MEMOIRS OF SHERLOCK HOLMES, BY A. CONAN DOYLE.

THE ADVENTURE OF THE NOBLE BACHELOR

"You're angry, Robert," said she. "Well, I guess you have every cause to be." "Pray make no apology to me," said Lord St. Simon, bitterly. "Oh, yes, I know that I have treated you real bad and that I should have spoken to you before I went, but I was kind of rattled, and from the time when I saw Frank here again I just didn't know what I was doing or saying. I only wonder I didn't fall down and do a faint right there before the altar."

that breakfast table and waiting for me to come back. So Frank took my wedding clothes and things and made a bundle of them, so that I should not be traced, and dropped them away somewhere where no one would find them. He knew that we should have gone on to Paris tomorrow, only that this good gentleman, Mr. Holmes, came from the States and, though how he found us more than I can think, and he showed us very clearly and kindly that I was wrong and that Frank was right, and that we should be turning ourselves in the wrong if we were so secret. Then he offered to give us a chance of talking to Lord St. Simon alone, and so we came right away round to his rooms at once. Now, Robert, you have heard it all, and I am very sorry if I have given you pain, and I hope that you do not think very nastily of me."

HUMORS OF HISTORY---136

Henry VIII. and Anne Boleyn. A.D. 1529

Henry VIII, the personification of the fabled Bluebeard, had in all six wives. The first, Catherine of Aragon, he divorced, having doubts, after twenty years of married life, as to the legality of his marriage with her. The King's fancy was taken by her maid of honor, Anne Boleyn, granddaughter of the first Duke of Norfolk. It is said that Catherine discovered Henry making love to Anne, who was quite complainant.

C. P. R. LOSES FIRST ROUND

Justice Kilham decided against the C. P. R. He said the question was not one of law. The point of view which the board should approach the question was this: The company obtained an act to build a railway between certain points. It was for the board to show that this should not be done. There was the general railway act and the special act. The company had to get the approval of the minister of the route. That route could not be altered without the approval of the minister. The board had no power to arbitrarily refuse location plans. He did not know there was any power to compel the board to accept plans approved by the government-council. The duty of the board, however, was that the minister having approved a general route they had to consider the construction of a railway along that route. The board had no right to alter the location plan which would have to be treated as merely a practical location route. The board might vary the route a little way or a little the other but it would require to conform to the general route that the minister approved. When the board came to consider the special act it could look into whether or not the minister had exceeded his powers under the statute but even in that case they would have to be very chary in interfering. The question now was as to whether the route before them was one upon which the company should build. There was not the shadow of a doubt that the company had the right to build and the minister had the right to sanction it. The company was to build from Moncton to the Pacific coast. Certain points were specified at which the line would touch. When one came to consider between these points many circumstances determined what was to be done. In the Northwest Territories the governor general was to approve of the plans but his approval was to be given in the form of a law. "As far as practical" or as it may be called, "having regard to certain other things or for other satisfactory reasons" the railway shall "generally" be 30 miles distant or "as the government-council may deem reasonable." But there was no limitation as to the 30 miles. The very fact that one part was picked out and other parts left to the general railway act showed that there was nothing compulsory. The government was free to do as it pleased. There was nothing for the supreme court to consider and therefore the usual order would issue for the approval of the plans.

Thin Blood Makes a Weak Body

But You Can Enrich the Blood and Send New Vigor Through the System by Using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. Every nerve and every muscle of the body depends on the blood for nourishment. Thin, watery blood makes weak nerves and flabby muscles. The heart fails in its work of forcing blood through the body; the lungs, the stomach, the liver, kidneys and bowels all do their work in an imperfect way, and you drag about weak, tired and miserable. The use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food makes a radical change in every human system that is starved and impoverished for want of rich, pure and life-sustaining blood. Gradually, certainly and naturally it instils new vigor into every nook and corner of the body, restores health and vitality, and puts a new joy into life. Note your increase in weight while using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food; 50 cents at all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

IT WILL BE VERY TAME

Closing Acts of Peace Conference Will Have No Spectacular Features.

Portsmouth, N. H., Sept. 4.—The closing act of the peace conference promises to be a very tame affair. There will be no spectacular features. Final arrangements have been made for the signing of the "Treaty of Portsmouth" at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in the conference room of the naval stores building. Besides the plenipotentiaries only Assistant Paymaster, representing the president, Governor Meade, the mayor of Portsmouth, Admiral Mead and Commander Winslow will be present. The ceremony will be very brief. The Russian mission will go to Christ Church, Portsmouth, where a luncheon service will be held. The Russian Orthodox Bishop of New York, accompanied by twenty priests and about seventy chorists, arrived this evening on a special train. Mr. Witte and the members of his suite will leave for New York at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning. Baron Komura before going to Oyster Bay will visit Harvard, his alma mater.

Others Are helped. THEIR HEALTH RESTORED

Appetites of Thousands of Home Dr. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Mrs. Pinkham's Advice. A devoted mother comes to listen to every call of duty excepting the extreme one that tells her to guard her health, and before she realises it some displacement of the female organs has manifested itself, and nervousness and weakness are the place of happiness and amiability. Tired, nervous and irritable, the mother is unfit to care for her children, and her condition ruins the child's disposition and reacts upon herself. The mother should not be blamed, as she has no doubt is suffering with backache, headache, bearing-down pains or displacement, making life a burden. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the unfailing cure for this condition. It strengthens the female organs and permanently cures all disorders such as this letter describes: Dear Mrs. Pinkham: "Being mother of five children, I have had experience with the general troubles of my sex. I was located when one of my boys was born, and from that hour I date all my afflictions. I found that within a few months my health was impaired, I had neuralgic weakness and nervous inflammation and frequent flowing spells. I became weak and nervous, but on my feet, dragging through my work without any pleasure. A neighbor who had been helped by your Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advised that I take at least one bottle. I did not feel so much better that I kept on the treatment and it made me a strong and well woman. The few dollars I spent for the medicine cannot begin to pay what it was worth to me."—Mrs. Anna McKay, 386 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Ont. Mrs. Pinkham advises sick women free. Address, Lynn, Mass.

BRITISH LUMBER MARKET

The following remarks about the state of the spruce markets on the west coast of British Columbia are the current number of the Timber Trades Journal: "As a matter of fact, the market is in a better tone all round, with enhanced prices. The foregoing prediction is still in evidence at the time of writing, and we hear that the Bay of Fundy has been in 2 per cent. less, and from Halifax 40 per cent. less than last year, while it is estimated that the total Nova Scotia spruce shipments will be 30 per cent. less than 1904. On the other hand, if the supply has been normal, tonnage could not be secured at the present time to move same as anything like fair cannot be secured for practically no amount. Some good parcels of Quebec spruce deals have arrived for export to arrive. The regular liners for Weston & Todd and Harrison, Robinson & Co., which are finding a ready market, owing to their superior quality."

THE LIBERAL NEWSPAPERS

The liberal newspapers in the west are making the C. P. R. one of the chief issues in the coming campaign in the new provinces. There is war between the C. P. R. and G. T. P. because for quite a long distance the latter will closely parallel the former, instead of opening up new territory...

It seems probable that sufficient rain has fallen to float into the boom limits above Fredericton some millions of feet of stranded logs. This is good news, as these logs can be got to the mills at St. John in time to sleep them running some time longer than had been anticipated.

It will be observed from the article quoted elsewhere in this paper that the Montreal Shareholder, a journal of finance, favors the union of Canada and the West Indies, and advances sound argument to support its contention.

The Glasgow branch of the Farmers' Association of Canada has declared by resolution that it regards the recent salary grab at Ottawa, by members of parliament, as "the biggest graft on record."

The record of golf matches compared with that of sports in general, suggests that the palm for athletic enthusiasm and prowess in St. John may shortly go to the ladies.

There is much curiosity manifested in financial circles in New York as to its partner's real financial condition. Twenty-five per cent of her total revenue is pledged for interest. If the war has cost her $500,000,000, which is a low estimate, it is not easily figured out how she can have $175,000,000 in bank in European capitals and New York, providing she has been paying cash as demands had to be met. There are yet extraordinary expenditures to be made, and Wall Street is wondering how these are to be met, when the further expense of rehabilitation is considered, to say nothing of the $600,000,000 Japan proposes to put out in equipping and bettering the railroads of Korea and Manchuria. Further than it is conceded that the commerce

At the present time, with few exceptions, all the deacons in the Anglican church are men who are passing through that stage in order that they may be ordained priests. Lately there has been a considerable movement by which God-fearing laymen have been appointed lay readers to assist the clergyman. Mr. Jenkins would have such men made perpetual deacons to assist the clergy in visiting the sick, in missions, in Sunday school work and the like spiritual work, the temporalities being left as at present to the wardens and vestry.

COPPER VIEWS

Resale of Electrolytic by a Chinese Interest--As to "Manipulation." (New York Journal of Commerce) The most important development in related copper markets was the resale of a round lot of electrolytic by Chinese interest in Shanghai. The copper which has been resold has been the same as that which has been resold in London. These negotiations have been under way for some time and it is not until recently that they have been brought to a close. The general market for copper in America is still somewhat depressed, and it is not until recently that it has begun to show signs of recovery. The most interesting feature in the copper market is the fact that the level at which actual business is done is not the same as the level at which the market is quoted. The level at which actual business is done is the level at which the market is quoted, and it is not until recently that it has begun to show signs of recovery.

THE RIDDLE OF LIFE

Whatever the nature and source of the life principle, we can only know it as it manifests itself through matter. These manifestations are, first, in the building of organized forms out of the unorganized chemical compounds; second, in the producing spontaneous movements in these organized forms. These two classes of vital phenomena cover every manifestation of life force, and wherever these are observed there the life principle is at work. If we think of reproduction we are only repeating the first process--that is, the building of organized forms out of unorganized chemical compounds. The parents are the only agents for assembling the chemical compounds in suitable environment where the life principle can build the organism. If we think of nutritive assimilation, then the first process is only being repeated in an organism already formed. Under the second division of life's manifestations, spontaneous movements, we have first, the power to change the attitude or physical position of the organism itself, arising within the organism itself. This impulse may be excited by external stimuli, or by internal desire. And, second, the receiving and transferring of nutritive material to various parts of the organism, either for its own nutrition or for the building of progeny. In my experiments I take unorganized chemical compounds--that is, mineral compounds and water, which is also an inorganic compound, and build up life-forms without the aid of similar antecedent life-forms, which could not happen without the presence and operation of the life principle. These life-forms could not have grown to any size, however small, without manifesting in their production the fundamental principles of life's vital processes, namely, nutritive assimilation and spontaneous movement. Their existence above as prima facie evidence of the presence of life. Moreover, I have frequently seen them change their physical position by spontaneous movements. It is quite impossible to present in writing the conviction of a truth fixed in the mind of years of careful observation of related phenomena. I see a photograph of a plant or animal, or even to observe it through the microscope, does not fix that conviction upon the mind that is essential to the cordial reception of a new truth. Therefore I do not ask the reader at this time either to accept or endorse what is here represented as the principle of aboriginal life. I believe it to be a solution of the riddle of the ages--the beginning of life-forms on this planet of inorganic matter. Dr. C. W. Littlejohn, in Harper's Weekly.

CANADA AND THE WEST INDIES
Montreal "Shareholder" Strongly in Favor of Union Between Them—An Arrangement That Would Be Mutually Beneficial—Would However Involve New Responsibilities and Much Expenditure.

(The Shareholder, Montreal.)

As the people of the British West Indies become better acquainted with the Dominion of Canada, there is a growing feeling among them in favor of casting in their lot with us. Union with Canada would not in any way interfere with or interrupt their allegiance to Great Britain, of which they would continue to be virtually the same relationship as now exists. The increased trade relations with Canada which have sprung up within the last few years, have furnished a fund of information to the islands in regard to this country. They have learned that Canada can supply them with almost everything they want and do not produce themselves, and at the same time that Canada offers them a substantial market for nearly, if not all, their productions. That the latter are of no small value is seen from the statement that there is an annual business of $600,000 to be done, this amount being the sum of the imports and exports of these islands. According to the Canadian blue-book relating to imports and exports from the Dominion, we find that the total trade between Canada and the West Indies for the year ended 30th June last, amounted to $7,372,223, of which $2,403,241 were exports and $4,968,982 imports. Canada imports from the islands are more than double her exports to them. This Canadian trade represents only about one-twelfth of the total trade of these islands. At the same time, however, there must be added to these figures a further amount of over two million dollars trade which is done through other countries. Were the islands incorporated with the Dominion, there is little doubt that the trade between them and the HARCOURT, Sept. 4.—Miss Mabel Walden returned from Lela Stream today. Lloyd A. Walden spent Sunday in Moncton with his uncle, Otty Bailey.

HARCOURT

The first quarterly meeting of the Methodist church for the current church year met here on Saturday afternoon, Rev. J. B. Champion presiding. The meeting was fixed at the same time as last year's. The Owen Jones bequest of $10,000 to the local general public hospital has been partly used in paying running expenses. It is likely that the municipality will be asked to make the bequest up to the original figure.

American Vitagraph Company Packed the Opera House Twice Yesterday.

The American Vitagraph Company had the good fortune yesterday of having the water men in their favor, with the result that the Opera House management, afternoon and evening, had to exhibit their S. R. O. sign before the commencement of each performance.

The collection of pictures in the afternoon was perhaps more outstanding than in the evening. Both, however, were grand exhibitions, and well worth seeing. The management announced that a new series would be presented this evening.

Last evening the gallery was filled, overflowing with young boys, who annoyed the audience very much with their incessant shouting and hissing at some of the magnificent scenes that did not appeal to their youthful fancy.

The La Tourrette adventures, showing three men travelling over the mountains, were very realistic. Buster Brown and "Tige" (the dog) brought forth bursts of laughter from the audience.

Perhaps the most exciting picture of the evening performance was the wrestling match between Hackenschmidt, the Russian champion, and Tom Jenkins. The audience could clearly see the movements of the massively built men, and many were carried away by its realistic presentation. Russian reigned supreme in "the gods" during the presentation of this picture. The Russian finally threw Jenkins twice and won the match.

For those who like to see the beautiful and during the same evening have a good laugh, the Opera House is the place this week.

THE CHANGE IN THE CLEANER

The change in ownership of the Fred. erickson Cleaner will be made at once if the matter has not already been adjusted. The transfer of the property was in the hands of H. F. McLeod and O. S. Crockett, P. P., and it was expected to have the business done before Mr. Crockett left yesterday afternoon for Coaticook, where he will be married tomorrow.

A large part of the $20,000 capital stock was distributed in small lots among York county people, but the principal stockholders are Conservative politicians. The cleaner will in the future be called to give its support in local politics to the opposition. In Dominion politics there will be little change, for since the last election it has been giving the benefit of its influence to the member for York, a brother of the editor.

Ed. J. Payson, the business manager, who was in the city yesterday, said there would be no changes made in the staff.

BASEBALL Dufferins vs. Moncton

The baseball team, composed of the Dufferin Hotel employees, will play the Moncton Hotel Club on the Victoria grounds Sept. 15.

The Dufferin boys have been playing good ball this season and it is hoped that a good crowd will see the game and give the boys encouragement.

Hampton vs. St. Roses On Saturday afternoon at Hampton, one of the most interesting ball games of the season was played between the Hampton A. C. and St. Rose's of Fairville.

Although the game went against the home team, the contest was so close that it was anybody's guess till the end of the last inning. The score was 7 to 6 in favor of the "St. Roses."

The "Hampton" battery seemed as great a puzzle as ever and the support been a little sharper than usual might have been different.

The double umpire system did not give as good satisfaction as it should have, but aside from that everything was entirely satisfactory.

The two games booked for one day will be the Martellos postponed on account of the weather.

WEDDINGS TOMORROW

Several Happy Events in Which Many Are Interested.

Although June is usually considered the popular month for weddings, it would appear from present indications that the number of September brides will outstrip that of the "balmy summer month."

Quite a number of weddings will be celebrated in the city tomorrow, among which are the following:

Guthrie-Smith

What promises to be the most brilliant wedding of the present season will be celebrated in St. John's (Stone) church, at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, when Miss Amy Smith, second daughter of Mrs. George F. Smith, will be married to Norman Guthrie, a prominent Ottawa lawyer.

Elaborate preparations are being made, and as a large number of invitations have been issued, the event has been looked forward to with considerable interest in society circles of St. John.

The bride will be attended by her sister, Miss Leslie Smith, Miss Westbrook, Miss Harrison and Miss Guthrie, while Mr. McCann will support the occasion.

The ceremony will be performed by Rev. Gustav A. Kuhling, the rector, and the choir, under the direction of the organist and choirmaster, Dr. Arnold Fox, will render music appropriate to the occasion.

After the ceremony luncheon will be served, after which the happy couple will leave for a wedding tour to the United States. On their return they will reside in Ottawa.

Roden-Nagle

A quiet house wedding will be celebrated at five o'clock tomorrow morning, when Miss Nellie Nagle, daughter of W. J. Nagle, will become the wife of Frank R. Roden, of the office staff of T. McElroy & Sons.

The ceremony will be performed at the home of the bride, 183 Carmarthen street, and the nuptial knot will be tied by Rev. A. D. Dewdney, rector of St. James' church.

The bride will be attended and will wear a travelling costume of navy blue with hat to match. After the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Roden will leave by the early train for a honeymoon trip to Nova Scotia, taking in Halifax and Annapolis Valley.

The presents, which are numerous and beautiful, attest to the popularity of the happy couple.

Bishop-Finley

Tomorrow morning, about 5:30 o'clock, George Bishop, bookkeeper for the McClary Manufacturing Co., Ltd., will be united in marriage to Miss Ethel Finley, daughter of Mrs. Roscoe Finley, 78 Sewell street. The ceremony will be performed in St. Andrew's church by Rev. Mr. Lang.

In Fredericton

FREDERICTON, N. B., Sept. 5.—(Special)—The marriage of Rev. George D. Ireland, pastor of Woodstock church, to Miss Carrie Winslow, of this city, will be solemnized at Christ Church Cathedral tomorrow afternoon.

Charles Sangster, of Vancouver, and Miss May Cliff are to be married at the bride's home tomorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Sangster will be attended by Rev. Mr. Lang.

The ceremony will be performed at the home of the bride, 183 Carmarthen street, and the nuptial knot will be tied by Rev. A. D. Dewdney, rector of St. James' church.

OLD ROUND HOUSE WILL STAY

General Manager Polinger of the I. C. R. has decided for the present not to demolish the old round house, as was intended. The plan was to attach a steel tower to the tower of the building and the other end to be attached to a locomotive. The engine would then be forced ahead and result in the dragging of the tower from its position.

As the building stands now, the tower is something of a menace to people and the houses in the neighborhood. The building is old and the upper portion is liable to blow down during a powerful gale. Its removal would mean increased yard space, but as matters are at present it is very uncertain when the structure will come down.

ANOTHER FAX COMING

Those who have laughed themselves sore at the absurd comicities of Ruben Fax, who in his inimitable portrayal of the city character in "Bonnie Brier Bush" has touched the heights of greatness, will be interested to learn that there is still a greater than Ruben in the Fax family. This is James Fax, who has during his fifteen years before the public well earned the distinction of being at least peer to any character entertainer in
