Col. Domville Gives Notice of a Series of Questions Regarding the Eighth Hussars.

Two Insurance Bills Introduced By the Minister of Finance-Discussing the Oil Duty and the Combine of the Oil Barons.

OTTAWA, April 25.-In the commons this afternoon Mr. Ethier of Two Mountains, Quebec, introduced a bill amending the criminal code in the matter of execution of criminals. The measure is occasioned by the revolting scene alt the recent execution of Cordelia Viau and Sam Parslow at St. Scholastique.

Mr. Britton of Kingstion, Out., introduced a bill to provide for the use of the MacDonald voting machine in federal elections.

A considerable discussion arose ove the failure of Hon. Mr. Fisher to produce the documents relating to the plebiscite from which the minister quoted the other day.

The house went finto committee of supply and had a lively discussion on increases of sallaries, contrary to the Civil Service Act, and on the arbitrary selection of some officers for increases while others, apparently equally efficient, were passed over. OTTAWA, April 26—Hon. Mr. Fielding introduced two insurance bills this afternoon. The first fixes the insurance rate at three and a half, instead of four and a half per cent, on which present calculations are based. As to new business, the proposed rate will come into force next year. As to old business, the present rate will stand for seven years longer.

The other bill establishes a safety premium rate for benevolent insurance. Those who choose to adopt this scale may come under the general in-

Replying to Mr. Martin of P. E. Island, Hon. Mr. Fisher said that several stations would be established this year in Canada for the fattening of poultry.

The minister of agriculture, replying to another question by Mr. Martin, said that the government did not intend to initiate any scheme for the straying of fruit trees, but would this year act with the Fruit Grovers' Association of Prince Edward Island in straying fruit trees, and in shipping apples to the British market.

By whose orders the transfer was made?

Was he commanding officer of the regiment untified at the time? If not, why not?

Was Major Wedderburn, regimental store-the rules and orders of the multita of Canada?

What orders was given at the time by the militia department of Canada?

Was such order sent at the time by the apples to the British market.

Sociation of Prince Edward Island in Sipraying fruit trees, and in shipping apples to the British market.

Hon. Mr. Borden informed Mr. Bethune of Victoria, N.S., that the government had under consideration the building of a drill shed at Baddeck.

Hon. Mr. Paterson said that the privilege of the bonded warehouse in Kings Co., P. E. I., was given last December for an indefinite time, but representations had been made which the government would enquire into.

Sir Richard Cartwright informed Mr. McDonald of P. E. Island that a contract has been made with R. J. Leslie of Halifax for a weekly steamship service between the Magdalen Islands and Prince Edward Island and Nova Scotia. The subsidy is $9,000 a year. The steamships include St. Nova Scotia. The evening session was devoted to private bills and public bills and orders. The latter included Casey's bill about drainage of lands crosssed by railways, and a bill of Britton's to amend the criminal code by making a number of verbal and other changes. THE EXODUS.

Both Senators Perley and Almon, as well as Senator Boulton, egretted the fact that the government was taking no steps to keep our own people home, while it was bringing in wholesale importations of Doukhobors and Gali-

The minister of justice claimed that mmigration was unusually large. He wanted to know how the government could keep the people home if they wanted to go away.

Senator Ferguson referred to the vain boast made in the speech from the throne that the exodus had ended, though the value of settlers' effects sent out of the country was officially reported at $400,000 higher than in the last year of conservataive rule. IN THE HOUSE.

Mr. McAllister asked whether the government had noticed news items in the St. John Sun of the 18th referring to the departures from Dorchester, Moncton, Sackville, Tignish, Fredericton and Truro.

How Mr. Sitten replied that he did not think the statements were true, as the despatches all bore the same date, which seemed to him to be a COL. DOMVILLE'S CASE.

Col. Domville, M. P., has received from the general officer commanding a modification giving him "permanent leave of absence." It is difficult to ascertain exactly what is the immediate cause of this practical retirement.

The General when seen, declined to give information, and the minister of militia says that nothing official has

To the Sun correspondent, Colonel Domville said that he had received a notice inviting him to retire from the command for the time being. He supposed that the tation arose from the charges made against him by Col. Markham, which matters were to be investigated. Col. Domville did not say what course he would take, but stated that he was yet in command It is supposed that he will not submit vithout a struggle.
Tonight Colonel Domville gives no

When was Major Wedderburn relieved of his position of regimental storekeeper and what order was issued and by whom? The affair excites a good deal of interest among the military members, OTTAWA April 27.-After routine Mr. Bostock of Yale, B. C., moved the second reading of his bill to provide for compulsory issue of railway passes by companies to members of parliament. He argued that members who now accepted passes as a favor were under an obligation, whereas if it were given as a right they would be more independent.

Sir Charles Tupper opposed the bill they would be more independent. Sir Charles Tupper opposed the bill as an invasion of private rights and as generally tending to make parliament ridiculous. Sir Wilfrid Laurier did not accept the view that the scheme was wholly ridiculous, but declared that the government would oppose the measure. He asked Mr. Bostock to withdraw it, which the British Columbia member did not do, whereupon it was lost on

The discussion of the spoils system was resumed in the evening.

A vote was finally taken on Lan-rier's motion for a six months hoist. The amendment was carried by a vote of 64 to 38; majority 25.

Stubbs and Leighton McCarthy, the only two McCarthyite members, and Rogers, the only patron member voted against the government.

House adjourned at ten. NOTES

Colonel Domville is leaving for New Brunswick fornorrow. He says that arrangements have been made to hold in abeyance General Hutton's notification of leave of absence. The situation in respect to the colonel is this: General Hutton some time since agreed that Col. Domville should not be retired while the matter of the care of arms appropriation was under inquiry before the finance committee. Events, however, occurred which made it appear to General Hutton destrable that Colonel Domville should not remain in command. He therefore gave the colonel permanent leave of absence. The member for Kings has been exerting himself with the political heads of departments vesterday and today, with the result, as he states, that it is the order and not the colonel which is under suspension.

Today, for the first time this ses sion, the flag on the parliament building was at half mast. This was in recognition of the death of Senator Sutherland.

Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper reurned from British Columbia and took his seat in the house today.

The question of preferential trade will be taken up by the senate as well as the house of commons. Mr. Kirchhoffer gives notice on the 4th of May he will move: on the 4th of May he will move:

That it is advisable that a customs arrangement be effected between the United Kingdom and her colonies, by which trade within the empire be placed on a move favorable footing than that which is carried on with foreign countries, and this house expressed the hope that the government of Canada will at the earliest opportunity take such steps as may be necessary to co-operate with Her Majesty's secretary of state for the colonies in his efforts to reach an arrangement for preferential trade witch the empire which shall be acceptable to the mother country and the colonies and dependencies of the empire.

MANILA, April 27, 9.45 p. m.—Gen. McArthur's division crossed the Rio Grande today and advanced on Apafit, completely routing the flower of fite rebel army. Most of the rebels fled to the Apalit station, where two trains were waiting them. They fled harriedly, presumably, for San Feri ando. The towns of San Vincent and Apalit were burned and evacuated by the patives. Twenty prisoners were captured, including a Spaniard.
The American troops also captured a brass cannon and a quantity of arms and ammunition, and the same evening they captured a Maxim gun on the railroad. The fighting lasted from meon until four o'clock. The American loss is one man of the Mon-tana regiment killed and three officers and six men wounded. The enemy were very strongly in trenched on the river bank near both sides of the railroad bridge. Gen. Wheatons sent Col. Finston across with two companies of the Twentieth Kansas regiment, a couple of privates swimming the swift stream with a rope, under a galling fire, for the purjose of guiding the craft. The men crossed in squads of twensebels, who scuttled, like rabbits, into sovered ways and trenches. The rest of the regiment was compelled to cross the bridge in single fife along the stringers. All of the woodwork and much of the ironwork had been removed. The first Montana regiment followed the Kansas across Hilyard of St. John. Mr. Lloyd is a large shareholder in the London Chronicle. The company prooses to erect pulp and paper mills on the Tobique river, and to carry on the manufacture of paper upon a arge scale. The bill is meeting with tremuous opposition from some of the of que from the fact that the compeny wish to erect dams and booms across the Tobique at the Narrows. The lumbermen claim that this will really retard their operations. New Brunswick Land Co. are largely interested, and were represented before the committee by H. H. McLean and W. T. Whitehead. The Messrs. Hilyard and their counsel, A. P. Barnhill, were present to promote the bill. This evening the bill finally passed the committee with amendments inenided to protect the rights of other number operators on that river. The conditions attached to the bill provide that the company must commence operations within one year and expend $250,000 within two years.

TWO PRICE BRIDGES.

Hon. Mr. Emmerson Finally Makes An Important Confession,

FREDERICTON. April 27.—The public accounts committee held its last meeting this morning and completed the examination of the auditor general's report. The chief dommissioner was present and explained the expenditures in his department which had been held over for examination. He stated that the cost of installing the electric light plant at the lunatic asylum, which gives power for ony thousand 15 or p. incandescent lights, of which 22 have been put in, was $12,855, and that $7,852 had been expended inputting a new roof upon the main asylumbuilding. The idial expenditure upon the lunatic asylum last year was $19,362.00, of which $57,060 was for ordinary maintenance. The expenditure upon perhamman and an important statement, or more properly, a confession. He stated that the Record Foundry Co. of Moncton End built the steel superstructures of the Nepsiquit, Lefebrue, Tabor, Campbell and other bridges, and had been paid at the rate of six and shaff cent a pound therefor. He give the which of each bridge in support of air statement, and stated that the price quoted included transportation to site and erecting, except for flooring. Left Render of cantinam had finished the superstructures of Eulis Greek and Trueman's Pond bridges, and he had been paid six and a half cents a pound at the works at Chatham supporters and result of the price quoted included transportation to site and erecting, extend to explain why he disministrated as micely between his Chatham supporters and erect bridges for the same price. Forestit evidence of this nice discrimination was shown on the Erackville Bridge, where the Record Co. brill the centre span at six and a half cents at his forners, contenting kinners in what respects apecifications for bridges built for other sovenments and crips of bridges built for his legariment different from those built for his legariment of life and would like to know wherein those of New Brunswick were different.

FURIOUS CYCLONE

Sixty Persons Killed and Four Hundred Buildings Levelled to the Ground.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 27 .- A special, to the Globe-Democrat from Kirksville. Mos, says:

A storm that has been threatening all the afternoon, broke upon Kirksville at 6.30 o'clock tonight in all the fury of a cyclone. A path a quarter of a mile wide and as clean as, the prairie, was swept through the eastern portion of the city, and four hundred buildings, homes and mercantile houses were levelled to the ground in scattererd ruins. In the heavy rain that followed, the people who had escaped turned out to nescue the injured. For two hours not much was accomplished, as all was confusion, but by 8 o'clock twenty-five dead bodies had been taken from the ruins.

It is expected that the list of dead will reach between 50 and 60; if it does not exceed that. Almost a thousand people were more or less injured.

Daylight will be necessary before an adequate estimate of less of life and property can be had. Each blanched

OTTAWA, April 22,- For the last two or three weeks the bublic been given to understand that government was anxious for the address to pass in order that the house might "get down to business." We have been told that Sir Charles Tupper and his party were obstructing the progress of parliament, and that the government was burning with a desire to get ahead. The address has desire to get anead. The private members days since then have been well occupied, and yesterday the house lined up to hear what the government had to propose. It was government day and several notices were on the order

Mr. Fielding had given notice of supply, but he has not yet even brought down his estimates and therefore is hardly ready to ask the house to go into committee on them. He has also given notice that he will move the house into committee ways and means, which motion is the occasion of the budget speech. Mr. Fielding is not ready with budget and could not yesterday even go so far as to say when he would be the Drummond railway, but nothing was said about it, nor yet about the Pacific cable project the notice whereof stands in the name of Mr. Mulcck. Nothing was ready and 20 minutes after the speaker took the chair at 3 o'clock, Sir Wilfrid moved the adjournment of the house, making confession of the fals and foolishness of the charge of obstruction made against the opposi-tion. If any fault can be found with the opposition side, it is that they have done an unnecessary service to the government by filling in the time found no way to occupy. It is now nearly the end of April, not far from the time when the house frequently rises, having finished the business of

Yet it is understood that we are to have a measure for senate reform, one for the redistribution of the constia practically new franchise bill, and the usual number of political contracts to come on at the end of the session. Then there is Mr. Fint's bill for prohibition by provinces, which the government will be asked to take up, and which is said to have the approphision of the minister of agriculture. It is not very likely that Sir Wilfrid will be permitted by Mr. Tarte to interfere with that matter sion. It involves some constitutional questions and a great many practical difficulties. Mr. Tarte may consent next year, as the effect of the scheme would be to transfer not only the retail, but the wholesale liquor trade and manufacture to the province of Quebec.

Mr. Tarte's paper, La Patrie, is exultant over the result of the Dominmeeting. It dethat the principle has een established that there no interference with the habits of the Quebec people. It cites the sentiments of Mr. Flint, Mr. Spence and others, whom it calls the prohibition leaders, to the effect that the adverse vote in Quebec makes it impossible to apply prohibition to that province. If the alleged prohibitionist leader takes this view, Mr. Tarte's journal perceives that there is no danger of a new attempt upon the liberties of Quebec by what it calls the "buyeurs d'eau." La Patrie is addicted to scornful reflections "the water drinkers."

Sir Louis Davies is also indebted to La Patrie for a pleasant introduction to the French speaking people. In commending a secent speech of the minister of mome, La Patrie says that Sir Louis is of French origin and shows the characteristics of his This enables the province for which La Patrie speaks to claim an additional representative in the cabinet, and thus a stronger influence than was previously accorded. Mr. Brodeur, the deputy speaker, has apparently some dim notions of a change in the relative position of the French and English languages in the house, for the other day he read the motions and amendments, first in French and afterwards in English, which is contrary to the usual order.

Mr. Beausofiel is peaceful this ses sion. On the question of the dis-missal of the translator whom he recommended and who had a habit of farming out his work at 25 per cent of the price which he got for it, Mr. when Sir Wilfrid and the rest of the cabinet ministers voted against him he calmly subsided. The meaning of this meekness will be explained within say four months. The postmastership of Montreal is vacant. The salary is $4,000 a year Mr. Beausoliel and Mr. James McShane are the chief aspir-ants for the position. The people's Jimmy will not be postmaster of Montreal. It is settled that the member for Berthier will get his reward sure the government for taking no action in the premises. No doubt the discussion will be serious, and it may result in some important announcements from Sir Wilfrid.

In the senate Mr. Ferguson and Sir Mackenzie are making things a little lively for the minister of justice, who with Mr. Scott is obliged to defend all the actions of the government. The debiscite has caused Mr. Mills some worry, and the secretary of state has been trying to explain away the failure of mail communication with Prince Elward Island. Senator Perley has had some talk on the railway Manitoba. The archishop states that the school question has not been set-tled, and Senator Perley understands that there was some interesting cor-respondence between him and the premier on the matter. The premier Manitoba school matter for a ques-tion that is settled. The range of his writings covers the distance between the Red River valley and the Seven justice declines to bring down the letters, and implies that they are private in their nature. Similarly Sir Wilfrid Laurier in the house of commons declared the other day that the Catholic members of the house and the government haid a perfect right to discuss with the head of the church of Rome any matters whatever withllament Hill. So when they say that a matter is settled the explanation must be taken subject to the understanding that it is still under discus-Ottawa and the authorities of church. How soon and how far this may unsettle the question remains to ing the people of Canada that the question is settled, continues to in-form the authorities at Rome that the settlement is only partial, and that complete justice will be furnished later, we must console ourselves with the reflection that the addresses to the people of Canada are public and those addressed to Rome are private OTTAWA, April 24.—It has been decided that when a preacher of the gospel becomes a member of parilament he must no longer be designatcame about this way. Mr. Prior British Columbia in giving notice of a question referred to a speech "of the ion and rev. member for Burrard," Edgar, before calling the question requested Mr. Prior to strike cut the word "rev." as by a decision of Speaker Denison in the imperial par-liament it is decided to be "not a becoming expression." Col. Prior accordingly put the question without referring to Mr. Maxwell by his former title, but incidentally remarking that Mr. Maxwell was a preacher all the he cultivates a rather "tough" appearance. He is addicted to smoking a pipe with a very dark complexion and of equipping himself in the most unconventional attire. In his social dissipations he wears the swallowtail coat and expansive shirt front. It is in the house when he is on his feet that the old man takes posssession of him. He becomes a preacher again without knowing it, and is constantly lecturing the other members as if they were a congregation under his spiritual ministrations. As a parliamentary speaker, his habits remind one of the reply made by Charles Lamb to Coleridge: "Did ever you hear me preach?" said Coleridge.

"I n-n-never heard you d-d-do anything else," stuttered Lamb, in reply.

On the particular occasion when the speaker intervened, Colonel Prior was asking about a remark that Mr. Maxwell made in his speech to the Vancouver liberals, who were complaining they did not get offices Mr. Maxwell had said, "At home I have a book three inches thick full of applications." He pointed out, however, that since he had been a member for Burrard $26,000 or $28,000 had gone into the pockets of Vancouver liberals out of the dominion revenue. Col. Prior wanted to know the details of these payments. He did not receive the information he sought, Sir Wilfrid explaining "that the government does not undertake to interpret ex cathedra speeches delivered by members of this house." This reference to the status of Mr. Maxwell as an ex cathedra orator seemed to be a covert allusion to the member's previous vocation, but it left the house in the dark as to the disposition, of the public money . .

There is something peculiar about the binder twine contracts. years ago the government sold the prison made twine to the Hobbs Hardware Co. of London. This year the tender accepted was that of Martin Connolly, while on the previous occasions John Connor was the negotiator But in all cases the Hobbs Hardward Co. appear to be the ultimate purchasers, as they have come in for the Connclly contract. The Hobbs Hardware Co., with alleged headquarters in Canada, is understood to be a branch of a United States concern and connected with the United States Cordage Combine. Both last year and this year the combine price has been maintained and the prison manufackure has had no effect in giving the consumer the benefit of the abolition of the duty. A few years ago the Patrons of Industry established a rope walk at Brantford for the relief of the farmer. Last year when the prices were high, this concern made enormous profits and the farmers paid more for their twine than they had for many years before. From the time the duty was taken off until the present moment it does not appear that the Canadian farmer has got one cent of good out of it, while the Canadian

This was a blunder and by it was taken away, which cause on annoyance that would not have been given if the government had started out on an imperial preference in the first place. The result of it is that every other colony but Canada has better terms in the German mar ket than the dominton. Sir Richard Cantwright, replying the other day to Mr. Foster, explained that the dis-crimination amounted to an extra duty of one and three-tentiles cents per bushel on bardey, three and three-tenths on beans and peas, four and four-tenths on oats, nine and seven tenths on rye and wheat, and nine tentihe of a cent a pound on butter.

The minister of customs the other day made a boast about the decrease of duties. He applied the customs tariff now inforce to the imports, explained that if the tariff of 1836 had been devied the revenue collected would have been two million dollars more. Mr. Paterson hight have more, Mr. Paterson inight have gone on to say that if the tariff pregar duty had been applied, the taxation of last year would have been no larger than it was. But when he claimed that this two million dollars indicated a remission of taxation, he entirely misstated the case. The same tariff bill that established this set of customs duties changed the excise duty and put on in one way all the taxes that were taken off in the other. It may have been a suitable readjustment, but it is absurd to call it a remission of taxes. In the item of tobacco allone, as was explained to Mr. McDougalli of Cape Breton by Sir Henri Joly on Thursday, the excise duties were increased by $271,285. This shows that the tobacco consumers alone pay one half of the duty that Mr. Paterson boasts of having remitted altogether.

This was accomplished at a cost to the Americans of six killed and twenty-eight wounded, the first South Dalcota regiment being the heaviest

The largest buildings in Calumpit were being fired by the Filipinos while the Americans were crossing the river, fully a mile away, indicating the endmy's intention to abandon the Dilaice.

The insurgents seem to have adopted a settled policy of netticing from one position after another, after inflicting the greatest possible damage on the advancing army. Their forces today were well drilled. Every foot of the ground was tenaciously disputed by thoroughly organized troops, who stood remarkably firm even be-fore artiflery.

The enemy had planned to wreck an artiflery transport train. This attempt was a failure, but a span of the fron railway bridge over the river was destroyed, hampering the American transportation for some time. The 'llipinos cut the garders, intending to have the structure fall with the train. but it collapsed prematurely with its own weight. The Bagdag river, which is about 100 yards wide at that point, was splendidly fortified, and the Americars were composited to approa across an open space from which the rebels had cleared every obstruction in sight. The bank of the river, a high bluff, was surmouted with trenand partly hidden by bushes.

Gen. Wheaton's brigade approached tile river along the railway, leaving camp beyond Mallolos city. Gen. Halles', which stanted yesterday, was earlier on the march, sweeping westward toward the railway. The armored train was being pushed by Chimamen, the 20th Kansas regiment advancing in extended order on the left and the First Montana regiment, with the Utah light antillery, on the

In the course of an hour the Americans had forced a passage through the woods to the open space in front of the river and the autillery, immediately on wheeling into the open, began shelling the Phipinos tranches.

In the meantime Company K, Twentieth Kausas, led by Capt. Boltwood, performed one of the most brilliant achievements of the campaign. The regiment was being held in re-

Col. Frederick Funston called volunteers to cross the river, and the colonel himself, Lieut. Ball, a private of Company K, a private of Company E, Trumpeter Barsfield and Corporal Ferguson of Company I crawled along the iron girders.

While his was going on the men of Company K, from the ditch were fusilading the trenches in the endeavor to divert attention, but the Filipino got the rarge from a trench down the river, and their bullets soon spattered the water under the structure. Having reached the broken span the small but valorous party of Americans slid down the caisson, swam a few yards to the shore and crawled up the bank, the little colone leading the way to the tranches, revolver in hand, while the few remaining Filipinos bolted.

Col. Funston said afterward: "It vasn't much to do. We knew they could not shoot straight, and that our boys would attend to them while we

Gen. Hale's troops, on the right, had the hardest fighting. They followed the town, from the east, with the First Nebraska regiment on the left and the First South Dakota and the 51st Iowa beyond. The country to be traversed was mostly jungles, but the Filipines stood their ground even in the oven spaces.

Gen. Hale's right joined Gen. Wheaton's left soon after noon, a curve in the river enabling the Americans to pour an enflading fire into the en-my's trenches. About this time the cheers of the Kansas troops announced that the Americans had crosssed the river. Gen. Hale's men began to ford the Chico, a branch of the Bagdad, stretching to the northeast. The general himself plunged in up to his neck, and the regiments, all carrying flags, floundered across the stream.

The guns of the Utah light artillery were dragged over next and formed into an extended line to advance upon the trenches before Calumpit, from which the Filipines were pouring con-

The armored car had one man killed and two wounded. The Kansas regiment had three wounded during the charge, and the Utah light artillery one killed and two wounded. Most of the other casualties befell the South Dakota regiment. It is difficult to estimate the insurgent losses, but they had no fewer than 70 killed, many of them by the artillery.

The following resolution was unanimously passed by Corn Hill Division, Sons of Temerance, on Thursday evening, April 20th.
Resolved, that inasmuch as the premier of Canada has declared that the vore m favor of prohibition is insufficient to warrant the government in bringing down a bill to at once suppress, the manufacture, rale and traffic in intexticating liquor.

We, the members of Corn Hill Division, No. 576, do therefore desire to put ourselves on record as dissenting from the premier in his opinion in relation to the excidency of passing a bill in favor of prohibition, and we do this on principles of social purity and progress, believing as we to that it is curdut, as people who profess to be guided by the teaching of Christien ethics, to do all in our power, both as a political and moral duty, to remove vice and to establish virtue. Intemperance is acknowledged by all plous and intelligent people to be one of the greatest evils, if not the greatest evil, in the world, and that to suppress and crush it is the duty of all good people. We therefore wish to express our deep regret at the failure of the government in taking action to carry out the wishes of the people, considering as we do that prohibition received a good majority on September 29th (under circumstances).

Therefore, as the government refuses to

Therefore, as the government refuses to legislate on the said bill, we do submit a petition to the opposition of the government and to any members of the government intrested in the passing of the said bill, that they do make this their cause and do all in their power toward the passing of the said probability law.

The IIIs of Spring

No season of the year brings more sunshine and joy than does the glorious spring, when all nature awakens from its long winter's sleep. But as this delightful season approaches the discomforts of the body are many. After the artificial life of winter the system is run down, the blood is thin, weak, watery and diseased, and the nerves shattered and exhausted.

From IMPURE BLOOD the nerves can derive no nourishment, and in this poisoned condition the blood flows through the body to the various organs, causing the liver and kidneys to become sluggish and inactive, the heart to become weakened, and the digestive system to fail entirely in its functions.

There are headaches and backaches, nervousness and irritability, bilousness and dyspepsia, feelings of lassitude and despondency, sleeplessness, exhaustion and nervous prostration, loss of appetite, energy and ambition, brain fag, confused memory, and loss of interest

THE RACE PROBLEM.

Orime, as a preventive of crime ust in the nature of things prove failure. The people of Georgia, wh wreak such horrible vengeance upon negro criminals, will not thereby pre vent further crime. The perpetrate of a crime does not believe when com-nultting it that he will be tound out. He may have a horror of the rope of the state, but he expects to occape. It is true the possibility of being prehended, and a knowledge of the awful results to himself, may develop a spirit of caution, and have a de terrent effect inter the would be crimsame time a feeling of hatred towards those who in punishing him would display a spirit of brutality as hideous as his own. Revolting, as was the crime for which the negro suffered at the stake in Georgia early this week, the sickening details of the conduct of the avengers are more horrible. The ignorant, despised and ostracised negro will not be elevated to the plane of intelligent and respectable citizenship by the power of fear, or by acts which would seem to him assions. If the Filipinos, who are fighting for what they regard as their rights and liberties, should carve up an American soldier to provide themselves with souvenirs, the indignation of the American people would be unbounded. Even the people of Georgia would be horrifled. The atroclous acts of vengeance in the south, of which there have been several re-cent instances, are widening the breach between white and black, and be left to deal with criminals, whether black or white. THE BRIDGE CHARGES. Mr. Hasen and Mr. Emmerson have expressed a desire that the pross should not make party capital out of the agreement for the postponement of the bridge investigation. This rejournal has no desire to refuse com-

But this does not mean that there shall be no more said on the subject of these charges. The government press in the county where Mr. Emmerson resides has declared that Mr. Hazen withdrew or retracted all that was important in his charges. Mr. Hazen himself says that he never imputed personal corruption to Mr. Emerson, and that he adheres to all that he meant to affirm in his charges. It would appear that by "personal dis-honesty" and "personal corruption" Mr. Hazen means corruption or disthonesty for the personal financial gain of Mr. Emmerson himself. It is true that Mr. Hazen did not accuse Mr. Emmerson of appropriating public money for himself. It is equally true that Mr. Hazen did accuse Mr. Emmerson of wilfully and knowingly paying out of the public treasury two or more prices for public works, for the personal benefit of those doing the work, and that he knowingly and wilfully allowed contractors to take from the public treasury thousands of dollars to which they would not have been entitled had proper methods pre-

Whether this is personal or impersonal, or only official dishonesty, is a question of phiases. It is a kind of misconduct which ought to drive the. head of the public works department out of his position. It may be importent as a question of morals to have a full understanding of Mr. Emmerson's motives. As a practical question it is more important to ascertain how much money has been im-properly taken from the people by certain savored contractors through the two or three price system. Still more important is it to have a stop

It must be admitted that Mr. Em-

He was able at the beginning of the session, with the help of the speaker, to head off an investigation. for the present he has the advantage that the members of the legislature vere unwilling to remain a few weeks onger at Fredericton to complete the nquiry. Whether he will find a way to prevent an investigation next ses-sion remains to be seen. MR. SIFTON AND THE EXODUS.

It has pleased Mr. Sifton to ques tion the accuracy of news paragraph in the Sun, telling of the exodus from various parts of this province and Nova Scotia. The falsehood in the case was but into the mouth of the governor general by Mr. Sifton and ris colleagues, when they made the speech from the throne declare that true. There has been and is still in progress an exodus of maritin province people to the New England states. The like is shown to be true of the eastern townships of Queben. The remarks of Senators Perley and Almon in the senate on Wednesday were quite to the point. This government has done nothing to bring about conditions that would stop this move ment of population. When in oppoion they wailed about the exodus and the grit journals were never weary of denouncing the tory policy for driving the people out of the country. The people were led to exbe so great a degree of prosperity and progress that no same man would think of going out of Canada. But nothing has been done except to import Doukhobors and Galicians. continuation of a movement begun a tive rule, and as a result of the visits of delegations of Americans Tarmers to the sections to which they have since moved. The gold discoveries in the Yukon attracted a flow of population in that direction, but the record of grit administration of affairs there tas been a positive hindrance to deade in the eve of the world.

It is perhaps incorrect to say that office at $2,000 a year and expenses to act as immigration agent in Dublin ket year for immigration work in Minnesota No stampede of Mincovered, but Mr. Davies draws his pay. They gave Mr. A. F. Jury, a defeated grit camdidate, $1,800 a year for work in Liverpool. Mr. Jury draws his pay. The government are quite ready to make an expenditure for aldeged jumigration work. And they place the money where it will do the most good-to their friends and them-

No measure of grit policy has in any sense changed the conditions so that there would be less inclination country than there formerly was. If times are more prosperous today than a few years ago, the government have done nothing to bring about the change. They have not given the farmers a better market, or brought any new industries into exstence to give employment to the people. They have not reduced the cost of living. They have increased the national debt and the general burden of taxation. They have concerned themselves with deals by which to provide campaign funds against the coming day of trial. They sive violated their pledges and humbuzzed the people who placed them in power. An exodus that would be of enormous bemeint to Canada would be the removal of the grit ministers, bag and baggage, from Parliament Hill.

The oil barons are not a menace to the country, and Canadian burning oil is better than American. Besides. it is the duty of parliament to protect home industries. Gentle reader, these are not tory arguments. The tories may still claim them, but they have been stolen by the grits. This is a part of the stolen armor by virtue of which they hope to retain power.

The grit government at Ottawa continues to reduce the expenditure by increasing it. They are also wiping out the national debt by making substantial yearly additions to it. This is the era of economy greater than has been. If Sir Richard Cartwright were not shackled, we should hear some caustic observations. But Sir Richard is no longer his own master.

A coroner's jury returned the fol-lowing verdict recently: "That the de-ceased came to his death by trying to light his pipe with an electric light, which can't be done successful-

DEATH OF W. C. PITFIELD.

One of St. John's Best Known Merchants, After a Very Short Illness.

W. C. Pitfield, one of St. John's six and seven o'clock on Thursday morning, after a fortnight's illness, ng physician and his family had retty well concluded that the dan-erous stage had been passed and that he was on the fair road to re-cover. Indeed, only the day before, Mr. Pitfield had express his intention of soon leaving for Mentreal on some pressing business matters. His illness was attributed to nervous prostration, complicated with a stom-ach trouble brought on by over-work. Although unable to attend to his office dities, Mr. Pitfield directed until five days ago that he took to his bed. On Thursday morning the end came with startling suddenness. Mr. Pitfield was a son of Samuel Pitfield and was born in Sussex on larch 26, 1855. He had acted as clerk years of age came to this city and entered the wholesale house of T. R. Jones & Co. He continued in the employ of Jones & Co. until the fail-Pitfield & Co. In 1885 Mr. Pitfield wedded Miss Doig of Brooklyn, N. Y., who with three children, two daughers and a son, survive him. Mr. Piteld also leaves as survivors three brothers and a sister, Mrs. George McIntyre of Sussex. His brothers are Oliver Pitfield, shipbuilder, of St. John, W. T. Pitfield of Sussex and George O. With his recent business complications the readers of the Sun are more or less familiar. While widely known as a merchant, it was in his office of president of the Exhibition Associa-tion that Mr. Pitfield was thrown most in contact with the general pub-lic. He infused into the association a life and energy that few men could impart, and took a rersonal pride in making each successive exhibition better than the one that had gone the board of trade. In his death at the early age of 44 years, St. John is deprived of the services of a citizen it can ill afford to lose and whose best or fulfilling its highest purp that does not have missions engraft into its work is my firm conviction. That it is necessary to enlist sympathies and interest of the you sympathies and interest of the your is apparent, and that the Sabba school is the best place to do this cobe shown. We realize that miles to sunday schools are unght to love it work and give to its support the church of the next generation wo not advance in their contribution and the whitening fields will cry necessary and have their spe work. A few reasons why the thath school affords the best place ed in our nission work. In the Sab bath school we have them all with equal rights and privileges. We are making a great mistake if the boy are neglected in this mission work people and many of the older ones will when they know the needs.

(3.) The method of having missions in the Sabbath school gives permanence to the work The ordinary misson band is generally dependent upon one or two setrconstantly planning something new to attract and hold the members and keep up the ever flagging interes When these die or are married move to another place in many stances down goes the band; but in the Sunday school, winter and summer, the work goes on, and in a few years the results will be plainly seen. The mission band has a definite work to perform in the training of mission workers, and is indispensible. But to create a general interest the seeds of tionary truth must be cast upon been tested and proved highly successful for many years. Children must be taught missions the same as any other subject, hence the neces-sity of object lessons. More especial-ly is this the case with instruction in missions, because the things taught are beyond the sight and far away. (1.) A map of the country and mission field you wish to study is a necessity. A large brightly painted one with the nission stations plainly market. This should be in the Sabbath school and in the primary room The teacher an make a better on for her purpose on cotton than can be purchasel, putting in only what she desires to teach and adding as she

These can easily be obtained; cut them from your papers and missionary maga-Write your missionaries to send them to you, place them on the walls of your primary room and Sabbath school. One at a time, as the picture is carefully explained and left sion requires. You will be surprised to find how real this will make mission work to the children and how interested and delighted they will become. The era of pictures has just dawned upon us, and we must use them in the Master's work.

(3) Have some definite object for the class to support. If the Sabbath school agree on a native preacher. Bible woman, or the support of a child in one of the schools, the primary class could unite, but I would fix a definite sum for them to try and raise within a given time. It greatly adds to the interest and their sense of

(4) Systematic Giving.—The raising of money is not he most important part of this work by any means. However smell the amounts may be, some systematic work should be done in the direction. That the children pay first the money for the Sabbath school, teaching them that this is not really giving. It pays for the card, paper or book they receive, the same as they pay a cent at the store and receive a stick of candy. Then give what they have earned or saved during the week for missions. Have a ness, Bad Tastein the Mouth, Coated Tongue pretty box or basket for this special purpose, with the name of the object upon it, and after the collection is taken by one of the children, sing a verse or repeat a little prayer such small Price.

"Jesus bless the money brought here Give it something sweet to do; May it teach some one to love Thee, Saviour may we love Thee, too."

On Birthdays encourage the children to bring as many cents as they are years old; have them come forward and the whole class repeat an appropriate verse or a sentence prayer Remember also Thanksgiving, Easter and Christmas 'n a similar way. No matter how small the offering, it is the interest awakened, and the habit (5) Frequently use Missionary Illustrations in teaching the lesson. They attract the attention as nothing els will do. Almost every lesson leads quarter: "Christ the Light and Life." Speak of the millions yet in darkness. "Feeding the fire thousand." All were fed. While we are spiritually cram-

The Secret of Health Health

The health of the whole body depends upon the blood and the nerves. Therefore a medicine that creates new blood and supplies the necessary materials for rapidly rebuilding wasted nerve tissues, reaches the root of many serious diseases. It is these virtues that have given

On the train Mr. Michaud was niterviewed by Rev. E. Smith, who was returning from Scotch Settlement, where he had been filling his Sunday engagements.

In reply to questions put to him by Mr. Smith, he said that the whole campaign was baidly managed, and the food was poor and scanty. As an illustration of the management, he said that his regiment of 882 mer only received the same quantity of provision as the other regiments of 488 men and that for three days after landing no provisions were provided. He said that while they were in camp on San Juan Hill, one pitch dark right, the sentry on the watch gave the alarm and in a momet there was . Everything was confusion panic. and the Americans rushed out and stormed up the hill. Mr. Michaud belonged to the 2nd Massachusetts Volunteers, but that night he was rearching among the 22nd regulars, and this was common with others as veil as himself. The alarm proved to be wilthout foundation, and as they rushed disorderly over the hills, exrosed to the enemy, some few shorts were fired and several Americans were killed. It was an hour and a half before they succeeded in reaching their tents, owing to the intense darkness. During the engagement of San Juan Hill the man on Mr. Michaud's right was shot dead ad the second man on the left was badly wounded. The whole resiment suffered to the extent of 50 killed and 75 wounded.

Mir. Michaud says that the Spaniards were brave, hard fighters, and the "Queen's Own" fought until only a handful remained alive. He also says that the Spanish drill accounted for the smallness of the damage done to the American troops. The Spanlards fire very rapidly—one shot from the shoulder and the second from the hip, while the Americans fire altogether from the shoulder and do more

Mr. McKeown re-committed the bill to declare and explain the meaning of the covenant for renewal in leases for discharged their duty from a party renewable terms, which was agreed to standpoint. The bill was open to the with amendments in amendment of the New Brunswick Elections Act of 1889 and certain acts merdment thereof.

Hon. Mr. Dunn committed the bill respecting the protection of game. The bill proposed making the open season for moose and caribou end December 31st. Mr.Lawson objected and wanted the close season to end November 30. December, he said, was the month for the lumbermen and not hunters. Tobique sportsmen had represented to him the desirability of the changes

Mr. Todd agreed with Mr. Lawson, especially with regard to deer.

Hon. Mr. Tweedle said December is a good month for hunting. The idea of lumbermen shooting any great quantity of moose was a delusion. He thought it a bad policy to change the law every year. Sportsmen had al-ready made their arrangements, guides have been employed for the present year, and it would not be fair to take off a month of the open season without any notice to these men His experience is that it is not well to change the law in accordance with every suggestion that may be made, as these suggestions generally came from persons who may have fads, and do not take into consideration the whole trend of the law.

Mr. Todd always felt a great deal of pride in our game resources. They would be a veritable gold mine in the future if properly protected. Maine last year had taken $2,000,000 from big game sportsmen. In that state the close season is from October 1st to November 15th, and he believed the time was coming when three months would be the limit in this province. Hon. Mr. Dunn said no doubt large number of mocse were shot by lumbermen in December Mr. Perter agreed with Mr. Lawson that the Tobique sportsmen favored striking December from the open sea-

Hon. Mr. Tweedie said his experience was that more moose are killled up the St. John river out of season than in, and very little attention was paid to the law, especially in Mada-

Hon. Mr. Dunn said he proposed making the beginning of the open season Sept. 15th and the and of December 31st, so that there would be two weeks less hunting than hitherto.

Mr. Fish discounted the idea that lumbermen cared to exist on moose meat. He favored two months, or two and a half months, as sufficient length of time for the open season.

Mr. Carvell said there seemed to be a disposition to discuss the question from the American sportsman standpoint, rather than from that of our own people. It would be a great mistake to strike December from the open season, especially for hunting deer. That was the time in Carieton when the people did their hunting. Mr. Venoit wanted December an open month. He denied that lumbermen took advantage of December to FREDERICTON. April 25.—Hon. Mr. Tweedie committed the bill in amendment of the New Brunswick discitions act of 1189 and centain acts in amendment thereof.

Mr. Hazen asked if the provincial secretary proposed to explain the bill did not require very much explanation.

The principal amendment is that the

The principal amendment is that the governor in council is given the power to appoint the third revisor in each parish At present the two councillors are revisors themselves and appoint the third revisor. It might be ursed that no great necessity existed for the change. The attention of the government had been called to the fact that in many counties the revision of the light that the state of the state ion of the lists was very unsatisfac-tory. The third revisor would be outthere would be greater likelihood that all parties entitled to a vote would be placed on the list. The municipalities of course were not interested in the election in any way, and a good deal of carelles ness held arisen with regard to the revision of the lists. In many places the duty was performed in a most perfunctory way. There was also an amendment in regard to explications for getting names on that had been left off. The act of 60th Victoria provided for an appeal to the county court judge. Under this bill the application is made directly to the st eriff. Some members of the house had suggested that additional polling places should be provided for, but he thought, unless pressing necessity was shown for the change, this matter had better stand over till next session for careful consideration.

Mr. Hazen said he wished to place nimself on record as entirely opposed to this bill. Hitherto the revising has been done by the two councillors, and the third is appointed by the country council. This bill put the appointment of the third revisor in the hands of the lieutenant governor. No good reason had been shown for the change. No information had been received to the effect that the revising was not oroperly done. No com-plaints had been made. Names no doubt were occasionally omitted, but this would occur under the most perfect system that could be devised. He thought the county councils were much better judges as to who were suitable men to appoint as revisors than the governor in council possibly cculd be. No county council had sked for the mange. The government were taking away a right the county councils had always had, without giving any good reason for the change. He did not think the revisors under the present system had Hon. Mr. Tweedie introduced a bill in the party interest. There was no use in tickering with the laws for the mere sake of change. Wth regard to the fourth section, which provided for appeals, he did not think the power should be left exclusively in the hands of the sheriff, who was dependent upon the government for his office. The law at present giving the power to the judge of the county court was a very much safer law. He entirely agreed with section 5, that provided that where real estate was assess in the name of two or more persons each of such persons must show that he owns $100 in his own right.

How. Mr. Tweedle said the house did not generally wait for a public demand for legislation before introducing a bill. Almost the first bill the hon. member (Hazen) introduced this session was to amend the elections act, though there was no demand for the change, and the house decided that it was not called for. It would be a poor government that would wait for a hue and cry before it took the responsibility of introducing necessary legislation. Mr. Tweedi pointed out that the dominion elections would hereafter be held upon lists prepared by the local authorities, and that was all the more reason why the lists should be carefully prepared. The government did not ask to control the revisors, but only to appoint one revisor as a part guarantee that the lists would be more carefully revised than if left entirely in the thands of irresponsible parties. The government had a right to see that everybody entitled to vote should have his name on the list.

Mr. Hazen said the fact that the dominion elections would be held on the local lists was no argument whatever in favor of the bill. The present dominion government had changed their franchise in favor of the existing local system, which they evidently thought suitable for the purpose. Why should the house say that the system should be changed? It was no part of the duty of this house to have the lists revised for the purposes of the dominion elections. He challenged any one to point out where any crying evil existed under the present system. No good cause had been shown for the legislation.

Progress was reported with leave to sit again.

Mr. Purdy committed the bill to place the entire control of appointment of members of the police for the city of St. John in the common council. The bill was agreed to with amendments and an amended title. Hon Mr. Dunn recommitted a bill respecting the protection of game. INCENIOUS MARINE BRAKE,

An ingenious marine brake has been invented by a Croatian engineer. Czvetkovitch, whereby it is claimed that such catastrophes as the loss of H. M. S. Victoria or the Stella could asily have been averted. The brake is of steel and it is fitted to the stern sides of the steamer. Its movement is like that of the visor of helmet. When raised it gathers itself on the sides and directly above the stern post of the vessel. The bolt fastening the ends of the brake to the sides runs completely through the vessel. It is kept in position by a cathead arrangement and let go by a line attached to a pin just as an anchor is freed. The brake drops down as a visor closes, and the water racing into the cavity "holds up" the vessel, if when steaming say 10 knots, within a distance of 20 feet. It can also be used as a sea-anchor in case of disablement In the event of the vessel steaming in very foggy weather near a dangerous rocky coast line, with its where abouts uncertain, a pole with a false 'cutwater" attached is run out from the bows, and on the lower edge of the keel of the vessel touching rock or bottom a mechanical arrangement simultaneously releases the brake at

A NEGRO BISHOP

Frees His Mind About the Georgia Atrocities.

NEW YORK, April 26.- The New Jersey annual conference of the African Methodist Episcopal church was opened in Jersey City today, Bishop Alexander Walters, D. D., presiding. Bishop Walters in his address bitterly denounced the Georgia lynch-ings. He said: "The civilized world has been shocked by the unprecedent-ed butchery and burning of Samuel Hose. The fiendishness of the crimbeggars description. It is generally believed by the 'air minded that if Hose did kill Cranford it was to avenge the killing of five colored men by a mob said to have been led by Crawford at Palmetto, March 18.

"The real cause of our trouble is race hatred. In all cases it is not because we are black, for some negroes who are hated have blonde hair and blue eyes, and they are so fair that they can hardly be distinguished from the pure whites, yet this class of negro is a sufferer in common with the blackest: all that is needed for them to be discriminated against is for it to be known that they have a drop of negro blood in their veins. I have come to the conclusion that nothing but manly resistance on the part of Afro-Americans themselves will stop these atrocities. President Mo Kinley and the federal government have shown themselves impotent to convict the murderers of federal officials. The governors of certain states in the south have acknowledged their inability to protect their colored

You would think that Rudyard Kipling was one of the best known men in the world, especially since his illness. But one evening—it was the evening when we had rews that the crisis was past—I was reading my paper in the hansom that conveved me home. As I stepped out I handed the paper to the cabman. A GREAT MAN'S LIFE

The Great Divine's Tribute to a Dead Friend.

Stephen J. Field Was the Subject of Dr. Talmage's Sermon.

At Was Religious Training That Laid Foundation of His Sterling Character.

WASHINGTON, April 23.-One the most notable characters of our time is the subject of Dr. Talmage's alsoourse, and the lessons drawn are inspiring; text. II Samuel Mi., 38, "Know ye not that there is a prince and a great man fallen this day in

Here is a plumed cattaffallque, foidowed by King David and a funeral oration which he delivers at the David weeps out the text. More appropriately than when originally uttered we may now utter this resoundtered we may now utter this resound-ing lamentation, "Know ye not that there is a prince and a great man fall-en this day in Israel?"

It was 30 minutes after 6, the exact hour of sunset of the Sabbath day, and while the evening lights were being kindled, that the soul of Stephen J. Field, the lawyer, the judge, the pat-riot, the statesman, the Christian as-cended. It was sundown in the house on youder Capitol hill, as it was sunon youder Capitol hall, as it was sundown on all the surrounding hills, but in botth cases the sunset to be followed by a glorious sunrise. Here the Baster anthems still lingering in the air. "This trumpet shall sound, and the

"The trumpet shall sound, and the dead shall rise."

Our departed fracing came forth a boy from a minister's house in New England. He thele with sather and mother at morning and evening prayer, learned from matternal tips lessons of piety which lasted him and controlled him amid all the varied and exciting scenes of a lifetime and helped him die in peace an octogenarien. Blot out from American history the names of those, ministers none who have done honor to judicial bench and commercial circle and national legislature and presidential chair, and you would obliterate many of the grandest chaoters of these history. It is no small advantage to have started from a home where God is honored and the subject of the world's emancipation from sin and sorrow is under constant discussion. The Ten Commandments, which are the foundation of all good parsonage at Stockbridge water guidence when, a half century after, as a gowned justice of the supreme court of the United States, he unrolled his opinions. Bibles, by minbooks, duce as splendil men and women as the much derided Puritanic Subbath and the Puritanic tenchings have pro-duced it will be a matter of congrutu-lation and thanksgiving.

THE MINISTER'S SON.

THE MINISTER'S SON.

Do not pass by the fact that I have not yet seem emphasized that Stephen J. Field was a minister's son Notivithstanding that there are conspicutive exceptions to the rule and the exceptions have built up a stereotyped defamation on the subject statistics plain and undeniable prove that a larger proportion of ministers, sons turn out well than are to be found in any other genealogical table. Let all the parsonages of all denuminations of Christians where children are growing up take the consolation. See the star of hope pointing down to that manner!

Notice also that our departed friend was a member of a royal family. There were no crowns or scentres or thrones in that ancestral line, but the family of the Fields, like the family of the er than sceptres. That family of Fields traces an homorable lineage back $00 years to Hubertus de la Field, coadjutor of William the Conqueror. Let us thank God for such families, generation after generation on the side of that which is right and good. Four sons of that country minister, known the world over for extraordinary usefulness in their spheres—legal, commercial, filefrary and the-ological—and a daughter the mether.

sons and daughters become kings and queens unto God, to reign forever and ever. But the work has already been done, and I could go through the holds which have by the grace of God and blessing upon paternal and mater-nal excellence become the royal fam-

Le young men beware lest they by their behavior blot such flamily records with some misdeed. We can all think of households the names of which seain and again illustrates that though plety is not hereditary the style of parentiage has much to do with the style of descendant. It declares of King Abijam, "He walked in all the sins of his father which he had done before him," and of King Azarath, "He did that which was right in the sight of the Lord, according to all that his faither Amaziah had done."

We owe a debt to those who have gone before in our line as certainly as we have obligations to those who subsequently appear in the household Not so sacred is your old father: valking star, which you kept in his memory, or the eyerlass through which your mother studied the Bible in the old age as the name they bore, the name which you inherited. Keep it bright, I charge you. Keep it suggestive of something elevated in charac-ter. Trample not underfoot that which to your father and mother was dearer than life itself. Defend them graves as they defended your cradle. Family coat of arms, escutcheons, ensigns armortal, lion couchant, or dormant, or lion rampant, or lion combatant, may attract attention, but better than all heraldic inscription is a family name which means from generation to generation faith in God, self-sporifice, duty performed, a life well lived and a death happily died, and a heaven gloriously won. That was the kind of name that Justice Field augmented and adorned and perpetuated—a name honorable at the close of the eighteenth century, more honored now at the close of the nine-

A GREAT DISSENTER. Notice also what our Wustrious friend was great in reasonable and gentlat was in small minority and sometimes in a minority of one. A learned and distinguished lawyer of this country said he would rather be the author of Judge Field's dissenting opinions than to be the author of the constitution of the United States. The tendent is to go with the multitude to think what others think, to say and do what are wrong, and it requires heroics to take the negative, but to do that logically and in good humor requires some in judicial dissenters or, indeed, in any olass of men. There are so many people in the world opposed to everything and who display their opposition in rancorous and obmoscious ways that a Judge Field was needed to make the regative respected and genial and right. Minorities under God save the world and save the church. An unthinking and precipitate "yes" may be stopped by a righteous and heroic The majorities are not always right. The old gospel hymn declares right be found; A few were saved in Noah's ark to many millions drowned The Free Church of Scotland, under Chalmers and his compeers was a dissenting movement. The Bible itself, Old Testament and New Testament, is a pritest against the theories fhat would have destroyed the world and is a dissenting as well as a divinely inspired book. The Decalogue on Sinai repeated ten times 'Thou shall not.' For ages to come will be quoted from lawbooks in courtrooms Justice Field's magnificent dissenting crintoms. Chalmers and his compeers was a dis-

TEMPERED BY HARDSHIPS. Notice that our ascended friend had such a character as assault and peril alone can develop. He had not come of the Fields, like the family of the New York Primes, like the family of the Princeton Alexanders, like a score of families that I might mention, if it were best to mention them, were 'the children of the Ring?' and had to per than crowns, and wielded influences longer and wilder than sceptres. That family of Fields traces an homorable lineager their hand to purchase place and power. Pastors' saliaries in the early rest of this century hardly ever reached $700 a year. Economies that sometimes cut into the bone characterized many of the homes of the New England clergymen. The young lawyer of whom we speak today arrived in San Francisco in 1849 with only $10 in his pocket Williamstown college was only introductory to a postgradu-ate course which our illustious friend took while administering justice and halting ruffianism amid the mining camps of California. Oh, those "forty niners" as they were called, through what privations, through what narrow escapes, and what exposures they moved! Administering and executing righteously got and stingily kept or wickedly squandered; familles that stand for fraud or impurity or malevolence; family names that immediately come to every mind, though through sense of propriety, they do not come to the lip. The name of field will survive containes and be a synonym for religion, for great jurishing, as the names of the Pharonis and the Caesars stand for cruelty and oppression and vice.

While parents cannot, aspire to have such conspicuous households as the one the name of whose son we now celebrate all parents may by fidelity in prayer and holy example have their sons and daughters become kings and queens unto God, to reign forever and open. It is provided the light of the passed out had not an officer of the law shot down his assailant. It took a long training of hardsmit. It took a long training of hard-ship and abuse and misinterpretation and threat of violence and flash of as-sassin's knife to fit him for the high place where he could defy legislatures place where he could dery legislatures and congresses and presidents and the world when he knew he was right. Hardship is the grindstone that sharpers intellectual faculities and the swords with which to strike effectively for God and one's own country.

WHY MANY FAIL The reason that life to so many is gerated for a long while, but by the deed of one son sa rificed, disgraced and blasted. Look out how you rob your consecrated ancestry of the name they handed to you unsuffied! Better as trustee to that name add something worthy. Do something to honor the old nomestead, whether a mountain of a payter mug. Have brave hearts on all departments, we men of many cabin or a city mansion or a country in all departments, ye men of many parsonage. Rev. David Dudley Field, obstacles! There is no brawn or charparsonage. Rev. David Dudley Field, though 32 years pasted upward, is honored today by the Christian life, the service, the death of his son Stephen.

Among the most absorbing books of the Bible is the book of Kings, which the Bible is the book of Kings, which the great Williamstown college president. dent. Opposition develops courage. I like the ring of Martin Luther's defiance when he said to the Duke of Saxony, "Things are otherwise ordered in heaven than they are at Augs-

Notice also how much our friend did for the honor of the judiciary. Whalt momentous scenes have been witnessed in our United States supreme court, on the bench and before the bench, whether far back it held its sessions in the upper room of the exchange at New York or afterward for ten years in the City hall at Phila-delphia, or later in the cellar of yonder capitol, the place where for many years the Congressional library was kept, a sepulchre where books were buried alive, the hole called by John huried anye, me note caned by John Randolph "the Cave of Trophonius!" What mighty men stood before that bar pleading in immortal eloquence on questions of national import! Ed. on questions of national import! Ed-mund Randolph and Alexander Ham-ilton and Pinkey and Jeremiah Mason and Caleb Cushing and the weird and irresistible Rufus Chosite and George Wood and Charles O'Conner and James T. Brady and Francis B. Cutting and men now diving just as pow-

William Wirt, the great Virginian wrote his friend, inviting him to yonder supreme court room; "Tomorrow a week will come on the great steamoat question from New York. Emmett and Oakley on one side, Webster and myself on the other. Come down and hear it. Emmett's whole soul is in the case, and he will stretch all his powers. Oakley is said to be one of the finest logicians of the age as much a Phocion as Emmett is a Themistocles, and Webster is as ambitions as Caesar. He will not be outdone by any man if it is within the compass any man if it is within the compass of his hower to avoid it. Come to Washington, It will be a combat worth witnessing." The supreme court has stood so high in England and the United States that the vices of a few who have occupied that important has been about the limit of the story of this country with the greatest of the judiciary.

As at 12 o'clock day by day on yonder hill the gavel 'falls in the surpreme count room, and it is announced that the chief justice of the United States and the associate justices are about to enter, and all counselors at the bar and all spectators rise to greet them, and the officer with the words, 'Cyce, oyes, oyes,' announces that all is ready for a hearing and exclaims. 'God save the United States of America,' so I wish we could in imagination gather together those who have cocupied that high judicial place in this and, other lands, and they might the giant of American jurisprudence, and Jean Jay, of whom Daniel Webster said in commemoration, 'When the spotless ermine of the judicial robe is spotless than itself,' and Rutleds and Lord Edon and Lord Tenterden and Sir James McIntosh and Mansafield and file long line of lord charactering and in Jesus Christ, His only begotten Son, and in the communion of saints, and in the life everlasting. A TRIBUTE TO LAW. Ah, how the law honers and sanctifies everybody it touches! Natura law. Civil law. Social law. Com law. Civil law. Social law. Commercial law. Common law. Moral haw. Eccessissical law. International law. Oh, the dignity, the impressiveness the power of law! It is the only thing before which Jehovan bows, but He bows before that although the law is of His own making. The law! By it works swing. By it the fate of centuries is decided. By it all the affairs of time and all the cycles of eternity will be governed. it all the affairs of time and all the cycles of eternity will be governed.

We cannot soar so high, or sink so deep, or reach out so far, or live so long as to escape it. It is the throne on which the Almighty sits. To interpret law, what a profession! What a responsibility! What an execution when the judge be a Lord Jeffreys! What a benediction if he be a Chancellor Kent!

In passing let me say that for this chief tribunal of our country congress chief tribunal of our country congress should soon provide a better place. Let some of the moneys voted for the improvement of rivers which are nothing but dry creeks and for harbors which will never have any shipping and for monuments to some people whom it is not at all important for the remember he and for the control of the contro whom it is not at all important for us to remember be voted for the erec-tion of a building worthy of our Unit-ed States suprame court. John Rus-kin, in "Stones of Venice." calls at-tention to the pleasing fact that in the year 313 the dogs of Venice devot-ed himself to putting up two great tration of justice to man. In its apand such magnificent sites on which to build let not another year pass before we hear the trowel ring on the corner stone of a temple to be occu-pled by the highest court of the land. JUSTICE WILL PLEAD.

Have you ever realized how much God has honored the law in the fact that all up and down the Bible He makes a judge a type of Himself and employs the scene of a court room to set forth the grandeurs of the great judgment day? Book of Genesis, "Shall not the judge of all the earth do right." Book of Deuteronomy,
"The Lord shall judge His people,"
Book of Psalms, "God is Judge Himself." Book of Acts, "Judge of quick and dead." Book of Timothy, "The Lord, the righteous Judge." will it be understood how God howers judges and court rooms until the day of doom, the day of judgment. The law of the case on that occasion will be read, and the indictment of ten counts, which are the Ten Command ments. Justice will plead the case against us, but our glorious advocate will plead in our behalf, for "we have the Judge announces, "There is now, therefore, no condemnation to them who are in Jesus Christ." Under the crowded galleries of cloud on that last day and under the swaying upholstery of a burning heavens and while the Alps and Himalayas and Mount Wash-ington are falling flat on their faces we will be able to understand the sigrificence of those scripture passages which speak of God as Judge and employ the court room of earth as typical of the scene when all nations shall be brought into tribunal.

To have done well all that such a profession could ask of him, and to have made that profession still more bonorable by his brilliant and sublime life, is enough for national and inter-thing that would not stamd research, he would have exploded the fallacy, for his life was a life of research. Young men of Washington, young men of the world round, a religion that would stand the test of Justice Ried's penetraiting and all ransacking intellect must have in it something won'thy of your confidence. I tell you now that Christianity has not only the heart of the world on its side, but the brain of the world also, Ye who have tried to represent the religion of the Bible as something pushlanimous, how do you account for the Christian faith of Stephen J. Field, whole shelves of the taw library occupied with his magnicient decisions? And now may the God of all comfort speak to the berefit, especially to her who was the queen of his life, from the day when as a stranger he was shown to her pew in the Episcopal church, to this time of the broken
