, as compared with the average donation. This will not prohibit other citizens from giving as they feel inclined.

OR, RATHER, A SANATORIUM

It is gratifying to know that Sable Island, the graveyard of the Atlantic, is going to be of use. Of late years it has been planted with spruce, pines and junipers. Now, if a consumptive goes there, he gets fresh air, a warm climate, and every help possible towards recovery. In a short time the island with the unhappy title will be a sanitarium.— Toronto Mail.

Trainmen on Strike

Montreal, July 18—Negotiations were abruptly broken off this afternoon between the conductors and trainmen of the Grand Trunk and the company, and sharp at half-past nine tonight a strike of the men started to enforce their demands for the standard rate of wages for territory east of Chicago: It is estimated by the man that this strike will involve 3,500 conductors and trainmen on the Grand Trunk between Portland and Chicago, and three hundred and fifty men on the Central Vermont, and it is hoped by them that they will be able to tie up the passenger and freight service on both lines. This declaration of war was expected on both sides, and they have both been quietly preparing for it.

Spitting in Public Places

It is announced that hereafter the law against spitting in the I. O. O. F. depots is to be strictly enforced. In Montreal a crusade against spitting is said to have had excellent results.
At a mass meeting of citizens in Rochester, N. Y., recently the following resolution was unanimously adopted:—
"Resolved, that we, the citizens of Rochester in mass meeting assembled, do hereby respectfully urge His Honor Mayor Edgerton, Commissioner of Public Safety, and Chief of Police Quigley, to carry into effect the request of the Rochester Public Health Association, that two officers be immediately assigned to the duty of strictly enforcing the ordinance which prohibits the promiscuous spitting in public places."

In Syracuse, N. Y., similar steps have been taken; the Chicago police have received the co-operation of a large number of social and civil bodies for the purpose of stopping spitting in public; and reform movements in regard to spitting are being pushed in Louisville, New Orleans,
San Francisco and other cities.

Meeting of Rate Payers

I hereby give notice that a meeting of the rate payers of the town of Bridgetown in the County of Annapolis, under the Section 143 of the "Town's Incorporation Act" will be held in the Council Chamber in the said Town of Bridgetown on Monday evening the first day of August, 1910, at eight o'clock p. m.

At this meeting there will be submitted to the rate payers for their approval a proposed expenditure of a sum of money not to exceed the sum of one hundred dollars for the relief fund of the town of Campbellton in the Province of New Brunswick, which was recently destroyed by fire.

By resolution of the Town Council, passed the fifteenth day of July 1910.

HARRY RUGGLES,
Town Clerk.

Dated July 18th, 1910.

Advertisers Should Read

It is impossible to judge of the true merits of a publication as an advertising medium when only an occasional advertisement is run. Such advertising often brings big returns.
At other times under almost precisely the same conditions, the returns are disappointing. This is true of all publications and of all advertisements of this nature. When, however, an advertiser keeps his name constantly before the readers of a publication, they soon begin to feel acquainted with him. He stamps his name and the nature of his goods upon their minds. Finally they think of him whenever such goods are mentioned or thought about. They know that he is in the business to stay, and, being thinking men and women,

THE COST OF AVIATION.

Lest, in our overweening pride at what man has already accomplished,
We forget the limitations of his ac-chievements, such horrible disasters that which yesterday befell the well-known German aviator, Erlsboeh, and his three companions serve to remind us that Nature is not bound and helpless at the feet of those who claim that they have tamed the elements. Following as it does the death of Rolls, the two fatalities at Rheims and the destruction of the "Deutschland," this last disaster emphasizes and makes still more vivid the knowledge of the perils which momentarily attend the aviator.— Montreal Star.

In his efforts to prevent the formation of gangs of bad boys, Chief Clark should have the practical aid of the churches, says a St. John exchange. The problem is not an easy one to solve. There are no playgrounds in St. John. There are no institutions for boys, where they can find vent for their natural energy and desire for comradeship. Having nothing to encourage them upward, they drift downward, and make trouble for their parents and the police. The community suffers. The problem ought to be approached with serious intent by citizens who sympathize with boyhood and are willing to give something of themselves to the work.
The same energy which when mis-directed makes jail-birds would under proper guidance develop a splendid manhood.

CLASS FOR BRICKS.

Bricks made of glass are coming into quite common use in Europe. The glass is run into moulds capable of resisting the heating and cooling process, and the finished brick presents a smooth surface. It is being used largely for the flooring of bathrooms and hospitals, for waiting rooms in railway stations, in the walls of laboratories, and in meat markets. The great advantage in this new brick is that it is wholly sanitary. No germs can collect where it is used.

saying that I believe it to be the most reliable liniment advertised on the market today. I am placing a large order which please give your attention.

Yours very truly,

LOCAL AND SPECIAL

See snap-shots at the circus.

Gerald, the small son of Mr. Karl Freeman, fell from a wagon while at play near Palfrey's carriage repair shop, on Wednesday, breaking his arm between the wrist and elbow.

Two young men were fined in the police court a few days since for disorderly conduct and fighting on the school-grounds. Policeman Goldsmith is to be commended for his efforts to preserve public order and decency.

The Bulletin understands that J. J. Wallis has severed his connection with the Progress-Enterprise of Lunenburg, and that he will be succeeded by J. H. Hall of Bridgewater. Mr. Hall is an old printer, and will no doubt, fill the position. It is no soft snap.—Bridgewater Bulletin.

The Ontario Provincial government has issued an order prohibiting the showing of the Jeffries-Johnson fight. It is expected other provinces will follow this example. They have also been prohibited in several of the States.

The Lunenburg Band has been engaged to play at the Mechanics Fair Boston in October next. As forty members is the quota and the Lunenburg Band furnishes but twenty-six, the bandmaster is looking for fourteen more players to be selected from other provincial bands.

Citizens are asking "Why, in the name of common sense, is not the watering cart in use?" The answer to this riddle, the Monitor is informed, is that there is no horse to be found for love or money to draw the cart. And this in a town where almost every other man is the owner of a horse! This is another case of "the cart before the horse."

Mr. Henry Moss, manager for Mr. Ryan, was in town Monday, making final arrangements for the appearance of his star here on Friday evening, July 22nd. Mr. Moss assures the Monitor that all records for receipts were broken by Mr. Ryan at the Princess Theatre, Montreal, where he and his excellent Company have appeared for the past five weeks.

The Middleton and Victoria Beach section of the H. & S. W. railway is the scene of much activity. Three trainloads of iron ore are shipped over the line daily from Torbrook to Port Wade, and the return of the trains makes a passing of six trains a day. In addition the passenger service runs as usual Monday and Friday. Station Master Crookill is putting in long hours at his post.

Truro News.—"Disease germs by the millions are wafted through our streets and into our houses by the dust clouds that we experience too often in our town. With an overflowing reservoir at present we cannot put too much water on our streets, especially during windy days." (The above from the Truro News is good advice, which other towns would do well to heed.—Ed.)

Al., the little son of Mr. Charles Ruffee, met with an unfortunate accident on Wednesday afternoon. While in the hay field with his brother Guy, he got in the way of the long knife of the machine, hidden in the grass, and it slashed his instep cutting a deep gash. Doctors DeBlois and Armstrong were summoned and the latter closed the wound with twelve stitches, and it is hoped the injury will not prove serious.

A Tennis tournament was planned to take place on Saturday afternoon last on the Bridgetown Tennis Court between Kentville and Bridgetown players. The party from Kentville arrived but rain prevented the tournament from coming off. The ladies were Misses Francis Lydiard, Effie McLeod, Fannie Moore, Ida Rand. The gentlemen R. W. Frazee, Herman DeWitt and Mr. Foshay. The ladies of the Kentville team are among the strongest in the province. They play next month in the Provincial tournament at New Glasgow. Miss Lydiard and Miss McLeod competed in the Provincial tournament last year and worked into the semi-final, being defeated by Miss Owen of Bridgewater, who is the champion.

Mr. E. A. Hicks, of the firm of J. H. Hicks and Sons, met with an accident in the sawmill on Monday. A log from the carriage of the rotary saw struck him in the knee knocking him over and causing him to strike the back of his head. He is suffering from the effects of the blow and a sprained knee.

Decision has been given in a case before the Probate Court by which F. R. Fay was allowed his claim against the estate of the late John L. Cox. Mr. Cox engaged Mr. Fay, during the last year of his illness, to perform the duties of his office and allowed him in return a certain sum. Mr. Fay put in a claim against the estate for the amount of the year's salary and the Judge of Probate, Mr. Owen, decided that Mr. Fay was entitled to the full year's salary.

A very large number took advantage of the excursion to Port Wade by the Steamer Granville on the occasion of the Baptist Sunday School Picnic on Friday last. The weather was fine, the sail along the river delightful and every one was happy. Through a misunderstanding the Mitchells, who were to furnish music, arrived from Annapolis after the steamer had sailed, coming on the morning train instead of remaining at Annapolis to be taken on at that port. This was the only mishap and the visit at Port Wade, where much interest was found, proved very enjoyable.

Scientists in Britain and elsewhere have recently been testing the mucleage on postage stamps, and found it so full of microbes of various kinds that the licking of stamps, to make them stick, has been pronounced a most serious menace to health.

Scribner's Magazine.

George Meredith, the great English novelist and poet, left a comedy among his papers, which although not entirely completed, is so nearly a perfect episode that it was acted in London by Charles Frohman's company under the literary supervision of his experiences in Uganda, it will contain fiction by Maurice Hewlett, Richard Harding Davis, E. W. Hornung, Dorothy Canfield, Gerald Chittenden, John R. Spears, Alice Brown and an article about the scene of one of his novels by John Fox, Jr.

John Fox, Jr., will have in the fiction Number of Scribner's Magazine an account of a recent journey which he made to the scene of his novel, "The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come." There in the mountains he found the counterpart today of "Chad" and "Mother Turner" and a young woman who was more beautiful than the "Melissa" of his story.

George Wright, the artist, went over the ground with Mr. Fox, and the illustrations accompanying the article are authentic records of the mountain people today.

Dearn to Swim

The time of the year has again come around when the newspapers are full of drowning accidents. We read of canoes upsetting, boats upsetting, men and women tumbling in the water, and being drowned, all the fatalities, almost without exception, being due to lack of knowledge how to swim. Just yesterday there was an account in the paper of two boys in the neighborhood of sixteen and seventeen years being drowned because neither could swim. Imagine boys of that age not being able to swim! Swimming is as easy as walking and every boy and girl should make a point of learning it. Few indeed are the people who have not some opportunity of learning. There is nearly always some body of water where they can learn at some time during the year.

The trouble about most persons is that they are horribly afraid of the water. They look upon it as some terrible and mysterious element that is longing to devour them. Once conquer this ridiculous dread and swimming comes easily. Speaking as an amateur I can say that once my dread of the water was overcome it became practically impossible for me to sink. And that was when I was a very little girl, ten at the most. Up to then I was afraid of the water, but once I realized that I had a weapon in my knowledge of swimming that kept me from danger I lost all fear and from that day on it seems impossible for me to sink. If only all fathers and mothers would bring up their children as sensibly! Teach the children to swim during the summer holidays and the knowledge thus acquired may not only save their own lives at some future time but save the lives of others. The actual art of swimming may not save them but in many cases the sense of being at home in the water does. If there is a boat accident the swimmer does not lose his head but is able to look about and see what had better be done. More lives are lost in all probability from sheer fright and panic when in the water than from lack of knowledge of swimming. And the only thing that does away with this fright is to know how to swim. As children we were told of a man who was found drowned in two feet of water because he was too frightened to know how to stand up. This was exemplified long ago when once bathing with a friend who stepped off a rock and found the water over her head. A couple of steps would have brought her into her depth but she was so panic-stricken that she fell and but for assistance would probably have been drowned within a few feet of the shore. All our seaside and country places are now crowded and it would be a splendid thing if every family started right in to learn how to swim. Then when they return to town in the autumn the knowledge could be kept up in some public bath or institution where there is a swimming-tank. Particularly I should like all readers of this page to learn. Apart from the sense of security it affords when on the water or in the water there is nothing more healthful or more beautifying. It makes slight women heavier and heavy women slimmer, it develops muscles that no other exercise does, it makes women graceful and active. Taken all around there is no more potent beautifier in existence.—A. C. in the Montreal Star.

PRISON EARNINGS.

Should go to Family Say These Women.

Halifax, N.S. July 1.—The National Council of Women of Canada was entertained at Government House when Mrs. Fraser gave a brilliant reception. Assisting in receiving the guests was Mrs. Wilson, of Guelph, Ont. The Mayor of Halifax also extended an official welcome. Among the resolutions to be adopted will be one recommending that the earnings of men undergoing long terms of imprisonment be devoted to the support of their wives and children; that there be more vigorous enforcement of immigration legislation. Another resolution concerns the treating system. A resolution on the order paper is "That the National Council of Women of Canada does hereby place itself on record in favor of the enfranchisement of women."

TO COOL A ROOM.

Cheap Device That is Said to Work Well.

(G. F. H. in New York Times) Procure a small zinc-lined tank holding from two to three gallons of ice and salt, and put in about a half pint of ammonia. This tank can be placed in a corner of the room, occupying very little space, and a drip pan put under it to catch the water condensed by the heat of the room. This process of condensation is quite rapid, and will very quickly reduce temperature. The larger the room the larger the tank, and vice versa. The practicability of this scheme has been tested, and it is simple, clean, and inexpensive. The tank will have to be replenished but once a day, except when the weather is extremely warm. There is no objection to this plan of cooling rooms on our hottest days, and that is we will be apt to feel the heat of the streets when we are obliged to go out.

Unless especially directed to the contrary by the physician, all medicines which are swallowed in tablet or pill form, should be immediately followed by a drink of some liquid, as water, milk, tea, etc. Concentrated medicines if allowed to dissolve in close contact with the walls of the stomach, often irritate the organ.

GET ENOUGH SLEEP

"Insufficient sleep," says a physician, "is one of the crying evils of the day. Work and pleasure encroach upon the hours of rest, and body and mind deteriorate in consequence. Even the children have their hours of sleep shortened and suffer all their lives in consequence. A child of ten or eleven scarcely gets more than eight or nine hours' sleep, whereas it should have ten or eleven. Up to twenty at least nine hours of sleep are needed and an average adult needs eight. There may be an occasional Napoleon who can get along with four hours' sleep a night, but if you happen to belong to that class nature will tell you by waking you at the proper time, and you don't need to interfere."

When the stomach fails to perform its functions the bowels become deranged, the liver and the kidneys congested causing numerous diseases. The stomach and liver must be restored to a healthy condition and Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets can be depended upon to do it. Easy to take and most effective. Sold by all dealers.

THE GOOD DINNER.

The successful housekeeper was planning a dinner for a few of her husband's friends.

"I must have apple pie and cheese for dessert," she remarked without a flicker of indecision.

"But I should think you would want something more dainty this time of year," suggested the woman who always worried herself sick over a company dinner, "an ice or a frozen pudding."

"Oh, but apple pie is my husband's favorite dish! When he has company to dinner he always wants apple pie, then he thinks his guests have had such a good dinner, and everybody is happy. At least my husband and I are happy, and if the guests aren't no one is the wiser."—New York Press.

Little Helen had developed the habit of holding her thumb in her mouth, even while eating. The mother had resorted to all sorts of methods to correct the child, and finally, in desperation, said:

"Helen, the first thing you know, you will swallow your thumb, and then what will you do?"

"Well, mother, I should hate to swallow it, because I'd have a heaven of a time without it."

"Why, Helen," said the astonished mother, "where did you hear an expression like that?"

"Well—well," hesitated the little girl—"I didn't hear it exactly like that, mother, but I thought it would sound better."

A teacher in the primary grade of a Newark school was instructing her class in the composition of sentences. After a talk of several minutes, she wrote two sentences on the black board, one grammatically wrong, the other a mis-statement of facts. The sentences were:

"The hen has three legs. Who done it?"

"Willie," she said, "go to the black board and show where the fault lies in these two sentences."

Willie did so. To her astonishment he wrote:

"The hen never done it; God done it."

AN ATHLETIC GAME.

The cobbler's shop in a small village was filled with old men and a young man, the young man being a good foot-ball player. Naturally the conversation drifted to the game of football.

The young man turned to one of the old men and asked him if he had ever played the game. The veteran thought fully blew a cloud of tobacco smoke from his lips and replied:

"Nay, lad. I've never played at none of them athletic games 'cept dominos."

Barber *to customer)— "Razor all right, sir?"

Customer— "My dear man, if you hadn't mentioned it I'd never have known there was a razor on my face."

Barber— "Thank you, sir!"

Customer (continuing)— "I thought you were using a file."

MY SHIPS

If all my ships I have at sea Should come a sailing home to me— Weighted down with gems and silk and gold.

Ah, well! the harbor could not hold So many sails as there would be If all my ships came in from sea.

If half my ships came home from sea, And brought their precious freight to me, Ah, well, I should have wealth as great

As any king who sits in state, So rich the treasures that would be In half my ships now out to sea.

If just one ship I have at sea Should come asailing home to me— Ah well, the storm-clouds then might frown,

For if the others all went down, Still rich and proud and glad I'd be If that one ship came home to me.

If that one ship went down at sea, And all the others came to me Weighted down with gems and wealth untold

With glory, honor, riches gold, The poorest soul on earth I'd be If that one ship came not to me.

O skies, be calm! O winds, blow free, Blow all my ships safe home to me! But if thou sendest some a wrack, To nevermore come sailing back, Send any, all, that skim the sea, But bring my love-ship home to me.

—Ella Wheeler Wilcox.

WORLD'S DEBT TO CANADA

A Wonderful Achievement

Discovery of "Fruit-a-tives" has meant health for all

Canada's fame does not rest solely on her furs and wheat fields. Her rise in the esteem of the world is not due to her Cobalt mines. It is the work of her great men that has made her great. A graduate of McGill University has won lasting renown for his original researches in the realms of Physics.

Everyone knows that fruit is wholesome, when eaten judiciously. Physicians generally recognize the fact that fruit juices have a beneficial effect on the various organs of the body.

It remained for a Canadian physician to discover a process whereby the medicinal action of fruit could be so increased as to make the intensified juices a wonderful cure.

"Fruit-a-tives" is this combination of fruit juices and tonics. Since its introduction to the public, "Fruit-a-tives" has met with a success accorded to no other medicine in the world. The reason is plain. "Fruit-a-tives" is the one remedy that is actually made of fruit, and is the only remedy that naturally cures Constipation, Biliousness, Indigestion, Headaches, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Backache, Kidney and Skin Troubles. At all dealers at 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, or trial size, 25c., or from Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

CARE OF BULBS.

Will you kindly give me some information on how to manage bulbs after they have flowered? Some bulbs seem to do better if taken up every year, while others do better when left alone. Of course Gladioli should be taken up every year. I have had much trouble with my Poeticus Narcissus. Many of the bulbs blight.—A. J. C.

Tulip bulbs give best results, as a rule, if the bulbs are taken up each year after the crops die down, or if the bed is intended for annuals the tulips may be dug while the tops are yet green, and heeled in a well drained place with the tops still attached to them. If taken up when the tops are dry, the bulbs are kept dry until September, when they should be replanted. If left in the ground all summer and subjected to moist and dry conditions of ground alternately, they are likely to be injured, although in well-drained soil some varieties will persist for several years; hence it is not really necessary to take up the bulbs each year. Narcissus should not be taken up every year, but when the clumps get so thick that the bloom is affected they should be dug out and the best bulbs re-planted and given more room.—W. T. Macoun, C.E.F., Ottawa.

VIRTUES OF THE OPEN.

(From the Hamilton Times)

An article in this month's Technical World Magazine extolling the virtues of open air life is well worth careful perusal by all who would benefit in health by the discoveries of modern sanitary science. Sleeping in the open air is found to yield astonishing results in curing the sick and building up the enfeebled. Nor is it so difficult even to the very weak. An outdoor "bedroom" is easily improvised, and once tried, the experimenter, soon becomes to like it, and refuses the confinement of walls.

Ice Cream Cones Seized in New York

More Than 4,500,000 Seized by Government Under Pure Food Act.

New York, July 12.—More than four million five hundred thousand ice cream cones have been seized by United States Marshal Henkel as a part of the campaign being waged by the government under the pure food act. It is alleged that the cones contain boric acid and are injurious to health.

Banding apple trees is a profitable work. With spraying combined, we have frequently reduced the wormy apple to ten per cent. Another advance to be derived, and one which is very liable to be overlooked by the grower, is the encouragement into his orchard of beneficial insects.

Historical Sketch of Lawrencetown Baptist Church

The Sunday school at Williamston is also doing good service. Deacon T. G. Bishop is the present superintendent. At Inglisville also the work is moving on hopefully. The Sunday school is in a very flourishing condition.

The present deacons are J. A. Brown, W. B. McKeown, T. G. Bishop, Wm. Shaffner, W. A. Hunt, L. M. Beals and E. R. Whitman.

We cannot give a detailed account of the work of the church during each pastorate, but steady progress has been made. We can give here only the names of the different pastors and dates of their respective pastorate, viz:—

- Rev. Whitman and Parker 1873-1876. G. N. Ballantyne 1876-1877. Rev. J. H. Blakeney 1878-1880. Rev. R. D. Porter 1881-1887. Rev. J. F. Eaton 1887-1894. Rev. J. H. King 1896-1897. Rev. L. F. Wallace 1897-1900. Rev. W. L. Archibald Nov. 1900-Oct. 1904. Rev. M. W. Brown Feb. 1905-Sept. 1907.

The present pastor Rev. H. G. Mellick settled with us Aug. 1909. We had only four Church Clerks. The first was Avarad Daniels, after him Robert FitzRandolph. He was succeeded by the late W. E. Palfrey, who served until 1897 when our present efficient clerk, T. G. Bishop, was elected to that office.

The first treasurer was Deacon Albert Dunn. After him Deacon J. W. Wheelock, who was succeeded by Dr. L. R. Morse. These faithful servants have passed on to their reward. Our present treasurer is Deacon Wm B. McKeown, who was one of the first deacons of the church and through all the years of its history has served in various offices with marked faithfulness.

When the Hall was opened at South Williamston, services discontinued in the old Valley West church building. This latter building was erected about fifty five years ago by the members of the Nictaux church then living in Valley West.

The fears of the organizing counsel that the church would be a burden to the Mission Band have long been dispelled. This church has not only sustained herself but has contributed much for the enterprises of the denomination both at home and in foreign lands.

Light and fresh air are the chief curative agencies in the physical universe. They are essential to human as well as animal health. The girl who is over-careful of her complexion might better have a few freckles than tuberculosis. It is not necessary to stand hatless at noonday until one gets a sunstroke, but it is important that we break the house habit in the summer time. Sleep on the verandah, if you will, but in any case, get out of doors and stay there as much as you can until the cold weather returns.—Toronto News.

David I Wade, having passed a successful examination before the Marine Board in Yarmouth, has been awarded a first mate's certificate. Foreign sea going ships left for Boston last week to rejoin the S. S. San Jose United States Co's steamship line, plying between Boston and Port Limon, Costa Rica.

Capt. C. H. Ryder passed away at his residence Port Wade on Saturday about twelve years ago he was stricken with a rheumatic affliction which continued to grow worse until it rendered him totally helpless in which condition he has continued for about eleven years. Recently it was apparent that his strong vitality was yielding to the terrible malady and that the end of his sufferings was near. Capt. Ryder was a very successful shipmaster and commanded a number of fine vessels out of St. John the last being the Barque "Fredericia." About a year before he was attacked with the illness that terminated his active life, he married Miss Helen Burns, daughter of the late J. A. Burns, of the St. John Hotel, who with one child survives him. The devotion of this faithful wife during all these years of suffering, has called forth general expressions of praise from all sides and now in her hour of affliction she has the universal sympathy of the community. May He, who doeth all things well, be her support and comfort in her great sorrow.

What is said of the GOURLAY PIANO

Messrs Gourlay, Winter & Leeming GENTLEMEN:-

It affords me great pleasure to testify to the excellence of your Pianos.

As accompanist for upwards of fourteen years to Madame Adeline Patti, Madame Alboni, and other world famous artists, I have had occasion to use the Pianos of all the greatest makers throughout the civilized globe, and I unhesitatingly declare that as an "UPRIGHT" your Piano has given me the keenest satisfaction of any I have ever met.

FROM THE CAMPBELLTON FIRE. CHEMIST WARNS HOUSEWIFE OF MEAT WITH DARK RING.

(Truro News.)

Mr. and Mrs. Homer McNutt, accompanied by their daughter, Mrs. W. J. Christie and her little daughter, arrived home yesterday on the Maritime Express from Campbellton, N. B. Mr. and Mrs. McNutt were visiting their daughter, Mrs. Christie, and were in that ill-fated town, during the devastating fire on July 11.

Mr. and Mrs. Christie lost their home and all its contents, only saving a part of their clothing. Mr. and Mrs. McNutt had most of their clothing burnt. They, with hundreds of other homeless men, women and children, spent a night and part of a day in a pasture, before places of shelter could be secured.

The horrors of this conflagration, Mr. McNutt says, can be better imagined than described in any words. Over 80,000,000 of shingles were on fire during this conflagration, and before a terrific wind some were carried more than a dozen miles.

NEWSPAPER MAN CRUSHED UNDER AUTOMOBILE AT CAMPBELLTON.

Campbellton, N. B., July 19—One of the most active of Campbellton's workers for the relief of the stricken people, Charles W. Anslow, lies at the point of death in the Hotel Dieu Hospital tonight as the result of an auto accident late today. There were five men in the car. It was being backed down St. Andrew street when suddenly the car turned over into the ditch. Three of the occupants escaped without injury. The fourth, Ross Malcolm, son of Thos. Malcolm, of the International Railway, suffered internal injuries, and Mr. Anslow was pinned unconscious under the car. Concussion of the brain is feared, and tonight Dr. Murray said there was little chance of recovery.

Mr. Anslow was connected with the Campbellton Graphic, newspaper.

"Twenty-five per cent of our food stuffs are wasted after they reach the house wife," said Dr. P. F. Trowbridge, professor of Chemistry, in a lecture on "The High Cost of Living and Selection of Meat," before the Home Economics Club of the University of Missouri.

"Women buy too much over the telephone," especially in large cities," he said. "They should go out to the butcher and grocer and become acquainted at first hand with prices and conditions of the markets.

Slides were shown, illustrating the different cuts and quality of meat. He advised women not to buy meat with a dark ring in the marrow of the bone, as this was a sign of the emaciated condition of the animal before it was slaughtered."

WHAT CO-OPERATION DID.

The value of co-operation among farmers is nowhere more strikingly illustrated than in Denmark, a little country about the size of New Brunswick, which supports a population of over two million people and exports to Great Britain nearly a hundred million dollars' worth of butter, eggs and bacon every year.

Forty years ago, Denmark was agriculturally insignificant. Now it has no food trusts or middlemen. The creameries, hatcheries and packing houses are co-operative and co-operative marketing is carried on. Thus, from being a country whose agricultural exports within the memory of living people were comparatively nothing, the little peninsula has become one of the important food-producing countries in the world. And co-operation had more to do with the progress than anything else.
