ENCOURAGING CRIME.

The attitude of jurors toward police testimony has been freely discussed in New York courts. Frequent disagreements of jurors and acquittals in cases where direct police testimony brought crime to accused persons has created a feeling of uneasiness. If the people's guardians cannot be trusted by them the situation is serious.—Toronto Globe. The above remarks do not bear any direct relation to a recent case in this city, but the closing sentence is at least pertinent. Two St. John policemen were assaulted and severely injured while discharging their duty. One of them narrowly escaped death from a blow on the head, dealt with a club. The evidence was clear enough to convince the general public that at the very least a cowardly assault had been made on the officers. Yet a jury has found the assailants not guilty. Hereafter the members of the police force will be warranted by this verdict in considering their own personal safety rather than the public peace. If a man is to get his head cracked for doing what he believes to be his duty, and there is no redress, he may as well let the other fellows crack each other's heads and content himself with the less dangerous pastime of merely giving evidence at the inquest.

THE LATE PRESIDENT.

There was certainly no hurry on the part of the Canadian authorities in proclaiming today a day of mourning for the late President McKinley. The proclamation was not issued till last night, and the people were not aware of it till they got today's papers. However, the formal command was unnecessary so far as the people are concerned. All eyes in Canada turn sadly today to the graveside in Ohio, where the last rites have been performed over the remains of the noble and distinguished man who was so lately in the full vigor of life, honored and beloved by the people of a great nation. The following reflections from the New York Mail and Express, will strike a sympathetic chord in all hearts, on this day of his burial.

In the presence of the great mystery it is only the simple things and the deep things that abide. The pilgrim soul puts off all else as it begins its journey through the Dark Valley. There was no thought of "whatsoever distinction or power or success may have come to him that dwelt with the dying president. Whether he had won or lost his worldly battle, whether the night of his career was sinking and rejoicing or lamentation was so little to him at that supreme moment that it did not enter his mind at all. As his eyes were closing upon earth and opening, as we must believe, upon a fairer scene, what did he carry with him to the portals of the beyond as the things that he would not put away? We read that his mind wandered, and in his delirium he spoke of his old home in the little Ohio city and pitifully of his longing to return there to rest. We read that he asked for the woman who had made the journey of life by his side. We read that he remembered his friends and were we not all his friends?—and bade them farewell. We read that he remembered his God and greeted Him with the murmured words of the song that was also a prayer: Nearer, My God, to Thee, Nearer to Thee. That was all. One's God, one's home and family, one's friends—life holds nothing else that the soul regrets or remembers as it looks backward before it crosses the peaks of the mountains.

The New York Herald, discussing a rumor that President Roosevelt might not be favorable to the Hay-Pauncefote treaty with Great Britain, says: "His request that all the members of the cabinet, including Secretary Hay, should retain their positions, and his voluntary pledge that he will carry out Mr. McKinley's policy should allay these fears. Mr. Roosevelt is too good a statesman not to know that international peace and friendship cannot exist without reciprocal concessions."

They have an early closing-by-law in Winnipeg, and they propose to have it enforced. A number of Hebrews who violated the law were summoned before the magistrate last week and fined.

THE CZAR IN FRANCE.

COMPAGNIE, Sept. 18.—The train carrying the czar and czarina and suite and President Loubet and suite to this city today dashed through a double row of bayonets and drawn salutes, infantry reinforced by dragons and husars. In some cases a double line of troops was on each side of the track, the first line being foot soldiers and the second line cavalry. Any outrage along the track was utterly impossible. In the town of Compiegne the streets were entirely clear and the sidewalks were occupied by soldiers. Every window, however, was filled with spectators who greeted Emperor Nicholas with incessant cheers. The evening was quietly spent in the castle.

The trades and labor congress yesterday, declared for compulsory arbitration, and also for municipal ownership of public franchises and control of great staple industries.

TERRIBLE WINTER AHEAD.

The supply steamer Algerine, now at Sydney from Labrador, went along the coast as far north as Chiddy, the northern extremity of Labrador. The whole coast was fringed with heavy ice. Fishing from Cape Harrison to Chiddy has been a complete failure, in most years. At Chiddy, Capt. William Bartlett has been for years carrying on an extensive fish business. Last year he handled 10,000 quintals of fish. This year he could not secure 100, which shows the utter failure of the season.

"Well, I can see the finish," said the hard-hearted manager, as he wrote the usual two weeks' discharge.

WESTERN DAIRIES.

Chief Ruddick En Route to the Pacific Province—Industry Increasing in the Territories. (Winnipeg-Free Press.) J. A. Ruddick, chief of the dairy branch of the department of agriculture, Ottawa, arrived in the city on Thursday. In conversation with a Free Press representative Mr. Ruddick stated that he is on his way west to British Columbia, where he will meet a couple of inspectors and will there devote some time to travelling instruction work in dairying through the Pacific province. Upon completing his work on the coast he will pay a visit to the creameries and cheese factories in Manitoba and the Northwest Territories. He states that Manitoba butter has improved lately and that the improvement both in the article and its packing is commented upon in the Montreal markets.

W. A. Wilson, of Regina, superintendent of creameries for Assiniboia, who was in company with Mr. Ruddick, states that dairy work is rapidly advancing in the Northwest Territories, and the output of butter has greatly increased in volume. The Churchbridge creamery manufactured 65,000 pounds of butter during the whole of last season, but this year they have already made over 100,000 lbs., and the probability is that this year their output as compared with last season will be increased by 100 per cent. Mr. Wilson estimates an increase of between 40 and 50 per cent. for the entire division.

FAIR AT FORTY.

It was Balzac who discovered that the woman of thirty is more fascinating than the girl of twenty. Now the "Lady's Pictorial" puts the sentiment of the famous French novelist to the test, and declares that the apple of discord is due to the woman of forty. It is as interesting a proposition of faith, and one wonders whether the general acceptance of it by mankind has anything to do with that increasing tendency to defer marriage till late in life which modern philosophers have often noticed and sometimes deplored. If the woman of forty is really the most charming it is only natural that bachelors should wish to remain bachelors until they are fit helpmates for her.

SRD REGT. C. A.

Presentation on the Retirement of an Old and Efficient Non-Commissioned Officer.

The Artillery had a battalion drill last night at the drill shed. At the close of the parade Lt. Col. G. West Jones formed the corps into a hollow square, and then called Sgt. Major Hughes to the front for his last parade. Major Crawford, acting adjutant, read the following address:

SRD NEW BRUNSWICK REGIMENT CANADIAN ARTILLERY.

Regimental Orders by Lt. Col. Jones, Commanding.

To be regimental sergeant major, Orderly Room Sgt. John A. Lawrence, Vice Sgt. Major Samuel Hughes, retired.

To be orderly room sergeant, Orderly Room Sgt. J. A. Lawrence, Vice Sgt. Major Samuel Hughes, retired.

To be company sergeant major, Orderly Room Sgt. N. A. Sealey, Vice Sgt. Major Samuel Hughes, retired.

The commanding officer cannot permit honorable connection with the corps without giving some expression to his feelings on the retirement of so good a non-commissioned officer.

Sgt. Major Hughes, after serving his late Majesty in the Artillery and taking part in the Boer War, for which service he wears the Crimean medal, besides the long service and good conduct medals, was appointed sergeant major of this corps when the "New Brunswick Brigade of Guards" was formed in the month of September of the year last.

He has not only been a most efficient drill instructor, but he has also acted as a most competent drill instructor to officers as well as men. Ever cheerful and efficient in the discharge of his duties, he has won the respect and admiration of all ranks.

Every past and present officer, non-commissioned officer and soldier in the regiment, and now retiring at his own request, he still holds the esteem, good will and best wishes of all his comrades.

P. CAVERHILL JONES, Captain, Adjutant 3rd Regiment C. A.

Colonel Jones, addressing Sgt. Major Hughes, spoke of his long connection with the corps and his faithful service to his Sovereign while in the Royal Artillery and subsequently in the militia, expressing his own regret and that of every member of the regiment at the retirement of so efficient a non-commissioned officer, and then presented the retiring sergeant-major with a very handsome ornate marble clock as a mark of esteem and respect from the officers of the corps.

He then called upon Lt. Col. J. R. Armstrong to supplement what he had said. Colonel Armstrong followed in a few eulogistic sentences.

Sgt. Major Hughes, replying, thanked his old comrades for the gift, which he said he would always prize as a reminder of his long service in the regiment, and regretted that his connection with the corps would now cease, owing to his physical disability to do the work.

The regimental band then played "Auld Lang Syne."

And thus terminated the military life of a good old soldier of the Queen.

MILLIONS OF TONS

Of Iron Ore Found on The Coast of Labrador.

(Sydney Post.)

For some time the Dominion Development Company of Ottawa has been prospecting for minerals in Labrador. Recently they made the important discovery of iron ore deposits on an island not far from St. John's in the Hudson Straits that is estimated to contain 60,000,000 tons. These claims are supposed to be the most extensive in the world.

The Dominion Development Company is comprised of English, American and Canadian capitalists and have unlimited resources to back them up in their work of development.

The steam barque Algerine arrived Tuesday morning from her trip to the Labrador coast. She was loaded with material for the Dominion Development Company, now prospecting on the Labrador coast. On board the Algerine were a party of American college students who are bringing back numerous trophies of their expedition.

At Hopewell, the Algerine found Mr. Lowe, superintendent of the Dominion Development Company, who had been overland from Ottawa. He had charged material for the houses.

A trolley car on the Niagara, St. Catharines & Toronto Railway yesterday afternoon, ran down a wagon containing Mrs. Thomas and her two daughters and Mrs. McMillan, all of Alabam. The older Miss Thomas was fatally injured and the others badly hurt.

Two unknown men were found dead in the Central railroad yards at Ulster, N. Y., this morning. They were close together and were badly mangled. It is supposed they were walking along the tracks, became confused and were run down by a freight train.

A FOOLISH RESOLUTION.

At the trades and labor congress at Brantford yesterday a motion calling on labor men not to join the militia unless the country was invaded caused a lengthy discussion, many objecting to the use of volunteers to suppress labor troubles. The resolution finally carried.

To cure Headache in ten minutes use KUMFORT Headache Powders.
