Sir Hilton's Sin.

BY GEORGE MANVILLE FENN, Author of "Black Blood," "A Woman Worth Winning," "Master of Ceremonies," "The New Mistress," "The Meeting of Greeks," "Dawn Swords," Etc.

(Continued.) "Oh, yes, I forgot; and my manners, too. How is her ladyship?" "Oh, well--very well, Jack," said Sir Hilton, in a mournful way. "That's right, old chap. Well, trot her out."

"Lady Lisle has always taken an interest in parish matters and the poor, and it pleases her. She would not, of course, like me to take an interest in racing affairs."

Daily Fashion Hint for Times Readers.

A DRESSY COSTUME SEEN IN THE ENCLOSURE. All sorts of costumes are seen at the race, everything from the severest smart mobhair or serge tailor-made to the most elaborate toilette of silk, chiffon or some such dressy material.

"I am, Jack, I am," "Come, then," "No, don't ask me," said the baronet, "my racing days are over."

"Then you really won't come?" "No, Jack, I can't. It would break my wife's heart if I did, and she really is very fond of me."

"But, personally, you are not flush of money, are you?" "Never was so short in my life," the doctor laughed. "Seize the chance, then, to get you up for a couple of years."

"Exactly. There would be no gambling in it?" "If it were some horse whose character you did not know, it would be different. But here you are your own mare, whom you know down to the ground."

THE SUSSEX SOLDIERS MUST STEER CLEAR OF PITCH FORKS

Ordered Not to Trespass Upon Private Property During Today's Sham Battle.

Sussex, July 4--Tomorrow is the banner day in Camp Sussex, it being tactical day. The sun was very warm today and as there is not a cloud in the sky tonight there is every prospect of fine weather tomorrow.

There is unusual interest being manifested in the Blue forces' battle by those under canvas, and during the past two days the soldiers have worked earnestly to have a good knowledge for Friday's tactics.

The Blue forces will be under the command of Lieut. Col. Mackenzie, 73rd Regt., as C. S. O., consisting of: B Squadron, 8th Hussars, under command of Major Kinross; 10th Battery, C. F. A., under command of Major Good; 6th Regiment, 8th C. F. A. (Newcastle). One engineer officer, representing cavalry pioneers, half No. 8, Field Artillery, under command of Major Walker, No. 8, F. A., will parade at such hour as Lieut. Colonel Wedderburn orders.

The Red forces will be under the command of Lieut. Col. Mackenzie, 73rd Regt., as C. S. O., consisting of: B Squadron, 8th Hussars, under command of Major Kinross; 10th Battery, C. F. A., under command of Major Good; 6th Regiment, 8th C. F. A. (Newcastle). One engineer officer, representing cavalry pioneers, half No. 8, Field Artillery, under command of Major Walker, No. 8, F. A., will parade at such hour as Lieut. Colonel Wedderburn orders.

The umpire selected for the bloodless combat are Lieut. Col. Geo. Holt White, chief umpire, assisted by Lieut. Colonel Bibb, Vince, Campbell, MacLaren, Caldwell, L. L. Murray, du Domaine, Armstrong, Cheric, Ogilvie, McLean and Major Sheehan.

Twenty rounds of blank ammunition per carbine and rifle will be issued, and O. S. C. units are held responsible that each N. C. O. and man under their respective commands is thoroughly searched before the ammunition is issued.

The umpire selected for the bloodless combat are Lieut. Col. Geo. Holt White, chief umpire, assisted by Lieut. Colonel Bibb, Vince, Campbell, MacLaren, Caldwell, L. L. Murray, du Domaine, Armstrong, Cheric, Ogilvie, McLean and Major Sheehan.

The strict orders have been given that officers commanding the Red and Blue forces respectively, will be very careful to see that no trespass is committed on private property during the manoeuvres and thus not have the troops scattered by farmers with pitch forks.

It has been arranged that the firing between the combatants will close as soon as they are within 100 yards of each other. The decision of the umpire will be given immediately after the battle is over and the smoke lifts and reveals to the umpire in chief the faces of those who will be cold in death. The O. C. of the unit affected by the decision of the umpire will be held responsible that the decision is at once carried out.

Dr. Sutherland tells of the work in China and Japan. In Victoria, B. C. last week, an address on the progress of Methodist mission work in China and Japan was delivered by Rev. Dr. Sutherland, general secretary of missions of the Methodist church of Canada, who had just returned from a visit to the Orient, where he inspected the work being done by the missionaries of his denomination.

Dr. Sutherland said that in the province of Shantung, in the western part of China, where Methodist influence is most felt, there is a demand for more workers. Last year there were fourteen missionaries in this province, and now twelve more are wanted, while it is estimated that more than one hundred will be required within the next five years. During the past five years there had been great changes, and more results had been realized than in all of two thousand years.

James Barnes, M. P. P. of Kent, is in town, and it is said will be sworn in as a member of the government without portfolio. The government will meet again tomorrow.

previously. The missionary societies were endeavoring to keep pace with these changes, and their work was rapidly growing. In Chentu, the capital of Shantung, the missionary society was building a hospital that would cost $25,000, and was co-operating with other denominations for the purpose of securing the erection of a college for the education of Chinese.

WEDDINGS

McBeath-Lingley. A pretty wedding was solemnized at 8:30 o'clock Thursday evening at the residence of Rev. Gideon Swim, Cedar street, when Miss Bertha Pauline Lingley was united in marriage to Alex. McBeath, son of James McBeath, 80 Adelaide street. The bride was becomingly attired in white net over tulle, and carried a showed bouquet of white roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Isabelle, and William Williams acted as groomsmen. A tempting supper was served at the bride's home after the ceremony. The many costly presents attested to the popularity of the young couple.

Moncton, July 4--A pretty wedding event took place last evening in St. Bernard's church, when Miss Emma McDonald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry McDonald, was married to Herman J. Thomas, of the I. C. R. office, a well known ball player and son of Charles Thomas. Rev. Father Savage performed the ceremony. The bride was becomingly gowned in a traveling suit of brown, with hat to match, and was attended by Miss Mary McManis, who wore cream silk with overdress of embroidered chiffon and hat to match. Walter McGinn acted as groomsmen.

THE GLORIOUS FOURTH

Many Victims Mark New York and Boston's Celebration.

New York, July 4--Independence day, observed in a blaze of pyrotechnics, the most imposing that New Yorkers have witnessed. A deafening roar maintained throughout the day by burning of millions of dollars worth of powder, gave way after midnight to the exhibition of fireworks experts.

Viewed from its lighter side, the holiday was truly glorious. A smiling sun and moderate temperature brought the tens of thousands to the beaches, the public parks and amusement resorts.

In the background the police and hospital surgeons went grimly about their work of removing the dead and ministering to the wounded. Tonight the police were reckoning the cost in casualties of the day's celebration. At a late hour the list was not complete, but it was known that this celebration had cost seven lives, that a half dozen persons were dying, and hundreds of others were being treated at the hospitals for injuries ranging from slight burns with the possibility of infection to bullet wounds and lost limbs.

Of the dead, three succumbed in premature celebrations.

In an ecstasy of patriotism, Arthur Carroo rapidly discharged a revolver in his back yard. One of the bullets entered the head of his young son, who was eight years old.

Another person sent a bullet crashing through the brain of eighteen-year-old Nimpa Grizzanti, as she stood near the open window of her room dressing her hair.

Henry Engellardt, aged four, dared to look out of the window of his home. A bullet killed him.

John Graham, aged ten, was internally torn by a toy cannon. His condition is critical.

Arthur Carroo, aged twenty-five, is one of a dozen whose hands were blown off.

Boston, July 4--What is generally regarded as the quietest and most orderly fourth of July in Boston has ever seen, closed at midnight with a remarkably creditable showing in the matter of serious accidents, fires and arrests for violation of ordinances. The strict enforcement of the law forbidding use of firearms and the blowing of horns, and the thoroughness of the celebration of the hours between 4 a. m. and midnight, had much to do with the record of the day.

But one fatal accident was recorded. Augustus Daly, aged nine, of Roxbury, being frightened by the report of a cannon fire-cracker, tumbled down stairs and died of injuries before reaching the hospital. The second most serious accident of the day was the burning of Annie, the four-year-old daughter of Charles W. Weislander, South Boston, whose dress caught fire, causing injuries which may result in her death.

The total number of injured treated at the local hospitals during the twenty-four hours of the day numbered 125. There were sixty fires to call on the department, none of which caused any considerable damage, and the police department was called upon to place under arrest fifteen persons charged with the violation of the city ordinances regarding the celebration of the fourth.

MAJOR GENERAL STOBART GETS A ROUSING WELCOME

Head of Uniform Rank Knights of Pythias Given Reception and Banquet by Local Companies.

Local members of the order of Knights of Pythias gave Major-General Arthur J. Stobart, of St. Paul (Minn.), the head of the uniform rank branch of the order, a hearty welcome to St. John last evening.

On entering the hall the general was received with great applause. He was given a seat at the right of the presiding officer.

After some further remarks he called upon Captain Godose who paid tribute to the work of General Stobart in the uniform rank.

The major-general was then introduced and made a very pleasing address, which elicited frequent applause.

Major-General Stobart was in charge of the relief work at that trying time. In New Orleans, where the military encampment was held last year, the military authorities paid a high tribute to the rank for its efficiency and fine appearance.

STORY OF FRANCIS MURPHY'S GREAT TEMPERANCE CRUSADE

Spent His Early Life in Portland Me.—Induced Over 16,000 Persons to Sign the Pledge.

PORTLAND, Me., July 4—Francis Murphy, the "Apostle of Temperance," the great promoter of the Blue Ribbon movement, who died in Los Angeles, Cal., Sunday, suffered from a complication of pneumonia and was nearly blind.

When he returned to New York he was given a great reception in Cooper Union, which was followed by a series of receptions in Philadelphia and other cities, ending in Pittsburgh, where he lived for 25 years.

When the Spanish-American war began Mr. Murphy offered himself to the governor of Pennsylvania, and was appointed a chaplain of the Fifth Pennsylvania volunteers. He went to Honolulu in 1900 and held a great series of meetings there.

The victim was Fred. Logan and Thomas Hilliard, of St. John (N. B.), and Charles Gough, of Fredericton (N. B.). The bodies have been recovered.

NEW PAPER WILL FIGHT AGAINST FREEMASONRY

Said to Be Aim of L'Action Sociale—Event of Importance in Religious and Political Circles.

MONTREAL, July 4—As the month of September approaches the interest in the proposed publication of L'Action Sociale becomes more and more acute in religious circles throughout French Canada, for that is the name decided upon for the new paper which is to appear in the city of Quebec, and which is announced in advance of possessing the approbation of the head of the hierarchy, Mr. Begin, Archbishop of Quebec.

One of the best known writers on the French press of the New England states, in the person of F. K. Laflamme, a close relative of Bishop Laflamme of the Seminary of Quebec, has been selected as the leading writer on the new journalistic venture.

It is, however, the mission which the Archbishop of Quebec and the clergy of this province have called upon Mr. Laflamme to carry out in old Quebec, that makes the publication of L'Action Sociale an event of prime importance in political and social circles.

It is not English Freemasonry that we fear," said a leading church layman to the writer yesterday, "but you would be really surprised," he added, "if you knew the number of French-Canadian young men who have become allied to French Freemasonry. This is the great danger in front of us, and this is why L'Action Sociale has been called into being."

J. D. Haasn, M. P. P., returned to the city last evening on the Boston train. Frank B. Carvell, M. P., of Woodstock, was in the city yesterday and left on the C. P. R. last evening.

ST. JOHN MAN RESIGNS IMPORTANT POSITION

Winnipeg, July 4—W. Brown, general agent of the Canadian Northern, admitted last night that he had resigned his position. He will step out as soon as D. B. Hamm, third vice-president and general manager, returns to the city.

Mr. Brown is a St. John boy, and a former employee of the C. P. R., who has risen to the top in his profession. The announcement of his resignation will be a surprise to his St. John friends, but it was no surprise to his relatives here. His brother, Walter E. Brown, trainmaster of the C. P. R., said he had understood some time ago that his brother was going to take a needed rest. He was not in the least surprised when he was told that it likely he would come home for a time.

THE SECRET OF CRISP PASTRY

Keep three things in view, if you want unvarying success with your pastry—cold water, good shortening, and Blended Flour.

Ice Water and butter are preferable, but it may be more convenient to use cold water and some other good shortening. But stick to the Blended Flour. It will never fail to give a light, flaky crust—so tender, it will break with a breath, and as easy to digest as it is delicious.

Combine the two, and you will get a perfect flour, that has the full rich flavor and delicacy of Ontario fall wheat, and the strength of Manitoba spring wheat—an ideal combination.

RUBBER MERGER IS NOT COMPLETE

More Canadian Companies Outside Than In It—No Ground for Fears.

Much concern has been caused in business circles in Canada interested in rubber by the statement that the merger formed by the amalgamation of the United States Rubber Company with the Canadian Consolidated Rubber Company would secure a monopoly of the manufacturing industry not only in the United States but also in Canada, and the impression has got abroad that this step is but a preliminary to a marked enhancement of prices and to other undesirable developments which usually follow the elimination of competition. It has even been assumed on the strength of the statements emanating from New York and Montreal that matters in the rubber manufacturing trade were drifting in the direction of a world monopoly. The truth appears to be that while the new merger is undoubtedly an attempt to secure control of the manufacturing industry in both countries the result will not be anything like the monopoly which in some quarters has been feared.

Dr. James Venables

Halifax, N. S., July 4—(Special)—Dr. James Venables died today. The deceased, who was 68 years of age, has been more than thirty years practicing in Halifax. He was a graduate of Harvard University in 1867, and is survived by two sons and two daughters. He was a son of the late James Venables for many years provincial librarian.

Many will extend sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Regan in the death of their infant son, Henry J., which occurred last night.

Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Walker left England on July 3 on their return home. S. B. Smith, of Hoyt Station, who has been in the city a few days, returned home last evening.
